WANTING IS—WHAT?

WANTING is-what? Summer redundant, Blueness abundant, -Where is the spot? Beamy the world, yet a blank all the same, —Framework which waits for a picture to frame: What of the leafage, what of the flower? Roses embowering with nought they embower! Come then, complete incompletion, O comer, Pant through the blueness, perfect the summer! Breathe but one breath Rose-beauty above, And all that was death Grows life, grows love, Grows love!

DONALD.

"Will you hear my story also,

—Huge Sport, brave adventure in plenty?"

The boys were a band from Oxford,

The oldest of whom was twenty

The bothy we held carouse in

Was bright with fire and candle;

Tale followed tale like a merry-go-round

Whereof Sport turned the handle.

In our eyes and noses—turf-smoke:

In our ears a tune from the trivet,

Whence "Boiling, boiling," the kettle sang,

"And ready for fresh Glenlivet."

So, feat capped feat, with a vengeance:

Truths, though,—the lads were loyal:

"Grouse, five score brace to the bag!

Deer, ten hours' stalk of the Royal!"

Of boasting, not one bit, boys!

Only there seemed to settle

Somehow above your curly heads,

—Plain through the singing kettle,

Palpable through the cloud,

As each new-puffed Havanna

Rewarded the teller's well-told tale,—

This vaunt "To Sport—Hosanna!

- "Hunt, fish, shoot,
 Would a man fulfil life's duty!

 Not to the bodily frame alone

 Does Sport give strength and beauty,
- "But character gains in—courage?

 Ay, Sir, and much beside it!

 You don't sport, more's the pity:

 You soon would find, if you tried it,
- "Good sportsman means good fellow,
 Sound-hearted he, to the centre;
 Your mealy-mouthed mild milksops

 —There's where the rot can enter!
- "There's where the dirt will breed,

 The shabbiness Sport would banish!

 Oh no, Sir, no! In your honoured case

 All such objections vanish.

"'T is known how hard you studied:

A Double-First—what, the jigger!

Give me but half your Latin and Greek,

I'll never again touch trigger!

"Still, tastes are tastes, allow me!

Allow, too, where there's keenness

For Sport, there's little likelihood

Of a man's displaying meanness!"

So, put on my mettle, I interposed.

"Will you hear my story?" quoth I.

"Never mind how long since it happed,
I sat, as we sit, in a bothy;

"With as merry a band of mates, too,

Undergrads all on a level:

(One's a Bishop, one's gone to the Bench,

And one's gone—well, to the Devil.)

"When, lo, a scratching and tapping!

In hobbled a ghastly visitor.

Listen to just what he told us himself

—No need of our playing inquisitor!"

Do you happen to know in Ross-shire

Mount Ben . . . but the name scarce matters:

Of the naked fact I am sure enough,

Though I clothe it in rags and tatters.

You may recognise Ben by description;

Behind him—a moor's immenseness:

Up goes the middle mount of a range,

Fringed with its firs in denseness.

Rimming the edge, its fir-fringe, mind!

For an edge there is, though narrow;

From end to end of the range, a stripe

Of path runs straight as an arrow.

And the mountaineer who takes that path
Saves himself miles of journey
He has to plod if he crosses the moor
Through heather, peat and burnie.

But a mountaineer he needs must be,

For, look you, right in the middle

Projects bluff Ben—with an end in ich—

Why planted there, is a riddle:

Since all Ben's brothers little and big

Keep rank, set shoulder to shoulder,

And only this burliest out must bulge

Till it seems—to the beholder

From down in the gully,—as if Ben's breast,

To a sudden spike diminished,

Would signify to the boldest foot

"All further passage finished!"

Yet the mountaineer who sidles on

And on to the very bending,

Discovers, if heart and brain be proof,

No necessary ending.

Foot up, foot down, to the turn abrupt

Having trod, he, there arriving,

Finds—what he took for a point was breadth,

A mercy of Nature's contriving.

So, he rounds what, when 't is reached, proves straight,

From one side gains the other:

The wee path widens—resume the march,

And he foils you, Ben my brother!

But Donald—(that name, I hope, will do)—
I wrong him if I call "foiling"
The tramp of the callant, whistling the while
As blithe as our kettle's boiling.

He had dared the danger from boyhood up,
And now,—when perchance was waiting
A lass at the brig below,—'twixt mount
And moor would he stand debating?

Moreover this Donald was twenty-five,

A glory of bone and muscle:

Did a fiend dispute the right of way,

Donald would try a tussle.

On to the narrow and narrow;

A step more, rounding the angular rock,

Reached the front straight as an arrow.

He stepped it, safe on the ledge he stood,

When—whom found he full-facing?

What fellow in courage and wariness too,

Had scouted ignoble pacing,

And left low safety to timid mates,

And made for the dread dear danger,

And gained the height where—who could guess

He would meet with a rival ranger?

'T was a gold-red stag that stood and stared,
Gigantic and magnific,
By the wonder—ay, and the peril—struck
Intelligent and pacific:

For a red deer is no fallow deer

Grown cowardly through park-feeding;

He batters you like a thunderbolt

If you brave his haunts unheeding.

I doubt he could hardly perform *volte-face*Had valour advised discretion:

You may walk on a rope, but to turn on a rope

No Blondin makes profession.

Yet Donald must turn, would pride permit,
Though pride ill brooks retiring:

Each eyed each—mute man, motionless beast— Less fearing than admiring.

These are the moments when quite new sense,

To meet some need as novel,

Springs up in the brain: it inspired resource:

—" Nor advance nor retreat but—grovel!"

And slowly, surely, never a whit

Relaxing the steady tension

Of eye-stare which binds man to beast,—

By an inch and inch declension,

Sank Donald sidewise down and down:

Till flat, breast upwards, lying

At his six-foot length, no corpse more still,

—" If he cross me! The trick's worth trying."

Minutes were an eternity;

But a new sense was created

In the stag's brain too; he resolves! Slow, sure, With eye-stare unabated,

Feelingly he extends a foot

Which tastes the way ere it touches

Earth's solid and just escapes man's soft,

Nor hold of the same unclutches

Till its fellow foot, light as a feather whisk,

Lands itself no less finely:

So a mother removes a fly from the face

Of her babe asleep supinely.

And now 't is the haunch and hind foot's turn

—That's hard: can the beast quite raise it?

Yes, traversing half the prostrate length,

His hoof-tip does not graze it.

Just one more lift! But Donald, you see,

Was sportsman first, man after:

A fancy lightened his caution through,

—He well-nigh broke into laughter

"It were nothing short of a miracle!

Unrivalled, unexampled—

All sporting feats with this feat matched

Were down and dead and trampled!"

The last of the legs as tenderly

Follows the rest: or never

Or now is the time! His knife in reach,

And his right-hand loose—how clever!

For this can stab up the stomach's soft,
While the left-hand grasps the pastern.

A rise on the elbow, and—now's the time Or never: this turn's the last turn!

I shall dare to place myself by God

Who scanned—for He does—each feature

Of the face thrown up in appeal to Him

By the agonizing creature.

Nay, I hear plain words: "Thy gift brings this!"

Up he sprang, back he staggered,

Over he fell, and with him our friend

—At following game no laggard.

Yet he was not dead when they picked next day

From the gully's depth the wreck of him;

His fall had been stayed by the stag beneath

Who cushioned and saved the neck of him.

But the rest of his body—why, doctors said,
Whatever could break was broken;
Legs, arms, ribs, all of him looked like a toast
In a tumbler of port-wine soaken.

"That your life is left you, thank the stag!"
Said they when—the slow cure ended—
They opened the hospital-door, and thence — Strapped, spliced, main fractures mended,

And minor damage left wisely alone,—
Like an old shoe clouted and cobbled,
Out—what went in a Goliath well-nigh,—
Some half of a David hobbled.

"You must ask an alms from house to house:

Sell the stag's head for a bracket,

With its grand twelve tines—I'd buy it myself—

And use the skin for a jacket!"

He was wiser, made both head and hide

His win-penny: hands and knees on,

Would manage to crawl—poor crab—by the roads

In the misty stalking-season.

And if he discovered a bothy like this,

Why, harvest was sure: folks listened.

He told his tale to the lovers of Sport:

Lips twitched, cheeks glowed, eyes glistened.

And when he had come to the close, and spread

His spoils for the gazers' wonder,

With "Gentlemen, here's the skull of the stag

I was over, thank God, not under!"—

The company broke out in applause;

"By Jingo, a lucky cripple!

