Report of Trustees.

To His Excellency, J. B. FORAKER, Governor of Ohio:

DEAR SIR: We, as trustees of the Institution for the Education of the Blind, hereby submit the fifty-second annual report of said institution, together with the reports of the superintendent, physician, and financial officer.

The increased number of scholars in the school is proof of the growing esteem in which the institution is held by the people.

The whole number of pupils instructed during the past year was 299. And the health of the pupils during that time has been good. The reports of the officers altogether, show a commendable condition of the school and institution.

Thousands have visited the institution during the past year, and have been filled with delight and surprise at the evidences of progress made in the good work of educating the blind. Their accomplishments in some departments could hardly be exceeded by persons blessed with sight. And the evidences are abundant, that the Ohio institution is awake to the importance of the work undertaken through it. Energetic officers, and thorough and conscientious teachers, eager to put and keep the institution in the front rank of such schools, leave no effort unused to awake that enthusiasm and emulation in the minds of the pupils that assure success and progress.

There has been a new pipe organ placed in the institution for the use of the girls. Some new pianos have also been purchased for pupils' practice.

As shown by the superintendent's report, the building needs some repairs, which should be attended to with as little delay as possible. Also rooms for gymnasium purposes are very much needed, and could be provided at a moderate cost in the way suggested by him.

The higher education of the blind is a matter of importance, and might wisely and justly be undertaken by providing a fund to send out worthy and capable graduates from this institution to outside colleges. We earnestly commend the matter to your consideration.

We respectfully submit the following sums, in the different funds, as the probable requirement for maintaining and repairs for the coming year:

Current expenses .....	$38,000
Salaries of officers and teachers.....	13,500
Ordinary repairs.....	1,500
Extraordinary repairs, ( rebuilding of walls, $2,000 ) ( outside painting..... 1,500 ) .....	3,500
Steam pipe and heating apparatus.....	1,000
Plumbing, changes for water-closets, south end.....	1,000
Painting, varnishing and paper-hanging.....	1,000
Carpets, bedding and furniture.....	1,500
Books, school apparatus, musical instruments and special instruction....	2,500
Trustees' expense.....	684
Care of grounds.....	500
Providing gymnasium rooms.....	3,000

Report of the Superintendent.

To the Board of Trustees:

GENTLEMEN: Herewith I have the honor to present my annual report, for the year ending November 15, 1888:

The number in attendance has been larger than ever before. The work of the year has, nevertheless, been satisfactory, inasmuch as there is marked progress in the discipline of the school and the diligence with which the work is pursued. Cheerfulness in obedience, happy association among the pupils, with harmony and contentment, are marked features of our institution. And I wish to express my grateful appreciation of the hearty cooperation which you have given me in all measures adopted for the attainment of this result.

To secure the best mental training, and to insure such character and habits as will fit pupils for any station in life, proper government and discipline are necessary. Life in the institution with our pupils very largely constitutes the formative period of character for their after lives, and as we succeed or fail in establishing in them systematic, orderly and prompt habits here, in a proportional extent we may look for those rich results in later life which come alone from well-regulated, self-controlled minds.

With this end in view the government and discipline of the institution, while it is mild is firm, and insists on implicit obedience to all regulations. The aim of the superintendent and his staff of teachers is to develop and encourage the principle of self-government by impressing the pupils with the necessity of self-control in the cultivation of true manhood—that rules and regulations are intended for their good, and as part of the machinery for their development; and indispensable in securing their happiness and future usefulness.

Almighty God has richly favored us with the blessing of health. No severe cases of sickness have occurred, and, indeed, the general health of the household has been remarkably good during the year. We had a number of cases of measles, but every one was carried through with no serious results. And but for an accident, the result of boyish daring on the part of the victim, we should have passed the year without a single death. The case referred to was the very sad accident in which Thomas Jenkins, a lad of seventeen years, lost his life by falling from the roof where he had climbed, out of his room window in the fourth story of the building, on the night of June 15th, last. But in view of our large household with its various needs and differences of organism and habits, we have reasons for profound thankfulness for the kind Providence that has thus kept and blessed us by His gracious care.

