The Chronicle Historie
of Henry the fift : with his battell fought at Agin Court in France. Together with Ancient Pistoll.

Enter King Henry, Exeter, two Bishops, Clarence, and other Attendants.

Exeter.

Shall I call in th' Ambassadors my Liege?

King. Not yet my cousin, till we be resolu'd
Of some serious matters touching vs and France.

Bysb. God and his Angels guard your sacred throne,
And make you long become it.

King. Sure we thanke you : and good my Lord proceed
Why the Law Salique which they haue in France,
Or should or should not stop in vs our claime :
And God forbid my wise and learned Lord,
That you should fashi on, frame, or wrest the same.
For God doth know how many now in health,
Shall drop their blood, in approbation
Of what your reuerence shall incite vs too.
Therefore take heede how you impawne our person,
How you awake the sleeping sword of warre :
We charge you in the name of God take heede.
After this coniuuration, speake my Lord :
And we will iudge, note, and beleue in heart,
That what you speake, is washt as pure
As sin in baptisme.

A. 2.

Bysb.

The Chronicle History

Bish. Then heare me gracious Soueraigne, & you Peeres,
Which owe your liues, your faith, and seruices
To this imperiall Throne:

There is no bar to stay your highnesse claime to France,
But one; which they produce from Faramount :
No female shall succeed in Salique Land ;
Which Salique Land, the French vniustly gloze
To be the Realme of France,
And Faramount the founder of this law and female barre.
Yet their owne writers faithfully affirme,
That the Land Salique lyes in Germany,
Betweene the floods of Sabeck and of Elme,
Where Charles the first hauing subdude the Saxons
There left behinde, and setled certaine French,
Who holding in disdain the Germane women,
For some dishonest manners of their liues,
Establisht there this Law. To wit,
No female shall succeed in Salique Land :
Which Salique land (as I haue sayd before)
Is at this time in Germany, call'd Mesene.
Thus doth it well appeare, the Salique law
Was not deuised for the Realme of France :
Nor did the French possesse the Salique land,
Vntill foure hundred one and twenty yeares
After the function of King Faramount,
Godly supposed the founder of this Law.
Hugh Capet also that vsurpt the Crowne,
To fine his Title with some shew of truth,
When in pure truth it was corrupt and nought :
Conuey'd himselfe as heire to the Lady Inger,
Daughter to Charles the foresayd Duke of Lorain,
So that as cleere as is the summers Sun,
King Pipins Title, and Hugh Capets claime,
King Charles his satisfaction, all appeare
To hold in right and title of the female :
So do the Lords of France vntill this day,
Howbeit they would hold vp this Salique Law

of Henry the first.

To barre your highnesse claiming from the female,
And rather choole to hide them in a net,
Then amply to embrace their crooked causes,
Vsurpt from you and your progenitors.

K. May we with right and conscience make this claime?

Bi. The sin vpon my head dread Soueraigne :

For in the booke of Numbers it is writ,
When the sonne dyes, let the inheritance
Descend vnto the daughter.
Noble Lord, stand for your owne,
Vnwinde your bloody flagge,
Go my dread Lord to your great Grandfires graue,
From whom you claime :

And your great Vnckle Edward the blacke Prince,
Who on the French ground playd a Tragedy,
Making defeate on the full power of France,
Whilst his most mighty father on a hill,
Stood smiling to behold his Lyons whelpe,
Foraging the blood of French Nobility.
O Noble English, that could entertaine
With halfe their forces the full power of France :
And let another halfe stand laughing by,
All out of worke, and colde for action.

King. We must not onely arme vs gainst the French,
But lay downe our proportion for the Scot,
Who will make rode vpon vs with all aduantages.

Bi. The Marches gracious soueraigne, shalbe sufficient
To guard your England from the pilsering borderers.

King. We do not meane the coursing sneakers onely,
But feare the maine entendment of the Scot :
For you shall read, neuer my great Grandfather
Vnmaskt his power for France,
But that the Scot on his vnfurnisht kingdome,
Came pouring like the tide into a breach,
That England being empty of defences,
Hath shooke and trembled at the brute heereof.

Bish. She hath bin then more fear'd then hurt my Lord?

The Chronicle History

For heare her but exemplified by her selfe,
When all her chivalry hath bene in France,
And she a mourning widdow of her Nobles,
She hath her selfe not onely well defended,
But taken and impounded (as a stray) the King of Scottes,
VVhom like a caytiffe she did leade to France,
Filling your Chronicles as rich with praise,
As is the owse and bottome of the sea,
VVith sunken wracke, and shipleesse treasurie.

Lord. There is a saying very old and true.

If you will France win,
Then with Scotland first begin :
For once the Eagle England being in pray,
To his vnfurnisht Nest the weazle Scot
VVould sucke her Egges,
Playing the Mouse in absence of the Cat,
To spoyle and hauocke more then she can eat.

Exe. It followes then, the Cat must stay at home,
Yet that is but a curst necessity,
Since we haue traps to catch the petty theeues :
VVhilst that the armed hand doth fight abroad,
The aduised head controlles at home :
For gouernment though high or low, being put in parts,
Congrueth with a mutuall consent like musicke.

Bish. True, therefore doth heauen
Diuide the fate of man in diuers functions :
VVhereto is added as an ayme or But, Obedience :
For so liue the hony bees, creatures that by awe
Ordaine an act of order to a peopled Kingdome.
They haue a King, and Officers of sort ;
Where some like Magistrates correct at home :
Others, like Merchants venture Trade abroad :
Others, like soldiours armed in their stings,
Make boot vpon the sommers Veluet bud :
VVhich pillage they with merry march bring home
To the Tent-royall of their Emperor ;
Who busied in his maiesty, behold

of Henry the fift.

The finging Mafons building roofoes of Gold,
The ciuill Citizens lading vp the hony,
The fael-ey'd Iuftice with his surly humme,
Deliuering vp to executors pale, the lazie caning drone,
This I inferre, that twenty actions once a foote,
May all end in one moment.

As many arrowes lofed feuerall wayes, fly to one marke :

As many feuerall wayes meete in one Towne :

As many fresh ftreames run in one felfe-fea :

As many lines clofe in the diall center :

So may a thousand actions once a foote,

End in one moment, and be all well born without defect.

Therefore my Liege to France,

Diuide your happy England into foure,

Of which take you one quarter into France,

And you withall, fhall make all Gallia shake.

If we with thrice that power left at home,

Cannot defend our owne doore from the dogge.

Let vs be beaten, and from henceforth lofe

The name of policy and hardineffe.

King. Call in the messenger sent from the Dolphin,

And by your ayde, the noble finnewes of our Land,

France being ours, weel bring it to our awe,

Or breake it all in peeces :

Either our Chronicles fhall with full mouth fpeake

Freely of our acts, or else like tongueleffe mutes,

Not worshipt with a paper Epitaph:

Enter the Ambassadors from France.

Now are we well prepar'd to know the Dolphins pleasure

For we heare your coming is from him.

Ambas. Pleaseth your Maiefty to giue vs leaue

Freely to render what we haue in charge,

Or shall I sparingly fhew a farre off,

The Dolphins pleasure, and our Embassage?

King. We are no tyrant, but a Christian King,

To whom our spirit is as fubie&t,

As are our wretches fettered in our prisons.

There

The Chronicle History

Therefore freely, and with vncurbed boldnesse
Tell vs the Dolphins minde.

Ambas. Then this in fine the Dolphin saith,
VVhereas you claime certaine Townes in France,
From your predecessor King Edward the third,
This he returnes :

He saith, there's nought in France,
That can be with a nimble Galliard wonne,
You cannot reuell into Dukedomes there :
Therefore he sendeth meeter for your studie
This tun of treasure: and in lieu of this,
Desires to let the Dukedomes that you crane
Heare no more from you. This the Dolphin saith.

King. VVhat treasure Vnckle ?

Exc. Tennis balles my Liege.

King. Wee are glad the Dolphin is so pleasant with vs,
Your message, and his present we accept.
When we haue matcht our Rackets to these balles,
We wil by Gods grace play him such a set,
Shal strike his fathers Crowne into the hazard.
Tell him he hath made a match with such a wrangler,
That all the courts of France shalbe disturbd with chases.
And we vnderstand him well, how he comes ore vs
With our wilder daies,
Not measuring what vse we made of them.
We neuer valew'd this poore seate of England,
And therefore gaue our selues to barbarous License,
As tis common scene,
That men are merriest when they are from home.
But tell the Dolphin we will keepe our state,
Be like a King, mighty, and command,
When we do rowse vs in the Throne of France.
For this we haue layd by our Maiesty,
And plodded like a man for working dayes.
But we will rise therewith so full of glory,
That we will dazle all the eyes of France,
I strike the Dolphin blinde to looke on vs.

And

of Henry the fift.

