NARBERTH POST OFFICE ADVANCED TO SECOND CLASS

Notice Received From First Assistant Postmaster General, Dated June 1st—New Order Becomes Effective July 1st—Narberth Citizens Appreciate Mr. Haws' Accomplishment

In the course of an interview of Postmaster Edward S. Haws by a representative of "Our Town" he stated that he had recently received the following notice from the First Assistant Postmaster General, dated June 1, 1916:

"In compliance with the Act of Congress, approved March 3rd, 1883, the returns for your Office for four Quarters have been reviewed, and on the basis of gross receipts your office has been advanced to the Second Class."

This is a decided step forward for Narberth, as it places our Post Office in the same class with other important Main Line towns, such as Bryn Mawr, Wayne, Ardmore and Haverford. The new order will be effective July first, when the office will be permitted to pay a larger rental than heretofore, insuring to the people of Narberth more commodious quarters. Steps have already been taken to secure better quarters, and it is hoped that during the summer the required improvements will be made.

It is a source of real gratification to the Postmaster to have this advance made during his administration. It has been the goal for which every effort has been put forth, through strict attention to the business, and courtesy to the public, and many residents of Narberth have shown their appreciation of good service by loyally patronizing their home Post Office when in need of stamps and stamped paper. In a suburb such as ours, where so many people make frequent trips to the city, they naturally acquire the habit of buying stamps in town, much to the detriment of the home office—not realizing, of course, that the advancement of their office in size and equipment largely depends upon the receipts.

After July first an auxiliary clerk will be added to the force. Another change will occur on July first which will be regretted by the office force as well as by its patrons. It is the resignation of Miss Small, who has decided to terminate her public activities in favor of the home life, and her associates wish "them" much happiness.

The new requirements demand that a male clerk be secured as a regular clerk; therefore, a man will be appointed to this position.

As auxiliary clerk, Miss Katherine Maguire will be appointed.

It is often supposed that when an office is advanced to Second Class, carrier service will be established. This is not the case. Carrier service may be established when the receipts of the Office reach $10,000 per annum or where the population is 8000 or more. There is also what is termed "Experimental Village Delivery Service," which may be established in communities such as Narberth, if the citizens demonstrate to the Post Office Department by petition that such service is desired.

EXTERMINATION OF MOSQUITOES

The subjoined letter from A. P. Redifer, secretary of the Narberth Board of Health, merits the earnest consideration of all of our residents. Without their intelligent and active co-operation, the efforts of the Board of Health to exterminate the pests will be in vain. In explanation of the letter, it may be stated that the Civic Association has been in correspondence with Dr. S. F. Aaron, of Secane, Pa., regarding an offer of that gentleman to make a contract to rid the borough of mosquitoes. Dr. Aaron has made such a contract with Merion, and made a very reasonable offer to do the work in Narberth. We are very pleased to note that our own authorities have taken the matter in hand, and will inaugurate a vigorous campaign of extermination. As before said, everything depends on the assistance of our people. Carelessness in allowing even very small pools of water to stand will result in multiplying breeding places, and in spreading diseases carried by the kind of mosquitoes found in this section. It needs no further argument to convince every citizen to assist in the good work of the Board of Health.

Narberth, Pa., June 5, 1916.
M. A. J. Loos, President, Narberth Civic Association, Narberth, Pa.:

Dear Sir:—At a meeting of the Board of Health held on the third inst., Dr. Faries presented correspondence he had had with you relative to the extermination of mosquitoes in Narberth.

It has been the custom of the Board of Health to have a man go over the vacant lots and remove or cover receptacles in which water might stand and to treat standing water with oil when necessary.

The board has now decided to amplify this practice, and the president and health officer have been authorized to employ help to make inspections, to eliminate standing water where possible and to take any other steps necessary to prevent the breeding of mosquitoes, covering the whole borough and requesting to co-operation of all citizens so far as their own premises are concerned in order to make the work effective.

