

THEATRE CAUSES HOTEL DELAY SAYS TREMAIN

Declares He Hopes to Have Force of Men at Work Soon

The East Glendale Advancement association learned yesterday from the builder, Mr. Tremain, that one of the causes of the delay in starting the work of building the hotel was the decision to build a theatre in connection with it.

Mr. Tremain said he hoped to have a force of men at work on the hotel site in the near future.

"One of the things which has kept us back," said he, "is our decision to build a theatre. We have been undecided whether to put it on the Glendale avenue or Broadway side. The majority favored Broadway, but that would involve the buying of another piece of land. We will know today whether we are going to do that or not. We cannot get any farther with the papers until that is decided, on account of the way the deed will read. If built on the north end of the site on Glendale avenue the theatre would be 60 by 130 feet and would seat approximately 1156 persons, with one balcony. On the Broadway side it would be 81 by 110 feet, and would have a little larger seating capacity.

"The specifications should be completed tonight, and I hope to have plans and elevations of the building to leave with Mr. Ingledue tomorrow.

"There has been a little difference of opinion about the entrance to the main floor, and the ballroom and dining room. The kitchen is between the two. We would like to make it possible for them to be thrown together as one large room. Except for this, I think the plans are quite complete.

"To me and my associates, the financial outlook and the question whether it will pay or not, looks brighter every day. I like it better every time I come. There is no question but what there is an opening and demand for this hotel, and it is going to be a very nice property, right up to the minute. It would not take much, if someone would encourage me, to make it a little bigger. While the shops may look small to you on the plans, the footage is there, with hollow tile walls, so one can have a large or a small store."

Mr. Perch reported on Mr. Yard's petition for the Broadway extension, to be presented to the city council. City Manager Reeves said three members of the Los Angeles city government had visited Glendale Tuesday, viz., the secretary of the city planning commission and members of the city attorney's and city engineer's offices. In describing the interview he said:

"They seemed very fair-minded about it, and said they would be glad to use their influence to get that bridge across the Los Angeles river located at the point where the city of Glendale wants it. They stated they expected the county to contribute liberally, and if we would take care of the approaches in our territory, they indicated we would not be asked for anything more. They say it is the policy of the city of Los Angeles to abolish grade crossings as far as possible, and it might be that they would try to get an underground viaduct to pass under the San Fernando road and Southern Pacific tracks, and would have to ask our cooperation in making that crossing safe, since they could not spend Los Angeles money in Glendale territory. I assured them I thought the city would be glad to cooperate."

Mr. Stanley reported the work of the membership committee was thriving, and that Mr. Perch had secured over 23. For himself, Mr. Perch reported an association membership of 147, all paid.

A. BURLINGAME JOHNSON TELLS OF LEGISLATURE

Gov. Stephens Not Responsible for Expenditures of State, He Says

A. Burlingame Johnson, Republican candidate for state senator, spoke at the Cleveland school at Pasadena last evening. William Easterbrook acted as chairman.

Mr. Johnson began by giving his audience a glimpse of the working of a legislative body in Sacramento; how many men elected to both senate and assembly serve their entire term without ever leaving an imprint upon any constructive law; never actually become a factor to be reckoned with as a force to direct the shaping of economic laws, or even a menace to those who seek to enact unwise and burdensome measures. A majority in the legislature, he said, serve their term without having earned the distinction of being even listed for good or evil. They simply vote when the time comes to vote. They do not conceive or champion constructive measures and really only learn of measures by perfunctorily reading the some progress, but slow.

Secretary Nelson urged additional subscriptions to the hotel, to take care of shrinkage, and urged subscribers to come in without delay and make their 40 per cent settlements, so there would be no delay in the escrow.

The meeting closed with a warm invitation from Carrier Hunt to attend the letter carriers' picnic, a week from Saturday, promising a fine program, and a number of the guests present took tickets. It will be held at the new city park.

comes up on the third reading.

"What California needs is responsibility in the legislature. Send men of action, men fitted for the work, then hold them responsible for the bills passed. I have little patience with those who blame the governor for all the extravagance of the recent years, or for the fact that our state taxes exceed those of any state in the Union.

"The legislature must bear a large share of that blame. So long as the legislature passes bills carrying millions of dollars for ill-advised and ill digested measures and sends them up to the governor and presses for their approval, just so long will our burden of taxation increase. Even as it is, the governor vetoes millions of dollars carried in these bills. These matters cannot be tightened unless active, competent, aggressive men are sent to the legislature.

"The place to remedy these evils and the way to strike at the increasing burdens is in the nominating primaries. Pick your men and nominate men who will have some show when pitted against the sharks and reckless, irresponsible element which fathers such burdensome legislation.

"What is the use of sending a man to the state senate unless he is aggressive and a scrapper? Unless you know his record and his life work, fits him for the contest. The office is no sinecure. The duties are such that the line of demarcation between those fitted and those who are not, however honest their intentions, is so clear and patent to everyone that it is not difficult to make a choice.

"The moral issues in this campaign are the same as those which have engaged the voter's attention for more than a decade. On these issues I take it there is no choice between myself and my opponent. My record in the legislature is exactly the same as my opponent on every moral issue. I challenge anyone to find a single instance where I have not voted on every such issue, including anti-labor legislation, just as my opponent

MOORE'S SUCCESS IS CERTAIN SAYS MRS. PORTER

Addresses Meeting at Home of Mrs. Ella Richardson

One of the best talks given at the series of "Moore-for senator" afternoons, was made by Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, a leader in club and political circles. It was given at the home of Mrs. Ella Richardson, 317 North Brand, Thursday afternoon. The talk was quite informal.

