Tokyo, Japan
27 August 1951

Dear Mr. Kimura:

The recommendations of the Japanese Government to remove from designation under the Supreme Commander's Memorandum of 4 January 1946 (SCAPIN 550) the names of the persons listed in the inclosure to your letter of 27 August, addressed to me, are approved.

In giving this approval on behalf of the Supreme Commander, it is my understanding that the records of the persons affected by this action were carefully examined on an individual basis; that these persons are not subject to categories of the Purge Ordinance other than those from which they are to be released; that should any errors be discovered in the action releasing these persons from purge designation, such errors will be corrected by the Japanese Government, and, finally, that should any of these persons apply for Certificates of Qualification for Public Office, such certificates will be granted only after the applicants have been individually screened on the basis of questionnaires in accord with established procedures.

Sincerely yours,

FRANK KIZZO

Rumor has it that the government is going to release purgees in the near future. Unless the depurge is carried out only after the most strict and cautious examination, local democratization, which has made such encouraging progress so far in towns and villages, will suffer severe setbacks with local governments reverting to original conditions.

In my town - Motoyama-cho, Nagaoka-gun, Kochi-ken - during the mayoralty election of February 1948, a Mr. Kunio Hatekeyama, mayor and head of the Motoyama branch of the Imperial Rule Assistance Association during the war, had a talk, despite his status as a purgee, with 18 of the then assemblymen in order to enlist their support in pursuading Mr. Shunyo Shiwa, a candidate, to withdraw.

Obtaining their support he, in his capacity as representative of the group, and a Mr. Saiji Ogasawara, called Shiwa's election manager, Mr. Mihara Takai, to the Nikko Ryo and requested him to use his influence to accomplish Mr. Shiwa's withdrawal from the mayoralty contest so that the group's candidate, a Mr. Ichiro Miyata, could run unopposed. Both Mr. Shiwa and Mr. Takai, being men of strong principle and conviction, flatly refused the request and continued to campaign for office. They were, however, constantly threatened and harassed by Hatekeyama and the assemblymen. Despite intimidation, Mr. Shiwa won the election but resigned after four months in office, yielding finally to the pressures brought to bear by "Boss" Hatekeyama and the 18 assemblymen. At that time, some of the townspeople reported this violation of the purge directive by Hatekeyama to the Motoyama police and the Kochi procurator's office but for some unknown reason the issue was not investigated and was finally buried in oblivion.

Generally speaking, Hatekeyama interfered in the town administration to a great extent and never ceased his activities until an issue had been decided as he wished. In 1950 the question came up of the disposal of the farmers' training hall at Oishi village. Hatekeyama lodged a protest against its sale with the town assembly and then called on the prefectural government. The hall was not sold.

If the depurge is effected in general with disregard to such government by autocrat, it is certain that power politics will ultimately and openly control town administration. If so, there is no doubt that the democratization of Motoyama-cho, in particular, will be halted - perhaps never to evolve again. This is a point of deepest concern.

We ask you, therefore, to instruct the government of Japan and take whatever measures you deem fitting.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Lt. Col. Napier

SUBJECT : Depurge

1. To the Purge Appeal Boards in the past, petitioners for rescissions have been permitted to submit statements of friends and other documentary evidence to prove — in effect — that the individual concerned was not an active exponent of militarism and militant nationalism or an important exponent of aggression. The applicant was permitted to plead his case actively.

2. The Boards considered the evidence submitted and on that basis determined the individual's purge status. Probably after the ordinance is revised, this same procedure will be followed again. But, it is not a just method.

3. There are two sides to each case. As the country was totally mobilized during the early 1940s, every person in Japan was to a certain extent an active exponent of militarism, either willingly or unwillingly. On the other hand, every person was to a certain extent an opponent of militarism. There were too many war movements in effect for any one person not to have resisted at least passively one or more. Each person either performed or failed to perform certain acts which, when presented to an Appeal Board, can be contorted to indicate that he either was an active exponent or an active opponent of aggression. The Board can arrive at a just decision only when both interpretations of an act are presented in evidence. In the past, the Board itself considered too many cases to investigate each thoroughly. It had time to act only in the capacity of a judge considering such evidence as was submitted to it. Only the appellant's side was presented actively.

