PUBLIC ABATTOIR IS ASKED AT WINNIPEG

Brandon, Man., Jan. 10.-Up to the last minute of the grain growers' convention, finishing at a late hour last their straw hats an occasional feather night, interest was maintained to a re markable degree. Usually the convention is wound up at the end of the afternoon session, but this year there was a veritable avalanche of resolutions and an evening session was necessary. It was decided to hold the convention here again next year.

During the afternoon a vigorous arraignment of banking institutions was made, and the executive was in structed to take up with the govern ment the matter of financial facilities for the farmers. Another importan matter was for bribery and corruption in elections to be made punishable only by terms in prison, it being felt that fines were useless.

The convention viewed with pleasur the expeditious work of the government in regard to the Hudson Bay railway construction, and asked for adherence to the principle of govern Holds Up His Guards in Cell

VON FORSTNER APPEALS CONVICTION CANCELLED

Prepared for Command in Case of War

Strassburg, Germany, Jan. 10.-Court nartial to-day acquitted all the Gernan officers charged with breaches of the law in connection with the recent violent incidents between the military nd civilians at Zabern. The military judges in all cases accepted the word of the officers against the sworn testinony of civilian witnesses

Col. von Reuter, commander of the 99th infantry, was charged with wrongent but the court found his acts justifiable.

Lieut. Schad, accused of striking a prisoner, was released by the same court on the ground that the charge had not been proved. Lieut. Baron von Forstner won his appeal before a second court-martial against the sentence of forty-three days' imprisonment imposed on him December 19, for sabring t lame shoemaker.

The president of the court-martial in explaining the verdict of acquittal, said that been established by the evidence that the officers of the 99th infantry ent had been insulted and stone by civilians in Zabern and on one oc-casion shots had been fired. The court, he said, was convinced that the civil authorities of the town had failed to act with the necessary energy in sup-pressing the outbreaks, and in the opinion of the court, the military of-ficers were undoubtedly justified in ar-resting the people who had insuited them.

Simultaneously with the acquittal of Col. von Reuter and Lieut. Schad, the court-martial heard the appeal of Lieut. Baron von Forstner, of the same regiment, and acquitted him. The military judges trying Lieutenant Earon von Forstner decided that the crippied shoemaker had made a threatening remark to the officer, and when they heard the restimant of one of Von they heard the testimony of one of Vot Forstner's men, who swore that he had found a pocket knife in the shoemaker'

Those Fifty Thousand Farmers Probably Were Workers on the Roads"

CROWDED MEETING IS HELD ON MAINLAND

Vancouver, Jan. 10.-"The Hon. W. R. Ross has stated that the provincial government has placed 50,000 settlers upon the land in British Columbia during the past four years," stated H. C. Brewster at a huge meeting which crowded Phillips hall, West Burnaby, last night. "It is an actual fact, however, that during the past three years the actual cash valuation of the farm produce from British Columbia lands has decreased to an alarming extent."

Mr. Brewster quoted figures from the government report regarding annual figures for the past three years. The amount of dairy produce for the year 1911 was over $4,000,000, while in 1912 $2,000,000. In other lines of farming endeavor he read figures which proved just as conclusively in each instance that there has been a steady falling off in the amount of farm produce, only slightly over $2,000,000. Stockholm, Jan. 10.—The arrest of a former constable in the Swedish navy, named Toerngren, and a youth, Hol-steinson, on the charge of selling steinson, on the charge of seiling Swedish military secrets to Russia, has chabled the authorities to unearth a scheme of organized and wholesale esplonage, the headquarters of which were in Copenhagen. A number of Russian officers, including former military attaches, and other Russian subjects are involved and many of them. PARISIAN Sage, the delightful and invigorating hair tonic, is a fine hair nourisher. It penetrates into the scalp, gets to the roots of the hair, kills the chandruif germs, and supplies the hair with just the kind of nourishment it needs to make it grow abundantly.

Since its introduction into Canada PARISIAN Sage has had an immense sale, and here are the reasons:

It does not contain poisonous sugar of lead, nitrate of sliver or sulphur or any injurious ingredient.

It cures dandruif in two weeks, by killing the dandruff germ.

It stops falling hair.

It promptly stops itching of the scalp.

MEXICAN COLONY IN PARIS IS GROWING

Quiet Life and is Not

Paris, Jan. 10.-The Parisian colony Paris, Jan. 16.—The Parisian colony of Mexican statesmen, past and present, is fast increasing. Headed by former president Porfirio Diaz, as the most conspicuous figure, it now includes Adolfo de la Lama, Mexican minister of finance, who is visiting Paris and London to negotiate a loan for the Huerta government; Joseph Limantour, former Mexican minister of finance: Emanuel Garza Aldape, exof finance; Emanuel Garza Aldape, exminister of foreign affairs, of public instruction and of the interior; Wil-ilam de Linda, former governor of the federal district of Mexico; and Miguel Mexico.

