TORY MOTIVE POWER IS RUM

NIGHTMARE OF BRIBERY IN COLCHESTER ELECTION

Consternation in Conservative Ranks Over Nova Scotia Exposures.

(Special to the Times).
Halifax, Aug. 22.—The revelations in the Bayne trial at Truro this week are calculated to make all honest men reflect. Every man in the province who has taken any interest in the somewhat notable election in the country in November last, when John Stanfield was acclaimed as the saviour of his country, and by the Conservative press as the man who broke the solid thirteen, must hark back a little to those strenuous days and some of the incidents connected with them. Bayne's trial is of course, not yet finished. It is only beginning, but its further progress can develop nothing that will show Bayne and his master up in any more favorable light than that in which they now appear.

Any further evidence must either be cumulative of the facts already proven or it will, if justice is allowed to take its course and is not impeded by Ritchie's incessant but carefully timed "interruptions" bring closer home to Conservative members for Colchester and his satellites the stigma under which his most active worker in election now—namely, that of being a wholesale dispenser of rum and money among the electors of the country.

On the first day of the inquiry two witnesses who were examined, swore that they had received from Bayne the universal provider and active friend and protector of John Stanfield in the district of Five Islands, $100 in money and 26 bottles of rum. This was an average per man of $14.66 in money and sixteen bottles of rum.

In the whole county, Stanfield received 2,538 votes. If the average was maintained Stanfield's election required 1,172 gallons of rum. Cutting the bottles all as pints, although some favored individuals undoubtedly got a greater portion, and about $12,100 in money. This was the method of calculation adopted by Chief Justice Weatherill in the Shelburne and Queen's election petition two years ago. All the evidence has been brought out with the greatest difficulty.

Bayne and his friends were brought enough to corral witnesses for the prosecution on the eve of the trial, to conduct them to Bayne's "throne room" in the Stanley hotel, and treat them lavishly with liquor, and then turn them over to Mr. Ritchie, K. C., who had a talk with them. But in spite of this the result of the revelations may be summarized as follows:

John C. Jamieson, mail driver, got $5; Joseph Jamieson, brother of John, got $5 and advice to see Ritchie to talk matters over; George Corbett, hotel keeper at Five Islands, got two barrels of liquor from Halifax, addressed to Bayne, and took them to his hotel in Five Islands and was advised to see Ritchie, etc.

Noble Morrison saw a crowd of faithfuls with Bayne at Corbett's hotel, had some whiskey and was advised to see Ritchie, etc.

Howard Ackles had drinks on election night and was advised to see Ritchie, etc.

George McClelland got five flasks from Bayne.

Walter Atkinson found a two gallon jug in the barn and was advised to talk, etc.

Allan Durney got five bottles from Bayne and was advised to talk, etc.

Owen Lewis found a basket of whiskey at his front door. Ritchie was anxious to see him.

Howard Wells got drinks from a jug in the barn and talked it over with Ritchie.

Thomas Morrison got six flasks and two bottles from Bayne.

Let it be noted that most of these witnesses held sittings with Ritchie after being subpoenaed, and before appearing in court. Constables are now provided with subpoenas for many other witnesses, but it is feared that there will be a sudden and extensive exodus from Colchester.

Witness after witness testified to the distribution with lavish hand of rum and money by Bayne.

Ritchie, K. C., counsel for the defence, in the late legal partner of R. L. Borden, and president of the Conservative Club of Halifax. He admitted that Bayne undoubtedly supplied a quantity of liquor, but said there was nothing to show it came from Stanfield.

The exposures made in the two days trial have created consternation in the Conservative ranks all over the province. The Conservatives have been making the whole campaign as the "party of purity."

HIDING IN CELLAR.

Alleged Embezzler of $20,000 Fights With Police Before He is Captured.

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—John Guasghini, who is wanted on the charge of embezzling $20,000 from the Merchants and Traders bank of Buffalo, was arrested here last night after a fight with the police in a cellar where, half starved, he had been hiding for three days. Covered with dirt, emaciated and weak, from his day's enforced fast, he was taken to the city hall. A short time after he was placed in the cell he begged so hard to be given food that he was taken out handcuffed by a detective and fed at a nearby restaurant.

SAYS EUROPE HAS VACATED PACIFIC MASTERY HAS PASSED AWAY FROM BRITAIN

London Telegraph Makes Por- tentous Comment on Ar- mada's Tour.

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 22.—The city again to-day was en fête in honor of the visit of the United States Atlantic fleet. The entertainments of the morning and afternoon were designed principally for the enlisted men, many of whom were given shore leave. Five hundred of the men embarked early this morning as guests of the government in special trains for Newcastle and the Blue Mountains, returning to Sydney this evening.

Many of the men preferred to witness the field sports and baseball, the aquatic sports and an exhibition in the Domain by the firemen of the city. For the latter event twenty thousand spectators gathered, and the American jockey applauded for fine display made by the fire fighters. While there were no official functions scheduled for the day, numerous officers visited the city and were guests at various luncheons and other social gatherings.

London, Aug. 22.—The Daily Telegraph in an editorial this morning, dilating on the vast changes in the politics of the Pacific portended by the almost inconceivably magnificent reception Australia has accorded not to a British but an American fleet, says:

"It means, and is welcomed by the Australians as meaning that the United States are determined to secure their position in the Pacific, and the demonstration they are giving of the means they intend to employ to keep their position is extraordinarily complete. What the people at home have scarcely conceived is that Europe practically has vacated the Pacific. Not a single battleship belonging to any European power is to be found in any corner of that great ocean, while America has three great squadrons there. The mastery of the Pacific was Britain's twenty years ago. The rise of Japan on the one hand and the naval renaissance of the United States on the other has profoundly changed conditions and revolutionized Australia's attitude toward problems for national defense."

The Daily Telegraph finds that Australia's ambition to have its own navy is not natural, but it thinks the American demonstration will show her how many millions the realization of such a dream will require, and convince her that her naval interests can be conserved by contributions to the British navy.

