EVERY DESCRIPTION OF

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING,

NEATLY AND CORRECTLY EXECUTED,

Opposite B. & W. Railroad Station,

WORCESTER.

THE COUNTY OF WORCESTER.

THE COUNTY OF WORCESTER takes the first rank among the Counties of Massachusetts for the extent of its territory, and it is the third in population, and the fourth in wealth. It occupies the whole central portion of the State, extending from the line of New Hampshire, on the north, to those of Connecticut and Rhode Island, on the South,—a distance of fifty miles; and its average width, from East to West, is about forty miles.

The County was incorporated on the 2d of April, 1731, by the General Court of the Province, by an act entitled “An act for erecting, granting and making a county in the inland parts of this Province, to be called the County of Worcester, and for establishing Courts of Justice in the same.”

It was provided by the act “that the towns and places hereafter named and expressed, that is to say, Worcester, Lancaster, Westborough, Shrewsbury, Southborough, Leicester, Rutland and Lunenburg, all in the County of Middlesex; Mendon, Woodstock, Oxford, Sutton, including Hassanamisco, Uxbridge, and the land lately granted to several petitioners of Medfield, all in the County of Suffolk; Brookfield, in the County of Hampshire; and the South town laid out to the Narraganset soldiers, and all other lands lying within the said townships, with the inhabitants thereon, shall, from and after the 10th day of July, which will be in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and thirty-one, be and remain one entire and distinct County, by the name of Worcester, of which Worcester is to be the county or shire town; and the said County to have, use and enjoy all such powers, privileges and immunities as by law other Counties within this Province have and do enjoy."

At that time the population was sparse, and the means of communication with the seaboard so difficult and irregular, that the incorporation of the County was strongly opposed in the General Court, on the ground of the "utter improbability of its ever making any figure."

It will be our purpose to show in these pages that the men of that generation were mistaken in their calculations; and that, in the development of all the elements which combine to form an industrious, thrifty, intelligent, moral and prosperous community, the County of Worcester has "made a figure," of which all who claim it as their birth-place may be justly proud, and which the inhabitants of other sections of the State, in some respects more favorably located, have not been slow to acknowledge.

It will be seen that Woodstock is named among the towns in the original act incorporating the County. At that time, 1731, the boundaries between the Massachusetts and Connecticut Colonies had not been definitely adjusted, and the inhabitants of Woodstock preferred to cast their lot with the last named Colony. They continued, however, to pay their taxes to Massachusetts, and to send Representatives to the General Court until 1748, when, by vote of the town, they quietly seceded, and elected Representatives to the General Assembly of Connecticut. The Representatives thus elected were admitted to seats in the Assembly of the sister Province by a bare majority; and although Massachusetts continued to tax the town, and the people refused to pay, no compulsory measures were resorted to; and at the close of the Revolutionary war, the subject in dispute was never revived, and the territory embraced in the original limits of Woodstock, as a part of Worcester County, was permitted quietly to drop away from the territory and jurisdiction of Worcester County and of Massachusetts.

It is no part of our present purpose to present in these pages even an epitome of the interesting historic incidents connected with the settlement and progress of Worcester County. We have neither time nor space "to go down among the dead men" of past generations, to exalt their virtues, of those who have gone before us. To useful facts, pertinent to the business and every-day life of the present generation of Worcester County, we must confine our attention; and we hope that the record of local information which we here furnish, will give to our undertaking such interest and value, in the eyes of the people, that they will welcome it as they do the presence of an intelligent and entertaining friend,—to be consulted with profit and advantage in the counting room of the merchant, the shop of the mechanic, and at the fireside of the farmer.

"Or draw their frailties from the dread abode,"

MILITARY RECORD.

In the Revolutionary struggle, the people of Worcester County bore a conspicuous part, and some of the most brilliant pages of the history of that war bear record of the heroic valor, fortitude and patriotism of her sons.

The news of the Battle of Lexington, which was fought on the 19th of April, 1775, reached Worcester in the forenoon of the same day, and before night two companies of minute men, numbering in all one hundred and ten men, well armed and well drilled, were on their march to Concord, under the command of Captains Timothy Bigelow and Benjamin Flagg.

