The New Tariff of Guatemala.

On November 4, 1893, a new tariff was promulgated in Guatemala, by decree No. 476, reading as follows:

Whereas, owing to the deficiencies and irregularities of the tariff now in force, many difficulties have been found in properly attending to the necessities of the public service, and many doubts have also occurred to the importers in regard to the proper classification and appraisement of their merchandise,

Therefore, I, JOSÉ MARIA REINA BARRIOS, a General of division in the Army, and the President of the Republic of Guatemala, in use of the faculties vested in me, do hereby decree:

The following tariff of import duties to be paid by foreign merchandise brought into the country shall begin to be in force on the first day of January, 1894.

On the same day the following rules for the application of the new tariff were officially promulgated and appended to it:

Rule first.—Before fixing the amount of the duty to be paid, under the present tariff, by the imported article, the custom-house officers shall examine carefully the material, or materials, out of which the article is made, its form, the use for which it is intended, the name by which it is known in the trade, its quality, and the name given to it by the present tariff according to the nature of its material, its form, or its use or application.

Rule second.—Articles consisting of two or more different materials, and not expressly designated in the present tariff, shall be charged the duty corresponding to the material which prevails, as far as quantity is concerned, in its composition.

Rule third.—Scientific instruments and apparatus which are admitted free, such as barometers, thermometers, and others, shall pay, however, when attached to some dutiable articles, as statues, candelabras, inkstands, etc., the duties corresponding to the articles of which they form a part.

Rule fourth.—The expression "net weight" shall be understood to mean the intrinsic weight of the merchandise, without counting the interior frames (almas), containers, or wrappings.

Rule fifth.—The expression "including weight of container" shall be understood to mean only the weight of the interior frames (almás), or the immediate individual wrappings, jugs, bottles, flasks, pasteboard, wooden or tin boxes, within which the article is put up, but not the weight of the general box, case, or outer common receptacle.

If the article on which the duty is to be liquidated and paid, "including weight of container," does not come put up separately, but is imported loose inside a box or case or other receptacle, general or external, the weight of the said box, case, or receptacle shall not be taken into consideration, and the duty shall be assessed according to the true weight of the article.

The terms "interior frames" (almás) and "wrappings" shall only be accepted, for the purposes of the present tariff, when the objects designated by them have no commercial value.

Rule sixth.—The expression "gross weight" shall be understood to mean the weight of the article, together with the weight of all containers, cord, and wrappings, both interior and exterior.

Rule seventh.—When the imported bundle or bale of merchandise contains some articles upon which the duty is to be levied taking into consideration the weight of the container, and some others, which are dutiable according to their gross weight, the duty shall be assessed as if all of them belong to the former class, plus a fourth of their weight. Nothing shall be paid, then, on account of the outer general box or case.

Rule eighth.—"Common containers" are jugs, bottles, flasks, whether earthen or glass, and cylinders or cases, whether of iron, zinc, tin, copper, lead, wood, pasteboard, tin plate, etc., usually employed to hold the merchandise, and which separately or by themselves do not constitute a special article of commerce, capable of increasing the value of the same merchandise, or of being used independently.

Rule ninth.—When the articles imported in "common containers" have to pay duties according to their net weight, or to their number, no assessment shall be made on the containers themselves; but if the duty is to be levied according to the gross weight, then the containers shall pay as provided in the respective items of the tariff.

Rule tenth.—Such containers as do not fall under the head of "common," as defined in rule eighth, and clearly appear not to correspond to the article held by them, and have a special intrinsic commercial value, either because they constitute a fancy container, or because they can be used for other purposes, shall pay the duty which corresponds to their nature, according to the tariff. In order that this duty may be properly assessed, a previous declaration of these containers shall have to be made.

Rule eleventh.—When the container, whether exterior or interior, is such an article as a safe, a trunk, a valise, a piece of furniture or other dutiable article, it shall not be considered as a mere container, and shall have to pay the proper duties and be included in the declaration.

Rule twelfth.—The cloth or wrapping material used to protect the merchandise in the interior of the bales or bundles shall have to be declared, and shall pay, whatever their quantity and quality may be, such duties as are established in the tariff. But those wrappings or covers, whether oilcloth or tarred canvas, which are used only to protect the merchandise against the action of dampness, and in no larger quantity than is indispensable, shall pay no duty.

