[For the News.]

Thoughts and Hints upon a Day of Rest.

That every body politic, should set apart one day, in seven, as a day of rest: a day, requiring her citizens to cease from labor, seems to me to be well established by the history of the past aside from any religious considerations. We find those governments most stable and wholesome, whose citizens have their most enlightened consciences, and history fails to show us a single nation that has weathered the storms for any considerable time that had not, by law one day of the seven set apart as a day of rest from all labor and business, and especially all Republican Governments which rest upon the will of all her subjects, and can be perpetuated only in justice and virtue. Justice and virtue is only found to exist with a people in proportion as conscience is enlightened and active. Let us turn to history and consult her that we may have her light to aid us in the examination of this momentous subject. 1st, The Roman Republic—when we turn our eyes there what do we behold any day, of rest, of the seven, no, we find no Sabbath, but instead thereof we find by law days set apart and required to be kept sacred national festivals, their olympic games, &c. such as have been witnessed in California in bear and bull fights which tend to degrade rather than elevate mankind, and the consequence was, justice failed to be done, her magistrates became corrupt and she fell to rise no more. The reason seems to me obvious. As a body politic she failed to adopt the only course, the only safe course, to cultivate and enlighten conscience, the great and unerring Monitor. She failed to establish a day of rest for her citizens apart from her national festivals. Again let us turn our eyes to France, which was a Republic of our own century, but whose republican sun has set, and what says Lamartine of her. In an article written by him since the revolution of 48 declared, "that the fatal defect in the French character, which made a permanent French republic impossible, was a lack of conscience." This is exactly true. But how happens it that this want should so specially prevail in France, and not in England and America, where free governments are in successful operation, certainly it cannot be said that nature, in making up Frenchmen has conscience or the elements out of which a developed and enlightened conscience proceeds.—The cause, then must be that conscience is not cultivated. The root is there, but there is no outgrowth and no fruit. And the plain cause of this want is, that there is no time set apart for attending to such cultivations, the Protestant Sabbath which, even in its merely civil and social influences, is invaluable as withdrawing man for a season from the bondage of the material, and elevating him to the dignity of a thoughtful being, has hardly an existence. In its place is a fete day, on which is gratified that passion for amusements and shows, that appetite for dissipation and sensual pleasures which characterize the great mass of the people. So far as regards cessation from labor, the French Sunday is, to a considerable extent, a day of rest; but in every other respect it is the most restless and feverish, the wildest and most wasteful day of the week. An American or Englishman, who goes to France, cannot possibly link, with the Sunday he there sees, a single association, which gives the day its sweetness at home—not a single idea of heartfelt peace and soul refreshment. And he at once reads the consequences in the men he sees on all sides of him—men not reaching their legitimate fullness of development in body or being, men too fragmentary, too one sided, too busy and little minded; excited, but not strong; lively, but not long lived; seeking ephemeral gratification, not permanent enjoyment; influenced by temporary impressions, not abiding convictions; preferring glory to duty, eager to self respect, success to right. The Frenchman has no Sabbath at home, and in consequence what little religion he has, consists in sentiment, and lies in acquiescence not conviction.

It originates not in the deep rooted spring of moral obligation, but is rather the result of the grave instinct of worship which is common to all races, Casimer Perier the greatest of French Statesmen, in 1832, said: "the thoughts of this people are not the thoughts of a civilized race, but their imaginations are those of a savage tribe." We profoundly believe that there is no institution under the sun, divine or human, that is so absolutely indispensable to a free people as the day set apart for the retirement from the whirl of business and pleasure, and for sober attention to the high aspirations of the heart and soul! The man who saps this institution is a traitor to his country; he is sapping the very strongest pillar of this Republic—he is taking the surest means to assimilate us with the masses of Europe, and involve us in the same degraded destiny. Sundays for self indulgence, may suffice for slaves; but freemen must have Sabbaths. A. P.

ARAB PROVERBS.—If your friend is made of honey, do not eat him all up. If you travel through the country of the blind, be blind yourself. When you are the anvil, have patience; when you are the hammer, strike straight and well.

He who cannot take a hint, cannot comprehend a long explanation. Take counsel of one greater and one less than yourself, and afterwards form your opinion.