She explained how Mr. Moore had been practically forced to become a candidate by a group of men who felt California is not properly represented by the present incumbent, and a new candidate must be put into the field if only for the sake of protest.

She indicated that the hope with which the campaign had started, had developed into the confident certainty of Mr. Moore's nomination at the primaries, declaring he has great strength in the country districts, where so large a proportion of the vote is polled. In Long Beach, Pasadena and San Diego he is expected to win 2 to 1, and to carry Los Angeles by big major-has voted, during his term in the legislature, I will continue that course. I will favor law enforcement legislation, including the Eighteenth amendment. That done, the remaining nine-tenths of the legislative session I will devote to the task of helping to draft and pass bills for economy and progressive measures.

"This is my conception of the duties of the office I seek. It is for the voters to say whether, or another is to be chosen for that work."

ities, provided the vote is gotten out. That, she indicated, is the important thing.

Attempts to persuade voters within a week of the election are practically useless, she thought. By that time they have made up their minds for whom they wish to cast their ballots, although it is sometimes possible to remove prejudices.

From her personal experience she recommended the candidate as genial, affable and high-minded, with a great deal of executive ability as proved by his superb management of the San Francisco exposition at the trying period when we were on the verge of war.

She referred to her former championship of Senator Johnson during his fine administration as governor, but said he claimed credit for reform legislation which was due in no small part to his party associates and the public demand.

She expressed her disappointment in his record in the senate, and his disposition to earn money professionally outside of his salary as senator in order to live in a more expensive manner than his salary justifies, thus creating suspicion in the minds of his constituents.

She also commented adversely on the tactics of the "obstructionist camp" in the senate, of which Johnson is a member, and which includes Senators Reed, La Follette and Borah, declaring that the times are very critical. She has withdrawn her support, she said, because she considers Senator Johnson's record is not in conformity to the progressive and forward-looking vision of the great state of California.

MR. KIRCHOFER TO STAGE COMMUNITY SING

To Be Held Monday Evening at Union High School

Prof. Hugo Kirchofer of Hollywood, a wonderful chorus leader, who is a great favorite in Glendale, will be here next Monday night to lead in community singing at a meeting of the "Jones-for-Governor club," to be held in the high school and to be addressed by Mattison B. Jones.

Mr. Kirchofer conducted a wonderful successful community chorus in this city the winter of 1919, until it was wrecked, as were so many enterprises by the influenza epidemic, when all meetings were forbidden.

His many friends will be glad to know he is to participate in a meeting of such interest to Glendaleans as this will be, the last time in all probability that Mr. Jones will be heard here before the primary election which will determine his candidacy for the governor's chair.

FORTY RUSSIANS SEEK EDUCATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—Forty young Russian students, including six women, have come to America to secure an education as ammunition with which to route the Bolshevik armies and establish a government on the American plan.

They were recently guests of the University of California, where a special reception was held in their honor. A large number of them will enter California this fall, it is said. Most of them will work their way through college.

Most of the men were formerly students in Central Russia, and later soldiers or officers in the anti-Bolshevik armies.

DISTINGUISHED VETS PLAY FOR C. C. MOORE

Fife and Drum Corps of Rallies Has Proud Records in War

By PAUL VISSMAN The veterans of the Civil war are lining up in the ranks of the supporters of C. C. Moore in the race for the republican nomination for senator.

They are playing at Moore rallies throughout the southland. Yesterday afternoon they stopped at the headquarters of the Moore-for-Senator club of Glendale and played many of the old-time marches and war songs.

The four old veterans in the drum and fife corps have histories that excel the latest fiction for thrills and the best part of their stories are that they are true.

W. D. Palmer, who is 74 years old, enlisted with the Union army when he was 14 years old. He was too young to shoulder a musket, so he enlisted as a drummer-boy.

After four months' service he was made drum-major for the Tenth Minnesota regiment. He was with Grant at Vicksburg and led the drums in the advance. He entered the service with Admiral Farragut.

He was a printer's apprentice when he entered the army and was one of the staff chosen to get out an issue of the Vicksburg paper, telling of the Yankee victory there.

After leaving the army, Mr. Palmer entered the newspaper game and has attended many of the political gatherings that have marked epochs of American history as a reporter.

For 40 years he was connected with the Portland Oregonian, one of the leading newspapers of the west.

F. Reiterman, another member of the corps, is 76 years old. He was with Sherman on his march to the sea.

E. L. Holt, the oldest of the four veterans, is 80 years old. He served with the Union forces during the Civil war under General George H. Thomas in the army of the Tennessee.

When they started playing yesterday afternoon in front of the Moore headquarters, quite a crowd gathered. The majority of the

WOMAN'S PERSONALITY IS REFLECTED BY THE CLOTHING SHE WEARS

Prim Dame of Ancient Days Was So Because She Was Ribbed in With Whalebone and Steel and She Could Not Bend

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—People who think that women are undergoing a devastating change in manners and morals need not place the blame on the ballot box, the cigarette or the fact that women are doing work that in olden days was accomplished only by men.

Women of today are as care-free as their clothing permits them to be. They wear little or no support about the waist. Their necks are bare; their trim ankles unhampered by layers of starched petticoats.

Is it any wonder that we feel like cavorting about with the one step or the tangle foot? How can a girl act with the propriety of her grandmother in one of the sleazy, clinging, slip-off gowns of today? It's the gown that changes her.

There is one thing that you cannot ask the shirtwaist salesman nowadays, and that is, "How's the business?" One of the most widely known men of the business says that the shirtwaist salesman will soon be classed with other birds that are extinct.

The fall silhouette will not be greatly varied from the silhouette of the present. Skirts will be longer for street and evening wear, although sport skirts show no desire to be lengthened.