Have a munch of grouse and a hunk of bread,

And a tug, besides, at our tipple!"

And "There's my pay for your pluck!" cried This,

"And mine for your jolly story!"

Cried That, while 'T other—but he was drunk—

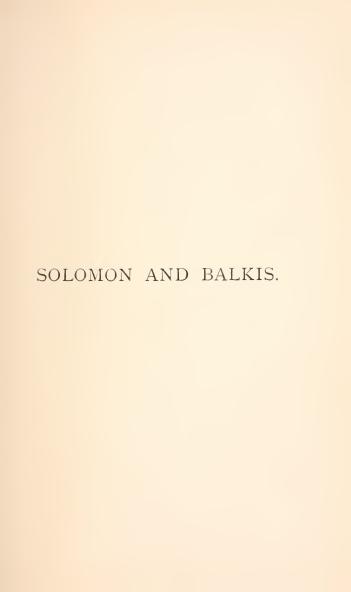

Hicupped "A trump, a Tory!"

I hope I gave twice as much as the rest;

For, as Homer would say, "within grate

Though teeth kept tongue," my whole soul growled

"Rightly rewarded,—Ingrate!"

SOLOMON AND BALKIS.

- SOLOMON King of the Jews and the Queen of Sheba, Balkis,
- Talk on the ivory throne, and we well may conjecture their talk is
- Solely of things sublime: why else has she sought Mount Zion,
- Climbed the six golden steps, and sat betwixt lion and lion?

- She proves him with hard questions: before she has reached the middle
- He smiling supplies the end, straight solves them riddle by riddle;
- Until, dead-beaten at last, there is left no spirit in her,
- And thus would she close the game whereof she was first beginner:

- "O wisest thou of the wise, world's marvel and well-nigh monster,
- One crabbed question more to construe or vulgo conster!
- Who are those, of all mankind, a monarch of perfect wisdom
- Should open to, when they knock at spheteron do—that's, his dome?"

- The King makes tart reply: "Whom else but the wise his equals
- Should he welcome with heart and voice?—since, king though he be, such weak walls
- Of circumstance—power and pomp—divide souls each from other
- That whoso proves kingly in craft I needs must acknowledge my brother.

- "Come poet, come painter, come sculptor, come builder
 —whate'er his condition,
- Is he prime in his art? We are peers! My insight has pierced the partition
- And hails—for the poem, the picture, the statue, the building—my fellow!
- Gold's gold though dim in the dust: court-polish soon turns it yellow.

- "But tell me in turn, O thou to thy weakling sex superior,
- That for knowledge hast travelled so far yet seemest no whit the wearier,—
- Who are those, of all mankind, a queen like thyself, consummate
- In wisdom, should call to her side with an affable 'Up hither, come, mate!'"

- "The Good are my mates—how else? Why doubt it?" the Queen upbridled:
- "Sure even above the Wise,—or in travel my eyes have idled,—
- I see the Good stand plain: be they rich, poor, shrewd or simple,
- If Good they only are. . . . Permit me to drop my wimple!"

- And, in that bashful jerk of her body, she—peace, thou scoffer!—
- Jostled the King's right-hand stretched courteously help to proffer,
- And so disclosed a portent: all unaware the Prince eyed
- The Ring which bore the Name—turned outside now from inside!

- The truth-compelling Name!—and at once "I greet the Wise—Oh,
- Certainly welcome such to my court with this proviso:
- The building must be my temple, my person stand forth the statue,
- The picture my portrait prove, and the poem my praise—you cat, you!"

- But Solomon nonplussed? Nay! "Be truthful in turn!" so bade he:
- "See the Name, obey its hest!" And at once subjoins the lady
- "Provided the Good are the young, men strong and tall and proper,
- Such servants I straightway enlist,—which means . . ."
 but the blushes stop her.

- "Ah, Soul," the Monarch sighed, "that wouldst soar yet ever crawlest,
- How comes it thou canst discern the greatest yet choose the smallest,
- Unless because heaven is far, where wings find fit expansion,
- While creeping on all-fours suits, suffices the earthly mansion?

- "Aspire to the Best! But which? There are Bests and Bests so many,
- With a habitat each for each, earth's Best as much Best as any!
- On Lebanon roots the cedar—soil lofty, yet stony and sandy—
- While hyssop, of worth in its way, on the wall grows low but handy.

- "Above may the Soul spread wing, spurn body and sense beneath her;
- Below she must condescend to plodding unbuoyed by æther.
- In heaven I yearn for knowledge, account all else inanity;
- On earth I confess an itch for the praise of fools—that's Vanity.

- "It is nought, it will go, it can never presume above to trouble me;
- But here,—why, it toys and tickles and teazes, howe'er I redouble me
- In a doggedest of endeavours to play the indifferent.

 Therefore,
- Suppose we resume discourse? Thou hast travelled thus far: but wherefore?

- "Solely for Solomon's sake, to see whom earth styles Sagest?"
- Through her blushes laughed the Queen. "For the sake of a Sage? The gay jest!
- On high, be communion with Mind—there, Body concerns not Balkis:
- Down here,—do I make too bold? Sage Solomon,—one fool's small kiss!"

CRISTINA AND MONALDESCHI.

CRISTINA AND MONALDESCHI.

Aн, but how each loved each, Marquis!

Here 's the gallery they trod

Both together, he her god,

She his idol,—lend your rod,

Chamberlain!—ay, there they are—" Quis

Separabit?"—plain those two

Touching words come into view,

Apposite for me and you!

Since they witness to incessant

Love like ours: King Francis, he—

Diane the adored one, she—

Prototypes of you and me.

Everywhere is carved her Crescent

With his Salamander-sign—

Flame-fed creature: flame benign

To itself or, if malign,

Only to the meddling curious,

—So, be warned, Sir! Where 's my head?

How it wanders! What I said

Merely meant—the creature, fed

Thus on flame, was scarce injurious

Save to fools who woke its ire,

Thinking fit to play with fire.

'T is the Crescent you admire?

Then, be Diane! I'll be Francis.

Crescents change,—true!—wax and wane.

Woman-like: male hearts retain

Heat nor, once warm, cool again.

So, we figure—such our chance is—

I as man and you as. . . What?

I as man and you as. . . What?

Take offence? My Love forgot

He plays woman, I do not?

I—the woman? See my habit,

Ask my people! Anyhow,

Be we what we may, one vow

Binds us, male or female. Now,—

Stand, Sir! Read! "Quis separabit?"

Half a mile of pictured way

Past these palace-walls to-day

Traversed, this I came to say.

You must needs begin to love me;

First I hated, then, at best,

—Have it so!—I acquiesced;

Pure compassion did the rest.

From below thus raised above me,

Would you, step by step, descend,

Pity me, become my friend,

Like me, like less, loathe at end?

That 's the ladder's round you rose by!

That—my own foot kicked away,

Having raised you: let it stay,

Serve you for retreating? Nay.

Close to me you climbed: as close by,

Keep your station, though the peak

Reached proves somewhat bare and bleak!

Woman 's strong if man is weak.

Keep here, loving me forever!

Love's look, gesture, speech, I claim;

Act love, lie love, all the same—

Play as earnest were our game!

Lonely I stood long: 't was clever

When you climbed, before men's eyes,

Spurned the earth and scaled the skies,

Gained my peak and grasped your prize.

Here you stood, then, to men's wonder;

Here you tire of standing? Kneel!

Cure what giddiness you feel,

This way! Do your senses reel?

Not unlikely! What rolls under?

Yawning death in yon abyss

Where the waters whirl and hiss

Round more frightful peaks than this.

Should my buffet dash you thither. . . .

But be sage! No watery grave

Needs await you: seeming brave

Kneel on safe, dear timid slave!

You surmised, when you climbed hither,

Just as easy were retreat

Should you tire, conceive unmeet

Longer patience at my feet?

Me as standing, you as stooping,—

Who arranged for each the pose?

Lest men think us friends turned foes,

Keep the attitude you chose!

Men are used to this same grouping—

I and you like statues seen.

You and I, no third between,

Kneel and stand! That makes the scene.

- Mar it—and one buffet . . . Pardon!

 Needless warmth—wise words in waste!

 'T was prostration that replaced

 Kneeling, then? A proof of taste.
- Crouch, not kneel, while I mount guard on
 Prostrate love—become no waif,
 No estray to waves that chafe
 Disappointed—love so safe!
- Waves that chafe? The idlest fancy!

 Peaks that scare? I think we know

 Walls enclose our sculpture: so

 Grouped, we pose in Fontainebleau.
- Up now! Wherefore hesitancy?

