HOME MISSIONS.

THE TWENTIETH ANNUAL REPORT.

The Board of Home Missions respectfully presents to the General Assembly its eighty-eighth annual report—its twentieth since reunion.

We record our humble and earnest thanks to God for His gracious exemption of the Board from the loss of any member or officer by death, and for His manifest guidance and blessing in the enlargement and general prosperity of its work during the year. Our gratitude is also due for the harmony and zeal which have marked the proceedings of the Board, and for the general approbation its work has received from the great constituency which it represents and serves. The steady general increase of the Board's income may be fairly taken as a most gratifying and encouraging vote of confidence in the Board as the Church's tried and trusted agency in the work of home evangelization, and also as an unmistakable proof of the unchangeable purpose of the intelligent and powerful body of American Christians who stand behind it to prosecute this sacred enterprise with unremitting energy until the great and glorious results it contemplates shall be fully achieved. The Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, in kindly emulation with sister evangelical churches, is bent on doing a generously-computed share of the great work of making God's law and gospel the pervading and dominant influences which mould and control the republic; and the Board of Home Missions is the strong right hand with which it means, under God, to do the work.

The Rev. Wilson Phraner, D.D., resigned during the year, and the Rev. James M. Ludlow, D.D., was appointed to fill the place thus made vacant in the Board until the meeting of this General Assembly.

We record with sorrow the removal by death of twelve missionaries during the year. Their names are as follows :

Rev. WM. I. BRUGH, D.D. . . . Kentucky.	Rev. SAMUEL G. HAIR Florida.
“ EDWIN G. BRYANT. . . . Michigan.	“ JOHN McCRAE Kansas.
“ JOHN B. COMBS. Kansas.	“ EDMUND H. POST. Florida.
“ BENJ. S. CROSBY. New York.	“ DANIEL J. ROBERTSON. . Kansas.
“ DON M. DOCKERY. California.	“ S. N. ROBINSON. New York.
“ DAVID GREYCLOUD. . . S. Dakota.	“ C. C. WALLACE, D.D. . . Florida.

A VERY GOOD YEAR.

The year's work, on the whole, has been attended by marked and manifest prosperity. As in most years, it has encountered serious obstacles. Floods in Western Oregon, so great as to hinder for weeks the transmission of the mails, have made anything like continuous church services in many places impossible. Unusually heavy snow-falls in the Northwest and about many of the mountain regions and passes have embarrassed religious as well as material interests. Some five thousand persons are said to have been on the verge of actual famine in North Dakota; and churches and missionaries have had their share of the pinch and pressure. Some of the older States have suffered additional losses by removals. The rush into Oklahoma almost effaced some, and sadly weakened many more, of our churches in the southern tier of Kansas. The widespread failure of the vine in California has reduced whole communities to comparative poverty. Three churches in one presbytery, which had reached self-support, were forced back upon the aid of the Board, one of them losing sixty members by removal. And yet the great work of home evangelization and church extension has steadily widened and strengthened and gained ground. One hundred and nine more missionaries have been employed than in any previous year. In a large part of the country the unusually mild and open winter has permitted and facilitated continuous maintenance of church services, which has greatly furthered both the temporal and the spiritual interests of the congregations. There has been in many places more than usual evangelistic activity, often with large resultant increase. There has been a deepening of the impression already long prevalent among the people, that a properly-founded and wisely-organized Presbyterian church is both a beneficent and a permanent institution. The work has not lacked the Divine benediction. The gracious Spirit of God has in many places turned the wilderness into a fruitful field. The churches aided by the Board have received 9,795 on confession of faith, and 7,091 by certificate; 16,886 communicants in all. 200 churches, and 578 Sunday-schools have been organized, and 30 churches have assumed self-support, often with emphatic and grateful acknowledgment of the fostering care which has lifted them to independence.

THE THIRD CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

The Board has unanimously elected as its third Secretary the Rev. Duncan J. McMillan, D.D., President of the College of Montana. To the great satisfaction of the members and officers of the Board, he has accepted the post, and already entered on his work. Dr. McMillan was the Board's pioneer missionary to the Mormons. Under his management the College of Montana has attained a front rank among the younger educational institutions of our Church. He will bring to the Board's service the prime of his powers and a large and special experience.

OUR MISSIONARIES.

The missionaries aided by the Board during the year number 1,701. They have served some 4,000 churches and stations. They constitute a noble brigade of soldiers of the cross. A large proportion of them are men of marked capabilities and fine equipment for their sacred calling, and as a body their devotion and fidelity are beyond all possible earthly appreciation and reward. Their wives, and often their sons and daughters as well, are their worthy and willing helpers. Their aggressive activity is at least equalled by their patient endurance. They would be the last to desire that the harder phases of their experience should be over-stated in this report; but it accords with simple fairness and sober truth to say that the pinch and stress they not infrequently feel when remittances from the drained treasury of the Board are inevitably withheld for weeks after they are due, should be borne in mind, as urgent arguments for increased contributions from the Church at large.

But praise of our missionaries goes without saying. The available space in this report may be better employed in urging the increase of their number. The great need of the hour is more men for the work. It is as true to-day as it was when the Master said it, that "the laborers are few." Their number, indeed, steadily increases, but the work grows far faster. If one-third of the eight hundred students or so in our thirteen theological seminaries become ministers this spring, the Presbyterian Church will put into the work this year one for each three thousand communicants. Some in addition to these are obtained from other Christian communions. But the entire supply is sadly behind the demand. Calls outnumber candidates. The field widens more rapidly than the tilling and reaping.

The Board respectfully asks the Church seriously to consider the causes of this shortcoming. Who is to blame for it? The fault must be within the Church itself. There are young men enough. They crowd into every other calling. And the young men themselves are not alone to blame. Pastors do not ply and urge them as constantly and earnestly as they might with the claims of this sacred service. Parents too often allow or encourage their sons to leave the ministry out of the question in their choice of a life-work. There are many large, strong, prosperous congregations, especially in the great cities, which year after year furnish not a single candidate for the pulpit out of their hundreds of bright and noble youth. How can the Church consistently deplore the lack of ministers and missionaries when it fails to lay holy hands on its own children for this high calling? If, out of the army of strong and capable youth who graduate every year into active life from Presbyterian families, even a single thousand should each year be led by human persuasion and Divine guidance to enter the ministry, who would venture to say that this is in excess of that "living sacrifiere" which the Church is called to lay on her Redeemer's altar? The generous congregations thus devoting their best and brightest would be enriched by their own depletion, and thrive afresh spiritually by the healthful stir of this sacred emigration. The noble offering would inspire the whole Church with a new and heavenly ambition, and win the enriching benediction of God.

FINANCES.

The year opened with a debt of $33,337.89. Home Missions proper had a balance in its favor of $4,236.08, while the account of Teachers and Chapels, New York Synodical Aid Fund, and Sustentation had deficits respectively of $27,619.47, $9,829.02, and $165.48, giving net deficit as above. The receipts of the first six months, from all sources, showed an increase of $55,000, and those of the first ten months an increase of $97,000, over the same months of the previous year. But there was a falling off in February of $11,000, and in March of $85,000, as compared with the year before. Collections from congregations for Home Missions proper show a falling off of $19,814 from last year. The total amount contributed to the Board from all sources during the year has been $831,170.40; for current work, $809,094.61; for N. Y. Synodical Aid Fund, $11,672.99; for permanent and trust funds, $4,700.00; for sustentation department, $5,702.80. The Board closes the year with a balance against it of $80,391.94. Of this, $13,021.27 is on account of Teachers and Chapels, $28,551.33 on account of New York Synodical Aid Fund, $38,819.34 on account of Home Missions proper—that is, aid to churches in the support of ministers.

The General Assembly of 1887 asked for an income for the Board of $800,000, and the Church gave only two per cent. less. The Assembly of 1888 asked for $850,000. Once more the Board received only about two per cent. less, or $832,647.56. The Assembly of 1889 recommended an income of $875,000, or only five and one-quarter per cent. advance on the receipts of the previous year. So moderate a proposed advance it seemed reasonable to expect to be realized. It is somewhat disappointing that the great Presbyterian Church, having stood by the Board's work so staunchly for some years past, should this year fall so far short of the moderate ratio of proposed increase, and the forecast of the General Assembly, to say nothing of the fast-growing needs and the clamorous calls from all quarters for new work. There has been no undue or hasty expansion. The moderate increase in expenditure in the earlier months seemed justified by the then increasing receipts. Since then the Board has resolutely declined to increase appropriations whenever possible.

The only remedy for this shortcoming is a constant and general effort to obtain contributions from all congregations and Sunday-schools, and a patient cultivation of the gracious habit of Christian giving, especially among the young. There is no more encouraging sign for the future than the large amount and the rapid increase of gifts to Home Missions from the young people of our congregations in Sabbath-schools and societies; and this interest should be fostered and expanded, as a sure guarantee for the next generation.

The attention of the General Assembly and the Church, especially the men of business who are interested in our work, is called to the fact, as made plain in the experience of this and previous years, that a large increase is desirable in the amount of invested funds which the Board is authorized to use as collaterals for loans. During at least the summer months of every year the Board's outgo so far exceeds its income that large loans are absolutely necessary. The full limit of the Board's credit was reached this last season, at a time when further loans to a moderate amount and for a brief term would have enabled the Treasurer to pay promptly many missionaries who had to wait for weeks. The collaterals now available for loans for general work are only about $75,000, and those specially available for woman's work not more than $7,000. An increase of the funds thus available to double the present amount would greatly facilitate the work. When it is kept in mind that from April to November, for several years past, beyond the Board's power to help it, its outgo has exceeded its income by $1000 to $1500 every day, it will be seen how desirable and vital is this increase of basis for necessary loans.

The Treasurer's report will furnish all necessary financial details.

NON-CONTRIBUTING CHURCHES.

Of the 6,727 churches reported to the last General Assembly, 1880, or about twenty-eight per cent., made no contribution to the Board of Home Missions. It would be natural enough to conclude at first thought that these churches would be found in the list of those aided by the Board as unable even to support themselves. It should be known and noted, however, that the fact is just the contrary. There is no one of its rules on which the Board more positively insists than the requirement of a Home Mission collection from every church aided by its funds. A failure in this is always noted, and the delinquent church is required to make the omission good. However small the contribution may be in proportion to the aid extended, it is none the less insisted on, and with hardly an exception it is actually paid. The non-contributing churches, then, whether weak or strong, are not the Home Mission churches. This puts the case of these non-contributing churches in a new light, and not a pleasant or creditable one. It is painfully unsatisfactory that so large a number of congregations which can and do bear the expense of their own church privileges should habitually give nothing to mission work at home, to say nothing of that abroad. How to bring these churches to admit and perform their duty is a problem which the Board has long sought in vain to solve, and to which the Church at large should seriously address itself. The remedies for the evil are doubtless to be found in various directions. Every pastor and stated supply should make it his business to see that this cause, whether popular or not, is annually presented to and pressed on his people for their contributions. Elders and deacons should fulfill their bounden duty as ordained church officers to stand by their pastor and brace him up to the work, instead of disheartening and hindering him by apathy or even positive discouragement, as is no doubt often the case; and they should be especially forward in urging a collection when the pulpit is vacant, and in securing prompt remittance of the proceeds, a point not infrequently neglected. A stated clerk in a strong country presbytery some years ago, by a little urgent correspondence, prevailed on half-a-dozen negligent churches to fill half or two-thirds of the previously vacant columns. An active and resolute elder in the Presbytery of Rochester a year or two since plied the delinquent congregations with appeals until all had given to this Board, except two; and, not succeeding with these, at the last minute he sent contributions for them out of his own pocket, in anticipation of their own action, and thus filled the Board's blanks that year. A Home Mission committee that means business, or a single determined minister, could partially or wholly remedy this fault in every presbytery; and there is hardly a non-giving congregation in which there is not some one elder who might, if he would, secure at least some small contribution to the Board, however indifferent or disaffected the people might be.

RAILROADS.

These constitute a stock topic in a Home Mission report. Railroads sustain a relation to the country's development and history which is unique and unparalleled. They are the nerves of the Nation's life, the standard of its growth, the indices of the march and move of its population. They push onward into regions where emigration has preceded them; or they lead the way by making channels through which the living tide is sure to pour. Our immense railway system is the growth of the last sixty years. There were twenty-three miles in 1830. In 1861, when the civil war broke out, there were 31,000 miles. In 1890 there are nearly 170,000 miles, or almost half the mileage of the world, and six times as much as in Germany, whose railway mileage ranks next. The largest annual increase has been 12,872 miles in 1887. The last nine years have added at least 68,000 miles. The present season promises greater activity in railway construction than has marked any previous year. There are some five thousand miles in process of construction, seven thousand miles surveyed or under survey, and nearly three thousand miles so seriously projected and pushed, that they will probably be either completed or fairly begun before the close of the year—a total of nearly 15,000 miles. The larger part of the construction of the last few years has been in the Central West, Northwest and Southwest. The bulk of the pending enterprises is in the South and Southwest, in Pennsylvania and Ohio, and in Montana, Oregon and Washington. In the last two States three hundred miles were finished between February 1st and March 15th, and 1500 more are to be completed within two years. All along the vast and rapidly growing extent of these prodigious railway lines, especially in the newer regions, the natural increase of our population, the immense multitudes of foreign immigrants, and the swarms of restless seekers for better fortunes have been or will be speedily distributed. The new settlements are at first generally small and weak, and the people mostly poor. The settlers are, as a rule, unable to provide and maintain religious privileges for themselves, and very largely also indisposed to make efforts or sacrifices to secure them until their worldly circumstances are improved. If the Gospel and the Church are to reach them with elevating and saving influences in their formative period, they must have encouragement and pressure and material aid from without. The religious hope and opportunity of the new settlements of the land are to be found alone in the steady and tireless pushing of the work of Home Missions.

THE FIELD.

This report will not admit of anything like a complete sketch of the whole vast field, but some large sections of it seem to call for special notice and detail.

THE NORTHWEST.

The Synod of Columbia includes Oregon, Washington, Alaska, and one presbytery in Idaho. It covers, without Alaska, 178,000 square miles. The region is of itself a broad and grand Home Mission field, in which there are need and scope for ten-fold the men and money as yet devoted to it. Washington is a young but mighty State, with 250,000 people, and thousands pouring steadily in. Gray's Harbor is one of the best harbors on the Pacific coast, and is sure to attract commerce and population. We have already an organized church at Aberdeen, near it, and there are other important points on its shores. Puget Sound is a noble inland sea, on whose shores great cities are growing up, and vast industries rapidly developing. Port Townsend, whose great expectations have tarried, may soon have the stimulus of a railway terminus. Our church there has just entered its new edifice, and is prospering well. The land around Dungeness, near by, is said to raise one hundred bushels of wheat to the acre. Seattle is rising from its ashes, and pushing toward the foremost place on the Sound. Tacoma has had a marvellous growth of values and business, and holds its own in the van of progress. It has a population of 30,000, having trebled in five years. It has three live Presbyterian churches, where there was but one eighteen months ago. The Northern Pacific Railroad, already in operation from Tacoma to Seattle, will soon be extended further northward to meet the Canadian Pacific at Anacortes, on Fidalgo Island—a point already occupied by an organized church and a missionary of the Board, and whose prospective and not distant importance may be inferred from its growth from eight buildings and two hundred people in December last, to one hundred and fifty buildings, one hundred tents, and more than two thousand population in March. Fidalgo City, on a fine bay on the southeast of the island, is rapidly increasing in population. It is at the head of the strait of San Juan de Fuca, and separated from the mainland only by a creek. Yakima to the south is the centre of a very fertile tract, which must fill up rapidly. The Oneida Community has bought 170,000 acres east of it for fifty cents per acre, which, when irrigated, will sell up to $25 per acre. The section east of the Columbia is rapidly opening up. Large transfers of land indicate a new influx of population. Spokane Falls is being rebuilt with new ambition and promise. In Pasco the railway authorities have made a liberal offer for the founding of an academy, and there are signs of great and rapid growth. Great tracts of this region, like the Walla Walla valley in the southern part, though almost without rainfall, grow the best varieties of wheat ("club" and "blue-stem"), without irrigation, up to fifty bushels per acre, and will surely attract a large agricultural population. The memories of Whitman and Spaulding invite hereabouts the utmost missionary effort.

Oregon has a population of three hundred thousand, which is fast increasing. Portland's suburbs have several struggling congregations which will one day hold large places in the church system of a great city which will then overspread and include them all, as the metropolis of the Northwest. The Presbyterian Alliance is reaching out from the city's strong and prosperous centre to foster these infant enterprises, and should do this still more freely, in co-operation with the steady aid of the Board. Southwestern Oregon is a wonderful fruit-growing region, equal as such to Northern California, and will soon fill up with a large population. The railroads are pushing through the mountain gaps to several fine harbors on the coast, where in the near future populous cities must stand. The Union Pacific Railway will soon reach tide water at Tillamook. Coos City and Empire City have harbors with twenty feet of water. Our Church has laid extensive foundations, and already supports a large number of devoted workmen in that fair region; but the work should be buttressed and broadened at once, and prompt and generous outlay for this will surely bring a rich return. Umatilla County, in northeastern Oregon, with its reservation for the Indian tribe of that name, should soon have a school for this and neighboring tribes on the quarter section recently granted by government to the Board for that purpose. Union County adjoining, with its beautiful lake Walloma, has open fields which should be soon and strongly occupied. Baker City, the county seat, should be well manned and reinforced as a radiating centre. Prineville, in Crook County, in the heart of the State, is an important and inviting point. Indeed, the vast counties in all that broad and splendid region, many of them as large as some Eastern States, all contain strategic points, which, if men and money were forthcoming, could soon be impressed and controlled by Christian influences. Idaho, whose rich resources have hardly yet been touched by the hand of development, is on the verge of statehood. Post Falls should have a Presbyterian church, and other places are within our reach. This synod is calling for thirty new men.

Last year's report chronicled the admission to statehood of the two Dakotas. The two cover 151,000 square miles between them, or about the same area as Montana, the great Rocky Mountain State then also admitted. Our Home Mission work in Dakota has been almost entirely accomplished in the last dozen years. North Dakota has about 250,000 people. The past year has been a very hard one. From crop failures it has been reported that five thousand people were at one time on the verge of actual famine. Poverty and removals have forced many changes of ministers. It has been almost impossible to raise the people's part of salaries. Missionaries have incurred great hardships and anxieties. In January, thirty-three churches, or one-third of those in the three presbyteries, were reported vacant. Some of these have but a nominal existence, but many are important. The severe winters render this splendid region less attractive than some otherwise far inferior. But these drawbacks are but partial or temporary, and the work is going steadily onward with promise of enlargement and success.

South Dakota has about 400,000 people. Our missionaries have done much hard and fruitful work. The last meeting of synod reported the organization during the year of one presbytery, twenty-one churches, and one hundred and twenty Sabbath-schools, the addition of eight hundred members by confession of faith, and four thousand two hundred children to Sabbath-schools, and the completion of nine church edifices and three manses. The Black Hills Presbytery covers a fine stock and farming region. Eight churches have been organized there during the year, and contributions and membership have been more than doubled. A dozen men are wanted for vacancies and new work. The recent opening of the Sioux reservation will invite a large influx of white population, besides giving the right of suffrage to five thousand Indians. It is said that by the next presidential election there will be twenty thousand Indian voters in the land; a strong argument for pressing school and mission work among them.

The vast and rich expanse of the young State of Montana affords a noble field for Home Mission work. Good beginnings have been made, and many important points strongly occupied; but laborers and stations should be speedily multiplied. There will be a renewed survey of the field this year, and the most vigorous efforts possible with the means at the Board's command to expand and speed the work. The force there of about a score of ministers should be doubled this year. Choteau, Barker, Castle, Neihart, Philbrook and Lewistown are points which demand immediate attention.

THE SOUTHWEST.

The Synod of the Pacific includes California and Nevada. The latter State is not advancing in population and prospects, and evangelistic work, though persistently pressed, finds but limited encouragement and success. We have an unoccupied church and manse at Eureka, which should be manned. The State needs four or five men. In California the work of Home Missions, grandly successful in recent years, is retarded by some special drawbacks. The three hundred Presbyterian churches, with an average of little more than sixty members each, are mostly poor and dependent, and just now largely and specially depressed by financial embarrassment. The vast wealth of the State is mostly as yet not tributary to the Kingdom of Christ. The colossal fortunes which have been piled up around the Golden Gate are not yet tithed for Christian enterprises. An earnest effort has been made during the past winter to widen and complete the now meagre equipment and endowment of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in San Francisco—the success of which would greatly tend to the furtherance of Home Missions on that coast, by providing what is probably the most pressing need of the work in that region to-day, a larger supply of trained and able ministers. One gentleman offered a most advantageous site in a beautiful suburb of San Francisco, and another subscribed $250,000 for additional endowment, on condition that $50,000 should be raised outside. It is probably safe to say that if this aid from abroad could be obtained, the $300,000 of endowment thus secured to the Seminary, with its new site and buildings, would raise it to such dignity and prestige as to inspire new appreciation and confidence, and command large benefactions in its own neighborhood, putting it beyond any further need of Eastern help. The trained ministers who would then be supplied to the churches which now find it next to impossible to get them, would lift weak congregations speedily to self-support; and the Board of Home Missions would thus be largely relieved both of the care of churches which it has long aided, and of the costly necessity of sending ministers across the continent, if they can be obtained at all.

Texas is an empire in itself. It would cover almost six New Yorks. Most of its vast area is as fertile as a garden. It could sustain the whole population of the Union, and grow cotton enough for all the world. Its development of late years has been marvellous. Millions of acres of its prairie, but lately empty and bare, are now dotted with thrifty homes and rich with teeming harvests. No less remarkable has been its improvement in order and morality and religion. Our own Synod of Texas, which ten years ago was so feeble and discouraged that the General Assembly debated the expediency of abandoning the field, has since more than doubled its membership, and is pushing its difficult work with admirable patience and courage. Our strong and zealous synodical missionary should have his heart cheered by the speedy doubling of the thirty home missionaries now in that field. Much has been hoped from coöperation with the Southern Church, as arranged by the two Assemblies. The experiment has hardly been long enough tried to show whether or not it will serve the great ends of fraternity and economy.

Arizona is a hard and trying field. Population is sparse. Iniquity and indifference abound. Living is high, and mission work costly. And yet it will be agreed that though obstacles are great and success is slow and small, earnest evangelistic effort should not be withheld from a region where, it is said, whole settlements have had no gospel ordinances within hundreds of miles for a dozen years. Arizona and New Mexico have just been included in the new Synod of New Mexico. In the latter Territory the evangelistic problem is to transform into American Christians the Indians and Mexicans who now form the large majority of the people. The most effective and promising part of the work done to this end is in our Indian and Mexican schools, further noticed under woman's work. Some of our missionaries and evangelists, however, both American and Mexican, have labored with great zeal and large success. Rev. James Frazer, until lately in charge of a wide field near Las Vegas, has reported the accession of one hundred and nine Mexicans by confession of faith during his last year of labor.

Last year's report called for ten men for Oklahoma, now just one year old, and already almost entirely occupied by a large population. Congress has so recently passed the legislation necessary for its organization, that titles, values and business are not yet fully settled; but the Board has six men already appointed and at work at Guthrie, Oklahoma City, Edmond, Norman, Kingfisher and Reno, and one or two more may be added. Church buildings have been finished and occupied at Kingfisher and Oklahoma City, and others will be erected before long. The "Cherokee strip" or "outlet," between Indian Territory and Kansas, some sixty miles by two or three hundred, will probably soon be opened and populated, and form a new and large field for mission work.

THE MIDDLE WEST.

Just forty years ago the first Presbyterian church was organized in Minnesota. To-day, in the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis, with a joint population of over four hundred thousand, and fast growing together into one great metropolis, some forty points, churches and stations, are held, and the two Presbyterian Alliances are pushing church extension. The work of Home Missions in the whole synod is healthful and advancing, notwithstanding the hindrances of severe drought and many removals. A score or more of churches have been organized during the year. Here is concentrated a mighty mass of the foreign peoples whose evangelization needs and demands the Church's utmost energy of effort. Of the State's one and one-half millions of people, one-third—some say more—are foreign-born, and mostly foreign-speaking; and from one-quarter to one-third of all the Scandinavians in the land are here. Among Swedes and Norwegians and Bohemians work has been begun, and will be pressed and extended as fast as men fit to carry it on can be found.

Presbyterian interests in Wisconsin have relatively lost ground for three years in comparison with those of some other denominations, for want of steady and watchful supervision. The first year's work of a new synodical missionary has given them a fresh impulse. Like Minnesota, it has a very large foreign element, probably two-thirds of its population of one million and three-quarters, nearly one-half being German. La Crosse, out of 32,000 people, has less than one-fourth English-speaking. Milwaukee has two-thirds German. It has one Holland church, but as yet no German. Two German churches there are now proposed. A German missionary at large, and also a Norwegian, are wanted there at once, and when found will be at once employed. New fields and calls for work have been created by the large and rapid railroad extensions. The Sault Railroad has built five hundred and seventy-five miles in fifteen months, and our Church has as yet occupied none of it. In two years the Lake Shore and Western has built three hundred and fifty miles, and the Wisconsin Valley one hundred and fifty. Our Congregationalist brethren have organized twenty-two churches in five years. The proper Presbyterian share of the work must be pushed with speed and vigor, and will be, if the men and means are forthcoming. We have eight German churches in the State, and should have many more. Twenty-two men are needed at once, including three Bohemians, six Germans, and three Scandinavians.

Iowa has suffered very much from depletion by removals to newer States, but our work there has been admirably managed and vigorously pressed. The southwestern part is as fertile a region as the sun shines on.

Missouri has suffered through its two years' lack of a synodical missionary. It has now a new and experienced superintendent, who is seeking out the weak places, filling the gaps, and stirring up church interests and enterprises in all the presbyteries. There is room for more speed and pressure in the staunch and sturdy Presbyterian fellowship of that great State, and more may be looked for before long. Thirty more men are urgently needed. There are churches which might soon reach self-support if each could have the entire attention of a pastor. Many congregations seem too content to hold on to outside aid, and need to be aroused and instructed in the direction of self-help. The Board has a right to demand vigorous coöperation from those whom it willingly assists. Indifference and slackness among the people are among the chief causes of stagnation and failure. A sister denomination, it is said, has disbanded fifty-three churches in the State in the last five years. Similar waste and defeat are not unknown in our own work here as elsewhere. Our field is large and inviting. Palmyra Presbytery has a territory larger than New Jersey. In Platte Presbytery two hundred and eighty miles of railroad were built last year. The synod includes Arkansas, where our work is as yet limited. The church at Hot Springs, long weak and discouraged, has had better prospects of late under the good work of the Rev. Thomas Marshall, and some new fields are proposed.

In Kansas, our church work has specially suffered by emigration. The population of the State, which was more than a million and a half last year, is said this year to have lost 53,000, or three and one-half per cent. This report has already referred to the serious, sometimes ruinous, losses in this way of our churches along the southern line. There has been also partial failure of crops. And yet it is said that the State added last year a million and a half of acres to its tilled area, and has reached the first rank in the yield of wheat and corn. The sure result of this will be to increase both the need and the promise of our church work, which during the year has been persistently active and steadily successful.

In Colorado few vacant fields are reported. The Mexican work has been going on grandly, and the schools are full. A number of elders have aided in a canvass of a part of the field, with a helpful and stimulating effect, and there have been some revivals. Some churches have reached self-support. A number of men are wanted. Wyoming is soon to be a State, and will need more laborers.

The work in the noble State of Nebraska goes quietly and steadily on, with constant if not brilliant progress. Our churches there have more than doubled in the last nine years. Omaha is a strong and well-manned Presbyterian centre. A Bohemian church has just been organized there. In Lincoln, the capital, a second and third enterprise are under way. Men are needed at a number of points.

THE SOUTH.

Vast and rapid as is the development of the Northwest, that of the South, in many parts at least, has of late been not far, if at all, behind it. Northern capital and Northern skilled labor have entered many sections together, and these have furnished openings and fields, some of which our Church has entered with vigor and success. Last year's report told of the beginning of our work in northern Alabama. The new Presbytery of Birmingham is gaining size and strength in spite of hindrances, the chief of which is inveterate sectional prejudice. In Anniston and Sheffield and New Decatur beautiful church buildings have been finished and occupied, and solid progress has been made. In Birmingham we have a missionary, but no edifice, though the field is the largest and perhaps the best of all. It is intended soon to organize and build at Thomas and at Ensley, suburbs of Birmingham. In Tennessee the rural churches do not seem to gain much ground. Poverty and prejudice and emigration hinder progress. The young people have largely gone away. And yet these weak churches are said to be furnishing more than their proportion of missionaries and teachers, both male and female. An English company has just bought a large mineral tract in East Tennessee, in which two prospective towns have been already located, which will soon assume importance, and which our Board has been urged to occupy at once. In Kentucky the work is hard and slow, and yet is steadily maintained. Florida has hardly recovered from last season's terrible visitation of yellow fever, and the work is retarded by the poverty of the people, and interrupted by absenteeism in summer. The orange crop will probably double next year, and improved circumstances will give impulse to church and mission enterprise.

SYNODICAL AID.

There is not much to add this year to what was said on this topic in the reports of last year and the year before. The plan of the Synod of New Jersey has resulted in complete success. The synod has cared for its own dependent churches, and has given the Board more than before for outside work. The Synod of Pennsylvania has not yet been able to shoulder the full burden, and the Board has borne a share of it; but the plan is resolutely pushed, and will probably succeed in time. The Synod of New York is still further behind. Somewhat less money has been raised for Home Missions than last year; while for the support of the feeble churches in the State, the Board is at this time $28,551.33 in advance to the Synodical Aid Fund. The difference between success in New Jersey and partial failure as yet in New York, may probably be found partly in the fact, that in the one case the presbyteries have earnestly set themselves to carry out what the synod had resolved on, and in the other some of them have not done so.

The Synod of Illinois has lately inaugurated a plan of synodical aid, which its authors claim to be preferable to any of the eastern schemes yet tried, and as the result of which the Stated Clerk writes, that "already twenty churches have been lifted out of the death-throes, and put upon their feet."

The subject of synodical aid connects itself closely with the difficult but vital question as to the best method of saving and sustaining the feeble and decaying churches in the older States. Indeed, it is the condition of these churches that has suggested these synodical schemes, and the fact that these schemes are adopted or proposed is an encouraging indication that the strong synods and presbyteries are beginning to awake to the needs of their own weak places, and are disposed to provide for them, while not diminishing their contributions for frontier work.

NEW ENGLAND.

No new churches have been organized during the year. Those previously organized hold on their way, with varying degrees of success, yet on the whole with an evident growth and gain which justifies the work. It is the Board's settled aim and policy in this region, not to build up distinctively American churches, or to attract members from other denominations to our own, but to put Presbyterian church ordinances within reach of new comers, who from training and conviction prefer them, and are for the time unable to support them unaided.

OUR FOREIGN POPULATION.

One in every seven of the population of the United States is foreign-born. One in every three is of foreign parentage. One in every six is foreign-speaking. Of foreigners, as a whole, a large majority are Romanists, including most of the Irish, Bohemians and French. Of those of foreign speech, on the contrary, a majority are Protestants—the Scandinavians, the Dutch, and three-fifths of the Germans. The Germans are very largely agriculturists, in the Central West. There are many counties in several States, as Texas, exclusively occupied by them. There are 400,000 Germans in New York City, and 40,000 Bohemians. There are Bohemian communities in Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Texas and elsewhere. The Scandinavians, as already noted in this report, form perhaps one-third of the people of Minnesota. There are large numbers of them in Utah.

The Presbyterian Church has not accomplished as much in this direction as the German, Methodist, Baptist and Congregational. But a new interest in this work has recently been developed throughout the Church. The Board hardly needed to be aroused on the subject. Indeed, it has repeatedly urged it on the attention of the General Assembly. How much foreign work shall be done, and how soon, is not for the Board, but for the Church to determine. When the Board closes the year, as now, with a heavy debt, it can hardly be said not to have gone far enough in any given line of work. New Presbyterian churches have been organized this year among Scandinavians, Bohemians and Germans. The main difficulty is that of finding fit missionaries speaking these tongues. Our struggling German theological seminaries are doing their best, which would be much better if their scanty means were increased. Several young Bohemians are already employed, and others are preparing. It is thought that others still may come from Bohemia to engage in the work. A young Spanish missionary of training and experience has lately begun work among Spanish-speaking people in New York City. Let the Church out of her vast resources furnish the means, and the Board will have the ability, as it certainly has the inclination, in pursuance of the Master's promise, to plan and do "greater things than these."

CITY EVANGELIZATION.

There is no need of repeating what was said in the last two reports as to the increase of interest and activity and success, of late years, in this great department of mission enterprise. Its relative size and importance are evident from the fact that already one-quarter of our population dwell in cities, and the further fact that this concentration is both steady and increasing. The list of cities in which church extension is earnestly pressed is larger this year than ever before. The work is both difficult and costly, but promising and fruitful, and at the same time more and more necessary. The Board stands ready to respond to all its claims and calls, to the full extent of the Church's will, as shown by the means it furnishes.

THE BOARD OF CHURCH ERECTION.

The Board of Home Missions has always found this Board its willing and sympathetic helper. We have had repeated proofs this past year of its readiness to render to the utmost its indispensable and timely aid, in assisting to a church home the congregations gathered and organized by the missionaries on the field.

THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION AND SABBATH SCHOOL WORK.

We make hearty acknowledgment this year, as last year, of the invaluable aid rendered to Home Mission work by the kindred labors of the scores of missionaries sent out during the summer months by this Board.

WOMAN'S WORK.

This department of the Board's work is entirely school-work, under the care of the Woman's Executive Committee of Home Missions, among the Indians, Mormons, Mexicans and Southern mountain whites. The schools, with a few exceptions, are all in the Indian Territory, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Alaska, North Carolina and Tennessee. There are 118 schools, 368 officers and teachers in charge, and 7,478 pupils. The work has cost this year $286,371.84. The present grand dimensions of the work have been reached in less than twelve years. In 1878 the Woman's Executive Committee was organized, and in the first year the income was not more than $5,000. Including gifts for Freedmen, it is now $337,841.89. A great enthusiasm has been kindled; the best women of the Church have been enlisted; societies have been formed in synods, presbyteries, congregations and Sabbath-schools, and information has been steadily distributed. The work is hard, slow and costly. Great care is taken to select teachers well approved and accredited in regard to character, piety, experience and aptness to teach. No part of the teachers' salaries can be looked for from the field, as in the case of most home missionaries, so that the expenditure is relatively large. The Indians, Mormons and Mexicans are hard to win and Christianize and Americanize. Bigotry, ignorance and indifference bar the way. Then the work of building chapels and schools on distant fields is very difficult and very expensive. Great labor is expended very successfully on the Committee's organ, the Home Mission Monthly, which is self-supporting. It is not easy in a few sentences to set forth the magnitude and multiplicity of the work of the Woman's Executive Committee. The necessary correspondence is very large and difficult, and perplexing questions are constantly arising for settlement. The ability, zeal and persistent energy of those who have given heart and hand to this work have won, as they have deserved, the admiration and confidence of the whole Church. They have been nobly supported by thousands of our worthiest Christian women, whose zeal and ambition have been kindled by contact with their own. The thing now most to be desired and aimed at is to attract to a participation in this wonderful work other thousands and tens of thousands of equally noble women throughout the Presbyterian Church who have not as yet been led to take hold of it.

The past year has not been less marked by progress and success in this work than those preceding it. The main drawback has been that the work has outrun the means. Large as has been the income, it has not met the demands of even the cautious and limited expansion which has been ventured on. The new work has in large part been both suggested and provided for by special gifts for the purpose—as for instance, the Oakland Institute at Asheville, N. C., the purchase money for which was entirely thus furnished. Other new work, on the contrary, has involved much added expense. It should be noted that this is especially true of the work transferred from the Board of Foreign Missions, which has made necessary considerable additional appropriations.

A complete list of the teachers will be found in the appendix. The new schools opened during the past year are given below, with the names of those having them in charge:

This work has encountered serious obstacles and some disasters during the past year; and yet it may be affirmed of it in general, that it has progressed and prospered. For instance, the boarding-school at Tahlequah, the Cherokee capital, on a commanding site overlooking the town, is a model of neatness and good order. Old Dwight Mission, in the heart of the Cherokee forest, with its new buildings, present and prospective, is a centre of elevating influence among the full-bloods. After an addition which will complete the main building this year, it is proposed to fit up an old cottage for the accommodation of a dozen more girls, and a teacher to superintend them. The next important step, if the work of this mission is to be perfected, should be the addition of a building with adjacent farm for boys at some distance from the present premises, and on a higher and better site. The outlay of $10,000 for this purpose would give to the men, as well as the women, the Christian training necessary to secure well-ordered households in the next generation. The girls' boarding-school at Muscogee, with its two cottage homes, is doing an invaluable work. At Wealaka the school building was last year condemned and vacated, thoroughly rebuilt and improved, and the school re-opened in December. It was just getting into full working order when on March 7th it was destroyed by fire. It will rest with the Creek nation, whose property it is, to say whether the building shall be restored, and the school resumed. The school at Wewoka, among the Seminoles, after a long and useful career, is now in a transition state, a new building being in process of erection by the nation in a different locality. The girls' boarding-school at Wheelock, and the Spencer Academy for boys, in the Choctaw nation, are prosperous and strong. In New Mexico, the Albuquerque Indian school has measurably recovered from its two fires, occupies one new brick building, and is about to add another. The school at Isleta, a large pueblo of 1,200 souls, is maintained with patient perseverance, in spite of the great hindrance of the irregular attendance of the children, and the discouraging indifference of the parents. The school for the Pimas at Tucson, Arizona, has lately received the unqualified encomium of the Rev. Dr. Dorchester, inspector of schools in the Indian Department at Washington. Gen. Armstrong, of Hampton, not long since pronounced our Good Will Mission School among the Sisseton Sioux in South Dakota to be a model school. The Mexican training school at Santa Fé has recently occupied its fine new brick building, a picture of which may be seen in the March number of The Church at Home and Abroad. Up to that time teachers and pupils had had a trying experience in the old dilapidated and over-crowded adobe buildings, which were quite unfit for the purpose. The Sitka native training school has added new buildings for boys' hospital, boys' reading room, museum, and other purposes, and still further improvements and additions in both buildings and industrial training are under way or within sight. The Collegiate Institute at Salt Lake City is probably the best school in Utah. Its able principal and teachers have done a noble work, notwithstanding the great embarrassment of insufficient accommodations and appliances. Our church at Ogden has within the year doubled its membership, and trebled its congregation and Sabbath-school. The present church and school sites have been sold at an advance, and the buildings for both will be erected without delay on the fine central lot which has long been awaiting them. The new Academy building at Logan, the chief town in the beautiful

Cache Valley, will soon be finished. Several new school chapels in other places have been completed, or soon will be. All school and mission work in Utah has received a much needed impulse and encouragement from the "Gentile" victory a year ago in Ogden, which will probably be in time the chief city of Utah, and from the recent similar success in Salt Lake City, where there was for the first time an American majority. Other important towns in the Territory, such as Logan, Hyrum and Spanish Fork, will probably follow in the same direction before long. It is the beginning of the end. It is the turn of a tide which can hardly turn back again. It is a grand relief and reward for the devoted missionaries and teachers who have held on and held out so long and so well on that hard field. Among the mountain whites of the South, the Home Industrial School at Asheville, N. C., with one hundred and forty girls, is admirably efficient and successful; and the Oakland Institute close by it, with its splendid site, buildings and equipment, opened last autumn with the hope and promise which it needs only time and opportunity to fulfill, of fitting young women, by a higher grade of training and instruction, not only for general usefulness, but for special work as missionary teachers. In the former school (especially) there has been a marked religious influence.

We have given only a few specimens at random from the work in this broad field. As to the new work in sight, the grant of land in the Umatilla reservation in Oregon for school purposes has been already mentioned. An industrial school is in contemplation on the quarter section granted some time ago among the Kiowas and Comanches, in the Indian Territory, if the means shall be forthcoming; and the United States Government has offered the Board an appropriation for a school for the natives at Point Barrow, Alaska, the northern-most point on the continent.

The following is a summary of the school work:

NUMBER AND DISTRIBUTION OF MISSIONARIES.

The number of missionaries who have labored the whole or a part of the year in connection with the Board is 1,701, and they have been distributed as follows: in

The above table shows the truly national character of the work of the Board. It has congregations and missionaries in forty-four of the forty-nine States and Territories of the Union. It has none in South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana. In New Jersey the Home Mission churches are supported by synodical aid independently of the Board, while contributions are still made as before to the Board's general work. It will be noticed that out of the 1,701 missionaries enumerated and classified above, no less than one hundred and ninety-nine are at work in Southern States. Our Church is national, and not sectional, and so is its Home Mission work.

APPENDIX.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE ON HOME MISSIONS.

The Standing Committee on Home Missions presented its report, which was accepted, and after addresses by the Rev. William Irvin, D.D., and the Rev. Henry Kendall, D.D., Secretaries of the Board, was amended and adopted, and is as follows:

He has lived a generation who has served Home Missions during the past year. He has witnessed changes in populations, in possessions, in facilities for education and in the development of Christianity, which thirty years could not compass a century ago. The home missionary does business without capital or collaterals; is often poor and poorly supported. His thirst for books is tantalized by the advertisement of volumes he can never hope to purchase. He frequently preaches without a house of worship, without Christian and social fellowship, without the aid of church-going habits of older communities; but with all this God has used him in securing phenomenal success, for with only one-eighth of the membership of the Presbyterian Church he has received one-fifth of the additions the past year.

The missionaries of the Board have gathered into the churches 17,886 souls, 9795 of them on profession. They have organized two Sunday-schools a day for the entire year, and every second day a church. They have a church membership of 100,778, and a Sunday-school membership of 160,111, and all this is accomplished at an average cost of $450 per minister, including all the expenses of the Board. Was ever such a marvel preceded by such seemingly inadequate causes? You cannot explain it unless you say, "These men have been with Jesus and learned of Him." The day is coming when young ministers will cease to ask, "Ought I to be a home missionary?" and will say, "May I be a home missionary?" For they will come to us "out of Israel in abundance when they see that the Lord is with us."

Success has been all the more noteworthy, because it has prevailed in Dakota with its 5,000 starving families, California with a failure of a chief industry, and in Kansas and Texas where the Oklahoma boom drew hundreds of church members away.

The different sections of our country throng with interest. For instance, the revival of Presbyterianism in New England is a striking example. It began about seven years ago. Boston Presbytery at that time had some fifteen churches. Now it has thirty-four. They extend from New Brunswick on the north to Newport at the south. These churches are largely composed of those who came to New England as Presbyterians. They are located mainly in large manufacturing centres, and have developed a rapid and surprising strength. Their membership in all but two instances exceeds one hundred, and in several instances reaches nearly three hundred. The value of church property added to the Presbyterian denomination in New England will aggregate somewhere near $140,000. The membership of these new churches will aggregate about three thousand. We question if any part of the Home Mission territory has yielded returns more satisfactory than this. As an illustration, some six years ago, a church was organized at Quincy. On last April it reported two hundred and seventy members, a Sunday-school of two hundred and fifty, a church and a manse worth $12,500. The people raised last year $2,100. This is no isolated instance. About three years ago the Scotch Church was organized in Boston. It now has an attendance of from six hundred to eight hundred, a membership of nearly three hundred, and owns a house costing $27,000.

The attitude of other churches, especially the Congregational, is friendly. One Congregational Church gave $4,000 to build a Presbyterian Church; others have helped by endorsements and money. Our Church does not proselyte but simply reaches and cares for its own. Presbyterians are coming from Scotland, Ireland and the Canadian Provinces, and will continue to come. We must provide churches for these people, else leave them to the world, where they will be lost to every phase of Christianity.

Then, too, the work in the Indian Territory is as interesting as it is unique in character. The population truly represents the gradations of civilization. From the savage and blanketed Indian of the Western reservation, through the five civilized nations to the representatives of our advanced American culture, we have there exhibited the successive stages of progress, and are enabled to see at a glance the methods of political development. Our missionaries have labored long and successfully there, and the prosperity, education and degree of civilization enjoyed by the Indians are due solely to the efforts of consecrated men and women who have devoted their lives to this special work. Although their names may not be known as household words among the churches, none truly deserve more honorable mention than these servants of the Master, who have undertaken work in this particular field. Events are moving rapidly in the Indian Territory. Many new lines of railroad are projected, which when built will give it more railroads in proportion than are now in Kansas. A new judicial system, with a complete code of laws, has lately been provided, and with liberal provision for Indian citizenship and settlement of the land questions, it is safe to predict a speedy end to tribal autonomy. This means the opening of a vast region to settlement, the establishment of churches and the thorough organization of every form of Christian work. For this we must prepare, and there is no time to lose. Our churches and schools must be multiplied, and our brethren of the ministry must be fully reinforced by competent educated men trained for Christian work. What the future has in store for the whole territory was illustrated by the marvelous rush into and settlement of Oklahoma during the past year. A wonderful transformation has taken place. Where all was unbroken prairie one year ago, are now cultivated farms. The tents and dugouts of the boomers have given place to well-built homes, substantial blocks of stone and brick. The unorganized communities are now all members of a legally constituted commonwealth. All the elements of great progress and general prosperity are there, and Oklahoma's future is one of great promise. Here our Church has shown itself capable of wrestling with critical social problems, and stands to-day as the leading denomination in enterprise. Every county has its minister, and many churches have been organized. Others are under way. With more ministers and liberal aid for the erection of churches, the Presbyterian Church will do for Oklahoma what it has done for Kansas and Dakota. But these are imperative. When the Cherokee strip is opened to settlement there will be as great a rush as was made into Oklahoma. On a false report last March 20,000 men crossed into the strip from Kansas, to be driven out later by soldiers. What then will happen when the country is legally opened to settlement? Our Board must be ready when the time comes, for it is almost impossible to recover ground lost in such a critical time. If in Oklahoma in the first year we have been able to organize ten vigorous churches, what may we not expect when a region three times as large is opened? Twelve thousand people were in Guthrie two days after Oklahoma opened, 7,000 in Oklahoma City, 5,000 in Kingfisher. In the Cherokee strip we shall have a dozen towns of equal size. We must be ready for the emergency with a chosen corps of able ministers to organize the churches.

A similar opportunity is ours in New Mexico. A general feeling of dissatisfaction pervades the Roman Catholics of the territory. They are looking to us for religious instruction. Almost every community in the territory is ready to welcome a minister or teacher. In the face of bitter persecution, many of the Spanish-speaking people are turning from the priests and renouncing allegiance to Rome. The progressive spirit of American civilization has penetrated the Pueblos, and New Mexico is awakening to intellectual, commercial and spiritual activity. Nowhere else is opened a wider door, and in no other region will evangelistic work produce more far-reaching effects.

To thoroughly win New Mexico is to insure success in all Spanish-speaking countries on this continent. The connection is so close that efforts there are felt as far south as the Isthmus. Here a new departure is producing good results. Native teachers and catechists are sent out who can go where our ministers cannot, and from these we are getting a corps of native ministers who will do a great work among the people. Through these and our schools we hope to reach in time every home in New Mexico. We say, "through our schools." We may justly regard them as equally important with the ministry. In several towns, had we room and facilities in our schools, we could have five hundred pupils, bright young men and women eager for Christian education. In Las Vegas and Santa Fé especially do we need large and well-equipped buildings. In both of these places we have been compelled to turn away a great number of children for the lack of room. New Mexico must be filled with Christian schools equal in capacity with those established by Roman Catholics. At Las Vegas the Jesuit school has room for three hundred, we can care for seventy-five only. They have good buildings, ours are adobe huts. So too elsewhere. This work must be pressed, even though it makes large demands upon our treasury, for the money thus expended will bring immediate and large returns.

Similar opportunities are open to us in the South. It is gratifying to notice the advance of the Board's work in this region, comprehending Southern Virginia, Western North Carolina, North and South Carolina, Northern Georgia, Alabama, Texas, Tennessee and Kentucky, popularly known as the New South. The revelations in recent years of the salubrious climate, and the exhaustless varied natural resources for the production of wealth, have attracted millions of capital for investment, and wide streams of intelligent, enterprising and progressive immigration. So that the prospect for enlarging the Board's work is imperative in its need, and encouraging in the cordial reception extended to its efforts. The mingling of the best element from the North and the best element of the South in commercial, industrial, civil, social, educational and religious pursuits, tends to produce the elimination of sectional prejudices, and the New South is appearing. Accordingly the obstructions hitherto impeding the Board's work in the South diminish in gravity in the ratio of the Board's ability to produce men and means to meet the expanding opportunities. A hopeful evidence of this work is the organization of the Presbytery of Birmingham in the State of Alabama, with five churches and as many ministers. The organization of such work presses itself upon the Board from every side, as the establishment of new towns and the enlargement of older ones is unprecedented in the history of the South.

A prosperous phase of the Board's work in the South is the hopeful growth of the schools of the Woman's Executive Committee. They have been established at Asheville, North Carolina, Elizabethton and New Market, in Tennessee, and at numerous other points in the destitute mountain regions of the Central South, and they are proving a great blessing to these localities, besides laying the foundations for future churches. Your Committee cordially recommends the mountain school work of the Board to this Assembly with the hope that enlarged effort may meet with still greater results.

Then, too, the work of city evangelization has interesting features peculiar to itself. Just think of it! There are 50,000 Bohemians in Chicago. They are singularly accessible. What might not be done, if only there were men to go and means to sustain them? There are also 50,000 Polanders without a single Protestant missionary among them. There are 20,000 Italians. The Pope has lost them. They will follow anybody who will teach them to read. Many are becoming infidels. A little church organized six years ago numbers one hundred and fifty. Their building is too small for those that are accessible. The Scandinavians number 75,000, and in four years four large self-sustaining churches have been built up. Three hundred thousand Germans have a half dozen churches. One hundred thousand Irish belong to the foreign classes of Chicago. Will their chains of superstition ever be broken? A similar state of things exists in all our large cities. City evangelization and self-protection are twin sisters, to say nothing of the Master's command to evangelize the world. But the cities are not alone threatened. Whole counties are settled up with a foreign population. The best cotton in the world is raised in Texas, and the best cotton in Texas is raised in a strictly German county. In a town in that vicinity the annual public school picnic is held on the Sabbath; and another town boasts that there is not a Bible in it, and that none is wanted. The proportion of foreigners in the West is still more marked. What urgency then for home missionary effort!

The Northwest, what cannot be said of it? It has all the elements of wealth. Much of it is unequaled as an agricultural region. Montana and Idaho are noted for precious metals, copper, iron and great coal fields. Lumber abounds in Washington and Oregon. There are vast harbors to encourage commerce, and the railways bring hundreds of immigrants every day. Whatever is done for them must be done now. Seattle grew from ten thousand to twenty thousand in five years. Multiplied places are growing even more rapidly. Seventy-five home missionaries are needed in the Northwest at once. Helena has a population of twenty thousand, and her Protestant churches will not seat more than 1,200. "Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?"

Your Committee enters upon a statement of the condition of the home missionary treasury with mingled feelings of astonishment and pain. They are compelled to look in the face a debt of $80,819.34. What is to become of the home missionaries? Worse still, what is to become of the cause of Christ? There are 1,880 churches, twenty-eight per cent. of the whole number, that gave nothing last year to Home Missions. Many of them are weak, to be sure, but too many of them are strong. There ought to be Presbyterian oversight to prevent such neglect of duty.

Your Committee is of the opinion that if the churches only knew more about Home Missions, they would give more to Home Missions, and they therefore recommend an urgent effort to put our Church Magazine, as well as the Home Mission Monthly, published by the Woman's Executive Committee, into every hand. There should be wide use of home missionary literature, and, better still, every preacher ought to crowd his work full to overflowing with the home missionary spirit.

The Annual Report of the Woman's Executive Committee is a marvel of business clearness, but the success of their work is of chief interest. In 1889, the churches gave $266,395.20. In the same year the women gave $278,940.93, an excess on the part of the women of $12,645.73. In 1890, the one gave $246,580.49, the other $286,627.51, an excess on the part of the women of $40,047.02. That is to say, the women of the Church raised last year $12,645.73 more than the combined offerings of all the churches, and this year $40,047.02 more. To be sure, they received $50,000 in their school work from the Government, and consequently that much less from regular sources, but then it remains true that they received it. It is fairly due to their school work that this sum was secured, and even if you throw out this $50,000, they are then but $10,000 behind the contributions of the entire Church. But this is not all. These women have $92,000 pledged to support one hundred and thirty-nine teachers and six hundred scholars next year. The women get their money by the multiplication of small offerings, together with pledged, stated amounts.

Your Committee believe that the Board's policy of grouping churches should be wisely, firmly and kindly pushed by the Presbyteries, so as to relieve its treasury and give the widest proclamation to the truth. And that further great care should be taken not to crowd into fields already sufficiently supplied with the Gospel.

We wish to call the attention of the Assembly to the good home missionary results growing out of the work of the Sabbath-school missionaries of our Church. They organize schools, and the schools become churches. All praise to the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school work.

The Committee believe that the minutes of this Board are not as full as they ought to be. These minutes constitute the only authentic history of the work of the Board, but they are little more than a record of the appropriations made by the Board, with the names of the parties to whom the money of the Board, is given. They do not bring to view, or even allude to the efforts of the Board to provide funds for carrying on their work. The Treasurer of the Board reports to the Board at each monthly meeting. The report is not recorded on the minutes. The simple record is "That the report was received, approved, and ordered to be filed." There are no figures in the record that tell the amount of money received and expended.

Our judgment is that in the monthly report of the Treasurer, the amount of money received and expended should be stated and appear on the minutes, and that at the close of the year a statement corresponding to the brief summary in the Annual Report to the Assembly should be spread on the minutes of the Board. The fact that all the receipts of the Board come out in the printed Reports prepared for the Assembly, should not interfere with a full statement of the Board's financial condition in its own minutes.

In conclusion, your Committee would offer the following recommendations :

1. In view of the financial embarrassments of the Boards of Home Missions and Foreign Missions, we recommend that the churches take a special collection, to be equally divided between the two Boards, and that where it is possible, this collection should be taken in the month of June, but in any event, not later than the month of October.

2. It is recommended that the Sabbath-schools take a collection for this cause during the year, as advised by the Assembly of last year, and we suggest the Sabbath preceding Thanksgiving in November, as a fitting time for such offerings.

3. The Assembly has heard with thankfulness of the growth of Presbyterianism in New England; and it is recommended that they approve heartily of the help afforded to our churches there by the Board of Home Missions, and that they favor the widest and most rapid development of our New England work that shall seem wise to the Board.

4. Your Committee has examined the minutes of the Board and recommend their approval by the Assembly.

5. The term of service of the following members of the Board of Home Missions expires with this Assembly, viz. : Ministers—Thomas A. Nelson, D.D., James M. Ludlow, D.D.; Laymen—John S. Kennedy, John Taylor Johnston, John E. Parsons. Their reelection is recommended.

6. This Assembly heartily approves the efficiency and fidelity of the Board of Home Missions in its work during the past year, and in order that the Board may effectively carry on its work, it is hereby recommended to the churches to raise the sum of $900,000 for the cause of Home Missions during the present ecclesiastical year, and this to be additional to the special collection for the debt of the two Boards.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WOMAN'S EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

GENTLEMEN :

We present the Annual Report of the Woman's Executive Committee of Home Missions for the past year with earnest acknowledgment of the guiding hand and watchful care of that Divine Providence, responsive to whose call the work has been undertaken and sustained.

A backward glance over the record of the twelve months just completed reveals manifold mercies, not unminged with the trials incident to all work so far-reaching, embracing interests so vast and various.

During the year three of our Vice-Presidents, Mrs. Edward Ely, of Illinois, Mrs. Peyton Harrison, of Baltimore, and Miss Laura Sunderland, of Washington, D. C., foremost representative women, each occupying positions of great usefulness and prominence in their respective synods, have exchanged earthly service for heavenly activities. Eminently endowed as they were for the Master's service, we rejoice that God saw fit to honor the work of our Committee by calling to its aid these women of warm heart, clear judgment and unswerving loyalty. Having glorified Him in their lives and labor, He has glorified them by promotion to service in His immediate presence.

We would call attention to the marked prosperity which has attended the year's work as a whole. With the closing months of the previous year we celebrated the completion of the first decade of our organization, and entered upon a new era. So exceptional had been the record of progress that it was predicted that the limit of advance, at least financially, had been reached for some time to come. It is therefore with the greater gratitude that we call attention to the steady onward movement which is shown in nearly every department of our work.

In the various fields, in many instances, the Mission schools have been greatly blessed by the conversion of pupils. We have constant testimony from those conversant with the facts, that these schools are a necessary and most important factor in Americanizing and Christianizing the exceptional populations among whom they are located. It is the persistent endeavor of our devoted missionary teachers to secure the increased efficiency of the schools under their care. It is a matter of profound gratitude that while diphtheria and small-pox have ravaged many communities in which a number of the schools are located, yet not one of the missionaries has fallen a victim to these dread scourges. During the year, but two of the commissioned workers has been removed by death, Miss Lora Snow, of Utah, and Miss Lizzie Morrison, of Tahlequah, Indian Territory, though several faithful and efficient teachers have been laid aside by sickness and disease.

One of the most encouraging features of the year has been the increased amount received from Sunday-schools. The support of this work of "the young for the young" is eminently calculated to arouse the interest, and prompt the gifts of the youth in our Church. Eight hundred and twenty-three Sunday-schools have contributed to our funds, and we are assured that money, which in many instances would otherwise have been given to objects entirely outside the regular benevolence of the Church has thus been secured for its legitimate work. Believing that the children of the Presbyterian Church should be trained to an intelligent support of the work under its care, as well as to Christian patriotism, we trust that this evidence of growing interest in the educational work of the Board of Home Missions is but the promise of much greater results to be attained in the near future. To this end we ask your sanction to the request that the action of the last General Assembly be confirmed and renewed, suggesting that each Sunday-school devote at least one collection during the year to this department of work, and recommending the Sabbath in November immediately preceding Thanksgiving, as a fitting time when such offerings be made.

Another notable evidence of increased interest is found in the rapid growth of local societies and bands during the past twelve months. Last year the number was 3,850. This year we have received reports from 4,257. Our constant aim is to enlist yet other Presbyterian women and children, whom we are assured need but to be informed of the work to become its hearty supporters.

Our publications (a list of which is herewith presented) now include many valuable and stimulating leaflets, which have been prepared to meet the exigencies of our work. Many thousand copies have gone into circulation, and the demand is constantly increasing.

The Home Mission Monthly also enjoys continued prosperity. This magazine has never absorbed money outside of its own income in its publication, but has been a helpful agent in bringing increased funds into the treasury. As the organ of our work it is an important medium of communication, and has every where met with cordial support.

A still further gratifying fact remains to be recorded in the advance on last year's receipts made by our Synodical Societies. Notwithstanding unsurpassed disaster by the Johnstown flood, and though suffering from depression in its extensive coal traffic, the noble Synod of Pennsylvania has yet outstripped its sister synods, making the handsome advance of $5,000. New York and New Jersey have each made an advance of $4,000, the latter synod, notwithstanding the fact that it has less than one-third as many churches within its bounds as are comprised within the larger synod, keeping pace, step by step, with its stronger sister. Ohio, Michigan, Baltimore, Iowa, have also made notable advance; nor is this increase confined to the synods enumerated, but the entire list of the twenty-six synods which are organized for our work, with but three minor exceptions have each increased the amounts which they paid into our treasury over those of the preceding year. Could any better token of loyalty and faithfulness be called for?

It gives us great pleasure to state that the total amount received for the year was $337,841.89, exceeding the receipts of the previous year by $17,201.23. This advance, we are assured, is due not only to greater generosity and activity, but indicates increased devotion and prayer, thus affording even deeper cause for praise and gratitude. In this review of the year it must not be forgotten that we entered upon its work with a deficit of $27,000; a large portion of this amount was at once met by self-denial offerings—every coin weighted with a prayer and a promise—and the entire sum would undoubtedly have been realized from this source alone but for the Johnstown disaster, which thrilled the whole country with its appalling magnitude, and absorbed both the sympathy and benevolence of all Christian people by its overwhelming claims.

Having closed the previous year with a deficit, in entering upon the work of the past year, in conference with the officers and members of the Home Board the whole field was carefully gone over, station by station, and the expense of carrying on the work estimated, together with probable receipts, that thus all debt might be avoided if possible. Some months after this careful plan of the work was made, and the obligations involved assumed, we were requested to take charge of several mission stations among various tribes of Indians, which had heretofore been carried on by the Foreign Board. In compliance with the policy and sentiment of the Church at large, as voiced in previous instructions of the General Assembly, advising that all the work among the Indians should be conveyed to the Home Board as rapidly as possible, we did not feel justified in refusing the work. Aside from this unexpected and unplanned for work, we have not only paid off the $27,000 deficit of the previous year, but have met all our obligations, for, though on the day when our books closed for the fiscal year there was a balance of $13,021, against the educational work, delayed funds pledged for the support of teacher's salaries and scholarships have since reached our treasury, which, with some other sums, reduce the total to about the amount incurred in taking this transferred work. We feel that in assuming this work in compliance with express advice and action of the Home Board, we shall be abundantly sustained, and that the embarrassment of funds occasioned thereby will be but temporary, and all obligations be speedily met.

In order to secure as much certainty as possible to our income, we have obtained pledged salaries from societies and individuals of one hundred and thirty-nine of our mission teachers, amounting to over $61,000. We have also pledges for the support of six hundred scholarships, two hundred and seventy of these having been secured during the past year, the pledged funds from scholarships amounting to over $31,000.

Trusting that the year upon which we are now entering is as big with blessing as it is bright with promise, we assure you of the continued readiness of the Woman's Executive Committee to coöperate with the Board of Home Missions in the important work of making this a truly Christian land.

Our summary for the year is as follows:

	Schools.	Teachers.	Pupils.
Indians	33	164	2264
Mormons	37	99	2374
Mexicans	32	67	1627
South	16	38	1213

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ACTION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

AT SARATOGA SPRINGS, NEW YORK, MAY 21, 1890.

THE Report of the Board of Foreign Missions, and the manuscript volume of its Minutes for the year ending April 30, 1890, were presented to the General Assembly at Saratoga Springs, May, 1890, and were referred to the Standing Committee on Foreign Missions. The Committee consisted of—Ministers: David J. Burrell, D.D., Josiah Kittredge, D.D., Edward H. Curtis, D.D., Henry S. Butler, D.D., William S. Marquis, John M. Allis, Wellington J. White, Thomas Tracy; Ruling Elders: Alfred Hand, James D. Thornton, Moses W. Dodd, Franklin Dye, Richard E. Bryan, E. R. Paine, M.D., and Sydney B. Davis.

On Wednesday, May 21st, this Committee reported to the Assembly, and, on its recommendation, the following action was taken :

1. That the Minutes of the Board, which have been examined and found in order, be signed as approved.
2. That the election of new members in accordance with the action of the last General Assembly, authorizing the enlargement of the Board from fifteen to twenty-one, be ratified; the new members being as follows: Joseph R. Kerr, D.D., Rev. William R. Richards, Rev. John Balcom Shaw, Edward Wells, Esq., Messrs. Alexander Maitland, John Sloane, and D. W. McWilliams.
3. That the retiring class of the Board be re-elected, as follows: Charles K. Imbrie, D.D., George Alexander D.D., Joseph R. Kerr, D.D., Rev. William R. Richards; Messrs. Henry Ide, Warner Van Norden, and D. W. McWilliams.
4. That in answer to an overture from the Presbytery of Washington City, asking that the simultaneous meetings be held in some other than the first week in November, the General Assembly recommend that such meetings be held hereafter during the first week in December.
5. That in response to overtures from forty-seven Presbyteries, asking for the appointment of a Field Secretary, the Board be authorized to find a suitable man at the earliest moment, and appoint him for a period not to exceed three years, provided a sufficient sum shall be privately secured to meet his salary for that time.
6. That in answer to an overture from the Presbytery of Lima, protesting against the appointment of a Field Secretary, we refer to the foregoing answer to overtures from forty-seven Presbyteries petitioning for such appointment, as a necessary adjunct to our present working force.

7. That with reference to an overture from the Presbytery of Lima, requesting that the North American Indians be taken from under the control of the Board of Foreign Missions and placed in charge of the Board of Home Missions, answer be made that a gradual transfer has been going on for several years ; that special reasons exist in cases where such transfer has not been made, and that the further adjustment of the matter may safely be left to the two Boards, in accordance with the action of former Assemblies.

8. That we congratulate those godly women of the Church, who, during the past year of depression and retrogression, have not suffered their zeal to abate, but have opened their hearts and hands more largely than ever to the blessed work of evangelizing the earth, and that we invoke the divine blessing upon them, praying that they may be able to do yet more and more abundantly for the upbuilding of the kingdom of Christ.

9. That we urge a wider circulation of our magazine—The Church at Home and Abroad. The people are derelict for lack of knowledge. It is of the utmost importance that every family in the Church should be informed as to the work going on in missionary fields.

10. That we counsel our Sessions to see that due attention is given in our Sabbath-schools to the work of Foreign Missions, and that the children be encouraged to contribute generously, aiming at a sum total of not less than $50,000 for the current year.

11. That we suggest to our people, that, so far as practicable, their contributions for benevolent causes should pass through the regular and appointed channels of the Presbyterian Church. Without reflecting, in any wise, on the worthiness of other causes, we venture to urge that always, but certainly in the present exigency, our prime duty is to furnish an adequate support to our own. We should refuse all generous diversions until we shall have redeemed our moral pledges to our own Boards.

12. That the Monthly Concert of Prayer for Foreign Missions, or some similar service, should be maintained in all our churches, as affording a suitable opportunity for a presentation of the claims of the various mission fields, to the end that an intelligent and prayerful interest may be taken in the work.

13. An annual collection taken upon a single Sabbath should not of itself be considered a discharge of duty in any church with reference to the support of the Foreign Missionary work. If this were its only dependence, the great enterprise must languish. We, therefore, recommend the subscription plan, or the systematic pledge plan, to be used in connection with the plate collection, in which every member of the Church shall have an opportunity to give.

14. That, in view of the present emergency, a special collection be taken in all the churches on some Sabbath in June, if practicable ; if not, certainly not later than October, and that all the undesignated contributions made at such time be divided equally between the Home and Foreign Boards.

The following additional resolution was adopted :

' Resolved, That this Assembly pledges itself to do all it can to secure $1,000,000 for the Board of Foreign Missions the coming year, and authorizes the Board to make its appropriations in view of such an income.

FIFTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT.

IN presenting its Fifty-third Annual Report to the General Assembly, the Board of Foreign Missions would gratefully recognize the continued blessings of the Great Head of the Church upon its work and the continued interest in its prosecution which He has inspired in the hearts of His people.

The Board has suffered an unusual number of losses from its force during the past year. On May 22, 1889, Rev. James P. Wilson, D.D., who had been a member of the Board since the Reunion of the Presbyterian Church, was called to his rest after a brief illness, leaving in the Board and throughout the Church a deep impression of the sincerity and earnestness of his character, and of the depth of his missionary interest. As pastor of the Park Street church of Newark, which had been organized by his effort, and of which he had been the only pastor, he had greatly endeared himself to his people as well as to the members of his Presbytery and to the whole community in which he lived. His interest in the work of the Board of Foreign Missions was cherished to the very last.

On October 26, 1889, Hon. Hooper C. Van Vorst, a Judge of the Superior Court of New York, died very suddenly, entailing a great loss upon the Board, of which he had been for a number of years a member and a legal adviser. As an elder in the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, as an active laborer in Christian work, as a man of strong faith and prayer, as a safe and wise adviser always interested in every hopeful sign of progress, he had rendered himself trusted and beloved by all the members of the Board.

On December 28, 1889, Robert Carter, a name well known throughout the Church and the country, was called to his rest at the age of 82. He had been a member of the Board since 1843. He was one of the supporters of the Board from the time of its removal to New York, and its adoption by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church. He had been a large contributor to the Board, as well as a safe adviser in its counsels. His gifts were also extended to every form of missionary and charitable work. Though very quiet in his bestowments, it has been a matter of surprise to many, even of his friends, to learn the aggregate of his gifts and the proportion thereof to his means. Mr. Carter was pre-eminently a man of prayer, in the closet, in the home, in the Board, and in the ecclesiastical meetings of the Church. His faith and spirit of supplication were elements of power in the Board and in every form of Christian enterprise.

In accordance with the action of the last General Assembly authorizing the enlargement of the Board from fifteen to twenty-one members, the following have been chosen, and their names are submitted to the General Assembly for its ratification: Joseph R. Kerr, D.D.; Rev. William R. Richards; Rev. John Balcom Shaw; Edward Wells, Esq.; Alexander Maitland; John Sloane; D. W. McWilliams.

Mr. William Dulles, Jr., entered upon his duties as Treasurer of the Board June 4, 1889, and his administration has been found eminently satisfactory.

During the year the Board sent Rev. Arthur Mitchell, D.D., on a tour of inspection among the Missions in Japan, Korea, China, Siam, and India. He was accompanied by Mrs. Mitchell, and visited first our missions on the Pacific coast. Thence proceeding to Japan, he made a very thorough survey of the missions in the Japanese Empire, then in due course the mission at Seoul, Korea, whence he proceeded to North China. Though experiencing great discomfort on account of the advance of the season and the difficulties attending the close of navigation, he was enabled to visit the Peking Mission and to return to Chefoo in time to meet the brethren of the Shantung Mission at their annual meeting, at that place,—a meeting memorable in the history of the mission. The missions of Central and Southern China, and also the Siam Mission (not including the Laos), were visited in turn, but owing to great prostration Dr. Mitchell proceeded direct from Singapore to Aden, being obliged to pass by the India Missions. He arrived in Syria on the 29th of March greatly in need of rest and recuperation.

General health has characterized the year in most of the missions under the care of the Board, though there have been some sad losses. Rev. William Calderwood, of the India Mission, died May 22, 1889, after a long term of service. Rev. C. DeHeer, long a faithful and successful missionary in West Africa, died October 20, 1889, at Clifton Springs, N. Y. Miss Addie C. Ramsay and Professor W. T. Findley, both of whom contracted yellow fever on their passage, died in the Republic of Colombia,—Miss Ramsay at the home of her sister in Baranquilla, and Professor Findley on a river boat upon which he had taken passage for his mission field,—Bogota. The untimely death of these two young missionaries just at the threshold of their field of labor, has impressed not only the Mission and the Board, but the whole Church.

The year has been marked by great events, some of which have affected the mission fields occupied by the Board. The peaceful revolution in Brazil completes the list of Republics in Central and South America, and it has been followed by a proclamation of religious liberty to the very fullest extent. The auspices under which the mission year opens are brighter than those of any previous period in the history of Brazil.

In Japan a Constitution has been adopted, but at the same time there have been some symptoms of reaction against the advanced ground which had been taken with respect to foreign treaties. Meanwhile an intense intellectual activity is being developed, and whatever may be the relations of Japan to foreign countries, the tide of civilization cannot be stayed. The missionary labor of all Boards and Societies has continued to prosper, and Japan is to-day—as it has been for two decades—a mission field of wonderful promise.

The famine in the Shantung Mission has been followed, as was anticipated, by a greatly increased readiness to receive the message of the Gospel. The hearts of the people have been touched by the manifestation of sympathy shown by the missionaries and by the Christian Church in all those countries which they represent. At the mission meeting held at Chefoo in November, over a thousand inquirers were reported, in the different districts of that province.

The total receipts of the Board during the year have been $794,066.44, distributed as follows: From churches, $291,719.86; from Woman's Boards, $280,285.51; from Sabbath-schools, $36,062.56; from legacies, $112,877.68; from miscellaneous sources, $73,120.83. The Board necessarily feels no little degree of apprehension in view of the fact that while its work must of necessity grow, and that in every direction and in every department, its receipts from all sources have fallen behind those of last year. Among the obstacles which prevent an increase are the limitation of resources and ability on the part of certain classes of givers, and the disposition of many to turn from the regular and systematic lines of work under the care of the Board to various objects outside of the Church.

On the other hand, the work on the field has been for the most part encouraging. In Japan, North China, Laos, Persia,* Syria, Brazil, and in the Indian tribes large accessions have been made, while in some other fields the gain has been small. The Board cannot but be impressed with a sense of great responsibility in the administration of this widespread and varied work, embracing all the forms of Christian effort as they are known at home, and it can only trust that the Spirit of God may quicken the prayers of the Church and arouse a universal feeling that the responsibility of so great an undertaking rests upon every one who has named the name of Christ. The Board would express the hope that pastors and sessions will feel called upon to assume in their measure a part of this responsibility, and to teach the churches to feel that the work is theirs. It also hopes that Standing Committees of Presbyteries will use every exertion to bring the subject before the congregations within their respective bounds, to assist and stimulate the work of women, and to keep the matter ever fresh before the Sabbath-schools, that by so doing the interest and the efforts of the young may be kept in close sympathy with those lines of mission work which are undertaken by the Church as such.

The Board would renewedly express its thanks for the faithful co-operation and generous contributions of the Woman's Boards of Missions. A large number of Sabbath-schools also, whose example is worthy of universal imitation, have generously responded to its needs.

In accordance with a recommendation of the General Assembly the officers of the Board sent out a circular to the

* As the Report goes to press cheering news comes from Persia of a great revival and nearly 400 conversions.

Presbyterial Standing Committees on Foreign Missions, urging the importance of more systematic methods of gathering gifts for this cause. Many churches and a few Presbyteries have adopted the plan of aiming at a fixed amount of contributions, and with good results. Several individuals are supporting each a missionary on the field. Numerous circulars have been issued during the year setting forth the needs of the work.

In the list of missionaries few changes have occurred, but one of them is greatly lamented—the death of the Rev. Thomas H. Roberts. He died of consumption, April 21, 1889, in the twenty-seventh year of his age and the fourth year of his ministry. He was of the Vey tribe, but was adopted by a Liberian family, spent several years at Lincoln University, and then returned to Africa. He labored for a year at Brewerville, near Monrovia, and the rest of his short life at Glima in the Vey tribe. Here his work was marked by energy, fidelity, and considerable encouragement. His early removal by death is a serious loss, and is deplored by many of the Veys, by his brethren of the Presbytery, and by all who knew him. His young widow returned to her family in Liberia, with the sympathy of her friends.

The usual works of preaching and teaching have been followed down to the dates of the station reports, at the end of last December. The missionary work in this field is conducted under the supervision, not of a Mission, but of the Presbytery ; and from its minutes, December 11th–14th, the following statistical returns are taken as to the membership of the churches :

The brethren mourn over the want of apparent fruit from their labors among these churches. Even special services of united churches in Monrovia for a time were followed by no additions to the communion ; but the seed sown may yet spring up and yield even a hundred-fold. The churches of Brewerville, Beadle Memorial, and Marshall are supplied by the ministers of other churches under the direction of the Presbytery, and the communion services are regularly maintained.

It is encouraging that two new church edifices have been built, one at Careysburgh by the labors and sacrifices of the Rev. R. A. M. Deputie and his congregation ; the other is at Johnsonville, on the Mesurado River, about twenty miles north of Monrovia. The latter is worthy of special record. It was built by a Liberian gentleman, Mr. H. W. Witherspoon, a resident of Johnsonville, who deeded the church, all complete, and four lots of land, to the Presbytery. This good gift was gratefully acknowledged by that body. No regular religious services preceded this liberal act, but the donor can see bright prospects already of useful results from it, both among Americo-Liberians and aborigines. It is expected that a church will soon be organized at this place. A school under the charge of Mr. Hilton has been opened. He has been lately licensed by the Presbytery as a preacher, and while teaching he will continue further studies for the ministry under the direction of the Rev. F. B. Perry. The Presbytery committed the care of the church in Monrovia and the proposed church at Johnsonville to Mr. Perry for the present, with the assistance of Mr. Hilton at the latter place.

The Board would not pass from this brief report of the churches in Liberia without again referring to the apparent want of spiritual power in so many of them, as shown by the statistical returns. And the hope is expressed that both ministers and elders, aided in prayer by all the communicants, may be enabled to wait upon God for His blessing in far greater measure. By His favor, in their earnest use of the appointed means of grace, they themselves may rejoice in their progress, and their friends in this country will be encouraged in their support, as co-laborers for Christ.

Of these scholars, 71 boys and 49 girls are of Americo-Liberian parentage ; and of native tribes—Vey, Congo, Bassa, and Yano—122, of whom 22 are girls.

The usual quarterly reports from these schools have been of varied interest. The Vey school at Glima was virtually suspended by the death of Mr. Roberts, and his assistant is not likely to remain there. It must wait for a new laborer adapted to its need. The school at Little Bassa, opened last year, does not seem to be making progress. The Warney school was somewhat interrupted by the illness of the teacher, but was resumed with some degree of encouragement. The other schools seem to be useful, and the Clay-Ashland Academy, under Prof. King's charge, reports a larger attendance of scholars than can be well accommodated. The Grassdale school also seems to be doing well. In general, common schools in Liberia can receive but little support from the Government, owing to its very limited pecuniary resources. Missionary Boards may well extend aid to schools of this kind, when it is within their ability. Even though the instruction be of the simplest kind—that of teaching to read, write, and cipher—it is not in vain; especially when it always includes prayer and Scripture lessons by the missionary teachers. Seed is thus sown which will bear good fruit for both worlds.

The growth of our missionary work in Liberia has not fulfilled the expectations of the Home Church in its earlier years, and yet both the churches and schools there established have never been left without proof of the divine blessing. But both churches and schools have not become strong and self-supporting, after over fifty years since the first missionaries were sent to that country. Probably this slow progress was owing in part to the change of policy, in sending or supporting in this field only persons of color. For fifteen years white persons almost solely were available. And of sixteen men and women eight died. In a number of instances, especially in the first years, this mortality was clearly owing to the want of knowledge as to proper climatic care. But the experience gained in over forty years after the change of policy does not seem to show that the later policy should be followed too closely; out of twenty-three men seventeen died. Several of these men, however, were not very young when they became connected with the Board.

It may not be wise to make too much of these statistics; but on a general survey of the field, it would apparently be advisable to send, if they could be obtained, a few well-qualified white ministers, and they would no doubt be warily welcomed by our brethren in Liberia. Young people there are of fine promise who ought to enjoy the advantage in their own country of good education—a Seminary for girls, and a Theological Hall for young men who have been in Prof. King's Academy at Clay-Ashland. In both cases industrial advantages should be available. It is evident that the higher Christian or evangelistic education required cannot now be obtained. The Liberia College, so called, does not provide it, as this institution is now located, and under its double administration, if not also for other reasons. Experience seems to show, further, that it is not expedient to send young persons to this country for their education; most of them go back in some respects ill-adapted to the work waiting for the right laborers. This is not peculiar to Liberia. Such is the usual result in other mission fields. Our ministers and their wives must generally be educated in their native country.

Liberia contains about 20,000 Americo-Liberians, and probably several hundred thousand aborigines of the negro race, of different tribes and remnants of tribes. Eastward of Liberia a large population, it is believed, is becoming accessible to missionary enterprise. It is now evident that the former small number will not be largely increased, for various causes which need not here be stated. But is it not also evident that a great evangelistic work is set before these few thousand Christian people? Let them become consecrated to it and qualified for it. The Board would gladly aid them in further preparation for this work for Christ, and then for engaging still more actively in its service. And this feeling and purpose, it feels sure, will meet with the approval of the Church in this country toward its mission in Liberia. "Who hath despised the day of small things?"

Two names have disappeared from the roll of this mission during the year, that of the Rev. Cornelius DeHeer, who died at Clifton Springs, N. Y., October 20th, and that of Mr. Joseph Reading, who has ceased to be connected with the Board. Mr. DeHeer entered upon mission work in Africa in 1855, and with the exception of furloughs for health and rest continued in active service until September, 1888, when he withdrew on account of impaired health, but with the earnest hope of being permitted to return to his field. He labored first on the Island of Corisco, and afterward at Benita, on the mainland. His superior natural gifts, indefatigable industry, patient perseverance, remarkable common sense, and, above all, fervent piety and love for souls, made him a model missionary, and won for him the confidence and affection of his fellow-laborers and of the natives. His death has been a sore bereavement to the mission, but his memory is fragrant, and the work he accomplished for Christ will continue to tell as the years go by. accompanied Mr. DeHeer to this country, still remain, but with the expectation of returning to Africa in the near future. Owing to the serious illness of Mr. Good, he and Mrs. Good returned to the United States during the summer. Furloughs were also granted to Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Marling, and Mr. Peter Menkel, captain of the schooner Nassau. Meanwhile Rev. and Mrs. B. B. Brier joined the mission in July, 1889, and Mr. Gault, leaving Mrs. Gault in this country, returned to Gaboon in October. The Board has recently appointed the Rev. John McMillan, M.D., Rev. George Albert Godduhn, Rev. W. S. Bannerman, and Rev. Herman Jacot to this mission, who expect to sail for Africa in August.

The Southern Field.

Baraka Station.

Of the five stations connected with this part of the field Baraka stands first in the order of occupation, work having been begun there by the American Board in 1842. Several causes have operated to retard the prosecution of effective mission work at this place. Being the port of entry, it feels the blighting curse of a debased and debasing foreign population. As the chief centre of mission business, the time of the missionary in charge is necessarily largely occupied with secular burdens. A change in the method of managing the business affairs of the mission, now under contemplation, however, and the probable transfer of part of the business to Batanga, will greatly relieve this station and permit more unreserved attention to the spiritual aspects of the work. In addition to these difficulties, the restrictions of the French Government, which still continue, are necessarily more keenly felt at the centre than at the other stations.

The new church building, which has been in process of erection for some time, has been dedicated to the worship of God, and regular services have been maintained. In the absence of a detailed report of the work, which for some reason has failed to reach us in season, only a general statement can be made. The school under the care of M. Pisset, has steadily increased in favor. The French teacher has shown himself to be a man of decided ability, and of thoroughly evangelical spirit. His success during the past two years strengthens the hope that the employment of French teachers may enable the mission to maintain its position within French territory, at least for a time. In addition to his other duties, M. Pisset has rendered valuable service as interpreter for the mission with the Government.

Corisco Station.

This island station stands next in the order of occupation, and has been under the care of the Rev. Ibia J. Ikenge, the first convert baptized on the island, and who was ordained to the Gospel ministry in 1870. The pastor reports an average attendance of 90 at the Sabbath services, with twice that on communion days. Six persons were received on confession of faith, and five excommunicated members were restored. Grateful mention is made of the sustaining of family worship by persons in connection with the church. Ibia has also had the oversight of Ellobey on the mainland, although he was prevented by illness from giving as close attention to the work there as usual. One of the elders from Corisco made stated visits to that place, but encountered difficulty at the hands of the Roman Catholic priests. Ibia makes an earnest plea in behalf of the tribes lying back of the points visited by him on the mainland. They are mainly Fang and Bohaba. These tribes are now reaching down to the coast, and are quite accessible. They have possession of the Moony River and the Mbiko country, and are gradually acquiring the Bolingo on the north of the Moony River. At Italanromga, another outstation, a congregation of 44 persons is reported under the charge of the native laborer, Mekabeo. There are five inquirers.

The school on the island had an attendance of eighteen boys and two girls. Regret is expressed that it was not possible to maintain a school for the girls during the year. Because of this, the two enrolled were taught with the boys. The work of the school combines both instruction and manual labor—the mornings being devoted to the former, and the afternoons to the latter. Serious difficulty has been encountered in getting parents to support their children in the school, as the school of the Roman Catholic priests is free to all, and especially to the children of Protestant parents. Moreover, in the latter the Spanish language is taught, and this, in the estimation of the islanders, gives the Roman Catholic school a great advantage.

Angom Station.

This town is situated on the river Como, which unites with the river Bakwe at Nengenenge to form the Gaboon. Concerning this as a centre of evangelizing influence Mr. Marling writes: "This is a vast field for missionary labor. The Fang tribe is the largest and most energetic in this part of Africa, and there is no place more advantageously situated as a base of operations among them than Angom, which is central among them, easily reached from Gaboon, and on the outskirts of that large mountainous district through which the Fang of the interior roam." The withdrawal of Mr. and Mrs. Marling last summer left the station in the hands of Mrs. Ogden, who, with the French teacher, M. Lesage, has bravely stood at her post looking after the interests of the work. During the early part of the year the Sabbath services were held as usual and regularly attended. In the judgment of Mr. Marling very decided advance has been made since this station was occupied in 1881, although as yet no church has been organized. When the station was established the people were given to piracy and cannibalism, practices which are now rapidly disappearing under the influence of the Gospel. Mrs. Ogden has given instruction to a class of Fang women, and has also conducted the morning and evening prayers during the absence of Mr. Marling. Under the instruction of Mrs. Ogden the children have made progress in the things of God, and surprised her on Christmas morning by making out of their poverty a gift to the Lord's work, consisting of roasted cassava, beads, a needle (a great treasure), choice bits of food, small native baskets and gourds, while one brought a knife, a great sacrifice on his part. Mrs. Ogden makes an earnest plea for a medical missionary, adding: "There are sad stories to tell of the neglect of the sick and aged by this people. There is much real poverty and sickness. I think we must show them that we sympathize with their physical sufferings before they will believe that we love their souls."

The school-house begun last year has been completed, and the French teacher, M. Lesage, has conducted a school in accordance with the rules of the French Government, but owing to the withdrawal of M. Carmien from Kangwe, Mr. Lesage has been transferred to that more important position. In the early part of the year Mr. Marling gave religious instruction to the boys, including an exercise in a small catechism which had been prepared in the Fang language. The missionaries look hopefully for the reaping-time after the patient sowing of the past years.

Kangwe Station.

By order of Presbytery two churches have been organized in connection with this station during the year, one at Wambalia, twenty miles below Kangwe, and the other at Igenja, some fifty miles below. The former was organized with 76 members from Kangwe church, and the latter with 52 names from the same church. In connection with the organization 10 persons were received on confession of faith at Wambalia and 4 at Igenja. These churches are the outcome of the precious work of grace reported last year, and of the itinerating efforts along the river and in the lakes south of and connecting with the Ogowe. Both have comfortable bamboo chapels, built by the people themselves without aid from the mission.

During the first six months of the past year 65 persons were received on confession of faith. It is known that others have been baptized since Mr. Good withdrew, but no report of the number has been received. The station has been under the charge of Dr. Nassau, who has visited the churches at intervals and looked after the general interests centering in Kangwe. The work outside the mission station has been cared for largely by well-trained native helpers.

The school under the care of M. Carmien has been well conducted. Fifty boys were in attendance, for whom boarding was furnished by the mission. The pupils were given work upon the premises, for which they received sufficient to purchase their books and clothing, the intention being to train them to habits of industry as well as in the ordinary branches of education. Some instruction has been given in the vernacular, with the quiet acquiescence of the French Government, the requisition for teaching French having been fully met by M. Carmien, who is a Frenchman. M. Garcon, the French mechanic sent out by the Evangelical Society of France, has busied himself with the material interests of the station.

A new outstation has been established at Enyonga, about 80 miles below Kangwe, on the Ogowe, among the Nkomi people, a branch of the Mpongwe tribe. This work, which is under the charge of a native licentiate, is regarded as very hopeful, a number of inquirers being already enrolled.

The exploring party sent out by the Evangelical Society of France, consisting of Rev. Messrs. Allegret and Tiesseres, very kindly stepped into the breach when Mr. Good was compelled by serious illness to leave the station, and grateful acknowledgment of their valuable service is hereby made. Under the instructions of the Society these brethren, after spending a number of months examining our work, both in the southern and northern fields, expected to leave in April for a tour into the interior, crossing from the head-waters of the Ogowe to Stanley Pool, thence returning to the head-waters of the river Quilo, with the purpose of descending that river to the sea, about 75 miles north of the mouth of the Congo. After accomplishing this tour, it is expected that the explorers will again visit our field en route to Paris, where they will make a report of their investigation, and upon the basis of that report the Society will determine what shall be done in the much-talked-of transfer of our missions within French territory. Meanwhile, it is manifestly the duty of the Presbyterian Church to stand by the work in the southern field, part of which has been so signally blessed by the Holy Spirit.

Talaguga Station.

Concerning the work at this station Dr. Nassau writes: "The aspect of my work for 1889 is more encouraging than for any previous year, whether viewed from the point of good health, outward prosperity, good conduct of the station employés, freedom from difficulty with the natives, or their outward respect for the Gospel." Dr. Nassau also mentions with gratitude that his relation with the villages along the river is cordial, even where the several villages have been alienated from each other by local feuds. The people not only listen attentively to the Gospel when proclaimed in their own villages, but have also attended the Sabbath services at the chapel in Talaguga in larger numbers than in former years. Dr. Nassau has been assisted by two Bible-readers, who have travelled along the river from village to village carrying with them the word of life, rendering also good service at Talaguga in the absence of the Doctor at Kangwe. Miss Nassau has continued to give instruction to a few pupils in the Mpongwe and Fang languages. Concerning the Fang people, she writes: "They have now some knowledge of God, and they welcome and understand better the messengers who are privileged to carry it to them. It is pleasant listening while they try to sing of Jesus in their own language, also to witness their increasing reverence in the service of prayer. Still it is a sad disappointment that, except those Fang who have been under daily religious influence, there are none who give evidence of true conversion, although many are impressed, and several have been added to the inquiry class." Miss Nassau has still continued the work with her hand-press, including a better edition of the Fang primer, the reading lessons of which are taken from a manuscript translation of "The Peep of Day," prepared by Mr. Good. A tract has also been printed in Mpongwe entitled, "What it is to Believe in Christ!" Altogether four thousand pages have been issued from this little hand-press.

After years of continuous service, Miss Nassau has finally consented to take a furlough in the United States, in anticipation of which she writes: "As every month and year has deepened my love for and interest in the work, it is a very heart-sore trial that a failure of strength compels me for a time to withdraw from it."

The Northern Field.

Benita Station.

This is the most southern of the northern tier of stations, and is situated some forty-five miles above Corisco. A church was established in 1865, growth along the coast being a necessity, as inter-tribal jealousies barred advance toward the interior. Since the withdrawal of Mr. and Mrs. DeHeer and Mrs. Reutlinger, this station has been in the hands of native laborers, including during the past year Rev. Frank Myongo, who, however, has been ill much of the time, so that the work has been seriously hindered. It has been visited once or twice during the year by members of the mission, but no detailed report of these visits has been received. The visiting brethren from Paris examined the work here, and expressed their satisfaction. Owing to lack of proper supervision the boys' school was closed when the foreign missionaries withdrew, and the work among the women was also virtually suspended, there being no one left capable of taking charge. This dearth of laborers is greatly to be deplored, as Mr. DeHeer withdrew in the midst of a deep work of grace, and just after a large ingathering. It is earnestly hoped that with reinforcements soon to be sent provision may be made for the proper oversight of this important station.

The church at Bata connected with this station was visited during the year by Mr. Good, under the direction of the mission. It is some twenty miles north of Benita on the coast. He found a church, ministered to by a native licentiate, consisting of ninety members, in good standing, with an inquiry class of about fifty. After careful examination a number of members were disciplined. The chapel, which is built of bamboo and set on posts, with a floor consisting of boards hewn from the trees, was packed at the services to its utmost capacity, from two hundred to two hundred and fifty being present. The building is much too small for the purpose. The people were considering the question of building a new one to meet the growing demand. Morning and evening prayers at the mission are attended by from thirty to fifty people. The church is at Ekuku, three miles south of Bata, but the main part of the population is clustered around the factories on Bata point. Here, Mr. Good writes: "The towns are thick, the beach high and dry. Here is the terminus of the principal trade and travel route to the interior, which at this point seems to lie closer to the coast than at Batanga. The population is large. Counting from Ekuku, three miles south of Bata, to Itonde, ten or twelve miles north, there are ten groups of towns, and probably a population of from five to eight thousand. These people are wonderfully susceptible. When one considers the work that has been done, and the wonderful success with which it has met, one can't help thinking that if a man, fluent in the language of the people, and full of fire and activity, could travel from town to town with the Gospel, thousands might be converted in a single year." Unfortunately, the Roman Catholics have recently established themselves here, so that the usual priestly opposition may be expected. The French Government has a post at Bata, but little attention seems to be paid to it, and the opinion prevails that it will ultimately fall either to the Germans or Spaniards.