THE INDISPENSABILITY OF PLAY

By H. ADDINGTON BRUCE Author of "The Riddle of Personality," "Self-Development," Etc. (Copyright, 1922, by The Associated Newspapers.)

There still are many, far too many, people who do not appreciate the indispensability of play. Day after day they give themselves to work, even on holiday and perhaps on Sundays, too. They deny themselves vacations, or, if they do take vacations, carry along some work as a means of filling in time which ought to be devoted to diversion. Nor is the folly of their course lessened by the fact that they may thus refrain from play for years seemingly without ill effects.

"I can do little for you until you learn to play, taking real vacations yearly and daily giving yourself some amount of true diversion. That diversion will be all the more helpful to you if, in part at all events, it is taken in the form of some pleasurable outdoor activity. But if you have no interest in, and feel that you cannot work up an interest in, such outdoor play as may be had through golf or tennis or horseback riding, you certainly can at least acquire some hobby that will give your mind the diversion it must have."

"Play is a necessity to everybody as an aid in physical hygiene, as a means of providing a change in mental occupation, and, not least, as a device for temporarily freeing one's self from the tension imposed by the problems and duties of one's occupational existence."

"No matter how much a man may enjoy his work, so that that work itself seems as play to him, its exactness and the desire to excel in it keep his mind in a state of tension. This tension must from time to time be relieved, and there is nothing quite like play to relieve it."

"If it is not relieved, a breakdown is bound to come soon or late. In mild cases it takes the form of a general nervousness. In extreme cases it may involve loss of mental elasticity, loss of mental poise, and even loss of sanity itself."

In the contrary it needs a little more room for expansion and display, as anyone can discover who steps in and sees what full lines it carries. In children's clothing, for example, in romper styles, it has a wonderful variety of pretty things. It rather caters to juveniles and has a nice line of children's hats.

Evening bags in brilliant colors are becoming a part of the costume of midday if she is a woman of fashion, in the gay whirl of society. They are made of chiffon velvet and velvet brocade on chiffon, with silver filagree tops, studded with stones.

Discussion is rife in the east over the long skirt, says Mrs. Earl Pendroy, who has just returned from a business trip to New York city and Chicago; nevertheless it is here to stay. She is convinced of that. She says:

"New York women are wearing them in some instances down to the ground, and in that climate it means more discomfort than here, for it rained every day I was in New York, real, severe electrical storms, too; and I had no umbrella with me—but I managed to dodge showers, and didn't get caught once."

"The new coats are very pretty, very dressy and made of beautiful materials. The majority are fur trimmed and have a luxurious look. The length is a matter of taste, running from short to extra long, but the medium length worn last winter seems to be the favorite."

"In suit coats considerable variation is allowed. There is the Russian jacket, the lower line of which rests on the hips. The general trend seems to be towards jackets a little longer than the spring models, with some extremely long."

"Hats, like the coats, are very beautiful, with the large hat leading for dress occasions. For women who cannot wear them, the Russian turban adorned with embroidery in the Balkan shades, is a close second."

The handbag of the moment is of velvet calf in the new grains known as willow and wood. They are linked up with the popular colors and come in grays, browns and suggestions of orchid and taupe. The fine calf leather is also well to the fore in a little higher coloring—purple, lavender, and French blue, as well as the grays and tans. The mirrors are larger and more obvious.

SPINACH A LA BECHAMEL
Wash the spinach in several waters, and cook in covered vessel with as little water as possible. Drain, chop fine and season. Return to the saucepan and add tablespoon of butter to the pint of greens, then add one beaten yolk of egg and one-third cup of cream, cook slowly until well blended and the eggs have been cooked.

ROYAL PRINCESSES ADVERTISE FOR HUSBYS

Two royal princesses, sisters, 23 and 26, have advertised for husbands, either English or American, who must be young, wealthy and handsome, and who mustn't be upstarts or new rich. The princesses are accomplished, but very poor. The gentlemen must give particulars in writing before a meeting can be arranged. This advertisement actually appeared in Swiss and Austrian papers. Archduchesses Margaret and Maria Antonia, daughters of Archduke Leopold Salvator of Austria, inserted it. They were living in the palace at Barcelona, Spain, and their father restricted their actions, trying to make them live a life becoming those of "exalted birth." They finally ran away and went to work.

FEATHERS ARE LAVISHLY USED ON FALL HATS

Scarfs and Bags Match Sport Hats and Navajo Embroidery, Popular

At the preliminary showings of millinery jobbers of the middle west, metal effects were very much in evidence, with feathers lavishly used. The new colors being emphasized are Chinese blue, bitter-sweet, blue spruce and chestnut.

Some of the eastern milliners who specialize on sport hats, are showing them ornamented with Navajo embroideries to match the sweaters which have had such popularity with fashion leaders among the movie actresses. The embroideries are of yarn on duvety, velvet and felt hats, and some of the hats are sold with scarfs and bags to match.

A striking model which attracted considerable attention at one of the eastern showings was of the new shade of almond green velvet, a toque fronted with a small visor, plain in front and pulled into wide points on each side at the back, to produce a square back and three-quarter effect.

CRYSTAL BEADS CONTINUE IN HIGH FAVOR

Odd Necklaces and Luck Emblems Are Much in Vogue

There seems to be no diminution in the vogue for crystal beads, particularly with rondels of color between each bead. Considerable jade color is being used in necklaces of this sort in which the graduated cut bead is employed. Odd necklaces with beads of unusual shape and luck emblems are also quite a fad.

Earrings are said to have a greater vogue than ever, the favorites being the long types in tassel effects, though the more the ear emerges from its long seclusion the shorter will be the pendant earrings. Semi-precious stones are being used, sometimes in quite brilliant combinations.