 Arm in arm and cheek by cheek,

 Laugh with me at waves and peak!

 Silent still? Why, pictures speak.

See, where Juno strikes Ixion,

Primatice speaks plainly! Pooh—
Rather, Florentine Le Roux!

I've lost head for who is who—
So it swims and wanders! Fie on
What still proves me female! Here,
By the staircase!—for we near
That dark "Gallery of the Deer."

Are you faithful now as erst
On that eve when we two first
Vowed at Avon, blessed and cursed
Faith and falsehood? Pale already?
Forward! Must my hand compel
Entrance—this way? Exit—well,
Somehow, somewhere. Who can tell?

What if to the self-same place in

Rustic Avon, at the door

Of the village church once more,

Where a tombstone paves the floor

By that holy-water basin

You appealed to—"As, below,
This stone hides its corpse, e'en so
I your secrets hide"? What ho!

Friends, my four! You, Priest, confess him!

I have judged the culprit there:

Execute my sentence! Care

For no mail such cowards wear!

Done, Priest? Then, absolve and bless him!

Now—you three, stab thick and fast,

Deep and deeper! Dead at last?

Thanks, friends—Father, thanks! Aghast?

What one word of his confession

Would you tell me, though I lured

With that royal crown abjured

Just because its bars immured

Love too much? Love burst compression,

Fled free, finally confessed

All its secrets to that breast

Whence . . . let Avon tell the rest!

MARY WOLLSTONECRAFT AND FUSELI.

MARY WOLLSTONECRAFT AND FUSELI.

O BUT is it not hard, Dear?

Mine are the nerves to quake at a mouse:

If a spider drops I shrink with fear:

I should die outright in a haunted house;
While for you—did the danger dared bring help—
From a lion's den I could steal his whelp,
With a serpent round me, stand stock-still,
Go sleep in a churchyard,—so would will Give me the power to dare and do
Valiantly—just for you!

Much amiss in the head, Dear,

I toil at a language, tax my brain

Attempting to draw—the scratches here!

I play, play, practise and all in vain:
But for you—if my triumph brought you pride,
I would grapple with Greek Plays till I died,
Paint a portrait of you—who can tell?
Work my fingers off for your "Pretty well:"
Language and painting and music too,
Easily done—for you!

Strong and fierce in the heart, Dear,

With—more than a will—what seems a power

To pounce on my prey, love outbroke here

In flame devouring and to devour.

Such love has laboured its best and worst

To win me a lover; yet, last as first,

I have not quickened his pulse one beat,

Fixed a moment's fancy, bitter or sweet:

Yet the strong fierce heart's love's labour's due,

Utterly lost, was--you!

ADAM, LILITH, AND EVE.

One day, it thundered and lightened.

Two women, fairly frightened,

Sank to their knees, transformed, transfixed,

At the feet of the man who sat betwixt:

And "Mercy!" cried each—"if I tell the truth

Of a passage in my youth!"

Said This: "Do you mind the morning
I met your love with scorning?
As the worst of the venom left my lips,
I thought 'If, despite this lie, he strips
The mask from my soul with a kiss—I crawl
His slave,—soul, body and all!"

Said That: "We stood to be married;
The priest, or someone, tarried;
'If Paradise-door prove locked?' smiled you.
I thought, as I nodded, smiling too,
'Did one, that's away, arrive—nor late
Nor soon should unlock Hell's gate!'

It ceased to lighten and thunder.

Up started both in wonder,

Looked round and saw that the sky was clear,

Then laughed "Confess you believed us, Dear!"

"I saw through the joke!" the man replied

They re-seated themselves beside.

IXION.

- High in the dome, suspended, of Hell, sad triumph, behold us!
 - Here the revenge of a God, there the amends of a Man.
- Whirling forever in torment, flesh once mortal, immortal
 - Made—for a purpose of hate—able to die and revive,
- Pays to the uttermost pang, then, newly for payment replenished,
 - Doles out—old yet young—agonies ever afresh;
- Whence the result above me: torment is bridged by a rainbow,—

- Tears, sweat, blood,—each spasm, ghastly once, glorified now.
- Wrung, by the rush of the wheel ordained my place of reposing,
 - Off in a sparklike spray,—flesh become vapour thro' pain,—
- Flies the bestowment of Zeus, soul's vaunted bodily vesture,
 - Made that his feats observed gain the approval of Man,—
- Flesh that he fashioned with sense of the earth and the sky and the ocean,
 - Framed should pierce to the star, fitted to pore on the plant,—
- All, for a purpose of hate, re-framed, re-fashioned, refitted
 - Till, consummate at length,—lo, the employment of sense!

- Pain's mere minister now to the soul, once pledged to her pleasure—
 - Soul, if untrammeled by flesh, unapprehensive of pain!
- Body, professed soul's slave, which serving beguiled and betrayed her,
 - Made things false seem true, cheated thro' eye and thro' ear,
- Lured thus heart and brain to believe in the lying reported,—
 - Spurn but the traitrous slave, uttermost atom, away,
- What should obstruct soul's rush on the real, the only apparent?
- Say I have erred,—how else? Was I Ixion or Zeus?
 Foiled by my senses I dreamed; I doubtless awaken in wonder .

This proves shine, that—shade? Good was the evil that seemed?

- Shall I, with sight thus gained, by torture be taught I was blind once?
 - Sisuphos, teaches thy stone—Tantalos, teaches thy thirst
- Aught which unaided sense, purged pure, less plainly demonstrates?
 - No, for the past was dream: now that the dreamers awake,
- Sisuphos scouts low fraud, and to Tantalos treason is folly.
 - Ask of myself, whose form melts on the murderous wheel,
- What is the sin which throe and throe prove sin to the sinner!
 - Say the false charge was true,—thus do I expiate, say,
- Arrogant thought, word, deed,—mere man who conceited me godlike,

Sat beside Zeus, my friend-knelt before Heré, my love!

- What were the need but of pitying power to touch and disperse it,
 - Film-work—eye's and ear's—all the distraction of sense?
- How should the soul not see, not hear,—perceive and as plainly
 - Render, in thought, word, deed, back again truth—not a lie?
- "Ay, but the pain is to punish thee!" Zeus, once more for a pastime,
 - Play the familiar, the frank! Speak and have speech in return!
- I was of Thessaly king, there ruled and a people obeyed me:

Mine to establish the law, theirs to obey it or die:

Wherefore? Because of the good to the people, because of the honour

- Thence accruing to me, king, the king's law was supreme.
- What of the weakling, the ignorant criminal? Not who, excuseless,
 - Breaking my law braved death, knowing his deed and its due—
- Nay, but the feeble and foolish, the poor transgressor, of purpose

No whit more than a tree, born to erectness of bole,

Palm or plane or pine, we laud if lofty, columnar—

Loathe if athwart, askew,—leave to the axe and the flame!

- Where is the vision may penetrate earth and beholding acknowledge
 - Just one pebble at root ruined the straightness of stem?
- Whose fine vigilance follows the sapling, accounts for the failure,

- —Here blew wind, so it bent: there the snow lodged, so it broke?
- Also the tooth of the beast, bird's bill, mere bite of the insect
 - Gnawed, gnarled, warped their worst: passive it lay to offence.
- King—I was man, no more: what I recognised faulty I punished,
 - Laying it prone: be sure, more than a man had I proved,
- Watch and ward o'er the sapling at birthtime had saved it, nor simply
 - Owned the distortion's excuse,—hindered it wholly:
 nay, more—
- Even a man, as I sat in my place to do judgment, and pallid
 - Criminals passing to doom shuddered away at my foot,

- Could I have probed thro' the face to the heart, read plain a repentance,
 - Crime confessed fools' play, virtue ascribed to the wise,
- Had I not stayed the consignment to doom, not dealt the renewed ones
 - Life to retraverse the past, light to retrieve the mis-
- Thus had I done, and thus to have done much more it behoves thee,
 - Zeus who madest man—flawless or faulty, thy work!
- What if the charge were true, as thou mouthest,—Ixion the cherished
 - Minion of Zeus grew vain, vied with the godships and fell,
- Forfeit thro' arrogance? Stranger! I clothed, with the grace of our human,
 - Inhumanity-gods, natures I likened to ours.