And tell him this,
His mocke hath turn'd his balles to gun-stones,
And his soule shall sit sore charged, for the wastfull
Vengeance that shall flye from them,
For this his mocke,
Shall mocke many a wife out of their deare husbands,
Mocke mothers from their sonnes, mocke Castles down.
I, some are yet vngotten and vnborne,
That shall haue cause to curse the Dolphins scorne.
But this lies all within the will of God,
To whom we do appeale: and in whose name,
Tell you the Dolphin we are comming on,
To venge vs as we may, and to put forth our hand
In a right cause: so get you hence, and tell your Prince,
His iest will sauour but of shallow wit,
When thousands weepe more then did laugh at it.
Conuey them with safe conduct; see them hence.

Exe. This was a merry message.

King. We hope to make the sender blush at it:
Therefore let our collection for the wars be soon prouided
For God before, weel check the Dolphin at his fathers
Doore: therefore let euery man now taske his thought,
That this faire action may on foote be brought.

Exeunt omnes.

Enter Nim and Bardolfe.

Bar. Good morrow Corporall Nim.

Nim. Good morrow Lieutenant Bardolfe.

Bar. What, is Ancient Pistol and thee friends yet?

Nim. I cannot tell, things must be as they may:
I dare not fight, but I will winke and hold out mine Iron,
Tis a simple one, but what tho; twil serue to taste cheefe,
And it will endure cold as another mans sword will,
And theres the humour of it.

Bar. Ifaith Mistresse Quickly did thee great wrong,
For thou wert troth-plight to her.

Nim.

The Chronicle History

Nim. I must do as I may, tho patience be a tired mare,
Yet sheel plod, and some say kniues haue edges,
And men may sleepe and haue their throates about them
At that time, and there's the humor of it.

Bar. Come ifaith, Ile bestow a breakfast to make Pistoll and thee friends. What a plague should we carry kniues to cut our owne throates.

Nim. Ifaith ile liue as long as I may, that's the certaine of it. And when I cannot liue any longer, Ile do as I may,
And there's my rest, and the randeuous of it.

Enter Pistoll, and Hostes Quickly his wife.

Bar. Good morrow ancient Pistoll.

heere comes ancient Pistoll, I prethee Nim be quiet.

Nim. How do you my host?

Pist. Base slaue, callest thou me host?

Now by gads lugges I sweare, I scorne the title,
Nor shali my Nell keepe lodging.

Host. No by my troth not I,

For we cannot bed nor boord halfe a score gentlewomen
That liue honestly by the pricke of their needle,
But it is thought straight we keepe a bawdy-house.

O Lord, heere's Corporall Nim, now shall
We haue wilfull adultery and murther committed:
Good Corporall Nim shew the valour of a man,
And put vp your sword.

Nim. Push.

Pist. What, dost thou push, thou prickeard cur of Iseland

Nim. Will you shog off? I would haue you solus.

Pist. Solus, egregious dog, that solus in thy throate,
And in thy lungs, and which is worse, within Thy mesfull mouth, I do retort that solus
In thy bowels, and in thy Iaw perdie; for I can talke,
And Pistols flashing fiery cocke is vp.

Nim. I am not Barbasom, you cannot coniure me;
I haue an humor Pistoll to knocke you indifferently well,
And you fall foule with me Pistoll,
Ile scoure you with my Rapier in faire tearmes.

If

of Henry the fifth.

If you will walke off a little,
Ile pricke your guts a little in good termes,
And there's the humor of it.

Pist. O braggard vile, and damned furious wight,
The graue doth gape, and groaning death is nere,
Therefore exall. They draw.

Bar. Heare me, he that strikes the first blow,
Ile kill him, as I am a Souldier.

Pist. An oath of mickle might, and fury shall abate.

Nim. Ile cut your throat at one time or another
In faire termes : and there's the humor of it.

Pist. Couple gorge is the word, I thee desie agen ;
A damned hound, thinkst thou my spouse to get ?
No, to the powdering tub of infamy,
Fetch foorth the lazar kite of Cresides kinde,
Doll Tear-sheete, she by name, and her espowse
I haue, and I will hold, the quandom quickly,
For the onely she and Paco, there it is enough.

Enter the Boy.

Boy. Hostes, you must come straight to my Master,
And you host Pistoll.

Good Bardolfe put thy nose betweene the sheetes,
And do the office of a warning pan.

Host. By my troth hee'l yeeld the Crow a pudding bne of these dayes.

Ile go to him, husband you'l come ?

Bar. Come Pistoll be friends.

Nim, prethee be friends, and if thou wilt not,
Be enemies with me too.

Ni. I shall haue my eight shillings I won of you at betting

Pist. Base is the slaue that payes.

Ni. That now I will haue, and there's the humor of it.

Pist. As manhood shall compound. They draw.

Bar. He that strikes the first blow,
Ile kill him by this sword.

Pi. Sword is an oath, and oathes must haue their course.

The Chronicle History

Nim. I shall haue my eight shillings I wonne of you at betting.

Pist. A noble shalt thou haue, and ready pay,
And liquor likewise will I giue to thee,
And friendship shall combinde our brotherhood,
He liue by Nim, as Nim shall liue by me:
Is not this iust? for I shall Sutler be
Vnto the Campe, and profit will occrue.

Nim. I shall haue my noble?

Pist. In cash most truely paid.

Nim. Why theres the humor of it.

Enter Hostes.

Hostes. As euer you came of men come in,
Sir John, poore soule is so troubled
With a burning rashan contagian feuer, tis wonderfull,

Pist. Let vs condole the knight; for lamkins we wil liue.

Exeunt omnes.

Enter Exeter and Gloster.

Gloft. Before God my Lord, his Grace is too bold to trust these traytors.

Exe. They shall be apprehended by and by.

Gloft. I but the man that was his bedfellow,
Whom he hath cloyed and graced with Princely fauors,
That he should for a forreigne purse, to sell
His Soueraignes life to death and trechery.

Exe. O the Lord of Massham.

Enter the King and three Lords.

King. Now sirs, the winde is faire, and we will aboard;
My Lord of Cambridge, and my Lord of Massham,
And you my gentle Knight, giue me your thoughts,
Do you not thinke the power we beare with vs,
Will make vs Conquerors in the field of France?

Massham. No doubt my Liege, if each man do his best.

Cam.

of Henry the first.

Cam. Neuer was Monarch better feared and loued then is your Maiesty.

Grey. Euen those that were your fathers enemies
Haue steeped their gals in hony for your sake.

King. We therefore haue great cause of thankfulnessse,
And shall forget the office of our hands;
According to their cause and worthinesse.

Mas. So seruice shall with steeled sinewes shine;
And labour shall refresh it selfe with hope
To do your Grace incessant seruice.

King. Vnckle of Exeter, enlarge the man
Committed yesterday, that railed against our person,
We consider it was the heate of wine that set him on,
And on his more aduice we pardon him.

Mas. That is mercy, but too much security;
Let him be punisht Soueraigne,
Least the example of him, breed more of such a kinde.

King. O let vs yet be mercifull.

Cam. So may your highnesse, and pupish too.

Grey. You shew great mercy if you giue him life,
After the taste of his correction.

King. Alasse, your too much care and loue of me,
Are heauy orisons against the poore wretch,
If little faults proceeding on distemper,
Should not be winked at,
How should we stretch our eye, when capitall crimes,
Chewed, swallowed, and digested, appeare before vs;
Well yet enlarge the man, tho Cambridge and the rest
In their deare loues, and tender preferuation of our state,
Would haue him punisht.

Now to our French causes.
Who are the late Commissioners?

Cam. Me one my Lord,
Your highnesse bad me aske for it to day.

Mas. So did you me my Soueraigne.

Grey. And me my Lord.

The Chrouicle History

King. Then Richard Earle of Cambridge, there is yours.
There is yours, my Lord of Masham :
And sir Thomas Grey, knight of Northumberland,
This same is yours ;
Reade them, and know we know your worthinesse.
Vnckle Exeter, I will aboard to night.
Why how now Gentlemen, why change you colour?
What see you in those papers,
That hath so chased your blood out of apparence?

Cam. I do confesse my fault, and do submit me
To your highnesse mercy.

Mash. To which we all appeale.

King. The mercy which was quit in vs but late,
By your owne reasons is fore-stald and done :
You must not dare for shame to aske for mercy,
For your owne conscience turne vpon your bosomes,
As dogs vpon their masters worrying them.
See you my Princes, and my Noble Peeres,
These english Monsters :
My Lord of Cambridge here,
You know how apt we were to grace him
In all things belonging to his honor ;
And this vilde man hath for a few light crownes,
Lightly conspir'd and sworne vnto the practises of France,
To kill vs heere in Hampton. To the which,
This knight, no lesse in bounty bound to vs
Then Cambridge is, hath likewise sworne.
But oh, what shall I say to thee false man,
Thou cruell, ingratefull, and inhumane creature,
Thou that didst beare the key of all my counsell,
That knewst the very secrets of my heart,
That almost mightst haue coyn'd me into gold ;
Wouldst thou haue practisde on me for thy vse?
Can it be possible, that out of thee
Should proceed one sparke that might annoy my finger?
Tis so strange, that tho the truth doth shew as grosse

of Henry the fift.