In conclusion the Daily Telegraph thinks that the principle of a white Australia washed by a white Pacific, held passionately by the Australians, conceals serious dangers, but it does not doubt that the theory question of Asiatic immigration will be settled on perfectly honorable terms.

ASCENSION IN STIFF WIND.

Berlin, Aug. 22.—The Parseval steer- able balloon made an ascension to-day for 25 miles an hour. The machine for a while was driven slowly against the wind but the motor became overheated and showed a slight defect. This made necessary a descent at the suburb of Wittanar in an open lot which was safely accomplished.

All further contributions will be added to the endowment of the institute.

Unlike the bunch that came earlier, the arrivals yesterday seemed very gentle and were of the kind required to do the work in this country. They left the trains in great spirits and were extremely light-hearted, nearly all singing popular songs as they went through the big gates to the ticket office. They were sent out to different parts of the country where help is required.

PALACE VIEW OF REVOLUTION

CONSTITUTION, RATHER THAN RISK CIVIL WAR

Izzet Pasha is Political Refugee —Tells Why Sultan Gave In.

London, Aug. 22.—The Daily Mail says it has discovered Izzet Pasha, former secretary of the Sultan of Turkey, and father of Megmed Abi Bey, ex-Turkish Minister at Washington, as a refugee in London. In the beginning of the recent reform movement Izzet Pasha fled from Constantinople and took refuge aboard the steamer Maria, which, despite the protest of the Young Turks party to the British Ambassador, sailed for the Mediterranean with the Sultan's former secretary as a passenger.

In an interview printed in the Daily Mail, Izzet Pasha gives the Palace view of the revolution in Turkey. He claims that the commission sent to Salonica to investigate the revolution was composed of unselectable men but the situation was such that great delay was dangerous and therefore the Council of Ministers advised the Sultan to grant a constitution in preference to risking civil war by sending troops to suppress the alleged mutiny. The Sultan willingly agreed as he always had, as likewise had Izzet Pasha, in favor of a parliamentary government.

Izzet Pasha added that he long wished to retire but had waited for the completion of his favorite project, the Mecca Railway. The immediate reason for his departure from Constantinople, according to the interview, was that the Sultan himself counselled him to go to Europe. He shipped aboard a British vessel, he said, in order to insure protection against the "Young Turks," arriving at Genoa, Izzet sent his family to a place of safety and himself proceeded to Paris and thence to London. He intends to make England his home.

HALF WHEAT CROP HAS BEEN CUT

SHIPMENTS SHOW GOOD MILLING QUALITY

Thrashing in Progress in Northern Saskatchewan— Frost in Some Parts.

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—Crop reports continue to come in of a favorable character. In a number of the most important districts wheat cutting is practically finished and thrashing started. In fact, shipments have already come forward, and show a splendid milling quality.

Market manipulators in the south, who previously tried to kill the crop on their side of the line, having failed there, have evidently turned their attention to the Canadian Northwest, and are now circulating sensational reports about the possibility of damage by frost. As 50 per cent. of the wheat is now cut and in stock, and at least 30 per cent. is standing ripe and ready for the binder the damage is not likely to be very large.

The selected and experienced men sent out by the Manitoba Free Press as special crop correspondents continue to send in reports that would indicate an even larger yield than any figures shown by the dealers or crop experts.

How far advanced some of the northern crops are may be understood when it was announced that thrashing had started at Radison and Langlin, in northern Saskatchewan.

Some remarkable changes in temperature have been experienced. At 5 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, the thermometer stood around 90, but a cold dip about midnight took the mercury down very near freezing point early yesterday morning, the coldest records coming from northern Alberta, where two degrees of frost were registered at Red Deer. The temperature was 33 at Edmonton, 24 at Battleford and 35 at Saskatoon. Yesterday the weather was decidedly cool, with cold showers, and prospects of frosts should the wind drop. The remarkable northern lights displayed of the past few nights appears accompanied by climatic disturbances, which, if continued, will be difficult to estimate, the effect on wheat in the districts affected before thrashing returns come in.

Although the cash wheat market nominally rules around $1.12, almost any price would be paid for actual wheat were it obtainable in the market. The country appears entirely depleted, and most of the dealers do not find response in even a trickling movement from the country. Local dealers say that cash prices are likely to rule high until well on into the movement of spring wheat. They say Minneapolis millers are ready to take all the wheat they can lay hands on, and are looking to Winnipeg to restore their depleted stocks.

Seven Degree of Frost.

Comic Opera Monday. The Oregonian of Portland, Oregon, of which John J. Harrison is the critic, paid the San Francisco Opera Company the following compliment for their production of "The Toy Maker," the dainty dancing, delightful comic opera which will be the offering at the Victoria theatre for 8 nights commencing Monday: "Congratulations, honest and sincere, are due Manager Healy and his merry band of singers, constituting the San Francisco Opera Company. These congratulations also go to Musical Director Buechner and his orchestra."

Monday. Every lady will have a chance to secure a beautiful piece of headgear at no cost. Boys, tell the girls, it might save a little coin. Miss Jessie McKilligan's Concert. On Friday, September 11th next, Miss Jessie McKilligan's first concert will be given under the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Dunsmuir and Hon. Richard McBride and Mrs. McBride.

Miss McKilligan, who is a young Victoria, has been gifted by nature with a voice of great power and range, and in addition to this she possesses a fine sensitive musical temperament, which is characteristically expressed in her rendition of lyric and dramatic music. This will be her first appearance on the concert stage in her own home city. She has appeared before some of the best musical clubs and critics in Seattle, where she has been studying for some time, and from whom she has received publicly the highest praise. Judging from the excellent programme which has been prepared, music lovers will have an excellent opportunity of hearing her at an early hour. Her repertoire includes a soprano voice, as the several numbers in which she is to appear are well selected, and a great musical treat is in store for all. A full house is anticipated.