IXION. 65

- Man among men I had borne me till gods forsooth must regard me?
 - —Nay, must approve, applaud, claim as a comrade at last.
- Summoned to enter their circle, I sat—their equal, how other?
 - Love should be absolute love, faith is in fulness or nought.
- "I am thy friend, be mine!" smiled Zeus: "If Heré attract thee,"
 - Blushed the imperial cheek, "then—as thy heart may suggest!"
- Faith in me sprang to the faith, my love hailed love as its fellow,
 - "Zeus, we are friends—how fast! Heré, my heart for thy heart!"
- Then broke smile into fury of frown, and the thunder of "Hence, fool!"

- Then thro' the kiss laughed scorn "Limbs or a cloud was to clasp?"
- Then from Olumpos to Erebos, then from the rapture to torment,
 - Then from the fellow of gods—misery's mate, to the
- —Man henceforth and forever, who lent from the glow of his nature
 - Warmth to the cold, with light coloured the black and the blank.
- So did a man conceive of your passion, you passion-protesters!
 - So did he trust, so love—being the truth of your lie!
- You to aspire to be Man! Man made you who vainly would ape him:

You are the hollowness, he—filling you, falsifies void.

Even as—witness the emblem, Hell's sad triumph suspended,

IXION. 67

Born of my tears, sweat, blood—bursting to vapour above—

- Arching my torment, an iris ghostlike startles the darkness,
 - Cold white—jewelry quenched—justifies, glorifies pain.
- Strive, my kind, though strife endure thro' endless obstruction,
- Stage after stage, each rise marred by as certain a fall!

 Baffled forever—yet never so baffled but, e'en in the baffling,
 - When Man's strength proves weak, checked in the body or soul—
- Whatsoever the medium, flesh or essence,—Ixion's
 - Made for a purpose of hate,—clothing the entity Thou,
 - Medium whence that entity strives for the Not-Thou beyond it,
 - Fire elemental, free, frame unencumbered, the All,—

Never so baffled but—when, on the verge of an alien existence,

Heartened to press, by pangs burst to the infinite Pure,

Nothing is reached but the ancient weakness still that arrests strength,

Circumambient still, still the poor human array,

Pride and revenge and hate and cruelty—all it has burst through,

Thought to escape,—fresh formed, found in the fashion it fled,—

Never so baffled but—when Man pays the price of endeavour,

Thunderstruck, downthrust, Tartaros-doomed to the wheel,—

Then, ay, then, from the tears and sweat and blood of his torment,

E'en from the triumph of Hell, up let him look and rejoice!

IXION. 69

- What is the influence, high o'er Hell, that turns to a rapture
 - Pain—and despair's murk mists blends in a rainbow of hope?
- What is beyond the obstruction, stage by stage tho' it baffle?
- Back must I fall, confess "Ever the weakness I fled"?
- No, for beyond, far, far is a Purity all-unobstructed!
 - Zeus was Zeus—not Man: wrecked by his weakness, I whirl.
- Out of the wreck I rise—past Zeus to the Potency o'er
 - I—to have hailed him my friend! I—to have clasped her—my love!
- Pallid birth of my pain,—where light, where light is, aspiring
 - Thither I rise, whilst thou—Zeus, keep the godship and sink!

JOCHANAN HAKKADOSH.

"This now, this other story makes amends
And justifies our Mishna," quoth the Jew
Aforesaid. "Tell it, learnedest of friends!"

A certain morn broke beautiful and blue

O'er Schiphaz city, bringing joy and mirth,

—So had ye deemed; while the reverse was true,

Since one small house there gave a sorrow birth In such black sort that, to each faithful eye, Midnight, not morning settled on the earth.

How else, when it grew certain thou wouldst die Our much-enlightened master, Israel's prop, Eximious Jochanan Ben Sabbathai?

Old, yea but, undiminished of a drop,

The vital essence pulsed through heart and brain;

Time left unsickled yet the plenteous crop

On poll and chin and cheek, whereof a skein Handmaids might weave—hairs silk-soft, silver-white, Such as the wool-plant's; none the less in vain

Had Physic striven her best against the spite
Of fell disease: the Rabbi must succumb;
And, round the couch whereon in piteous plight

He lay a-dying, scholars,—awe-struck, dumb

Throughout the night-watch,—roused themselves and spoke

One to the other: "Ere death's touch benumb

"His active sense,—while yet 'neath Reason's yoke Obedient toils his tongue,—befits we claim

The fruit of long experience, bid this oak

"Shed us an acorn which may, all the same,
Grow to a temple-pillar,—dear that day!—
When Israel's scattered seed finds place and name

"Among the envious nations. Lamp us, pray,
Thou the Enlightener! Partest hence in peace?
Hailest without regret—much less, dismay—

"The hour of thine approximate release
From fleshly bondage soul hath found obstruct?
Calmly envisagest the sure increase

"Of knowledge? Eden's tree must hold unplucked Some apple, sure, has never tried thy tooth, Juicy with sapience thou hast sought, not sucked? "Say, does age acquiesce in vanished youth?

Still towers thy purity above—as erst—

Our pleasant follies? Be thy last word—truth!"

The Rabbi groaned; then, grimly, "Last as first
The truth speak I—in boyhood who began
Striving to live an angel, and, amerced

"For such presumption, die now hardly man.
What have I proved of life? To live, indeed,
That much I learned: but here lies Jochanan

"More luckless than stood David when, to speed His fighting with the Philistine, they brought Saul's harness forth: whereat, 'Alack, I need

"Armour to arm me, but have never fought
With sword and spear, nor tried to manage shield,
Proving arms' use, as well-trained warrior ought.

- "Only a sling and pebbles can I wield!"
 So he: while I, contrariwise, 'No trick
 Of weapon helpful on the battle-field
- "Comes unfamiliar to my theoric:

 But, bid me put in practice what I know,

 Give me a sword—it stings like Moses' stick,
- "A serpent I let drop apace.' E'en so, I,—able to comport me at each stage
 Of human life as never here below
- "Man played his part,—since mine the heritage
 Of wisdom carried to that perfect pitch,
 Ye rightly praise,—I, therefore, who, thus sage,
- "Could sure act man triumphantly, enrich
 Life's annals with example how I played Lover, Bard, Soldier, Statist,—(all of which

- "Parts in presentment failing, cries invade
 The world's ear—'Ah, the Past, the pearl-gift thrown
 To hogs, time's opportunity we made
- "So light of, only recognised when flown!

 Had we been wise!")—in fine, I—wise enough,—

 What profits brings me wisdom never shown
- "Just when its showing would from each rebuff
 Shelter weak virtue, threaten back to bounds
 Encroaching vice, tread smooth each track too rough
- "For youth's unsteady footstep, climb the rounds
 Of life's long ladder, one by slippery one,
 Yet make no stumble? Me hard fate confounds
- "With that same crowd of wailers I outrun

 By promising to teach another cry

 Of more hilarious mood than theirs, the sun

"I look my last at is insulted by.

What cry,—ye ask? Give ear on every side!

Witness yon Lover! 'How entrapped am I!

"Methought, because a virgin's rose-lip vied With ripe Khubbezleh's, needs must beauty mate With meekness and discretion in a bride:

"Bride she became to me who wail—too late—

Unwise I loved!' That 's one cry. 'Mind 's my gift:

I might have loaded me with lore, full weight

"Pressed down and running over at each rift

O' the brain-bag where the famished clung and fed.

I filled it with what rubbish !--would not sift

"The wheat from chaff, sound grain from musty—shed

Poison abroad as oft as nutriment—

And sighing say but as my fellows said,

"Unwise I learned!' That's two. 'In dwarf's-play spent

Was giant's prowess : warrior all unversed In war's right waging, I struck brand, was lent

"For steel's fit service, on mere stone—and cursed Alike the shocked limb and the shivered steel, Seeing too late the blade's true use which erst

"How was I blind to! My cry swells the peal—

Unwise I fought!' That's three. But wherefore waste

Breath on the wailings longer? Why reveal

"A root of bitterness whereof the taste
Is noisome to Humanity at large?
First we get Power, but Power absurdly placed

"In Folly's keeping, who resigns her charge
To Wisdom when all Power grows nothing worth:
Bones marrowless are mocked with helm and targe

"When, like your Master's, soon below the earth With worms shall warfare only be. Farewell, Children! I die a failure since my birth!"

"Not so!" arose a protest as, pell-mell,
They pattered from his chamber to the street,
Bent on a last resource. Our Targums tell

That such resource there is. Put case, there meet
The Nine Points of Perfection—rarest chance—
Within some saintly teacher whom the fleet

Years, in their blind implacable advance,
O'ertake before fit teaching born of these
Have magnified his scholars' countenance,—

If haply folk compassionating please
To render up—according to his store,
Each one—a portion of the life he sees

Hardly worth saving when 't is set before
Earth's benefit should the Saint, Hakkadosh,
Favoured thereby, attain to full fourscore—

If such contribute (Scoffer, spare thy "Bosh!")