As blacke from white, mine eye will scarcely see it,
Their faults are open,
Arrest them to the answer of the law,
And God acquit them of their practises.

Exe. I arrest thee of high treason,
By the name of Richard, Earle of Cambridge.
I arrest thee of high treason,
By the name of Henry, Lord of Masham.
I arrest thee of high treason,
By the name of Thomas Grey,
Knight of Northumberland.

Mash. Our purposes God iustly hath discovered,
And I repent my fault more then my death,
Which I beseech your Maiesty forgiue,
Although my body pay the price of it.

King. God quit you in his mercy,
Hear your sentence.
You haue conspir'd against our royall Person,
Ioyned with an enemy proclaim'd and fixed.
And from his Coffers receiued the golden earnest of our death,
Touching our person we seeke no redresse,
But we our kingdomes safety must so tender,
Whose ruine you haue sought,
That to our lawes we do deliuer you.
Get you hence, poore miserable creatures to your death,
The taste whereof, God in his mercy giue you patience
To endure, and true repentance of all your deeds amisse:
Beare them hence.

Exit three Lords.

Now Lords to France: The enterprise whereof,
Shall be to you as vs, successiuely. (way,
Since God cut off this dangerous treason lurking in our Cheerly to sea, the signes of war aduance;
No King of England, if not King of France.

Exit omnes.

Enter Nim, Pistoll, Bardolfe, Hofter, and a boy.

Hof. I prethee sweet heart,
Let me bring thee so farre as Stanes.

Pist. No fur, no fur.

Bar. Well, sir John is gone, God be with him.

Hof. I, he is in Arthors bosome, if euer any were,
He went away as if it were a crysombd childe,
Betweene twelue and one,
Iust at turning of the tide;
His nose was as sharpe as a pen;
For when I saw him fumble with the sheets,
And talke of flowers, and smile vpon his fingers ends,
I knew there was no way but one.

How now sir John, quoth I?

And he cryed three times, God, God, God,
Now I to comfort him, bad him not thinke of God,
I hope there was no such need.

Then he bad me put more cloathes on his feete,
And I felt to them, and they were as cold as any stone,
And to his knees, and they were as cold as any stone.
And so vpward, & vpward, and all was as cold as stone.

Nim. They say he cride out on Sacke.

Hof. I that he did.

Boy. And of women.

Hof. No that he did not.

Boy. Yes that he did, & sed they were diuels incarnste.

Hof. Indeed carnation was a colour he neuer loued.

Nim. Well, he did cry out on women.

Hof. Indeed he did in some sort handle women
But then he was runaticke,
And talkt of the whore of Babilon.

Boy. Hoftes, do you remember he saw a Flea stand
Vpon Bardolfes nose, and sed it was a blacke soule
Burning in hell?

Bard.

of Henry the first.

Bar. Well, God be with him,
That was all the wealth I got in his seruice.

Nim. Shall we shog off?

The king will be gone from Southampton.

Pist. Cleare vp thy cristals,

Looke to my chattels and my moueables;

Trust none; the word is pitch and pay:

Mens words are wafer cakes,

And hold fast is the onely dog my deare.

Therefore cophetua be thy counsellor,

Touch her soft lips and part.

Bar. Farewell hostesse.

Nim. I cannot kis, and theres the humor of it,
But adieu.

Pist. Keepe fast thy buggle boe.

Exit omnes.

Enter King of France, Bourbon, Dolphin, and others.

King. Now you Lords of Orleance,
Of Bourbon, and of Berry,
You see the King of England is not slacke,
For he is footed on this Land already.

Dolphin. My gracious Lord,
Tis meete we all go foorth,
And arme vs against the foe:
And view the weake and sickly parts of France:
But let vs do it with no shew of feare,
No with no more, then if we heard
England were troubled with a Morris dance.
For my good Lord, she is so idely kingd,
Her scepter so fantastically borne,
So guided by a shallow humorous youth,
That feare attends her not.

Con. O peace Prince Dolphin, you deceiue your selfe,

Question

The Chronicle History

Question your Grace the late Embassador,
With what regard he heard his Embassage,
How well supplied with aged Counsellors,
And how his resolution answer'd him,
You then would say, that Harry was not wilde.

King. Well, thinke we Harry strong,
And strongly arme vs to preuent the foe.

Con. My Lord, heere is an Ambassador
From the King of England.

King. Bid him come in.
You see this chase is hotly followed, Lords.

Dol. My gracious father, cut vp this English short,
Selfe-loue my Liege is not so vile a thing
As selfe-neglecting.

Enter Exeter.

King. From our brother of England?

Exe. From him, and thus he greets your Maiesty;
He wils you in the name of God Almighty,
That you deuest your selfe, and lay apart
That borrowed title, which by gift of heauen,
Of law, of nature, and of Nations, longs
To him and to his heires, namely the Crowne
And all wide stretched titles that belongs
Vnto the crowne of France, that you may know
Tis no sinister, nor no awkeward claime,
Pickt from the wormeholes of old vanisht daies
Nor from the dust of old obliuion rackt,
He sends you these most memorable lines,
In euery branch truely demonstrated:
Willing you ouerlooke this pedigree,
And when you finde him euently deriued
From his most famed and famous Ancestors,
Edward the third; he bids you then resigne
Your Crowne and Kingdome, indirectly held
From him, the natiue and true Challenger.

King.

of Henry the fift.

King. If not, what followes?

Ex. Bloody cōstraint, for if you hide the crown
Euen in your hearts, there will he rake for it:
Therefore in fierce tempest is he comming
In thunder, and in earthquake, like a Ioue,
That if requiring faile, he will compell it:
And on your heads turnes he the widows teares
The orphants cries, the dead mens bones,
The pining maidens grones,
For husbands, fathers, and distressed louers,
Which shall be swallowed in this controuersie.
This is his claime, his threatning, & my message,
Vnlesse the Dolphin be in presence heere,
To whom expressely we bring greeting too.

Dol. For the Dolphin? I stand here for him,
What to heare from England.

Exe. Scorn & defiance, slight regard, contempt,
And any thing that may not mis-become
The mighty sender, doth he prize you at:
Thus saith my King. Vnles your fathers highnes
Sweeten the bitter mocke you sent his Maicesty,
Hee'l call you to so loud an answer for it,
That Caues and wombly Vaults of France
Shall chide your trespassse, & returne your mock,
In second accent of his Ordenance.

Dol. Say that my father render faire reply,
It is against my will:
For I desire nothing so much,
As oddes with England.

And for that cause, according to his youth,
I did present him with those Paris bales.

Exe. Hee'l make your Paris Louer shake for it,
Were it the Mistresse Court of mighty Europe.
And be assured, you'l finde a difference,
As we his subiects haue in wonder found,
Betweene his yonger daies, and these he musters now;

The Chronicle History

Now he weighs time euen to the latest graine,
Which you shall finde in your owne losses,
If we stay in France.

King. Well, for vs you shall returne our answer backe
To our brother of England.

Exit omnes.

Enter Nim, Bardolfe, Pistoll, and Boy.

Nim. Before God heeres hot seruice.

Pist. Tis hot indeed, blowes go and come,
Gods vassals drop and dye.

Nim. Tis honor, and there's the humor of it.

Boy. Would I were in London,
I'de giue all my honour for a pot of Ale.

Pist. And I: if wishes would preuaile,
I would not stay, but thither would I hie.

Enter Flewellen, and beats them in.

Flew. Gods plud, vp to the breaches
You rascals, will you not vp to the breaches?

Nim. Abate thy rage sweete knight,
Abate thy rage.

Boy. Well, I would I were once from them;
They would haue me as familiar
With mens pockets, as their Gloues and their Handkerchers, they will steale any thing.

Bardolfe stole a Lute-case, carried it three mile,
And sold it for three halfe pence.

Nim stole a fire-shouell,
I knew by that, they meant to carry coales:
Well, if they will not leaue me,
I meane to leaue them.

Exit Nim, Bardolfe, Pistoll, and Boy.

Enter Gower.

Gower. Capitaine Flewellen, you must come strait
To the Mines, to the Duke of Gloster.

Flew.

of Henry the first.

Flew. Looke you, tell the Duke it is not so good
To come to the Mines : the concaueties is otherwise,
You may discusse to the Duke, the enemy is digd
Himselfe five yards vnder the countermines :
By Ieshu I thinke hee'l blow vp all,
If there be no better direction.

Alarums. Enter the King and his Lords.

