A FOUR NIGHT DEBATE

REV. TROY TO MEET ATTY. RUTHERFORD OF NEW YORK IN PUBLIC DISCUSSION

A four-night debate on biblical subjects, between Attorney J. F. Rutherford of New York City and the Rev. John Henry Troy, a member of the Los Angeles Baptist association, was arranged Friday.

The debate will be held in the largest auditorium obtainable, between March 20 and April 15. The articles of agreement have been signed, each party to the contract has agreed to furnish a $1000 bond for "appearance," and both have stipulated that the debate shall be confined to biblical subjects, with all personalities eliminated.

Mr. Rutherford has a national reputation as a lecturer on biblical subjects, and recently delivered a series of four lectures in Los Angeles, 3000 persons being turned away when he spoke at Trinity auditorium, unable to obtain seats.

The Rev. Troy debated with Mr. Rutherford in New York City several years ago on similar subjects, and later delivered lectures throughout the South in which he attacked from his viewpoint the doctrines of Mr. Rutherford.

Several Los Angeles pastors, knowing that the Rev. Troy had previously met Mr. Rutherford, decided that he was the man to meet the New York attorney in a public debate. And, after several days had been spent in drawing up articles of agreement, in which lawyer and pastor "jockeyed" for position, the following was agreed to and each signed his name to two copies:

"This agreement, made and entered into this twelfth day of February, A. D., nineteen hundred and fifteen, by and between the Rev. John H. Troy of Glendale, Cal., member of the Los Angeles Baptist Ministerial conference of the Los Angeles Baptist association and pastor of the First Baptist church of Glendale, Cal., indorsed by Dr. T. C. Horton, Presbyterian minister of Los Angeles, and ten or more prominent Baptist ministers of the Los Angeles Baptist Ministerial conference, and J. F. Rutherford, member of the New York City bar, representing the International Bible Students' association of Los Angeles, Cal., witnesseth that, whereas, it is the desire hereto and those whom they represent to get at the truth of great Bible questions to the intent that all Bible students may receive the benefit thereof and that the public in general may be stimulated to a more careful and personal investigation of the scriptures;

"Now, therefore, it is agreed by and between the parties hereto as follows: That the above minister and lawyer shall engage in a public debate of the Bible questions herein-after set forth upon the following terms and conditions:

"First: It is agreed that the debate shall be devoid of all personalities and neither in speech nor in the press shall there be any personal attacks made by either speaker upon any person or persons, but that the discussion shall be confined to the doctrines or teachings of the Bible.

"Second: It is agreed that each side shall be responsible for one-half of the expenses of the rental of a suitable auditorium and adequate advertising and no admission shall be charged and no collections taken, but that the public shall be freely admitted.

"Third: It is agreed that the debate shall consist of four separate and distinct questions covering a period of four successive evenings and that the debate shall be held in the city of Los Angeles, state of California, between the twentieth day of March and the fifteenth day of April, A. D., nineteen hundred and fifteen. It is further agreed that some neutral person shall be selected to act as chairman of these debates who shall represent neither the one side nor the other and that the duties of the chairman shall be to mark time and keep order, but shall have no power or authority to decide any question or issue joined in the debate. The audience itself shall be the only judge and each person for himself and herself shall have the liberty to decide and no public decision shall be rendered.

"Fourth: That the time allotted for the said debate shall be as follows: The speaker having the affirmative shall have sixty minutes in which to present his side. The negative shall have sixty minutes to answer. The affirmative fifteen minutes to reply and the negative fifteen minutes to close.

"Fifth: The discussion shall be conducted upon a high Christian plane with a view to ascertaining the truth of the teachings of the Scriptures.

"Sixth: The parties hereto hereby

KILLING LIONS

GREATEST LION OF ALL WILL BE SHOT TO DEATH IN GREAT REVIVAL

(By Publicity Committee)

Brown and Curry are here. Approximately two thousand packed the huge tabernacle, corner of Maryland avenue and Third street, Sunday evening to greet the famous evangelists. Jumping from a successful campaign at Long Beach, where 3100 professed conversion, 2300 of whom have already become affiliated with local churches, both workers showed evidence of fatigue, but nevertheless it was a remarkable meeting and all went home with the impression that things could not have been done and said better. No one present Sunday night can doubt that these brethren are past masters in evangelism.