General and Senora Diaz are living quietly in a family hotel in the Avenue des Champs Elysees. The general's room faces the Arc de Triomphe, comroom faces the Arc de Triomphe, com-memorating Napoleon's success. Here, where there is a fine view of the sur-roundings, the retired president spends, much of his time. Ministers who served under his government visit him now, and then, but General Diaz is somewhat deaf and this has increased what deaf and this has increased what dear and this has increased selire for retirement. none. Perfirio Diaz, Jr., also lives near his father and makes frequent calls. The impression among persons who know General Diaz and who have been ociated with him is that he is not the rich man he is supposed to be. He lives modestly, although paying $20 a day for his apartment, and while considered to be in confortable circumstances, his wealth is said not to be large. During his active life he paid but little aftention to matters of finance, it is said. The general seldom goes to the theatres, but takes freuent automobile rides about Paris. His step is sprightly and he appears to

"A Most Valuable Food

At a time when the preparation of artidical foodstuffs is receiving more attention then ever before, and when new forms of easily assimilable fat to take the place of codiver oil are being frequently brought to the notice of the medieal profession, it is desirable that some of the older forms of administering natural fats should not be lost sight of.
Among natural fats, butter easily takes first place for nutritive value, and when combined with a suitable soluble carbebydrate, a most valuable food is produced.

city's finances this year, ex-Alderman Stewart, the first speaker, declared that Mr. Gleason had brought down the dirtlest balance sheet ever presented by a finance committee to a council of the city of Victoria. They had actually taken $200,000 of the revenue of 1914 and used it for 1913 purposes, They had sold $20,000 of Jali bonds without any intention of putting up a fail. Some $7,000 of this had been used. The rest was lying in the bank drawing city's finances this year, ex-Alderma JA 80 1

The alderman closed his speech by the city six per cent.

"Frenzied finance," he called Mr. Gleason's system. In blaming Mr. Gleason for the city's present difficulties Mr. Stewart took his hearers back to 1911 when Alderman Gleason moved to give the paving contracts to the Canadian Mineral Rubber. company. Local improvement bonds could not be sold until the work was done and the rubber company had falled to complete its work. Consequently the money borrowed from the bank could not be repaid, and this was the cause of the huge overdraft from which the city was suffering. A sensible business man would have compelled those contracts to be finished or repudiated the contract with the company, but Alderman Glosed his speech by declaring, in according upon the city's rights in the Johnson Street bridge matter, opposed to allowing the C. Mr. Stewart produced a copy of a letter from the Bank of British North America from which Mr. Gleason had read a paragraph Tuesday night to the effect that the bank was ready to make the usal advances to the city against taxation. That Mr. Gleason had not read the whole letter Mr. Stewart charged, and read a passage in which the bank flatly refused money against debantures.

"You can't get a dollar for local im-provements," he declared, "and Mr. Heason has told you that he has re-stablished the city's credit."

Discussing the Gorge road paving contract the candidate said he had ap-plied at the city hall for the copy of plied at the city has for the copy of the agreement between the city and the C. N. R. company, but that it could not be found, having been convenient-ly mislaid for the time being.

Regarding the mayor's scheme to purchase the Leech River watershed. Mr. Stewart charged his opponent with falling into Mr. Morley's arms on the matter, and asked the electors if they did not want a man who gave questions more sorious consideration. stions more serious consideration on their merits than Alderman Gleaon with his everlasting siding the mayor had done.

"Our streets, on which we pride our-selves so much in Victoria have been permitted to become dirty again," pointed out the ex-aldermanic aspirant to the chief citizen's chair.

"They have let our streets get dirty to have a clean balance sheet, and I'd like to know how many men went without their Christmas dinner to gratify this penny-wise-pound-foolish

Mr. Stewart protested that the Voters' league had been circulating the rumor persistently that he was a joint proprietor of a saloon. Nothing was too small for that league, he stated, which knew how to carry on a campaign only by slander and villainy.

Alderman Gleason asked the auditance if some of these remarks had not trespassed upon the ground of pers ality and received a chorus of conflict-ality and received a chorus of conflicting answers.

Referring to the letter of the Bank of British North America and the statement that the city's credit had not been re-established Alderman Gleason said an earlier letter explained the one he had read. When Alderman Gleason assumed the chairmanship of the finance committee he stated he found cheques which the bank refused to cash although they bank refused to cash although they were signed by the mayor of the year 1912. Now the bank said it was prepared to make the usual advances. That he considered re-establishing the city's credit. He simply stated that Mr. Stewart was misinformed as to the council of 1913 taking 1914 revenue for current expenses.

A statement by ex-Alderman Stewart that he did not know what the fiscal agents were doing was replied to by Mr. Gleason with the statement that he did know, and that the agents were doing valuable work for the city.