Some thirty miles north of Bata is Evuni, where a church was established in 1881, being a colony from Benita. The church has been under the care of the ruling elder, Mbai, who is also a Bible-reader. Mr. Good says: "Evuni is another field of great promise. The population is as large as at Bata and much more compact. From ten to fifteen miles north are eight or nine groups of Bwiko towns, making as many more, and on the north bank of the Campo are the Egara people, said to be very numerous, and among whom we have some members and many inquirers." A class of between fifty and sixty inquirers was found and two adults were baptized. Subsequently Ibia visited Evuni and baptized twelve more. He writes that two ministers are needed for that region, one for Evuni and one for the Egara people already referred to, as he thinks the latter ought to be organized into a church by themselves. Mr. Good found an audience of about four hundred on Sabbath morning, and at least three hundred in the afternoon, and scarcely fewer in the evening. The chapel is built on the ground, the walls being of bark; it is without windows, and has two doors at each end. The people are erecting a new building on posts, which is already under roof. They are begging for a school; not a boarding-school under the care of a white teacher, but simply a day-school under the care of a competent native. The missionary expresses the opinion that a very large Benga school could be opened here which would cost nothing but the salary of a teacher. The place is teeming with children.

Batanga Station.

After correspondence with the Governor of Kamerun, representing the German Government, the Board authorized the mission to select a site for a permanent station within German territory, it being stipulated by the Governor that liberty would be granted to teach the people in the vernacular. In accordance with these instructions the mission by a committee selected Batanga, where some years ago a church had been organized, and work had been carried on by native helpers. A plain dwelling has been erected, and Rev. and Mrs. B. B. Brier have been assigned to the station. Clusters of villages containing from 500 to 1,000 people each are found along the beach. No such population is to be found anywhere in that region of Africa except among the Fang. Moreover, the people are very impressible, and seem to be easily accessible to the Gospel. While at Batanga Mr. Good called on the German explorer, Mr. Kundt, who had just returned from an expedition to the interior, and was awaiting a steamer in which to return to Europe. He spoke very enthusiastically of the country and the people of the interior. If his representations are correct, it is evident that Batanga is the key to one of the finest mission fields in Africa. In giving the statement of the explorer, Mr. Good writes: "For eight or ten days there is an almost unbroken forest; then a level or gently undulating plain 2,300 feet above the sea level is reached, on which live a people called Yeondo. On this plain the forest is gone, except occasional trees and clumps. The whole country is under cultivation and teeming with population. Mr. Kundt says that along the path it is like one continuous town. You are never out of sight of people and houses, and the people are the finest he has yet seen in Africa, large, powerfully built, and fine featured. In fact, whenever he begins to speak of this tribe, he becomes enthusiastic. The climate, as far as he can judge, is excellent. He never had any fever there, and the nights were so cool that he had to sleep under one or two blankets. If we were only ready to send some one in to look over that country and get the language, a splendid opening would probably be found, but the first step must be to occupy and strongly man Batanga. By that time a road will probably have been cut through the coast forest belt, and access to the interior made easier."

During the visit of the committee five adults were baptized, while subsequently under Mr. Brier 33 were received into the church, making a total of 38 for the year. Mr. and Mrs. Brier have thrown themselves with great enthusiasm into the work assigned them, the former conducting four services on the Sabbath, including Sabbath-school and two week-day services, in addition to morning and evening prayers; while the latter has organized a sewing-class, conducts a meeting for the women, instructs an inquiry class and trains a church choir. The outlook at this station is certainly most encouraging.

In this country: Rev. Messrs. J. T. Houston, Geo. W. Chamberlain and their wives, and Rev. D. McLaren.

Very marvellous providences are favoring the extension of our work in Brazil and giving added emphasis to the earnest call for reinforcements. The abolition of slavery in 1888 making possible direct work for 2,000,000 of freedmen, is followed by the downfall of the monarchy in 1889, presaging religious liberty for all classes and conditions of men. Already at the writing of this report we are in possession of the text of a decree of the Provisional Government of the United States of Brazil of January 7, 1890, determining:

1. That Federal and State authorities alike are prohibited to expedite laws, regulations, or administrative acts establishing or prohibiting any religion, or to create distinctions between inhabitants of that country on account of religious and philosophic beliefs or opinions.

2. That all religious denominations have equal right to liberty of worship, and to govern themselves in accordance with their respective creeds without being constrained in the acts, private or public, which pertain to the exercise of this right.

3. The liberty hereby instituted shall embrace not only individuals in their personal acts, but also churches, associations, and institutes in which they may be joined ; to all of which belongs the right to organize and maintain their corporate existence in conformity with their creeds and polity without interference of the Government.

4. That patronage with all its institutions and prerogatives is hereby abolished.

5. That the legal capacity of churches and religious denominations to acquire and administer property is recognized within the limit of the laws concerning mortmain, securing to each the possession of their present properties, as well as their houses of worship.

Thus the cloud which hung on the horizon of the Church's work at the organization of the Synod in September of 1888, when a bill for Religious Liberty was tabled in the House of Deputies, has been swept away by a stroke of the pen as sudden and final as that which proclaimed "liberty to the captive" in May of that same year.

The new conditions thus created call upon the Board and the Church to lengthen their cords and strengthen their stakes in Brazil. Three new men were sent out to this promising field in 1889, but one missionary has meanwhile returned home in broken health ; two others are about returning on leave of absence, one each from the States of Bahia and Rio.

Thus our mission force is weakened just at a time when it should be stronger than ever. A new departure is required in order to take the tide at its flood. The last General Assembly recommended the immediate endowment of a college at S. Paulo, and the Rev. G. W. Chamberlain has been laboring during the year to secure that end. This object if realized should prove a source of supply of laborers for the expanding work. Meanwhile the reports from the various fields occupied by our missionaries in that Republic make it evident that there is great need of more men. The Standing Committee of the Synod on National Missions thus appeals :

"The abundant blessings which it has pleased the Lord to pour upon our Church adds to our difficulties year by year. Encouraging reports come to us from all sides ; our pastors, already overburdened, report large numbers of conversions ; new centres of believers are being formed, and new responsibilities fall upon the native church ; meanwhile the laborers increase in an inverse ratio—they decrease in numbers. Churches, nay more, hopeful fields of evangelization left almost without direction, send vain appeals to Presbyteries without means or men to send to them."

Rev. Dr. Blackford, in transmitting the full statistical report, says :

"In general the work is highly encouraging in the whole field. The results in some localities are very animating. . . . In the pastoral charge of Rev. J. Z. Miranda, who resides at Sorocaba, fifty-seven persons have been added to the churches under his care on profession of faith. This indicates a good work and the blessing of God. In the district of Botucatu, under the charge of Rev. J. R. C. Braga, thirty-five have been received. The school at Botucatu has prospered, though at the expense of time properly belonging to the legitimate work of evangelizing. He has at length been relieved from the care of the school. Mr. Torres, who resides at Caldas, has been obliged to ride fifty miles on horseback to reach either of his other churches. An invalid for many years, he works with indomitable will, and besides caring for his churches, does a great deal of evangelistic work.

"The churches of Rio de Janeiro and S. Paulo have their own native pastors supported by themselves. In educational work they receive aid from our mission.

"The number received in the Brazil Mission churches on profession, 270, is about eleven per cent. of the membership of the previous year. In the matter of contributions the statistics show an encouraging increase. The total reported for the year ($12,640.61) is an average per member of $4.74. The average of the previous year was $4.06.

"One of the saddest features of the statistics, says the field report, is the small number of candidates for the ministry. Our table of statistics shows but three; but by combining this with the statistics of the Presbyteries, we find six in connection with our mission's work, or one for every 444 members."

The illness and withdrawal of Mr. McLaren interrupted a valuable course of instruction to a class of young men contemplating the ministry, but not yet received by the Presbytery of S. Paulo.

Larangeiras.

In the State of Sergipe, which lies about 10 degrees south of the equator, Rev. J. B. Kolb and wife are laboring at Larangeiras. Mr. Kolb writes: "The past year of labor in the Sergipe field was one of continued encouragement. The year began with a fierce persecution at a distant point, but which has not hindered the work of the Lord. Later, in June, at another point the great enemy was disposed to shed the blood of those who would preach Christ, but was hindered. For these trials we thank the Lord, as they have taught us 'to look to the hills from whence cometh our help.'"

At the different points where there are believers, they forsake not the assembling of themselves together; they enjoy and profit by their mutual study of the Scriptures. They deny themselves to furnish their meeting-places. At Larangeiras, which is the central point, the attendance was good throughout the year. Sabbath and day schools were continued. Here is an open door for a Christian school, for which we should have a thoroughly well trained teacher. The prospects for the year on which we have entered are good. With the altered condition of the country, we hope to have greater freedom and access to the people. Two new men and a lady teacher are needed. The State of Sergipe has a population of 250,000. Three men could have each a natural division of the State.

The church in Larangeiras now numbers 70 members, of whom 11 were added during the year. Of Sergipe, Dr. Blackford writes: "The little work done there has been signally blessed. It ought to be reinforced at once."

Bahia.

Immediately south of Sergipe lies the important State of Bahia, at whose capital Rev. Dr. Blackford has had the assistance of the native minister, Leonidas da Silva, during the year. He was joined by the Rev. W. E. Finley Sept. 23, 1889. Two colporteurs have labored in Bahia and Cachoeira during the entire year, and a third was employed in December to itinerate in the interior of the State. The want of a lady missionary or Bible-reader for the city of Bahia is strongly urged by Dr. Blackford. He writes: "Through the colporteurs and other agencies there were put in circulation during the year 41 Bibles, 76 New Testaments and 31 portions, 403 volumes, and 22,000 tracts. Various articles were published in the daily press." He mentions some cases of conversion through this means, and adds: "I have reason to believe that there are many others scattered about through the great expanse of the State of Bahia, who are inquiring for if not walking in the way, into which they have been led by a copy of the Divine Word or a tract." The attendance at worship in Bahia improved after a better hall and a more suitable location had been secured, but the want of a permanent place properly equipped for worship is still a serious hindrance to progress. "The immediate outlook has never been so fair, nor the urgency for the more active prosecution of the work so manifest as now. In the city as well as through the interior, the leaven is permeating the mass, and fruits will ere long be gathered in." There is urgent need of a school, and an urgent call for laborers in general missionary work. Dr. Blackford reports an addition of 5 members during the year, and a total of 51 communicants.

Rio de Janeiro.

This field contains more than a million of souls. Outside the city ours is the only mission at work for the 800,000 people in the State. A large unoccupied field lies to the north in Minas and Espirito Santo containing a population of 2,000,000, for which we are not able to do anything. It is in the centre of the country and is the most densely populated part of Brazil. A strong plea comes from Rio, as from the other stations, for more laborers to enter the open field. Rev. J. M. Kyle was aided in the work at this station by the Rev. F. J. C. Schneider a part of the year. The Rev. James B. Rodgers went out in July, 1889. The latter writes: "Mr. Kyle has struggled on alone for four years without any other missionary of our Board here. He is secretary and treasurer of the mission, one of the editors of the Imprensa Evangelica, and pastor of two or three churches. . . . I am sorry to say that Mr. Kyle has not been well. He needs change, and must have it if he is to work on in the future."

Mr. Kyle, in his report, says: "The church in Rio has continued to pay the pastor's salary and all its expenses, amounting to more than two thousand dollars. It is the largest Protestant church in the city, is in a central and prominent position, and the services are well attended. The pastor's whole time is required by the congregation and the preaching services. There is need in this great city of something like a McCall mission. The conditions which prevail in Paris prevail here. It would be a great blessing if preaching halls could be opened for nightly services for a class of people that cannot be otherwise reached."

The Imprensa Evangelica was transferred in October, 1889, from S. Paulo to Rio, where it was first issued in November, 1864. It is the oldest religious newspaper in Brazil, and has had subscribers during the year 1889 in all of the twenty States of the new Republic. The Central book depot is at this station, demanding no inconsiderable part of a missionary's time and attention. The need is felt for a larger expenditure in providing evangelical literature for Brazil. A greater variety of religious books should be offered to the growing church, and its youth attracted by the excellent character of the literature offered to them. Nine persons were added to the church in Rio by profession, and two by letter from other churches. Losses by death, removal, and suspension equalled the accessions, leaving the same number as last year.

The churches of Ubatuba, Campos, Petropolis, Rezende, and Nitheroy are supplied from Rio.

Ubatuba is 150 miles south on the coast. The church numbers about 80 members, and is growing, although it has never had a pastor. An elder from Rio has served it the past year, while acting as Bible-reader. Thirteen members were added to the church in February.

Campos is still without a pastor, and the large field around it still uncultivated.

Petropolis, 30 miles north, has enjoyed public services but once a month.

Rezende has also suffered from the infrequency of visits. It is 140 miles west on the S. Paulo R.R. Its population is 4,000, but it is the centre for more than 30,000 souls.

Nitheroy is across the bay from Rio. Religious services have been held there twice a week and are well attended.

Dr. Blackford says of these churches: "The policy of having but one member of the mission at Rio, and he being charged with the treasury, book-work, etc., made it almost impossible to give any proper attention to these points. Campos is a place of very great importance, and centre of a large and growing district. Its church is still without a pastor, and must be cared for from Rio. Rio de Janeiro, not to speak of the city itself, with 300,000 inhabitants, gives easy access to one of the most inviting fields of labor, the Parahyba valley, full of towns and traversed by railroads, waiting and calling to be evangelized."

Sao Paulo.

We have no mission report from the church in the city of Sao Paulo, for the reason that it has ceased to be a mission church and is no longer dependent on the Board. But we learn from other sources that this first year of self-support has been one of prosperity, temporal and spiritual. There were added to the church 41 persons, while sixteen were lost through death and dismissal. The manse for the pastor was completed and occupied. The salary of the pastor did not exhaust the liberality of the congregation, which while building a manse has continued to contribute freely to many causes outside of congregational, more especially to the fund of National Missions. They report a total contribution of $4,500. Much is due to the zeal and wisdom of the capable pastor, who, besides preaching the word faithfully to his congregation, has continued to edit the monthly Review of National Missions, which circulates widely among all the churches of the Synod of Brazil, stimulating all to aim at independence of missionary aid, by systematic offerings. He has also rendered efficient service to the mission by teaching the class of students looking to the ministry, since the withdrawal of the beloved McLaren through ill-health. He writes to the former pastor, Rev. Mr. Chamberlain :

"Pardon the delay in giving you news of this flock, which for many reasons should be very dear to you. In the multitude of labors I have to neglect many duties, but the Lord will not allow this weakness to reach the point of forgetting my brethren before the throne of grace. Your prayers for this church have been heard, thanks to the goodness of our Father, since He has given us many motives for encouragement. . . . The general contribution to the fund of National Missions, during this year, so calamitous for Brazil, was $5,775. The work progresses, thanks be to God. The presence of a devoted minister to direct the young men is of urgent necessity."

The Rev. Mr. Waddell has been appointed by the Board to this important field.

The Schools.

These have continued to grow under the efficient direction of Dr. Lane and his helpers, until 395 pupils were in daily attendance at the close of the year : 318 Brazilians ; 21 Americans ; 16 French ; 13 Italians ; 12 Portuguese, and 15 other nationalities. The full report we have of this part of the work says : "The Lord has been pleased to bless the work in S. Paulo more abundantly in all of its branches than ever before in its whole history. Both of the boarding-schools and the day-schools have been full to overflowing, and many pupils have been turned away (from want of room)." . . . "Fair progress has been made in the matter of preparing textbooks suited to the improved methods of teaching, chiefly in the primary and intermediate departments. . . . This is at once the most important and difficult work in the schools."

A Manual Training-shop has been in operation for the boys of the boarding-school, who devoted twelve hours a week to this service. "The result has been even better than was anticipated. The boys show a far better comprehension of their studies, and take higher stand in their classes than do boys of the same age and rank who have no work." . . . "Manual labor as a branch of legitimate school work, besides imparting the skill to turn the hand to useful labor, aids powerfully in giving habits of attentiveness, exactness, accuracy in observation, and self-reliance. It sharpens the perceptions and develops the senses. . . . A sense of responsibility is developed; method and system are soon seen in all of the boy's life." This justifies the moderate investment that has been made, and would warrant extension.

Rio Claro.

The work at this station and the outstations of Araraquara, Pirassununga, and Pinhal has been under the direction of Rev. J. F. Dagama, who reports:

"The outlook is very encouraging all over the field, but it is too large to do justice to the cause. I have in the Rio Claro church 5 preaching places; in S. Carlo de Pinhal, distant 40 miles, 3 preaching places; Araraquara, distant 70 miles, has 9 preaching places; Pirassununga, distant 40 miles, has 9 preaching places. The additions to these 4 churches during the year were 24; total number of communicants, 209; pupils in 7 schools in this field, 112."

Brotas, Jahu, Dous Corregos.

Rev. J. B. Howell, with residence at Jahu, reports 11 outstations, a total church membership of 317, of whom 20 were added during the year. There are 3 schools, with 56 pupils. Mr. Howell says:

"I have continued monthly trips to the six most important points in my field, visiting the remaining five quarterly. . . . During the year I have instructed the two candidates for the ministry under my care. . . . Both are exceptionally good preachers, and as elders have shown themselves well qualified for pastoral work. . . . The farm-school closed with an attendance of ten boarders. The boys have shown themselves diligent and ready to work, and have made good progress in their studies."

This school is suspended at present for lack of a proper head, as Mr. Howell is preparing to return to the United States. The mission at its meeting in August, requested the Board to send out a man to take charge of the educational work in connection with the farm-school. It is hoped that a proper man will soon be appointed to the field.

Curityba, Parana.

The absence from this station of our only missionary in the Province of Parana has deprived us of any formal report of the progress of the work there, which has continued under the care of the native pastor, Rev. M. P. B. de Carvalhosa. Dr. Blackford says of this field :

“Curityba, Castro, Guarapuava, and Campo Largo were last year wholly under the care of Mr. Carvalhosa. He seems to have been diligent and abundant in labors, which were signally blessed of the Lord, as forty-four were added to those churches on profession of faith. A school was also begun in Curityba. This field has happily been reinforced by the arrival of Mr. Porter and the return of Mr. Landes. The work there involves long and weary journeys on horseback. Would that all our other fields could be as liberally reinforced in proportion to their relative importance as Parana has been, although there is urgent need for more even there.”

Rio Grande do Sul.

Mr. Menezes has charge of the church of Rio Grande, and is our only representative in the important state of Rio Grande do Sul. At least two more men ought to be sent to that field without delay. Mr. Menezes is not strong, and it is not well to leave him alone in so large and important a field. He feels keenly the loneliness of his position, and longs for some one to aid him in the work.

The large cities of Porto Alegre, with 50,000 inhabitants; Pelotas, with 25,000 inhabitants; Jaguarao, Bage, and others would welcome earnest preachers of the Gospel, as was verified in the visit of Mr. Chamberlain to those cities in 1887.

The State of St. Catherina, which is yet to be occupied, showed the same disposition on occasion of his visit in 1888. The field is white and the laborers few.

This report should not be closed without calling attention to a fact which must deeply impress every careful reader, viz., that the chief accessions have been made to the churches which are under the charge of native pastors. The lesson of the report is in this respect most striking.

There could not be a stronger illustration of the importance of training up a ministry on the ground. Other things being equal, a foreign missionary can never reach the masses of the people like one who is of their own blood, of their own habits of thought, and especially of their own mother tongue.

In Mexico and other Spanish-speaking States, as well as in Brazil, the most effective preaching is done by native preachers.

As a measure of success therefore, as well as of economy, the work of higher education should receive constant and assiduous attention. The college or training-school at S. Paulo, under the care of Dr. Lane, should be put in complete working order, and should be an object of earnest prayer on the part of the churches.

MISSION IN CHILI.

VALPARAISO, the chief seaport of Chili : Population, 120,000 ; laborers—Rev. Messrs. W. E. Dodge, J. F. Garvin, and their wives. Rev. Moses Bercoritz. Seven outstations, including Constitucion, where there is an organized church.

SANTIAGO, the capital of Chili, 120 miles southeast of Valparaiso, with which it has railroad connection : Population, 200,000 ; laborers—Rev. Messrs. S. J. Christen, J. M. Allis, W. H. Lester, Jr., and their wives. One licentiate. Six outstations, including Linares, where there is an organized church.

In this country : Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Allis.

CONCEPCION, near the coast, about 300 miles south of Valparaiso, connected with Santiago by railroad : Population, 20,000 ; laborers—Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Boomer, Rev. Francisco Jorquera. Eight outstations.

COPIAPO, about 400 miles north of Valparaiso : Population, 15,000 ; laborers—Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Robinson. Six outstations.

Two or three steps have been taken by this mission during the year indicating substantial advance, and promising permanent benefit. In accordance with the policy of the Board, as set forth in its manual for missionaries, an effort has been made to magnify the Presbytery (of which the foreign missionaries are members) by committing to it the work of publication hitherto managed exclusively by the mission. The Chilian members of the Presbytery appreciate this mark of confidence, and have made a number of suggestions looking toward economy and enlargement. Should this experiment prove successful, it is intended to entrust other parts of the work to the Presbytery. The year has also been signalized by the installation of the first Chilian pastor, the Rev. Francisco Jorquera, who was called by the church at Concepcion, one-third of his support being pledged by the church. By authority of the Board an effort has been inaugurated for the securing of a permanent home for the Instituto Internacional, a lot having been purchased for that purpose, and steps taken to secure the necessary funds for the building. This has been done under the profound conviction that Christian education is of the first importance in the evangelization of Chili, and that the need of a permanent home for the Instituto is imperative.

Valparaiso Station.

This city with its five outstations, under the care of the Rev. J. F. Garvin, deals mainly with the artisan class. The report divides the population into four classes : the common peon, or day laborer, who, as a rule, can neither read nor write ; the artisan, who is usually able to do both ; the clerks and shopkeepers, and the higher class of professional men, owners of haciendas, mines, and commercial houses.

Our mission reaches some of the third class, but rarely if ever touches the fourth. In the estimation of the mission this is not a serious drawback, as it is believed that the hope of Chili lies in the middle class.

The church in Valparaiso has suffered by the withdrawal of Mr. Vidaurre from connection with our mission, and his establishing of an independent church, which drew for a time from the regularly organized church. A thorough overhauling of the roll has reduced the number of communicants to 99. Five were received during the year on confession of their faith. The Sabbath-school is regarded by Mr. Garvin as the most encouraging department of the work. The corps of teachers, drawn from the English community and our own Spanish-speaking church, is spoken of as faithful and efficient. The attendance on the school has been excellent, and the contributions, considering the poverty of the scholars, have been large. The Union Church (English-speaking) continues to render valuable service to the mission, while its pastor, Rev. W. E. Dodge, as heretofore, gives much of his time and strength to the work.

Of the outstation Melon the report says: "The work at this hacienda is encouraging. Pedro Moysan, an aged miner, came to a knowledge of Christ about four years ago; and, although dependent on his children for support, has dedicated himself to the preaching of the Gospel. He gathers the children of the hacienda in his room, and with the aid of his invalid wife teaches them a little reading, arithmetic, and writing, but above all insists on the study of the Bible and catechism. The school has from 12 to 18 scholars. He also holds a Sabbath and week-day meeting which many of the neighbors and parents of the children attend. At these services there are from 12 to 30 in attendance. Several names from this district have been proposed for membership, and the work is growing and extending in spite of the petty persecutions of the parish priest."

At San Felipe services have been suspended for the present, owing to the removal of several of the strongest supporters, and the Elder who had charge of the work.

The Quillotta Church, with 19 communicants, has been in charge of Mr. Cortes, an elder of the Valparaiso church, a man of earnest spirit, but without sufficient training to do effective work. Mr. Cortes reports a number convinced of the errors of Rome, but not willing to throw off the yoke. He notes a decided falling off in the attendance on Roman Catholic processions, and a waning of the power of the priests.

At Mira regular services were maintained by Mr. Garvin with an average attendance of a score or more. It is known that several are interested, and it is expected that some will confess Christ in the near future.

The work in Constitucion, where there is a regularly organized church, has languished, although supplied during the year by an ordained minister, Rev. Mr. Bercovitz. A serious mistake seems to have been made in reporting the membership of this church heretofore, as it is stated that there are but six members in full communion.

The most effective work done by the preacher has been in a school which was conducted with the approval of the mission, numbering forty pupils, 32 boys and 8 girls.

The Escuela Popular, a day-school for girls and boys, supported largely by tuition fees, reports a successful year, with a roll of 222 children. A marked gain has been made during the year in the punctuality of the pupils, owing perhaps to a rebate of twenty-five cents per month in tuition to those who attend promptly. The report says: "The school is organized as a distinctively Protestant institution. The opening exercises each morning are religious. Bible-classes are held twice a week, and the whole atmosphere is Christian." At the closing exercises a number of prominent Government officials were present, and expressed their gratification at what they saw and heard. The Valparaiso papers in reporting the exercises commended the school for its instruction and discipline. The mission sets such a high estimate upon the character of the work done here, that it is very anxious to have a new primary department opened in another part of the city, conducted on the same general plan.

The Sheltering Home, which throws the arms of Christian love around indigent children, has had an uneventful year. Nineteen children have been cared for. This institution is under the general direction of our mission, although it is supported mainly by subscriptions in Valparaiso, and the receipts for board and lodging where there is ability to pay.

Santiago Station.

The Santiago Union Church, composed mainly of English-speaking foreigners, by an arrangement with the mission has been supplied by Mr. Allis during the year, the church being responsible, as formerly, for part of the salary. This arrangement is continued by the Board under the belief that it is advantageous to the general work of the mission.

The year opened full of promise for the Spanish-speaking church in this capital city of the Republic, six services being held weekly, including a Sabbath-school in the chapel. The work, however, was suddenly arrested by the destruction of the building by fire on April 26th. After an unsuccessful effort to rent a room near the centre of the city, it was determined to occupy the chapel. This being located in the outskirts, the attendance was greatly reduced, but through the generosity of English and Spanish friends in Santiago (especially those connected with the Union Church, who contributed $5,600 gold), the amount of insurance realized, and a gift by the Board, a new church is well advanced, the lower room of which will probably be occupied by the time this report reaches the Assembly. Notwithstanding the peculiar difficulties under which the church has labored six persons publicly confessed Christ, and four were received into the church by letter.

The outstations, Talca and Linares, were both visited by Mr. Lester three times during the year. In the former it has been found impossible to gain a foothold during these flying visits. Nothing short of a resident missionary, or a well-equipped native laborer, is likely to accomplish anything in this large and influential town. The church at Linares has been under the care of a licentiate, who has recently withdrawn and returned to Germany on account of ill-health. But little growth is manifested here, owing, it is believed, to the inefficiency of the person in charge.

Educational.—The Instituto Internacional reports a roll of 161 boys, of whom 50 were boarders, with an average attendance of 98 day pupils and 45 boarders. The instruction given in this school is of a good grade, and is most thorough. That the Government sets a high estimate upon the institution is evident from the fact that it has recently granted the privilege of a special examining committee who came to the school, and there examined the pupils who wished to enter the University, a privilege granted to but seven of the twenty-eight private schools in Santiago. It is thoroughly Protestant, and is the only Protestant school of this grade in the country. The atmosphere of the school is religious, and is becoming more and more so every year. In addition to morning and evening religious exercises, preaching services are held on Sabbath mornings, and a Bible-class in the afternoons. At these services the boarders are required to be present. The parents have now and then objected to their children being compelled to attend religious services, but when informed that this was an essential part of the curriculum, they have permitted their sons to remain rather than deprive them of the superior advantages of the school. Reference is made elsewhere in this report to the effort now being put forth to secure a permanent home for this deserving institution.

Two students completed their course in the Theological Seminary under Mr. Allis, and were licensed to preach by the Presbytery, one being assigned to work in Valparaiso, and the other in Copiapo. The course of study pursued by these young men is excellent, and by the Divine blessing calculated to equip them well for their work. Another student, while pursuing the higher branches taught in the Instituto, recited also in the seminary. Several young men have applied to be received into the seminary during the coming year.

Concepcion Station.

The field covered by this station embraces fifteen cities and towns with large populations, and easily accessible from Concepcion by rail or steamer. Up to this time, however, the work has been confined chiefly to the main station, where there is a regularly organized church under the care of the Rev. Francisco Jorquera, who has been installed pastor during the year. Mr. Boomer, the foreign missionary in charge at this station, entered upon his work a year ago, but has devoted most of his time to the study of the language, having visited but four of the outstations. It is his purpose soon, however, to organize a system for visiting the neighboring towns, assisted by a student, and as far as possible to establish regular monthly services. The church at Concepcion is reported as united and aggressive. Twelve persons were received during the year on confession of faith, and four by letter, making a substantial addition to the working and spiritual force of the church. In addition to regular Sabbath services a Friday evening service has been held, and also a weekly sewing society. The pastor has held special meetings for inquirers and all interested in religious questions. This church still worships in a rented building, and the need of a permanent home becomes more and more imperative every day. It is in advance of all others in Chili in the matter of contributions, having given for different objects about $500 in gold during the year.

An earnest plea is made for the establishing of a small school on the plan of the Escuela Popular in Valparaiso. It is believed that the time for opening such a school is favorable, and that it would be an effective means of reaching the artisan class.

Copiapo Station.

The work at this station during part of the year has been in charge of Mr. Robinson, who with his wife removed to the city last May. He has held regular services in English, with a preaching service in Spanish once a month. Within the last few months the work has become more encouraging, so that the Presbytery has felt justified in organizing a church, which was done since the report was written. In addition to the work at this station Mr. Robinson has visited Caldera, the port of entry, seventy-five miles distant, once a month, where services in both English and Spanish were held, the people paying the rent of the chapel and other necessary expenses, also the travelling expenses of the missionary. Here, as in the case of Constitucion and Concepcion, an earnest request is presented for the establishing of a school. Mr. Robinson writes: "If it were practicable, I would recommend the immediate establishment of a school on the plan of the Escuela Popular of Valparaiso. I believe that such a school, charging such moderate tuition as is charged in Valparaiso, would very soon, if not immediately, be well patronized, and properly conducted would prove a power for good."

The report concludes: "The missionary in charge feels that there are many discouraging things, indifference, ignorance, and great spiritual deadness, yet there is hope that the near future will show better and more definite results than we can report at present. There seems to be some movement among the dry bones which we earnestly hope may prove to be the working of the Holy Spirit."

Literature.

The El Heraldo has been issued semi-monthly as formerly, and has had a circulation of 3,200 copies. The mission continues to regard this little messenger as a most important agency in evangelizing Chili, although very far from being an ideal missionary periodical. The committing of this work to the Presbytery, it is hoped, will increase the interest of the churches in it, and add to the efficiency of the paper. The printed page is still regarded as an important factor in disseminating the truth in this aggressive republic. During the year

1,216,000 pages, including El Heraldo, were issued and distributed, besides the sale of such books as "El Devocionario" and "Hints on Bible Study."

The Canton Mission.

In the Canton Mission there have been few changes during the year. Miss Sophie Preston was married to Rev. O. F. Wisner and remains in the mission. Rev. H. V. Noyes and family returned to the field during the year, and Rev. A. A. Fulton and Rev. W. J. White, with their families, have received permission to return to this country. The health of the mission has been good, except in the case of a child of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Gilman, who died in the summer. A severe epidemic was suffered in the island of Hainan, but fortunately the health of the missionaries was preserved.

During the year the mission has received accessions in the appointment and arrival on the field of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Machle, Miss Louise Johnston, and Rev. Andrew Beattie, the latter of whom has gone to join Dr. Thomson in the new station of Yeung Kong.

The different lines of work have been carried forward without much change, and with a fair degree of spiritual growth and prosperity.

The First church of Canton, under the care of Rev. U. Sik Kan, has received eight members during the year. The present number of communicants is 109. The number of pupils in Sabbath-school is 68. The students from the men's training and boys' boarding-school have attended the church services. The amount of contributions has been $33.

In the Second church, under the pastorate of Rev. Kwan Loi, 29 persons have been received, making the present number of communicants 170. The pupils in the Sabbath-school are reported at 210. The contributions have amounted to $154.

The San Ui church, under the care of Rev. W. J. White, has received 1. Present number of communicants, 26; contributions, $20.

The Third church in Canton, under the care of Rev. Dr. Henry, is situated in the centre of the city, on the boundary between the Cantonese and Tartar quarters. It reports a membership of 64, two having been received during the year. Forty-five children are reported in the Sabbath-school. Contributions, $52.

The Chik Hom church reports 47 members. Nine persons have been received. Nineteen members are reported.

The Shek Lung church reports 44 members. Received during the year, 3.

The Lin Po church, under the care of Dr. Henry, holds services in the different centres. It reports 66 communicants, 14 having been received during the year.

The Lien Chow church has enjoyed a year of great prosperity and growth. Fifteen persons have been received, making the present membership 53. This has been constituted a new station, and the large per cent. of increase in its membership during the year, as well as the contribution of $25, indicates vigorous life for a recent organization. Only two stations are as yet in full operation, Canton and Hainan, though the occupation as stations of Lien Chow and Yeung Kong has already been decided upon.

Chapels.

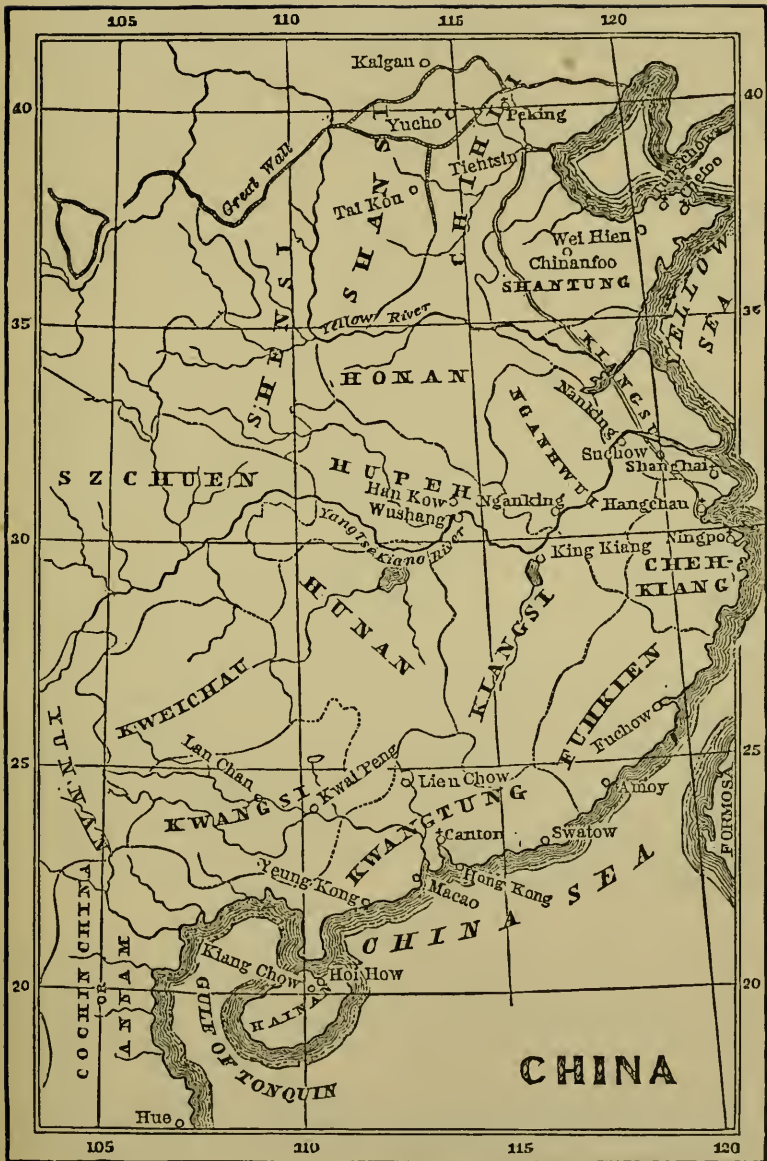

There are in Canton four chapels in which daily preaching is maintained. Dr. Henry, with a Chinese assistant, has had charge of the Treasury Street chapel. The attendance has been good, and much interest has been shown by the people. An evening service for prayer and the study of the Bible has also been held. This chapel is a landmark in Canton, and is well known to officials and people, not only in the city, but far and wide through the Canton Province.

The Sz Pai Lau chapel is also under Dr. Henry's care. This is the home and centre of influence of the Third Presbyterian church.

The chapel in connection with the First church has been under the care of Rev. A. A. Fulton. The attendance has been good, though no immediate fruits have been gathered. Another chapel connected with the hospital has been under the direction of Dr. Henry and Rev. Kwan Loi.

Training-School for Men and Boys.

Two boarding-schools and 34 day-schools have been maintained, with a total number of 916 pupils. The training-school for men and boys has been under the care of Rev. Messrs. Noyes and Wisner. The property formerly occupied by this training-school has been sold, and the means used in the erection of suitable buildings on new grounds purchased two years ago. The foundations of the new school building are already completed, and it is hoped that in a few months all will be in readiness for permanent use, temporary quarters having been found for the school during the year. The patrons of this school are mostly members of the church, whose sons are here educated as far as possible for active Christian work. Efforts are being made to give greater breadth to the curriculum, and for this purpose a scientific department has been thought indispensable. Ample room is now furnished in the new building for whatever department it shall be thought wise to establish in this institution. Mr. Wisner has given some instruction during the year in astronomy, illustrating his lectures from charts and diagrams on the blackboard. Those who were examined at the close of the term showed themselves to have made marked proficiency in this to them new science. Instruction in instrumental music has been given to a limited number of the pupils.

In the men's training department, Bible history, exegesis, and other branches pertaining to preparation for the ministry have been taught. Out of eighteen attendants, fifteen are Christians, and one of the remaining three is an applicant for baptism.

In the boys' boarding-school most of the time has been devoted to committing to memory the books of the New Testament. Beginners must commit to memory the Three and Four Character readers, while the advanced class has studied a Commentary on Romans. Their work in Chinese literature consists in study of the characters, letter-writing, and reciting the classics. The whole number in attendance was 43. The pupils in both departments meet together for prayers morning and evening. In addition to the regular church services, a special meeting is held every Sabbath afternoon for more detailed religious instruction.

The Girls' Boarding-School.

There are two departments connected with this institution—first, the training-school for women, and second, the girls' boarding-school. The latter is divided into three grades—advanced, intermediate, and primary. The work has been in charge of the Misses Noyes and Butler, assisted by Miss Lewis and Mrs. Wisner. Six native teachers are employed, and with a single exception all have been educated and trained in the school. They are all earnest Christians, and are conscientious workers. They manifest a deep interest in the spiritual welfare of the children. There have been during the year in all these departments 117 pupils, some of them, however, for only a limited period. Twenty-two from the school have been received into the church—nine women and thirteen girls. One of these women has been employed in the school for ten years, and for years her mind has wavered between the old belief and the new. She has at last become a decided Christian. The larger girls, with scarcely an exception, are Christians. A missionary society in connection with the school, organized in 1888 by Miss Butler, now numbers 45 members, and supports two Bible-readers in the country, besides making other contributions. There is also a Dorcas Society, in which sewing and other work is done for the poor and needy.

Day-Schools.

Of these, there are 17 schools for boys, with an aggregate of 381 pupils. Seven have been under the care of Dr. Henry, one in Macao, under the care of Mrs. White, six under the care of Mr. White, and three under the care of Mr. Fulton, who has returned to this country on leave of absence.

Seventeen day-schools for girls have also been maintained, with an enrollment of 343 pupils. These schools have been under the care of Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. Fearon, Mrs. Wisner, Miss Butler, Miss Noyes, and Mrs. White.

Medical Work.

The hospital in Canton, under the care of Dr. Kerr, assisted in the men's department by Dr. Swan, and in the women's ward by Dr. Mary W. Niles, has had a prosperous year. Many thousands of patients have been under treatment; the wards have been well filled, and there have been good opportunities for evangelistic work. The morning prayers have been kept up for the in-patients, while out-patients have been reached by preaching in the adjacent chapel. Special Sabbath instruction has been given during the year, and many, it is hoped, have received a saving knowledge of Christ. Those patients who are able attend the services of the Second Presbyterian church. Visitation to some extent has been done by Rev. A. A. Fulton among the patients in the hospital. Mrs. Swan and Mrs. Wisner have also worked as opportunity afforded among the women in the wards.

The hospital school for women has been conducted by Mrs. Kerr throughout the year, with gratifying results. A new school building, recently erected, without expense either to the hospital or the mission, furnishes pleasant accommodations for this school. By means of it profitable occupation is given to those patients who otherwise would be left in idleness and without improvement. An excellent plan has been adopted of keeping a registry of all patients, and reporting them to the helper in charge of the country station or chapel near which they reside, that the good work may be followed up on their return home.

Dr. Swan, in addition to his work in the wards of the hospital, has taken very efficient care of the finances of the mission in the capacity of Mission Treasurer. A marked improvement is recognized in this business department of the work.

The work of Dr. Niles in the hospital and dispensary has been indefatigable and useful. There have been in attendance in her department 4,286 patients, and 393 in-patients have been under her care. She has performed 683 surgical operations, and 164 patients have been visited in their homes, 275 calls having been made. She has thus reached many firesides of the poor, and also of the wealthy and influential, always carrying the Gospel message. "Usually," says the report, "a large roomful of female relatives await her coming. Doubtless many secluded women of the upper class have heard the truth, who otherwise would not have had an opportunity." Frequently one of the medical students has accompanied Dr. Niles in these visits, and rendered material assistance in giving religious instruction. As fees from these patients she has received $182. Owing to poverty, in some cases, the usual fee of one dollar has not been paid, and in exceptional cases, more has been received. Four young women are in the medical class, and of these, the two most advanced have acted as assistants. All are Christians. In the Sabbath-school, as well as in many other ways, they have assisted in the religious work of the hospital. The medical class has been continued this year under the care of Drs. Kerr, Swan, and Niles. Twelve students have been in attendance. Four of the number are women.

Three dispensaries have been in charge of Dr. Mary H. Fulton. In one of these, in the centre of the city, 7,000 patients—all women and children—have been in attendance. During part of the year Mrs. Wisner visited the dispensary weekly, and since then Miss Hattie Noyes or one of the Bible-readers has been present on each dispensing day, all for the purpose of religious instruction. By this work much prejudice has been removed, trust in idols has been weakened, if not crippled, and in many cases sincere belief in Christ has been expressed. In another dispensary, under Dr. Fulton's care, 2,000 patients have been enrolled. At Ng Chau a third dispensary has been opened for both men and women; a medical assistant has been stationed at this place, and nearly 2,000 patients have received treatment. In November, Dr. Fulton, in response to an urgent request from a Chinese official in Canton, made a voyage to Swatow, and from thence several days' journey into the interior, to prescribe for his mother, an old lady of eighty-two years of age. This official is one of high rank and of great influence in South China, and has always been intensely opposed to Christianity. An escort was sent with her from Canton, and she received every attention on the way and after reaching the home of her patient, whom she found to be a lady of unusual intelligence. After the recovery of her patient, Dr. Fulton received appreciative testimonials to her skill, and grateful recognition of the value of her services. The visit enabled her to carry the Gospel to that distant town under the most favorable circumstances, and it is hoped that lasting impressions for good have been made.

During the early part of the year Dr. Kerr was called to attend the Tartar General, who is the military commandant in Canton. After his recovery, this official came with a large retinue to express his thankful appreciation. The pomp and circumstance of his visit spread abroad a knowledge of what had been done most widely and impressively among the people. Dr. Niles has visited by invitation "the families of nearly all the high officials residing in Canton, and, in such ways," says the report, "medical skill serves to open doors which are otherwise barred to the introduction of Christianity."

The hospital work at Yeung Kong has accomplished much good during the year. Dr. Thomson and his assistants have treated 15,814 patients and 75 in-patients. The number of surgical operations performed was 510.

Outstations.

Of these, there are twenty-eight connected with the Canton Mission. They are superintended by missionaries residing in Canton and Macao. Four have been under the charge of Dr. Henry. Much good work has been done in connection with the Lien Chow station, though the force at hand is wholly inadequate to meet the openings for usefulness which are presented on every side. Dr. Henry made three visits to Lien Chow during the year, being accompanied on the last journey by Dr. and Mrs. Machle and Miss Johnston. A shop has been rented temporarily for a chapel, and regular services are held.

The limits of our space forbid a specific notice of the various outstations in order, but in them all the work has been judiciously and profitably carried on through the regular labors of native preachers and assistants, with occasional visits from missionaries. At a station 145 miles southwest of Canton, five men were received during the year upon letters of recommendation from churches in California, and these have identified themselves with the Christian work. This incident is given as an illustration of the good accomplished by missionary labor among the Chinese in California, and it is to be hoped that by mutual correspondence between laborers in this country and in the Canton Province, all Christian men who return may be looked after and kept in sympathy with the one work of our divine Master. Mr. Fulton had the satisfaction of baptizing his first convert in the distant Province of Kwong Sai, where a few years ago he was mobbed and his work was broken up. He has made repeated visits to Kwong Sai Province, but up to the time of his return home on leave of absence, he had not been able to secure a firm footing. It is hoped that Lien Chow, which has become a treaty port, may be found available for the establishment of a missionary station.

At Yeung Kong, which is situated 250 miles southwest of Canton, progress has been made. In October last, Dr. Thomson had the pleasure of receiving five converts into the church by baptism. Fifteen more candidates for baptism are reported. In the autumn Rev. Messrs. White, of Macao, and Gilman, of Hainan, visited Yeung Kong and received a strong impression of the prospects of the good work which has opened up in that station and in the surrounding country. Mr. Beattie's accession to the mission with the purpose of laboring in Yeung Kong, has given much satisfaction. An interesting work has been done during the year by Mr. Colman, who has visited some scores of towns in the region of Yeung Kong, preaching and selling books.

Hainan.

The Hainan station was established in 1885, though work was commenced in the island in 1881 by Mr. Jerimiassen. The missionary force consists of Mr. and Mrs. Gilman, Dr. and Mrs. McCandliss, and Mr. Jerimiassen. Notwithstanding the prevailing sickness during the year, the work has gone on with a good degree of prosperity. The medical work has made most favorable impressions in the midst of the epidemic. The superiority of Western science appears in nothing more clearly than in its improved treatment of disease, and the fact of substantial help being given in times of distress does much to overcome prejudice.

Nodoa, 90 miles in the interior, is the only outstation, the mission having its headquarters at Kiung Chow, three miles from the port of Hoi How. Mr. Jerimiassen has spent several months at Nodoa during the year, accompanied by a native preacher. At Nam Fung some work has been done, and a good degree of interest is manifested. There are five communicants in the place. Mr. Jerimiassen has, with the consent of the Board, made some substantial improvements in the building at Nodoa.

The medical work at Kiung Chow, under the care of Dr. McCandliss, has furnished a good opportunity for Mr. Gilman to preach the Gospel regularly to those who are in waiting for their turn of treatment. There have been 4,774 out-patients and 118 in-patients. One hundred and forty have been visited at their homes. At Nodoa, Mr. Jerimiassen has dispensed medicine to over 5,000 patients. Nine have been received as in-patients in his small hospital. Nearly 2,000 more persons have been treated by Mr. Jerimiassen on his itinerating tours.

The Canton College.

The Canton College, under the care of Dr. Happer, though laboring under great disadvantage for want of proper buildings, has made a good beginning. Sixty-six pupils have been in attendance, and the only limit to this good work is found in the want of suitable accommodations. By the authority of the trustees of the college, this institution is now placed under the direct control of the Board in so far that it has power to fill all vacancies in the trusteeship. It is believed that when suitable buildings are secured for the accommodation of all who come, the institution will enter upon a career of great prosperity and widespread usefulness.

Pekin Mission.

The health of this mission has been good in the main. Mrs. Whiting was obliged to seek leave of absence for a necessary recruit. Dr. Atterbury returned during the year from a leave of absence. No additions have been made to the mission.

There are in the Pekin Mission two organized churches, both in the city. Very little has been accomplished as yet by this Mission in out-stations, with the exception of some summer work at a point about fifteen miles away. A movement is now in progress, however, for establishing an additional station in the interior.

The total number of communicants reported by the Mission is 183. During the year 27 were added to the church, and the net gain is 25. The number of adherents is given as 360. The children in the Sabbath-school number 180. In the two boarding-schools and the nine day-schools 158 pupils are enrolled. The amount of contributions during the year was $338.30. The Mission reports one pastor and two ordained evangelists. The pastors' salaries are only about $80 a year. Two theological students, eight licentiates, four medical students, eighteen teachers, and four Bible-women are reported.

The medical report given by Dr. G. Yardley Taylor, embracing the period from August 1, 1888, to August 1, 1889, reports 18,640 out-patients, 155 in-patients, and 90 surgical operations. Owing to the absence of Dr. Atterbury during the year thus reported, the outside dispensary work has been almost entirely in the hands of the first assistant, Wang Yu-lin. Two medical assistants have honorable mention for the work accomplished by them. The native pastor of the hospital church has been faithful in preaching to the dispensary patients and in visiting those confined in the wards. Mr. Langdon, a recent accession to the mission, is spoken of as having made many visits to the in-patients, whom he has interested in the teachings of the Bible. Hsu Pin, a theological student at Tungchow, has spent his summer vacation to good advantage in preaching and healing the sick in a district about forty miles northeast of Peking. Attracted partly by his medical skill, a score or more of the villagers gathered about him, coming quite regularly to his inn for instruction. Mr. Lowrie visited the place in midsummer, and was greatly pleased with the spirit of earnestness which these inquirers displayed. The head men of the village, alarmed by the spread of the foreign doctrine, began a system of terrorizing which soon subdued the weaker inquirers. Inn-keepers were forbidden to harbor any one who preached the doctrine, and employment was refused to all not willing to swear allegiance to the religion of their ancestors, and threats of violence were freely uttered and posted throughout the neighborhood. The door thus opened has been partly closed, but it is hoped that it will soon be opened wider than ever.

This instance shows the efficacy of medical missions, when conducted in an earnest, evangelical spirit, in opening the way for the truth. Dr. Taylor and his first assistant visited the region north of the place above mentioned with a view to establishing two dispensaries. This is the kind of introduction that has most promise for the future.

Miss Marion Sinclair, M.D., and Miss Jennie McKillican, the latter acting as trained nurse, are highly spoken of in the report in connection with the medical work, though the task of acquiring the language has largely absorbed their attention during this their first year.

The report refers to some general changes which have occurred in the country, conspicuous among which is the completion of the railroad from the Kai-ping coal mines in the region of Peking, to Tientsin. This achievement, together with the fact that other lines are contemplated, indicates an awakening of the Chinese Government to the necessity of these material forms of development.

Near the close of the year Rev. J. L. Whiting and Dr. B. C. Atterbury visited the region westward from Peking with a view to establishing a new station.

Mr. Wherry, with the approval of the mission, has been largely engaged in literary work. Mr. Whiting, also, in addition to preaching three times a week in the street chapel, has been preparing a Chinese work on Moral Philosophy. Mr. Lowrie has had the boys' school in charge, and has addressed the people as occasion offered. During the hot season he gathered large numbers at an old temple in the country, to whom he preached the Word of Life. Dr. Sinclair and Miss McKillican, in addition to hospital work, have been engaged in evangelical effort among the women.

Miss Mary Lowrie, as well as Mrs. Lowrie, has done a good work among the women. She has maintained regularly a woman's class.

At the Hills, in the hot season, she gathered an interesting girls' school, which she was reluctant to give up on returning to the city. Miss Grace Newton has sustained the responsible work of the girls' school and with increasing interest.

Mr. Langdon has been diligent in his first year with the language.

The mission have deplored the necessity which compelled Mrs. Whiting to leave her useful work among the women on account of ill-health. Mr. Whiting remains at his post.

The following incident, given in a letter from Dr. Atterbury, is so faithfully illustrative of the boasted benevolence of Buddhism that we quote it entire :

“ Dr. Taylor was called out the other day to see a little fellow about fifteen years old who was found lying in a field with his throat badly cut and many other wounds in different parts of his body. The case strikingly illustrates the difference between Christianity and Buddhism ; between active sympathy for suffering and mere talk about compassion. It seems some rascal hired the boy, who was a donkey driver, to take him to a place a little distance from the city. Arriving at a lonely spot the man attacked the boy, and leaving him wounded and bleeding, ran off with his donkey. By chance a man came along some time afterward, who carried him to a large, open space in front of one of the largest temples in the vicinity. Here a crowd quickly collecting stood gazing at the little fellow as he lay on the ground, but no one offered to do anything for him. In this land, which is lightened by the ‘ Light of Asia,’ men follow the example of the priest and the Levite, and, after looking at any case demanding assistance, ‘ pass by on the other side.’ This took place about noon. The next morning some one suggested asking the foreign doctor to see the boy, as there was no other chance of saving his life. So Dr. Taylor went out, and was almost disposed not to attempt to do anything, loss of blood and long exposure having made the case a desperate one to treat. Still he thought he would try to see what could be done, and he asked if some one in the crowd of two hundred or more people, who were standing around, would not tell him where he could find a room to which the boy might be carried while his wounds were being dressed. In the gateway of the large temple directly behind were a dozen priests—devout followers of Buddha—but they would never think of allowing the wounded boy to be put into one of their vacant rooms ; he might die, and then the expense of burying him would be great, or at any rate they would have to look after him for some days, and this would be a sore trouble. At last a man, living at some little distance, gave permission to have the boy carried to his house. There Dr. Taylor dressed the wounds, and finally the boy was brought to our hospital, where he now lies in one of the wards. His neck was so badly injured that at first everything he ate came out of the wound. Now, however, he is much better, and there is some chance that he may pull through all his troubles. The trachea being cut through just at the larynx, he cannot talk, and several times has nearly suffocated from the swelling under the lining membrane of the windpipe obstructing the passage of air. He is a patient little fellow and lies quietly on the kang with a tube in his throat which gives him great relief. He appreciates everything we do for him, and, unable to speak, thanks us by shaking his clasped hands in Chinese fashion.

“Let those at a distance sing the praises of the ‘Sage of India’ and applaud his teachings. A tree is known by its fruits. If asked, this wounded boy would say that there was something in Christianity influencing its followers to love their neighbors as themselves which the religion of his own country did not possess. Many of the Chinese, knowing about this case, have contrasted the action of the priests in not allowing the boy to be taken into their temple with that of the foreigners who did all they could for him.”

Shantung Mission.

The annual meeting of the Shantung Mission was held at Chefoo in November last. All the accounts represent it as the most interesting meeting ever held by the mission. One element of great encouragement and joy was the arrival of sixteen new missionaries—men and women, who arrived on the field just before the meeting was held. They received the most hearty welcome, and as to their character and promise, the very best impression appears to have been made upon all.

Another circumstance of great encouragement was the fact that as a result of the faithful work done in famine distribution, a thousand inquirers were reported as looking toward the truth and the acceptance of the offer of salvation. It is generally believed that during the present year a still larger number will be found, and that the work in the immediate future will be attended with greater fruits than at any former period. It was also reported that a large number of backsliders had returned to their duty, and that the zeal of many of the native churches had been quickened.

A matter of still further congratulation was the fact that Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell arrived in time to attend some of the closing exercises of the meeting. Dr. Mitchell's letters, as well as those of the missionaries, speak of the occasion as one of remarkable interest and encouragement.

In addition to the large number of missionaries appointed by the Board, a valuable accession was made to the mission in the marriage of Miss H. R. Sutherland, of the Canadian Mission, to Rev. Dr. Corbett.

Measures were taken at the meeting toward occupying two new stations—Che-ning-chow and I-Chow-fu—and assignments were made of the new missionaries, together with some of those who had had experience and a knowledge of the language. The Board has thus far sanctioned the occupation of the former of the stations named. Rev. S. A. Hunter, M.D., and wife, though they had received many months before leave of absence from the Board that they might visit their fatherland, after many years of faithful labor, cheerfully consented to remain two years longer, in order to establish the new missionaries at this interesting station, which is situated on the Grand Canal.

There have been several cases of serious illness, which will be particularly noticed in connection with the various stations. With the exception of these, the health of the mission has been mercifully preserved and none have been called away by death.

Tungchow.

The Tungchow station reports 234 communicants, with an addition of 27 during the year. The pupils in Sabbath-school number 207. The Tungchow college reports 115 students, and the girls' boarding-school 26. The total number in all schools is 158. One native pastor, Rev. Yuen Keh Yin, is reported. There are connected with this station six licentiates and nine teachers of both sexes. For the benefit of missionary societies and Sabbath-schools, desiring to support particular pupils, it is stated that the support of a student in the Tungchow college is $40; in the girls' high-school $25, and in the medical school $13.

The report of the Tungchow college may be briefly summarized as follows: The last year has been the twenty-fifth of the history of the institution, and has been the most prosperous year in its whole career. The average number of students has been over 100. In view of the increased number of applicants the standard requirement for admission has been raised, and the admissions have been restricted to those of maturer age than in former years. The boarding-schools at the other stations are beginning to furnish students for the college, and these are found as a rule to be the most satisfactory in the end. The demand for the graduates of the college among all the various Protestant Missionary Societies in China has been greater than ever. It would seem to be a matter of regret that the Presbyterian Missions in the Empire should not be sufficiently sustained by funds to enable them to utilize all the graduates of this vigorous and efficient institution, both in the department of the ministry and in that also of school instruction. Seven of the students have applied for admission to the church, of whom four have been received. In the absence of Dr. and Mrs. Mateer for most of the year, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hayes bore the chief responsibility, until it became necessary for Mrs. Hayes to obtain leave of absence and return home on account of ill-health. Mr. Hayes accompanied her only as far as Japan, and thence returned to his post. Mrs. G. S. Hays, temporarily engaged at Tungchow, has rendered more or less assistance during the year, devoting some time also to the country work among the women of the villages. Her husband, in the meantime, has been too much occupied with evangelistic work to be able to render much assistance in the school, except for a part of two sessions. The institution has continued to be one of the foremost centres of higher education in China. It is a thoroughly missionary institution, keeping the great spiritual ends of mission work ever in view, at the same time that it has pursued a course of broad and effective instruction in practical science, and in whatever should be deemed necessary to fit young men to meet the changing conditions which are rapidly passing over the Empire.

Dr. Neal's medical report shows during the year 4,227 out-patients and 58 in-patients; of the latter, 41 are reported as cured. He has also had a class of 5 medical students. The course occupies four years, of seven months' study in each. Toward the close of the year, Dr. Neal, whose work is greatly approved by the mission, was removed to Chinanfoo, and Dr. Coltman assumed his duties at Tungchow.

Dr. Mills, in addition to chapel preaching and itineration, has labored among the patients assembled from day to day at the hospital.

The girls' school at Tungchow has been assigned to Miss Wight, who has been transferred from Chefoo.

Mrs. Mills has made a good beginning in the instruction of three or four deaf-mutes,—a kind of Christian effort hitherto unknown in North China. This work is not connected directly with the Board, but has been sustained by gifts from deaf-mutes in this country, who have been anxious to do something for their fellow-sufferers in China. An utter incredulity seems to have possessed the people until they saw demonstrations of the possibility of teaching this unfortunate class to communicate with others and even to read the Word of God.

Chinanfoo.

Dr. Coltman, who has had charge of the medical work, reports an increase of 1,200 patients during the year—making the whole number 8,495. Five hundred and eighty-five surgical operations have been performed. A number of calls have been received by him from officials, and many new friends of the work have been made. With the consent of the mission, Dr. Coltman has exchanged places with Dr. Neal, of Tungchow.

Mr. Reid has carried on an extended work among the outstations, making eleven tours, and meeting with not a few discouragements in various forms.

Much work was done in the early part of the year by the missionaries of the station in famine relief distribution. Mr. Bergen also devoted a part of his time in giving instruction to the theological class at Chinanfoo. The country work has fallen mainly to Messrs. Murray, Bergen, Reid, and Chalfant.

Serious illness during the year has affected nearly every member of the station, and has rendered the necessity of procuring property for residence outside of the city too plain to be disregarded. The character of the diseases suffered is such as to show clearly the effect of malarial poison. The city lies on a level plain, with little opportunity for drainage, and has almost no sanitary care. Gradually, and especially through the medical work, the mission seems to be growing in the favor, or at least in the toleration, of the people. All the local work is within the city, except that of the school, which is located in the east suburb.

The total membership reported in the Chinanfoo church is 113, of whom 6 have been baptized during the year.

Chefoo.

Rev. Hunter Corbett, D.D., reports a very prosperous year in the outstation work. Two itinerating journeys, extending over ninety-four days, were made. He finds new life in some important stations in which for some years there had been little advance. Two new schools have been established, one for boys and one for girls. Four persons have been received on profession of faith, and some lapsed members have been restored. At a large interior town 19 persons were admitted to the church, two of whom were widows, aged 74 and 77 respectively. All these accessions attributed their first interest in the truth to the attendance of their children or grandchildren upon Christian schools. The suggestiveness of this fact will be hailed with satisfaction by all who, in Sabbath-schools or women's auxiliary societies, are contributing of their funds to the maintenance of these interior day-schools. When one is able so clearly to trace the influence of these little germs to the establishment of permanent churches to which goodly numbers of the middle-aged and even the aged are received on profession of their faith, there is reason certainly to thank God and take courage. This influence may be traced still further back to those steps which led to the establishment of the schools themselves. For several years a widow woman has resided as the sole believer in this place. It was at her earnest request that a school was opened less than two years ago. Intense persecution followed for a time, but at length subsided. A great change came over the people, and there are now three schools and the flourishing church above named. The influence of this movement is not confined to one village. Many persons in the surrounding villages have given their names as inquirers, and they are now studying the truth. Two Bible-women who are employed in this region report many homes in which they have found women and children learning to pray.

In another village, twenty miles distant from the above, there is a sort of family church corresponding somewhat nearly to those of New Testament times. In one influential family there are more than thirty persons, all communicants. Others besides the family have been added, and the church has, with great self-denial, provided itself with a simple but attractive church building and school-house. The structure was dedicated during Dr. Corbett's visit. An elder and a deacon were ordained, and nine persons were baptized. In this village also there are three day-schools.

In the Chi Meh district, where years ago Dr. Corbett shared the persecution to which the people were subjected, he spent this year several days in visiting the various schools and preaching stations among the villages. Fourteen years ago the people of this region built for themselves a church and school building. The place is now too small for the requirements of the community, and steps have been taken to erect a new edifice, to be known as the Mary Nixon Corbett Memorial Church. Toward the erection of this building the people have subscribed largely in labor. Since the harvest of the autumn crops the work of erection has gone forward. At still another village a building for worship and for a school has been presented by one of the native Christians, a deacon in the church, a man of little means, but rich in faith and good works. Still another congregation, sixteen miles distant, have recently repaired and enlarged their church and school building by their own effort. Fourteen new members were added to their number.

During this trip, Dr. and Mrs. Corbett visited five organized churches, eight stations, examined seventeen schools, and received 52 persons on profession of their faith. Thirty children were also baptized. In another place Dr. Corbett organized a church with thirty-two members. There are now ten district churches under his care, with a membership of 634. They are almost entirely self-supporting. They contributed during the year, in spite of their great poverty, $533. The total number added during the year on examination was 110. The excellent plan of Drs. Corbett and Nevius of gathering young preachers and helpers for three months of training during the winter months, has been continued. Twenty have been thus instructed during the year.

Chefoo and Outstations.—The report says: "Faithful work has been done in the boys' boarding-school at Chefoo. Forty pupils attended. A bright lad of seventeen died of fever after only a few days' illness. His parents and grandparents were Christians. He had been admitted to the communion a short time previous to his death. Five young men entered the College at Tungchow at the end of the year. One of the teachers, Ten Sheo Shen, came to us when quite a small boy. After several years spent in school here, he went to the Tungchow College and graduated with honor. After taking half of the theological course, he found his strength not equal to the trying work of itinerating, which is required as a part of the training for our theological students. He is a first-class teacher. His wife has for several years taught in her own home a little school for girls in a village near us. She has now twelve bright little girls attending and daily memorizing Scripture and other books. Most of the girls are from heathen homes. The parents have learned to value education for their girls as well as for the boys. It has required many years of patient work to gain this point.

“The removal of Miss Wight to Tungchow has necessitated the temporary suspension of the girls’ boarding-school at this place. I trust the time will soon come when we shall be able to have a flourishing school permanently established here.

“A number of new schools have been established at different points in the interior. We have now a total number of 29 schools, with an aggregate attendance of 500; of these, 100 are girls.

“In one village where we have three members, after much effort we succeeded in getting a little school started. To-day a letter came from the teacher, saying he has opened with 30 pupils, some of them coming daily from surrounding villages. The same messenger brought a request to have another school opened in a village seven miles distant. I should think fully one-half of the number who united with the church the past year attributed their interest in the truth to what they saw and learned in connection with the Christian schools. These schools are proving an effective means of expelling darkness and overcoming prejudice and hostility. So important has this work become that we have felt constrained to enter upon a long-cherished desire and open a normal school at Chefoo for the special training of teachers and lay-preachers. Only young men of from 18 to 30, as a rule, are admitted, and only those who have already attended native schools from eight to twelve or more years. A special course of three years’ training is given. We have two Christian teachers, exceptionally well qualified for this work, now in charge. We have ten men at present and many more applicants. Among the men is a native graduate of fine scholarship and address. We do not guarantee certain employment to the students who take this course, but sincerely hope we may from this school be able to supply a great want of more efficient laborers. This will in no way interfere with the College or regular theological classes. Each student is pledged to aid, so far as possible, needy and worthy youth in acquiring an education after they leave our school.”

Dr. Nevius has devoted his time principally to the preparation of books and to the training of the native ministers. Mrs. Nevius has suffered very serious illness, but with the blessing of God appears to have measurably recovered her health.

Wei Hein.

The report from Wei Hein is full of interest. Mr. Leyenberger spent some two months or more in famine relief in the early part of the year, distributing $6,000 among 20,000 persons. He devoted forty-three days of the autumn to outstation work, and was cheered by the revival of interest on every hand. One hundred and fifteen inquirers presented themselves for examination, while backslidden members returned and engaged with zeal in the performance of Christian duty. Among the 29 outstations under Mr. Laughlin’s care are about 100 pupils in schools. Much interest is shown by the people in the education of their children, and desires are expressed for the establishment of boarding-schools for girls. Mr. Laughlin has been permitted to receive into the church during the year 26 adults, and has baptized 4 children.

Dr. Hunter's work has been carried on in usual variety—embracing pastoral, medical, and literary work. His time, also, has been largely drawn upon in the building operations of the station. His dispensary was opened to patients every day except Sunday. Dr. Hunter superintended the erection of a dispensary and hospital at Wei Hein—a memorial of the late Mrs. Robert Mateer. Some time, also, was devoted to famine-relief work.

Mr. Mateer returned in the late fall from a leave of absence and engaged at once vigorously in his work.

Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin were employed for five months in famine relief, distributing $30,000 to 35,000 people—some being aided during the entire five months, and others a shorter time. Abundant opportunities for preaching the Gospel were improved as time and strength permitted, and with great promise of good results. A considerable number of persons are reported as studying Christian books, observing the Sabbath, etc. Over 400 persons in the outstations visited by Mr. Laughlin have avowed themselves inquirers and have been examined. Only a small proportion were received, for want of sufficient knowledge, but it is believed that the new year will witness a large ingathering. The inquirers are mostly of a good class of people, not likely to be influenced by the "loaves and fishes." "The heathen," says Mr. Laughlin's report, "are more favorably disposed than ever before, while the Christians are apparently quickened in faith, and are building better houses of worship, opening schools, making larger contributions, etc. Meanwhile, many old backsliders are returning."

The boys' boarding-school at Wei Hein has been prosperous. Special work for women has been carried on by Mrs. Laughlin, both in itineration and in instructing visitors at her home. Miss Anderson, notwithstanding a long and severe attack of typhoid fever in the hottest season, has done a good work for a part of the year among the women. Two village boarding-schools for girls are under her care, as well as a general work among women in the country and at home. She also spent a month in the famine region, assisting in the work of relief.

Miss Anderson and Mr. Chalfant are both highly commended by the Examining Committee for the progress which they have made in the language during the past two years. The latter has already begun to preach in the Chinese. He has also had a part in the work of relief distribution, extending aid to nearly 5,000 persons, who were thus supported during an average of fifty-four days each. A part of the year has been occupied in superintending the building of a house. The field assigned to Mr. Chalfant embraces eight stations, in which there are one hundred Christians. Mrs. Chalfant has worked among the women as her time and strength would permit.

Four new members—Dr. W. R. Faries, Miss Mary Brown, M.D., Miss Madge Dickson, M.D., and Miss Emma F. Boughton—have been added to the station during the year.

Central China Mission.

The magnitude of the field occupied by this mission is set forth in a recent appeal for reinforcements as follows :

“Our five stations occupy a commanding position with reference to the richest and most populous part of China,—what may be called the temperate zone of the Chinese world. The parallels which include the provinces of Chehkiang and Kiangsu, within which our five stations are located, form the central belt through which flows the great river of China,—the Yiang-tse-kiang. Our position commands the whole broad valley of this ‘Son of the Ocean,’ with all his tributaries. Under the Governor-General, whose palace is at Nanking, are grouped three provinces—Kiangsu, Kiangsi, and Nganhui, with an aggregate population of 95,058,559 in an area of 165,137 square miles. Add to these the province of Chehkiang, with a population of 26,256,784, in an area of 39,150 square miles, and we have as the field within easy reach of our station over 121,000,000 of people in an area of 204,287 square miles. In other words, in a territory only one-fourth as large as the United States east of the Mississippi, we have a population about double that of the United States.”

Ningpo Station.

The year at this station has been one rich with tokens of Divine grace, although peculiar difficulties have been encountered. The missionary force, all too small at best, was depleted by the necessary withdrawal, on account of health, first of Miss Warner, and later of Mrs. Butler. Mr. and Mrs. Partch, however, although necessarily occupied largely with the study of the language, have done much to relieve the burdens of Mr. and Mrs. McKee. On the 23d and 24th of August a typhoon passed over the region occupied by this station. The rain fell in torrents; the streams were swollen to a degree unknown in forty-five years; bridges and houses were swept away, some villages being almost totally destroyed, and crops greatly injured. The loss fell heavily upon some of our native Christians. The chapel in Ta-bing was wrecked,—the native preacher and his family, who occupied a part of it, barely escaping with their lives. The Roman Catholics have not been slow to take advantage of this condition of things, one of their preachers busying himself among the suffering members of our church in the Saen-poh district, offering them food and clothing if they would come to Ningpo and join the Roman Catholic Church. Notwithstanding the strong temptation to people on the verge of starvation, only three or four yielded. When in addition to this it is learned that persecutions, especially in the line of depriving Christians of their rights and privileges as to ancestral estates, still continue, it will be seen that the difficulties encountered are neither few nor small.

In spite of these drawbacks, several of the churches connected with the station have enjoyed a time of refreshing. Ten members were added to the Ningpo church on confession of faith, two of them wood-carvers by trade, men of intelligence and influence. One was the son of heathen parents in well-to-do circumstances. Before he was received into the church, the parents were consulted, and frankly stated that they had no objection to having their son confess Christ—a very marked contrast to the persecution which usually awaits those making a public confession of their faith. Special mention is made of marked growth in spirituality on the part of two of the members of the church, manifested among other things by a spirit of Christian beneficence—one of them giving one-tenth of his income to the Lord, and the other still more. The church at Fu-saie, in the Saen-poh district, so signally blessed last year, has received eighteen persons on confession of faith this year, while still others are inquiring. It is worthy of record that this work of grace had its origin in the faithful efforts of a humble, earnest member of the church among his heathen neighbors. The church at Tsiu-ong has just completed a neat church building at a cost of $450, United States gold, of which less than one-half was furnished by the Board.

There are seven Bible-readers connected with the station, five of them laboring in Ningpo, and the others within the bounds of churches at the outstations. Those serving in the city engage also in itinerary work at certain times.

Referring to evangelistic work the report says: "On account of the unusual readiness of so many to listen to the truth, our native preachers feel the importance of being doubly diligent at this time, and we are sending out preachers, two and two, into the regions beyond." While on a recent visit to Tong-Yiang, two hundred miles from Ningpo, Mr. McKee was hospitably entertained by two gentlemen of influence. They professed to be believers in Christianity, having learned of Christ at the Hankow Hospital of the London Missionary Society, where they had been successfully treated. They generously offered their assistance in securing a suitable house for a chapel if a native preacher could be sent. Two native laborers have been sent to occupy the field for the time. During the early part of the year a combined effort was made by the four missions occupying Ningpo to conduct street preaching in different parts of the city.

The experiment, which continued for three months, was regarded by all as a success.

Schools.—The Presbyterial Academy, under the care of the Presbytery of Ningpo, had thirty-four pupils last year, twenty-nine of them being boarders. Of these, twenty-five are sons of Christians, eight of them being communicants. The religious interest in the school has been well sustained. Seven of the pupils applied for admission to the sealing ordinances of the church, four of whom were received, including the son of heathen parents, to whom reference has already been made. The Presbytery maintains a faithful watch over this institution, requiring at its annual meeting reports from the directors, the examining committee, and the soliciting committee, besides carefully auditing the accounts of the school.

The Girls' Boarding-School, which, under the efficient management of Mrs. Butler, has come to be an important missionary agency, has for the past year been under the direction of Mr. McKee, Mrs. McKee rendering such assistance as her strength would allow. Mrs. Li, the matron-teacher, and the other native helpers who have been connected with the school for some time, also rendered excellent service in the absence of the Principal. The pupil-teacher, Ah-loh, died after a short illness, rejoicing in her Saviour, and exhorting her heathen relatives to accept Christ. Thirty-four pupils were enrolled, most of them the daughters of Christians. Eight are communicants, and five others are inquiring.

There are three day-schools for boys connected with the station— one in Ningpo with eight pupils, one at Bao-ko-toh with ten, and one at Yu Yaio with sixteen. These schools are under the care of the pastors at the respective places, who are held responsible for their management. The Board grants $25 per annum toward the support of the teacher, the church being responsible for the remainder. This plan is found to work well, as it not only stimulates to self-support, but makes the teacher responsible to the pastor, and in a measure to the parents of the pupils. These teachers are graduates of the boarding-school.

There are two day-schools for girls, one of them taught by Mrs. Zi, the wife of the pastor of the Ningpo church, who, in addition to the usual studies, gives the pupils lessons in sewing, embroidering, etc. The children are mostly from heathen homes. The other is taught by O-kwe, a young married woman, a graduate of the girls' boarding-school. It originated in her gathering together, of her own accord, a few of the daughters of her heathen neighbors, to teach them to read and sing. These schools have been superintended by Mrs. Partch, who has also the oversight of the Bible-readers and the industrial class.

Shanghai Station.

Our mission occupies three localities in this commercial metropolis of Central China. The oldest sub-station is within the English concession and centres around the Mission Press. This Press, first established in Macao in 1844, removed to Ningpo in 1845, and finally transferred to Shanghai in 1860, continues to be one of the most efficient parts of our equipment at this station. The plant has been increased during the year by the addition of a new Bremner printing machine, together with two new fonts of type. The Press continues to do a large amount of work for the British and Foreign Bible Society, the American Bible Society, the Chinese Religious Tract Society, and the North China Tract Society. During the year 11,753,950 pages of Scriptures were printed; 7,158,870 of religious books and tracts; 3,094,213 pages of miscellaneous matter, besides the regular issues of the Illustrated News, the Child's Paper, and Chinese Recorder, making a total of 23,820,363 pages for the year. About one-half of the eighty persons employed in the Press are professing Christians. All are expected to be present at morning prayers, and the attendance on the Sabbath services, which is voluntary, is reported as excellent. For the past two years the church connected with the Press has been supplied by Mr. Sz, a Chinese minister. A few months ago he was formally called, and has since been installed pastor of the church, the congregation providing for his entire support. In addition to this they have also furnished funds for the maintenance of a day-school.

About three miles south of the Press, outside the South Gate of the city, is the second centre of work established. To the east and south-east of this there is a populous suburb, extending over a mile from north to south, within which no other mission is operating. Mr. Smith writes: "Including the portion of the interior of the native city next to us unoccupied by other missions, we have a region of about one mile and a half long by one mile wide, densely packed with houses, and containing a population of about 150,000. Our nearest missionary neighbors are a mile west of us, and the nearest point of the foreign settlement is a mile to the north." The church at the South Gate reports 129 members, of whom four were received on confession of faith during the past year. The average attendance on the Sabbath morning service was about 160. Two Sunday-schools are held in connection with this church,—one in the morning for the boarding-school scholars, the other in the afternoon, which is attended not only by the pupils in the boarding and day schools, but also by a number of heathen. The highest number present during any one session was 285, the average attendance, including teachers and pupils, being 230.

Concerning the two boarding-schools at the South Gate the report says that "they have continued about as usual, excepting that we have had more sickness than commonly falls to our lot, and were obliged to close both schools for a month on account of measles. The usual studies have been pursued, special efforts being made to secure thorough religious instruction."

In the boys' school forty-three have been enrolled, the average attendance being thirty-seven. The religious condition of the school is encouraging. Six of the boys are professing Christians, four having been received into the church during the year, one of them uniting with the Southern Baptist Church with which his family is connected. Still others are inquiring.

In reporting the girls' boarding-school, Mrs. Smith states that the arrival of Miss Posey had been quite a relief, the burdens being too great for one to carry. The school is conducted on the Mt. Holyoke plan. The report says: "We divided our thirty girls into ten divisions last spring, giving one of the older girls two younger ones to care for and help. Each division has work to do each day, and every Monday morning the task is changed; for instance: the kitchen division becomes the dining-room division during the second week, and that has charge of the dormitories, and so on." One death occurred during the year, and although the girl was not a professing Christian the hope is expressed that she had given herself to the Saviour. Fourteen of the girls are members of the church and sustain a weekly prayer-meeting.

Seven day-schools have been conducted during the year in connection with the South Gate, the pupils being examined monthly in the church building. The total average attendance on these schools was about one hundred. In addition to his teaching and preaching work, Mr. Smith prepared and issued a Sunday-school paper, one-half of which is devoted to the International Lessons and is used in Shanghai and Soochow in our own and some other missions.

About four and a half miles northeast of the Press, within the American concession, in the district called Hongkew, is the third location occupied by our mission under the superintendency of Dr. Farnham. The site was selected during the past year after consultation with the Presbytery, and in view of its spiritual destitution. It was found that a number of members of Presbyterian churches of the city were living in that locality, and steps have now been taken for organizing them into a church. On Sabbath, February 3, 1889, a room was opened and publicly consecrated to the service of God as a chapel. The average attendance at the preaching services has been about 60, with an attendance at Sunday-school of 47. Eight persons have expressed a wish to be received into the communion of the church.

Three day-schools for boys and girls have been established in the neighborhood, two of them being taught by Christian women, who were trained in our girls' boarding-schools at Shanghai and Ningpo. All the schools are superintended by Mrs. Farnham.

Dr. Farnham in addition to other work has continued to have the editorial oversight of the Child's Paper and Chinese Illustrated News; also, to act as secretary of the Chinese Religious Tract Society.

The supervision of the five outstations connected with this station has fallen to Mr. Silsby, who spent seven weeks in itinerating, examining the schools, and conducting services in connection with one of the Chinese preachers.

Soochow Station.

Soochow, a city of 500,000 inhabitants, is the centre of an immense population. It is estimated that from the top of the large pagoda in the city may be seen an area with a population of five millions, while five millions more are contained in a still wider circle, which must be reached from this station if at all. The outlying regions between Soochow, Hangchow, and Shanghai include a large number of walled cities with their teeming multitudes. The city has been occupied by our mission for the past eighteen years, but for the most part it has been very inadequately manned. The church numbers 25 members, 7 of them having been received during the year. The international lesson is studied on Sabbath morning, and preaching services are held in the afternoon, especially for Christians. There is also a Thursday afternoon prayer-meeting and a weekly prayer-meeting for women. Two women have been brought into the church largely through the influence of the Bible-woman. Mrs. Hayes feels deeply the need of reinforcement in this direction, and it is earnestly hoped that two single ladies, for whom provision was made in the estimates last year, may be found to enter upon this work during the coming year. Services have been maintained in the two chapels as usual. One inquirer is reported from that at Tsang Mung, a man who had been addicted to opium-smoking. In this connection Mr. Hayes writes: "We have a terrible foe to contend with in opium. There is an opium den on each side of one of our chapels, close to the building, and the fumes from the smokers are often quite annoying." At Mt. Lion, a rocky peak several hundred feet high, rising abruptly from the plain, some five or six miles west of the city, a chapel has been rented and a school opened. At the foot of this peak five of the Soochow church members reside, four of them having been baptized during the year. It is expected that this will prove the nucleus of a strong and vigorous church. Of the five members only one, a woman, is unable to read. They are well-to-do farmers, and live in the midst of a population above the average in intelligence. The report makes touching reference to the death of one of the elders, Mr. Loo, who was for many years a chapel preacher at Kwung-san, but for the past three years had been identified with work at Soochow. He witnessed a good confession, and died in the triumph of faith.

Five day-schools have been in operation with a total enrollment of 72. In these schools about one-half the time is devoted to the study of Christian books. Two young men from this station have recently entered the theological class in Tungchow.

The brethren at this station make an earnest plea for at least two men adapted to itinerating work, who after mastering the language may be able to undertake the work of preaching the Gospel in the vast region already referred to.

Hangchow Station.

The return of Mr. and Mrs. Mills to the United States last spring, because of impaired health, left the whole burden of this station upon Mr. and Mrs. Judson until toward the close of the year, when they were joined by the Rev. J. C. Garritt, the only addition to the ordained force of the entire mission for the year.

The membership of the church in Hangchow numbers 68, the same as last year. Five had been added on confession of faith, but one had died and four had been dismissed to other churches. "The contributions have been larger than usual. In addition to the support of their own pastor, and caring for the sick and poor among themselves, they raised some thirteen dollars toward the relief of the famine-stricken ones in Northern China, and they have also employed a Bible-woman during the greater part of the year." The church at Sin-z, the other church connected with this station, has had a very different experience. But one has been added to the roll, while six names have been taken off, three by death and three by dismissal to other churches, leaving a total membership of 38. The pastor, Mr. Yu, who has been settled over the church about a year, has passed through a sore affliction in the death of his wife, leaving him with five motherless children. Owing to the lack of force, but little chapel work was done in the city of Hangchow. Mr. Tsiang Nying-kwe, pastor of the city church, preached in two chapels as his other duties would permit. In the Beh-ma-miao chapel, service has been kept up throughout the year, a student who had been pursuing his studies in the Tungchow Training-School being in charge. In addition to the Bible-woman employed by the church, the mission has employed another. These visit the homes during the year, and testimony is borne that nearly all the families, whether rich or poor, receive them gladly, and listen attentively to the truth. During the year over one thousand families have been visited in this way.

The Boys' Boarding-School opened with an attendance of 50. Two were subsequently dismissed, leaving 48 on the roll, an increase of 8 over last year. Of the 48, seven are professing Christians, one of whom was received during the year. About half of them are the children of Christian parents, and have been baptized. At a recent communion, twelve others applied for admission to the church, four of whom were received. Mr. Judson reports a marked religious feeling among the students throughout the year. Two young men were graduated last year—one, a member of the Hangchow church, is now teaching a day-school in the city, and the other, of the Southern Presbyterian Church in Hangchow, is employed by them as a teacher. At the last meeting of the Presbytery, three of the graduates from this school were licensed to preach, while still another is studying theology at Tungchow.

The Industrial Department has been continued as during last year, a native carpenter being employed to give instruction. The outcome, however, is far from satisfactory, and the request is again made that a man thoroughly trained in industrial lines in this country be sent out to take charge of this department.

Five day-schools are conducted by this station, three in Hangchow and one at Sin-z, the fifth having been opened at the outstation Zang-peh. The case of a sad fall and probable apostasy through opium is recorded in connection with one of the schools, the teacher having been dismissed because of the opium habit, after having been dealt with kindly, but without effect. He has been disciplined by the church, but thus far has given no indication of deep penitence.

On the return of Mr. and Mrs. Mills to the field after furlough, it is expected that more attention will be given to evangelistic work.

Nanking Station.

The completion of the house erected for the two single ladies connected with the girls' school—Miss Lattimore having been joined by Miss Lane last autumn—together with the building of a neat and commodious chapel, has quite added to the material equipment of the station. The chapel, which was rendered necessary by the growth of the girls' school, was built in part by gifts from private sources, and was dedicated to the service of God last June. Though ten conversions are reported for the year in connection with this station, no church has been organized, presumably because of the lack of material for ruling elders. Mr. Leaman reports that regular Sabbath services have been conducted at three points in the city, with a manifest increase of interest on the part of the people. He has also paid some attention to the distribution of Bibles, tracts, and calendars, and feels assured that the year has passed with a good measure of God's blessing and no little success.

Mrs. Leaman reports for the Girls' Boarding-School a year of patient effort, and of "quiet waiting for the dews which are to bring on the longed-for harvest"; adding, "each little advance in the way of truth, each little turning to ways of righteousness, fills our souls with joy and gratitude." This joy was experienced at the close of the last term, when a number of the girls expressed a desire to be numbered with the people of God. As this was the first shower of blessing upon the school, it is noted with profound gratitude.

The experimental stage in the school may be regarded as past. No difficulty is now found in getting the parents to sign papers agreeing to place their children in the school for a given number of years. Progress has also been made in the direction of unbinding the feet, about one-half of the girls in the schools having their feet unbound. Twenty-four girls and four women have been enrolled as boarders during the year, and twelve girls as day pupils, making forty in all. The report says: "Among the little girls who are turning their faces Zionward is one who was intended by her mother for a Buddhist nun. She was brought to me with her head shaven, her feet unbound, and her ears without rings, as those intended for nuns must not bind their feet or pierce their ears. I prevailed on the mother to let the child's hair grow, and of course I was only too glad that the feet were free as God made them. The mother has told me since that she will give the little girl over to our church. She seems to look upon it just as giving it over to another religious order." Mrs. Leaman meets a class of women twice a week for reading, some of them being servants in the mission families, others mothers of the girls, and still others outside heathen women. Fourteen have been in attendance during the year, and it is hoped that ten or twelve of them will soon be able to read the Word of God. One of these women has applied for baptism.

The Boys' Boarding-School conducted by Mr. Abbey reports a roll of eleven pupils. The school is intended to keep in view the training of Christian helpers and teachers. The religious instruction includes daily recitation in the Bible, Old Testament history, Dr. Corbett's

Catechism, the Westminster Catechism, etc. In connection with morning worship, some time is devoted each day to the expounding of the Scriptures. There has been a decided religious interest among the scholars. At the spring communion four of them were baptized, publicly confessing Christ. One of them before taking the step was told by his mother that he might be required to pass through some severe trials. His reply was, no matter what happened he desired to confess Christ, adding, "If they kill my body they could not kill my soul."

Nanking continues to be regarded by our missionaries as an important centre for educational work. In this they are evidently sustained by other missionary Boards working in this former capital of China. In this great literary centre the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States is about to establish a University with a foundation of $200,000, and the Disciples are also securing a site on which to erect a college building. Compared with these magnificent enterprises our educational plant is certainly insignificant. It is claimed that the Mandarin spoken in Nanking is the most useful in China, being readily understood by one hundred millions of people. The work done here in Christian education, therefore, cannot be regarded as having a mere local interest.

LOS ANGELES: Rev. I. M. Condit and wife; two native helpers; four teachers in English.

PORTLAND, Oregon: Rev. W. S. Holt and wife.

NEW YORK: one native superintendent.

San Francisco.

The work among the Chinese in California still labors under the great discouragements which affect the social and political status of these people. A change of administration in the Government had excited the hopes of the Chinese that the Exclusion Law would be modified, and that people, even though laborers—formerly resident here, but now in China—would be permitted to come back, and that all who are now in this country might go and come at pleasure. These hopes, however, have been disappointed; the Exclusion Law is still carried out; and, from the indications of the public press, the anti-Chinese feeling is spreading through other cities as well as San Francisco, especially against the laundrymen. The Chinese population is steadily decreasing. Every steamer carries back from two to five hundred.

The morning and evening services in the Chinese church are well attended, though not quite as largely as in previous years. The Sabbath-school is still well sustained, and the evening mission school for boys and young men has also given much encouragement. One young man, Ng Poon Chew, who has been studying in the mission school for some time in preparation for the ministry, is so far advanced that last September he was able to enter the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in San Francisco, where he has proved himself a bright and promising student. He still keeps up his Chinese study, and looks forward with the confident hope of becoming a missionary to his native land.

The missionaries in San Francisco have been called upon as in former years to act as agents for missionaries in China, Japan, and Siam, —forwarding various bills of goods, at the same time that they have had no easy task in rendering assistance to those missionaries who were going and coming through the Golden Gate.

During the summer, Dr. and Mrs. Loomis spent some time in Santa Cruz and San José, and Mr. Kerr has visited Sacramento, Santa Rosa, Stockton, Placerville, etc. In many places he preached on the street to goodly numbers, and embraced every opportunity to reach the Chinamen.

A promising Sabbath-school was organized in the Presbyterian church at Stockton during the year, and at Placerville arrangements have been made for a day-school for Chinese children born in that town.

Six adults have been received into the church in San Francisco and four children have been baptized. The present membership is 78. The contributions during the year have amounted to $502.30.

The Chinese Woman's Home.—The Home for Chinese girls conducted by the Occidental Woman's Board, has been in existence fifteen years, and has rescued and sheltered 260 persons,—a noble record surely. There were 35 inmates at the beginning of the year 1889; 28 more were received during the twelve months following, making a total of 65 for the year. Eleven have been removed from the Home by marriage, and two have died. Most of those rescued and brought to this retreat were slaves, and represented a money value of from $500 to $2,000 each. The report of Miss Culbertson says: "In nearly every case we have had legal battles to fight in the courts to retain these girls, for the Chinese slave-dealer does not relinquish his chattel without the fiercest struggle." An illustration is given in the case of a little seven-year-old girl, Kum Yoke. The report says:

"In the latter part of September she was rescued from what is known in Chinatown as the 'Beehive house,' by the officer for prevention of cruelty to children. Her scant and filthy garments were infested with vermin, and her little body was bruised and blackened by the frequent beatings she received. Kum Yoke's 'alleged mother' was a gambler, and her paramour an opium-smoker, and any ill luck that attended them they attributed to the child, and her young life was made miserable by their cruelty; the excuse for their brutality was, that she had a bad habit of biting her finger-nails, which according to Chinese notion was as bad as taking poison.

"We obtained immediate letters of guardianship, which the 'alleged parents' set to work to have revoked, carrying the case from one court to another, and now after a period of four months the case has recently been decided in our favor. The closing words of the judge's decision published in the San Francisco Law Journal are these: 'To take the child from the Mission Home would be very much on a par, as to reasoning, with withdrawing a lad from the high-school to fritter away his life in the purlieu of filth, vice, and crime. The motion to revoke letters of guardianship must be denied.' Kum Yoke is an interesting child, and takes kindly to her new surroundings."

There are at present seven Christian girls in the Home, who assist as interpreters in religious instruction, and who give lessons in the day-school.

Among other results of this good work there are thirty-five homes on the Pacific coast, which have been created by the marriage of these rescued girls.

The report urges the great need of enlarged accommodations, not only for the regular inmates, but for special occasions. As an illustration of this need, the U. S. Court recently sent ten Chinese women to the Home, as guests, pending certain legal investigations as to their rights.