HOW THE KANNERS CAME TO GLENDALE

The coming to Glendale of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kanner, who opened the Brand Department store last May, reads like a romance. They had lived in New York City practically all their lives and had been engaged in the dry goods business, both wholesale and retail there. Along came some of their friends with tales of the blue skies of California and her all summer climate, perhaps at a time when they were having a struggle to keep warm, and they said: "Let's see for ourselves." So Mr. Kanner came to Los Angeles, last January, heard about the wonderful growth of Glendale, came to visit her, liked her looks, and arranged to have a store built for him which he is now occupying at 233-35 North Brand. As it is hardly enough for a man of his energies, he has also established a store on Hollywood boulevard, in Hollywood.

In coming to Los Angeles he brought wholesale stock from his New York store and that, he says, is the reason why he has been able to offer Glendaleans such bargains, particularly in ready-to-wear clothing for women, in which he specializes. He has left buyers in New York and has shipments now on the way which include some very attractive models in silk, chanton crepe and wool dresses in the long skirted models, some of which are draped. Though the skirts are narrow they can hardly be called sheath gowns, Mrs. Kanner says.

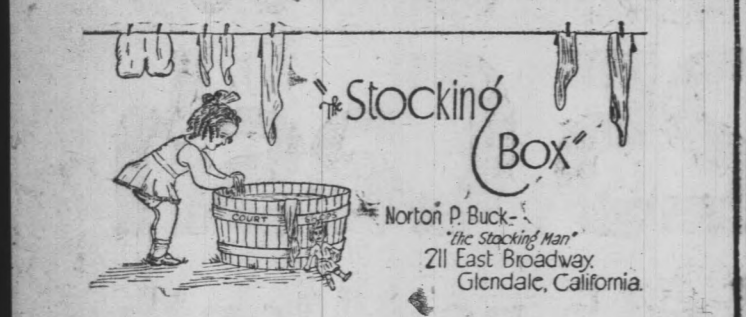

While the store specializes in these things, it also carries a full line of cotton yardage, blankets, men's furnishings, etc. and is a real establishment.

ARTISTRY OF NEW MILLINERY

Glendale's new milliner, Mrs. Josephine des Mazes, demonstrated that she is an artist who knows her business when she placed a single and most "fetching" turban in her window with nothing to distract attention from it. She is associated with Alice White Anderson in the La Pacific Shop, in the new series of Court Shops at 211 East Broadway, and is her own designer. Metallic cloth is in vogue at present and this hat displays the popular material to excellent advantage. Among the new shades which she says will be much worn in fall millinery are "Canna" which is an orange shade, and the new "Bittersweet" which is a light or yellowish shade of brown and not the red of the bittersweet berry. The smartest hats at the present time are the draped ones, and toques and turbans seem to be favorites with midday.

FROZEN BERRIES ARE DELICIOUS

Here's a little tip to the housewife who might like to surprise the family tonight with a dessert that's most delicious and at the same time very easily made. You can invent your own name for it, but here's the method: Wash and carefully hull a quart of strawberries or blackberries, mash to a pulp, add half a cup of sugar and the juice of half a lemon. Mix thoroughly and freeze. If you have no ice cream freezer a simple way is to put in a baking powder can and pack in cracked ice and salt. (Three parts of ice to one part salt.) This will do the work.

THIS DESSERT IS POPULAR

Some men who have tried this frozen dainty say it has a little "kick." Others say it hasn't. But whether it has or not, they all say it's delicious. Here's the recipe: One quart of cider, one cupful orange juice, one-quarter cupful lemon juice, one and one-half cups sugar. Dissolve the sugar in the cider, add the fruit juices, and freeze. If you have no freezer, put in baking powder can and pack with cracked ice and salt for two hours. (Use three parts cracked ice to one part salt.)

ICE MAN GAMBLES ON WEATHER

He Must Create Reserve Supply and Guess on Summer Weather

Most people know that farmers have to gamble to a certain extent on the weather, but few people realize that the ice industry, as represented by thousands of plants in towns and cities all over the country, is the greatest weather gambler of them all. The ice manufacturers are simply forced to make a regular annual guess on the weather, and in order to be on the safe side they've got to guess that every summer will be long and hot. Here is why: The iceman knows it will be better to have more ice than he can sell than to have too little. So during the winter months, when sales are small, he is spending his money to manufacture and store a supply of ice that he must be sure is sufficient to carry him through the summer, with a safe margin to spare. He is forced to gamble on a hot summer. If it turns out cool, he is the loser through over-storage. His patrons usually know nothing of this winter planning, investment and overhead expense that is required to enable the iceman to meet the urgent summer needs of his community. There is no chance for the iceman to use his own judgment. Bitter experience has taught him that the public cares little for reasons when an ice shortage occurs. The public doesn't want to know how it happened. They're only interested in—and disgusted by—the fact that it did happen. Frankly, the iceman feels that he is given little credit by the public for the 12 months' investment he makes in plant, equipment, men and surplus storage, in order to protect the public's health and comfort during a few months of hot weather.

Remember that it is impossible for the plants in any city to produce daily all the ice that will be called for during the hot season. This is the time when many calls are made on that reserve supply that is built up during the winter months. And the iceman knows he must have this reserve supply, so the community will not suffer on hot days, when food spoils so easily, when children and the sick positively must have ice, and plenty of it. Although at present there is comparatively little ice used during the winter months, the time is not far distant, according to physicians and health experts, when intelligent people will demand ice in winter as well as in summer. They point out that it is necessary to protect the purity of food in winter as well as in summer, and that people are rapidly learning it is dangerous to take a chance on open-air "coolers" and other places where all the impurities of the air can contaminate food.

