

SI MONUMENTUM REQUIRIS, CIRCUMSPICE

(If you seek a monument, look around you.)

Wiki Loves Monuments was an international photo competition for cultural heritage, organised by Wikimedia in September 2013.

Wikimedia is the movement behind Wikipedia, the free encyclopædia — a global collaboration authored by volunteers.

Check out the winning pictures and rediscover the cultural, historical and scientific significance of places all around the world.

WIKI loves monuments

Photos, top-to-bottom, left-to-right: Monastery and chateau in Zbraslav, Prague, Czech Republic, by Zdeněk Fiedler; Convent of Norbertine Sisters in Kraków, Poland, by Jar.cirius; Friedrich-von-Thiersch-Hall in the Kurhaus, Wiesbaden, Germany, by Martin Kraft; Wiesener Viadukt between Wiesen and Filisur, Switzerland, by David Gubler; Budapest Keleti railway station, Budapest-District VIII, Hungary, by Németh Tibor; university library of Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest, Hungary, by Thaler; Tamsás Thaler; staircase in weaver house, Nadrzeczna 2, Nowa Ruda, Poland, by Jar.cirius. Wiki Loves Monuments logo by Lusitana. All pictures are released under the CC-BY-SA 3.0 license <<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-sa/3.0/legalcode>> and can be found on Wikimedia Commons <<https://commons.wikimedia.org>>.

Wiki Loves Monuments thanks Europa Nostra for their support.

WWW.WIKILOVESMONUMENTS.ORG