Work in Chinese Families.—Miss Emma R. Cable's work of house-to-house visitation has been carried forward as usual, 132 families having been visited and instructed. Miss Cable's methods cover all that pertains to the personal, domestic, social, and religious life of the households which she is permitted to enter. A systematic course is pursued, so that the instruction may be followed up to hopeful results. In her parish are 36 women with small feet. In the case of girls, the influence of Miss Cable has frequently been effectual in the abolition of the practice. There are 18 girls at present still subject to this cruelty, instead of 30 as at a former time. They are beginning to "like big feet, all same as Shing Shang (teacher), so I can go street." One hundred and fifty-six girls have been taught and visited, ranging from three to twelve years of age; 58 of these have been under instruction, and with good results. Only seven adult women have been brought under systematic instruction, though often the mothers learn from their children. "Fortunately," says Miss Cable, "the number of slave children is decreasing from year to year, and I observe a more humane treatment of them, as the owners are conscious that we have a vigilant eye over them, and the Home acts as a corrective. It is and has been a satisfaction that we have been enabled to gather some of these children into the Home. We frequently encounter children in the alleys and dens of vice, who are there in defiance of our laws; and could we induce the proper authorities to take hold of these children, we would not be compelled to see the class of little girls whom we taught in Bartlett Alley already in the possession of procuresses and in dens of iniquity at the age of thirteen and fourteen. This is the branch of our work which demands the most earnest attention. To-day I have in my home a young girl that Miss MacFarland and myself rescued from one of the lowest dens in Cum Cook Alley, a girl eighteen years of age. She is attractive in appearance, of superior mind, marked individuality, and of a refinement of manner which it is difficult to tell how she acquired. Bought in China for $300, and landed in defiance of our laws, she was sold in Chinatown for $2,500, and placed in one of the many shameless and nameless dens that infest that locality. She was at the time but fourteen years of age. Of the bargain and sale there can be no possible doubt, for in addition to living witnesses of her enslavement I hold the bill of sale covering the details of the iniquitous transaction. In the house from which she was taken there were five other girls held as chattels, toward whom my heart yearned, and I would gladly have rescued them if I could. Of such houses there are probably not less than one hundred scattered through Chinatown, and recent indications point to a rapid increase. I respectfully but very earnestly submit that the time has arrived when the Church should take hold of this crying evil and break it up. What is wanted is a propelling power behind the officers of the law that shall force them to action. This the Christian people should supply. The laws are all right; the non-enforcement of them is all wrong. Human slavery is abolished, but it is maintained as a living, hideous, death-dealing, soul-destroying fact all the same.

"In this connection I would call attention to a decision just rendered by Judge Gibson, of Alameda County, by which one of the slaveholders has been sentenced to pay a fine of $300, and suffer twelve months' imprisonment. In speaking of the state of things in San Francisco the learned judge used brave and noble language, every word of which my ten years' experience in Chinatown enables me to endorse and approve. He said: 'This conviction may be a beneficial lesson in restraining such unlawful acts in Alameda County. The Chinese woman, I believe, was held in slavery, and the defendant is known to have deprived her of her liberty. We do not want to see the practices that hold sway in San Francisco indulged in Alameda County. My view is that the majority of officers in San Francisco's Chinatown ought to be behind the bars of the State prison. They are working in with the vilest criminals unhung. There are bribery and corruption there, and a worse form of slavery than that which existed in the South before the war. Chinatown is a disgrace to civilization, a menace to all decency, and it ought to be cleansed. We must use the law here to protect Alameda County from the crying shame that spoils the fame of San Francisco. I think that Lem Share is guilty, and I deny the motion.' The defendant was then sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the county jail, and to pay a fine of $300."

The Occidental boys'-school has had during the year an enrollment of from 35 to 40. The illness of Miss Baskin during a part of the year somewhat interfered with the full and regular attendance. During the absence of Miss Baskin on account of illness, Miss Jennie Wisner, late of the Canton Mission, was temporarily employed.

One of the older pupils, Ah Chew, was dismissed in October to become a student in the Theological Seminary, where his progress is reported as most satisfactory. His object is to carry the Gospel to his countrymen in China. In addition to school-work, Miss Baskin has been able to do something in the line of house-to-house visitation.

The Japanese Mission in San Francisco.

The work of the Presbyterian Board among the Japanese in California is full of interest and promise. All the indications show that the time has come when more vigorous measures should be adopted and a more generous support accorded. There are said to be not less than 2,000 Japanese on the coast. Most of these are found in the city of San Francisco and in the suburban towns. More than half of the entire number are those who have been baptized by missionaries in Japan, and a large per cent. of these have been connected with the congregations of the Union Presbyterian church in their native land.

The resignation of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Sturge was severely felt by the Japanese Mission. For nearly three years they had devoted themselves most earnestly to the evangelization of these young men, who are coming in increasing numbers. They were so highly esteemed and beloved by the young men that it seemed impossible for a time to fill their place. Mr. A. Hatori, a licentiate of the United Church of Christ, was sent early in the year to take charge of the work.

The Japanese Presbyterian church in San Francisco numbers 57 members. Connected with it is a Young Men's Christian Association of about 75 members. The building in which Sabbath services are held is rented by the Young Men's Christian Association, and the only expenses to the Board during the past year have been $600, paid as salary to Mr. Hatori, an undergraduate of Princeton Theological Seminary, who has been employed for the year, and an allowance of $25 per month toward the employment of assistant teachers. Of this sum $12.50 per month has been paid to a young Japanese teacher; the other $12.50, supplemented by gifts of the Japanese church, has been devoted to the employment of an English teacher. Mr. Hatori has preached twice on the Sabbath with great acceptance, and the only limit to his congregations has been that of the narrow and insufficient accommodations furnished for the purpose. The careful preparation of his sermons and the conduct of religious meetings during the week, together with the labor of conducting a night-school on every evening of the week except Saturday, has been so great that he has been unable to devote the time and labor which seemed to be necessary to looking up the large accessions to the Japanese population which are made from month to month by every arriving steamer. It seems all-important that in addition to the utmost labor that Mr. Hatori can perform, there should be employed an American missionary who shall take the general conduct of the mission, look after all finances, assume the management of the school, and devote himself as far as possible to the work of gathering in the scores of young men, sons of the churches in Japan, and bringing them under the influence of the mission. The Methodist Mission has purchased ample quarters for its Japanese work and made abundant provision not only for the church services, but also for the wants of the Young People's Association, or as they call it, the Gospel Society. Partly as a result of this better accommodation and more thoroughly equipped mission force, the Methodist Japanese church numbers over 100 members.

As an example of our urgent need of enlarged accommodations, a recent steamer brought 22 young men from Japan, of whom 11 had letters to the Presbyterian Mission. "They came," says a letter, "expecting to find accommodations and to be taken under the care of the mission, but not one of them could be accommodated. Cheap lodgings which could be rented to these men for a time at least would be a very great help to the work. The young men themselves have been raising a subscription, which now amounts to about $800, for the erection of a church of their own, but unaided as they are by the Christian churches about them, they have little prospect of success."

A better outlay could scarcely be made by any Christian man of means, than in assisting these young men to provide in San Francisco a church home for their countrymen, in the present and in the time to come.

These young Japanese represent the most vigorous element in the churches of Japan. Except through the influence of the San Francisco Missions they will be likely to receive but little fellowship and encouragement from Christian sources. The complaint frequently made by them is that their first experience in Christian America is a surprise and a shock, and there is great danger that in too many instances this may be followed by apathy and doubt, and final apostasy; while, on the other hand, if they are received with cordial fellowship, and the opportunity so peculiar and so favorable for effort among them is properly embraced, they may be sent back to their country as virtual missionaries in whatever pursuit they may be engaged. It seems almost invidious to compare one department of missionary work with another when there is so much demanded by all, but when one considers that this Japanese population consists wholly of vigorous and spirited young men, more than half of whom have received Christian baptism, who come to our shores to learn and who must in the very necessities of the case learn either good or evil and receive impressions which shall be edifying or paralyzing, it would seem that no form of missionary work in any mission or any country could make a stronger appeal to the attention and support of the Church than this. As an example of the influence which these men, properly cared for, may be expected to receive and carry back with them, the following instance is thus given by Mr. Kerr:

“A recent steamer carried back to Japan one of our elders, Dr. Masayasu Kawakami. He was in some respects a very noteworthy man. In 1876, when only 17 years of age, he took part in the Maebara rebellion against the Japanese Government. He was arrested and imprisoned, but on the overthrow of the revolt was released.

“The purpose of the rebellion, as he himself declares, was to exclude foreigners, Western civilization, and, in particular, the Christian religion from Japan. When he saw that the new order of things was bound to prevail, like a wise man he went about to prepare for it. He studied foreign medicine in Tokyo, and was admitted to practise in 1882.

“In the spring of 1885 he came to San Francisco for the double purpose of learning English and pursuing an advanced course in medicine. He was invited to our mission soon after his arrival in the city, and he there found several young men similarly situated to himself. Mrs. Sturge taught him every evening, and Dr. Sturge gave him special instructions during the day. He was converted and united with the church by baptism and confession of faith in the fall of that year. He subsequently entered the medical department of the State University, where he studied for two years.

“He opened an office for practice on one of the principal streets and had certain hours in every week when he gave free medical attendance to poor Japanese. “About a year ago, by an almost unanimous vote, he was elected ruling elder in the church, and until his departure continued to serve the church faithfully. He at length yielded to his family's repeated entreaties that he should go home, and he sailed a few months ago. Before going he got a letter of dismissal, that he might unite with the Presbyterian church in Tokyo, but he particularly requested that I should give him a letter to one of the small churches where there would be plenty to do. The large churches, he said, have many workers."

Seven young men were received into the Japanese church. Thirty-four united with the Christian Association. Ninety-four have been received into the Japanese church since its beginning in 1885. The present membership is sixty-five; of these, twelve are absent in Japan or in other parts of this country. The contributions for all purposes have amounted to $1,174.

The evening mission school for Japanese in Alameda is taught by Miss Garrette, daughter of the pastor of the church. The young men respond to their teacher's zeal and enthusiasm in a delightful manner. The weekly prayer-meeting is well attended. The contributions amounted to $45.

There is a large and increasing number of Japanese in Oakland, for whom special work should be undertaken at once. It is desirable to rent a house sufficiently large, and also to engage a teacher for the evening school. It is believed that after the second or third month the Japanese would be ready to assume the entire rent and other expense, leaving only the salary of the teacher to be paid by the Board.

Oakland.

The Chinese church has suffered even more seriously than that of San Francisco from removals. The present number of church members is 44. Fifteen of these, however, are absent; seven in China and the others in different parts of this country. The remaining twenty-nine have been faithful, and, considering that they are house-servants, their contributions, which amounted to $257, have been generous. During the year two were received on profession of faith and one by letter. Eight were dismissed to churches in Canton.

Sacramento.

At Sacramento the work has been carried on under some difficulty. Charges of unchristian conduct were preferred against two of the prominent members. It was found impossible to secure definite proofs either to acquit or convict, and this unsettled condition of affairs has operated against the work.

The evening and Sabbath schools have been prosperous. Excitement and differences of opinion are subsiding. A day-school has been opened for Chinese children, of whom there are fifteen of school age. The school is taught by Miss Lulu Earl, daughter of a Chinese merchant, who has been for a long time in business at Sacramento. She was graduated last spring from the city High-School, and is a devoted Christian. Her home is still heathen, but her influence in it and upon other Chinese women is excellent. The school is under the supervision of Mrs. J. E. Wheeler, wife of the pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church. Mrs. Wheeler provides for all necessary expenses, and is untiring in her efforts on behalf of the Chinese. The young men last summer refitted their mission-rooms at considerable expense. They have also been liberal during the year to various benevolences, the amount of contributions being $220. Two promising young men recently went to San Francisco and were baptized.

San José. }

The reopening of the mission, which was contemplated in May last, has been postponed on account of heavy reductions in the appropriations. There are some faithful Chinese members in the place who very much desire the mission to be reopened. The estimates will provide for this, and it is hoped that the appropriation will be made.

Santa Rosa.

Good work has been accomplished during the year at Santa Rosa. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Smythe, Miss Chase, Mrs. Pitblado, and others have been faithful friends to the young men. The Chinese themselves meet all expenses, and have in addition given liberally to other benevolences. The night and Sabbath schools have been carried on during the year with a small but steady attendance. Two young men were baptized, and eight united with the Christian Association, of whom five or six are reported as about ready for baptism. The contributions have amounted to $109 50.

Napa.

The school has suffered from removals, and particularly from the return to China of Lu Ling, to whose Christian influence all were indebted. He was the leader of the Chinese Christians and was beloved by Americans and Chinese. The school has been maintained two nights in the week. The little church belonging to the Board at Napa is in great need of a roof. The cost is estimated at $175.

San Rafael.

Miss Walker has continued her earnest work in the night-school. Six of her scholars united with the Christian Association in preparation for an open profession of their faith. The Sabbath-school and prayer-meeting have been encouraging. Elder C. H. Fish and Rev. Arthur Crosby have done much by their teaching and kind words. The scholars meet a part of the expense of the school. The contributions for all purposes were $191.

Alameda.

The progress made under Mrs. Fraser's continued labors has been marked. The town is considered a desirable place for family residences, and the number of Chinese servants has accordingly increased. A larger place for services has long been desired. An eligible lot, 50 by 150 feet, close to Mrs. Fraser's house, was purchased by Dr. Loomis last winter,—one-half of the cost being a contribution from Mrs. Loomis, the other half being given by the Board. This generous gift of Mrs. Loomis really effected the good result.

Los Angeles.

From the Los Angeles field Mr. Condit reports a total church membership of 65. Fourteen have been added during the year. The whole number received at that station from the beginning is 81. The Sabbath-school pupils number 66, and the pupils in day and night schools 218. The contributions during the year amounted to $771.78. Mr. and Mrs. Condit are the only missionaries of the Board in this Southern field. Five helpers are reported, and among those who have given instruction in the night-schools there are reported the names of Mrs. S. J. E. Noble, Miss Ida L. Boone, Mrs. H. E. Harrison, Miss C. C. Twitchell, Miss G. Harrison, Mrs. M. A. McKenzie, Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. I. P. Bidgood. The total expense of this force of teachers has been only $117 per month, less than double the amount of contributions from the churches at Los Angeles and the other stations.

The financial reaction which has occurred in Los Angeles has, by its interference with business employments, seriously affected the work among the Chinese—diminishing the numbers there residing.

The Morrison Band, established by Mrs. Condit, has been doing good work. It has thirty members, and has generously contributed for the support of a native helper in China. A kindergarten in Chinatown, taught by Mrs. Harrison, numbers 25 children.

Mrs. Condit reports at Los Angeles 23 women and children instructed in 16 families. Ten of the women read and study the Bible in English and Chinese. Seven had been at one time or another in one of the Homes in San Francisco. On February 21st a meeting for women only was established. Twelve persons have been present at each meeting, and three or four have led in prayer.

A kindergarten was opened in October for boys and girls. Nine children are regular pupils.

Ten of the women read the English-Chinese Bible.

Rev. Dr. Noble, of San Diego, says that the work there "has certainly vindicated its right to exist." Ninety-eight names are on the school-roll, and there have been nine baptisms. The average attendance at night-school is twenty-five. The same number is reported in the Sabbath-school. Twenty-three Chinamen are now members of the First Presbyterian church.

Santa Barbara.

At this place the Chinese have their church-home in a neat chapel belonging to the Board. There have been fifty pupils in attendance at the evening school. Ten Christian Chinamen are connected with the mission, of whom three were baptized during the year. The Adams Mission Band devotes the last Sunday evening of each month to a missionary concert, in which the work done in various lands is considered. Miss Twitchell continues her work as teacher of the evening school and the Sunday Bible-class. The contributions have amounted to $260; of this, $74 was given for foreign missions, the remainder for congregational uses. Two persons who have recently been baptized are undergoing great trial in the opposition of their friends at home. They have received a letter with 4,000 characters, in which their kindred characterize their Christian profession as "much foolish," and strive to turn them backward.

Portland.

The work of Rev. Mr. Holt has been fairly prosperous.

Two new schools and centres of influence have been opened in the Chinese work during the year—one at Ashland and another at Salem, Oregon. A Home has been established in Portland for Chinese women and girls. This is under the care of the North Pacific Woman's Board, which has made a most vigorous and laudable beginning. Seven inmates have been received.

Nine teachers are employed in the night-schools, in which there are 135 pupils. The number of native Christians is 19; added during the year, 3. Amount of contributions, $140.

New York.

The work among the Chinese in New York under the care of Mr. K. Huie, has been continued with good results. The average attendance in the Sabbath-school has been 35. The Sabbath evening service, at which Mr. Huie has preached in the Cantonese, has averaged 20. The number has been reduced by the removal of some of the most efficient men. Two of these are in China, where they are doing good service among their countrymen. One of them, as reported last year, had given a lot in his native community for the erection of a chapel. Recent letters from China show that a sufficient amount of money has been pledged for the erection of this structure.

Among the contributions made by the Chinese school in this city, $50 was appropriated toward this building. A native preacher is already at work in the community, and when the building shall be completed there is every reason to expect a more efficient and extended work.

Two men from the New York school are now employed as missionaries, one by a Baptist and the other by an Episcopal Society. Three are engaged as assistant superintendents in different schools in New York and Brooklyn. Mr. Huie has been called upon to do a good deal of general work in the interest of Chinamen in this city. Thirteen persons have been assisted in time of sickness, and frequent instances occur in which interposition is necessary on the part of those who are imposed upon by Americans. One man has united with the church during the year, and there are several more who are hoping to do so soon. During the year $256.07 have been contributed, namely, $60 for the Johnstown sufferers, $50 for the church in San Uí, China, and $19 toward the erection of a chapel in Alameda. One hundred and twenty-seven dollars have been contributed by the Sabbath-school.

* The loss as compared with last year is owing to the fact that large numbers of Chinamen are constantly returning to China.

MISSION IN GUATEMALA.

Organized in 1882: station, Guatemala City, about 60 miles from the seaport of San Jose; laborers—Rev. Messrs. E. M. Haymaker and D. Y. Iddings and their wives; Miss M. L. Hammond and Miss Imogene Stimers.

The year in this mission has been marked by aggressiveness and substantial gain. The arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Iddings in August relieved Mr. Haymaker of part of the heavy burden resting upon him, and which at one time seriously threatened his health. The work in the capital has steadily advanced both materially and spiritually. The church which has been in process of erection, though not yet completed, is almost ready for inside finishing, an advance in the price of material requiring an additional appropriation to make it ready for occupancy. Services in English have been continued every Sabbath morning, conducted mainly by Mr. Iddings since his arrival on the field, while Spanish services have been held on Sabbath and Wednesday evenings. The attendance at the latter has more than doubled during the past six months. With a view to attracting the attention both of the English and Spanish-speaking people the mission has adopted a plan which includes the scanning of the arrivals at hotels, systematic visitation, the establishing of a normal Bible-class, stated visits to hospitals, and the holding of special services now and then during the year. The Sabbath-school numbers fifty members, including both English-speaking and Spanish-speaking people. Owing to the peculiar difficulties in the early history of the church, the organization has been allowed to lie dormant for the past year or two, but now in the judgment of the mission the time has come when it ought to be revived, the undesirable members having dropped out, and those remaining giving evidence of a quickened spiritual life.

Considering the smallness of the available force, a good deal of attention has been given to evangelistic work. During the year two trips were made through the Eastern or Chiquimula circuit, the extreme points reached being two days from the capital. An itinerating tour was made by one of the students to Quezaltenango, the second city of the republic, some four days from Guatemala City. It is reported to be a good centre for work among the Indian tribes, and therefore it is very desirable that it should be occupied at an early day. Many villages were visited during the itinerating tours, and large numbers of copies of the Scriptures sold and subscriptions received for the little religious paper published by the mission. Some opposition was encountered, one priest having burned Bibles in the village of San Arate, and the fanaticism of the people, led by two priests, having made it impossible to attempt work in the village of Villa Nueva. The most systematic effort at persecution was made in the village of San Rosita, some two leagues from Guatemala City. As members of the town council and the government secretary favored the attempt to establish Protestant worship, an effort was made to remove them, but failed. At first meetings were held in the school-house, but as this was likely to involve the local authorities, meetings were discontinued, and the work was carried on privately. A lot has since been purchased and a small building is being erected on it by those interested in the work. When it is completed, it is expected that public worship will be resumed.

The Girls' School (Colegio Americano) has had forty names enrolled during the year, including two small boys. Of these, ten were free pupils and the others paid tuition. The experiment authorized at the beginning of the year to open a boarding department on a small scale can scarcely be said to have succeeded, as only one pupil has thus far been received. In the school rich and poor meet together, the daughter of the President of the Republic, "a bright though unassuming little girl," sitting side by side with the barefooted girls in the class. Miss Stimers, in addition to her other duties in the school, has conducted with growing interest a kindergarten department for the smaller children. A permanent home for the school, which would cost from $5,000 to $7,000 in addition to the price of a lot, is greatly needed. Miss Hammond in reporting the work of the school laments the lack of provision for the education of boys. She writes: "One of our little boys has been put in a Roman Catholic school in Switzerland. I felt doubly pained at this because the father said before sending him away, 'If you could continue to care for boys we would keep our boy at home. We were perfectly satisfied as long as he could be with you, but there is no other school in the city where we care to trust him.'" Although it is understood that boys are not taken, as a rule, some twelve or fifteen applications had been made by parents to have such received. Since the beginning of the new year the mission has recommended the opening of a school for boys.

The El Mensajero, a little monthly paper published by the mission, has been issued throughout the year, but is discontinued for the present until the mission is in better shape to publish. In this connection Mr. Haymaker writes: "Fifteen hundred copies of a ten-page tract, giving a compend of our belief, were printed, many of which have already been distributed; also, 2,500 copies of the ten commandments on small slips for general distribution."

The field occupied by this mission is not only large and easily accessible, but our missionaries are the only organized force at work in the interest of Protestant Christianity. In addition to the white Spanish-speaking people there are multitudes of the Ladino, or mixed race, who are Roman Catholics by profession, and yet many of whom have no religion at all. It is from this mixed race that the controlling power of the liberal party in the government comes. In addition to these, away from the chief centres of population, and the main lines of travel, are to be found the Indian aborigines, who have never yielded to the power of Rome. They practice their mysterious rites, incantations, and turkey sacrifices on the mountain-tops, as they did before Spain and Rome united in the conquest of Guatemala. The occupation of this Republic for Christ means the extending of evangelistic efforts to the Indian aborigines, as well as to the Ladinos or mixed race.

Lodiana and Furrukhabad Missions.

Changes in the List of Laborers.—The Rev. William Calderwood departed this life May 22, 1889. He was in the 65th year of his age and the 34th of his ministry. Mrs. Calderwood expects to continue her efficient missionary work, removing to Dehra as her station. The Rev. C. B. Newton, D.D., and his family arrived in this country in May, and with improved health he returned to India in October, leaving his wife and children in this country for the education of the children. Dr. Seward regained her usual health, and also returned to her work at Allahabad. Mr. and Mrs. McComb returned to this country for health, and gained strength from the voyage. They were led to engage in home missionary work in Nevada. This work is entered upon provisionally. The climate may be of service to them. The question of returning to India is in abeyance for the present. The Rev. Howard Fisher went to India in October and was stationed at Rawal Pindi by the Lodiana Mission. The Rev. Henry C. Velte entered on married life at Lahore. Miss Jessie Dunlap and Miss Elma Donaldson, new missionaries; Miss M. M. Given and Miss C. C. Downs, returning; and later, Miss A. L. Orbison and Miss M. E. Bailey, new missionaries, were sent to India,—the last to Woodstock, Landour; Miss Donaldson to Dehra, Miss Orbison to Lahore, Misses Given, Downs, and Dunlap to Jalandhar. In several cases these stations have been assigned for a year, while the new laborers are learning the language. The list of new appointments includes the names of Prof. J. G. Gilbertson and his wife. Mr. Gilbertson, M.A., a graduate of Edinburgh University, has occupied a professorship in the Christian College of Lahore, and he is also an elder in the newly organized Presbyterian church in that city.

Two sets of annual reports are, as a rule, received by the Board from the missionaries in the field,—one from each station endorsed by the mission, the other personal and usually brief. In the following pages, the statistical information, furnished in the station reports and here summarized, will give a general idea of the character of much of the work and show its importance. Added to this statistical information, so far as received, notices from the reports generally will convey a further impression of the evangelizing work which God is giving to his servants to fulfil in behalf of the Church in one of the greatest missionary fields.

Number of pupils under instruction in zenanas not generally reported. Number of Sabbath-school scholars: in Lodiana Mission, 1,880; in Furrukhabad Mission, last year, 1,402. Contribution, as far as reported, by native churches in Lodiana Mission, $733.00. Further Statistics will be found in the General Summary, pages 218-19, infra.

In the three LEPER ASYLUMS, which for years have been fostered by the missionaries, a sympathetic, discouraging, but not hopeless work is still conducted. The Leper Asylum at Sabathu has, from the beginning many years ago, been chiefly supported by the Board, and our brethren, foreign and native, have been its religious teachers and care-takers. The same remark is applicable to the Leper Asylum at Ambala, supported partly by the Board; and also, in good measure, to the Leper Asylum at Allahabad,—which, however, is pecuniarily supported by local funds. About 100 adult lepers are usually in these three asylums, with their wives and children. They have long enjoyed the Gospel ministries of our brethren, and in many instances they have been led to Christ as their Saviour, while their poor children have enjoyed suitable education.

NOTICES OF STATIONS.

Rawal Pindi.

The senior missionary at this station, Mr. Ullmann, now over forty years in this service, was seriously ill during the past year, and was twice brought so low that his recovery was hardly expected, but he was spared for continued labors. As acting pastor of the church, he was relieved in March by Mr. Rala Ram, a graduate of the Theological Seminary at Saharanpore, who, as a licentiate preacher, was for a year in charge of the work in the Hoshiarpore district under the care of Mr. Chatterjee. The Rawal Pindi church was led to give him a united call, and to provide his salary and all expenses of the church and burial-ground. The missionaries had previously felt justified in having the charge of this congregation, though ill able to fulfil all its duties in connection with their other and more general work; but they are grateful for the good promise of the church in its now settled ministry. Mr. Ullmann will aid the young pastor in some parts of his work for the present, but he continues in other lines his varied labors. Both he and Mr. R. Morrison give attention to the schools, the latter spending four or five hours daily in their instruction. During some months in the hot season Mr. Morrison for the first time was at Murree, a sanitarium in the Hills, some twenty miles from Rawal Pindi, where he was occupied with useful work. Both these brethren speak of labors abundant. Mr. Fisher was warmly welcomed on his arrival at the end of the year.

Lahore.

In this large city, the capital of the Punjab, the work of missions has continued to advance in its extent, success, and promise of still further influence. "The nine schools for boys enroll 686 Hindus, 300 Mohammedans, 82 Sikhs, and 4 Christians." "Until recently there were but two High-Schools in the city; now there are five. Nevertheless, our mission school has steadily maintained its position and popularity, while its influence as an evangelistic agency is probably greater than ever before." As an important educational centre, Lahore has now the Government Anglo-Indian, the Mohammedan, the Hindu, and the Aryan Colleges, which contain a large number of students. These will all be co-laborers, in greater or less degree, with our Christian College, it may be hoped, or, at any rate, be greatly influenced by it. It is now well established and well manned. It is conducted on a moderate scale of expense, which it is hoped will be continued, but it will need some additional funds. It reports 137 students at the end of the year. "Religious instruction has been imparted to all the classes. In some cases the Bible alone has been the text-book during the period devoted to Christian teaching"; "in others this has been supplemented by a study of Butler's Analogy, and in others by the discussion of topics drawn from the Holy Scriptures." In October two of the new buildings for the College were formally opened by the President before a large assemblage. The service was honored by the presence and gratifying address of the Viceroy of India, and the presence also of the Governor of the Punjab. With a faculty of thoroughly missionary professors, and a good degree of public interest among the people, the Church may expect blessed results from this College, if God still favors it. Toward the expenses of the schools and the College tuition fees were received amounting to over $3,000 last year. The report of the Lahore station refers also to eighteen schools for girls attended by 394 scholars; and a school for Christian girls of nearly 80 scholars "under the auspices of the Indian Female Normal School and Instruction Society has been carried on in connection with our mission" with very encouraging success, as stated by Miss Keay, the lady superintendent.

The preaching services to non-Christians by the native preachers in the villages near the city and by the missionaries and Christian laymen in public places in the city have been kept up with interest. Numerous public lectures were delivered to English-speaking, non-Christian audiences by missionaries and other gentlemen, which were always well attended. In the mission dispensaries over 39,000 applications were made for treatment and over 1,100 minor operations were performed; of these, nearly 17,000 applications were by females, and nearly 400 minor operations. The medical services are always preceded by evangelizing instruction. The female dispensary is under the charge of Mrs. Isa Das, M.D., whose husband is the doctor in charge of the general dispensary, where he often preaches the Gospel to the poor assembled to receive alms.

The native congregation is indebted for two Sabbath services and one on Wednesday evenings to the Rev. Drs. Newton (acting pastor) and Forman, aided by others,—Dr. Ewing, Mr. Velte, Dr. Isa Charan, and some of the elders. The Union church, with services in English, at the request of its members, was organized as a Presbyterian church. The services are well attended. Lectures are reported by Dr. Orbison, and the Indian Christian Association, of which he is President, has now thirty members. The outstation at Vaga, twelve miles from the city, has still enjoyed the self-denying labors of Miss Thiede, but at the end of the year the failure of her health made a visit to her home in Germany expedient. Mr. Velte was in charge of the church in Vaga, often preaching there and administering the sacraments, but regretting to find cases of unworthy conduct, which required the exercise of discipline.

Brief as is this summary statement of the work at Lahore, it must be regarded as showing progress and great promise, with the continued blessing of God.

Hoshypore.

The usual work of Mr. Chatterjee and his co-laborers, all of whom are Christian Hindus, has been effectively continued. In the city, preaching services in the streets and bazars daily and in the chapel three times a week have been maintained. And in the District—97 miles by 30—with its 2,100 villages and its population of 500,000, preachers and teachers were in each of its four administrative circles. Respectful and friendly attention was given to the Gospel message in most cases, excepting by members of the Arya Somaj, referred to on a later page.

The church in Hoshypore received three adult members by baptism. The members of this church are trained in the duty of self-support, according to their ability. The girls' orphan asylum, under Mr. Chatterjee's charge, had fourteen inmates, and gave good encouragement. The day-schools for girls—one for Mohammedans and one for Hindus—reported 56 scholars. The orphanage and boarding-school still occupied a rented building, delay having occurred in securing a site for the Home; but a very eligible site has been obtained, architectural plans were ready, and the building will be completed at the earliest practicable date, to the great satisfaction of the missionaries and of the ladies in this country, who provided the liberal gift of funds required for its erection. A reading-room, a religious book depository, and a Bible-class, are all reported as of good service, each in its sphere. Mr. Chatterjee has been called on to give much time to correspondence, to examination of books and manuscripts for publication—most of them belonging to the Religious Book Society, and to the supervision of its colporteurs; and other engagements were fulfilled. At this station for the year, its laborers and their work and its prospects all encourage the hope of large success in the near future.

The disposition of many of the Hindus toward the Christian religion is well indicated by the Rev. K. C. Chatterjee in the Station Report of Hoshypore as to the people of that city. "The attitude of the city people toward our work may be generally described as friendly. They have repeatedly heard the Gospel, and many of them have a very fair apprehension of Christianity. They regard Christ as one of the greatest religious teachers in the world, and some of them have adopted His teaching for the ruling principle of their lives. The distinctive doctrine of Christianity, 'Justification by Faith,' they do not accept. What is wanting in the case of this people is a true conviction of sin, a rousing of the conscience, and a feeling of their own helplessness. Until this takes place, we shall in vain look forward for a general awakening or movement to the sinner's Friend. This is the work of God's Spirit, and He chooses His own time and place and manner of working. We can neither force nor hasten it. We can work in obedience to the Master's command, and daily wait and pray for the gift of His Holy Spirit.

“The only section of the community that offers us active opposition is the Aryá Somáj. This is a conservative Theistic movement, started by a Gujráti Brahman, named Daya Nand Saraswati Swamé. He was a strong opponent of idolatry, as well as of both Pantheism and Polytheism, and contended that the four Vedas alone were a true revelation, and that the hymns to Agni, Indra, and Surya, mentioned in the Vedas, were really hymns to one God, and that adoration, prayer, and devotion were to be offered to one God only, abstracted from all idea of shape, and without any second, as set forth in the Vedas. This form of Monotheistic teaching, including, as it does, the doctrine of Metempsychosis, is repudiated by the various Brahmo-Sanyasis, but is popular among the half-educated men, who are dissatisfied with Hinduism and not prepared to accept Christianity. It has about forty adherents in the city of Hoshiarpore, who seem to make it the principal part of their work to speak against Christianity. But as most of what they say is based on entire falsehood, it exposes itself and falls to the ground. We have not as yet found much inconvenience from their opposition.”

Jalandhar.

No report has been received of the work of the Rev. Golok Nath, of this station. It is understood that his health is infirm. Early in the year Miss Pratt returned on a visit to this country. In December Miss Given and Miss Downs, on their return, were transferred by the mission to this station from Lodiána, and Miss Dunlap, for a year, while learning the language. Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Forman, Jr., and two licentiate native preachers were in active charge of the varied work of this place.

A considerable part of this work was that of itinerant preaching in the cold season. A large number of villages are within easy reach of Jalandhar; of these 107 were visited and some time spent at each. Generally a friendly reception was given to the missionaries on their visits.

Cases of special interest have occurred, but no baptism of converts is reported. One would have been but for his early death. Seven schools, mostly for girls, have been under Mrs. Forman's charge after Miss Pratt's return, but the number of scholars is not reported, except in a lately opened school in one of the villages, of 45 boys and 30 girls. The prevalence of cholera, which was severe, interfered with the attendance of these schools.

During nine months of the year Dr. Forman kept the Dispensary open, and over 16,000 visits were received, upwards of 5,000 of which were new cases. Rs. 250, or about $85, were received in fees—“applied to the medical work, the expense of which has been greater than in any previous year.” “Each day at the Dispensary is always begun with reading and explaining a portion of Scripture to the waiting patients, who listen attentively. Many are thus pointed to the Great Physician.”

Ferozepore.

The Rev. Francis J. Newton, M.D., for many years, and the Rev. U. S. G. Jones for the last year, as a new missionary, have occupied this station. Mr. Jones has made good progress in learning the language, and can already engage in some parts of the work. Dr. Newton is expected soon to arrive in this country with his family, for urgent reasons of health, and also for the education of their children. Before leaving the station, a good report was made of its work and prospects. From this report the following extracts are taken :

Preaching in the City has been carried on almost daily. A house is rented in the principal chauk (crossing of two streets) of the city, in front of which large audiences are addressed. Hymns are also sung with the accompaniment of the baby organ. This is found to be a means of drawing together a great many hearers, and of disarming any opposition that may casually appear. It must be said, however, that there is little inclination to oppose the preaching of the Gospel on the part of the Ferozporites and of those villagers from the surrounding district, who are personally known to the members of the Christian community ; but, occasionally, a Maulvi from distant parts, appears upon the scene. The typical disputatious Maulvi, or Mulla, is a well known character. He is seen, and heard too—in most of Indian bazars.

There are many in Ferozepore who do not hear any preaching. Those that do are a mere handful. The masses care nothing about religion, one way or the other, and are not to be stirred by a preacher of any school or sect or religion. How to reach them is the question. Conversation with individuals in their hours of leisure from business, at their own houses or elsewhere, is a means much resorted to, but even this reaches a very small number. . . .

Preaching in the District is done only in the cold season. We go out in twos or threes, and walk from village to village, putting up in dharmshalas. That is a sort of village inn. It is the name given them in the villages, in this district occupied chiefly by Sikhs. There are often three or four in a village, and travellers and wayfarers, of all classes, provided they are Hindoos, are allowed to occupy them. Muhammadans are rather objected to. The latter have inns of their own called takyas, which, however, are generally not nearly so well kept, nor so clean. No objection is ever made to our Christian preachers finding shelter in the dharmshalas, and in our itinerant tours through the district they are a great boon, for they afford us a most convenient resting place in the very midst of the people. The dharmshala is the place of rendezvous, and here, when the day is done, the men gather for an evening's gossip. That is our opportunity. From seven or eight P.M., till midnight we may have a throng of curious, if not eager, hearers.

By turns we address them, frequently engaging one or more of them in a brisk discussion on some religious topic. In this the villagers take the keenest interest, and will come night after night and sit for hours, not only to hear what these "setters-forth of strange gods" have to say, but to witness the dialectic skill of the contestants. All preserve the utmost good humour and seem to care little whether their own man or the stranger is the victor. This good humour is immensely promoted by the singing of hymns with the "baby organ" accompaniment. This instrument, easily carried on the head of a coolie, has become a most important factor in all our preaching, whether in the city or the villages. . . .

The district we have to traverse is an immense one. There are hundreds of villages that ought to be visited, and yet it is but a mere fraction of these we are able to reach. It has been our plan not to go into new regions each year, but, as far as possible, to visit the same ones as frequently as possible. The theory is to get as intimately acquainted with the people as possible, and to make as many personal friends as practicable. To this end we get to know many of them by name, going to see them and inquiring after their welfare year after year. . . .

Medical work has for years been a prominent feature of the work in Ferozepore. The hospital has been largely patronized by the people of the city as well as those of the district. Patients come in from distances of many miles. A large number of operations have been performed during the year, both major and minor, and the total number of new names entered in the Hospital Register is 5,433, while the number of visits has been 10,000. Many of these, coming from considerable distances, have a supply of medicine given them sufficient to last for a week or ten days. Hence visits are not repeated as often as they would otherwise be.

A Municipal Hospital flourishes in the town, not far from our own. It is sometimes asked, wherein the necessity consists of having a second hospital where one already exists.

With all due respect to the Surgeons in charge of Government institutions, we hold that those institutions do not supply the want provided for by a Mission Hospital. The aim and object of the latter is different. It is distinctively Christian, in its workings, and understood to be so, and recognized as such, by the whole population. It forms an immense lever for the wielding of Christian influence in the city. The work opens each day with the reading of the Gospel and prayer, and all know that what is done is done in the name, and for the sake of Christ. The very existence of such an institution has overcome many a prejudice, and disarmed the opposition of many who once were hostile. There is no mistaking the public sentiment. The people here are as capable as any on earth of recognizing an act done with kindness; and kindness of treatment and gentleness of manner, count for very nearly as much with the sick as the administration of a pill or a draught. This mode of treatment (not the pill, but the kindness,) we have reason to fear is sadly deficient in some quarters. Not that it is absent. The power of the rupee, even there, is well known to conjure it to the surface. . . .

New Church.—During the year we have built a new Church. The congregation is not a very large one. Including children, it does not exceed sixty-five souls. So the building has been made to seat not more than two hundred, at a pinch. Yet we have sought to make it as handsome for our money as possible. The design was very kindly furnished by S. Athim, Esq., of Amritsar, an engineer in employ of Government. The Church has a spire nearly ninety feet in height, which is visible at a distance of some miles. The situation is an excellent one, being close to the main thoroughfare between the city and cantonment, and not far from the chief gate.

Here it stands, guardian over the city, overlooking its walls and its tallest houses and far away into the surrounding country, a prominent witness to the presence of Christianity as a power that has come to stay.

The money for the building was raised entirely in this country, no part of the funds being furnished by the Board in America. English friends have contributed largely, while the members of the congregation, most of them not wealthy, have given liberally of their means. Some of them, besides monthly contributions, gave each a month's salary. To Rai Maya Das, elder in the Church, is due more than to any other, the erection of the building. Not only did he beg all the money that was begged,—and that was a large proportion of the whole—but he contributed more largely than any one else. Our brethren of the C. M. S. Mission came to our aid and helped us materially with their contributions. The Chaplain of the station also sent a substantial offering from the English Church, "an offering of sympathy," as he very kindly put it, "on the part of the European Christians here with their native brethren." For all this help and the many kind expressions of sympathy, coming too, in most instances from those of another communion, we here express our most cordial thanks. Nothing can more surely break down the outward barriers which divide us, nor promote more certainly the true interests of a spiritual unity.

On Sunday, the 29th December, the new church was dedicated. It had just been finished and the Lodiana Mission being at the time assembled at Ferozepore for its Annual Meeting, the occasion seemed an appropriate one. The service took place at 11 A.M. when the building was crowded to its utmost capacity. Besides all the members of the Mission who were present, including ladies, a number of Native Christians from Lahore, Jalandhar, Hoshiarpore and Amritsar, and in addition to these, many of the non-Christian residents of Ferozepore, attended the service. This was conducted by the Rev. P. C. Uppal, pastor of the Church, and Rev. J. Newton, of Lahore, the oldest member of the Mission, who preached the sermon. Addresses were made also by Rai Maya Das and Rev. H. U. Weitbrecht of Batala, and Dr. H. Martyn Clark of Amritsar, both of the C. M. S. Mission. These latter brethren had come at our invitation and brought us the greetings of their Church and Mission, speaking words of cheer and sympathy.

All seems bright and hopeful for the future. We begin our new year auspiciously. Our work moves on, unfolding and enlarging, our workmen are active, our circle of influence widens. With all this we have learned not to be too sanguine of those results which Christian people at home so eagerly expect. We have long since found out the strength of the enemy, and know too well how securely he is ensconced behind his works to believe that a few years of siege or assault can possibly effect his downfall. In the meantime it is no small matter that we have secured the position we have done, and are slowly and surely advancing. All will be triumph some day. It will not be in our time. Some of us go, to be replaced by others. None of us are essential to the success of the work.

The house at Muktsar, spoken of in last year's Report, is not yet finished. It soon will be, and then we shall have another and still more advanced base of operations.

Lodiana.

This senior station of the Board's work in India was subject to an unusual number of changes in the staff of laborers during the last year. These can be mostly learned from the list of stations and missionaries on page 82 above, as compared with the report of the year before. At the end of the mission year, the Rev. E. P. Newton was the only American laborer here, but he would be efficiently aided for the ensuing year in the boys' boarding-school, with the approval of the Board, by the Rev. A. G. Norman, an English clergyman of the best standing. For further information, the annual report of this station is here reprinted :

The Christian Community consists of two hundred and sixty-nine members, including the boys in the Boarding-School. The Sunday-School, which is held in place of the ordinary morning service, is intended to comprise all the members of the congregation, though there are some who, we regret to say, habitually absent themselves from it, and others who are irregular in their attendance. Mr. Dales resigned the pastorate of the Church in the early part of the year, and Babu Dharm Das, a student in the graduating class in the Theological Seminary at Saharanpur, was elected by the congregation in his stead. At a meeting of Presbytery held at Lodiana in August, the call was presented and accepted by him, and on the 4th of the same month he was ordained and installed Pastor of the Church, by a Committee appointed for the purpose by the Presbytery. We are glad to be able to announce that the Church undertakes the entire support of their Pastor. The contributions during the past year have been, for the Pastor's salary, Rs. 347; for Evangelistic work, Rs. 85; for the poor, Rs. 56; for Presbyterial expenses, Rs. 32; and for the general expenses of the Church, Rs. 108. The total amount given is Rs. 628, or about $210, of which about Rs. 400 may be credited to the native congregation. The Wednesday evening service has been devoted to a study, in regular course, of the Epistles of Paul, except on the last Wednesday of each month, when a paper is read, or an address delivered, on one of the great Mission fields of the world,—the work in China, Japan, Siam, etc., being each presented in turn. The women's Bible reading is held on Friday evenings. A Bible reading and Prayer meeting is held on Saturday evenings by the Native Christians, in their own houses, in turn; and the Women's Home Missionary Society, which was organized three years ago, continues to work for the evangelization of the women of Lodiana. Since the beginning of the year, the monthly subscriptions have been increased; and sufficient is now given, with the help of the ladies of the Mission, for the support of a Bible-woman. During the year, six adults have been baptized, and the number of communicants is now ninety-two. The two pupils of our school in Khanna, who were reported as having been baptized last year, have left us, one having joined the Arya Samaj, and the other relapsed into Sikhism.

Of all religious systems, it would be difficult to conceive of one that could have less claim to the respect of serious-minded men than of the Arya Samaj. Its founder was a man named Daya Nand Saraswati, lately departed this life, who claimed to be a Brahman, though of this doubts have been expressed, and little is really known of his origin; nothing in fact beyond what he himself has revealed. His followers, who repudiate the name of Hindu, and call themselves Aryas, have established societies in various parts of the country, chiefly in the Punjab and North-West Provinces. The word Samaj means Society or a Chapter, and is applied both to the community as a whole and to the separate local organizations. They accept the Vedas as the only Divine revelation, which they say is eternal, and reject all the later Hindu Scriptures. They proclaim the unity and personality of God, advocate the remarriage of widows, and denounce, in violent language, infant marriages, caste, idolatry, and the Brahmans. This sounds encouraging, and might lead one, unacquainted with the facts, to form a high opinion of their intelligence and progressiveness. But unhappily, their doctrines on these subjects are for the most part held as a theory only. In actual life, they are as great sticklers for their caste distinctions as any one. When their domestic tranquillity seems to require it, they do not hesitate to conform to the idolatrous practices of their countrymen; their little girls are married at a tender age, and when the child's husband dies, she is condemned to perpetual widowhood, quite like the daughters of the Orthodox Hindus. Those who are best acquainted with this sect, are agreed that little is to be hoped for from them, at least for some time to come, in the direction of real social and moral progress.

Our day schools for boys contain 681 pupils, this being the average number on the rolls throughout the year.

Owing to the absence of Mr. C. B. Newton in America, and the death of Mr. Calderwood, which made it necessary for Mr. E. P. Newton to take the management of the Press and the Nur-Afshan newspaper, there has been little itinerating, beyond what the native brethren have been able to do. The Press has been busy, especially in the lithographic department, the work done being chiefly for the Panjab Bible and Religious Book Societies. We have printed during the year 9,623,295 pages. Of this total, about 9,116,000 are religious publications, and of these again, 7,091,500, Vernacular Scriptures. The Nur-Afshan, a secular and religious weekly paper in the Urdu language, has been enlarged from eight to twelve pages. For the paper used in printing it we are indebted to the London Tract Society, which has very kindly made us a free grant of all that was required for the purpose.

The number of pupils in the Boys' Boarding School has averaged eighty throughout the year, exclusive of twenty who attended as day scholars. Of these fifty-nine are, in addition to their scholastic studies, employed in the Industrial Department. Twelve are in the carpenter's shop; sixteen in the shoe-shop, fifteen are learning the art of tailoring, and sixteen that of weaving Persian carpets. One pupil passed the middle school, four the upper, and four the lower, primary examinations. . . . The health of the school has been good, though we regret to have to report the death, from consumption, of one young lad. Two of the elder pupils have been sent to study in the Theological School at Saharanpur. The work in zenanas and girls' schools has been carried on as usual. Another school has been opened, and the opportunities for doing good among the women have been greater than the present staff of workers was able to take advantage of. We are surrounded by open doors, and though some become alarmed and close their houses to the Christian visitor, there are always others where we can find a welcome. And thus the truth is spreading among the women, but very slowly, and very little has been done in the surrounding villages, for the old reason. May the time be not far distant when we shall have ladies stationed out in the district, and regular evangelistic work going on in hundreds of places where yet nothing has been attempted.

In Jagraon, the Rev. Ahmad Shah has continued his work of preaching, and administering medicines, on the native system, both in the city and in the villages. He writes encouragingly of the reception he meets everywhere. There is no opposition worth speaking of. The people are his friends. The Aryas, those most inveterate enemies of the Gospel, who for a time threatened to give trouble, have disappeared from the scene, and, as he says, using an oriental idiom, "Neither their name nor their mark is left in the place." Many confess the truth of the Gospel. Others have expressed a desire to receive baptism, but no way has yet been found for them to surmount the difficulties in which this step would involve them, and consequently they hesitate.

Since the baptism of two boys in Khanna last year, the work in that town has been less encouraging. At first active hostility was aroused, resulting in a large diminution in the number of our pupils. Latterly the school has in a measure recovered, but the average number in attendance does not exceed fifty, and it begins to be doubtful whether it is worth while to continue it. The hostility of the people has subsided, and been replaced by an apathy and indifference to the Gospel, which is more difficult to meet. The Rev. Jaimal Singh, often accompanied by Munshi Sangat Masih and others, has preached in fifty villages situated around Khanna, many of them having been visited frequently, and this work he has found more hopeful. There have been several applicants for baptism, but all have been so circumstanced, that to profess openly their faith in Christ would have entailed the severance of all their worldly ties, and without the assurance of support, they have lacked courage to come forward.

Ambala.

At this double station—the city and the cantonments—the usual lines of work were conducted by Mr. Wyckoff and native laborers. Mr. Morrison's health was so feeble, and often he was so ill, that only a part of the year could be spent at his station in the usual labors. But while in the Hills for six months he was enabled to supply a Union English church there in a measure and to its benefit. Miss Carleton, M.D., was still at Ambala as a medical missionary, but no report of her work has been received.

Preaching services in the city and district and at the cantonments; schools for boys and girls; zenana work; Leper Asylum of 30 inmates, of whom 25 are Christians—the Asylum being supported by local gifts, but ministered to by the missionaries; have all received their attention. For statistics, see tables on page 84. Of the native church in Ambala, the report says: "The services, though interesting and instructive, as conducted by the Rev. H. Goloknath, have not been well attended. There is a manifest indifference among many of our church members." For mission work at this station, gifts from local donors were received amounting to $132, of which $80 was for the Leper Asylum.

Dr. C. B. Newton, on his return to India in December, was appointed to Ambala by the mission. He expected to be occupied in itinerant work, especially among the numerous villages.

The work of the Rev. M. M. Carleton and his wife, and of his son, M. B. Carleton, M.D., was conducted last year, as before, at the two stations referred to above. No report has been received from Mr. Carleton, except as written by his wife. Mrs. Carleton gives a good account of her husband's work, and says that his "way of missioning is by social conversation rather than by formal preaching services"; and she refers to the selling of quinine to fever patients as a considerable part of his occupation. It is sold nearly at cost, and from such sales last year $360, as compared with $668 in the preceding year, were received, the last year having been more healthy than the previous one. Mrs. Carleton says: "The rite of baptism was during the season administered to two adults and two infants; and at the fall communion fourteen native Christians partook of the Lord's Supper." She describes: "The usual routine of work, viz., Sabbath service, daily noonday service, Sabbath-school, women's prayer-meeting, and day-school, was carried on in Ani during our stay there." In some or most of these meetings her own devotedness was no doubt well represented.

Dr. M. B. Carleton's report of his medical missionary work is valuable and interesting. His faithful labors as a physician were tributary to his main object, that of trying to lead the poor people to Christ as their Saviour.

Sabathu.

The Rev. T. W. J. Wylie, the native evangelist, is still at this station, which is connected with Ambala for supervision. His work is largely among the lepers, of whom 16 are members of the church, in the asylum. One of these pitiable inmates was lately baptized. The religious services seem to be regarded by them with interest, especially in the singing of hymns of praise to Christ.

Dehra.

The reported work at this fine station is one of encouragement. Both the English church, under Mr. Thackwell's charge, and the native church, of which Mr. Prabhu Das was pastor, received new communicants—six by the former and seven by the latter—of whom five were by examination. The total number of communicants in the church of natives is 70, of whom but 42 were resident; 2 had died; 1 was under church censure; 1 had apostatized; 23 were absent without taking their letters. Few of them are employed by the mission; the greater number are in Government offices and domestic service, and liable to frequent transfers and changes.

Of the schools and the zenana work, an encouraging report is given. The pupils in the Christian girls' boarding-school, supported in part by their parents, numbered 95 on the roll during the year, and 85 at its close. Miss Wherry, the superintendent, aided by Miss Savage, speaks favorably of the department and progress of the scholars. "Six left the school before the end of the year, of whom 1 has become a zenana worker; 3 have been married, two of them to theological students; and the third, we think, is well married, and is seeking to do good in her home by teaching some who are willing to learn. The long-cherished plan of having a Training-class for Christian workers established in this school has at length been realized. Four young ladies, born in the country, and consequently accustomed to the climate and the habits of the people, have been secured."

Of work in zenanas Miss Geisinger writes: "The record of our work from year to year varies little. Earnest, faithful work has been quietly done by the assistants, and there has been a spirit of industry and inquiry on the part of some of our pupils. We close the year with 64 houses and 79 pupils. During the year we have taught in 73 houses, with 97 pupils. A number of these pupils removed from the station, and the instruction of some others we were obliged to discontinue. I have corresponded with some of those who went away, and they assure me that they continue their reading, and pray every day in the name of Jesus. Other pupils have borne very clear testimony to their faith in Christ; and when they went to their homes in villages, they took the Gospel message with them, and brought back a request for books and teachers. Thus they testified by works, if not by baptism."

Woodstock: Landour.

This excellent seminary for girls can report another year of success, both in its training and in its religious influence. The number of scholars continues to be as large as the building can receive. Among them are the daughters of missionaries, but the much larger number are from English-speaking families, mostly such as find homes for themselves and their children in India. There the Christian education received in this seminary may widely extend a missionary influence by precept and example, leading many of the Hindus to the knowledge of Christ as their Saviour.

The school is supported largely by tuition fees, and it would have been self-supporting before this but for defraying the expense of enlarging and improving the school building and its premises. These are now convenient and attractive. The Government still makes a moderate grant in aid from its educational funds, and its Inspector's approval, after examination, is quite satisfactory. Its general regulations, however, are necessarily somewhat inconvenient. After referring to the good work done in the school, and the good health of the girls, Mrs. Scott could say further, at the end of the year: "In the spiritual state of the school we had much to cheer, as well as much to cause sorrow and anxiety. Seven of our girls came with us to the Lord's table for the first time; and others, who were not ready to do this, gave us good reason to hope that they would before long seek this privilege too."

Saharanpore.

Preaching services in Hindustani have been conducted by the missionaries and teachers in the Theological Seminary, and in English for Europeans. The latter service is partly for families connected with the railway, and their children; this little congregation contributed $150 for this object. Evangelistic meetings have been kept up regularly in the city. The church increased from 57 communicants to 66, after the removal of 9—3 by death, 3 to join other churches, and as many absent without taking letters of dismission. In the chief school of 200 boys, the orphanage of 39 boys as boarders, of whom 5 united with the church during the year; girls' schools and zenanas, under the charge of Mrs. Kelso, with 150 scholars in the former and 115 women in the latter; and the women's normal school, for the wives and children of the theological seminary students, under Mrs. Kelso's care also, aided by Mrs. Henry Forman; in all these good work has been done. Good seed sown will bear good fruit. The Theological Seminary has been well sustained, with the attendance of 28 students. Some of its graduates are now ordained as pastors of churches, and others have been licensed as preachers, who give promise of useful labors.

Futtehgurh—Furrukhabad.

These stations are virtually one, being about three miles apart. Much of the work for the latter is connected with the former, as the place of residence of most of the foreign laborers. Their duties are fulfilled in the usual lines; but Mr. J. N. Forman spent much of his time in itinerating work. The preaching services, orphanage, and evangelistic schools and visits to zenanas, with the supervision and encouragement of native laborers, call for earnest labor. One of the prominent native ministers had to be suspended by the Presbytery, and his name is omitted from the list given above. The usual station and personal reports from this double station, and also from Mynpurie, Etawah (excepting that of Miss Belz), Morar, and Jhansi, have not been received as this report goes to the printer. Perhaps they may arrive before it goes to press, and their statistics may be inserted; otherwise, those of last year may be reprinted.

Mynpurie, and the outstation at Etah, as just stated, cannot be fully reported. The same kinds of work—preaching, teaching, itinerating—are understood to have been conducted as heretofore, and with no less encouragement.

Etawah.

The usual reports from this station for the last year have not been received, excepting that of Miss Belz. From letters it is learned that the Rev. Thomas Tracy, after continuing in his usual work during nearly all the year, would leave India on a visit to his family in this country, with the consent of the Board. His arrival may be expected at an early day—perhaps before this Report is published. The Rev. John S. Woodside spent part of the year at this station and a part of it at Landour with a married, daughter's family, but he was still occupied with work for the Saviour. After his return to Etawah, he was married to Mrs. Edward Leavitt, a missionary of the Board in 1856-57. In the absence of reports of the work at Etawah, reference must be made to the last Annual Report of the Board.

The interesting work of Miss Belz can be best described by quoting her own report. It will be read with interest, as showing what a Christian woman, who is well acquainted with the language and ways of the people, can do in making the Gospel known to them :

With gratitude to the Lord, I can state that my visits in towns and villages are always very welcome to the people. In nearly every place to which I go I am received as a friend, and I see clearly that everywhere among the women the desire to listen to the Gospel message and to hear more about the Saviour Jesus Christ is increasing with every year. There are a number of women who, from having heard the truth so often brought before them, have become convinced that there is no salvation in their Hindu religion, and that in fact their religion is altogether false. They will listen to me for hours and put many important questions to me about the way of salvation, which shows me the state of their hearts. At many places, when speaking to them, they say to each other before me: "All that this lady tells us is perfectly true, and it is clear from what she states that the Christian religion is the true religion of God." Many a time the great attention of my audience appeared to me as if I had a Christian congregation before me, so earnestly did they hear, and the questions which they put about their souls' salvation showed that they felt the power of the truth. Some of them would say to me, "Do let me go with you," meaning that she wanted to become a Christian. But then by doing so that woman would lose her caste, and could not remain with her own relatives. Her husband and her children would turn her out of her own home. In such a case I told the woman to remain in her own house and to take care of her household as before, but to give her heart to Jesus, and to put her hope of salvation in him and in him alone.

People will very often tell me also of their bodily sickness, and ask me whether I did not know of some remedy to help them. As far as I am able, I give them my advice what to do, but most of all I try to make them know that sickness and every kind of pain and death had come into this world through sin, and that they therefore and every one should repent of their sins and turn to the right Physician, the Lord Jesus Christ, for help. When in the village Puparé I was addressing a number of Brahmini women, a very sickly-looking Brahmin who was lying there on a charpoy listened also to me. When I was about to go away this man complained, telling me that for the last three months he had been confined to his bed, and that he was racked with pain in all his bones. The man seemed to suffer of paralysis, and was much depressed in his mind about his illness. He inquired whether I did not know of any medicine which could cure him. I replied: "Medicine to cure you I do not know, but the Lord Jesus can make you well." I then related to him some of the miracles performed by our Lord on sick people, and advised him to repent of his sins and to pray to the Lord Jesus for help. He cheerfully said that he would try. The next time when I came again to this place many Brahmins were present, who received me very kindly and gave me a charpoy to sit on. An aged woman came out of a house to be with me, and a strong, hale-looking man who was cutting straw, left his work and came also, and put some questions to me, as if he would find out whether I remembered something about him. When he saw that he appeared quite a stranger to me, he said: "The man who was lying here on a cot, sick and miserable when you were here the last time, that man am I. I have prayed twice every day to the Lord Jesus Christ, and he has made me well."

I have been in a number of zenanas of high caste Hindus where the inmates listened well to the Gospel message, and mostly everywhere in these houses, when I was about to go away, some women would beg of me to come again to them. The other day, in the village Manikpore, where many high caste people are living a Brahmini woman, in whose house I was, said to me: "I have seen you at the Mela at Sonai, and other women here have told me about you, but I said to them that lady does not come to our house." This woman begged me in a most touching way to come again, and said: "All that you tell us is so very true and important, but we being parda-women [parda, a screen, to keep them from being seen] are not allowed to go out and hear you at places where you speak to women, who gather about you in the street." In a Brahmini-zenana, in the village Bataura, I found a girl of about eighteen years suffering of consumption. Her mother told me that this, her daughter, had, when very young, become a widow, and was much afraid to die. I of course spoke to them about Jesus as the Saviour of sinners, and exhorted the girl to believe and to trust in him, and if ever fear would come to pray to him for help. The girl seemed to feel comforted. Both mother and daughter wept, and it seemed as if every word which I told them went to their hearts. When about to leave them some other women and the girl's mother followed me to the door of the house, and with tears the mother begged me to come soon again, so that her poor, dying daughter might hear more of the "good word." In several other Brahmini-zenanas the women would make me promise them that I would come again.

I have also been called into several Mohammedan-zenanas, where generally a great number of women gathered about me. They would listen quietly to all I told them till I came to the point that there was no other way to paradise but by Jesus Christ, then they would generally show that they did not agree with what I was saying. At one place, where from several houses about twenty-five Mohammedan women had gathered about me, all listened with attention till I came to speak about the Lord Jesus as the only Saviour of sinners. Upon this one or two men who seemed to have heard what I had said from a hidden place in the house, came forward to oppose me, when most of the women left me and ran into the adjoining houses. After I had said a few words to my opponents, and had put a few questions about religion to them, they dropped the matter and left me also. But now a strong-minded woman came forward and said to me: "Go away from here; we do not like to hear you speak of Jesus Christ. We believe in our own prophet, Mahomet." I did not feel like going away, but after having told them first a few words more about the Saviour, remaining sitting on the charpoy, I said to them: "You have called me here to preach to you. I shall therefore go after I have done so." And having done so, I left them.

My zenana schools number at present 144 pupils, who are of high caste and taught by four female teachers. The books read in these schools are the First Hindi Book, the Catechism, Guru Gian, and Prashan Utter; the tract Dharmtula; Barth's Bible History, or instead of it some portions of the Old Testament—Genesis and Exodus, the Psalms, and the Proverbs—and after that the New Testament. In this year again a number of girls left school after they had learned to read well. Others again who had not yet finished their study had to leave, because we were going away from Etawah. One woman who had only read the Catechism and the tract Dharmtula told me when I examined her the last time that she was going away from Etawah. She seemed on this occasion to be very thoughtful about the Christian religion. In the presence of several of her friends she asked me to tell her the difference between their god Rám and the Lord Jesus Christ. She put also many other important questions about Jesus Christ as the Saviour, which I answered, and then bought a book containing Christian bhajans or hymns from me, and at her advice her sister bought the tract Dharmtula. This tract is generally read by my pupils with attention and interest. However, one Brahmini woman made an exception. She declared to the teacher that if I would give her a book again which was so opposed to her Hindu religion as Dharmtula she would give up reading altogether, and in the same way she and her mother spoke to me when I came to examine her. The teacher had told them already that according to the rules in my schools no other books than those mentioned above are used, and that whoever would not read them could not be taught at all by my teachers. This woman is now reading in the Old Testament, and seems to be reconciled again and willing to continue her reading.

In conclusion, I wish to state that during the last year I have paid 342 visits to villages, have been in 145 zenanas in towns and villages, have attended 10 melas, and on 119 days I have worked in the city of Etawah.

May the Lord bless his own Word to the salvation of many souls!

Morar.

At this station Mrs. Warren continues in the charge of its work. She is aided by a native minister, and cherishes the hope that their labors are not in vain in the Lord. The report of the station not yet received.

Jhansi.

The missionary outlook at this station is still of marked interest and encouragement. As a military and railway post, surrounded by a large population, it is considered a good place for missionary work. A chapel and reading-room is about completed, and in a few months it is hoped that a church, in a different part of the city, will be ready for services. Mr. and Mrs. Holcomb have their hearts and hands full of good work, and they should have the assistance of another missionary family at the earliest practicable time. They have now the aid of a lady from Australia, formerly of India, whose salary is defrayed by Australian friends, and who is useful in the school and in visits to native women and children. A native minister is also stationed at Jhansi.

Futtehpore.

This city is still but an outstation of Allahabad. It is under the special supervision of the Rev. J. M. Alexander, and is occupied by native helpers. Reference is made to it in Mr. Alexander's report below. As a central post in a district of nearly 700,000 people, it needs the regular services of an able and earnest minister and his wife.

Allahabad.

At this influential city the work of the missionaries is in good condition. Mr. Alexander devotes his time largely to evangelistic and educational labors, and he rightly understands the former as including the latter. His report speaks of interesting missionary tours, accompanied by Mrs. Alexander and three of the native Christian assistants, especially in the district of Futtehpore. In this district of 680,000 people only visits by the brethren seem as yet to be practicable; but a small church has been formed at the chief town, and native helpers are connected with it, who are visited and aided from Allahabad. Mr. Alexander is led to fear that a disproportionate attention is given by missionaries to the large cities, while the almost innumerable villages are too much neglected. In Allahabad his labors are largely in the part of the city called the Kutra, where he preaches in the bazars and the streets, besides visiting almost daily in the forenoons certain suburban towns for the same purpose. He aids the native pastor, Mr. Caleb, exercises supervision over schools, having over 200 scholars, gives attention to keeping the accounts of the treasury for the stations of the mission, and so devotes himself to abundant labors in the cause of Christ. It is noteworthy that during one of the missionary tours 140 separate villages were visited and preached in, and many interesting conversations were held with individuals. Mrs. Alexander also finds invaluable opportunities of doing good, both on the missionary journeys, and in visits among native women and children; 86 zenana pupils are reported in connection with the Kutra station. To the church there 8 communicants were added, making in all 81. The Futtehpore church, under Mr. Alexander's charge, reports 13 communicants. The schools at Kutra include 190 boys and 14 girls.

The various labors of Dr. Lucas have been steadily and efficiently continued during the last year in abundant preaching services; the superintendence of the High School for boys, of 254 pupils; the editing of the monthly magazine, the Maklezan-i-Masihe; visits to the Blind Asylum of 69 inmates, and the Leper Asylum of 35 inmates. The services in the new church on the Sabbath and several times during the week attested the great advantage of its site, its size, and its well-known purpose as a temple for the worship of the true God. Some attempts were made to disturb the meetings held in it; stones were thrown into it in times of worship, windows were broken; but these annoyances have mostly ceased—partly no doubt under the protection of the police, and the audiences are now usually undisturbed and attentive. At the Jumna church 88 communicants are reported. Five were added to the church, two Hindus, one Mohammedan, and two by letters from other churches. Another Hindu was baptized, but was intensely persecuted by his friends, and at length yielded to their influence, and is not a communicant. Several inquirers are referred to, some of whom have disappointed hopes indulged, and others who may yet confess Christ as their Saviour. The members of the church have begun to collect funds among themselves to support a pastor, showing liberality in their limited means. An effort is contemplated to form a new church, under another pastor.

In January and February the usual evangelizing efforts at the annual mela were made, but unusual opposition was met with. This led the brethren to modify their plans, and concentrate their labors at certain places among the vast crowds, thus securing better attention. An outstation was occupied at Kurma across the Sutlej, twelve miles from Allahabad. One of the native brethren and his wife were placed in charge, and the first three months gave encouragement. A number of inquirers were known. Dr. Lucas also refers to the blind inmates of the Asylum, sixteen of whom are able to read, and a strong desire was expressed by them to have the whole Bible printed in their letters.

It is difficult to give a full account of the work in progress at this station, as it is also at other stations; but it is evident that God is blessing the labors of His servants here, as elsewhere in India. The boarding-school for native Christian girls at Allahabad is under the efficient charge of Mrs. John Newton, Jr. It is doing a good work for an interesting company of young people, 58 in number. Their parents are expected to pay for the expense of their schooling, according to their ability, which in most cases is very small. Mrs. Newton has been aided in her labors provisionally by Miss Hutchison and Miss Babbitt, but these young ladies expect to be occupied chiefly in other lines of duty—visits among native women in zenanas and in villages, and as opportunities offer. An efficient teacher of some experience in teaching is much needed in aid of Mrs. Newton. Her work as superintendent has been altogether excessive, and must be lessened.

The medical missionary work at this city is still in the charge of Miss Seward, M.D., and is marked by its efficiency and success. Her impaired health required a visit to this country for a few months, but she was glad to return to her work with renewed strength, arriving at Allahabad in December. In her absence the work was in the care of Miss Symes, of special medical training, aided by the faithful Bible-reader who has been with Miss Seward for some years, and the work was well conducted. Miss Symes reported the attendance of patients, from April to November inclusive, as 6,785, of whom 2,301 were new patients. Most of the patients are very poor, but Rs. 327—over $100—were received from fees. The reading of the Scriptures or religious books was kept up daily, preceding the medical work; and visits were made to some of the women at their homes, besides keeping up a Sabbath-school class of from 30 to 40 boys and girls at the dispensary. In these duties the faithful Bible-reader continued to assist Miss Symes, and both were happy in their good labors. Visits were paid by the Bible-reader to 32 zenanas, in which 49 pupils were taught.

Miss Seward, while at home, renewed the request for a new dispensary or hospital. This application was sanctioned by the mission. The building heretofore rented was never suitable, and it had become almost uninhabitable, besides being refused for rent longer. The new building had received the approval of the Board in the preceding year; but to obtain a good site was very difficult, and the funds available only secured the ground, and so the case rested, after a very eligible site had been obtained, near the new church building, in the best part of the city. With the aid of liberal gifts from friends here, the Board was encouraged to complete the funds required for the new building. The outlay for the land and the dispensary will be about $4,000. The architect's plans were generously without charge, and the new building by its attractive but modest style, its well-appointed interior arrangements and its admirable site, with its efficient administration, will greatly increase the influence for good of this dispensary. It will still have the faithful Christian services of the Bible-woman long connected with it, as well as those of Miss Symes, while Miss Seward will be more than ever thankful for the blessing of God upon her work.

One of the signs of progress in India was the decision of the Supreme Court at Allahabad, the highest in the northwestern provinces, that a convert of minor age may be baptized as a Christian if his act is intelligent and free. At the discretion of the court he may be released from the control of his relatives who would compel him to remain a heathen, and be subject to cruel and degrading treatment, extending as in some cases that have occurred to the destruction of reason and of life itself, to prevent his becoming a Christian. The case adjudicated was that of a young man at Allahabad, a member of one of our schools, whose relatives prosecuted our missionaries, Dr. Lucas and Mr. H. Forman, before the court for baptizing him. The case attracted wide attention, and the decision was a great departure from the ruling of the high courts heretofore. Its immediate effect relates to the people in the northwest provinces, but it already establishes the right law for a hundred millions of the Hindus, and it will probably be a decision, owing to the principles and the circumstances involved, to be followed in all parts of the country. The judgment of the Court was long deferred for mature consideration. The missionaries regard it as reached in answer to prayer, and are very grateful to God for it.

It is needful to remember that the staff of ministers from this country in these missions in Upper India is becoming seriously weaker. Some have returned, hoping to go back, but not for some time, most of them meanwhile not drawing their support from the Board. One has died; several are becoming aged and infirm. Only one new minister was sent out last year; another was to have gone, but serious illness prevented. Two new ministers are now under appointment. But more are needed if the work is kept in requisite force. There is urgent need of prayer for more laborers in so great a field.

There is still more need of prayer for the power of the Holy Spirit to give life to the multitudes who are "dead in trespasses and in sins." In the older missions, prayer is needed for special grace to bring into life seed widely sown, and make it spring up and bear fruit many fold. With the blessing of God the friends of missions in our part of India may soon see thousands and tens of thousands of the Hindus turning unto the Lord, as in South India in recent years. The Lord hasten the day!

Kolhapur Mission.

The field occupied by this mission comprises the Collectorates of Ratnagiri, parts of the Collectorates of Satara and Belgaum, the States of Kolhapur, Sangli, Miraj and Kurundwar, and other of the Southern Marathi States. It contains 4,000 villages, besides the densely populated cities and towns, making the total number of souls within the territory of our mission about 4,000,000. The inhabitants are mostly Hindus, although there are a goodly number of Mohammedans, Jains, and others. The missionary force has been temporarily depleted by the return of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris and Miss Patton to the United States on furlough, while it has been substantially increased by the arrival of Dr. and Mrs. Wanless, Miss Margaret L. Ewalt, and Miss Jennie Sherman, who joined the mission during the year, the two former being assigned to Sangli, and the latter two to Kolhapur. An earnest appeal has been forwarded by the mission for sixteen new missionaries to strengthen the posts already established, reoccupy Ratnagiri and extend the work to other strategic centres.

Kolhapur Station.

Preaching has been conducted at this station by Mr. Goheen and Mr. Seiler and three native laborers in church and chapel, and on the public highway. Six persons were received into the church on confession of faith, and four by letter, making the total enrollment sixty, while still others are inquiring. A day of fasting and prayer was observed by the church in June to the refreshment and edification both of the missionaries and the native Christians. The report mentions with gratitude the manifest growth of brotherly love and earnest prayer among believers.

Four Sunday-schools have been in operation in the city, that held in the city chapel having sixteen classes, with an average of twenty pupils each. It is especially to be noted that about one hundred of those who attend this school are not connected with any of the mission day-schools, showing that attention is being challenged outside the usual circle of direct mission influence.

The evangelistic work in the outlying districts has been prosecuted to some extent by Mr. Goheen, with the help of native preachers, twenty-five towns and villages having been visited. In addition to preaching in the city, Mr. Seiler spoke to groups in some thirty different places in Kolhapur and in twenty villages, paying special attention to private conversation. In connection with these evangelistic efforts Mr. Goheen writes: "I feel more and more convinced that if the mission is to reach the multitudes of India, missionaries must go into the highways and hedges with the Gospel."

Work among the women has been prosecuted with diligence by Mrs. and Miss Wilder, and also by Mrs. Hull. In addition to house-to-house visitation, in which 140 homes were visited, Mrs. Wilder and daughter opened a school in the village of Bowada, conducted as a Sunday-school, although held on Thursdays. The ladies encountered some opposition during the year, but on the whole have found the homes of the people open and ready access to the women and children. In addition to the work in and around Kolhapur, Mrs. and Miss Wilder made an itinerary tour to Sangli, visiting villages on the way. Mrs. Hull, in connection with her school work, has had six zenana pupils during the year in four different homes. Part of this work consists in imparting religious instruction. She notes with gratitude that her most advanced pupil, a young Mohammedan woman, finished committing "The Summary of Scripture Doctrine" during the year. This achievement is all the greater because it was done after the family had retired, that she might not be charged with neglecting her ordinary duties in order to study Christian truth.

Educational.—The English High-School, under the care of Mr. Seiler, reports a prosperous year, with 120 pupils enrolled. The religious instruction of the school is thus referred to: "Fifteen minutes are devoted to daily prayers, which I conduct in Marathi for the benefit of those studying the lower standards. Two classes have each two hours in 'Pilgrim's Progress' every week; the sixth and seventh classes have gone through the Gospel of Mark twice." In addition to this Mr. Seiler reaches the boys in Sunday-school and by private conversation. Miss Sherman, who has been assisting in the school, speaks enthusiastically of it as a means of reaching the youth with the Gospel, being in this respect in sharp contrast to Government schools, where religious instruction is forbidden. She mentions the case of an advanced student in one of these schools who told her that he knew nothing of Christ, save that he had heard his name mentioned, and on her talking with him of Peter's walking on the water, he wished to know whether it was "Peter the Hermit," or "Peter the Great."

The Christian Girls' School established a year ago has quite met the expectation of the mission. Being exclusively for the girls of Christian parents, its growth can only be in proportion to that of the churches within the mission. There was an average attendance for the year of about 25, 11 of them being in the boarding department and the others living on the mission compound or in the city. Six of them are orphans. The health of the pupils has been excellent, something which Mrs. Goheen ascribes to the comfortable home now provided for them, furnished, however, in native style. Concerning the comforts of this home, Miss Ewalt writes: "It probably would not seem very comfortable to us; sitting on the floor at meal-time and all other times, eating rice and curry without knife, fork, or spoon, and at night spreading our beds, consisting of a few quilts, on the floor."

Three day-schools for boys, with an average attendance of 112, have been conducted by native teachers under the direction of Mr. Seiler. The attendance at the school for Hindu and Mohammedan girls in the Bazaar, under the care of Mrs. Hull, has fallen off. Six of the girls withdrew to attend a Hindu school for girls which the Government had opened during the year, and where instruction is given in the Arabic tongue. Mrs. Hull adds: "Marriages, feast days, and indifference of parents have all contributed to make the attendance irregular. On the other hand, the scholarship and general status of the school has, I think, advanced. Two girls passed the examination for the sixth class and one for the seventh, being, I believe, the first Hindu girl in any school of our mission who has been allowed to remain in school long enough to pass so far. The children's hearts are easily touched, and they are influenced by the truth which they are taught. One refuses to worship idols or wear the caste mark; some two or three meet together to sing the hymns they have learned; one reads the New Testament to a neighbor, another tells her father the good news learned at school, that they both have a Father in heaven, while girls who have attended the school will visit it again, or speak with pride of their former connection with it."

Panhala Station.

In the absence of Mr. Ferris, the oversight of this station has been in the hands of Mr. Seiler, while the outstations connected with it have been under the charge of Mr. Goheen. Preaching has been maintained in the town chapel by Bhiwaji, a native preacher, on Sabbath afternoons, and the Sabbath-school in the compound, though greatly reduced in numbers, was maintained. The absence of Miss Patton, and the inability of the mission to put any one in her place, rendered it necessary to close the day-school which had been an important feeder to the Sabbath-school. None were received into the church on confession of faith, while one was suspended for unchristian conduct. Since the close of the year, however, a man and his wife have been baptized and enrolled as members of the church.

The dispensary work has been carried on by Somaji, a native Christian, who has been trained to this work. He prescribed for 7,620 patients during the year, and made good use of opportunities for preaching the Gospel to those who came to the dispensary.

Mr. Goheen reports that he spent two days at Nerleh, an outstation some thirty miles from Kolhapur, where hundreds came to hear the Gospel. At Kerduli, where the missionary spent four days and held communion, a large number of Hindus were present. Several persons were found who seemed to be almost persuaded to take their stand for Christ. One of the Christians there had been sorely tried by his Hindu neighbors, they having threatened to starve him out if he refused to work on the Lord's day. By his consistent walk and God's providential care, however, he gained the victory and has now no difficulty in finding employment.

The church at Itiwadi, some three miles from Kerduli, has been in charge of Surtoba, a native preacher. The communicants number but 13, and no additions are reported for the year. The preacher in charge, besides conducting services there, preached in thirty different towns and villages.

Sangli Station.

The church building in the city, which was reported well advanced last year, is still unfinished, owing to vexatious delays, and yet Mr. Graham, who has charge of the work, has been congratulated by native gentlemen on the rapidity with which the edifice has been erected, building in India being proverbially slow. The church occupies one of the most conspicuous sites in Sangli, and for this reason has stirred up the priestly and other high castes. The opposition, however, has not led to any serious interference with the progress of the work. Public worship has been conducted as formerly in the central room of the boarding-school. This room, which accommodates about 125 persons, has been well filled, and frequently closely packed, mostly, however, with the native Christians and children, together with the workmen employed on the mission buildings. The Sunday-school has been well attended, the room being filled to its utmost capacity. The international Sunday-school lessons have been the subject of study in the school, as well as the theme for the Thursday afternoon church meetings. Deep regret is expressed at the fall of a young man who had given promise of great usefulness, and was in course of preparation for the ministry. But one addition was made to the church on confession of faith during the year.

The Boys' Boarding-school, under the care of Mr. Graham, had an attendance of 26 during the year, 16 of the number being boarders. One of the day scholars died of hydrophobia in circumstances which made a deep impression upon all. Although he had never made a public confession of his faith, he had been taught the way of salvation through Christ, and in his delirium before his death he called on Christ to save him, and in such a way as to bring tears to the eyes of all who heard him. A prize of a Bible dictionary in the Marathi was offered to the boy in the three highest classes who passed the best examination in the books of the Bible which are studied in the school. Mr. Graham reports that during a six hours' examination four boys did not miss a question, and it became necessary to give them all prizes.

Since our occupation of Sangli a number of the better class of the people have expressed a desire that the mission should open a high-school for their benefit, and although the way does not seem clear for this step at present, it indicates confidence on the part of the people in our missionaries and their methods of instruction.

The itinerating work of this station has been in the hands of Mr. Tedford, who, with a native preacher, made two journeys through the villages and towns in the Sangli region, also visiting Chinchli, where the great annual exhibition of domestic animals is held, and where frequently 100,000 people gather in the month of February, multitudes of whom bathe in the sacred Krishna, and then prostrate themselves at the shrine of the idol god. During a visit to Tasgaum, a large place, containing one of the most magnificent temples in Western India, striking testimony was borne to the value of the Bible by an educated Brahmin. He said: "I have read most of the Bible, and also studied it carefully, and I can truly say that the ancient history, ceremonies, and morals of the Old Testament are most interesting, and the teachings of Jesus Christ most excellent. If men would act according to them, this world would become a heaven." A good deal of opposition was encountered here and there during the itinerary tours, and yet on the whole respectful attention was given to the proclamation of the truth. Mr. Tedford also during part of the year held regular services in the railroad station at Miraj, a city of 25,000 inhabitants, some twelve miles from Sangli on the railroad. It is one of the points which the mission is exceedingly anxious to occupy, not only because of its large population, untouched by the Gospel, but because of its strategic importance.

The Dakotas.

From the report of Rev. John P. Williamson, we glean the following points of interest : The Yankton Agency church observed the Week of Prayer with good results, the meetings being fully attended ; nearly all the men in the church, of whom there are sixty, took part in some of the services. The Sabbath-school is full, and the Woman's Society and the Young Men's Christian Association are active. Mr. Williamson gives what attention he can, with his other work, to the Government boarding-school, in which he seems to be welcomed. The Yankton Agency day-school has been under the care of Miss Miller since the 1st of January, Miss Hunter having resigned the work in which she had made a faithful record. Good accounts of Miss Miller's work, as well as that of Miss Wheeler, are given. The former has had previous experience in the Indian work, and understands enough of the Dakota language to communicate with the children through that medium, and also to teach them to read their vernacular Bible. She also has a Dakota class in the Sabbath-school, and takes an active part in the woman's meetings, and in visiting the sick and inquirers. There are two day-schools among the Yanktons taught by Indians, namely, the Hill school, conducted by Charles Ironheart, and the Ree school, taught by Pierre La Pointe. Both have done satisfactory work, and have exerted a positive influence in bringing the youth to an understanding of Bible truth, and to a practical knowledge of Christ.

The two outstation churches among the Yanktons have been maintained. Some of the native assistants have suffered temporarily from influenza, but at other times they have been faithfully at work. Mr. Williamson speaks highly of our "active and strong elders in each of the churches, who keep up the meetings and church visitation and instruction." He himself has conducted an elders' meeting or theological class (it partakes of the nature of both) on Tuesday afternoons. These sessions have been largely attended, and have proved interesting and profitable.

The people at Flandreau are a good deal agitated over the question of a sale of a portion of the great Sioux reservation, and the probability that it will lead to a change of their location. Two persons have been received into the Flandreau church.

At Lower Brule Agency two preaching stations have been maintained. The attendance is good, but the Indians are much excited over their future removal.

The following general presentation of the claims of the Dakota Mission, prepared by Rev. John P. Williamson, is so instructive that we present it entire :

"The Dakota Indians, numbering over 30,000, are the most numerous of any tribe in the United States at present. For the last twenty years the Sioux or Dakotas have received much attention, and the number of missions among them has rapidly increased.

"The following table will show where these Indians are located and the denominations at work among them :

"We give below another table designed to show the amount of work done by the several denominations, and the total school work done by both church and government. The figures are not entirely accurate, some being for 1888, some for 1889, and a few estimated, but will give, we think, a fair comparative view.

"In regard to church work, it will be seen from the above table that there is an ordained minister of some denomination, Protestant or Catholic, to every 600 Dakotas, and that, not including Catholics, one-tenth of the entire population are communicants. It will also be seen that the communicants contribute on an average $2 per member.

"As to school work, the table will show that of a school population (as returned by the agents) of 8,000 there are 4,391 who have attended some kind of a school during the year.

"This is a wonderful record for the Sioux Nation, which twenty years ago was one of the wildest and most uncivilized (as a body) of any tribe in the United States."

Yankton.

Of the general improvement at Yankton Mr. Williamson writes as follows: "Quietly, but deeply and effectively, the Spirit of God is moving upon this people. The chains of idolatry are dropping off these long-imprisoned souls, and the weak eyes are becoming accustomed to the glorious light of the Sun of Righteousness. Among the 1,800 Yankton Indians we have three organized churches and four preaching stations. The Episcopalians are doing about the same amount of work. There are also, however, this winter about the same number of dance-houses. The dancers seem to know that their time is short, and in their zeal have reclaimed some of our converts, much to our sorrow. On the other hand, a larger number have been won to the truth than in any previous year. Twenty-nine have been added on profession at Yankton Agency, 29 also at the Hill church, and 4 at the Cedar church, making 62 among the Yanktons. The total number is 298." Mr. Williamson has preached generally three times a week. Pastor Selwyn has also been busy.

Notwithstanding the fact that large numbers of children have been gathered into the Government boarding-schools, the three day-schools have been as full as ever, "showing," as Mr. Williamson says, "that the time has not yet come to give up this work." Many of the brightest scholars are sent to the Santee Training-school, under the American Missionary Association. Twenty-seven from the Yankton churches are now there. Forty children from these day-schools are in the Agency Government boarding-school. They are permitted to attend the church and Sabbath-school of the mission. The relations between the Government school and the church have been pleasant and satisfactory. A number of children from these churches are also in schools at the East. Mr. Williamson speaks highly of the influence of institutions like Hampton and Carlisle as bearing upon the work among the Dakotas.

The church among the Lower Brule Indians, known as the White River church, has been under the care of Rev. Joseph Rogers, who has labored faithfully amid many distractions and trials. As this is on the great Sioux Reservation the people are much excited over the question of land distribution and settlement, and there is much dissatisfaction over the location assigned them. Notwithstanding these discouragements fifteen have joined the church on profession, making the present number of communicants forty-nine. Mr. Rogers has maintained a day-school. A number of young men have learned to read the Bible in their own language.

At Flandreau station there are only 221 Indians, of whom 114, or more than half, are communicants in the Presbyterian church. There is also a small Episcopal church among them. The native pastor, Rev. John Eastman, reports that there is no one to be converted, but a good many to be established. Five baptized children of the church have been admitted on profession. There is a probability that the people will be removed from Flandreau under the new land allotments.

The Montana Mission established at Poplar Creek has been without the oversight of any resident missionary since the withdrawal of Rev. Geo. W. Wood. Native helpers, however, have been employed during the year, and steps are now being taken for the permanent settlement of a missionary. There is no ordained minister within sixty miles.

The native Missionary Society at Yankton has long been a centre and source of spiritual power. Mr. Williamson reports advancement in its efficiency and interest. He says: "They now support four native missionaries and their wives,—Rev. Samuel Hopkins and wife at Devil's Lake, Rev. D. Renville and wife at Crow Creek Agency, Elder James Brown and wife at Cheyenne River Agency, and Elder James Redwing and wife at Standing Rock Agency. James Brown," he adds, "has been sorely tried in the loss of three children in three months, but 'casts his burden on the Lord.' Samuel Hopkins is in the famine-stricken district, but his people have been favored in finding great quantities of fish, and those who had been scattered are coming together again. He has therefore been able to reopen the day-school which he had closed, and his religious meetings are full. Mr. D. Renville at Crow Creek has received several accessions to the church. James Redwing is working hard against Roman Catholic opposition, but his Indians thus far remain faithful."

Pine Ridge.

Rev. C. G. Sterling, located at Pine Ridge Agency, sends an interesting report, varied with light and shade. Four points are being held in connection with this station,—the Agency itself, Porcupine Creek, White Clay, and the Cheyenne settlement on White River. These speak a different language, yet they have not been left wholly uncared for. A school has been established under the management of an Indian boy who had been educated in the Indian Territory.

Porcupine Creek is occupied by Miss Dickson and Miss McCreight, and White Clay by Rev. Louis Mazawaka-Kinyanna, formerly pastor at Sisseton Agency. At each of these stations regular services are held, and efficient work has been done, and each point is sufficiently central to favor the attendance of a large number of Dakotas from the region round about.

The report notes changes which are constantly occurring under the gradual adjustment of land settlement. The Indians are moving off in groups to settle upon the land which has been assigned to them, or which they expect to receive; but notwithstanding these changes the Pine Ridge Agency is so central as to be of permanent importance, and it should be strengthened.

Mr. Sterling finds a specially interesting branch of his work in the pastoral care of thirty Government boarding-school children, with whom he holds two services on the Sabbath, besides drilling them at other times in a knowledge of the Word of God. The field is divided between the Presbyterian Mission and that of the Episcopal Church. Both are doing their work faithfully and well, and they are in perfect harmony. One of the young helpers employed at this Agency, James Lynn, has entered Pierre University. He has been received under the care of the Dakota Presbytery as a candidate for the ministry. John Chaske, another young man educated in Massachusetts, is now filling his place, and is highly spoken of in respect to Christian character and marked ability as a ready and clear speaker.

Mr. Sterling speaks with delight of the pleasant parsonage secured to his family a year ago. It is certainly a very modest one, as even carping critics would admit could they look upon a recent photographic sketch.

Porcupine Creek.

There are indications of vigor and success at this station. Miss Dickson and Miss McCreight have secured a strong hold upon those who at first came only out of curiosity rather than to receive instruction. These self-denying ladies are worthy of all confidence, and of the earnest prayer and support of the Church. They have lately been called to pass through a sad experience in the removal of a large number of children from their care to a Government boarding-school, which is under the care of Roman Catholics. It is exceedingly desirable that when such changes are made, as oftentimes they must be, that the children who have been under Protestant training should, if possible, be placed in some institution where they will receive the same evangelical instruction.

The Indian preacher at White Clay, though employed but a short time, has already given indications of a successful work.

Mr. Sterling's report of the Cheyenne community, in which there are 500 people, is especially interesting. In the services which he has held among these people settled on White River, there has often been evidence of deep feeling. These poor waifs express their joy at the message of forgiveness, and call upon God in prayer. Among them was one who had been a disturber in the meetings conducted by the Cheyenne boy, Elkanah Jansen, who was at that time acting as interpreter.

One of the most touching incidents in the report is that relating to the subsequent suicide of this earnest and amiable Indian lad. He had been educated at Carlisle, and had won the heart of Mr. Sterling to a very unusual degree. As he describes him, he was gentle, affectionate, and thoughtful, and always revealed an excellent Christian spirit. Mr. Sterling says: "I had looked upon him as a rare jewel in the midst of this degraded and prejudiced people, a lovable man among men. He had been at Carlisle five years, where he had become connected with the Presbyterian Church, and on his return to his people he was ready to assist in Christian work in every way. He had learned to play upon the organ, and also to speak earnest words for his Master in religious services. But he was laboring under sore trials. He was subjected to the most heartless and wicked treatment of a stepfather, his own father having died. His sensitive nature was also wounded repeatedly by the scorn of unbelieving companions, who mocked at his profession and at his testimony for Christ. The contrast to which he was subjected in returning from Carlisle to the desolateness of an Indian home and community seemed almost too much for him. At length, after a night of heavy sobbing, as those in the next room afterward related, he went out while the darkness of the early morning still lingered, and hung himself as a release from his despair." This sad incident illustrates what doubtless is often experienced by those who, after a period in a boarding-school, are subjected to a heavy strain of despondency and temptation when they return to their former homes.

There is at this Cheyenne station a log structure which was purchased during the year, and in which is now a thriving school, under the care of Eugene Standing Elk. He has received some education in the Indian territory. The report states that this school is but a meagre provision, and that some more permanent arrangement should be made. The Government has as yet no school among these Cheyennes, and no other church than the Presbyterian has entered the field.

In regard to the future, Mr. Sterling's report says: "I believe these outposts have been wisely placed; and that they may be able to do the work at their doors, it is necessary, first, that everything in the surroundings of the missionary home may be made as agreeable and inspiring as possible." Could the readers of this report know how desolate is the aspect of most Indian reservations, this would be considered a very modest suggestion. The men and women who are engaged in this work have welcomed great self-denial. Their comfort and whatever can cheer them in this labor should be carefully studied by thoughtful Christians throughout the Church.