Doctors and domestic science experts are as one in declaring that the only proper protection of food is refrigeration, the purifying process of cold air circulation constantly maintained in a well-filled refrigerator. Only ice can protect food, because only ice can give this even, constant circulation of purifying air currents.

POTERY AND LAMPS FEATURE GIFT SHOP

The two young women who have established the beautiful little gift shop, known as No. 12, in the Court Shops at 211 Broadway, have at last gotten their stock arranged in a manner to display it to the best advantage and properly advertise their specialties, lamps and potteries. Miss Hilda Keifer, one of the partners, came to Glendale from the Lamp Shop on West Seventh street, which is a sufficient guarantee of her knowledge of the demands of the trade. Miss Overman is from Cincinnati, where she was engaged in the same line of business. She came to Southern California to visit, succumbed to its lure, and never went back. Besides the lamps and pottery they carry a line of dainty boxed gifts daintily put up, which are attractive for showers, birthday remembrances, card party favors and other like uses. They do not pretend to make any of it themselves but handle the standard products of Newcomb of Los Angeles, Henry C. Hubley of Lancaster, Pa., and Ferdinand Bing of New York.

"STOCKING BOX" IS HOSPITABLE

Through his window, Norton P. Buck of the "Stocking Box" in the Court Shops, is letting the trade know that his stock is by no means confined to hosiery, but includes such other things as the daintiest of silk underwear. The orchid colored slip thus displayed on Monday is the latest model and a distinct departure from much that we have had in the refinement of its self colored embroidery, and its daintiness of shape. For the quality of goods he is handling his prices are marvelously cheap. He is having quite a run on scarfs, which are peculiarly adapted to California, and of which he has an assortment of unusual coloring and design.

HOLLAND DUTCH SUGAR BREAD!

Did you ever stop to think how many things come into our everyday lives which link us with the past, and with people of other nations and other customs? Many of them are offered to us by foreigners whom we receive as citizens who are glad to share with us the best they have in appreciation of the friendliness of their adopted country. Such are Mr. and Mrs. Walsma, and anyone who passes the windows of the Fancy bakery on North Brand and sees the tempting exterior of the "Holland Dutch Sugar Bread," and the "Bohemian Pomponickie" would know they came from across the water and there probably learned to make the many unusual goodies they have for sale.

JOLLY CARD PARTY FOR LOCAL BENEFIT

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Clark, 606 North Orange street, was the scene of a jolly card party Thursday afternoon and evening, the affair being given as a benefit for the Glendale branch of the Young Ladies' Institute. The spacious rooms of the Clark home were artistically decorated in flowers, sweetpeas, gladioli and marigolds being used. During the afternoon, "500" and bridge were played, Mrs. Hooper winning first prize for "500" and Mrs. George Blanchett for bridge. Delicious refreshments were served both afternoon and evening. Five Hundred and whist, were enjoyed in the evening and the gentleman's first prize was awarded T. H. Ratigan and second to

PARRS PRAISE POTTER'S CAMP

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Parr and daughter of this city have just returned from the delightful camp in Big Bear, conducted by Pierre V. Potter of this city. Though not a big camp it is very comfortable and reasonable in price, and it has the rare advantage of a flowing artesian well of fine water. It overlooks the lake and the valley and is charmingly situated. The Parrs went by way of Mill Creek and returned by the Rim route. F. Hartman. The first prize for ladies was won by Mrs. Endicott and second by Mrs. T. H. Ratigan. Everyone had a splendid time and the Y. L. I. realized a sum of approximately $25.

RECORD OF GOV. STEPHENS IS ANALYZED

State Executive Is Able to "Point With Pride" In an entirely modest fashion, Governor Stephens announces that he is a candidate for another term, says the Hollywood News. This must be satisfactory to a great majority of voters. They are familiar with his record, and it teaches them that the confidence they had in him rested on a solid basis. Governor Stephens is in a position to "point with pride." The advance in the material interests of the state, the economy of management, are demonstrations of high purpose, and splendid result of executive ability. His entrance into the race will be particularly pleasing to people at this end of the state, who had known him long and intimately before he had been called to his present station. Attacks upon Governor Stephens have been based on the attempt to show that his administration has been extravagant. They have failed signally because based upon false premises. This state performs many functions that in other states fall to the several county governments. Thus it has to collect and to disburse larger sums than are handled by the commonwealth elsewhere. The state takes charge of schools, attends to certain beneficent charities, promotes the building of roads. In doing this it saves the taxpayer, for the aggregates are far less than would be the total of expenses were such matters left to the counties. It is by citing the figures, and failing to analyze them; or by misconstruing them deliberately, that the opposition to the governor hopes to make out a case against him. It cannot be done. The fact is all favor the present administration. It has been economical and effective. The voters of California are aware of this, and cannot be misled by sophistry, or the juggling of statistics.

EXCHANGE HOME IN GLENDALE FOR RANCH

Ecklebargers Retire to Walnut Grove Near Pomona Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ecklebarger closed a deal Thursday in exchanging their duplex home at 533 and 535 Pioneer drive for a beautiful and well-equipped walnut grove at 540 East Grand avenue, Pomona. They have been looking since last spring for a ranch, having disposed of theirs at San Joaquin valley, and could not let this one go by. They have spent most of their time in Glendale since they came to this city almost five years ago for Mr. Ecklebarger's health. When they first came here, Mr. Ecklebarger had a grocery store on Verdugo road and later he, with T. A. Wright opened up the Basket grocery store at 108 East Broadway. He was formerly connected with the Broadway shoe store and in this way has made many acquaintances and friends in Glendale and vicinity. Mr. Ecklebarger likes Glendale, but found a more desirable ranch in Pomona. They will move Saturday.