King. How yet resolues the Governour of the Towne ?
This is the latest parley weel admit ;
Therefore to our best mercy giue your selues,
Or like to men proud of destruction, desie vs to our worst,
For as I am a souldier, a name that in my thoughts
Becomes me best, if we begin the battery once againe,
I will not leaue the halfe atchieued Harflew,
Till in her ashes she be buried,
The gates of mercy are all shut vp.
What say you, will you yeeld and this auoid,
Or guilty in defence be thus destroid ?

Enter Governour.

Gouer. Our expectation hath this day an end :
The Dolphin, whom of succout we entreated,
Returns vs word, his powers are not yet ready
To raise so great a siege : therefore dread King,
We yeeld our towne and liues to thy soft mercy :
Enter our gates, dispose of vs and ours,
For we no longer are defensiuie now.

Enter Katherine and Alice.

Kate. Alice venezia, vous aues cates en,
Vou parte fort bon Angloys englatara,
Coman sae palla vou la main en francoy.

The Chronicle History

Alice. La main madam de han.

Kate. E da bras.

Alice. De arma madam.

Kate. Le main da han la bras de arma,

Alice. O wye Madam.

Kate. E Coman sa pella vow la menton a la col.

Alice. De neck, e de cin, Madam.

Kate. E de neck, e de cin, e de code.

Kate. O et ill ausie, ecoute Alice, de han, de arma,
De neck, de cin, le foote, e de con.

Alice. Cet fort bon Madam.

Kate. A loues a diner.

Exit omnes.

Enter King of France, Lord Constable, the Dolphin, and Bourbon.

King. Tis certaine he is past the Riuer Some.

Con. Morden ma via: Shall a few spranes of vs.

Out-

of Henry the first.

Outgrow their grafters.

Bur. Normanes, bastard Normanes, mor du,
And if they passe vnfought withall,
Iesell my Dukedome for a foggy Farme
In that short nooke Ile of England.

Con. Why whence haue they this mettall?
Is not their Climate raw, foggy, and cold.
On whom, as in disdaine, the Sunne lookes pale?
Can barley broth, a drench for swolne Iades,
Their sodden water decockt such liueiy blood?
And shall our quicke blood, spirited with wine,
Seeme frosty? O for honour of our names,
Let vs not hang like frozen Icesickles
Vpon our houses tops, while they (a more frosty Climate)
Sweate drops of youthfull blood.

King. Constable dispatch, send Montioy foorth,
To know what willing ransome he will giue:
Sonne Dolphin, you shall stay in Rhone with me.

Dol. Not so, I do beseech your Maiesty.

King. Well, I say it shall be so.

Exeunt omnes.

Enter Gower and Flewellen.

Gower. How now Captaine Flewellen,
Come you from the bridge?

Flew. By Iesus there's excellent seruice committed at the bridge?

Gower. Is the Duke of Exeter safe?

Flew. The Duke of Exeter is a man whom I loue,
And I honour, and I worship with my soule,
And my heart, and my life,
And my lands, and my liuings,
And my vttermoost powers.
The Duke is looke you,
God be praised and pleased for it,
No harme in the world.

He

The Chronicle History

He is maintaine the Bridge very gallantly :
There is an Ensigne there,
I do not know how you call him,
But by Ieshu I thinke he is as valiant as Marke Anthony,
He doth maintaine the Bridge most gallantly ;
Yet he is a man of no reckoning ;
But I did see him do gallant seruice,

Gouer. how do you call him ?

Flew. his name is ancient Pistoll.

Gouer. I know him not.

Enter Ancient Pistoll.

Flew. Do you not know him, here comes the man.

Pist. Capitaine, I thee beseech to do me a fauour,
The Duke of Exeter doth loue thee well.

Flew. I, and I praise God I haue merited some loue at his hands.

Pist. Bardolfe a souldier, one of buxsome valour,
Hath by furious fate, and giddy Fortunes sickle wheele,
That God's blinde that stands vpon the rowling restlesse stone.

Flew. By your patience Ancient Pistoll,
Fortune looke you is painted plinde,
With a muffer before her eyes,
To signifie to you, that Fortune is plinde :
And she is moreouer painted with a wheele,
Which is the Morall that Fortune is turning,
And inconstant, and variation, and mutabilities :
And her fate is fixed at a sphericall stone,
Which rolles, and rolles, and rolles ;
Surely the Poet is make an excellent description of For- tune.

Fortune looke you is an excellent Morall.

Pist. Fortune is Bardolfes foe, and frownes on him,
For he hath stolne a packs, and hangd must he be ;
A damned death, let gallowes gape for dogs,

Let

of Henry the first.

Let man go free, and let not death his windpipe stop.

But Exeter hath giuen the doome of death,

For packs of petty price :

Therefore go speake, the Duke will heare thy voice,

And let not Bardolfes vitall thred be cut,

With edge of penny cord, and vile approach.

Speake Captaine for his life, and I will thee requite.

Flew. Captaine Pistoll, I partly vnderstand your meaning.

Pist. Why then reioyce therefore.

Flew. Certainly Ancient Pistoll,

Tis not a thing to reioyce at,

For if he were my owne brother, I would wish the Duke

To do his pleasure, and put him to executions ;

For looke you, disciplines ought to be kept,

They ought to be kept.

Pist. Die and be damned, and a fig for thy friendship.

Flew. That is good.

Pist. The figge of Spaine within thy law.

Flew. That is very well.

Pist. I say the fig within thy bowels & thy durty maw.

Exit Pistoll.

Flew. Captaine Gower, cannot you heare it lighten and thunder ?

Gower. Why is this the Ancient you told me of ?

I remember him now, he is a bawd, a cut-purse.

Flew. By Iesus he is vtter as prauce words vpon the bridge

As you shall desire to see in a sommers day ;

But tis all one, what he hath sed to me,

Looke you, is all one.

Gower. Why this is a gull, a foole, a rogue

That goes to the wars onely to grace himselfe

At his returne to London :

And such fellowes as he,

Are perfect in great Commanders names.

They will learne by rote where seruices were done,

At such and such a sconce, at such a breach,

The Chronicle History

At such a conuoy, who came off brauely, who was shot,
Who disgraced, what termes the enemy stood on,
And this they conperfectly in phrase of warre,
Which they tricke vp with new tun'd oathes,
And what a beard of the Generals cut,
And a horrid shout of the Campe
Will do among the foming bottles and alewasht wits
Is wonderfull to be thought on : but you must learne
To know such slanders of this age,
Or else you may meruellously be mistooke.

Flew. Certaine Captaine Gower, it is not the man,
Looke you, that I did take him to be :
But when time shall serue, I shall tell him a little
Of my desires : heere comes his Maiesty.

Enter King, Clarence, Gloster, and others.

King. How now Flewellen, come you from the bridge ?

Flew. I and it shall please your Maiesty,
There is excellent seruice at the bridge.

King. What men haue you lost Flewellen ?

Flew. And it shall please your Maiesty,
The partition of the aduersary hath beene great,
Very reasonably great, but for our owne parts,
I thinke we haue lost neuer a man, vnlesse it be one
For robbing of a Church, one Bardolfe, if your Maiesty
Know the man, his face is full of whelks, and knubs,
And pumple, and his breath blowes at his nose
Like a coale, sometimes red, sometimes plew ;
But God be praised, now his nose is executed,
And his fire out.

King. We would haue all offenders so cut off,
And here we giue expresse commandement,
That there be nothing taken from the villages
But paid for ; none of the French abused,
Or vpbraided with disdainfull language :
For when cruelty and lenity play for a Kingdome,
The gentlest gamester is the sooner winner.

Enter

of Henry the first.

Enter the French Herald.

Herald. You know me by my habite.

King. Well then, we know thee,

What should we know of thee?

Her. My Masters minde.

King. Vnfold it.

Her. Go thee vnto Harry of England, and tell him,

Aduantage is a better souldier then rashnesse :

Although we did seeme dead, we did but slumber.

Now we speake vpon our kue, & our voyce is imperiall,

England shall repent her folly, see her rashnesse,

And admire our sufferance. VVhich to ransome,

His pettinesse would bow vnder :

For the effusion of our blood, his army is too weake ;

For the disgrace we haue borne, himselfe kneeling

At our feete, a weake and worthlesse satisfaction.

To this, adde defiance.

So much from the King my Master.

King. VVhat is thy name? we know thy quality.

Herald. Montioy.

King. Thou dost thy office faire, returne thee backe,

And tell thy King, I do not seeke him now ;

But could be well content, without impeach,

To march on to Callis ; for to say the sooth,

(Though tis no wisdome to confesse so much

Vnto an enemy of craft and vantage)

My souldiers are with sicknesse much enfeebled,

My Army lessened, and those few I haue,

Almost no better then so many French :

VVho when they were in heart, I tell thee Herald,

I thought vpon one paire of English legs,

Did march three Frenchmens.