A great many human beings dig their graves with their teeth. A generous man will place the benefits he confers beneath his feet—those he receives, nearest his heart.

If you wish to appear agreeable in society, you must consent to be taught many things which you know already.

To succeed in the world, it is much more necessary to possess the penetration to discover who is the fool, than to discover who is a clever man.

Experience teaches indulgence; the wisest man is he that doubts his own judgment with regard to the motives which actuate his fellowmen.

There are many vices which do not deprive us of friends; there are many virtues which prevent us having any.

A friend that you may have to buy, won't be worth what you have to pay for him—no matter how little that may be.

Troubles are like babies—they grow bigger by nursing. Don't meet troubles half way, for they are not worth the compliment.

We always admire the answer of the man who when asked how old he was, answered: "Just forty years; but if you count by the fun I've seen, I am at least eighty."

The boy that is whipped too much, and the boy that is whipped too little, are both equally bad. The one is spoiled with rawhides—and the other with lollypops.

ECHOES IN THE VALLEY OF LIFE.—Hear the story of the child that went forth into the mountain ravine. While the child wandered there, he cried aloud to break the loneliness, and heard a voice which called to him in the same tone.—He called again, and, as he thought, the voice mocked him. Flushed with anger, he rushed to find no one. He then called out to him in anger, and with abusive epithets, all of which were faithfully returned to him. Choking with rage, the child ran to his mother, and complained that a boy in the woods had insulted him with many vile words. But the mother took her child by the hand, and said:—"My child, those names were but the echoes of thine own voice. Send forth sunshine from the spirit, and thou shalt never have a clouded day. Carry about a vindictive spirit, and even in the flowers shall lurk curses. Thou shalt receive even what thou givest, and that alone."

'Always,' says the speaker, 'is that child in the mountain passes, and every man and woman is that child.'

It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps the independence of solitude.

A man in our State who attempted to hug a beautiful woman, Miss Lemon, has sued her for striking him in the eye.—Why should a fellow squeeze a lemon unless he wanted a punch?

A Doctor up town gave the following prescription for a sick lady a few days ago: "A new bonnet, a cashmere shawl and a pair of gaiter boots!" The lady recovered.

WHY is an attorney like a beggar? He is a solicitor.

WHO beat the first game of Pharaoh? Moses.

INTERFERING WITH PROVIDENCE.—We have a curious story of a professed New Churchman, who owns a large pile of money, and is generally believed to love it most dearly. A poor neighbor was in great need of a small loan, by means of which he could save his little home from being forfeited and lost. He called on the man who owned the money and requested a little aid. The man considered the case and at length replied:

"Well, Mr. Jones, I have the money, it is true, and could spare it, and would do so if it were not for one consideration. It seems that Providence designs that you should suffer this trial, and if I should help you out, I might interfere with the purposes of Providence in regard to you."

A MAIDEN'S FIRST LOVE.—Human nature has no essence more pure—the world knows nothing more chaste—heaven has endowed the mortal heart with no feeling more holy, than the nascent love of a young virgin's soul.—The warmest language of the sunny South is too cold to shadow forth even a faint outline of that enthusiastic sentiment. And God has made the richest language poor in that same respect, because the depths of hearts that thrill with love's emotions, are too sacred for the common contemplation. The musical voice of Love stirs the source of the sweetest thought within the human breast, and steals into the most profound recesses of the soul, touching chords that never vibrated before, and calling into general companionship delicious hopes till then unknown.

Yes—the light of a young maiden's first love breaks dimly but beautifully upon her as the silver lustre of a star glimmers through a thickly woven bower; and the first blush that mantles her cheek, as she feels the primal influence, is faint and pure as that which a rose leaf might cast upon marble. But how rapidly does that light grow stronger and that flush deeper—until the powerful effulgence of the one irradiates every corner of her heart and the crimson glow of the other suffuses every feature of her countenance.

