CIVIC LABORERS WANT AN INCREASE

Matter Held Over Till Friday to Mature—Some Strong Opposition Expressed

In common with the officials who conduct the important offices of the city, the laborers are desirous of increasing what labor organs term their "purchasing power" by requesting an increase in wages of twenty-five cents per day. Intimation of this desire was made to the city council last night in a letter from the Victoria Laborers' Protective Association. Nothing definite was done with the request, it being decided to lay the matter on the table till Friday. The question, however, did not pass unnoticed.

Alderman Moresby objected to any increase being given. When raises were given they only satisfied the recipients for a day or two, after which they came back for more. He thought that the present request was an attempt to take advantage of the present condition of unrest in the labor market, both in the city of Vancouver and here.

Alderman Langley moved that the request be not granted, and Ald. Moresby seconded.

The other side of the question was upheld by Ald. W. F. Fullerton. He did not consider that the request was at all unreasonable. Living conditions had undoubtedly increased within recent times, and he had no doubt that the laboring class were the first to be made conscious of the fact. The city officials had received their increases without much opposition, and he thought that the city employees further down the line should not be passed up without consideration.

There was a tendency to forget the casual laborer in the administration of civic work, which he regretted. While admitting that a raise had already been granted, he contended that it was so minute as to be of no consequence whatever.

The suggestion of Ald. H. M. Fullerton that the matter be laid over till Friday carried.

The recommendation of the city engineer for the purchase of from 15,000 to 60,000 gallons of road oil and 100 tons of calcium chloride, to be used in allaying the dust nuisance in the city, was adopted by the council and tenders will forthwith be called for.

CURED OF CONSTIPATION

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N. S. writes:

"For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single-headed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.
That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.
They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."
For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c. a box.

LIGHTING PROBLEM REMAINS UNSOLVED

MAYOR MAKES A STAND FOR THE PRESENT TYPE

Calls Upon City Electrician to Knock New Type and Boost for Old

The problem of the light standard to be used in the city of Victoria has apparently not yet been settled, although many valuable hours have been spent in discussing and arguing the respective merits of different types in use here and elsewhere.

Mayor Morley shouldered the responsibility of bringing the matter up again by inviting Matthew Hutchison, the city electrician, to come before the council last night and explain why he considered that the standard at present in use in the city, costing $44 now, and formerly $66, was better in every respect than the standard known as the New Westminster type, which costs only $44.

Mr. Hutchison did not exactly have the time of his life in meeting the refutations, answering the questions, and denying the insinuations of the aldermen, whose opinions did not happen to conform to those of himself and the mayor. For instance, when he was asked to explain the drop in the cost of the present standard from $66 to $44, when the council seemed drifting in the direction of the new standard at $44, Mayor Morley had to come to his assistance with the explanation, which deceived nobody, that the contractor had surely the privilege of reducing his prices without raising the objection of the purchasers.

Ald. H. M. Fullerton conducted the campaign generally against the electrician, and as a result of his efforts it was decided that before anything was done a report should be furnished the council showing exactly where the city stood in regard to the adoption of either standard. Some of the aldermen were of the opinion that the matter had already been settled in favor of the new standard, but reference to the minutes elicited the fact that that was only in regard to Pandora avenue, the property owners on which had petitioned expressly for that type of standard.

When the discussion ended with the adjournment at a late hour the electrician was jolted considerably by aldermen for his alleged "alliance" with the mayor in an attempt to retain the present standard.

QUEEN'S CORONATION GIFT

London, June 8.—Already a quarter of a million visitors are here for the coronation, but the shopkeepers and hotelkeepers are disappointed at the absence of the hoped-for influx of Americans.
Police regulations for the control of crowds on the days of the procession will be more stringent than ever. Temporary gates are being erected in all thoroughfares through which the procession will pass, and these will be closed as soon as the route is comfortably lined with spectators. Probably this will be as early as 6 or 7 o'clock in the morning, after which the centre of London will be a walled-in city. This method of closing the streets is expected to prove more efficient than the old system of employing cavalry to keep the crowds back.
Queen Mary received yesterday at Buckingham Palace the committee representing the Marqs of the Empire, who presented to Her Majesty their coronation gift, a cheque for $60,000.

SHEEP CREEK MINE HAS BEEN SOLD

Montreal and New York Operators Secure Control of the Summit Property

Nelson, June 8.—Frank C. Armstrong of New York, and D. Lorne McGibbon, of Montreal, have secured control of the Summit mine on Sheep Creek. The price is said to be $50,000. George E. Parrish, a well known mining engineer of New York, and a son of the famous expert, has been appointed general manager and is leaving for British Columbia, being due to arrive in about ten days.
Armstrong and McGibbon are well known operators who have recently been prominent in Cobalt and also in Porcupine. Two of their engineers made a detailed examination of the Summit property. The Summit gold mine is one of the most promising properties of the Sheep Creek gold camp, having rich surface showings.

HOTEL OWNER SHOT

Wounded By Two Young Women—Story of Fight in Apartment in New York.
New York, June 8.—W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy owner of the Hotel Ansonia, on upper Broadway, was shot three times last night in an apartment occupied by two young women in West 80th street.

It is charged, and the police say it is admitted by the accused, that Ethel Conrad, an artist, 19 years old, and Lillian Graham, an actress, 23 years old, both had a hand in the shooting. Mr. Stokes was found lying at the top of the fourth floor landing, near the door of the young women's apartment, when a policeman was called in. He was bleeding profusely from bullet wounds in the right thigh and the calf of the left leg. He clutched a revolver in one hand. The wounded man was removed to a hospital and both girls were arrested. They turned over to the police a revolver and the shells of three discharged cartridges.

According to Mr. Stokes' story, as told through his attorney, he had gone to the young women's room to run down a report that they had some letters that he had written, and to his surprise, they demanded $25,000 for the return of the letters. The Graham woman had a pistol, the allegation ran, and made threats to kill him. Three shots were fired. The story told by the attorney continues, one of which went wild, and although wounded, he walked with the Graham woman. She shouted, "Ethel, you get your gun and kill him."

Miss Conrad fired, the bullet taking effect in the calf of the man's leg. Stokes held the Graham woman in front of him as a shield, so that her room mate dared not fire again, but she shouted "Murder," whereupon three Japanese servants from another apartment rushed in and jumped upon Stokes.

According to the Graham woman's story, told at the police station, she had lived at the Ansonia for five years, and during a recent year that she spent abroad, had corresponded with Stokes.

"The letters were of no importance," she said, "but Mr. Stokes had heard that Miss Conrad was in possession of them, and he called to demand them. Notwithstanding she had told him she did not have them, he turned on me and grabbed me by the throat and started to choke me."

The revolver in Stokes' hand was accounted for by his attorney with the explanation that he had taken it from the Graham woman.

The Japanese servants, who, according to the attorney, intervened, were field witnesses, while a charge of felonious assault was lodged against the two girls.

At the police station Miss Conrad became hysterical when it occurred to her that a brother from her home in New Orleans was expected here to-night, and she wailed: "What will he say to this?"

She was compelled to fire in self-defense, she told the police matron. Late last night Mr. Stokes was placed on an operating table. Several X-ray photographs were made, and surgeons probed for the bullets. The patient weakened and it was decided to discontinue the probing until to-day, when the process will be resumed if Mr. Stokes' condition permits. His only danger, physicians say, is from blood poisoning.

TOWN BESIEGED BY INSURRECTOS

Supplies Have Been Cut Off
for Two Months—More
Arrests in Mexico

El Paso, Tex., June 8.—Four men alleged to be members of the revolutionary forces in Lower California and recognizing Ricardo Flores Magon as their head, were arrested by United States secret service officers in El Paso yesterday. Along with them were captured supplies of revolvers, ammunition, bandages and hospital equipment, which had been secretly stored in a vacant house, long under watch by government agents.

One of the rifles captured contained an inscription: "To Simon Berthold, Los Angeles, Calif." Berthold was one of the leaders of the Lower California movement. He died several months ago of wounds received while fighting. The arrests followed closely upon the announcement of Mexican officials in Juarez that plotters were at work to create a widespread anti-Madero movement out of the disaffection in Lower California.

Telegrams had been sent to Madero at Mexico City early in the day, advising him to investigate closely the loyalty of certain troops who were about to be sent to the Pacific coast. In consequence 1300 federalists who were en-training at Chihuahua were ordered not to go. A confidential military adviser of Madero, who was left here to look after plotters, and who ten days ago caused the arrest of Monterey, Mex., and another in El Paso, declared he had evidence that certain federal army officers were preparing to join the Lower California party, and if possible to extend it to other parts of Mexico.

While investigating alleged anti-Madero plots in the customs house in Juarez yesterday, Abram Gonzales, provisional governor of Chihuahua, narrowly escaped being shot. A bullet fired by some unknown person embedded itself in a wall a few feet from where Gonzales was standing. Since the provisional governor himself had announced that $40,000 was offered to prevent his reaching Chihuahua, the incident caused excitement; but Senor Gonzales declared he believed the bullet was not intended for him.

Advices from Chenpas, located in the Artega district of Chihuahua, say that town is still under siege by the insurrectos, who refuse to believe that peace has been declared. The people there have been cut off from supplies for 3 weeks.

PERISHES FROM THIRST ON DESERT

Old Prospector Dies While
Searching for Lost Ledge of Mica

El Centro, Cal., June 8.—Search for the body of Wm. Burger, a veteran prospector, who had been lost in the desert for two weeks, has been successful. Burger was found dead less than six miles from his camp. For more than 35 years Burger had searched near Carriso Creek for a ledge of mica, which he had once discovered when a member of a surveying party, but had been unable to relocate it.

He left his partner, Thomas Stratton, in camp two weeks ago and started to cross a distant ridge. When he did not return Stratton organized a search and the old prospector was trailed until his body was found within six miles of the camp where he had fallen exhausted and perished of thirst.

WORK OF INCENDIARY.

Portland, Ore., June 8.—It developed yesterday that the fire which Tuesday destroyed the three apartment houses in a fashionable section of the city, entailing the loss in excess of $100,000, was of incendiary origin.

H. B. Harrington, an employe of a nearby garage, who rushed into the Hanover apartments, in which building the fire originated, when the flames burst out, saw a man sprinkling gasoline in liberal quantities on the floor of the second hall.

Harrington, who had snatched a hand fire extinguisher to assist in putting out the fire, turned the contents of the extinguisher on the man's face, hoping to blind him, but the fellow dashed from the building and escaped. Harrington could not pursue him as the flames were spreading and he devoted his attention to trying to extinguish them. The Hanover apartments and two other apartment houses were almost totally destroyed.

LUMBER INQUIRY.

Chicago, June 8.—The grand jury's investigation into the Western Lumber Co. yesterday was directed toward business dealings of mail order houses which sought to purchase the supplies of wood doors, sashes and sashes from manufacturers and sell them to the consumers. Representatives of Montgomery, Ward & Co. and Sears, Roebuck & Co., were the first to appear for testimony before the grand jury.

PORTUGUESE REPUBLIC.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—The American legation at Lisbon has been instructed to accord the official recognition of the United States to the republic of Portugal immediately upon the adoption of a constitution by the constituent assembly. The assembly opens at Lisbon on June 12.

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CHANE

Certain plants never grow except in certain soils, edelweiss in the Alps, bananas in the tropics, and cacti in the sands of the desert. Wherever you find the plant called Humility in the human garden you will always discover real wisdom in the brainsoil that produces it.

The habit of positivity has the true flavor of ignorance, for if one is always certain he is usually wrong. Humbugs, imposters, bugs, imposters, frauds and scoundrels never hesitate; but when you talk to a man of genuine learning, mature experience and thorough culture, such a man as Mark Hopkins or President Eliot, the thing that strikes you most in him is his almost childlike modesty. When once you have learned that it is as sure a sign of wisdom to say you do not know, when you have learned that it is pretense and not ignorance that is shameful, when you want to be esteemed for nothing except what you really are, and to hate nothing so much as to be praised for what you are not, then you can be at ease in any company, everybody from servant to savant will enjoy you, and, as was said of Robert Burns, you will be equally at home in the society of farm laborers and the polite world.

Genuineness and Modesty are the Keys of Friendship.

JUDGE MISQUOTED ON NE TEMERE DECREE

Says It is Only a Dogma of Church Which Law Does Not Recognize

Montreal, June 8.—Judge Leet, who considers that his opinion with regard to the Hebert marriage case and the "ne temere" decree has been quoted in such a way as to create a misunderstanding, has issued a letter to the press in explanation of his position. He upholds the ruling of the court as regards the legal invalidity of marriage of two Catholics by Protestant ministers, but contends that this ruling has no application to mixed marriages. The courts, he says, cannot endorse the "ne temere" contention with regard to marriage of a Catholic to a Protestant.