Yet God forgie me, that I do brag thus ;

Your aire of France hath blowne this vice in me.

I must repent, go tell thy Matter here I am,

My ransome is this fraile and worthlesse body,

My Army but a weake and sickly guard.

The Chronicle History

Yet God before, we will come on,
If France and such another neighbor stood in our way;
If we may passe, we will; if we be hindered,
We shal your tawny ground with your red blood discolour.
So Montjoy get you gone, there's for your paines:
The sum of all our answer is but this,
We would not seeke a battle as we are;
Nor as we are, we say we will not shun it.

Herald. I shall deliuer so: thanks to your Maicsty.

Gleff. My Liege, I hope they will not come vpon vs now.

King. We are in Gods hand brother, not in theirs;
To night we will encampe beyond the bridge,
And on to morrow bid them march away. Exit.

Enter Bourbon, Constable, Orleans, and Gebon.

Con. Tut, I haue the best armour in the world.

Orleans. You haue an excellent armour,
But let my horse haue his due.

Bur. Now you talke of a horse,
I haue a steed like the Palfrey of the sunne,
Nothing but pure aire and fire,
And hath none of this dull element of earth within him.

Orleans. He is of the colour of the Nutmeg.

Bur. And of the heate of the Ginger.
Turne all the sands into eloquent tongues,
And my horse is argument for them all:
I once writ a Sonnet in the praise of my horse,
And began thus, Wonder of nature.

Con. I haue heard a Sonnet begin so,
In the praise of ones Mistresse.

Bur. Why then did they imitate
That which I writ in praise of my horse,
For my horse is my Mistresse.

Con. Ma foy the other day, me-thought
Your Mistresse shooke you shrewdly.

Exit.

of Henry the first.

Bur. I, bearing me. I tell thee Lord Constable,
My Mistresse weares her owne haire.

Con. I could make as good a boast of that,
If I had a Sow to my Mistresse.

Bur. Tut, thou wilt make vse of any thing.

Con. Yet I do not vse my horse for my Mistresse.

Bur. Will it neuer be morning?

He ride too morrow a mile,
And my way shall be pauerd with english faces.

Con. By my faith so will not I,
For feare I be out-faced of my way.

Bur. Well, ile go arme my selfe; hay,

Gebon. The Duke of Burbon longs for morning.

Orleanse. I, he longs to eate the English.

Con. I thinke hee'l eate all he kills.

Orlean. O peace, ill will neuer said well.

Con. He cap that Prouerbe,
With there's flattery in friendship.

Orle. O sir, I can answer that,
With giue the Diuell his due.

Con. Haue at the eye of that Prouerbe,
With a iogge of the Diuell.

Orle. Well, the Duke of Burbon is simply
The most actiue Gentleman of France.

Con. Doing his actiuity, and hee'l still be doing.

Orle. He neuer did hurt as I heard off.

Con. No I warrant you, nor neuer will.

Orle. I hold him to be exceeding valiant.

Con. I was told so by one that knowes him better then you.

Orle. Whose that?

Con. Why he told me so himselfe.
And said he cared not who knew it.

Orle. Well, who will go with me to hazard,
For a hundred English prisoners?

Con. You must go to hazard your selfe,

Before

The Chronicle History

Before you haue them.

Enter a Messenger.

Mess. My Lords, the English lie within a hundred Paces of your Tent.

Con. VVho hath measured the ground ?

Mess. The Lord Granpeere.

Con. A valiant man, an expert Gentleman.

Come, come away,

The Sun is hie, and we weare out the day.

Exit omnes.

Enter the King disguised, to him Pistoll.

Pist. Ke ve la ?

King. A friend.

Pist. Discus vnto me, art thou a gentleman ?
Or art thou common, base, and popeler ?

King. No sir, I am a Gentleman of a Company.

Pist. Trailes thou the puissant Pike ?

King. Euen so sir. VVhat are you ?

Pist. As good a gentleman as the Emperor.

King. O then thou art better then the King.

Pist. The Kings a bago, and a hart of gold,

A lad of life, an impe of fame,

Of parents good, of fist most valiant :

I kis his durty shooe, and from my heart strings

I loue the louely bully. What is thy name ?

King. Harry le Roy.

Pist. Le Roy, a Cornish man ;

Art thou of Cornish crew ?

King. No sir, I am a Welchman.

Pist. A Welchman ; knowst thou Flewellen ?

King. I sir, he is my kinsman.

Pist. Art thou his friend ?

King. I sir.

Pist. Figa for thee then ; my name is Pistoll.

King. It sorts well with your fiercenesse.

Pist.

of Henry the first.

Pist. Pistoll is my name.

Exit Pistoll.

Enter Gower and Flewellen.

Gower. Captaine Flewellen.

Flew. In the name of Iesu speake lower.

It is the greatest folly in the worrell, when the ancient Prerogatiues of the warres be not kept.

I warrant you, if you looke into the wars of the Romanes,

You shall finde no tittle tattle, nor bible babble there,

But you shall finde the cares, and the feares,

And the ceremonies to be otherwise.

Gow. Why the enemy is loud: you heard him all night.

Flew. Godes sollud, if the enemy be an asse & a foole,

And a prating cocks-combe, is it meet that we be also

Afoole, and a prating cocks-combe,

In your conscience now?

Gower. Ile speake lower.

Flew. I beseech you do, good Captaine Gower.

Exit Gower and Flewellen.

King. Though it appeare a little out of fashion,
Yet there's much care in this.

Enter three Souldiers.

1. Soul. Is not that the morning yonder?

2. Soul. I, we see the beginning,

God knowes whether we shall see the end or no.

3. Soul. Well, I thinke the King could wish himselfe

Vp to the necke in the middle of the Thames,

And so I would he were, at all aduentures, and I with him.

King. Now masters good morrow, what cheere?

3. Soul. Ifaith small cheere some of vs is like to haue,

Ere this day to an end.

King. Why feare nothing man, the king is frolike.

2. Soul. I he may be, for he hath no cause as we.

King. Nay say not so, he is a man as we are,

The Violet smells to him as vnto vs;

Therefore if he see reasons, he feares as we do.

2. Soul.

The Chronicle History

2. Soul. But the King hath a heauy reckoning to make,
If his cause be not good; when all those soules
Whose bodies shall be slaughtered here,
Shall ioyne together at the latter day,
And say I dyed at such a place. Some swearing;
Some their wiues rawly left;
Some leauing their children poore behinde them.
Now if his cause be bad,

I thinke it will be a grieuous matter to him,

King. Why so you may say, if a man send his seruanc
As Factor into another Country,
And he by any meanes miscarry,
You may say the businesse of the Master
Was the author of his seruants mis-fortune.
Or if a sonne be imployd by his father,
And he fall into any leud action, you may say the father
Was the author of his sonnes damnation.
But the master is not to answer for his seruant,
The father for his sonne, nor the king for his subiects;
For they purpose not their deaths,
When they craue their seruices;
Some there are that haue the gift
Of premeditated murder on them:
Others the broken seale of Forgery, in beguiling maidens
Now if these out-strip the law,
Yet they cannot escape Gods punishment.
War is Gods Beadle. War is Gods vengeance:
Euery mans seruice is the Kings:
But euery mans soule is his owne.
Therefore I would haue euery souldier examine himselfe,
And wash euery moth out of his conscience,
That in so doing, he may be the readier for death;
Or not dying, why the time was well spent,
Wherein such preparation was made.

3. Soul. Ifaith he saies true,
Euery mans fault is on his owne head,

of Henry the first.

I would not haue the king answer for me,
Yet I intend to fight lustily for him.

King. Well, I heard the king wold not be ransomd.

2. Soul. I he said so, to make vs fight;
But when our throats be cut, he may be ransomd,
And we neuer the wiser.

King. If I liue to see that, ile neuer trust his word againe.

2. Soul. Masse you'l pay him then,
Tis a great displeasure that an elder
Gun can do against a Cannon,
Or a subiect against a Monarch.

You'l nere take his word againe, you are a nasse, goc.

King. Your reproofe is somewhat too bitter;
Were it not at this time I could be angry.

2. Soul. Why let it be a quarrell if thou wilt.

King. How shall I know thee?

2. Soul. Here's my gloue, which if euer I see in thy hat,
Ile challenge thee, and strike thee.

King. Here is likewise another of mine,
And assure thee ile weare it.

2. Soul. Thou dar'st as well be hangd.

3. Soul. Be friends you fooles,
We haue French quarrels enow in hand,
We haue no need of English broyles.

King. Tis no treason to cut French Crownes,
For to morrow the King himselfe will be a clipper.

Exit the souldiers.

Enter to the King, Gloucester, Spingham, and Attendants.

King. O God of battels steele my souldiers harts,
Take from them now the sence of reckõning,
That the apposed multitudes which stand before them,
May not appale their courage.