Herr Karl Schwerdtfeger, a famous baritone, is also to contribute several numbers. A brief sketch of his career will be interesting to Victorians. He was born in Chaux-de-Fonds, Switzerland, one of Europe's most inspiring countries, where his youthful talent was partly developed, and at an early age he was sent to the conservatory of Stuttgart, Germany, where he pursued his studies with the well known vocalist and opera singer, Ernst Schumann. His student days at Stuttgart were spent at the cathedral, and at the expiration of five years he left for Paris, where he was engaged by his brother to fulfil the position of baritone at the "Opera Comique." After a brilliant career of three years in Paris he sailed for New York city, to assist the famous Russian basso, Kaminsky, in his pedagogic work, and soon thereafter was engaged for the Emma Juch Opera Company, accompanying them in their tours throughout America.

After winning laurels and gaining a fast spreading reputation he was induced to accept the baritone role with the celebrated opera singers, Campanari, Bessant and Ruben, with the Melba-Grau Opera Company. Thereafter his last extended operatic tour was with the Karl Martin Opera Company. He then settled down to pedagogic work in San Francisco, where he was extremely successful, occasionally appearing in concerts with such famous men as Fritz Scheel, the great orchestral conductor, Chevallier Du Kouski, Henri Marton, the successor of Joachim, and Anton Schott, the celebrated Wagnerian singer. He left San Francisco in 1902 for Seattle, where his home is now. He occasionally assists in operatic concerts, the last occasion being when the Chicago Symphony orchestra were in Seattle, when he was urged to sing the baritone role as "Valentine" in Faust, for which he secured enormous applause.

Herr Moritz Rosen, the celebrated Polish violinist, late concert master of the Royal orchestra at Warsaw and of the Stern conservatory in Berlin, as well as a virtuoso in the violin, is a brilliant German pianist, with a reputation for himself. His work is thoroughly artistic and competent company as the Jeffersons.

The New Grand. The eminent Irish player "A. H. O'Blairney" with its beautiful autumn scene, rushing waterfall and falling leaves, together with the spectacular electrical effects, will be seen for the last time at the two performances tonight. Other good acts making their farewell appearance are Dora Ronca, the Gypsy violinist; "La Auto Girl"; Alf James and Kate Prior in "Capt Barnacle's Courtship"; Brotherhood Barlow & Co. in "The Lightning Duelist," and a good set of moving pictures.

The splendid scenic and electric display of the present week will be followed by another even more pretentious as the big feature of a fine programme arranged for next week. It will be presented by George A. Street, assisted by H. P. Kelly, Geo. K. Ewing and Mrs. Street, and portrays, each with elaborate scenic investiture, historic events in the careers of the world's greatest military commanders. Mr. Street takes the title character in each scene, which include Napoleon's march to Moscow, the Burning of Moscow, the Bombardment and Capture of Port Arthur; General Castelfino in Cuba; Antonio Gomez at the Battle of Rio Diablo; General Cronje's Surrender to Lord Roberts; and Lord Cornwallis's Surrender to General Washington. The different scenes are said to be startlingly realistic, and are promised to surpass anything of the kind ever seen on the local stage. Other good acts will be Edward Armstrong and Ethel Davis in "The Amateur Chauffeur"; Tom Moore, singing "The Clansman"; the Richard K. Fox medal for song shouting; Arthur Dow and Minnie May Thompson, "Wise and Otherwise"; Stevenson and Nugent, eccentric comedians, singers and dancers; new moving pictures entitled "Bachelor's Baby" and "Determined Lovers," and a medley of Irish melodies as an overture by the orchestra.

Rehearsing "The Clansman"
The members of "The Clansman" company, with but few exceptions the same as appeared in the original New York run at the Liberty theatre, assembled in the Empire city on August 17th, in anticipation of the famous Dixon drama's fourth annual and first transcontinental tour, which opens on Labor Day at Duluth, Minn. Manager George H. Brennan has endeavored to keep the same players that made hits in the principal characters when the play was first produced. In fact from season to season and it is remarkable how closely the present cast represents the original. The same may be said of the production which has been maintained with all its massive effects and high standard, including the troop of cavalry horses used by the mysterious Kiu Kiu Klan in the stage representation of its chivalrous operations in the southland during the exciting reconstruction period.

Each year the rehearsals for "The Clansman" company are as carefully conducted as they were for the original Metropolitan production. The drilling began on August 17th, this season, and will continue uninterrupted for three weeks; but the latter part at least will be pleasure instead of drudgery, for the actors will rehearse their parts on the yacht Dixie while journeying via the Great Lakes from Buffalo to Duluth.

The cavalry horses to be taken on tour this season are the same that were brought from the United States reservation at Reno, Texas, for the original production and have become so finely stage-broke that they respond to their cues with almost as much intelligence as the players.
Farewell to O'Mara.
Farewell concerts will be given under the auspices of the Irish members of parliament at Covent Garden for Joseph O'Mara, the Irish tenor and dramatic singer, before he leaves London, at which Madame Melba and Plunkett Green will sing. Similar concerts will be given in Limerick, where he was born and where he made his first appearance as a boy, and in Cork, Dublin and Armagh. Mr. O'Mara will tour America in "Peggy Macree." He will make his first appearance in Boston, early in the fall.

"The Round-up Rehearsed."
Rehearsals of "The Round-up," the big Klaw & Erlanger play of the plains, which opens August 31st at the Academy of Music, New York, are being held in the New Amsterdam theatre. Macklyn Arbuckle, who returns to the role of the G. A. sheriff, had to leave his farm on the St. Lawrence river before he finished his new barn. This summer he has acquired a new wood lot and now feels that he is entitled to be enrolled in the "farmer vote." Minnette Barrett is cast for Polly this season. Julia Dean, who played the part last year, is laid up in her summer home with a broken leg.