He concludes: "Until the 'ne temere' decree there was never any question in this country as to the validity of the marriage of a Catholic with a Protestant by a Protestant minister, and I do not think there is any danger of the courts upholding the pretension of the decree. The decree will only cause heartburnings and social difficulties that the law can hardly deal with. It is only a dogma of church, which the law does not recognize, and is not likely to recognize."

SOVEREIGN BANK.

Holding Company Will Develop Assets
Of Institutions.

Toronto, June 8.—The Sovereign Bank, which went into liquidation three years ago, will not be wound up by the curators, as would be the normal procedure. Instead, a holding company, with Aemilius Jarvis, the former president of the bank, at its head, will proceed to develop the assets with a view to providing an alternative to the payment of double liability on their stock.

At a meeting of the general manager and other officials of the banks represented in Toronto, it was agreed to recognize the step taken by the shareholders. Over two million dollars was placed in bonds of the Alaskan Railway, giving the bank the controlling interest in its affairs. This road is today an active organization and it is said to promise well for the future.

The holding company will be composed of shareholders, all of whom will subscribe fresh capital for the carrying on of their interests.

UNITED WIRELESS CASE.

New York, June 8.—President Christopher C. Wilson and the other four officers of the United Wireless Telegraph Co. will have to go to prison, even if eventually they are released on appeal. The United States circuit court of appeals yesterday refused to release them on bail pending the hearing of an appeal from their conviction of misusing the mails to defraud investors.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY.

Seattle, Wash., June 8.—Col. Alden J. Blithen, editor of the Seattle Times; Clarence B. Blithen, managing editor, and Chauncey Rathburn, city editor, were arraigned yesterday on the indictments returned by the grand jury that investigated the late GHI administration, and pleaded not guilty.

WOMAN MASQUERADES AS MAN.

St. Louis, Mo., June 8.—Rather than doff the masculine garments she has worn for 14 years, Mrs. Augusta Seb, masquerading as Gus Seb, cheerfully accepted a sentence of 56 days in the workhouse, imposed by Judge Karl Kimmial. Judge Kimmial pleaded with the woman to discard the trousers, offering to provide her with proper dress, but she refused, saying she had worn male attire so long that she would be embarrassed in woman's clothes and liable to arrest for masquerading as a woman. She said she would be unable to obtain work as a woman.

VICTIMS OF SWINDLERS.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—A new get-rich-quick scheme, which rivals some of the swindles of recent years for its ingenuity, is being successfully operated in some of the Pacific Coast states. Its trail is said to reach as far east as New York.

Secret service men are working on it. Prospective victims are told that the United States government is short of money, and that to avert a panic the treasury is quietly floating an immense issue of national bank notes. It is represented that a certain of New York financiers have undertaken to underwrite the issue, which is offered to victims on the basis of fifty per cent. Secret service men say the swindlers usually exhibit a genuine $5 national bank note as a sample of the issue. Several citizens of Seattle are reported to have paid in sums ranging from $50 to $1,000 with the expectation of receiving double that sum in national bank notes before next winter.

Secret service men have found gathering of evidence difficult, as the victim is first initiated into a supposed secret order and sworn to secrecy.

TO OPEN COAL AREAS.

Vancouver, June 8.—Leon Benoit, of Melville, Sask., has organized a syndicate in Montreal to develop large coal areas in the Telkwa valley, east of Hazelton, in Northern British Columbia. It is proposed to expand considerable money this summer in prospecting the field. Mr. Benoit stated that he has $75,000 available for development work. The coal is described as a high grade bituminous, running 35 per cent. in fixed carbon.

DIES AFTER OPERATION.

Philadelphia, June 7.—Dr. Pries, one of the pioneers in abdominal surgery in this country died last night, following an operation for appendicitis. He operated for appendicitis on a young girl shortly after noon and was operated on for the same trouble less than four hours later. He was born in Virginia in 1853.

CANADIAN CITIZENSHIP.

In a thoughtful and thoroughly impartial article of some length the Winnipeg Tribune discusses the question of citizenship in Canada as it is being influenced by the large numbers of immigrants now flocking toward this country from almost every land.

With this somewhat exclusive reservation of Canada for the English and other Anglo-Saxon races we need not deeply concern ourselves, as we have no doubt there was not in it the intention to express anything more than what might well be considered a basic principle to be observed in the regulations affecting the admission of immigrants.

It may be, however, that the whole question of immigration and the qualifications for citizenship in Canada has reached a stage at which it demands the serious consideration of statesmen in a general way and of municipalities and civic corporations in a particular way.

The Northwest and the Prairie provinces, owing to the opportunities afforded immigrants for settlement in the country, have a problem in citizenship that is somewhat different from the west. No racial distinctions are recognized in admitting immigrants into Canada provided other regulations regarding admission of foreigners are complied with.

the rights, privileges and responsibilities of citizenship that the change should be made. No one would desire to exclude the intelligent, industrious, thrifty and capable immigrant from any country, as the addition of each individual or family of these is a distinct acquisition in the development of our resources.

It must be notorious that our present naturalization laws are but differently enforced; in many instances they are not enforced at all. It is not because the spirit of the law is wrong or fails to cover the probable necessities of the case, but its literal restrictions are so inefficient that evasion is commonplace.

The acquisition of property in the Dominion makes one a registered taxpayer, and it should do so. But to be a taxpayer is to entitle one to a vote and voice in all matters affecting the expenditure of moneys accumulating from taxation.

With the rapid increase in the population of Canada and with the imperative changes that must from time to time take place in systems of political economy, especially as to detail, citizenship has come to be an important right as well as a corresponding responsibility.

While we cannot see that the franchise should be limited to those who are familiar with the British constitution and its adapted forms of government, much less to those who speak the English language, we can conceive that there may be danger in going to an opposite extreme and granting the most sacred privileges of a democratic citizenship to those who are ill qualified to use them in the fear of God and for the country which shields them.

We conceive that it will soon be, or is already, the imperative duty of our statesmen to formulate a system regulating the rights of immigrants so that, in the first instance, the privileges of citizenship shall neither be degraded nor abused and in the next that the seething mass of our increasing population may be fused into a loyal and patriotic people with only one flag and one country in the world.

INSPECTION OF MEATS.

The value of efficient and capable inspection of meats, offered for sale or shipment, by officials of the Dominion government as provided under the Meat and Canned Foods Act, passed in 1907, is beginning to be realized in the provinces where its provisions are being carried out.

In Canada during a single year from April 1, 1909, to 1910 there were condemned 7,624 carcasses and 324,434 portions of animals killed as well as additional 170,999 odd pounds of meat condemned as unfit for human food.

the quality of meats shipped abroad and ensures the good name of the Canadian market for tanned or packed products.

Fortunately the equable and moderate climate of the coast cities leaves us less exposed to dangers in this connection than are many of the eastern markets, but the closest supervision here as well as in other places will become a factor not negligible in matters pertaining to the health of the community.

It may be that the citizens should be sparing with water these days, but why should the Gore fountain be running at 3 a.m. ask the Hamilton Spectator. Public utility, dear cotem.

A duel is to be fought, says the Mail and Empire, between a Russian general and a St. Petersburg newspaper editor about an article the latter wrote referring to the trial of a company promoter who was accused of forgery.

The Canadian Oral Prophylactic Association is preparing a lecture itinerary to give instruction to the people of Ontario on the care of the mouth and teeth. The association sells dental preparations for the purpose of securing funds to carry on this work.

Commenting on the hot spell in Ontario the Hamilton Herald says: "The May month just closed was the hottest in eighty years. And yet there were some people who grumbled about winter lingering in the lap of spring."

It is very questionable policy for speakers of the Conservative party to couch their criticisms of the government in such terms that they commit themselves to a definite policy on the reciprocity issue.

According to the Manitoba Free Press there is something distinctly humorous in the plight in which the members of parliament will find themselves if the obstruction extends the session beyond the date by which the members will have drawn their seasonal indemnity.

RELATIVE STRENGTH OF WORLD'S NAVIES

That may be—in the future. At present she has two Dreadnaughts building as "unofficial" ships. The first will not be ready till next year, and possibly not then; the second is not to be completed before 1913.

Mr. Brassey's Naval Annual has made its appearance. Although there is talk of peace and goodwill on every hand between the nations, publications like this bring us to earth again, and reveal the long road there is to travel before we can obtain our ideal.

launched and in commission, and ready to put to sea at a moment's notice. We will take the figures of the ships launched since 1905 of the Dreadnaught type, and to these we may add the big cruisers of the Indomitable type, which are to all intents and purposes Dreadnaughts.

These figures show that to-day our position as to capital ships is 14 to 5. But what about outlying? We have already launched and approaching completion the Colossus, Hercules, Orion, Thunderer, Monarch, Lion, Conqueror, Princess Royal. Then we have on the stocks the King George V, Centurion, Ajax, Audacious, and Queen Mary. These ships will be as superior to the earlier Dreadnaughts as the Dreadnaughts were to the King Edward.

So thoughtful is the German Postmaster-General that special consideration is being shown for the "cart-wheel" hats worn by the ladies of Dresden. Tarpaulin covers have been provided for the mail carts, as the huge hat boxes could not be carried under the ordinary tops. Special railway vans are also being provided for the carriage of these enormous hats.

CRICKET

RIFLE MEET OF B.C. WILL MARK AN EPOCH

Programme of Matches to be Shot Off at Richmond Range July 19-22

The year 1911 should mark an epoch in military rifle shooting in British Columbia. This, to a great extent, has been brought about by the advent in the province of several new corps, but a great deal is also due to the energy and enthusiasm displayed by the council of the British Columbia Rifle Association.

For a number of years past it has been found that increases were taking place in the number of riflemen taking part in the competitions, but it was so gradual that it was not deemed necessary to make any extra provision. This year, however, things are somewhat different. The increase in the interest shown in military rifle shooting has been so great that the association, which has charge of this branch of the service, has found it necessary to move out of the old grove, and as a result they have planned a programme for this year which is the equal of that offered by any similar organization in the Dominion.

Unfortunately, the range accommodation in the province will not permit of carrying out a programme such as the executive would wish, but, without a great improvement has been made, and this year's events should prove satisfactory to those who have thought that British Columbia was lagging in this respect.

One notable feature of this year's programme is the introduction of a match conducted on lines similar to those which confront a riflemen in active service—a skirmishing match.

great benefit to all those who either take part in it or are spectators.

An innovation has been made in the matter of "sighting" shots. Up to this year, in the ordinary matches, a rifleman was allowed only one "sighter" or trial shot, which he must take, but which did not count on his score. This year this condition has been changed, the marksmen being given the privilege of two sighting shots, and also the privilege of taking them on score if he so desires. The rule, however, is laid down that where he chooses to take his first sighter on score he must also take the second one but he may take the second one without the first.

The object of this rule is to save target accommodation. It has been the custom in the past to have two or more targets set aside for practice shots, which meant that the full complement of targets could not be utilized for competitions, and it is believed that with the system adopted this year a great deal of time will be saved, besides leaving all the targets available for the matches.

No change has been made in the dimensions of the targets for this year, as it was deemed inadvisable to make any alterations until it was found out how the experiments would result which are being made at Ottawa this year.

A welcome change will be found in the placing of the annual business meeting on the Friday afternoon of the prize meeting. This will give all the members an opportunity of attending and taking part in the proceedings, a thing many of them could not do when the meeting was held in the evening, as many had to come in to the city then.

The matches open on Wednesday, July 19, and conclude on Saturday afternoon following. This means that another day has been added, as it was deemed expedient to extend the time owing to two or three new events having been added to the prize list, and also owing to the large increase in the attendance which is expected. By extending the meeting to four days the riflemen will not be worked so hard as has been the case during the past few years, and better work should result.

It will be seen that the usual programme has been augmented by the addition of four matches, viz: Lieutenant-Governor's, Dawson, President's, and the Skirmishing. The Lieutenant-Governor's match will be shot in two stages.

ABOUT BASEBALL

Although the officials of the local ball club will disclose no names it has been learned that one of the pitchers being negotiated for is playing with the Chicago White Sox and another with Sacramento in the Coast league.

The first division is winning steadily just at present. All this week it has been Spokane, Tacoma and Vancouver. Pitcher Narveson, now with Moose Jaw in the Twilight league, in a recent game against Saskatoon won a silk hat and a gold watch by allowing only seven hits, pounding out a home run and a single, and winning his own game 11 to 1.

Pettigrew, an outfielder, who has been with the Wichita club in the Western league, has been signed by Portland. Pettigrew batted 263 last season in the Western league, playing in 243 games. He fielded 338. Pettigrew was purchased to take the place of George Ort, who was recently sold to Seattle.

The juvenile ball teams of James Bay played an interesting game at Beacon Hill last evening, in which the Tigers defeated the Tramps by a score of 29 to 16. The batteries were; Mad-dock and Grant for the Tigers, Travis and Copas for the Tramps. The interesting feature of a new umpire by the Tramps in the sixth inning on the understanding that he was to help them win. He did his best and the Tramps scored 9 runs in this session, but unfortunately the Tigers, in their turn to bat, netted 19 unquestionable runs and won the game.