SCHOOL FOR ALL POLICE EXPERTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Captain of Detectives Duncean Matheson is sold on the idea of higher education for both "bulls and dicks." Matheson was somewhat skeptical about what highbrow professors could teach the boys who pound the beats until he himself was recently invited to deliver a lecture before the criminology class of the summer session of the University of California. Matheson became interested and investigated to discover what this criminology stuff was all about, and was so impressed with its value that he immediately announced that a number of promising coppers would be sent to school to study the stuff. songs and patriotic airs will be led by M. M. Johnson, and it will be a great day for all. Go early and stay late is the final order.

"I Do Hope They're for Me!"

—they all exclaimed in chorus when the boy hove in sight with an exquisite bunch of our Flowers. Flowers from this shop always bring delight to the fortunate recipients. Isn't there someone to whom you can send a sweet remembrance today?

POLICING OF PARK ANNOUNCED BY CHIEF

Objectionable Characters to Be Barred From Use of Ground The young folks of the city who visit the Glendale-Verdugo park will be protected to the limit, when the plan that is being worked out by Chief of Police Fraser is put in operation. It is the intention of Chief Fraser to maintain at least one member of the police department at the park at all times, and possibly one or two extra officers during the night hours. It is the aim of the police department and the administration of the city to keep all objectionable features out of this park. One of the most effective ways of doing this, it is claimed, is to have it efficiently policed. The desire is to make the park a place where the parents of the city may feel safe in permitting their sons and daughters to go for an outing and recreation.

INTERNATIONAL PRODUCTS CO. EXPOSITION

Demonstration to Be Held Today and Tomorrow at Monarch Co. Demonstrations of the output of the International Chemical Products company, a strictly local concern, are being held on Friday and Saturday of this week at the Monarch Supply company, 121 South Brand boulevard. These demonstrations are being held both day time and evening. Motor pep, Tip Top carbon remover and a number of other things for the motorist are manufactured by this concern, and the Monarch company is distributor for these products in the Glendale territory and the San Fernando valley. Everything points to these demonstrations being the finest features of their kind ever held in Glendale, and the motorists of Glendale should not fail to take in one or more of the "big shows."

LINEBERGER OUT FOR ENFORCEMENT

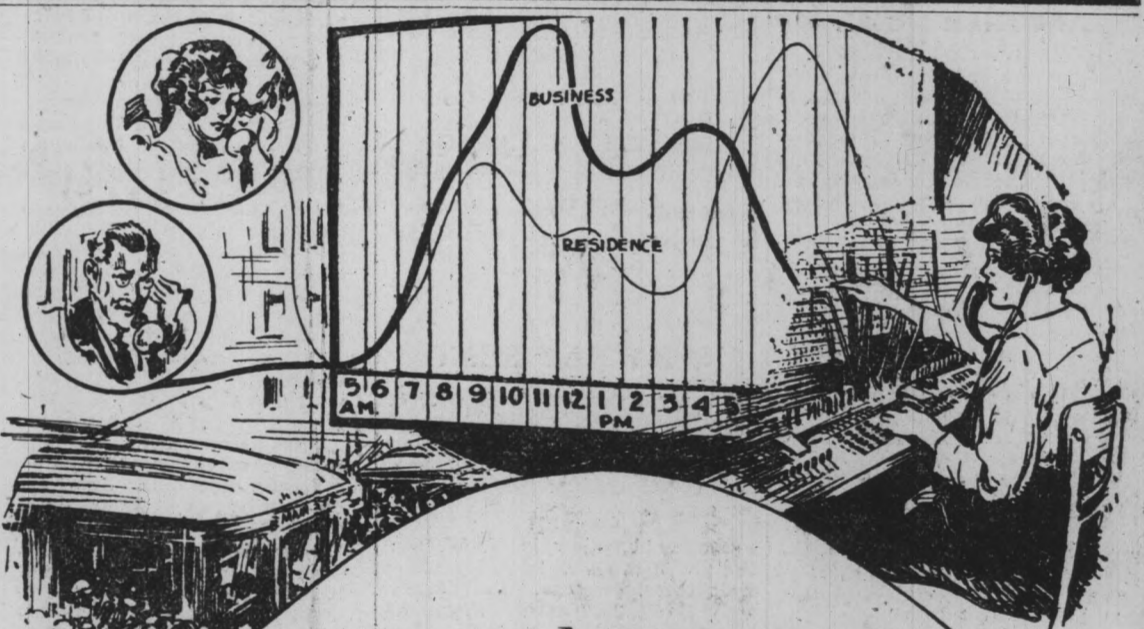

Declares Himself for 100 Per Cent Loyalty to Constitution In December, 1920, there was a conference held in Pasadena of republican delegates representing clubs and committees embracing the ninth congressional district, California. The occasion for this conference was for the purpose of determining the most likely candidate to become the standard bearer of the party in the special election which was to be held February 15, 1921, at which time the electorate of the district were to choose a congressman to fill the vacancy caused by the fatal accident to Congressman-elect Charles F. Van de Water, a few weeks after his election, November 2, 1920. After a few spirited ballots, Maj. Walter F. Lineberger, of Long Beach, was selected as being the choice of the delegates to carry the republican standard on a strictly republican ticket, and associated with no other party. In acknowledging the honor conferred upon him in a speech at the close of the meeting, Maj. Lineberger said, among other things: "I am in favor of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act 100 per cent, and will use every effort within my power, if elected to congress, to do all I can to strengthen these laws and assist in seeing that they are properly enforced. "There are reasons for certain beliefs, but in this case I might say that I have a number of reasons for my stand—there are seven reasons why I am for strict prohibition. I will enumerate them: "First—I favor prohibition as a matter of principle. It makes far better men, women and homes. "Second—Because it is the law, enacted by the sovereign people of this great country, a part of the constitution, and the law must be upheld. "Third: Florence H. Lineberger, my wife. "Fourth—Elizabeth Lineberger, my daughter. "Fifth—Walter F. Lineberger, my son. "Sixth—Janet Lineberger, my daughter. "Seventh—Anne Lorraine Lineberger, my daughter. "These are seven mighty good reasons why I should do all in my power as a citizen to make prohibition absolutely effective."