It is not too late to do something yet for the Indians—for the adults as well as the children—and since the effort of the Government is directed wholly to those who are of school age, the duty must rest upon the Church to care also for those others who must otherwise remain in neglect. Especially should every effort be made to extend sympathy and co-operation to young men and women who have returned from school at Hampton or Carlisle, and who unless properly backed and sustained are under an almost irresistible temptation to again cast in their lot with their people, even though it involve a virtual relapse to the old heathen customs. Better structures should be reared for mission homes and schools. "The Episcopal Church no longer erects log buildings," says the report, "either at the agencies or on the camps. The Government buildings also are of a much higher order," and if the Presbyterian Church would keep pace with that improvement which is proposed for the Indians as a means of raising them to civilization, it must devise more liberal things. There is possibly a feeling that whatever is done for the Indians is only temporary, and that generous outlays are not wise, but it must be remembered that for a whole generation yet, more or less work must be done for tribes like the Sioux in their vernacular tongue, and that while out of the entire Indian population of the United States only about 15,000 are found in schools, Government and Mission together, there are tens of thousands of adults who are only to be reached by men who will learn the language and cast in their lot for a life-work among these people.

One word of encouragement closes Mr. Sterling's report. It is significant, and should stir the hopes of the most desponding. He says: "Our Church is already spoken of by the Indians quite generally as the Church which has come for the purpose of 'teaching them the Bible.'"

The Nez Perces.

The report which has been forwarded to the Board by Rev. G. L. Deffenbaugh, in regard to the work among the Nez Perces, shows the number of communicants to be 858. The number received during the year was 64.

The work among the Nez Perces still remaining under the care of the Board of Foreign Missions, consists in the support and direction of eight native ministers, seven of whom are pastors of churches, and two licentiates, and in the educational work of Miss S. L. McBeth at Mt. Idaho, assisted by a native helper, and that of Miss Kate McBeth at Lapwai. Miss S. L. McBeth has labored, as for many years past, in the education of young men for the ministry. Most of the native pastors connected with the mission have been under her instruction. During the year she has had nine regular pupils, besides others who have received more or less instruction. Miss Kate McBeth has continued to devote her attention to the women and children at Lapwai. Her knowledge of the language has rendered her a useful sympathizer and helper in the Indian families.

An interesting report speaks of the sad havoc of the prevailing sickness, which in many cases took the form of fatal pneumonia. The church attendance at Lapwai has accordingly been diminished. Miss McBeth notes the fact that, owing to the great scarcity of money, many of the Indian families have suffered from want of food. There is likely to be, also, a great lack of seed for planting the spring crops. Miss McBeth expresses her satisfaction at the present management of the Agency. The general outlook of the work among the women at Lapwai is encouraging.

The numbers received into the churches show a good degree of prosperity on the whole, though the past year has been one of sore trial on account of the disease which so seriously affected all parts of the land. There have been many deaths, owing to the great poverty and exposure of the people. It has been a season, also, of more or less suffering for lack of food, as the Indians were poorly prepared for the winter.

Mr. Deffenbaugh, in speaking of the general outlook of the Indian work, calls attention to the fact that the winter has been one of unexampled difficulty and discouragement, owing not merely to the prevailing sickness, but also to the great depth of snow—forming for much of the time an effectual blockade. And yet, with conscientious effort on the part of the Indian preachers, the work has progressed. Mr. Deffenbaugh says: "Considering the fact that we are testing their ability to carry on church work when thrown upon their own resources, it would have been cause for gratitude had they merely held their ground for another year, but they have done more than that. The net increase of membership over last year is twenty-nine—this in spite of the deaths. The number would have been considerably larger had there not been an unusual mortality prevailing among the adult church members."

Mr. Deffenbaugh expresses regret that the Board is not in a position to extend this work to at least one or two other needy tribes, especially the Crows of Montana.

Mr. Deffenbaugh speaks highly of the present management of the Lapwai Government school under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Eaves.

Miss S. L. McBeth, in a recent letter, gives the following interesting facts :

“At the communion of the Lord's Supper the Sabbath after Christmas, twenty-one were received into the Kamiah church on profession of faith in Christ. Three of those were from among the heathen of Joseph's band. On the following Sabbath another was received and baptized. The Kamiah church now numbers 298 members. Two from Meadows Creek, who also professed conversion at the meetings, will probably unite with the church in the community to which they belong.”

The Senecas.

Alleghany, Tuscarora, and Tonawanda.

The work among the Senecas has been carried on by Revs. William Hall and M. F. Trippe on the Alleghany Reservation, and Rev. George Runciman in charge of the work at Cattaraugus. The Alleghany, Tuscarora, and Tonawanda tribes have been under the care of Mr. Trippe, the stations under his charge being Tuscarora, Tonawanda, Jemisentown, Oldtown, and Cornplanter. There are six out-stations besides the above-named points.

At Tuscarora the work is in a prosperous condition. Some recent accounts which have appeared in the New York Herald, over the signature of Mr. John Habberton, have been calculated to assure the public of the hopefulness of the work among the Tuscarora Indians. It is believed that the proportion of church members among them is quite as large as in similar communities of white people. The question has been opened of transferring the work among the New York Indians to the care of the Presbytery of Buffalo, but the sentiment of the Presbytery seems to be decidedly in favor of the present relations of this work to the Board of Foreign Missions. A few special services have been held among the Tuscaroras. Six have been added to the church. At Tonawanda, Rev. John McMaster, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Akron, has preached twice a month to the Indian congregation. He has been unable to do more than this. As compared with the condition of things a few years ago, there has been a healthy advance not only in the church but in the sentiment of the Tonawanda community. The most prominent men of the tribe attend the little mission church. The people through their own effort have renovated the church property.

The Jemisentown community extends over an area of fifteen to twenty square miles, and has three outstations. Three services have been maintained on the Sabbath. There is a temperance society, a woman's sewing-society, prayer-meeting, etc. The Sabbath-school has been superintended by one of the Indians without any aid. A bell costing $150 has been purchased, and one-half paid for by the people. The Temperance Society at Jemisentown numbers 180 adult Indians. Rev. William Hall, who has been for over fifty years in the service, has continued to maintain one service on the Sabbath, missing only three Sabbaths in the year. He is eighty years of age, and carries with him the character and influence which a half century of faithful labor has accumulated.

The church at Oldtown was recently organized. It represents an area of twelve square miles, and has two outstations. There has been some little difficulty arising from the land agitation. The people have raised over $150, on a pledge of $300, for a church building.

The Cornplanter Reservation suffered greatly during the winter from the prevailing sickness. The people have maintained their own Sabbath-school without help.

An interesting religious centre on the Tuscarora Reservation is Miss Peck's school-house, known as the old boarding-school. This good woman has lived here for over forty years as missionary teacher. She has done a good work and is greatly revered by the Indians, who love her for her self-denying and lifelong labor in their behalf. Her house is a place for holding religious services. Altogether, eighteen religious services have been held, thirteen of these maintained by the Indians themselves. "They preach and teach," says Mr. Trippe's report, "superintend Sabbath-schools, conduct their temperance meetings and sewing societies, plan their Christian work, attend to the temporalities of the church," etc., and he adds, "this is certainly an evidence of Christian progress and a matter of sincere congratulation."

Cattaraugus.

Mr. Runciman on the Cattaraugus Reservation has been blessed in his labors during the year with a revival of the church, and particularly the neighborhood of Pine Woods in the eastern portion of the Reservation. Some thirty members have been added to the church. Twelve others are desiring to do so, but are hindered by various complications with pagan usage. The present number of communicants in the Cattaraugus church is 86; added during the year, 30, a gain of 26 over losses by death and otherwise. The whole number who have been added at this station from the beginning is 699. Letters received from Mr. Runciman during the year show that there has been a return to a more faithful observance of religious services on the part of some who had been more or less indifferent. The work seems more prosperous on the whole than for some time past.

East Japan Mission.

The report of this mission for the past year necessarily reflects in some measure the momentous crisis through which Japan is passing, both politically and religiously. The establishment of a constitutional government, which provides for a restricted representation of the people and guarantees religious liberty, has produced intense excitement. Coupled with the revision of the treaties with foreign powers which has stirred the patriotism of the young men of the empire and roused their indignation and ambition, a disturbing influence has been produced which has operated against the best results of mission work. Buddhism also has taken the alarm and has organized a national union, hoping thereby to secure the support of the government, and to consolidate its forces for the more successful resisting of Christianity.

In carrying out this purpose it has adopted Western methods, founding an expensive university, establishing a theological seminary, organizing a foreign missionary board, and disseminating information through magazines and lectures. Unitarianism and Rationalism are also making themselves felt, attempting through educational and literary agencies to influence the leaders of national and religious thought. The mission report, from the pen of Rev. George P. Pier-son, says : " At least four noteworthy causes during the past year have seemed to operate against more rapid and extensive progress—the indefinite postponement of treaty revision ; the abandonment, at least for the present, of church union ; the general poverty succeeding typhoons and floods ; and the unique political situation of which the novelty and the afforded opportunity for patriotic expression and effort have distracted especially the student class. The first and second causes have affected our evangelistic work, and the third and fourth our educational work." The " church union " referred to is the union between the Congregational churches of Japan and the United Church of Christ, which a year ago seemed almost assured, but which after prolonged consideration has been indefinitely postponed.

Dr. and Mrs. Hepburn, the veterans of the mission, after a brief sojourn in the home-land, where they met with a royal welcome and did much to deepen the interest in the evangelization of Japan, have rejoined the mission, as has Miss Alexander, after the usual furlough in the United States ; while Miss Davis, Miss Leete, and Miss Smith have returned for a well-earned rest. Miss Sarah Gardner has been added to the teaching force of Graham Seminary. Notwithstanding the peculiar difficulties encountered, the work in the several departments has been crowned with such success as to call for devout thanksgiving to God. So far as figures can express it, this success appears in the appended table of statistics. In presenting these statistics, it is proper to state that they are only approximately accurate. Our missions in Japan are an integral part of the United Church of Christ, which now comprises seven missions, the Cumberland Presbyterian having been added during the year. As the work under these several missions is virtually one, it is difficult to determine with precision to what credit each is entitled.

" Two features of the evangelistic work are worthy of note : 1. The establishment of a school for the training of male teachers. The full course of study in the theological school is imperatively needed by our ministers, but the graduates are not numerous enough to meet the increasing demand for workers. There is a class of men somewhat advanced in years who are unable to give many years to study, and who yet give promise of usefulness. After some consultation the Japanese pastors in Tokyo resolved upon the establishment of such a school, and asked the missions of the Reformed and Presbyterian churches for aid. The school was opened in September, 1889. In January, 1890, thirty students were present. Some of these men give promise of much usefulness. The school is an experiment that can be fully tested only by some years of trial. 2. Besides this, the successful experiment has been made of employing an evangelistic superintendent, who works under the Home Mission Board of the United Church of Christ. Rev. Ishiwara Yasataro began his work in this capacity last July, and reports 87 days spent in travelling ; places visited, 42 ; sermons or addresses delivered, 66 ; people baptized, 37. It is becoming more and more evident that the future work of the foreign missionary in Japan is chiefly to be either that of teacher or evangelistic superintendent. The need of well-trained native evangelists cannot be too strongly emphasized.

"The principal literary work of the year has been the continuance of work on a Bible dictionary undertaken by Dr. Hepburn before his visit to America."

Educational.

Meiji Gakuin.—The faculty of this institution has been increased by the addition of D. B. McCartee, M.D., for a number of years connected with our Central China Mission. The Preparatory Department has been removed to Yurakucho, some three or four miles from the College proper, a more central location, and therefore easier of access to day students. The Theological Department, hitherto conducted in Tsukiji, the Foreign Concession, has been transferred to the Meiji Gakuin grounds and temporarily occupies Harris Hall for dormitory and recitation purposes, awaiting the completion of the new Theological Hall, which is being erected on the premises with funds furnished mainly by the Synod of Japan and friends in the United States.

Four students were graduated from the theological department and 14 from the academic last year. The young ministers have all been placed over churches glad to welcome them, while of the academic graduates (all Christians but one) five have entered upon the study of theology in the institution, four have become teachers, two are pursuing special studies, one is studying law at Yale, and two have embarked in business. The entire number of students enrolled was 213, of whom 129 were Christians, 40 of them having confessed Christ during the year, the result in part of the divine blessing upon the special services conducted by Mr. Luther D. Wishard, one of the secretaries of the International Y. M. C. A.

Graham Seminary.—In accordance with the plan recommended by the mission and sanctioned by the Board, this seminary and the Sakurai school for young women (Bancho) are to be consolidated. The plan provides for the sale of the properties now occupied by these schools and the erection of suitable buildings on a lot not far from Bancho already secured for the purpose. Partial provision having been made during the summer for the Bancho school on the new premises, the classes were opened there last autumn, and the senior class of Graham Seminary was transferred and united with that of Bancho. As soon as the buildings in process of erection are completed, the entire consolidation will be effected, the names of both schools being perpetuated by being applied to each of the two main buildings.

Graham Seminary, like all girls' schools, has felt the influence of the national agitation and the somewhat changed attitude of the Japanese toward foreigners. Nevertheless, of the 85 on the roll when the report was written 77 were pupils who had been in attendance the previous year, showing marked confidence in the school on the part of parents, notwithstanding the present prejudice against Christian schools. The progress of the pupils in their studies is reported as on the whole thorough and satisfactory. Twenty-seven of those enrolled are professing Christians, thirteen of them having confessed Christ during the year. Others have expressed a desire to be baptized, and are only awaiting the consent of their parents. Five were graduated last year, of whom one has been married, one is pursuing higher studies, and three are teaching. The teachers and pupils of this Seminary take part in three Sabbath-schools, and the branch of the King's Daughters established here is sustained with unabated interest.

Sakurai School (Bancho)—As intimated above, in pursuance of the plan for consolidation this school has already been transferred to the new premises. Eighteen new pupils were admitted last year, and the first class in the collegiate department, consisting of nine, was graduated last June, all but one being professing Christians. Most of these are now teaching in various parts of the empire. On this point the report says: "It had been a matter of anxiety as to whether young women who had of necessity become accustomed to a somewhat different manner of living from what could be expected in country homes and schools would be willing to go to such self-denying work as would be waiting for them. Now we record with gratitude that when, after class-day exercises were over, the call for teachers in six country schools was presented every member of the class, except two who were married before they entered the collegiate school, expressed a willingness to go. 'They have worked most satisfactorily thus far.'"

A steady and healthy religious interest was maintained in this school throughout the year. Twelve of the pupils united with the church, and the benevolent societies and Christian associations manifested a commendable activity, the latter furnishing laborers for seven Sunday-schools. One death occurred in this school during the year, the first in the history of the institution, the girl being the first child baptized in Tokyo.

Of Takata, a distant outstation where work has been carried on under the supervision of the Bancho teachers, the report says: "Takata has been greatly blessed. Miss Milliken, who has been working there for six months, reports the dedication of a new church and the conversion of ten girls in the Christian school. This school carries on three Sabbath-schools, two at Takata and one at Naoetsu, a neighboring town." Two conversions are reported in the school at Utsunomiya, a school under Japanese management, but where assistance is rendered by teachers and pupils from Bancho.

The Sumiyoshi cho day-school in Yokohama, under the superintendence of the ladies of the Dai Machi school, had a regular attendance of 280 children. In the Sabbath-school connected with it two baptisms are reported. The school work in this city has increased so much in volume and importance that the mission has transferred Miss Case from Dai Machi to Yokohama, and she is henceforth to devote her entire time to this work. Four Bible-women have been laboring in Yokohama under the direction of the mission.

Of the school at Dai Machi, owned by Mr. Okami, a Japanese Christian, but depending on Misses West, Alexander, and Case for religious instruction, the report says: "Notwithstanding the somewhat reactionary changes in the girls' school the average attendance in the Shoyei School for young ladies has been 45, and the work done has been most satisfactory. The attendance upon the Sabbath-school and church is good, and there were two baptisms during the past year. The Shoyei Preparatory School, also supported by Mr. Okami, numbers 190 pupils. The Sabbath-school in connection with it is carried on with the assistance of the young women from the Shoyei School, who are thus being trained in Sabbath-school work. These schools are near the 'Dai Machi' church, Tokyo, and work in connection with it. We have one more school under our care, namely, the children's school in Shinagawa. This has grown until the building erected last year is full. The pupils number 65."

The girls' school at Saporo, on the Island of Yezzo, during the absence of Miss Smith on furlough, has been in the hands of Miss Katherine Light, who, in addition to her usual school duties, teaches a class of ladies in the afternoons. The report fails to give details.

"The Kemo No. 2, or Shiba Primary School, under the care of Mrs. McCauley, has had on the roll during the year 130 pupils, with an average attendance of 110. The school has labored under disadvantage during the year, not being able to find a suitable place for a building sufficiently near the present site to retain the children. So, contrary to the government regulations, the children sat on the floor, the old building not being sufficiently strong to allow the additional weight of desks and chairs. However, ground has at last been leased about ten minutes' walk from the old place, and building will soon begin. There have been three children's meetings held weekly during the year, besides a Sunday-school and a parents' Sunday evening meeting. The families of the pupils have been visited regularly, partly by the teachers of the school and partly by the women of Miss Youngman's Bible Institute. Since the transfer of the Bible Institute to the ladies at Dai Machi, the entire work is done by the teachers in the school and Mrs. McCauley. One of the teachers, being a graduate of the Bible Institute, has the religious instruction in the school entirely in her charge. She is also superintendent of the Sunday-school, is always present at the children's and parents' meetings, and is altogether a most efficient woman. The older children of the school attend the Shiba church."

The Tokyo Bible Institute, hitherto under the care of Miss Youngman, but now transferred to Miss Alexander and Miss West, held its fifth anniversary during the year. Miss Youngman writes: "The work of the women at the country stations has been greatly blessed and their labors appreciated by the churches. The call for such workers has been greater than we could fill. In one or two instances remuneration in part has been given for their services. This is a step in advance worthy of note. It is no small encouragement to the work to know that while the women were sent during the five years ten different times to the country, not in one instance was a complaint made, or a censure heard, from the section of country to which they went. Increased earnestness and faithfulness of the women have been manifested in various ways—in seeking new places for meetings, in tract distribution, in visiting the sick, or speaking a word for Jesus.”

The students of the Institute have taken care of three prayer-meetings and assisted in Christian work in many ways. The number in attendance has varied during the year, the present enrollment being 22. Fifteen are wives or widows, their ages varying from 17 to 48. Only eight receive support, and that but partial. A summer Bible-school was held at Kogawa Mura (God-mountain village), from the 5th to the 30th of August. In Tokyo two primary schools are reported, one under the care of Mr. Yoshida, with 50 pupils, and the other already referred to in Mrs. McCauley's report. The need of an industrial school to help students from these preparatory schools to the Meiji Gakuin is much felt.

Mrs. Thompson last year opened a school in Kanda (Divine field), which has since become a preaching station, and at which two persons have recently applied for baptism.

The report of the mission closes with these thoughtful yet hopeful words: “Generally speaking, a definite, aggressive national campaign cannot yet be undertaken. We feel accordingly content to do well the duty evidently pressing, and to wait patiently the revealing of God's plan. Yet, so far from being disheartened, we have much for which to thank God and to take courage, committing ourselves to Him whose we are and whom we serve.”

West Japan Mission.

The work of the Osaka Mission is so intimately connected with that of the United Church of Christ in Japan, that any changes in that church are very important to this mission. During the year the Cumberland Presbyterian Mission, whose work is in the city of Osaka and vicinity, connected itself with the United Church, so that the cause of union in Japan is still making progress, even though it has not been as rapid as was hoped at one time.

Dr. Mitchell's visit was regarded by all the members of the mission as a pleasure not soon to be forgotten; and the letters from the field urge upon the Board the importance of such intimate contact with the missionaries and their work as an important means of gaining definite knowledge of their operations.

During the year Rev. Messrs. T. T. Alexander and C. M. Fisher and their wives have returned after a furlough in this country, and it is hoped that Dr. and Mrs. Hearst have by this time also reached their field. The mission has been increased during the year by the arrival of the Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Fulton, Miss McGuire, Miss Shaw, and Miss Loveland. Rev. J. B. Porter has been sent tentatively to Kyoto. This was done with the concurrence and co-operation of the missionaries of the American Board, who have hitherto been the only missionaries in this large city.

Evangelistic Work.

The churches in connection with this mission have shown their usual activity. There has been a gain all along the line, not in numbers merely, but in Christian life also. Many of these humble Christians seem to be truly taught of the Holy Spirit. One of the older missionaries, in speaking of a Session meeting, writes: "The questions asked and the instruction given to the candidates filled me with thankfulness to God. One of the elders is one of the prominent men of this province as a business man. The courage and yet humility, together with the spiritual wisdom which he showed last evening, led me to say to myself: 'Can this be the man who four years ago was constantly running to me with his doubts and misunderstandings concerning the Bible?' Surely one such man saved is reward enough for all the labors and prayers of these years!"

The First Church of Kanazawa has not made as rapid progress as some others, but is now under the care of a good pastor, and everything is in excellent working order. The Tonomachi church (in Kanazawa), though a new organization, has made vigorous financial efforts from the start, and while yet dependent, to a small extent, on the mission, it has this year completed a new building, and its prospects are now bright. Self-support of churches on the foreign mission field is a subject which occupies the time, heart, and thought of our missionaries, who are engaged in the evangelistic work, to a much larger extent than is generally supposed, and in this mission with encouraging results. In many cases the native Christians contribute out of their poverty amounts which, when the rates of wages in the two countries are compared, would put many of our Christian people in the United States to shame.

The North Church, in Osaka, is well organized, and reports a gain of over 100 members. The pastor of this church was called to Tokyo, but the Presbytery refused to dissolve the pastoral relation, a constitutional action satisfactory to both pastor and people. The South Church, in Osaka, made a gain during the year of 50. It attempted, for a while, to be self-supporting, but owing to removals and deaths of important members it has been obliged to again seek assistance from the mission. It is sorely in need of a house of worship, and is making strenuous efforts to secure the necessary amount to build. The people can no longer invite their friends to hear the Gospel, because there is not even standing room for the church members. They are not able, with their utmost effort, to accommodate themselves and still leave room for others to hear the truth.

The church at Hiroshima is making good progress. During the year, while many of its members have removed, it has made a net gain of about 20, bringing the membership up to 100. Hiroshima is a bigoted place. When our missionaries first went there to live, they were met with rude remarks and insults of various kinds from the children in the streets. But this has been lived down, and they are now everywhere treated with politeness. This result has been attained largely by three Sabbath-schools carried on among the young children by Mrs. Bryan and Miss Cuthbert. These schools have encountered all kinds of obstacles, from opposition Sunday-schools conducted by Buddhist priests to violence, in order to prevent the children entering the building where the school was held, but all without the desired effect. The following note from Miss Cuthbert's report will illustrate this fact: "Some time ago an old man who lives next door to the Sunday-school building became very strongly impressed with the idea that if all the children of the neighborhood came so regularly to my Christian school they would all become Christians, and so undertook to prevent their coming. Failing in several instances, he finally paid money to two boys to get them to come to school and disturb the order by whistling. I detected them in this and suppressed them. But the old man was not yet willing to give in, and the next Sabbath undertook to keep the children out by main force, taking position in front of the door and driving them off with a long bamboo pole. Finally, when I came and he saw I was not disposed to run as the children did, he turned and ran himself before I got within speaking distance; the children followed me into the house and we had school as usual, and I was delighted to learn not long since that his own children now come to the school, and not only he, but his whole family, are very much interested in Christianity." It is not in the larger and stronger churches where the strength of the missionaries is exerted, for after a church is well organized it is expected to move on with very little oversight from those who established it.

Of these smaller churches and preaching places some have been but recently undertaken, while others are of some years' growth. Besides the churches enumerated above, there are under the care of the mission 18 preaching stations: at Kanazawa, 4; at Osaka, 7; and at Hiroshima, 7. Most of the last named, once worked from Osaka, have been turned over to the Hiroshima station. Some of these, as Hagi or Tsuruga, are the centres of populous regions. Of these places only one, Bingomachi, has been abandoned, not because of lack of interest, but because of internal discord, while work has been undertaken in two new places, Sake and Tsuruga. The strength of this mission has been put mainly into evangelistic work, and there is no doubt but that the "foolishness of preaching" is just as effective in Japan as elsewhere.

Educational Work.

The Boys' School in Kanazawa has moved into new quarters, being compelled by the Government to give up its old place; the price paid for it, together with a grant from the Board, enabled the school to not only secure a much more desirable location, but also to put up some much-needed buildings. The study of the Scriptures has been pursued with evident interest. There have been about 60 pupils in attendance. Of these about one-third are professing Christians. Four pupils have been baptized. These men have formed themselves into a Young Men's Christian Association, and with assistance from the Girls' School sustain a Sabbath-school and a preaching-place in the city where good work has been done.

The Girls' School in Kanazawa.—The work in this school has enjoyed its usual prosperity. The Bible is daily taught as a text-book. The number of pupils this year is 50, more than half of them being professing Christians, of whom 16 have been hopefully converted during the year; the Christian life of the girls is promoted by a wise use of their zeal in the Sabbath-schools and Bible-work.

The Itchi Jo Gakko—Girls' School, Osaka.—This school has suffered seriously from the anti-foreign reaction, which has so blocked the wheels of treaty revision. It is probably only a temporary stay of proceedings, however, but in the meantime it has seriously affected some of our schools. How this has been done is, perhaps, best told in the words of Miss Garvin in her report: "Christian schools all over the country, but especially girls' and women's schools, are feeling the effects of this undercurrent of opposition. It has worked for the most part silently, almost stealthily, and is therefore the more difficult to deal with. The experience of this school is a fair sample of what others are undergoing. Unfounded slanders appeared in the city papers, whose editors are glad to publish anything that will tell against Christianity. These printed slanders, together with purposely circulated rumors and other malicious influences outside the school, have resulted in nearly one-half of our pupils leaving us. Some returned to their homes; some entered schools under the control of the Japanese. The number of pupils now in attendance is 25." Meanwhile 10 girls have received baptism, and a Sabbath-school of 120 pupils is conducted in the school chapel, both for the purpose of overcoming the prejudice of their neighbors and to instruct the girls how to teach and superintend Sabbath-schools, so that they may be prepared to enter upon Christian work at their homes when they leave school.

The Children's School, Kanazawa.—This school also rejoices in larger, more healthful, and more commodious quarters, secured through the assistance of the governor of the province, whose children attend the school. Of course there is no effort to count results in the way of conversions or baptisms in such an institution, but if the child-faith of some of these little people could be communicated to older people it would be a great gain, as the following extract from Miss McGuire's report shows: "Every Friday afternoon a 'Children's Prayer Meeting' is held in one of the school-rooms. The faith shown by these little people in a prayer-answering Father might well put many older Christians to shame. A large number of the children recite Bible verses, and some of them always request prayer on special subjects. One dear little boy, each time for several weeks, asked us to pray that a sick classmate might be restored to us. At last the child was better and returned to school. I was pleased to notice at the next prayer-meeting that the boy who had been praying for his friend's recovery, did not forget to thank God for the answer to his prayers.

"A little girl for more than a year regularly asked for prayer that her mother might give up her idols and learn to love the true God. The child pleaded with her heathen mother for a long time, until at length her faith has been rewarded. The mother has ceased to bow down to graven images. She attends church and prayer-meetings regularly, and has recently asked for baptism and admission into the church with her little daughter."

There have been 62 pupils connected with this school this year, both boys and girls, ranging in age from three to fourteen years. A native pastor's estimate of Miss Porter's work is as follows: "I am learning more and more to realize the importance of work among children. The Japanese who become Christian after their hearts are polluted with sin are unsatisfactory as Christians, just like trees that we may try to straighten after they have arrived at mature age. This work for children begins at the beginning and keeps them straight."

Miss Cuthbert began a small day-school for girls in Hiroshima with the twofold purpose of getting a passport to live in the interior and of training the girls. This school has only an attendance of 12 pupils, but, under the circumstances, that is as many as were wanted. These girls study the Bible and are very regular in their attendance upon church, though that is not required of them. One was a Christian when she came, and one more has been converted since her connection with the school.

Advancement.

The mission is very desirous of continued advance along these three lines:

I. Evangelistic.—The mission at its annual meeting passed the following resolution: "That we respectfully ask the Board to send out as soon as possible, at least five new men to aid in the work of the mission, in view of the very pressing need in the region south and west of Osaka." This was accompanied by a very comprehensive letter, signed by every member of the mission and all the native pastors who could be conveniently reached with the document. The reasons for the request are:

1. To occupy territory which can only be worked at a great disadvantage at present.
2. This region is left by other missions to our occupancy.
3. It is one of the most populous and prosperous regions of the empire.
4. To co-operate with the Dutch mission on the island of Kyushu, the third in extent and second in population in the empire, and as yet practically untouched.
5. All who are acquainted with Japan, her history, her present condition, and the work of the "United Church," agree that now is the time to push matters there.

II. Educational.—Since the Cumberland Mission has become identified with the "United Church," the question of enlarged educational work, in union with them and the Southern Presbyterian Mission, is being agitated. As yet no detailed plans have been determined upon.

III. Literary Work.—This mission has expended almost its whole force in evangelistic work, and therefore has had little or no opportunity for literary work. The need of this kind of labor has been keenly felt, and it is hoped that since the older missionaries have returned to the field, something may be done in this line.

MISSION IN KOREA.

Mission begun in 1884; station, Seoul, the capital, near the western coast, on the Han River, and twenty-five miles overland from the commercial port, Chemulpho; laborers—Rev. H. G. Underwood and wife, and Rev. Messrs. D. L. Gifford and S. A. Moffett; J. W. Heron, M.D., and wife, Miss M. E. Hayden, and Miss S. A. Doty.

At Chemulpho (temporarily): H. N. Allen, M.D., and wife.

The Board has sent during the year two new missionaries to Korea, Rev. S. A. Moffett and Miss S. A. Doty, the latter to engage in school-work. During the year, also, Dr. Power, an assistant medical missionary, was recalled, and Dr. H. N. Allen, who had been engaged as secretary and director of the Korean embassy in Washington, which position he had assumed at the earnest request of the King, was reappointed by the Board with a view to opening a missionary station at the port of Fusan, on the southeast coast, if upon visiting the place such a step should be found feasible. This is one of the open ports, and is situated at the mouth of a small river or roadstead, the port being largely a Japanese community, while the native Korean city lies farther inland. It was found impossible for the present to purchase or even to rent suitable property, whereupon, with the consent of the Board, Dr. Allen removed to Chemulpho, the port of Seoul, lying on the west coast. He is there located tentatively, with permission to practice his medical profession among foreigners, and meanwhile to study the ground, and report upon the feasibility of making it a station.

The Korea Mission has also considered the question of commencing work at some other port on the northeast coast. No conclusions have as yet been reached by the Board, but meanwhile tokens of encouragement are multiplied, and proofs are furnished that Korea as a mission field is full of promise. The following sketch of the first stages of missionary effort in this so-called Hermit Nation, even before it had been opened to foreign intercourse, will reveal the circumstances which scattered the germs of the truth very widely in the northern portions of the country at least fifteen years ago. It throws much light upon the Korean mission field.

One of the most vigorous missions in the Chinese Empire is that of the Scotch United Presbyterian Church in Manchuria. This work was commenced by Rev. John Ross, who, as a result of many years of labor, is enabled now to look upon a thoroughly established and ever-expanding Gospel work among all classes, high and low, in that far-off region. To him really the beginnings of evangelical work in Korea as well as in Manchuria are due. The most eastern port of Manchuria is known as the Korean gate, and it has for a long time been the only place where Korean merchants could exchange the products of their country for Chinese merchandise. Mr. Ross visited the place in 1873, and had numerous interviews with Koreans, who were extremely anxious to get information from him, but whose lips were sealed whenever he sought to gain knowledge of their country. He was entirely foiled in his efforts to accomplish anything, but next year he paid another visit to the Korean gate, and with much better results. Fortunately, a Korean merchant, who had invested all his capital in a commercial venture, had lost his goods by the upsetting of a boat on one of the Korean rivers, and had reached Manchuria penniless. In his sorry plight he was emboldened to run some risk for the sake of gaining a livelihood. He therefore escaped at midnight from his companions, and started for Moukden, not allowing even his own brother to know his plans lest the whole family of relatives should be put to death in consequence of his desertion. This man became the teacher of Mr. Ross, and assisted him in translating portions of the Gospel of Luke into Korean. Rev. Mr. McIntyre, another missionary of the Scotch Presbyterian Church, assisted Mr. Ross in this good work. Somewhat later, another Korean, a peddler of quack medicines, had come to want, and was glad to be employed as a compositor. He seemed a most clumsy and inapt pupil, sluggish in mind and inactive in body, but to the surprise of his employers, he not only became skilful through plodding industry, but also gladly accepted the Gospel which he had been employed to print. Still later, a younger man attached to the annual Korean embassy to China, joined the circle, and proved a most expert compositor. The quack peddler, who had now gained considerable knowledge of the Christian faith, and had developed an earnest Christian character, was employed as tract distributor, and was sent with portions of the Scriptures to his native valley in the northern interior of Korea. After six months he returned, giving a good report of the work, and calling upon the missionary to go to the valley and baptize a number of people who had become believers. He returned for another tour, of which he subsequently gave still more encouraging accounts. Meanwhile, a revolution had occurred in the Korean capital, and a large number of men, including many of the progressive party, were killed, while multitudes of others were scattered as refugees into Manchuria. Still others found their way back to their native valleys in Korea, where they saw the tracts which the native helper had distributed. They were just in the frame of mind to accept the truth, and they lent their influence to its dissemination. In the next autumn Mr. Ross and Mr. Webster, another colleague of the missionary, resolved at whatever hazard to visit these valleys, waiting until the rivers should be frozen over as the only means of crossing. In order to reach them high passes covered with snow were to be traversed. Much of the way they were unable to ride, and were often subjected to great exposure. Finally, however, they reached the borders of the first valley, where they took refuge in a small Chinese inn for quiet and rest. They had occupied their quarters, however, less than an hour when a body of a dozen Koreans, gentlemanly in appearance, garments, manner, and speech, came to welcome them. These were refugees from Seoul. The missionaries were conducted to the home of the principal farmer of the neighborhood, in whose guest-room they found a crowd of men. Every one of these refugees became a convert and was baptized. The oldest was a hereditary official, and possessed the highest Korean literary degree. The next day thirty of the neighboring families appeared, and wished to be examined for baptism. It had not been thought proper that their wives should accompany them, as they were to meet men, but the wives, also, and some of the children were reported as believers. The next day, crossing a ridge in the deep snow, a second valley was visited, and with the same results. Nearly a hundred men, varying from 16 to 72 years of age, presented themselves for baptism. In three valleys 85 men were baptized, and far more were postponed for further instruction. As the winter was approaching, it was necessary for the missionaries to return. They were informed that in no less than twenty-eight valleys in Northern Korea were companies of believers waiting to be received into the church by baptism. The next summer Mr. Ross revisited the valleys, but persecution of so bitter a nature had sprung up that he thought it wise to desist from extending the work. The landlords, who were Chinese, and who rented their land to the Korean farmers, looked upon this work as a plot formed against their interest. One of the refugees from Seoul, thinking it now safe to return to the capital, received special instruction that he might become a native colporteur at the capital. A year later he wrote to Mr. Ross, requesting him to visit Seoul, as thirteen of his friends desired to be formed into a congregation. The next year after that the missionary was again urged to visit the capital, as there were reported to be 79 believers in and around Seoul. "But, meanwhile," says Mr. Ross, "our American Presbyterian brethren, forward in all mission work, sent to Korea one and then other missionaries." Mr. Ross at length visited Seoul, and became the guest of Rev. Mr. Underwood, and was present with him when he organized his small company of believers into a Presbyterian church. It turned out that two members of this church were cousins of the man whom Mr. Ross had trained for the work in Moukden. They had been believers for six years. It also appeared that thirteen of the fourteen baptized members forming the church were converts either of that man or of another who had left Moukden earlier. "But," adds Mr. Ross, "what was most interesting to me was the assurance that there were over three hundred men of that class in the city who were believers, but who for various reasons were not prepared publicly to join the church."

The health of the Korea Mission has been good, though both Mrs. Underwood and Mrs. Heron suffered seriously for a time. With the blessing of God, both are now fully restored. The mission is now stronger in numbers, in knowledge of the field and of the language, and in all the requisites for effective work, than it has ever been before. Dr. Heron has had charge of the hospital, and has also been employed professionally at the royal palace, and has engaged to some extent in practice among foreigners, reporting all receipts for this work to the treasury of the mission. Mr. and Mrs. Underwood, in the early part of the year, made an extended tour in the interior of Korea, where they found the way open for missionary effort so far as large numbers of the people were concerned, but they also met with abundant proofs that the Korean officials were not prepared to admit the preaching of the Gospel. Mr. Underwood did not feel free, owing to this fact, to engage in direct and open mission work, but Mrs. Underwood, as a practical physician, found abundant opportunity to heal the sick, and thus in a general way allay suspicion, and win the confidence of the people. Mr. Underwood has, in the latter part of the year, been busily engaged in carrying a dictionary and other Korean books through the press in Japan. Mr. Gifford's first year has been devoted largely to the study of the language. He has also acted as treasurer of the mission, and has given instruction in the orphanage. Miss Hayden, who has had the care of the girls' school, has rendered faithful and efficient service. Mrs. Heron was engaged in active Christian work until the condition of her health compelled her to lay it aside. It is necessary to proceed with great caution as yet in Korea, for, although the people are generally believed to be favorable to progress in education, and are even disposed to be tolerant of missionary effort, yet, inasmuch as there is a conservative faction which is ready to take advantage of anything that looks like progress, it is a part of prudence to proceed slowly and cautiously. There is, however, an almost unanimous belief on the part of those who carefully study the field, that the country is being prepared for an early presentation of the Gospel, and for the development of all lines of true advancement.

During the year Korea was visited by one of the Secretaries of the Board, Dr. Mitchell, who, after looking over the field carefully, and weighing its difficulties as well as its promise, writes: "I want you to tell the Board that, notwithstanding all the perplexities which have attended the work in Korea, if they could see this group of young, intelligent, and ardent men and women, the seed and certain prophecy of the true Church of Christ in Korea, if they could see their work and hear their prayers, they would stand up and sing a hymn of praise to God."

One of the most interesting incidents in connection with the work in Korea, is the fact that already preliminary steps have been taken by the mission to carry out the recommendation of the General Assembly looking to the formation of union churches on the mission fields. Two missionaries from the Victoria General Assembly in Australia, arrived on the field during the year, Mr. and Miss Davis. These representatives of our Church in that country, which a half century ago was itself a mission field, have been gladly welcomed by our missionaries, and they were also welcomed heartily by Dr. Mitchell, who had the pleasure of meeting them, and whose account of them to the Board is most gratifying. No action has as yet been taken by the Board in connection with the Presbyterian Church of Victoria, but the natural drift of events, as well as the sympathies and fellowship of the missionaries, is all in the direction of union. There seems to be good prospect that at an early day Korea will follow the example of Japan in demonstrating the feasibility of a United Missionary Presbyterian Church in heathen lands.

LAOS MISSION.

CHEUNG-MAI: on the Maah-Ping River, 500 miles north of Bangkok; occupied as a mission station, 1876; missionary laborers—Rev. Messrs. Daniel McGilvary, D.D., D. G. Collins, W. C. Dodd, and their wives; Dr. and Mrs. James W. McKean; Misses Isabella Griffin, Eliza P. Westervelt, and Nellie H. McGilvary; Rev. Nan-Tah; 10 helpers; 12 outstations.

LAKAWN: on the Maah-Wung River, southeast from Cheung-Mai 75 miles; occupied as a mission station, 1885; missionary laborers—Rev. S. C. Peoples, M.D., and his wife, Rev. Jonathan Wilson, Miss Kate W. Fleeson, and Rev. Hugh Taylor and his wife; 1 native helper.

In this country: Rev. S. C. Peoples, M.D., and his wife.

It gives us pleasure to see that the usual cheering report from this far-off mission has not this year changed its tenor. The church in the Laos field has been of remarkably steady and rapid growth. There have been adult accessions to the membership at each monthly communion for the last twenty-two consecutive months, and in fifty-five out of the last sixty-one months, or since October, 1884. Large annual accessions have been made for the last seven years, and this increase has grown steadily larger each year.

There has been little interruption in the work of the mission, aside from the temporary absence of Mr. Dodd and Miss Eakin in Bangkok, to have their marriage ceremony performed in the presence of our United States Minister; there was but one removal from the country, in the case of Dr. and Mrs. Peoples, who left in August, on a furlough, for America. Some departments of the work, especially itinerating, were harassed by a troublesome case of civil process against one of our native helpers, Noi-Sali, which continued through eight months of the year. With these interruptions the work, in all its departments, was carried forward with as much vigor as the small force of the mission would permit.

Cheung-Mai.

The medical department was not neglected, though the station is without a missionary physician. Dr. McGilvary gave this work all the time that the other cares of his missionary work would allow him to bestow. Having the services of Dr. M. A. Cheek to perform important surgical operations, and a native assistant whom Dr. Cary trained to take charge of the dispensary and oversee the services in the hospital, he has been able to make this department of great benefit to the place and to the mission. It has been productive of some tangible results in Christian work. One important family, in a new district, has been brought into the church through its agency, and many others have gained a good degree of knowledge of Christian truth, some of these from a distant province.

At the dispensary medicines were sold to the amount of 2,212 rupees.

A cheap temporary hospital building has been doing good service in the place of the fine new hospital that the mission had hoped to have completed before this time. If it had not been for the misfortune of the early failure of Dr. Cary's health, we doubtless would already have had a fitting monument to the loving charity of our American Sabbath-school children in the completed building. But the good work is still going forward, and the closing days of the year have brought news of the coming of the new physician, Dr. McKean, with his family; and the missionaries have now confident hope that the temporary hospital building will soon give place to one that will meet the wants of the public and fulfill the expectations of those who so generously contributed to its erection.

Special mention is made of the kind services of Dr. Cheek in performing a number of important surgical operations and of his care for some of the missionaries during the year. The doctor's large business interests oftentimes place him in a position in which he can render important service to the missionaries in their work, and he seems to take a pleasure in doing these kind favors.

The Educational work of Cheung-Mai consists in the Girls' School, a School for Boys, and the Theological Training Class. The Girls' School is under the management of Misses Griffin and Westervelt, assisted in the early part of the year by Miss Belle Eakin, who joined the mission the year previous. Three native teachers support the ladies in the work of teaching. The school enrolled 91 pupils during the year, 71 of whom were boarders. Nineteen of the girls became members of the church. The teachers in the school labor under the serious difficulty of not having text-books in the native Laos language. All the books they have are in the Siamese tongue.

The Boys' School has had a history of but two years. In its second year it enrolled 94 pupils, with an average attendance of 65, of whom 40 were boarders. That is the full capacity of the school's accommodation for boarders. There were many other applicants, but they could not be received. Another year Mr. Collins will need additional class rooms and a new dormitory.

Eleven of the pupils were received into the church. School was in session for eight months of the year. Very commendable progress was made by the pupils. The closing examinations were attended by all the missionaries and by H. R. H. Prince Sonapandit. The Prince was so highly pleased with the result of the year's work that he promised a donation of Siamese text-books to the school. One of the brethren writing about the schools says: "We attended the closing examinations of the schools for both boys and girls, and were more than pleased. The Girls' School has had a record for some years past. The Boys' School had a record to make. Brother Collins may be highly gratified, and we may all be thankful for the progress made." This school has enjoyed during the last seven months the privilege of a circulating library, a gift of Dr. John M. Watt, of Ohio. Three hundred books have been drawn by the boys.

The Theological Training Class is the department which is looked to with most interest in all the educational work of the mission, because it stands in closest relation to the most pressing need of that field. This year was its first experiment. Fourteen of the best men formed this class. The course of study was somewhat limited. The students were engaged in active Christian work a portion of each week during the term, and since its close ten of them have been employed as evangelists. Mr. Dodd says: "We feel grateful to God for the evident blessing bestowed upon the infant undertaking, and hope for more solid and uninterrupted work during the coming year."

Lakawn.

The medical and school work in Lakawn, as well as all the other departments of missionary interests, are yet in their infancy.

The Medical work has been under the care of Dr. Peoples until last August, when he and his wife returned temporarily to this country. This work has so far gained the favor of the rulers, that the First Governor gave a fine location for a hospital, and the Second Governor gave a large lot for Mr. Taylor's residence. On the hospital lot a convenient dispensary has been built, and a small chapel is in process of erection. There is as yet no hospital building. Small bamboo shanties or huts, covered with grass, have thus far been made to serve the place of hospital wards.

A beginning has been made for a boys' school. It originated in an evening class of small boys taught by Mrs. Peoples. After her departure Mrs. Taylor and Miss Fleeson took charge of it. They have some twenty pupils. The missionaries hope that, in the near future, this beginning will grow into an industrial school for boys.

Evangelistic Work.—Direct evangelistic work in this mission is of two classes: First, ministrations to the five organized churches by some one of the ordained missionaries under appointment of Presbytery; and second, touring.

Thus each ordained missionary takes some responsibility in direct evangelistic work, whatever his special mission work may be, whether teacher, translator, or evangelist.

The First Church of Cheung-Mai is the most important of these churches, because it is the chief mission centre, the oldest organization, and to its roll are added all the names of the new Christians who are in the immediate vicinity of either of the other organized churches. This church received last year 136 adults and 82 children. It has now an adult membership of 524, with all the organized forms of church work. The Sabbath-school enrolls 350 scholars.

The other churches in this district are : at Maa Dawk Dang, 10 miles northeast of Cheung-Mai ; Bethlehem, 10 miles southeast from Cheung-Mai ; and First Church of Cheung-Saan, 150 miles north of Cheung-Mai. These three churches have not had so marked an increase as the Cheung-Mai church, yet Bethlehem has had a delightful refreshing after a number of years of inactivity. It more than doubled its membership, adding thirty-one new names to its roll. The fifth church is the first church of Lakawn at the new mission station.

Touring.—There was only one long missionary tour taken this year. It was made by Mr. Dodd, to Pa-Row, Cheung-Hai, and Cheung-Saan. These are the names of provinces lying to the north of Cheung-Mai ; the last named is on the Cambodia River, well up on its course toward China. On this long journey Mr. Dodd visited a number of towns and villages where there are already little clusters of Christians, as well as many other places. He baptized twelve adults and eight children. A number of shorter tours were made by all the different members of the mission, including the ladies. The hearts of the brethren were oftentimes delighted with the warm reception they would receive from the natives and their desire to learn. At one place, one of the missionaries and his helper taught interested hearers through the night till it was time to put on the morning rice-pot. More than thirty distant villages and towns were reached by this means.

Translating.—Mrs. McGilvary, with the assistance of Mr. Dodd and native teachers, has translated "The Acts," a first translation, and has revised other portions of the Scriptures previously translated.

Printing.—No printing has as yet been done in the Laos language. The need for a correct font of type is so strongly felt by both the mission and the Board, that the Board has made a grant of $1,000 for the undertaking, and the work is now going forward under the supervision of Dr. Peoples.

The new Church Building.—The foundations of the first fine church building among the Laos are now complete. It is expected that the church will be finished this summer. Having no chapel large enough to hold the congregations, they have been compelled to worship in the Girls' School building, much to the inconvenience of the teachers and of the school.

Dr. McGilvary closes his report by saying : "We esteem it a great privilege to be the voice of the Church through whom, and in Christ's name, to offer the Gospel to the Laos. We adore His grace in blessing our humble labors. We thank the Church for reinforcements. Some of us have labored till our whitening locks remind us that our privilege will ere long have to be resigned to others. We sometimes wonder if our great Presbyterian constituency remember that the privilege of actually sending the Gospel to every creature will soon be resigned to another generation, and whether they regard it as great a privilege to give of their means as their missionaries do to act as their messenger.

May God bless the cheerful giver. What gift is comparable to the unspeakable gift of the Gospel of eternal life to a lost world?"

Since this report was written cheering news is received from Mr. Dodd. He had made an extended tour for a month to the north, while an ordained helper had journeyed south. During their month's work they had baptized nearly 100 persons, of whom about 60 were adults, and who were added to the rolls of the church. Ours is the only mission to the Laos. A glorious work unusually free from hindrances is before our Church, and one remarkably rich in promise of an abundant harvest of souls.

The labor of our missionaries in Mexico, North and South, is largely in the department of field work.

Early in the year, Rev. Dr. Greene reported a most interesting work in Mizantla, a town of 5,000 inhabitants lying ninety miles north of Jalapa. A few Indians from this place had strayed into the church at Jalapa, where they heard a sermon and received a few tracts, which they read on their way homeward. They reported what they had heard and read to their neighbors, and as a result, 30 people, fathers and mothers with their children, set out from Mizantla with the purpose of attending religious services ninety miles away, in order to see for themselves what they were like and to obtain books. Upon examination fifteen of the number were baptized, and $25.00 worth of Bibles and religious books were sold. Whatever may be the permanent results of this movement, it well illustrates the darkness and torpor which have lain upon these outlying communities for so long a time under the influence of Romanism. These people may be said to have awakened out of a profound sleep. The truth was almost as strange as if it had come as a special revelation direct from heaven.

Dr. Greene in the latter part of the year made an interesting tour into the State of Guerrero. This is the historic ground of that violent and bloody persecution which broke out at Acapulco fifteen years ago. The year 1887 was signalized by still another outbreak, and one assassination has occurred even during the last year, namely, that of Don Tomas Espernosa, a worthy elder of Tetela del Rio. He was murdered by a drunken man who had conceived a grudge against the minister of the church who sought to reclaim him from his evil ways. This sad blow, together with the death of the remaining elder and two of his sons during the year, has reduced our congregation at Tetela del Rio very seriously. The remaining members are administered to by Sr. Zepeda, who lives forty-five miles away.

In making this tour Dr. Greene left Mexico City on the railroad leading to Tlaltizapan, passing near the volcanoes of Iztaccihuatl and Popocatepetl, and through the sugar-growing districts of Cuantla and Yantepec in the State of Morelos. This road will find at length its southern terminus at Acapulco, on the Pacific coast, and will open up some of the richest cattle-raising and mineral districts in the Republic. From Tlaltizapan Dr. Greene's method of travel was by the saddle. A ride of many hours brought him to Los Arnates, where a cordial welcome awaited him in a Christian family and in a little centre of believers. A ride of three hours further brought him to Tonalapa, where an evening service was held in a private house. The experience of the next two days is given in the following words:

"In the morning at five we are off for a long, tiresome climb up and over the mountains, through rugged fastnesses and along narrow paths of slippery rock, in the intense heat of this now tropical clime, until at twelve we reach Zapuapa, a picturesque hamlet of some 200 souls, where that evening and the next, congregations of 60 to 70 earnest worshippers assembled. Here is a school of 34 bright pupils taught by one of the young men from our seminary at Tlalpam. We examine these scholars in their various studies and are highly pleased with their proficiency, especially in the Shorter Catechism and the Catechism for Children. These brethren, out of their poverty, are building a very solid and tasteful church edifice, 40 by 18 feet, which they promise to have ready for dedication on my next visit. One of them also sets apart his house, the best in the place, for the school. Leaving here Rev. Felix Gomez (who joined us at Los Arnates) to hold services on the Sabbath, we start at 6 A.M. for a ride of ten leagues, over the worst road we shall encounter, stop at Temascalapa for a baptismal service and breakfast at 8, and at 4 P.M. arrived weary and sore, at Ahuacuaticlan, on the summit of the Sierra Madre. Here, in the very house where our good elder, Miguel Cipriano, was murdered for his faith, we hold a service at night, attended by the faithful few who have passed through great tribulation, and our theme is 'the conditions of acceptable prayer'

"Here, also the mission has purchased, as a building site, a spot baptized with blood, and on it the brethren, with our aid, will soon complete a commodious church edifice at a total cost of about $250. Against the outer wall will be erected a monument inscribed with the names of our three martyred brethren. Funds for this purpose are now being contributed by our various churches and will probably reach the sum of $100. From here we pass on in the morning to Teloloapan, distant one league. This has always been regarded as a very fanatical place and practically closed against all evangelical work. But our good minister, Felipe Reyes, a man of middle age, by his undoubted piety, prudence, and tact, has succeeded in winning the confidence of not a few devoted Romanists, and in undeceiving them as to the real spirit and tendency of our work. As a result a very eligible house has been rented for our worship and notice has been given to the authorities that to-morrow (24th) our first public service will be held. We improve the interval in conversation with various persons who are anxious to know the truth as viewed and preached by us. I send a telegram to Governor Arce, to make sure that all necessary precautions are taken to preserve peace, and at 11 A.M. on the following day the doors of our provisional chapel are opened and more than sixty persons enter, all of whom are quiet, respectful, and attentive while they listen for the first time to our hymns, prayers, and the reading and preaching of God's word. My theme is 'Search the Scriptures.'

As an instance of the spirit of self-help which is being developed in at least a part of the Mexican outstations, the following is of interest :

"As both horses and riders are somewhat in need of recuperation, we rest here until Monday, holding nightly services and also a dedicatory service on Sabbath morning, at which the neat church building erected wholly by the people themselves is solemnly set apart for divine worship, my theme being Solomon's prayer at the dedication of the temple. A great and good work is being done here by Brother Gomez, who out of his scanty salary gave $60 toward the church building, just one-half its entire cost. He is doing a most effective preparatory work, aided by El Faro, in the two adjacent villages of Cocula and Coacoyula, whence various brethren come to join in our services and where regular worship will soon be established."

Dr. Greene speaks of another congregation which under the care of Lauro Adamo has doubled since his last visit. The services were formerly held on the outskirts of the village, but the brethren themselves have recently bought a house in the centre of the town at a cost of about $80, and here on the last evening of the year Dr. Greene preached for the first time to an audience of 70 within doors and about 25 without. At the last of the three services held at this place the Lord's Supper was administered.

At Chilpancingo, the capital of Guerrero, the missionary was received very cordially by Sr. Arce, the Governor of the State. He gave assurance that he is doing all in his power to secure the arrest and punishment of the murderer at Tetela, and he also stated that the principals in the Ahuacatitlan massacre some months ago are in prison, and that they will either be shot or sent into exile. It is a matter of encouragement that at Chilpancingo, once a most fanatical place, Protestants are being sought for by the Government to fill posts of special honor and responsibility. The congregation has more than doubled under the faithful care of Prisciliano Zavaleta. There is not room for the people who would gladly attend services. Sr. Zavaleta has secured the confidence even of the priest, who cannot deny the excellence of his character and influence.

At Tuxpan Dr. Greene found the work in an encouraging condition. The services during his stay were held under a booth formed of freshly-cut branches of trees.

He was impressed as never before with the poverty of the people, and with the lack of ordinary comforts under which the masses suffer. Great numbers were suffering from chills and fever, some of them being fatally ill, and no physicians were found except in a few principal cities. Even quinine was a thing not to be found, though so essential and efficacious. These poor Christians are struggling with great difficulties, and are greatly in need of the sympathy and prayers of God's people everywhere.

Rev. Hubert W. Brown returned to his home February 24th, after a tour of twenty-six days in the State of Michoacan. Most of the time was spent on horseback, and altogether the distance which he had thus ridden was about 500 miles. Twenty-three different outstations were visited. In such tours the missionary is accompanied by an attendant who acts partially as a guard. One of the most interesting classes of people with whom we meet in Mexico are the natives of the mountain State of Michoacan, mostly Indians pure or slightly mixed. Their response to the truth of the Gospel is generally direct and cordial, and a great and good work has been done among them by our native preachers. There have been no great ingatherings of converts during the year, but the growth throughout this field has been steady, and Mr. Brown notes a positive advance as compared with last year. One disturbing influence which the churches in this region have encountered is the fanatical lawlessness and irresponsibility which have been engendered by the Plymouth Brethren, particularly by the late Mr. Pasco, of England. The extravagant ideas of "freedom" in religious life which these men have taught to the half-educated natives, have resulted in license and in the breaking down of that institutional order which is observed in our Missions, and which certainly has the warrant of the New Testament. A young Mexican who some years ago attempted to assassinate Rev. Daniel Rodriguez, but who afterward was converted by his conciliatory methods, has been swept away by these delusions, and has accomplished much harm among the unstable and the wayward.

In several places the membership of the churches had been seriously diminished by removals, but it was found that those who had thus removed had carried with them the Gospel, and that it had become a leaven in places which might not otherwise have been reached. Though the report of communicants may be reduced, they are not lost, but are extending the truth.

The following sketches are given in the words of Mr. Brown's report :

"In Aguacate, I was accorded the same cordial welcome as of yore by the brothers Antonio and Guadalupe Vaca, who own the ranch. They have been for a year or more building a much larger house, and the best and largest room has been set apart for church services and will soon be ready for dedication. It is their desire to secure all the co-operation they can to tastefully furnish the hall."

"We reached Patanibaro on February 5th, the Mexican Constitution day. The young men of the family of Don Jose Maria Lopez, with whom we stopped, determined to celebrate the occasion in a suitable manner. A hilltop overlooking the ranch was selected, a tribune of stones and moss was raised, and the trees were tastefully hung with festoons, flags, and lanterns, and over all floated the national banner. The music was supplied by a society, called 'Benito Juarez,' which Mr. Palomino had organized for musical and literary improvement. It was a hard climb to the summit, but once there the view of valleys and mountains was superb. Messrs. Sanchez, Palomino, and Bianchi made speeches and then I was called upon. I used the opportunity to assure my audience that all true Americans were the friends of Mexico. About two hundred were present. The feasting that followed was of an orderly character, with no drinking or gaming, a notable contrast to feasts under Romish auspices. The gathering showed the growing interest of the country folk in the constitution and republican institutions, and was a plain and emphatic refutation of the oft-repeated charge that our Protestant converts are traitors and devoid of patriotism. In the evening many gathered for service and the Lord's Supper."

The poverty and simplicity of life which prevail among these mountaineers, as well as the lack of ambition and thrift, are well set forth in the following brief passage :

"I never visit these two points without being struck with the cheerless, comfortless appearance of the houses, dark, dismal, with many cracks through which the wind whistles, and the only furniture a rude, hard bed, a rickety table and an equally unsteady bench. The ranchero might have a nice home, if he only cared to. It is a great problem how to awaken in this people a desire for the comforts and civilizing influences of life."

Jungapeo has for a long time been under the care of Rev. Daniel Rodriguez, one of our most faithful native ministers. He has suffered for years with great difficulty in his eyes, and once came to New York for the purpose of securing relief by surgical operation, in which, however, he was disappointed. Mr. Brown speaks of the field as follows :

"The next centre visited was Jungapeo, where I held four services and on the Sabbath administered the Lord's Supper. The tasteful chapel erected there in the time of Don Rafael Rodriguez is still in good repair, and the congregation is evidently proud and careful of what they know to be one of the prettiest Protestant churches in all Mexico. The congregation appeared to be in a prosperous condition, and Sunday afternoon 111 were present at the communion service. Don Alvino Rodriguez, who, at the time his father died, was a student in the Seminary and obliged to leave to take charge of his affairs, has at last decided to devote himself entirely to the work, and during the year has studied and preached under the direction of his pastor, Rev. Leopoldo Diaz."

Over against these encouraging facts, however, are some dark shadows. The little congregations at Sauces, Colmena, and Guacimas have become well-nigh extinct through bitter persecution, together with the death of some of the leading men and the removal of others to other ranches. The life of a church on a ranch, even though hundreds of peasants may be employed, is always precarious, as the laborers are removed from one ranch to another. This dark picture is relieved by the fact that many of those who were formerly enrolled at these stations are now found in another not far away, so that the few who remain can attend services at the new station. Mr. Brown says of a visit to the latter: "The cordiality of our welcome in Tepehuajes is shown by the fact that the family sent all the way to Jungapeo to buy chocolate, bread, meat, and all that they thought we would like to have, and then borrowed dishes, one here and one there, from their neighbors. The man in whose house the service is held was converted through the reading of our tracts, and formerly when services were held only in Tetengeo, several leagues away over a steep mountain trail, he and all his family, men, women, and children, were accustomed to attend."

Mention is made of another ranch, Salitre, formerly owned by Don Luis Arroya, who before his death some years ago offered ground for a church if the Mission could erect one. His widow and his son are still warm friends of the mission cause, and extend a most cordial welcome when either a missionary or a native preacher pays a visit to their community.

Superstition is not dead, nor the mendacity of the priesthood extinct. The house of one of our zealous converts caught fire a short time ago and nearly all the furniture was burned, whereupon the local priest declared that it was a signal punishment from heaven for their having had in the house that "viperous sheet El Faro." Yet notwithstanding this experience the people of that region have asked for a school and have promised from 25 to 50 pupils.

Mr. Brown's report ends with a tribute to Rev. Mr. Rodriguez, who in spite of a severe illness from which he has only partially recovered, and his almost total blindness, has succeeded in converting a part of the mission property in Zitacuaro into a very neat audience-room, capable of seating 150 persons. At the same time, Mr. Rodriguez has so revived the people spiritually that the hall is already too small. Mr. Brown says: "With a further outlay of $200 or $300, the room could be enlarged to nearly twice its present capacity." The results of his tour, which was a laborious and fatiguing one, were on the whole encouraging.

The Annual Mission Conference.—The Sixth Annual Conference of the Mexico Mission met at Saltillo, January 22d, and there was a good attendance of the missionaries. Some important items of business were transacted which well show the progress of the work. A report was given of a Union hymn-book which was in progress of preparation by a committee chosen from the various Protestant missions. About 170 hymns were reported as having been adopted, most of them accompanied with tunes. This movement may be hailed with satisfaction as showing, first, the unity of spirit among the missions, and second, the disposition to economize the force and expenditures. One of the evils of division between the different denominations in conducting mission work, has been the heavy expense which each society must undertake in conducting similar lines of work. If hymn-books and certain classes of publications, institutions of learning, etc., can be placed upon a union basis, it is hoped that they will prove bonds of unity, and will enable the societies to accomplish a far greater aggregate of missionary work.

The report refers to a similar movement which has often been discussed, but which has made but little progress, toward the establishment of a Union College. This is a more formidable and difficult undertaking, but with an earnest and united spirit on the part of the missionaries, it may be found practicable. If so, it is certainly desirable.

Our missionaries are calling loudly for the opening of such a college, to be placed upon a union basis, all the associated missions contributing to its support. This subject has been before the Mexican Evangelical Alliance for the last two or three years, and although little progress has been made except in the development of general interest, the feeling is constantly increasing that such a department of mission work is well-nigh indispensable.

The Press.—A report was given of the work of the press of the Presbyterian Mission, which was on the whole satisfactory. Over 13,000,000 pages had been printed during the year, including tracts, hymns, and the bi-weekly religious paper El Faro. It is desirable to greatly increase, if possible, the self-support of these various branches of publication. The influence of the press thus far has proved most effective in conducting mission work, and all the different societies except one are publishing religious papers for general circulation. New accommodations for the press have been secured.

Help on the Field.—A special note is made of the fact that in repairing and enlarging the property purchased a year ago for the girls' boarding-school at Saltillo, the foreign residents in the place have mainly contributed to the building of a chapel within the mission premises. Two hundred dollars were contributed by Rodger Hayne, Esq., a gentleman of St. Louis, Mo., and a member of the Episcopal Church.

Dr. Greene reported upon the increased effort of churches in the southern part of Mexico to build their own churches, or to contribute a large part of the funds therefor.

The Theological Seminary.—Rev. H. C. Thomson, of the Theological Seminary at Tlalpam, reports an average attendance of fifteen students during the year. The young men are of fair capacity, and have been studious and diligent. The spiritual atmosphere of the institution has been better than for some years past. Services have been held by the students at five different places during the year. The new plan of alternate study and work has been inaugurated for the older and more advanced students, with the belief that it will combine a very useful practical element with the technical and general education which they are receiving. The class who have this year been engaged in field work will go back to the Seminary next year, and it will soon be possible to estimate the practical results of this experiment. An earnest hope, coupled with more or less fear, is expressed that the funds granted for the institution will not be so curtailed as to necessitate the turning away of any promising young men who apply for admission to the Seminary.

The labors of Mr. Thomson have been in part devoted to the production of a new Spanish version of the Bible in connection with Rev. H. B. Pratt, Agent of the Bible Society, and with representatives of other Mission Societies. It is hoped that by the end of this year one-half of the Old Testament will have been revised.

The Girls' Boarding-Schools.—One of the causes of mutual congratulation at the Mission meeting was the fact that the two boarding-schools, one at Mexico City and the other at Saltillo, had both been enlarged and put in working order during the year. In the City of Mexico a large addition, costing something over $7,000, had been made, and the school had been reopened on the first Monday in August, at which time 40 boarders and 30 day pupils were received. The average attendance has been 37 boarders and 25 day pupils. Great progress has been manifested. Three of the girls are about to graduate. Good habits are reported on the part of the girls in doing all their own work and dispensing entirely with servants. They keep their rooms clean and do their own sewing, washing, and ironing, and all other work. Only one younger child has been assisted in this respect, and in this case the service was paid for by her parents. Over 200 blanks were prepared and issued calling on parents to contribute toward the expense of the institution, and nearly all responded. Scarcely any expense has been incurred in paying the travelling expenses of pupils to and from the school.

The mission is in receipt of constant applications for admission to the girls' school in Mexico City, and the missionaries find in their trips that the reputation of the school is very high among converts and those who are merely friendly to the cause. A number of girls educated in the Normal School have been sent out as teachers, and with the most satisfactory results. In many cases comparisons have been made between their instruction and that imparted in the Government schools, and to their advantage. Under the wise management of Miss Bartlett, ably seconded by Miss De Baun, the standard of the school has been steadily raised.

Miss Wheeler, of Saltillo, reported that the building for the Normal School in Saltillo was nearly completed. The removal from Monterey was effected May 20, 1889. The school desks were moved, but the remainder of the furniture had to be sold. Miss Wheeler rendered assistance in the Mexico City school from August to December. The building at Saltillo should accommodate forty-five pupils. Miss Mabel Elliott, after an absence on account of ill-health, has resumed her work. There is every prospect of opening with the full number, half of whom will be day pupils from Saltillo and the remainder boarders from abroad.

Day-schools.—There are, in all, 26 day-schools in the Southern field, four of which are in Mexico City, with a total enrollment of 931 pupils of both sexes. These schools are doing a good work among the poor children of the capital, while in the smaller towns and country districts they often afford the only chance for an education. The missionaries on their trips notice at once the beneficent influence of these schools, and are often told by parents, "We cannot read; we never had such advantages; but our children are learning and can read us the Bible and your hymns and tracts."

Zacatecas.

Rev. T. F. Wallace has continued his work in the city and in the surrounding country stations. Only partial reports have been received. Dr. G. W. Prevost and family, always intensely interested in the mission from the beginning, have continued to aid the work in many ways.

Mr. Wallace reports some interesting incidents in his work among the outstations of the Zacatecas field. Speaking of a visit to the Hacienda El Carro, Mr. Wallace says:

"Our good friend Francisco Ezparza, though not a member of the church at this place, has been for a year raising little by little the tumbled-down walls of an old house of his so as to make a hall and give it to our people as a place of worship. It was lacking a roof when I was there, but this has since been supplied. The owners of a hacienda or ranch have it in their power to prevent the repairs of an old building or the erection of a new one if they desire, but as Senor Ezparza is an old resident and has a good deal of influence he was allowed to transform the old building, which he would not have been allowed to do had the owners of the site any idea that he intended it for Protestant worship. This same man has given our preacher a house to live in for more than two years free of rent. The little church grows slowly, which is encouraging considering the obstacles placed in its way."

The same report gives an interesting account of services held in very small adobe huts, where the floor has to be utilized without chairs for seating the people, and where a bed is used as a seat by the women, while the children and babies are huddled on the same bed behind their mothers. There are many discouragements, and in some of the older fields, like Jerez and Ville de Cos, the work is not so encouraging as it has been in years past.

The report of the Zacatecas field is on the whole encouraging. Besides the church in the city there are 17 outstations. The total number of communicants reported is 1,090, and 100 have been added during the year. There is a clear gain over all loss by death or otherwise of 59. The number of pupils reported in Sabbath-schools is 597, and in day-schools 61. The total amount of contributions is given at $1,975. Two native pastors are reported, nine licentiates, four teachers, and one Bible-woman.

San Luis Potosi.

The work of Rev. Mr. Beall and his helpers has been prospered, as the statistics show.

The degree of favor with which the Gospel is received from year to year in Mexico depends very largely upon the spirit and temper of the local authorities. Mr. Beall, in describing a short tour which he made with Rev. H. Forcada into the mountainous region lying south of San Luis Potosi, mentions a place in which one year ago Mr. Forcada was repulsed, only two hours being given him, weary as he was, in which to leave the town. "We were at first in some doubt," he says, "as to the reception that awaited us, but were soon assured of a hearty welcome. The chief in authority was a subscriber to El Faro, and we lodged three days in his house. Instead of being told to leave the town the public school building was placed at our disposal. Newly found friends furnished lamps and candles, and a congregation of 185 persons listened to three sermons or talks, and each person carried away a supply of tracts. Such a visit and such a work cannot be figured in statistical reports, and it may be that the Church at large will never know the results of such meetings, though they are not uncommon in missionary experience. But the Great Head of the Church keeps a record, and He knows what harvests such seeds will produce, and after all it is for Christ we are working."

The grace which seems to be given to these simple people in their trials as well as in their prosperity seems to be all-sufficient. Mr. Beall mentions a poor man who after a lingering illness had died of a very painful disease, but his resignation was marked and his faith triumphant. At each communion during the year members have been received; "the last one," says the report, "was of peculiar interest and impressiveness. Four children who had been baptized in infancy were received into full communion together with several others on profession and baptism." During the year 35 have been added to the San Luis church.

Toward the close of the year Mr. and Mrs. Beall were compelled to seek leave of absence for six months on account of the severe illness of their child.

The following are the statistics of the work embraced in the San Luis Potosi field:

Ordained native, 1; licentiates, 3; native teachers, 6; churches, 6; communicants, 172; added during the year, 54; day-schools, 3; boys in day-schools, 55; girls in day-schools, 54; pupils in Sabbath-schools, 170; contributions, $115.

Saltillo.

Rev. Mr. Boyce sends a report of the Saltillo field in which light and shade are blended in about equal proportions. First of all, it is very apparent that Roman Catholic influence is steadily recovering the ground lost by the political revolution which occurred twenty-five years ago, and which dealt such heavy blows at the Jesuitical Order, the hoarded church property, and the flaunted presence and prestige of the hierarchy. The priesthood is making itself felt more and more in certain portions of the Republic in political ways, and in the Saltillo field some flagrant outrages have recently emphasized this fact; among other things, a most exorbitant tax* has been levied by the local authorities upon all missionaries and native preachers, in the latter case amounting almost, if not quite, to the full amount of the salary received. This has been done with the avowed purpose of "driving them out." The Papacy never tires; year after year, generation after generation, it works on and forces its way like the tides of the sea. It is unscrupulous beyond expression, bitter and cruel, resorting to persecution, and even to bloodshed when necessary, as has been shown in so many instances in Mexico within the last twenty years. Over against this, however, it is believed that the sentiment of the most respectable citizens, not bound hand and foot by the priesthood, is more and more favorable to the work of Protestant missions. Observing men cannot fail to see the improvement made in the moral character of the people,—their greater truthfulness and moral purity, and they hail with satisfaction the general elevation of the people who are brought under Protestant influence. Even if no converts are gained to the Protestant churches, the leaven which is infused into the general fabric of society is worth all the outlay that has been made. It is impossible for the Mexican priesthood to sink into the shameful corruptions of thirty years ago so long as they are under the surveillance and the direct and condemnatory influence of Protestant missions, nor is it possible for them to so hoodwink and blind the minds of the people. In some cases, doubtless, political managers and truckling officials will be influenced by their schemes, and persecutions may be expected from time to time as in the past, but the work goes on. Mexico rises up out of the darkness and corruption which for three centuries has lain like a pall of death upon her institutions and upon all society, and her regeneration, though gradual, is sure.

Mr. Boyce says: "All over the Republic the priests are making the authorities, from the highest to the lowest, feel and acknowledge their power and influence. Abuses are to-day tolerated which a few years ago would have been promptly corrected. Overt acts on the part of the priesthood are passed by unnoticed which in better days would have been followed with swift punishment. Assured of this immunity, the priests have been enabled to press an aggressive work against us as well as to hold themselves ever on the defensive against our work. The hollow display and pomp of their worship, aided by all the wiles of Jesuitic subtlety, have been able to catch the eye and infatuate anew the superstitious and ignorant hearts of multitudes who had for long years almost cut loose from Rome. This prevailing and powerful influence of the priesthood is felt more deeply in the country districts than in the large cities."

The growth of the churches in the State of Coahuila, in which Saltillo is situated, has been slow, the increase not having quite equalled that of former years; still, there has been an advance.

During a part of the year Mr. Boyce has suffered severely from ill-health, at the same time that he has been heavily burdened with the repairs of a building purchased for the use of the girls' boarding-school formerly at Monterey. Much responsibility has also devolved upon him in the sale of the Monterey property. The school is now fully re-established in its new quarters. The property at Saltillo is well adapted to the purpose, and Miss Jennie Wheeler and Miss Mabel Elliott have just reopened the school. There has been a long cessation of direct labor in this institution, though the teachers have been engaged, so far as health would permit, in the study of the language, at the same time rendering assistance in various ways. Miss Wheeler was for several months in Mexico City assisting Miss Bartlett until Miss Ella DeBaun, newly appointed, should reach her field. Miss Elliott was compelled during the year to spend some months on leave of absence on account of ill-health. She has now returned in renewed health and in strong hope of being able to endure the labors of her position. Just as the year closes Mr. Boyce, who has suffered severely from chills and fever, has been compelled to seek a leave of absence in order to recover from the depressing effects of his disease. It is a matter of hope and prayer that he may in due time be restored to his manifold work. The field work in certain portions of Mexico involves considerable exposure to malarial influence, and it is only by using precaution and care that the missionary can avoid serious depression of health.

Mr. Boyce reports, including ten outstations, a total membership of 580. Thirty-eight have been added during the year, being a net gain of 34. The number of pupils in Sabbath-schools is 363, and in day-schools, of which there are nine, 194. During the year $645 have been contributed. Seven licentiates and eight native teachers are reported.

San Miguel del Mezquital.

Rev. D. J. Stewart reports his work at this place as having progressed slowly. He is surrounded with discouragements. The people are fanatical and extremely ignorant, and the priesthood, to say the least, are corrupt. Speaking of a visit to a town called Reyes, formerly a centre of banditti, he reports that he found an entrance mainly because the priests so seldom visit the place—they never do so unless assured that it will pay financially. "Recently," says Mr. Stewart, "the people were suffering great loss by the death of their oxen, which were dying of an epizootic disease. The people asked the priest to disinfect the community, which he did for a consideration of $3.00, the service being rendered by the recitation of certain Latin incantations. Word having gone out to other mountain villages that the priest was attempting to drive away the evil spirit of disease, many others sought to secure a participation in this hoped-for relief, but the priest refused to do anything for them until $4 should be raised, and as they were too poor to make up this sum, he passed on. As his imposture in Reyes amounted to nothing, the people lost faith in the priest and in his incantations. Such are the pictures of the Papacy in Mexico to-day." Mr. Stewart reports great poverty among the people, and expresses a strong desire for the small amount of $70 or $80, with which, added to the gifts of the people, to provide a place of worship.

During the year six persons have been added to the San Miguel church on profession of faith, and one person has been reinstated. One of the baptized is a young man from a hacienda 54 miles away. He is zealous in the cause and gives good promise of being useful.

General Progress.

The influence of the Protestant mission work in Mexico is more and more felt by the people at large. El Tiempo, one of the most important daily papers published in Mexico City, said some time since, "The Yankees are exerting a notable influence on our language, our commerce, and our religion." A Mexican in a published comment upon this admission says:

"Thank God that the North Americans who are Christ's servants have brought us the holy and blessed religion of Jesus Christ, the only one which can make truly happy our beloved country, Mexico, which for so many centuries has been the victim of the rapacity and iniquitous intrigues of the Catholic Jesuits. So at last the papistical writers sing their recantation since now they declare the contrary of what they have preached and written: 'That Protestantism was a corpse.' Now they admit that the Protestant religion possesses life and makes its influence felt in the Mexican Republic to such a degree that thousands are leaving the idolatrous church of the popes."

The following minute adopted by the members of the Mexican churches in the City of Mexico during the Week of Prayer, shows the gratitude which is felt by pastors and people for the encouragement and assistance which have been rendered to them by Christian people in the United States:

"When the work of missions was presented during the Week of Prayer, we agreed unanimously to send a vote of thanks to the various missionary societies by whom we are employed, for the money so generously expended for the evangelization of Mexico, and for the co-operation of our beloved brethren, the missionaries. Yes, dear brethren, we have always felt the deepest and liveliest gratitude for what you have done in Mexico, building churches, sustaining schools and seminaries, establishing presses, and all with the sole purpose of bringing us the joy and peace which you experience through faith and love toward Christ our only Saviour. We are glad to make this public acknowledgment before the whole world; and yet at the same time we feel that as yet we have hardly begun this great work, and we therefore appeal to you to continue your efforts until all the beautiful land of Mexico belongs to Christ, the King of glory."

There continues to be a cordial spirit of harmony and co-operation among the various Protestant missions.

The Protestant missions in the Mexican Republic, those working together since the first Evangelical Missionary Assembly, which was held in 1888, are the Quakers; Methodists, North and South; Baptists, North and South; Presbyterians, North and South; Associate Reform, and Cumberland and the Congregationalists. Each of these missions has its own paper, published bi-monthly, with the exception of the Southern Methodist, which is issued weekly, and all but one are illustrated. The Presbyterian paper, El Faro, has carried on an interesting discussion during the past year with La Voz de Mexico, the organ of the Archbishop.

At the missionary assembly of 1888, the women of the several missions organized a temperance society, and began at once to bring the subject before the community, and especially before the Protestant churches. To the majority of our converts the question was new and strange, but good results are already visible in many of our churches. Pulque is produced in certain districts in much greater quantities than in others, and the railroads by their freight facilities open a much wider market for its consumption; indeed, many of the passenger trains have a pulque car attached, in which the huge hogsheads of this intoxicant are carried to all the principal towns and cities. This has notably increased drunkenness and petty crimes in many districts, and added to the inebriety caused by the use of strong distilled liquors, presents a sad picture. During the past year the secular papers have done good service in calling attention to the evil, and to a great degree advocating temperance measures.

Most of the missions publish Sabbath-school lesson-papers similar to those used at home. The Presbyterian Question-book is published in Spanish in monthly portions by missionaries of the Board, and these are used by the Presbyterian and Congregational missions. Rev. Mr. Morales uses in his church of Divino Salvador, illustrated lesson-charts with much effect, and during the week he employs them also in the different day-schools.

Mr. Brown reports having attended the examinations in some of the day-schools, and as having found that a very satisfactory work was being carried on. In the States of Tobasco, Michoacan, Hidalgo, and Guerrero the people are beginning to take an interest and pride in the schools and to show an increasing desire for a better education. At an examination in one town in Hidalgo, nearly the whole population, not a large one, was present. In many places the people pay a part of the teacher's salary.

Encouraging progress is reported in the matter of self-help, contributions being made toward the day-schools and the support of the churches, also for the furnishing of seats, lights, etc. In many places societies of young people have been organized to raise funds to help on the work. Mr. Morales has in his congregation a society of children known as Christ's Jewels, whose membership has increased to eighty. These children contributed during the year $22, a large sum considering the great poverty of the people.

At the last meeting of the Presbytery of Mexico, the question of organizing a Mexican Home Mission Board was agitated, and though conclusions have not been reached, the leaven of such an idea is working in the minds and hearts of the people, and surely no better and more auspicious step could be taken. The very life of the Mexican Church involves the necessity of an aggressive and self-propagating element.

PAPAL EUROPE.

The Waldenses

A very responsible work is laid upon the Waldensian Church, the aim of which is to grasp from the hands of Rome the fair land of Italy with its 30,000,000 of souls, and give to them a pure gospel. Great results have already been achieved. There is a college and theological school, and an advanced school for girls, while scattered over the kingdom are a number of primary schools. There are 44 churches with 38 pastors, 8 evangelists, 67 evangelical teachers, besides colporteurs and Bible-readers. But far transcending all visible results is the leaven of its influence in the promulgation of freedom of thought, and in the emancipation of the people from sacerdotal tyranny and superstition.

The 16th of August last was celebrated by the Waldensian Church of Italy as the two hundredth anniversary of the return of the exiled Vaudois to their homes in the Alpine valleys of Piedmont, from which they had been driven by the persecution of Rome. In the dead of night, August 16, 1689, the exiles, whose number had been reduced to less than a thousand, under the leadership of their pastor, Henri Arnaud, embarked in small boats at Nions, with the purpose of landing on the hostile French shore, and thence forcing their way through the wild passes of Savoy and over the Cottian Alps. After untold hardship they reached at last the mountains overlooking the valleys of their birth, only to find their path obstructed by an Italian army of 2,000 men, sent out by the Duke of Turin. Though badly armed, the heroic band, some of whom had never handled a musket before, attacked and defeated the Italian army, leaving 600 of the latter dead upon the field. Filled with chagrin by this signal defeat, the Romanists sent out another army of 20,000 men under the Marquis de Catinat. It is impossible to describe the terrible sufferings to which the patriots were exposed on those bleak Alpine mountains during the dreary months of the following winter and spring. On May 1, 1690, occurred the heroic storming of the Balsi by the Vaudois, ending in a second complete defeat of their enemies; but on the 14th of the same month, in a second attack upon the same fortress, the patriots were disastrously defeated and scattered over the mountains. For months the unequal struggle continued, until at length it seemed as though the cause of Protestantism in Italy was forever lost. At this crisis, however, help came from an unexpected source. Difficulties arose between the courts of Versailles and Turin, and war was declared by the latter. The Duke of Turin, seeing it was useless to waste his energies upon a band of mountaineers who had baffled and in several cases defeated the best soldiery of France and Italy, forgave the Waldenses and established them in their homes, in return for which numbers of them enlisted in his service. It was in this unlooked-for way that peace came to the valleys of Piedmont, and that the cause of Protestant Christianity, the fate of which had so long trembled in the balance, became firmly established.

The Evangelical Churches of France.

The annual report of the Evangelical Society of France for the year closing December, 1889, records a large number of very encouraging incidents which have occurred in the experience of the agents of the Society in the various parts of France. While there is on the other side much apathy and discouragement, while no large movements are reported in the direction of a more evangelical faith and life, here and there throughout the different provinces there are tokens of an earnest spirit of inquiry, and a leaven of discontent with the deadness and formality of the Roman Catholic faith and teaching. Again and again these men, when permitted to address meetings attended by Romanists, have heard with satisfaction their expressions of surprise that this Gospel preaching should be so different from anything that they had ever heard from other sources, though the two religions were professedly the same. Hundreds are thus reached who do not hesitate to make known the fact that they really had never heard the Gospel in its legitimate presentation before. The difficulty which appears on the other hand is the lack of co-operation and organization—here and there is an individual or a family, here and there a little group holding up the torch of the truth in the midst of surrounding darkness. “This religion,” said one, “is much better than ours, and I would go over to Protestantism were I not so old.” “I am sure I will be excommunicated,” said an inn-keeper, “but that does not matter, I have heard such good things.” “Come and see us again,” says many a hearer. One woman is reported as having walked twenty miles to receive the Lord’s Supper, but such believers are too widely scattered and are surrounded by thousands of Romanists, and even in Protestant churches there is often great apathy, induced probably by more or less rationalistic influence. While Christians in America contribute of their means to keep alive these sparks from off the true altar, there is need that their prayers ascend to God for the influence of the Holy Spirit, who is omnipotent and who can make dry bones even rise up into life.

Rev. L. J. Bertrand, of Paris, has been engaged during a part of the year in representing in this country the Central Society of the Reformed Church of France, the Evangelization Society of the Free Church, and the Society for Training Evangelists, and the Board has consented to receive and transmit funds which the churches have contributed for these Societies. There are embraced within this union of missionary operations between six and seven hundred churches* and Sunday-schools, with many Young Men's Christian Associations. They have two preparatory training-schools and two theological seminaries, in one of which there are seventy-eight students. They support a Bible and Tract Society, and, although their total number of communicants is only about three-quarters of a million, the benevolences of their churches, independent of current expenses, amount to not less than a million of francs. This is a fact which ought to remove all the doubts of those who may have the impression that the poor churches of France are willing to live upon the charity of their brethren in other lands. All France is now open to evangelistic effort, and these churches are struggling to withstand the power of Rome and to present the truth of God in its purity. They are worthy of help.

Belgium.—A Missionary Church.

Rev. Kennedy Anet, of Brussels, has sent us the following instructive facts :

“At the time of the Reformation, that part of the Netherlands now called Belgium was one of the countries of Europe where the light of the Gospel shone with the greatest brightness. If this glorious period of Belgian history is almost forgotten, it is because the Protestants were swept away by the Spanish Inquisition ; thousands were executed, burned alive, or put to the sword by Philip the Second's soldiers, whilst others had to seek a refuge in foreign lands.

“During more than two hundred years darkness reigned supreme in this land. At the beginning of the century there were only a few Protestants scattered here and there, but within the last fifty years the country which had been steeped in the blood of martyrs, has been yielding a rich harvest, and its whitening fields are of still greater promise for the future.

“This work has been principally accomplished by the Evangelical Society founded in 1837. In 1848 it took the title of ‘The Christian Missionary Church of Belgium.’ At first it encountered many difficulties. In some places violent opposition, ill-treatment, and persecution in different forms impeded the work, while in others the pastors found it impossible to meet the demands for preaching and teaching, so gladly was the Gospel received.

“It is said that in Belgium there are 30,000 men toiling day and night in the coal mines. This represents a large population employed either in the pits or in the factories that have sprung up near these rich supplies of fuel. It is among this people, for the most part wretchedly poor and either grossly superstitious or openly atheistic—often sunk to the lowest of immorality—that our Church is at work. The glorious promises of the Gospel message and the untold joy it imparts find ready access to the hearts of these poor toilers, in whom long hours of labor (generally from 12 to 16), bad pay, and rough treatment produce a great yearning for something better to hope for. It is in the dark galleries of the pit, in the workshops, and in the factories that the best spiritual work is being done. It is there that our converts have abundant opportunities of showing their colors. Formerly they were known for cock-fighting, drinking, and swearing; now their employers recognize that they have become sober and gentle. They wonder at the change; and the light that has been made to shine before men is reflected in the hearts of others.

“Genval, near the field of Waterloo, was the first station where the new Society sent an agent. It has now 27 organized churches and 59 preaching stations. It works in about 80 other localities, where the Gospel is preached occasionally. Two hundred other localities are visited by its colporteurs. It has 38 pastors, evangelists or colporteurs, and Bible-readers and more than 7,000 church members (including children), of whom, only 400 are Protestants by origin.”

Western Persia Mission.

In general it may be said of Persia that an awakening has begun. The third visit of the Shah to Europe has taken place, and now he is showing himself the foremost man in Persia in desiring reforms and progress. Concessions and proclamations announce the dawn of a new era. Banks have been opened in the capital at Tabriz. The Karun River is being made a highway of commerce from the south into the heart of the country. Railways are projected, mines and manufactories are opened, and highways are built. There are more signs of progress in the two years past than in a thousand years before. These signs of the times render certain the incoming of English and American capital and enterprise. They also render our mission stations strategic points for the great campaign of evangelization on the broad field of Western Asia. Nearly twenty degrees of longitude must be crossed before our missions in Persia can clasp hands with the China missions. We must ever have an eye on this great field and estimate the work of the year, not only as so much done, but as far more a preparation for the great work yet to do. The day of opportunity is at hand.

The region to be evangelized by this mission covers a large part of ancient Assyria or Media, twice the area of the State of Ohio, and indirectly a much larger region in the Caucasus and beyond under Russian dominion. The key of the position is found in the nominal Christians, Nestorians, or Old Syrians, and Armenians. These old churches have been preserved as the buried seed that is to spring up under the power of the pure Gospel, and thus to form the base for the wider work for Jews and Moslems. Among the Syriac-speaking Christians there are two stations, Oroomiah and Tiary, and among the Armenians Tabriz and Salmas.

The year past has seen the return of several missionaries who were on furlough, Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Wright, and Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Cochran. Mrs. D. P. Cochran and Miss Holliday returned in the autumn after a furlough in the United States, and Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Shedd in the spring. Of those in the field a year ago Dr. and Mrs. Holmes, of Tabriz, greatly to the regret of his Royal Highness the heir-apparent of Persia and of the mission, have been obliged to leave because of the serious illness of the latter. For the same reason Miss Roberts, of Salmas, has come to America. Miss Morgan is unable yet to return. Miss Dale has been transferred from Tabriz to Teheran. It is expected that the mission will be reinforced by a missionary for Tabriz and two single ladies for Oroomiah as soon as they can be sent. A lay missionary for the industrial work at Oroomiah it is hoped will soon be appointed.

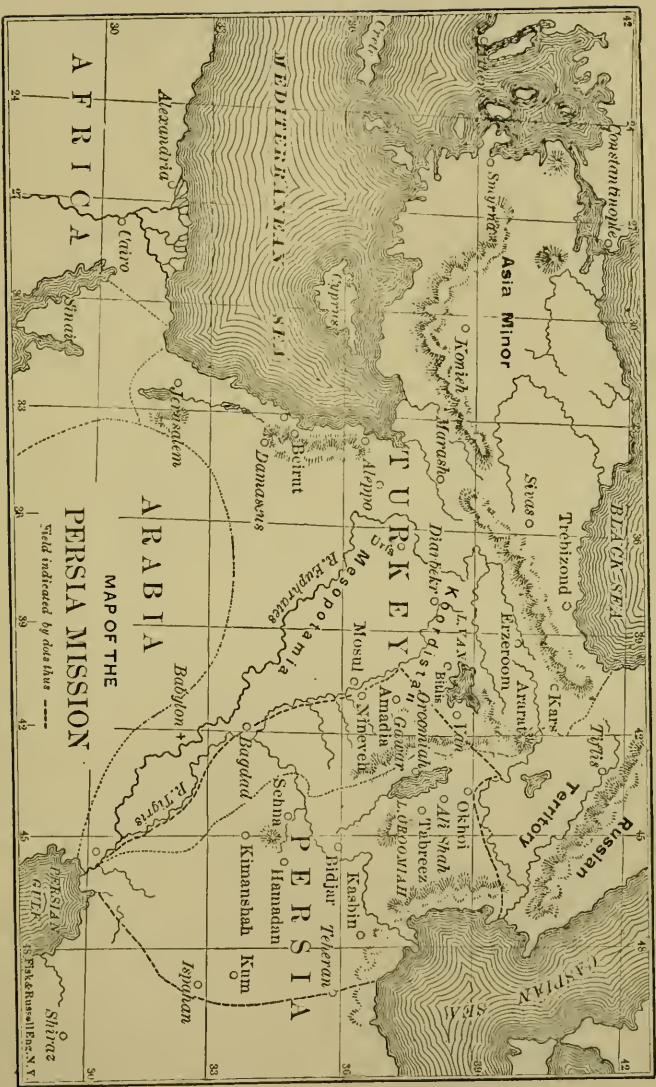

Oroomiah Station.

There are several departments here to be reported. In general the year has been filled with anxieties as well as encouragements. At the opening of the year there were within the church divisions that happily have been healed. Without was the active and aggressive opposition to our mission by the English Ritualists. These causes have operated against spiritual results, and the number of additions to the churches is the smallest reported for many years.

It is a singular and painful fact that notwithstanding this gain there is actual loss in the total number of genuine Christians. A new and more rigid rule has been enforced in the church. The rolls have been purged. Many have been led astray by the Ritualistic party, and the loose morals taught by their new teachers in regard to Sabbath observance, wine-drinking, and other things.

In the opening of the year, however, many of the erring had been reclaimed, and a new and better era had dawned on the church. A genuine revival was in progress, resulting in more than a hundred converts. Prayer is earnestly offered that still greater blessings may follow this happy beginning.

Another critical condition in our work is the restlessness of our young people arising from a desire to better their temporal prospects by money-making or going abroad. In some respects this is not blameworthy. We all rejoice to see these long-oppressed Christians rising to a higher plane of life and prosperity, and the missionaries are trying to help them in this. But this condition of mind is not favorable to spiritual things. There are, however, some earnest Christian workers, and the year 1889 closes with a brighter outlook than it began.