O not too day, not too day O God,

E

Thinke

The Chronicle History

Thinke on the fault my father made,
In compassing the Crowne.
I Richards body haue interred new,
And on it hath bestow'd more contrite teares,
Then from it issued forced drops of blood;
A hundred men haue I in yearely pay,
Which euery day their withered hands hold vp
To heauen, to pardon blood,
And I haue built two Chanceries, more will I do :
Though all that I can do is all too little.

Enter Gloster.

Glo. My Lord.

King. My brother Glosters voice.

Glo. My Lord, the army staves vpon your presence.

King. Stay Gloster stay, and I will go with thee,
The day, my friends, and all things staves for me.

Enter Clarence, Gloster, Exeter, & Salisbury.

War. My Lords, the French are very strong,

Ex. There's five to one, and yet they are all fresh.

War. Of fighting men they haue full forty thousand.

Sal. The oddes is all too great. Farwell kinde Lords :
Braue Clarence, and my Lord of Gloster,
My Lord of Warwicke, and to all farewell.

Cl. Farewell kinde Lords, fight valiantly to day,
And yet in truth I do thee wrong,
For thou art made on the true sparkes of honor.

Enter King.

War. O would we had but ten thousand men
Now at this instant, that doth not worke in England.

King. Whose that, that wishes so, my cousen Warwick ?
Gods will I would not iocse the honour
One man would share from me,
Not for my kingdome.

of Henry the first.

No faith my Cosen, with not one man more,
Rather proclaime it presently through our camp
That he that hath no stomacke to this feast
Let him depart, his pasport shall bee drawne,
And crownes for conuoy put into his purse,
We would not dye in that mans company,
That feares his fellowship to dye with vs.

This day is called the day of Crispin :

He that out-liues this day, and sees olde age,
Shall stand a tipto when this day is named,
And rowse him at the name of Crispin.

He that out-liues this day, and comes safe home,
Shall yearly on the vigill feast his friends,

And say, to morrow is S. Crispins day :

Then shall we in their flowing boules

Be newly remembred. Harry the King,

Bedford and Exeter, Clarence, and Gloster,

Warwicke, and Yorke,

Familiar in their mouths as household wordes.

This story shall the good man tell his son,

And from this day vnto the generall doome,

But we in it shall be remembred.

We few, we happy few, we bond of brotchers,

For he to day that sheds his blood by mine

Shall be my brother. Be he nere so base

This day shall gentle his condition.

Then shal he strip his fleeces, & shew his scars,

And say, these wounds I had on Crispins day.

And Gentlemen in England now a bed,

Shall thinke themselues accurst,

They were not there, when any speaks

That fought with vs vpon S. Crispines day.

Glo. My gracious Lord,

The French is in the field.

Kin. Why all things are ready if our mindes be so.

War. Perish the man whose minde is backward now.

The Chronicle History

King. Thou dost not wish more helpe from England, Cousen?

War. Gods will my Liege, would you and I alone,
Without more helpe, might fight this battell out.
Why well said. That doth please me better,
Then to wish me one. You know your charge,
God be with you all.

Enter the Herald from the French.

Her. Once more I come to know of thee king Henry,
What thou wilt giue for ransome?

King. Who hath sent thee now?

Her. The Constable of France.

King. I prethee beare my former answer backe,
Bid them atchieue me, and then sell my bones.
Good God, why should they mocke good fellowes thus?
The man that once did sell the Lyons skin
VWhile the beast liued, was kild with hunting him.
And many of our bodies shall no doubt
Finde graues within your Realme of France:
Though buried in your dunghils, we shall be famed,
For there the Sunne shall greeete them,
And draw vp their honors reaking vp to heauen,
Leauing their earthly parts to choake your clime;
The smell whereof, shall breed a plague in France;
Marke then abundant valour in our English,
That being dead, like to the bullets crasing,
Breakes foorth into a second course of mischiefe,
Killing in relaps of mortality:
Let me speake proudly,
There's not a peece of feather in our Campe,
Good argument I hope we shall not flye,
And time hath worne vs into flouendry.
But by the masse, our hearts are in the trim,
And my poore souldiers tell me, yet ere night

They?

of Henry the first.

They'l be in fresher robes, or they will plucke
The gay new cloaths ore your French souldiers eares;
And turne them out of seruice. If they do this,
As if it please God they shall,
Then shall our ransome soone be leuied;
Sauē thou thy labour Herauld,
Come thou no more for ransome, gentle Herauld.
They shall haue nought I sweare, but these my bones;
Which if they haue, as I will leaue v̄m them,
VVill yeeld them little, tell the Constable.

Her. I shall deliuer so.

Exit Herauld.

Yorke. My gracious Lord, vpon my knee I craue
The leading of the vaward.

King. Take it braue Yorke.

Come souldiers let's away,
And as thou pleasest God, dispose the day.

Exit.

Enter the foure French Lords.

Gebon. O diabello.

Con. Mor du ma vie.

Orle. O what a day is this!

Bar. O Iour dei houte all is gone, all is lost.

Con. VVe are enow yet liuing in the field,
To smother vp the English,
If any order might be thought vpon.

Bar. A plague of order, once more to the field,
And he that will not follow Burbon now,
Let him go home, and with his cap in hand,
Like a base leno hold the chamber doore,
VVhy least by a slaue no gentler then my dog,
His fairest daughter is contamuracke.

Con. Disorder that hath spoild vs, right vs now,
Come we in heapes, wee'l offer vp our liues
Vnto these English, or else die with fame.

The Chronicle History

Come, come along,
Lets dye with honor, our shame doth last too long.

Exit omnes

Enter Pistoll, the French man, and the boy.

Pist. Eyld cur, eyld cur.

French. O Monsieur, ie vou en pree aues petie de moy.

Pist. Moy shall not serue, I will haue forty moys.

Boy, aske his name,

Boy. Comant ettes v ous apelles ?

Fren. Monsieur Fer.

Boy. He sayes his name is master Fer.

Pist. Ile Fer him, and ferit him, and ferke him,

Boy discusse the same in French.

Boy. Sir I do not know whats French for Fer, ferite, and fearke.

Pist. Bid him prepare, for I will cut his throat.

Boy. Feate, vou preat, ill voulles couple votre gorge.

Pist. Onye ma foy couple la gorge,

Vnlesse thou giue to me egregious ransome, dye.

One point of a fox.

Fren. Qui dit ill monsieur,

Ill ditye si vou ny vouly pa domy luy.

Boy. La gran ransome, ill voutueres.

Fren. O ie vous en pri petit gentelhome, parle

A cee, gran Captaine, pour auez mercie

A moy, ey iee donerees pour mon ransome

Cinquante ocios. Ie suyes vngentelhome de France.

Pist. What sayes he boy ?

Boy. Marry sir he sayes he is a gentleman of a great
House of France, and for his ransome,
He will giue you 500. Crownes.

Pist. My fury shall abate,

And I the Crownes will take,†

And as I sucke blood, I will some mercie shew.

King. What the French retire ?

Yet als not done, the French keepes still the field.

Ex. The Duke of Yorke commends him to your Grace.

Kin. Liues he good vnkle, twice I saw him downe,
Twice vp againe :

From helmet to the spur, all bleeding ore.

Exe. In which array, braue souldier doth he lye,

Larding the plaines, and by his bloody side,

Yoake-fellow to his honour-dying wounds,

The Noble Earle of Suffolke also lyes.

Suffolke first dyed, and Yorke all wounded ore

Comes to him where in blood he lay all steept,

And takes him by the beard, kisses the gashes

That bloudily did yawne vpon his face,

And cryed aloud, tarry deere cousin Suffolke :

My soule shall thine keepe company in heauen :

Tarry deere soule awhile, then flye to rest :

And in this glorious and well-foughten field,

We kept together in our Chiualry:

Vpon these words I came and cheer'd them vp,

He tooke me by the hand, saide deere my Lorde,

Commend my seruice to my Soueraigne,

So did he turne, and ouer Suffolkes necke

He threw his wounded arme, and so espoused to death

With blood he sealed. An argument,

Of neuer-ending loue.

The pretty and sweete manner of it,

Forc'd those waters from me, which I would haue stoppe,

But I had not so much of man in me,

But all my mother came into my eyes,

And gaue me vp to teares.

Kin. I blame you not: for hearing you,

I must conuert to teares.

Alarum

The Chronicle History

Alarum sounds.

V What new alarum is this?

Bid euery souldier kill his prisoner.

· Pist. Couple gorge.

Exit omnes.

Enter Flewellen, and Captaine Gower.

Flew. Godes plud kill the boyes and the luyge,
Tis the arrants peece of knauery as can be desired
In the worell now, in your conscience now.

Gower. Tis certaine, there's not a boy left aliue,
And the cowardly rascals that ran from the battell,
Themselues haue done this slaughter;
Beside, they haue carried away and burnt
All that was in the Kings Tent:

V Whereupon the king caused euery prisoners
Throat to be cut. Oh he is a worthy King.