Curry, to express it figuratively, pressed the button and the big chorus of 300 responded instantly and with surprising effect. Curry's famous smile revealed his confidence in the material gathered from the ten churches to be worked into a glorious choir. Yes, they were all there and some more. Curry knows how, and his very bones must be vibrant with music. The singers are going to have a happy time under his leadership and every choir affiliated will reap a lasting benefit.

Rev. Edmonds of the local Presbyterian church introduced the evangelists with felicitous words, and Rev. Hartsell of the West Glendale Methodist church led in the evening prayer.

Evangelist Brown made a strong appeal for local expenses, which resulted in a splendid collection. It is understood that the local expenses are met out of the tabernacle offerings and the magnitude of the work will call for faithful giving. Brown and Curry never leave a cent of indebtedness on the churches and the satisfactory working of their plan is evidenced in the fact that they repeatedly return to the same field.

"Killing Lions" was the subject of Brother Brown's initial discourse. Samson killed his lion rather than turn back to defeat and failure. And there are lions to be met by all who would succeed in any sphere of life, temporal or spiritual. Many go down to failure in the business world, fearing to tackle the lions in the way. But the evangelist dwelt mainly on the lions to be met in the spiritual realm.

Lion number one was denominated lion fault-finding. Judged by the response to the evangelist's call for victims of this creature, most of the variety seemed to be absent from the meeting, and yet there may have been some roaming in the surrounding mountains. Brown does not blunt his points and here is one reason why he wields so successfully the sword of the spirit which is sharper than any sword of steel.

Lion number two was denominated lion indifference. It was forcefully driven home to the heads and hearts of the hearers that Christians have the biggest job in the world and that to be indifferent to the work of God is an astonishment to those who do not profess the faith.

Man-fear was the next lion in the menagerie. The experience of the evangelist himself showed how to shoot this beast of prey. Brown killed him when he was a boy convert to Christ and the power of his utterance shows how dead that big lion can be to the man who puts God first.

Lastly the audience was invited to view the worst lion of all, selfishness. The roar of this lion is heard in every life and it was especially urged that the monster be shot to death in the grand union revival effort now in progress. The glory of God and the salvation of souls are the blessed objects of the campaign and all must deny self and pull for the salvation of thousands, till Glendale, Tropic, Casa Verdugo and all the surrounding cities, even to Los Angeles, must feel the pulsation of the life of Christ.

All these lions being dead, and many more not mentioned and some unmentionable, there will be plenty of honey found in the carcass, thus sealing to the saints the ancient experience of Samson. And God knows we all need the honey.

There will be a great rally this evening at 7:30. Usually Brown and Curry rest on Monday's, but owing to the opening on Sunday night there will be no break this evening.

Remember the chorus.

On Friday of this week Mrs. A. M. Beamon of 245 North Maryland avenue had as her guests for the day her mother, Mrs. C. H. DeBois of Long Beach, Mrs. C. A. Bailey and Miss Blanche Burcherett of Cambridge Springs, Pa., and Mrs. Dana of Bradford, Pa.

A PUBLIC STATEMENT

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS BETWEEN JAPAN AND THE UNITED STATES

In view of the recent events which have tended to bring regret and distress to those persons who have cherished deeply the historic friendship between the United States and Japan, and in view of the popular impression that a feeling of international ill-will has its special source on our western coast and particularly in the state of California, the following named presidents and deans of the various colleges and universities located in Southern California take the liberty of making public the following statement:

James A. Blaisdell, president of Pomona college; Edwin C. Norton, dean of Pomona college; Thomas G. Burt, dean and acting president of Occidental college; James A. B. Scherer, president of Throop College of Technology; George F. Bovard, president of the University of Southern California; Ezra A. Healy, dean of the University of Southern California; W. J. Deeney, S. J., president of Los Angeles college; Timothy L. Murphy, dean of Los Angeles college; Victor L. Duke, dean and acting president of Redlands university; Thomas Newlin, president of Whittier college. Their statement follows:

As American citizens and residents of California, we wish to express our deep conviction that the manifestation of genuine good-will happily characteristic of our relations with Japan, has been one of the most fortunate experiences of our whole international history. And, notwithstanding all appearances to the contrary, we believe that an appreciation of the great benefits accruing to both nations by reason of this friendship is firmly established among the thoughtful people of our coast and is rightfully a source of confident expectation that this friendship is permanently to continue.

