

THE BIG GAME SATURDAY

Narberth and Dun & Co. in Deadlock For Baseball Supremacy of Main Line League—Play-off at Narberth at 3 P. M.—Greatest Finish in History of League

Officially the Main Line Base Ball League schedule closed September 23d, R. G. Dun & Co. forging into the lead over Narberth by winning out 2 to 0 in one of the best exhibitions of the national sport ever played along the Main Line. Narberth, however, had the advantage of two games to play off and proved equal to the emergency and won both games from Wayne and West Phillies. This leaves the league standing with Dun & Co. and Narberth deadlocked for the supremacy with a record of twenty-one games won and six lost.

The play-off game has been arranged for this Saturday, October 14th, weather permitting, on the Narberth grounds, play to be called at 3 o'clock sharp. There had been considerable speculation as to where the game would be played, but consideration was taken of the fact that the fans of the Main Line are the ones interested and justly entitled to the game. Narberth field is in good condition and when the Narberth management placed a most sportsman-like proposition of fifty-fifty with the league officials, it was most acceptable to the Dun & Co. team.

Main Line Classic.

Base ball fans are just resting from the excitement produced by the keen races in the major leagues only to have a deadlock in the Main Line as an appetizing morsel to relish along with the World's Series.

In a normal season the best club invariably establishes its right to the leadership of the league by September 1st, but this has been by far more than a normal season. Competent critics, at the opening of the present season, picked one or the other of the two clubs to win out with Bon-Air as a possible contender. Dun & Co. has held the pace most of the season. The Narberth Champions displacing them on two occasions, only to be dislodged the following week by strange coincidence, the Wayne Suburbanites pulling the trick both times. Bon-Air wrought havoc with the Dun Tourists, especially on September 16th, when they anticipated clear sailing, only to lose out and give Narberth the lead, which they promptly regained only, however, after playing through eleven innings of great ball.

That these two clubs well deserve their standing can be shown by the fact that they fully displayed their superiority, especially over the second division teams. The Berwyn Pirates was the only club in the second division to gain a victory over either, the Pirates copping one from each team.

Dun & Co. made a gallant fight for the lead in 1915, their first season in the Main Line. Playing good clean ball and being hampered with all the trials and terrors met by a traveling team without faltering, has quite naturally made them numerous friends among the fans in the Main Line circuit. Then again Narberth has her own following augmented by the fans who are anxious to see the championship stay with a Main Line burg rather than a traveler from the city of Philly capture the bunting.

Many of these attended the game two weeks ago in Narberth, but this week many, many more will be there with the spirit of rivalry existing in this, the greatest of Main Line League races. Dun & Co. won the opening game of the season from Narberth and the last scheduled game, while Narberth came through winners in the two games of July 4th and the following Saturday, thus like the standing, the series is tied.

Who Will It Be?

With two clubs of this calibre coming thundering down the home stretch neck and neck, it is a rather difficult task to choose the winner. Both are formidable, hard playing aggregations with the relative playing strength, both offensive and defensive, practically equal, so much so that no two expert critics could agree on their merits.

In a case of this kind, where one game decides the issue, it being too late now to play a three-game series, the breaks of the game or a lucky fluke hit at the opportune time, then again there is the chance of a "Snodgrass muff" or "Merkle bone" that decides the issue.

Bob Gibson, the premier twirler of the Narberth Champs, showed that he was capable of battling with the Dun & Co. moundsman, Reed, imported from another league of single letter standing. When Gibson is right, he is the man to carry the hopes of most any club. If Reed pitches and twirls the article of ball he did in the eleven inning game recently, then the fans can anticipate another great pitchers' duel.

Everything is in readiness. All the fans can hope for is good weather conditions. The Main Line pennant race for 1916 has been the best ever and the writer congratulates both clubs on their great showing, which has added so much to the best interest of the league, and may the best team win the championship.

Opportunity Knocks at the Door

Everybody admits the value of advertising. It is the most powerful aid to salesmanship in existence, when properly used. The medium must be one that reaches ALL of your trade regularly. The psychological effect of keeping your name and the character of your goods or the kind of service you give constantly before your customers is enormous.

The merchants and craftsmen of Narberth have an unexcelled opportunity, in the columns of OUR TOWN, to obtain the best possible results from a very small investment in this most potent force of publicity. The paper is sent to every family in town, whether paid for or not, and is carefully read by everybody for its news items and notices of every local organization. It is a hundred times more effective than circulars and "dodgers" left at the door, which are not only expensive, but illegal. For the small additional cost of composition, your advertisement can be changed every week, to suit the requirements of your business.

OUR TOWN has achieved an established position in Narberth, but, to be successfully continued, needs your advertising support. For any money spent in this way you will be many times repaid by increased business. Send for Mr. Henry C. Gara, our advertising manager, and give him your contract for the current volume, just beginning. You will be surprised at the low rates, and at the results obtained.

EVERYBODY HAD A GOOD TIME AT THE TENNIS DINNER DANCE

Celebration at Elm Hall Last Saturday Evening Marks the End of Successful Season

Narberth folks were treated to a new kind of three-in-one social affair last Saturday night. It took place at Elm Hall, and the occasion was the dinner, the presentation of the prize winners' cups and the dance of the Narberth Tennis Association. Everybody, including Ralph Hall and a tall young man who said his name was Pattison, had a good time, and everybody agreed that there wasn't any question but that it was one of the most successful social gatherings ever held in the borough. It is only fair, therefore, that Messrs. Hall and Greene the committee in charge, and Walter Cowin, Sr., the president of the association, who presided, and W. R. D. Hall, who made the presentation speeches, should be thanked and commended.

The guests numbered three score and one, and the dinner was served at two long tables, stretching nearly the full length of the hall.

In addressing the association's members and guests, President Cowin said he had no intention of making the occasion a business meeting, but that he did want the members to consider the matter of securing permanent grounds, and whether the necessary funds should be raised by an increase in the dues or by other means. He also called attention to the question of buying the present grounds or locating elsewhere, and asked the members to think over these matters and to come to the annual meeting which will be held in the spring, prepared to make suggestions.

Tournament Committee's Report.
Mr. Cowin then read the report of the Tournament Committee, which follows:

The Tournament Committee for 1916 begs to submit the following preliminary report of this year's fall tournament:

With the largest membership in the history of the association this, the thirteenth annual fall tournament was the largest ever held and we believe that in the interest shown and as a whole in the quality of play it surpassed all others.

The winners are as follows:
Men's Singles, W. J. Kirkpatrick.
Men's Doubles, F. M. Justice and A. T. Grugan.