The day was gone by when bonds could be sold by tender. The sums were too large now. Did Mr. Stewart imagine, he asked, that there would be competition to take up an issue of $2,000,000 or $3,000,000 of stock? Yet the facal agents had sold over $5,000,000 of bonds this year, and had obtained better prices than Toronto and Vancouver and even the province of British Columbia. An agent was needed, he stated, and he must be one with an influential connection to sell such big issues of Bonds.

Alderman Gleason stated that the Alderman Gleason stated that the difficulties were not over yet and asked the audience whether they wanted a man to face them who had wanted a man to face them who had run away and sat down because the problems were too big, or one who had stood by the ship throughout the danger. That for many months the finance committee never had a meeting without dread of the sheriff walking in was Mr. Gleason's interesting state-

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Vancouver Has Westminster's Number.

Only once has the Westminster team been able to administer a defeat to the Terminals, and that was in the opening match, when the Royals went out and won a clean cut victory on their opponents' ice. The Royals play exactly the same style of rushing game that the Terminals depend upon to win, with the result that Vancouver has won two games at the Royal Cfity by the odd goal. It is now up to Victoria to even up the count by taking a fail out of the Royals paxt Tuesday night, and follow this up with a victory over the Vancouver septette. Westminister will have a hard row to hoe if they are to figure in the championship fight, as they will be two games down, should they lose to Victoria Tuesday. On the other hand, a win for the Royals will give the Vancouver team a healthy lead that will practically give them a half nelson on the coast title.

Victoria Ball Magnates Active.

That Bert Delmas is a hustler may be judged from the fact that he has signed up more men to date than any former Victoria manager signed in a whole season. The popular pilot is making a big hit, as his clever trading and some of his deals would do credit to Connie Mack. The big trade was that of the pilot have the pilot between the pilot of the pilot pilot of the pilot some of his deals would do credit to Connie Mack. The big trade was that of Harry Meek for Babe Driscoll and Mike Wotell, but in securing Ashley Pope, Delmas has once more shown his David Harum instincts. This fellow Pope was easily the star of the California State league, and was formerly with the Oakland club. San Jose was loth to part with their star slab man, but Delmas simply had to have Pope, and here is how he swung the deal. San Jose wantedfour youngsters for Pope. Well, Del. goes to work, grabs three bushers and offers Floyd Brown, former Victoria hurler, in the bargain. Mike Steffani, the San Jose manager, jumped at the offer, and Victoria practically secured Pope, even up, for Brown. That the Bees have the best of the offer, only time can tell, but Pope is a real twirler, while all four players San Jose secured are very tell, but Pope is a real twirler, while all four players San Jose secured are very

Anniversary of British Pugliism.

To-day is the seventy-fourth anniversary of the establishment of the British Pugliistic association, and an important landmark in the history of the boxing game. It was this association which was responsible for the second revival of pugliism and the adoption of the London prize ring rules.

From the beginning of modern boxing, about two centuries ago, until about 1740, there were practically no rules, and matches were slaughter-house affairs in which brite strength and endurance always triumphed. This naturally aroused opposition to the game, but in 1740 Jack Broughton came along and formulated a code of rules that served its purpose for a century. No man was permitted to hit his opponent when down, or below the waist, and a man on his knees was reckoned down. A round ended only with a fall, and the contest was decided when one of the men was unable to proceed within thirty seconds after a fall.

Regulated by these rules and others with Regulated by these rules, and others which were gradually added, the boxing game flourished, and was much patronized by the aristocracy and even the royalty of England, until about 1830. Then the knockers got busy again, and the friends of the game saw that further concessions were necessary. The result was the British Puglilistic, association, formed on January 9, 1846, at a meeting in London. Under the London prize-ring rules the game again flourished for a time, and became as popular in America as in Europe.

Is the '60's opposition to the "manly art" again developed. Magistrates set their faces against such contests, and the British parliament passed a law probability of the contests, and the British parliament passed a law probability of the contests, and the British parliament passed a law probability of the rescue by launching the Amateur Athlettic club in 1866. This club countries the rescue by launching the Amateur Athlettic club in 1866. This club countries are now known as the Queensberry rules, which climinated many of the objectionable features of the game, and offered cups for amateurs and the siderable talk of the organization of a Queensberry code soon became general, while gloves were later adopted for all league. The games will be played at Dugdale's Park, if it can be arranged.

TO MEET BAYLEY

JOHNNY O'LEARY

Some hundred or more fight enthus lasts attended the snappy workout of Johnny O'Leary at the new Vancouver Island Athletic club yesterday afternoon.