In the month of April, 1861, eighty-six years later, and on the very anniversary of that battle, the men of Worcester County again stood shoulder to shoulder with the men of Middlesex, in defence of those wise and beneficent institutions which their fathers achieved the power and the right to establish, on all the battle fields of the war for Independence.

At the call of the Governor of the Commonwealth, issued in response to a requisition of the President of the United States for 75,000 troops, with which to crush the treasonable conspiracy against the Government, the County of Worcester responded, in the year of the Great Rebellion of 1861, with a generous alacrity, worthy of her ancient fame.

In response to orders received about noon of the 16th of April, 1861, to report at Boston on the following day, the Worcester Light Infantry, a military organization dating back to the beginning of the century, and forming at that time a part of the 3d Battalion of Rifles of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia, were assembled with full ranks, armed and equipped for service, at Boston, at the time appointed, where, under directions of the Adjutant-General, it was incorporated in the Sixth Regiment,—“The Gallant Sixth,”—which two days afterwards, while leading the van for the defense of our then imperiled National Capital, added new lustre to the historic renown of Massachusetts, and by another baptism of fire and blood, consecrated anew, in the streets of Baltimore, the memories of Lexington and Concord.

Orders were subsequently issued for the remaining companies of the 3d Battalion of Rifles to report to Major Charles Devens, at Worcester, on the afternoon of the 20th, which met with the same ready response, and at 9 o'clock in the evening of that day, the Battalion, composed of Co. A, Worcester City Guards, Co. B, Holden Rifles, Co. C, Emmet Guards, of Worcester, were on the way to Baltimore, where they were afterwards reinforced by an additional company recruited in Boston, and known as “Dodd's Rifles.”

All of the troops above referred to were enlisted to serve for three months, but later developments in the progress of the rebellion showed but too plainly that a much larger force than the original number called for would be required, and that it would be unwise to accept the service of additional troops for a less term of service than three years.

To all the requisitions for troops, Massachusetts, as is well known, responded with characteristic promptness; and the patriotism of Worcester County, and the enthusiastic interest of her people in the cause of the country was still further illustrated by the enlistment and organization within her borders, of three full regiments of three years' volunteers for the war, viz: the 15th, the 21st, and the 25th, besides several full companies which were attached to other regiments.

We give below the "Rosters" of these organizations and the names, designations and officers of the companies referred to.

In addition to the regularly organized regiments and companies referred to above, an examination of the muster rolls of the other regiments of Massachusetts volunteers, shows that Worcester County is well represented by her citizens in nearly all of them.

In the belief that it would be more gratifying to the people of the several towns to see the names of those heroic representatives of the patriotism and the valor of the County arranged under the head of the respective localities in which they claimed to reside, we have compiled from the official rolls the names of all enlisted men in the three years' service, who were residents of the County at the time of their enlistment. It has been a work of much labor and perplexity, so to arrange and classify by towns, regimental numbers and company letters, these names from lists embracing more than thirty thousand soldiers, and we doubt not that some errors may be found, for the original rolls are in many cases imperfect, and there are very few which are in all respects correct.

A reference to the "Roll of Honor" thus prepared, will show at a glance the quota of troops which each town in the County has contributed to the Union armies, and its use by the officers of the towns will greatly facilitate their labors in the administration of the laws relating to the wives, children and other dependent relatives of volunteers.

FITCHBURG HOTEL,

BY WILLIAM F. DAY.

☞ Travelers who patronize this House, will be carried to and from the Railroad Depots free of expense.

The publisher of the "County Record" regrets that circumstances oblige him to omit the advertisements of merchants and traders in Fitchburg, but knowing they have abundant means of local advertising, trusts the disappointment will not be so great to them as it is to him.

CHILSON'S

PATENT ELEVATED

DOUBLE OVEN COOKING RANGE.

This very superior Range, now in so general use, needs only to be seen to understand the great improvements attained in this invention over any other plan of Range in the United States. It is entirely new in principle,—having five claims patented for improvements not found in any other Range:—Its unparalleled economy in the consumption of fuel; its quick and even-baking ovens; its patent self-regulating flues around the ovens (without the usual vexatious complication of dampers found in the common Ranges); its cast iron flue plates around the oven, preventing loss of heat in the chimney. Its superior, fine, heavy castings, and general beauty of design and conveniences, cannot fail to commend themselves to all using Ranges.