In this connection we desire not only to assert our strong opposition to any additional anti-alien legislation, counting this matter to be of primary and decisive importance as related both in the use of our suffrages and to such civic influence as may be ours in any way to exert, but we are also opposed to any and all anti-alien legislation of whatever sort, which is discriminatory in character, desiring only to preserve to each country in friendliest fashion those best elements of national personality which shall ultimately be of the largest mutual advantage. In this, also, we believe that we are voicing the thoughtful citizenship of our state.

We beg that our Japanese friends will steadfastly remember that it is always the bitter word and the aggressive act, with its sinister interpretation, that find quickest and most manifold speeding upon their way; that, whereas there exist in our several countries laws against slander, there are, as yet, no international defenses against the far greater and more insidious crime of malicious and inflammatory international misrepresentation; that the deliberate and pacific counsels of society are characteristically slow to find expression and that the definite determination to bring these better counsels into the open is part of the truest statesmanship.

We beg leave to call attention to the fact that while we speak wholly as individuals in this matter, the above named include officials of all the educational institutions commonly recognized as of collegiate and university standing in the southern half of the state of California; that, being naturally associated in our educational work, we also find ourselves in the most hearty and united accord in this statement, and that we believe that we represent the practically unanimous sentiment and sympathy of the institutions which we have the honor to serve and of their constituencies.

WORK AND THE EYES

The widely known fact that, when using the eyes for any near work, the illumination should come from the left side rather than the right is often disregarded.

Take a pencil and paper and try to write while in such a position that the light will fall from the right side. The shadow of the hand or pencil or both is thrown on the paper in such a way as partly to cover the characters one is making.

Now let the position of the writer be reversed so that the light falls on the work from the left side. He will notice that the shadows fall away from the work he is doing and leaves the field unobscured.

This applies to any other kind of near work in which the fingers work under the guidance of the eyes. This fact should be remembered in planning schoolrooms, workrooms, offices and any places where steady close work is to be performed.

BEACH CITY VISITED

Mr. J. T. Beach motored to Ocean Park on Saturday, where he spent the day with friends, returning to Glendale Sunday and bringing with him Miss Ruth Keegan, whose home was formerly in this city.

AWARDS FOR VICTORIES IN SELF-CONTROL

The hero and the heroine, who do positive, noble things, are honored therefor—and rightly so. The heroic act is admirable. The courage of doing is splendid courage.

But let us not overlook the silent, intangible courage—the bravery of bearing, the heroic resisting of temptation, the sublime self-control. This silent courage is of supreme quality. It is not—cannot be spectacular. It does not fight its battles and win its triumphs on the open field, with admiring eyes looking on and applauding hands sounding encouragement.

It has none of the inspiration of the tumult and frenzy of battle. Oh, no! It is fought out alone, mayhap in the still watches of the night, with no one but a loving God to see or know or sympathize.

Temptation, in most alluring, most insidious form, comes to this young man, that young woman. It is gilded temptation—the seductive type, so hard to resist. But that young person fights out the battle of the soul—fights the enemy, Temptation, to the last ditch. It may mean an all-night struggle—it may mean a struggle of months or years. It may be appetite for strong drink or other fleshly craving; it may be the temptation to misappropriate money or property belonging to another; it may be any one of a thousand forms of temptation, the overcoming of which requires surpassing strength of character—but these battles of the inner soul are being fought and won right along, and nobody, perhaps, but those who fight the battles know anything about it. This is heroism of "purest ray serene." This is courage of quality.

Where are such silent, sublime victories of the soul more common and more admirable than among the mothers of men? Who but God can measure the immensities of the heart burdens being borne today by mothers in lands rent with warfare? Millions of women silently, heroically, marvelously are repressing the agonizing cry, as husband, son, father, brother marches away, perhaps never more to return. Shall we not lift our hats and bow our heads to her who "Bravely speaks the cheering word,

What though her heart be rent asunder?" Shall not our profound sympathies go out to her,

"With no one but her loving God,

To know the pain that weighs upon her?"