Accordingly, the Board of Health will greatly appreciate the co-operation of the Civic Association in the matter of eliminating all standing

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL AND BAZAAR

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist Church of the Evangel will hold a Strawberry Festival and Bazaar on the lawn at 227 North Narberth avenue, on Saturday evening, June 10. Cakes, candies, useful and fancy articles for sale.

FLOWER SHOW

Everybody is on tip-toe for the Flower Show scheduled for Saturday afternoon of this week at the Y. M. C. A. Building. The show will be open for public inspection from 2:30 in the afternoon until 10 o'clock in the evening. Exhibitors are requested to have all exhibits at the Y. M. C. A. Building not later than one o'clock. The committee is charge requests that exhibitors furnish their own vases or baskets, but any one not so equipped will find ready assistance from the committee at the Y. M. C. A. Building. Competent judges will decide on the merits of the exhibits in the various classes and a record-breaking number of entries is looked for. It is suggested by the committee that in cutting flowers for exhibits it is well to cut the flowers with as long stems as possible.

A list of the classes and prizes is as follows:

The children's class will again be a feature of the show. This year a first prize of $5 in gold and a second prize of $2.50 in gold is offered for the best and most attractive vase or basket of wild flowers shown by children under fifteen years of age. The competition in this class at last year's show was most spirited and great admiration was aroused by the attractiveness and beauty of the flowers shown by the children.

A complete list of the classes for competition is as follows:

Class 1—Best vase or basket white roses, not over 6 blooms.
Class 2—Best vase or basket pink roses, not over 6 blooms.

NARBERTH AND WAYNE BATTLE 11 INNINGS TO TIE SCORE, 1-1

Narberth Loses Opportunity To Win By Poor Base Running—Darkness Ends Game in Beginning of Twelfth Inning, With Davis on First, After Making a Single to Start The Inning.

Bob Gibson and Mayer pitched eleven innings to a tie last Saturday at Wayne, when darkness ended the game. Things looked good for Narberth in the twelfth when Gene Davis led off with a single, but it was then the umpire called the game.

Narberth missed a good chance to score in the first inning when Koons was safe on a fielder's choice, stole second, and tried to score on Fleck's single, but was caught at the plate. While Narberth might not have scored in this inning, yet the chances looked good.

Not the semblance of a hit was made off Gibson until the third inning when Fitzgerald singled, but Wayne failed to connect again in that inning.

Narberth scored their one run in the fourth inning when Fleck started off with a double, and was out at the plate when Manager Walzer singled. Walzer was advanced to second on a wild pitch and stole third, and scored on McClellan's single.

Narberth made one hit in the fifth inning, but after that Mayer held them hitless until Davis' single in the twelfth inning.

It was in the fifth inning that Wayne tied the score when Fitzgerald was safe on McClellan's error, was sacrificed to second, advanced to third on a wild pitch and scored on another wild pitch.

That ended the scoring for the day, after that neither side could do anything with the pitching. Wayne collected two hits in the sixth inning, but Cass was caught off second by McClellan, which made things look very much better.

The pitchers' battle was about even, as Gibson fanned thirteen and held Wayne to seven hits, yet he walked five men, while Mayer fanned eleven men, but allowed eight hits and walked only one. The score:

UNION TWILIGHT SERVICE

The regular Union Twilight services will be held as usual in July and August, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Plans are already under way and it is hoped that interest in these meetings will be greater than ever.

Owing to a recent real estate deal the lot at the corner of Windsor and Forrest avenues, our usual meeting place, has been sold. However, we have been exceedingly fortunate to secure a place which in some respects is better. Mr. W. D. Smedley, who has purchased the Justice property on North Narberth avenue, has willingly granted us the use of that lot and house for our meetings. Watch for later announcements.