HIGHER HEELS AND PRICES ARE TENDENCY

Irving D. Brooks of Reliable Shoe Store Discusses Styles "Higher heels and prices" is the fall verdict of Dame Fashion, and the powers that be in the shoe business, according to Irving D. Brooks of the Reliable Shoe store, 120 West Broadway. Strapped slippers and oxfords will be worn, and spats will be very popular, according to Mr. Brooks. Also, patent leather and browns will be in vogue. In fact, brown is to be the shade most in demand this fall. Gray in footwear is still good, but brown is easily the leader. Sandals are almost passe, their popularity passing with the summer.

PROFESSIONAL GOLFERS MEET

YAKIMA, Wash., Aug. 15.—The Pacific Northwest Professional Golfers' association has scheduled a two-day medal play tournament over the course of the Yakima Country club here, September 25 and 26. The tourney is open to all professionals and amateurs in the northwest and will take on the appearance of an open championship for the state of Washington. The competition will be over 72 holes, with prizes to the winners. Amateurs also will gather here immediately following the open event and fight for honors as Washington state amateur champion in a four-day medal match, September 27, 28, 29 and 30. Preceding the two tournaments here, the Grays Harbor Country club, of Aberdeen, Wash., has called the women of the state to enter a woman's state championship to be played over the club course August 22, 23, 24 and 25. The women will fight the thing out there near the coast, and then come to Yakima to root for hubby, or somebody else. The tournament here is Washington's first state amateur tournament, although other states have been staging the affairs for years. A. S. Kerry, president of the Pacific Northwest Golf association, has offered a trophy for the state event. It will become the permanent possession of the player who wins it three times. A replica of the big trophy will be awarded the winner in each year's play.

"Rush Hours"

In all lines of business patronage is irregular. Street cars, stores, banks and restaurants have their "rush hours" when some delays in service are unavoidable. The public, with the situation before its eyes, good naturedly accepts a degree of inconvenience.

There are "rush hours" in a telephone exchange. With business service the "loads" of telephone traffic are determined by commercial activities, banking hours, etc.—the "load" of the residence telephone varies with household and social needs.

The demands upon the telephone operator and a complicated mechanical equipment cannot be seen, but telephone traffic varies in every hour of every day according to the individual desires of thousands of patrons.

If there should be at times a delay in answering your call, remember that trained young women with nimble fingers are doing their best to serve you, and that at the moment there may be a "rush" of telephone traffic.

The exercise of patience and consideration will mean better service.

JAZZ IS WANING, SAYS W. A. KENNY

Proprietor of Music Store Notes Passing of Freak Harmony

"Turn backward, turn backward, O time in thy flight," and time has obligingly turned, at least in the musical world, according to W. A. Kenny of the Kenny Music Store on North Broadway, for the old waltzes which our mothers loved are coming into their own again.

"Jazz is on the wane," said Mr. Kenny. "Our records do not have the 'hippan stuff any more and the banjo and saxophone are being featured, the banjo taking the place of the snare drum, which is never heard any more."

Mr. Kenny has numerous calls for a medley waltz record, which includes such old-time melodies as "The Sidewalks of New York," "After the Ball," "Little Annie Rooney," "Sweet Rosie O'Grady." However, the ultra-modern "Sneak" is going over big. Also the "Dancing Fool" is another hit of the present season. "Three o'Clock in the Morning" is another popular number, but a secret—it was on record over three years ago, for Mr. Kenny remembers selling it then.

"Sunshine Alley" and two monologues by Bert Williams, the comedian who recently died, are often asked for by the patrons of the shop. Mr. Williams' selections are "How? Fried?" and "You Can't Do Nothing Until Martin Gets You." They are old negro stories.

Such is the swan song of the great god Jazz.

BEST FURNACED HOUSE IS SOLD

H. S. Burns Sells House With Four of Them in Structure

The only house in Glendale that has four heating furnaces was sold recently through H. S. Burns, the real estate firm of Doner, Hemenway & Burns. Mrs. Nettie Wilson of Los Angeles was the purchaser. The house is located at Randolph street and Central avenue and is being constructed by Nathan Rigdon, one of the best-known builders in Glendale.

Mrs. Wilson purchased the house with the assurance that it would be completed by September 1, the date set by her for moving to "The Fastest Growing City in America."

It is a ten-room duplex of the type termed an up-and-down house. When completed the structure will have accommodation for two families. Mrs. Wilson will occupy one-half and rent the remainder of the house.

The furnaces are installed with the intention of having two for heating the upper stories of the building and two for the lower floor.

SULLIVANS GO TO BIG BEAR

Walter Sullivan, one of Glendale's well-known realtors, and his brother, Robert, left Wednesday morning for Big Bear lake. They intend to spend two weeks at the lake.

They will make the trip by automobile, driving around by way of Victorville, as this is said to be the easiest route to the lake. The car will carry equipment for fishing and rifles in the hope that the travelers will have an opportunity to shoot a rabbit, or a snipe, or something.

LEGION POST TO HAVE BIG BILL

Come ye Legionnaires, one and all—especially of the Glendale Post No. 127—and enjoy the special entertainment that is being prepared and will be presented Friday evening, August 18, at the Legion hall, 610-A East Broadway.

Those in charge promise six big acts on the program, as well as dancing. Go and take your family. Don't "wish you had," but be "glad you did."