How beautiful is the following, and how happy the heart that can see these beauties and understand them:

Why is it that the rainbow and the clouds come over us with a beauty that is not of earth and then pass away, and leave us to muse on their faded loveliness! Why is it that the stars, which hold their nightly festival around the midnight throng, are placed above the reach of our limited faculties, forever mocking us with their unapproachable glory! And why is it that the light forms of human beauty are presented to our view, and then taken from us, yet leaving the thousand streams of affection to flow in Alpine torrents upon the heart! We are born for a higher destiny than earth. There is a realm where the rainbow never fades; where the stars will be set before us, like islands slumbering on the ocean, and where the beautiful being that passes before us, like a meteor, will stay in our presence forever.

WHAT IS WORSE THAN CRIMES.—It is not crimes, such as murders and robberies, which destroy the peace of society, so much as the contemptible gossip, the family quarrels, jealousies and bickerings between neighbors, meddlesomeness and tattling, which are the cankers that eat into all social happiness.

The pleasantest things in the world are pleasant thoughts, and the greatest art in life is to have as many of them as possible.

OPEN your heart to sympathy, close it to despondency. The flower which opens to receive the dew shuts against the rain.

MEAN minds under disappointment, like beer in a thunder storm, always turn sour.

BRIBERY.—Offering you a pair of lips to kiss. Justifiable corruption—taking the bribe.

THE love of pleasure betrays us into pain; and many a man through the love of fame becomes infamous.

It is a great deal better to say less than half what you think, than to think only half what you say.

SCANDAL, like the Nile, is fed by innumerable streams; but it is extremely difficult to trace it to its source.

WOMEN were fair enough before; but now, ever since this abominable crinoline came in, they are not even possible!

SOME sharpers seem to act upon the assumption that, if they cheat a poor fellow out of his farm, he has no ground for complaint.

THE
KNIGHT'S LANDING NEWS.
OFFICIAL COUNTY PAPER.
SATURDAY, JULY 14TH, 1860.

A Correspondent calls the attention of Farmers to the importance of permitting their grain and especially wheat to lay in the stack until after it has gone through a sweat. He says, this sweat is natural, and that the grain must pass through it if time be given before grinding; if it is ground before it has undergone this process the flour must pass through it and hence is liable to damage. The advantage in keeping the wheat in the stack until after the sweating process is, that if it is thrashed before the sweat, there is a loss to the grain in weight of from 13 to 15 per cent over what it would be if allowed to remain and sweat in the stack.

We concur fully in the views advanced by our correspondent in this particular, and think it would be well for the wheat growers in this part of the country to heed the advice given as far as circumstances will permit.

THE CIRCUS.—Our usually quiet town was thrown into excitement yesterday by the advent of the Metropolitan Circus Troop, Music, Horses and Procession, making quite a furor among our juvenile inhabitants. The performance last evening was in every respect what it purported to be, and the riding and gymnastic revolutions were of the first order. The attendance was a large one for this place, about 300 were present, and every body went away fully satisfied with the night's entertainment, in fact the performance and audience surpassed our expectation. An impression had got abroad throughout the county, that, the performance would not take place, the foundation of the rumour is to us unknown.

We notice by the advertisement in another column that the road is now passable for light teams to Marysville and Nicholas, by the way of the Bridge on Fremont Slough. This will be a great saving to those traveling in that direction, as it lessens the distance to either of the above places ten miles at least. We are also informed if the weather continues dry, in a few days the now soft places will be passable for heavy loaded teams.

We are under many obligations to S. M. Bernard and the principals in the Academy of Notre Dame at Marysville, for an invitation to be present at the distribution of Premiums and the Recitations of the young ladies attending the same, on Thursday last, the 12th instant. We were sorry that we could not attend.

ICE CREAM.—We are under obligations to Hubert and Gervais of this place for a pitcher of Ice Cream left by them in our sanctum yesterday, at was most excellently flavored and delightfully cooling. He keeps some constantly on hand, as well as, all kinds of fruits of the season.

We received last evening a visit from A. S. RANDALL, Esq., Secretary of the San Francisco and Marysville Railroad, he is on his way to the County Seat on business for the Road.

DURING the present week this vicinity was visited for two or three days with gentle May showers of rain, much to the injury of the dry feed.