While our school is large, there is reason to believe that there are many blind children of school age who are not getting the benefit of this institution. It seems to me that some action should be taken by the Legislature making it compulsory to send children of proper ages and mental capacity to the school provided for them by the State. It is mistaken kindness—which is, in fact, the utmost cruelty, on the part of parents and guardians, to keep these children back from these advantages. For often during the plastic period of youth, when mind and heart should be under the moulding hand of skill, being trained for usefulness and imbued with noble aspirations, the time is passed in idleness—gendering physical and mental deformity, cultivating evil habits and awkward motions of body that will require years of hard labor to eradicate, if they are ever permitted to attend the school in later years. It seems strange that parents in their indulgence should be so blind to the child's true interests as to delay, or altogether defeat the work that would confer such inestimable benefits upon them.

The object of the institution is purely educational. It is for precisely the same purpose as the public schools of our State. And while it is distinguished as a school to instruct blind children, it is only so distinguished because it is fitted with the special appliances and methods necessary to overcome their lack of sight and put them on a level, so far as possible, with their seeing brothers and sisters. These things are stated and reiterated for the information of those who have not yet learned the object of these institutions. The idea of educating the blind to any extent is still in its infancy, and the idea that they can be carried up through the higher collegiate courses successfully is essentially new, but none the less true on that account. The curtain of darkness can be lifted for these sightless ones, handicapped though they be by misfortune. Because one of the avenues to the mind is closed, is no reason to conclude that the mind is itself impaired. We have abundant proof that this is not true. But, on the contrary, that the mind of a person deprived of sight may be just as keen, sensitive, and energetic as one with sight, and just as capable of receiving instruction to the full extent of even a classical education. And can any one justly question the right of these persons, in the light of these facts, to these educational privileges? Are they not entitled to these advantages equally with all other persons? Are not the reasons for their educational training and development—mental, moral and physical—as cogent as for that of any other class of people in the land? Are they not members of the Commonwealth? Do they not have the same social and civil duties and responsibilities as other members of the community? Why, then, should they not be furnished with every facility to prepare them to discharge these responsibilities? If the safety of a free government depends largely on the intelligence and virtue of the people, surely sufficient reason exists to justify the expenditure of money and thought in the full and true development of an intelligent manhood and womanhood among these children, and for precisely the same reasons that other children are so trained.

It is gratifying that to some extent these truths are recognized. But there are misapprehensions existing in the minds of many as to the true object of the training afforded in these special schools. Not infrequently do we receive the injunction from parents bringing children to the school: "Now, I want you to teach my child something by which he can support himself;" or, "I should like you to teach my daughter music. She don't care for anything else, and I want her to teach music for a living." The true object of education is totally lost sight of. Never once have they thought of the expanded mind, the awakened thought-power, the enlightened intellect, the delight of mental activity and moral culture, and the ennobled manhood and womanhood that shall result from careful educational training. But are these parents so much to blame when we find this same idea held and promulgated by officials and teachers in some of these institutions in their reports? From one of these official reports I quote: "To those entrusted with the education of the blind the one idea which must be kept clearly in mind is that of the cultivation of those powers in the pupil that will ensure self-support." Naturally, one would inquire: Why with the blind pupil more than another? Are any such injunctions laid upon those entrusted with the education of the seeing? Who ever heard of such a thing in regard to the public schools? A very high authority in educational matters lately stated in a public address that the mission of public schools "Is not to qualify pupils to earn a living. It is to compass the safety of the state, the stability of that great force which protects property, which preserves liberty, which promotes the happiness of all the people." And to this end "it must train the individual intellectually, morally, physically, industrially, socially and patriotically. It must seek to develop its children evenly in all directions. It will not do to train, alone, their intellectuality, much less, only, to cram the memory—it must shape the character as well. It must do this in a practical and effectual, not in a visionary and theoretical way. The thorough, true development of an intelligent and honorable manhood and womanhood will insure good citizenship." But we may be sure that when the school has accomplished this disciplinary work, the foundation for useful and profitable life-work is laid. For it is true that while schools have not for their primary object the teaching of pupils how to earn their daily bread, that the work done there does fit them for better work in the world. "To the instructed man his trade is a study; the tools of his craft are books; his farm a gospel, eloquent in its sublime silence; his cattle and his corn his teachers; the stars his guide to virtue and to God; and every mute, and every living thing by shore or sea a heaven-sent prophet to refine his mind and heart." It is the spirit which the individual brings from the school that will tell in force and utility in whatever employment the individual engages. And there is little doubt that ultimate self-support, by some manner of work, is the hope that every parent entertains for his child. It is with this broad view, recognizing that there is an education which should precede the acquisition of special, professional or industrial skill, that our institution is organized for its work with its literary, musical and technical departments. And it cannot be urged too strongly on those who have the care of sightless children that it is their duty—a solemn duty due the children, due to society, and due to the state to place them in the institution as soon as they attain the proper age.