The little Seattle boy worked from 3.30 to 4.30, and showed remarkable form. His training consisted of ten minutes punching to bag, a short spell hammering the Joe Grimm, and the remaining time boxing first At Davies three rounds, Harry Willis, Harry Motherall, and wound up with Scotty

This was O'Leary's final workout in this city. He left last night for Vanouver, where he will complete his raining at the Hastings Athletic club. Al Davies and the Seattle lightweight furnished some good mixing in their three-round go, and more than pleased three-round go, and more than pleased the large audience. His second go was with Willis, and the latter gave the Seattleite more of a chance to demonstrate his hitting ability, and more than once he jarred the local man. Manager Purcell announced that providing his protege whipped Bayley on Friday next he would be matched to fight Johnny Kilbane in San Francisco weight championship. O'Leary made many friends in this city, by the ag-gressive manner in which he fights, and he will receive plenty of backing by local fans, who saw him work. While many believe he will outbox th local boy, they are ready to admit that Joe carriers a more healthy wallop. Bayley and O'Leary are both willing to take a wallop in order that they might return one, so an excellent bou Manager Purcell invites any Victorians who might be in Vancouver in the course of next week to the Hastings A. C. to witness Johany in his training.

Al. Davies, according to Johnny O'Leary, can hold his own with Williams, 'Campi or any of the leading top notchers in the professional game. Manager Purcell concurred with O'Leary when he boosted Al. Davies, the Vancouver Island A. A. A. boy, as one of the cleverest youngsters that they had met for many months. Davies' aggressive boring in, and his ability to take and give a wallop, made a big hit with both O'Leary and Purcell. The Victoria bantam is being groomed for the coast title this season.

The game was one of the fastest and hardest played of the season and spectators were treated to a thrilling display. The players started out at top speed right from the jump, and kept up a remarkable pace throughout, there never being a dull moment in the entire hour's play. Vancouver showed much improvement in form over their same improvement in form over their game against Victoria here last Tuesday, while the Westminster team surprised the fans, the Vancouver team and themselves by introducing more combination into their play than they have ever above before In feet with teams. ever shown before. In fact both teams passed freely and without hesitation and while the rushes were generally of and while the rushes were generally of the two-man variety, both teams worked the passing game for all it was worth. It was a contest between two brilliant forward divisions backed by extraordinarily strong defences, and the fact that the score was kept down to such meagre proportions is a great tribute to the defence men of both teams in view of the speed and strength of the attacking forces.

ENORMOUS DEMANL FOR "FRUIT-A-TIVES

1,152,000 Boxes Sold Last Year

Six of These Fruit Liver Tablets for Every Man, Woman and Child in the Dominion

In seven short years, "Fruit-a-tives" has become the most famous and the most widely used medicine in Canada that has ever been introduced to the people of the Dominion. Even those who take "Fruit-a-tives" regularly and recommend these famous fruit juice tablets to their friends, probably have no idea of the enormous number of "Fruit-a-tives" that are being used by those wishing to regain their health.

Last year, over eight thousand gross boxes of "Fruittives" were sold. As there are one hundred, forty-four boxes in a gross, this means that over one million one hundred thousand boxes were sold in 1912. And this year, this number will be still further increased.

This means a box of "Fruit-a-tives" for every six persons in Canada, or six tablets for every man, woman and child in the country.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold in every section of the Dominion. On the rugged Atlantic coast, throughout the Maritime Provinces, among the French in Quebec and the English in Ontario, all over the great Prairie Provinces and on the shores of the Pacific, "Fruit-a-tives" is the best selling medicine in stock.

This is true because "Fruit-a-tives" gives results. For chronic Constipa-tion, indigestion and Stomach Trouble—for bad blood, Skin Eruptitons and Ec-zems—for Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago—for Kidney, Bladder and Uri-nary Troubles—"Fruit-a-tives" cures when nothing else will.

In the head office in Ottawa, are hundreds of letters and photographs from grateful men and women who have been cured of sickness and suffering by "Fruit-a-tives." Many of these letters and photographs have been publish-ed by permission and have induced other sufferers to try "Fruit-a-tives." This is one of the factors in the demand for "Fruit-a-tives," which is now sold in very city, town, hamlet and cross roads store.

The fon waists, giving an air of allu son, and the variety is not all confined woman of small means has as great a chance as her wealthier neighbor to obtain these, for her suit or gown. Moire, velours, velvet, serpentine crepe, and duvetyne are among the most popular of the season's fabrics. Moreover, it has been many a long day since; women were allowed to carry out their own individual taste in fashioning their garments, as they are to-day. It used to be, if a woman showed decided originality in her gowns, she was considered "queer," but nowadays she is Striking color contrasts are seen everywhere, and slowly the women of New York are taking up the light-colored sults which Paris has been holding forth for some time. It is hardly apt to be more than a passing whim; for though they are most charming, they are hardly practicable for the dust and dirt of our American cities. Still they will have their day, like many another of Dame Fashion's fads. Caf au lait is one of these attractive colors; this is a light soft tan about the shade of a delicious cup of coffee, with just the right amount of cream in it. Could anything be more beautiful than a coat of this color trimmed with martin or fitch fur? Other shades, such as biscuft, oyster, cypress green and even light pink, are to be seen on Fifth avenue occasionally and in the fashionable restaurants. fashlonable restaurants.