Ladies' Singles, Mrs. A. M. Watts.
Ladies' Doubles, Mrs. W. R. D. Hall and Miss C. Justice.
Mixed Doubles, Miss C. Justice and F. M. Justice.

Consolation Tournament—Men's Singles, Owen Humphreys; Men's Doubles, A. M. Watts and R. O. Hall; Ladies' Singles, Mrs. W. I. Dothard; Ladies' Doubles, Miss M. Harris and

Miss M. McCoy; Mixed Doubles, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Watts.

The By-Laws of the association do not directly provide for a Tournament Committee, but Article 3, Section 5, provides that the Board of Government shall appoint certain committees and "may elect others at its discretion." Your Tournament Committees are thus elected by the Board of Government and have made their own rules for conducting our tournaments along lines calculated to give the greatest possible enjoyment to everyone. Objections to their arrangements have, however, been raised at times, and in view of these criticisms and the growth of the club, your committee feels that the time has come when certain questions that have arisen should be passed upon by the association as a whole at the next annual meeting.

We wish to suggest three questions for your consideration and discussion before spring:

The first is, should the committee having made the drawings, prepare a schedule on which events are to be played off with a default as the penalty for failure to do so, or is the present plan preferable?

Secondly—The club membership having increased to a point where the courts are in demand every playing day, should more than two courts be reserved for tournament play?

The third question is on the status of women members in the tournament. This subject your committee confesses to embarrassment in dealing with, but considers it of compelling importance. We have found a division of opinion in the club, some holding that the rules relative to the use of the courts by women should be enforced even more strictly in the future than in the past, while others favor the amending or removal of these restrictions. Your committee accepts full responsibility for the use

EDITORIAL.

We extend our most heartfelt sympathies to those residents of Narberth in whose families that much-dreaded disease, infantile paralysis, has appeared. Happily, the number of cases has been few, with, we understand, but two deaths. The hearts of our residents have never been more profoundly stirred than by these cases, appearing in the most unexpected quarters, and causing such deep anxiety and concern in the families of the stricken ones. The mysterious malady, of which so little is as yet known, and the manner of whose propagation is not understood, is arousing apprehension among all who have loved children in their households. The only safety seems to lie in the speedy advent of cold weather, which it is hoped will soon come and end the epidemic.

Apropos of the editorial in last week's issue concerning the advantages to be gained by a community survey, and as an illustration of the present day tendency of municipalities to provide every possible opportunity for the physical and moral uplift of the children and the entertainment and comfort of the older inhabitants, we print a partial list of questions that is being sent to the authorities of every municipality in the State by the Bureau of Municipal Statistics and Information in the Department of Labor and Industry. The character of these questions shows a deep and growing conviction that attention to such details is not only a proper field for municipal endeavor, but tends to promote the best type of citizenship.

Many municipalities have recognized this need, and have done nobly in creating public playgrounds and parks, furnishing vacant lots for cultivation, rent free, equipping libraries, swimming pools, and the like. In fact, not to take part in such activities, brands a community as being behind in the march of progress.

In some instances, as in Narberth, private individuals, associated as civic associations or improvement associations, have undertaken this work, with more or less encouragement on the part of the local authorities. It is, however, a legitimate field for the whole body of the people, that commends itself to the thoughtful attention of those in power.

Have you a home and school league?
Have you a parent-teacher association?

Have you a municipally maintained men's clubhouse?

Have you a municipally maintained woman's clubhouse?

Have you a municipally maintained boys' clubhouse?

Have you a municipally maintained girls' clubhouse?

Have you free singing classes?

Has the municipality facilities for caring for women strangers in town?

Give number and area of parks.

Give number of playgrounds in parks.

Give number of playgrounds not in parks.

Give number of playgrounds attached to schools.

What kind of gymnasium equipment have you in playgrounds?

Have you playground instructors? Give number.

Have you municipal swimming pools? Give number.

Have you swimming teachers? Give number.

Have you municipal tennis courts? Give number.

Have you basket ball cage or ground set apart for that purpose?

Have you municipal base ball grounds? Give number.

Have you municipal golf course? On what terms and conditions is it open to the public?

Have you municipal boathouses? How are boats obtained?

Have you municipal skating ponds? Have you municipal skating rinks?

Have you municipal dancing pavilions for summer use?

Have you municipal dance halls for winter use?

Are public street dances allowed on paved highways?

Have you free moving picture theatres?

Are community camps provided for children?

Have you public band concerts provided by the municipality?

Is the use of public school buildings allowed for other than school purposes such as public meetings, parents' meetings, entertainments, etc.?

What are the chief agencies through which community welfare work is to be conducted?

How supported?

Is there any clearing house for the conservation of community activities and service? If so, what?

Has there been a sympathetic committee survey made with the idea of serving and improving community work? If so, when and by whom?

Could such a survey be made in your community? If so, who would back it?

It is a matter of regret that our Burgess is compelled to return the above list of questions unanswered, as these inquiries refer only to activities conducted by the community and paid for out of municipal funds and not to private enterprise along the lines indicated.

MORE ABOUT A COMMUNITY SURVEY.

A Group of Investigations.

The suggestion made by "Our Town" last week to organize a Narberth Survey Committee has met with so much approval that this week we are giving still further information about this particular type of social activity.

The survey is distinctly a community enterprise. It describes conditions in a definite geographical area, and it requires the co-operation of all interested in that area. Recognition of the complexity and the wide ramifications of social problems have made the survey different from other investigations. Many of these, for instance, are studies, close scrutinies, or examinations into some one problem which is more or less complete in itself; such, for example, as a study of the vital statistics of a city, the finances of the health department, the city's milk inspection work, etc. The social survey, on the other hand, is a group of such investigations. In other words, a survey is a scrutinizing of such individual and related subjects as knot themselves together into the larger community problems. The value of this co-ordinated inquiry, however, does not minimize that of specialized work along any one line. The comparison is here made merely to point out that the two types of work are different and that the function of the survey is to gather the information for attacking along many related lines, and for enabling the improvement agencies to fit their work together in a united front.

Co-Operation Necessary.