Men may fold their arms and go down to death in the great deep singing, without a tremor of fear upon their lips. Men may march to certain death on the battlefield without flinching. In the activities of peace men may, in the hour of danger, throw their lives into the scale to perform splendid deeds of heroism. Honor them for it.

But do not withhold honor from him or her who fights the Armageddon of the soul alone—all alone—fights with no martial music to thrill, no shout of triumph to spur on, no rewards to impel; just plain, persistent, unseen, unheralded, unpraised, unappreciated spirit fighting—desperate fighting, with no quarter possible. Fighting against appetite; fighting against temptation to do wrong; fighting for self-control under great sorrow—fighting, fighting, fighting! It is going on all around us. "Eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard" its fearful assaults, its dreadful bombardments. But the silent men and women, the uncomplaining mothers, are waging harder warfare than the embattled soldiers in the trenches of Northern Europe. Let us honor the silent warriors whose battlefield is the soul.—Exchange.

AT THE McFADDEN HOME

Another happy valentine party was that given by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McFadden of 1446 Hawthorne street on Saturday evening. Red carnations, hearts and cupid were tastefully combined to give a most charming effect to the rooms, and supper was served late in the evening after a good time had been enjoyed by all with music, conversation, etc.

CORDUROY FOR UNIFORMS

In line with the information that the foreign governments have found the clothes used in uniforms unfit for long service under conditions of modern warfare, an inquiry has been received in the market for corduroy. Reports place the number of uniforms required by a soldier in active service at two a month. This is regarded as an exaggeration in many quarters, but, even if one new uniform a month was needed to clothe the man at the front, the amount of cloth that would have to be made up for this purpose would be tremendous.

We Specify the Stock

We welcome competition in quality and service and we are not afraid of any good printer's competition in price.

There can be no competition in the matter of stock if all printers would specify the stock in weight, basic size and trade name as we do. There's a difference.

PERSONALS

Miss Laura A. Scott of 218 Glendale avenue is spending a few days with relatives in Pasadena.

Mr. Winship of Duluth, Minn., is a guest at the home of his cousin, Dr. D. W. Hunt, 121 West Fifth street.

Mrs. H. P. Smith of Berkeley, who has been visiting in Glendale for the past ten days, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bennett of 651 East Acacia street took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stone of Laurel avenue one evening last week.

Miss Lula Hughes of Los Angeles spent the week-end with Miss Fredonia and Miss Ruby Borthick of 1308 West Seventh street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Parker spent the forenoon with friends in Los Angeles one day last week, going to Redondo in the afternoon.

Mrs. Black and her niece, Miss Anna Koontz from Venice, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. C. F. Parker of 227 Central avenue.

Mrs. Harry Girard and children, who have been spending several months with Mrs. Dora Glazier of 900 Lomita avenue, have gone north to join Mr. Girard.

Just as we go to press we have been informed that the condition of R. C. Sternberg, who is lying ill at the Glendale sanitarium, remains about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Parker of 227 Central avenue were among the Glendale people who attended the Sunshine Valentine party given at Goldberg's assembly hall in Los Angeles on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Truesdale of Diamond Point, N. Y., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John R. Barrows of 443 West Colorado boulevard for the past few days, have gone on to San Diego to attend the exposition.

Mrs. Conrad Fischer of Meadville, Pa., has been the guest of Mrs. A. M. Beamon of 245 North Maryland avenue since Thursday and has enjoyed a number of trips around Glendale and into Los Angeles, where they attended the matinee.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Baker and son, Frederick, Jr., of 109 North Maryland avenue, motored to Covina and Azusa on Sunday, calling on a number of friends in those cities. It was a pleasant day for such a ride, and the fruit hangs golden on the trees at this time, making a beautiful picture of plenty.

Henry Johnston, who last Friday had valuable articles stolen from his residence on Everett street, Glendale, says he would be pleased if the burglar would return his gold pen with a wooden holder, as he misses that even more than the more valuable articles.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Peckham, with Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Weston of Tropic and Miss Helen Cole, recently from New York, motored over to Pasadena and vicinity in the morning, returning to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peckham, 245 North Central avenue, where dinner awaited them and a pleasant afternoon was spent.