Lillian Russell Preparing.
Lillian Russell is back in New York from London and Paris for the rehearsals of "Wildfire," the racing comedy which Klaw & Erlanger will open their season at the Liberty theatre, New York City. Miss Russell says she went to Paris because Governor Hughes would not let her bet on the New York tracks. She intended to buy gowns abroad, but after looking over the models of the Parisian dressmakers she declared that American modistes now make better and prettier clothes than are made abroad. Miss Russell says she has worn abroad are not as large as those in vogue in New York. She says she is not to be seen in Paris or London, but tight skirts are coming into style. "Wildfire" opens at Asbury Park September 4th for a preliminary center. Frank Sheridan has been engaged for the roll of Donovan, the trainer.

COMPLIMENTS TO CAPTAIN SENKLER.

If it had been possible for Captain Senkler of the Vancouver cricket team to win the silver trophy emblematic of the championship of the Pacific Coast without defeating the Victoria cricketers, no one here would have begrudged him his victory. "Harry" is a strenuous sport, reared in the old Toronto Varsity school, where in days gone by he and many of his brothers were prominent. In those days (it does not seem so very long ago, although the obvious fact that the captain has added "weight for age" to a frame which was once that of a trained athlete proves that it is not the case) before last that his prowess was noted abroad throughout the land. "H. J." was noted for his determination to carry his side to victory. The same spirit is still burning in his expansive chest, but it is sadly handicapped by "too, too solid flesh." It was interesting to observe the ups and downs of this spirit yesterday. Alternately excited, depressed and exalted again as the fortunes of the day waxed and waned, it was finally completely extinguished by the bitter sting in Victoria's tail. We believe we can safely say that the captain of the Vancouver cricket team would have deemed it a higher honor to win that piece of plate of comparatively little intrinsic value to being elected representative of Vancouver in the Dominion Parliament. Yet he accepted defeat with grace and dignity. He may have felt in his heart that but for the handicap of time and the incumbrances which time unkindly lays upon all, the result might have been different; but if he did feel that way, to an unusual extent for "Harry" he smothered his feelings in the place where there is plenty of room for such an operation.

CRICKET'S TEACHINGS.

What admirable lessons in self-repression, self-control and self-government may be learned in the good old game of cricket. Take the conduct of almost every player upon the Victoria and Vancouver teams which contended mightily for the mastery yesterday and consider it for a moment. The Times being above all things a Victoria institution was principally interested in the demeanor and tactics of the Victoria players. As the principal factor in preparing the way for the ultimate triumph of his side we shall consider the case of Mr. Hedden Gillespie first. Every one who has observed the conduct and temperament of this young man of athletic frame and keen eye at the wickets knows that his natural inclination is to fling all balls which appear to be at all loose to the boundary or beyond. He did not indulge in this natural disposition yesterday. He repressed himself. He was playing for the side, not primarily for exercise or his own amusement. He did more than make the highest score for his team; he worried and subdued the attack on the other side and made the task of those who followed him so much less difficult. He gave the spectators a splendid example of self-repression, of absolute control of the natural man. Mr. Alexis Martin, who is admittedly all but perfect in the technique and practice of the batsman, and when "set" guards his wickets and obtains runs as a really sound cricketer should, has been unfortunate this season. His unlucky star was again in the ascendant yesterday. But he took his defeat philosophically. So did the others whose fortunes proved almost equally ill. When most of the batsmen upon whom the Victoria team placed its chief reliance had been retired and victory for Captain Senkler's team seemed all but assured, what an example of courage, coolness and determination was given by W. York and Coppinger. They turned a threatened reverse into glorious victory.

The game of cricket is in itself an education. It inculcates virtues which, we fear, are held in too light regard by the great majority of the people of this continent. Its teachings are largely responsible for the exalted spirit, we might say the high ethical ideals, which vitalize the life and elevate the conduct of the British people. May it continue to flourish in Victoria. It is a great pity that more of our young men have not been attracted by its health-giving qualities and moral influences.

MORE ABOUT THE KING.

It is a hopeful sign that the American people are learning through the American press the truth about the British people. Others than Mr. Richard Croker are assisting in the task of imparting this liberal education, which probably accounts for the great change in the temperamental attitude of the average citizen of the United States towards his neighbor across the water. It is becoming easier for the New Yorker to realize why people of means find life more agreeable in the old land than in the new and why no wrench is caused in a republican conscience by the ceremony of "forswearing citizenship." An American woman, a very prominent American woman, writing in the New York World, says:

"English society? One must live there to understand it. I doubt if there exists anywhere in the world such a complete society as we have in London. His Majesty the King is its head, together with the Queen. It would be hard to explain to Americans how immensely popular both the King and Queen are with everybody. They have such infinite tact, such savoir faire, such kindness and such graciousness that the workman cheers for them even as much as the nobility. It will be a long time before England will have a King who is as popular as Edward. 'I doubt if there is anything in the world as interesting or as complete as English society. The lines are not at all clearly defined. Anybody is welcome who should be welcome. Money is not all in London. One must be interesting, be clever, be likeable. The lines are not drawn so hard and fast as they seem to be in New York. A musician, a writer, an artist, an actor, a traveller is just as welcome as an earl or a baron.

"English country life, as far as I can judge, is the perfection of existence. English people take life more calmly than Americans. I doubt if there is anything so pleasant in the world as to be a welcome guest at an English country home.

"Never let any one say that the English are not hospitable. To be sure, one must have letters to them and be properly introduced. But once an Englishman or an Englishwoman invites you to the home, you may rest assured that everything will be done to enhance your comfort and your happiness.

"It can't be helped. It's the example set by His Majesty. He is so full of tact, so gracious, so able to say and do the right thing in the right place, that I call him the peacemaker of the world. He is so anxious to be friendly to Americans, too; he feels that our country is one of the greatest powers in the world, and anything that King Edward can do to cement the Anglo-American friendship you may be sure will be done."

AN EASTERN REVOLUTION.