SMOKING SEED CORN.—At a late discussion at a farmers club in Illinois, Mr. Ide said that he selects his seed ears in the field before frost, and hangs them in a smoke-house—the more smoke the better. The pyrogenous acid imbibed by the corn will bring it up in dry or hot weather, and at the end of four weeks the growth will be twice that of corn planted at the same time without smoking, and will be left entirely alone by the mice, squirrels or worms.

POSTPONED.—Letters sent to Grinnell, Minturn & Co., New York, dated June 17, state that the Great Eastern will not leave Northampton for New York, before the 23rd June.

OVERLAND STAGE.—By the Overland Stage, which left on Monday last, the following persons took passage:—James T. Pratt, M. Slonecker, J. B. Hogan, S. B. Stevens and L. P. Ford. The mail consisted of 5,276 letters.

Improvements.

Our town makes daily an increased lively appearance. Since the San Francisco and Marysville Railroad has become a fixed fact, our people have set themselves to work to steadily improve and in a measure prepare themselves for the increasing trade and traffic, which as a natural result follows in the immediate vicinity of works of such magnitude. Besides, the Crops have never been more abundant than this year, consequently our farmers have increased work on their hands which creates a corresponding demand for goods and materials; the result is, every body is busy and all feel encouraged. Mr. C. F. Reed has just completed a brick dwelling; Messrs. Thomas & Brownell have commenced laying the foundation for a large fire proof store and warehouse 55 by 60. Mr. Bixler is putting bricks and material on the ground for a large building, and several others are preparing to build brick places of business, which gives us an appearance of permanence gratifying to all who take an interest in our growth and prosperity, and tend to more fully establish in the minds of the people throughout the County, that KNIGHT'S LANDING is not only the most central and convenient but the most appropriate place in the County for the Seat of Justice.

STATE PRISON.—By a late decision of the Supreme Court, we see that the State will again be called upon to pay to McCauly & Co. the enormous sum of $300,000 pay for keeping the State Prison, while the Governor had charge of the institution, under orders from our Legislature. That body took testimony and come to the conclusion that McCauly & Co. had violated and broken their contract—and in our simplicity we had supposed a contract could be abrogated by either parties failing to fulfill their part thereof—it seems we were mistaken.

JUSTICE'S COURT AT KNIGHT'S LANDING, July 5th, 1860, before Justice D. L. PICKETT.

H. Eastham vs. M. Sellers and Joseph Jackson, in civil action brought to recover $173 upon a promissory note executed by defendants to plaintiff. Defendants failing to appear and answer, plaintiff obtained a judgment by default. Execution issued and placed in the hands of O. P. Alexander, Constable, by virtue of which said Constable levied upon certain harness, etc., etc., which was claimed by John Hines, a third party, whereupon the Constable held a Court, to try the rights of the said property. The jury by their verdict awarded a portion of said property to the claimant Hines and a portion to the plaintiff, Eastham. And also by virtue of the same execution a parcel or lot of wheat was levied upon as the property of Joseph Jackson, which was claimed by Jacob Jackson. The Constable proceeded on the 10th instant to try the rights of this property, a jury was duly sworn, accepted and empaneled, and after listening 5 or 6 hours to "evidence and lawyers" rendered a verdict, which was not entered, the party in whose favor it was rendered refused to pay the jury fees. The Court ruled that it did not amount to a trial. The Court was minus its fees.

Death of Judge Daniels.

The following preamble and resolutions offered by Tully R. Wise, Esq., on Tuesday morning last, at San Francisco, at a meeting of the bar in the Court Room, and unanimously adopted:—

Intelligence having been received in this city of the death of the Hon. Peter V. Daniel, one of the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, at his residence, in Virginia, on the 31st of May last, the members of the San Francisco Bar, and the Officers of this Court, in view of the long and eminent public services of the deceased, his labors and assiduous devotion to his duties as a Judge, his high character and unblemished reputation in all the relations of social and public life, and as a token of respect to his memory, and their sense of the loss which the public and the Federal Judiciary have sustained in his death, do hereby resolve:—

That, in memory of the high judicial character and private virtues of the deceased, they will wear the usual badge of mourning during the remainder of this term of the Court.

That the Chairman communicate a copy of the foregoing preamble and of these resolutions to the nearest relatives of the deceased; and that a copy be also forwarded to the Attorney-General of the United States, with a request that he present it to the Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States at its next session.