Flew. I, he was borne at Monmouth;
Captaine Gower, what call you the place where
Alexander the big was borne?

Gower. Alexander the great.

Flew. V Why I pray, is not big great?
As if I say, big, or great, or magnanimous,
I hope tis all one reckoning,
Saue the phraze is a little variation.

Gower. I thinke Alexander the great
VVas borne at Macedon,
His father was called Philip of Macedon,
As I take it.

Flew. I thinke it was Macedon indeed
V Where Alexander was borne:
Looke you Captaine Gower,
And if you looke into the Maps of the worell well,
You shall finde little difference betweene Macedon and Monmorth. Looke you, there is

of Henry the fift.

A Riuer in Macedon, and there is also a Riuer
In Monmorth, the Riuers name at Monmorth
Is called Wye.

But tis out of my braine what is the name of the other:
But tis all one, tis so like, as my fingers is to fingers,
And there is Samons in both.

Looke you Captaine Gower, and you marke it,
You shall finde our King is come after Alexander,
God knowes, and you know, that Alexander in his
Bowles, and his Ales, and his wrath, & his displeasures
And indignations, was kill his friend Clitus.

Gow. I but our King is not like him in that,
For he neuer kild any of his friends.

Flew. Looke you, tis not well done to take the tale out
Of a mans mouth, ere it is made an end and finished:
I speake in the comparifons, as Alexander is kill
His friend Clitus: so our King being in his ripe
Wits and iudgements, is turne away the fat Knite
With the great belly doublet:

I am forget his name.

Gower. Sir John Falstaffe.

Flew. I, I thinke it is Sir John Falstaffe indeed,
I can tell you, there's good men borne at Monmorth,

Enter the King and his Lords.

King. I was not angry since I came in France,
Vntill this houre.
Take a Trumpet Herald,
And ride vnto the horsemen on yon hill:
If they will fight with vs, bid them come downe,
Or leaue the field, they do offend our sight.
Will they do neither, we will come to them,
And make them skyr away, as fast
As stones enforc'd from the old Assyrian slings.
Besides, weel cut the throats of those we haue,
And not one aliue shall taste our mercy.

Gods will what meanes this? knowst thou not
That we haue fined these bones of ours for ransome?

Her. I come great King for charitable fauour,
To sort our Nobles from our common men,
We may haue leaue to bury all our dead,
Which in the fielde lye spoiled and troden on.

Kin. I tell thee truly Herald,
I do not know whether the day be ours or no:
For yet a many of your French do keepe the field.

Her. The day is yours.

Kin. Praised be God therefore:
What Castle call you that?

Her. We call it Agincourt.

Kin. Then call we this the fielde of Agincourt,
Fought on the day of Crispin, Crispianus.

Flew. Your Grandfather of famous memory,
If your Grace be remembred,
Is do good seruice in France.

King. Tis true Flewellen.

Flew. Your Maiesty sayes very true.
And it please your Maiesty,
The Welshmen there was do good seruice,
In a Garden where Leekes did grow,
And I thinke your Maiesty will take no scorne,
To weare a Leeke in your cap vpon S. Dauiess day.

King. No Flewellen, for I am Welsh as well as you.

Flew. All the water in Wye will not wash your welch
Blood out of you. God keepe it, and preserue it,
To his graces will and pleasure.

King. Thankes good Country-man.

Flew. By Iesu I am your Maiesties Countryman, (man.
I care not who kno it, so long as your maiesty is an honest

King. God keepe me so. Our Herald go with him,
And bring vs the number of the scattered French,

Call yonder souldier hither.

Flew. You fellow, come to the King.

Kin. Fellow, why dost thou weare that gloue in thy hat?

Soul. And please your maicesty, tis a rascalles that swag-gard with me the other day : and he hath one of mine, the which if euer I see, I haue sworne to strike him : so hath he the like to mee.

Kin. How thinke you Flewellen, is it lawfull to keep his Oath ?

Fl. And it please your Maicesty tis lawful to keep his vow If he be periur'd once, he is as arrant a beggarly knaue, as treads vpon too blacke shoocs.

King. His enemy may be a Gentleman of worth.

Flew. And if he be as good a Gentleman as Lucifer and Belzebub and the diuell himselfe,
Tis meete he keepe his vow.

King. Well firrha keepe your word,
Vnder what Captaine seruest thou ?

Soul. Vnder Captaine Gower.

Flew. Captaine Gower is a good Captaine,
And hath good litterature in the warres.

Kin. Go call him hither.

Soul. I will my Lord.

Exit souldier.

Kin. Captaine Flewellen, when Alanson and I
Were downe together, I tooke this gloue from's helmet,
Heere Flewellen weare it.

If any challenge it, he is a friend of Alonsons,
And an enemy to me.

Flew. Your Maicesty doth me as great a fauour,
As can be desired in the hearts of his subiects.

I would see that man now that wold challenge this gloue
And it please God of his grace I would but see him,
That is all.]

King. Flewellen knowst thou Captaine Gower ?

Flew. Captaine Gower is my friend

The Chronicle History

And if it like your maiesty, I know him very well.

King. Go call him hither.

Flew. I will and it shall please your maiesty.

Kin. Follow Flewellen closely at the heeles,
The gloue he weares, it was the soldiers:
It may be there will be harme betweene them,
For I do know Flewellen valiant,
And being toucht, as hot as Gun-powder :
And quickly will returne an iniury.
Go see there be no harme betweene them.

Enter Captaine Gower, Flewellen, and the Soldier.

Flew. Captaine Gower, in the name of Iesu
Come to his maiesty, there is more good towards you
Then you can dreame of.

Soul. Do you heare, you sir,
Do you know this gloue ?

Flew. I know the gloue is a gloue.

Soul. Sir I know this, and thus I challenge it.

He strikes him.

Flew. Gods plut, and his Captaine Gower stand away,
He giue treason his due presently.

Enter the King, Warwicke, Clarence, and Exeter.

King. How now? Whats the matter ?

Flew. And it shall please your maiesty,
Heere is the notablest peece of treason come to light
As you shall desire to see in a sommers day.
Heere is a rascall, beggerly rascall is strike the gloue,
Which your maiesty in person
Tooke out of the Helmet of Alanfon :
And your maiesty will beare me witnesses,

And

of Henry the first.

And testimonies, and auouchments,
That this is the gloue.

Soul. And it please your maiesty,
That was my gloue.

He that I gaue it to in the night,
Promised me to weare it in his hat :
I promised to strike him if he did.

I met that Gentleman with my gloue in's hat,
And I thinke I haue bene as good as my worde.

Flew. Your Maiesty heares,
Vnder your Maiestyes man-hoode,
What a beggerly lowsie knaue it is.

King. Let me see thy gloue.
Looke you, this is the fellow of it.
It was I indeede you promised to strike.
And thou hast giuen me most bitter words,
How canst thou make vs amends ?

Flew. Let his necke answer it,
If there be any marshals law in the worell.

Soul. My Liege,
All-offences come from the heart :
Neuer came any from mine
To offend your Maiesty.
You appeard to me but as a common man :
Witnesse the night, your garments,
Your lowlinesse ; and whatsoeuer
You receiued vnder that habite,
I beseech your maiesty, impute it
To your owne fault, and not to mine.
For your seife came not like your selfe :
Had you beene as you seemed then to mee,
I had made no offence, my gracious Lord,
Therefore I beseech your grace to pardon me.

Kin. Vnckle, fill the gloue with Crownes,
And giue it to the souldier.
Weare it fellow,

The Chronicle History

As an honour in thy cap, till I do challenge it.
Giue him the Crownes. Come Captaine Flewellen,
I must needs haue you friends.

Flew. By Iesus, the fellowe hath mettall enough in his belly.

Harke you souldier, There is a filling for you,
And keepe your selfe out of brawles,
And prabbles, and dissentions,
And looke you, it shall be the better for you.

Soul. Ile none of your money sir, not I.

Flew. Why tis a good filling man:
Why should you be queamish?
Your shooes are not so good.
It will serue you to mend your shooes.

Kin. What men of sort are taken vnckle?

Exc. Charles Duke of Orleance, Nephew to the King,
John Duke of Burbon, and Lord Bouchquall.

Of other Lords and Barons, Knights and Squires,
Full fifteene hundred, besides common men.

This note doth tell me of ten thousand
French, that in the fielde lyes slaine.

Of Nobles bearing banners in the fielde,
Charles de le Brute, high Constable of France,

Iaques of Chatillian, Admirall of France,

The master of the Crosse-bowes, John Duke Alonson, Lord Rambieres, high Master of France.

The braue sir Gwigzard, Dolphin. Of Nobelle Charillas,

Gran Prie and Rosse, Fawconbridge and Foy,

Gerard and Verton, Vandemant and Lestra.