SUFFRAGE LAWN PARTY

The Main Line is now the mecca for outside affairs, the latest announcement being that those who are actively interested in suffrage have arranged for a Suffrage Lawn Party, to be held Saturday afternoon, June 10, from 2 until 6 o'clock in the Rose Garden on the estate of Mrs. Michael J. McMenamin, Highland and Montgomery avenues, Merion. Arrangements have been made to have automobiles meet all trains at Merion station and trolley cars at Bala.

The hostess list includes Mrs. M. J. McMenamin, Mrs. William Grant, Miss Sydney Evans, Mrs. Frederick Rockwell, Mrs. John Carlile, Mrs. Herbert G. Stockwell, Mrs. John Seal, Miss Florence Evans. The aides will be the Misses Rosalie McMachan, Virginia Wetherill, Dorothy John, Martha (Continued on Third Page)

July 4th Celebration

A meeting will be held in the Club Room of the Fire Company, for the purpose of forming a committee to arrange for July 4th celebration, including Ball Games, Music and Fire Works.

Those interested in making this a success, are urged to be present Thursday Evening, 8 o'clock, June 8th.

EDWIN P. DOLD.

WOMAN'S LOOM, "FAR FROM MADDING CROWD," YIELDS ARTICLES OF BEAUTY

Artistic Hut, Set in Picturesque Garden at Narberth, Is Miss Hulda Jefferies' Workroom—Charming Table Covers and Bedspreads Among Her Output

Out at Narberth in a picturesque garden, to the beauty of which the weeds contribute quite as much as the cultivated blossoms, one can find an artistic, over-grown hut. It is the workshop of Miss Hulda Jefferies, and almost any day a visitor there can see the incongruous picture of this very modern young woman bending over a loom centuries old—an antique of rare value. Usually she's engaged in weaving the charming table covers, bedspreads and coverlets, such as rejoiced the heart of our grandmothers way back in the 30's. For, in a sylvan retreat, "far from the madding crowd," Miss Jefferies has built herself a workroom.

It isn't a room, really, it's a leafy bower. The old shed that originally stood in the back of the Jefferies' famous Japanese garden has been transformed. Trailing vines of every description, buds and greens and tender blooming plants, hide the once ugly walls of the building. The roof is a mass of foliage, a continuation of the greenness that is evident all over the rustic garden.

In such a charming spot one would naturally be led to adopt some romantic old-fashioned pastime. The quaint loom and the daintiness of Miss Jefferies herself fit the picture admirably.

Copies of Interesting Relics.

"Most of my patterns are old Colonial ones," she will tell you, "taken from coverlets and scarfs that are hundreds of years old. I have quite a collection of interesting relics, old quilts and such, that I have used to serve as patterns for my work. I get them everywhere. There isn't an old farmhouse or a curio shop or even a 'junk' shop that I haven't ransacked. If there's anything that could help me in my line of work to be found there I certainly can find it," she said. "Just the other day I was walking down a road where there are many old farmhouses. A ragman came along, driving a sleepy horse which was drawing a wagonful of junk. I happened to notice the corner of an old coverlet peeping out of the back of his bundle. I stopped the man immediately, made him fish out the article, and there was the most adorable piece of Colonial work you ever saw! It didn't take me long to take it home. I made the pattern on my own loom, and it is one of the most charming ones I ever copied."

The recent revival of Colonial articles, not only in furnishings, but in all branches of household decoration, has done much towards preserving the old patterns to modern times, Miss Jefferies said.

Vogue for Colonials.

"Why, 10 years ago no one knew a Colonial bedspread from Mexican drawn work. There was no market for hand-made work. Everything was turned out by machinery; the quicker

ARE YOU GOING TO THE FLOWER SHOW?

Editor of Our Town:

You folks who went to the Narberth Flower Show last year don't need any urging to attend this year's show—this Saturday afternoon and evening in the Y. M. C. A. Building.

You folks who missed last year's show, missed one of the most thoroughly enjoyable affairs ever given in the borough. This Saturday you have an opportunity to repent and turn over a new leaf.