That the acting United States District Attorney, in behalf of the Bar and of the officers of this Court, do respectfully move the Court that these proceedings be entered on the minutes of the Court.

The Rail Platform.

A recent issue of the New York Herald, under the head of a "New Platform of the Republican Party" attempts to ridicule the rail-splitting admiration of the Republicans, in the following style:

According to the demonstration made at the very entertaining "ratification" meeting of the Republicans on Thursday evening, the Presidential campaign is to be fought on a rail said to have been split by the hands of "honest Old Abe Lincoln" himself. If he should be elected, this rail will be of as much importance as an authenticated autographic letter of Frederick the Great, and occupy as prominent a place in history as the celebrated boots of Charles the Twelfth, or the grey surtout of the Great Napoleon.

The original rail, on which the battle is to be fought, was introduced to the meeting, and was, although dumb, a powerful argument. The best part of Anthony's speech has that wherein he pointed silently to the wounds of Caesar; and, as the Seward men have not recovered from the St. Bartholomew massacre at Chicago, the ratification meeting was more like the funeral of Cesar than a fete for the glorification of Brutus. The rail, however, was a happy thought of some philosopher who is evidently well acquainted with the sort of material of which the Republican, and, for the matter of that, all the other parties are composed. This is a wicked and a perverse generation which demands a sign, and that sign is the illustrious rail split by the divinely honest hands of Uncle Abe. That rail is as the True Cross to the Christian, or the green turban of the Prophet to the Mahometan.

Still, man does not live by bread alone, The Republicans have their creed in their Helper book, and their appropriate insignia in the rail. They might, however, go still farther and create a tremendous excitement in the rural districts by exhibiting several other souvenirs of the interesting period when their candidate was fitting himself for the first office in the nation by splitting wood. We are always happy to assist our friends with suggestions, and we offer to the Republican leaders a list of curiosities which, if exhibited at their ratification meetings, would undoubtedly create what the reporters call the "wildest enthusiasm." Here is the invoice, which a celebrated antiquarian is prepared to sell cheap for cash:

1. Handle of the maul with which Lincoln split his first rail.
 2. Chew of tobacco masticated during the operation.
 3. Waistband of breeches split during the operation. Patch of seat of ditto.
 4. Portrait of the man who stood up against a tree looking at old Abe splitting the rail. [Old Abe told him if he kept on sogering there he'd never get into Congress, and he didn't.]
 5. Horns of the oxen who hauled the rails.
 6. Half a pint of whiskey (rifle-warranted to kill at a hundred yards) distilled in the hollow by Old Abe.
 7. Original tin pot out of which Old Abe took his drinks.
 8. View of that grocery (by "our own artist on the spot").
 9. String of one of the original brogans worn by the profit in his hegira from Kentucky to Illinois.
 10. Half a pound of best young Hyson sold by Lincoln, as grocer, to the sire of the first white child born in Sangamon county.
 11. Pine knot from the original hut built by Uncle Abe from lumber got out by his own hands.
 12. Hair from mane of horse who won a race of which Uncle Abe was Judge.
 13. Ditto from tail of losing mare in the same race.
 14. Tooth knocked out of man's head who fought another man, and chose honest Old Abe for referee.
 15. Portrait of Old Abe when he tried to look pretty and frightened a child of one of the first families in the county into convulsions.
- We submit this catalogue in all good faith to the Republican Central Committee. If they discard all absurd abstractions and go into the campaign on this grand platform, they will be sure to win, provided Old Abe gets a sufficient number of what is principal supporters at Chicago called "electorial" votes.

THE WILL OF D. C. BRODERICK.—On Monday last, in the San Francisco Probate Court, several witnesses were examined in the matter of the will of the late Senator. The genuineness of the signature of Mr. Broderick and of the witnesses was clearly shown. John Mallon testified that he had conversed with Mr. Broderick on the subject of his will, and in the political campaign in May or June, 1856, asked him if he had made his will. He replied in the affirmative, and said he had taken care of John (McGlynn), but did not say what disposition he had made of his property. Col. Stevenson, W. M. Lent, William Meehan, Frank Turk, H. Wohler and others gave their testimony, all of which was to the effect that the will in question was genuine.