To attack municipal problems in their larger aspects and their various bearings, the community must work together. This is essential. And co-operation is growing easier. With even the larger and more densely populated city areas now connected with a working center by the telephone, by cheap and better transportation, by the daily press, the typewriter and the multigraphing machine, thus releasing these areas from earlier difficulties of distance and slow communication, it is possible for interested men and women to get together in larger units—and to work more effectively. The survey, by dealing with many subjects, affords a rallying center as well as the so-called psychological moment, for arousing the whole community to organized co-operative, and, therefore, more forceful action—often along the very lines where intermittent, unrelated efforts had previously been made without result. Thus the survey through the authority and the authenticity of its facts not only educates the whole community but through its uniting of interests promotes co-operative community action, believing that we have yet touched only the remote fringes of the latent power of the community for good when aroused to think in terms of the whole and to act as an organized unit.

of the courts by women members during the tournament just ended, believing that matches were arranged at all times with the sole purpose of bringing the tournament to a successful conclusion. But your committee feels that the status of women members and the policy of the club towards them is in need of attention by the membership before another season begins. Your committee, while in no wise wishing to influence the decision of the membership, feels it a duty to call attention to the fact that during the tournament just concluded, the interest of the gallery centered quite as much on the matches participated in by women members as on the other matches.

Respectfully submitted,

W. R. D. HALL,

W. J. KIRKPATRICK,

C. L. WARWICK,

W. COWIN, Chairman,

Tournament Committee.

In reading the list of winners in past tournaments, which he said he believed would be of interest to everyone, Mr. Cowin, caused a lot of laughter by remarking that certain names occurred so frequently that he feared they might become monotonous. The list follows:

Singles.

1904—J. M. Wilbur.
1905—F. M. Justice.
1906—F. M. Justice.
1907—F. M. Justice.
1908—F. G. Warner.
1909—F. G. Warner.
1910—F. G. Warner.
1911—F. G. Warner.
1912—C. Nevin.
1913—F. G. Warner.
1914—F. G. Warner.
1915—W. J. Kirkpatrick.
1916—W. J. Kirkpatrick.

Doubles.

1904—Wilbur-Cowin.
1905—Graham-Reiff.
1906—Graham-Reiff.
1907—Graham-Reiff.
1908—Justice-Cowin.
1909—Graham-Reiff.
1910—Justice-Warner.
1911—Justice-Warner.
1912—Justice-Warner.
1913—Bentz-Snyder.
1914—Bentz-Snyder.
1915—Kirkpatrick-Town.
1916—Justice-Grugan.

But the only monotony seemed to be hearty and generous applause every time Mr. Cowin mentioned the names of Justice and Warner.

The Presentations.

Mr. W. R. D. Hall proved himself a veritable silver-toned orator when it came to presenting the silver cups to the tournament winners. He started off by thanking and praising the Dinner Committee; suggested that the dinner be made an annual affair and then proceeded with more words of praise for each and every winner. In awarding the cup for the Ladies' Singles championship to Mrs. Alfred Miller Watts, Mr. Hall called upon Mr. Kirkpatrick, the winner of Men's Singles championship, to make the presentation, and later asked Mrs. Watts to present the cup for the Men's Singles championship to Mr. Kirkpatrick.

At the Tables.

But who and all were there? Well, at one table sat Mr. and Mrs. William J. Du Bree, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Felton, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Greene, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. D. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cowin, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph O. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. James McKell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Pattison, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Warwick, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Miller Watts, Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Branner, Mr. Fred G. Warner, Miss Linda Jacoby, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Grugan. And at the other table were Mr.

Miller Burkhardt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Shaw, Miss Madeline McCoy, Miss Mildred Harris, Mr. Charles McCarter, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd P. Drinker, Mr. Robert M. Town, Mr. Butterworth, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Foote, Miss Ruth Diamond, Mr. William J. Harris, Jr., Mr. Allan Kirk, Miss Ethel Ridge, Mr. W. Frank Baer, Miss Linda Kirk, Miss Mary Rowand, Mr. William Kirk, Miss Carol Justice, Mr. F. Millwood Justice, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Muschamp, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Newell, Mr. Richard Wallace, Mr. Newton Compton, Miss Beatrice Lough, Mrs. P. L. Reed.

And after all the oysters were gone, and the last cup had been presented, the chairs were pushed back to the wall and the floor cleared, and then everybody just danced and danced and danced.

COMMUNICATIONS

To the Editor of Our Town:—

The writer of the second editorial in issue of Our Town of October 5th, certainly says something in his suggestion relative to a "Narberth Survey Committee" which should be appointed by the president of the Civic Association promptly to work out "community-wide relations" which will deal with our "whole" district as outlined in the "definition of a survey." This is so vital a suggestion that it should be treated with more than a passing thought and should produce results far beyond what can be imagined at first glance.

Thinker.

To the Editor of Our Town:—

The lines appearing in last week's issue as follows:—

"The sign boards were put up by the Civic Association for the use of every one in the borough and the only rule that must be followed is first come, first served. Surely there are not so many affairs going on in our town that there is not room for every notice," are wrong.

The sign or bulletin boards were put up by the Men's Club of the Presbyterian Church and so marked, as will be noted by reading the lettering on the head board of each bulletin board: "The two church boards were erected by the combined churches."

COLLECTION OF TAXES.

Lower Merion Turns $179,000 Into the County Treasury.

County Treasurer George H. Anders on Monday received from William B. Francis, township treasurer of Lower Merion, $179,000.

The money represents county tax collected on account of personal tax and of property assessed in this first-class township.

This return represents an assessment at the rate of two mills (the county tax rate on real estate, and four mills, the State tax on money invested), upon a total of $89,500,000, as returned by Assessor Albert Lee. It is by far the largest return received from any one township or borough in the county.

NOT ALL GOING TO SCHOOL

ear of Infantile Paralysis Keeps Some Pupils Away.

Main Line schools opened Monday in Lower Merion, Upper Merion, Radnor, Haverford, Tredyffrin and East-town townships, and in Narberth borough. Many parents of younger children did not send their youngsters to school for fear of the infantile paralysis epidemic, and school officials said no action would be taken for a week or ten days to enforce attendance.

Lower Merion township put to work a fleet of four motor buses, used for transporting the pupils from their homes to school.

NARBERTH'S CUB REPORTER A GENIUS WITH PEN

Would Give Up a $10,000 Year Job to Help Edit Our Town

To the Editor of Our Town:—

Since my last week's article in your paper, I have received so many sincere compliments that I am satisfied my future as a journalist is assured.

My friends have advised me to engage with one of the metropolitan dailies, believing that such talent as mine is not fully appreciated by an obscure sheet like "Our Town." However, in spite of the pressure which has been brought on me to transfer my services elsewhere, I have decided to sacrifice my interests for those of my home town, feeling that you will soon realize my value and increase my compensation accordingly. To leave you and your readers in the lurch now would be a sore disappointment to you all and work a hardship from the consequences of which you would not soon recover.