WELL KNOWN TRAMP GOING TO SEATTLE TAKEN FOR RETURN SUNDAY TO REPAIR

Queen Alexandra Will Bring Cargo of Ties From Japan to Redondo

Although the British tramp steamship Queen Alexandra, now in the Orient, had some terrible experiences while in North Pacific waters and much money was lost by her owners before the hoodoo was shaken off, she is coming back to this coast very shortly and it is the hope of all shipping men that Capt. McDonald will not have to put up with so much inconvenience this time as he did on his last visit.

Word has just been received that the Santa Fe railroad has chartered the Queen Alexandra to bring a cargo of ties from Japan to Redondo, Cal. She is now at Shanghai discharging her cargo of lumber which she loaded at Portland at the beginning of the year. Immediately after this work is completed she will commence to take on her return cargo of 3,500,000 feet of ties. The Queen Alexandra left San Francisco for the Far East on April 30, after having been repaired there following her bumping on the bar of the Columbia river earlier in the year. The steamship was almost wrecked and her deckload of timber had to be jettisoned in order to right the vessel. When she hit on the bar in the heavy gale her plates opened and she listed so badly that it was thought she would turn over.

As yet no charter has been secured for the freighter after she discharges at Redondo. It is likely, however, that she will be taken again for lumber as there is a great demand for tramps. If she is not chartered for this she will no doubt be grabbed up by the grain men, who are on the lookout for all the idle tonnage and are chartering the steamships before they reach their destinations.

CRUISERS COMING HERE FROM JAPAN

SHIPS FLYING MIKADO'S FLAG MAKING LONG TRIP

Aso and Soya to Duplicate Cruise of Three Years Ago—Kamakura Maru In

Arrangements are now being made by the officials of the naval department of Japan for the dispatching of the two cruisers Aso and Soya, in command of Rear-Admiral Kato, on a cruise to the Hawaiian islands and Pacific Coast points, according to the messages brought here by the Kamakura Maru, which arrived at the outer harbor yesterday afternoon from Yokohama. The warships will have practically the same itinerary as was mapped out for them on their last trip some three years ago, visiting Honolulu first, then running across to San Diego and calling at ports between there and Esquimalt. From here they will go to the Sound and then sail for the Orient on their return.

No word has yet been received as to when the ships will sail from the land of the rising sun on this long trip. It will be the fall when they reach Esquimalt, however, so that the public will have plenty of time to prepare to give the blue-jackets and officers the splendid reception and one which will eclipse that of three years ago in every respect.

With nearly half a million dollars worth of silk the Kamakura reached this port and after discharging nearly three hundred tons of freight proceeded to Seattle. The shipment of the refined material, which will soon adorn the figures of ladies of this continent, is one of the largest that has been brought here for some time. Although many larger consignments of it have reached the Sound still at this season of the year there is a lull in the silk trade in the Orient and the liners do not secure extra large cargoes of it. There were a large number of passengers on the Maru, many of whom left the ship at this port. Among those who arrived were: Dr. A. V. Velles, a noted linguist who speaks 22 languages and who is now returning from Tokio, where he has been completing his studies of the Japanese language on his way home to Buda-Pesth, where he is engaged at the Austrian university; W. Brindley, a British sculptor, returning to England after a trip to Japan, accompanied by his daughter—E. H. Gwynne, who for ten years has been in the China customs service, and his wife; Miss M. H. Purcell from China; D. Manson, a shipping man who has retired from business after a long stay at Shanghai to take up work in British Columbia; S. Miyamura, the new chancellor for the Japanese consulate in New York, and Lambert of Manila, wife and child.

The cargo discharged here consisted of the following: Sugar, 750 bags; beans, 597 bags; miso, 453 tubs; soy, 215 tubs; peanuts, 240 bags; canned goods, 233 cases; pickles, 151 tubs; porcelain, 411 packages; total, 358 tons.

A fine of $100 has been imposed by the United States customs service on Capt. John Findlay, master of the Waterhouse liner Orlie, for violation of the customs regulations requiring that a vessel shall not stop en route to the destination for which she cleared for the purpose of taking on cargo. Captain Findlay cleared from Portland last Thursday for Seattle. Customs regulations require that a ship, after clearing from one port, shall proceed directly to her destination, save in such cases as fire, storm or mutiny, ignoring this rule Captain Findlay put in at Kalama, across the Columbia river from Portland, took on a cargo of lumber and left for Puget Sound without clearing again.

SAILS FOR STEWART WITH MUCH FREIGHT

Prince George Also Takes Many Passengers North—Venture Sailing To-night

Taking a full cargo of general freight and many passengers, the G. T. P. steamer Prince George, Capt. Frank Saunders, left the inner harbor at 10 o'clock this morning for Prince Rupert and Stewart. She returned on time from Seattle, where a large number of people booked to the northern cities joined the steamer. She also took on a good cargo at the Sound, consisting of general merchandise, much of which is for the river steamers.

Among the passengers who joined the vessel at this port were: H. A. Rogers, who has just returned from a trip to England and is going to his home at Hazelton; D. B. Williams, C. B. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. W. Erickson, Mrs. McCracken and J. N. Cumliffe. J. H. Goodier, city passenger agent of the G. T. P. at Seattle, is on the George, and will make the round trip.

To-night the Boscowitz steamer Venture, Capt. Morehouse, will leave port for northern British Columbia ports. She is loading a full cargo of freight for the tanneries, and will have all her passenger accommodation taken. Many Chinese are leaving on the steamer, being bound for the canneries, which will very shortly be running full blast.

On her first trip to Skagway this summer the Princess Royal, Captain Scoville, will sail from here to-morrow night. She is inaugurating the five-day service with the Princess May, which will be continued until the winter. Many passengers are leaving on the vessel and she will be well loaded with freight.

MARINE NOTES

Carrying many passengers and a full cargo of merchandise the steamer Tees, Capt. Gillam, left the inner dock last night for Holberg and way ports. She will return here about the thirtieth.

The management of the Canadian-Australian Royal Mail line in New Zealand and Australia is now inviting applications from shippers for cold storage space for frozen meat, butter, rabbits, etc. As all applications must be filed by shippers not later than July 1, 1911, it is necessary for importers to communicate promptly with their shippers.

It is seldom that persons are willing to part with their hard-earned dollars in order to be allowed to work, but according to officials of the Alaska Steamship company many of those who have been unable to secure passage on the first passenger vessels for Nome have offered from $5 to $500 to be allowed to ship on the steamer freighter Edith, which left Seattle for Nome this morning. The first passenger vessels were sold out months before their sailings, and the Edith was the last freighter to clear.

DEFENCE OPENS IN THE SEARS TRIAL

Mate and Engineer of Wrecked Steamer Iroquois Called by Defence as Witnesses

After Harry S. Moss, a passenger on the wrecked steamer Iroquois, had repeated his former evidence regarding the wreck, the assize court judge and jury yesterday afternoon heard George Wollett, Mate of Iroquois, Capt. George Johnston, and Capt. Albert Bergquist, Sidney, condemn under oath from the witness stand the action of Captain A. A. Sears, who is on trial for manslaughter, in having taken the Iroquois out to sea the morning of April 19 last, when she was wrecked.

The evidence given by these was the same as they gave at the preliminary hearing and the cross-examination by H. A. Maclean, K. C., was lengthy in each case, many lively spats taking place between the lawyer and Mr. Wollett. Mr. Maclean tried to depreciate the evidence of these witnesses, suggesting to the jury before opening the defence that they were "I told you so" kind of witnesses who knew it all after it happened.

The court equipments would be better fitted with an arithmetician in attendance, as yesterday afternoon Capt. Johnston said he had been 55 years at sea, the last twelve of which had not been so active. An endeavor by the crown prosecutor to estimate how long the captain's real sea activity had lasted resulted in his subtracting 12 from 55 and obtaining a balance of 43, while Mr. Justice Murphy corrected him with 28. Again, when the engineer of the ship was in the box, he figured that a cube of scrap iron in the engine room measuring 6 by 6 by 6 feet would weigh five or six tons. A cube of iron, the dimensions given, would, according to the figuring of a mathematician in the court, weigh 43 tons.

The prosecution was short of witnesses, three Indians having viewed the proceedings in the morning and come to the decision that they would not be needed till to-day, so they went back to Sidney. Mr. Moore sent an automobile after them, and they arrived toiling comfortably in the cushioned seats, about ten minutes after Mr. Moore closed the crown case rather than stand the proceedings over till to-day waiting for them.

The prosecution did not call the mate or the engineer, and before calling them for the defence Mr. Maclean made an appeal to the jury, saying that if it was not for the fact that the case had been canvassed so much, and the actual facts not brought out properly, he would have left it in the hands of the jury without putting witnesses in the box. He said the accused had been a good citizen. He was no criminal, but one who led a useful life and was no white-glove captain. "He was one who had worked hard all his life, as would be seen when his record was produced."

Henry Bowcock, baker, Sidney, who appeared in the case for the first time, said he told ladies about to board the ship on the morning of the fatality that the weather was not so bad as on other occasions the ship had gone out. The mate, Ishister, in cross-examination, said the ship had never before carried such a large cargo of fertilizer, and had never been out under the same weather and cargo conditions as those prevailing on the day of the wreck. The cargo, however, had been loaded the usual way, and he considered it properly stowed.

Capt. Johnston told the court that he was so certain a mistake was being made in taking her out, that he left the wharf, walked up to the lumber yard, and then returned to the wharf to see the end, and shortly after he reached the wharf the ship sank.

The remainder of the evidence was a repetition of the preliminary hearing.

In the year 1909-10, the gross amount brought under review of the C. P. King-dom income tax commissioners was £1,000,935,925.

THE CURSE OF THE NATION IS CONSTIPATION

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" ALONE CURES THIS DISEASE

A famous scientist states that Constipation, or non-action of the bowels, causes more deaths than all other diseases combined. Constipation inflames the Kidneys, ruins digestion, is the foundation of Rheumatism, poisons the blood, causes Headaches, Neuralgia, Nervousness and Insomnia.

Constipation is caused by a weak or sluggish liver. The only purgative of the body, is secreted by the liver, which in turn should pour out into the intestines sufficient bile to move the bowels. Unless the liver is active, there cannot be enough bile to move the bowels regularly, and Constipation is the result.

"Fruit-a-tives," the famous fruit medicine, will always cure Constipation because it acts directly on the liver—relieves the congestion—increases the quantity of bile—and strengthens the bowels muscles.

INVITE CITIZENS TO HELP IN CELEBRATION

Circular Letter to Victorians Issued in Connection With Coronation Fetes

The following letter, signed by the Dean of Columbia, has been prepared, inviting the citizens of Victoria to assist individually in the celebration of the coronation here:

The management committee of the coronation carnival and festival of the Empire, associated with the Daughters of the Empire, have pleasure in drawing your attention to the extensive and excellent programme which is being prepared in order to fittingly celebrate the coronation of his Majesty King George V., and to afford the citizens an opportunity of giving expression to their feelings of loyalty to the throne and empire on this important occasion. The fact that his excellency the governor-general, through his honor the lieutenant-governor and government of British Columbia, has already requested to be furnished with a copy of the programme is evidence of the supreme importance which is attached to this event in this city by his Majesty and his government throughout the Empire.

The provincial government and city council have made substantial grants towards the funds of the celebration; but the committee realize that additional amounts will be necessary if the celebration is to be carried out in a manner in keeping with the dignity of the occasion and one worthy of the capital city of this great province. At the same time, it has not been thought advisable to appoint collection committees for this purpose, but to request our citizens to spontaneously and voluntarily forward donations to the honorary secretary, P. O. box 1529; W. H. Price, assistant secretary, or F. R. Crawford, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, as early as convenient. Your help and co-operation is very much desired.

The assistant secretary will call upon the citizens who desire to have any further information as to the general scope of the celebration. An official invitation has been sent to all neighboring municipalities to cooperate.

NOTES ON POULTRY RAISING FOR MARKET

No. IX.

Brooder Houses.

The writer has often speculated as to the reason why brooder houses are not in more universal use, especially by those who desire to raise fowls in numbers. The fowl house, the incubator room and the brooder house have always seemed to him to be the three essentials to starting a poultry business. The first is the factory for the manufacture of the eggs, the second is that to produce the chicks and the last provides the machinery for raising them.

It has been said to the writer, "My chickens do very well without a brooder house," as if the fact that the chickens seem healthy and strong were the conclusion of the whole matter. On the other hand, taking say 500 chicks at eight weeks, which weigh one-half pound apiece less than they ought to do for the food given; it will appear that 400 pounds of chicken meat at 25 cents a pound, or $140, has been lost to the breeder. It is not merely then a question whether checks look well, but whether they are giving the maximum return in growth and weight for the food, warmth and care expended on them.