Many new style effects are tried out upon professional models by the manufacturers, who try to launch some of their original ideas by creating a demand in this way. A hip epaulette skirt was one of these, a modified repetition of the general's epaulette made to fit the hips instead of shoulders. This has been adopted very conservatively by a few restless women for whom style does not change quite fast enough.

The apron effect has been seen on some of the newest of the Parizian importations. It is not necessarily confined to the portion of the dress where conventional usage places it, but may appear with equanimity upon the hips or the back of the skirt. It is really a most effective mode of development. I mining. From Dawson and all the diggings of A'aska and the Yukon and from Nevada and California as well, experienced miners are preparing for the first opportunity to reach Shushanna. The boom is on in earnest for never has a gold camp shown such promise.

The biggest gold rush in history will be into Shushanna, the new Klondyke of Alaska, this spring. Men are now braving the rigors of an Arctic winter and "beating in" over perilous trails to be ahead of the stampede. Pioneers of the Yukon and Nevada freely predict that more of the precious metal will be taken out of Shushanna than from any camp in the history of gold

THE "BIG STRIKE"

That Shushanna is a gold camp of the first magnitude there can be no doubt. The original discovery claim produced $27,000 in gold within a few weeks and until winter set in men were panning $200 and $200 a day. Ten and twenty-dollar nuggets were found. Pioneers of the Klondyke now at Shushanna are preparing for active mining operation at the melting of the Ice. These pioneers call Shushanna "the Big Strike." William James, the discoverer, who, with his wife, "mushed it" for ten years in the far north, call it "the Big Strike." James brought out $30,000 in gold and goes back again in the spring. The Shushanna Mining and Trading Company, Limited, organized for the purpose of developing properties of proven value and to carry on a general trading and transportation business, was one of the first to get in "on the ground floor" of the camp. Already it has secured an interest in the very heart of the discovery, and gold in promising quantities has been found. Active operations will commence as soon was weather conditions permit.

THE ORGANIZATION

The Company has engaged J. W. Kager, a veteran miner and trader The Company has engaged J. W. Kager, a veteran miner and trauer of Alaska, as Field Manager, who will head a big corps of seasoned men inured to the life of the north and experienced in the technical work of mining. Trading posts will be established at the most advantageous spots in the district and a big supply of stores hurried in by the Company's own steamers (the first of which is being rushed to completion) and by pack train over the ice to these posts before the big rush reaches the camp. The first large and quick profits will be made from these supplies. from these supplies.

Here is what Mr. Kager writes in a letter to the Company: " Here is what Mr. Kager writes in a letter to the Company: ".
Being convinced that an opportunity such as occurs but once in a lifetime is now ripe for the establishment of a business such as you have inaugurated, I sen satisfied that in giving you the benefit of my experience I will also be working to my own advantage, in that I will be associated with a good outfit in a good country. There is a profit to be made on all goods out of proportion to their value once they are deliverel on the ground. The fact that they are there and that there is a demand for them sets the price."

MINING, TRADING AND TRANSPORTATION

MINING, TRADING AND TRANSPORTATION

The first of the Company's light draft steamers is being completed under the supervision of Captain N. R. Raymond, a navigator with years of experience in northern waters, who formerly operated the steamers "Pauline" and "Vidgite" on the White River. This first 3. M. & T. steamer will be in command of Captain Raymond, who writes: "Will have everything in readiness to ship to Whitehorse by the first week in March. , in time for the opening of navigation over Lebarge Lake, which is usually open the first week in June. . The boat will be 100 feet long by 19 foot beam, 3.7 depth of hold and equipped with two 4x48 engines, giving her the timest power with the lightest draft; saible in order to successfully navigate the White River.

". At Shushanna . . single claims are selling among the old-time mirers in Dawson for big prices, and large outfits are being taken in over the ice on the White River trail."

The S. M. & T. Company's steamers will also carry passengers and do a regular freighting business, and this will be a source of large revenue from the start, increasing with the growth of the camp and the district

The Shushenna Mining and Trading Company, Ltd., will acquire and develop properties of proyen value. A staff of mining engineers and exper's will be maintained on the ground and the company will not deal ir prospects or properties of fictitious value.

YOUR OPPORTUNTY AT SHUSHANNA

YOUR OPPORTUNTY AT SHUSHANNA

The organization of the Shushanna Mining and Trading Company presents your opportunity to share in the fortunes that will be taken out of this one of the greatest of all the big gold camps. For rn allotment of the Company's shares is now offered to the investing public—allowing you to get in on the ground floor of the camp at a low figure. Part of this allotment has been offered at 14 cents a share. The response to our firs' announcement has been instantaneous and enthusiastic, and only a small part of this 14-cent apportionment remains. When this is gone the price of the remaining available stock will be raised.

Read in the left-hand column of the fortunes made in mines and in the right-and column of the conservative policy of the Shushanna Mining and Trading Company and of the men behind it.