4. To insure true and just decisions, it is recommended that an agency be established to act as "prosecutor". When an applicant presents evidence that he was an opponent of militarism, a prosecutor should be empowered to question the credibility of the evidence and to present counter evidence. When an individual actively presents his case, a prosecutor should be just as active in presenting the other side. Such a prosecution agency is especially desirable if many cases are to be decided on an "individual basis".

(3) Establishment of the Supervision Section of the Prime Minister's office, and local committees to screen applicants for Public Office.

(4) Establishment of a unit within the Legislative Affairs Section of the Liaison Bureau of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to submit to GHQ lists of changes in Government Personnel.

Operations:

As required by Imperial Ordinance No. 1 of 1947, all applicants for Public Office--either elective or appointive posts-- submit questionnaires to the Prime Minister, or to the Prefectural Governor. The Supervision Section of the Prime Minister's office or a local screening committee-- examines each questionnaire to determine whether or not the applicant is qualified for public service under the criteria set forth in Cabinet and Home Affairs Ministry Ordinance No. 1 of 1947. If the applicant is found qualified he is issued a "certificate of eligibility". In the case of candidates for elective posts, a copy of the certificate is presented to the Election Commision when the person files his candidacy. In the case of nominees for appointive posts, the name of the applicant is submitted to GHQ through the Liaison Bureau, of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs for clearance. As the section assigned staff responsibility for the project, Government Section reviews recommendations of the Supervision Section of the Prime Minister's office to assure decision as to elgibility in accord with FEC Directives; prepares biographical sketches and examines the background of nominees for public office to ensure that public officials can be trusted to guide the Government along democratic paths in accordance with occupation objectives.

Observes activities of undesirable Japanese Personnel

FEC Requirement:

(1) Para 1, Part III, FEC 014/10:

"...High officials of the Japanese Imperial General Headquarters and General Staff, other high military and naval officials of the Japanese Government, leaders of ultra-nationalist and militarist organizations and other important exponents of militarism and aggression will be taken into custody and held for future disposition. Persons who have been active exponents of militarism and militant nationalism will be removed and excluded from public office and from any other position of public or substantial private responsibility..."

(2) Para 2, Part [redacted], FEC 014/10:

"...To this end it shall be the policy of the Supreme Commander: a. To prohibit the retention in important positions in the economic field of individuals who because of their past associations or for other reasons cannot be trusted to direct Japanese economic effort solely towards peaceful and democratic ends;"

(3) Para 13, FEC 017/20:

"For the purpose of prevention of the revival of Japanese militarism persons who have at one time fallen within any of the following categories should not be nominated or employed in the government service, public office, or educational institutions except as they may be necessary in performing duties essential to the demobilization of repatriated military and naval personnel.

a. Generals, Admirals, and all other senior officers, and all career officers of the Army, Navy, and gendarmerie;

b. Other officers of the Army, Navy and gendarmerie, including members of the reserve, if their employment would harm the cause of peace and security; and

c. Officials of ex-officers' and other military and para-military associations and of bodies closely associated with the armed forces.

The Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers may authorize the nomination or employment of a person coming within categories a and c if his record shows that he has been an opponent of Japanese expansionism and totalitarianism."

MEMORANDUM FOR: Lt Col Jack P. Napier

SUBJECT : Questionnaires of Candidates

1. According to the Public Office Qualification Section, Government Section said (in January 1947) that each candidate for elective office should present a questionnaire or a certificate of eligibility plus a questionnaire with the notification of candidacy. No record of such an instruction has been found in Government Section's files.

2. Imperial Ordinance No. 1 (Article VIII) requires only that the candidate present a certificate of elgibility with his notification. The Election Law (Law 100 of 1950) does not require even the certificate of elgibility. No other law or ordinance has been found which requires a questionnaire in addition to the certificate of elgibility.

3. It is believed that Government Section, originally, said that a questionnaire should be presented with the notification only for the purpose of facilitating screening. It is believed, also, that once a person has been screened and has a certificate of elgibility, Government Section has no reason for demanding that he present another.

4. In the past, the Election Commission has kept a copy of the questionnaire presented in its office. This questionnaire is available to the public,-- thus the Election Commission is able to perform its duty of informing the public of the career of each candidate.