Isn't it strange that our blacksmiths are always blowing and striking for wages.

From the Union's Telegraphic Report.

St. Louis, June 22d—6 P.M.

To-day the National Democratic Convention, by a vote of 100 to 150, rejected the minority report of the Committee on Credentials, giving seats to the seceding delegates.

The Convention is now acting on the majority report, which recommends the admission of the old delegates from Mississippi, Texas and Delaware, and the Douglas Delegates from Louisiana and Alabama, and divides Georgia and Arkansas.

The report relative to Mississippi was adopted nearly unanimously.

Relative to Louisiana the vote was ayes 153, noes 98.

The majority recommendation relative to Georgia was lost.

A motion was made to reconsider the vote rejecting the minority report.

A motion to lay the question of reconsideration on the table was lost, New York voting no.

The Convention, amid the consternation of the Douglas men, then adjourned till evening. The hopes of the South are revived.

Still Later.

CONVENTION BROKE UP IN A ROW.

San Francisco, July 12th.

Editors Union: The operator at Springfield, Missouri, sends me the following note.

J. GAMBLE, Supt. State Line.

Springfield, Mo. June 22d—Midnight.

"I have just heard St. Louis say [a telegraphic expression], that the Convention had broken up in a more extensive bolt than that at Charleston. I have not time to learn more. The Stage is ready to leave. I give this to you for what it is worth.

J. B. BOND, Operator."

Visalia, July 12th.

The following is written on the back of the envelope covering the above dispatch.

OPERATOR.

Springfield, Mo. June 23d—12:15 A.M.

"The note in this to Gamble is true.

"BOND, Operator."

The steamer Sonora, left San Francisco, on Wednesday morning last, at nine o'clock, with 229 passengers and $1,074,732 in treasure. Wells, Fargo & Co. sent 5,000 letters and 500 pounds of newspapers. Freeman & Co. also forwarded a large amount of express matter.

M. S. Latham's Bill to aid the Pony Express.

We have received, says the Bulletin, by the Overland mail, from Mr. Latham, the bill as it now stands, which we lay before our readers, as follows:

A BILL to authorize and direct the Postmaster General to contract with the Overland and Pike's Peake Express Company.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the [Postmaster General] Secretary of War is authorized [and directed] to contract with and pay to the President of the Central Overland California and Pike's Peak Express Company for the transportation by horse on Government service of not more than fifty letters weekly, of not more than half an ounce weight each, for which the said Company shall be paid the sum of $2,000 per month, payable quarterly, for the space of two years from the date of the contract under this act: the said letters to be sent from any point on the Atlantic to and from San Francisco, in California, or any intermediate point on the route; and in case of a semi-weekly mail by said company, then the sum of $3,000 per month shall be paid to said company for the transportation of not more than 75 letters of the same weight on Government service.

Sec 2. And be it further enacted, That the said company is hereby authorized to select their own route over any portion of the public domain, and is hereby authorized to pre-empt quarter sections of land on said route, for each 20 miles of the route, as may be selected by them.

DEATHS.

Knight's Landing, July 5, 1860.

N.B.—The highest price paid for good Wheat.

Later from the Sandwich Islands.

By way of Victoria, and Port Townsend, we have intelligence from Honolulu to 9th June.

AN ARRIVAL.—The barkentine Jenny Ford arrived at Victoria, on the June 29, bringing Honolulu papers to June 9th. The Jenny Ford arrived at Honolulu on the 26th of May, in 15 days from Teaklet, and was only 18 days on her return passage to Victoria. She brought 13 passengers and a full cargo of merchandise, principally Island produce; and 4 cows with calves, 4 mules and 54 horses. Among her freight was a large quantity of water melons, cocoa nuts and bananas.

The Hawaiian schooner Kemehameha IV, Captain Gardiner, arrived at Honolulu on the 29th May, from a cruise to Johnston's Islands, in latitude 10° 46' North, longitude 166° 24' West. Capt. Gardiner was poorly supplied with stores, as may be judged by the following, from the Polynesian:

Captain Gardiner, late of the Kamehameha IV., on her late passage from Johnston's Islands, which occupied 32 days, informs us that after he had eaten his allowance of poi, he would take up two empty oyster cans that were on board, and appease his hunger by a stern look at their interior, after carefully reading the label on the outside. This is a perfect case of "living upon the substance of things hoped for, and the evidence of things not seen."