A year, a month, a day, an hour—to eke

Life out,—in him away the gift shall wash

That much of ill-spent time recorded, streak

The twilight of the so-assisted sage

With a new sunrise: truth, though strange to speak!

Quick to the door-way, then, where youth and age,
All Israel, thronging, waited for the last

News of the loved one. "'T is the final stage:

"Art's utmost done, the Rabbi's feet tread fast
The way of all flesh!" So announced that apt
Olive-branch Tsaddik: "Yet, O Brethren, cast

"No eye to earthward! Look where heaven has clapped Morning's extinguisher—yon ray-shot robe Of sun-threads—on the constellation mapped

"And mentioned by our Elders,—yea, from Job Down to Satam,—as figuring forth—what?

Perpend a mystery! Ye call it Dob,

"'The Bear': I trow, a wiser name than that
Were Aish—'The Bier': a corpse those four stars hold,
Which—are not those Three Daughters weeping at,

"Banoth? I judge so: list while I unfold
The reason. As in twice twelve hours this Bier
Goes and returns, about the east-cone rolled,

"So may a setting luminary here

Be rescued from extinction, rolled anew

Upon its track of labour, strong and clear,

"About the Pole—that Salem, every Jew
Helps to build up when thus he saves some Saint Ordained its architect. Ye grasp the clue

"To all ye seek? The Rabbi's lamp-flame faint
Sinks: would ye raise it? Lend then life from yours,
Spare each his oil-drop! Do I need acquaint

"The Chosen how self-sacrifice ensures
Ten-fold requital?—urge ye emulate
The fame of those Old Just Ones death procures

- "Such praise for, that 't is now men's sole debate
 Which of the Ten, who volunteered at Rome
 To die for glory to our Race, was great
- "Beyond his fellows? Was it thou—the comb Of iron carded, flesh from bone, away, While thy lips sputtered thro' their bloody foam
- "Without a stoppage (O brave Akiba!)
- 'Hear, Israel, our Lord God is One'? Or thou, Jischab?—who smiledst, burning, since there lay,
- "Burning along with thee, our Law! I trow, Such martyrdom might tax flesh to afford: While that for which I make petition now,
- "To what amounts it? Youngster, wilt thou hoard Each minute of long years thou look'st to spend In dalliance with thy spouse? Hast thou so soared,

"Singer of songs, all out of sight of friend
And teacher, warbling like a woodland bird,
There's left no Selah, 'twixt two psalms, to lend

"Our late-so-tuneful quirist? Thou, averred
The fighter born to plant our lion-flag
Once more on Zion's mount,—doth, all-unheard,

"My pleading fail to move thee? Toss some rag Shall staunch our wound, some minute never missed From swordsman's lustihood like thine! Wilt lag

"In liberal bestowment, show close fist
When open palm we look for,—thou, wide-known
For state-craft? whom, 't is said, an if thou list,

"The Shah himself would seat beside his throne, So valued were advice from thee"... But here He stopped short: such a hubbub! Not alone From those addressed, but far as well as near

The crowd broke into clamour: "Mine, mine—

Lop from my life the excrescence, never fear!

"At me thou lookedst, markedst me! Assign

To me that privilege of granting life—

Mine, mine!" Then he: "Be patient! I combine

"The needful portions only, wage no strife With Nature's law nor seek to lengthen out The Rabbi's day unduly. 'T is the knife

"I stop,—would cut its thread too short. About
As much as helps life last the proper term,
The appointed Fourscore,—that I crave, and scout

"A too-prolonged existence. Let the worm Change at fit season to the butterfly!

And here a story strikes me, to confirm

"This judgment. Of our worthies, none ranks high!

As Perida who kept the famous school:

None rivaled him in patience: none! For why?

"In lecturing it was his constant rule,Whatever he expounded, to repeat—Ay, and keep on repeating, lest some fool

"Should fail to understand him fully—(feat Unparalleled, Uzzean!)—do ye mark?—
Five hundred times! So might he entrance beat

"For knowledge into howsoever dark

And dense the brain-pan. Yet it happed, at close

Of one especial lecture, not one spark

"Of light was found to have illumed the rows
Of pupils round their pedagogue. 'What, still Impenetrable to me? Then—here goes!'

- "And for a second time he sets the rill

 Of knowledge running, and five hundred times

 More re-repeats the matter—and gains nil.
- "Out broke a voice from heaven: 'Thy patience climbs

 Even thus high. Choose! Wilt thou, rather, quick

 Ascend to bliss—or, since thy zeal sublimes
- "Such drudgery, will thy back still bear its crick,
 Bent o'er thy class,—thy voice drone spite of drouth,—
 Five hundred years more at thy desk wilt stick?'
- "" To heaven with me! was in the good man's mouth, When all his scholars,—cruel-kind were they!—
 Stopped utterance, from East, West, North and South,
- "Rending the welkin with their shout of 'Nay—
 No heaven as yet for our instructor! Grant
 Five hundred years on earth for Perida!'

"And so long did he keep instructing! Want
Our Master no such misery! I but take
Three months of life marital. Ministrant

"Be thou of so much, Poet! Bold I make,
Swordsman, with thy frank offer!—and conclude,
Statist, with thine! One year,—ye will not shake

"My purpose to accept no more. So rude?

The very boys and girls, forsooth, must press

And proffer their addition? Thanks! The mood

"Is laudable, but I reject, no less,
One month, week, day of life more. Leave my gown,
Ye overbold ones! Your life's gift, you guess,

"Were good as any? Rudesby, get thee down!
Set my feet free, or fear my staff! Farewell,
Seniors and saviours, sharers of renown

"With Jochanan henceforward!" Straightway fell Sleep on the sufferer; who awoke in health, Hale everyway, so potent was the spell.

O the rare Spring-time! Who is he by stealth Approaches Jochanan?—embowered that sits Under his vine and figtree mid the wealth

Of garden-sights and sounds, since intermits Never the turtle's coo, nor stays nor stints The rose her smell. In homage that befits

The musing Master, Tsaddik, see, imprints

A kiss on the extended foot, low bends

Forehead to earth, then, all-obsequious, hints

"What if it should be time? A period ends— That of the Lover's gift—his quarter-year Of lustihood: 'tis just thou make amends,

"Return that loan with usury: so, here
Come I, of thy Disciples delegate,
Claiming our lesson from thee. Make appear

"Thy profit from experience! Plainly state

How men should Love!" Thus he: and to him thus

The Rabbi: "Love, ye call it?—rather, Hate!

"What wouldst thou? Is it needful I discuss
Wherefore new sweet wine, poured in bottles caked
With old strong wine's deposit, offers us

"Spoilt liquor we recoil from, thirst-unslaked?

Like earth-smoke from a crevice, influence wound—

Languors and yearnings: not a sense but ached

- "Weighed on by fancied form and feature, sound Of silver word and sight of sunny smile:

 No beckoning of a flower-branch, no profound
- "Purple of noon-oppression, no light wile
 O' the West wind, but transformed itself till—brief—
 Before me stood the phantasy ye style
- "Youth's love, the joy that shall not come to grief, Born to endure, eternal, unimpaired By custom the accloyer, time the thief.
- "Had Age's hard cold knowledge only spared That ignorance of Youth! But now the dream, Fresh as from Paradise, alighting fared
- "As fares the pigeon, finding what may seem Her nest's safe hollow holds a snake inside Coiled to enclasp her. See, Eve stands supreme

"In youth and beauty! Take her for thy bride!
What Youth deemed crystal, Age finds out was dew
Morn set a-sparkle, but which noon has dried

"While Youth bent gazing at its red and blue Supposed perennial,—never dreamed the sun Which kindled the display would quench it too.

"Graces of shape and colour—everyone
With its appointed period of decay
When ripe to purpose! 'Still, these dead and done,

"Survives the woman-nature—the soft sway
Of undefinable omnipotence
O'er our strong male-stuff, we of Adam's clay,"

"Ay, if my physics taught not why and whence The attraction! Am I like the simple steer Who, from his pasture lured inside the fence "Where yoke and goad await him, holds that mere Kindliness prompts extension of the hand Hollowed for barley, which drew near and near

"His nose—in proof that, of the horned band.
The farmer best affected him? Beside,
Steer, long since calf hood, got to understand

"Farmers a many in the world so wide
Were ready with a handful just as choice
Or choicer—maize and cummin, treats untried.

