The New-Orleans Bee.

No. 571. VOL. VIII.—NEW SERIES. VOL. XXI.—WHOLE No. 5570.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF GENERAL COUNCIL.—NEW-ORLEANS, THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 6, 1848.

MAGNE & WEINIG, PROPRIETORS, No. 91 Chartres, and 12 Camp street.

TERMS OF THE BEE.

Daily Paper, one year in advance.....$ 2 00
Weekly Paper, do do weekly, one year.....3 00
Semi-weekly do do do do.....5 00

Invariable rule—Subscription one week's issue, ensuring the rest can be allowed to do.

Advertising—Four dollars for every TEN lines of 8 words each, for the first month, and three dollars for each month thereafter. TEN lines, for exchanging or for each month.

☞ The Bee, as a medium of Annual Advertisers is limited to a few lines only, which the interest of their business will not extend to more than a square every other day.

The New-Orleans Daily Bee.

Thursday Morning, Jan. 6, 1847.

Gen. Taylor and the Presidency.

The friends of General Taylor, in the parish of East Feliciana, held a numerous meeting on the 27th inst., which was presided over by James H. Mc. Ellis. A Committee, consisting of Judge Saunders, and Messrs. Merrick, Bowman, Hamilton and Skipwith, was appointed to draft an address and resolutions declaratory of the object of the meeting. After a short consultation, the Committee, through their Chairman, reported an address and resolutions. The former is an elaborate and eloquent exposition of the claims of General Taylor to the highest honor in the gift of the people. It briefly recapitulates his important military services and his heroic achievements at Palo Alto, Resaca de la Palma, Monterey and Buena Vista, and points out the admirable qualities of mind and heart, the strength of character, personal firmness, fearlessness and purity of aim, and unaffected modesty which these exploits have exhibited in the hero. The address then continues to say:

"But our decided preference for Gen. Taylor to all others for the Chief Magistracy of the U. States, does not rest upon these high qualities alone or what we even think is the full extent to which he has given proof of his capacity to discharge the duties of the office.

We believe he will correct abuses in the Constitution of the country.

We believe he is a man who will veto any measure of legislation which he may think unconstitutional, and that he will not be afraid to do so, even though the whole House of Representatives should be against him.

We believe he will not be afraid to veto any bill which he may think calculated to create a Treasury Note currency.

We believe he will not be afraid to veto any bill which he may think calculated to create a Treasury Note currency. Take away the power of issuing Treasury Notes, or the power of issuing Bank paper, and the whole fabric of the present system of Internal Improvements will fall to the ground.

We believe he will not be afraid to veto any bill which he may think calculated to create a Treasury Note currency. Let the power of issuing Treasury Notes, or the power of issuing Bank paper, be taken away, and the whole fabric of the present system of Internal Improvements will fall to the ground.

We believe he will not be afraid to veto any bill which he may think calculated to create a Treasury Note currency. Let the power of issuing Treasury Notes, or the power of issuing Bank paper, be taken away, and the whole fabric of the present system of Internal Improvements will fall to the ground. The reactionists will be broken up and scattered.

We believe he will not be afraid to veto any bill which he may think calculated to create a Treasury Note currency. Let the power of issuing Treasury Notes, or the power of issuing Bank paper, be taken away, and the whole fabric of the present system of Internal Improvements will fall to the ground. The reactionists will be broken up and scattered. The reactionists will be broken up and scattered. The reactionists will be broken up and scattered