Kennedy Duff will soon exhibit his latest folly to his fellow townsmen. As soon as it gets here he will learn to drive. Is there no law that prevents such a wanton sacrifice of human life in our happy little borough? We live in imminent peril as it is with delivery wagons and furniture vans using our streets for race tracks, and now to make it worse, we are threatened with this new horror.

The contractors on the new school house have had to change their plans. When they saw young Gilbert Ford and George Rose, they decided to put in some special reinforcing material. The children have dubbed young Ford "three-sixty."

The dahlia king is disgusted with his year's crop. Try pickles next year, Kink.

Bill Cummer is through for the season. Not a shark left in the Atlantic.

Bill Durbin Forded and Edgar Taylor Dodged last Sunday.

Ed. Dold worked half a day last week.

Andy Green might have blown in another quarter and bought a car with two seats.

Mr. Shand Narbrook Parked on Sunday. By the way, have you seen the new park lately? Owing to the skillful manipulation of the landscape architect, new beauties are being unfolded every day. The place is worth a visit, but you must only look at the north, south and west.

The Narberth Presbyterian Sunday School orchestra has been augmented by the addition of Mr. Rogers, an accomplished violinist.

That was quite a fine editorial in the last week's number about a Narberth survey. If it came from the long-haired fraternity in Nutty Row, I am heartily in favor of it. But what's it all about?

How about that raise in salary, Mr. Jacobs?

"Cub."

NINE NEW MEMBERS.

The record for attendance at the Presbyterian Church for this fall was reached last Sunday morning when the quarterly communion was observed. Nine new members were publicly welcomed into the church membership, making a grand total of just 200 new members received during the present pastorate.

A number of new scholars joined the Sabbath school and one new teacher was added to the teaching staff. Plans are being formulated for an aggressive work in this church, and each member will be given something to do. This subject will be presented by the pastor in next Sunday morning's sermon, when every member of the congregation is requested to be present.

A judge in Montgomery county, Pa., has declared that it is not an offense for a girl to sit in her lover's lap. "But," he wisely adds, "it would be imprudent and rash for her to do so when there was a chance of being observed by her parents."

COMMUNITY CLUB OPENING A BIG SUCCESS

Large Attendance Enjoys Speakers and Luncheon

The Community Club opened its 1916-1917 season with a most enjoyable luncheon and program of speakers, Tuesday noon at the Y. M. C. A. More than sixty members and guests were present, and the consensus of opinion of those present voted it one of Narberth's most successful affairs.

The first speaker, Mr. Phillip Jacobus, principal of Athletic Recreation Park, told of the benefits of physical culture to women.

Mrs. Leonidas Beck, president of the County Federation of Women's Clubs, talked interestingly and intelligently of women's clubs in general.

Mrs. Ricard J. Hamilton, of the Ardmore Women's Club, enumerated the many achievements of the women of Ardmore. They have established a free library; have started settlement work, teaching foreigners how to live healthfully; have been instrumental in keeping the pike clean and in excellent condition and have completed plans for the conservation of birds.

These accomplishments express in a degree, what women are doing all over the world. There are so many things to be done, especially along the lines of social betterment, that the women find a fertile field for their energies. Better conditions for working women, pure milk for babies, improved schools and school curricula and mothers pensions are only a few of the things which need the stimulus and support of the women of this country. Let us hope that it will be a matter of months only before Narberth has an enlightened women's club working for desirable improvements in our social life.

The final speaker, Mrs. Owen Phillips, who is to conduct a course of lectures and lessons in public speaking for the club, outlined her plans for the season and stated briefly what she hopes to accomplish. Mrs. Phillips, a lecturer of rare ability and wide experience, has spent several seasons on Chautauqua courses and for years addressed large audiences all over England. Her first lecture will be delivered at the club meeting to be held October 31.

Addressing Parcel Post Packages.

Parcel post packages should be addressed plainly. The sender's name should be written inconspicuously on the upper left hand corner of the parcel. The address and return card on a parcel should appear but once, and that in the same relative position as a letter with return card would be prepared for mailing.

HAVE YOUR MAIL ADDRESSED TO YOUR BOX NUMBERS

Patrons of the post office should endeavor to have their mail addressed to their box numbers, as delays are frequently caused in the delivery of letters due to the address being simply given as Narberth, even when street and number is given it is frequently necessary to look up the name in directory before the mail can be cased up, causing extra work as well as necessary delay.

A WORD TO THE NEW RESIDENTS

For the information of the lately arriving residents of Narberth we announce again that to purchase postage stamps and stamped envelopes in the local post office is of great advantage to the office as its advancement is based upon the sales. We aim to be courteous and obliging. We also want to do business with our patrons.
Edward S. Haws, Postmaster.

Weight of a package must be not more than 11 pounds nor measure more than 3 feet 6 inches in length or 6 feet in length and girth combined. IMPORTANT

Cases of communicable disease are ordinarily reported to the secretary of the Board of Health by the physician in attendance. If no physician is called in, the responsibility for reporting rests with the head of the household. This is made obligatory by State law and the regulations of the Board of Health. The penalty for failure to report is a fine not exceeding $100 and costs.

To avoid the imposition of the penalty, physicians and householders are requested to report immediately in writing cases of communicable disease which may exist to the secretary of the Board of Health. All children in families in which there is whooping cough or chicken pox must be kept on the premises and not be allowed to come in contact with other children.

HOSPITAL DOING GOOD WORK

New Isolation Building Is Filled With Victims of Infantile Paralysis—Was Built in Ten Days.

At the foot of Carrett Hill on the old Conestoga road, about a mile from Bryn Mawr, is a building in an ideal setting that at first sight resembles a camping lodge. It is constructed of boards and tar paper, and is heated by stoves that poke their pipes through the roof at various angles.

In this building infantile paralysis cases are skillfully and successfully treated. The building, which was constructed from top to bottom in eight days, beginning September 2, is used as a ward for acute cases of infantile paralysis by the Bryn Mawr Hospital. It now houses eighteen victims of the disease, ranging in age from eleven months to sixteen years.

The situation of the hospital is ideal. It is on a gentle slope between groves of trees on part of Samuel M. Vauclair's estate, which was donated by the owner for the use of the hospital. Some distance away is a white tent that is used as sleeping quarters by the nurses in charge. The doctors' quarters immediately adjoin the hospital.