It is probable that incubator hatched chicks seldom have sufficient warmth for a long enough time. It is common to hear it said, "My chicks do not require artificial warmth this weather and I have turned out the lamp of the brooder." Two days ago, the writer had occasion to open the lid of the brooder at 2 o'clock in the afternoon (when the heat in the incubator room registered 84 degrees), and he found the 100 odd three weeks old chicks having an afternoon nap under the pipes. Chicks require much more warmth than is generally supposed. It is false economy to spare oil, because if the chicks are exposed to a temperature lower than the most suitable for them, they will require more food than would otherwise be the case—more fuel being required to keep the body warm.

The question of what to feed is generally considered the most important, but the writer believes that the question of temperature should come first. There is not much doubt that given the alternative of spending the night outdoors in the cold after a good supper or sleeping in a comfortable bed without any supper, most people would choose the latter, and rightly, because the strain of lack of food, if warmth is available, is not nearly so great as the strain of prolonged exposure even after a good meal.

Plenty of warmth, therefore, is an economy of energy, and therefore of the food bill and of the mortality account. The objections to outdoor brooders are manifold. First, we shall find that in wet weather the chicks are confined to too small a space. Again, many chicks mean several brooders, which involves trimming several lamps daily. Brooders are expensive things to buy and the lamps have been known to get blown out or smoke and choke the chicks. Five brooders would cost say $100, for which sum a sumptuous brooder house could be built.

The writer's brooder house is 16 feet square, made of a frame of 2-inch by 3-inch lumber, covered with 12-inch by 1-inch boards, with rain proof paper over all; 144 spent in lumber and five rolls of roofing paper at $12.50 a roll brings the bid for materials up to $28.50. Add $20 for the boiler and lamps, etc. for five brooders and $3 for the wood used in the brooders and our bill is $49.50. Add a roll of 3-foot wire and labor of construction.

First there is to be noted that there is only one lamp to trim instead of five. There is no danger of its being blown out, and as the room is warm, less oil is required to maintain the heat of the water in the brooder pipes than would be the case outside. In wet weather each hatch of chicks have an inside run of 10 feet by 3 feet, or 30 square feet exclusive of the brooder, which 2 feet 6 inches by 3 feet. Again, if the poultryman is obliged to go to town for the day, he can lock the brooder house up and if the outside runs 12 feet by 3 feet are roofed with wire netting stretched over the top, nothing in the way of vermin—hawks, etc.—can get at his chicks in his absence. They have three temperatures to choose from, that of the outside air, the inside run and the brooder. The writer is prepared to supply plans of the construction of the brooder and pipes, etc., and of the house generally. The latter should be 6 feet 6 inches high at the back and 4 feet in front. The front should be well lighted with windows, the bottom of which should be 1 foot from the ground, so as to throw the light on the chicks. In wet weather a 1 foot square should be provided to give access to the outer runs. The warmth of the house and the light would be increased by lining it with the white paper used in the construction of dwelling houses. The writer's brooder home is lined in this way. If the outside is strapped with laths nailed over the joints of the lumber and given a coat or two of paint, the rain proof roofing paper would be dispensed with, at any rate, in the summer, as far as the walls are concerned, the roof only being covered with it. The writer has built several brooder houses for farmers and he has never found one yet, who did not wonder how he had managed to raise his chicks in the past without it. The chicks put themselves to bed with unflinching regularity and there is no wandering about the bush for the poultryman looking for errant hens and their broods. Again, long before the poultryman is awake—the chicks are out of the brooders scratching for their morning meal and fitting up so as to be ready for hunting when let out. The brooder house should face the sunrise, so that the first rays catch the floor and warm the chicks while they are scratching for their breakfast. C. DEVONSHIRE, 1124 Fort Street, Victoria, B. C.

The Evening Chit-Chat By Ruth Cameron One of the most common and least recognized mistakes that the average young girl makes in the love-game, it seems to me, is that of thinking that most men like a girl just because other men like her. Because of this notion the average girl never likes to appear in a man-and-girl place without a man tagging at her heels. Because of this she is continually managing to lug into her conversation with one man references to other men who admire her, places they have taken her, gifts they have given her, tributes they have paid her. She thinks by thus showing her admirer how popular she is, she is sure to increase his ardor. As a matter of fact, she is much more apt to sicken him. For most men are keener character students in this direction than the girls give them credit for, and no matter how artfully offhand a girl makes her references to these other men who have been bowled over by her rare charms, the average man sees right through her pretence and laughs in his sleeve at her. A man does not like to think that the girl he is taking about is a freak or a monstrosity whom no one else but he would look at, and who is accepting his attentions because she cannot win any from other men; but on the other hand, if a man is in love with a girl he does not need to have his affections bolstered up by being continually informed that other people like her. I think men are much more independent in this way than women. A girl simply must know what all her chums think of the man who is paying court to her. A man never thinks of asking his men friends' opinion of the girl he is in love with. Perhaps you think that, considering which side of the fence I am on, I can hardly speak so glibly of the man's point of view. Perhaps I could not were it not that much of what I say is what men have said to me. One man expressed his opinion on this subject pretty vigorously after a little experience at a dance. It was a dance given by a girls' club. A girl whom he had previously admired very much took her cousin to the dance. Impressed by the idea that it would lower her in other men's eyes if they thought she had no man but her cousin to invite, she had asked him to assume a different name for the evening, as his own name was the same as hers. Not being used to bearing an assumed name he made a slip and the story leaked out. The man who told me of it said he was much disappointed in the girl. "I thought she had more common sense than that," he said. "I guess she wasn't as much of a girl as I thought her." I have an idea that most men see through us much more than we realize PICTURESQUE SUMMER FROCK. Each new importation of French materials and each new output of domestic summer fabrics shows a decided preference for pink in every conceivable shade with coral in the lead. A stunning example of this is displayed in a model illustrated here. Lower part of bodice, sleeves and tunic are white striped coral-pineapple cloth, trimmed with a double row of black satin bands and black silk tassels. Skirt and yoke of bodice are all-over embroidered batiste in same shade of pink and the raised waist line is girdled with black satin. The huge hat accompanying this costume is pink Neapolitan with narrow brim facing and crown band of black satin and two coral plumes on left side.

Attracted by a story that there was to be a "harem skirt" wedding at the Union Congregational church, Sunderland, some 2,000 women invaded the place. Their curiosity was so strong that they stood on their better feelings, saying such conduct showed a deplorable lack of reverence. The more eager of the congregation, therefore, adjourned outside, and when the wedding party arrived they were mobbed. As a fact, nobody wore the harem skirt. The crowd had been hoaxed.

"CAT AND THE FIDDLE"
PLEASING SPECTACLE

Young and Old Enjoy Its Quaint
Conceits and Effective
Stage Settings

The cat came back, and brought his fiddle with it, to the Victoria theatre last evening, when a good sized house saw "The Cat and the Fiddle" presented by a company equal to that which was seen in that "jolly jiggle," as the playwright has it, a year or so ago.

It is the sort of production which the children go into shrieks of rapture over, and there were many of them last night. Like the circus, there are plenty of the older folk too who have not yet got so blasé that they cannot take delight in it. What matter if many of the jokes are hoary with age, or if occasionally the mechanism of stage effects is very much in evidence? They enjoy it just the same.

There is a good genie who steps, young and radiant, out of an ancient jar after a six-hundred year imprisonment with the cat; fearsome demons in red and green, with blazing eyes; a wicked-looking giant hand-in-glove with a most attractive Circe, whose private plans to become queen of Eyeland do not quite coincide with his views of setting the rulership; magicians, witches and goblins. Clothing and furniture are whisked out of sight before one's eyes, the pump sprouts water through the handle, trick chairs assault a sinner, or, tilted on two legs, hold him in the air by magic, and there are all the other marvelous stage effects we have become accustomed to in "Fantasia." "The Black Crook" and a score of extravaganzas of the past.

Harry B. Watson is featured as "Happy," though his make-up belies the name. He is a maker of fun and a provocator to laughter by nature, and in "The Cat and the Fiddle" the fun revolves around him. His merry clowning kept the house in roars last night, and he was ably seconded by George E. Hart and Ed. Gilmore.

Rose and Arthur Boylan play twins, and in the third act have the stage to themselves for awhile as they display their terrific horsemanship and agility. Their dancing is a distinct feature of the performance. The rose dance is a dainty bit of work, while the whirlwind and Apache dances, with their daring and skilful evolution, evoked hearty applause.

Miss Lillian Wallace is an adorable and lovely good fairy. Miss Mattie Martz makes a stately Circe. J. O. Campbell sang "My Maid in the Moon," a gem, with an effective chorus background and a charming girl swinging high up in the shining crescent moon. The Gothard Bros., of whom Otie played the cat, were prominent in the comic scenes.

The stage effects are all admirable, especially when one remembers that the scenery has had to be constructed for rough handling and travel. The setting of every one of the eighteen scenes was well done, and in spite of all that had to be done there were no waits. The scene of the shipwreck at the end of the first act it would be difficult to surpass anywhere.

The performance will be repeated tonight, and should draw both youthful and elderly young people. It is an excellent midsummer show.

Drunken Father Commits Double Murder Despite Resistance of Infant Son

Seattle, Wash., June 8.—With his 8 year old son clinging to his watch chain, Ora Pattison, a Cedar Mountain-woodsman, yesterday afternoon shot and instantly killed his wife, Alice Pattison, and then fired a bullet into his brain, dropping dead at the feet of the boy.

That the double tragedy was the result of a drunken fit of temper is the statement of the boy, who vainly strove to protect his mother from his father's fury. Sick with the remembrance of the crime, of which he was the sole witness the little fellow last night told his almost incoherent story to Deputy Coroner Pather of Renton. Picking the boy's story together, the deputy coroner learned that the father had come home drunk in the afternoon and had begun quarreling with his mother. Mrs. Pattison retired, weeping, to the bedroom, and Pattison followed, shooting at her. The boy, fearful of what would happen, tugged at his father's coat, begging him to leave his mother alone. When the father drew his revolver, the young lad vainly tried to grasp the weapon, but only succeeded in reaching his father's watch chain. The broken chain on the body on the floor told of the little fellow's struggle to protect his mother.

The murder and suicide was accomplished in a moment and Roland, dumb with horror, gathered his two little sisters and his little brother, and ran from the house. A passer-by, attracted by the four little white faced children sitting on a bank, weeping as if their hearts would break, inquiring the cause was led to the scene of the tragedy by Roland. The man afterward notified the authorities.

THE HINDU QUESTION.

To the Editor.—Inasmuch as our fellow Empire citizens, the Hindus, have come to Canada to stay, it is important that attention be given to their proper domestication so that they may live in Canada under auspicious conditions. The Hindu Empire. So many misunderstandings have taken place that it is well the public should know some facts relative to the settlement of these people in British Columbia and other parts of Canada. It is not to be expected that men from the Indian Empire can adapt themselves all at once to Canadian habits and customs. Other nationalities have not done so, and we have been patient with them. We must also be patient with the men from the East. Many thousands of British men and women are resident in India, and British rule is a most acceptable thing to the vast majority of that Empire. There are a few in that country who might be styled "sedition agitators," but they are not so many, nor is the trouble therewith so great as some newspapers affirm. It has been reported that a few of such persons have found their way to the Dominion. Be that true or false, it is within the power of our federal government to deport undesirable citizens; and this right can be applied to all nationalities alike that come to our country. It is therefore up to the Christian people of every denomination to show that the universal brotherhood of mankind exemplified in the Cross of Christ means something. Certainly it does not mean selfishness, for if the white man intrudes himself upon India, he cannot complain if the Hindu, also, wishes to take advantage of residence in another portion of his own Empire. The claim of Empire citizenship, and most of all, the claim of the brotherhood of man, obligates all right-thinking persons to show a generous spirit toward the rest of mankind.

If a British subject is found in the heart of the Chinese Empire, the jungles of Africa, the streets of Moscow, Vienna, Berlin, Paris, New York or Mexico, he can generally claim protection whether his skin be black or white; and though the term "British subject" in Canada does not altogether mean to us Canadians what it ought to mean, for we limit that term when it comes to the question of settlement in our country; at the same time, we must grant to others what we expect from them. The Imperial conference may settle this question on a broader basis than from a political, economic or a racial bias.