Remember that the great fortunes in mining have rarely been made by the prospectors or the discoverers of claims. It is the shareholders who have reaped the big dividends. The miners themselves have seldom the capital to develop their properties on a large scale. They find it more satisfactory to turn them over to a big organization with capital and existencial in development so, that they may realize quickly on their discovery. It is the history of mining that the fortunes have been made by the man who bought shares in the development companies at their leavestime and started in the development companies at their

Fortunes Made in Mining Stocks

Great fortunes have been made in the goldfields of the world, particularly in those of Australia, California, Alaska, and Nevada, but the great proportion of fortunes have been gathered, not by the miners themselves, but by the men who held stocks in the gold mines. The discoverers have often sold their proporties for a song.

As we make our way down the cob bled lane that zig-zags to the harbor, we get a first glimpse of the famous sky-blue nets of Finisterre. Yet it is a blue deeper than the sky, deeper and finer than the smoke of olive fires at early morning in a vale of Tuscany. Rather is it the blue of a cloud of corn-flowers sun-dazzled in a golden field of wheat. Filmy as cobwebs and floating in the waft of the wind, they contribute a charming note of color to the grey street. The cottages of Breton granite have images of the Virgin inset in the corner stones, and yet we cannot but remark on the number of Dram-shops. They remind us that the Breton fisherman is a, toper, a boastful, systematic one, feeling the need no doubt-for this outlet for his savage virility, and knowing that there is always for him the sobering of the sea. They paint the quay a khalabrown, these brawny sardinlers, lounging, rolling their clearettee, and adjourning in gangs to their favorite buvette.

chair made a fucus turn in the desperate furnished look, and in the desperate furnished look, and in the desperate furnished look, and in the desperate placed as far apart as possible. Indeed, the distance between the bed and the wash-stand was so great that I usually made the trip on my bisycle, which fortunately I had taken to my room.

An Element of Chance That night I reached Concarneau, the dean of the sardine towns. Much has it been famed in song and story, and I looked forward to it as the climax of my tour; but alas! as often disappointment dogged anticipation. A fishing village is delightful; a fishing town is banal. All I could find to admire in Concarneau was its harbor the brown boats from whose mast fluttered the emblem of its prosperity those dainty nets blue as an azure flame. And from that fairy fleet boats were constantly breaking away, hoisting sails of russet and amber an hoisting sails of russet and amber and leaping into the pathway of the setting sun. Others kept arriving, watched by curious crowds as they revealed the luck of the sea. With its freedom and its danger there is that element of chance in a fisherman's calling that makes it with that of the prospector and the trapper one of the most fascinating ways of fighting the battle of life.

Walled Town, Hoary With Age.

Ancient Concarneau, wrinkled, dod-dering, unkempt, stands on an Island in the middle of the harbor. It is a walled town, hoary with age and se-ductive with interest. By its groanductive with interest. By its groaning draw-bridge eagerly you invade it, but even more eagerly do you retreat.
More effective than a sortie of halberdiers is the filth of its malodorous streets. Yet with its houses dark as kennels it shows us how meanly, our fathers were contented to live. So we turn hopefully to modern Concarneau, only to find it the slatternly daughter of its mother, an oleachingus town, with of its mother, an oleaginous town, with drunken men, slummy streets, frowsy hovels, and puny, scrofulous shildren.

Next morning I rode to old Quimper, and there I admired the gables and harkened to the fables of that curious old town. I had made a circuit of the fisher-folk of Finisterre.

strength depends upon prudent economic measures.

Streets and roads that are now impassable must be temporarily improved.

The street-cleaning workmen should also clean the ordinary streets as well as those already paved.

I shall advocate employment of citizens upon all public works.

The harbor bridge, open spaces and parks, waterworks and sewer system, library and hospitals, and all public institutions, shall have my unbiased consideration and assistance.

Having firm faith in the great future of Victoria, I stand generally for a policy of effective municipal progress conducted on sound business lines.

I shall esteem it an honor to represent my native city in the city council, and respectfully solicit your support and influence.

Yours faithfully,

For Alderman

To the Electors of Victoria:

As a candidate for Alderman at the coming election I may say that I was a member of the Council of 180, and was chairman of the streets and sowers tommittee for that year. I am willing that you judge me by my weyk and policy during that time. I endeavored to run municipal matters on strictly business lines, and if elected sha!: still try to do so. It is apparent to anyone taking an interest in financial conditions that the Council for 1714 will be forced to practice a judicious economy.

For Alderman

The taxes this year should be reduced, and will be so far as I am concerned if it can be done; but you must realize that the City is beginning to feel the heavy charge the City Debt creates upon its revenue now that its share of the Local Improvement works authorized since 1910 must be paid, and the norcease in the cost of Sooke Lake Waterworks from $1.50,000 to $3,000,000 taken ceres of.