King. Heeres was a royall fellowship of death,
Where is the number of our English dead?

Exc. Edward the Duke of Yorke, the Earle of Suffolke,
Sir Richard Ketly, Dany Gam Esquire,
Aud of all the other, but fise and twenty.

King. O God, thy arme was heere,
And vnto thee alone, ascribe we praise:

When

of Henry the fift.

When without stratageme,
And euen in shooke of battell, was euer heard
So great and little losse, on one part and another?
Take it O God, for it is onely thine.

Exe. Tis wonderfull.

Kin. Come, let vs go on procession through the campe:
Let it be death proclaim'd to any man
To boast heereof, or take the praise from God,
Which is his due.

Flew. Is it lawfull, and it please your Maiesty,
To tell how many is kild?

Kin. Yes Flewellen,
But with this acknowledgement,
That God fought for vs.

Flew. Yes in my conscience, he did vs great good.

Kin. Let there be sung Nououes and Te Deum,
The dead with charity enter'd in clay:
Weel then to Calice, and to England then,
Where nere from France, arriu'd more happier men.

Enter Gower and Flewellen.

Gower. But why do you weare your Leeke to day?
Saint Dauies is past?

Flew. There is occasion Captaine Gower,
Looke you why, and wherefore:
The other day looke you, Pistolles
Which you know is a man of no merites
In the worell, is come where I was the other day,
And brings bread and salt, and biddes mee
Eate my Leeke: twas in a place, looke you,
Where I could mooue no dissentions,
But if I can see him, I shall tell him
A little of my desires.

Gow. Heere he comes swelling like a Turkey-cocke.

Pist. Ha, art thou Bedlem?

Dost thou thurst base Troyan,
To haue me folde vp Parcas fatall web?
Hence, I am qualmish at the smell of Leeke.

Flew. Ancient Pistoll,

I would desire you because it doth not agree
With your stomackes, and your appetites,
And your digestions, to eat this Leeke.

Pist. Not for Cadwallader and all his Goats.

Flew. There is one Goate for you, ancient Pistol.

He strikes him.

Pist. Base Troyan, thou shalt dye.]

Flewellen. I, I know I shall dye :

But in the meane time, I would desire you
To liue and eat this Leeke.

Gower. Enough Captaine,

You haue astonisht him, it is enough.

Flewel. Astonisht him,

By Iesu, Ile beate his head foure dayes
And foure nights too, but Ile make him
Eat some part of my Leeke.

Pist. Well must I bite?

Flew. I out of question, or doubt, or ambiguities,
You must bite.

He makes Ancient Pistoll bite of the Leeke.

Pistol. Good, good.

Flewel.

of Henry the fift.

Flewellen. I Leekes are good, ancient Pistoll.
Looke you now, there is a filling for you
To heale your bloody coxcombe.

Pist. Me a shilling.

Flew. If you will not take it,
I haue another Leeke for you.

Pist. I take thy shilling in earnest of reckoning.

Flew. If I owe you any thing,
I will pay you in Cudgelles:
You shall be a Wood-monger,
And buy Cudgels. And so God be with you
Ancient Pistoll, God plesse you,
And heale your broken pate.

Ancient Pistoll, if you see Leekes another time,
Mocke at them, that is all: God bwy you.

Exit Flewellen,

Pist. All hell shall stirre for this.

Doth Fortune play the huswife with me now?
Is honour cudgeld from my warlike loynes?
Well France farewell, newes haue I certainly
That Doll is sicke. One malady of France
The warres affoordeth nought, home will I trug,
Baud will I turne, and vse the slight of hand:
To England will I steale,
And there Ile steale:
And patches will I get vnto these scarres,
And swear I gat them in the Gallia warres. |

The Chronicle History

Harry. Peace to this meeting,
Wherefore we are met,
And to our brother France, faire time of day.
Faire health vnto our louely cousin Katherine,
And as a branch, and member of this stocke,
We do salute you, Duke of Burgundy.

Fran. Brother of England,
Right ioyous are we to behold your face,
So are we Princes English euery one.

Duke. With pardon vnto your mightinesse :
Let it not displease you, if I demaund
What rub or barre hath thus farre hindred you
To keepe you from the gentle speech of peace ?

Har. If Duke of Burgundy you would haue peace,
You must buy that peace,
According as we haue drawne our Articles.

Fran. We haue but with a cursorary eye
Ore-view'd them ; pleaseth your Grace,
To let some of your Counsell sit with vs,
We shall returne our peremptory answer.

Har. Go Lords, and sit with them,
And bring vs answer backe.
yet leaue our cousen Katherine heere behind.

Fran. Withall our hearts.

Exit French King and the Lords.

Manet, King Henry, Katherine, and the Gentlewoman.

Har. Now Kate,
You haue a blunt wooer heere left with you.
If I could winne thee at Leape-frog,
Or with vaulting with my armour on my backe
Into my saddle,
Without bragge be it spoken,
Ide make compare with any.

But

of Henry the first.

But leauing that Kate,
If thou takest me now,
Thou shalt haue me at the worst,
And in wearing thou shalt haue me better and better,
Thou shalt haue a face that is not worth sun-burning,
But doest thou thinke, that thou and I,¹
Betweene Saint Denis and Saint George,
Shall get a boy, that shall go to Constantinople,
And take the great Turke by the beard?
Ha, Kate.

Kate. Is it possible dat me fall
Loue de enemy de France.

Harry. No Kate,
It is vnpossible you should loue the enemy of France:
For Kate I loue France so well,
That Ile not leaue a village,
Ile haue it all mine. Then Kate,¹
When France is mine,
And I am yours:
Then France is yours,
And you are mine.

Kate. I cannot tell what is dat.

Harry. No Kate,
Why Ile tell you in French,
Which will hang vpon my tongue, like a bride
On her new married husband.
Let me see, Saint Dennis be my speede.
Quan France & mon.

Kate. Dat is, when France is yours.

Harry. Et vous ettes amoy.

Kate. And I am to you.

Harry. Douck France ettes a vous.

Kate. Den France fall be mine.

Harry. Et ic suyues a vous.

Kate. And you will be to me.

Har. Wilt belecue me Kate? Tis easier for me

The Chronicle History

To conquer the kingdome,
Then to speake so much more French.

Kate. A your Maiesty
Has false France enough, to deceiue
De best Lady in France.

Harry. No faith Kate not I.
But Kate prethee tell me in plaine tearmes,
Dost thou loue me?

Kate. I cannot tell.

Harry. No: Can of any your Neighbours tel,
He aske them.

Come Kate, I know you loue me.
And soone when you are in your Cloffet,
Youle question this Lady of me:
But I pray thee sweet Kate, vse me mercifully,
Because I loue thee cruelly.
That I shall dye Kate, is sure:
But for thy loue by the Lord neuer.
What wench.

A straight backe will grow crooked,
A round eye will grow hollow,
A great legge will waxe small,
A curld pate prooue bald:
But a good heart Kate is the Sun and the Moon,
And rather the Sun and not the Moone:
And therefore Kate take me,
Take a souldier, take a souldier,
Take a king:
Therefore tell me Kate, wilt thou haue mee?

Kate. Dat is as please de king my Father.

Harry. Nay it will please him,
Nay it shall please him Kate,
And vpon that condition Kate ile kisse thee.

Harry. What sayes the Lady?

Lady. Dat it is not de fasion in France
For de maides, befor da be married to
May foy ic oblye, what is to bassie?

Har. To kisse, to kisse.

O that tis not the fashion in France
For the maids to kisse before they are married.

Lady. Owee see votree grace.

Har. Well, weel breake that custome.

Therefore Kate patience perforce and yeelde.
Before God Kate you haue witchcraft
In your kisses:
And may perfwade with me more
Then all the French Councill.
Your father is returned.

Enter the Kings of France, and the Lords.

How now my Lords?

Fran. Brother of England,
We haue ordered the Articles,
And haue agreed to all that we in sedule had.

Exe. Onely he hath not subscribed this,
Where your Maiesty demands,
That the King of France hauing any occasion
To write for matter of grant,
Shall name your Highnesse in this forme:
And with this addition in French,
Nostre tresher filz, Henry Roy d' Angleterre,
E hezre de France. And thus in Latine:
Preclarissimus filius noster Henricus Rex Anglia,
Et heres Francie.

Fran. Nor this haue we so nicely stood vpon,
But you faire brother may intreat the same.

The Chronicle History

Harry. Why then let this among the rest
Haue his full course : And withall,
Your daughter Katherine in marriage.

Fran. This and what else your Maiesty shall craue :
God that disposeth all, giue you much ioy.

Har. Why then faire Katherine,
Come giue me thy hand :
Our matriage will we present solemnize,
And end our hatred by a bond of loue.
Then will I swear to Kate, and Kate to me,
And may our vowes once made, vnbroken be.