We admit the Chinaman on a $500 head tax. We admit a limited number of the Japanese if each one has $50 in his pocket. We admit the Doukhobors from Russia and the negro from the South in their wives and families, as well as other nationalities, all of whom are absolutely foreigners from a British point of view, but when it comes to the question of admitting the Hindu, our present emigration regulations result that he should have $200, with the disadvantage that he must come direct from India without any transshipment. This he cannot do, because there is no line of boats from India to Canada, nor can he have his wife and children here for the same reason. This puts the Hindu man at a great disadvantage. He comes from a part of our own Empire. He cannot come according to government regulation, and while other nationalities are allowed to come, he is not admitted, the conditions being of a nature that condition of life which is often found among men who have to clean their own homes, cook their own food, and attend to their own clothes. He is also exposed to the temptations of the liquor traffic, gambling and immorality, with other vices that loneliness, ostracism and the want of home comforts expose him. It seems to us that it is a highly improper thing to allow these men to locate in our country without their wives and children. God has set the solitary in families, and his design is that man and wife should live together. It is true that superstition will not permit the wives of these men to come to Canada, but there are some desirous of coming, especially those whose husbands are educated, trading, and doing well for themselves. At the present time several are waiting to be allowed to come by taking a transshipment route, and their husbands would welcome them to this country. Then should we see a different condition of domestic life to that which is apparent to-day.

It is a noteworthy fact that the Hindu man does not interfere with the ordinary avocations of the white man. The Hindu is mostly engaged in the mills, clearing wild land, excavations, and other of the rougher forms of labor—doing things that most white men will not do. A few are engaged in trade, but mostly trading among themselves and for their own people. Out of all the nearly 6,000 Hindus in Canada, there may possibly be less than 100 educated men. The latter are engaged in those forms of service which any educated man can take up in any foreign country whither he may go. Most all these men are like children. They need to be guided and are amenable to good sense. They trust those in whom they have confidence, though they are very much divided among themselves, partly from domestic methods and partly from religious convictions, while white men are continually taking advantage of them financially. Speaking broadly, we have the Brahmin, Mohammedan and the Sikh, the latter are the reformers of India. Those who have employed them speak well of their faithfulness, and we know some employers of labor who very much prefer them to others who cannot be depended upon. Difference in opinion on these matters will always exist. It is only safe to take the broader view of life and to make the best of the difficulties extant.

It is proposed to take some steps that will alleviate the conditions and help these people, if they are going to stay in Canada, to settle as a Canadian way and to live in homes with their families, such of them as like to come. To this end, our federal government is being asked to amend the emigration orders-in-council and not compel a British subject from India to have $200 on arrival, and the Japanese, a foreigner, to only have $50. The former may not be too much, but in view of a common citizenship the latter is certainly too little, even though we have friendly treaties with Japan. Also the Japanese, who are foreigners, are allowed to come to the Dominion for a year; the same limitation might be placed upon the Hindu. The Japanese are allowed to have their wives and children, and the government of Canada and the people of Canada have any respect for the morality of these men, they should allow them to have their wives and children. It may be said that the domestic customs are not what they should be, neither are the Chinese domestic customs what they should be; nevertheless, the domestic customs of the Doukhobors and Galicians what they should have been at first. The health authorities in any province can change these conditions if they will.

That the Hindu is amenable to the influence of temperance, moral and social reform is evidenced by the fact that they made an appeal to the superintendent of he considered out of place for the council to write the society for a list of the prominent engineers of the Dominion when they contemplated any big engineering scheme. The letter was couched in language of professional politeness, suggesting that this step be taken with a view to counteracting the cheap advertising methods of engineers from the other side of the line.

MAYOR SUPPRESSES ANOTHER LETTER

The letter was dated three months ago, Ald. Langley said, so that the mayor had had ample opportunity to avail himself of this chance of corresponding with the eminent engineers of Canada had he cared to do so. That had obviously not been done, nor had the suggestion, which might be regarded as of the supreme importance, since as of the supreme importance, since they wanted the services of the very best man obtainable, ever been submitted to the council. And here they were, after ignoring such a chance, in the act of appointing an American. He had nothing to say against Mr. Meredith, but he did think there were as good men as he on this side of the line who ought to have been given a chance of applying for the job.

Ald. W. F. Fullerton adopted a similar argument. He did not think that Mr. Meredith had the ability of Mr. Hancock. Over and above that they would always have either one or the other of the joint applicants on the work, and he contended that meant a great deal. As it was, there was the inevitable insinuation that the job was being made for someone. Canadian engineers did not run about angling for jobs. Professional etiquette demanded that they should not.

Ald. Ross wanted to know why the job had not been thrown open to application, but the mayor replied that that system had proved unsatisfactory.

Ald. H. M. Fullerton, Moresby and Okell spoke in favor of Mr. Meredith's appointment, advancing his wide experience and knowledge of the country as an argument, and Ald. Gleason, after having his economic arguments upset by Ald. W. F. Fullerton, decided that a man convinced against his will is of the same opinion still, and voted accordingly for Meredith.

The discussion was assuming interminable proportions when Ald. Bishop moved that the agreement be read. This brought on a fresh burst of objection,

WEDDED IN LONDON.

London, June 8.—Viscount Chelsea and Miss Marie Coxon, a niece of Lady Jarrow, were married at Christ church, Down street, yesterday. Secrecy surrounded the ceremony, which was witnessed only by five or six intimate friends. The bride is a pretty girl of 21 years. The groom recently became heir to the Earldom of Cadogan and an income of $50,000 annually, on the death of his seven-year-old nephew. A short time before he had been declared a bankrupt. Earl Cadogan, formerly Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and now in his 71st year, married Countess Palagi at Florence a week before the engagement of his heir was announced, January 9 last.

WOMAN FORGER.

San Francisco, Cal., June 8.—Mrs. Inez C. Peterson of Portland and Seattle, was found guilty of forgery by a jury in the superior court here yesterday. She will be sentenced Saturday. It was charged that Mrs. Peterson forged the name of Henrietta Farrelly to a promissory note for $10,000 and attempted to give a mortgage on some of Mrs. Farrelly's property as security. A plea of insanity was made in her behalf.

and it was suggested that the whole matter be delayed for a few days to see if it was possible to arrive at a more amicable understanding. As it was recognized, however, that unity was impossible in such a matter, Ald. Ross pertinently retorting "not much" to the suggestion, it was agreed to thresh the matter out there and then.

A motion to appoint Hancock and Barham working in conjunction with Mr. Meredith was also mentioned, but in view of the latter's appointment it now becomes a matter of arrangement with him.

Before subscribing to the appointment of Mr. Meredith, Ald. Ouel stated the mayor for suppressing the letter from the Canadian Society of Engineers.

The possibility of Hancock and Barham working in conjunction with Mr. Meredith was also mentioned, but in view of the latter's appointment it now becomes a matter of arrangement with him.

HIDDEN TREASURE HAS BEEN FOUND

SAN FRANCISCO MEN'S QUEST SUCCESSFUL

Locate Gold Buried by Chilean Cruiser Off Honduran Coast Twenty Years Ago

San Diego, Cal., June 8.—A message received from a party of treasure-seekers aboard the steamer Eureka says their expedition to recover an immense cache of gold hidden by the crew of a Chilean cruiser off the Honduran coast more than twenty years ago, has been successful. The treasure had been estimated at $3,000,000, according to reports circulated here of the Eureka's quest. The steamer is now headed for this place.

The Eureka is in command of Capt. Burdell and was taken on a thirty-day charter by a party of San Francisco people about two weeks ago. The expedition is said to have been financed by Henry Krelling, a well-known clubman of San Francisco.

The map showing the location of the buried treasure is said to have been in the possession of a former resident of Honduras, who succeeded in interesting Krelling in his story of the buried gold. The result was the chartering of the Eureka. The fact that most of the South American republics will not allow the exportation of gold made it necessary to guard the plans of the expedition. The message received from Salina Cruz to-day reads: "Expedition a success in every way. Reach San Diego for next week."

Watching Vessel's Movements.

Washington, June 8.—The movements of the steamer Eureka have given much concern to the state and navy departments for a month. The Nicaraguan minister here learned through private sources that the vessel had cleared from San Francisco about May 12 for the Bay of Fonseca, on the west coast of Nicaragua, supposedly with arms and ammunition. The gunboat Yorktown was dispatched from Panama to San Juan Del Sur, and afterward to Amaliate, to overhaul and search the Eureka. Two days ago she reported to the navy department that no arms had been found on the Eureka.

COLLAPSES WHILE MAKING ADDRESS

Dr. Armstrong Faints at Meeting of the Canadian Medical Association

Montreal, June 8.—A dramatic accident occurred at the opening of the forty-fourth annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association when the president-elect Dr. G. E. Armstrong, of Montreal, took suddenly ill and collapsed on the point of delivering his inaugural address. Dr. Armstrong was hurried home where it was seen that his illness was not a temporary fainting spell, but of a serious nature. Overwork is said to have caused a nervous breakdown. The illness overtook Dr. Armstrong just as Dr. A. H. Wright, of Toronto, retiring president had introduced him.

The McGill Medical re-union has brought a great many doctors to the city, many of whom are attending the conference. Over three hundred medical men from outside points are stopping here. Among the delegates from Western Canada are: D. Carson, 1885; Fernie B. C.; Alfred Poble, 1886; Vancouver; R. Boucher, 1895; Vancouver; E. A. Estay, 1893; Calgary; Alb.; E. BOILERMAKERS STRIKE.

Quit Work Because Railway Company Laid Off Twelve Hundred Men.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 8.—Between 1,000 and 2,000 boilermakers employed by the Baldwin Locomotive Works in this city went on strike to-day without the sanction of the National Boilermakers' Union. No wage question is involved, the trouble being due to the laying off of 1,200 men some weeks ago. The union men assert that the men were forced out because they had joined labor organizations, but the company officials declare the men were laid off because there was not enough work for them.

FREIGHT CARS DERAILED.

Portage la Prairie, June 8.—Eight cars of a northbound freight train were derailed and smashed near Strathclair, Man., at 10 o'clock this morning. A delay of six hours in traffic was caused by the wreck and train 97 turned back to Winnipeg. No one was injured. The cause of the wreck is not known.

HOLIDAYS FOR SCHOLARS.

Toronto, June 8.—The King having expressed the wish that all school children should have a week's holiday after the coronation day, the schools will probably close on June 22 instead of June 28, the date previously arranged.

MARINERS TELL OF THE IROQUOIS

quois was because of Mrs. Woollett's antipathy to the sea and liability to seasickness.

Joseph Peterson said Mr. Woollett had told him he had not gone on the Iroquois because it was blowing and his wife not being a good sailor.

William Turple, of Turple's Marine Vessels, said he had kept the Iroquois repaired ever since she was built. Captain Sears had put her on the ways for inspection and repairs once a year.

"His instructions were to spare nothing and he paid me $5 per day for my supervision. She left my yard 25th November last year in first class condition."

To Mr. Moore—He had received no instructions to repair the ship's boats.

Chas. H. Bruce, marine engineer, was engineer on the Iroquois seven and a half years and left her August 30 last. She was then a good, solid craft and compared favorably with every good boat he had been on. He was on the boat nine months under Capt. Reilly. The ship always made its regular trip and was able to cope with all kinds of weather. He had not seen general merchandise on the upper deck. He had been out in a wind with a top deck load and she was then tender. Her average coal would be about eighteen tons weekly. She would burn about fifteen tons a week. Two and a half tons would not be a heavy load for the top deck.

Gordon W. Cumming, physician, Sidney, who was a ship's surgeon formerly, said the life-boats of the Iroquois were not substantial life-boats. They would be all right in a smooth sea, but were not heavily enough constructed. They were defective, the first to leave the ship having a hole on the starboard side at the stern.

Replying as to its dangerous extent the witness said the hole was dangerous, as the boat filled with water and did not sink under the force of the wind. He did not think the wind blowing on the port side prevented the boat taking water through the hole on the starboard side.

Captain Albert A. Sears, called, said he would be forty-eight years of age to-morrow. He had been at sea since he was a boy, with eight years' deep water service. He had made 1,528 trips on the Iroquois. It would be impossible to stay at the wharf in a 60-mile wind. He had looked over the cargo before sailing and thought it all right. He had never had trouble with shipping cargo and did not anticipate any trouble on that occasion.

Captain Sears was still in the box when the lunch adjournment occurred and was detailing his former evidence given at the previous inquest.

AMERICAN NEGROES MUST STAY AT HOME

Governments on Both Sides Discourage Immigration of Negroes' Interests

W. J. White, who is at the head of all the immigration work of the Dominion government, the United States, interviewed at Winnipeg by a Free Press reporter in the office of the commissioner of immigration, stated that there were forces at work in the United States which would absolutely terminate the movement of Oklahoman negroes to Canada.

"One of the elements which contributed more largely than any other," said Mr. White, "to the emigration of the negroes from the south to Canada has been the alleged discrimination against them; whereby they have been, as they claim, together unjustly deprived of the right of voting in Oklahoma."

"Two laws were passed in Oklahoma, as in some other southern states, which in the undoubted object of depriving negroes of the right to vote. One of these was the well-known grandfather law, which provides that no resident of the state shall have the right to vote unless his ancestors had the right prior to 1866. The other law provides that a man who is unable to read and write shall not vote, unless he is of foreign birth. This law is intended to allow the illiterate white man to vote, while it excludes the illiterate negro."