The cause of all the political turmoil in Turkey has been discovered. The Young Turks are not alone to blame. As it was in the beginning, woman is at the bottom of it all. She is responsible for the demand made upon the Sultan for a constitution. She is not actually a new woman, but an old woman in a new form. The veil of the harem has been drawn aside because the inmate—in one instance at least—has demanded her rights. She is determined to be treated even as the woman of the West is treated, to be crowned with freedom and independence. During the recent agitation, we are told on no less authority than the Associated Press, the unheard-of spectacle was to be seen at Salonica of a woman of rank, the wife of a Young Turk, parading unveiled through the streets with a banner, to the unqualified delight of her husband's partisans. This probably was the chief wife of the wily Eastern politician. To those not familiar with the subtleties of mind of the Mussulman reformer the thought might occur that the agitation might have been rendered more effective by a parade "with banners" of the whole harem. Probably the incident narrated was merely an experiment—a test of the temper of the multitude. It appears to have been a satisfactory test, inasmuch as a constitution was granted at once, or rather an old constitution, probably kept in reserve by the Sultan for emergencies, was brought forth from its retirement and immediately declared in force. But it is beyond the scope of a mere Westerner to inquire too deeply into the hidden mysteries of Mohammedan statecraft. We must be content for the present to chronicle facts. It will be conceded that the facts on their face are impressive. Now that Eastern feminine comeliness stands revealed and unshamed before men, the next thing to anticipate is a real Suffragette movement within the very precincts of Constantinople, the headquarters and capital of the Caliph. Nor is the new movement confined to the ancient city by the Golden Horn. "At Monastir many women, bent on political errands, travelled about alone." Further interesting developments to speculate upon. As some one truly says, "if this is to be the result of a constitutional movement, what is to become of the Prophet's strict command against women showing their faces in public? Gone will be the poet's dream of the dark-eyed beauties of Circassia leading lives of indolence behind the screens of the mysterious harem. If the daughters of the Near East, like the daughters of Nippon, are to adopt the fashions of Paris, so in for political economy, suffragism, socialism and small families like British fashionables (of course the daughters of America's Smart Set discharge the duties ordained by Nature faithfully and prayerfully), and start women's clubs, platform campaigns and summer college courses like their American sisters, a whole world of tradition and romance will soon disappear. Is there no place upon earth safe from the poisonous microbes of change which tends to make all peoples of all races similar in appearance and ideas? We are not sure. But we know a country which is making a very determined effort to keep the sons and daughters of Ham in their places. But the effort is proving costly, and in the matter we are merely at the beginning of things.

Toronto Globe. It is hard to believe that after thirty years of protection it costs a third more to make woollen goods in Canada than in Britain. The statement seems impossible, and resembles those emanating from the industries that can afford to close down for effect. Were this true it would mean that a people needing much woollen clothing during a large part of the year could not endure the burden of such wasteful means of production.

Hon. Wm. Templeman in his journeyings through British Columbia is upon the business of his country. He is not "playing the game" in the low sense that Premier McBride invariably plays it in his peregrinations. He is not conducting a political campaign against the provincial government at the expense of the people of Canada.

One enthusiastic Vancouver gentleman yesterday informed an equally enthusiastic Victorian just as the great championship cricket match commenced that the Vancouver team was absolutely without a fall. The event proved that there was a fall in the Victoria team, and that the fall carried a sting.

From what we have been able to learn about the great Conservative picnic being held to-day at Sidney, it is scarcely what can be truthfully described as a dignified function, worthy of one whom his followers have set up in their minds as a successor of Sir John A. Macdonald.

T. P. McConnell left for Vancouver this morning, having been summoned there suddenly to attend the bedside of his child, who is very sick.

Quite a number of local Conservatives are at Sydney to-day attending the basket picnic being held there. About 500 went out this forenoon and the afternoon trains were crowded. The steamer City of Nanaimo brought down about 500 from Ladysmith and Nanaimo, while the Iroquois carried in a number from the islands.

Trains and Stores "Arrive"

FOR MUCH THE SAME REASONS

For the fact that a train runs on "schedule time," departing and arriving regularly, credit is due to road-bed, equipment, management, engine and engineer. For the fact that a store or business enterprise runs on "schedule" and "arrives" with clock-like regularity, credit is due to organization, to system, to ADVERTISING AND TO ADVERTISERS.

When the engine and engineer take "a day off," when something "falls" on or the other of them, the train does "not run on schedule"—nor, perhaps, at all.

In the vernacular, engine and engineer must be "on the job" to make an express train A FACT, instead of a fiction.

And the advertising and the advertiser bear the same relation to a store that the engine and the engineer bear to the train!

BELIEVE THEY HAVE

GORGE HOLD-UP MAN

San Francisco Police Think Matt Jackson Took Part in Outrage.

The California police believe they have caught one of the men who shot Richard Dancy at the Gorge hold-up last winter, but so far the provincial authorities have not heard from them on the subject. The man whom the California police believe is one of the perpetrators of the outrage given the name of Matt Jackson. He was recently arrested for a similar robbery a few days ago. There are two rewards for the capture of the man, one of $1,000 offered by the provincial government and one of $250 offered by the B. C. Electric railway, by whom Dancy was employed.

Concerning Jackson's arrest a San Francisco dispatch says: "In the arrest of Matt Jackson, the police are convinced that not only have they the man implicated in the stirring robbery of last Saturday, but that they have a criminal prize much greater than was at first supposed. He is suspected of having had something to do with the recent robbery of the Tillamook stage. It is also suspected that he teamed with Erick recently at Victoria, B. C., where the Gorge hold-up was robbed."

Watson & McGregor, hardware merchants, have presented the parks board with an Appolo lawn sweeper, which is giving good satisfaction.