4. At present, NISHIOKA Takejiro, a candidate for Governor in Nogasaki Prefecture claims that, according to law, he is not required to submit a questionnaire with his notification. He has submitted a certificate of elgibility. Despite repeated requests by the local Election Commission, he refuses to submit a questionnaire.

5. The Public Office Qualification Section requests Government Section's permission to order NISHIOKA to submit a questionnaire. That office fears a precedent will be established, and other candidates on hearing of it, will also refuse to submit questionnaires when they already have the required certificate. The Public Office Qualification Section fears, also, that if candidates fail to submit questionnaires, the Election Commission will request the Public Office Qualification Section to prepare duplicates so that there will be one copy on file in the election office. This latter is seen to be a large extra burden on the Public Office Qualification Section staff.

6. The question seems to revolve around the fact that the Election Commission wants a copy of each questionnaire, but--when preparing the Election Law--did not foresees that need, and now wants the Public Office Qualification Section and Government Section to remedy that fault. It is believed to be an imposition on the candidates to require them to prepare duplicates after they have once been screened and passed.

7. Recommend that Government Section not give permission to the Public Office Qualification Section to order NISHIOKA to prepare another questionnaire, unless an ordinance is promulgated requiring such a duplicate. Recommend, also, that if the Election Commission needs a copy of the questionnaire on file, that the Election Commission be advised that the Commission itself can prepare a duplicate from the Public Office Qualification Section's copy.

MEMORANDUM FOR: IMPERIAL JAPANESE GOVERNMENT.

THROUGH : Central Liaison Office, Tokyo.

SUBJECT : Removal and Exclusion from Public Office of Diet Member.

1. Under the memorandum of 4 January 1946, "Removal and Exclusion of Undesirable Personnel from Public Office", (SCAPIN 550) the Japanese Government was directed to disqualify any candidate for the Diet who had deceived and misled the people of Japan within the spirit and letter of that directive.

2. After the election on 10 April 1946, the Central Liaison Office was informed that the eligibility of one Ichiro Hatoyama, (member-elect of the House of Representatives from the First Electoral District, Tokyo) to hold any public office being open to doubt in the light of evidence published subsequent to his screening by the Japanese Government, it was expected that his eligibility would be re-examined by the Government forthwith.

3. The Japanese Government having failed to act on its own responsibility, the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers has determined the facts relative to Hatoyama's eligibility and finds that he is an undesirable person within the meaning of paragraphs 1 and 3 of category "G", Appendix "A", SCAPIN 550 in that:

a. As Chief Secretary of the Tanaka Cabinet from 1927 to 1929, he necessarily shares responsibility for the formulation and promulagation without Diet approval of amendments to the so-called Peace Preservation Law which made that law the government's chief legal instrument for the suppression of freedom of speech and freedom of assembly, and made possible the denunciation, terrorization, seizure, and imprisonment of tens of thousands of adherents to minority doctrines advocating political, economic, and social reform, thereby preventing the development of effective opposition to the Japanese militaristic regime.

b. As Minister of Education from December 1931 to March 1934, he was responsible for stifling freedom of speech in the schools by means of mass dismissals and arrests of teachers suspected of "leftist" leanings or "dangerous thoughts". The dismissal in May 1933 of Professor Takigawa from the faculty of Kyoto University on Hatoyama's personal order is a flagrant illustration of his contempt for the liberal tradition of academic freedom and gave momentum to the spiritual mobilization of Japan which, under the aegis of the military and economic cliques, led the nation eventually into war.

c. Not only did Hatoyama participate in thus weaving the pattern of ruthless suppression of freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, and freedom of thought, but he also participated in the forced dissolution of farmer-labor bodies. In addition, his indorsement of totalitarianism, specifically in its application to the regimentation and control of labor, is a matter of record. His recommendation that "it would be well" to transplant Hitlerite anti-labor devices to Japan reveals his innate antipathy to the democratic principle of the right of labor freely to organize and to bargain collectively through representatives of its own choice. It is a familiar technique of the totalitarian dictatorship, wherever situated, whatever be its formal name, and however be it disguised, first to weaken and then to suppress the freedom of individuals to organize for mutual benefit. Whatever lip service Hatoyama may have rendered to the cause of parliamentarianism, his sponsorship of the doctrine of regimentation of labor identifies him as a tool of the ultra-nationalistic interests which engineered the reorganization of Japan on a totalitarian economic basis as a prerequisite to its war of aggression.