Sizes in variety for dwellings, hotels, &c., with or without Water Backs, for Bath Boilers and other washing purposes; also, Hot Air Fixture, for heating additional rooms when desired.

No housekeeper will long use any other plan of Range or Cooking Stove after once using this Range.

CHILSON'S NEW PARLOR STOVE,

— FOR —

PARLORS, CHAMBERS, OFFICES, STORES, &c.

This Stove keeps fire day and night, and warms the floor for a great distance around the stove. It has a nice arrangement for ventilating the room.

AN OVEN AND BOILER ATTACHED, WHEN DESIRED, FOR DINING ROOMS.

All are invited to examine this invention. For sale, wholesale and retail, at the subscriber's store,

Nos. 99 and 101 Blackstone Street,
BOSTON,

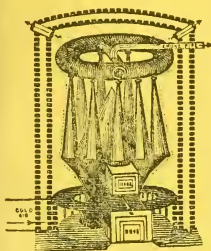

OR AT HIS FOUNDRY IN MANSFIELD, MASS.

CHILSON'S PATENT CONE FURNACES.

PATENTED IN THE United States, England and France.

A GOLD MEDAL awarded by the "Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association" Fair of 1856, and the only gold medal ever awarded to any firm in Massachusetts.

The extensive use of this superior Furnace in the United States, has acquired for it a reputation too well and favorably known to need more at this time than to call the special attention of those in want of the best possible means of warming dwellings, public buildings, &c., with pure, fresh, healthful heat, (free from that scorching, dry, red-hot-iron heat, and coal gas, so common to hot-air furnaces,) to an examination of this superior invention, which represents a cluster of cones, or tapering radiators, over a broad, flaring, shallow fire-pot. These cones, being large at the base and small at the top, secure the great and important object of retaining and holding the smoke and gases back, in contact with the burning fuel—thus thoroughly consuming the gases while their heat is compressed up into the cones, and made to impinge against and radiate from the tapering surfaces—thereby securing twice the heat from a given amount of coal, that can be obtained from any other plan known to man. This furnace is very simple in its construction, and easily managed, and much less liable to need repairs than any other plan of furnace in use.

ALSO, FIVE SIZES OF PORTABLE FURNACES,

On the same principle, that are giving perfect satisfaction.

A special invitation is given to all interested in the heating and ventilation of buildings to examine the above assortment of furnaces.

Special attention given to PUTTING UP FURNACES AND RANGES, and the VENTILATION OF BUILDINGS, in any part of the country.

For sale, wholesale and retail, at the subscriber's store,

Nos. 99 and 101 Blackstone Street, Boston,

OR AT HIS FOUNDRY, MANSFIELD, MASS.

DR. WISTAR'S

BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY!

Experience has proved, and time has demonstrated, that this remedy is unequalled for the immediate relief and cure of

Coughs, Colds, Bronchial Affections,

WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP,

DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS,

As well as the most dreadful of all diseases,

C O N S U M P T I O N !

The high character of this preparation, as a safe, certain, effectual and agreeable remedy for the complaints which it professes to cure, has given it a world-wide reputation.

From the hundreds of certificates in our possession, certifying to the wonderful effects of the use of

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry,

we select the following letter,

From Benjamin Wheeler, Esq., Depot Master at South Royalston.

SOUTH ROYALSTON, January 4, 1861.

MESSRS. SETH W. FOWLE & Co, Boston:

Gents:—Although unsolicited by you, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony to the many already given in favor of your WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

In the spring of 1858 I was most severely afflicted with a hard, dry cough, with its usual accompaniments of night sweats, completely prostrating my nervous system, and producing such a debilitated state of health, that after trying medical aid to no purpose, I had given up all hopes of ever recovering, as had also my friends. At this stage of matters, I was prevailed upon, through the influence of a neighbor, to try Wistar's Balsam, though with no belief whatever in its truly wonderful curative properties, and before using two bottles the effect was almost magical. My cough entirely left me, the night sweats deserted me, hope once more elated my depressed spirits, and soon I had attained my wonted strength and vigor.

Thus had this Balsam, as has often been remarked by persons conversant with the above facts in this vicinity, literally snatched me from the yawning grave. You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted.

Very respectfully yours,

BENJ. WHEELER.