"Shall I wed wife, and all my days rejoice
I gained the peacock? 'Las me, round I look,
And lo—'With me thou wouldst have blamed no voice

"Like hers that daily deafens like a rook:

I am the phænix!'—'I, the lark, the dove,

—The owl,' for aught knows he who blindly took

"Peacock for partner, while the vale, the grove,
The plain held bird-mates in abundance. There!
Youth, try fresh capture! Age has found out Love

"Long ago. War seems better worth man's care.

But leave me! Disappointment finds a balm

Haply in slumber." "This first step o' the stair

"To knowledge fails me, but the victor's palm Lies on the next to tempt him overleap A stumbling-block experience. Gather calm,

"Thou excellence of Judah, cured by sleep Which ushers in the Warrior, to replace The Lover! At due season I shall reap

"Fruit of my planting!" So, with lengthened face,
Departed Tsaddik: and three moons more waxed
And waned, and not until the summer-space

Waned likewise, any second visit taxed

The Rabbi's patience. But at three months' end,

Behold, supine beneath a rock, relaxed

The sage lay musing till the noon should spend Its ardour. Up comes Tsaddik, who but he, With "Master, may I warn thee, nor offend,

"That time comes round again? We look to see

Sprout from the old branch—not the youngling twig—
But fruit of sycamine: deliver me,

"To share among my fellows, some plump fig, Juicy as seedy! That same man of war, Who, with a scantling of his store, made big

"Thy starveling nature, caused thee, safe from scar,
To share his gains by long acquaintanceship
With bump and bruise and all the knocks that are

"Of battle dowry: therefore, loose thy lip,
Explain the good of battle! Since thou know'st,
Let us know likewise! Fast the moments slip,

"More need that we improve them!"—"Ay, we boast,
We warriors in our youth, that with the sword
Man goes the swiftliest to the uttermost—

"Takes the straight way thro' lands yet unexplored
To absolute Right and Good,—may so obtain
God's glory and man's weal too long ignored,

"Too late attained by preachments all in vain,—
The passive process. Knots get tangled worse
By toying with: does cut cord close again?

"Moreover there is blessing in the curse
Peace-praisers call war. What so sure evolves
All the capacities of soul, proves nurse

"Of that self-sacrifice in men which solves
The riddle— Wherein differs Man from beast?
Foxes boast cleverness and courage wolves:

"Nowhere but in mankind is found the least Touch of an impulse 'To our fellows—good I' the highest!—not diminished but increased

"By the condition plainly understood
—Such good shall be attained at price of hurt
I' the highest to ourselves!' Fine sparks, that brood

"Confusedly in Man, 't is war bids spurt Forth into flame: as fares the meteor-mass, Whereof no particle but holds inert

"Some seed of light and heat, however crass
The enclosure, yet avails not to discharge
Its radiant birth before there come to pass

"Some push external,—strong to set at large
Those dormant fire-seeds, whirl them in a trice
Through heaven and light up earth from marge to marge:

"Since force by motion makes—what erst was ice—Crash into fervency and so expire,

Because some Djinn has hit on a device

"For proving the full prettiness of fire!

Ay, thus we prattle—young: but old—why, first,

Where 's that same Right and Good—(the wise enquire)—

"So absolute, it warrants the outburst

Of blood, tears, all war's woeful consequence,

That comes of the fine flaring? Which plague cursed

- "The more your benefitted Man—offence,
 Or what suppressed the offender? Say it did—
 Show us the evil cured by violence,
- "Submission cures not also! Lift the lid From the maturing crucible, we find Its slow sure coaxing-out of virtue, hid
- "In that same meteor-mass, hath uncombined
 Those particles and, yielding for result
 Gold, not mere flame, by so much leaves behind
- "The heroic product. E'en the simple cult Of Edom's children wisely bids them turn Cheek to the smiter with 'Sic Jesus vult.'
- "Say there's a tyrant by whose death we earn Freedom, and justify a war to wage:

 Good!—were we only able to discern

"Exactly how to reach and catch and cage
Him only and no innocent beside!
Whereas the folk whereon war wreaks its rage

"—How shared they his ill-doing? Far and wide
The victims of our warfare strew the plain,
Ten thousand dead, whereof not one but died

"In faith that vassals owed their suzerain

Life: therefore each paid tribute,—honest soul,—

To that same Right and Good ourselves are fain

"To claim exclusively our end. From bole (Since ye accept in me a sycamine)
Pluck, eat, digest a fable—yea, the sole

"Fig I afford you! 'Dost thou dwarf my vine?'
(So did a certain husbandman address
The tree which faced his field) 'Receive condign

"Punishment, prompt removal by the stress
Of axe I forthwith lay unto thy root!'
Long did he hack and hew, the root no less

"As long defied him, for its tough strings shoot
As deep down as the boughs above aspire:

All that he did was—shake to the tree's foot

"Leafage and fruitage, things we most require For shadow and refreshment: which good deed Thoroughly done, behold the axe-haft tires

"His hand, and he desisting leaves unfreed
The vine he hacked and hewed for. Comes a frost,
One natural night's-work, and there 's little need

"Of hacking, hewing: lo, the tree's a ghost!

Perished it starves, black death from topmost bough

To farthest-reaching fibre! Shall I boast

"My rough work,—warfare,—helped more? Loving, now—

That, by comparison, seems wiser, since
The loving fool was able to avow

"He could effect his purpose, just evince
Love's willingness,—once ware of what she lacked,
His loved one,—to go work for that, nor wince

'At self-expenditure: he neither hacked Nor hewed, but when the lady of his field Required defence because the sun attacked,

"He, failing to obtain a fitter shield,
Would interpose his body, and so blaze,
Blest in the burning. Ah, were mine to wield

"The intellectual weapon—poet-lays,—

How preferably had I sung one song

Which . . . but my sadness sinks me : go your ways!

"I sleep out disappointment." "Come along, Never lose heart! There's still as much again Of our bestowment left to right the wrong

"Done by its earlier moiety—explain
Wherefore, who may! The Poet's mood comes next.
Was he not wishful the poetic vein

"Should pulse within him? Jochanan, thou reck'st
Little of what a generous flood shall soon
Float thy clogged spirit free and unperplexed

"Above dry dubitation! Song's the boon
Shall make amends for my untoward mistake
That Joshua-like thou couldst bid sun and moon—

"Fighter and Lover,—which for most men make All they descry in heaven,—stand both stock-still And lend assistance. Poet shalt thou wake!" Autumn brings Tsaddik. "Ay, there speeds the rill Loaded with leaves: a scowling sky, beside:

The wind makes olive-trees up yonder hill

"Whiten and shudder—symptoms far and wide
Of gleaning-time's approach; and glean good store
May I presume to trust we shall, thou tried

"And ripe experimenter! Three months more Have ministered to growth of Song: that graft Into thy sterile stock has found at core

"Moisture, I warrant, hitherto unquaffed By boughs, however florid, wanting sap Of prose-experience which provides the draught

"Mere song-sprouts, wanting, wither: vain we tap
A youngling stem all green and immature
Experience must secrete the stuff, our hap

"Will be to quench Man's thirst with, glad and sure That fancy wells up through corrective fact: Wanting which test of truth, though flowers allure

"The goodman's eye with promise, soon the pact
Is broken, and 't is flowers,—mere words,—he finds
When things,—that 's fruit,—he looked for. Well, once cracked

"The nut, how glad my tooth the kernel grinds!

Song may henceforth boast substance! Therefore, hail

Proser and poet, perfect in both kinds!

"Thou from whose eye hath dropped the envious scale
Which hides the truth of things and substitutes
Deceptive show, unaided optics fail

"To transpierce,—hast entrusted to the lute's Soft but sure guardianship some unrevealed Secret shall lift mankind above the brutes

"As only knowledge can?" "A fount unsealed" (Sighed Jochanan) "should seek the heaven in leaps
To die in dew-gems—not find death, congealed

"By contact with the cavern's nether deeps,
Earth's secretest foundation where, enswathed
In dark and fear, primæval mystery sleeps—

"Petrific fount wherein my fancies bathed
And straight turned ice. My dreams of good and fair
In soaring upwards had dissolved, unscathed

"By any influence of the kindly air,
Singing, as each took flight, 'The Future—that's
Our destination, mists turn rainbows there,

"Which sink to fog, confounded in the flats
O' the Present! Day's the song-time for the lark,
Night for her music boasts but owls and bats.