KOLA TONIC WINE

CONTAINS NO DRUGS OR ALCOHOL

It is made from Kola, Celery and Pepsin, three of the greatest medicinal properties nature has ever given for the benefit of the human race. Medical men for the past few years, all over the world have prescribed Kola Wine very freely for their patients.
Dr. J. G. Richardson, professor in the University of Pennsylvania, states: "It is the greatest tonic and nothing is better for the nervous system."
Dr. C. F. Couture, Tingwick, Que., states: "It is the best tonic I can prescribe for my patients. It can also be recommended for constipation, asthma, insomnia, liver complaint, by its use it purifies the blood and stabilizes the system to ward off fevers and bilious headaches. C. P. R. ANNOUNCE CHANGE.

Low Fare Tickets only good Two Days From Issuance; Starting Today.

The C.P.R. announced yesterday afternoon that, commencing to-day, single tickets on the Seattle steamers would be available only within two days of issuance instead of being good for a month as was formerly the case. The reason for this change is believed in some quarters to be a possible reversion to higher rates on the steamers before long. In case this occurred it would be impossible for anyone to anticipate the rise in rates and to lay in a stock of the present cheap tickets, which could be retained at a profit when the fares went up. The C.P.R. officials, however, state that the change is merely made in order to facilitate the work of the ticket offices, and to regulate traffic daily.

The residents of Calquitz have forwarded a petition to Ralph Smith, their representative in the House of Commons, asking for a daily mail, instead of a tri-weekly one as at present. The Ladies' Aid of Victoria West Methodist church held a very enjoyable picnic yesterday afternoon at the Gorge park. The Craigflower called for the party at Point Ellice bridge at 2 o'clock, taking them to the Gorge bridge. A pleasant time was spent in the park, and tea was served under the trees at 5.30. There were about 25 in the party, and all voted the picnic an immense success.

RAFFLES, OR THE MYSTERIOUS WHITE SWAN SOAP MAN

Had Close Call Last Evening at the Gorge—To-night He Will Be at Spencer's Store Between 8 and 9.

FIFTY DOLLARS IS STILL UNCLAIMED

The mysterious White Swan Soap man thought he was sure gone last night at the Gorge, every path and trail seemed alive with those who were hot after his capture. Last night when the mysterious soap man arrived he noticed Mrs. Denham, standing at the picture machine house, looking in the door. Standing there a short time she went back to the orchestra. Mrs. Denham had on a white golf jacket. Mr. Raffles also noticed Mr. Denham and Mr. Goward in the operating room of the picture machine. How the man of mystery ever got through the garden of sleuths is a wonder, especially the large number of boys who were present, trying their luck in order to win the $50 which the soap man is so anxious to give away. Mr. Raffles does not believe in working on Sunday so to-morrow he will take a well earned rest. On Monday he will be at 121 A. D. U. W. hall to criticize the work of the Burroughs Stock Co, whom he hears is attaining such success. Catch him inside the building and the money is yours. No money employees will be able to resist this contest and should Mr. Raffles find that he is betrayed in any shape or form, he will not pay the $50. Any person catching the mysterious man legitimately will be taken to the Times office where he will receive the money. Mr. Raffles also wishes to state that the Times is in no way connected with this matter, it is run entirely by the B. C. Soap Works. In order to bring White Swan Soap more prominently before the public.

RAFFLES IN A NATURAL POSE.

On Monday the reward for Raffles' capture will be increased from $50 to $100. To the person who identifies him, and carries out the conditions as below they will receive this handsome prize. Conditions of this Special Offer continuing from Monday till Wednesday.
In order to win this $100 all that is necessary to do is to have a coupon from the end of a 25c carton of White Swan Soap along with a coupon from the end of package of White Swan Washing Powder. As soon as you see him tap him on the shoulder and say, "You are Mr. Raffles, the Mysterious White Swan Soap man," at the same time he will receive the above requisites. Should you only have a soap coupon you will only be eligible to the $50, and remember that this sum will be only paid, too, in the event of him being captured at the time and place mentioned. B. C. Soap employees and Press not eligible.
A special prize of $25 will be given by Province Cigar Co. to the person catching Raffles if he have in his possession a Province cigar.

DISTINGUISHED NAVAL OFFICER PROMOTED

Rear Admiral Colin R. Keppel is Well Known to Victorians.

Captain Colin R. Keppel, Aide de Camp to the King, K.C.V.O., C.B., and D.S.O., whom Victorians may remember as the first and popular skipper of the cruiser Grafton when she carried the flag of Rear Admiral A. K. Bickford, the last flag officer of the Pacific Squadron, has just been promoted to the rank of rear admiral from the appointment of commodore of the Royal Yachts. Rear Admiral Keppel, who is a son of the late Admiral Sir Harry Keppel, the "Father of the Fleet" for many years, has had a most distinguished career since he joined the service, and made a name for himself under Lord Charles Bessborough up to the Nile in 1884-85, when he commanded Sir Charles Wills' party almost up to the walls of Khartoum, and again in Kitchener's avenging expedition to Khartoum in 1898.

The Garrison and the Portland eleven concluded a friendly match last night at the Gorge and the home team won with a score of 23 to 28. The soldiers slipped Gandy, of Seattle, into their team and he ran with 70, while another sub was Briggs, who made 27. In the Portland second innings they put up 126. Needham scored 29. Of the Portland team Lawrence made 40, not out, Warren 28, not out, and Grogan 48. Had the match been concluded they would have made a big score.

NEXT WEEK AT GORGE.

As the concert at the Gorge park draws to a close the attendance is increasing as was evidenced by the large numbers that were present every evening last week. This might be attributed to the mysterious Mr. Raffles but nevertheless the crowds remained until the last of the programme, long after Mr. Raffles was supposed to have left. The programme for the coming week is an attractive one and with a continuation of the fine weather there is every reason to expect that the attendance will be as large if not larger than last week. Among the films that will be shown will be one entitled "Caught." Whether this refers to Mr. Raffles or not is hard to say, but from the description that goes with the films it should prove interesting. In addition to this film, "The Intermittent Alarm Clock," "Jenny," "Mr. and Mrs. Jolly Good Fellows Go Tandem," and "Kate's Health." This should give a pleasing evening's entertainment and with the additional interest of catching Raffles there should be a good crowd present every evening. In addition to the animated pictures Mr. Bell, the popular Gorge Park soldier, will be heard in a new song entitled, "If I only had a Home Sweet Home." From people who have heard this tried, it is learned that it is a very pleasing selection and should assist in making the evening pleasant. The Gorge park orchestra will also do its share toward filling the park, its programme commencing at 8 o'clock, while the pictures will be thrown on the screen about an hour later. To-morrow afternoon the regular Sunday afternoon concert will be given by the Victoria City band.