Dr. George S. Gerhard, of the hospital, is in charge of the small staff of doctors and nurses, who attend the little ones. Although the building was so hastily constructed to meet an immediate need, it is excellently ventilated and carefully screened against flies and insects. Dr. Dixon, State Health Commissioner, inspected the building before it was occupied and expressed himself as well pleased with it. All refuse is burned in an incinerator, and a complete system of sewage and plumbing, including two bathrooms and a laundry, has been installed.

This woodland hospital is taking care of nearly all cases of paralysis that have developed in what is known as the Main Line section. The success of the treatment, which includes plenty of fresh country air, has been remarkable and several patients shortly will be discharged as cured. More cases arriving on Monday fill the place to capacity, as only sixteen can be accommodated unless an extension is built.

The treatment is the same as that provided in acute cases in the Philadelphia Hospital for Contagious Diseases, but no other institution has so low a record for mortality, only two of the patients having died since the hospital was opened. Whether the building will be burned when the present epidemic is over has not been decided, but it is probable that it will be locked up ready for use next year in case there is a recurrence of the disease.

When, late in August, several cases of infantile paralysis appeared along the Main Line, the Boards of Health of Merion, Haverford and Radnor townships met and conferred with the authorities of the Bryn Mawr Hospital. It was agreed to erect and maintain a hospital for all such cases. The Board of Trustees of the hospital agreed to build the annex, and a site was generously donated by Mr. Vauclair. Twenty cases have so far developed along the Main Line, and most of these have been cared for in the Bryn Mawr annex, thus saving the communities from the danger of further infection. Building operations, under charge of John S. Clark, of the Auto Car Company, of Ardmore, were begun on September 2 and on September 14 the building received its first patients.

Convalescent cases are removed either to the Bryn Mawr Hospital or to the few hospitals in Philadelphia where special facilities have been provided. Frequent massages and special electrical treatments in this period have saved many a child from going through life a hopeless and helpless cripple.

The new hospital, hastily built to meet an emergency, is a monument to the efficiency and enterprise of the Bryn Mawr Hospital, and the success of the treatment given there is an encouraging sign of the ability of physicians to combat the disease under proper conditions.

Members of the Boards of Health of Lower Merion, Radnor and Haverford townships met at Ardmore to continue discussion of plans for a permanent contagious disease hospital for the Main Line.

HOME BAKE POSTPONED.

Owing to the fact that the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist Church are holding a home bake on the same date as the Delta Sigma, the Delta Sigma bake will be postponed to October 21st.

THE SUFFRAGE TRI-COUNTRY LAWN FETE

Admission to the grounds of twenty-five cents will include a play as well as monologues.

A large dancing platform has been erected and between dances there will be an exhibition of fancy dancing. Card playing will be another feature.

A supper will be served at 6.30 P. M. for thirty-five cents. Autos will meet all trains.

Our local leader, Mrs. Edw. A. Muschamp, will be actively interested, while Mrs. C. T. Faries and Mrs. J. S. Ketcham will act as patronesses from the Narberth Branch.

Mrs. Chas. Verna will have charge of the dancing and Mrs. I. W. Dothard will arrange for the card playing.

The October meeting of the Narberth Branch of the Women's Suffrage Party will be held on Friday, October 6, at 3 P. M., at the home of Mrs. W. H. Pugh, Jr., 501 Haverford road.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone interested and all who attend will have the pleasure of listening to Mrs. Hannah Clothier Hull, who will be the speaker for this occasion.

PARALYSIS PROVED CONTAGIOUS MALADY

Three Cases of Disease Traced From One to Another—The Disease Waning.

Investigations made by the Boards of Health of Lower Merion and Radnor townships of the occurrence of infantile paralysis in three homes, miles apart on the Main Line, have proved the disease to be positively contagious.

One of the first cases that developed on the Main Line was that of a child of Harry Silvert, a furniture dealer and cabinetmaker of Bryn Mawr. Investigation has shown that Dorsey, the father of three children who became ill a short time after the Silvert case, at Villanova, went to Silvert's store in Bryn Mawr two days before the diagnosis in the Silvert case and left some furniture there to be repaired. He carried the furniture in an automobile, which was taken back to the garage of Harvey Hale, of Rosemont, from which it had been obtained. Hale used the machine subsequently, and about a week ago his two children became ill at their home at Wayne with the disease.

On account of requests sent out by local health officials, proprietors of a number of big private schools on the Main Line have decided to defer the opening of those institutions until about the middle of October. Most of the pupils in these schools come from distant points, and danger to other pupils was anticipated.

A second case in the exclusive residence district of Merion was reported Thursday. The child is Frederick Carter, 4 years old, the son of F. C. Carter, of Beacon lane, Merion. The boy is being treated in his home.

Mary W. Heaton, the 15-months old daughter of Wilson Heaton, of Berkeley and Wynnewood roads, Merion, was on Wednesday found to be suffering from infantile paralysis. Her parents declined to permit her removal to the hospital. A scrub woman, whose home is at Haverford, was caught in the house when the quarantine was established and may have to remain there for the full period of quarantine.

The fatal case was that of Frank N. Weaver, 21 months old, son of a chauffeur on the estate of William L. Austin, of Rosemont.

The first case that has occurred at Narberth was that of John Burt, 20 months old, whose parents live on Rockland avenue. The other cases reported were Maud Donaldson, 6 years, daughter of George Donaldson, of Grandview road, Ardmore, and Fred Brecalempe, 22 months, son of George Shearer, Wilmot avenue, Llanerch. The avenue has been roped off by the Haverford Township Board of Health.

Dr. A. A. Cairns, chief medical inspector of Philadelphia, said Thursday that he believes the end of infantile paralysis in this section of the State is only a question of days.

SCHOOL EDITOR'S WEEKLY NEWS ITEMS

Without halting, without rest,
Lifting better up to best.

(By Pupil Editor)

The Junior Literary Society had its reorganization on Friday afternoon. This society consists of the members of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. This course is required of the pupils of the Junior High School.

The Athletic Association of the school had its meeting of the year Thursday afternoon. The election of officers was the business of the meeting. William Durbin was elected president, Sidney Trotter, vice president, Dorothy Durbin, secretary and treasurer.

The lunch room is in its usual good working order.

The school has been running on its regular full schedule for the past week. All special departments have begun this week.

The new finely equipped toilet rooms are now open for the use of the pupils.

At the first meeting of the Junior Literary Society, Charles Richmond, a retired actor, gave a lecture-recital.

It is gratifying to note the good attendance at school, considering the present "scare" and the many false rumors concerning conditions in the borough and the school.