"And what's the Past but night—the deep and dark Ice-spring I speak of, corpse-thicked with its drowned Dead fancies which no sooner touched the mark

"They aimed at—fact—than all at once they found Their film-wings freeze, henceforth unfit to reach And roll in æther, revel—robed and crowned

"As truths confirmed by falsehood all and each—Sovereign and absolute and ultimate!

Up with them, skyward, Youth, ere Age impeach

"Thy least of promises to re-instate

Adam in Eden! Sing on, ever sing,

Chirp till thou burst!—the fool cicada's fate,

"Who holds that after Summer next comes Spring,
Than Summer's self sun-warmed, spice-scented more.
Fighting was better! There, no fancy-fling

"Pitches you past the point was reached of yore By Sampsons, Abners, Joabs, Judases, The mighty men of valour who, before

"Our little day, did wonders none profess
To doubt were fable and not fact, so trust
By fancy-flights to emulate much less.

"Were I a Statesman, now! Why, that were just To pinnacle my soul, mankind above,

A-top the universe: no vulgar lust

"To gratify—fame, greed, at this remove Looked down upon so far—or over-looked
So largely, rather—that mine eye should rove

"World-wide and rummage earth, the many-nooked,
Yet find no unit of the human flock
Caught straying but straight comes back hooked and crooked

"By the strong shepherd who, from out his stock
Of aids proceeds to treat each ailing fleece,
Here stimulate to growth, curtail and dock

"There, baldness or excrescence,—that, with grease,
This, with up-grubbing of the bristly patch
Born of the tick-bite. How supreme a peace

"Steals o'er the Statist,—while, in wit, a match For shrewd Ahithophel, in wisdom . . . well, His name escapes me—somebody, at watch "And ward, the fellow of Ahithophel
In guidance of the Chosen!"—at which word
Eyes closed and fast asleep the Rabbi fell.

"Cold weather!" shivered Tsaddik. "Yet the hoard
Of the sagacious ant shows garnered grain,
Ever abundant most when fields afford

"Least pasture, and alike disgrace the plain
Tall tree and lowly shrub. 'T is so with us
Mortals: our age stores wealth ye seek in vain

"While busy youth culls just what we discuss
At leisure in the last days: and the last
Truly are these for Jochanan, whom thus

"I make one more appeal to! Thine amassed

Experience, now or never, let escape

Some portion of! For I perceive aghast

"The end approaches, while they jeer and jape,
These sons of Shimei: 'Justify your boast!
What have ye gained from Death by twelve months' rape?'

"Statesman, what cure hast thou for—least and most—Popular grievances? What nostrum, say,
Will make the Rich and Poor, expertly dosed,

"Forget disparity, bid each go gay
That, with his bauble,—with his burden, this?
Propose an alkahest shall melt away

"Men's lacquer, show by prompt analysis
Which is the metal, which the make-believe,
So that no longer brass shall find, gold miss

"Coinage and currency? Make haste, retrieve The precious moments, Master!" Whereunto There snarls an "Ever laughing in thy sleeve,

"Pert Tsaddik? Youth indeed sees plain a clue
To guide man where life's wood is intricate:
How shall he fail to thrid its thickest through

"When every oak-trunk takes the eye? Elate

He goes from bole to brushwood, plunging finds—

Smothered in briars—that the small 's the great!

"All men are men: I would all minds were minds!
Whereas't is just the many's mindless mass
That most needs helping: labourers and hinds

"We legislate for—not the cultured class
Which law-makes for itself nor needs the whip
And bridle,—proper help for mule and ass,

- "Did the brutes know! In vain our statesmanship
 Strives at contenting the rough multitude:
 Still the ox cries 'T is me thou shouldst equip
- "With equine trappings!' or, in humbler mood,
 'Cribful of corn for me! and, as for work—
 Adequate rumination o'er my food!'
- "Better remain a Poet! Needs it irk
 Such an one if light, kindled in his sphere,
 Fail to transfuse the Mizraim cold and murk
- "Round about Goshen? Though light disappear,
 Shut inside,—temporary ignorance
 Got outside of, lo, light emerging clear
- "Shows each astonished starer the expanse

 Of heaven made bright with knowledge! That's the way,

 The only way—I see it at a glance—

"To legislate for earth! As poet. . . . Stay!

What is . . . I would that . . . were it . . . I had been . . .

O sudden change, as if my arid clay

"Burst into bloom! ... "A change indeed, I ween,
And change the last!" sighed Tsaddik as he kissed
The closing eyelids. "Just as those serene

"Princes of Night apprised me! Our acquist
Of life is spent, since corners only four
Hath Aisch, and each in turn was made desist

"In passage round the Pole (O Mishna's lore— Little it profits here!) by strenuous tug Of friends who eked out thus to full fourscore "The Rabbi's years. I see each shoulder shrug! What have we gained? Away the Bier may roll! To-morrow, when the Master's grave is dug,

"In with his body I may pitch the scroll
I hoped to glorify with, text and gloss,
My Science of Man's Life: one blank's the whole!

"Love, war, song, statesmanship—no gain, all loss,
The stars' bestowment! We on our return
To-morrow merely find—not gold but dross,

"The body not the soul. Come, friends, we learn

At least thus much by our experiment—

That—that . . . well, find what, whom it may concern!"

But next day through the city rumours went
Of a new persecution; so, they fled
All Israel, each man,—this time,—from his tent,

Tsaddik among the foremost. When, the dread Subsiding, Israel ventured back again Some three months after, to the cave they sped

Where lay the Sage,— a reverential train!

Tsaddik first enters. "What is this I view?

The Rabbi still alive? No stars remain

"Of Aisch to stop within their courses. True, I mind me, certain gamesome boys must urge Their offerings on me: can it be—one threw

"Life at him and it stuck? There needs the scourge
To teach that urchin manners! Prithee, grant
Forgiveness if we pretermit thy dirge

- "Just to explain no friend was ministrant,
 This time, of life to thee! Some jackanapes,
 I gather, has presumed to foist his scant
- "Scurvy unripe existence—wilding grapes
 Grass-green and sorrel-sour—on that grand wine,
 Mighty as mellow, which my fancy shapes
- "May fitly image forth this life of thine Fed on the last low fattening lees—condensed Elixir, no milk-mildness of the vine!
- "Rightly with Tsaddik wert thou now incensed Had he been witting of the mischief wrought When, for elixir, verjuice he dispensed!"

And slowly woke,—like Shushan's flower besought

By over-curious handling to unloose

The curtained secrecy wherein she thought

Her captive bee, mid store of sweets to choose, Would loll in gold, pavilioned lie unteazed, Sucking on, sated never,—whose, O whose

Might seem that countenance, uplift, all eased
Of old distraction and bewilderment,
Absurdly happy? "How ye have appeared

"The strife within me, bred this whole content,
This utter acquiescence in my past
Present and future life,—by whom was lent

"The power to work this miracle at last,—
Exceeds my guess. Though—ignorance confirmed
By knowledge sounds like paradox, I cast

"Vainly about to tell you—fitlier termed— This calm struck by encountering opposites, Each nullifying either! Henceforth wormed "From out my heart is every snake that bites

The dove that else would brood there: doubt, which kills

With hiss of 'What if sorrows end delights?'

"Fear which stings ease with 'Work the Master wills!'
Experience which coils round and strangles quick
Each hope with 'Ask the Past if hoping skills

"To work accomplishment, or proves a trick Wiling thee to endeavour! Strive, fool, stop Nowise, so live, so die—that 's law! why kick

"Against the pricks?' All out-wormed! Slumber, drop

Thy films once more and veil the bliss within!

Experience strangle hope? Hope waves a-top

"Her wings triumphant! Come what will, I win,
Whoever loses! Every dream's assured
Of soberest fulfilment. There 's no sin

"Except in doubting that the light, which lured
The unwary into darkness, did no wrong
Had I but marched on bold, nor paused immured

"By mists I should have pressed thro', passed along
My way henceforth rejoicing! Not the boy's
Passionate impulse he conceits so strong,

"Which, at first touch, truth, bubble-like, destroys,—
Not the man's slow conviction 'Vanity
Of vanities—alike my griefs and joys!'