FIFTH REGIMENT BAND IS UNION

MERELY CHOICE OF TWO ORGANIZATIONS

One is Canadian and Other American—That's What Bandmaster Says.

"It is simply a case of a choice between a Canadian and an American organization. Have we got to belong to an American organization to enable us to do business in Canada?" said A. Rumsby, leader of the Fifth Regiment band, this morning, referring to the action of the exhibition board in not giving that organization any share of the business at the annual fair. "Our band is just as much an organization as is the Victoria City band, or the Sixth Regiment band of Vancouver, or the Nanaimo Cornet band, the latter two of whom have refused to play at the exhibition if we do. The only difference is that those three bands belong to an American organization, while we belong to a Canadian one."
"Mr. Smart, the secretary of the exhibition, wrote me some time ago asking for the band's terms, which I forwarded to him, but did not receive any reply until I called on him after the list of bands engaged had been published in the papers. When I saw him, Mr. Smart said that the directors had decided that they could not employ the Fifth Regiment band owing to the stand taken by the Sixth Regiment and Nanaimo bands. Apparently they allowed themselves to be bulldozed in the matter."
"As far as our union is concerned, I might just point out that there is a branch of it in Vancouver and all the members of the Mount Pleasant band belong to it. There is also a branch in Winnipeg, to which the members of the crack Nineteenth regiment belong. We are all affiliated with the National Trades Congress of Canada and have just as much right to be considered union as those who are affiliated with the American Federation of Musicians, the headquarters of which, as might be judged from its name, are in the United States. The American Federation objects to the independent Canadian organization, and, through its local branches in Victoria, Vancouver and Nanaimo, is doing everything

THE RING FIGHT TO A DRAW

TEN TITLES WERE LOST IN OLYMPIAD

Half a Score Old Champions Unsuccessful in Defending Titles.

The New York Globe says: "This year's Olympiad at London marked the actual loss in competition of more titles as world's champion than any meet of the kind in athletic history, no less than the championships going down to fifteen in their respective specialties, Jimmy Lightbody, of Chicago University, had the misfortune to lose two Olympic brackets—the 1,500 metre run that he won at Athens in 1906, and the 3,200 metre steeplechase which he has held since St. Louis in 1904.

The 1,500 title passed to Mel Shepard, while the fence-clearing honors were taken from the gritty Chicagoan by Russell, of Britain, the world's record holder. Though Lightbody was in poor condition to run on account of a badly bruised kneecap, he went in and did his very best.

Con Leahy, of Ireland, was another Athens champion of 1906 who passed up his title to a better man this year. For the last few years Leahy has been absolutely invincible in the high jump, winning Olympic titles in 1906, 1912, 1920 and 1924.

Harry Hillman lost an Olympic title this year, too—the 400-metre hurdle championship that he won at St. Louis four years ago in such dashingly style. Though this year's race was the same distance as the St. Louis event, the hurdles were each three feet in length instead of two feet six inches, and this may account for Hillman's defeat.

PLAYING THE GAME

From the London Spectator.

The Olympic games have left some pleasant memories, but they have also left a few unpleasant ones, and the latter will be apt to last longer. The games were satisfactory to British athletes, who won more events than any other country, though the Americans, to their credit, won the highest proportion of points in events requiring endurance or peculiar skill in training.

NEW DANCES FOR THE WINTER

It is expected among the new dances which will be introduced into Victoria this winter will be the tany, bright and exhilarating...

some prospecting for himself and located a number of claims. Returning he proceeded to Victoria, where he was requested by the government to make a report on the new mines...

The writer remembers Mr. Dewdney giving an account of the last mentioned rush when he was a member of the Commons at Ottawa.

Alaska and Russia about 1862, an undertaking that was abandoned in this locality when the success of the Atlantic cable was assured.

Mr. Dewdney had some experience with snow. He gave the following account of the climatic phenomena of the region.

3,000 feet above the level. That was a foot of snow on the summit. We blazed the road on the way in, and some miners who were anxious to get goods in followed our track.

Getting in Supplies. Referring to the easiest route for getting in supplies, Mr. Dewdney thought that the preferable route was by way of Edmonton to the Peace river, up the Peace to the Findlay and Omicron.

LAST YUKON CARGO TO GO BY ST. MICHEL'S

Steamship Mackinaw Leaves Seattle With Valuable Cargo for Interior.

With the departure of the steamship Mackinaw for St. Michael, the season for shipping to the interior of Alaska by way of the lower river practically came to an end. The shipments from now on will be mostly confined to the upper river. Although the season has been extremely dry, which has led many to believe it would be a late season, there is no such thing as figuring on the date when shipments can arrive at Fairbanks or Dawson by way of the lower river. From 1875 to 1884 the river did not close until November or December, while that year it closed on October 10th, a month and a half earlier than the previous year. From 1884 until 1886 the Yukon again remained open until either November or December, since which time it has permitted, on one or two occasions, some navigation until the two last months of the year.

The Mackinaw had perhaps one of the richest cargoes that ever left the port. The shipment, valued at $500,000, consisted of everything in the merchandise line except staples, and for the first time live cattle shipments from Seattle, by way of St. Michael, for Fairbanks. Heretofore live stock has been shipped only by way of the upper river, and the present innovation may cut deeply into the revenues heretofore viewed as sure for the upper river.

SCHOONER WATERLOGGED.