On Friday evening Miss Frances Peckham of 245 North Central avenue entertained a number of her friends. Chaperoned by Mrs. Peckham, the young people first attended the Palace Grand; returning they enjoyed the dainty refreshments with music and dancing. Violets were very prettily used in decorating the rooms and a pleasant evening was enjoyed by the twelve guests and their charming hostess.

Glenn Martin came out to his hangar at Griffith park Sunday afternoon, took in a passenger, and sailed down to the Beverly hotel and country club, spent an hour and then flew back, passing over Inglewood, then coming straight up Vermont and out over Glendale for a few turns, landing at last where he started from. He is now engaged in manufacturing a new design of high powered motor which he says will be a wonder.

ALHAMBRA'S CENSUS ENUMERATION

The trustees of the city of Alhambra have ordered a census enumeration made to ascertain the exact population of Alhambra. The population of that city is being estimated at from 7500 to 10,000. The deputy tax assessor will do the enumerating in connection with his regular work.

THE REASON WHY

Do you know that practically every article of your wearing apparel was sewn on a SINGER Machine? Department Stores use SINGER Machines in their Factories and Fitting Rooms.

Ask your modiste, your corsetiere, your shoemaker, your furrier, what sewing machines they use. They will say "THE SINGER." "There's a reason"—superior excellence.

Possibly you have an old sewing machine or one that is not satisfactory. Do you know that a fair allowance will be made for it in exchange for an up-to-date SINGER at the Singer Store, 1020 West Broadway? E. J. Upham, Sunset phone 656W.

MARY PICKFORD IN "BEHIND THE SCENES" AT THE PALACE GRAND TONIGHT AND TUESDAY

The big crowds that attended "The Christian" Saturday and Sunday at the Palace Grand will no doubt be equalled tonight and tomorrow when the five-reel film, "Behind the Scenes," will be shown, with the popular Mary Pickford in the title role.

The Famous Players' Film company, true to their traditions and their purpose to make every successive play in which Mary Pickford is starred greater than the last, have presented that pre-eminent film star in a delightful play, "Behind the Scenes," by Margaret Mayo, authoress of a long list of theatrical successes.

There are not many dramas produced on the stage or in pictures that present such a completely charming subject as "Behind the Scenes." It draws a picture of life under varying colors and aspects, with different governing conditions. But throughout the various environments in which the story develops, Mary Pickford as the little actress is true to her character and her art.

The construction of the drama is exceedingly well molded, with the basis of interest and appeal indelibly associated with the central character. The greatest incentive for sympathy comes of the perplexing situation in which the actress finds herself when the success she had so longed and striven for turns to ashes in her grasp because she cannot share it with the man she loves. After a tremendous struggle which epitomizes the full strength of woman's sacrificial qualities and the power of renunciation, she deserts the gilded life of which she has become a part and goes with the man into the West to live out her life on a quiet and monotonous farm.

It is this note of renunciation that Miss Pickford symbolizes to the limit of her artistic capacity in the role of the actress. She makes the sacrifice a thing of immediate interest to all her beholders, and her sorrow of the moment becomes almost a personal grief to the spectators, so faithfully is the character drawn.

While Mary Pickford dominates the subject with her power and personality, and is the personal equation of the entire drama, the supporting cast is commendable in their collective and supplementary efforts. This cast includes no fewer popular names than James Kirkwood, Lowell Sherman, Ida Waterman and Russell Bassett, who will be remembered for his remarkable impersonation of the prime minister in "Such a Little Queen."

The production, which is in five reels, is appointed in the methodical handsomely and pretentious manner of all Famous Players' productions.