Ohio may be justly proud of her public institutions. Nothing more truly indicates the character of a people and the worth of their civilization than the care they extend to those who are crippled in the race of life. No state in proportion to her wealth and population has provided more munificently for her unfortunates. And among all her grand beneficences the Institution for the Education of the Blind stands prominent. In point of numbers it takes front rank, having outstripped the older institutions in this respect. And I feel assured that no expenditure of money and energy by the state will yield better returns.

THE HIGHER EDUCATION OF THE BLIND.

It is thought by some that the time has now come when the scope of our work should be widened. With the greater light that experience and the increased knowledge that observation and practical tests bring us, we are sure that the higher education of the blind, both in literature and music, is both feasible and desirable.

It is feasible, as we know, from the fact that some have attained to the full classical college course, and, also, have successfully passed the rigorous training of the musical conservatory, notwithstanding the difficulties that were in the way. And with proper facilities provided, many more of our graduates would profit by this higher course. It is desirable, because it will widen the field of usefulness and happiness to the graduates of the institution.

This might be attained in either of two ways. First, The institution itself could be extended by the addition of a collegiate department, to our present literary course, and equipped with the necessary teaching force and apparatus, for acquiring the higher education. And a similar extension to the music department, by the employment of special teachers, and the additional time and drill of the conservatory; or, second, The present colleges and conservatories for the seeing can be utilized for our pupils by furnishing a "reader" or "coach," to go through the four years' course with them. Either of these plans will require an additional annual appropriation to accomplish the end sought. The latter plan might be adopted for the present, with good results; and I think would be well worth trying.

But aside from this, there is the same urgent need for additional musical instruction in the present compass of our work, that I called your attention to in the report of last year. The time of our present force of music teachers is almost wholly occupied with primary work on the pianos and organs; and lessons by special teachers should be secured for such of our pupils as give promise of a high order of musical talent, particularly on the orchestral instruments, as our orchestra has suffered by loss of older members from graduation, and others need to be trained up to fill their places. I therefore earnestly urge that such measures be taken as will secure an appropriation for this purpose.

The present work of the musical department is seen in the following statistics:

151	pupils	are	taking	instruction	on	the	piano.
23	"	"	"	"	"	cabinet	organ.
19	"	"	"	"	"	pipe	organ.
21	"	"	"	"	"	violin.
21	"	"	"	"		in	voice
45	"	"	"	"		harmony.
61	"	"		daily	practice	in	the
45	"	"	"	"	"	senior	choir.

Also, up to the close of last term, fifteen pupils practiced one hour each day in orchestra: but by reason of loss of members, as before stated, whose places have not yet been filled, for the lack of instruction on those particular instruments, the orchestra has not been organized for this term yet.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT.