d. By words and deeds he has consistently supported Japan's acts of aggression. In July 1937 he traveled to America and Western Europe as personal emissary of the then Prime Minister Konoye to justify Japan's expansionist program. While abroad he negotiated economic arrangements for supporting the war against China and the subsequent exploitation of that country after subjugation. With duplicity, Hatoyama told the British Prime Minister in 1937 that "China cannot survive unless controlled by Japan", and that the primary motive behind Japan's intervention in China involved the "happiness of the Chinese people."

e. Hatoyama has posed an anti-militarist. But in a formal address mailed to his constituents during the 1942 election in which he set forth his political credo, Hatoyama upheld the doctrine of territorial expansion by means of war, referred to the attack on Pearl Harbor as "fortunately...a great victory," stated as a fact that the true cause of the Manchuria and China "incidents" was the anti-Japanese sentiment (in China) instigated by England and America, ridiculed those who in 1928 and 1929 had criticized the Tanaka Cabinet, boasted that that Cabinet had "liquidated the (previous) weak-kneed diplomacy toward England and America," and gloated that "today the world policy drafted by the Tanaka Cabinet is steadily being realized." This identification of himself with the notorious Tanaka policy of world conquest, whether genuine or merely opportunistic, in and of itself brands Hatoyama as one of those who deceived and misled the people of Japan into militaristic misadventure.

4. Accordingly, in view of these and other considerations not herein recited, the Imperial Japanese Government is directed to bar Ichiro Hatoyama from membership in the Diet and to exclude him from government service pursuant to SCAPIN 550.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Col Napier

SUBJECT : Study of Questionnaires

A preliminary survey has been made of the questionnaires which were forwarded to Government Section by the Public Office Qualification Section on 29 March 1951. This study indicates that--in requesting that the 770 persons be reinstated--the Japanese Government has kept generally within the precedence of the past. There are, however, 141 individual cases which are questionable. It is not implied that any of these 141 cases are not within the standards, but English entries in the questionnaires are so worded that it is believed the Japanese Government should prove to Government Section that the persons concerned were actually erroneously designated.

This study also indicates that of the 770 purgees whose questionnaires were examined, 31 are at present holding public office or teaching jobs.

770 PURGEES WHO WERE LEFT OUT IN THE ROUTINE PROCEDURE TO BE REINSTATED

Since the large scale reinstatement of purgees based upon the results of examination by the Appeals Board in October of last year, the Government had been conducting investigation through various prefectural authorities and had been receiving applications in order to take steps to help those who were designated purgees through the procedural errors of the Government Secretariat. For instance, among the purgees who were left off the last depurge list, there were people in reserve service purged as career military men by mistake. Since understanding was reached with GHQ in principle, the Government intends to reinstate them shortly.

Those purgees include reserve military men, assistant military police, temporary military police, and military students (equivalent to our ASTP students) commissioned after the outbreak of the Pacific War, totalling 770 persons.

With the anticipation of realizing this prior to the abolishment of the Appeals Board in the end of this month, it submitted documents and requested an approval by having Tanimura, Chairman of Appeals Board, Okada, Chief of Appeals Board Secretariat, and Izeki, former Chief of Appeals Board Secretariat call on Colonel Napier, GS, GHQ, SCAP in the afternoon of the 30th. However, it seems that they did not receive an immediate answer.

Furthermore, Chief Cabinet Secretary Okazaki stated at the press conference in the afternoon of the same day, "Since these people were purged entirely through error, their depurge can be handled in routine manner. Application will be accepted even hereafter."

ACTION TO BE TAKEN BY CABINET ON MISTAKEN
PROVISIONAL DESIGNATION OF PURGE

Government authorities added the following explanations in connection with an inquiry which was exchanged between MURASE Nobuchika and Attorney-General OHASHI at the regular session of the Diet on the 30th.

When MURASE stated in his inquiry that since the release from purge on 13 October of last year of a great number of people, the Government has received petitions from more than 700 people..., he referred to those who had discovered their status of provisional purge and had requested the Government for repeal. As these are clearly mistakes in designation, the Observation Section of the Cabinet Secretariat will continue to accept applications despite the abolishment of the Appeals Board and will take action on them at the proper time.