VALENTINE PARTY

Miss Viola Schonfeldt entertained delightfully with a valentine party at her home, 1005 Maple avenue, Saturday evening, Feb. 13th. The house was beautifully decorated with a profusion of red carnations and ferns, low bowls filled with sweet scented violets and asparagus ferns being combined, while in all the rooms ropes of hearts and cupids artistically carried out the effect. The evening was enjoyed with music and many games. The refreshments consisted of ice cream moulded in forms of cupids and heart-shaped cake with cupids and punch with other dainties. The guests were Misses Elizabeth Smith, Mildred Keogh, Estella Smith, Messrs. Herbert Brown, Roy Smith, Walter Sauter, Edward Hubbard, of Glendale; Florence Brotherton, Louise Moore, Sam Brotherton and Lester McNiven of Los Angeles.

DINNER, MUSICAL AND DANCE

The chicken dinner to be given on Wednesday evening by the St. Margaret Girls promises to be not only a feast of chicken and other good things to eat, but a musical feast as well. During the dinner hour, six o'clock to half past seven, there will be a continuous musical program, when the following well-known musicians will appear: Miss Gertrude Champlain, Miss Mattiebelle Provolt, Mr. Walter Butterly and Mr. Herbert Henning of this place, and Mr. Ernest Miller and Mr. G. H. Jordan of Los Angeles. This program will be well worth hearing. Following the dinner those who wish will give themselves up to the pleasures of the dance for an hour or two.

ALL ARE MISERS

The miser loves the money for self. He revels in contemplation of the fact that it is his. The most of us who hold ourselves to be superior to him, love the gratification of the physical senses which money brings. And the one love is as vain, as purposeless and as utterly selfish as the other.

The miser himself voluntarily suffers for the sake of money. But the average rich man makes other people—family, friends, employees—do the suffering that he may be richer.

Whether a man has $7000 and lives in a cow shed, or $7,000,000 and keeps his heart in a counting-room, makes little difference in the long run. The one is making a slave—a mere creature—of himself quite as actually as the other.—Christian Herald.

Don't believe too much in luck. "Lucky" people are, as a rule, those who have the pluck to persevere in spite of failure.

QUEEN CAMPAIGN

Excitement is reaching fever heat in the whirlwind contest for fiesta queen of Southern California inaugurated by the 1915 general committee. The organizations backing the fifteen beautiful young women nominated for the coveted honor are campaigning like veterans. Votes are rolling in by the thousands from all sections.

The contestants represent the fairest types of feminine loveliness. Each Saturday, until the contest closes March 27, with a grand ball at the Shrine auditorium, there will be a luncheon at which handsome prizes will be awarded to the contestant having the best record for the week.

Long Beach, Venice, Covina and every town in the Southland is represented directly or indirectly by a favorite daughter. The voting will be fast and furious in all sections, as each organization and its auxiliaries has started out with the determination to win.

One contestant, Miss Leta Nash, is a Covina high school girl nominated by the orange belt.

The three contestants ranking next to the queen will serve as vice-queens during the celebrations of 1915, and all others will act as maids of honor.

Following are the contestants and the organizations backing them:

- Florence Dominguez Appel, Native Sons and Daughters.
- Margaret Betterley, Long Beach.
- Laura Frances Carrillo, Ad club.
- Maude Edwards, Federated Improvement association.
- Mrs. Lindsey Elwood, Fraternal Order of Eagles.
- Martha Deitrich, fire department.
- Maud V. King, Los Angeles Railway company.
- Alpha O. Lamp, postal service employees.
- Sibyl I. Mather, Pacific Electric railway.
- Sara Melton, telephone corporations.
- Leta Nash, orange belt.
- Gladys Nicholson, allied motion picture companies.
- Gertrude Staley, Venice.
- Belle Sebastian Swall, police department.
- Joan Hadenfeldt Woodbury, the Shriners.

SURPRISE MISS BARRETT

Among the most unique and long to be remembered valentine affairs given in Glendale this season was a valentine surprise given Miss Isabel Barrett of 1464 West Third street on Saturday evening by a number of friends in the younger social circle.

The surprise was complete and all entered into the spirit of the occasion. There were games suggestive of St. Valentine's eve, music by Mr. George Ketterling and last but not least, delicious things to eat brought by the guests. A jolly time is the way the young people describe the evening and they have announced their intention of trying it again some time. Those who participated in the surprise were Misses May Sprinkle, Alice Bronrdley, Mabel McFadden, Bessie Wright, Clyde Brooks, Winifred Taylor, Vivian Engle, Messrs. Will Richards, Harry A. Burkshire, J. A. Barton, D. D. McCullough and George Ketterling.