In addition to our regular literary work, similar entertainments to those of last year, have been given by the pupils from time to time in the chapel, to the evident satisfaction and enjoyment of the many friends who attended. The special entertainment given to state officers and members of the legislature, seemed to be particularly pleasing to the large number of officials who attended. It was [a complete exhibit of the] industrial, literary, and musical work of the institution.

We have established regular fortnightly rhetorical exercises for the school, in which English and American authors are studied, one author occupying an evening's thought and study, interspersed with music, making a profitable as well as an entertaining program for the Tuesday evenings of every other week.

A special feature introduced the past year, as supplementary to our study of history and literature, was a course of lectures delivered in our chapel by distinguished gentlemen, who kindly favored us with this valuable aid in our work, without charge. These lectures proved exceedingly interesting as well as instructive to our pupils. And I may be permitted, here, to express the grateful appreciation of both teachers and pupils, to the gentlemen who so generously favored us. I give the list of lectures here for future reference in the order they were delivered:

- "Martin Luther"—By E. O. Randall, Esq., Columbus, O.
- "Thomas Carlyle"—By Rev. Washington Gladden, D. D., Columbus, O.
- "Puritanism in our National Character"—Prof. Edward Orton, L. L. D., O. S. U.
- "John Milton"—Leo Vincent, Esq., Philadelphia, Pa.
- "Socrates"—C. H. Miller, Supt. O. I. B.
- "The Ancient Regime in France"—Prof. G. W. Knight, A. M., O. S. U., Columbus, O.
- "The Forum in Literature"—Hon. S. N. Owen, Chief Justice Supreme Court of Ohio.
- "Hamlet"—Prof. W. F. Whitlock, A. M., Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, O.

We hope to be favored with a continuation of the lecture course for the present term.

We were also favored with concerts and piano recitals by distinguished artists, among whom I may mention Prof. Eckhardt's concert, and one by Prof. Ebeling and his pupils, and a piano recital by Mrs. T. H. Schneider, assisted by Mr. Reinmund; also a piano recital by the distinguished artist, Fraulein Aus der Ohe, the favorite pupil of Liszt, remarkable for classic elegance, brilliance of execution, and sweetness of effect. It was an inspiration to both teachers and pupils. And the generous spirit of the artist will be long remembered by the officers of the institution. The program consisted of the following numbers:

1. Tocata and Fugue—D. Minor .....Baeh—Tausig.
2. Minuet.....Pedulosky.
3. Spinning song.....Mendelssohn.
4. Nocturn .....Liszt.
5. Polonaise—E. Major.....Liszt.
6. Nocturn.....Chopin.
7. Waltz, from Faust, arranged by .....Liszt.

We take occasion here to tender our hearty thanks to these artists for their generous kindness.

The holidays were all very pleasantly observed through the year. Arbor Day, April 26, was celebrated by very interesting exercises in the chapel, and by planting trees in the grounds, one of which was dedicated to the memory of Gen. U. S. Grant, and another in honor of our gallant Governor, J. B. Foraker. The class-tree of the class of 1888 was also planted with appropriate ceremonies at this time. Addresses were delivered in the chapel by Rev. James Poindexter, member of the State Board of Forestry, and by His Excellency, Gov. J. B. Foraker, which were listened to with the closest attention.

A very interesting class was graduated at the close of the term, having completed the prescribed literary course. The exercises took place in the chapel on the evening of June 8th. The following is a copy of the program :

TEXT-BOOKS.

The discussion of the text-book question in raised print, for the use of the blind, at the last convention of American Instructors of the Blind, in Baltimore, Md., developed a remarkable unanimity of opinion as to their need and value in our work, and will doubtless result in action that will, in due time, give us text-books on every subject taught in the various institutions. This will accord with the views I expressed in a previous report. Text-books in the hands of pupils will enable them to study independently, will learn them to rely more upon themselves, and to utilize much time that is lost in a wholly oral system of teaching.