Ludington, Mich., Aug. 21.—The life savers here last night rescued the two men composing the crew of the schooner Jesse Martin which was drifting waterlogged, six miles off this port. The schooner had started from here for Marquette with hardwood lumber. It is thought the derelict has capsized since the men were taken off.

The time used in Pacific Standard, at the 19th Meridian west, is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot above the average level of the lowest low water in each month of the year. This level is half a foot lower than the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are reduced.

HAZEL DOLLAR LEAVES FOR SOUTH TO-NIGHT

Freighter Undergoing Inspection—Member of Dollar Firm Here Yesterday.

The steamship Hazel Dollar will complete unloading 800 tons of sulphur at the outer wharf this afternoon, and is expected to get away for San Francisco to-night. While lying at the outer wharf the steamship, which is registered in this port, is undergoing her annual survey by Messrs. Thomson and Kinghorn.

ATTEMPT TO RAISE FORTY-YEAR-OLD WRECK

Japanese Work on German Cruiser With Valuable Cargo.

Japanese advices by the steamship Hazel Dollar, now in port from the Orient, recall the wreck in the first year of Meiji (1868) of a German steamer, 4,700 tons, which struck a sunken rock near Kasujima, an island off Kurushima, near Uraga. In the following year the steamer, together with the cargo, was sold by auction to the late Mr. Kirby, of Yokohama, for a sum of $65,000. In the third year of Meiji (1870), the wreck was transferred to Mr. Takashima Kayemon, of Yokohama, who tried to raise her between the 11th month of the same year and the first month of the ensuing year, but without success, and the sunken treasure was abandoned for a long time. Mr. Toyama Kamei, who from the first interested himself in the matter, deeming the treasure too precious to be left at the bottom of the sea, obtained permission from Mr. Takashima to raise the vessel, and in 1906 he made an attempt to secure the treasure, but owing to lack of funds he was compelled to suspend the operations. But he has never lost sight of the scheme. After consultation with experts he devised a plan to save the treasure at a cost of $2,500, and is now pushing on his preparations for resuming operations.

What Other People Think

WHY NOT TEST IT? To the Editor.—As Fort and Broad streets pavement, as far as it is concerned, after comparatively short wear, I write to suggest, at least, a section of one or both of these streets be laid with vitrified brick as a test of its utility. Vitrified brick is a success at Seattle, while wood is a failure at Victoria. It would not cost much to lay a small portion in brick and try its value alongside of its wooden competitor.

THE POUND BY-LAW.

To the Editor.—The way in which the foolish law regarding leading dogs in strings is being enforced, may or may not be better than depending on the education and common sense of the individual, but I wish to say that very dangerous ground is being ventured on. Not all citizens are entirely ignorant of the law and its real meaning (although the city council may think so perhaps), and there are other laws besides those manufactured for the enjoyment of neighboring cities.

A REBUKE.

To the Editor.—Major Dupont, in his letter to the Colonist, protesting against the publication of the particulars of a private social function at his residence, has dealt society snobs of Victoria a hard jolt. It is a pity that the unhappy practice which prevails here and at Vancouver of publishing the minutest details of private gatherings—telling who were there and what the ladies wore—was ever introduced.

MUSIC AT EXHIBITION.

To the Editor.—A circular has been sent out by J. E. Smart, secretary of the provincial exhibition, in which the following paragraph appears: "A little while on the part of those who have nothing to exhibit, a little moral support from those who have not, back of that, and behind all, sufficient pride in the country we live in on the part of everyone to make us determine to show our visitors that we have the best country in the Dominion and the end will be accomplished."

By H. H. PEGLER.

The proposed new portion of the Vancouver Island trunk road from Goldstream to Mill Bay, has been a very much discussed subject. seventeen miles; it was, therefore, decided to commence work at both ends. On April 22nd a survey party under charge of Mr. D. R. Harris, C.E., started the location line from Goldstream, at the head of Saanich Arm. The first stake was driven at a point some four hundred yards below the Goldstream hotel, near the bridge over the outlet from Langford lake. Thence the route ran straight for some distance, following the course of the Langford lake creek down to the Goldstream. Here the road turns right handed, being some seventy feet above the Goldstream, on the slope of Skirt mountain, following the river the whole way. Everywhere en route dogwood and maple trees help to make the road one of the most picturesque. Several mineral claims have been staked and worked right on the very road, the rock showing evidence of mineral bearing, deserving greater attention.

There has been great judgment shown at the first crossing of the Goldstream. All sharp angles at the approaches to the bridge have been avoided. Once across the bridge there will be a splendid straight run of over one-half mile through some very fine timbered land, a large portion being of the finest black loam, hard to beat for agricultural purposes. It is necessary to cross the river on two occasions before the flat at the head of Saanich Arm is reached, the road being kept up on the hillside to avoid winter floods and facilitate the crossing of Niagara Canyon, where there will be a trestlebridge over 100 feet in length. Great judgment has been shown in avoiding a very large amount of rock work and steep ascents. On no part of this two miles is the grade greater than three per cent, and sharp curves are few and far between.

The road now deserves attention from the Mill Bay end, starting at a point some 150 yards above the bridge over the creek that drains Shawanigan lake. (Here tidal water is at once in evidence.) To the lower of landscape, either artist or photographer, the view from either side of the bridge is very hard to equal. A distance of one-third of a mile from this point brings us to a very fine piece of cleared country, out a perfect mass of vegetation growing in the water courses flowing from Malahat mountain, until Payne's creek is reached. Here the gradual ascent of Malahat mountain commences. The highest point reached on the road to be surveyed is about 600 feet above the time kilns in Saanich Arm. The view from this point cannot be realized only by those who have made a tour of the country. Little attention has been paid to the prospecting of the country around here, and the mineralogist would undoubtedly get rewarded for his inspection.

The island trunk road has already some of the finest scenery on the American continent. All along the route scenery changes. Visitors who (when the road is complete) take in the trip by motor from Victoria to Alberni, will unanimously agree that the new por-