From the office we are told that we can with confidence say that the steam boiler will be connected by Thursday, thus parents and pupils need not worry about a prolonged chilly building. The heating company foreman has assured authorities of service sufficient to keep the building in satisfactory condition until institute, which opens October 23rd.

The pupils from the senior class down to the wee tots are delighted with the new department, physical culture. Narberth schools have always stood for physical education. But now there is to be more than ever and under daily supervision. It is fine to think that every pupil will have at least several periods per week, and that many will have five periods per week. Then, too, the boys are delighted with the athletic prospects.

Needless to say the man—Mr. A. V. Emmet—has "made a hit." We understand he will soon move to Narberth with his family.

The faculty for five minutes suspended work on Tuesday afternoon prior to Miss Wetherill's "going home" hour. The secret is out. 'Twas our respected first grade teacher's birthday, so every member of the faculty went to her room to congratulate her and shower upon her fifty roses. Who would think Miss Wetherill fifty years old? We know we are voicing our fellow students' sentiments when we join in our congratulations and sincere wishes that she may live to enjoy many happy birthdays.

NEW CONCRETE ROADWAY ON WYNEWOOD AVENUE FINISHED

The new concrete roadway on Wynewood avenue has been completed. The last stretch, between Merlon avenue and Rockland avenue, was finished last Thursday.

The road is now open to traffic from the railroad tunnel to Chestnut avenue, and it is expected that the remainder will be opened next Thursday, October 19. By that time the concrete will have hardened sufficiently to permit of the heaviest traffic.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic E. Moyer celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their wedding at their home on Chestnut avenue, Saturday evening, October 7th. About a dozen lucky guests sat down to an epicurian repast—and one who was there vouches for the fact that it WAS epicurian. My, that duck was good, and the Montrose pudding, gee! that was a corker. If you want to give a swell feed for some very special occasion, just ask the bride of twenty years for some pointers—you'll not regret it. The place cards that greeted the guests were inscribed with appropriate verses, for which the bridegroom claims credit. If Freddy was really the author, however, it is hard to understand how he has hidden his talents from his neighbors all these years. Now, honest, Fred, whom did you pay for the job? Of course, there were other very enjoyable features, but the memory of that feed lingers in ye scribe's mind to the exclusion of everything else and prevents his doing them justice.

Can "Our Town" produce for the information of many inquirers why the newly constructed road on Windsor avenue was not finished before being opened to the public? Evidently a considerable expenditure has been made in rebuilding this road from Essex avenue to Windsor avenue. It has been nicely graded and rolled with a steam roller, and then the public permitted to use it without the application of any binder. It seems that this road will, in a few months, be in practically the same condition that it was before this expense was incurred. It is already beginning to show signs of wear and has only been open to the public a few days. Who is responsible for this short-sighted method of road building?

ABOUT BLIZZARDS.

There are no words in our language as persistently misused as "cyclone" and "blizzard." During the summer season every time the wind reaches the velocity of a gale—forty to sixty miles an hour—the papers call it a cyclone, and in winter, when a gale occurs, accompanied with snow, the same authorities agree that it is a blizzard.

They are wrong. A cyclone is a revolving storm of great magnitude; the so-called cyclone of the Western State being a tornado which revolves in a small compass. The wind may blow a gale and snow fall to the depth of six feet and yet not make a blizzard. A blizzard means something as nearly as possible like the sand-storm of the desert, with pulverized ice in the place of sand, and a very low temperature—never above zero in a genuine blizzard.

A tremendous wind prevails, filling the air with needle-points of ice, which blind the eyes and cut and sting like miniature arrows where they strike. This is the storm which benumbs, bewilders and destroys.

During the prevalence of a blizzard the strong and weak are alike helpless. Knowledge of locality counts for nothing; the victim is really blind—and can but grope his way. A man may go ten yards from his own door and never be able to find his way back.

Instances have been known where farmers started from the house to the barn, missed it, and were found frozen to death not twenty feet from shelter.

Persons have wandered miles away and perished miserably in attempting to cross a fifty-foot street. These instances would be incredible were they not attested by a mountain of proof. It is almost impossible to keep the interior of a house warm during a blizzard. The intense cold and the fearful wind seem to extract every particle of warmth, and there is danger of freezing in the same room with a red-hot stove.

All business is suspended, and the only care is to preserve life. There is no use searching for the lost ones; no one knows in what direction they are, or, if they did, it would be impossible to reach them. Cries for help are inaudible six feet away.

Railroad hands are the greatest sufferers from blizzards. A train may be caught on the open prairie and held for forty-eight hours.

Hunger is added to cold, and death not infrequently ensues among the passengers. On freight trains the men are exposed to dreadful exposure, and it is hard to see how any one can stand it.

The brakes must be put on constantly, which involves crawling along the narrow footboards on top of the cars, which are coated with ice and snow and exceedingly slippery.

With the wind blowing at fifty miles an hour and the train butting its way through the snow, it is impossible for the brakemen to maintain an upright position, and they are obliged to crawl from car to car on their hands and knees, handle the cold iron with the thermometer forty degrees below zero, and remain exposed to the storm for hours, as they never have time to go to the caboose. The men have no shelter beyond what they can find by clinging to the ladders between the cars and suffer fearfully.

In fact, it is impossible to fight against a blizzard; you must succumb, and at once. If you are in a house or under any passable shelter, stay there until the wind goes down. No matter how near your own home may be, do not venture to regain it, unless you have left little children there alone. In two minutes—yes, in one minute—you may be enveloped in the deadly whirl of ice, and then the chances are a hundred to one against you.

But there are some simple precautions which, if adopted, may save many lives. When caught in such a storm, if there is a snow bank near, get on its lee side, burrow a hole, crawl in and "pull the hole in after you"—that is, close the opening. You will have no trouble in breathing through the snow.

If there is no bank, immediately envelop the head and upper part of the body in a blanket, coat, shawl, anything, in fact, to keep the fine powdered ice from entering the mouth and lungs.

I speak from experience, since I have been twice caught in a blizzard, once in the mountains of Colorado, and again near Bismarck, Dakota. Every breath seemed as if an icicle had been driven into my chest. Fortunately, I had each time a heavy cape overcoat, and with the cape I wrapped up my nose and mouth, and although I was exposed the first time four hours and the second time an hour and a half, I escaped with no more damage than some severe frost bites.

Indians, who have been exposed to blizzards from time immemorial, adopt this plan, and who ever heard of an Indian perishing in a blizzard?