As between the line-letter and the point for raised print, there is also a good degree of unanimity among the instructors of the blind in this country in favor of the New York point as the better style of character in which to print the majority of books for the use of the blind. There are several good reasons for this. It is more easily read by those whose fingers are less delicate in touch, by reason of labor or other causes. We have found, by experience in our schools, that very few of those entering the school at the age of seventeen and over, can learn the line-letter (or Roman character) at all, while the point print can be learned by all and read with equal facility. Again, the point is available for writing, enabling pupils to take notes on their school work, to preserve for future reference, and for purposes of correspondence. And it is adapted to both literature and music. These are some of the reasons for the preferences expressed. But in our institution, and, also, in some other state institutions, until within the past few years, line-letter has been almost exclusively taught and used; and it will therefore be necessary, for some time, to hold to the line print, while studying and introducing the point. We are therefore at present teaching both systems in our reading classes.

In the matter of text-books, we are getting a book on geometry, with diagrams, published in the line letter—the first volume of which will be ready within a week or two—while the New York City institute is getting a large body of music published in point print, and the Pennsylvania institute is getting the five books of Cæsar published in point. These books are all intended for general use in the different institutions of the country, and may be considered the precursors of text-books that will eventually be produced to cover all subjects taught in our schools.

TUNING.

The tuning department, under the tutorship of Prof. A. L. Bohrer, is instructing, by daily drill and practice, 34 young men in tuning and repairing pianos. For this purpose, there are in the tuning rooms six pianos used for teaching tuning—two that are used for practice in putting on new strings, and three in which the actions are manipulated until the pupils become thoroughly familiar with the mechanism of piano actions. Besides these, we have five models of actions from different manufacturers, by means of which the young men become familiar with the different styles of pianos they are likely to find when they go out into the world as tuners.

Three young men graduated from the tuning department at the end of last term; two of whom report a paying business, and the third is tuning in connection with teaching music, and doing well.

Of former graduates, encouraging reports come to us of a steadily increasing patronage.

OTHER INDUSTRIES.

The broom shop, under the direction of Wm. Zink, is doing faithful work for the boys. There are 54 pupils learning to make brooms, who devote more or less hours daily to the work when not occupied with other duties. And they have manufactured seven thousand two hundred and twenty-two brooms, and one hundred and fifty whisks during the year, all of which were of such quality that they found ready sale at fair prices. It gives me pleasure to commend the foreman, Mr. Wm. Zink, for faithfulness, care and energy, and a most thoroughly competent instructor.

There are 46 pupils under instruction in the cane-seating shop, and during the year they completed (208) two hundred and eight chair seats. Also, in the same room, at different hours, 47 boys are taught bead-work, and they completed during the year two hundred and twenty pieces of bead-work.

There are in the sewing department 96 girls under instruction, at different hours of the day, and the following pieces of work were completed during the term:

Articles.	No.
Sheets, made .....	87
Pillow-cases, made.....	222
Comforters, " .....	17
Towels, hemmed.....	77
Table-cloths, hemmed .....	38
Napkins, " .....	264
Dresses, made .....	22
Aprons, " .....	58
Under-clothing, pieces made .....	43
Miscellaneous, " " .....	79
Pin-cushions, " " .....	4
Toilet capes, " .....	5
Sofa pillow, " .....	1
Fancy bags, " .....	4
Pieces repaired .....	121

The girls in this department, as well as plain-hand and machine-sewing, are taught darning and mending, a matter so important in learning them to be self-reliant in the care of their own clothing.

In the bead-work class for girls there are 51, and they completed three hundred and forty-six pieces of bead-work. In the same room 45 girls are learning various kinds of fancy work, and they have made in the past year eighty-five pieces of different kinds of work, some of which are elaborate and beautiful almost beyond credence as work produced by the blind.