Rule thirteenth.—Mixed woolen cloth shall be understood to be only that cloth in which the warp and woof consist entirely of cotton threads, or of threads of other vegetable fiber.

Rule fourteenth.—Mixed silk ribbons shall be understood to be only those ribbons in which the warp and woof consist entirely of cotton, linen, or wool threads.

Rule fifteenth.—Mixed silk goods or articles shall be understood to be those in which the warp and woof consist entirely of threads of some vegetable fiber.

Rule sixteenth.—Jewels and all kinds of manufactured articles, subject to pay duty according to their net weight, shall pay, however, for the individual cases (estuches) containing them; and the said cases or estuches shall have to be declared, in order that the corresponding duty may be assessed on them according to the tariff. But such articles as are assessed in the tariff, together with their cases or estuches, shall not require this especial declaration.

Cases or estuches shall be those cases of wood or pasteboard, covered with cloth or leather, or those wooden cases varnished, painted, ornamented or lined interiorly with leather or cloth, fitted up to contain one or more articles in the proper corresponding places or positions.

Rule seventeenth.—When the interior wrapping, label, or container of a chemical or pharmaceutical article, gives it a name different from the one set forth in the declaration, the duty shall be, even in case that the real name proves to be the one under which the article was declared, the heaviest one assessed by the tariff, either on the article designated by the interior wrapping, label, or container, or on the real imported article.

Rule eighteenth.—When the merchandise is imported in iron cases, trunks, tanks, or cylinders, whether metallic or of some other analogous material, provided with special locks, the interested party shall be bound to open the said cases, trunks, or containers, so as to allow the proper examination to be made; otherwise the merchandise shall not be cleared.

Rule nineteenth.—When chemicals or pharmaceutical articles are imported in unusual containers, or have been intentionally and for the purpose of rendering their examination difficult, put up either in opaque recipients, or in recipients closed in such a way as to prevent the customs officer from ascertaining exactly their nature, the importer shall be bound to present to said officer as many of these recipients, already open, as he may ask. Otherwise the merchandise shall not be cleared.

Rule twentieth.—Salts and chemical compounds, assessed generically in two different ways in separate items of the tariff, shall pay according to the item in which the duty is heavier.

Rule twenty-first.—“Salts in powder” shall be those clearly shown to have been packed or put up in that form. If the salts packed or put up in powder have become hardened in such a way as to render further pulverization by mechanical process necessary, they shall have to pay as salts in lumps, or crystals.

This rule shall be applicable to all kinds of powders, except pulverized resins or gum-resins, which if once pulverized shall always pay as if in powder, even if hardened and strongly conglomerated into pieces.

Rule twenty-second.—The term parity used in the tariff in reference to chemical substances shall not be understood in its strict scientific acceptation. The fact that the imported article meets all the organoleptic characteristics corresponding to the pure substance itself, shall be sufficient for the purposes of the tariff.

Rule twenty-third.—“Salts prepared to be used as fertilizers” shall have to show very clearly their impure character, so that no room may be left for doubt as to the real use for which they are intended.

Rule twenty-fourth.—Salts, whether neuter, acid, or basic, shall always pay the same duty, except in those cases in which the tariff has established the difference. So the bisulphate of soda, or sulphate acid of soda, shall pay the same duty as the sulphate, or sulphate neuter of soda, named in the tariff.

Rule twenty-fifth.—The gun cotton named in the tariff is the substance used to prepare collodium and celluloid, containing less proportion of nitric acid and being less explosive than the gun cotton employed to make explosive compounds.

Rule twenty-sixth.—Dutiable merchandise contained in scientific instruments, cases, or other articles, which under the present tariff are admitted free, shall not be considered as a part of the latter.

Rule twenty-seventh.—Firearms whose importation is not forbidden shall not be allowed to be taken out of the custom-house until after the proper permit of the Government has been presented and filed.

Rule twenty-eighth.—When letter paper and envelopes are imported in cases containing both articles in equal quantity, the duty shall be assessed in such a way as to cause one-third of the total weight to represent the weight of the envelopes and the other two-thirds to represent the weight of the paper.