It seems rather singular that blizzards occur less frequently as population and cultivation of the ground increases, but the same is true of tornadoes. It is probable that the planting of trees has much to do with the mitigating of the fury of all storms. Hunters and all men who frequent forests know how the trees break the wind, and farmers and settlers in the West and Northwest are fast finding out that tree-planting is the surest plan to temper the rigor of the winter storms that sweep down from the icy regions of the North.

In the same way trees will doubtless dissipate the terrors of the tornado, and make the West the garden spot of the Union, out of what was once known as the Great American Desert.

WHY WE STAND ON ONE LEG.

Naturalists have distinguished us from the higher animals by the fact that we stand upright on two legs. But do we? Watch a crowd standing about a street orator, and see how many are really standing on both legs. Or try yourself to stand on two legs, and see how soon you are ready to fall from fatigue.

The truth is we have not yet absolutely acquired the upright position ascribed to us by the scientists. Even in the Army, where comfort is always sacrificed to trim appearance, the command: "Stand at ease," which allows the soldiers to throw one leg back and prop themselves upon it, shows how impossible a perfectly upright position is to maintain for any length of time.

As any anatomist will tell us, we are still built very much like the monkeys. Standing perfectly upright can only be done by a very complicated cross strain, one set of muscles pushing forward, another holding back. With every movement we make a new adjustment of these muscles takes place.

The trouble is all with our hip bones. Therefore, to rest these muscles we place one of them at rest by throwing one leg to one side, allowing the other to do the work. When one leg has rested sufficiently, it takes up the strain and the other takes a spell. Nor does it matter how much we strengthen our leg muscles by walking or other exercises, the perfectly upright position is still a hard one to keep.

THE NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

Excavation on the basement of the new building is about completed. The foundation walls are laid on the front and ends. The boys and girls of the school are delighted to see the outline for the gymnasium to be included in the basement.

The Old Building.

Work on the old building has been rapidly pushed. It is surprising to those who "inspected" the condition of the old building last week, to know that school is in session and all classes meeting regularly. In spite of the necessary noises of construction work pupils are remaining at their tasks as under normal conditions.

The old building has several decided improvements. Four rooms that have been dark ever since the addition of the present building are now light and cheery, the result of additional windows and change in color of walls. The large cloak rooms and hallway in front of the old building are transformed into two class rooms to be later used as a science laboratory and art room.

The new toilet rooms with modern equipment are probably the biggest feature.

Our New System of Seating.

For the purpose of seating, the high school pupils are divided into five groups. Each group is assembled in a separate room, under the immediate supervision of one teacher. This teacher remains the counselor of these pupils throughout the six years' course.

The great advantage of such system arises from the individual attention which can be given each student.

MRS. HANNAH CLOTHIER HULL ADDRESSES LOCAL SUFFRAGE PARTY.

It would be difficult to say when the members of the Narberth Branch of the Woman's Suffrage Party have listened to a more interesting and enlightening address than that presented by Mrs. Hannah Clothier Hull, at their monthly meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Pugh, Jr., Haverford road, Friday afternoon, October 6.

The writer wishes she were able to give this discourse in full, as it was so absolutely full of facts most convincing and appealing.

It is to be hoped that the members may again have the pleasure of listening to this speaker some time in the future.

Mrs. C. P. Fowler.
Mrs. G. Cockrill.

NARBERTH'S VICTORY OVER WEST PHILA.

Ties Them With R. G. Dun & Co. For Lead in Main Line League—Flick Stites Hits Homer—Deciding Game to be Played Next Week on Narberth's Grounds

In a rather easy fashion, the Narberth team, present champions of the Main Line League, took Manager Bob Black's West Philadelphia travelers into camp by the score of 7-2. The score does not exactly state the easy way the boroughites received their victory. Bob Gibson was almost invincible, holding his opponents to three hits, only one of which figured in the run getting. Their first run came in the very first inning when with one man gone by the strike out route, Clark singled to left field. Keeley was then safe on Durbin's error, and Bob then made a wild pitch advancing both runners. F. Robinson was then passed, and Manager Black who was playing second base for his team, struck out. Bob then forced in their first run by hitting McCann. Keeley then tried to score from third on the pitch, but was caught at the plate by Nig. Koons.

Narberth Comes Back Strong, Scores Two—Dick Wallace Triples.

George Howes, the first man up for Narberth in their half of the first inning, was passed. Dick Wallace, with the count three and two, then tripled to deep left field, scoring Howes, among much jubilation on the part of the Narberth rooters. Gene Davis then singled, the ball taking a bound over the third baseman's head, scoring Wallace. Gene was caught off first. Flick Stites grounded out via third base. Vernon Fleck singled, but Durbin ended the inning by fanning.

West Philadelphia was retired in order in their half of the second inning, Bill Simpson making a spectacular stop and throw of McGrellis' intended single through short.

Narberth Adds Three More.

The Walzer proteges then tucked the game away in their half of the second inning by putting three more runs across the plate. It was done this way. Nig. Koons led off with a single, closely followed by Bill Simpson's single, Koons going to third. Simpson stole second. On Bob Gibson's tap to Manager Black at second base, Koons was caught at the plate on a very close decision. Simpson advancing to third. Gibson stole second. George Howes was safe on Panzullo's error, Simpson scoring, and Gibson also scored, Howes going to second on the throw in. Wallace flew out to third base, and when Gene Davis singled to right field, Howes scored Narberth's third run of the inning. Flick Stites ended the inning by flying out to center field.

There was little of any importance being done on the part of either team, excepting the pitching of Bob Gibson, although McGrellis singled in the fourth inning, but was out trying to steal second.

Narberth added one more to their run total in the sixth inning when Koons led off with his second single of the game. Nig. advanced to second on a wild pitch. Simpson flew out to center field, but Bob Gibson scored Koons with a scorching double to right field. Bob, however, was left stranded on second base.

Narberth's last tally came in the seventh inning when Flick Stites poled one of Misket's shoots for a home run to deep left center field.

Manager Black made the third hit off of Bob Gibson's delivery himself in the ninth inning when two were out. Black had fouled almost a half a dozen times, then connected with one of Bobbie's shoots for a double over short. Black was out a moment later when the coach interfered with him going to third on McCann's out, which ended the game.

The game was featured by the pitching of Bob Gibson, he striking out twelve of the visitors, and the hitting of almost the entire team, coupled with the fielding of Bill Simpson at short.

the rector or any of the vestrymen and you will be supplied with a package. So far the church busses have been well patronized. They leave Narberth and Wynnewood stations at 10.40 on Sunday mornings for the church. Everybody is invited to use them, both going and coming from the service.