Many a failure has been caused by mistaking rainbows for opportunity.

A soft answer may turn away wrath, and a short answer may stir up strife.

Some time ago there was circulated in California, for political purposes, a story that the olive industry had been seriously damaged by the new tariff regulations. As a result, there was some anxiety regarding the future of this industry.

The famous Fancher Creek Nurseries at Fresno has the following to say about it:

"We consider the olive proposition
one of the very best here in California in favored locations. The only trouble with the planters is they received too much money for their fruit the last two or three years.
They are not willing to come down and take price even though money is scarce, and that is the only reason they are kicking. We have seen the time when people were glad to get from $60 to $80 per ton for fruit and were perfectly satisfied. Many fruits have a black eye this season and that of course is due to money stringency and the war in Europe."

NO MORE OVERDRAFTS

Good-bye to the bank overdraft.
All national banks have received letters from John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency, saying that the granting of accommodations in the form of overdrafts is objectionable and cannot be countenanced.

"This practice should cease entirely," he says, and he asks the banks to have their individual boards of directors to pass resolutions instructing their officers not to pay or charge to the account of any depositor any check of such deposit when there are not sufficient funds on deposit to the credit of the drawer of the check to meet the same.—Sierra Madre News.

Africa are paid $6 a day and work
fifty hours a week.

There are 3600 people employed in janitorial work in San Francisco.
Of this number more than 2000 are

FREE JITNEY CAR HIS OFFERING

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15.—L. D. Lasley, a salesman today went the "jitney" bus system one better by hanging a sign on his automobile inviting a limited portion of the public to ride to work with him.

"I ride down alone in my car every morning," said Lasley. "There is no use hauling six empty seats past crowds of people waiting for street cars."

The sign on Lasley's car reads:
"Get in; free 'jitney' car."

The surprising thing is that Haiti has not caused complications over neutrality before this. She has thought of everything else.

The sure thing often proves the most elusive of all investments.

THE BIG MEN

The big men dare, and the big men do; they dream great dreams, which they make come true. They bridge the rivers and link the plains, and gird the land with their railway trains; they make the desert break forth in bloom, they send the cataract through a flume to turn the wheels of a thousand mills; and bring the coin to a nation's tills; the big men work, and the big men plan, and,
helping themselves, help their fellow man. And the cheap men yelp at their carriage wheels, as the small dog barks at the big dog's heels. The big men sow while the cheap men sleep, and when they go to their fields to reap, the cheap men cry, "We must have a share of all the grain they harvest there! These men are pirates who sow and reap and plan and build while we are asleep! We'll legislate till they lose their hair;
we'll pass new laws that will strip them bare! We'll tax them right and we'll tax them left, till of their plunder they are bereft; we'll show these men that we all despise their skill, their courage and enterprise!"
So the small men yap at the big men's heels; the fake reformers with uplift spiels, the four-eyed dreamers with theories fine, which bring them maybe three cents a line, the tinhorn graters who always yearn to collar the coin that they do not earn. And the big men sigh as they go their way—we fear they'll balk at the thing some day!—Unidentified.

LITTLE NATIONS OF EUROPE

Denmark has almost abolished pauperism and illiteracy among her people. Only one in a thousand of her adult population is unable to read and write. The number of those dependent on charity is extremely small and is lessening each year, in spite of a barren soil and a villainous climate, the whole land is prosperous and its productiveness is increasing year by year. The community health is improving, crime is exceedingly rare, and refinements of life, as well as its necessities, are growing more abundant and are distributed in wider and wider circles.
These are some of the achievements of a little nation, of a kingdom whose total population is about the same as that of the city of Chicago. In the light of this record, is it not possible that small, free states like Denmark and Belgium are just as valuable to civilization and the world as overbearing empires, which practice "culture" with a sword?
Chicago Journal.

A San Pedro youth, worried over debts of $1.75, perpetrated a hold-up that netted $7.75, thus permitting him to settle his accounts, be clear of conscience and $6 to the good.
Doubtless he had begun to think this a happy world, when the police had to interfere and spoil it all.