The several hundred Narberth folks and visitors who attended last year's show were more than surprised—they were amazed. They knew that most everybody raised flowers, but they had no idea what a fine show would be made of the products of the Narberth gardens.

This year Fletcher W. Stites, who is again in charge of the show, along with his assistants, is making every possible effort to even outdo last year's very commendable exhibition. The number of people that visited last year's show was greater than entered the Y. M. C. A. Building on any other one day throughout 1915.

In another column in this issue of Our Town you will find all the facts about the classes in the show, the awards and the hours that the flowers will be on exhibition.

All I want to do is to point out to those folks who did not go to last year's show, that they do not want to miss this year's exhibition.

Not only should every one in the borough attend, but every one who has flowers, should send some exhibits. Last year's show awakened a remarkable local interest in flowers, and there is no gainsaying the fact that the Narberth's gardens this summer are the finer for last year's show. There are many classes and every one has an equal opportunity.

This Saturday's show will be open afternoon and evening, and you can go to the base ball game or play tennis or keep any other afternoon or evening engagement and still manage to get at the Y. M. C. A. for a half hour or so.

Remember: The second annual Flower Show is this Saturday afternoon and evening and it will be well worth your time to send your exhibits and go and see what your neighbors can do in the way of raising fine flowers.

E. A. Muschamp.

We are pleased to note from an interview with Postmaster Haws in another column, that his efforts to secure better service in our local post office have been rewarded by its advancement to the second class, and that the resulting increase in its income will permit of more commodious quarters. Narberth has long suffered much inconvenience from the very restricted amount of space for the public, and we have often sympathized with the officials of the office, whose rapidly growing business has been so badly hampered by lack of room and poor ventilation. We hope all these troubles will now disappear.

The comments made by Mr. Haws on the desirability of residents purchasing stamps and other postal supplies in the home office are very timely, as with the growth of business comes more recognition from Washington. Let us all work for the needed sales of $10,000 per annum, and secure carrier service.

THOUGHTLESS THADDEUS THROWS THINGS IN THE THOROUGHFARE

It may be taken for granted that most people have a certain measure of pride in their homes and their home town. In Narberth a very large proportion take pains to have their surroundings as neat and well ordered as may be and as attractive as their means will permit. With some their efforts are centered on the interior of their homes. With others their gardens are an added job. Each individual effort makes our home town the more "livable" and "homey."

This applies, of course, to each man's "castle" and its own particular surroundings; but, unfortunately, often ends at the fence line. Mr. Citizen will be righteously indignant if anyone should unfeelingly deposit rubbish on his territorial demesne, and Mrs. Housewife will visit the wrath of Peggy, the Witch, on whoever dares to throw banana skins under her dining table, or cigar butts in the corner of her company parlor.

Yes, only yesterday, as I wended my weary way homeward, Mr. Citizen complacently wended his way in front of mine, scattering seeds of kindness in the shape of torn envel-men follow me to pick it up. Just as well burn it or deposit it in the receptacles provided so that the money spent in scavenging the streets might be used where it will do some real good. Aside from the financial aspect and much more important is the fact that, to a person of my esthetic tendencies, every piece of paper or rubbish is as a thorn in the side or a seat on a thumb tack.

As the train pulled into Broad street station I resolutely resolved: That I will never, no, never again throw paper or rubbish on the borough streets, and that I will, by example, moral suasion and argument, try to convince Mr. Citizen and Mrs. Housewife that their thoughtlessness (that's what it is, for they don't do it maliciously), just thoughtlessness, besides the expense it entails in tidying up, creates a condition entirely out of keeping with the general good character of the town which we have chosen for our abiding place—OUR TOWN.

WORK ON WYNNEWOOD ROAD STARTED LAST SATURDAY

Ground was broken last Saturday for the concrete construction work on Wynnewood road.