The Spirit and Growth of Christian Character, as reported at the gathering last summer for Bible study and prayer, was a great encouragement. The same spirit and earnest prayer and hard work and faithful searching of heart were manifest at the fall meeting of the Synod. The week of prayer followed and was observed with solemnity and hopefulness and with special interest in a few places. The hopes of succeeding weeks were frustrated by the widespread influenza, which for a time paralyzed congregations and schools. This world-wide illness has caused much suffering and many deaths, and the apprehension of cholera to follow throws a cloud over the future which ought to render men thoughtful. Four ordained native ministers have been removed by death. One of them, Rev. Mr. Hormezd, was a prominent Christian man and moderator of the Synod.

The Generous Giving to the Missionary Funds is mentioned. More has been raised for the native missionary fund than ever before, and the activity of the native Board is very encouraging in visiting the congregations and in spreading the glad tidings. They are prepared to pay one-third the cost of several churches through their Church Erection Board. The Home Mission Board has raised $250. The Evangelical Board of the Synod expects to collect and distribute $360 this year.

The Work for Moslems has been marked by no wonderful results, but several inquirers are spoken of—some of them men of standing. One of the converts was violently attacked by a Moslem in a public place, and it was surprising that he escaped with his life. Another witness for Christ has closed his life triumphantly. "It is touching to think of the love to Christ which sustained this poor soul to the last in trust upon the Saviour against the entreaties and jeers of his friends. Surely it cost something for him to believe and hold fast his profession firmly to the end." The work for Moslem Women and Girls bears fruit. Miss Van Duzee's report of work is full of interest. The evidence of the Holy Spirit's presence among the daughters of Islam we accept as a proof that the Lord is willing to answer prayer and to bless the humble means for poor Christless souls. It is a question that presses upon the missionary how to make larger efforts, and they lay it upon the hearts of all Christians as a subject to be constantly brought to the Lord in prayer.

The Work for Women all over this field is pressing, and the mission appeal urgently for a single lady to devote herself to village work. Such work in many places is more productive than similar efforts for men, as the women are always at home and can be reached more systematically. The work of the native evangelist or Bible-reader, Laya, has been reported in "Woman's Work for Woman."

The Village Schools.—The report for the winter of 1888-9 says :

"The school fund was short, and, for the sake of economy, the station reduced the number of schools from 85 to 73. In Gawar the Turkish Government expelled three teachers and closed three schools. They seemed determined to stop our school work in this region if possible. In Nochea, just south of Gawar, the Metropolitan is very friendly. A theological student, much beloved, spent several winters successfully in this district, but last spring he was attacked by Koords, who aimed to kill him. After being badly beaten he was jammed into an oven in the ground and left for dead. He recovered consciousness and mercifully escaped to the plains. The report of his death had preceded him. There was consequently great joy among his weeping friends when he appeared as one risen from the dead. Notwithstanding this treatment he is ready to return again to his field of labor. While there was a falling off in numbers the quality of schools was never better. The competition in some villages was very sharp with the free schools offered by the Ritualists, and it is a sign of the stability of our work that this competition has caused so little real injury. All our prayers and efforts are to the end that our young men who are acting as teachers may feel the responsibility of their position, and may have power from on high for their work. With a consecrated corps of teachers we may look for blessed results." Of the past winter Mr. R. M. Labaree, who has charge, says: "This winter our schools start out with flattering prospects, and we think last winter's work will be excelled. The superior abilities and greater faithfulness of our teachers have been very manifest and are bearing fruit."

In Higher Education for Girls the year is signalized as the first in the new building of the "Fidelia Fiske Seminary," and nearly 100 girls in attendance. Miss Dean's failing health has thrown heavy burdens upon the young shoulders of Miss Melton, and the call for help is very urgent. It is needed at once, that the interests of the school may not seriously suffer. We have not at hand the full report of this school.

Oroomiah College has had a prosperous year, with 100 students in attendance. Mr. St. Pierre, the superintendent, reports: Theological students, 12; college course, 56; preparatory or special, 32—total, 100. "The two terms were full of intellectual activity. There was good order throughout. The religious life was very encouraging. The revivals seemed only the natural fruit of the deep religious feeling pervading the entire year. They were revivals, too, in the true sense of awakening Christians. In the last term eight students were so thoroughly awakened that it seemed a conversion to them. They were church members before, but profoundly asleep, and their new confessions were evidently induced by the Spirit. God was working mightily among them. If it be asked, were sinners converted? the answer is, that all our students are professing Christians and church members."

The teaching force was very much weakened by the absence of Dr. Shedd. Sixteen were graduated last July from the college course. They are now engaged as teachers and are very faithful and successful. A new class of 18 was admitted in September.

Expenses—The pupils bear the expense of their own board, books, clothes, and incidentals. The college furnishes the teaching and rooms. In a room, say 16 by 20, six or seven boys lodge. As they study, sit, and spread their beds at night upon the floor, very little furniture is required. They form clubs and board at an expense of only one dollar a month. Their food is very simple, consisting mainly of coarse bread and meat soup. They dress simply and certainly live very cheaply.

Equipment.—The college has grounds and buildings and library and apparatus worth twelve or fifteen thousand dollars. There are two main buildings, built of sun-dried brick, with red brick trimmings. They appear well and are roomy. One of these buildings was erected the last summer to enlarge the dormitory accommodations. A fund of $3,000 was raised last year for this new dormitory and to open an industrial department. This new department has been undertaken by the Board, under the conviction that education of the hand as well as of the head is important in this field. The native workers need self-reliance and ability to help themselves, and the Christian society must meet the question: How are our people to live honestly and thriftily as becomes the Gospel? To save the young men from demoralization, this industrial department is begun. "The college aims to be the centre of influence and enlightenment for a vast region. With this in view the mission have urged the collecting of funds for the permanent support of the institution, and that the effort be persevered in until the requisite amount be secured." There is an invested fund of $5,000, and the steady annual gift for current expenses from a gentleman in Philadelphia, of $2,000, which is the basis for the permanent support. Let a sufficient sum be put into this work and we shall see what God will do through such a native agency as shall be raised up.

The Medical Work, in the absence of Dr. Cochran, was conducted in part by Dr. Oshana Badal, the native medical assistant. The hospital was reopened on Dr. Cochran's return in the early winter, and the work of mercy has been going on since. The outlook of the medical work is always encouraging, and there is a class of several students under instruction.

The Press at Oroomiah has accomplished about the same in amount and quality of work as in previous years. Rev. Dr. Labaree in charge says: "Considering our isolation from skilled book manufactories, and the fact that our printers and binders are all trained on the ground and have but limited appliances for finished work, we have reason to congratulate ourselves on the comparative excellence of our press productions. Our type, for which the punches and matrices were made here, under the skilled direction of our first printing superintendent, Mr. Breath, are acknowledged as the most beautiful Syriac type in existence, and are adopted by some of the first Oriental publishing houses in Germany and England. It may be classed as one among the many aids contributed by foreign missions to the advancement of learning and scholarship in the world.

"The whole number of pages printed during the year was 688,720.

The most important work was a translation of Mr. Spurgeon's 'Morning by Morning.' It takes the place of a former work called 'Green Pastures,' which has long been a household volume among the lovers of devotional reading. The new volume promises to become even more a favorite than the earlier one."

The monthly newspaper and the Sabbath-school quarterly lesson papers are more widely taken than in any previous year. The Turkish authorities have forbidden the circulation of the books and papers in Turkey, which is much to be regretted, and deprives the Syrian Christians of Koordistan of their literature. The book circulation ending with June, 1889, was 2,272 volumes.

In the same connection should be mentioned the Revision of the Syriac Old Testament, which Dr. Labaree and a committee of native scholars have undertaken and have brought near completion. It has proved a work of more magnitude and perplexity than was at first supposed, and has required much deliberation and careful scholarship. It is really a revision in the same language in which parts of the Scripture were written—the Aramaic—the tongue spoken by our Saviour and His apostles. It should be done with prayer, pains, and patience to secure the best results.

Mr. Coan, whose report of evangelistic work was received after this report was prepared, gives many interesting facts, of which the following are a fair sample.

Mr. Coan says: "Our evening service was held in the largest and oldest house in the village of Murbeshoo. In a large room, 70 by 40 feet, dark with the smoke of nearly 200 years, lives a family of 72 souls. Here under one roof they eat, sleep, and live with four large ovens in the ground to furnish the cooking. From one of the walls, which is solid rock and toward the mountain side, gushes a beautiful spring right into the room. As this is the head family of the village, it is an inn for travellers as well, so that one is here always sure of a good congregation. I shall never forget the service that evening. In this dark room, lighted by a few flickering lamps, grouped in circles about their hearths, sat nearly 100 souls, from the aged great-grandfather to the little infants asleep in their cradles. A variety of creeds was represented in this one family. Right in front of me in one group sat two priests of the old church, one a venerable, fine-looking man, the other a Catholic priest who has no following; another a disciple of the Ritualists, and one a graduate from theology in our school in the class of 1888, with his mother, who is a Christian. All listened attentively to the simple Gospel story."

An hour from this place Mr. Coan was invited to preach in the old church, and there was no objection from priest or people. But they unitedly begged for a preacher and teacher to reside among them. Their request was granted and a school of more than 40 is in successful operation there.

A band of six young men, deeply impressed with the necessity of a purer Christianity and more closely following Christ, met regularly together for prayer and conference. They then were the means of arousing the pastor, resulting in a conference with the missionaries, and not long after the revival referred to in another part of this report began, and the greatest success seems to have been in places where there was the greatest coldness and unconcern.

In Ardeshai, where the church was unusually dead and the pastor greatly prejudiced, a remarkable revival has occurred, in which the church is greatly quickened, the pastor entirely won over, and 22 have confessed Christ and are determined to follow Him. One hundred and ten dollars were also subscribed as one-third toward a new church. The last report brought by Mr. St. Pierre from Golpashan, where he and Deacon Ismaiel worked three days, is grand. In this church that had the courage to drop 24 leading members, who did not show signs of repentance, all but four have again been received back, and 71 profess Christ for the first time. It is hoped that we have but seen the beginning, and that many churches from which earnest prayers have ascended may receive similar blessings.

The Mountain Department.

Last year's report mentioned the difficulty of locating the mountain station in Tiary, owing to a feud between the Tiary people and the surrounding Koords. This difficulty in a large measure continues, and the missionaries have had their headquarters in the field. The reports of the work are full of interest and encouragement. Mr. McDowell gives a vivid picture of missionary experience among nominal Christians, Yezidees, and Moslems. The most powerful Koordish sheikh is Sheikh Mohammed, of Bawmermee in Berwer. "My visit was made for the purpose of disarming the suspicions of the Koords of that region, who regard us as political agents of some kind hostile to them. The Mullahs and the sons of the sheikh received me very coolly, but the sheikh himself, who is a very old man and quite venerable in appearance, treated us with great courtesy. He expressed gratification at the explanations of our work, and gave us a cordial invitation to come again, especially after the arrival of Dr. Wishard. He voluntarily gave us, and especially the doctor, freedom to come and go through his territory at pleasure. Thus friendship was established at Koordish headquarters at the doorway of Tiary. Passing into Tiary, the leading Malek or chief manifested his usual friendliness, but intimated that the trouble with the Koords was in part because of the missionaries, and they should exert themselves to protect these Christians. This spirit is very strong among the Tiary people, that the business of missionaries and the Christian powers is to put the Koords under the feet of the Christians. It leads the mountain people, as their danger and difficulty increase, to offer their adherence to Russians, French, English, or Americans—to any one that promises civil protection. This condition renders the independent tribes of Tiary and Tkhoma a very difficult field at present." After spending a part of the winter in Tiary, Mr. McDowell returned through Berwer to Dihî, where there is a flourishing congregation, and then spent some weeks in Bohtan, a district further west. "Dr. Wishard arrived in the latter part of March, and very soon demonstrated the value of a physician in a new field. About the 1st of May he was called to visit a prominent man at Dihi, who was lying sick. He saved the man's life, but himself fell sick, and for a time his life was almost despaired of. It had been his intention to remain in the mountains during the summer, but in view of his physical condition and the lack of all conveniences, it was deemed best by us both that we go to Oroomiah." On the way in May occurred the robbery, fully detailed in the Church at Home and Abroad for March, 1890. After spending some weeks at Oroomiah and attending annual meeting, the two missionaries returned to their field in the fall. On entering Turkey they were met by quarantine, but the Turks learning that one of the missionaries was a physician, with the Sultan's commission in his hands, they were earnestly pressed into service at Mosul. Dr. Wishard at once was recognized as the medical authority in the cholera-stricken city, and soon acquired great influence with all classes. The winter just closing has thus been spent, partly in Mosul and partly in different districts. The latest intelligence, January 17, 1890, says of them at Dihi: "Dr. Wishard called upon the sheikh mentioned above, whose residence is but a short distance from Dihi. The sheikh readily gave his consent to our building a house in Dihi." So far as the station has a home it is found at this place. "Here will always be a centre of work, and a house in which to work is simply indispensable. I have planned the house, made all the estimates, and I trust we shall soon have a fair house at a moderate sum. It is to answer the purposes of church, school, pastor's residence, and also a residence for missionaries, and last, but not least, for a dispensary and hospital."

Turning from the outline of missionary movements to the work, Mr. McDowell gives a sketch of the field and its peoples, and the openings and departments of work, which must be condensed.

In the rugged mountains are the semi-independent tribes of Tiary and Tkhoma and the smaller districts of Tal and Rakan. Tal and Rakan have but few Christian villages. The latter gathers an audience every day, and on Sabbath it numbers about forty. Six persons are candidates for membership. Tkhoma is populous, forming an almost continuous village for miles. Muzrai, one of the largest centres, is also the centre of missionary operations. Good work was done by the young man stationed there, with large congregations and many who professed a desire to live a new life. There were two schools in Tkhoma.

Tiary lies along the Zab River, which divides it into two parts, each of these being again divided, making four divisions with four Maleks, or chiefs, and some 50 or 60 villages. Lizan and Zarnee are the only points where we have congregations. In the first there are but few members. One of these is the son of the Malek. He is a sober-minded man, and gives evidence of a regenerate heart.

Zarnee lies at the extreme lower end of Tiary. It is the point selected for the station. Our church numbers about 15 members, and the meetings held last winter were the means of much good. We had five schools in Tiary, but feeble ones.

Passing toward the plains of Assyria the next district is Berwer, with some 30 Syriac villages. The people are completely subject to the Koords, and these Koords are at war with the Tiary people. There are a few church members, and but a poor opportunity for quiet labor because of the threatening attitude of the Koords. Beyond a low range of hills lies the Supna district, with a large population, Koordish and Christian. The latter are largely Roman Catholics. We have one church at Dihi, where a mission-house is being built. Mr. McDowell says: "Our work in Dihi has been a source of joy to me. The church is exceptionally pure and zealous and full of good works. We have had daily meetings, and besides have held morning prayers in many houses of the village, and in the evening have visited from house to house with an experience the most blessed of my missionary life. There are a number who seem to have a change of heart, and it is not too much to expect that ere long the entire village will become Protestant, and the great majority of them true Christians."

From this point a three days' journey westward brings us to Bohtan, a very large district, part of it a fertile plain along the Tigris and part the mountains which lie toward Van. The church in Hassan is the oldest and largest, but successive years of famine and the oppressions of the Koords have crushed the life out of the people, still they give liberally out of their deep poverty to the support of their pastor. Monsoria is a large village on the Tigris River, with a strong and promising church, marked by brotherly love and zeal. They are always at work for specific persons, and there are always inquirers in the church. There is great opposition, but the progress is constant toward leavening the whole population with the Gospel truth. Above and below this point are large districts. Two of the villages visited are very interesting, and open to the Gospel and begging for a teacher. In two other directions the influence of the year must be noted. One of these is a tentative effort among the strange people called the Yezidees, or Worshipers of Satan, in the plain of Assyria. Two of our evangelists visited them, not as Christian teachers, but as artisans. The substance of their report, so far as it affects practical work, is that they were received in a very friendly manner; the people are open to religious conversation, show little consciousness of sin, but much openness to the Gospel. They are very ignorant, all education being confined to two families. Mission work would meet with little opposition from the lower classes, but the rulers, who are very suspicious, would fight it to the death. Open work would at present be impossible. Personal work done by Christian masons would be productive of much good. It is this method that is to be followed up for the present. The other direction was among the Roman Catholic Syrians of El Kosk, the reputed burial-place of Nahum, the prophet, and the seat of the Chaldean Patriarch. While our evangelist for the Yezidees was tarrying at El Kosk a large party of the people awoke to his instructions and threw off the Papal yoke, and asked him to be their teacher. The ecclesiastics soon raised a mob on a Sabbath evening, dragged the evangelist out of the village, beat him, maltreated him, destroyed his books, and took possession of his property. This case of persecution did not stop the movement. There is good hope of winning a permanent footing in this important centre.

In the entire field there are six churches with about 150 members. Twelve preachers were employed during the winter, seven of them being evangelists for part of the time. There were twelve schools. The number of accessions to the churches was not definitely reported. Three of these churches contributed to their own support.

The medical work of Dr. Wishard began on the day of his arrival last year, in March. He at once treated many patients, thus winning the favor of the Government and of the important Koordish leaders. At every place he visits he is overwhelmed with patients, and he has pressing invitations from chiefs whom he hopes to visit. On every hand his influence is felt, while in the city of Mosul there is an urgent demand for his constant presence.

The experience of the past year shows that the seal of divine approval rests upon earnest, self-denying labors all over the Syriac-speaking field, both in Persia and Turkey, notwithstanding serious difficulties. There is the living church of 2,000 members, and radiating influences upon the great Moslem population in many directions, which render the reformation and mission work going forward among the Nestorians an important factor in the evangelization of the East.

Tabriz.

The mission force at this important centre has suffered depletion since last report. Dr. Holmes and his wife were obliged to leave on account of ill-health. For a year before he left Dr. H. was physician-in-chief to his Royal Highness the Vali Ahd, or heir-apparent of Persia, but he was at this post in the full spirit of a missionary. Rev. W. L. Whipple, the agent of the A. B. Society, with headquarters at Tabriz, who co-operates earnestly with our brethren, is also absent on furlough, and Rev. Mr. Oldfather is on his way to America. Mr. Wilson is the only clerical missionary left, and greatly needs the promised reinforcements.

The work has gone forward as in the previous year. Two preaching services have been regularly supplied. The church has received seven additions, mostly from the schools.

Outstations.—The field work from Tabriz comprises about three-fourths of the province of Azerbaijan, one of the most populous and fertile of the provinces of Persia. There are several cities of importance. In two of these—Maragha and Soujbullak—there are permanent preachers and congregations. Their work has prospered the past year, both among Moslems and other races. In two smaller places—Mianduab and Ilkachee—schools and services have been kept up. In these outstations there are 16 communicants.

Itinerant labors by four evangelists have been going on most of the year. The report says: "The Moslems have a listening ear for the truth. There is certainly a spirit of inquiry and unrest among them, and while for the present Babism (whose head is a captive at Acre, in Syria) is flourishing greatly, our hope is that when the expectations inspired by this new religion fail, its devotees may turn to Christ the true 'Bab' or 'Door.' This preaching of the Word in connection with Bible distribution has been going on in the cities and villages for several years. It is looked upon with unconcern by the Government as harmless. Its results are preparatory in most cases, removing prejudice and giving to many correct ideas of Christianity, as well as the Word of God to read. One of our evangelists writes of work in the camp of the Shah when he was on the road to Europe. 'Half a mile distant from Zenjan I took some books with me to the camp. I met many educated men and sold them some Bibles. After that I went to the tent of the Shah, and told the chief of the eunuchs that I had brought for his Majesty the Shah the Word of God. He did not let me go in, but took the books from me and carried them to the Shah, who returned me the value of the Bibles. I talked much with the chief of the eunuchs about Jesus, that we can by Him be saved from the servitude of Satan. Then I went to the prince, uncle of the Shah, and talked to him of the love of God who sent His Son to die on the cross. He was very glad to hear and bought two Bibles.'"

Other encouraging tours were made among the Jews to the south and among the Armenians of Karadagh. This kind of effort, however, has been largely prevented by other work. Books have been circulated in several languages; in all 2,196 volumes sold. "There is a good demand for religious books in Armenian and for the 'Pilgrim's Progress' in Persian."

Educational work in Tabriz and in the outstations has gone on more quietly than in any previous year.

The boys' school in Tabriz is well organized with primary, intermediate, high-school, and theological class; in all 20 boarding and 47 day pupils. The upper class of the high-school has seven promising young men. The class in theology was just beginning, and students were expected from the Caucasus as well as from Persia. The seven graduates of last summer are doing good work in the schools. Three are teaching in Tabriz field, two in Salmas, and two in Oroomiah. The graduation of this class was the first annual commencement of the high-school. They represented five districts or cities of Persia and one of the Caucasus. They are all believers, and have made such progress, mentally and spiritually, as to render these first-fruits very precious. Their graduation was honored by the presence of consuls, and generals, and others—Persian and European—of high official rank. There are plans for the enlargement of this school which promise much good.

The pressing need is a suitable building, as the term of rent of the present poorly-adapted buildings is soon to expire. Under the circumstances the mission urgently requested the Board to allow an effort to be made to raise special funds, not to interfere with the regular income of the Board. After careful examination the Board approved. An appeal appeared in the March number of the Church at Home and Abroad. God's answer was most remarkable through a generous friend, who at once pledged the $10,000 needed to open this Christian training-school in the commercial capital of Persia. The building will be a memorial, as is also the new church edifice in Tabriz. They both, we trust, will stand till the light of the blessed Gospel shall shine over all Persia.

The Girls' School in Tabriz has had a prosperous year, having 30 day pupils in the lower department and 25 pupils in the boarding department. The report says: "The studies of the year have been pursued without interruption—with no sickness. Nine of the girls testified a desire to live a new life by faith in Christ Jesus. Examinations were held in January, April, and June. Those in June continued three days. A class of four girls—all Christians—graduated. It was a pretty sight—those four white-robed girls, their faces bright with anticipations of future happy usefulness, as they stood listening to Mrs. Van Hook's parting words of loving counsel. One was married and has gone with her husband to Mianduab as helper and teacher. Another has gone to Salmas to aid Miss Van Duzee. Two remain as teachers in this institution." The ladies of the school have been able to make between three and four hundred calls in addition to school duties. Mrs. Van Hook gratefully contrasts the beginnings ten years ago, when with difficulty three girls were induced to enter the missionary's house, and only ten pupils were enrolled for the year, and the present, with a handsome, commodious building filled with boarding and day pupils, four competent native teachers, and an excellent matron, and lessons in higher studies and music, along with the constant study of the Bible and Catechism. The progress shows what God has wrought.

Medical Work.—Miss M. E. Bradford, M.D., arrived in Tabriz in the fall of 1888. She devoted herself to the study of the language at first, and refused medical work as far as possible. After a few months she opened the dispensary once a week in self-defence, so many came to her house at all hours. A month later a second day was added, and before long every day there were patients seen for three hours. From August, 1889, she was able to converse with these patients without an interpreter. Previous to that time Mrs. Wilson devoted a great deal of time to helping at the dispensary and in visits at houses.

Dr. Holmes' faithful service for many years did much toward securing for Miss Bradford the hearty reception she received. For three months also she had the benefit of his advice and experience.

The summary of work embraces 565 visits to houses, 450 new patients, 450 office visits, and 1,204 prescriptions. Dr. Bradford says: "The social grade of the people to whom we have gone ranges from the highest to the lowest. The rich have received us gladly, and not less have we gone to the poor and miserable who were suffering in some damp cellar or hovel. One of the chief wives of His Majesty the Shah, during a short stay in Tabriz, sent for us several times. She spoke of the great need of lady physicians in this land and expressed the wish to have one at the capital. When informed that Dr. Smith was coming to that city, she wrote expressing great joy. There have been frequent visits to the household of His Royal Highness the Vali Ahd and also at the home of the Chief Councillor.

“By means of this medical work many have heard the Bible and been told of Christ as their Saviour. At the dispensary there is a short service before treating the patients. A Bible-woman always stays in the waiting-room, and often she has been invited to visit the houses.”

There is continual pressure to enlarge the medical work into a hospital, and Miss Bradford makes an appeal for such an enlargement in Tabriz, but the way does not seem yet fully prepared.

Salmas.

Mr. Wright returned to this station in the fall of 1889, the burden of the work previously falling upon Mr. Mechlin, who was still imperfectly acquainted with the language. Miss Roberts being compelled to leave, Miss Dale was persuaded to take her place for the year, but she returns again to Teheran. This mission force is now divided: Mr. and Mrs. Mechlin and two single ladies, living in Haftdewan, an Armenian town, and headquarters for Armenian work; Mr. and Mrs. Wright, living in Oola, the headquarters for the work among Nestorians, Roman Catholics, and Moslems.

In Haftdewan there is as yet no church. The congregation on Sunday varies from thirty to ninety. There is a great change in the friendliness of the people, but the cry is for God's Spirit to breathe upon them the breath of life. The larger part of the audience is composed of women, to whom the missionary ladies give a special talk after the sermon. Occasionally some of the young men and a few of the older men come in. Miss Van Duzee spends much of her time visiting in Haftdewan and in the surrounding villages, and meets with a kind reception. In Education the effort for the Armenians is certainly encouraging. There were 60 boys in school from February to July. As fast as the poor boys dropped out in the spring to care for kids and calves or work on the farm, the sons of the richer class came in. Several cases were noted, where the parents opposed, but the boys said they would not go to school unless it was the mission school, and a night class for the larger boys succeeded for a time, but the influenza broke up the class. Daily lessons are given in the school, and it is hoped that a boarding department may be added soon. The Girls' School has had 10 boarders, and the roll has 72 day pupils. Some of the latter are very irregular, but the average has been about 50. Miss Dale had a busy winter. The most remarkable thing is that the Armenian priests do not forbid the girls attending the school.

The outstations for Armenian work are at Old City or Old Salmas and Khoy, with not very encouraging progress.

The work in Oola is in good condition, with audiences of 50 and 60, and interesting meetings for the women, and not the least interesting have been those for the Moslem women. There has been but one addition to the church, which numbers 28 members. The Girls School is conducted by Khorma, who was for several years a worker in the Chinese Home in San Francisco. In Gulezan, an adjoining village, is an interesting school, chiefly of Moslem boys. In these villages the Romanists are the great opposers, by all the means they know so well how to use. In Khosrowa, their stronghold, our colporteur has his rented house and many of the people are friendly, but not ready to confess the truth against the persecution. The Colporteur Work has been large in the sale of Bibles and school-books; in the Armenian villages especially there is constant demand.

A new interest has started among the Jews of Old Salmas. A young man from the Oroomiah Theological Class has succeeded beyond expectations. He rented a room and his widowed aunt keeps house for him, and has gathered a school of 30 boys and young men, and a large attendance at the service for prayer and expounding the Word. The Jews are much divided among themselves, the liberal portion welcoming the Christian teacher as often as he will attend their synagogue. It is another indication of the gathering in of the chosen people in the lands of their long captivity.

The report speaks of the friendliness of the people. "I count among my best friends some of the chief Moslems of this district," says Mr. Mechlin. But there is the lack of deep spiritual power and the ingathering of souls which must come if the faithful laborers faint not.

Other missions in the field are the French Lazarists of the Romish Church and the Anglican Ritualists among the Syriac-speaking people. In the Tabriz field Swedish missionaries—evangelical and earnest—are at work. They found restrictions in the Russian dominions so great that they have come over into the more tolerant kingdom of the Shah, and it is hoped that they will join in fellowship and comity with our missionaries.

The first report of the mission in Persia under this Board was for the year 1871, nineteen years ago. The station then was only one, at Oroomiah; the communicants were 700; pupils in schools, 960. Compare with this the present work of six stations, and in the Western Mission over 2,000 communicants and 2,374 pupils in the schools, and we can see that the work is progressing rapidly, giving us good ground for expecting a great blessing in the near future.

NOTE.—After this report was in type refreshing news has come from Oroomiah. The revival which began in Ardeshai had extended its influence until about four hundred persons have been converted, and the blessed work continues.

Eastern Persia Mission.

The year in this mission was rendered somewhat eventful by the presence of cholera in Hamadan and its threatened invasion of Teheran. The visitation, however, was confined to the former station, and there our missionaries were mercifully preserved, although the scourge entered our Faith Hubbard School, claiming one of the girls as its victim, and necessitating the closing of the school for a time. The presence of the disease within the bounds of the mission seemed to render it prudent to omit the usual annual meeting. It also temporarily interfered with the distribution of the new missionaries who had accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Potter on their return to Teheran, viz., Miss Mary W. Greene, Miss Adeline Hunter, and Mary J. Smith, M.D. Miss Hunter, though under appointment to Hamadan, spent the winter in the capital studying the language and assisting in the boys' school.

Teheran Station.

The spiritual condition of the two churches connected with this station is not as encouraging as in former years. That at Resht—some 200 miles from the capital—is at best but a feeble flock, and labors under the disadvantage of being far removed from the immediate supervision of a foreign missionary, although having the ministrations of a native pastor. It numbers only nine members, none having been added during the year. A letter from Teheran laments the spiritual lethargy of the church in that city, a number of the members giving little evidence of a deep spirituality, and not a few of them being addicted to the wine-drinking habit of the country, to the manifest detriment of their spiritual life. One was dropped from the roll, and four were suspended during the year. It is hoped that the measures now taken may result in the purifying of the church and the deepening of individual piety. It is gratifying to report on the other hand that four persons were received into the church on confession of faith, and that the attendance on the Sabbath services averaged 136. Preaching was sustained in the Persian language on Sunday morning and Friday afternoon, while services were held in Armenian on Sunday afternoons in the West Side chapel, where Baron Mahran has recently been placed in charge. The envelope system of giving to the Lord's work, introduced a year ago, has worked well, the total gifts for the year, including the Christmas offering, amounting to about $193.

The work at Kasvin, an outstation under the charge of Mirza Ohannes, is reported as flourishing. The native evangelist is an enthusiastic laborer, busying himself with selling the Scriptures, holding services in Armenian and Persian on the Lord's day, and embracing every opportunity for private conversation on religious subjects. Mr. Esselstyn visited the point during June, spending two days there and administering the Lord's Supper to a few of the members of Teheran church located there temporarily or permanently. The success of the evangelist has to some extent excited the fanaticism of the Moslems, so that he finds great difficulty in securing a house to rent, but few of the Armenians owning property at that place. Some have asked for the organization of a church and the establishment of a school. During the year Mr. Esselstyn visited twenty-six villages, mostly Mohammedan, repeating the visits several times in a number of instances, and preaching the Gospel as he had opportunity without marked opposition.

Educational.—The Girls' Boarding-School is henceforth to be known as "Iran Bethel"—the Persian Bethel. May it ever prove to be a house of God! Eighty-one girls were enrolled during the year, representing five nationalities, and speaking six languages. Of these 12 are professing Christians, and 5 others have expressed a desire to confess Christ. The spiritual atmosphere of the school seems to be healthful. The report from the pen of Miss Schenck says: "The girls all have part in family worship morning and evening, repeating Scripture singly and in concert. Morning prayers are followed by a silent devotional time before breakfast. The weekly school prayer-meeting is conducted by the Christian girls. Very precious and helpful times we have together. Several are efficient Bible-teachers, both daily in the school and in the church Sunday-school; their faithfulness, interest, and spirituality adding not a little to the effectiveness of the teachers' meeting held weekly at the house of Mr. Esselstyn. A few of the girls have earned their clothing by giving help in teaching, while all have taken part in the domestic work of the school. The school is advancing steadily toward self-support."

"The summer was occupied as usual with the Industrial School. It is all its name indicates as to industry for all concerned—a steadily unintermitted day-by-day occupation—planning, cutting, fixing, directing, calculating, following up, correcting, and instructing a lot of children eager and interested beyond their years, deserving credit for good, faithful work, yet after all the most childish of children. A number are very helpful in using the machines. This is an all-important part of our school work, not only as necessary to a girl's education, but essential for sanitary and prudential reasons, to have the clothing and household articles ready for use. Indeed, without the result of the Industrial School, we should be quite unprepared to have a school at all. This summer the two months given up to this work produced more than 900 articles of clothing and household outfit, including some 2,500 buttonholes."

Miss Greene has been added to the teaching force of this institution, and with the consent of the West Persia Mission, the Board has transferred Miss Dale to her former place in the school, expecting, however, that a good portion of her time will be devoted to work among the women. These additions are most timely, as the burden upon Miss Schenck and Miss Bassett has been very heavy.

The Boys' School, under the care of Mr. Ward, made decided progress during the year in numbers, efficiency, and self-support. Eighty were enrolled, 46 being in the boarding department, and 34 being day scholars. Of the entire number 14 are Mohammedans, 4 fire worshippers, 2 Americans, 1 English, and the rest Armenians. Twenty-seven of the boarders paid in whole or in part; 26 of the day pupils took breakfast in the school and paid for it. Last year but 14 of the pupils contributed anything toward their own support. The receipts from tuition this year amounted to $225. Some difficulty has been experienced in securing satisfactory teachers, but it is believed that this has now been overcome. The spiritual condition of the school has not been what could be desired, but Mr. Ward writes: "During the present term I have seen decided signs of more earnest purpose on the part of the professors of religion, and more respectful attention at the religious exercises on the part of all." As the school has been established with the ultimate purpose of training Christian teachers and ministers, it is earnestly hoped that the superintendent's desire may be realized in seeing a deeper interest in spiritual things on the part of the pupils.

This station was honored during the year by a visit from the Emined-Dowleh, Minister of Posts and President of the Shah's Cabinet. After a careful inspection of the schools, he expressed himself as highly gratified at seeing such a work going forward for the uplifting of Persia. He has since expressed a desire to have a school for Moslem boys begun under supervision of the Americans.

Medical.—Several years ago, on the basis of the generous gift of Mrs. M. W. Ferry, of Lake Forest, the Board authorized the establishing of a hospital, it being understood in advance that a site for the purpose was to be given by the Prime Minister of Persia. This hope, however, was never realized, and it was finally determined to abandon the idea of securing a gift and to purchase a site for the hospital over which the Board might have control. Through the kindness of some of the officials this was secured at a comparatively low price, about one mile from the present mission premises, the Shah having suggested that it would not be well to plant it too near the government hospital. The lot comprises twenty-four thousand square yards. Upon this is being erected at present a pavilion for the accommodation of 20 patients and also a house for the resident physician. Ground was broken on May 18, 1889, and the corner-stone laid on August 6th, the Hon. E. Spencer Pratt, American Minister to the Shah, presiding on the occasion and making a brief address. It is to be noted with gratitude that the work is progressing without interference on the part of the local authorities, and that a gift of 20,000 bricks has been made by the brother of the Prime Minister. Meanwhile work has been prosecuted at the dispensary as usual, 4,237 prescriptions having been issued during the year. It is to be regretted that the religious work connected with this department has not been prominent, as it has not been thought best to provoke Mussulman prejudice by systematic religious instruction. It is expected that the opening of the hospital will make a new departure in this direction, as provision will be made not only for stated religious services, but for such other Christian effort as is possible with indoor patients. In this work, both medical and spiritual, Mary J. Smith, M.D., a recent graduate of one of the Chicago Medical Colleges, is henceforth to be associated with Dr. Torrence.

Hamadan Station.

The distracting elements which had disturbed the church at this station for some time have happily disappeared, and two very delightful communion seasons were held during the year. That observed in July was preceded by a week of special services which proved to be refreshing and helpful both to the missionaries and the church. Nine were received on confession of faith during the year, 3 of them being from the Faith Hubbard Girls' School, and one from the Boys' High-School. This church, like that at Teheran, has felt the blighting curse of the wine trade. After years of patient and prayerful effort, the session was constrained to dismiss four of the members during the year because of their connection with this trade. Three of these still continue to attend divine services, and it is hoped that the discipline they are undergoing may work to their eternal welfare. Only one Mussulman appears as yet on the roll of the church, but there are several who give good evidence of a change of heart, and who will probably confess Christ in the near future. The Sabbath-school numbers 150, with an average attendance of 121, including many of the members of the church. During the absence of the Shah in Europe many of the soldiers were off duty and attended worship during the summer in large numbers. The report mentions with gratitude that entire freedom has been enjoyed in proclaiming the Gospel both in public and private, and that Moslems have attended these services without interference.

Mr. Hawkes has preached steadily in the Jewish quarter on Saturday evening, the Jewish Sabbath, and has also given brief expository lectures on the lesson at the close of the Sunday-school service which is held Sunday morning.

Educational.—The want of uniformity in language is a serious hindrance to this branch of the work, as it also is to the direct proclamation of the Gospel. At the close of the Boys' High-School on July 16th, exercises were held in Arabic, Persian, Chaldee, Armenian, and English. Eighty-four pupils have been enrolled, with an average attendance of 60, 8 being in the boarding department. Eleven of these were received from the Faith Hubbard School, having become too large to be associated with the girls. Of the number enrolled, 21 are Armenians, 7 Mussulmans, and the rest Jews. It is worthy of note, as indicating growing favor on the part of the authorities, that the grandson of the present Governor, who has been a private pupil of the mission since April, 1889, has taken his place as a scholar in the school. The Governor is one of the fifty sons of Fet Ali Shah, and has been a warm friend of the mission during his term of office. It is in this school that Mr. Hawkes holds the preaching service in the Jewish quarter, already referred to, and where a Sabbath-school of 30 is conducted under the superintendency of Dr. Alexander.

The Faith Hubbard School opened with 83 names enrolled, of whom 33 were boarders. The system of early marriages and of withdrawing girls from school for other reasons, has made it necessary to insist that all girls received into the school shall remain until they are at least sixteen years of age. The report from the pen of Miss C. G. Montgomery says: "Our family now numbers 48 (including teachers and servants). We say family, for this cannot be simply a boarding-school as the name is generally understood. We try to give them the home training so sadly lacking in this land, and to take on ourselves the responsibilities their parents do not assume, indeed do not even realize. Receiving them all as given us by God to be trained for Him, knowing that for each one we must give account, the burden of so many souls is not a light one." As intimated elsewhere, the cholera found its way into the school, claiming one of the pupils as its victim. This led to the closing of the school for a number of weeks, but on reopening it was found that most of the pupils returned.

The boys' Saturday morning prayer-meeting has been continued with great success, and has widened its circle of influence, including now not only the boarders in the house, but a number of the day scholars, who attend the high-school, making 30 who came to the services regularly. Grateful mention is made of the only Moslem girl in the school, who when she entered was a sincere follower of the false prophet, with all the characteristic hatred of the Mohammedan toward the name of Christian; now she has expressed a wish to be baptized and to be enrolled as a follower of Christ, and her life gives good evidence of the change which she professes. In addition to the three mentioned elsewhere as having confessed Christ during the year, 12 of the girls of this school have united with the church since the report was prepared.

The school in the Jewish quarter for girls, begun by Mrs. Alexander six years ago, has continued with varying success, the illness of teachers or the outbursts of fanaticism on the part of the people operating against it. In addition to instruction in Persian and Hebrew the children have been taught to sew and knit, substantial accomplishments of which the Jewish women know but little. At the Christmas examination of the Faith Hubbard School a class of Jewish girls was taken to the Armenian quarter to be examined and receive the usual gifts. This gave great offense to the Jews, and the girls were at once taken from the school, so that it became necessary to close it for several weeks. Just before the appearance of the cholera in November the school had been reopened with a roll of 25.

The work among the women has been prosecuted with encouragement during the year. The women's prayer-meeting, which has been sustained for seven years, had an attendance of about 50 girls and women, the number of Armenian women being much larger than last year, with a good attendance of Moslem women. Mrs. Hawkes and Mrs. Alexander conducted a prayer-meeting for women in the Jewish quarter some two months until the women were forbidden to attend by their husbands, through the interference of an impostor. These two ladies have also done much house-to-house visiting in company with their husbands, and all the ladies of the mission have followed the custom of calling at certain seasons of the year, and in this way have done something toward the breaking down of prejudice and the opening of the way for the Gospel.

Daily services were held for the girls and women during the second week of November, the time designated by the General Assembly for Simultaneous Meetings. Miss Montgomery has continued her class of young men and boys, which has afforded her many precious opportunities for speaking a word for Christ.

Medical.—Dr. Alexander reports a total of 6,000 patients treated during the year, fully one-half of them being from the villages around Hamadan, varying in distance from two hours to three or four days. The doctor says: "I find our best work is among those who come from without the city. They take the medicine with less trouble and listen better to the Gospel."

The most pressing need is felt for larger accommodations. The present waiting-room, where most of the patients are seen, is not large enough for holding religious services while the physician is busy with his work. For lack of better accommodation during the summer several patients turned the doctor's yard into a hospital, the weather being warm and dry. The report says: "They did very well—indeed better than most patients who have respectable homes, for here we could give them the medicines as they required, and keep their friends from spoiling our work, and it was very much easier to tell them about the Saviour than those who came during the rush of the mornings." Medical work has been extended to the village of Sheverine, near the city, the physician spending two afternoons a week in a branch dispensary.

Dr. Alexander also made frequent visits to Bahare, a town some six or eight miles from Hamadan, with a population of about 6,000. During the summer he and Mrs. Alexander made several visits to Kurzara, a village 28 miles east of the city. A medical tour was also made to Sultanabad, a place of 20,000 inhabitants, and, by special invitation of the Amir, to Kirmanshah to consult with the physician of that official. The doctor remained there nine days, and although his patient died, he has found in the son, who has succeeded his father, a warm friend. Mirza Said and Mirza Yakob, medical assistants, made an extended tour among the villages during the year. They took with them two boxes, one filled with Bibles and the other with medicines. As the tour was made in the winter season when there was deep snow, it was found difficult to go from village to village. The need of a hospital grows more imperative as the months go by. The amount asked for this purpose by Dr. Alexander is modest, amounting to about $2,000. It is earnestly hoped that the Board may be able to meet this demand, or that some friend of medical missions will count it a privilege to furnish the means for the equipment so essential to effective service for Christ.

MISSION IN SIAM.

BANGKOK: on the River Meinam, 25 miles from its mouth; occupied as a mission station, 1840 to 1844, and from 1847 to the present time; missionary laborers—Rev. Messrs. E. Wachter, C. A. Berger, T. Heyward Hayes, M.D., J. A. Eakin, J. P. Dunlap, and their wives; Miss Edna Cole; one native licentiate preacher; seven native Christian teachers.

PETCHABUREE: on the western side of the Gulf of Siam, eighty-five miles southwest of Bangkok; occupied as a mission station in 1861; missionary laborers—Rev. Messrs. E. P. Dunlap, W. G. McClure, and their wives; Benjamin B. Paddock, M.D., Misses Mary L. Cort and Miss Jennie M. Small; one Bible-woman; three licentiates; fourteen native teachers.

Outstations: Bangkokboon, Paktalay, Tharua Banphai, Ban Laam, and other places.

RATBUREE: occupied as a mission station in 1889; missionary laborers—James B. Thompson, M.D., and wife, and Rev. Charles E. Eckels; one licentiate.

In this country: Rev. Messrs. E. P. Dunlap and E. Wachter and their wives, and Mrs. T. H. Hayes. On furlough: Rev. C. A. Berger and wife. Resigned: B. P. Paddock, M.D.

The working force of the mission has been greatly weakened by the removal of a number of workers, and their places only partially filled by new recruits with limited experience in mission work; still there is much of interest to report.

Again, at the opening of the new year, the staff of missionary workers has been sadly decreased. Rev. and Mrs. Berger, owing to continued fever almost from their arrival on the field, have been compelled to withdraw. Mrs. Wachter and Mrs. Hays, through trying sickness, have had to take leaves of absence. Dr. Paddock has also withdrawn from the work. This weakening of the staff of missionaries makes an irresistible appeal to others to join this very needy and attractive field. The present small force will be unable to endure that enervating climate and accomplish the great amount of work that is laid upon them.

Ratburee Station.

We are glad to report that the third mission station of Siam was founded during the year at the city of Ratburee. Dr. and Mrs. Thompson and Rev. Chas. Eckels, accompanied by the native preacher, Lien Soo, on August 2d took possession of the property granted by the Siamese Government. Through the Providence of God this new station was started, and a comfortable brick dwelling occupied, at a cost to the mission of less than $500.

Rev. Charles Eckels writes that "the first attempt at holding a public religious service was on Sabbath, August 11th. Dr. Thompson and a native preacher have held services every Sabbath since in the room used as a dispensary. The native helper has also been sent to preach several times at Bang Pa, at the home of Mee Same, Biblereader, in whose house we have a small school. A number of people have come inquiring about 'the new doctrine.' To these, as well as to those coming for medical treatment, Dr. Thompson has proclaimed the true God and Jesus Christ whom He hath sent.

"There seems to be a great desire on the part of the people of the place to have a school established for their children. On every hand we are met with the question: 'When will it begin?' This, with the conditions under which the use of the place is granted, has determined us to make an effort in this line as soon as possible after the first of the year. Ratburee is now in postal and telegraphic communication with Bangkok and Petchaburee. The station is a grand centre for evangelistic work. We beg that God's people may continually make mention of it in their prayers. According to your faith be it unto you."

Churches.

Bangkok.—Regular services have been kept up in the First and Second churches of Bangkok. To the First church only four were added during the year. There was no revival, but a painful indifference on the part of many members was manifested by absenting themselves from church services. Other departments of the work have pressed so heavily upon the pastor that he has been unable to visit his people. Their residences have been changed and so they could not be properly cared for. For many years the pastor of the First church has thus been unable to look after his widely-scattered flock. Owing to the small number of missionaries, it has been almost a rule that the church, printing-office, school, and all the secular work, falls to the care of one man. The Sabbath-school of this church, although not large, is very interesting, a number of the members serving as good, efficient teachers. The women of the church, through the leadership of Mrs. Wachter, were formed into a prayer and mission sewing-circle, working for the missionary cause at large. The removal of the Christian training-school to Sumray will no doubt enlarge the influence of this church. While the past year has been one of many discouragements, yet when we remember that this church has furnished the mission some of the ablest and most consistent native preachers, colporteurs, and devoted Christian school-teachers, we are encouraged, and believe that through the blessing of God and the consecrated labors of His servants it will yet become a much greater power for good.

In the Second church, Bangkok, Sabbath services, Sunday-school, and daily morning services have been conducted throughout the year. The services have for the greater part been conducted by Nai Nan, a consecrated native preacher, who for more than 15 years has labored zealously and wisely for the Master. He has given to the press some of our best literature for general evangelistic work. At times we have depended upon him to hold different stations, and he has not failed us. For years he has labored for one-fifth the salary he could have commanded from European business houses. This year he requested the mission to reduce his salary $1.20 per month. The mission replied that while cognizant of the reasons which moved him to make this request, and his self-denial in doing so, they deemed it unwise for him to make any greater sacrifice. Surely there is encouragement from this case to put forth more earnest effort to raise up a native ministry, and also labor that the power of the Gospel may be thus made manifest in the lives of others.

Petchaburee.—There are five churches located in Petchaburee and its Province. All the ordinary services have been sustained at the Petchaburee church, as well as at the outposts. The preaching has been done by Rev. W. G. McClure and three native licentiates. One of the latter was not engaged during the last five months. "The conduct of the native helpers has in some instances not been all that could be desired, yet they did much good work. The attendance at Petchaburee has been fairly good; at the other churches, painfully small, partly because we have not been able to look after them properly. Discipline has been administered in several cases, and it has become necessary to seriously consider suitable modes of dealing wisely and justly with evils natural to the Siamese, but which, if not counteracted, must work great harm to the churches." There have been but two accessions during the year; others applying were placed on probation. Contributions from the churches were $82.55; from Sabbath-school, $22.50; Women's Missionary Society, $22.05; Christmas offering, $32.86. Of the missionary society connected with this church Miss Cort writes: "The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society held a number of popular meetings for the benefit of China, India, Africa, Japan, Corea, Persia, and Syria. Next year we hope to reorganize and include the whole church, men, women, and children, in our home and foreign work." This church has suffered a great loss in the death of "Pan Ang," who had been a consistent member for more than 22 years. Through the perusal of Christian books, he became a believer before coming in contact with the missionaries. He was a man of influence in his village, and had the joy of seeing a son and daughter, grandchildren, and other relatives embrace Christianity. He was a man importunate in prayer. At times, when the villagers were given up to noisy heathen ceremonies and drunken feasts, after protesting against these evils, he would walk five miles to the mission compound and request a quiet place in which to enjoy praying unto God. His home was always open for religious service, and he earnestly urged the villagers to come and hear the Gospel. He was a Bible student, and in his declining years could repeat many precious stories of Bible saints, and especially of the Saviour, which he had memorized before the infirmities of age came upon him. His faith was unwavering to the last, and he died rejoicing in the Saviour.

The Press.

This department of work has been under the superintendence of Rev. E. Wachter. A new hand-cutting machine has been purchased. Owing to the fact that the type are very old and worn there was a decrease in the number of pages printed last year by 74,000. Should the American Bible Society continue printing the Bible at our press, the purchase of a new font will be necessary. The books have been made more attractive by improvement in covers, and this in part accounts for the steady increase in sales, which will be seen from the following :

	Pages printed.	Tracts distributed.	Scriptures distributed.	Total distributed.
1887.....	977,000	3,148	3,566	6,714
1888.....	1,133,400	6,898	2,846	9,744
1889.....	1,040,190	8,540	4,347	12,887

Before the year 1887 all books were given away ; but the American Bible Society and the Siam Mission joined in inaugurating a new system, viz., the selling of books at a nominal price. This plan has increased the efficiency of our colporteurs, and has not decreased materially the distribution of books. It has secured a greater number of interested readers, and better care of the books disposed of. The receipts from sales have been sufficient to pay expenses of colporteur work and leave a small balance for printing. The mission are rejoiced at the arrival of Rev. John Carrington and family, agent of the American Bible Society, among them. They will, no doubt, do true missionary work, although not members of our mission. Mr. Carrington will take charge of the Bible work in Siam. A permanent committee to examine MSS. and suggest matter new and old for publication has been appointed. The mission repeats its urgent request "that the Board seriously consider the matter of sending out a layman to manage the business of the press and kindred work—a consecrated Christian, with good business qualifications and knowledge of printing." An additional press is urgently asked for and greatly needed. Missionaries were the pioneer printers in Siam. Now, presses, native and foreign, are multiplying, publishing reading matter of all kinds, save religious, and much that is positively injurious, being vile to the extreme, whilst ours is the only press exclusively a fountain of evangelical truth. Its efficiency should be so increased as to make it a mighty power in publishing a knowledge of the Saviour and in guiding aright the seeker after the pure truth.

Itinerating.—The lack of men and inexperience of those in the field have, in a measure, compelled neglect of this very important part of the work. There are large districts of Siam as yet unreached by the preacher of the Word. There are multitudes who do not know even the name of our Redeemer. We should have men who, able to deny themselves the comforts of home, would devote their energies wholly to this work. Bangkok is a grand centre for the itinerant missionary. One man could be kept busy on each of the four large rivers. The east and the west coast each needs a missionary. "Natives of the west coast have sought missionaries at Petchaburee and urged them to go and teach on that coast, but their hands were too full at the station." There is great need at Petchaburee of an ordained missionary to take up this branch of the work. Rev. A. Willard Cooper has been reappointed for this station, to return there this autumn. Other appointments are under consideration. Miss Cort writes that she "has made fourteen tours during the year to the villages in the Petchaburee District, holding services everywhere, sometimes spending two or three days teaching, conducting women's meetings and Sunday-schools, etc. I find this hard but pleasant work, and again ask for a helper to go out with me." The mission joins in this request that two young ladies be sent to Petchaburee; then Miss Cort can give herself more fully to work among the women, a work for which she longs. Miss Cooper is already under appointment to go out with her brother. The missionaries at Ratburee have taken one tour along the Meekling River, reaching one large town and several villages, doing medical and colporteur work, and were accompanied by a native preacher. They disposed of many books, and report that "the people seemed kindly disposed and ready to buy both medicines and books." A greater part of the itinerating has been carried on by the native colaborers. A faithful colporteur has been engaged all the year in and about Bangkok. The report says: "He has done excellent work; was conscientious in the use of his time and opportunities. He taught much, and sold several thousand copies of books in the country." Another layman, who has written several able and popular tracts (contributing the same to the cause), has also made good use of opportunities for teaching, especially the higher class of Siamese. In his business he travels extensively. His literary work and teaching are given freely. Two earnest colporteurs from Petchaburee have also gone far and near. During one tour they taught and disposed of books, in sixty villages. Another, a student for the ministry, has labored along the west coast of Siam, chiefly in his native province, 500 miles southwest of Petchaburee, a province of 230,000 male adults. Only by reinforcing the mission can this great work of itinerating be effectually carried on.

Educational Work.

Bangkok.—This branch of the work is believed now to be on a better basis than at any time in the history of the mission. This is partly owing to the increased number devoted to educational work, and partly to the establishment of the Christian Training-school, the purpose of which is best expressed in Rev. J. A. Eakin's report of the Christian High-School: "We plan to make the school not only the nursery of the church, but also the place of training for workers in the church. It is expected hereafter to have all the schools under the care of the mission parts of one system, mutually helping each other, the schools at the outstations sending students to the High-School and the High-School sending out teachers and candidates for the ministry, to be trained under the immediate care and oversight of the missionaries in the practical work at the outstations. By this means, with the divine blessing, we hope to be able to train up in time an aggressive and reliable native ministry." By action of the mission the boarding department of the boys' school at Sumray was transferred to the Christian High-School. This change brought twenty boys to the school. There was an encouraging religious interest among the pupils during the year. The students have been diligent in committing Scripture verses and catechism. The Christian High-School will be removed to Sumray. "By this move a close and more vital connection will be established between the church and school."

The transferring of the boarding department of the boys' school to the High-School and making Sumray a day-school did not diminish the attendance, fifty-five boys being enrolled as day pupils. "The native teacher was faithful to his duties and did good work in the school. Being an earnest Christian he conducted prayers at the opening of the school daily, and used his influence to induce the boys to attend Sunday-school and church services. He deserves high praise, and the successful working of the school is chiefly due to his efforts. We have endeavored to work up the school toward the point of self-support by requiring a small tuition fee. By this means the expense of each pupil, in excess of tuition fees received, has been $1.80 for the year. This includes teacher's salary and all incidentals. The pupils bought their own books and school materials."

Girls' Boarding-School at Bangkok.—This school has been doing good work in all departments. Miss Edna Cole gives the following interesting statement in her annual report:

"In July a little princess, daughter of the king's brother, was added to our family for a term of three years. Then followed several other children from noble families. The school now numbers forty-eight, and for the past three months has averaged forty-four.

"A kitchen and dining-room have been erected, with very little expense to the Board. The money was principally furnished by the sewing department, and special contributions from a few friends. The sewing department has been unusually industrious and successful. Without the money obtained by it we must have closed the year in debt. The proceeds of the bazar held at the Royal Garden, December 4th, were nearly $200, while the income from school work during the year was more than $300. Only those who have superintended such a department can fully appreciate the labor involved in planning and carrying it all out to a successful issue.

"One fact deserves note. The Board's appropriation for this school is $525. The food alone costs $495. This leaves but $30 for salaries of Siamese instructors, servants' wages, and all incidental expenses! And yet the kitchen and dining-room were built, and no debt incurred, for which profound gratitude is felt."

The Sunday-school in this institution sends $15 as a Christmas offering to the Board.

The mission desires to make this a first-class seminary. This end will involve sending two or three young ladies to be associated with Miss Cole. A committee was appointed to consider the propriety of making Wang-Lang exclusively a station for work for women and girls.

Educational Work at Petchaburee.—Miss Cort has had charge of twelve day-schools, with an enrollment of 232 pupils. Three of these schools were organized during the year, one at Paktalay, where there is a church. The purpose is to try to open a school for each church. These twelve schools are located in the city of Petchaburee, and in the villages of the province. The day-schools have been visited regularly, and religious services held in them, the audiences varying from ten to eighty. Mr. McClure writes: "These schools are undoubtedly doing a good work, though but little compared with the great need."

The Boys' Boarding-School and the Howard Industrial School for Girls have been under Miss Small's care. Twenty-eight boys were enrolled in the boys' school. Three were sons of the Governor of Petchaburee. Three promising boys have been sent to the Christian High-School, Bangkok. The oldest pupil has entered the hospital at Petchaburee to study medicine. He with one of the other boys declared their faith in Jesus, applied for church membership, and were placed on probation. This school has been placed under Prof. Eakin's care, and will be a feeder to the Christian High-School, Bangkok.

The Howard Industrial School.—Thirty-seven girls were enrolled; twenty-six of them were boarders. A new dining-hall and kitchen were built, and new furniture, maps, globe, and sewing-machine were placed in the school-room. Two of the girls applied for church membership, and were placed on probation. The girls have been studious, and have improved in their manners. A Band of King's Daughters was organized in the school. Some of the Band—bright young Christians—joined Miss Small in going from house to house teaching the precious things concerning Jesus. Frequent visits were made to the Governor's home in order to read and explain the Word to his daughters, who were once in the school. Miss Small writes as follows: "Miss Cort and I have room in our hearts and home for more workers, and we hope to see them soon. Siam needs many more earnest workers."

Training Department for Teachers and Bible-workers.—Miss Cort spent five months of the year doing all the teaching in this department. Twelve married women were enrolled. The studies were in the Bible. "Evidences of Christianity," Shorter Catechism, names of our Lord, a poetic Life of Christ, "Pilgrim's Progress," and practice in telling Bible-stories. One aim of this department is, as Miss Cort says, "To give teaching a more honorable and desirable position in church work. As these women all earn their own living, I had to grant them a small allowance for their time. The entire expense of the training department has been $34.62. When one poor woman received her portion she returned one-third of it, saying: 'I will consecrate it to God.' The pupils in all the schools joined in celebrating Christmas; each one brought an offering—some brought money, others fruit, eggs, and rice. We need hardly assure you that all our schools are thoroughly evangelistic, the Bible being the chief book in use."

Medical Work.

Bangkok.—The Bangkok Hospital and the Mission Dispensary have been under the care of Dr. Hays, ably assisted by Mrs. Hays and a native Christian physician. The Hospital has been largely supported by the King of Siam, and, owing to the liberal aid of a Siamese general, the Dispensary has had no rent to pay. The latter has been a feeder to the Hospital, and a means of furnishing funds for carrying on the medical work. The report shows that the medicines sold were three times the value of those sold in 1888. While there has been some decrease in the number of patients treated at the Dispensary, this has been more than compensated by an increase of 60 per cent. in the number of patients treated at the Bangkok Hospital. The whole number of patients treated during the year is 8,603. The Hospital has grown in favor with both the European and native community. "The wards furnish a grand field for Christian effort. The poor people are sick and sad and lonely, and welcome, oh! so heartily, every visitor, and are ready to listen and ponder over everything told them. As one poor fellow said to the missionary: 'Every day you come to see me my heart grows so big (spreading out his hand); but when there is a day you do not come my heart is as little as that' (putting the tips of his fingers together)." The evangelistic work carried on in the wards has been done by Dr. and Mrs. Hays alone. Daily morning service has been held in the Hospital, and preaching services every Sabbath, which the missionaries, with Dr. McFarland and Mrs. Ed. McFarland and the native preachers, have conducted. Dr. Hays writes: "We again entreat that this grand field may not be left in the hands of myself and wife another year, but that we may have help, so that every opportunity for preaching Christ may be embraced." The number of patients treated at the mission Dispensary is 2,830; and at Bangkok Hospital, 5,773.

It will be well at this point to mention two things: (1). Through Dr. Hays' influence the Siamese Government is sending six chosen youth to the United States to be educated in our medical science, and return to practice and teach the same in Siam. Dr. Hays will make a flying visit to the United States for the purpose of bringing the boys, the entire expense to be borne by the Government. They will be placed for the present under the care of Rev. Eugene P. Dunlap, who, on account of his ill-health, is still detained in this country. While the Siamese Government has educated a number of youth in Europe, this will be their first effort in this direction in this country. Great good may result from this move.

(2). The Government of Siam has built two hospitals and a dispensary in Bangkok; one of these (the largest) is located just back of the Wang Lang Station, the other in the heart of the city, not far from the palace. These hospitals, together with other work in the same line, have been offered by the Siamese Government to the care of our medical missionary, Dr. Hays, all the expense of the work to be borne by the Government, and no restrictions placed on teaching Christianity in the hospitals. This, we believe, opens a wide door for evangelistic work. And the mission, regarding the offer, resolved as follows: "That the mission sanction Dr. Hays' proposal to enter the service of the Siamese Government, he remaining in nominal connection with the Siam mission and the Board." Although the Government is to pay Dr. Hays a liberal salary, it is his own proposition to pay the same over to the mission, retaining the ordinary salary of a medical missionary. The Government also authorizes Dr. Hays to secure a medical missionary to join him in the work. It would be well to have an ordained missionary free to work right along with the medical missionaries in this great city.

Petchaburee.—The medical work has continued as usual; 4,327 patients were treated. Of these 659 were vaccinated. All classes have been treated from far and near. Among the patients was the ex-Minister of Foreign Affairs and several of his family, the Governor of Petchaburee and members of his family. The Governor has shown much interest in the medical work, and has requested that the doctor take one of his sons as a medical student. The native student assistant has done good work, not only in direct medical, but in spiritual work as well. One new student was also taken under instruction. He is very promising, and is also deeply interested in the Christian religion. He applied for church membership. Regular evening services have been held in the Hospital daily, conducted either by a native preacher or the first assistant in the Hospital, and the patients have always been requested to attend all services in the chapel. One indoor patient united with the church. The indebtedness of the Hospital has been discharged, and a small balance left in the treasury. Owing to Dr. Paddock's return to this country, there is imperative need of a medical missionary at the station.

Mr. McClure writes: "The interest of our work requires the constant presence of a medical missionary, especially since we have a hospital and dispensary well established; and then it is never safe for a company of missionaries to remain without a physician. Twenty-four to forty-eight hours would be required to get a physician from one of the other stations, even under the most favorable circumstances."

Ratburee.—It is a pleasure to present the first report from this new station. Dr. Thompson says: "We began our regular medical work here August 17th; 116 cases have been treated at the station, and a good number of patients treated in their homes. A tour was also taken along the Meekling River, during which 109 cases were treated." While waiting to enter the house at Ratburee Dr. Thompson labored in Bangkok, treating 233 new cases and making 167 outvisits; whole number of new cases is 458 and of old cases is 471. The beginning of medical work at Ratburee is promising. "We have aimed to give at least a word of Gospel truth to each patient, and a small tract which has been prepared for the purpose. Our building was put in good sanitary condition; one of the lower rooms has been fitted for a dispensary and another for in-patients." Dr. Thompson further adds: "When we have become fully settled we hope that the evangelistic will be the most prominent feature of our work. The people at Ratburee are easily accessible, and for the most part welcome our coming. Our closing word is that we have been permitted to spend some most delightful hours in telling the old, old story. May the Holy Ghost water the seed sown!"

Conclusion.

There is scarcely a field in which our Church is laboring where the missionary has greater liberty. It is fully open to aggressive work for the Master; missionaries are excluded from no part of the land. One of them writes that when about to take a tour in provinces before unreached, the Prime Minister of Siam voluntarily gave him a letter, bearing the Government seal, to the Governors of the several provinces through which he expected to travel. The letter was about as follows: "The bearer of this letter is an American missionary going down through your several provinces for the purpose of teaching the Christian religion, disposing of Christian literature, and healing the sick. Place no obstacle in his way. If the people wish to adopt his teachings or receive his books, forbid them not. Permit him to pass easily through your provinces, and, in so far as you can, minister to the comfort of his family journeying with him."

Rev. Mr. McClure writes as follows: "The doors here, and indeed in all parts of Siam, are wide open. Who will enter in and occupy?"

MISSION IN SOUTH AMERICA.

Mission in the Republic of Colombia.

BOGOTA : the capital of the country ; situated on an elevated plain ; 4° north latitude ; climate, temperate ; population about 90,000 ; elevation about 900 feet ; occupied as a mission station in 1856 ; missionary laborers—Rev. and Mrs. M. E. Caldwell, Miss Maria B. Franks ; four native teachers ; one native helper.

BARRANQUILLA (Bar-ran-keel-ya) : near the northern seacoast at the mouth of the Magdalena River ; 12° N. ; occupied as a station in May, 1888 ; missionaries—Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Candor ; population, 30,000.

MEDELLIN : population, 50,000 ; occupied October, 1889 ; situated on tableland at an elevation of 5,000 feet, between the two great rivers Magdalena and Canda, ten days north of Bogota ; missionaries, Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Touzeau ; 1 native helper.

The Republic of Colombia contains about 2,500,000 population. It lies between the equator and 12 degrees north latitude, and is the point of contact with North America, joined to it by the Isthmus of Panama. The waters of the Pacific wash its western shores and its great rivers empty into the Caribbean Sea on the north. Its three stations are (1) Bogota, the Mountain Capital ; (2) Barranquilla (Bar-ran-keel-ya), the northern seaport ; (3) Medellin, on the tableland between the other two stations. The language is Spanish. The religion of the people is Roman Catholic, which is held in rather light esteem by some, while by the large majority it is held in its most corrupt form—sometimes scarcely bearing any semblance of Christian faith. The more intelligent are driven by the corrupt teachings of their religious leaders into infidelity. The missionaries find the people generally ready to listen to the truth, and confident hope is expressed that the present beginnings of work will speedily grow into grand and symmetrical proportions.

Bogota.

The work in this station has been subject to changes and sore disappointment. Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Touzeau occupied it for seven months of the year, until the arrival in August of Rev. and Mrs. Caldwell. Miss M. B. Franks continued her labors in the school for girls through the year. The cloud of sorrow that came upon Bogota came in like manner on Barranquilla. When Mr. Caldwell and family returned from the United States of America in August, 1889, they were accompanied by greatly needed reinforcements for Bogota and Barranquilla—Prof. W. W. Findley and Miss Addie C. Ramsay. On their way both the new missionaries, Prof. Findley and Miss Ramsay, were exposed to the contagion of yellow fever. They arrived in Barranquilla August 13th. The dreaded disease attacked Miss Ramsay in the home of her sister, Mrs. Candor, August 14th, and she died on the 19th. On the 15th Prof. Findley was prostrated by the same disease the day he had started with Mr. Caldwell and family on their journey up the Magdalena River on their way to Bogota. On the 21st, just two days after Miss Ramsay's death, Mr. Caldwell laid the fever-stricken body to rest on the banks of the stream, at the Port of Sogamoso, before he had reached the end of his journey. It was a sad day for the missionary who had waited nine years for this associate in his work. Prof. Findley was specially fitted for the work to which he had consecrated himself. It is a mysterious providence that this young man's life should have ended just as he was about to enter upon his labors. The loud call for some one to take his place has not been unheeded, and it is expected that another missionary will go during this summer to take charge of the work that has so long waited for him. Mr. Caldwell continued his sad journey up the river and over the mountains to a disappointed people in Bogota. Soon after that Mr. and Mrs. Touzeau set out for Medellin, their new station, leaving Mr. Caldwell alone to care for both school and church work.

School Work.—Miss Franks was engaged during the greater part of the year in her school for girls with her usual degree of success. By previous arrangement she was to remove to Barranquilla as soon as her successor could be secured. It is greatly to be regretted that her health was such that she was obliged to hasten her departure early in the new year. This made it necessary for Mr. Caldwell to close the boarding department until another lady can be sent out. It is urged with good reason that two ladies should go to this important centre, not only to aid one another, but that in the trying climate at this high elevation a change when required may be obtained without interrupting the work of the school. It is believed that this will be the more economical plan. Mr. Caldwell, in speaking of the girls' school, says that "good music is highly appreciated. Many people are attracted by the service of song. Bogota is sometimes called the city of pianos." These heavy instruments must be carried on men's shoulders sixty miles over rough mountain roads! Their own songs are weird and doleful, and yet they are glad to hear our bright tunes in hymns of praise. The pupils who go out from the school carry their religious instruction home with them. When Mr. Caldwell was in Honda on a tour, he found a pupil who in the institution had not come out on the Lord's side. But there in her home she had her Bible and gathered all the family to attend prayers with the missionary, herself joining in them. New openings for the Gospel are sometimes made in this way.

Church Work.—The congregations are large and encouraging, more of the artisan class are coming to the services, and there is an especial increase in the attendance of women. "Some are always asking admission to the membership of the church."

"Alejandro Gonzalez has been a constant and very valuable helper during the past year. Oftentimes he has conducted the services of the church. He has sold many Bibles and other good books, and shows great zeal, patience, and perseverance as well as economy in trying to prepare himself for the ministry. He now expects, besides other mission work, to help in the Boys' School, and at the same time to study with Mr. Caldwell."

"The Boys' School has opened with more than 60 pupils, and with liberal help would soon become, we think, a grand success. All the pupils enter the Bible-classes, and the Gospel is preached to them daily. There are about 50 little boys in one Bible-class, and we are sure that if the Christian people could see these bright faces, at times almost spellbound, with their eyes fixed on the minister, as he tells them Bible stories and talks to them about the Word of Life, a deeper interest would be taken in this school."

While there is nominal freedom of conscience, the Government is in the hands of the Jesuits. The presence of evangelical missionaries is simply tolerated because of treaties. There is neither freedom of speech nor liberty of the press, and marriage is not legal unless performed before a priest. A Protestant minister has no legal right to marry his own people!

The sum of $295 has been contributed by the church.

Barranquilla.

The first mention of this station was in last year's report. There has been no change in the number of missionaries stationed there. The laborers are Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Candor. The helpers employed are Mr. Adam H. Erwin, Miss A. M. Duncan, and Miss Eugenia Desmoineaux.

Schools.—Mr. A. H. Erwin, a gentleman of advancing years and extended experience in the country, conducts an excellent boys' school of 25 pupils. He receives $120 assistance from the mission. His school-house has been used as a chapel. It is desirable to continue the arrangement with Mr. Erwin and also hire an assistant teacher for $120, and thus be able to receive a larger number of pupils, and by so much increase the influence of the school.

The Girls' School has been under the care of Mrs. Candor. Thirty pupils are on the rolls. Early in the year epidemic measles seriously interfered with work among children. Few houses escaped the disease in its deadly form. The school was obliged to close its doors for a short time in May.

The last annual report speaks of the appointment of Miss Addie C. Ramsay, as promised, to aid Mrs. Candor in the Girls' School. This report records with great sorrow her early death so soon after her arrival at her sister's home. The disease from which she died, yellow fever, rendered it necessary to close the school again. Profound gratitude is felt because no one took the dreaded fever. Mr. Candor, in speaking of her death, says: "It seems a very strange providence, but faith does not ask an all-wise Father the reason why." Her death produced a profound impression in Barranquilla. The influence of it in our country is still felt. It was expected that a suitable building would be selected for the Girls' School, in which she was to teach. Now, however, it is proposed to build a memorial school called by her name. The Woman's Board of Philadelphia has appropriated $1,000 for this purpose, and our Board has appropriated $2,000 toward it, guaranteeing $2,000 more in the new year to complete the required sum of $5,000 for this purpose. It is confidently expected that the pledged $2,000 will be given by those whose hearts were so touched by the sad termination of Miss Ramsay's life. The need of another lady to take her place is strongly felt, and it is regarded as imperative that some one be sent as soon as possible.

The school was resumed in October, and successfully carried on through the term. The fees collected more than paid for the current expenses. Miss Duncan, the assistant teacher, a member of the church, was born in Barranquilla. She will continue her services. A larger attendance is promised another year.

The Charity School has been under the care of an efficient native, Miss Eugenia Desmoineaux. The very poor have free instruction here, and are taught the Gospel of Jesus Christ. There is good ground for expecting that a great blessing will follow the work of these two schools, and that they will be nurseries for the church.

Church Work.—The Barranquilla church was organized January 5, 1889. Sixteen members were received during the year out of twenty-eight applicants. Three elders were ordained and three deacons set apart for their duties.

Regular services were held at Mr. Candor's house and Mr. Erwin's school-room during the whole year, with an attendance varying from 20 to 100. Two Sunday-schools were also maintained, with about 40 pupils. The utter disregard of the people for the Lord's day makes it difficult as yet to secure very regular attendance. It is pleasant, however, to know that there is a growing interest which is full of encouragement. Mr. Candor says: "In the earnestness of the people as well as in their friendly actions, we see a higher hand than ours that can insure success."

Evangelistic Work.—Mr. Candor was greatly hindered in his purpose to itinerate outside the city. The deadly epidemic, the sad affliction of the mission, and the failure to gain reinforcements, have kept him closely confined to work in the city. People who have come from the country to the services are very earnest in their desire to have churches organized in their towns. One of the elders is a promising candidate for a native helper, and will be taught and tried in evangelistic work. The surrounding towns and villages are an attractive field for the station to cultivate, and promises good returns.

Medellin.

This new station is an important interior city, which was occupied for the first time in October, 1889, by Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Touzeau. It is the second city of Colombia in importance and in population. It contains a government mint. It is the centre of a large mining region. The people are called the Yankees of their country, and though they were reported to be unusually bigoted, yet no opposition was offered to the missionary. He secured a house and has held regular services in it. The people have shown much interest in the new teaching, and have purchased many of his books and tracts. As the prejudice of the people is broken down, the way for the Gospel will be opened, and blessed results may be expected.

Mr. Touzeau reports his sales of Gospel literature: Total number of books and tracts sold, 1,355; given away, 1,350.

The importance of the work done by the Syria Mission is not to be measured by the comparatively small geographical area of the country nor by the number of its population. Its influence extends far beyond its borders, and, in some respects, can only be limited by the wide extent of the Arabic language. The staff of missionaries has been subject to several changes. Rev. J. S. Dennis, D.D., and Mrs. Dennis, and Miss Eliza D. Everett returned to their work in Beirut. Rev. O. J. Hardin was reappointed (after spending a few weeks in this country), and returned in October to take up work in the Abeih Station, including the charge of the Boys' Boarding-School at Suk-el-Ghurb. He left Mrs. Hardin in this country to join him later. Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Watson are new recruits who joined the mission in October and are associated with Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins, thus relieving Mr. Ford from work in that station, to aid again Mr. W. K. Eddy, his associate, who was bearing far too heavy burdens in the Sidon Station. Dr. and Mrs. Harris returned early in the year to their work in Tripoli Station and received a most cordial welcome. Rev. and Mrs. S. Jessup returned to this country in July last, after an absence of sixteen years. Rev. T. S. Pond and family returned also in July, after an absence of twenty-one years, the first five years of this period being spent under the A. B. C. F. M. at Mardin.

The year's work has been much like that of the previous year in its obstacles, its trials, its successes, and its joys. No great sorrow has come upon the mission, but there have been many occasions for profound gratitude.

The repressive measures of the Government have by no means been prohibitory. The Lord's work continues to grow in influence and power. There has been an advance all along the line, as will be seen by the station reports and the statistical tables. While a few schools are still closed by the Government, the number of pupils remains about the same. The additions to the church have been 98. The total membership has doubled in the past ten years. At the opening of the new year, about forty new candidates are asking admission to the church. There are many cheering indications that the Gospel leaven is permeating the minds of the people of every sect, including the Moslems.

The religion of the people is usually called by the Government Moslem and non-Moslem. The first includes Orthodox and Persian Mohammedans (Moslems and Metawalies), Druzes, Nusaireeyehs and Ismaileyehs, and all Bedawee Arabs. Non-Moslems are Jews, nominal Christians (Orthodox Greek, Papal Greek, Maronite [Papal], Jacobite, Syrian, Armenian, and Latin Papists), and Evangelical Christians. The principal accessions to the church have been from the non-Moslem sects. Work among these is important. It aims to give them a pure Gospel and to remove all ground for the well-merited contempt in which nominal Christians are held by Moslems. This has been so far successful that, first, the religion of Evangelical Christians is looked upon as a new religion and is respected by the non-Christian sects; second, the old sects are beginning decided reforms in their churches; and, third, the leaven of the Gospel is working in a most interesting and marked manner among the Moslems, giving the confident hope that the day is not far distant when a large number of them may be brought to Christ. Earnest prayer is asked that freedom of conscience may be fully granted to all.

Beirut.

This is the central station of the mission. When our missionaries first arrived, it was a small, closely packed city of about 6,000 inhabitants. It has now grown to be nearly 100,000, and is the literary as well as commercial centre of Syria.

Rev. Wm. M. Thomson, D.D., though spending the remainder of his days in this country, is remembered with affectionate regard by large numbers of Syrians, and is greatly missed in the councils of the mission.

Dr. Van Dyck has just celebrated his jubilee of missionary work. On April 2, 1840, he reached Syria. The Turkish Government has bestowed upon him a "decoration" (the third order of the Majeedy), for literary and scientific work, and humane services rendered to subjects of the Sultan. The Syrians of all sects have united in presenting him as a testimonial of their high appreciation of his services to their country, the sum of $2,160. The amount was raised by voluntary contributions. At the annual mission meeting in January, he presented a most interesting and instructive paper on "Early Reminiscences of the Mission."

The crowning joy of his fifty years is in the wonderful circulation of the Word of God, to the translation of which he gave so many years of his life. It is a joy that will increase as the years go on. The report of his station says: "It is our earnest prayer that he may be spared to afford to the mission the benefit of his great experience and paternal counsel. May his last days be indeed his best days, and may what he now witnesses in the wide distribution of the Arabic Scriptures, be to him a continual source of gratitude and comfort!"

The Church.—The pastoral work of the Beirut church has been carried on during the year by Rev. Yusef Bedr, acting as assistant to the missionary in charge. Nineteen members have been added. One of those baptized and received to the communion is a Bedawee Arab of one of the great tribes. He spent the summer with his tribe in their wanderings, reading to them the Scriptures in their black tents, and telling them of the salvation through Christ. He was everywhere welcomed, and his tribe found him so superior to them and so useful from his knowledge of reading and writing, that they were unwilling to have him leave them to resume his studies. He has, however, entered one of our boarding-schools for further training. He states that his people were especially interested in the Psalms of David and the Historical Narratives of the Old and New Testaments.

The contributions of the native church during the year were about $570, of which $160 was for the native pastor.

The five congregations which hear the Gospel regularly in Beirut number in the aggregate about 820, and the Sunday-schools in connection with our mission have 520 pupils. There are about 350 in other Sunday-schools.

Women's Meetings.—The number of women's meetings has increased considerably and the weekly attendance is about 300. From Mrs. Dale's statement we learn that "the Ras Beirut Girls' and Boys' Schools are in a prosperous condition. They were established ten years ago." On Sunday both boys and girls are in our Sunday-school. Miss Van Dyck conducts the Women's Bible Class. There are five native teachers besides Mrs. Dennis, Mrs. Dale, Mrs. Porter, Miss Van Dyck, and Miss Post. The average weekly attendance is 114. The week-day women's meetings average 84 in attendance, nearly two-thirds of whom are Druzes. Other such meetings are held in different parts of the city, one of which is conducted most successfully in the Eastern chapel by Mrs. Dale. As a result of interesting accounts of the Aintab revival given by Dr. and Mrs. Graham, six neighborhood meetings have been started in different parts of the city, conducted by native Protestant women, and it is expected that this plan of work may be still further extended.

The Theological Seminary.—The seminary was opened October 21st with a class of seven students. It has now been located in Beirut since 1873. Dr. Dennis says: "It was removed here from Abeih in order to be in proximity to the college, and secure the advantages of contact with the best and highest educational facilities which Beirut as the literary centre of Syria affords. It was also thought that the existence of the seminary within the radius of college life and within the view of college students would be itself a presentation of the claims and opportunities of the ministry to the minds of the young men of Syria. The seminary building at one end of the college campus has been useful in calling the attention of young men to the fact that the medical exit at the other end is not the only door of usefulness which opens to the college graduates. It is, no doubt, true that the Christian young men who are receiving their education at Ras Beirut are led to consider the call to the ministry as a possible fact by the visible reminder of a duty to the church and to the needy world which they have in a theological seminary placed in such conspicuous and honored relations to the college as a centre of intellectual activity and advanced culture. Medicine was literally carrying the day with our educated young men until theology stepped upon the college campus, and the fact that the last theological class were all college men gives at least substantial encouragement that a certain proportion of our candidates for the ministry shall be from those trained in the college. The present class has been selected with great care, and there is reason to think that it represents the cream of the total list of applicants. Since the location of the seminary in Beirut 52 students have been in connection with it, some only for a short time. Of these, 39 students have gone forth for the work of the ministry. Of this number 22 are in the employ of our own mission, 13 are employed by neighboring missions, three have left the ministry, and one has died."

"The second volume of the text-book in Systematic Theology has been issued. A second edition of the first volume is now going through the press. Dr. Eddy has also published the second part of his Commentary on the New Testament. It is hoped that these two volumes will prove an invaluable help to the Arabic-speaking races in understanding the Word of God in lands where this word has so long been kept from the people, or presented to them overlaid and commingled with a mass of superstitions, traditions, and fanciful and erroneous interpretations."

"Instruction is given at present by Dr. Van Dyck in Natural Theology; Dr. Eddy in New Testament Introduction and Exposition and Mental Philosophy; Dr. H. H. Jessup in Church History and Homiletics; Dr. Dennis in Evidences, Theology, and Old Testament Exposition; Mr. Hourany in Harmony of the Gospels and Rhetoric."

Female Seminary.—The report of this institution is, in the words of Miss Thomson, "a record of mercies; of prayers answered; of lives preserved; of the yoke made easy and the burden made light." Grateful acknowledgment is made of the welcome return of Miss Everett, of the providential preservation from death of two teachers who were on a roof when it fell with them. There were 120 pupils in the institution, representing eight sects: Moslem, Druze, Jew, Greek Orthodox, Greek Papal, Maronite, Armenian, Protestant—"all folded under the loving care of the Good Shepherd, all equally dear to Him, all bought with the same great price, all taught with the story of His redeeming love." Fifty-five of the pupils were boarders. The weekly prayer-meetings and the noon hour of prayer were very well attended and greatly enjoyed. The three graduates of the year are teaching in the service of the mission. "The infirmities of age are appearing in parts of the building, and it will require an expenditure of $800 to put it in suitable repair."

The Press.—Substantial work has been done by the press during the year. Mr. S. Jessup, on leaving Syria June 12th, was succeeded as manager by his brother, Dr. H. H. Jessup. About twenty volumes of our Arabic publications were locked up in Damascus for two years and the legal sanction for their sale withheld. Through the efficient services of Consul E. Bissinger these were finally sent to Constantinople, where, through the kindly proffered aid of Rev. H. O. Dwight, of the A. B. C. F. M., all were returned stamped with the Government permit. Among them were some of our most important Arabic works, such as Calhoun's Bible Hand-Book, Dr. Dennis' Systematic Theology, his Evidences of Christianity, and his Biblical Interpretation, and Dr. Eddy's Commentary on the New Testament. A new Board of Public Instruction has been organized in Beirut, which has thus far done its duty well in facilitating the examination and sanction of new books. Several publications, which were once rejected by another council, have been examined again and sanctioned. The Life of Livingstone, however, is prohibited still on the ground of its giving an account of missionary work in Africa, and it is claimed that Africa is a Mohammedan country, and consequently it is prejudicial to the "public peace" to publish an account of conversions to Christianity in Africa. But there is reason for special gratitude because the Turkish Government has sanctioned not only more than 25 different editions of the Holy Scriptures, but more than 300 of our religious, educational, and miscellaneous publications. Early in the year the Government notified all printing presses that they must obtain the Imperial permit or close their doors. Accordingly the American press applied for the legal permit, and on the 29th of May the manager obtained it on giving the usual guarantees of obedience to Ottoman law in all matters pertaining to the publications of the press. The usual fee for a legal permit was not required, on the ground that the existence of the American press since 1834 constituted a permission on the part of the Government. In July a number of English books belonging to various members of the mission were confiscated by the Censor in the Custom House. Only six were burned, and owing to strong representations made by the manager of the press to the Government, thirty-two were saved from the flames and exiled to the United States.

The record of the press during the year shows a large amount of work done, though less than in 1888.

The whole number of pages printed was 24,569,167 as compared with 28,722,968 in the previous year. The American Bible Society published 12,638,918; London Religious Tract Society, 1,876,000; Miscellaneous, 9,054,249; American Tract Society, 1,514,000.

The number of volumes printed is 52,203; publications of all kinds issued in 1889 is 321,854.

The number of new books printed is 10; tracts, 14. Books reprinted, 11; tracts reprinted, 21. Different editions of the Scriptures, 5; new additions to our catalogue—tracts, 14; books, 10; total, 24, making the whole number of publications on the catalogue 404.

The stock of books, Scriptures, and tracts on hand December 31, 1889, is as follows: Scriptures, 95,594, worth $20,676; Religious Tract Society, 128,209, worth $7,000; American Tract Society and Miscellaneous, 17,140, worth $44,178; total copies, 404,069, worth $71,854. The total number of pages issued from the beginning is 418,407,354.

It is worthy of notice that the departments of work carried on by the press are unusual in their variety. They are: making punches and matrices, casting type, making electrotypes, stereotypes, and lithographs; map-making, composing, editing, printing, binding, jobwork, selling. About fifty employees obtain good remunerative work in this one establishment. They are not reckoned among the nearly 200 native helpers in the list of mission employees. There is no department of this mission work that is more warmly supported by the missionaries in every clime. Its publications are found in every continent. Many special blessings have accompanied the pages that have been distributed, and great encouragement is found in following out the remarkable influence exerted by these many millions of light-bearing and life-giving messages.

The College.—The Syrian Protestant College is a child of the Syrian Mission. It was born of a strong desire to give a high Christian education to the best minds and hearts in the East. Its president and first instructors were chosen from members of the mission. Its board of managers is made up principally of missionaries. There is thus a constant and close bond of union between it and the mission. It is looked upon as an indispensable part of our mission work and is heartily commended to the earnest prayers of our whole Church. Several changes have taken place in its corps of instructors. Dr. Dight and Dr. Fisher, greatly to the regret of the college, felt compelled to resign their posts and return to this country. Their places have been supplied by the arrival of Dr. Harris Graham from the A. B. C. F. M. in Turkey, and by the re-engagement of Rev. Dr. Wortabet. The corps of instructors was further reinforced by the arrival of Rev. Dean A. Walker and Mr. Alfred E. Day. Mr. R. H. Beattie completed a four years' term of service and returned to this country to pursue his theological studies.

The prosperity of the college is shown by its steadily increasing number of pupils, notwithstanding strenuous efforts made by its opponents of other faiths to detract from its influence. There were in the medical department 45 students; collegiate, 56; preparatory, 121. This is a larger number than has ever before been on the college rolls. The steadily growing influence of this institution on the country through the graduates that go out from it is a source of great gratification.

The Hospital of the Prussian Knights of St. John is still served by the medical staff of the college. The indoor patients treated were 446; outdoor, 9,470. Its work of mercy is as highly appreciated as ever, and its influence on the side of the Gospel of Christ is invaluable.

Dr. Jessup, in his station report, says: "It gives us pleasure to report that our excellent Consul, Mr. E. Bissinger, has been retained in office by the Department of State, and that he has continued to promote American interests with his usual wisdom and energy. At the close of the year the Legation in Constantinople was urging anew the right to reopen the school in Hamath."

Sidon.

"Gratitude to God for an unbroken circle of workers, for health continued and new mercies given, for dreaded dangers averted and unseen perils escaped, is not a duty merely, but the outflow of hearts full of thanksgiving." With these words Mr. Eddy begins his annual report.

Rev. G. A. Ford, during the latter part of the year, shared again with Rev. W. K. Eddy the burdens and the joys of the work at this station. Misses R. M. and C. H. Brown have kept on faithfully and successfully in their work in Sidon Seminary.

The Government has interfered directly with the work in only two places, Mejdal and Ain Kunyeh. There the churches are still closed and all instruction forbidden. Hopes are entertained that in the providence of God these interdicts may be removed. Indirectly the known hostile attitude of the Government has stimulated the zeal of the enemies of the Gospel to many new efforts to impede its progress. Attempts have been made to deprive Protestants of their legal status before the law and refuse them the representatives in the courts heretofore allowed them in common with other non-Moslem sects. The Moslem authorities have kept such rigid watch over our schools and their people, that they have diminished the number of Moslem pupils under our care. It is believed that a reaction in our favor will ere long be felt. The opposition of Romanists is increasingly active. In Saleheyeh they engaged as their teacher a student from our college who had been dismissed by the missionaries. The priest told the people that as they had always leaned to Protestant morals and training he had secured a teacher from our school and they would have no further excuse for using Protestant schools.

An incident of the work is thus related by Mr. Eddy :

"In Berta the drawing power of Gospel preaching may have been frequently seen during the past year in the crowds collected about the hired room. That few were inside, that the choir outside praised with tin pans, that the collection thrown in was not taken up except to clear the room, that it would enrich a geological cabinet rather than the Lord's treasury, that the responses savored of the language of Ashdod, that the iron gong at the door was stolen, and that the poor widow woman who united with the church was beaten,—these are all little incidents of the work there. To deter others from confessing their faith in Christ a Protestant family there was made an example of. A plot of land suitable for a house was seized by a priest, who proceeded by main force to erect a building thereon. The owner is too poor to engage in an expensive lawsuit, and so this parcel of land may keep company with Naboth's vineyard."

A church member of Abara, falsely accused of murder, has been 17 months in prison without trial. It is well known to all the court that he is innocent. But being poor he cannot obtain his freedom.

Female Seminary.—The report speaks at length of the first visit of Mrs. Hoskins to the school where she as Miss Eddy taught so many years, and of the happy reception accorded to her by pupils and friends.

During the summer vacation the girls were busy raising money for their foreign mission band. They sent the proceeds to the City of Mexico and were rejoicing in the quick return of notes of gratitude from that field, and to know that it was the means of leading the Mexican converts to "go and do likewise."

Six girls received their diplomas and after graduation took a special course in normal instruction. All are engaged in evangelical work. The primary object of the school was to train Protestant girls. A Druze girl has, however, been enrolled among the boarders, and a Moslem father asked admission for his daughter and is willing to pay for her training. The day-school is made up of girls from all the sects, including Jew, Moslem, and Metawaly. A little benevolent society of girls sent a few bushels of Sidon oranges to the Prussian Orphanage in Beirut. Miss R. M. Brown adds to her report that "at the close of the year a meeting for Moslem women was started, and between thirty and forty have been enrolled. They gave good attention to Bible stories, and so far have been most zealous in committing to memory the Lord's prayer. This annex to the seminary we trust will change the homes of many of the day pupils and thus be a real help and blessing in the work. The teachers and pupils in the seminary have many causes for thanksgiving, and not the least of them is the grant of $1,500 by the Board for building the house in Judeideh for the ladies of Sidon station. As Judeideh, the village in which the house is to be erected, is in easy riding distance from many villages where there are former and present pupils and teachers of the seminary, the work will continue during vacation, and with God's blessing be to His glory. 'The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad.'"

Mr. Eddy says: "Equal encouragement comes from the Sidon Academy, with its 140 boys. Thirteen of the boarding pupils come from Zahleh station and fourteen from Tripoli. A class of five graduated last summer, four of whom now have charge of schools. Of the 55 graduates 31 are engaged in teaching. Fifty pupils have been prepared and sent to the college in Beirut. The pupils are from various sects: 53 were Protestants, 55 Orthodox Greeks, 30 Papal Greeks, 14 Maronites, 8 Moslems, 8 Druzes. Three have entered the Theological Seminary after having been tested by several years of faithful teaching."

Lack of sufficient accommodations has compelled them to refuse full boarding privileges to all new pupils. A reading-room and library have been provided by renting a long vault, which, being well lighted and fitted up, is a most useful place. Large donations of valuable books were received from the Women's Society of Englewood and from the late Dr. Hunt's library.