Rule twenty-ninth.—When wines or liquors are imported in wooden casks, the reduction of their quantity to litres shall be made by deducting one-fourth from the number of kilograms representing the gross weight of the article, as, for instance: 100 kilograms, gross weight, shall represent 75 litres of liquid, or the 75 per cent on the total gross weight.

Double casks shall not be taken into account in making this operation.

One litre is equal to 1.4486 bottles.

Rule thirtieth.—The following schedule shall be followed for the reduction of all brandies to 20° Beaumé, when their alcoholic strength exceeds that density:

One litre of brandy of—

	Litres.		Litres.
20 .....	1.00	30 .....	1.52
21 .....	1.08	31 .....	1.56
22 .....	1.14	32 .....	1.59
23 .....	1.20	33 .....	1.64
24 .....	1.24	34 .....	1.67
25 .....	1.30	35 .....	1.72
26 .....	1.36	36 .....	1.77
27 .....	1.40	37 .....	1.78
28 .....	1.44	38 .....	1.81
29 .....	1.48	39 .....	1.81

Rule thirty-first.—Buildings and complete houses, or the parts thereof, whether iron or frame, named in the section of this tariff referring to articles admitted free, do not include nails, paint, and iron articles not appearing in their proper place.

Rule thirty-second.—“Curtains in the piece,” as mentioned in items 239 and 240 of the present tariff, are those joined by the continuation of the thread in the weaving, and whose borders or patterns are separated by a small space which allows for cutting.

The same shall be understood in regard to sheets, shawls (perrajes), and other articles of analogous character, which pay different duty when imported in the piece or separate.

Rule thirty-third.—Such duties as levied by the present tariff on articles not specified, or not mentioned, are not absolute. When the imported article is unknown, either on account of its material or of its form, and can not be assessed under any item of the tariff, the importers may, if they so choose, make an application to the director-general of the customs service, who, upon examination of the samples presented to him and of the explanations made, shall consult the Secretary of the Treasury and decide as to the duty to be levied on the new article.

Rule thirty-fourth.—Ten per cent shall be allowed to be deducted under the head of “damage” (avería) from the duty on wines, liquors, brandies, ales, ginger ale, sarsaparilla, beer, and sweet oil, when imported in glass containers; but this allowance shall not be made when the wines are medicinal.

The same allowance of 10 per cent shall be made for the same reason on articles of glass or crockery for domestic purposes, on chimneys, globes, and screens for lamps, and on empty flasks, bottles, and demijohns to be used as containers, when imported in separate bundles or boxes.

Rule thirty-fifth.—All articles of food which at the time of the custom-house examination may be found to be in a state of decomposition, shall be ordered by the authorities to be thrown out, or buried, without delay.

SUPPLEMENTARY DECREE OF DECEMBER 20, 1893.

Whereas, by an executive decree, marked No. 476, and dated November 4, 1893, a new tariff was ordered to be put in force on the 1st of January, 1894.

And whereas, under a previous decree, No. 405, of December 20, 1887, it was established that an additional duty of 15 per cent on the total assessment made by the custom-houses should be levied; and under article 5 of another decree, No. 207, of April 21st, 1893, a further additional duty of 7 per cent on the same total is to be paid by the importers for the Northern Railroad.

And whereas the new tariff contains no provision repealing either of the said decrees:

And whereas, the Government being animated by the desire of favoring the importation of merchandise, has deemed it advisable to reduce the said 22 per cent now levied, to only 15 per cent, out of which the Northern Railroad may take its 7 per cent, the balance of 8 per cent being then left for other public works:

Therefore, I, the President of the Republic, do hereby decree:

First. On and after the 1st of January, 1894, no other additional duty shall be levied and collected than that of 15 per cent established by decree No. 405.

Second. The amount yielded by this duty shall be distributed as follows: 7 per cent for the Northern Railroad; 4 per cent for the waterworks of this capital and the works of drainage of the same; and 4 per cent for the building of a custom-house, at such a place as may be hereafter designated at the depot of the Northern Railroad.

Third. The Secretary of the Treasury shall take such measures and communicate such instructions as may be necessary for the execution of this decree. National Palace, Guatemala, December 20th, 1893.

REINA BARRIOS.

By the President:

SALVADOR HERRERA,

Secretary of the Treasury and Public Credit.