"These two laws were opposed vigorously by the negroes of the state of Oklahoma, and an appeal was taken to the supreme court of the state, which decided that the laws should stand. The matter was then carried to the supreme court of the United States, where the decision of the lower court was reversed. The law was declared to be unconstitutional, and disappeared from the statute book. The chief complaint of the Oklahoma negro is consequently gone and the reason for his removal to Canada is removed."

"Another element which has already operated to lead a number of negroes who contemplated removal to Canada to remain in the United States is the fact that the land which they were selling at $25, $30 and $35 per acre has risen in value to $50 and $60 per acre. A number of the 400 negroes who have already removed to Canada sold their land at the prices which I have named, $25, $30 and $35 per acre. Since they left this land has been resold at $50 and $60 per acre. Negroes who hold land in the state have learned of this circumstance, as the negroes who left Oklahoma have also learned of it, and there is consequently less tendency on the part of the negroes, who have property, to sell it."

"Then the churches of Oklahoma have recently taken a hand in the matter of the movement of negroes into Canada. The churches have stated that it is not in the interests of the colored people to leave the south for the north, and to attempt to live on farm lands in the north."

"The government of Canada takes this same view. We have never made the effort to induce white farmers to leave the southern states for the Canadian west. Northern people who have gone south to Texas and other states of the south make good settlers for Canada and when they are dissatisfied with the south we supply them with literature and information of a general nature with reference to Canada. The Dominion government, however, has never attempted to secure white settlers from the southern states."

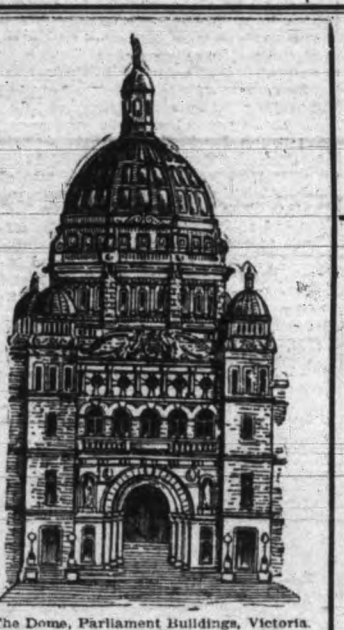

"People from the south do not take kindly to the northern climate, while people from the north prefer it. The negro is in the same category, and while the government does not draw the color line, it recognizes the general unfittness of the colored race for life on the Canadian farm lands. The churches of Oklahoma, as I have stated, take this same view, and are unanimously opposed to the proposal to locate bodies of negroes in western Canada. They are advising their people to remain in the south and will take steps to see that any negroes proposing to emigrate to Canada will be fully advised of the nature of the change which they propose to make."

"The government of Canada, taking the view that it is not in the interest of the southern negro to make this change will seek to discourage it. The law will not be more rigorously enforced against the negro than against the undesirable white, but it will be rigorously enforced. Hundreds of undesirable white American citizens have been excluded from Canada and the same law will be used against undesirable colored people. The effect of the rigid enforcement of this law will tend to discourage the movement and the other influences which I have mentioned will do the rest."

Mr. White is en route to the west and will spend a few weeks in Canada, going through the various provinces. J. Bruce Walker, the commissioner of immigration in Winnipeg, will also make a trip through the west. Mr. White will join him in Saskatchewan.

APPLES IN SCOTLAND.

It is reported from Glasgow that a poor season for apples of all descriptions has now reached its culminating point. Fruiterers are quoting apples for public purchase at the very high price of from 6d to 7d per lb. Owing to the sudden stoppage in Canadian and United States apples, something in the nature of a famine is experienced. An accurate gauge of the state of affairs is provided by the fact that a few Canadian apples which arrived in that market last week sold at from 4s to 6s per barrel, compared with an average of from 20s to 25s, which generally prevails at this period of the year. The ordinary apple-eating public is debarred purchasing their particular pippin owing to the very high prices prevailing. A considerable decrease will have to be recorded before the average purchaser can afford to pay the high prices at which this fruit is sold.

MORE EVIDENCE IN WORKMAN CASE

Question as to Ministers' Right to Interpret Scriptures Was Discussed

There was a large attendance of clergymen in the Superior Court when the case brought by the Rev. Dr. Workman against the Wesleyan Theological College for $10,000 libel, was resumed before Mr. Justice Weir after an adjournment of two weeks.

Rev. Dr. C. T. Scott was the only witness examined and after his examination in chief by Mr. R. C. Smith, K. C., was subjected to a severe cross-examination by Mr. H. J. Elliott, K. C., who has charge of the case for the prosecution.

Dr. Scott, who was a member of the investigation committee, which prepared the report on Dr. Workman's theological teachings in which the libel on Dr. Workman is alleged to have been contained, said when questioned by Mr. Smith that Dr. Workman's teachings were contrary to the doctrines of the Methodist church regarding the Virgin Birth, the Resurrection, the Atonement and regarding the Deity of Christ.

Dr. Scott said that according to the doctrine of the church, Christ was Very God and Very Man and that this was a matter of positive dogma in the Methodist church, which was accepted in faith by Christians.

"What rule is there in the Methodist church for rationalistic investigation in the matter of the Resurrection?" "There is no room for investigation, we accept the matter of the Resurrection as a fact."

"What would become of the whole system if the question of the Deity was denied?" "The whole system would fall."

Judge Weir—"You consider that there is no room for reasonable investigation into the Methodist doctrine?" "There is in some questions. We accept these as eminently reasonable."

Mr. Smith—"Is it possible to subject the supernatural to the rules of human reason?" "No."

"What was Dr. Workman's views on the question of the Deity?" "Dr. Workman has made the statement several times in my presence that he did not know of any passage in the Scripture in which Jesus was called God."

"Is this in harmony with the articles of religion and standards of doctrine?" "No, it is not."

"In regard to the Trinity, I presume if the Deity is doubted the whole doctrine of the Trinity must be doubted?" "Yes."

"With regard to original sin, how is a child saved according to the Methodist church?" "Through the unconditional benefits of the atonement."

"What was Dr. Workman's views on this subject?" "Dr. Workman taught that there was no paragraph in the Bible which said that Christ must die on the cross in order to save the sins of the world, and that there was no need for Christ's death upon the cross, and that the atonement was merely for the reconciliation of man to God."

Judge Weir—"Dr. Workman says he was anxious to get all the Scriptural meaning possible out of the doctrine. Is that against the church?"

"I do not regard Dr. Workman's Scriptural views as being up to the standards of the Methodist church."

"Who is to decide upon this question?" "Dr. Workman says his views are according to the standards of the church. Who is to decide? Is there anyone to decide? Where is it stated in the doctrine that Dr. Workman has no right to put an interpretation on the Scriptures?" "Dr. Workman takes it in his ordination vows."

The ordination vow was then read, but the court was unable to find anything in it which forbids Dr. Workman interpreting the Scriptures.

Judge Weir—"Then you do not know of any place which says that a minister or professor cannot put an interpretation on the church doctrine?" "I cannot answer that question in that language."

Judge Weir—"Then if Dr. Workman's views were accepted the Methodist church would no longer be considered a Christian Church?" "It would not."

Cross-examined by Mr. H. J. Elliott, K. C., witness said he first heard questions regarding the views of Dr. Workman expressed by his students in 1906.

"Can you give us the names of any of these students?" "No."

"How many spoke to you regarding his teachings?" "I should say seven or eight."

"Yet you cannot give the names of any one of them?" "No."

"Will you mention the name of any student who spoke to you in 1906?" "I will not."

Judge Weir—"You will not or you cannot?" "I cannot."

Mr. Elliott—"Are you afraid that they might come here and contradict you?" "No."

"When was this matter of Dr. Workman's teachings brought before the church?" "At a meeting held on the 28th of April, 1907."

"Prior to that did you have any conversation with Dr. Shaw or Dr. Young?" "Yes, prior to that date, I cannot say how long. Dr. Shaw told me that there was much agitation concerning Dr. Workman's teachings, and he feared some investigation would have to be made."

"Did you approach Dr. Workman, or anyone else during this time on this subject?" "I did not."

"Did you consider Dr. Workman at fault?" "I could not consider him at fault, until I heard his own views."—Report of Montreal Star.

CANADA'S TRADUCERS

(From Montreal Witness.)

Mr. Richard Grigg, His Majesty's trade commissioner for the Dominion of Canada, has written a book—a Blue Book. It has been widely and favorably commented on, and deservedly so. It gives a survey of Canada from July, 1906, to March, 1910, and analyzes in an able way the economic conditions of the Canadian market. One of the strong points of Mr. Grigg's book is his examination into the nature of investment in Canada of United States and British capital respectively. He finds that United States capital has been invested in the industries of Canada to the extent of considerably over a hundred million dollars, while British capital, so far, has been invested in Canadian industries to a comparatively small extent—less than twenty-five millions. British capital on the other hand has been invested in Canadian government and municipal securities, railways, loan and mortgage and insurance company investments, to the extent of some $500,000,000 odd. Commenting on this, the writer says that one of the most striking factors of Canada's growth is her industrial progress; that it cannot be doubted that invested capital and import trade tend to run in the same channels; that investment, whether it takes the form of purchase of securities, or that of the foundation of branch manufacturing and agencies, establishes something more than a mere monetary connection—necessitates and creates indeed a personal knowledge of the local circumstances of the country concerned; that an impartial survey of the field indicates that United States capital has been particularly directed into enterprises such as are connected with the import trade of the country; and that the purchase of government securities and municipal bonds, and even of the bonds and shares of the great Canadian railways, operates less directly and immediately to stimulate trade than the investment of capital over a wide range of industrial concerns which has been characteristic of the form of the United States interest in the development of Canada.

Mr. Grigg shows that the industrial and manufacturing establishments which have been either set up in Canada or have been financed by capital from the United States number some two hundred and cover the widest, most varied range of manufactures; and that this general distribution of capital over almost the whole field of business is doing much to identify the interests of the United States capitalists with the economy and progress of the Dominion. Thus, it is clear that before the reciprocity agreement was ever thought about, the "Americans" were increasingly dominating our markets in an industrial way—as they dominate our language in a theatrical and magazine and slang or colloquial way. Yet, in spite of this, in spite of Mr. Grigg's plain, straightforward story, a writer in the National Review, who is perhaps the most unscrupulous critic of the present British government and its policies—and that is saying a good deal for it where there are so many unscrupulous critics—has the nerve or the ignorance, to twist Mr. Grigg's statements and their moral out of all resemblance to the truth, and to talk of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his supporters as "men for the most part out of touch with the transcontinental business of modern Canada men who know that the success of the agitation for reciprocity will to some extent 'Americanize' the methods of the Canadian promoter, and to that extent cause a feeling of distrust to arise in the mind of the British investor, who has already done so much for Canadian development and will do much more provided he sees that Canada intends to proceed quietly and cautiously, as in the past, about the business of realizing her natural assets."

But the moment the machinations of Wall street and the methods of "frenzied finance" cross the international boundary, it will be more difficult to obtain capital in London for putting even a bona-fide Canadian undertaking on its feet. If the reciprocity proposals are ratified, it may be possible to distinguish between Canadian-grown and American-grown wheat. But there will be a tendency to confuse Canadian and American companies and the resulting loss of confidence on the part of the British investor will be a serious matter for the Canadian in quest of working capital.

If anything more topsy-turvy and misrepresentative than this has ever been written, we have yet to discover it. In the first place, the writer appears to be ignorant of the fact that capital is cosmopolitan, and seeks either safety with small profits, or enormous profits with risks, no matter what the country; also that British capital is employed in "America" as he calls it—but which we prefer to call the "United States"—in enormous quantities, and that the capitalists take a proposal on its merits and not on its local position—otherwise why is Sir William Van Horne exploiting Cuban railways, and Canadian capitalists exploiting Mexican power and mines and the Janeiro and San Paulo tractions?—and further, that United States capital has long been predominant in Canadian industries, as compared with British capital. The writer represents a fairly large and wealthy clientele, whose focus of things is "bedevilled," or distorted, as a photographic camera lens may be, and that at the hands of interested self-seekers, who twist facts out of their meaning with the practised skill of contortionists. The simulated fear of the writer in the National Review—that the Canadian promoter may learn the methods of Wall street should the reciprocity agreement be ratified is so funny, so ludicrous, in the light of the methods of the Asbestos merger, the Maple Leaf flour merger, the charges made by Sir Sanford Fleming against the Cement merger, and other get-rich-quick methods of certain Canadian "captains of industry," that one can almost forgive the writer of such a joke his twisting of Mr. Grigg's facts out of all resemblance to their real appearance. Considering that the methods of Canadian merging, which are in direct lines of descent to those of Mr. Merdle in Little Dorrit, are so notoriously immoral that Mr. Monk and even some

WAPPENSTEIN ON STANI

Former Chief of Seattle Police He Obeyed Mayor and Council

Seattle, Wash., June 7.—Former Chief of Police Charles W. Wapenstein, charged with accepting a bribe for permitting houses in the old district to operate, went on his knees and testified that he obeyed the orders of the city council. He denied that he negotiated with Clarence Oswald Glidson Tupper relative to the operation of the houses, and contradicted Tupper's damaging testimony that he (Wapenstein) admitted recommending Tupper to Senator Ralph D. Nicholas, as a bribe for one of the houses. He had Tupper for years as a resident of the district and considered him reputable as anyone in the district, and for that reason recommended to the senator.