Next week the deciding game of the league season will be played on the Narberth grounds when the R. G. Dun & Co., who are tied with us for the lead, will be our guests. The title of champions of the Main Line League of 1916 goes along with the winners. Let us hope that Manager Walzer's team takes the pennant again.

First home run on the Narberth grounds for many a week.

Gene Davis led the hitting with three hits.

The spectators were glad to see Manager Black get a hit. He makes quite a hit anyway.

Misket struck out the side in the third inning, and Bob Gibson did likewise in the eighth inning.

Gibson had twelve strike outs.

Big game next week here with Dun & Co. Be on hand early.

Thirteen hits for Narberth for a total of nineteen bases. Guess this is hitting the pill.

Dick Wallace could not get out of the way of Davis' single in the eighth inning.

Some more out touched by the coach.

Fleck had three stolen bases.

This week ends the base ball season along the Main Line.

Koons and Wallace had most of the put outs.

A luncheon to Miss Jean Justice

nue, Saturday afternoon, October 7.
The following were present: The Misses Jean Justice, Marion Trotter,
Edythe Humphreys, Margaret Eyre,
Ruth Diamond and Helen Duff, all of Narberth, Margaret McKee, of Philadelphia.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs.
S. B. Dickie were greatly shocked to hear of the sudden death of their son Fred. Little Fred was known to almost everyone in Narberth, as he was always around when there was anything doing. Everybody loved the little chap and he will be missed. The sympathy of the citizens of Narberth is extended to the bereaved family.

At the home of her daughter, Mrs.
Wendell P. Bowman, in Merion, Mrs.
Margaret Nevins Van Dyke Malcolm
Wednesday celebrated her ninety-second birthday. A member of the Van Dyke family, one of whose early members was a founder of Princeton, Mrs. Malcolm, was born near Princeton in 1824, at "Stonehouse," the first stone house built in New Jersey, erected in 1723.

The date: October 14th. Where, did you say? Why, in Smedley's office, for? An opportunity for you to buy

Mrs. Miller Burkhardt, of 100 Maple avenue, entertained the members of the Queen Esther Circle of Tioga
M. E. Church, at dinner, on Saturday evening, the 7th inst. This organization has a membership of thirty-five, and during the fourteen years of its existence has accomplished wonderful results along charitable lines, most of its work of relief being done through the medium of the Deaconess Home of the M. E. Church, located at 609 Vine street, Philadelphia. Mrs. Burkhardt was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Charles F.
Street, of Lansdowne, Pa.

Speaking of walks, when you plan your next hike, include a tour across Montgomery pike, down lower Woodbine avenue to Bryn Mawr avenue, a new road below the Wurst development. At the junction of these two avenues, on the right hand side, is being developed one of the most unusual homes and bits of landscape gardening it has been the writer's privilege to view. The home is for
Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard, of Merion.
Mr. Lippincott is the architect and the gardens were planned by one of our own townsmen, Mr. Mont. Wright, Chestnut avenue, who is local representative of Lord & Burnham. It's worth your while to make the trip!

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs.
C. R. Blackall regret to learn that they are leaving Narberth, at least for the fall and winter. It is hoped that the pleasant weather of late spring and summer next year will bring them again to our town. Mr. Blackall's duties in the city make it hard for him to travel back and forth in inclement weather. Mrs. Blackall will be greatly missed in the councils of the Civic Association, of which she is an enthusiastic member. Her tireless work in organizing and making a great success of the Narberth pageant will never be forgotten. The pageant advertised Narberth all over the country, and contributed much to the rapid growth of the town since that event,
two years ago last June.

Patrons of the post office when quested to present letters with the great assistance to the employes and will be greatly appreciated. By parcels weighing up to twenty pounds to any post office in the United States.

These packages will be delivered precisely as a letter going to the same place will be delivered. Many persons are unfamiliar with the advantages of the parcels post system.

for those who are unaware of the great advantages of this new method of transportation.

MAIN LINE
BOWLING LEAGUE

Knights of the Alleys Make Season's Debut With Six Clubs in Race for Supremacy of Indoor Sport—Savill's Y.
M. C. A. Quintet Winning,
With Ward's Rovers Making
Bad Start

Hark; was it thunder or a report of a torpedo shot from the tube of the U-53? This was doubtless the question uppermost in the minds of many boroughites last Friday evening and to rest their fears, we will state it was simply the opening of the Main Line bowling season.

With a successful season last winter, knights of the alleys have become so great in numbers this fall as to warrant increasing the circuit to six clubs. Our town is, as in all branches of sports, well represented with two teams, the local Y. M. C. A. quintet, with Robert Savill as captain, wrecked the maple pins on the home alleys last Friday evening and when the match was over, the Paoli Travelers were of the belief that the Paoli wrecking crew would be needed to assist them in a get-away. Savill and his brigade had taken two out of three games, thus winning the match.
Just to show his fellow bowlers that another year has not injured his skill to any great extent, Captain Savill toppled the pins in the opening game for a total of 207. Bill Humphries being a close second with 179. The team did not roll so strong in the remaining games, but as the season advances, so will their skill.

Ardmore, the runner-up in the league last year, made a big get-away at the expense of Irv. Ward's Rovers, who will rove as the other Narberth quintet in the league. Captain Ward has quite a promising bunch of youngsters and they will be sure to improve.

The Wayne Champs opened the season on the new Men's Club alleys at Wayne by taking two out of three from

"The Scribe.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

"Boys' Game Room."

We are very thankful that we can announce in this issue that we are within reasonable distance of our $100 mark. Kindly accept our sincere thanks for your contribution, so generously given for the advancement of our boys' work.

Our total to date is $93.43 and before the week is over we'll cross the mark.

The boys have done all of the collecting and because of the infantile paralysis, the town has not been as thoroughly canvassed as we had planned. You may not have been personally visited by a committee of boys.
If not, and you care to contribute, see Secretary Hampton.

Don't forget about our "date book."
If you are making plans, we may be able to save you from an embarrassing situation. Phone Mr. Hampton, Narberth 694-W.

"That Victrola."

We are yet without a Victrola for our lobby. Do you have one covered with dust? We would certainly appreciate one.

The banana is the most prolific of all the fruits of the earth, being forty-four times more productive than potatoes, and one hundred and thirty-one times more than wheat.

The above is a new department, and in order that it shall be of the largest use to the community the list should contain the name of every professional man, trades- man, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-town- smen. As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most help- ful if those not now found in the printed list to send in a memo of their name, ad- dress, phone number and business or pro- fession, for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