The church services have been very well attended and full of interest. More than 200 pupils attended the Sunday-school. Ten persons were received into the church on profession of faith in Christ. There is reason "to hope for blessed results from the weekly gathering for Christian women and the two large classes of Moslem women under instruction." In Jezzeen the attendance of over 100 pupils upon our schools and the changed attitude of the people show how the noted Maronite bigotry of that place may yet wholly disappear. In Merj Aiyoon the death of the faithful helper, Ibrahim Yusef, is deeply felt. It is hoped that his sons, now completing their education, may wear the mantle so long worn by their father. In Judeideh the work continues uninterrupted, with 330 pupils. In Alma seven have united with the church. In nearly all the outstations the record of the year has been that of quiet fruitful work. Twenty-six have been added to the eleven churches of the station. There are 1,600 Protestants; 1,440 pupils in the schools, of whom 500 are girls.

Zahleh.

Rev. G. A. Ford, of Sidon, has spent about six months in the Zahleh field, taking the lead in all the work. Early in October Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Hoskins were reinforced by the arrival of Rev. and Mrs. W. Scott Watson, who have given themselves chiefly to the study of the difficult Arabic language. Welcome visits were received from Drs. Bliss and Eddy, and Mr. W. K. Eddy, who rendered aid in a most acceptable manner.

A little daughter was added to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins.

Special mention is made in this as in other reports of the untiring efforts and timely counsel and encouragement of Consul Erhardt Bis-singer. The unmistakable attitude of hostility on the part of Government is dwelt on at length. It is, however, clear that much of this hostility is kept alive by the zealous bishops, who lose no opportunity to obstruct Gospel work. The school in Ain Burday (a suburb of Baalbec) was reopened, but was so boycotted by the police that for a considerable time the teacher had no pupils. Late in the year eighteen had forced the blockade and were in regular attendance. At Shuleefa the people were frightened into giving a bond in $250, to be forfeited if they allowed the Americans to open a school there. Later on a teacher was welcomed by the people and their bond bought back for one dollar and eighty cents. All the schools were visited by soldiers, who asked questions, took notes, and reported to their superiors.

At Kob Elias the native helper was erecting a school-house and chapel. When the walls were up and ready for the roof the Government prohibited finishing it and arrested the native helper. He was not released until he gave pledge that he would do no more work on the building. The winter rains have seriously injured the roofless walls. At Mushghara the people purchased a large bell to replace the little old cracked one. They were adding stones on the roof for a belfry when work was stopped by threats to imprison the teacher.

In general the present determination of the Government is that our work shall not expand, and that we must fight to hold our own, especially where there are Moslem and kindred sects. On the other hand, the people in all directions are friendly except the papists, who seek opportunities to insult or injure our missionaries and their native helpers. All others welcome their visits and listen to their instruction.

The School Work has prospered notwithstanding the obstructive and repressive measures of Government. The average attendance is better than before, though the actual number of pupils on the rolls is less than the previous year. Petitions for new schools were received from five towns.

The one solitary pupil at Sughbeccn has now 18 companions and expects many more. In Mushghara and Jadectha, where five years ago the work stopped for lack of interest, we have now our best success.

Church Work.—There has been real growth in the church work and life. Special week-day meetings are largely attended. Such was the case in Zahleh. The regular services are attended usually by less than one hundred, while about 300 attended the special meetings. Five members were added to the church. Although the number is small, the frequent changes in the management of the station and the impossibility of working up the interests of the church must account for it. Better things are expected another year. The Foreign Mission Band in Zahleh devotes its $112 to work in India. The benevolent contributions of the church average one dollar per member. In Tullya the people have expended $174 in providing a suitable place for the school. They also offer another house for a girls' school. Special mention is made of the marked influence of the mission press in all the station and its work.

In a glance backward Mr. Hoskins' report says: "It is not many years since missionaries were driven out of Zahleh. All that has changed. It is not many years since nothing worthy to be called a school existed; and a man who could read was revered as something above an ordinary mortal. How greatly has all this changed. None but the poorest are denied the advantages of some schooling. Schools have been multiplied among all sects until it is a disgrace to a man not to know how to read and to write. The demand for books and newspapers is constantly growing, and one is continually reminded that the people as a whole have waked up to the value and imperative need of education. Best of all the Bible is owned and read, and that priest or bishop is rash who would attempt to hinder people in these days from owning and reading the best of all books. The entrance of God's Word giveth light. It is very pleasant to have this truth exemplified as clearly as it has been in Shuleefa this year. Several young men began to study there; they soon put the ignorant priest to confusion, and we rejoiced to take two of them into the church."

The Greek school in Zahleh is manned by teachers from our schools, and furnished with books from our Press. The whole order and spirit of it is said to be Protestant. In Wady Yahfufch are several Metawaly villages in which only one man could be found able to read. A school has been opened among them. Moslems have attended services in Baalbec and in Muallaka, and Bibles are welcomed in Moslem homes. The teachers of the Governor's girls' school in Baalbec were educated in American mission schools. A Moslem Mufti has a son in one of our boarding-schools, and on being called to account for it by the authorities in Damascus, claimed the right to educate his son where he pleased. Moslems are seeing clearly the difference between evangelical Christianity and that of the nominal Christians of the land. One of the Turkish Governors recently spent an hour and a half talking with non-Moslem members of his court while the missionary was calling, and claimed that they ought all to join the evangelical party and to be like them in faith and practice.

Abeih.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Bird have been connected with this station during their entire missionary life. Their daughter, Miss E. G. Bird, lives in their family and conducts the work for women in a most acceptable manner. Rev. and Mrs. T. S. Pond and family left for this country in June. Rev. O. J. Hardin took Mr. Pond's place in November, and has taken direct charge of the training-school. The Abeih report speaks in common with all others of the visitation of the "Abu Rikab" fever which very few escaped. In many villages every inhabitant was "in bed" with it. In some places schools were suspended for several months on account of small-pox and diphtheria. The Ain Zhalteh church, besides contributing the usual amount toward their pastor's salary, raised $100 for a new roof to their church. Baakleen is a remarkable Druze centre, and the home of the famous Druze warrior, Ali Beg Hamady, who before his death requested the prayers of missionary ladies residing there. Here there are 160 children in the schools, and all taught the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Three English ladies, Misses Smith, Ward, and Prout, have made this town their residence. They spend their time in work for the women and are very highly respected. They also contribute time, money, and their earnest prayers in aid of the schools.

Shweifat, one of the largest towns of Lebanon, continues to be a most interesting point of work. There are about 150 pupils in our schools. An Irish lady, Miss Proctor, has established here a boarding-school in which are 25 girls and 12 little boys and 31 day pupils. The Sabbath services are well attended. The most influential men of the place often listen to the Gospel preaching. The people are Greek and Druze. It is well worth while to make diligent use of our opportunities in this the winter capital of a very large district in Lebanon. Mr. Bird in speaking of Aramoon says: "It is at present highly favored in having an ignorant and obstinate priest who has succeeded in alienating a large part of his flock. Some of them have declared themselves Protestants, while others are about ready to do so." A hundred pupils attend the schools. Suk el Ghurb and Abeih were supplied with preaching by the Beirut brethren who were spending the hot season on the mountains. The training-school at Suk el Ghurb was opened a month later than usual awaiting Mr. Hardin's arrival, and more fees were collected, consequently the number of pupils has diminished slightly. The influence of this school is felt all through the mountain for good. At Abeih both church services and schools are up to the usual mark of interest. Seven members were added to the church. The Women's Sewing Circle for benevolent objects is a new feature. Earning money expressly for benevolence was a new idea and is working beautifully. Mr. Bird says, "it dawned upon them like a revelation," and they found a new joy both in working and in bringing the proceeds to their treasury. They were surprised that they could give so much. One poor woman made little clay models of Syrian household articles, and was astounded to find that she had more than two dollars to give to the treasury. "The giving of so much money at once had not entered into her wildest dreams." Druze women and others have joined in the same work and help it on. While there are special obstacles in the southern part of the station, owing to the almost unrestrained influence and antagonism of the Maronite bishop, yet on the whole there is a bright outlook and signs of great good to come.

Tripoli.

The area and population of the district occupied by this station are equal to about half that of the whole mission. It contains four important cities, Tripoli, El Meena, Hamath, and Hums, now connected by a carriage-road. The material prosperity of the people is about equal to that of other Syrians. The wealth is in the hands of a few, while the vast majority are poor. One of the principal features of the work at this station is its touring. The successful working of it requires the absence of one of its members nearly all the time. The burden of this important part of the work has rested during the year mainly on the Rev. F. W. March, senior member of the station. Dr. Ira Harris, who returned with his family in July with restored health, was most cordially welcomed by his associates as well as by the Syrians of all sects, and especially by the Moslems, among whom by means of his surgical skill he had made many warm friends. Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Nelson are making excellent progress with the language, Mr. Nelson having already begun the use of it in public services.

Teachers' Convention.—Mr. Nelson says in the abstract of the station report that "In the summer a convention of all its native helpers was called at Tripoli. Some of the teachers travelled four days to reach it. It was a pleasant and helpful occasion, and all returned to their various posts with renewed spirit and devotion."

Persecution.—This station, whose work has been made so memorable in years past by the long-continued and bitter persecutions against its converts, has experienced a year of rest and quiet. Mr. Nelson says: "It has been a pleasure to see an increase of brotherly love and Christian zeal. In more than one place a period of lethargy has been followed by a time of earnest work and more diligent study of the Scriptures. The largest accession to the church was at Minyara, where eleven were welcomed to the communion-table." In Hums one of the native brethren, an elder in the church and for many years teacher, was called to fill the absent pastor's place, which he has done with great acceptance. A home missionary band has undertaken work in the surrounding towns with considerable success. One whole village with its priest offered to become Protestants. The result will doubtless be the beginning of a church there after persecution has sifted the people.

Under the leadership of one or two of the women, vigorous work was also undertaken for the women of that city. A new place of worship, outside the city walls, is greatly needed to meet the wants of those who have not before been reached. The school at Hamath, which has been reopened more than once in accordance with orders from Constantinople, has been as often closed by the local Turkish Government. The meetings, however, both here and at Mahardeh, are so well attended that new and larger accommodations are an imperative necessity. The accessions to the church membership during the year have been forty-one.

Schools.—"Several schools have been added to the list of last year, and many other villages are urgently calling for more. The chief increase in the roll has been in the line of girls' schools. One has been reopened at Safita, one at Bishmizeen, and a new one at Meshta. This last is attended by boys as well as girls, though the teacher is a young woman."

The work at Tripoli is thus described in the report :

"Several departments of work centre in Tripoli itself. The bookstore is always a useful agency where much religious work is done in the salesroom, and the colporteurs, supported by the American Bible Society, have made successful trips in the North, selling many copies of the Scriptures and conversing much with the people, awakening a new interest in the truth. The dispensary, which has been reopened since Dr. Harris' return, calls together a large company at every clinic. Many of these are Moslems, and they hear the Bible read and explained before receiving medical attention. Three regular preaching services are maintained. One is at the city proper, one at the Meena, or port, and the third on the hill where the poorest people of the city reside. This last quarter is the most interesting part of our work in Tripoli. The men gather every evening for Bible study, and meetings are frequently held for the women."

The Girls' Boarding-School has been crowded with pupils this year. There have been 33 boarders and 100 day pupils. The Italians have opened a free-school, supported by their Government, for the sake of introducing their language, and thus opening a channel for their commerce. Many years ago the principal foreign language in Syria was Italian, and trade was carried on through Italian merchants. The French gradually took its place, and Italian influence with its trade disappeared. We now notice a revival of Italy's interests in its introduction of new schools in the important centres with no religious purpose, but simply and avowedly that of Government interest. The Italian ladies, who are teaching their girls' school, showed a friendly interest in our school. Their institution, though free and quite a success, has not as yet detracted at all from our own. The ladies in charge have been able, by the well-earned reputation of its teachers, to collect the regular fees from the pupils. The report says: "The direct study of the Bible is a conspicuous element in the life of the school. During the year one of the native teachers was taken away by death. She was a graduate, and had taught for a few years in the school. While there was no marked religious awakening during the year among the girls, several of their number have made public confession of their faith in Christ, thus subjecting themselves to trying persecution from relatives and friends."

Mr. Nelson, in closing his report, adds:

"In all respects the members of the Tripoli station look over the past year with gratitude to God for His hand leading them, and with new courage for the future. The whole missionary band is on the ground and in good health, ready for active work; the native brethren are in earnest and ready for aggressive movements, and hopeful indications cheer the workers in many directions."

---	---	--

* The Board having made the fiscal year of all its Missions to accord with its own, from May 1st, to May 1st, remitted to some of its Missions whose year would not have ended until after May 1, 1890, some not until August 1st, less than a full twelve months' account, thus reducing the expenditures below the full appropriation for the year.

† In addition to this, the Board has required the Mission Treasurers to reduce to lowest possible limit the current balances which must be maintained in their hands for the safety of the missionaries.

This explanation will account for the two items of $50,000 and $48,326.25 noted above, but it remains true that the expenditures for the full twelve months would equal the amount appropriated, say $999,000, that the work of the Board cannot be reduced below this amount without a positive abandonment of work already undertaken, and that the Church has failed, say by $100,000, to meet the annual requirement of the work.

The total receipts for the past year were less than in 1878-89..... $58,749 41

H. H. FRY, Secretary Central Committee.

The above statement shows actual work of the Women's Societies and Boards as given in detail in their separate reports. The expenses of these Societies and a small amount disbursed directly by them do not appear in the statement of the Treasurer of the Assembly's Board.

* The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Philadelphia also gave during the year for Clara Linton Hamilton Memorial Building, China, $3,585.54, and for church at Shweifut, Syria, $2,000, which, however, was not appropriated by the Board until after May 1, 1890, and will appear in accounts for 1890-1891.

† The Occidental Board, heretofore reporting through the Philadelphia Society, collected a larger amount than here stated, but disbursed the same for work under appropriations, without being sent through the Assembly's Board. This will be changed in the methods of the current year.

SEVENTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT.

Grateful to God for a year of enlarged work and for the cordial support of many churches and of special friends, the Board of Education respectfully presents to the General Assembly its SEVENTY-FIRST REPORT.

The Board re-organized at the beginning of the year by the election of the Rev. George D. Baker, D. D., for President, and the Rev. James M. Crowell D.D., for Vice-President. The Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer were continued the same as before. The Rev. John Dixon, D. D., who was appointed to fill the term of Rev. Marcus A. Brownson resigned, felt it to be his duty, after full consideration of the subject, to decline his appointment which he did with much regret. In October last, Elder H. W. Pitkin, a much valued member of our body who had served it faithfully for twelve years was removed from us by death, and a resolution commemorative of his worth was adopted and put on record. The vacancies thus made have not been filled. The meetings of the Board have been for the most part well attended and the business harmoniously conducted.

The carefully prepared report of the Assembly's Committee, of which the Rev. Dr. Morris was Chairman, and which was read before its session last Spring, seems to have awakened the attention of our young men to the question of their duty towards the ministry and to have secured a larger number of enlistments than ever before by its startling facts and cogent appeals. In all 913 have been recommended for aid by their Presbyteries. Of these 332 were new cases. Out of the whole number 47 were declined from apprehensions of incurring too heavy a debt at the end of the year. As a general rule, preference was given to those who were intending to take a full course of study, or were already in College or in the Theological Seminary. Academics were received only on strong representations of their worth and need. The Professors' Reports have always been carefully scrutinized and every instance of failure on the part of a student to reach a fair standing on all the topics specified has been noted and inquired into. When no satisfactory explanation has been returned and no good promise of usefulness testified to, the case has been reported to Presbytery recommending and the Scholarship withheld.

The main disheartening fact to be mentioned is that the contributions have not increased in proportion to the number of candidates, as was hoped. While some churches have doubled their gifts, others have lessened theirs. 3,511 have sent us nothing. Many of these are marked vacant on the Assembly's roll; others have only "stated supplies" in their pulpits who do not remain long enough in charge to take the causes well in hand. Some ministers, and those too of large churches, decline to present our cause altogether or even to give their people an opportunity to contribute to it, on the ground that they do not approve of the policy on which it proceeds. Others find the opposition in their sessions. From the Synodical Reports on Education we learn that the lack of due interest in this Board is chiefly owing to the neglect of ministers to set forth its importance and its needs to their congregations. There is some reason to think that this is true.

In this connection we take the liberty of pressing one point of no little moment. Inasmuch as the Boards were designed to act as the organs of the church in its united capacity, working as one body, undertaking its enterprises and incurring obligations in reliance on "that which every joint supplieth according to the working in due measure of each several part" it seems of the utmost importance that this design should be thoroughly understood and complied with; and that all officers of the church, especially its ministers, should act together in all loyalty for the furtherance of the common interests; and moreover that the Presbyteries, with whom is lodged the oversight, or episcopate, with us, should see that it is properly executed. When such concurrent action is lacking, the church naturally becomes hampered in its movements. That there is need of this stricter concurrence, is seen in the embarrassments in which this Board, for example, is involved from want of knowing with some degree of definiteness what to rely upon in arranging its plans and calculating its outlays. Nearly all the applications for aid with us come in at the beginning of the scholastic year, and the order is that the Board fulfill the promises made to the students then, even though it should be necessary to borrow the money in order to do it. Accordingly the problem at the outset is to ascertain how many candidates it will be safe to receive and at what amounts the scholarships shall be put. But in the endeavor to solve this problem the wisest calculations are often foiled by failure in the contributions which were counted on.

So it happened this year. When it was inferred from the great increase of candidates and from the earlier contributions, that the churches were waking up to the importance of this cause and that there would surely be an enlarged income correspondingly, a greater number of recommendations than usual was cautiously but hopefully accepted. But as time went on, there came a change ominous of a deficiency. It was difficult to tell what to do. When so many of the Boards were out with their appeals for assistance, it seemed hardly wise to add ours to theirs, and thus multiply before the public the unpleasant evidences of a wide delinquency on the part of the churches. But there was no other course left for us. We proclaimed our necessities through all the journals. We sent out urgent reminders to all the churches that had as yet given us nothing. Several chairmen of our Presbyterial Committees came nobly to our assistance at no small expense of time and money in stirring their brethren up to duty, and so earned our warmest thanks. Besides all this more than a hundred letters were written by the secretary and by members of the Board, and directed where it was thought they would do the most good, showing the straitness we were in, and urging help by various arguments. Some kind responses were thus obtained. But notwithstanding these efforts we regret to say that the payment of last year's debt has compelled us to close our accounts with a deficit of 8,700.* Plain enough is it that the Church needs more system, more concert of action, and a deeper interest in all its measures awakened throughout its entire body if it is to accomplish anything worthy of itself with that ease and readiness which becomes it. Constant prodding is annoying; but indifference to obligations assumed is, on the other hand, both discreditable and harmful when exhibited to any extent. When churches are calling aloud for more educated ministers and young men moved by the call are offering themselves to the service on condition of being aided somewhat in their preparation for it, a very discouraging setback is it for them to be refused the required help, and the church suffers from vacant pulpits in consequence. A painful necessity also was it for the Board to be obliged to decline several of the applications it has had from want of funds.

* Two days after the accounts were closed for the year we were gladdened by a generous gift of $3,000, from a friend who has once and again come to our relief aforetime. This was intended to go in with the contributions of the year just ended. Had it come earlier it would have reduced our reported deficit to $5,700; a less sum than that of the year previous.

THE NECESSITY UPON US.

Here another important question arises. Can the Church afford to fail in this fundamental work of supplying itself with a sufficiency of educated men to fill its pulpits, and to carry on its educational and missionary enterprises? The Minutes of the last Assembly report 1,148 churches vacant of which fully 400 were, judging from their numbers, important enough to command the entire services of a minister. The others are small in membership and indicate a greater or less chance for living according to the amount of nurture they may get and the size of the place they are planted in. It must be remembered, however, that a small church is not necessarily a weak one. To these vacancies must be added our average net increase of churches annually which Dr. Morris puts at 150. Last year it was 188. To meet this large demand made by our vacancies and additions it appears from the same authority that aside from the 589 ministers without charge, of whom the number that can be relied upon for steady work may be reckoned at 300, we are producing from our seminaries an annual average of only 145 graduates, to which should be added an average of 30 per annum who are classed as "extraordinary cases," that is, not regularly educated. Besides these we are drawing from other denominations at the rate of 82 annually. Last year this number swelled to 105 in the line of a steady advance. "But when we have to deduct from the total of these supplies the number that die annually which may be put at 93, it will be seen that our annual rate of increase in ministers is inadequate to meet the denominational demand." So says the report from which we quote.

In this connection there comes in another consideration which was alluded to last year but which we would emphasize anew. It is the effect which this large dependence on outside sources for our ministerial supplies must have on the homogeneousness of our church, both in doctrine and polity, and also in its administration. It is hardly possible for men who have not been brought up with us to become at once thoroughly of us and take a deep interest in all our various enterprises and understand our ways. Such identification usually requires time, and when not begun early is seldom complete: We claim therefore that the church owes it to herself, as well for the maintenance of her credit, as for the preservation of her order, to train up her ministers more generally from out of her own sons, and in her own institutions, and thus to qualify them to do her work in her own way. Not that we should not welcome from abroad all in sympathy with us who desire to join us. But what we want is more consolidation. Differences weaken. If we would advance rapidly in our attempts to conquer the country and the world for Christ we must move together, in compact phalanx, and with uniform step, sustaining each other in every common effort, and submitting to one general control. But this solidarity can never be secured unless we have more uniformity and hearty concurrence in our ministry, even though it be at the sacrifice of private opinion.

THE PARTIAL COURSE.

The question as to the extent to which the Board should countenance those who are intending to take only a partial course of study is still under consideration. While it has kept in mind the opinion of the last Assembly that it should "aid all candidates recommended by the Presbyteries; leaving it with them to determine what cases should be regarded as extraordinary," it has been constrained by a regard for its Constitution as well as by the lack of funds to make a discrimination in favor of the regular cases. The number aided that were not in full accord with our rules is 63, and for these in several instances special gifts were sent.

CONTRIBUTIONS.

The number of churches contributing to the Board was 3,008 a little less than half of the whole number. Special sums have also been sent in by private and unnameable friends, with expressions of interest that were very gratifying. The whole sum received from all sources amounts to $84,936.34 an excess of $4,0001.65 for current uses over that of the previous year.

THE NEWBERRY SCHOLARSHIP.

In September of 1888 the Board of Education had the pleasure of receiving a check for $10,000, being the amount in full due under the will of the late John S. Newberry, of Detroit, Mich. This devise had been made "for the education of young men for the ministry, to be received and held in trust by the Board for investment, and to be called the 'Newberry Fund,' its income to be used exclusively for the education, in some theological institution, of one young man for the time being, and from time to time, for the ministry."

This trust was gladly accepted by the Board, and because of the close relations which the testator had sustained to Lane Theological Seminary, it was resolved "that the first award of the income of said fund be given to one of the students in that institution who, upon a competitive examination between three members of the Junior class of 1889, recommended by the faculty, should seem the best deserving of it as combining the qualifications of high Christian character, good judgment and scholarship, fitting them for special usefulness in the Gospel ministry." A committee of the Board conducted this examination, and, after a trial in all departments of collegiate study required, recommended that the Newberry scholarship be awarded to a student in the Junior Class of that Seminary who had obtained the highest number of marks on their schedule of grades. This recommendation was unanimously adopted, and the student thus benefitted was also urged, now that he was freed from the necessity of laboring in any way for his support, to improve his vacation in such reading and study, under the direction of the faculty, as would advance him still further in his preparatory course. The money has been sent him.

One advantage resulting from such prize scholarships is that it insures the direction of the funds to the worthiest, so far as rigid examination can ascertain who is the worthiest, and furnishes to such a candidate still further the means of cultivating his fine gifts and multiplying his attainments to the utmost, and thus of qualifying himself for some eminent position, either as pastor of some important church, or as professor or president in some of our literary or theological institutions. Such men are called for more and more as the population of our country increases; and we are not raising enough of them. Our candidates, most of them, are too much straitened in resources to obtain the means for a large and liberal culture, and are obliged often to hasten into service for support when a longer course of study might help to lift them into the highest ranks of Christian scholarship. These ranks are by no means full. Might not, therefore, the example of Mr. Newberry be profitably followed by others, and the number of these prize funds be increased, to the great benefit of our church? The Board of Education at present allows its candidates but $100 per year, a sum by no means sufficient to cover the expenses of board, clothing, books and travel. Only to double or triple this amount would, therefore, still be a prize worthy of consideration and prove very helpful.

CANDIDATES AIDED.

The number of candidates under care of the Board has increased from 772 to 839. They were distributed through their course of study as follows : in the Theological seminaries, 357 ; in Colleges, 406 ; in the Preparatory department, 76.

Classified according to their nationality and race : 36 are Germans ; 110 Negroes ; 5 Scandinavians ; 4 Bohemians ; 2 Japanese ; 1 Spaniard ; 1 Mexican ; 1 Brazilian ; 5 Bulgarians ; 1 Turk ; 1 Syrian. The rest are American, Scotch, Irish and Dutch.

In point of scholarship 270 are marked high ; 268 medium+ ; 234 medium ; 14 medium— ; 10 low. A few of those marked below medium have been retained on special information from their instructors that their excellence in other respects warrants good hope of success in the ministry ; 6 have been obliged to suspend study on account of ill-health ; 4 have been dropped for marked disqualifications in ability and conduct ; 7 have withdrawn, having found other means of support ; 36, though accepted by the Board on Presbyterial recommendations, were not reported by their professors as needing the scholarships, and, therefore, they were not paid. One promising student has been called away by death.

Those who have completed their studies at the Theological Seminaries, and have been graduated this spring, are as follows : From McCormick, 31 ; Princeton, 29 ; Union, 16 ; Lane, 11 ; Western, 5 ; Auburn, 4 ; Newark, 5 ; Lincoln, 3 ; Dubuque, 2.

The institutions at which our candidates have been studying are tabulated below.

PROSPECT OF SUPPLIES FOR THE COMING YEAR.

In this respect the catalogues of our Theological Seminaries show a still further advance upon that of last year.

The graduates from Princeton	number	59,	an increase of	6.
“ “ Union	“	43,	“	7.
“ “ MacCormick		37,	a decrease of	4.
“ “ Auburn		18,	an increase of	9.
“ “ Lane	“	17,	an increase of	3.

The graduates from Western	number	24,	an increase of	6.
“	“	Danville,	“	0, a decrease of 2.
“	“	Lincoln	“	8, “ 10.
“	“	Biddle	“	0, “ 5.
German Theo. school at Bloomfield,				5, same as last year,
“	“	“	Dubuque,	2, a decrease of 2.

This shows a total of 213, a happy advance on that of last year by 18. Yet it must be remembered that all these graduates are not in our connection, and can not be counted on as for us. How many are to be deducted on this score it is not easy to ascertain. But notwithstanding all this increase it is plain that the accommodations at these institutions are not all taken up. There still is room. Would that it could be fully occupied. In order to do this there is required only a little more effort on the part of ministers and elders and Sabbath-school teachers to enlist the young men under their care in the blessed service, and on the part of parents to consecrate their sons to the same high calling.

In conclusion, the Board would respectfully ask whether the day for presenting the cause of Ministerial Education before the Assembly can not be changed to one less liable to interruption. For many years the day devoted to it has been the second Thursday of the session, and this is the day on which the delegates from corresponding bodies are heard as the first order. And as their speeches are of an uncertain length it often happens that the time intended for this cause is crowded into very narrow limits, and but little opportunity is afforded for that full and free ventilation which it needs. It has greatly suffered in consequence. There are points connected with it that require to be thoroughly discussed, and objections made to it that ought to be removed by an open canvass of their force. It does not yet command that full assent of the church which is essential to its proper support and which its importance demands.

The members of the Board whose term of service expires this year are as follows: Ministers—George D. Baker, D. D.; James M. Crowell, D. D. Elders—George W. Barr, Andrew Blair. The two vacancies to be filled belonging to the same term are those of John Dixon, D. D., resigned, and H. W. Pitkin, deceased.

All of which is respectfully submitted by order of the Board.

D. W. POOR,
Corresponding Secretary.

FORM OF A DEVISE OR BEQUEST.

All that the Board deems it important to furnish is its CORPORATE NAME, viz.: The Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

The State laws differ so much that no one form will answer in all the States.

The following form may be used in most of the States:

"I give and devise to The Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, the sum of _____ dollars to and for the uses of the said Board of Education, and under its direction, to be applied to assist candidates for the ministry." (If real estate or other property be given, let it be particularly described.)

Letters and Communications for the BOARD OF EDUCATION, relating to the general concerns of the Board, to candidates for the ministry, reports, appropriations, etc., are to be addressed to the Corresponding Secretary (Rev. D. W. Poor, D. D.) No. 1334 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

Remittances of Money should be sent to the treasurer, MR. JACOB WILSON, same address.

APPENDIX.

ACTION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The Standing Committee of the Assembly consisted of the following named persons :

Ministers:

ROBERT M. PATTERSON, D. D.,
TIMOTHY G. DARLING, D. D.,
ROBERT IRWIN, D. D.,
ADAM MCCLELLAND, D. D.,
SAMUEL T. WILSON,
JOHN L. SCOTT, D. D.,
GEORGE S. LEEPER,
JAMES H. BALDWIN.

Elders:

EMERSON E. WHITE,
ALFRED P. REID,
HENRY WARDEN,
JOHN THORN,
ROBERT E. LAWRENCE,
GEORGE D. DAYTON,
SAMUEL A. FARRAND.

The Committee presented their report on Monday, May 19th, 1890, through their Chairman, Rev. R. M. Patterson, D. D., which was accepted. The Assembly was then addressed by Rev. D. W. Poor, Corresponding Secretary of the Board.

The report was unanimously adopted, and is as follows :

The Standing Committee on Education respectfully reports that it has examined the Seventy-First Annual Report of the Board of Education, from which it gleanes the following facts :

The whole amount of money received from all sources during the year was $84,936.34, an advance of $4,001.65 upon that of the previous year. The payment of the preceding year's debt, however, and the necessary appropriations to an enlarged number of students compelled the Board to close its accounts with a deficit of $8,700, which was reduced by the receipt two days thereafter of a gift of $3,000, intended to go in with the contributions of the year, leaving the real deficit, therefor, $5,700, a sum, the Committee is glad to note, less than that of the previous year.

The number of churches contributing this year is 3,008; 336 more than last year, but still leaving 3,511 non-contributing.

The number of candidates under the care of the Board has increased from 772 to 839.

The number recommended by their presbyteries was 913, a larger number than ever before, of which 332 were new cases, but of the whole number forty-seven were declined from apprehensions of incurring too heavy a debt at the end of the year. It thus appears that while the contributions have increased they have not increased in proportion to the number of candidates, and the Board had to reject worthy cases because the Church did not furnish it with the means for their support. The Lord is answering the prayer for the sending of more laborers into the harvest by putting into the hearts of an increasing number of young men the desire to be trained for the work; and the people should unite in the answer to the prayer by aiding the young men in their preparation.

The number of graduates from our theological seminaries last year was 213, a happy advance on that of the preceding year by eighteen, and of that number 106 were under the care of the Board. These figures suggest the great value of the Board. As it is, with those who come to us from other denominations, the annual supply of ministers is inadequate to meet the demands of the Church. How destitute would be our condition without those who, unless aided as they are by the Board, could not pass through the curriculum required?

Special attention is directed in the Annual Report to prize scholarships, suggested by a gift of $10,000 by John S. Newberry, of Detroit, Mich.; the income to be appropriated, after a competitive examination, for the education in some theological institution, of one young man for the time being, and from time to time, for the ministry. The report adds very judiciously :

"One advantage resulting from of such prize scholarships is that it insures the direction of the funds to the worthiest, so far as rigid examination can ascertain who is the worthiest, and furnishes to such a candidate still further the means of cultivating his fine gifts and multiplying his attainments to the utmost, and thus qualifying himself for some eminent position, either as pastor of some important church, or as professor or president in some of our literary or theological institutions. Such men are called for more and more as the population of our country increases, and we are not raising enough of them. Our candidates, most of them, are too much straitened in resources to obtain the means for a large and liberal culture, and are obliged often to hasten into service for support when a longer course of study might help to lift them into the highest ranks of Christian scholarship. These ranks are by no means full. Might not, therefore, the example of Mr. Newberry be profitably followed by others, and the number of these prize funds be increased, to the great benefit of our Church? The Board of Education at present allows its candidates but $100 per year, a sum by no means sufficient to cover the expenses of board, clothing, books and travel. Only to double or treble this amount would, therefore, still be a prize worthy of consideration and prove very helpful.

"It would, in the judgment of the Committee, be highly beneficial to establish more such scholarships, so as to enable young men of special ability under the care of the Board to prosecute without anxiety studies that will fit them for important work in the Church. Church.

"The Secretary of the Board, in his intercourse with the Committee, in which he has frankly and clearly met every inquiry and fully explained the principles on which the Board acts, desires the Committee to emphasize the fact that the number of vacant churches and of pulpits occupied by stated supplies have an injurious influence in a two-fold way on the work of the Board. 1. In such churches the cause is either not presented at all or presented in a way that is not effective; hence, non-contributing churches or merely nominal contributions. 2. They discourage young men from desiring to enter the ministry. The candidate system is not alluring to them. The subject is touched upon in one of the special reports that has been set down for consideration in connection with this report. The Committee alludes to it here for the purpose of emphasizing its importance and turning the minds of the General Assembly the more intently upon the recommendations of the special committee."

In view of these statements the Committee recommend the adoption of the following resolutions :

1. That the fidelity to their trust of the members and officers of the Board of Education be approved, and that they be commended anew to the Churches in the prosecution of the important work committed to them.

2. That the General Assembly mourns the loss of the valuable services of elder H. W. Pitkin, a member of the Board, who, after twelve years' service, has been removed by death.

3. That the General Assembly expresses its pleasure at the increasing interest in the work of the Board as manifested by the increased number of contributing churches, but regrets to note that so many are still non-contributing. As a matter of loyalty to our Church the General Assembly emphasizes the duty of all sessions to afford their congregations the opportunity to contribute to this as well as to the other agencies by which the Church carries on its work; and it directs presbyteries to make diligent inquiry as to compliance with this duty, and to press its observance upon those whose reasons for non-compliance are insufficient.

4. That the Board be advised to support its candidates only at institutions which are under or in harmony with our Church; and that it is against sound principle and policy for those who are aided by the contributions of our people to be committed to the care of institutions of learning where they are likely to be diverted from our own seminaries and ministry.

5. The General Assembly calls the attention of wealthy members of our Church to the system of prize scholarships, by which they can help to prepare young men of special ability under the care of the Board for important literary and theological positions in the Church.

6. The members of the Board whose term of service expires this year are; Ministers, George D. Baker, D. D.; James M. Crowell, D. D.; Elders, George W. Barr, Andrew Blair. The Committee recommends that they be re-elected.

There are two vacancies caused by the resignation of John Dixon, D. D., and the death of Elder H. W. Pitkin.

The committee recommends the election of the Rev. W. C. Rommel to fill the forme^r and Elder James F. Magee the latter. All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. M. PATTERSON, Chairman.

RULES OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

RELATING TO

CANDIDATES FOR THE MINISTRY.

I.—DEPENDENCE OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION UPON THE PRESBYTERIES OF THE CHURCH.

1. The Board of Education shall receive and aid candidates for the ministry of the Gospel only upon the recommendation of a Presbytery of the Church; and the Presbytery is responsible for their examination, subsequent care, and the designation of the annual amount of aid to be granted to them, within the limits set by the General Assembly.

2. The Board will in each case look especially to the Education Committee of the Presbytery for filling out and forwarding the form of recommendation required for the reception of a candidate, and also for the pastoral care of the same, until his entrance upon his official duties.

3. As a general rule, the Board will receive any young man of whose examination and recommendation in conformity with its requirements proper notification has been given; but it shall be at liberty to refuse new candidates beyond its ability to support them; and it will not give aid to students from the foreign missionary field unless they have been recommended by our foreign missionaries abroad, or have come to study in this country by a special invitation given from this Board upon the request of other duly recognized church authorities, or of missionaries resident on the fields from which they come.

II.—RECEPTION OF CANDIDATES.

1. The encouragement of a young man to enter the Gospel ministry is a matter of serious concern both to himself and to the Church; and it should be given only by those who have proper knowledge of his mental and moral character, accompanied with much counsel and prayer, and directly by a single desire for the glory of God. Every candidate should join that Presbytery to which he would most naturally belong; and he should be introduced to it either by his pastor or by some member of the Education Committee after such acquaintance as will warrant his taking the responsibility of so doing.

2. The Presbytery, in examining students with a view to their recommendation for aid, must embrace such points as are indicated by the following questions, to which definite answers, by the direction of the Assembly will invariably be required by the Board: What is the candidate's name? Age? Residence? Is the Presbytery satisfied as to his experimental piety? As to his motives for seeking the ministry? As to his talents? As to his health? As to his promise of practical efficiency? Is he free from expensive and injurious habits? What is the lowest amount of pecuniary aid required to supplement his really necessary expenses till the end of the present collegiate year? Of what congregation is he a member? How long has he been in the communion of the Church? What is his stage of study? Where studying? Has he been recommended to Presbytery by his Church Session? If in a Theological Seminary, has he pursued a collegiate course or its equivalent? Can he recite the Westminster Assembly's Shorter Catechism? Give the name of a responsible person (usually a member of the faculty of the institution, or his pastor) through whom the scholarship can be sent.

3. No candidate shall be received by the Board who has not been a member of the Presbyterian Church, or of some closely related body, for at least one year; who has not been recommended to the Presbytery by the Session of the Church of which he is a member; and who is not sufficiently advanced in study to enter college, except in extraordinary cases.

III.—SCHOLARSHIPS.

1. The annual scholarships to candidates shall be the same in amount for theological and collegiate students, and not exceed $150; for those in the preparatory course the amount shall not exceed $100.

2. These Scholarships shall be paid to a student only on the reception of particular and satisfactory reports from his professors, embracing the following points: Christian Character? Scholarship? Rhetorical Ability? Punctuality? Economy?

3. The Board may increase or diminish, in a general ratio, the Scholarships in case of unusual surplus or deficiency in funds.

4. No payment shall be made in advance. Each payment shall be acknowledged by a receipt signed by the candidate, or by the person authorized by him to receive it. And this receipt shall contain a pledge to return the amount given, with interest, in case he of his own accord turn aside from his ministerial calling.

5. In order to suit the period when the students most need assistance, and when the reports from professors can be most satisfactorily made, the reports shall ordinarily be made on the first days of October, January and April. The payments of a student whose recommendation is made at any time between those days may be expected to commence at the date of it.

6. The Board will in no case be responsible for the debts of students; but it is expected of them that the scholarship shall be first applied to the payment of tuition and boarding.

7. The payments to candidates shall cease regularly at the close of the collegiate year, or earlier when the time for which they were recommended by the Presbytery has expired, and these shall not be made in cases of prolonged ill health which may unfit them for the work of the ministry; or when they are manifestly improvident, or contract debts without reasonable prospects of payment; or when they marry; or when they receive assistance from any other educational board or society; or, when from private circumstances, they cease to need aid.

8. The sums of money appropriated by the Board shall be refunded to it, with interest, in case a student fail to enter on or continue in the work of the ministry (unless it appears that he is providentially prevented); or if he ceases to adhere to the standards of the Presbyterian Church; or if he changes his place of study contrary to the directions of the Presbytery, or continue to prosecute his studies at an institution not approved by it or by the Board; or if he withdraws his connection from the Church of which this Board is the organ, without furnishing a satisfactory reason.

9. A scholarship afforded by the Presbyterian Church, through the Board of Education, is not to be given or regarded as a loan, to be refunded by those who comply with these rules and regularly enter the ministry, but as her cheerful contribution to facilitate and expedite their preparation for it; and they are only obligated by it to a warmer interest in her efforts for the advancement of the Redeemer's kingdom, and especially to the use of the means necessary to instruct and stimulate her members in the duty of multiplying and sending forth preachers of the Gospel of salvation to all the world.

IV.—CARE OF CANDIDATES.

1. Candidates are required, except in extraordinary cases, and then only with the explicit permission of their Presbyteries, to pursue a thorough course of study, preparatory to that of theology, in institutions that sympathize with the doctrinal teachings of the Presbyterian Church; and, when prepared, to pursue a three years' course of theological studies in some seminary connected with the same Church, and no work of preaching is allowed to interfere with the diligent and faithful prosecution of their prescribed studies until the close.

2. The Board can rely only upon the Education Committee of each Presbytery for the regular care of its own Candidates, which should include the constant exercise of a parental oversight over them in spiritual things, and the bestowment of the counsel they need as to their mode of preparation, their place of study, their trials, and the occupation of their time, while not engaged in study, in employments which will tend to qualify them for effective usefulness as pastors or evangelists.

3. The Board shall assist the Presbytery in its care of candidates, by furnishing annually to the Education Committee, a summary of information from the professors' reports as to the standing of each student; and the Corresponding Secretary shall exercise a general supervisory care over them, also visit and address them, when practicable, at the institution where they are, in regard to their duties and the claims of the office which they have in view.

4. The recommendation of each candidate must be annually renewed by his Presbytery, if possible, at the spring meeting, in connection with one from the Session of the Church of which he is a member, and a specification must be made of the amount needed by him; and until the notification of these points has been received, a student will not be considered as upon the roll for the year.

5. Recommendations, or renewals of them, made by an Education Committee in the interim of the Sessions of a Presbytery, shall be received as sufficient, provided its action is reported to the Presbytery at its next session, and not countermanded to the Board.

6. If, at any time, there be discovered in a student such defect in capacity, diligence, and especially in piety, as would render his introduction into the ministry a doubtful measure, it shall be the sacred duty of the Board to communicate without delay the information received to the Education Committee of his Presbytery; and if, on careful inquiry on the part of the Presbytery, no satisfactory explanation of the defect can be obtained, or if no response be received by the Board from the Presbytery or from its Committee on Education, within the current quarter, it shall be the duty of the Board to withdraw its aid altogether.

7. Special care should be exercised by the Presbytery in the examination of students who are about to enter upon the theological course, according to the instructions of the Form of Government (Chap. XIV. Sec. III.): and this examination should be conducted by the Presbytery, and be entirely satisfactory as to the "real piety" of the students, "and the motives which have influenced them to desire the sacred office," before they are allowed to take this final step towards assuming its great responsibilities.

8. The annual report, occasional publications of this Board, and a copy of the Confession of Faith, shall be sent gratis to all students under its care who request them.

V.—PARTICULAR DUTIES OF CANDIDATES.

1. Inasmuch as the great aim of the Church, in the establishment of the Board of Education, is the increase of holy and faithful preachers of the Gospel; the young brethren who look to this work are earnestly and affectionately reminded that all intellectual acquisitions are of little value without the cultivation of piety, and that they are expected and required to pay special attention to the practical duties of religion, such as reading the Scriptures; secret prayer and meditation; occasional acts of special consecration of themselves to Christ and to His service, as their Redeemer and as the Lord of all; at tendance at regular meetings on the Sabbath and during the week; endeavors to promote the salvation of others; and the exhibition at all times of a pious and consistent example.

2. Inasmuch as the scholarships granted by the Board will necessarily fall short of a full support of the students, it will be expected that they and their friends will make all proper exertions to supply whatever may be wanting.

3. When a student shall find it necessary to relinquish study for a time, in order to increase his means for support, by teaching or otherwise, he shall first obtain the consent of the Education Committee of the Presbytery, or of the Board; and if when given, he shall not be absent from study more than three months, his scholarship will be continued: but if longer, it will be discontinued, or continued in part, according to circumstances.

4. It shall be the duty of each candidate connected with the Board to report himself, soon after the meeting of the General Assembly, to the Education Committee of his Presbytery, as to his progress, wants, and prospects; and when any of the requisitions of the Board which affect him may not be carried out by teachers or others, it becomes his duty to see that they are attended to, that delays and losses to himself may be prevented.

5. The reception of a scholarship by a student shall be considered as expressing a promise to comply with all the rules and regulations of the Board.

VI.—SPECIAL RULES FOR COLORED CANDIDATES.

1. The Board will take none under its care as candidates for the ministry among the negroes during the preparatory course unless after a season of thorough trial and approval both as to piety and ability, through two or three years—as reported by their teachers.

2. Such students are not to be aided more than two years before entering college.

3. It is not regarded as advisable for any colored student to pursue a full collegiate course who does not evince an aptitude for study that will enable him to reach at least a grade of 70, out of a possible 100, in sciences and languages.

4. In case a colored student evinces peculiar gifts for the ministry, aside from his ability to acquire a knowledge of the sciences or languages, he should be advised to pursue a wholly English course in History, Exegesis, Theology, Moral Science, etc.

5. The attention of the Presbyteries and Instructors is called to the great importance of having immoralities on the part of students under the care of this Board reported to it as soon as possible, after such lapses from Christian character shall be known.

6. In order to discharge the trust imposed upon the Board with conscientious fidelity, the Committees of Presbyteries, who commend students to the care of the Board, are requested to furnish the Board with full and minute information as to the moral and Christian character, and the real mental ability and promise of the candidates so commended.

7. As there is a difference of expense in attendance at different institutions, and as it is one of the rules of the Board that students shall ask for the minimum sum that will meet their needs, therefore when the Board knows that any named sum at the special institution will suffice, the allowance from the Board shall not exceed that amount.

8. As it is enjoined in the Rules and urged upon the Board, by a special resolution of the Assembly, of 1878, (see Minutes of General Assembly, p. 47) that candidates enter and remain in the Presbytery to which they naturally belong, and by the Assembly of 1884 (see Minutes of General Assembly, p. 87) it is enjoined that candidates under the care of the Board pursue their collegiate studies in institutions that are in sympathy with both the doctrines and polity of the Presbyterian Church, the colored students under the care of the Board are enjoined to remain in connection with their proper Presbyteries, and to attend in both their preparatory and Collegiate courses, schools, either under the care of the Freedmen's Board, or taught by teachers in connection with our Church.

Presbyterial Recommendation of a Candidate to "The Board of Education of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A."

The Board of Education has been instructed hereafter invariably to require, in connection with the acceptance of a student, and before promising him aid from the funds of the Church, definite answers to several important questions which may conveniently be given according to the form below.

A candidate, in order to receive aid, must have been a member of the Presbyterian Church, or some closely related body, for at least one year: be recommended to Presbytery by his church session; and, except in extraordinary cases (colored students, and those of foreign populations, especially), be prepared to enter college.

The recommendation, both by church session and Presbytery, must be renewed annually, if possible at the spring meeting of the Presbytery, and should state the lowest possible amount within the limits set by the General Assembly that the candidate requires to meet his necessary expenses for the year.

The following form will also answer for Annual Renewals; such questions as that of the candidate's age, and that of his length of time in communion with the Church, if answered before, evidently need not be repeated; but, on consideration, it will be manifest that almost all the other questions deserve annual inquiry.

At a meeting of the Presbytery of _____

PROFESSORS' REPORT TO THE PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF EDUCATION.

As to students at.....

For the Board's term of months, ending 189

(Signed).....

(Date)..... 189

In behalf of the Faculty.

This form is for the use of teachers or professors of literary or theological institutions, in reporting to the Board the progress and character of students for the ministry under their care, who have been recommended by the Presbyteries for aid from the funds of the Church. The grade or opinion on the points specified may be given in the terms: High, Medium + Medium, and Low; or in such other terms as will best express the views of the Reporter. Under "Scholarship," the class standing may be inserted.

The report should be made carefully and conscientiously; and returned, without inspection by others, by the authorized teacher or professor directly to the Secretary of the Board. Any additional remarks or statements will be gratefully received, and may be very useful to the Board.

Regular appropriations are made at the meetings of the Board within the first half of October, January, and April. All reports (those for a position of a term included) should be made at those times. The blanks above, for the name and locality of the institution, the term (or portion of it) covered by the report, and the date of sending, should be filled up; and they should be mailed a sufficient time before the close of the preceding month to reach the Office of the Board before the term days mentioned.

It is respectfully suggested to instructors that it would be well to privately remind students before the spring meetings of the Presbyteries, of the necessity of the annual renewal of the Presbyterial recommendation to the Board, in order that aid may be continued.

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE
ON THE BOARD OF PUBLICATION AND SABBATH-SCHOOL WORK.

The Standing Committee on Publication and Sabbath-school Work respectfully reports :

That our Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work is an indispensable instrument of church edification and church extension none can doubt. A sound and wholesome Christian literature is by it prepared for our churches and their work, and the seeds of future churches are diligently sown in destitute regions by its Sabbath-school missionaries. No apparent or real defect in the management of the Board should in the least weaken our confidence in this department of the Church as a most valuable factor in its prosperity. If any defect should be found in the administration, it may readily be corrected ; but it would be sad indeed if from any such cause there should be any alienation on the part of the Church in regard to an engine of such power for good. While we, therefore, very properly examine and see that the machinery is rightly worked, let us uphold the institution with loyal hearts and ready hands.

The presentation of a select literature in harmony with our faith, calculated to educate our people in scriptural knowledge and to mould their minds in godliness, is a potent help to the pulpit, and in many cases a conservative power where there is no pulpit. The many helps to Bible study, both for home use and for Sabbath-school instruction, which are issued by our Board, are carefully and wisely prepared and make Bible study attractive, while they give point to the teachings of the school. We may gain some notion of the value of these by imagining what a set-back our Sabbath-schools would experience by their loss. A well-selected Sabbath-school library becomes very largely, in parts of our country, the staple reading of the family at home, and so proves an efficient agent in leading both old and young to the source of truth. In some places the Sabbath-school library is the only library of a neighborhood, and it forms the thought of the community.

It is also most important that books which illustrate our Presbyterian system should be found in the hands of all pastors and teachers, so that its excellences should be known, appreciated, defended and proclaimed by those who are in positions of influence; and this can be done only by the publications of a Board whose imprimatur establishes the orthodoxy of the volumes it issues.

The direct missionary work of the Board is largely that of a fore-runner to the work of the Board of Home Missions. It can occupy a field newly opened before the home missionary can reach it. It collects materials and starts a life to which the home missionary comes afterward. It plants the school, which the home missionary converts into a church. It visits a settlement before the houses are roofed in, and gathers the children to receive religious instruction, it may be under a tree or in a barn. It seeks to sanctify a community at its birth, and so prepare the way for larger spiritual applications. The work is laborious and full of vicissitude, requiring faith and zeal and tact that are not extensively found. The self-denying Sabbath-school missionary meets with every variety of experience. He pushes on under the burning heat of summer and the biting cold of winter. He puts up with a rough diet and rougher lodgment. He faces objections, indifference, rudeness and open opposition. He is satisfied with a meager salary, and finds his reward in a good conscience and the knowledge that he is working in the front for his Lord and Saviour. With all the disadvantages that he meets, he founds the school, he establishes its system, he appoints its officers, he instructs them in its manner of conduct, and, having fairly constructed and launched the new enterprise with earnest prayer, he proceeds to the next station to repeat the useful work there. These are the noble men and this the noble work which our Board has been faithfully and efficiently sustaining, and the results have been such as to awaken our liveliest gratitude to God. Eleven hundred and thirty-nine Sabbath-schools have been established during the year, from which already a large number of churches have been organized. In these Sabbath-schools are 4542 teachers and 38,836 scholars. The missionaries have visited and otherwise aided 2616 Sabbath-schools, visiting 65,920 families and blessing them with the word of God and prayer. They have conducted Sabbath-school institutes and conventions, preached and assisted at evangelistic meetings, and have co-operated with synodical and home missionaries in organizing churches and in providing them with places of worship. Even though a quarter of the schools established may not survive, the three quarters that are maintained are powerful factors in the evangelization of the newly-settled regions. The missionaries have, during the past year, sold 7118 and given away 46,344 volumes other than Bibles. The whole number of volumes, including Bibles, that have been distributed by the Sabbath-school and Missionary department is 73,873. Special efforts were used to make Children's Day a useful day for the work, and attractive literature was distributed to that end. The amount of at least $28,000, the contributions of that day, was ample proof of the wisdom of this measure.

Your committee cannot leave the matter of the Sabbath-school department without expressing their decided approbation of the method adopted of employing seminary students in the missionary work, a method so beneficial to the students and proved so successful in its missionary results.

Twenty-two bound volumes and eight new tracts have been published during the year. The eleven periodicals of the Board have been continued with increasing popularity, benefit and pecuniary profit. The Westminster Teacher, as one of them, takes very high rank as an exegetical and homiletic aid to the Sabbath-school teacher.

The Business Department reports 1,136,250 books or tracts and 20,764,822 periodicals as issued during the year. There are twenty-two depositories and branch houses, including one in London, one in Montreal, one in Toronto and one in Winnipeg.

The sales for the year in books and tracts amounted to $106,123.86, and those from periodicals to $134,981.89, making a total of $241,105.75.

The receipts from all sources were $337,958.94, which with the balance from last year makes a total of $422,642.71. The entire expenditures were $352,999.29. The balance in the treasury on April 1, 1890, was $69,643.42. This balance includes the balance due to "The Church at Home and Abroad." The net profits of the year have been $16,943.16, of which two thirds ($11,295.44) have been placed to the credit of the Sabbath-school and Missionary fund, and the remaining one third has been added to the capital stock, which now amounts to $512,128.76, three fifths of which is unproductive property.

We can look on this Board and the commodious house which it occupies (and in which are furnished, without rent, accommodations for the Boards of Education and Ministerial Relief, the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and the presbyterial gatherings) with justifiable denominational pride, and with devout gratitude to God that our Church is so well furnished with needful apparatus for its extended work.

The members of the Board have shown their devotion to the interests of the Church, and although there has been a difference of opinion as to the proper economy of administration, we cannot but recognize the high character and Christian faithfulness of those to whom the General Assembly has intrusted this important branch of the Church's work.

To them and to the honored secretary of the Board we would accord the praise that is their due.

Your committee would submit to the Assembly the following resolutions for its adoption :

Resolved, 1. That we regard the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work as one of the most important agents of home evangelization, and that as such its missionary work should be liberally supported by all our churches.

Resolved, 2. That our churches should, as far as possible, use and circulate the publications of our own Board as a sound and wholesome Christian literature for both young and old.

Resolved, 3. That pastors be urged to explain to their people the difference between the business and missionary departments of the Board, and show them that the latter depends chiefly on the contributions from the churches and Sabbath-schools.

Resolved, 4. That the Board take into consideration the advisability of publishing in the German, Spanish and Scandinavian languages such Sabbath-school books and papers as may supply a want in our own schools, where pupils speaking these languages are found.

Resolved, 5. That the Rev. John Hemphill, D.D., having been elected by the Board in the place of the Rev. S. W. Dana, D.D., who declined the position to which he was elected by the last Assembly, the Rev. J. Stuart Dickson having been elected by the Board to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of the Rev. H. C. McCook, D.D., and Franklin L. Sheppard, Esq., having been elected by the Board to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of the Hon. George S. Graham, those elections are hereby confirmed.

Resolved, 6. That the terms of office of the following gentlemen, expiring in June, 1890, the same are hereby elected to the Board for three years, to wit: Ministers—Benjamin L. Agnew, D.D., Thomas A. Hoyt, D.D., John Hemphill, D.D., Rev. J. Stuart Dickson. Elders—Samuel C. Perkins, LL.D., Robert N. Willson, Franklin L. Shepard, and as the Hon. John Scott declines a re-election, Mr. W. H. Parsons, of New York, is elected to the Board for three years.

The committee, having had referred to them an overture from the Presbytery of Highland asking the Assembly to recommend for use other hymnals than our own, or to make an arrangement for their publication by our Board, recommend no action in the matter.

Respectfully submitted.

HOWARD CROSBY,

Chairman.

WORK OF THE BOARD.

The Board reports, with gratitude to God, that it has had vouchsafed to it a large measure of prosperity, and it trusts of usefulness, during the year. All the departments have been prospered. The Business Department closed the year with net profits amounting to $16,943.16, which enabled it to pay over to the Missionary Fund the sum of $11,295.44. Although the sale of books and tracts was somewhat less than that of last year, the circulation of the periodicals has largely increased. The Editorial Department, in addition to so conducting the periodicals as to win the increased favor of the Church, as is manifested by the increased subscription, has been privileged to add many interesting works to the list of its publications. The Sabbath-school and Missionary Department has been signally blessed. The contributions received have been greater than in any preceding year. It was enabled not only to place a large number of student missionaries in the field last summer, but also considerably to increase its force of permanent laborers. It has been privileged to establish 1139 Sabbath-schools, from which has already been organized a large number of churches. It closes the year with a balance of $30,125.35, which will justify it in employing a larger number of student missionaries during the coming summer than it has ever yet commissioned.

THE BUSINESS RELATIONS BETWEEN THE BUSINESS AND THE SABBATH-SCHOOL AND MISSIONARY DEPARTMENTS.

In the year 1882 the General Assembly adopted the following resolution of instruction, under which the Board has continued to act to the present time—the Business Department being substituted for the Publishing, and the Sabbath-school and Missionary for that of Colportage, since the reorganization in 1887:

Resolved, That the General Assembly instructs the Board of Publication to maintain a separation as complete as practicable between the Publishing and the Colportage Departments in their business affairs, so that the relation between the two in this respect shall be the same as between the Publishing Department and any other purchaser—the terms of sale to the Colportage Department to be as favorable as those offered to any other purchaser.

As the Business Department offers to its most favored customers in this country different rates of discount on different classes of books and tracts, it was deemed expedient, in carrying out the spirit of this instruction, for the convenience of both departments in the keeping of accounts, that a uniform discount, representing the average of the various rates of discount, should be established on all purchases by the Sabbath-school and Missionary Department. After careful investigation it was estimated that a uniform rate of 30 per cent. would place the latter department on the footing of the most favored purchaser, and the Board determined that that rate should be established. Subsequently the discount was raised to $33\frac{1}{3}$, at which rate it has been continued for several years. As, however, misconceptions on this subject seem to have arisen in some quarters, the Board at a recent meeting adopted the following:

Resolved, That the rule of allowing a uniform rate of discount to the Sabbath-school and Missionary Department on all purchases of books and tracts be rescinded, and that hereafter the Business Superintendent be directed to allow to said Department on purchases of all classes of books, tracts and periodicals the highest rates of discount allowed on the same classes of publications to the most favored branch houses in this country.

The adoption of the new rule, it is believed, will not materially affect the interests of the Sabbath-school and Missionary Department. It is proper to add that the discount on periodicals has always been that allowed to the most favored purchasers.

PAPERS FOR THE PEOPLE.

It was confidently expected when the last report was presented to the Assembly that the publication of the projected series of Papers for the People would be shortly commenced. A large number of essays had been promised to the Board by distinguished writers. Various circumstances, however, prevented the fulfillment of these promises, and the publication was necessarily deferred. As soon as a sufficient number of essays is in the hands of the secretary to justify such action, which it is hoped will be in the near future, publication will be entered upon.

SABBATH-SCHOOL AND MISSIONARY DEPARTMENT.

The year covered by this Report has been one of unexampled prosperity in the history of the Sabbath-school and Missionary Department. The object and methods of the Department have been better understood, and consequently presbyteries, pastors, sessions, churches and Sabbath-schools have more generally sympathized with its efforts and more liberally supported them. Our missionaries have learned much by experience and have become more efficient. Our efforts have been crowned by divine Providence with results the largest yet achieved. We thank God for the past and take courage for the future.

WORK OF THE DEPARTMENT.

The functions of this Department are four—1. Sabbath-school extension in the destitute portions of the land. 2. The distribution of our literature by grants and by missionary sales. 3. The elevation and improvement of the Sabbath-school work of our churches. 4. The collection and presentation to the General Assembly of Sabbath-school statistics.

SABBATH-SCHOOL EXTENSION.

This is effected principally through the agency of carefully-selected Sabbath-school missionaries. This work, however, is largely aided by the distribution of religious literature.

SABBATH-SCHOOL MISSIONARIES.

Two classes of missionaries are employed, styled respectively permanent and temporary.

Of permanent missionaries there were in commission at the beginning of the year 34. Of these 6 have been retired, and 16 have been added to the force. The number now in commission is 44. These are stationed in 24 states and territories, viz., California, Washington, Oregon, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas, Indian Territory, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Florida.

During the last summer there were sent into the field (78) seventy-eight temporary missionaries—students selected from our theological seminaries and appointed to labor during their four months' vacation. These young men labored with fidelity and success. God enabled them to accomplish great things for Christ by giving them favor with the presbyteries, pastors and people. They also have gained invaluable experience in view of their future ministry.

The total number of missionaries, permanent and temporary, in our employ during the last year was (128) one hundred and twenty-eight.

RESUME OF RESULTS.

During the year our missionaries directly organized 1139 new Sabbath-schools, with a personnel of 4542 teachers and 38,836 scholars—a total of 43,378 individuals.

In addition to the foregoing, 109 schools have been organized under the offer of the Board to supply hymn-books, lesson helps, papers and Bibles to any man or woman establishing a Presbyterian Sabbath-school. It thus appears that there have been organized during the year, under the direct or indirect agency of the Board, 1248 new Sabbath-schools, having a membership of over 47,000 teachers and scholars.

Our missionaries have visited and otherwise aided 2616 Sabbath-schools. They have delivered 5889 addresses, visited 65,920 families and travelled 302,493 miles.

It may aid us, in appreciating the work performed by these laborers, to recognize that on an average they organized on each of the 365 days of the year three new Sabbath-schools, of 118 members in all. Each of the 52 Sabbaths of the year covered by this Report witnessed the organization of more than 21 new Sabbath-schools, with over 834 teachers and scholars.

No numerals, however, can set forth the best results of work done for Christ and his Church by these men. In regions of our land destitute of religious services, where the Sabbath is unrecognized or desecrated, they have gone from house to house, into 65,000 families, with the gospel of Christ on their lips and on the printed page, blessing these families with the word of God and prayer. They have sought and brought into the fold the scattered sheep of the good Shepherd. They have conducted Sabbath-school institutes and conventions. They have preached in the mode appropriate to them as frequently as most pastors. They have assisted in evangelistic meetings. During the winter, when field operations were impracticable, they have co-operated with synodical and home missionaries in organizing churches and in providing for them places of worship. Into new settlements they have often gone in the very nick of time to determine their future character by bringing their youth and children into the church and the school. They have been scouts, at once a pioneer corps and an advance guard for the army of Christ.

PERMANENCY OF THE NEW SCHOOLS.

Will these newly-organized schools live? From the outset, the Department, in its instructions to its missionaries, has laid the greatest emphasis on the direction not simply to organize, but permanently to establish, Sabbath-schools. It is not easy to estimate the difficulty of carrying out this direction. In many localities it is difficult to find a man qualified to superintend a school; in many it is scarcely possible to secure a sufficient number of competent teachers. In many northern regions the country schools, on account of blockades of snow and almost impassable roads, must suspend operation during the winter. It is pleasing, however, to be able to state that in the spring most of the suspended schools are reopened; and who is there that will despise the good accomplished by a Bible-school maintained even six months in the year?

The missionaries are instructed, wherever possible, to place the new schools under the care of some neighboring Presbyterian church, of the committee of presbytery and of the synodical missionary.

A systematic effort has been begun, and will be continued, to ascertain the facts concerning the permanency of each school organized by our missionaries.

We have received information concerning 695 of the 831 schools directly organized by our missionaries from April 1, 1888, to April 1, 1889. Of these, 474 are still maintained; 221 of them are no longer in existence. We have also received accurate information that from the 474 living schools reported, 85 churches have already been organized.

It should also be stated that, of the 117 schools indirectly organized during that year through the offer of grants of Bibles, hymn-books, lesson helps and papers, all are alive and active.

GRANTS.

In addition to the work done by living missionaries, as above reported, this Department makes use of the printed gospel as a method of evangelization. In the last twelve months it has distributed 73,873 volumes of Christian literature, of which 6,750 were Bibles. Of volumes, the missionaries sold 7,118, and gave away, other than Bibles, 46,344; and the Sabbath-school and Missionary Committee made grants of 13,661. The number of pages of tracts and periodicals given away by the missionaries was 2,703,755; the number granted by the Sabbath-school and Missionary Committee was 9,509,257; which, together, make 12,213,012. The net value of the grants made by the Department, through its committee and its missionaries (i. e., the exact cost to the Department), was $14,246.52. The bare statement of the number of volumes and of pages of Christian literature thus distributed will have but little meaning for the casual reader. It will, however, possess unspeakable significance for every one who has learned how God is pleased to use printed truth for the salvation of men. It may enable us to appreciate the magnitude of these grants to say that they average, for every working day in the year, 236 volumes, and 39,000 pages of tracts and periodicals.

The number of Sabbath-schools assisted during the year by these grants, most of which are entirely dependent for reading matter upon them, was no less than 1,376. The number of grants of books and tracts made to churches and individuals was 446; so that the Department has made, altogether, 1,822 grants during the last twelve months, or more than six for each working day of the year.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The total receipts of this Department for its current fund, during the year, were $87,508.35—of which $68,020.64 came from churches and Sabbath-schools; $3,511.63 from individual contributors; $4,195.28 from interest on invested funds; $485.36 from profits on sales by missionaries, and $11,295.44 from the Business Department, being two thirds of the net profits of that Department for the year.

The total expenditures of the year were $92,201.66—an excess of $4,693.31 over the receipts. A statement of the items of expenditure will be found in Statement No. 2, p. 43.

Concerning the balance on hand April 1, 1890, of $30,125.35, it may be said that it is less by $4,693.31 than was the balance on April 1, 1889. At the beginning of the field operations of the summer, the balance is always greater than in the autumn and winter, and it is proper that it should be. Already 88 theological students have been commissioned for work during the coming summer. This will entail for their support and expenses, and for the equipment of the Sabbath-schools which they will organize, an expenditure of over $30,000, which will exhaust the balance.

The trustees of the Board, during the year, have received legacies, etc., amounting to $5,976.06, which will be added to the permanent funds.

NOTABLE GIFTS.

A friend of this work contributes $800 a year for the salary and expenses of one of our most efficient missionaries. He has also contributed $1,200 this year, to be expended in supporting temporary missionaries during the summer of 1890. These gifts he has sent to us through his church Sabbath-school. He also authorized us to publish the following munificent offer :

“TO ANY CHURCH OR SABBATH-SCHOOL WHICH WILL UNDERTAKE THE SUPPORT OF A MISSIONARY TO ORGANIZE SABBATH-SCHOOLS, A GENTLEMAN GUARANTEES $150 OF THE AMOUNT NECESSARY! SO THAT YOU MAY HAVE YOUR OWN MISSIONARY IN THE FIELD, REPORTING DIRECT TO YOUR SABBATH-SCHOOL, BY SENDING TO THIS TREASURY $550.”

This offer was embraced by the First Presbyterian Church and Sabbath-school of Bridgeport, Conn., which sent us $550 ; and that church and school have now the satisfaction of regarding a Sabbath-school missionary as peculiarly their own.

A lady of the state of New York makes an annual gift to this work of $600 for the support of a Sabbath-school missionary in the South. Other large gifts have been made to the cause of Sabbath-school missions by several churches and schools.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

It is difficult precisely to state the amount of contributions received from Sabbath-schools on last “Children’s Day,” because many of them were sent in with those of the churches, and many were not separated from the annual contributions of the schools. It is safe, however, to say that it amounted to considerably over $28,000. It is also worthy of record that the efforts on Children’s Day, instead of lessening, increase the regular giving of the Sabbath-schools and churches.

Larger preparations than hitherto have been made for the observance of this day in June next. Full supplies of orders of worship, music, etc., are offered to Sabbath-schools intending to observe it. It is hoped that the approaching celebration may be an occasion of great spiritual profit to the youth of our churches, and that the contributions to Sabbath-school work may be largely increased.

CALLS FOR EXTENSION.

Calls for increase of workers, and the enlargement of our work, come to us from the states west of the Mississippi and the Pacific slope. Immigration is pressing into Nebraska, Dakota and Kansas, and demands immediate steps to provide for the spiritual necessity of the immigrants. Montana and the fresh fields of southern California, Washington and Oregon are rapidly being opened to our work. Whatever we do for these great regions must be done quickly.

In the states of the South, during the past year, there have been organized 265 Sabbath-schools. Of these 54 were established among the colored people; 118 in the mountain region of the South, and of West Virginia, eastern Kentucky and east Tennessee.

But what are these among so many? In addition to the demand for the organization of Sabbath-schools, there is a loud call for permanent missionaries, who should be located in certain communities, concentrating their labor and teaching until those communities are ready for the organization of churches. This somewhat new work will demand a large increase both of men and of means.

CO-OPERATION WITH OTHER BOARDS.

It has been our privilege, in the year that is past, to assist the missionaries of our Foreign Board by favorably responding to all their appeals for donations of books and other publications. To Persia, at one time, were sent 76 volumes; to Brazil, of Portuguese publications to the net value of $40.17; to Lahore, India, 35 volumes; to Yokohama, Japan, 65 volumes. Most of these were for the use of foreign colleges.

The missionaries of this Board have worked together in harmony with the missionaries of the Home Board, and they have been of mutual assistance in their labors. Sabbath-school literature has been freely supplied to all schools established by missionaries in connection with our Church.

Encouraging letters have been received from the secretaries of the Home Mission Board, and from its synodical missionaries.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY.

This noble society has, for another year, placed us under obligations, by supplying us freely with Bibles and Testaments for gratuitous distribution.

ELEVATION AND IMPROVEMENT OF SABBATH-SCHOOLS.

This is one of the important functions of the Department. It is carried out by the following methods:

1. Bibles for Reciting the Shorter Catechism.—The offer of a Bible to every scholar who shall perfectly recite the Shorter Catechism is continued. During the year 2,716 have been awarded. The total number that has been awarded since the offer was first made is 5821.

As the Missionary Bible Fund was exhausted about January 1, 1890, by the draughts upon it for this purpose, the demand for Bibles has been met from the Missionary Fund. It is contemplated to continue the offer upon the basis of the Missionary Fund.

2. Institutes, Conventions and Assemblies.—A large number of such meetings to stimulate and instruct the workers have been held in various parts of the Church. The Department has co-operated and assisted in these to a considerable extent during the year. The subject of teacher-training is constantly before us, and time and labor are freely given to it.

3. Missionary Letters.—To each Sabbath-school that sends a contribution to the Missionary Fund, a Sabbath-school missionary is assigned for part support. That school receives quarterly a letter from its missionary. Three thousand schools now receive such letters, and the result is a great increase in the steady interest in this work.

SABBATH-SCHOOL STATISTICS.

The Department, in carrying out one of its duties, viz., that of collecting and reporting to the General Assembly the Sabbath-school statistics of the churches, published in the Minutes of the last General Assembly a tabulated statement, as follows:

MEMBERSHIP.

No. of reporting Sabbath-schools,	6,534

To other Boards of Church,	118,435
To other benevolent objects,	141,527
To support of the school,	259,105

The figures under the heading "Relation to Church" are very imperfect, on account of the incompleteness of the returns. It is hoped that soon all the columns of our report will be generally filled.

Attention is called to the marked improvement in the contributions of the Sabbath-schools to the Sabbath-school missionary work of this Board and to the other Boards of our Church, as shown in the above table, and as will appear in the summary to be printed in the appendix to the Minutes of this Assembly.

PERIODICALS.

No new periodicals have been started during the past year, and there have been no changes in the form of those regularly issued. The full list is as follows: of lesson helps—The Westminster Teacher, The Westminster Question Book, The Westminster Quarterly, The Westminster Lesson Leaf, The Westminster Primary Quarterly, The Westminster Primary Lessons, The German Lesson Leaf; of illustrated papers—Forward, The Sabbath-school Visitor, The Morning Star, The Sunbeam. A few descriptive words concerning each of these will explain their character and object.

THE WESTMINSTER TEACHER.

The Westminster Teacher is issued once a month. It is a beautiful magazine, each number containing forty pages. It is prepared specifically for the teachers and officers of Sabbath-schools, but is used also by many Bible-class scholars. It contains full and varied expositions of the International Bible Lessons. Its aim is not merely to furnish exegetical notes, but specially to aid teachers in applying the truths of Holy Scripture to the consciences and lives of pupils. Warm commendations of the lesson-work in the TEACHER are constantly received from persons who use it, in all parts of the world, many of them from workers in other denominations. This magazine also gives, each month, valuable editorial and contributed articles. The past year a most helpful series of papers on important doctrinal subjects was issued. It is published in octavo form, monthly. Price, single copy by mail, per annum, 60 cents; school subscriptions, to one address, 50 cents each copy.

THE WESTMINSTER QUESTION BOOK.

The Westminster Question Book, though mentioned among the "Bound Volumes," belongs also to the list of Lesson Helps. It is a complete manual or hand-book, containing the Scripture text, with Home Readings, Golden Texts, Lesson Plans, Shorter Catechism, Notes, Questions and Practical Suggestions. It thus gives in a single handy and compact volume the basis for a whole year's work. It is adapted to higher grade or senior classes. Price, $12 per hundred, net; single copies by mail, 15 cents.

THE WESTMINSTER QUARTERLY.

The Westminster Quarterly is adapted to older scholars. It is used in intermediate and Bible-classes. It is issued quarterly, and each number contains full lesson work for the three months. It is an octavo of 36 pages, and is furnished at the low rate of $12 for one hundred copies to one address, for one year; single copies, 20 cents.

THE WESTMINSTER PRIMARY QUARTERLY.

The Westminster Primary Quarterly is adapted to the little people in primary classes. It is bright and attractive, with easy explanations and suggestive questions and things to remember. It is prepared by Mrs. G. R. Alden ("Pansy"). Price, school subscriptions, to one address, 100 copies per year, $8, or 8 cents for each scholar.

THE WESTMINSTER LESSON LEAF.

The Lesson Leaf is prepared with special reference to intermediate and younger scholars. It is issued monthly, but so arranged that if desired the leaves can be separated and distributed to scholars weekly. Each lesson leaf contains one lesson complete, with Scripture, Golden Text, Catechism, Notes, Questions, Practical Teachings. Price, school subscriptions, to one address, 100 copies per year, $5; or 5 cents yearly for each scholar.

The Question Book, Quarterly, and Lesson Leaf are prepared by W. M. Rice, D.D.

THE WESTMINSTER PRIMARY LESSONS.

The Westminster Primary Lessons is a neat leaf, adapted to the little people. It is issued monthly, but the leaves may be separated and distributed weekly if preferred. It is prepared by Mrs. G. R. Alden ("Pansy"), and is illustrated. Price, school subscriptions, to one address, 100 copies per year, $5; or 5 cents yearly for each scholar.

THE GERMAN LESSON LEAF.

The German Lesson Leaf is prepared specifically for the Sabbath-schools of our German congregations, and is heartily appreciated by them. The limited number of Presbyterian German churches renders a large and paying circulation of this leaf impossible. It is published, however, as a help which ought to be given to our excellent German people, even at a financial loss. The price is the same as that of the Westminster Lesson Leaf.

ILLUSTRATED PAPERS.

FORWARD.

Forward continues to grow in favor. It is designed for older young people, of intermediate and Bible-classes. Its aim is to furnish articles of an instructive and elevating character, and yet to avoid being dull and heavy. The name of the paper is suggestive and fitly embodies its aims—to lead its readers on to better things, to inspire and help them upward and onward.

This periodical is attractively illustrated. It is published twice each month, but may be taken either once or twice a month as subscribers desire. Price, school subscriptions, to one address, once a month, 100 copies per year, $15; twice a month, 100 copies per year, $30.

THE SABBATH-SCHOOL VISITOR.

The Sabbath-School Visitor is the oldest of the periodicals of the Board, but it has all the sprightliness and vigor of youth. It is adapted to a class of readers a little younger than Forward. It is an illustrated four-page paper, each number containing attractive and interesting matter adapted to children. It is a welcome visitor in many thousands of homes. It is published twice each month. It may, however, be taken either once or twice a month, as preferred. Price, school subscriptions, to one address, once a month, 100 copies per year, $10; twice a month, 100 copies per year, $20.

THE MORNING STAR.

The Morning Star was started to meet the demand for a paper at a small cost. It is of the same quality, grade and style as the Visitor, but is only half the size. It is issued twice a month, and may be taken once or twice a month as desired. Price, school subscriptions, to one address, once a month, 100 copies per year, $5; twice a month, 100 copies per year, $10.

THE SUNBEAM.

The Sunbeam is issued weekly and is finely illustrated. Its large circulation attests its popularity. It is designed for children, and it is always full of pure and pleasant things for the little ones. Price, school subscriptions, to one address, $20 per 100 copies, for the year. No subscriptions taken for less than a month.

Forward, the Sabbath-School Visitor and the Morning Star each being published twice a month, schools that so desire may have four papers each month. The older scholars can receive Forward and the Visitor each twice; and the younger pupils the Visitor and the Morning Star each twice. Then for the little people the Sunbeam comes every Sabbath in the year.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT.

This Department has charge of all the property of the Board, and conducts all its business operations. Of these operations, the most important are, first, the publication (manufacture) of books, tracts and periodicals, and, secondly, the placing of the publications on the market.

PUBLICATIONS.

According to the statement on p. 40 there have been published during the year 1,136,250 books and tracts and 20,764,822 periodicals, which, together with 8,150 copies of the Annual Report, make an aggregate of 21,909,222 publications for the year. There has been an increase over the publications of last year in books and tracts of 43,500 and in periodicals of 1,371,143, a total increase in books, tracts and periodicals of 1,414,643. There was an increase of 1,500 in the number printed of copies of the Annual Report.

PLACING ON THE MARKET.

This work continues to be performed, as was reported last year, by advertising in the leading papers of our own and affiliated denominations throughout the country, and through the agency of the main store in Philadelphia and twenty-two depositories and branch houses, eighteen of which are in our own land, three in British America and one in England. These agencies are as follows:

It should also be mentioned that our periodicals are still further brought to the attention of churches and Sabbath-schools through the medium of circulars addressed to pastors and superintendents. Our Sabbath-school missionaries also perform an important work in bringing all classes of our publications to the notice of those who dwell in missionary districts.

PERIODICALS.

Our periodicals, including the lesson helps, designed primarily for the use of Sabbath-school teachers and scholars, form an instrumentality of incalculable power, not only for beneficially influencing the young, but for the general diffusion of knowledge of the truth. Since the introduction of uniform lessons into our Sabbath-schools, the Westminster Teacher and other lesson helps have largely superseded the use of Bible Dictionaries and Commentaries. The information that formerly had to be sought by teachers and scholars in these volumes is now culled out by skillful hands, and is presented week by week to those that need it and as it is needed.

These periodicals form one great system which is not only of inestimable benefit to the Church at large, but is remunerative to the Board. Some of these are published at a pecuniary loss; the deficiency, however, is more than counterbalanced by the gains upon the others. Lists of both these classes will be found on p. 41, in the balance sheet. The explanation of the amount of balances against one of these classes is the same as that given in preceding years—they are the accumulation of losses since the establishment of the papers. They are retained upon the balance sheet as being of the nature of investments. All these, with the exception of the German Leaf, give promise not only of reaching a paying basis, but of ultimately liquidating the charge against them. The deficit in the case of each for the year is as follows :

Westminster Primary Lessons,	$74 54
Westminster German Leaf,	492 64
Forward,	27 62
Morning Star,	115 80
	<hr/>
Total deficit for the year,	$710 60

SALES.

The sales for the year in books and tracts were	$106,123 86
The sales for the year in periodicals were	134,981 89
Total,	$241,105 75

This aggregate, as it includes credit sales, does not agree with the Treasurer's account, which account exhibits only cash received.

The aggregate includes not only the ordinary sales of the main house and of the depositories and branch houses, but all sales made to the Sabbath-school and Missionary Department for grants, and for all sales by Sabbath-school missionaries.*

* For the business relations between the Business and the Sabbath-school and Missionary Departments see p. 12; and for a full statement of the respective amounts of books, tracts and periodicals purchased by the latter Department for grants and sales, see p. 23.

There has been an advance in the total amount of sales upon those of last year of $10,869.07—a decrease in the sale of books and tracts of $3,086.28, but an increase in the sale of periodicals of $13,955.35.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES.

The receipts into the treasury during the year from all sources were $337,958.94. To this should be added the balance in the treasury April 1, 1889, making a total of $422,642.71.

The entire expenditures have been $352,999.29.*

The balance in the treasury, April 1, 1890, is $69,643.42. This balance includes not only the balance belonging to the different Departments of the Board, but also the one due to "The Church at Home and Abroad." The total balance belonging to the Business Department alone is $29,671.85.

NET PROFITS.

The net profits of the year have been $16,943.16.

Of this sum, two thirds, or $11,295.44, has been placed to the credit of the Sabbath-school and Missionary fund, in accordance with the direction of the General Assembly. The remaining third, or $5,647.72, has been added to the capital stock.

CAPITAL STOCK.

This, at the beginning of the year, amounted to $506,481.04; it is now reported at $512,128.76.

What was said two years ago in reference to the reported amount of capital, and which was repeated last year, it is proper here again to repeat, and by so doing to emphasize:

"Much of what is so reported is unproductive. It consists of books in the library; of stereotype plates of books for which there is very little demand; of printed sheets of books and tracts that cannot in any considerable degree be placed at once upon the market; of investments in periodicals that have not yet reached a paying basis; and also of real estate. The reported value of real estate, or in other words of the Publication House, is upwards of $152,000. From the portions of this house not used by the Board, a large rent would naturally be expected by those not acquainted with the facts. In compliance, however, with the well-known wishes of the donors, offices free of charge are granted to the different Boards of the Church located in Philadelphia. The rent value of these rooms together with their heating and care cannot be less than $8000 per annum. In reference to such rooms, the value of which is included in its capital, the Board acts as a trustee in the interest of the benevolent operations of the Church at large. It is probable that the working capital of the Board does not exceed $200,000; and that even this amount, in view of the necessary line of the Board's operations, cannot be used for the accretion of profits with aught approaching the power with which it might be employed by an ordinary business publisher."

* The apparent discrepancy between the preceding statements of "receipts" and "expenditures" and those given in the Treasurer's Report, page 42 ("cash received," $433,938.15; "cash paid," $364,294.73), is due to the fact that, in the report, each of the statements is increased by the amount paid over from the Business Department to the Sabbath-school and Missionary Department, viz., $11,295.44.

In reference to the use of the Publication House, it is deemed proper to insert the following extract from the Report of the Special Committee on the Board of Publication that was appointed by the Assembly of 1884, which report was issued to the Church by direction of the Assembly of 1885:

"The noble building occupied by the Board is not under its sole occupancy. It is shared in common with the Boards of Education, Ministerial Relief, the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and the Presbyterian ministerial brotherhood of Philadelphia generally, yet is kept in repair, heated, lighted and its taxes paid out of the earnings of the Board of Publication. In this estimate the choice rooms of the second floor, covering the entire Chestnut Street front, are occupied by the Board of Education. The Board of Ministerial Relief occupies an adjacent room, 13 by 38½ feet in size. A large assembly-room, occupying the entire Sansom Street front, is reserved for public meetings of presbyteries, ministers' meetings and women's prayer-meetings, and a large room across the hall is reserved for committee meetings. On the third floor two rooms, 13 by 38½ feet in size, are occupied by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society."

Since the issuing of the report from which the foregoing paragraph is quoted, a large room in the third story has been appropriated to the Editor of "The Church at Home and Abroad," and an additional room in the fourth story to the Board of Ministerial Relief.

PROFITS AND BENEVOLENT CONTRIBUTIONS OF THE BUSINESS DEPARTMENT.

If the $8000 remitted in rent be added to the net profits of the year, namely, $16,943.16, the aggregate amount would be $24,943.16, or ten per cent. upon an active capital of $250,000.

If the $8000 remitted be added to the $11,295.44 contributed to the Sabbath-school and Missionary Department, the total amount contributed by the Business Department to the benevolent operations of the Church would aggregate $19,295.44.

THE CHURCH AT HOME AND ABROAD.

At the request of the committee appointed by the General Assembly, the Board continues to be the publisher of this magazine. The relations of the Board to this publication are, however, different from those which it sustains to other periodicals for which it is directly responsible.

The editor of the magazine is selected by the Assembly's committee, and he works under its general direction, as does also the Board itself, in this particular. The Board is an agent, rather than the principal, in this connection, and assumes no pecuniary responsibility in the matter.

No charge has been made by the Board for anything except actual expenditures directly on account of the magazine, and every effort has been adopted, through the machinery of the Board, to further the success of the enterprise.

The amount of receipts* of the magazine for the year was $25,222.16. The number of copies published was 240,314.

* This includes the amounts received from subscribers and from the several Boards.

OF THE

MAY, 1890.

*To the General Assembly of the Acknowledging with grateful thanksgiving the Divine mercy, that notwithstanding repeated bereavement has sustained and enlarged its work the Board of the Church Erection Fund respectfully presents its twentieth annual report, as follows :

Twice during the year the summons from above has made a vacancy in the ranks of its Trustees.

Upon the fifteenth of January, Stephen H. Thayer, Esq., and upon the ninth of March, 1890, Judge Bennington F. Randolph were called from earthly work to their rest and reward. Both had been long members of the Board, Mr. Thayer having been one of the original incorporators, and Judge Randolph having been elected in 1873 ; and thus closely associated in its work for many years, they were veterans and leaders in its service. Both were distinguished members of the legal profession, and as trusted counselors of the Board were alike ready to give freely in its interests, their time, their strength, and their professional skill.

Although they both had passed in their years the line of three score and ten, there had been no cessation of their interest or activity in the cause of their Master, and their deaths in each instance unexpected, oppressed with a deep sense of bereavement not only the Board, but the churches in which they had long been officers, and the community in which they were widely known and honored. Appropriate resolutions of respect will be found recorded upon the minutes of the Board.

Early in the year the Board also suffered a severe loss in the death of the Rev. John Irwin, who for four years had acted as its assistant secretary. For nearly a year his health had been manifestly failing, and several months before his death, which occurred upon the sixth of June, 1889, he was obliged to seek entire rest from active work. Mr. Irwin came into the office of the Board during the illness of the late Dr. Wilson, which rendered special assistance necessary. His experience upon the mission fields of the West, his business ability and his interest in the work especially qualified him for usefulness, while his genial manners and ready sympathy endeared him to all who were associated with him.

The workmen die, but the Church of Christ ever grows stronger and stronger; and each particular agency that bears a part in its progress, if worthy of its place, must each year keep pace in the advance. Very manifestly this is the case with the work of church erection. The continued multiplication of new congregations calls for constant additions to the number of church homes. Every denomination of evangelical Christians is making rapid progress in this broad land. It needs but a very brief glance at what the different branches of the Church of Christ in our country are unitedly doing, to answer the flippant sneers of those who allege that the cross of a Divine Redeemer is losing its power. The growth of churches, the number of communicant members more than keeps pace with the increase of the population marvellous as it is. And God is stirring up the hearts of His people to confirm the growth and ensure its permanence by aiding these new congregations to build the houses of God, they would be unable unassisted, themselves to erect. We cannot doubt that the work will be done. The question of supreme interest to us is: Shall our beloved Church have her full share in the work? The report of this Board may aid us in answering this question.

I.—THE PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

THE progress of the work of this Board assumes a special interest when it is considered that it is a very accurate gauge of the advance of the Church. Such advance is manifested in two ways; by the number of new organizations that give proof of vigorous life, and the number of older churches that outgrow their original church homes. Both of these modes of progress are reflected in the applications made to this Board and so far as the former is concerned, the rate of advance is very accurately registered. Manifestly as the Church grows larger, if the rate of increase is to be maintained, the actual demands must each year be enlarged.

What do we find to be the facts? For the last five years there has been a steady increase both in the number of formal applications and in the aggregate amounts for which they have called. There has also been a constant advance, although not in like proportion, of the contributions from the churches. This progress of the Board indicates a like forward movement in the Church—an advance so quiet, so unnoticed, and yet so certain and unceasing that it prophesies of the day when this nation shall be in fact what it always has been in name, a Christian people; while it reminds us of Our Lord's word: "The kingdom of heaven cometh not with observation."

The applications are usually from churches in the first or second year of their existence, and thus the number received tells the story of the advance during the previous year of our missionary army.

Early in this present year it became evident that the year preceding had been one of very great activity in missionary work, with an advance all along the line. So rapidly did the applications come in, that it seemed as if it would be impossible to find means to meet them. Although in the later months the increase was not so marked, yet the number of formal applications approved by the presbyteries and received by the Board probably exceeds that of any previous year since the Board has been in existence.

The total number thus received was for church edifices 200 and for manses 39, and the aggregate sum asked for was $120,870 for the church buildings and $15,675 for manses, or a total of $136,545—which is $19,388 more than last year and $22,113 more than the year before. These figures indicate a steady and marked advance.

II.—THE RESOURCES COMMITTED TO THE BOARD.

To meet the growing demand as indicated above, it is necessary that there should be year by year a corresponding increase in the working income of the Board.

Were this the case, the forward movement would be quiet and uninterrupted. When, however, the demands exceed the supply; when churches go forward, as most of our young missionary churches do, confidently trusting in the organized instrumentalities of the Assembly to give them the aid they need, then, if such help is not forthcoming, hardship, peril and at times disaster ensue.

It is, therefore, a source of satisfaction to the Board that it can report an increase in its ability to redeem the pledges that its organization involved; it wishes that it could add that the increase has been commensurate to the demand. The contributions from the churches this year have exceeded those of last year $5,060.48, and those of last year were $1,031.64 in advance of those of the year before which in their turn were $3,168.50 in excess of the year still preceding.

The total of the working income is materially affected in successive years by the amount received from legacies, a very variable quantity, and not to be largely accounted in forecasting the resources of a new year

To this it may be added that the number of contributing churches is slowly increasing—the total this year being 63 greater than last year and 213 in advance of the year before.

It is evident, however, in view of the new churches added to our roll that this slight increase hardly maintains the percentage of contributing churches four years ago. Making every allowance for the large number of weak and struggling churches many of them without pastors, which have all that they can do to maintain a name and a place upon the roll, it is, if not startling, still a subject for grave reflection, that so many congregations whom God has blessed are content to spend so much at home while they send little or nothing abroad. Many of these are churches that were themselves aided in the days of their feebleness, and who then cheerfully promised to return again what they had received.

The actual receipts which comprise the working income of the Board have been for the year ending April 1, 1890, as follows :

III.—APPROPRIATION OF RESOURCES.

The funds entrusted to the Board are placed in its hands simply for distribution, but its report is necessarily not a mere accounting. It is not in the position of a distributing agent who has simply to see that funds reach their appointed destination. It is accountable for the wisdom with which the gifts of the Church are distributed, and unfortunately too often there is added to its responsibility the necessity of deciding who, when resources are insufficient for all, will suffer least if they are withheld. Thus its task is one of great delicacy and at times of embarrassing difficulty. It must arbitrate between claims both of which cannot be fully met. It must cause frequent disappointment and at times risk criticism and complaint. Each church applying for aid realizes keenly its own great need, and it is not strange, but is rather a proof of natural and commendable enthusiasm, that so many congregations conceive their case to be a special one in behalf of which the Board may for once overstep the rules of the Assembly. Where mistakes have been made in the apportionment of funds, it has not been because the Board has failed to interest itself and seek such information as was available. In this endeavor it has been greatly aided by the standing committees of the presbyteries, for whose valuable aid and wise counsel it would express its sincere acknowledgements. It also recalls most gratefully the unselfish readiness of churches generally, even when disappointed, to appreciate the situation, and without complaint assume unexpected burdens in order that insufficient funds may be the more widely distributed.

1. Churches.—Appropriations have been made during the year for 174 Church edifices distributed among 25 Synods and 92 Presbyteries. As is to be expected the centre of distribution geographically like the centre of population is each year moving westward. Yet Kansas is so large a State, so nearly central to the Union, and so attractive a field for enterprise that for the last four years the centre has vibrated within its boundaries, and the State itself has claimed until this year the largest number of grants. Yet the number assigned even to this imperial State, is slowly decreasing, 14 this year, 23 last year, 25 and 24 respectively in the years next preceding.

Naming now the States that have received more than ten grants in the order indicated by the number to each, the following is the succession: Minnesota, 15; Kansas, 14; California, 14; Iowa, 13; Nebraska, 12.

In the aggregate the appropriations for Church edifices have reached $96,394, being an increase of $8,420 over last year from the general fund, and a falling off of $5,113 from our now nearly exhausted special fund.