FEELING IS ANTI-MANCHU IN CANTON

Repeated Rebellious in China Not Properly Classed Revolutions

To a superficial western reader the words "rebellion" and "revolution" are carelessly synonymous notwithstanding the world of difference there is between them. In all the millenniums of Chinese history revolutions have been so few that the fingers of one hand would more than suffice to tell them off. On the other hand rebellions have been as plentiful as floods or famines—one every other year or so. Well indeed was it said by T. T. Meadows, "Of all nations that have attained to a certain degree of civilization, the Chinese are the least revolutionary and the most rebellious."—Rebellion is a matter of principle, and these had been settled for China once for all, before even Confucius had appeared on the scene. Rebellions on the contrary are, in China, mere personal matters in most cases. When farmers grasp their mattocks, artisans their sharpest tools; when merchants and shop-keepers put up their shutters and join in with their armed friends, it is in no spirit of antagonism to the Son of Heaven. Far otherwise. Rather is it in his support, and against those—some rascally officials—who have trodden true principles under foot and imposed on the people some burden or other too grievous to be borne. Events of this nature are hardly annuals almost.

But there is a form of rebellion more serious than this, a rebellion which may overturn a dynasty. A good many such are recorded in Chinese annals, but before all that we know of this fateful question had been put by the literati to themselves and answered in the affirmative—"Has Heaven withdrawn its Divine commission from the reigning house?" Once the fateful "yes" resounds through the land, the only other question that follows is—"On whom is the mantle of power to fall?" Even then the result is a mere change and not a revolution. The ship of state holds on her way, but with another figure-head.

When the fiat had gone forth that the hour-glass of the Mings had run out, it was the rebel Le Tsz Ching who raised the standard of revolt. The Manchus came in, just as Hengsi and Horsa came in Britain, on the invitation of Woo San Kuei, a general true to the Mings who wanted their aid. But like the Saxons, they loved the land they had saved so much that they were unable to leave it. Then occurred a partial revolution, for the Manchus kept an army of 150,000 men in Pekin, besides strong garrisons in nine provincial capitals, and ten other strategic centres. At that time their troops had a prestige comparable with that of the British after 1842, and as they formed military colonies and increased and multiplied they grew into privileged centres of Manchu influence wherever they were found. We see their descendants, degenerate and more or less despicable, to-day. But the physical despotism exercised to which the Chinese were accustomed was nowhere more cordially hated than in Canton and the south generally. As early as the beginning of the seventeenth century the Triad secret society, virulently anti-Manchu, had been formed. And it must be confessed that the Cantonese had grounds for their rebellious feelings. They had held out longer than the rest of the country; and they had the best of the conquest with greater force. It was all the more galling that they had been vanquished by those who were certainly their inferiors in all but one quality, the fighting quality. The Chinese were morally superior, and intellectually far ahead. As time went on it was found that while the Chinese had to slave hard to pass examinations, the Manchu, ignorant and lazy, got his post by right of birth. The riches wrung from the south made their rulers lazier and lazier. Corruption followed; Chinese principles were violated in every direction; extortion led to tyranny, and tyranny to rebellion of the Taiping type.

To this day the anti-Manchu feeling has never been permitted to die out in Canton, this antagonism has militated not a little against the appointment of southern men to high posts. Comparison of the numbers taken from the various provinces will show that the south has been marked dangerous. All this naturally acts and reacts, and as the Cantonese and Fokienese are amongst the most capable men of China, the matter is one of grave import. But if Canton is wise, she will quietly bide her time. At present, judging from the informants at present, we are face to face with a rebellion only, and that not of first-rate importance. There is however, in progress one of the few, and that the most fundamental, of Chinese revolutions. It is making its way rapidly when judged by Chinese standards, but it will, as we sincerely hope it will be, it will prove to be of that evolutionary type with which we are familiar in British history, and will thus prove only a readjustment to suit a new environment. All who wish well to China should do their utmost to gain for her time and opportunity for this essential advance. With it her rise is sure. Without it her political destiny is doomed.

Chicago Judge Says Justice of Peace Had No Legal Right to Perform Marriage Ceremonies.

Chicago, June 7.—Municipal Judge Stewart threw consternation into thousands of new homes that have been created through the marriage parlor conducted in the county building by Justice of the Peace William Stacey of Evanston, who has been criticised in connection with child marriages and was ousted from the county building. INQUEST ON J. W. JONES

In the inquest held by Dr. Bapty, acting as coroner in the absence of Dr. Hart, on the body of James Warren Jones, who shot himself at Beacon Hill park on Tuesday afternoon, the jury returned a verdict of "suicide while in a fit of despondency."

In recording the decision Dr. Bapty strongly deprecated the action of the person who heard the shot and sent in the alarm to the police. This person, instead of rendering what assistance he could, held aloof from the dying man until the patrol arrived. There had been too much of that sort of thing in cases of this kind, like that, where people present at an accident simply waited around and looked on, until some one in authority came. Dr. Bapty recalled the case of the little girl who was drowned off Dallas road about a year ago, in shallow water, before the eyes of onlookers.

Joseph McCoy conducted services. There was a large attendance of friends. The pallbearers were: A. J. Abbott, E. A. Pepin, W. P. Beavan and G. H. Bryson.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Mary Machin took place from the Victoria Undertaking Parlor this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and half an hour later from St. Barnabas' church. Services were conducted by Rev. E. G. Miller. Interment was made in Ross Bay cemetery.

The grand jury this morning returned a true bill against Milo Vuckovitch, charged with shooting at a constable with intent to murder; against Dan Babich and Juras Vujovic on charges arising out of the Prince Rupert strike.

The horsemen among whom the trouble occurred, which was aired yesterday in the police court, have removed away from the Wilkes' track stables. The only horses stabled there now are those of the riding schools.

Sunday will be observed by the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World, throughout the United States and Canada, as Memorial Day. Members of the local homes are requested to meet at Ross Bay cemetery at 3 o'clock to decorate graves of departed members.

At noon the grand jury sent in to Mr. Justice Murphy a request for the attendance of Hon. Thomas Taylor, provincial minister of public works, or his deputy, by 10 a.m. to-morrow, in connection with fire-fighting facilities and protection of life at the provincial jail.

The business of the Victoria City Kennel Club's last show was wound up at the meeting held at Labor hall last night. The report of the committee in charge of this year's dog show was heard. About $4 profits was entered in the ledger. The question of holding a show in connection with the exhibition next fall was discussed, but no definite decision was reached.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, J. W. Craghead; vice-president, Reg. Hansen; secretary-treasurer, E. H. Hill; bench show committee, A. R. Ehs, D. B. McLaren, C. A. Goodwin, J. A. Robb, John Hammond, J. McIntosh and Dr. A. J. Garuscha.

G. T. P. AND CITY COME TO TERMS

Agreement With Prince Rupert Council Will Be Submitted to Ratepayers

Prince Rupert, B. C., June 8.—A feeling of optimism prevails to-day as a result of the city council's meeting with Grand Trunk Pacific's officials last night regarding the assessment question. Officials present were President Hays, General Manager Chamberlin, Solicitor D'Arcy Tate and others. The agreement which will be signed to-night by the council and on which the people will vote in ten days' time, follows: The company to pay $15,000 a year assessment for 10 years on all railway lands here, valued at several million dollars; give the city 100 feet water front, give the city a number of pieces of parks, etc.; give sixty acres for a cemetery site; agree to start work at once on $2,500,000 drydock and station, machines and car shops, roundhouse, etc., costing over $1,000,000; agree that this is to be the definite Pacific terminal of the G. T. P.; a hotel to cost $1,000,000 to be started as soon as the site is selected.

The plans of all these works are prepared and are here.

TWO BEATEN WHILE AT WORK

Vancouver, June 8.—Two men were roughly handled and badly beaten up this afternoon at 1:05 o'clock in an apartment house being built on 21st avenue, very close to the corner of Main street, in South Vancouver.

W. Paterson, foreman of construction, was attacked by five men and hit over the eye with a piece of wood by four scoundrels. The wound was serious enough to necessitate the putting in of eight stitches by Dr. Casselman, an apprentice, aged 18, was kicked and beaten until he was laid out.

The building is being erected by Contractor A. B. Beach and is just about finished. A number of men were working in different parts of the structure. Thirteen outsiders came to the building and entered one of the lower rooms where the foreman and the apprentice were working. These two were attacked and beaten. The assailants had departed before the other men on the job knew what had happened.

OFFICER EXONERATED

Charged With Lying to Obtain Motor Conviction—Accusation Falls to Stick.

"And he could not tell a lie." Accused of it he was found guiltless. The person referred to is Sergeant Decker of the local police force, who was called before the police commissioners yesterday afternoon to answer a charge of fabricating in order to obtain a conviction for reckless motor driving against Herbert Cuthbert, who laid the charge. Mayor Marley and Ald. H. M. Fullerton, after hearing the case, exonerated the sergeant from any such act or intention, and that of course ended the matter.

Mr. Cuthbert did not like Beckton overmuch because of the latter's estimate of the former's speeding proclivities. On the occasion of his last appearance he accused the officer of lying in his evidence. As there was a doubt of reasonable proportions existing in the mind of the magistrate the accused was not convicted, but as he declined to withdraw his assertion against the officer's veracity the matter had to come before the commissioners for judgment.

Neither of the parties gave an inch at the hearing, but in view of the fact that the case had been tried in court and dismissed, the commissioners could not come to any other conclusion than to accept the verdict of doubt. As that was totally insufficient to associate any vindictive intention with the evidence of the officer the commissioners had no alternative but to exonerate him.

EGG-LAYING CONTEST

One Likely to Be Tried at Next Victoria Fair.

The principal question discussed at the monthly meeting of the Victoria Poultry Association last night was that of the advisability and possibility of holding an egg-laying contest open to poultrymen of British Columbia and Southern Vancouver Island in particular. The value of such a competition can hardly be over-stated.

The scheme, which has been tried with great success in the United States, Australia and some parts of Canada, has been much appreciated here, and it will be tried next October at the Provincial Exhibition. The B. C. Agricultural Association has promised its support to the proposition and it was decided to seek that of the provincial government.

The contest will be held at the Exhibition grounds, where modern poultry houses will be erected and placed in the charge of a competent man. Further particulars will be given later.

It was decided to recommend T. W. Edwards for judge of the poultry exhibit at the provincial fair next September.

The next meeting of the association will be held on the first Wednesday of the month as usual. The very important question of raising the entry fees for the association's shows will be taken up and a full attendance is requested. At next meeting also an address will be given by Mr. Terry, government poultry lecturer.

RECEIVED BY THE POPE

Roma, June 8.—The pope to-day gave a private audience to the Most Rev. John Baptist Pilavai, archbishop of Santa Fe.

MEXICAN TOWNS WRECKED BY QUAKE

THOUSANDS OF PERSONS ARE HOMELESS—CASUALTIES IN THE CAPITAL

Guadalajara, Mexico, June 8.—The volcano Colima became active yesterday when the earthquake shocks were felt and to-day in emitting smoke and lava. The towns of Tonila and San Andres were badly damaged by the disturbance, parts of them being destroyed. A relief train has been sent from here.

Many Victims

Mexico City, June 8.—Dispatches from Tuxpan, a few miles east of the volcano Colima in the southern part of the state of Jalisco, say that Zapotlan suffered severely from yesterday's earthquakes. The number of victims is said to be large. A church and a number of houses were thrown down and other dwelling places rendered unsafe. Thousands of persons are homeless.

The dispatch states that the centre of disturbance was the volcano Colima which has become active. The towns of Tonila and Pitanand, situated near the volcano, have been damaged.

The volcano Colima reported to have been the centre of the seismic disturbance in Mexico yesterday is one of the most troublesome of the Mexican volcanoes. It is situated in the southern part of the state of Jalisco and is 12,728 feet high. History mentions violent eruptions dating back to the sixteenth century. Since the summer of 1869 the volcano, with the exception of a few brief periods of quiescence has been in a disturbed state. The eruptions of 1869 produced a strong earthquake which did much damage.