ANNOUNCEMENT

ON FRIDAY, JUNE 9th, Our new store will be finished, and we extend to everyone a cordial invitation to come in and see one of the most modern and best equipped drug stores in Pennsylvania. Through the generous support of the Narberth people in the short space of ten months we have been compelled to enlarge our store so that we will be in a better position to meet their demands and give them the benefit of a complete stock and first-class service. were also splendid. After the dinner speeches were made by members of board, captains and managers, and by Miss MacGowan and Mr. Eshelman. Mr. Eshelman made up a very fine poem in his speech, which reads like the following:

I rise to speak this evening,
The deeds of days gone by;
To pay a glowing tribute to
The team of Narberth High.
Bestowing praise where it is due
Is diet fit for all,
And so I'll serve it freely to
The Knights of Basket Ball.

Our center was a husky lad
As tough as hog's guskin,
Dependable and tall; a star,
Was Captain Bill Durbin.
He oft electrified the crowds
And caused a mighty din,
As through the cage the ball was sent
By Captain Bill Durbin.

Our acrobatic guards would put
To shame most circus clowns,
For who could cover up their men
Like Harsch and Carroll Downes?
Two other mighty warriors,
Both men of strength and pith,
Were Redifer, a trusty guard,
And forward Leslie Smith.

We had a tiny forward,
A quick and speedy starter,
And so we all take off our hats
To dashing Charles McCarter;
As manager this clever boy,
Who always wears a smile,
Has Connie Mack, Moran, McGraw
And Jennings beat a mile.

His fleet and able running mate
Was swifter than a breeze
And many clever goals were made
By Owen H. Humphries.
So, here's to Narberth's fast quintet
Of Nineteen Hundred and Sixteen,
Which played the most aggressive game
That Narberth High has seen.

opes, shredded unpaid bills and fragmentary particles of choice advertising matter as if he thought he was Mr. Hare in a "hare and hounds" race.

As I passed by Mrs. Housewife threw out the back door a sardine can, an empty corset box and a bloody paper in which she had got a pound of liver for Mr. Housewife's evening meal.

When I reached my own message and tenement I found on the porch a couple of daily (?) papers for which I do not subscribe and for which nobody ever pays, the back pages of which bristle with helpful hints for economical husbands and housewives in the matter of saving money in the purchase of clothes pins, dill pickles, somebody's scouring soap, Hottentot stove polish, Connie mackerel, Bumbleberger's borated baked beans for bilious Bostonians and other condiments necessary to sustain life and make home happy. There was also a sheet calling the public attention to the pictorial presentation by Merry Pickleford of the particularly perilous and pathetic peregrinations of Pauline, the peddler's protege. Just think of it! All this choice literature delivered on your own doorstep (or thereabouts) without solicitation and without price. What matters it if these gems of the printer's art are spread by the four winds? They don't cost anything, do they?