Adding to this the special gifts, the number of church edifices in whose erection the Board was permitted to aid, amounted to 207 and the entire sum thus promised reached $112,051.04.

The actual payments have amounted to $107,412.92, of which $15,657.04 were gifts designated by the donors to special cases, and $1,324.88 were to make good losses by fire.

2. Manses.—The fourth year since the work of the Board was extended to include manses is now completed, and the results of the new departure can be estimated with a good degree of accuracy. The first year, as was to be expected, made the largest demands upon the fund. Many churches in all parts of the country were ready and waiting for the opportunity to build homes for their ministers. In each of the three succeeding years the number of applications has been about the same, ranging from 30 to 42. Probably the number would be largely increased were the fund sufficient to permit the Board to encourage the hope that it could, if it approved them, respond favorably to all that might be sent. As, however, the fund is only a little over $30,000, of which hardly a third is each year available, and as the amounts needed average about $400, it is evident that the number of loans in any one year cannot much exceed 25.

Applications were received during the year from 39 churches, asking for gifts or loans to the aggregate amount of $15,675. Some of these requests came from churches that were building houses of a more expensive character than was contemplated in the plan of the Assembly, which directs the Board to fix "such limit as will confine the work to the feebler and mission churches;" and some were from congregations that were in a position to borrow elsewhere at a low rate of interest, but 31 of them were to provide very modest homes for missionaries in the region west of the Mississippi, and 11 of these were from New Mexico, the Indian Territory and the Pacific Slope.

In response to these applications there were made 26 loans aggregating $10,050, and one absolute grant of $150 to a missionary church in Arizona.

There have been repayments from 64 churches aggregating $6,956.42, and other contributions to the amount of $1,454.06. The fund stands upon the books at the close of the year as $33,207.25.

Time has thus shown that the plan of loaning to supplement the resources of the Church, the amount to be returned without interest within three years is a good one. The apprehensions that suggested themselves that congregations would feel burdened by the debt have not been realized. In the great majority of cases repayments have been made with reasonable punctuality, and the prospect is good that the fund so generously provided will realize the expectation of the original donor and of others who have added to it, and remain essentially intact to continue its beneficent provision in the years that are to come.

The Board sees no reason to change its opinion expressed last year that no more remunerative use of money could be made than by increasing this fund to the full amount of $50,000.

IV.—RECAPITULATION.

Looking at the work as a whole, accounting appropriations, both general and special, for church edifices and manses, and payments of losses by fire, the total number of churches thus reached has been 250; and the aggregate amount pledged $122,694.35.

All of the home synods, excepting Baltimore, are numbered upon our roll, and all of the States and Territories within the bounds of our Church. In fact, the border has been over-run for one little church aided by a special gift, although counted in the presbytery of Los Angeles, is in Lower California and under the Mexican flag.

The receipts from all sources available in the different departments of the work amounted to $126,113.42; and the sum of all payments, including expense of administration, was $129,473.80.

While the payments of any particular year are not dependent simply upon its current receipts, but so far as they are disbursements to meet appropriations made in previous years are provided for by sums set aside at the time of appropriation, it is still evident that taking one year with another, the Board can only pay out what it receives. The consequence is that as the payments have now for two or three years exceeded the receipts the small reserve fund that was on hand four years ago is now entirely exhausted. In other words the demand outruns the resources. These payments indicate the churches that during the year have reported the completion without debt of their houses of worship. The number is 179, and a reference to the alphabetical list in the appendix shows that the aggregate value of the property thus secured was nearly A HALF MILLION OF DOLLARS.

Upon the map accompanying this report the location of each church is indicated by a number corresponding to the one opposite its name in the annexed lists where the names are given by synods, and in alphabetical order. The map as a whole gives at a glance an idea of the reach of the work.

V.—BUSINESS DEPARTMENTS.

There are several important departments of the work of the Board which must be carefully maintained either to protect and conserve what has been done in the past, or to extend advice and assistance aside from pecuniary aid to young churches proposing to build. These departments, although essential to its successful administration, add nothing to the income of the Board, yet they are necessarily each year demanding more time and expense in their maintenance.

1. Mortgages.—As is well known the plan of the Assembly requires that whenever a Church receives an appropriation it shall give a mortgage to the Board. The mortgage draws no interest, and is never due unless the Church is dissolved or abandons its house of worship.

Experience proves that this provision is of the highest importance. The Presbyterian Church would be recreant to its duty if it refused to organize new churches until the character and permanence of villages were settled beyond peradventure. No great and far-reaching work can be carried on successfully without a certain measure of over-work, of an expenditure of strength that at first blush appears to be wasted. Thus as no one can unerringly prophecy of the future of a new village, and as all churches organized in missionary work, must ordinarily share the fate of the villages in which they are placed, a certain per centage must in the end fall out of line.

The mortgage is to provide against such contingency. It serves also in the case of churches that grow strong, to remind them in their prosperity of the aid they received in the days of infancy, and to suggest that they return the gift to bless some other struggling congregation. To show the practical effect it is only necessary to say that during the year $4,304,79 have been received from churches that have completed their work and have been dissolved, and $7,412.50 have been repaid by others out of their present prosperity.

The number of mortgages now held by the Board exceeds 3000, covering grants to the amount of over $1,500,000, and securing property valued at, at least, four times the amount, and probably very much more.

2. Insurance.—Insurance policies to nearly an equal amount with the mortgages are also held, and as these must be renewed at their expiration, their care and protection is itself a large item of business—the expense of which must be added to the outlay of the Board. Practically this insurance is for the benefit of the church, for although, in case of loss, the Board recovers the amount insured, it is always ready to regrant the same to the church to aid in rebuilding.

In connection with this plan of insurance there are two or three points to which it may be well to call attention.

Under the system adopted by the Board, it is obliged to effect all of its insurance in one way. The request comes very frequently that the Board will accept for its protection the assignment of a policy already secured by the church. This the Board is not able to do, both for the reason given above, and also because in view of the large number of policies it holds and the large amount of property involved, it would be almost impossible, except under one unvarying system, to arrange its business so as to care for all interests involved, including the periodic renewal of the policies and the provision for the payment of so large a number of premiums.

Upon the other hand it is equally impracticable to cover by its insurance a larger sum than its mortgage interest.

It should be, therefore, the universal rule for churches to secure insurance for themselves in approved companies to an amount that, together with the amount secured by the Board, shall equal at least two-thirds of the value of the buildings. This, we are sorry to say, is very often neglected. Case after case is reported where after a fire has occurred it is revealed that the only insurance is that held by the Board, and that too when the value of the building is fourfold greater than the amount of its mortgage, which alone is protected. When in such cases the fire comes it leaves the church almost crushed beneath its loss, and in great danger of dying because unable to rebuild its home. During the year there have been reported to the Board 15 cases of damage from fire, and losses aggregating $2,809.60 have been paid.

3. Architectural Plans.—Under the direction of the General Assembly, the Board has procured many designs for churches which it is always glad to send out for the benefit of congregations contemplating building. The most of these designs are for simple and inexpensive buildings. And when a design is chosen, there can usually be furnished at a very moderate expense (little more than nominal) the drawings, including the elevations, ground plan, specifications and details for working. Such are sent, and with advantage to the smaller churches, almost every day.

The Board had hoped to complete the preparation of a new edition of its book of designs, before the close of the year, but circumstances have delayed the publication. It is believed that in the enlarged and improved form that is contemplated, it will be of great service, especially to the smaller churches.

VI.—GENERAL OUTLOOK.

The demands of the future are likely to be fully equal to those of the past, if they do not greatly surpass them.

The Church is constantly growing, and the admission of new States to the Union and the opening of former Indian reservations to the entrance of immigrants has given an impetus to population in those young empires which can not fail to make itself felt in increased demands upon all our missionary Boards.

But how can the Board respond unless the Church that stands behind it puts the means into its hands? It has been already shown upon a previous page that for several years the demands have outrun the resources, and that disastrous inability to give aid has only been averted because a small reserve fund has come down from previous less exhausting years. That fund is now exhausted and the Board enters upon the new year with a treasury practically empty.

It is proper here also to state that the special fund contributed some years ago by a generous friend of the Board is now also exhausted. The fund was of inestimable value in enabling the Board to extend aid in exceptional cases, which, although well worthy of assistance, were still outside of the explicit rules given by the Assembly. The Board would esteem it a signal blessing if the knowledge of the value of such a fund should prompt its replenishment.

In short, if the work of this Board, so absolutely essential to the maintenance of our noble missionary line, each year still further advanced, is to be effective there must be an immediate and substantial addition to its resources. It is with gratitude that it remembers that its receipts have yearly shown an advance, although the increase is but small, and that a larger number of churches have contributed; but it still remains true, as has been already remarked, that nearly one-third of the congregations upon the roll of the Assembly give this Board no assistance.

On the other hand, it should be remembered by congregations preparing to build that, owing to lack of funds or to other reasons, it is not possible for the Board always to supply the deficit between the subscription of the church and the cost of such house as will entirely meet their wishes. In view of insufficient supplies, it would seem that the most careful economy should be exercised by all concerned, and no contracts made until it is clearly understood whence will come the supplies. Moreover, if the Board rightly interprets the rules of the Assembly, its legitimate work does not include appropriations or loans of large amounts to complete edifices costing from $10,000 to $20,000. Yet not infrequently it is asked so to do.

All uncertainty could be obviated and all danger of disappointment removed if in every case the Board were consulted at the very inception of the movement. The natural and safe sequence of steps in church building is: First, a lot with title in fee simple; second, as large a subscription as possible; third, an estimate of the cost of building; fourth, an assurance of a grant from the Board; and fifth, the letting of the contract at a price within the assured resources of the congregation. Too often all this is reversed and the contract is made and the building commenced even before the title to the lot is secured, much less the subscription completed or the Board consulted. Hence anxiety, embarrassment, debt, and not infrequently sad disaster.

The Board would also call attention to the probability that there is a large wastage in response to private appeals to churches and individuals. Natural as it is for churches that feel their need, to make such appeals, the General Assembly has again and again in terms discouraged the expedient. The very object sought in organizing this Board was to systematize the matter of aid in church erection and to relieve churches and individuals known to be liberal, from being overwhelmed with appeals. Two or three considerations emphasize the wisdom of carrying out the original intention of the Assembly.

When contributions are given in response to appeals scattered broad-cast over the Church, no one ever knows how much in the aggregate is given or how wisely it is expended. Indeed, if the enterprise after all is not carried through, the money is given in vain.

Moreover, there is no security for the money if in after years the church should be dissolved. Experience has shown that before money is sent to a distant field it is well to know how much the congregation itself is doing; what is the need of its organization; what are the prospects of successful life; and finally to be assured that the edifice will be completed and the congregation left free from debt. It is upon such facts as these systematically reported and upon the approval of the presbytery, that the Board makes its appropriations.

Thus while it is inevitable that donors should from time to time be interested in special cases, and well that it should be so, the Board ventures to suggest that many infelicities would be avoided and many dangers averted if in such cases the givers would send their contributions through the Board, directing, if they please, that the amounts be immediately forwarded, or, still better, directing that they be held in trust until the church furnish to the Board an assurance that with the aid provided it can complete its building without debt.

Report of the Standing Committee on the Board of Church Erection.

The Standing Committee on Church Erection would respectfully report to the General Assembly :

That we have carefully examined "Twentieth Annual Report of the Board of Church Erection Fund," the Treasurer's report and the minutes of the Board for the year 1889-'90.

Again this year, as last, the Board reports loss by death among its members, this time a double loss. In January Stephen H. Thayer, one of the original incorporators of the Board, and in March Judge Bennington F. Randolph, a member of the Board since 1873, were called from their earthly service to their heavenly reward. Both of these servants of the Master had lived their three score years and ten, and yet their deaths were unexpected and a sore bereavement. The Board has placed on its record a minute of its sense of loss and respect for these fathers of the work, and then well says: "The workmen die, but the church of Christ ever grows stronger and stronger."

In looking over the annual report it appears that a larger number of churches have applied for aid during the past year than ever before, and that the amount asked for is larger in the average to each church than heretofore. The contributions from the churches have likewise increased during the year, and the amount of appropriations returned in payment of mortgages has increased, and consequently the appropriations to the churches have increased; and yet the increase in the resources of the Board have not nearly kept pace with the ever-increasing demands upon it. The demands for assistance are far outrunning the means supplied. The church needs to appreciate more fully the importance and exceeding usefulness of this Board. It is not to be looked upon as one of the minor agencies of the church. None is more important. One of the Secretaries of the Foreign Board, with no little enthusiasm, remarked to the Chairman of your Committee this week: "I do not know of any part of the work of the church where a little money will go so far and do more good than in the hands of the Church Erection Board." We might add that if a little does much good here, larger means will do more.

Our home Board with the hundreds of thousands of dollars placed at its disposal (and that is not enough) may go forward and plant churches, but unless the Board of Church Erection comes after to supply the means which enables these new and small churches to provide for themselves permanent houses of worship the evangelizing work of the church is certain to suffer great waste and loss. The Synod of Kansas with its seven presbyteries and nearly or quite four hundred churches has little more than come to be of age, having been organized in '69, or possibly in '68. And of all these four hundred churches in Kansas there are said to be less than half a dozen which have not been aided by this Board. For some years previous to the present Kansas has received a larger number of appropriations than any other State. This year Kansas takes second place, having received fourteen grants, which is one less than Minnesota, while California has exactly the same, fourteen; and Iowa and Nebraska come next with thirteen and twelve each respectively.

During the year applications for aid in the erection of houses of worship have been received from 200 churches. Appropriations have been made to 174, and 179 have been reported completed and dedicated without debt. While every home Synod in the church, with the exception of Baltimore, has received aid for some of its churches, yet more than two-thirds of the churches aided by this Board lie west of the Mississippi river. The geographical center of operations of this Board has for years vibrated within the State of Kansas. Will another half century carry the center of our church population and influence across the great river? Certainly the rapid development of our country in the West ought to inspire us to undertake great things in the Lord's service. A single instance will illustrate the importance of this cause and the rapidity with which returns of many fold are secured in the church. It is not yet twenty-five years since the home mission pastor of the Second Church of Kansas City was sent East to New York to secure six hundred dollars with which to erect their first house of worship. Since then this church has become strong enough to have planted numerous colonies, has had two General Assembly Moderators as its pastor, has returned an hundredfold all that it ever received, and now covets the whole General Assembly for next year. Was not that humble home missionary building better than he knew when in 1866 he trudged to New York for his $600?

The contributions to the general treasury of the 3,236 contributing churches, including individual and special gifts, have been $80,268.97. The total working income, including both funds, has been $126,113.42.

The total amount of grants has been, for churches, $96,394; for manses, $10,200; total for both objects, $106,594.

While there have been sixty-three more contributing churches this year than last, yet this increase is not nearly in proportion to the increase in the whole number of our churches.

It is feared that among the non-contributing churches there are some that have received aid in past years which have forgotten or neglected their solemn promise to make an annual contribution to this cause.

It will be remembered that four years ago—in 1886—the Board received a special gift of $25,000, to be used as a “Manse Fund,” to be put out in loans to churches, without interest for three years, to assist in providing homes for ministers. In this work the Assembly directed the Board to fix “such limit as will confine the work to the feebler and mission churches,” and also asked the stronger churches for contributions to this fund. The success of the Manse Fund has surpassed expectations. Thirty-nine churches have applied for loans from this fund during the year, thirty-one of this number being from churches west of the Mississippi river. Twenty-six loans and one absolute grant (an exceptional case) have been made. Sixty-four of the churches which have received aid from the Manse Fund during the past four years have this past year returned their loans to the amount of $6,956.42. The total amount of the Manse Fund is now $33,207.26, though such is the nature of the fund that only about a third thereof is available for new loans in any one year. It is certainly to be regretted that the Assembly's recommendation of last year did not carry this fund to the full amount asked for, namely, $50,000.

In conclusion, your Committee submits the following recommendations for the action of the Assembly. We recommend:

1. That this Assembly commends the faithfulness of the Board and its Secretary, and approve their annual report, the Treasurer's report and the minutes of the Board as being full and admirably kept and recorded.

2. That this Assembly calls the attention of such churches as have received aid in the past, and are now strong and self-sustaining, to the desirability of paying off the mortgages which stand against their property. The conditions of these mortgages are such that no legal claim can be enforced under them so long as the property continues to be used for the purposes of worship according to our

Presbyterian order. But the Assembly would press the moral obligation upon the Christian consciences of these churches to return the amount received just so soon as a reasonable degree of financial strength has been attained. It is gratifying to know that during the past year over seven thousand dollars ($7,412.50) have been returned by churches out of their present prosperity to be again sent forth to help other churches. The Assembly calls attention to the fact that the rules of the Board permit a discharge of the mortgage by an annual contribution to the Board's fund of ten per cent. of the original grant till the whole is paid, or by a cash payment at one time of seventy-seven per cent. of the original grant.

3. That churches expecting to apply for aid be instructed to consult with the Board at the earliest possible stage of their efforts before indebtedness is incurred or too large plans adopted.

4. That aid-applying churches be reminded that the purpose of the Board is to assist in providing comfortable houses for the youthfully weak and not to provide enlargement or ornamentation for the mature or the strong.

5. That churches are earnestly urged to send all their contributions for this cause through the treasury of the Board. Private appeals for aid ought not to be encouraged, but emphatically discouraged. All contributions, whether general or special, should be sent through the Board so as to secure them to the church.

6. That this Assembly emphasizes the importance of the Manse Fund, and would press the churches to raise this as speedily as possible to at least $50,000.

7. That this Assembly believes that $150,000, exclusive of the Manse Fund, is urgently demanded for the use of this Board, and hereby pleads with the churches to raise this amount for use during the coming year. The urgency of this demand will appear greater when it is known that the "Special Fund," which the Board has had at its disposal for some years, is now exhausted. Is it not possible that some other generous giver or givers stand ready to establish another such fund as the "Stuart Fund" of the past?

8. That the Assembly commends for the use of presbyteries and churches expecting to apply for aid the plans for buildings, both churches and manses, prepared under direction of the Board, and which will be furnished at cost when applied for. A new book of plans is soon to be published by the Board.

9. That the following members of the Board whose terms of office expire at the present time be re-elected, namely :

ELDERS—William N. Crane, Benjamin F. Dunning.

Also in this same class we recommend that Elder Theron G. Strong of New York be elected to take the place of Stephen H. Thayer, deceased ; and in the class of 1892, that Elder Joseph L. Munn of New Jersey be elected to take the place of Bennington F. Randolph, deceased.

All of which is respectfully submitted by the Committee.

DOUGLAS P. PUTNAM,

Chairman.

DESIGN NO. 1.

DESIGN FOR SMALL CHURCH
 ISAAC PURSELL ARCHITECT
 119 SOUTH FOURTH STREET
 PHILADELPHIA PA.

Design No. 1 represents a small church that can be built for $1,000 to $1,500. An edifice was built at Liberty Park, Camden, for $1,000, very similar to it. It is 24 by 48 feet, will seat 100 in main room, 50 in small room; has between the two rooms sashes that raise, so that the two rooms can be used together. The ceiling is higher in the centre the sides being sloped up. All walls and ceiling are plastered. It is wainscoted to height of window sills. The pews are shown straight but curved ones can be used if preferred, the difference in cost being very slight. The small room opposite the vestibule can be used for Bible class, infant room, session room, or any purpose to which such a room could be applied.

DESIGN No. 2.

CHURCH AT RUTHERFORD, N. J.

We present the designs and give the description of this beautiful church, notwithstanding the obvious fact that it is far more costly than the buildings in the erection of which this Board is expected to aid. We receive frequent inquiries in regard to such buildings, and the study of their arrangements is always of service, even in the planning of much less expensive buildings.

The illustrations give a view of the edifice, and the arrangement of its various parts. The extreme length, including the porte cochere, is 189 feet, and the extreme width 131 feet. The main audience-room is cruciform, with a seating capacity of 600. Its length, through the nave to back of chancel or apse, is 98 feet, and its breadth across the transepts 78 feet. The nave is 44 feet wide, and the transepts 26 feet wide. Two of the massive supporting columns of the tower appear at the intersection of nave and transepts, and from them spring a fine series of arches, above which the base of the tower is pierced on three sides with lantern lights. The roofs are upheld by heavy trusses, and the ceilings are panelled in wood.

The walls are of grey Belville stone, laid in rock-faced ashlar. The interior finish is in Southern pine and Michigan brown ash. Carpets, cushions, walls, and glass, have harmonious shades of brown and amber predominant. Gas fixtures are in wrought iron.

The Chapel and Sunday-school rooms will accommodate between 400 and 500 hundred, and are similarly finished with the auditorium.

The large transept windows, 20 feet broad, and of equal height at point of arch, are filled with elegant memorial glass, the designs being the Angel of the Resurrection and the Good Shepherd with the Heavenly Choir.

These are represented in the illustrations upon the opposite page.

The architects, who have done admirable work, are Fowler & Hough of New York.

DESIGN No. 3.

29TH STREET AND SUSQUEHANNA AVENUE, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

The Harper Memorial Church is constructed of stone from Avondale, Pa., a light grey stone, trimmed with Indiana limestone. The audience room is 56 by 68 feet, is entered through three doors, two from tower and one through centre vestibule. The floor is bowled, pitching 18 inches in 24 feet, the balance being level to the pulpit. There is a side entrance to pulpit, from which access is also had to audience room. The organ chamber is on the right side of pulpit, arranged for pipe-organ. The seats are semi-circular, and will accommodate 600. The chapel is separated from audience room by means of sash partitions, all of which are movable, being hung; those in first floor descending into cellar, those in second ascending. Immediately adjoining the audience room are two stories of class-rooms—the main portion of the Sabbath-school running up through. In the end of the Sabbath-school room next the street, first story is a large class-room accommodating 75; in the second, an infant room accommodating 300. The whole Sabbath-school department will accommodate 600. The two stories of class-rooms next the audience room, accommodating 200, can all be opened into audience room, so that, on special occasions the congregation can be increased to 800. The stairways are ample and easy. Toilet rooms are provided for the children. The audience room has open timber ceiling. All rooms are wainscoted. All the windows glazed with beautiful stained glass. The entire building is heated with hot air.

Plate 3.

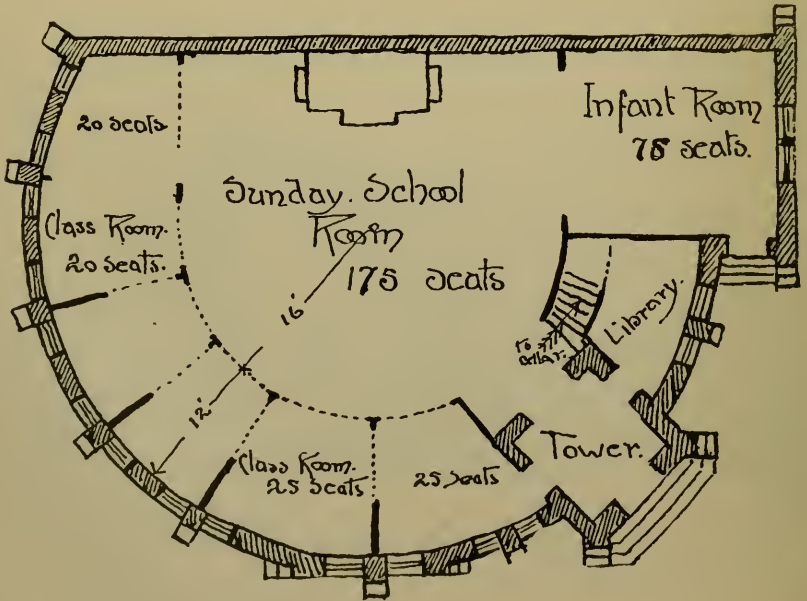

Design No. 4 represents an inexpensive church, so planned that it can be enlarged when necessity requires without any large loss of expense incurred in the smaller building. Plate No. 1 represents the church as first built, 35 by 31 feet, seating 200, and costing about $1,000 or $1,200, the expense varying according to the material (wood, brick or stone) used below the windows.

Plate No. 2 represents the same church enlarged by an addition 20 by 37 feet, giving 175 additional sittings. Only the rear wall of the original building would need to be disturbed. The addition could be made for from $800 to $1,000.

Plate No. 3 gives the ground plan, the original building being indicated by the dark lines, and the addition by the dotted lines.

DESIGN No. 5.

Design No. 5 represents a very unique and artistic building designed for a Sunday-school Chapel. It is a large building, and, as here given, somewhat expensive. The largest diameters of the entire building are 68 and 44 feet.

As built of stone, at Newton, Ga., the cost was about $7,000. The design is, however, very suggestive and the general features could be procured in a very much smaller and more inexpensive building.

DESIGN FOR CHURCH

ISAAC PURSELL ARCHITECT
 119 SOUTH FOURTH STREET
 PHILADELPHIA PA.

This is a design for a small frame church of Colonial style. The audience room is 32 by 56 feet; the lecture room is 22 by 32 feet; session room 10 by 11 feet; organ recess 10 by 14 feet. The lecture room is separated from the main room by sash partitions, which are hung and can be raised so that the two rooms can be used as one. The seating capacity of the main room is 200; the lecture room 100, making a total of 300 for the whole. The construction is frame, and will cost from $3,000 to $5,000, depending on finish and style of work. The interior can be plastered work or open timber; in either case the ceiling will be arched.

ANNUAL REPORT
GENERAL ASSEMBLY, OF

THE PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF RELIEF FOR DISABLED MINISTERS, AND THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF DECEASED MINISTERS, respectfully presents to THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY its Thirty-Fifth Annual Report. The Book of Minutes containing the proceedings of the Board for the year from April 1, 1889, to April 1, 1890, is also herewith presented.

During the past year the Board has sustained a great loss in the death of Rev. R. D. Harper, D. D., which occurred on the third of January last. Dr. Harper was a member of this Board for ten years, during all of which time he bore its interests upon his heart. A further notice of this honored and beloved brother, taken from the March number of the Church at Home and Abroad, will be found appended to this report.

In our Report to the Assembly of last year reference was made to the "History and Outlook of the Board," prepared by direction of the Assembly for its centennial year, and printed in pamphlet form for general distribution. A number of copies still remain, and these will be sent to any address that may be forwarded to the Office of the Board.

THE ROLL.

The number on the Roll of the Board to whom remittances were sent upon the recommendation of the Presbyteries during the year from April 1, 1889, to April 1, 1890, was 624: that is, ministers, 241; widows of ministers, 358; orphan families, 24; and one widow of a Medical Missionary placed upon our Roll according to the directions of the last General Assembly. (See printed Minutes page 32). The number of families provided for during the year at the Ministers' House at Perth Amboy, N. J., was 18, making upon the Roll of the Board during the past year a total of 642 families, an increase of 27 over last year.

It should be borne in mind that there are more than 642 persons who share in these appropriations. These families are often composed of aged couples; or the minister, laid aside from his active duties, may have a wife and children to support. There are also many families composed of dependent widows with little children to be cared for.

The Presbyterial recommendations in their behalf came from 159 Presbyteries. The Presbytery of West Africa recommends three families. The Missionaries who have returned home, and who may need help in their sickness or old age, are of course recommended by the Presbyteries with which they are connected in this country.

WITHDRAWALS FROM THE ROLL.

Besides several withdrawals from the Roll, owing to a change in pecuniary circumstances or restored health which has rendered further aid from the Board no longer necessary, forty-four names have been removed from our roll by death—that is, twenty-six ministers and eighteen widows. The death of the head of the family, however, does not always withdraw the family from the Roll of this Board. In many cases the helpless widow, or the orphan children are still to be provided for.

ADDITIONS TO THE ROLL.

There have been seventy-seven families added to the Roll during the year; that is, forty-one ministers, thirty-five widows, and one orphan family.

THE MINISTERS' HOUSE.

The number of families at the Ministers' House has been eighteen—in all twenty-one persons. For further information respecting this Home for the sick and aged servants of the Church the Board begs leave to refer the Assembly to its previous Reports, and especially to the extended notice which appeared in the Church at Home and Abroad for last May. This account, containing also a picture of the Home, has been reprinted, and copies will be sent to any one who may apply, in person or by letter, to the office of the Board.

During the past year one of the aged guests, a beloved mother in Israel, was called to the House not made with hands. An appreciative notice of this estimable lady appeared in our church journals from the pen of Rev. Edward Cooper, D.D., who has resided for some weeks at the Home, availing himself of the provision made by the Board—so long as there may be unoccupied rooms—for ministers of our Church who may wish to enjoy temporarily the privileges of the Home at their own charges. He says :

The Bible was her daily text-book and her example reflected its teachings to ennoble, purify and encourage those who came within the circle of which she was the recognized centre and to whom she was a constant benediction. In the freedom of her long cherished friendship she often alluded to the wonderful course of God's gracious providence in making this old mansion, built for the Colonial government with royal munificence, the delightful home for the aged and infirm laborer for Christ. Under the permanent management of the Presbyterian Church there is secured an intelligent and faithful superintendence with tender and sympathetic ministries to temporal and spiritual needs. She often spoke of the goodness of God in granting her such a calm retreat for the closing period of her life. There was but one place more dear to her; and that was the New Jerusalem which, in her last hours, her faith saw "coming down from heaven," with the pearly gates open, through which she passed in the early morning hours on the twenty-fourth day of January.

When the House was first opened, the Board was not unmindful of the fact that, owing to the extreme old age and infirm health of most of those who would seek its privileges, the number of deaths would be large—at least, in proportion to the number composing the Household. And, in fact, there were five deaths in a little more than a year after the first guest was admitted.* The Board was, therefore, careful to provide a suitable burial lot in the beautiful cemetery at Perth Amboy. This piece of hallowed ground is now nearly filled with the graves of those who have fallen asleep; and the Board, during the past year, has thought it wise to purchase additional lots. Other expenses during the year at the House, including a new roof, have made more than the average demand upon our Treasury for the support of the Home. We doubt not, however, that all the money really needed to make this Home comfortable for the infirm and aged servants of the Church will be regarded by the Assembly as wisely spent; nor will the Assembly regret the expenditure for an appropriate resting place for the beloved and honored dead near the Home in which their declining years were peacefully spent, and which they loved so well. The first recorded purchase in the history of the race was that of a grave.*

LEGACIES.

It will be seen from the statement on page 18 that the Permanent Fund of the Board has been largely increased during the past year by legacies.† The total of bequests received during the year (all of which, unless the legatee directs otherwise, is placed in our Permanent Fund) is larger than the whole amount received by the Board from legacies for the last eight years. No doubt some of God's people have been influenced to remember this Board in their wills from the general interest in our work awakened during the centennial year, when many new friends were won to this cause, and this will account for some of the bequests received during the past year. More will doubtless follow. But among those whose names appear on page 18 were some who, for many years, have shown their interest in the work of this Board by large gifts sent annually to our Treasury. Our income will therefore not be so largely increased as this great addition to our permanent fund would suggest—unless indeed the places of these annual contributors, who have passed away to their reward on high, are taken by new friends of the cause whose special gifts to the Treasury year by year will replace those that have now ceased.

THE TREASURY.

The past year has been exceptional in the history of the Board in one respect—our funds for current use have been sufficient to meet the demands upon our Treasury without any special appeal to the Churches, either through circulars or the columns of the press. But this, it must be added, is due to the large addition ($15,575) to our income from the Centenary Fund; for the appropriations last year were $8,722 more than in the year previous, while the contributions from Churches, Sabbath Schools and individuals, as will be seen from

* "And Abraham weighed to Ephron the silver which he had named in the audience of the sons of Heth, four hundred shekels of silver, current money with the merchant: and after this Abraham buried Sarah, his wife, in the cave of Machpelah, before Mamre."—Gen. xxiii., 16.

† Those present at the last General Assembly will recall the telegram read during one of the sessions, announcing large bequests to our Boards by an elder. Among these reported bequests was one for $50,000 for the Board of Relief. This amount proved to be a mistake. The bequest was for $5,000.

the comparative table given below, fell off $3,216! It should also be noted that we began the year with $18,388 in the Treasury—reduced, as was said in a foot note to the last Report, to $639.80 by the payment of the appropriations for April and May.* This year we begin with a balance of only $15,263. We have, therefore, employed in the expenditures of the year, besides the current contributions and the interest from the Permanent Fund, more than three thousand dollars of the receipts of the previous year.

This announcement will be read with sorrow by those who are interested in this cause and who are impressed with the sacred duty the Church owes to it. They will justly regard as a calamity to the Church any endowment of the Board that releases God's people from annually contributing to its support.

Pastors and Elders need therefore to remind the people that their efforts in the Centennial year will result in harm both to the Church and to this cause should there follow any diminution of their personal interest in this work. The General Assembly has, year after year, recorded its conviction that at least one hundred and fifty thousand dollars should be annually contributed for the use of this Board. Last year, the contributions from Churches, Sabbath Schools and individuals amounted to $105,369—a very little more than two-thirds of the amount named by the Assembly when the number of those upon our Roll was but little over half the number we report now! The year before last, these contributions amounted to $108,586; the year before that (which was the Centennial year) to $110,736. This steady falling off in the annual contributions suggests the question whether the Elders are really giving to the Pastors the active aid on behalf of this Board which, all over the Church, they have so cordially tendered? The Board makes an earnest appeal to them to adopt measures to arrest this steady decline. If the eldership of our Church will move vigorously in the spirit of the action taken by them at the General Assembly of 1885 at Cincinnati, and repeated at successive Assemblies and at meetings of Synods and Presbyteries all over the land, there will surely be an increase,

*This year the situation (after the payments made for these two months since the books were closed) is far worse. At our last meeting, May 2, not only was our balance of $15,263 entirely used up, but our Treasury was short nearly $7,000 of the amount needed to pay the appropriations voted at this meeting.

rather than a falling off, in the annual contributions to this Board ; and we beg leave to call their attention to the action inaugurated by the Presbytery of Lackawanna with a view of giving greater efficiency to the work of the Elders in behalf of this Board. It will be found appended to this report.—page 14.

THE NEW RULE OF THE ASSEMBLY.

The last Assembly ordered a change in the methods of the Board's administration with reference to honorably retired Ministers over seventy years of age who may have served the Presbyterian Church, on Mission fields or in the Pastorate, for a period in the aggregate of thirty years. Such a minister under the new rule has only to certify once for all these facts to Presbytery for record upon its minutes, and the Board upon being officially notified of this record is directed to pay the veteran such an annual amount as he may need from the Board for his support—not exceeding $300.

This important action was not hastily taken. The subject was introduced in the previous Assembly (Philadelphia) by an overture from the Presbytery of New Brunswick (see The Church at Home and Abroad, for June, 1888), requesting the appointment of a Committee, to devise some plan by which the honorably retired Ministers who have served the Church for a long period, may draw from our Treasury an annual sum for their support without being under the necessity of having their application for aid "renewed" by Presbytery year by year.

This overture was referred to the Assembly's Standing

Committee upon Ministerial Relief, Governor Beaver, Chairman, which recommended that the subject matter of said overture be referred to a special Committee of seven, of which the Secretary of the Board of Relief and one member of said Board to be chosen by the Board itself, shall be members; the other five members of which shall be appointed by the Moderator, with instructions to report upon the whole question involved in said Overture at the meeting of the next General Assembly.

This recommendation was adopted by the Assembly, and the Moderator appointed as Chairman of this Committee Rev. John Dixon, D. D., Pastor of the First Church, Trenton, N. J., with whom the Overture originated, and who brought to the consideration of the whole subject the results of wise and careful study. The other members appointed by the Moderator were: Ministers, D. R. Frazer, D. D., and Henry Van Dyke, D. D.; Elders, Ezra M. Kingsley and Charles D. Morris. The Board appointed its President, Elder George Junkin; and these brethren, with the Secretary of the Board as provided for by the resolution of the Assembly, constituted the Committee which held several meetings during the year.

From many personal interviews with the brethren and much correspondence with those specially interested in this work in different parts of the country, it soon became evident to the Committee that there was a diversity of opinion with reference to making a general provision, in the nature of an annuity or pension, for all Ministers honorably retired after a certain age. While many persons thought this should be done and no question raised as to the aged Minister's need, many others (who were in the fullest sympathy with the object and aims of the Board), stoutly opposed it as unwise and impracticable—at least without an adequate fund raised for the special purpose. The opinion seemed to be very general that all appropriations from the Board should, as heretofore, be placed in the hands only of those ministers or widows who may be in need of such assistance, although all held the just view that the appropriations from this Board were not to be regarded as charity, but as an acknowledgment of services rendered to the church. It was also urged by many that the honorably retired Ministers who may have spent their long, useful and honored lives as teachers, or professors and Presidents in our Colleges, or as Secretaries in our Boards and in other such agencies (to say nothing of those grown old in secular employments) should depend for their retiring allowance in old age, upon the Institution or Corporation they have served—like their colleagues (not Ministers) engaged in the very same work. But all agreed that the claims of those worn-out Ministers whose lives had been spent either in the Pastorate of the Presbyterian Church or upon its Mission fields, at home or abroad, and who were in need, should have special recognition by the Church they have served; that it should be clearly and emphatically stated by the Assembly that their claim for support in old age was on account of such service and not merely because they were poor, and that they should be exempt from the rule of the Assembly requiring an annual recommendation of Presbytery before the Board can vote any appropriation.

The Committee therefore recommended the following action, which was unanimously adopted by the Assembly :

Every honorably retired minister over seventy years of age, who is in need, and who has served our Church as a missionary of the Home or Foreign Board or as a pastor or stated supply for a period in the aggregate not less than thirty years, shall be entitled by such service to draw from the Board of Ministerial Relief an annual sum for his support without the necessity of being annually recommended therefor by the Presbytery. When such a minister shall certify to the Presbytery the fact and amount of his need, not exceeding $300 per annum, it shall be the duty of the Stated Clerk to forward the application to the Board, with his endorsement thereon as to the years of service such minister has rendered, his field or fields of labor, with the term of service in each, and to report the same to Presbytery for record on its minutes. It shall then be the duty of the Board to pay such annual amount so long as the applicant shall live, unless otherwise directed by the Presbytery or the applicant himself, in view of a change in his circumstances that may make the appropriation in whole or in part no longer necessary.

This new rule, it need scarcely be said, renders more dignified and independent the position of many worn-out Pastors and Missionaries already upon our Roll; and nineteen of these aged men have applied, during the past year, to be placed upon the new list.

These faithful men, worn-out in the sacred office and whose life-long services to our Church as Pastors and Missionaries are now a matter of honorable record in the Presbytery, are saved from the humiliation of appearing before their brethren year by year, with the pitiful story of their want, in order to secure a "recommendation" for aid from this Board. They are also saved from the embarrassing and painful delays in receiving their appropriations from the Board, as too frequently happens, owing to the failure through some mishap or other of their annual "renewals" to be promptly laid before the Board by the proper authorities.

Seven other honorably retired Ministers, who had previously hesitated to avail themselves of the provision made by the Church for the support of its worn-out Ministers, had the record of their Pastoral and Missionary services placed upon the minutes of the Presbytery, and their names were entered upon our new Roll. It was well understood that the action of the Assembly would add a few more names to those already upon our Roll. But the Board is persuaded that the Church will rejoice in the duty, as also in the privilege, of supplying the "need" of every one of its ministers who is over seventy years of age, and who is honorably retired by the Presbytery from the active duties of his sacred calling after serving the Presbyterian Church for thirty years as a Pastor or Missionary. And God's people will further rejoice that the veteran has been assured by this special and emphatic deliverance of the Church that "he is entitled by such service" to have his "need" removed; and that when all the facts of his long and honored service are, once for all, a matter of record in his Presbytery, he can depend upon receiving from this Board, his modest remittance for the few remaining years of his life, promptly and regularly, without the annual "renewal" by Presbytery.

The oldest of these ministers, placed upon the new "Roll of Honor," is in his ninety-fourth year. Eight are past fourscore. The average age is seventy-eight and the average number of years spent in the ministry is forty-four. Nearly all of them have certified to Presbytery that they need from the Board for their support Three Hundred Dollars—the limit of the amount fixed by the Assembly and which is the maximum appropriation made by the Board. Four asked for $200 and one for $150; and the entire sum paid by our great and wealthy Church to these twenty-six veterans during the year, amounts to only $7,250—exactly three fourths of the annuity paid to each of the Judges of our Supreme Court, upon his retirement from active duties at the age of seventy.

The Board cannot but feel that they express the opinion of the whole Church when they record their gratification at this advanced step taken by the Assembly on behalf of these aged Wards of the Church ; and also in expressing the hope that, with the increasing interest manifested in this sacred cause throughout the Church and a more intelligent appreciation of the duty of the people to the ministry, a better provision can be made for these veterans and for all who are upon the roll of the Board. But a little study of the Treasurer's Report for last year will show that God's people must greatly enlarge their contributions to this Cause before any advance can be made in the appropriations of the Board. For, notwithstanding the large amount of interest received from the Permanent Fund, had we begun the year with no money in our treasury we should have ended it with a debt of $3,125 ! In other words, the whole income of the Board for the year just closed—contributions from all sources and the interest from the Permanent Fund—was three thousand dollars less than the sum needed to carry on the work of the year, even upon the scale of the present small appropriations !

This fact should be clearly stated by all Pastors to their people, and it should be a stimulus to the Elders in supplementing the appeals of the Pastor by personal solicitations throughout the congregation.

The term of service of the following members of the Board expires with the present Assembly : REV. JOHN A. LIGGETT, D. D., REV. J. HENRY SHARPE, D. D., ROBERT C. OGDEN, ESQ., JOHN D. WATTLES, ESQ.

The vacancy occasioned by the death of Dr. Harper was filled by the election by the Board of Rev. W. M. Paden to serve during the remainder of the year. This vacancy is now to be filled by the Assembly.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Board,

WILLIAM C. CATTELL,
Corresponding Secretary.

REV. R. D. HARPER, D. D.

The Board of Ministerial Relief has met with a great loss in the death of Rev. Robert D. Harper, D. D., which occurred on the third of January last. For ten years he had occupied a seat in the Board, and, as was his wont in all that he undertook, he was active, earnest, conscientious and faithful in the discharge of his duties. He was a man eminently wise in counsel, and always prompt, as well as frank and courteous, in expressing his convictions. The General Assembly in 1884 appointed him to the special duty of securing a library for the Ministers' Home, under the care of the Board, at Perth Amboy. Within a year there was collected a valuable library as the result of his well-directed and energetic efforts. . . . But he bore upon his mind and heart all the interests of the Board. He never wearied in his efforts to advance its tender and sacred work.

Dr. Harper had been spending a few days at the sea-shore to recuperate for his next Sabbath's work. Although for several weeks he had not been in robust health, there was no thought on the part of his friends that he was in a precarious condition. But shortly after leaving Atlantic City with Mrs. Harper, on the way home, "he was not, for God took him."

A friend who was with him on the cars, and who had spent several days at the same hotel with him at Atlantic City, writes in a note to the Secretary of the Board:

On the day Dr. Harper started for home we had after dinner a half hour's talk at the hotel. It will be of special interest to you to know that our conversation was entirely upon the subject of ministerial relief. The doctor introduced the subject as though it was one continually on his mind. He gave special expression of the joy he felt in the awakened interest throughout the Church in this important work. Shortly after this interview was ended we left for the cars, and the train had gone but a few miles when he suddenly expired. . . .

This was perhaps his last "talk" on earth, and it was all upon the Church's sacred duty to its worn-out servants. He had scarcely ceased to dwell tenderly and lovingly upon this theme—the care of the suffering brethren of Christ—when he entered into Christ's presence. Dare we not think that in the welcome he received from the Master there were some such words as these: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me"?

While our loss is his gain, we cannot but deeply feel that loss. We mourn sincerely that we shall see his face no more.

And what Dr. Harper was in the Board of Relief, he was also in all the relations he sustained to his brethren in church work. This is shown by the appreciative minute adopted by his presbytery, by the Philadelphia Association of Ministers with which he was connected, by the Presbyterian Historical Society, and, above all, by the church and congregation he served so faithfully and by whom he was so devotedly loved.

THE AID OF THE ELDERSHIP.

The Presbytery of Chester (Synod of Pennsylvania) at its last meeting adopted the plan of the Lackawanna Presbytery (in the same Synod) to secure the efficient aid of the eldership on behalf of the Board of Ministerial Relief.

A reference to this plan was made in the December, 1888, number of this journal (page 560), where some account was given of the remarkable movement among the elders, which began at the General Assembly of 1885. The elder-commissioners to the Assembly of that year adopted an address to their fellow elders, in which they emphasized the special duty and obligation of the eldership with reference to the Board of Ministerial Relief. Among other things they say:

During the present Assembly many of us have been deeply moved upon this subject. We have felt a special call to go forward, actively and earnestly, in this matter. The hearts of the pastors are with their "suffering brethren," but many of them feel a reluctance to press home this subject upon the hearts and consciences of their people. It seems to them like pleading for themselves or claiming their own right. We do not think there should be this reluctance, but we can understand the feeling that underlies it, and we sympathize with it. And it constitutes an obligation, all the more imperative and sacred, for the elders to give their hearts and hands to the important work of this Board. We ought to esteem it both our duty and our privilege to bring this cause before our people, so that in every congregation systematic and liberal contributions may be made to it.

If the people are instructed, they will promptly, heartily and generously respond. Let us solemnly, and in the fear of God, charge ourselves with this responsible duty.

At the next General Assembly the elder-commissioners not only "heartily endorsed the address and appeal issued by the elders of the last General Assembly," but took an advanced step toward rendering the proffered aid of the eldership more efficient. They recommended—

That each session appoint one elder who shall charge himself with the special duty of disseminating information in his church and awakening its interest in the beneficent work of the Board, and who, on the day of the annual collection, shall be ready himself to address the congregation in behalf of the Board in case the pastor shall consent.

This recommendation was endorsed by the Assembly, and the following year at Omaha the Assembly resolved—

That the Assembly regards with favor the effort recently inaugurated to enlist and utilize the interest and influence of the eldership in behalf of this agency for the relief and help of those laid aside from the active work of the Church. This Assembly would reiterate its approval of the special arrangements suggested last year, by which an elder should be associated with the pastor in the oversight of the interests of this Board in the congregation.

A full account of these successive steps, from the first meeting of the elders at Cincinnati in 1885 to the centennial year, is given in "The History and Outlook" of the Board, prepared by order of the Assembly.

It was in this centennial year (1888) that the Presbytery of Lackawanna gave still greater efficiency to the plan recommended by the elders in 1886, and endorsed by the Assemblies of 1886 and 1887. This was done by having the presbytery appoint in each church the elder who shall "be associated with the pastor in the oversight of the interests of this Board in the congregation." It was thought, by making this a presbyterial appointment, and requiring the elder to report to presbytery of "his diligence therein," that there would be an added stimulus to the performance of the sacred duty,

And now, by a printed circular issued by the efficient stated clerk, Dr. Roberts, we learn that the Presbytery of Chester has taken the same action. These brethren recognize the fact that "elders ought to be more deeply interested in this work," and also that "presbyterial oversight is essential in order to give the highest measure of success to this movement." As in the Presbytery of Lackawanna, a nominating committee was appointed, so that the selection of an elder in each congregation might be made after due deliberation and consultation with the other elders and with the pastors. The whole circular is given below. It will be read with interest, not only by chairman of ministerial relief committees in other presbyteries, but by all those who have been led to feel a special interest in the sacred and important work of this Board, and who share in the conviction that God's people ought to be "roused to greater zeal and earnestness in the cause":

The Committee of the Presbytery of Chester on Ministerial Relief, in their report April, 1889, reminded presbytery that the General Assembly and the Synod of Pennsylvania had, each of them, taken action favoring the appointment of one elder from each church to assist the pastor in bringing the cause of ministerial relief before the people. They also laid before presbytery the special reasons for such action, as follows:

1. That many pastors feel reluctant to press upon the hearts and consciences of the people the claims of this Board feeling that it might seem as though they were pleading for themselves or claiming their own rights.

2. That elders ought to be more deeply interested in this work; and by these appointments at least one in every session may thus be roused to greater zeal and earnestness in the cause.

3. That increased activity on the part of the elders in one department of church work prepares the way for increased activity in other departments.

4. And that presbyterial oversight is essential in order to give the highest measure of success to this movement.

The committee consequently made the following recommendations, which, after some discussion, were adopted:

1. That the moderator appoint a committee of three, who shall nominate to the presbytery one elder from each church, who shall be specially charged with the whole interests of this cause in his own church. He shall, under oversight of the session, bring this cause before the people at least once a year for their contributions. He shall also be required to report annually at the spring meeting of presbytery his effort and success. His term of office shall be limited to one year, subject to re-election by presbytery.

2. That the stated clerk shall notify each elder appointed and send a list of all to the Secretary of the Board of Relief.

The nominating committee presented, later on in the session, a full list of elders' names, which presbytery adopted as its appointment on the above work.

The names are given below, and each elder appointed is hereby notified of his appointment.

Then follows the printed list of all the churches in the presbytery, with the name of the elder in each church "specially charged with the whole interests of this cause in his own church."

It should be added that although we began the year (April 1) with a balance in the treasury of $18,388, yet at the last meeting of the Board (January) our treasury was reported as overdrawn nearly fifteen thousand dollars! Does not this show the need of some special agency, like that of the eldership, to rouse the churches everywhere to greater "zeal and earnestness in the cause"?

MEETINGS AND RULES OF THE BOARD.

The Board meets on the third Thursday of each month, except during July and August, when a committee, appointed by the Board, acts upon all matters requiring attention during the interim. All recommendations from the Presbyteries for aid are carefully examined by a committee of the Board, who report their conclusions at each meeting. Each case is then taken up by itself, and after a consideration of all the facts, it is decided by a vote of the Board. When the Board are unable to grant the appropriation asked for, the Chairman of the Presbyterial Committee sending the application is promptly notified, and the reasons given for the decision. The following rules, approved by the General Assembly, govern the Board in the administration of this Fund:

1. Only members of Presbyteries in connection with the General Assembly, and the families of those who were at their death in such connection, are entitled to aid. (See note below.)

2. All appropriations must be made on the recommendation of that Presbytery or of a Standing Committee of that Presbytery to which the applicant, if a minister (and not Honorably Retired—see note below), belongs; if the application be for a widow or orphan children, it may be made by the Presbytery within whose bounds the family resides or by the Presbytery with which the minister was connected at the time of his death. The same rule applies to the renewal of recommendations, if aid is continued.

3. Appropriations are made for one year, unless otherwise ordered; and the renewals must be made from year to year. (See note below.)

4. Applications for aid should, in case of a minister, state his age, his circumstances and the number of years he has been in the ministry; and in the case of a deceased minister's family, the application should state the circumstances of the widow, and the sex and age of the children who are dependent on her for support.

5. While the responsibility of recommending applicants rests with the Presbyteries, and these recommendations largely govern the action of the Board, yet there is reserved to the Board the right to appropriate according to the merits of the case and the state of the treasury.

6. All the appropriations are paid in advance, provided the funds of the Board will allow; when the appropriation is at the rate of more than one hundred and fifty dollars per annum, it is paid semi-annually in advance.

7. Applications for admission to the Presbyterian Ministers' House, at Perth Amboy, are to be made in accordance with these Rules. Guests of the House who, in the judgment of the Superintendent, are a hindrance to its comfort and usefulness, shall be reported by her to the committee in charge, who shall have power of removal, subject to the approval of the Board.

The General Assembly of 1885 directed "That women who have given themselves to the Missionary Work be placed on the roll for the benefactions of this Board, upon the same conditions as ministers." The Assembly of 1888 modified this rule by adding "after five years of actual service under the care of either the Home or the Foreign Board." The Assembly of 1889 directed "as the best method for the present for supplying a felt need" that the names of "regularly appointed lay-Missionaries of the Foreign Board" shall also be placed upon the roll of the Board. The same Assembly also directed that "every honorably retired minister over seventy years of age, who is in need, and who has served our Church as a missionary of the Home or Foreign Board, or as a pastor, or stated supply, for a period in the aggregate not less than thirty years, shall be entitled by such service to draw from the Board of Ministerial Relief an annual sum for his support without the necessity of being annually recommended therefor by the Presbytery."

JAMES MORROW,
GEORGE W. MARTIN,
THOMAS RYALL, M. D.,
WILLIAM G. REED,
WINTHROP S. GILMAN,
GEORGE H. WHITE,

The standing committee on the Board of Ministerial Relief, having examined the minutes and the report of the Board, recommend them to the approval of the General Assembly.

Your committee invite the attention of the General Assembly to the following facts: During the year from April 1, 1889, to April 1, 1890, in compliance with the recommendation of Presbyteries, remittances of money were sent to 241 ministers, to 358 widows of ministers, and to twenty-four orphan families of ministers; the whole number of families provided for during the year at the Ministers' House at Perth Amboy, N. J., was eighteen, making a total of 642 families on the roll of the Board—an increase of twenty-seven over last year.

The contributions during the year from churches, Sabbath-schools and individuals amounted to $105,369, a little more than two thirds of the sum named by the last General Assembly as necessary to carry on the work of the Board. The contributions of the previous year amounted to $108,586, which was less by $2,000 than the contributions of the preceding, the centennial year. This steady decrease in the gifts of the churches to this most sacred cause may well be regarded with anxiety if not with alarm. But for the interest of the Permanent Fund, amounting to $34,911.84, the Board would close the year in debt. If the effect of the endowment raised during the centennial year is to release our people from a sense of their obligation to contribute annually to this cause, that endowment will prove to be a calamity rather than a blessing. No more sacred duty can rest upon the church than the duty to provide for the adequate support of her aged and infirm ministers and the helpless families who are dependent upon them. No more tender appeal can be made to the hearts of God's people than that which interprets the silent sufferings of those who have worn themselves out in the service of the church, and whose devotion to the spiritual welfare of others has prevented them from making provision for the time of sickness and old age. If to visit the fatherless and the widows in their affliction is an essential fruit and evidence of pure and undefiled religion—and if in the final judgment the test of fitness for the kingdom of heaven will be the question whether we have ministered to Christ represented in His brethren—surely these elementary principles of our holy religion apply with double force to the care which the church owes to her aged and infirm ministers. The obligation to save these faithful and afflicted servants of Christ not only from bodily want, but from the humiliation of being regarded as objects of common charity or pensioners upon the bounty of the church, is not a mere matter of voluntary benevolence, but a sacred debt, for the payment of which the head of the church holds the church to a strict account.

In view of the facts above recited and of the obligation thus acknowledged, your committee recommend to the General Assembly the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. That this General Assembly acknowledges in behalf of the whole church which we represent, the solemn obligation to provide for our infirm and aged ministers, not as a matter of charity, but as a debt due alike to them and to Christ; and while expressing our tender sympathy for all those who in the providence of God are in circumstances which require the aid this Board is designed to furnish, we affectionately exhort them not to regard themselves as pensioners upon the charity of the church in any humiliating sense.

2. This Assembly solemnly enjoins upon all the churches under our care the duty of contributing annually to the funds of this Board, and we repeat the earnest exhortation of former Assemblies to our ruling elders to see to it that every church makes a contribution to this sacred cause.

3. This Assembly recommends to the churches under its care to contribute to this Board during the coming year not less than $150,000, which in our judgment is the lowest amount needed for the adequate prosecution of the work of the Board.

Your committee recommend that the following members of the Board, whose term of service expires with this Assembly, be re-appointed: Ministers, John A. Ligget, D. D., Rev. Henry Sharpe, D. D.; Elders, Robert C. Ogden, and John D. Wattles. All of which is respectfully submitted.

II. Report of the Secretary's Address.

(From the Daily Saratogian, May 19th.)

Dr. Cattell, after calling the attention of the Assembly to a few facts presented in the Report of the Board, turned to the New Rule adopted by the Assembly of last year, by which a certain class of those aided by the Board—the honorably retired Pastors and Missionaries over seventy years of age—need no longer apply every year for a renewal of their Presbyterian recommendations. This might seem to some only a slight change in the methods of the administration of this Board; yet, in the prominence it gives to the true principle of service to the Church upon which the Board is founded; and in the comfort, independence and dignity it adds to the worn-out Ministers upon our Roll, the Doctor regarded the action of the last Assembly as the most important advance made in the cause of Ministerial Relief since 1849, when the General Assembly first established a definite agency by which the Church could care for its disabled ministers.

This subject had, indeed, early engaged the attention of the Synod of Philadelphia, the first Synod of our Church organized in America, but the Doctor argued that there was then no adequate conception of the whole duty of the Church towards the Ministry. The "Corporation for the relief of poor and distressed Presbyterian Ministers and of the poor and distressed widows and children of Presbyterian Ministers," (chartered in 1759), was founded upon very much the same principle as the annuity or mutual life insurance companies now so common. Every Minister (as in the Mother Church of Scotland) paid annually a fixed sum to constitute a Fund, out of which at his death a certain annuity was paid to his widow for life and to his children for a term of years. Annuities were also to be paid to the Minister himself should he by sickness "be rendered incapable of all business whereby he might be supported."

This was all very well in its way. But this Corporation by no means represented the Bible teaching as to the duty of the people in the support of those "that preach the Gospel." This duty is not wholly discharged when in return for its immediate benefits a stipend is paid by the congregation to the pastor who serves it—a stipend which rarely permits him, even with the closest economy, to lay by anything for his support in protracted sickness or old age, or for his family after his death. It is the people who are to support the Ministry, and not the ministers themselves, as would virtually be the case if no other provision be made for their support in sickness or old age than that which is made through the Mutual Benefit Associations and Brotherhoods for those who have spent their lives in some one of the money making occupations. Although this Corporation continued for many years to report to the Synod, and then to the Assembly, it was regarded as a purely business matter. Collections were now and then taken up for it in the Churches, and contributions were solicited for it in the Mother Country, but the ground for these appeals seems always to have been that these worn-out Ministers, and their dependent widows, were a class of the worthy and deserving poor who ought to be aided in their efforts to take care of themselves. God's people had not learned in those days to distinguish between the sacred duty of the Church to its poor and its no less sacred duty to the Ministry. They had not carefully studied the rule for the support of the Christian Ministry laid down by the Apostle in his first epistle to the Corinthians. "Even so," said he, "hath the Lord ordained"—even so as it had been ordained in the law of Moses to which he had just referred. When the Levites became too old for the laborious service in offering the sacrifices at the Temple, were they not retired from their sacred duties and their support continued just the same as in the days of their strength and usefulness?

And so the whole matter of Ministerial support, in its relation to the sick and worn-out Pastor, was left to drift along—the Corporation continuing to represent the business idea and the collections in the churches the charity idea: and this latter became more and more prominent as the Corporation gradually withdrew from its relation to the Synod or to the Assembly, until finally it ceased to report at all.

When, therefore, the General Assembly took up the subject during its sessions in Pittsburg in 1849, it is no wonder that this charity idea had taken deep hold upon the Church. While the Churches gladly welcomed this new agency established by the Assembly for the care of our "disabled and superannuated Ministers, and widows and families of Presbyterian Ministers, who are in indigent circumstances," it was generally regarded only as an agency by which the "duty of the Church" to the "poor and distressed" might be better performed than by either the old Corporation or by the fitful and uncertain efforts of private charity.

There were not wanting men in either branch of our Church, who recognized the true principle upon which such an agency ought to be founded, but this "charity" idea was firmly fixed in the minds of the people. And it has prevailed to this day—confusing the mind of the Church as to the grounds and the extent of its obligation to the Ministry, and needlessly adding to the sorrow of these honored though dependent servants of the Church, by placing them in the humiliating position of recipients of public charity.

I recall an incident which illustrates how largely this feeling has penetrated the Church. I was visiting one of the Synods, and the subject of Ministerial Relief was discussed with great tenderness and interest. One after another of the brethren arose and spoke earnestly and forcibly. Many instances were given of faithful and honored servants of the Church who had reached an old age of want. A leading member of the Synod spoke, from his personal knowledge, of one of these suffering brethren of Christ, in a way that moved all our hearts. He told how, with shattered health and after a long life of usefulness and honor, this brother had now been reduced to absolute want. At a conference of his friends it was agreed to make an application to the Board of Relief for an appropriation of $300. This came to the knowledge of a friend of the speaker, one who also knew of the great worth and eminent service of this brother, and said he: "No, he shall not go upon the Board. I claim the privilege myself of contributing the $300."

Moderator, the whole Synod rang with applause. I too, could have heartily joined in it to show (as perhaps many did) appreciation of so generous an act on the part of this noble man; but I confess that a pang shot through my heart as I thought, that after all, the great assemblage was moved to this enthusiasm because the generous offer of this noble man had saved this brother from the humiliation of going upon the Board! Why should it have been more of a humiliation for him to receive the $300 from this agency of the Church than from the generosity of an individual?

With such an opinion prevailing so widely, is it a wonder that so many of those upon the Board keenly feel this humiliation? Do not let us judge them harshly for this sensitiveness. Perhaps some of them are morbid. But they are all educated, refined, cultured people, who have known happier days. Can you not understand and even honor the delicate sensitiveness which makes them shrink from being classed, as they are so thoughtlessly classed by many, with the pauper recipients of some charity fund?

The Secretary here read letters from several veterans showing their extreme sensitiveness, as to receiving aid from the Board. One of them, in a recent letter, gratefully acknowledging his first remittances from the Board, adds, nevertheless, that if it were ever possible for him to do so, he would return every penny to the Board!

Why should this honored servant of the Church, asked the Doctor, want to return this money to the Board, any more than to return to the Home Board the salary he received when he was a Missionary? Ah, you know why!

It was at the General Assembly at Omaha in 1887, and in the June number for that year of The Church at Home and Abroad, that I asked whether the Church had not too long borne the reproach of adding a new sorrow, even while it was relieving the need in these homes of our suffering brethren. If it is too much to hope that ample and honorable provision shall speedily be made by the Church for all those upon the Roll of its Board of Ministerial Relief, can there not be devised some change in the methods of the administration of the Board by which at least one class of those upon our Roll—the honorably retired pastors and missionaries—may be clearly recognized as the honored recipients of an annuity, or retiring allowance, which they have earned by their long and faithful service to the Church?

To this question there came, in the action of the Assembly last year, a response which, though not all the Secretary could wish, nevertheless was so hopeful for the future that he rejoiced and gave thanks. The new rule provides that the honorably retired minister—over seventy years of age, thirty years of whose life have been spent on the missionary fields of our Church or in its pastorate, and who is in need—shall no longer be obliged to appear annually before Presbytery to make bare his poverty, and by his very plea with his brethren to recommend him to the Board for an appropriation, deepen his own humiliation and the shame of the Church. Too often has that spectacle been witnessed by the present generation!

Only last week a pastor wrote to me describing his feelings at one of these scenes, which impressed him all the more as it occurred at the first meeting of the presbytery he attended. A venerable, godly man, had prepared a written statement of his nearly half a century's work in the pastorate. During all these years he had labored within the bounds of that presbytery, never having been without a pastoral charge and never having had a salary of over $450—frequently less. Now he had grown old and feeble and could no longer earn his bread in the sacred work or in any other employment. A widowed daughter and her helpless little ones were dependent upon him for support. He needed help, and he humbly asked the presbytery if they would recommend him to the Board of Relief for an appropriation of $200. Handing this paper to the Moderator of the Presbytery, the Patriarch left the room with his head bowed and the tears coursing down his furrowed cheeks. Of course the presbytery (they all honored and loved him) hastened to vote him a recommendation to the Board; but, brethren, ought not this old man to have been spared that bowed head and those tears? Ah, the coming generation will wonder that such a scene was ever witnessed.

Now the new rule of the Assembly not only emphasizes the fact that service to the Church, and not poverty, is the basis of the claim which the worn out veteran has upon the Board of Relief—that has often been emphasized before—but it is put in a business shape. When the long and useful service of the honorably retired Pastor or Missionary is, once for all, a matter of record upon the minutes of Presbytery, the veteran, upon the simple statement of his need, and without further questioning, draws his modest annuity of $300 from our Board for the few remaining years of his life. Why was not this done before?

Dr. Cattell then spoke of the twenty-six honorably retired veterans, who, during the past year had availed themselves of this provision which takes away so largely the sense of humiliating dependence under the old rule which has prevailed since 1849. The oldest of these ministers placed upon the new "Roll of Honor," is in his ninety-fourth year. Eight are past four score. The average age is seventy-eight, and the average number of years spent in the ministry is forty-four.

Referring to the "need" of the veteran, as a necessary condition of his receiving an appropriation from the Board, the Secretary confessed that he saw only one way to entirely eliminate this "charity" idea, and that was in the retiring allowance fixed for pastors and missionaries who have served the Church for a certain number of years there shall be no distinction between those who are poor and those who are not. The annuity provided for the retiring Judges of all our Federal courts and the officers in the army and navy is regarded by the recipients themselves, no less than by the public, to be as honorable to them as to the country that gives it. For this annuity is not only ample; it is paid to the retiring judge or officer all the same whether he is rich or poor, sick or well. The Government never asks him: "Have you not enough money to live on? Or, cannot your children or your relatives, or your wife's relatives support you?" Or the further question: "Why did you not, like other people, lay by something out of your ample salary for your support in old age?" But these questions have been too often asked of the worn out preacher—though there is not much emphasis laid upon the ample salary! Is it not the church that should set an example to the Government in the tender care of its servants and in the honorable provision made for their old age, rather than that the Government should set an example to the Church?

Just before leaving home I said to a lady who is very much interested in the work of this Board: "The General Assembly of our Church has often emphasized the fact that the appropriations from the Board are not charity or alms but the payment (and that only in part) of a just debt. How does it strike you that the Assembly limits the payments to those who are in need?" Said she: "It strikes me as a little confusing. But I suppose that the reason for the limitation is that you cannot raise money enough to pay a decent appropriation even to those who are in need." Like all women, she hit the nail on the head the very first time she struck at it. Yes, brethren, "we are confronted by a condition, not by a theory." The Presbyterian Church does not contribute enough money to furnish a decent support for its aged servants who are in need.

Look at the figures in our report this year. Thirty-five hundred churches (more than half of all upon the Roll of the Assembly) made last year no contribution whatever to our treasury? One hundred and forty churches only went through the motion of it, giving in all $129.67, ranging from one dollar to twenty-five cents (it was the pastor himself, no doubt, who gave the dollar out of his own meager salary!), and worse than their record is that of many large and wealthy churches that are still playing the role of that widow with only two mites. Last year the Board received $92,570 from the collections in Churches and Sabbath-schools; add to this $12,798 sent directly to the treasury by a comparatively few generous individuals, and there was only a little over a hundred thousand dollars contributed during the year, to be divided among 624 families upon the Roll of the Board. The interest from the Permanent Fund was $34,911; but the whole income was only $140,856, while the expenditure, on the present scale of small appropriations to those in need, was $143,981. The Board really ends the year with a debt of $3,125.

Brethren, let us first make some worthy provision for these blessed servants of the Church who are in need, and then we can argue the question whether this charity idea cannot and ought not to be effectually and finally disposed of by a "retiring allowance" to every worn out pastor and missionary. It will be interesting, then, to inquire whether there was any other reason than the poverty of the Presbyterian Church for the declaration in the New Rule that the veteran by his service to the Church is entitled to a retiring allowance if he needs it! And doubtless some will then wonder whether the Presbyterian Church really held the view that a just debt ought to be paid only when the creditor is poor!

The Doctor, however, asserted that the "need" of the worn-out minister did not in itself involve any humiliation. Surely, the servants of Him who had nowhere to lay his head will never hold this view.

Whatever may be the hardships of poverty, it is the glory of the Presbyterian ministers, worn out in the service of the Church, that they are poor. Professor Agassiz once said, "I have never had time to make money." How nobly this sounds from his lips—for he had all the time there was! But the philosopher was too absorbed in his great work to turn aside from it to make money, even to provide for his old age; and the ministry furnishes a still grander illustration of self-sacrifice in the noblest of callings.

No, it is not the "need" of the worn-out minister in his old age that is humiliating. It is the "charity" idea associated with the provision for his support that does this; and if men would only look at it rightly, there is, after all, a sense in which the "need" of the veteran may be regarded as the reason for an annuity, or retiring allowance or pension, without obscuring the service which entitles him to it. Was it not the pathetic fact of General Grant's "need" that brought about his pension near the close of his life?—for such was really the replacing of his name by Congress upon the retired list of the Army. But shall this obscure his great service to the country, which, after all, was the only ground upon which this honorable provision for his relief could rightly have been made by Congress. Who thinks of calling this an act of charity, though it would never have been done if the illustrious General had not been in need.

And the New Rule of the Assembly reduces almost to the vanishing point whatever might wound the feelings of the veteran in the fact that his retiring allowance is given to him in view of his "need." He has now only to state the fact, with the official record of his services to the Church. No painful and humiliating questions are now asked! There is not a man in all our Church who can object to this retiring allowance of $300 being placed in the hands of an honorably retired minister upon his simple statement that he needs this amount from the Board for his support, after he has given thirty years of service to the Church as a missionary or pastor.

Yes, I do rejoice and give thanks for the advance which has been made by the New Rule. It is a good beginning; but let the good work go on until the very thought of humiliation in the aged minister's drawing a pension from the Church because he is in need, shall be an impossibility; and the very names of these veterans, instead of being carefully suppressed, can be publicly announced and printed as a "Roll of Honor."*

Ah, how carefully do some presbyteries conceal the names of those whom they recommend to the Board for aid! I honor the tender and thoughtful delicacy that leads the brethren thus to spare the feelings of these Wards of the Church. Perhaps, as things now are, it may be the best plan. But is it not a sad proof of the existence of a widespread sentiment in the Church that, after all, there really is in these appropriations something for the veteran to be ashamed of? And does not this studious concealment of the name perpetuate this sentiment, which ought not to exist at all?

Last month I visited one of our Presbyteries—that of Lackawanna—and it gladdened me to find that the brethren there had taken high ground on this very subject. A whole evening was given to the cause, and Dr. Logan, the Chairman of our Committee in that Presbytery, in his Report read at this meeting, dwelt tenderly upon each case upon which the Presbytery was called to act. Nor did he hesitate to mention the honored name, as though the "need" which led the blessed servants of the Church to apply for aid to which they were entitled by their services, was something to be ashamed of! No! No! Of course it was put in a wise way; the "service" was so emphasized that the appropriation, asked for from the Board for these suffering brethren, was recognized as something they had fairly earned; and there was no member of that Presbytery, and no man or woman in that large audience, who did not feel that these retiring allowances were honorable to these veterans and honorable to the Church—except that the amount was shamefully small.

It so happened that among these names was that of a Minister very dear to me. I had myself long years ago, when a young Professor at Lafayette College, often called that name in the class-room. He was older than I was,

* The following paragraphs are from a letter by the Secretary of the Board, printed in The Church at Home and Abroad for June, 1888.

 Scarcely a week passes but our church papers contain an appreciative obituary notice of some honored father of the church who, in his helpless old age, has been receiving aid from this Board; but that fact is scrupulously withheld.  Let me give you a case in point. Not long since I received a brief note to the effect that the writer had sent to one of the religious journals here in Philadelphia a notice of the life and character of an honored father of the Church who had just died. But writing in great haste, and under unusual pressure of work, he feared there was something said which might betray the fact that the patriarch was upon the roll of this Board. He therefore begged me to go to the office of the paper and look over the proof, as there was not time for it to reach him by mail and if there was any such sentence, to strike it out. I was deeply touched by the delicate and thoughtful consideration of this good pastor, so characteristic of him; but, my dear brother, why should there be forced upon him and upon me and upon the Presbytery the necessity of being so careful lest it should come to be known that some honored servant of the Church received aid from the Board of Relief? May God speed the coming of a better day!

and well do I remember the manly form that rose in response, and the invariably good rendering of the Greek that followed. The tender mention of his name in the Report recalled cherished memories of those far-off days, when, in that class-room and in the students' weekly prayer-meetings and in the Chapel service and in many long walks we had taken together, my heart was knit to his. But little did I then think that when we both came to be old and gray-headed, it would be through my hand there would be put into his, the annual remittance from the Church that would keep him from hard and bitter want. But so it has pleased God. After many long years of faithful, laborious and self-sacrificing service, mainly in feeble churches, this scholarly man was stricken with paralysis, and was laid aside from the work he loved so well. You can understand how, among the many letters that have come to me, as Secretary of the Board, from these honored servants of the Church upon our Roll, few have had for me such a pathetic interest as those from the humble home of my old pupil and friend. May I read you one of them?

Here the doctor read a tender letter from his aged and helpless friend, which referred to his entire dependence for the support of himself and his wife upon the remittance of $200 sent from the Board, and modestly asked for its continuance another year, adding:

"We hope the funds in hand may be sufficient to justify such an appropriation: but if not, we will try to suffer patiently with your other needy pensioners."

Think of it! said the Doctor. This godly, scholarly man, tracing with his tremulous hands, "growing more helpless daily," these pathetic lines. I wish they could be read in every Presbyterian home throughout the land!

After describing a visit he had made to the humble home of this patient sufferer, Doctor Cattell said: "The memory of that last interview always touches me most deeply; but not less was I affected when at this large meeting, Dr. Logan, in his report to the Presbytery, dwelt so tenderly upon the name of that dear old man, and upon his services to the Church, and then added there would no longer be any necessity for the Presbytery to vote him an appropriation! God had provided for his afflicted servant better things. A few weeks ago a Voice had called to him in his pain and suffering: Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord!

One more reference, Moderator, before I take my seat—it is to that devoted wife, who for many long years had cheered and aided her husband in his sacred work. I must read you a letter from her that I received in answer to one of mine, containing a little sum of money, placed in my hands by a friend to use according to my own judgment:

"DEAR BROTHER: Your unexpected favor reached my husband yesterday. With tear dimmed eyes we read your note, and I am not sure but your words of kind remembrance were of more value than the check accompanying them, much as we appreciated the latter. It is not always that our friends remember that our greatest trial is that we are laid aside from the work. Yet we are thankful that the work goes on, even if we are not helping, as we would like to do.

Did you notice that sentence, "our greatest trial is that we are laid aside from the work"? Oh, brethren, who can estimate the worth of the minister's wife to the church? Her name does not appear in the call to the pastor and no salary is named for her. But think of what her service is to the church—not only in the joy with which she irradiates the manse, cheering and strengthening her husband for his special duty—but her own share in the parish work. Calling once at the manse of an old friend I was told he was out of town. Then I asked for his wife, whom I had long known. The answer was that “she had gone to visit some sick people.” Not the sick people among her personal friends, but the sick people of the parish! Shall there not be some recognition by the Church of this faithful service? Shall it ever be told to the shame of the Church that in the home of the Pastor’s widow there is no bread?

And do your thoughts revert to the noble woman whose letter I have just read, and are you thinking of the Church’s duty to her in her lonely and dependent widowhood? Let me further tell you that for many weary months she had suffered intensely with a malady that put her life in peril every moment, and which she well knew must end it at no distant day. But she carefully concealed all knowledge of this from her husband. Her constant prayer was that her life might be spared as long as his. When her tender ministrations for him were ended she did not care to live longer.

And God granted the desire of her heart. Just two weeks after she had gently folded upon her husband’s breast the dear paralyzed hands—now no longer trembling, but still as the heart beneath—she was not, for God took her.

In her home now there is no suffering or want. But, as our Report tells you, there are throughout our Church more than three hundred homes where the pastor’s widow sits solitary, and where there is want—often hard and bitter want! Fathers and Brethren, need I urge you to “help those women?”

III. Meetings of the Elders During the Sessions of the Assembly.

(From the Daily Saratogian, May 24th.)

The meetings held on Tuesday and Wednesday by the elder-commissioners to the General Assembly at the rooms of the Young Men’s Christian Association were largely attended. In fact the audience overflowed the hall and occupied a large part of the reading-room adjoining. Elder William H. Parsons, of the Synod of New York, presided at the first meeting, and after devotional exercises, said:

We have met here, brethren, to consider our duty as elders in Christ’s Church; especially our duty with reference to the Board of Ministerial Relief. Your sympathies and mine have gone out towards those servants of the Church who have been laid aside either by sickness or the infirmities of age. We all recognize our duty in this matter, and the responsibility that rests upon us; but the fear is that when we leave the Assembly and go to our homes the cares of business life may call our attention away from the needs of this Board. We have, of course, a duty in connection with all of the boards of the Church, This we all recognize, but there are some of the boards whose interests the pastor can better look after than we can. With respect, however, to this Board of Ministerial Relief, I think it devolves upon the elders of the Church more than upon the ministers themselves to see that its work is effective, that its aims and wants are made known to all our congregations, and that its treasury is always supplied. The time allotted for this meeting is very short and I shall not take up any more of it. The meeting is now in your hands.

Brief addresses were then made by elders representing all parts of the Church. The interest was so great that frequently three or four elders rose at the same time to address the meeting.

Elder Curtis C. Strong, M. D., from Oregon, spoke of Ministerial Relief as a subject of very great importance, and one which really interested the whole Church. The people, however, do not generally understand the importance and necessity of contributing to the Board. The ministers have got the idea that to present this subject from the pulpit is begging for themselves, and the result is that many of them neglect this duty. Ministerial Relief is a subject, therefore, that should be taken up by the elders and pushed by them in every congregation. He referred to the nominal sum that was contributed last year for this Board, and emphasized the necessity of adopting some method to increase the contributions in all our churches for the aid of our sick and worn-out ministers.

Elder David N. Murray, of Ohio, referred to the fact that nearly twenty years before the General Assembly took this matter up he introduced a resolution in his presbytery for the relief of our superannuated ministers, and a committee, of which he was one, was appointed to this duty, which they performed for many years. I could not bear, said he, to see our worn-out ministers turned out from their field after long years of usefulness with no means of sustenance. When the General Assembly took the matter up I rejoiced, and I do hope that this matter will go on until a much better support is provided for all.

Elder Alfred Hand, formerly of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, and a commissioner to the Assembly from the Presbytery of Lackawanna, spoke of his beloved pastor having been stricken down with paralysis as he stood one Sabbath in the pulpit. His usefulness as a pastor was over, and he resigned his pulpit. But the church, as long as he lived, which was several years, tenderly cared for him, paying him an annuity of $1,200. When he died the church paid $300 to his widow; and they are paying it now and expect to pay it as long as she lives, in addition to their contribution to the Board of Ministerial Relief. "There is no one in that church," said he, "who feels that we are doing an act of charity. It is simply our duty. We want to get rid of that idea of charity so generally associated with the provision made by the Church for the support of the sick and worn-out ministers. The elders must devise a plan to educate the people up to their great privilege, as well as their duty; to support them, just as those are supported who are preaching the Word. Let us enter into this work heart and soul."

Elder James S. Baker, from New Jersey, wanted the meeting to take a practical turn. The elders know what their duty is. The Church last year contributed a little over $100,000.00 to this cause. We should go home and tell our churches we want $200,000.00; and the delegates here must put into their brother elders at home the same spirit which has been aroused in this Assembly. We should go to our presbyteries and insist that this subject of Ministerial Relief be brought fully before them. We must make the churches double their contributions.

Elder James Brown, Synod of Kansas, confessed that, while he had looked at this matter before he came to the Assembly, and had considered it a sacred duty to take care of the disabled ministers, it had never struck him in the light it has since he heard the report of the Board to the Assembly. That it is not merely a duty, but a high privilege; that it is not a charity doled out to these servants of the Church, but a reward for their faithful services, all this had dawned upon him since then. He hoped all the elders would go to their homes resolved to educate the people up to a sense of their duty and responsibility. Ministerial relief is a great work. The elders should feel a deeper and more sacred interest in it than they now do.

Elder N. T. Clark, from the presbytery of Geneva, thought one evening ought to be set apart for Ministerial Relief at every meeting of presbytery. In that way it can be brought, not only before the ministers and elders, but before the people.

Elder S. Cadwallader, from Los Angeles, Cal., said that the session of his church had already taken action upon the subject of Ministerial Relief. It was the duty of the elders to present the claims of that Board, and the cause would be presented in all the churches of his presbytery.

Elder D. C. Eaton, of Brooklyn, expressed his very great pleasure at the practical turn this meeting had taken. Every elder in the Assembly should charge himself with the duty of seeing to it that each church in his presbytery takes a collection for Ministerial Relief, and the contributions in every church should be at least doubled. Elder Barber agreed with the last speaker, and thought the elders in attendance at the General Assembly would not perform their duty unless the influence and spirit of the Assembly reached throughout the land from ocean to ocean. As representatives of their respective presbyteries it was the duty of each one to carry home and extend the spirit and enthusiasm which has been here aroused. At the next presbytery the elders should make a report of these meetings, and look to it that in each of our presbyteries the elders are made to feel the same influence and spirit that has prevailed here. The doubling of the collections in the churches will then be more than realized.

Elder Oscar L. Peak, from Kansas, referred to the elders' meetings frequently held preceding and during the meeting of the presbytery. Some elder should present, at each of these, this subject of Ministerial Relief. In that way it will reach all the churches of the presbytery.

Elder P. W. Bently, Synod of Pennsylvania, suggested that as the elders would all go home filled with a desire to carry out the thoughts gained at the Assembly, each one should resolve himself into a committee of one and see that this matter is effectively brought to the attention of all the churches in his presbytery.

Elder F. F. Hopkins, from the Pacific Coast, observed that although in the church to which he belonged they were very strict to take up a collection, he had always observed that it was with more or less diffidence that this matter was presented by the pastor of the church. He agreed with the previous speaker that the elders should take hold of this matter with vigor and bring it before the presbyteries.

Elder G. N. White also emphasized this thought. He insisted that the elders would not do their duty to simply see that this cause is represented in their respective churches and a collection taken. He found no cause for which he could raise money so easily as for the Board which provides for the faithful minister of Christ who is disabled or worn out in the service. People who are not members of the Church give as gladly as those who are members.

The Chairman here announced that the hour had expired, and it was unanimously resolved to continue the topic at the meeting in the same place next day.

Elder James A. Beaver, governor of Pennsylvania, presided at the meeting on Wednesday, and, after the devotional exercises, referred to an officer in the army, a comrade of his in the war, whose friends, including the speaker, had recently interested themselves in a bill before congress to place him upon the retired list of the regular army as a lieutenant-colonel. From over nineteen states of the union letters, petitions and appeals in his favor were sent to Washington, to the Military Committee in both houses of Congress. The argument was based upon his services to the country, and the appeal for him was made because of love for him. So had these ministers a right, by their services to the Church, to demand a support in sickness or old age; and though the minister may have some diffidence in presenting this subject from the pulpit, he has no right to have any such feeling. This leads to the very thing we are endeavoring to prevent. That is, having the Church think an appropriation from the Board to our ministers is anything more than that to which they have a right. No good reason can be given why a minister should not present this cause from the pulpit with all the power and pathos he has. I agree that the elders ought to assist all in their power, but the minister ought first to put himself on record; if he does not the elders ought to stand up and tell why he does not. The governor insisted that all pastors should teach their people the basis upon which the Board is founded; that the Church owes a support to every minister of the Gospel who is disabled in the service of the Church. There is no charity about it. "I want," said he, "to take that idea away from it, and it is my firm conviction that this reluctance of the pastors to present this cause to their people helps to make the appropriations given to ministers regarded as a charity rather than the discharge of an obligation which the Church owes her disabled servants. This meeting has been called to devise some practical means by which the elders and the pastors of the Presbyterian church can give this Board of Ministerial Relief the support it ought to have in the year to come, and this should be $150,000 outside of its regular income from the interest of its invested funds.*

Elder William H. Parsons, Synod of New York, agreed with the gov-

* Governor Beaver was a Commissioner to the Centennial General Assembly in Philadelphia, year before last. He was Vice-Moderator of the Assembly and Chairman of the Standing Committee upon Ministerial Relief. His report and the abstract of the address he made in presenting it to the Assembly are printed in the appendix to the report of the Board for that year, 1888.

ernor that the pastors ought to present this subject from their pulpits, but at the same time there was undoubtedly more embarrassment upon their part in pleading this cause than in pleading for the other Boards. Therefore the elders, in connection with the pastors, should give themselves heartily to this work, not only in their own churches, but also in all the churches of the presbytery. An effort should be made to at least double the contributions of last year.

Elder Daniel R. Noyes, Minnesota, said he had come to the conclusion first to contribute more himself to this cause. There are 250 elders members of this General Assembly, and they represent a large amount of intelligence and wealth, God-given. If they go home and do their duty the collections for the Board will increase fifty per cent. He then referred to the necessity of more concentration in their benevolent work, and not scatter so much. Let us do the work which our own church has undertaken. If it be necessary to have two collections for foreign missions, let us have them; and two for Ministerial Relief, if necessary. "Then," said he, "I shall try to have all the churches in the presbytery give something for this cause; but let us give all that we can."*

Elder Clark was surprised to learn that ministers in any part of the country are timid about presenting this cause to the people. Where he lived that feeling was not known. Our pastors and our presbytery are very particular to keep this sacred cause before the people.

Elder William Wynkoop, Philadelphia, reminded Governor Beaver that when the Synod of Pennsylvania met in Bellefonte it was resolved that the elders should go home and especially bring the matter before the Sunday-schools and instruct the children in this cause, and that a collection should be taken up. He described how this was done in his church, and they got about half as much as the church itself had given. A collection for this cause had been taken up from year to year ever since. Besides the amount thus gained, the youth of our Church are being educated in this noble cause. Elder George H. Utter, from the recently formed Synod of New Mexico, urged all the missionary churches, however feeble, to interest themselves in this cause and to contribute something toward it.

Elder Henry Day, of New York referred to the interest taken by his church in this great and noble work, as shown by their contribution to the

* Mr. Noyes says, in a recent letter to the Secretary, who had requested his views upon the work of the Board:—

To provide for our aged and infirm ministers and their families, and to do it in a way that acknowledges their right to such provision—is the great privilege, as well as the sacred duty of the Church; and this duty belongs to the eldership and membership, rather than to the ministry itself.

Not only is this obligation imperative in itself, but such generous provision commends itself as of the greatest importance to the Church in all its interests. It encourages young men to prepare for and enter the ministry. It strengthens and sustains them in it, relieving them from anxious care for the future, and enabling them to do better and more hopeful work.

In this provision for its aged and disabled servants, and in the manner of it, I trust the Church of Christ may not only do as well as worldly corporations and governments, but may lead them in willing and generous acknowledgment of service rendered. There is wealth enough, ability enough, and grace enough in our Presbyterian Church to speedily complete the one million fund and to double our annual gifts for Ministerial Relief without in any way impairing the work of the Church in any of its other departments while doing so Centenary Fund, which amounted to over seventy thousand dollars. He showed the necessity of individual work as necessary to success in this as in every other good cause. He also emphasized the thought that these collections should be made so as to elevate the ministry. Our Lord's words, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me," had a special application to this cause. These ministers of Christ are in a special sense his brethren.

Brief but spirited addresses followed from Elders James H. Torrey, of Pennsylvania; William A. Bowles, Tennessee; R. V. Ditmore, Indiana; and J. Foster Barber, Pennsylvania, who emphasized the importance of thoroughly enlisting all the Sabbath-schools in this work.

Governor Beaver announced that the time for closing the meeting had arrived, but the brethren all wanted to hear from Elder George Junkin, the president of the Board, and he called upon him for the closing address. Mr. Junkin responded with much feeling, referring to his connection with this Board for the past twenty-five years, and showed that the principle upon which it ought to be put is that to support a sick or aged minister is a matter of right, and not a matter of charity brought out by pity. The church, said he, does not give us enough money to properly care for its servants who are in want; and he described the feelings of all the members of the Board as they sat beside their too often empty treasury and heard the appeals for help from these honored servants of the church. These old soldiers of the cross ought to receive their appropriations as a matter of justice, and when they die they ought to know that they do not leave their wives and children to the benevolence and charity of the church. But the Board should not have an endowment fund so large as to relieve the church from annual contributions to its treasury. This cause should year by year lie upon the hearts of the people. These two meetings, said he in conclusion, have simply been splendid. Do not let us go back to our churches and allow it all to end in the speeches made here. When Nehemiah went down to build the wall around Jerusalem, he set every man to work over against his own house. Our first duty is to work for this cause in our own congregations. Let us work there first, and then if we have time, let us go into the neighboring churches.

NOTE.—Mr. William E. Dodge, an Elder-Commissioner to the Assembly who took special interest in these meetings, made a brief but most earnest and forcible address to the General Assembly, following the Secretary of the Board, when the report of the Assembly's Standing Committee upon Ministerial Relief was under consideration.

THE PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF RELIEF FOR DISABLED MINISTERS, AND THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF DECEASED MINISTERS.

Twenty-Fifth Annual Report

OF THE

Board of Missions for Freedmen,

Of the Presbyterian Church in the United States Of America.

To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church,

From March 31st, 1889, to April 1st, 1890.

THE PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF MISSIONS FOR FREEDMEN respectfully presents to the GENERAL ASSEMBLY its TWENTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT, and in doing so desire to record its gratitude to God for the prosperity with which He has been pleased to crown its work during the past year.

REORGANIZATION OF THE BOARD.

The Board has been thoroughly reorganized during the year, which we trust will make each department of work more systematic and efficient. In the reorganization the Board felt it necessary that there be an Office Secretary and Treasurer elected, who, together with the duties of the Treasuryship, should have charge of the work of the office under the direction of the Office Committee. After mature deliberation the Board on the 15th of July elected to this office Rev. Joseph T. Gibson, of Sharpsburg, Pa., who accepted and entered on the duties of the office October 1st. Mr. Gibson has been in the office now six months, and the Board feels satisfied that it has made a wise choice in electing him to this position, his experience as Secretary of the Synodical Sustentation of the Synod of Pennsylvania giving him a valued preparation for the work of this office.

A QUARTER-CENTURY'S WORK.

The ecclesiastical year just closed completes a quarter of a century of our work among the Freedmen. Twenty-five years ago the General Assembly gave this work its first consideration. The smoke of the battle fields of the South had scarcely cleared away before some of its missionaries were on the ground, and with earnest hearts and hands had commenced a work which at that time and under existing circumstances was one of the most difficult and self-denying upon which a missionary could enter. Neither the Assembly nor the Church seemed to realize what a tremendous task they had undertaken. Difficulties and hindrances met us at every step, which, if related at this day, would seem almost incredible. But God was in the movement, and His constant favor rested upon it.

Twenty-five years ago we had not a church or school among the Freedmen, not one educated colored preacher or teacher. To-day finds us with 245 churches, 78 schools, 117 colored preachers and 133 colored teachers. These churches and schools are now reaching not less than half a million of the Freedmen with their elevating and Christianizing influences.

From 1870 to 1890 there were added to the colored churches under the Board 22,253 persons on profession of their faith, and 4,268 by certificate, making a total of 26,531. The reports for the first five years do not afford definite information on the points just referred to, but at the close of 1869 they report 5,634 members as belonging to the churches, so that during the twenty-five years just ended, not less than 32,165 persons have been brought into the churches under the Board.

October 4th, 1866, the first colored Presbytery, Catawba, was formed, having only two churches enrolled. Now we have two Synods: Atlantic, with six Presbyteries, and Catawba, with four. Looking back over this past quarter of a century we feel profoundly grateful to God that we have made a good start in the effort to evangelize the Freedmen.

Yet the work is only begun. Lights have been enkindled, and they have burned brightly indeed, but they also reveal and define the darkness that "covers the land," and the "gross darkness" that covers the people.

THE WORK OF THE YEAR.

This has certainly been most gratifying and in some regards the most prosperous year in the Board's history. The receipts of the Board during the year, as will be seen from the Treasurer's report, amount to $176,325.60, against $134,450.88 from the same sources last year, a gain of $41,874.72. It is gratifying to record also that the Freedmen have given $30,464.21 towards the support of their own churches and schools. Add to this the sum they have paid for scholarships in Scotia Seminary, $4,961, Mary Allen Seminary, $2,784, and other schools, we find they have given $40,209.21 towards self-support. These last mentioned sums are not included in the receipts of the Board.