These are matters for most serious consideration, as is the continually increasing cost of education, which must be provided for.

I have done my best to represent you faithfully, without fear or favor, and I think that this year I have helped to

For Alderman

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Yielding to the persistent request of a large number of Victoria's leading citizens, I have consented to offer myself as a candidate at the forthcoming election.

If elected, I will use my utmost endeavor to secure for Victoria the establishment of new industries, believing that this is one of our city's most pressing needs.

Having been a resident for over twenty years, and having had two years' experience as an alderman, I feel that I am sufficiently well known to entitle me to ask for your support.

HUMAN PROCESSION

Brunswick, fifty-four years ago to day, and came of United Empire Loyalist stock. His early boyhood was spent in his native village on the Bay of Fundy, where sea and sky and marsh and forest and purple, misty hills combine to delight the eye, Later the Roberts family removed to the city of Fredericton, where the future author was educated at the Collegiate school, under Dr. Parkin, the imperial federationist orator, and at the University of New Brunswick. At the latter institution he won the Douglass medal for Latin and Greek, the alumnimedal for Latin essay, and graduated with high honors in ethics, political economy and metaphysics. It was at about this time, when he had not yet reached his majority, that he began to write verse, which was published in leading magazines in both Canada and the States. For a brief period he was headmaster of a grammar school at Chatham, in his native province, but he soon abandoned the occupation of pedagogue and became a journalist. At twenty-three he accepted the position of editor of The Week, a Toronto publication owned by Goldwin Smith. The first volume bearing his name, a collection of verse entitled "Orion and Other Poems," was published when the author was only twenty. Seven years elapsed before "In Divers Tones," another book of verse, came from the press, and in the meantime Roberts had returned to educational work as a member of the faculty of King's college, Nova Scotia. While engaged as professor of English and French literature and of English and economies at the Nova Scotia college, Mr. Roberts found time to indulge his bent for literature, and the volumes of prose and poetry that came from his pen spread his fame abroad. Leading critics of America and English halled him as a coming man and

Native Sons' Ball Was One of Biggest Successes of So-

It is necessary to deal in superlatives in describing the brilliantly successful ball which took place under the auspices of the Native Sons' Post No. 1, at the Empress hotel yesterday evening. Never have the rose-shaded lights of the fine ball-room looked down on a more lovely seens than was presented from 9 o'clock to an early hour this morning, when upwards of 400 guests danced joyously to the entrancing strains of Mr. Heaton's fifteen-piece strains of Mr. Heaton's fifteen-piece orchestra.

The committee had worked assidu-ously for some weeks past to ensure that every detail of the entertainment should be of the very best, and they were indefatigable last night in looking after the guests' enjoyment.

At 11 o'clock everybody adjourned to the dining-room, where a dainty supper was served, the tables being tastefully decorated with scarlet carnations and trails of smillar the crystal bowls. fully decorated with scarlet carnations and trails of smilax in crystal bowls. It had been arranged that during supper the orchestra should be augmented so that the men should all be enabled to have intervals for refreshment, and dancing went on merrily, several extra dances being inserted in the programme at this juncture.

A special feature of the music which must be noted was the performance on the zylophone of Jimmy Watson during the encores, and special numbers. A delightful programme of the newest music had been arranged, and two and three encores to every dance were demanded.

MANAGER SPERLING

statement from General Manage Sperling was issued to-day commen ng on the reports of the annual meet ing of the company's shareholders and stating that the article agreed in gen-the company on its investment and the many disturbles reports which are constantly circulated against the company. I know that it was as a result of such expressions that during 1913 the London board was often approached by sharehoiders to withhold capital expenditures almost entirely. The loard, however, did not deem it fair to take this drastic stap, and even during the difficult conditions provailing lest year, did make very considerable capital outlay to meet public demands and convenience.

"Concerning the shareholder's opinion as to the return on the company's investment, there was certainly ground for the statements made at the meet-ing. During 1912 every Canadian city, municipality or industrial enterprise which secured money on the London market was obliged to pay higher interest rates than in previous years. Yet at the annual meeting our shareholders were compelled to consider a report which showed an even smaller report which showed an even smaller report which showed an even smaller return on the capital invested than in the previous year, and to note the opinion expressed by the chairman to the effect that next year's report might not be even as good. I will leave it to any business man faced with such a condition as to whether he would not have spoken just as did some of our shareholders at the meeting in question.

CHARGE IS DISMISSED.

Guilty of Crowding the Aisles on Christmas Day.

On the evening of Christmas day constable Heatley had to call the atention of Lim Kee, the manager of the Chipese theatre, to the fact that there were patrons standing in the aisle at the rear of the auditorium. This matter was reported to the frechief by the fireman on duty, and he laid an information which resulted in Lim Kee being in court to-day with his counsel, H. B. Robertson, on a charge of breaking the civic by-law in that respect.