The Missionary brig Morning Star, sailed from Honolulu on the 8th of June for Micronesian and Rakick Islands. Interesting intelligence was expected from these Islands by the brig on her return.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.—The Honolulu Fire Department held an election for officers on the 1st of June, which resulted in the choice of Gilliland, Chief Engineer; R. Neville, 1st assistant; C. N. Spencer, 2nd assistant. After the election, the companies partook of a supper and then in torch light procession, went to the Palace—where they cheered the King and Queen and all the royal household—and thence marched to the house of Capt. Snow, on old member of the Fire Department, where they had a general good time.

The Hawaiian Legislature continued in session. The reports of the various departments had been received and published, and freely commented on by the press. A general tone of satisfaction prevailed.

The report of the Chief Justice gives a synopsis of crime for the five past years, and shows that a better state of morals now exists in the Islands than during any of the preceding years.

The whole number of whaling vessels that have gone North from Honolulu for the spring season of 1860, is 159.

The Japanese steam corvette Candimarah sailed from Honolulu on the 26th of May for Japan. On leaving the harbor she fired a salute, which was returned by the battery on the Punchbowl Hill.

SUMMONS.

By Order of County Judge. STATE OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF YOLO, In the District Court of the Eleventh Judicial District of the State of California.—To THE People of the State of California.—T. G. H. SMITH, greeting:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint of W. H. Denise in said Court, filed against you, within ten days from the service of this Writ, exclusive of the day of the service, if served on you in this County, but if served on you without said County, then in forty days from such service, exclusive of the day of service, in an action commenced on the ninth day of June, 1860, in said Court. Who sues to recover the sum of Six hundred dollars, with interest at 3 per cent per month from date, due upon a promissory Note made and executed by you to said Denise on the 14th January, 1858, payable on demand, with 3 per cent per month interest from date; which note has a credit upon it of $216 interest paid on the 14th January 1859, also about $200 paid on or about the month of Sept. 1859 which last credit is not endorsed on said note, and for his costs of suit. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to answer the complaint as directed, Plaintiff will demand judgment against you by default for said amount and costs.

In testimony Whereof, I, J. T. DALY, clerk of the Eleventh Judicial District Court aforesaid, do herewith set my hand and impress the Seal of said Court, at Office in Cacheville, this 21st day of June, A. D., 1860. J. T. DALY, Clerk. L. R. HOPKINS, Att'y for Pl'tiff. June 23-3m

State of California, County of Yolo, ss.—I, BABETTA DRUKE, wife of George Druke, hereby make known and declare her intentions henceforth to do business in her own name, and on her own account, in said county as sole trader, under the Statute in such cases made and provided; and she further declares and makes known, that the business which she intends to conduct and carry on as aforesaid, is that of farming, stock raising, buying and selling stock, etc., and the amount of capital invested in said business, does not exceed Five Thousand Dollars; and she the said Babetta Druke further declares that henceforth she will be individually responsible, in her own name, for all debts contracted by her, made on account of said business, and that she will in all cases abide by and be subject to the provisions of the Act to authorize married women to transact business in their own name as sole traders, passed on April 12th, 1852, and all amendments thereunto.

Dated Yolo County, June 11th, A. D., 1860. BABETTA DRUKE, [SEAL]

State of California, County of Yolo, ss.—On this 11th day of June, A. D., 1860, before me, J. T. Daly, County Clerk, in and for the said County, personally appeared Babetta Druke, wife of George Druke (proved to me to be such by the oath of W. H. Cook, a credible witness by me sworn for that purpose) and declared and acknowledged to me, that she executed the foregoing declaration as sole trader freely and voluntarily, and for the purpose therein mentioned, without fear or compulsion of her said husband, (she having been by me examined separate and apart from her husband,) and that she does not wish to retract the execution of the same.

In witness whereof, I have herewith set my hand and official seal, the day and year above written. J. T. DALY, County Clerk. June 16-3t