Death Roll in Capital

Mexico City, June 8.—So far the death toll as the result of yesterday's disastrous earthquake has been established at sixty-three souls, but it is believed that a more complete search of the ruins will increase this number considerably. Seventy-five are known to be injured, and this list also undoubtedly will be increased when the full details are known. The loss to property is estimated at $50,000,000. No property of Americans was damaged.

More than half of the dead are soldiers, the worst effects of the shock being felt in that section of the city near the Mexican Central station, where also stood the artillery barracks. In the barracks where the soldiers were killed, twelve women also lost their lives. They were the wives of artillerymen. These women have been provided with shelter in the walls within the barracks.

The other victims were principally those whose homes were in cheaply built houses, shacks, in most cases, whose walls had little power of resistance.

VANCOUVER LIBERALS

J. H. Senkler Will Probably Be Elected President of Association.

Vancouver, June 8.—That J. H. Senkler, president of the Vancouver Liberal Association, will, at the annual meeting of the organization to-night, be elected to succeed himself in that office, is a statement circulating to-day among the workers of the party. It is also prophesied that S. L. Prentor, secretary of the association, will be induced to continue in that office.

It is stated that a resolution will probably be offered urging that the provincial executive of the party call a provincial convention at an early date so that the organization may be perfected in view of the possibility of a general election taking place in the fall.

Besides Messrs. Senkler and Prentor, the present officers of the association are: Robt. Kelly, treasurer; James Stables, first vice-president; Messrs. Geo. E. McCrossan, George E. McDonald and William Hickey, vice-presidents. It is declared that Mr. Kelly will refuse nomination for the treasurer position on account of pressure of his private business affairs.

WARM IN KANSAS

Topeka, Kan., June 8.—All heat records were broken here to-day. The mercury reached 100 degrees at 2 p. m., and the heat is increasing. This is three degrees hotter than it was last week.

TRIAL OF SAILOR

Hutchinson, Kas., June 8.—The thermometer registered 100 degrees here at 2 p. m., the highest June temperature here in many years.

Tokio, June 8.—Following exchanges between the American embassy and the foreign office, it has been decided that a local Japanese court shall try John E. Atkins, a sailor of the American cruiser Saratoga, who fatally wounded John L. Saunders, a blue-jacket from the New Orleans, during a fight at the American naval hospital in Yokohama last Sunday. There has been a question of jurisdiction on theory that the hospital was on American territory and accordingly the case was one for court martial. American compliance with the view of the Japanese government in the matter is appreciated.

J. M. Wood, of the Wood Motor Co., is leaving by the Princess Charlotte to-day for the east. While away he will visit the Chalmers, Ford and Winton factories, which he represents here. Mr. Wood will also look into the automobile industry in particular.

FARMER SEEKS TO RECOVER MONEY

Defrauded of Cash and Farms by Former Fiancee and Her Brother

Chicago, June 8.—Thomas Foulkes, of Danbury, Iowa, the wealthy farmer who has been prosecuting his former fiancee, Miss Lodavine Miller, and her brother, Attorney J. Marcon Miller, on charges of defrauding him of $11,812 and two farms, won his case in the criminal court to-day. A jury returned a verdict of guilty against the girl and her brother.

Foulkes told a remarkable tale of what he characterized as a "financial wooling." He said he bought kases and dresses from the object of his affections with loans of from $50 to $300, and after he had lost the amount of money named in his suit and after his two farms had followed the money, his charmer advised him to go to California, read the Bible constantly and marry a widow. He added that it took him six years to discover that his affections were not returned. The attorney, her brother, was accused of being the one who planned the alleged ridd on Foulkes' heart and purse.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING

Louisville, Ky., June 8.—As the result of a mysterious shooting on the Shelbyville Pike, a few miles out of the city last night, Thomas O. West, treasurer and secretary of a local life and accident insurance company, is under arrest to-day charged with malicious shooting and wounding. Miss Hattie Wetherby is in a hospital probably fatally wounded.

Miss Wetherby was driving home with an escort last night when a man's voice demanded, "Give me back my ring." An instant later there was a shot fired and Miss Wetherby jumped from the buggy, staggered in the road and fell. The bullet entered the right hip. West was arrested early to-day following his return from an automobile ride. He denies having shot Miss Wetherby.

RICKARDS OFFER

Will Offer $50,000 for Johnson to Fight Two Men in Same Afternoon For World's Championship.

San Francisco, Cal., June 8.—Information was received here to-day in a letter from G. L. Rickard, who is now in Buenos Ayres, that Rickard, who was the promoter of the Johnson-Jeffries fight in Reno July 4th, will offer a purse of $50,000 for Jack Johnson to fight any two men in the world the same afternoon for the world's championship. Rickard declares that Johnson can defeat any two men in the world, one after the other.

"All I ask," he writes, "is that Johnson be given a rest of fifteen minutes after disposing of the first adversary. The fighters would be taken on by Jack in the order mutually agreed upon. I do not care who they are. Jack Johnson can beat both in the same ring the same afternoon and with only fifteen minutes rest between the bouts."

CHOLERA IN VENICE

Number of Deaths Have Been Reported—Flight From City.

Vienna, June 8.—News of a cholera scare in Venice has just been received here in a letter. The epidemic had its beginning in a large laundry that had taken a batch of linen from a steamship from Asiatic ports. An old washer-woman died in the laundry while at work, and within a few days reports say, the infection had spread to many homes to which linen from the laundry had been delivered. There are not less than 25 separate districts in which the disease is raging, and up to the time of mailing the letter fourteen deaths had been recorded. Fear is widespread and patriots are fleeing from Venice for their country seats by the hundreds, while tourists are getting out of the city by trainloads.

THE RECIPROCITY BILL

Ottawa, June 8.—Hon. Wm. Paterson says that the acceptance by the finance committee at Washington of the Reciprocity amendment will not endanger the reciprocity agreement. The Reciprocity bill is practically the same as the Canadian interpretation of the pulp and paper clause; therefore there will be no objection on the part of Canada.

EDDY MILLS MAY BE SOLD

Ottawa, June 8.—That the great Eddy industries at Chaudiere are being sold was reported last night in Ottawa. J. H. Rowley, of the Eddy company, has just returned from a trip to the old country and the report is that his mission was a business one, having for its object the disposal of the Eddy works to an English syndicate. It is understood the deal has been practically completed. The industries were founded by the late Ezra Butler Eddy many years ago and to-day represent millions. Most of the mills were destroyed in the great Ottawa fire, but were at once rebuilt.

WOUNDED MAN MAY RECOVER

New York, June 8.—The condition of W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire proprietor of the Hotel Ansonia, and wide-known horseman, who was shot last night by two young women in their apartments, to-day was such that the physicians say he will likely recover. The young women, Lillian Graham, an actress, and Ethel Conrad, an illustration, were charged with the shooting. They were taken to police headquarters this morning on the verge of collapse. Three Japanese servants in the apartment house in West Eighty-ninth street, where Stokes was shot, are held as witnesses. Miss Graham and Miss Conrad will be arraigned in court later and held to await the result of Mr. Stokes' condition.

BIG REVIEW

Nearly One Hundred Thousand Sunday School Scholars March Past President Tait.

New York, June 8.—From a stand in Prospect Park President Tait this afternoon reviewed nearly 100,000 Sunday school scholars as they marched past him in the annual parade of the Brooklyn Sunday School Union. He was the guest of the Sunday School Union at a luncheon served at the University Club. The president enjoyed his luncheon in spite of an unexpected accident which necessitated bringing him a fresh plate of soup. The four-year old grandson of Wm. Berrie, the host at the Union League club, wanted to give the president a programme and to elevate him to the level of the guest of honor, some one stood the child on the table. Just then a waiter put a plate of soup in front of the president and the youngster, advancing to deliver the programme, set his foot squarely in the middle of the hot soup platter. The president's waistcoat was splashed, but vigorous application of a napkin partly repaired the damage and the president comforted the child, who was overcome by the disaster.

SLASHES THROAT WITH RAZOR

Centra, Wash., June 8.—Rushing wildly into the barber shop of Silas Parrott in Centra, L. Miller, a Chehalis barber, seized a razor and inflicted a wound on his throat as he fled. He was summoned to the hospital and was hurriedly got 12 stitches in the wound, barely in time to save his life. Miller was taken to a hospital where he has now a fighting chance for his life.

WILL ASSUME DUTIES

Juarez, Mexico, June 8.—Abram Gonzales, provisional governor of Chihuahua, to-day announced definitely that he and his staff would leave to-morrow morning for the capital of the state.

Originally it had been intended that Governor Gonzales should remain away until Chihuahua had been evacuated by the federal troops. But the troops are still in the city and 5,000 insurgents under General Orozco are just outside, waiting to enter with Governor Gonzales.

Early this morning the steamer Tiverton reached the outer wharf from San Francisco with a cargo of 10,000 sacks of cement. She will proceed to the Sound after discharging.

HOUSEWARMING AT NEW Y.W.C.A. HOME

Pleasant Function Held in the Courtney Street Building To Mark Opening

A very pleasant function was held by the ladies of the Y. W. C. A. in their new home on Courtney street yesterday, when an at-home was given in honor of those who have assisted in financing the present quarters of the organization.

Although really the formal opening there were no formalities whatever attached to the occasion. Those invited, of whom there were quite a large number, inspected the rooms, enjoyed a pleasant musical program and were served refreshments in the rest room. Mrs. Oscar McMicking, Mrs. D. C. Reid, Mrs. A. J. Brace, Mrs. Hallward, the Misses Adams, Marvin and Mary, J. G. Brown and George McDougall rendered songs, all of which were received with appreciation. The reception committee, Mrs. Edwin, Mrs. Forman, Mrs. Scates and Mrs. Bromley Jubbe, were assiduous in their efforts to make the occasion an enjoyable one and to arouse the interest of the visitors in the work which is being carried on. The president, Mrs. Adams, was at the head of affairs.

Although the new building has only been in use for some four or five months the ladies are already finding it conducive to the carrying on of the work in all its branches, and have on several occasions been forced to turn girls away. In consequence of this it is not improbable that in the near future a larger building will be secured. The present quarters comprise 20 bed rooms, a drawing room, dining room, rest room and kitchen.

THE PASSING SHOW

New Grand Theatre.
The Empress-Grand patrons this week are enjoying a rare and pleasing exhibition of mankind acting in Barnard's manikins, wherein are a dozen people-mankins, for human beings, a mankin donkey, a snake, a fowl, an automobile and many other things, all working all the time to produce fun.

The crowded state of the theatre testifies the popularity of the show this week, and Port Young is one of the bright attractions, making a decided hit with her piano-playing and rag-time singing act. George and Marie Wilson sing and act a real old colonial garden scene, with many different musical instruments used and concealed in the flower beds. Bliss and Bloss offer up a dancing-dish of excellent flavor.

Cecilia Whitman, the heroine of "Frosh From College," has the audience under the spell of her eyes, while Gordon Walton and Paul Case assist her in the progress of the playlet.

THE ADVANCE MAN

Sothorn and Marlowe.
The coming Sothorn-Marlowe Shakespearean performance of "Romeo and Juliet" at the Victoria theatre on Monday, June 12, is the centre of attention of theatre-goers. These two eminent artists, who occupy on the American stage the same position as did Hading and Coquelin in France, and Irving and Terry in England, bring here their massive new production of Shakespeare's most popular play; and the opportunity to see Miss Marlowe, who is known as the greatest "Juliet" on the English-speaking stage, and Mr. Sothorn, whose fame in romantic roles has made it possible for him to be an ideal Romeo, will be taken keen advantage of by theatre-goers.

Sothorn and Marlowe bring here their massive production of "Romeo and Juliet," and their supporting organization intact. Their present tour of this season partakes of a dramatic carnival. It is, without question, the foremost dramatic event of the American stage. Their large supporting organization contains many names long connected with both Mr. Sothorn and Miss Marlowe. This is promised to rank as the most important presentation of Shakespearean works given in recent years in this country. The special scenic investiture fills the space of seven baggage cars, and eleven cars are required to transport the company and scenic effects.

The company includes Frederick Lewis, Rowland Buckstone, William Harris, Malcolm Bradley, Sidney Mather, Nora Lambson, Alma Kruger, Lenore Chippendale and others, numbering in all nearly 100 members.

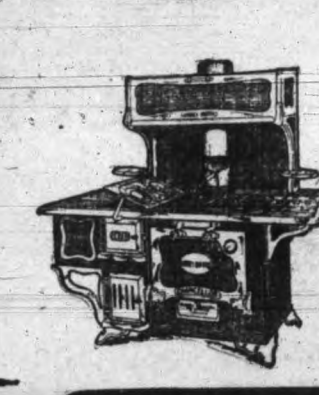

Archaeologists have decided that the oldest dwelling inhabited is a mansion belonging to Count Matuschke, at Wintel-on-the-Rhine, Germany, which was built in 700 A. D.