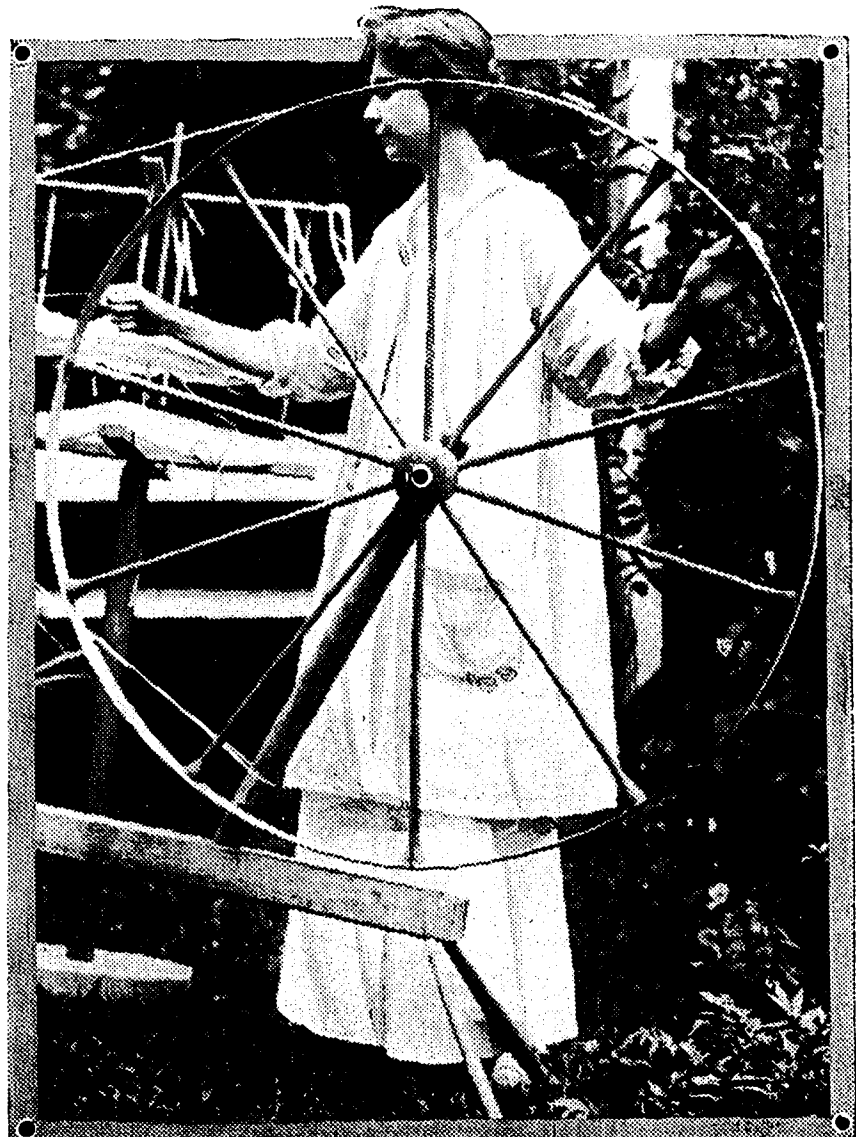

Next morning on the way to the station, by way of pastime, I took a mental inventory of the various articles which had been contributed to the borough by the thoughtful inhabitants thereof and others. Thirty-two daily (?) papers in various stages of decrepitude, seven newspapers, four match boxes, five cigarette boxes, six tobacco bags, two fish heads, two pineapple tops, three strawberry boxes, six piles of grass, one bloody paper, thirty-four scraps of paper (not treaties), two sardine cans, six other cans, two broken bottles, one old hat, one corset box, one shoe box, two shoes (not mates), not to mention divers banana skins and orange peels thrown in for good measure.

Toward the station I saw a borough man who had been delegated to gather the accumulated debris. Some job! One man can't do it. Two men might do it. Three men could do it, but who pays the bill?

Going in on the train my cogitations took this turn. Why should I throw paper or rubbish on the borough street, entailing an expense of from $600 to $1800 a year to have

They are using one 18-ton steam shovel to remove the old macadam surfacing. This is the same type of shovel used to dig the Panama Canal, some of which were of 100-ton capacity.

This road work is being done jointly by the State and the borough of Narberth, and, when completed, will give the automobilists one of the finest pieces of roadway in the country—over which there will be no toll. They have said much of an unfavorable nature about the condition of the old road and we hope they will remember to spread the news of the excellence of the new highway and of the generosity of our community just as persistently.

WOMAN'S LOOM YIELDS ARTICLES OF BEAUTY

it was finished the better. There was no appreciation of the fineness of design, the finished workmanship that is required to produce a hand-woven article. But now! Everything Colonial is fashionable. Furniture is made in that period, four-posters, rag rugs, quaint old gate-leg tables and even mahogany-framed pictures are only some of the indications of the vogue for colonial housefurnishings. I used to make my bedspreads for pleasure, and I do still, but the market for them is rapidly increasing. It seems to me as if every one that has a four-poster wants a hand-woven spread to go with it.