"Ice!—thawed (look up) each bird, each insect by— (Look round) by all the plants that break in bloom, (Look down) by every dead friend's memory "That smiles 'Am I the dust within my tomb?'
Not either, but both these—amalgam rare—
Mix in a product, not from Nature's womb,

"But stuff which He the Operant—who shall dare
Describe His operation?—strikes alive
And thaumaturgic. I nor know nor care

"How from this tohu-bohu—hopes which dive,
And fears which soar—faith, ruined through and through
By doubt, and doubt, faith treads to dust—revive

"In some surprising sort,—as see, they do!—
Not merely foes no longer but fast friends—
What does it mean unless—O strange and new

"Discovery!—this life proves a wine-press—blends

Evil and good, both fruits of Paradise,

Into a novel drink which—who intends

- "To quaff, must bear a brain for ecstasies
 Attempered, not this all-inadequate
 Organ which, quivering within me, dies
- "—Nay, lives!—what, how,—too soon, or else too late—
- I was—I am . . ." ("He babbleth!" Tsaddik mused)
 "O Thou Almighty who canst re-instate
- "Truths in their primal clarity, confused

 By man's perception, which is man's and made

 To suit his service,—how, once disabused
- "Of reason which sees light half shine half shade, Because of flesh, the medium that adjusts Purity to his visuals, both an aid
- "And hindrance,—how to eyes earth's air encrusts, When purged and perfect to receive truth's beam Pouring itself on the new sense it trusts

"With all its plenitude of power,—how seem
Then, the intricacies of shade and shine,
Oppugnant natures—Right and Wrong, we deem

"Irreconcilable? O eyes of mine,
Freed now of imperfection, ye avail
To see the whole sight, nor may uncombine

"Henceforth what, erst divided, caused you quail—So huge the chasm between the false and true,
The dream and the reality! All hail,

"Day of my soul's deliverance—day the new,
The never-ending! What though every shape
Whereon I wreaked my yearning to pursue

"Even to success each semblance of escape From my own bounded self to some all-fair All-wise external fancy, proved a rape "Like that old giant's, feigned of fools—on air,
Not solid flesh? How otherwise? To love—
That lesson was to learn not here—but there—

"On earth, not here! 'T is there we learn,—there prove

Our parts upon the stuff we needs must spoil, Striving at mastery, there bend above

"The spoiled clay potsherds, many a year of toil
Attests the potter tried his hand upon,
Till sudden he arose, wiped free from soil

"His hand, cried 'So much for attempt—anon
Performance! Taught to mould the living vase,
What matter the cracked pitchers dead and gone?"

"Could I impart and could thy mind embrace
The secret, Tsaddik!" "Secret none to me!"
Quoth Tsaddik, as the glory on the face

Of Jochanan was quenched. "The truth I see
Of what that excellence of Judah wrote,
Doughty Halaphta. This a case must be

"Wherein, though the last breath have passed the

So that 'The man is dead' we may pronounce, Yet is the Ruach—(thus do we denote

"The imparted Spirit)—in no haste to bounce From its entrusted Body,—some three days Lingers ere it relinquish to the pounce

"Of hawk-clawed Death his victim. Further says Halaphta, 'Instances have been, and yet Again may be, when saints, whose earthly ways

"Tend to perfection, very nearly get

To heaven while still on earth: and, as a fine

Interval shows where waters pure have met

"Waves brackish, in a mixture, sweet with brine, That 's neither sea nor river but a taste Of both—so meet the earthly and divine

"And each is either. Thus I hold him graced—
Dying on earth, half inside and half out,
Wholly in heaven, who knows? My mind embraced

"Thy secret, Jochanan, how dare I doubt?

Follow thy Ruach, let earth, all it can,

Keep of the leavings!" Thus was brought about

The sepulture of Rabbi Jochanan

Thou hast him,—sinner-saint, live-dead, boy-man,—
Schiphaz, on Bendimir, in Farzistan!

Note. This story can have no better authority than that of the treatise, existing dispersedly in fragments of Rabbinical writing, בים ברים ברים, from which I might have helped myself more liberally. Thus, instead of the simple reference to "Moses' stick,"—but what if I make amends by attempting three illustrations, when some thirty might be composed on the same subject, equally justifying that pithy proverb במשה לא קם כמשה ī.

Moses the Meek was thirty cubits high,

The staff he strode with—thirty cubits long;
And when he leapt, so muscular and strong
Was Moses that his leaping neared the sky
By thirty cubits more: we learn thereby

He reached full ninety cubits—am I wrong?—
When, in a fight slurred o'er by sacred song,
With staff out-stretched he took a leap to try
The just dimensions of the giant Og.

And yet he barely touched—this marvel lacked
Posterity to crown earth's catalogue
Of marvels—barely touched—to be exact—
The giant's ancle-bone, remained a frog
That fain would match an ox in stature: fact!

II.

And this same fact has met with unbelief!

How saith a certain traveller? "Young, I chanced To come upon an object—if thou can'st,

Guess me its name and nature! 'T was, in brief,

White, hard, round, hollow, of such length, in chief,

—And this is what especially enhanced

My wonder—that it seemed, as I advanced,

Never to end. Bind up within thy sheaf

Of marvels, this—Posterity! I walked

From end to end,—four hours walked I, who go

A goodly pace,—and found—I have not balked

Thine expectation, Stranger? Ay or No?—

'T was but Og's thigh-bone, all the while, I stalked

Alongside of: respect to Moses, though!

III.

Og's thigh-bone—if ye deem its measure strange,
Myself can witness to much length of shank
Even in birds. Upon a water's bank
Once halting, I was minded to exchange
Noon heat for cool. Quoth I "On many a grange
I have seen storks perch—legs both long and lank:
Yon stork's must touch the bottom of this tank,

Since on its top doth wet no plume derange

Of the smooth breast. I'll bathe there!" "Do not so!"

Warned me a voice from heaven. "A man let drop

His axe into that shallow rivulet—

As thou accountest—seventy years ago:

It fell and fell and still without a stop

Keeps falling, nor has reached the bottom yet."

NEVER THE TIME AND THE PLACE.

NEVER THE TIME AND THE PLACE.

NEVER the time and the place

And the loved one all together!

This path—how soft to pace!

This May—what magic weather!

Where is the loved one's face?

In a dream that loved one's face meets mine,

But the house is narrow, the place is bleak

Where, outside, rain and wind combine

With a furtive ear, if I strive to speak,

With a hostile eye at my flushing cheek.

With a malice that marks each word, each sign! O enemy sly and serpentine,

Uncoil thee from the waking man!

Do I hold the Past

Thus firm and fast

Yet doubt if the Future hold I can? This path so soft to pace shall lead Thro' the magic of May to herself indeed! Or narrow if needs the house must be, Outside are the storms and strangers: we— Oh, close, safe, warm sleep I and she,

-I and she!

PAMBO.

PAMBO.

Suppose that we part (work done, comes play)

With a grave tale told in crambo

—As our hearty sires were wont to say—

Whereof the hero is Pambo?

Do you happen to know who Pambo was?

Nor I—but this much have heard of him:

He entered one day a college-class,

And asked—was it so absurd of him?—

"May Pambo learn wisdom ere practise it?

In wisdom I fain would ground me:

Since wisdom is centred in Holy Writ,

Some psalm to the purpose expound me!"

"That psalm," the Professor smiled, "shall be Untroubled by doubt which dirtieth

Pellucid streams when an ass like thee
Would drink there—the Nine-and-thirtieth.

"Verse First: I said I will look to my ways

That I with my tongue offend not.

How now? Why stare? Art struck in amaze?

Stop, stay! The smooth line hath an end

"He's gone!—disgusted my text should prove
Too easy to need explaining?

Had he waited, the blockhead might find I move

To matter that pays remaining!"

Long years went by, when—"Ha, who's this?

Do I come on the restif scholar

I had driven to Wisdom's goal, I wis,

But that he slipped the collar?

"What? Arms crossed, brow bent, thoughtimmersed?

A student indeed! Why scruple

To own that the lesson proposed him first

Scarce suited so apt a pupil?

"Come back! From the beggarly elements

To a more recondite issue

We pass till we reach, at all events,

Some point that may puzzle . . . Why 'pish'

you?"

From the ground looked piteous up the head:

"Daily and nightly, Master,

Your pupil plods thro' that text you read,

Yet gets on never the faster.

"At the self-same stand,—now old, then young!

I will look to my ways—were doing

As easy as saying!—that I with my tongue

Offend not—and 'scape pooh-poohing

"From sage and simple, doctor and dunce?

Ah, nowise! Still doubts so muddy

The stream I would drink at once,—but once!

That—thus I resume my study!"

Brother, brother, I share the blame,

Arcades sumus ambo!

Darkling, I keep my sunrise-aim,

Lack not the critic's flambeau,

And look to my ways, yet, much the same,

Offend with my tongue—like Pambo!