Constable Heatley's evidence showed, however, that when he called attention to the men standing in the passage they were at once shown to seats. Chief Davis stated that he had talked to Lim Bang, Tim Kee and Lim Kee about the conduct of the house, telling about the conduct of the house, telling them that if they did not conduct a clean theatre and observe the law he would see that it was closed. "City Prosecutor Harrison fell that a charge could not be sustained against the house and so told the magistrate, whereupon the case was dismissed.

"THE GONDOLIERS" IS ADMIRABLY PRESENTED

/ictoria Amateur Operatic Society Marks Its First Appearance by Success

To the large audience that filled the Royal Victoria theatre last evening to hear "The Gondollers" there was little to indicate that the performance they were witnessing and listening to was given by the Victoria Amateur Oper-atic society. In fact, had it been the sixth or earth production of the operatta in public instead of the first, none could be blamed for the belief that they were enjoying the work of an ag-gregation of professional artists train-ed to the stage. It was the initial appearance of the society, and its success in this first of its ventures gives assurance that Vic-torians have in it a musical and dratorians have in it a musical and dra-matic hody of which all may feel justly, proud. There were several in the audi-ence last night who had taken part 28 years ago in the production of "The Pirates of Penzance," with which the Victoria theatre was opened, and they will probably be quite ready to admit that there has been since then no-amateur operatic society and no pro-duction of a Gilbert and Sullivan classic to equal that under discussion. In presenting the operatta the society observes all the traditions. There are precedents lingering from the old days in regard to Gilbert and Sullivan productions—one that the players must take their personages wholly serious-ly, and neither clown nor gag; the ond counsels the utmust and aptness of enunciation, with a nice need to the intricacles of the Gilbertian need to the intricacies of the Gilbertian, rhythms, and the third insists on adroit performance in the orchestra below and or the stage above of the purely musical part of the play. The deadly and besetting Br. of lew comedians in English, American and Anglo-American light opera is to gag, to throw new light, as they think, on old pieces, but this is not the way of the Savoy operetta. The three-fold precedent is being strictly followed by the singers in the present care, even though, as happened a couple of times last night, the nicety of the Gilbertian rhymes and the point of the topical allusions did nicety of the Gilbertian rhymes and the point of the topical allusions did not seem to reach many in the house. Always one expects to find nervous-ness on the part of the performers in the case of an amateur production. This was present last night, and hardly one escaped it, but it was so fleeting in its duration that it is on that accoun-worth notifier. The currian had not its duration that it is on that account worth noting. The curtain had not been up five minutes on the opening chorus before the singers had found their feet, so to speak, and were attacking the melody clearly and fluently. It was not possible to make out the words at all times, but this is not a fault of apateurs alone.

words at all times, but this is not a fault of anateurs alone.

Comparison with professionals, of course, seems natural. Truth to tell, it is scarcely a compliment to do so, in many ways the performance was far ahead of what would be afforded by a theatrical organization. The chorus, for instance, was something to rave over. In youth and beauty, daintiness and grace, freshness of voice and perfection of charm, the young ladies who he character. A regal Casilda was Miss F. Goodwin Barton, who possesses a beautiful voice, of which she has great control, and her sense of the histrionic values of her part enable her to make it one of the features of the performance.

Mrs. D. B. McConnan is the grand dame to refer the control of the performance. Mrs. D. B. McConnan is the grand dame to perfection as the Duchess of Plaza Toro, and of a somewhat thankless part makes one to hold the attention of the house by her singing and her impersonation of the haughty lady. The gondolieri, Marco and Guiseppe Falmieri, are being played by Eric Pilkington and F. E. Petch, who in voice, appearance and conception of their characters are fully equal to the their characters are fully equal to the requirements, J. F. Bennett is the Grand Inquisitor, and J. V. these low comedy roles with a due sense of the needs of the parts as Gibert wrote them. R. B. Mackenzie is quite good as the awkward attendant on the duke in the first act, and looks handsome and kingly in the last scene as the rightful monarch.

Misses Rita Gardiner, Hewitt and Winifred Anthony as contadini, and T. H. Holman, R. D. Rowell and S. G. Clarke as gondolieri, are able leaders of the chorus, and in the small part of the old nurse who holds the key to the secret, Mrs. J. F. Bennett did all that was required. The members of a chorus that is larger than is seen in the ordinary road show are: Mesdames Anderson, Bell, Buss, Burgess, M. Barton, L. K. Cotsworth, Elworthy, Foot, Graham, King, Kellett, Clark, Langtry, Lancaster, Matthews, P. Rosher, M. Roblinson, O. Robinson, Raddish, Whitton, Wallace, Wallace, G. Watson, M. More than a word of praise is due to R. Hamilton Earle, who is the musical director, while behind the scenes Bernard Tweedale is keeping the performance of Gaelic in Scotland was given in the last census as 20,388, as against 220,896 in 1901. Speakers of Gaelic alone numbered 25,107 in 1901.