As a measure conducive of good health as well as for physical development—which cannot be overestimated in any system of education—we have daily physical exercises for the whole school, to such extent as the very imperfect facilities provided for gymnastic exercises will permit. In fact, a gymnasium was not thought of in the construction of our building, it seems to have been entirely overlooked—a subject to which I have called your attention in previous reports, and it is therefore only necessary for me to allude to it here. Our recourse in the absence of better provision is to take both boys and girls out of doors when the weather will permit, and train them in marching, teaching them proper position of body, method and measure of step, and gracefulness of carriage, etc. And when the weather does not admit of outdoor exercise we are obliged to use the lower halls for light gymnastic, dumb-bell and club exercise for the boys, and we use the chapel for the girls' exercises.

The subject of an appropriation for gymnasium rooms cannot be too forcibly impressed upon the attention of our Legislature.

CONDITION OF BUILDING.

I desire to call your attention, particularly, to the condition of our building in some of its parts; as prudence would dictate that some steps be taken to remedy apparent defects.

The walls, at both north and south ends of the front building, are settling away from floors and roof, leaving openings, that show the end walls were not properly tied to the building when constructed. The wall at the north end moved some during the last summer vacation, widening the opening, and, as a needed precaution to prevent possible casualty, we had temporary iron rods drawn through the outside wall across the room and anchored to a heavy inside wall, to prevent further movement, until the attention of the Legislature can be drawn to it. Competent architects should be employed to examine into the matter, and, if found necessary, both the north and south end walls should be taken down as far as the spring, and rebuilt, and properly tied or anchored to the building at the different stories.

The outside window-frames, porches and cornices, also, are badly in need of paint, besides some other outside repairs. Appropriations should be asked to cover these extraordinary repairs, besides the usual inside repairs. And while on this subject of the building, allow me to suggest that adequate gymnasium rooms for both boys and girls could be provided at moderate expense, by deepening the basement and underpinning the walls under the large rooms at the north and south angles of the front building. The estimated cost of this improvement, given by an architect of this city, is about $1,500 each, or $3,000 for both rooms complete, with artificial stone or concrete floors, stairways, etc.

There have been no changes among the teachers, except the addition of James E. Foster to the corps of piano teachers for boys. And the only change of officers was the retiring of Miss Brown as Matron, and Miss McKibben as Assistant Matron. Mrs. I. L. Miller and Miss Belle Filler succeeded, respectively, to the offices vacated.

Our delegates to the Inter-State Convention of American Instructors of the Blind, which met in Baltimore, Md., in July last, were obliged to defray their own expenses, as no fund had been provided by appropriation to meet those expenses. The state legislature should be asked to make an appropriation to refund these expenses.

The wages of some of the officers and teachers are disproportionately low, when compared with the duties and responsibilities that are necessarily laid on them by reason of the increased number of inmates in the institution; and as a matter of justice the law should be so modified as to adjust the matter to present circumstances.

I append the following statistics showing the number on rolls at the beginning of the year, number of new pupils received during the year, whole number instructed, the number discharged, and the average attendance for the year, viz. :

Number of pupils enrolled Nov. 15, 1887, Boys, 127; Girls, 97. Total.....	224

The following periodicals and papers have been sent gratuitously to the institution, and we return our thanks to the publishers for their generosity: The Weekly Cincinnati Times, Herald and Presbyter, Christian Standard, Stark County Democrat, Fremont Democratic Messenger, Findlay Republican, and Jeffersonian, Tablet, of Romney, W. Va., Inst., and Goodson Gazette, Staunton, Va., Institution.

In closing, I desire to express my gratitude to the teachers and officers of the institution for their faithful work and earnest co-operation, and the aid they have given me in the discharge of my duties, which, although arduous, are thus made pleasant. Trusting in the good providence and care of Almighty God for the future, this report is respectfully submitted.

C. H. MILLER,
Superintendent.

Following will be found a list of the pupils in attendance during the last fiscal year, together with the roll of officers and teachers, and persons employed in the household, and also statistics showing the progress of the institution:

STATISTICS OF THE INSTITUTION.