Nine new churches have been organized and a number of new preaching stations occupied. In the Carolinas our churches have suffered greatly by the emigration of many Negroes to the West. More than 40,000 have left these states for Mississippi, Arkansas, and Texas. In Georgia, the Empire State of the South, the work has been greatly strengthened and pushed forward. The colored population in this State is rapidly increasing, and numbers now probably not less than 900,000, and in no state, unless it be in Texas, are these people accumulating property so rapidly. Until recently we have accomplished but little here, but a number of earnest and energetic men have been put into this field, and now Knox Presbytery (which includes the entire state) is as able, earnest and aggressive as any in our Southern work. We may anticipate a marked advance by our Church in this state within the next few years. The same promising outlook is afforded us in Arkansas, where many of our colored people from the Atlantic states are settling. A Presbytery, White River, was organized there a little over a year ago, and is earnestly pushing the work in that state, and we may now regard Arkansas as one of our most hopeful fields. Two new men have been put in the Indian Territory, and we have the most encouraging reports of their good work in the Choctaw Nation. The new Presbytery of Southern Virginia is doing good and efficient work, two additional ministers having been sent to that field during the year. The work in the entire field, as a whole, is healthy and growing. There were added to the Churches during the year 1,290 persons on profession of faith, and 272 by certificate.

THE EDUCATIONAL WORK.

This is the right arm of our Church among the Freedmen, and is the hope of the race. It is an ominous fact that in the South illiteracy is steadily increasing. The colored people are multiplying more rapidly than the means of educating them. If all the children of the Freedmen of school age were to-day provided with adequate school privileges, by the time your venerable body meets next year, there would be 255,500 children asking to be taught their letters, to whom we should have to say there are no schools for you. It is an encouraging fact, however, that in the regions where our schools, especially our seminaries and academies are established, illiteracy is steadily diminishing. Biddle University, Scotia and Mary Allen Seminaries, Brainerd Institute, and Wallingford and Haines Academies, and others of our schools, are making bright spaces in the surrounding gloom which are gradually growing brighter and larger every year.

The Parochial School is a necessity in building up our Church work. In every instance where such a school has been established, whether in city or country, it has proved a most efficient aid in drawing attention to the work, and making friends for it. The colored people as a rule prize education, and they love the Church that gives it to them. These schools should be multiplied, and as far as our funds would allow, it has been the policy of the Board to do so.

Industrial training is now made a special feature in all our Seminaries and Academies. It has been introduced in Biddle University during the past year with marked success. In Scotia and Mary Allen Seminaries it has been carried on most prosperously. At Brainerd Institute nearly every new building needed for the institution for the last three or four years has been put up by the students. A large three-story dormitory just at this time is being completed by the students there, and done in workmanlike manner. At the time of our last report several school buildings were being erected. The buildings at Carthage, N. C., Abbeyville and Aiken, S. C., and Rogersville, Tenn., are all occupied and so far completed that a little further effort will finish them. The handsome building for Haines Memorial School, at Augusta, Ga., is nearly completed, and will be ready for the fall session. A large proportion of the sum to erect this building was the generous gift from the estate of the late Thompson Bell, of Pittsburg, Pa. A good substantial building for our Academy at Cotton Plant, Arkansas, has been completed and furnished during the year, and is now occupied by 200 pupils. This has been done almost entirely by the ladies of Illinois.

At Mary Allen Seminary, Crockett, Texas, an additional hall has been erected, and will be ready for occupancy by the opening of the fall term. This hall is a beautiful addition to the Seminary costing $16,000, and the generous gift of Hon. James McMillan, United States Senator from Michigan. It was a necessity also, as more than one hundred girls were denied entrance to the Seminary last fall for the want of room. At Pine Bluff, Arkansas, a school building has been completed, and is now occupied by more than 200 scholars. The school work at Aiken, S. C., heretofore under the care of Rev. W. R. Coles, has been put entirely under the control of the Board, and the entire property, valued at over $4,000, transferred by deed to the Board. This property was secured through the gifts of a number of northern friends who became interested in Mr. Coles' work, and with some aid from the Board. In consideration of the payment by the Board of a debt of $1,000 remaining on the buildings, the entire property, consisting of a neat church building, two large and substantial school buildings and a small dwelling house, has been transferred to the Board.

The educational work in the Indian Territory is progressing hopefully, and could have been greatly enlarged and extended had the necessary funds been at our command. The schools at Atoka, Caddo, Wheelock and other points have done good work. At Oak Hill, the central point of our school work, a new building has been erected and paid for at a cost of $1,800. This building was greatly needed, and we may anticipate an enlarged and efficient work to be done at Oak Hill Industrial School.

The Board would emphasize the importance of its educational work—it is the strength and glory of our work among the Freedmen. In all our schools the Gospel and the Shorter Catechism are studied, and the students are taught that the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom, and that consequently the separation between religion and morality, which is the supreme danger of the Southern black churches, is guarded against.

We have sustained in the field during the year 316 missionaries, of whom 252 are colored, an increase of 26 over last year. The following table will show the work of the year in detail :

The Board, in carrying on its work throughout its extended field, has received valuable aid from our Field Superintendent, Rev. H. N. Payne. The duty of this field agent is to visit personally and frequently as possible, every portion of the work east of the Mississippi River, to study the peculiarities of the different missions, their relative importance, their advantages, disadvantages and prospects, and report upon these things to the Board. He is expected to have close and sympathetic relations with the missionaries, whether ministers or teachers, to counsel, encourage and cheer them in their work. He is expected also to attend, as far as possible, the Presbyteries and Synods in the region in which his work lies. In prosecuting this work, Mr. Payne has, during the year, traveled 12,600 miles, visited 65 churches and 30 schools; has attended the meetings of 10 Presbyteries and 2 Synods; preached 57 sermons and given 44 addresses, and by frequent letters has kept clearly before the Board the condition and needs of the field.

WORK OF THE WOMEN.

There has been an encouraging increase of interest and receipts in the work of the women, as will be seen from the following report from the Women's Department:

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF WOMEN'S DEPARTMENT.

In presenting the sixth annual report of the Freedmen's department, we would acknowledge with gratitude, that by the blessing of God upon our feeble efforts, the work has steadily advanced. More societies have contributed to this cause than ever before, and we are much better prepared for effective work. A large number of Presbyterial Societies now have Secretaries for the work among Freedmen. These Secretaries are earnest, Christian women, who feel the peculiar obligation resting upon us for the welfare of the Negro. It is to their efforts under God that the prosperity of this department is largely due. We hope in time to have such a secretary in every Synodical, Presbyterial and local society.

The contributions through the Woman's Executive Committee of Home Missions this year were $26,117.87, an advance of $3,564.52. Beside this the Treasurer of the Board of Missions for Freedmen has received direct from women's societies and bands $3,182.17.

Miss Holmes, of Illinois, raised $774.14 for painting and furnishing the new buildings at Cotton Plant, Ark., and Oak Hill, Indian Territory, which, under the pressing needs of those institutions at the time, she was authorized to use without sending through the usual channels. The total amount contributed by women's societies and bands is $30,074.18. Perhaps it would be well here to state that a number of societies and individuals have always sent their scholarships direct to the schools aided, and these sums have not been included in the reports made.

The box work has greatly increased. From the partial reports received we find that 140 boxes and barrels have been sent, valued at $6,879.29, and many more of which no value was given.

No new methods have been used during the year, unless it be the employment of Miss Hartford, of Steubenville, for three months to visit societies and diffuse information in regard to our work. The experiment, we think, was quite successful.

Ninety-two full scholarships and eighty-two partial ones have been sent through the Woman's Executive Committee to twelve schools.

Aid has been given in building or repairing 18 houses for school purposes. The salaries of 30 teachers have been paid in full or in part.

We cannot report any new work this year, but have endeavored to develop that already established. The Industrial School at Louisville, Ky., to which reference was made in last year's report, has been greatly enlarged and their methods have proved highly satisfactory. Feeling, however, the inconvenience of sending the money raised in the city for this work first to New York and then to Pittsburgh, they decided to work independently in this respect. Their most interesting report will be printed, in the hope that women of other cities, where there is a large Negro population, may follow their example.

We are glad to say that the small debt resting upon Cotton Plant has been entirely cancelled by the women of Illinois, who have also furnished the house and paid the salaries of two teachers. This school has had a valuable donation of land from the Y. P. C. E., of Carrollton, Ill.

The school building that was so greatly needed at Oak Hill, Indian Territory, has been erected, furnished and is now occupied.

The Haines Normal and Industrial School at Augusta, Ga., is also about completed.

At Gainesville, Florida, a house for our school has been built, and is now in use, the money having been furnished by a generous lady in New Jersey.

Of the work contemplated at the beginning of the year all has been provided for with the exception of the building at Burkville, Va. We are still far short of the amount necessary for the building. We own the land, and there is now in the treasury $4,087.78 for the building. While our hearts rejoice in what has been accomplished, we feel humbled when we think of the unimproved opportunities.

God has again come very near to us this year, and from our midst has taken one whose youth, energy, acquirements, and devotion to her Master's service seemed to fit for a long life of usefulness here. Mrs. Lora Shields Miller is not, for God has taken her.

The year has closed; the record of disappointments and success, of trials and of joys, of short-comings, and restless longings have been made. Hitherto the Lord has helped us, and with firm reliance upon Him we enter upon the new year resolved to do what we can to advance His cause.

MRS. C. E. COULTER,
General Secretary.

The Board has had the painful duty of recording the death of two of its members during the year, Mr. John F. Loy, an elder of Second Church of this city, who was a member of the Board since 1885, who died on May 8th, 1889. Mr. Loy was seldom absent from a meeting of the Board, although burdened with the infirmities of age. The other death was that of Rev. W. C. Burchard, who died May 23d, 1889. Prudent and sagacious, thoughtful in counsel and yet aggressive in plan, Mr. Burchard was a valuable member of the Board, prompt and faithful in attendance even when failing health made effort wearisome.

The term of service of the following members of the Board expires with the present Assembly :

REV. S. J. FISHER.	JOHN C. McCOMBS, Esq.
REV. JOHN FOX.	ROBERT S. DAVIS.
REV. J. P. E. KUMLER, D. D.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Board.

E. P. COWAN,	R. H. ALLEN,
President.	Corresponding Secretary.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

In submitting his annual report, the Treasurer very respectfully calls attention to the following facts in explanation of his report :

1st. Under the heading "Directs" is included only money reported by ministers and teachers in the employ of the Board as sent directly to them to be used in work that the Board has approved.

2d. Having begun the year by making a distinct record of all the money that came to the Treasurer from the Woman's Executive Committee, of the Home Board, it was thought best to continue it; but it does not give the exact amount contributed by the women's societies, for the reason that, on the one hand, it sometimes includes money contributed by Sabbath schools, and on the other hand, it excludes money sent by women's societies directly to the Treasurer of the Board, and not by way of New York.

3d. The amount sent directly to the field this year was $7,145.60 less than last year, while the amount that passed through the hands of the Treasurer was $49,020.32, more than last year. Of this excess, over last year's contributions, $28,160.49 came from legacies; $3,564.72 came from the Woman's Executive Committee, and $17,295.11 came from churches and individuals.

The Board has on hand, as a balance, $1,535.66 more than last year, with $8,000.00 of a reduction in notes outstanding, with $25,000.00 of an increase in invested funds, and with about $30,000.00 of an increase in value of real estate.

In addition to notes outstanding the Board has indebtedness in the form of special contributions not yet remitted, and grants made to institutions, due, and not yet paid, amounting to $9,371.68, and permanent funds, uninvested, amounting to $600.00.

The report does not include the sum of $40,209.21 reported to us by ministers and teachers as contributed by the Freedmen for self-support of schools and churches.

J. C. McCOMBS,
R. S. DAVIS, } Auditors.
R. C. TOTTEN, }

We, the undersigned, have examined the foregoing accounts and find them correct.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 1st, 1890.

Rev. E. D. Morris, D. D., presented the report of the Standing Committee on Freedmen and the following recommendations were adopted :

In accordance with a request from the Board, we recommend that, in cases where there is a surplus of money for scholarships or for other specific purposes at any particular institution supported by the Board, the Board shall be authorized to use the said surplus for the specified purpose at other and needier points, wherever this can be done with the consent of the donors, or without violating any of the terms or conditions on which their gifts were originally made. In cases where this cannot be done with propriety, the Board is directed to hold and keep such moneys in reserve for future needs, the income to be expended meanwhile from year to year, at any point, for the particular purpose specified in the original gift.

The Board also desires permission to recommend to the Presbyteries containing churches under its care, that all applications made to these Presbyteries for aid from the Board shall be voted upon by ballot. As this is substantially the rule approved by the General Assembly, in the case of applications for aid from the Board of Home Missions, and generally observed by our Presbyteries in that connection, we recommend that this permission be granted.

The term of service of the following members of the Board expires at this time, namely: Ministers—S. J. Fisher, John Fox, J. P. E. Kumler, D. D.; Elders—John C. McCombs and Robert S. Davis. Two members of the Board have been removed by death during the past year—Mr. John F. Loy and Rev. W. C. Burchard. We recommend that the five brethren whose term of service now expires be appointed again for the period of three years; and that Elder T. A. Parke be appointed to fill the place of Mr. Loy in the class of 1891, and Rev. D. S. Kennedy to fill the place of Rev. Mr. Burchard in the class of 1892.

In behalf of the Committee.

MISSIONS AND MISSIONARIES IN THE YEAR ENDING MARCH 31, 1890.

All the Schools reported below are under the entire control of the Board. Teachers marked with S, receive aid from the Slater fund; those marked †, receive partial aid from Public School fund; those marked ‡, receive their entire salary from Public School fund; and those marked ¶, receive their support from the tuition of the School.

FOR

SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

With the presentation of this report this Board ends its seventh year. It has "fulfilled its week." This it does with the same officers and with a majority of the same members with whom its work began. Only two of its members have been removed by death; one of these, Rev. Dr. John F. Kendall, of La Porte, Indiana, having died within the year just closing. During his brief relation to the Board he had shown such punctual and intelligent interest in its work that the loss of his counsels is as much regretted as of most welcome companionship. In other particulars this last year has added much to the evidence of that divine favor which the Board has enjoyed from the beginning. Indeed, so notable is the addition which it has made to the solidity and promise of this new work, that it may fairly be considered to have completed the first stage of its history. This report, therefore, may very properly make some record of the chief features of this advance, and of the point which it has reached.

I. REVIEW.

1. PRINCIPLES.

The principles of the Board's work were plainly announced in its organization. It was to be the agent of the Church in planting and establishing her truly necessary schools of Christian learning in those right places where they could not be expected to be so established by other agencies. Its bare creation, therefore, included such declarations as these: That a certain distribution of schools of higher Christian learning is indispensable to the Church's welfare and to her dutiful service of her Master; that much of that needful distribution has been arranged for in the past and is likely to go on in the future by agencies, personal or local, that do not require any organized oversight or aid from a Church Board; but that since a great part of such needful distribution cannot be effectively made except by help of the Church at large, it is proper that such help be applied under the judgment of a Board, controlled by the General Assembly, and representing, as nearly as possible, the prudence of the whole Church. Such a definition of the Board's work would have defined, in effect, the field in which it was to be done, even if the Assembly had not carefully described it. In the nature of the case it would lie beyond the limits of the old and able presbyteries and synods. This is now so plain that it is a matter of wonder that the Board was persuaded, even for a year or two, to include among its printed credits gifts which some of the older and abler communities were making to their local colleges.

Within the more needy field so specifically committed to it, the Board has, from the first, aimed at two classes of results: The early supply of Christian education to the youth already waiting to receive it, and the solid establishment of institutions that may continue the supply to all future generations. These two aims have never been separated. No school has been opened that was not thought to have the prospect of permanence and ultimate strength.

In order to such prospect, two conditions have been held to be indispensable: The right location, and an outlook to an adequate property. Of the property, one very important element (namely, the land) has been, in most cases, comparatively easy to secure. Indeed, the abundance of land within the Board's special field, and the obvious local motives for offering it, have created one of the Board's chief duties—of deciding what offers to approve, and what to discourage. The decision has turned chiefly upon two things: The formal advisory action of the presbytery or synod within whose limits the offered site might fall; and the readiness of the offering community to add to its gift of land, at least a chief part of the cost of a competent building. The places that met these conditions were likely to approve themselves to the judgment of the Board, in which case they secured promise of its aid. The beginning of a school or college being thus made, any movement toward the establishment of a competing institution, by whatever offers accompanied, has been discouraged. In several cases, such competing offers have been so large that they would have moved the Board from anything less than a clear purpose resting on principle. Much more frequently, however, the propositions made to it have lacked all promise of needful pecuniary strength. Accordingly, no feature of the Board's work has been more marked or more constant than its effectual repression of local undertakings which it saw to be either needless or hopeless, and, therefore, without claim to the Presbyterian help which they would be sure to demand. The sum which, during these seven years, has been given by churches and individuals to the Board's work, can be reckoned exactly. But the sum of the saving which the Board has effected, both for churches and for individuals, by preventing seven campaigns of very earnest and persuasive, but wasteful, canvassing for abortive schools, cannot be reckoned.

Consideration should also be given to the practical value of those decisions of the Board under which the preferred offers have been seized and put to use. By such decisions, mere proposals, which would have melted into air, have been turned into valuable properties, whose honorable destiny is now proclaimed by their fine buildings and growing trees. Meanwhile the rapid changes that have gone on about them have made it impossible to duplicate, except at great cost, if at all, the choice grounds that have thus come to our Church by gift.

But local provision thus made for property has gone but a short way toward establishing a school. The Board has had to cope with a list of remaining necessities.

2. POINTS OF DIFFICULTY.

The very provision of property has in many cases been so incomplete that new expense has immediately grown up on that account. This statement is carefully kept from being universal. A majority of the older institutions are out of debt. Some of the new ones have effectually avoided it, contenting themselves with such properties as they could produce, or waiting for enlargement till the necessary means were secured. But that has not been the rule. Few of the larger properties, especially, have come into being so complete and so completely provided for that they have not been encumbered to some degree. This is not to be wondered at. The most careful board of trustees seldom builds a church without some overrunning of estimates, even if there be no shrinkage in subscriptions. There was no probability that this new College Board, however thoughtful, could so advise the several boards of trustees that the building ventures of even the half of them could be sure to end with balanced books. (What it believes itself to have learned on this important point will be set forth hereafter.) Thus, from the first, the Board has had to deal with debts and interest.

Its direct and constant work, however, has been to contribute to the support of the schools, and especially to the salaries of their teachers. Though their salaries have, for the most part, been very small, such income from tuition fees as could be commanded in schools newly opened in new communities has been quite insufficient for meeting them. Just at that point, according to the theory, the Board was to come in with its yearly appropriation, which, together with friendly local subscriptions, was to square the year's account. In very few cases was the theory met by the fact. The new Board's income was so far short of the aggregate demand made upon it, that with many of the new schools especially, the year almost certainly ended with a deficit. In some cases the zealous and liberal teachers surrendered the balance which could not be paid. The Church should have some just idea of the spirit of Christian self-sacrifice which has consecrated not a few of the spots whose names are read on the Board's unsentimental roll of colleges and academies. Many a youth who, by and by, will be doing heroic service for Christ in some home or foreign mission field will have formed his character upon the model of the teacher whom, during some of these past seven years, he has been watching in some scantily-helped institution of the "Presbyterian Board of Aid."

Other teachers have been unable to make surrender of their promised salaries; against which, indeed, in many cases, loans had been made, which the delayed salaries gave the only hope of paying. Accordingly, so much new debt has grown up against the young institution. Very commendable zeal has often been shown by the local trustees in clearing up these debts by special subscriptions of themselves and others. In a few cases there has been salable property, the proceeds of which could be turned to the same purpose. But some painful instances remain in which the bald debt lasts on, leaving the teacher still in need, while his just claim grows by yearly interest. The Board, while fully aware of these evils, has had its little income more than absorbed by every new year's demands for current work, and has not been at liberty to refuse its new appropriations in order to supplement its former ones, however insufficient they may prove to have been. At this difficult point, also, the Board believes that it has gained some light to which it will by and by ask attention.

But there has been a special reason why this deficit of unpaid salaries has been hard to control. Very naturally, every separate board of trustees has had its own judgment of the scale upon which its own school work should be attempted; and such as have found themselves beside flourishing State institutions have counted some generosity in outlay the only way to a remunerative attendance. Such motive to premature expense has been very strong, and the Board has not stopped at general remonstrance against it. In one case aid was definitely withdrawn, and the reason was explained to be a schedule of expenses that was held to be excessive. In several others, distinct warning was given against that kind of mistake, and not without effect. Yet instances remained in which the engagements of the trustees so far exceeded their ability of performance that the yearly addition of debt was very considerable.

There have been two ways in which these debts, whether on property account or on account of current work, have embarrassed the Board and limited its success.

1. They have lessened materially the serviceableness of those contributions which the Church has yearly been making to the teaching work. The Board, for good reason as it believes, has wished that all the collections of the churches and all ordinary gifts to its treasury should go, neither to the creation of property, nor to any property interest, but to the maintenance of that living work of Christian teachers on the minds and hearts of their pupils, for the immediate spiritual success of which every contributor can pray as naturally and as hopefully as though his contribution were made to the Home Board or the Foreign. When, therefore, a considerable part of the means thus received has been needed by the recipient boards of trustees for the payment of interest, not only has so much money gone aside to a separate end; the end which it ought to have served has been, to that degree, thwarted. For every dollar paid out as interest money has been a dollar out of some teacher's pocket. Even if the particular institution that paid the interest paid its own teachers in full, the money which it took from the Board on interest account was so much taken from the general supply, which at the best was too small for its legitimate office of supporting school work.

2. This payment of interest, therefore, has been steadily creating new debt, namely, in those unpaid claims of teachers which were growing up while the sterner claim of a note or a mortgage was asserting its precedence. Meanwhile, in many cases, yearly interest has no more been paid than the yearly salaries; and in those cases, crisis has come, in which the Board has been required to do its most anxious and difficult work—of securing personal benefactions, of large amount, for the rescue of the endangered properties. In some cases, such crisis has been reached under the pressure of property debts only.

3. OFFSETS.

These sombre details are not given without a reason. But they are to be offset by such facts as these :

The trustees that have been liberal in their estimate of yearly outlay have, in most cases, only been carrying out a scheme of liberality which they have personally put to practice, first in producing their college property and afterward in co-operating for saving it.

The rate of outlay which has proved beyond their means has generally been moderate enough when compared with the teaching ability on which it has been expended, and with the outlay of other institutions of like grade. In many instances indeed, it has been quite below the rate of remuneration which the same teachers were refusing in their zeal for building up the college of their own Church.

Every rescued property has been valuable enough to reward all effort and liberality expended in saving it.

In most cases the local outlay upon such property has been far greater than the total of contribution brought to it by means of the Board.

II. MEANS AND RESULTS.

Some knowledge of all the foregoing facts is necessary to any just comparison of the means which the Board has handled with the results that have been reached.

The Board's means, as has already been said, have been of two sorts: Money which it has received into its general treasury, and chiefly from church collections, to be expended in yearly appropriations on teaching work; and money which personal givers have committed to it, sometimes in large amounts, to be applied to the increase or relief of the school properties.

1. GENERAL TREASURY AND ITS APPROPRIATIONS.

The giving to its general treasury was naturally moderate at first. But it increased with great regularity until the notable advance of the present year was made. The number of contributing churches has stood in the Board's successive years as follows: In its first, at 480; in its second, at 1330; in its third, at 1529; in its fourth, at 1761; in its fifth, at 1865; in its sixth, at 1902; in its seventh, at 2030.

From this general treasury the Board made distribution in its first year of $10,984, which it appropriated among nine institutions, as follows: Colleges: Park, Parsons, the Collegiate Department of the German Theological School at Dubuque, the Colleges of Emporia, Kansas, of Pierre, Dakota, and of Montana, at Deer Lodge; Academies or Collegiate Institutes: at Salt Lake City; at Princeton, Ky., and (Lenox) at Hopkinton, Iowa. Of these only the three colleges of Emporia, Pierre and Montana were new. The yearly distribution has increased as follows:

“ “ fourth	“ 23,243.
“ “ sixth	“ 27,945.

This last distribution is made to thirty-five institutions (see the following tables), of which twenty-seven are substantially new, since those that are not new in fact have begun the kind of work which entitles them to the Board's assistance either with or after the organization of the Board.

Of the large addition thus made to the roll of aided schools, by far the greater part dates from the Board's third and fourth years. In its third year its list numbered twenty-nine; and in its fourth year it was as large as it now is. There has been some variation of the list from year to year, but no substantial increase of it; and, for the most part, the same names have stood forth in every report. The Board has taken up very few institutions that have not proved their good claim to its continuous aid; and its policy has been to establish the institutions with which it has charged itself, rather than to increase its charge beyond the Church's readiness to provide for it. Of the names that have successively disappeared from its reports a very few, whose merit has not been questioned, have been thought to have no farther claim to the aid of the Church at large. But in several cases application for the Board's assistance has been voluntarily ended. Three institutions are omitted from this year's list because they have done no school work during the year. They are: Longmont College, Colo., Oakdale Seminary, Neb., and Groton Collegiate Institute, South Dak. The causes of their arrest of work are local and, in each case, may possibly give way. Accordingly these names are retained upon the map.

The payments stated below consist chiefly, as in former years, of amounts paid by the Board from its own treasury; but in part, also, of the gifts made by churches to special institutions, the Board giving credit to such churches as though their gifts had been put into its general fund.

This year, for the first time, as will be more fully set forth on a later page, all appropriations of the Board are paid in full. Actual final remittance has been made in all but two cases, in which it awaits delayed reports from the two institutions. Of the special receipts from legacies, which made such payment possible, a large part became available at the very close of the year. While the emergency which is hereafter explained has required this partial expenditure of legacies on the appropriations of the year, the Board believes that its current income ought to meet that whole demand of current work, and it will not make a precedent out of a necessity that has been forced upon it while its means and methods have been only developing. According to its theory, all moneys coming to it by will, even if not so restricted by the testator, should in prudence be reckoned with that class of personal gifts which is soon to be described, and should be applied where they can be traced in permanent advantage secured to the school properties, and where they can be guarded by lien.

2. PERSONAL GIVERS AND PROPERTY.

The means supplied by individuals for the relief or increase of school properties have been given in different ways: Sometimes directly to the institution, with the understanding, however, that the gift was to be reported to the Board, and to receive its acknowledgment. In the Board's first year gifts of this sort were reported to the amount of $13,603. In this last year similar gifts will be found herewith reported (see "Direct Donations") to the amount of $3,350. The total of this sort of giving for the seven years has been $116,738. Other gifts to special institutions have been made through the Board's treasury. Such giving began in the Board's second year, to the amount of $19,000. The actual payments of this kind that have been made this year aggregate $34,235.62. (For details, see Treasurer's statement, pp. 30-1). Other gifts of the same class are waiting for transmission till the legal papers necessary for the security of the investment are executed. The total of the Board's receipts for this purpose, from the beginning, has been $100,640.

For the confidence that has been shown it, both by contributing churches and by personal givers, it is deeply thankful. Of this latter class of helpers it should be said, that if God had not moved them to give, at critical junctures, their ready and, often, munificent help, all hearts would have failed over a hopeless task.

3. PRESENT STATISTICS.

Some idea of the results that have been reached will be gained from the statistical tables here following. It must be borne in mind, however, that any material change in the list of aided institutions must make proportionate change in the tables and their footings. Thus, while the absence of the name of Park College, of Lenox, and of Carroll, indicates no arrest of these institutions' work, and therefore no loss of any outlay made by the Board upon them, the Board's show of totals is immediately lessened by the lack of their reports. That change leaves on the Board's roll but four colleges and four academies that may not properly be called new. The table, accordingly, comes to set forth chiefly the form and growth of the Board's creative work. A detailed comparison of the showings of this part of the tables, for the last year and for this, will discover proof of a general advance. Three particulars may be noticed :

The total of net property owned by same new institutions shows an increase of $20,409. A great part of this change has been made by the payment of debts. Some cases that are known to be provided for, would add to that increase $41,120. Fuller reference to this matter will be made on a later page.

The increase of attendance in the same institutions has been considerable, the new colleges alone reporting 111 more students than a year ago; namely, an increase of 13 in their college classes, and of 98 in their preparatory.

The new institutions that reported last year 63 probable candidates for the ministry, this year report 68.

One very interesting class of facts is not shown in the tables: These young colleges have three graduates who have completed their second year of theological study—two of them at McCormick Seminary, and one at Princeton. A fourth has been at McCormick one year; and a fifth, graduating this summer, expects to enter there in the fall. The two more advanced of the McCormick students are already preaching (during their vacation), one of them having charge of a number of mission churches in Nebraska, among which are two that were organized last year as a result of those labors of students of Hastings College, which were described in the letter of President Ringland, printed in the Board's last report. The foregoing, however, are only the beginnings of this class of results. One of the young colleges reports, as the "prospective ministers" in its lower classes: "'91, one (of two men and three ladies); '92, five (of eight men); '93, seven (of sixteen)." This statement (from Emporia College), is far beyond the average. Yet, what tendency the whole work has in that direction appears from the following letter, which concerns the newest school that has been organized under the Board. It is written under date of April 16, 1890, by Rev.

Dr. Henry S. Little, Synodical Superintendent of the Synod of Texas :

DEAR BROTHER : Trinity Presbytery held its meeting at Glen Rose. We visited the institute formally, and were delighted with its management. Among the notable things was the fact that three young men were received under the care of the Presbytery, with a view of entering the ministry. (He speaks a good word for them, and adds) : Their coming amply justifies the Presbytery in asking your aid. This fact alone is a return in full for all that the churches have done for education in Texas.

The blank spaces in following table are explained by the delay of the reports referred to on a former page.

III. FUTURE POLICY.

The Board believes that the Church will look upon this showing with the same feeling of encouragement with which it is made ; and it believes, as well, that one chief element of that encouragement will be the suggestion that must have come to every interested reader, of a great improvement to be made upon the Board's past methods. Has it not reached a stage of strength at which the element of debt, however unmanageable at first, can be early eliminated from its work, and thenceforth effectually excluded? As a Board, indeed, it has never carried over a dollar of deficit to a new year. It is with great thankfulness that it ends this more difficult seventh year, like all the rest, with balanced books. But the foregoing pages show that it cannot present a similar balance on the books of all of its aided institutions. Yet it now sets out to prove, by recent notable advance toward that result, that it can be reached with little difficulty, and at an early day. If such a point can be gained, and held, the upbuilding of our Church's new academies and colleges will become a process as direct and sure as it is important.

1. PAYMENT OF ALL EXISTING DEBTS.

The facts which look to the clearing up of all existing debts are such as these: Leaving aside three institutions which have this year come upon the Board's list, the remaining 32 have, within the last two years, been carrying among them an aggregate indebtedness of nearly $250,000. Of this the larger part, by far, has been debt upon property. But the debts accumulated from unpaid current work have been very considerable. Of the gross amount just named, about $100,000 has, within two years, either been cleared off by payment actually made, or has been so provided for that the Board counts the early payment quite assured. Into that aggregate of payment will have been put, from means received by the Board from its personal helpers, a total of $51,000 ; the remainder, about one-half, will have been furnished to the several institutions by their own personal friends. Thus the total of debts on the 32 institutions now stands practically reduced to $150,000. But further movement is already making, looking less definitely but hopefully to the extinguishment of $50,000 of this remainder. The policy of the Board is to stimulate local self-help by the offer of conditional assistance from the "property fund" which individual contributors put at its disposal for that purpose. There is the best reason for believing that the success which is so largely attending that process will soon be complete. Not only is the entire remainder of debt small in comparison with the aggregate of property against which it stands; the burdens are so distributed that most of them are small, in fact; so that any judicious advice and help from the Board will be sure to inspire the several communities for earnest effort in throwing them off. With a continuance of its recent current of receipts from personal sources, the Board confidently expects to see the whole list of its present schools free from debt within two years. The worth in money of the properties thus assured to our Church's educational work will, under conservative estimates, be likely to exceed considerably a million dollars. But their money value is no measure of their value to the Church. The able friends of this cause have every motive to aid in the early extinction of these remaining debts.

2. BALANCED CURRENT ACCOUNTS.

But the Board's best assurance that it will secure the clearing off of old debts lies in its hope, which it has this year substantially tested, of preventing the most insidious class of new ones—namely, those which result from unbalanced yearly accounts. Although the Board had given much attention to the fact that debt of that kind was yearly created by some of its aided institutions, the measure of the evil was not definitely known except under a new form of return by balance-sheet that had been provided for at the Board meeting of November, 1888. Such returns were first received in the fall of 1889, after the contracts for this school year of 1889-90 had been made. These balance-sheets of 1888-9 were soon followed by the applications of 1889-90, and the two sets of documents, when brought together, revealed the startling facts that for the year then past the outgoes of current work had exceeded corresponding income (the Board's appropriations included) by about $30,000; and that the year then begun would, under the estimates which the trustees had adopted and forwarded, substantially duplicate that history. If such an evil was to be arrested, it was necessary both to diminish, as far as the interests of the schools would allow, the schedules of current expenses, and to increase the schedules of assured income. If any such increase could be made as would provide with certainty for all the expenses, including teachers' salaries as already contracted for, of course the problem would be solved. But the Board saw no way of so suddenly ensuring that result. It did see a way, however, to such a considerable increase of the incomes then in sight as would warrant it in frankly putting before the teachers the alarming facts which it had discovered, and in asking them, for the sake of the advantage which an arrest of this debt-making would bring to their schools and also to themselves, to unite with the trustees in arranging for this year as the teachers who manage schools for themselves do always—namely, to take the whole income of the year as specially increased; to see the other expenses all paid, and to pay themselves out of the remainder. Of course the first condition to the success of such a scheme would be the demonstration of so much addition to income that the teachers could afford to surrender their contracts and trust the receipts. Toward that necessity the Board proposed to contribute such increase in its appropriations as would pledge an aggregate addition of $9,765 (and if its income would allow, of $13,955) to the aid dealt to its institutions in the former year. It expected, moreover, to stimulate very generous subscriptions from the local friends of the several schools. The teachers were to have all those additions before them and to judge of their sufficiency before they should accept the plan. Accordingly the scheme contemplated a free conference between trustees and teachers, in a sort of temporary joint-trusteeship, in which the year's new schedules of expenses and income should be agreed upon.

Such proposal was made to the trustees and teachers of the thirty-seven applying institutions. The results have been these: Thirty-five of the thirty-seven consented to the arrangement, and made formal signature of the Board's paper. One declined the proposal of squared accounts as impossible in its case, and afterward withdrew its application. Another saw reason, of which the proposal was set forth as part, for withdrawing itself from the Board's list of aided institutions. Inasmuch as three of the thirty-five are newly come upon the Board's list, no comparison of year with year can be made in their case. Two others were not aided in 1888-9. Concerning the remaining thirty the following facts appear:

1. Under the joint review of trustees and teachers the estimated current expenses, other than for payment of teachers, were changed from $135,685 to $126,512—a reduction of $9,173.

2. The total of expected income (apart from that to be supplied by the Board) was raised from $73,947, as estimated in the applications, to $87,413, as presented in the schedules revised by trustees and teachers under the Board's proposal and offers—an increase of $13,466.

3. The Board has paid over to the thirty-five institutions, according to its largest intimation, $41,900,—$13,955 more than it paid the year before.

4. Teachers' receipts for the two years, in the thirty schools, will stand as follows: In 1888-9, 148 teachers and 5 tutors had claims to salaries aggregating $91,191. Actual payment for the year reached only to $77,651. In paying that amount the trustees borrowed or sunk of school property, $7,579; and still they left 44 teachers and 2 tutors unpaid in the aggregate sum of $13,540.

In 1889-90, assuming that subscriptions of the most trustworthy sort will be paid, 143 teachers and 8 tutors will receive the total of their claims as they themselves have stated them. They amount to $97,183—$5,992 more than the nominal salaries of the preceding year, $19,532 more than the teachers received in that year, and $27,111 more than they could have received if the trustees had not either borrowed money or sunk good property. This increase comes this year with balanced books.

But for the fact that one of the three institutions which the Board has this year newly taken up comes to it with a debt previously incurred, additional debt of no kind enters into the history of the seventh year of the Board of Aid.

5. Apart from the arrangement above described, the year would not probably have ended without adding $30,000 to the existing debts of the aided institutions; which means, that if the Board had been able to effect, during the year, the removal, say, of $60,000 of debt, it would have been allowing the full half of it to come back as new debt, for whose subsequent removal, the Board, that is, the Church's benevolence, would be required again to provide.

6. But this movement for the prevention of evil is doing positive good. The hopeful effort which several communities have made to balance the accounts of their schools, even for a single year, has put new tone into their whole school work. There is proof that over and above every gift referred to in the foregoing recital, some of the Board's assisted schools are this year gainers to the amount of many thousands in the assured increase of their property, under that very spirit of courage and purpose that has proved itself able to end one year with balanced books.

Such a recital shows, on its face, some things that cannot be incorporated into a standing method. Very plainly, the Board's yearly financial arrangements are to be made with trustees, and not at all with their teachers. Such measure of its aid as the Board thought necessary in order to persuade to the balancing of a year's work already contracted for, was probably larger than it would dare to pledge to trustees as basis of their new contracts. And it is further doubtful whether the measure of local helpfulness that was shown by individuals especially, can be counted upon year by year. But there are elements of income that can be counted upon. The yield of endowment, where any is had, is constant. Tuition and other fees have constancy sufficient to be prudently estimated. So long as need exists of resort to local aid from individuals or churches, a school that really deserves favor can enlist some measure of such aid with constancy enough to warrant an average expectancy. If, then, in addition to these items, the Board shall henceforth inform the several institutions, at the end of each scholastic year, what aid they may severally expect for the scholastic year following, it may properly leave with the boards of trustees the responsibility of so arranging their contracts that the balance between outgoes and income shall be assured. To this end, the Board should promise to pay its entire appropriation, and not a percentage of it; with the understanding, however, that, in order to receive payment of the first half of it, the trustees should present to the Board such an itemized schedule of contemplated income and outgoes as would show that the Board's promised aid would effect the desired balance between the two; and that, in order to receive the last half, they should afterward present, certified by vote of the trustees, at their annual meeting at the close of the scholastic year, an itemized balance sheet, showing that, with the exception of such outstanding bills as the Board's final payment would be sufficient to meet, all bills of the year had actually been paid, and accompanied with the trustees' pledge that the remaining bills should be paid so soon as the expected remittance of the Board should be received. The question whether or not an arrangement so rigid would carry with it discouragement to the institutions and hardship to their teachers, is simply the question whether or not the Church will put the Board in funds for developing the schools which she shall know to be economically managed. It is believed that she will, and that, with such a system understood, the Board's appropriations will rapidly grow large enough to meet their theoretic purpose—of bridging over the interval between the founding of a solid institution and its complete establishment with means of self-support.

3. NO DEBT ON NEW PROPERTIES.

If any such provision can be made against deficit in current accounts, should it not be supplemented with some provision against the creation of debts for property? Will it be wise to stop small leaks and to pay no regard to large ones? The Board, without claiming to have reached any unchangeable conclusion on this grave matter, believes that, from this time forward, it should be able to do for any new school properties which are to come upon its list, just what the Board of Church Election does for church properties. It should encourage such local foresight and liberality as truly deserve its co-operation, by giving help enough to allow their school work to start in a property that is paid for. Not a dollar of income, received through this Board, ought to go to the paying of interest. The school work needs the whole of it, and the Church should be sure that it gets the whole. The property so paid for might be modest in all particulars except in the location and the proportions of its site. In those matters there should be no defect. The proper and ample site being owned without incumbrance, the building could be provided by degrees, enough of a well-planned whole being finished at first to meet the present need. It is toward that completed part that the Board should be able, if necessary, to contribute, taking a lien to the amount of its contribution. And if, in order to command a position truly valuable, it should be necessary to erect a building nearer the measure of its future needs than the unaided community could hope to provide for, this Board should be able to supply the substantial assistance that would complete the arrangement. Very grave thought should be given to the fact that the West is at a stage of its development when real prudence, backed by moderate available means, can be little less than a creator of our Church's future wealth. Such prudence, refusing to be tempted into any outlay upon land which it does not need, or to accept the land which it does need, until local means and zeal are pledged to liberal help in putting it to use, can grasp, at the right moment, the opportunity which would never come back. Only for a while will such opportunities last in any given town; for, in this matter, a young town is like a young tree; there is a right time for inoculating it. A tithe of the foresight by which the Church of Rome possesses herself of choice sites wherever she wants them, would keep this Board in funds for meeting a class of movements which are now made toward our Church, even with eagerness; but which the next generation of Presbyterian college-makers will recite with lasting gratification or regret. Whatever beginning of property be thus made, the Board should be able, on the one hand, to prevent all premature attempt at enlargement, by providing that the incurring of any debt will preclude appropriation; and, on the other hand, to encourage enlargement when necessary, and to make it safe, by adding to the local subscriptions the needed supplement of its own means. Every additional investment should be secured by additional lien.

The rule thus proposed would embrace only new institutions. If any school or college that has hitherto been doing its independent work should find itself in emergency that would require the aid of the Board, such case could be judged of by itself. But the Board's experience makes it exceedingly unwilling to encourage any new undertaking that cannot from the outset go on with squared accounts.

It is easy to foresee strenuous objections to this policy. Every eager new community will be sure that the early rise of value in real estate will enable their trustees to sell lots enough to meet the mortgage that has been left on their fine new building. There will be fears felt that to delay the opening of a proposed school till its property is paid for will allow some other denomination to get possession of the field. And it will be thought that the proper responsibility and independence of trustees will be overridden by an arrangement which prevents them from contracting a debt which they judge to be unavoidable. But the Board is charged with its correlate responsibility of soliciting and disbursing the trust-moneys which the Church's institutions expect to receive. On no other ground has it warrant for attempting to shape, in any particular, the policy of any board of trustees. Nor has it any choice or theory to urge in this regard apart from what it believes to be the mind of those who supply its means. Yet, after carefully weighing the question in all its aspects, it is persuaded that when exclusion of debt from the start shall be understood to be the Church's rule for all new institutions, this whole work will take on a reputation for solid advance which will more than compensate for any incidental evils of restriction or delay. Only let a proper proportion of our Church's wealth be put at the disposal of a Board which at all represents our Church's caution and steadiness, and as many schools of every grade as the Church will ever develop and endow can be begun and carried on without debt.

4. CURRENT INVESTMENTS TO BE SECURED.

And to these proposed features of the Board's future policy another should, in prudence, be added. Cases may occur of academies or colleges beginning work, and therefore beginning to receive Board aid, without having had need of Board investment in their property. They will therefore have given the Church no security by lien that the teaching work into which she puts her current aid will be maintained. It should be understood that maintenance of current aid is to give the Church some hold upon the property of the school which that aid is yearly developing. It is evident, indeed, that for a part of that current aid the Church is immediately getting her fair return in the profit of the youth that are taught. But, at the beginning of work especially, such return is so small as to be only a part of the consideration for which the Church makes her yearly payments of appropriation. The contemplated quid pro quo lies largely in the expected future of the school; and, to that degree, the yearly appropriation is nothing else than investment, which the aided school should be legally bound to return out of the proceeds of its property before it has power to turn the property to any other use. Still, inasmuch as every community that produces a property for a Presbyterian school itself shows large faith in the success of its undertaking, it would become the Board to meet faith with faith, and not to demand any security for its earliest aid. But if a year's experience under the Board's assistance encourages the trustees to maintain their undertaking, they should be willing thenceforward to give the assisting Church a legal interest in their property to the amount of at least the half of the assistance rendered.

IV. THE OUTLOOK.

1. THE NEW STARTING-POINT.

Of course, all these additions to the security of the Board's work of investment are meant to encourage an increase of the volume of its means. Like many another builder, it has been compelled to do some pile-driving and some pumping and grouting, down in the depths where its foundations are laid. But it counts its great building to be up now to the water-table, and henceforth expects to put all expense into the shapely, solid structure. Such growth will be visible, and it is expected to find supporters. No former year has compared with this in the amount of means put into our hands. To that increase of Church collections that has been noticed on a former page, is to be added the larger increase received from personal gifts and from legacies. These forms of income all combined, our treasury which in our first year received less than $15,000 this year reports nearly $100,000. Our second week of years thus starts from a point quite different from the zero of seven years ago.

And larger than this difference in mere finances is the difference of regard by which the Church now looks upon a living cause which she has identified with her largest purposes for the nation and the world. Already is it clearly seen—and it is to be seen more clearly year by year—that that work of education by Christian institutions to which the evangelical Churches of our country have committed themselves is to have a reach far wider than its effects on its immediate pupils. The numbers directly taught in denominational schools and colleges will always be small in comparison with the numbers that receive education from the State. Hence the immense importance of the question, What can be done for keeping the influence of the State school from becoming unfriendly to the Christian religion? Any hopeful answer must point, not only to Christian schools and their alumni, but to the whole practical outcome of their work. That outcome will include particulars like these: A demonstration, in the sight of all interested parents, of the comparative moral and religious influence of distinctively Christian education; the production, in every region, of a good proportion of Christian scholars who will do their share of the teaching work of the next generation; the maintenance of a perpetual reminder to the secular schools that the eye of the Christian part of their community is kept upon the demeanor of their teachers toward the fundamental Christian facts. In proportion as the Christian schools gain in means and reputation, these effects may be expected to grow till, by such manifest influences as God's Spirit and providence have attached to Christian truth and Christian people, there shall be developed a pervasive power of restraint under which infidel teaching in the public schools shall be impossible. Directly to that end is tending all that interest in Christian education, which, advancing with our Christian people into every newest region, forms a part of the common thought of pioneer congregations, presbyteries and synods; which, encouraged and aided by this Board, produces in good time some beginning of the kind of school which it means to employ, and which resolves, with good hope, to carry on that beginning to its ideal completion. In a word, there is to be an immense education of our forming communities on this great matter. Good beginning of it is already made; but to carry it on, this Board of the great contributing Church must be the teacher. The lesson will not be complete till there shall stand forth, in just distribution, academies and colleges so furnished in buildings, equipment and endowment that they can set some such standard of true education at the West as even Princeton and Lawrenceville do at the East.

2. REASONABLE EXPECTATIONS.

Such results will not come at once. But Presbyterian piety is to control wealth enough for producing them; and her motive to employ it is to grow by every new sign of sound advance toward the magnificent result. The foundations are now in sight on which generations of the future givers of the West, with their cohorts of thankful alumni, are to rear such increase as a score or two of years have been building up in New Jersey. For insuring to our Church and nation a complete provision of Christian schools with their best results, this Board has full confidence, under God, in the following rules:

1. Plant them only where they are needed.
2. Support them, not lavishly, but adequately, from the start.
3. Keep trustees, teachers, Board, and the whole contributing Church assured that there is to be no waste and discouragement by debt.
4. Secure every investment of Church means by lien held by the Church's Board.
5. Concentrate upon this movement the giving of the entire Church, to the rejection of all appeals from schools or communities that evade these reasonable terms.

The past seven years have left no room for doubting the success of such a policy. The steady increase of the Church's interest in this cause, and especially the increase of those personal benefactions from which it must receive its chief supply, pledges for it such a growing record as shall befit this momentous and unreturning epoch in American things. What an executor writes concerning the giver of a recent unexpected legacy of $5,000 will be said, in effect, of many more: "She found her thoughts turning to the destitute regions of the West and South." Mrs. McCormick's act of relieving and establishing Hastings College by her gift of $15,000 will be so approved by its manifest results that it will find many imitators. And Mr. Thaw's munificent legacy of $50,000 is to stand as such an attestation of a sagacious man's sympathy and confidence as might well have encouraged our hopes, even if we had been near to despair. But our hopes have been constantly encouraged; and this succession of great and hearty benefactions coming within a single year brings, not relief, but inspiration.

The term of service of the following members expires with this meeting of the Assembly, namely:

Ministers—Rev. Wm. H. Roberts, D. D., Rev. S. J. Nicolls, D. D., Rev. J. H. Worcester, Jr., D. D., Rev. Robert Christie, D. D.

Laymen—John S. McDonald, W. O. Hughart, Henry W. Johnson, Dexter A. Knowlton.

And one minister is to be elected to take the place of Rev. Dr. John F. Kendall, deceased.

Respectfully submitted by order of the Board.

TREASURER'S STATEMENT OF CASH RECEIPTS.

1. From Churches and Sabbath Schools.

NOTE.—When the name of any church stands in the following list in italics, it will be understood that such church has made a direct donation to one or another of the institutions of the Board. The amounts so given could not be stated among the receipts of the Treasurer of the Board. They will all be found in the "Detailed Statement of Church Collections Sent Direct to Institutions," on page 62. It will be seen that in some instances churches have made double donations; both to the Board's treasury and to particular institutions. Credit for each will be found in its respective place.

CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS.

The following are the chief provisions under which this Board has been constituted, as determined by the act of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, in session at Saratoga, N. Y., May, 1883:

The name of this Board shall be the Presbyterian Board of Aid for Colleges and Academics, and the general work shall have the limitations indicated by its title.

The Board shall consist of twenty-four members, divided into three classes, composed equally of ministers and laymen, and one class shall be elected each year.

The province of the Board shall be to secure an annual offering from the churches for this cause; to coöperate with local agencies in determining sites for new institutions; to decide what institutions shall be aided; to assign to those institutions seeking endowment the special fields open to their appeals, that clashing between them may be avoided; and to discourage all independent appeals to the Church at large.

The funds received by the Board shall be devoted either to current expenses of struggling institutions, or to permanent endowments.

The funds shall be secured (a) by annual offerings from the churches, mainly for current expenses of the institutions; (b) by special applications for endowment under the approval and general direction of the Board.

Every institution hereafter established, as a condition of receiving aid, either shall be organically connected with the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, or shall, by charter provision, perpetually have two-thirds of its Board of Control members of the Presbyterian Church.

In the case of institutions already established, and not included under the above provisions, appropriations for endowment shall be so made as to revert to the Board whenever these institutions shall pass from Presbyterian control.

In all other respects the disbursement of funds by the Board shall be wholly discretionary with the Board, both as to amount and direction, subject always to the control of the General Assembly.

BY-LAWS.

The following are the more important by-laws adopted by the Board for its guidance.

It shall be the duty of the Permanent Secretary to have charge of the general work of the Board, subject always to the direction of the Board or its Executive Committee. He shall conduct the correspondence; visit the churches, presbyteries and synods; inform himself as to proposed college sites, and the character and prospects of institutions applying for aid; send out all notices; prepare an annual report to be submitted to the General Assembly; and in every way, as the chief executive agent of the Board, seek to promote the interests committed to it.

The Board shall hold three stated meetings each year as follows: On the Tuesday after the second Sunday of June and November respectively, and on the third Tuesday preceding the opening of the General Assembly. It shall also meet on the call of the President, or in his absence, of any member of the Executive Committee, when that call is authorized by the written request of any five members of the Board, duly signed and submitted. Seven members shall constitute a quorum.

The Board shall elect an Executive Committee consisting of seven members, the President and Vice President being ex-officio members of this Committee. It shall be the duty of this Committee to supervise the work of the Board, to act as its executive on all matters committed to it by the Board, to forward the business of the Board by all proper arrangement of its details, and to report to the Board from time to time what may be deemed desirable or needful action; and in the interval between the meetings of the Board, to take all needful original action not involving the appropriation of funds.

No appropriation for aid shall be entertained without the endorsement of the presbytery in the case of an academy, or of the synod in the case of a college or university, unless sixteen members of the Board be present, and the vote to consider the application be unanimous.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

INCOME SOLICITED.

This Board solicits two classes of gifts:

I. Gifts to its general treasury, out of which it makes annual appropriations to the current expenses of those institutions which it finds to be entitled to such assistance. It is only for this general treasury, and for its current aid of the teaching work, that the collections of the churches are asked. Personal gifts to the same treasury are also solicited.

PASTORS AND SESSIONS OF CONTRIBUTING CHURCHES

Which have not arranged another time for taking their collections, are requested to take them in February, as was recommended by the General Assembly of 1884; and also to accept the offer which, about January 1, is made of a brief document (of which a specimen is then forwarded to every pastor) for informing the congregation concerning this work.

II. Gifts for the increase of school property or endowment. Such gifts are asked of individuals only, and the Board will not acknowledge as a contribution to its work any church collection that shall be diverted from the Board's general treasury and applied to clearing a debt or increasing the property or endowment, even of one of its own institutions.

SOLICITATION OF PERSONAL GIFTS.

In the matter of soliciting individuals for their gifts to the property of institutions, the Board has made material change of its first methods. Its latest commission of any canvasser ended with the year 1887. The policy which it has since pursued and which is more and more approved by its experience, is, in substance, this: It is understood that any presbytery having care of a needy academy, or any synod having care of a needy college, is the proper judge of the form and measure of personal canvass to be made within its own bounds by its own dependent institution. Within such limits, accordingly, the Board applies no policy of its own. But when an academy or college seeks property gifts from beyond the limits of its presbytery or synod, the method of supply that is held to be on every account the best, is for the Church's Board to be informed of the institution's need, and to meet it, either out of a general fund with which it shall be entrusted for that purpose, or out of such particular gifts as it can secure by its own correspondence or publications, or by the personal representations of its own officers. The certainty of safe giving which is thus assured to the givers, the saving of their time and patience, and the saving of the very large percentage of canvassers' commissions and expenses, are advantages so manifest that they hardly need to be named. Added to these, the Board's special rule of securing by lien all the property gifts of which it is made the channel sets its method far above comparison with the forms of independent solicitation and venturesome giving to which liberal people have been accustomed. This method cannot prevent any officer or friend of a needy institution from presenting its case and claims among his personal friends (though even in such case the giver should make a Board lien the condition of his gift.) But the Board discourages any act of solicitation by any canvasser who prosecutes his work by introductions, however secured. No such canvasser acts by its authority. Its whole influence is thrown on the side of that other sort of giving from which has grown the notable increase that is now making in the property of its institutions—the giving by liberal individuals to the Board itself, as the adviser, distributor and guardian of their benefactions. This explanation is made at such great length for the purpose not only of forestalling applications from institutions to the Board for such “fields for canvass” as it formerly assigned, but also of soliciting the direct and generous co-operation of those who approve the Board's reasonable, secure and economical method. Will these latter kindly consider that the Board can distribute only what it receives; that its present bestowments are rapidly consuming its present material, and that such a central fund as is here described can never be maintained without a good degree of spontaneity in those who make it up? The only weak point in our scheme lies in that common inconsistency by which even conscientious and thoughtful givers wait for the very form of irresponsible personal persuasion to which they object; and when it comes, yield to it in spite of their objections. We bespeak an increase in the number of men and women who wishing to build up, at the West, Presbyterian institutions of higher learning, themselves direct their means toward this Board, to be distributed under its advice; and so are prepared to notify any canvasser that his case is to be made out to the Board, which has the means of sifting his claims and of securing what it gives.

LEGACIES.

The Board believes that its cautious methods and demonstrated results, the assured permanence of the institutions which it is rapidly establishing and the incalculable reach of their future influence in the nation and the world, will appeal more and more to the thoughtful makers of wills. Information will be given in regard to any feature of its general work, or concerning the financial condition, the prospects and needs of any one of the institutions under its care. It is incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois by the title, "The Presbyterian Board of Aid for Colleges and Academies."

APPLICANTS AND MODE OF APPLICATION.

Aid cannot be given to institutions, however excellent, that are owned by individuals or by stockholders. They may be owned and controlled by an ecclesiastical body belonging to our denomination, such as a synod or presbytery; or the ownership and control may be vested in a board of trustees elected or nominated from year to year by such ecclesiastical body; or such board of trustees may both nominate and elect their own successors, provided there be a stipulation in the charter or articles of incorporation that two-thirds of the trustees shall always be members of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America.

Attention is asked to that "constitutional provision" above recited by which it is made a part of the province of the Board "to co-operate with local agencies in determining sites for new institutions." In advance of the fixing of any site upon which Church aid is expected, whether for the production of property or the maintenance of work, the movers in the attempt should have the clearest understanding with the local presbytery or synod on the one hand, and with the Church's Board on the other.

Under the policy approved by the General Assembly of 1890, the Board is intent upon excluding debt of all kinds from the whole career of every institution which it shall take upon its list. Accordingly it will aid in proportion to its ability and the demands of the case, in producing an adequate property in which a new institution may begin its teaching work; but it will not give current help to any work that is begun before such adequate property, including building as well as grounds, is distinctly provided for. Communities that contemplate the establishment of their academy or college are hereby guarded against the belief that their local provision of grounds, however admirable, coupled with a small proportion of the requisite building-fund, can be supplemented with necessary means from the Church through the Board. The scope of territory for which the Board has to care is so vast, and it is so common for owners of land to offer desirable plots together with considerable bonuses of cash, that to close with the offers so made, even of the best sites, would require outlay immensely beyond the Board's ability. It is only after a community has itself arranged both for a desirable site to be had without encumbrance, and for the main part of the cost of the building in which the teaching work is to be begun, that the Board can be expected to make any investment either in the property or the teaching work. Its best advice, however, it will gladly give at any stage of the undertaking.

It is farther to be understood that an institution having aid from the Board as an academy forfeits all presumption that aid will be continued if it changes its grade to that of a college without the full understanding and previous consent of both its synod and the Board.

APPLICATION FOR CURRENT AID

Is to be made by the trustees in formal meeting by filling out a form which the Secretary will furnish upon request; and it is to have approval of the proper synod or presbytery, as the Board's by-law requires. The annual meeting for voting upon these applications is held on the Tuesday after the second Sunday in June. The appropriations so voted will at once be made known to the several boards of trustees, in order that their outlay for the next scholastic year may be adjusted to the foreseen income of the year as supplemented by the Board's voted aid. The vote accordingly will be made for a definite sum which the Board will hold itself obliged to pay, but only upon the condition (which has the full approval of the General Assembly) that the cost of the year's work shall be actually balanced by the year's income. In effecting such balance every academy will be allowed to receive, over and above the Board's voted aid, the "Board of Aid collections" for that year of the churches of its presbytery, and every college those of the churches of its synod, provided, in each case, that the contributing church shall have declared its choice for such application of its collection.

No institution having pledge of the Board's aid shall be at liberty, without the Board's concurrence in writing, to create debt of any kind beyond its own then visible and certain means of payment; and departure from this understanding will release the Board from its pledge. But it will be the Board's duty to assist, according to its ability, in such outlay for any institution as it judges to be necessary and as cannot otherwise be met.

In order to a proper distribution of its expected income, it is necessary that the Board have all applications for the ensuing scholastic year put before it at its June meeting; and since the information furnished by the applications requires consideration by the Executive Committee in advance of Board action, it is for the advantage of all concerned that the entire set of facts be presented for study at least a fortnight before the day of meeting. Institutions that withhold their applications beyond that time, and meanwhile furnish no satisfactory explanation of their delay, will be considered to expect no aid from the Board for the year then begun. Indeed, the nature of the application allows it to be prepared and forwarded many weeks in advance of the meeting of the Board, and inasmuch as the information which it gives often calls for explanatory correspondence, such early sending is very desirable.

APPLICATIONS FOR AID IN THE PRODUCTION OR INCREASE OF PROPERTY

Or in the removal of existing debt, should be made in writing and be so explicit as to lay before the Board all the substantial facts of the case; should be certified as adopted by the applying trustees by formal vote in a meeting regularly called, and should have formal approval of presbytery or synod, as in the case of application for current aid.

ACTION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

AT SARATOGA, N. Y., MAY, 1890.

The seventh annual report of the Board of Aid for Colleges and Academies was, by the General Assembly, referred to the following Standing Committee :

Ministers—John Hemphill, D.D., Francis Brown, D.D., J. P. E. Kumler, D.D., Thomas X. Orr, D.D., Francis S. Blayney, Robert F. McLaren, David B. Duncan, Howard Billman. Elders—Henry V. Freeman, Peter D. Hamilton, Judson E. Carpenter, James Browne, Squire L. Vanpelt, William D. Dobson, James M. Harris.

This committee presented by its chairman, Rev. John Hemphill, D.D., the following report, which was unanimously adopted :

Your Standing Committee on the Board of Aid for Colleges and Academies respectfully reports :

That this, the youngest-born of our Boards, is a remarkable child for its years. It has been healthy and vigorous from the hour of its birth. It is healthy and vigorous still. It is no longer in swaddling-clothes. It has "fulfilled its week" of years, and appears before you to-day with the "promise and potency," of a still more healthy and vigorous life in the years to come. It has come, and it has come to stay. It is no longer an experiment—it is a fact. That such an agency is needed to superintend and push forward the work of higher Christian education in this land is too evident to admit of argument. The wonder is that such an educational agency did not appear in such a Church as ours long before. The mighty tide of population is flowing westward in irresistible currents, and some of us shall live see a vaster empire west of the Mississippi than east of it. Professor Fiske, a cautious and conservative thinker, estimates that a hundred years hence the United States will contain a population of not less than six hundred millions. This may be exaggeration, or it may not. The undisputed fact remains, that our population is increasing very fast.

All missionary work is important at all times; but there are times when special forms of missionary work call for immediate action. The Board of Aid is doing such missionary work, and the time to push that work is now. Grants of land for school and college sites are now offered to us, which will not be available later on. And as the population we have is now shaped under the redeeming and uplifting influences of the Gospel by means of school, and academy, and college, and toiling missionary, so shall be the larger population of the years to come.

Your Committee have read attentively and considered carefully the able and elaborate report of the Board submitted to this Assembly. We congratulate the Assembly and the Board on the work accomplished by it. Some of us said sadly when this Board was created: "Another Board for an annual collection." But it has already more than proved its right to an annual collection, and, therefore, its right to be. We call the attention of the Assembly to the following facts stated in the report:

The number of contributing churches has risen steadily from year to year. In its first year it had 480 contributing churches; in its second, 1,330; in its third, 1,529; in its fourth, 1,761; in its fifth, 1,865; in its sixth, 1,902; in its seventh, 2,030; and the increase of its receipts has kept step with the increase of contributing churches. In its first year it received less than $15,000; this year more than $84,000.

This is the bright side of the picture. Look at the other side. Of the $84,000 received by the Board, only $32,000 came from the churches, the rest being gifts of individual donors and legacies; and of the 6,800 churches on the roll of the Assembly, only 2,030 contributed to this Board. We have inquired diligently into the causes of this lack of loyalty on the part of more than two-thirds of our churches to the recommendations of Assembly after Assembly, which call upon every church to take up a yearly collection for this Board; and we are persuaded that the neglect arises, partly from misconception and partly from carelessness on the part of pastors and church sessions. Many churches take annual collections for this Board, and then pay the same, not into its treasury, but into the treasury of some local institution of learning, very needy and highly deserving, but not under the Board's care, thinking that thereby they have fulfilled their obligations to the Board and the Assembly. Hence it is that so many churches reported as contributing to "Aid for Colleges" in the minutes of the Assembly, appear as non-contributors in the report of the Board. This is not right. Every collection for this Board ought to be paid promptly into the treasury of the same. We trust that the members of this Assembly will return to their presbyteries with this Board as a special burden upon their hearts, and do what they can to bring light concerning this Board, where now there is dense darkness, that so the non-contributing churches may come up to the full measure of Gospel requirement in respect to this important arm of our denominational life and work.

There are so many things worthy of special commendation and emphasis in the policy of the Board, that we hardly know where to begin, or which to commend the most. In its wise caution in withholding aid from institutions whose prospects of permanence are not hopeful; in its settled purpose to help only those which manifest a disposition to help themselves; in its discouragement of the multiplication of useless schools and colleges; in its unswerving loyalty to its original determination to keep out of debt, never having "carried a dollar of deficit to a new year," in its reduction of old debts and its prevention of new ones—in all these things and many more, the policy and work of the Board are worthy of all praise. Your Committee desires to call special attention to the Board's policy of preventing new debts. Such debts for current expenses were being created from year to year in many of the aided institutions. For example, the balance-sheets of the aided institutions for 1888-9 showed that the outgoes for current expenses had exceeded the income by about $30,000. This was putting money into a "bag with holes." The evil must be arrested; and it has been by an arrangement made for the emergency between trustees, teachers and the Board. It has been so successful as to secure for every institution the important result of balanced books, and at the same time greatly to increase the teachers' income for the year. For the future the Board's arrangement for the prevention of this great evil is made by stipulation between itself and the several boards of trustees.

Your committee have carefully examined the minutes of the Board, and find them correctly kept; and recommend their approval.

In view of the foregoing facts we recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. That the Assembly recognizes with gratitude the manifold blessings of God upon the work of this Board in the seven years of its history, and earnestly prays that these blessings may be multiplied in the years to come.

2. That we heartily appreciate the fidelity, zeal, and business-like sagacity with which the Board has carried forward the work committed to its care.

3. That its seventh annual report shows it to have reached such a stage both of results and of efficiency as warrants a great and immediate increase of its resources.

4. That its success in removing all debt from many of its most valuable school properties, its good prospect of rapidly reducing what debt remains, and its twofold policy of preventing future debt and of securing all property gifts by lien, deserve the attention and co-operation of all who wish to make safe investments in behalf of Christian education.

5. That as rapidly as any college or academy is cleared of debt, the Board is advised to state in the "Church" magazine and in its annual report the nature and the value of the property so cleared; and that individual givers are hereby urged to arrange with the Board for so endowing such schools by secured investments that they shall be established in their work, and relieve the Board from yearly contributing to their support.

6. That, in order to encourage the work of endowment by personal gifts, it is of the first importance that the churches, by their annual collections, make adequate provision for the Board's supply of current aid to unendowed institutions; and that for the year now begun the churches are urged to raise their joint contributions for this purpose to the sum of $60,000, and to hold all collections taken in the Board's name sacred to its distinctive work, as administered by itself.

7. That the following persons be, and hereby are, elected members of the Board, to serve three years, namely: Ministers—Rev. S. J. Niccolls, D.D., Rev. J. H. Worcester, Jr., D.D., Rev. Robert Christie, D.D., Rev. H. D. Jenkins, D.D.; Laymen—W. O. Hughart, Henry W. Johnson, Dexter A. Knowlton, John C. Grant; and that Rev. Thomas C. Hall be elected to fill the unexpired term of Rev. John F. Kendall, D.D., deceased.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN HEMPHILL, Chairman.

HENRY V. FREEMAN, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S SPECIAL COMMITTEE

—OF THE—

—ON—

SYSTEMATIC BENEFICENCE.

1890.

The Assembly's Committee on Systematic Beneficence respectfully presents its Eleventh Annual Report, traversing the first year of a new decade in this work. We are thankful that our numbers are intact, that no record need be made, as so sadly in these recent years, of members removed by death. In the important duties relegated to us by the Assembly, of informing and stimulating the Church in regard to best principles, and wisest methods of benevolent giving, we have found the usual difficulties, which experience has led us to expect, in altering old habits of life and thought throughout the Church. New measures require time to demonstrate their superiority, before they supplant the old. Innovations that call for thought, work and sacrifice, are not apt to be swiftly popular. Yet our previous effort has been evidently fruit bearing, in the wider information and interest of our ministry, officers and people. So that a large part of the available time and strength of your Committee has been spent in coaching the early efforts of Sessions and Churches that resolve to run upon the new lines of effort opened to them by advice of the Assembly, at your Committee's instance. Modes and principles that have behind them the word of God and the verdict of experience, will not long suffer rejection in a church like ours. The reward of your Committee has been always in hand, through the kindly, sometimes enthusiastic welcome with which our efforts have been greeted in all parts of the church. A new era of Christian giving has unquestionably begun in the Presbyterian church. If our feeling of the public pulse is at all to be trusted, the popular heart is beating with a healthier movement towards those Scriptural reforms in giving, for Christ's sake, to which our denomination is now distinctly committed, before God and the world. A true beginning has been made. We may be content to build slowly, if we only build firmly.

A few years ago, the immense practical truth that God was to be worshipped by the offerings of his people, was only here and there accepted, with a few sporadic applications to practice.

Systematic giving was making some advance under special appeals from straitened Boards. The proportionate consecration of every Christian's income, as God has prospered him, was seen by some eyes to be Biblical, yet slenderly accepted in practice, and never vigorously enjoined by the church, in practical modes of operation. Now, all three of these grand basic foundations of Christian beneficence are established in our Constitution, by deliberate action of the Presbyteries. In recent Assemblies, and by action of our lesser judicatories, in large majority, these principles are now continually reaffirmed. What the mind of the church has received and what its convictions have accepted, its heart must adopt with enthusiasm and its hands carry out with practical zeal, in fealty to Christ, before these great truths of principle and policy can be anything among us, but a breath upon the air.

The new Chapter VI, in our Directory for Worship, is constantly aiding us, as we anticipated, in the efforts we have had in hand. The varied advantages and the flexible adaptation of the system of weekly worshipful giving, there commended, are pressing it upon the churches' mind with frequent successful adoption. Yet, in some Presbyteries, not a single church has turned into line as yet. Presbyterial Committeemen on Beneficence, as well as conservative Pastors and Sessions, need stirring in such cases to examine with more intelligent sympathy, and to endorse with keener zeal, such Scriptural methods, whose pronounced success is sure to follow their hearty adoption, and which, loyalty to our church will never allow to be condemned, unheard or untried.

The latest efforts and most careful studies of your Committee for the past year have been expended upon the problem of Proportionate Giving, as the best individual rule of Christian giving and of financial policy for the church. Our reports have for years indicated our conviction, which is in no wise weakened by lapse of time, or watchfulness of observation—that the great benevolent advances of our church in time to come, must largely run along that line. The resolutions of many Synods and Presbyteries, as such action has been communicated to us, show that this conviction is creeping into the thought of the church at all points. Very few Synodical or Presbyterial resolutions on the subject of Beneficence have come to our notice, where the matter of Proportionate giving, as the rule for Christian life, is not prominently set forth, and none where it is in any way antagonized. Many important judicial bodies have laid great stress upon the importance of pushing this endeavor to the utmost.

We quote from the last Minutes of the Synod of Indiana, as representative of this feeling:

“The O. T. by its system of tithes, and the N. T. by its injunctions to give as God gives, and to lay by in store on the first day of the week as God has prospered each one, present proportionate, systematic, thoughtful giving as the only Scriptural standard. There can be no doubt that the failure to reach this Scriptural standard is the cause of the distressing lack of funds today to enable us to enter the world’s open doors. On this point our General Assembly’s Committee has well said: ‘The desideratum now is the distinct arithmetical setting apart, in the sense of glad, conscientious duty, some definite part of everyone’s income, large or small.’ We, therefore, most earnestly urge upon every minister and elder the duty of bringing this matter of thoughtful, proportionate giving to the attention of the people of our churches.

“Scriptural proportionate giving asks from everyone, young and old, rich and poor alike, his share in the Lord’s work.”

A year ago, your Committee asked the patient, judicious consideration of the Church in regard to a scheme upon which we were then just entering, viz.: by a “Presbyterian Union of Proportionate Givers,” on a severely simple plan, without expense or organization, for the purpose of encouraging and uniting persons who are beginning, or have already formed the habit of setting aside a definite percentage of income for religious and charitable purposes, and of enlisting their co-operation in the extension of this practice. For the purpose of economy and for comparison of results, we have employed this method tentatively in some Synods, and not in others, distributing a prospectus and simple pledge—our Document 28—to the number of about 40,000, by a plan for reaching individuals in each church supplied, and providing a method of knowing its results, through a return coupon to be sent back to us. In this endeavor we have been well aided by one of the members of our Committee, who has supplemented this general effort by disseminating large numbers of an identical document into many quarters not hitherto reached by our endeavor. The result of this effort has convinced us of its great utility. At the same time it has almost demonstrated the paucity of members in our Communion, who have, as yet, conscientiously dedicated to God and his Kingdom, any definite portion of their incomes.

Judging from the results of this investigation, by the returns made to your Committee during the year, in the field thus far traversed, about one in ten of our ministers, and not more than one in eighty of our church members, have yet adopted any such definite rule of proportionate giving, as would insure to the cause of Christ any distinct and regular share whatever, of the means wherewith the Lord has prospered them. But so encouraging appears to be the local influence exerted, and so prompt and decided have been the favoring resolutions adopted by many Presbyteries and Synods, even thus early, in regard to this "Proportionate Givers' Union," that we should deem it the policy of your Committee, however constituted in future, to continue throughout the whole church an effort, which, even in partial application, has showed itself so searching and stimulative in the wisest lines of our endeavor. We have tried to discover how the good seed was springing, how these principles were working—so novel, so untried, so unpopular, as yet.

This has been a still-hunt to a great extent, thus far, not noisy, not conspicuous, but provocative of much inquiry and heart-searching among our members, and susceptible of great possibilities of training and reform among them, in the hands of faithful pastors. It has brought forth, in our correspondence, a large amount of new testimony to the individual blessings of proportionate giving, and not one unfavorable verdict from any who have honestly, ex animo, made trial of the principle.

We are happy to perceive that very many churches are adapting the pledges and the various literature issued by your Committee, to publications for their own local use.

Again, we acknowledge gratefully, the inestimable aid given in our effort by the Committeemen of Presbyteries and Synods. These brethren must continue to be largely our channel of communication with the bodies that they represent. We ask that they be retained, if efficient and interested, in order that experience may give facility and power to their influence, and that, when changes must be made, brethren of acknowledged and conspicuous interest in the cause we represent, should, if possible, be appointed. Push and piety and patience are three indispensable requisites for the helpers we desire.

The growing practice is greatly to be commended among our judicatories, of publishing their Beneficence Reports for general circulation, statedly reminding Sessions of their standing in benevolent gifts, inquiring as to their methods and ability, informing them of what the rest are doing. So kindling quickened interest and urging them to improve upon themselves. Such active supervision pays. Presbyteries and Pastors could do wonders, if they would, in starting non-contributors and spurring up the laggards.

We venture to quote from the excellent report of the Synod of Illinois, a few sentences, to illustrate this kindly but crucial self-inspection:

"The contrast in the benevolent contributions of the different Presbyteries is very marked, and ought to give us instruction. Omitting Chicago Presbytery, in which are some very wealthy men, who are large givers, we ask why should Springfield and Bloomington Presbyteries give more than three times as much as Mattoon and Alton? Your Committee cannot fully solve the question, but feel sure that it is mainly due to the fact, that the Committees on Systematic Beneficence and the leading pastors of the former Presbyteries began earlier and have been more faithful to agitate the subject of Beneficence."

Here is a hint as to the motive springs of power. To adopt practically in Christ's great church, the principle which we have recorded as our creed in beneficence, would give as grand an impulse to the march of Christ's Kingdom, as ever steam gave to the arts, or type and presses to literature.

We look with favor upon the plans now partially in vogue in some Presbyteries and Synods, of wisely apportioning, among the bodies represented, the sums needed for the work in hand. It might be wise for the General Assembly to make such a move itself, apportioning the minimum amount needed for our Church Boards among the Synods, and they among the Presbyteries and so on, until the individual churches are all reached. Synodical Sustentation has been successfully carried forward by just such a method in the State of New Jersey. Still, back of any such assessment would be the question as to best methods of reaching it from the individual. All our plans of systematic, proportionate giving would still press as cogently as ever.

Your Committee has always publications in print, which are suggestive and useful to Pastors and churches in reference to best methods and principles of giving. These documents we are glad to send gratis and postage paid, to any applicant who will faithfully use them.

Complaints still reach us that are deep, if not loud, as to irregular and independent canvassing of our churches, through various appeals for aid. Sometimes these applications are endorsed by officers of our Boards. If successful, injustice is done through partiality and the general work is so far crippled. It would seem to promise gain, if some just and wise method could be devised by the Assembly of lessening these special appeals; while securing every possible increase for the treasury of the particular Board, whose province it should be to deal with such cases.

It is one part of the duty of your Committee, each year, to present, in comparative tabulation, the financial statistics of our Boards.

The picture presented to a careful examination is calculated to impress anew upon the Church, both our splendid ability and our sorry lack. Instead of the constant advance that should be expected from the living, growing body, we find a decrease in those receipts which testify most surely, the Church's vital beneficence. The ebb is slight, but real. Shall it be the beginning of a receding tide? Not if the proper principles and plans of Christian giving shall possess the hearts of our people. But unquestionably where we need speedy, practical revision of standards, is in our standards of beneficence. The personal confession of faith and consecration to Jesus Christ, of thousands, will need radical reconstruction, before our Lord shall fairly get his own among us, from the offerings of Christian money.

TOTAL RECEIPTS OF THE BOARDS.

Per. Com. on Temperance	1,290	601	689
	2,379,408	2,406,570	174,153	146,991

Here appears a net increase of only $27,162, in receipts of our combined agencies, from all sources. This shows a smaller gain than for many years past. Yet, in all fairness, there should be added to this the sum of $77,263, which was included in the Foreign Board's receipts of a year ago, as taken temporarily, for current expenses, from reserved funds. This amount has been reinvested now, and disappears from the current statistics of this year. So that the total gain is really $104,425. This will also render partial explanation of the immense comparative decrease in the year's entire receipts of the Foreign Board. With this correction made, the deficit is large enough—no less than $61,564.

The large gains for Freedmen and College Aid, are the more encouraging since they obtain also in the gifts of churches and individuals. In Church Erection, payments on Mortgages and Manse Loans, to the amount of $14,368, are included under the head of total receipts.

In Ministerial Relief, the above statement does not include any part of the Centenary Fund.

All the gain in total receipts is for permanent investment, of which only the interest is used. The large increase of $79,438, arises entirely from legacies, which furnished $65,409 in excess of last year. The other Boards have received from legacies as follows: Home Missions, $187,173. Foreign Missions, $112,877. Education, $16,932. Church Erection, $6,539. Freedmen, $40,030. Aid for Colleges, $15,550.

	1,834,662	1,816,854	74,414	92,222

Here is a most suggestive net decrease of $17,808. In Home Missions, while the women and children have increased in systematic giving, as they always do, the men of the churches have fallen off this year, to the extent of $19,814, in their support of this important cause. The embarrassing fluctuations caused by our more prevalent methods of Church Contribution, are illustrated by the fact that while, on February 1st, the receipts of the Home Mission Board were $97,000 in advance of the same date in 1889, in February, 1890, the receipts fell off $10,000, and in March, $85,000, as compared with the same months last year. The Board comes to the Assembly with a debt of $80,000.

In this table, Foreign Missions have received $26,045 less than last year—and report a debt of $60,275.

Freedmen also have a debt of $11,000, with balance of $4,809, and Education reports a debt of $8,700, with small balance. The debts of the Boards amount, altogether, to $159,975. Balances, without debt, are reported by Relief, $15,263; College Aid, $11,706, and Temperance, $409. Women's Societies have nobly swelled the amount credited to Churches by their increased gifts of $286,627 for Home Missions—not including the value of Boxes provided—$280,285 for Foreign Missions, and $26,117 for Freedmen. Sabbath Schools have aided to the extent of $34,319 for the Home Board, $36,062 for the Foreign, $2,039 for Relief, and $31,264 for Publication and Sunday School work.

A net increase of 1103 contributions.

In Home Missions the advance in Contributing Churches covers the last two years, from 1888, since the Board gave us no report under this table last year.

We again take pleasure in acknowledging another gift of $100 for your Committee, from Alexander Guy, Esq., of Oxford, Ohio, reducing to that extent our draft upon the Assembly.

Your Committee recommends the following action to the Assembly:

1. That all Presbyteries and Synods be again instructed to maintain efficient Committees on Systematic Beneficence, who shall report to and co-operate with the Assembly's Special Committee.

2. That Presbyteries be advised to call their churches, annually, to account, at some regular meeting, in reference to their compliance with the recommendations of the Assembly.

3. That the useful practice of some Presbyteries through their Beneficence Committees be approved, in calling conventions for prayer and discussion in reference to CHRISTIAN GIVING, and in publishing comparative tables of their Churches' gifts for stimulus and information.

4. That the new chapter VI, of the Directory for Worship, be warmly commended to all our Churches, and advice given to them as before, to discourage combination in the same offering of self-support and gifts for the Boards.

5. That every Minister be challenged to secure the instruction of his congregation in the grace and duty of liberality for Christ's sake, and in scriptural principles of giving; also to keep them informed as to the work of our various Boards, with the needs of each particular cause; especially to train the children and youth of his charge in true principles and habits of Christian giving.

6. That every member be earnestly advised in his Christian stewardship, to adopt the practice of proportionate giving, as God hath prospered him.

7. That this Assembly again establish between our several Boards an equitable ratio of distribution for the guidance of Churches in apportioning undesignated gifts.

Respectfully submitted

In behalf of the Committee.

THE NINTH ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
GENERAL ASSEMBLY'S PERMANENT COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE,
FOR THE YEAR ENDING MAY 1ST, 1890.

Presented to the General Assembly at New York.

It is with unexpected joy and satisfaction that the General Assembly's Permanent Committee on Temperance reports the work done and the general results attained during the past year. It is a well known fact that the openly aggressive movements on behalf of temperance during the past year have not been very encouraging and we have feared that the defeat of the Prohibition Amendments in Michigan, Pennsylvania and some other states might have had a depressing, paralyzing and perhaps a reactionary influence in regard to the cause throughout the country, but if the reports which have come to us have any significance this has not been the case. Indeed there seems to have been a steady, healthy and most hopeful advance made along the whole line, indicating a growing conviction on the part of our very best citizens that the iniquitous liquor traffic must by some means or other be brought to an end.

In order to test the feeling of the church in regard to this matter, your committee sent out a circular containing three points of inquiry. The first was in regard to methods of work and the efficiency with which they were prosecuted. The second was in regard to any noticeable change in the christian sentiment on the subject of temperance and the third was in relation to the acceptibility of the past deliverances of the General Assembly.

We are happy to state that the answers to these inquiries were far more numerous, full and satisfactory than any similar reports have ever been, and, in addition, there was a snap, determination and aggressive spirit manifested in these reports which was most hopeful and far in advance of the average in times past.

In regard to the first inquiry, while no new methods of work have been suggested or adopted, nearly all of the reports speak of the unanimity and earnestness with which the ministers are advocating the cause of temperance in their pulpits. In some Presbyteries they are required to preach on the subject at least once a year, and in others every quarter. Sabbath schools in increasing numbers are devoting the last Sabbath of each quarter to the consideration of this subject. In some of them Bands of Hope are organized, and in others temperance pledges are taken by the children when they reach a certain age. In nearly all the reports the good work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is spoken of and commended.

In relation to the second question the reports assure us that there is no retrograde movement among Christian people, but in nearly every instance we are encouraged to believe that there is a steady undertone of feeling inimical to the liquor traffic which is gradually asserting itself, and which cannot but be felt and sooner or later be productive of very great good.

Among the causes operating to produce this result the following have been referred to, viz.: The high position taken by the Assembly in its various deliverances, the effect of which can scarcely be overestimated, the inherent wrong in the traffic, the utter rottenness of the whole business as revealed in our courts of justice, the iniquitous means by which it is promoted and the utter lawlessness of those engaged in it. It is becoming more and more evident that the reason why Prohibition does not prohibit is that the thing proposed to be prohibited is by instinct as well as practice not only a law-breaking but a law-defying business. Men are not prevented from engaging in it because they will not be. Of course, in an issue of this kind there is left to the Christian conscience no room for choice. So that it matters not what temporary reverses may overtake the cause itself; the individual Christian no less than the Church itself is bound to stand by the right and testify against that which tends only to evil.

It is most gratifying to your committee to learn how unanimously and heartily the past deliverances of the Assembly are endorsed by the several Presbyteries. The only exception noted is to the so-called explanatory clause added to the otherwise most admirable deliverance of the last year.

The objection to this is not so much that action is wanted in favor of any distinct line of political action, but because, under the circumstances that explanatory clause seemed to commit the Church against any political action which is certainly not the voice of the Church. With this single exception, the past deliverances are referred to not only with approbation, but with evident feelings of pride and gratification. Not a few of the reports refer to the admirable results flowing from the distribution of our tract containing a summary of these deliverances among the people.

It is also interesting to note that not one of these reports refers to High License with approval as a remedy for the evils connected with the liquor business, but in every one in which it is referred to, it is with manifest disapproval, for the reasons that it is wrong in principle, compromises the State, does not materially lessen the amount of liquor sold, and that high-priced intoxicants are just as prolific in the production of drunkenness and its consequent pauperism, crime, taxation, lamentation, woe and ruin to the bodies and souls of men, so eloquently referred to one year ago, as that sold under lower license. The testimony of the Presbyteries in the Synod of Wisconsin and Nebraska are especially emphatic in regard to this matter. One of these reports, after declaring that the theory of High License is a delusion and a snare, closes with these emphatic words: "We want no compromise with evil. We want no blood money to pay our taxes and educate our children. We want no sympathy with a power that frameth mischief by a law."

Another interesting fact brought to light in these reports is that, owing to the increasing light and recent discoveries in regard to the utter rottenness and diabolical character of the whole liquor business, it is rapidly being put under ban, and only tolerated as an evil to be gotten rid of as soon as possible. It is no longer considered respectable for men in good society to drink at an open bar. The treating habit, once so common among young men, is rapidly disappearing, the window curtains are being drawn tighter and the door screens made both higher and broader. The wine cup, too, is rapidly being banished from all good society, and what fills your committee with special joy is to learn from the report sent us by the Presbytery of Washington City that even there "the social customs are rapidly changing for the better, liquor being banished from the tables of many at public dinners and other receptions." The truth is that the drinking habit is rapidly coming to be regarded as an un-American institution, and is largely being handed over to foreigners who flock to this country, bringing with them their drinking and other evil habits, and by their great numbers and skill manage to terrorize and hold in abeyance our politicians so as to maintain the protection of law for their nefarious traffic. If it were not for this significant fact, unless all signs fail us, the temperance jubilee could not long be postponed and the nation redeemed from the curse of strong drink.

THE WORK OF THE COMMITTEE.

In regard to the work of the committee during the past year we have to report that very soon after the sitting of the last Assembly we determined to take a new departure and announced through nearly all of our religious newspapers that we would, to the extent of our ability, furnish gratuitously any of our publications that might be called for to those who would undertake to wisely distribute them, the applicants simply paying for their transportation. Our reason for making this announcement was that we found by experience that the communities most needing information were the ones least disposed to seek it and especially to purchase it. Facts have fully demonstrated the wisdom of the course pursued. We have met to a very liberal extent every call made upon us. A very large amount of our literature has been sent into Nebraska and other States where it was especially needed, and while the general demand has not been as large as we anticipated, it has been constant and from almost all parts of the country.

We have during the past year, besides distributing a large amount of matter on hand at the close of the preceding year, issued a large edition of a new tract written by the chairman, entitled, "The License System Wrong in Principle." We have also re-published the deliverances of the General Assembly, bringing them up to the present time. Also, "The Temperance Catechism." Both of these latter publications are greatly sought after and appreciated.

We had made arrangements for the publication of a tract to be prepared by one of our ablest ministers on the "Moral and Legal Right of Prohibition," and had reserved funds for that purpose, but as yet the manuscript has not come into our hands, but this tract will be published as soon as it is prepared.

As will be seen by referring to our Treasurer's Report, the contributions have not been large, but they have covered a large district of country and have been sufficient to meet our necessary expenses, and we believe that should larger demands be made upon us, our treasury will not be found wanting. We believe, also, that there is a hearty readiness on the part of the Church to respond most fully to whatever the General Assembly will undertake in this direction.

The term of service of the following members of the Committee will expire with this Assembly, viz.: Rev. W. O. Campbell, D. D., Rev. J. J. Beacom, D. D., O. L. Miller, M. D., and R. S. Davis. We recommend the re-election of Dr. Beacom and Elder O. L. Miller, and in the place of Dr. Campbell, who declines a re-election, Rev. Joseph B. Turner, and in place of Mr. Davis, W. N. Zeigler.

Inasmuch as Rev. W. J. Holland, of the class of 1891, declines to serve longer, we recommend that Rev. Richard S. Holmes be elected to take his place.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN F. HILL,
Cor. Secretary.

JAMES ALLISON, TREASURER.

PITTSBURGH, May 1st, 1890.

A SUMMARY

Of the Action of The Assembly on the Foregoing Report.

The Standing Committee on Temperance presented its report, which was accepted, and after an address by Dr. I. N. Hays, Chairman of the Committee, was amended and adopted, and is as follows:

“In studying the work of the Assembly's Permanent Committee, it gratifies us to recognize that this useful agency of our Church, still continues actively at work on the lines of its appointed effort, with a hopeful and enlarging measure of encouragement and success. The gratuitous and self-denying labors of its officers and members during the past year are worthy of all praise.

“The year has been a period of incessant stir and varying conflict around the great question of temperance, and the control or suppression of the liquor traffic. More and more deeply the conviction has been burning itself into the public mind, that however checked by legislative restrictions, or burdened by heavier taxation, the peril of the public sale of intoxicants is too great for any valid excuse of its existence. In regard to such an evil that affects the whole body of our people, the issue is being steadily pressed by conscience and self-preservation, against the greed which is now absolutely the only cause for retention of the dram shop.

“Indeed, the saloon has well-nigh passed its period of defense. Nobody stands up for it to-day, except as an alleged necessary evil, supposed to be so strong as to be incapable of suppression, and which must continue, only to be curbed and prevented from venting quite its full curse. It must be the business of the better class of our citizens, and of Christian society at large, to prove that theory false.

“Eventually the open sale of liquor must go. Forces are now at work that, however temporarily resisted, will yet crush the life out of it. Meanwhile, let us sow good seed among the children. Emphasize the sinfulness of inebriety, and ply every man his neighbor with temperance and Gospel influences. While permitting no final satisfaction with half-way measures, let us help enforce existing laws that tend to fetter the liquor traffic, until with constant agitation and unremitting effort something more and better can be done. Even the defeat of political prohibition in some quarters lately need not be explained as the triumph of the saloons—only the temporary non-acceptance of certain methods devised to oppose them.

“Let it be remembered that our Presbyterian Church itself is one great temperance society, that practices the principles it has avowed, and constantly exerts a power that is beyond tabulation towards the reform of inebriates and the closure of their sources of temptation.”

RESOLUTIONS.

We recommend the following, viz:

1. We stand by the deliverances hitherto issued by our Church upon the temperance question, a summary of which has proved our Committee's most popular tract, and we enjoin our ministers and people to abate nothing in their zeal and effort in or out of the churches, to check the drinking habits of society, and by effort, voice and vote, to oppose the traffic in intoxicants as a beverage, believing with intensified conviction that it is a direct inexcusable curse to our country and our age.

2. While, as a Church, we neither advocate nor antagonize any political party—we earnestly commend to our ministers and people, as Christian citizens, such vigorous persevering efforts, as may seem wisest to them, towards the enactment in every State and Territory, of statutes which shall hopefully secure entire prohibition, of a traffic largely responsible for the bulk of the drunkenness, crime, pauperism and social miseries which afflict our land.

3. We honor all executive public officers who have had the fidelity and firmness to execute the laws in accord with their oath of office, against outbreaks of characteristic lawlessness on the part of the liquor power.

4. We recognize with congratulation, the influence already exerted by our Presbyterian women—forming the majority of our membership—in the temperance cause; and the organizations forming among them in Pennsylvania and elsewhere, on the lines of our Assemblies' deliverances, to further, in their own way, the ends aimed at by our Permanent Committee.

5. Congratulating the Permanent Committee on the encouragement that has followed its operations for the year, we approve of its new departure in distributing its literature gratuitously. In many cases the offer of gratuitous transportation also might be wise. And we commend the Committee to the Church for whatever increase of contribution to its treasury may be needful, glad that no deficit has arisen, and that a good balance for beginning the work of a new year is still in its hands.

6. That we, as an Assembly, assert our conviction that the love of God for the sinner, as applied to the conscience by the convicting, converting and sanctifying power of God's spirit and truth, is the inebriates' only hope of salvation and assurance of all true reform.

7. We recommend that the Committee on Temperance be continued; that Rev. J. J. Beacom, D. D., and Elder O. L. Miller be reelected; that Rev. Joseph B. Turner be chosen in place of Rev. W. O. Campbell, D. D., who declines to serve, and in place of Mr. R. S. Davis, Mr. W. N. Ziegler, and since W. J. Holland, of the class of 1891, declines serving longer, we recommend that Rev. Richard S. Holmes be elected to take his place.

All of which is respectfully submitted in behalf of the Standing Committee.