"And the old patterns are so charming. Most of them have a significance, too, so that when you get a cloth or coverlet you get not only the article itself, but the whole train of ideas and illusions that go with it. The rose pattern, for instance, means happiness and prosperity, and the pine burr means health. This side of the work is wonderfully interesting to those who like antiques of any kind.

"No, indeed; no loom, however modern in construction, could equal my old loom," she tells you, fingering the fragile thing lovingly. "Modern methods, that is, making spreads by machinery, are quicker, and they may look just as well, but they do not give the originator the same feeling of personal pride in her artistry that working on this old loom does. I have used this for years and it has always worked to perfection. After all, this is the old way, and our grandmothers were famous for their handiwork."

SUFFRAGE LAWN PARTY.

Ford, Elizabeth Hovey, Elizabeth Evans, Anne Dohney and Mary Dohney.

There will also be several tables in charge of the following ladies: Miss Mary Wilson, flowers; Mrs. Samuel McCree, candy; Miss Adele Mosier, cake; Mrs. William Anderson, fruits and preserves.

The ladies are active in their preparation for the affair and the attractiveness of the Rose Gardens on the McMenamin estate are sure to draw a large assemblage, all of whom are expected to aid the cause of suffrage in purchasing from the aides sweets and flowers. There will be plenty of amusement for the men folks as well as the ladies. They are urgently requested to purchase a ticket which is selling for the small price of twenty-five cents and attend this lawn party and aid in the cause of "Votes for Women."

There will be dancing by the High School girls. Should it rain the affair will be postponed until Monday, June 12.

LIGHTNING AGAIN STRIKES IN NARBERTH

During the short but severe storm which passed over Narberth on Saturday evening, lightning struck the new house recently erected at the entrance to Narbrook Park. Sections of the large brick chimney of the house were torn loose, and tumbled down over the slate roof, doing considerable damage. The bolt also entered the house on the north side at the third floor lines. In this instance a section of lath and plaster was torn from the side and a radiator which stood under the window was moved several inches. The residents along Windsor avenue were greatly alarmed by the terrific thunder which accompanied the bolt.

CAMP TOHICKON.

CAMP TOHICKON

Camp Tohickon's objective is to afford every boy such a vacation that he will return home stronger, more self-reliant and manlier, with a reserve power to stand the strain of school of business life. The camp's aim is to make men, not money. A summer at Tohickon, with its days crowded with wholesome out-of-doors recreation, nights of healthful sleep under canvas, rare hours about the camp-fires or in the woods and contacts with leaders and picked companions, is an invaluable experience to any boy.

The location is ideal, situated amid hills and valleys on the Delaware river at Smithtown, Bucks County, Pa., forty miles from Philadelphia. The tract comprises twenty-four acres, one-third in open campus and the balance in woodland and water. The camp is virtually an island, having at its rear the Lehigh Navigation Canal and facing the broad waters of the Delaware river. There is a variance of 200 feet from the river to the rear boundary of the property, lending a rugged aspect and assuring perfect drainage.

Does this camp and its objective appeal to you? Would you like to know more about it? If so, see Secretary Hampton and he will gladly give you free details.

Incidentally, eighteen Narberth boys went to this camp last year and a number are signed up already for this season.

"Boys' Scout Hike."

Last Saturday was a big day for the Scouts of Delaware and Montgomery counties, their annual Field Day was held at the residence of Mr. Maxwell Wyeth, Rosemont, Pa. Secretary Hampton, who acted as one of the field judges, hiked to Rosemont with the Narberth Scout group, consisting of Ralph Beatty, John Wilson, Lowe Cunner, Geo. Stanley, Roscoe Smedley, William Jones, Edwin Coggeshall, Wycliff Walton and Herbert Krell.

Scout troops were there from Bryn Mawr, Wayne, Ardmore, Narberth, Bala, Gulph Mills and Conshohocken, over one hundred boys, and all in uniform.

The Narberth boys did not come home with any of the prizes, but they saw how it was done and next year will be another story.