The following chapter is inserted each year, with the necessary additions, for the convenience of those who have not access to a file of our reports. The table presents a summary of the progress of the institution. The statement of expenditures is taken from the reports of the proper officers.

SUGGESTIONS.

The primary object of this institution is to furnish the blind children of the State the best known facilities for acquiring a thorough education, and to train them in some useful profession or manual art by which they may be enabled to contribute to their own support after leaving the institution. It is in no sense an asylum for those who are helpless from old age or otherwise, or a hospital for the treatment of blindness.

Application for admission to the institution should be addressed to the Superintendent, Institution for the Blind, Columbus, Ohio. (Blank applications, in proper form, will be mailed to any person who will address a request to the Superintendent.)

Applicants for the school department must be between the age of eight and twenty-one years. Persons above the age of twenty-one years may enter the institution for the purpose of learning a trade.

The law provides that a child cannot be admitted younger than eight years, except for special reasons—but there is no reason why a blind child may not learn many things at home before attaining that age, and so gain valuable time. They may be learned to count, to add and subtract simple numbers, etc. A copy of the alphabet, in raised letters, will be sent to parents or friends of blind children, on application, which will enable them to learn the letters and spell simple words.

The school year commences on the second Wednesday in September, and continues forty weeks, to the third Wednesday in June, which is followed by a vacation of twelve weeks, to be spent by the pupils at their homes or with their friends, none being allowed to remain in the institution during the vacation. The National holidays are observed, but there is no recess between Christmas and New Year's, and pupils are not to leave school at that time, or at either of the other holidays.

It is of the utmost importance that pupils should be present at the beginning of the term. Classes are then formed, and children not present to begin with their classes are placed at a disadvantage that it is almost impossible to overcome during the entire year.

For residents of the State the school is free, no charge being made for board or tuition: but parents or guardians must provide their children with good and suitable clothing, and pay their traveling expenses. For pupils residing outside of the State the terms are $120 per annum, payable half-yearly in advance.

The hospitalities of the institution are occasionally allowed to parents and guardians of pupils, but it is with the understanding that the privilege must not be abused by protracted visits. The possibilities for such entertainment in the institution are becoming more difficult as the school increases in numbers, and parents and guardians visiting their children, when necessary, cannot therefore be allowed to extend their visit beyond twenty-four hours, without express permission from the Superintendent.

In getting children to the institution it is not necessary for parents or friends to be at the expense of coming with them, as by putting them into the care of the railroad conductor at the starting point, they will be delivered safely at the Union Depot in this city, where the attendants of the institution will meet and take charge of them. The only precaution necessary is to be sure and write the Superintendent, informing him what day and what train the children will be sent on.

Persons who may know of blind children or young people of suitable age and character to receive instructions, are requested to inform them of the nature and aims of this institution, and of the steps to be taken in order to secure admission.

C. H. MILLER,
Superintendent.

REPORT OF PHYSICIAN.

To the Board of Trustees:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor of presenting the annual report of the health of the institution for the year ending November 15, 1888.

On the 14th of December, 1887, a case of scarlet fever was encountered; but by prompt isolation and strict sanitary measures the disease was prevented from becoming epidemic. In the latter part of April, 1888, the measles invaded our family, and from May 2 to May 5 thirty-two children were down with the disease.

A sad accident occurred in the early morning of the last day of the term. A number of boys, through a spirit of mischief, were climbing from one window to the other in the fourth story, when one, Thos. Jenkins, age 17 years, fell to the ground and sustained such severe internal injuries that he died in a short time afterwards.

The following list will show the diseases for which medical aid was rendered:

	Males.	Females.	Total.	Died.
Measles .....	21	12	33	.....
Bronchitis, acute.....	5	7	12	.....
Diarrhœa .....	3	5	8	.....

The decided diminution of malarial troubles in the last two years, is sufficient proof that the sanitary condition of the institution has been carefully looked after and improved.

Respectfully submitted.