SHERROD'S WINDOW IS ATTRACTIVE

Monday the Sherrod shop had another pretty window setting. The first thing to catch the eye was one of the new slip-over sweaters in a thin, close mesh with open-work design and orchid in color. Centering the window was a sport skirt of white flannel and sport coat of dark turquoise blue, bound with white.

EDNA WALLACE HOPPER AT THE T. D. & L.

Tells How to Keep Young in Face and in Form

Manager Ralph Allan brings to the T. D. & L. theater beginning today, one of the biggest star attractions ever presented in Glendale—in the person of Miss Edna Wallace Hopper, the diminutive star comedienne of the speaking stage of a decade ago, and former wife of DeWolf Hopper. Miss Hopper looks just like a girl 19. She is at this moment the most interesting and most commented upon woman in America.

Not to see Edna Wallace Hopper is to miss one of the most surprising, and absorbing personalities before the public.

Allan announces a special matinee for women only Saturday at 1 o'clock sharp, 45 minutes before his usual opening time. At this performance only women will be admitted.

In addition to Miss Edna Wallace Hopper, there will be the usual program of pictures, the feature being "The Man From Hell's River," by James Oliver Curwood, with an all-star cast.

STRIKES MERELY DELAY REALTY BOOM

So Says A. H. Nichols of the Circle Realty Company

It is the opinion of A. H. Nichols of the Circle Realty company, 120 North Brand boulevard, that the present railroad strike and the coal strike are the cause of the lull here in the real estate business. Although July and August are usually dull, Mr. Nichols feels adequately sure that September and the fall months will bring much business to Glendale.

"Glendale is just now feeling some of the effects of conditions in the east," said Mr. Nichols, "and I am sure that before another month is over business will have progressed here."

It is also his belief that the new city park will draw much business here. People from Los Angeles, Pasadena and other nearby cities will use it for their picnics and outings, people that perhaps would not otherwise come here, will use this new city park. "I think that the park is the best advertisement Glendale ever had or ever will have," said Mr. Nichols.

CHOCOLATES ARE OUT OF SEASON

Peggy Kandy Kitchen Folks Say the Call Is for Less Melting Sweets

"Seeing is believing," and this maxim is demonstrated anew by Peggy's Candy Kitchen, 113 West Broadway, where all of the goods sold is manufactured in plain sight of the buyers. And of the wide variety of sweets in stock, caramels, divinity and nougat are most in demand during these summer months. Chocolates take a back seat until such a time as they will not melt upon the slightest provocation.

E. H. R. Graham and F. W. Henry, proprietors of the shop, are old-time candy makers, the former coming from Los Angeles, while the latter belonged to Pasadena before coming to Glendale. They are planning to install a soda fountain in the near future.

HOW TO FIND THE BEST BABY IN DISTRICT

Press Competition to Find Three Leading Ones, Is on

Every mother in this district who has a bright, pretty, intelligent baby and every father of such a baby, too, should be interested in a novel competition which is inaugurated today by the Daily Press. Its object is to decide which are the THREE BEST BABIES IN THIS DISTRICT, between the ages of 6 months and 6 years. And then the trio of babies will be placed in competition with the best babies from Los Angeles, Pasadena, Santa Monica, Venice, San Pedro, Anaheim, Santa Ana, Alhambra and elsewhere, the winners of that sweepstakes contest, which will be engineered by the Los Angeles Evening Express, may safely be considered as the best of all Southern California. Now they will be the THREE BEST BABIES of the land of wonderful children.

In every one of these towns about Los Angeles and in Los Angeles itself, there will be separate contests, opening today. It is up to the local babies and their mothers and fathers, to show their best.

On another page in this issue of the Press are given full details of the contest, so far as it has been worked out. There will be many other announcements of interest from time to time, and it will be well worth while the attention of every single resident of this district who has a baby between the ages of 6 months and 6 years.

AND IF YOU HAVEN'T A BABY OF YOUR OWN, probably the mother who lives next door thinks HER BABY is a pretty good little baby. TELL HER ABOUT THE CONTEST if she is not a subscriber to the Press. She should be. And all she has to do to enter her baby for the wonderful contest is to become a subscriber to the Press and the Los Angeles Evening Express for three months.

Good round dollars in gold coin, golden and silver medals, orders for the pretty things YOUR baby should wear, shoes for the little feet, free savings bank accounts, free photographs, the printing of baby's picture in the Press—all these things are in this contest for your baby. Turn the pages of this issue of the Press for full details and the sign and send your coupon AT ONCE.

Watch For further Facts
And don't forget to watch the Press each evening for more details of the big contest. Names of those who will judge the "Best Babies" will soon be printed. You will know them all. And they will be competent judges of every phase of a baby. Then there will be illustrations of the prizes to be offered. And, best of all, just as soon as the photographers can furnish their photos, the faces of the babies themselves will smile at you every evening from the pages of this paper.

There'll be a lot of interest in this contest. Get your baby entered early in the game. And if it's chosen a winner, WON'T YOU BE PROUD?

NEW CROOK FILM COMES TO THE GLENDALE

Bert Lytell Begins Tonight a Two Days' Show

Bert Lytell will be seen in another of those entertaining crook dramas when "Alias Landyngers," a Bayard Veller production for Mero, comes to the Glendale theater tonight and tomorrow.

This latest Lytell picture is a distinct departure from the more recent releases of the Metro star and gives Mr. Lytell a character somewhat similar to that he portrayed with such widespread success in "Alias Jimmy Valentine" when that stage success was made into a picture.

Unlike most of the usual run of crook dramas, "Alias Landyngers" deals with the career of the orphaned child of a family of wealth who by accident is brought to the attention of a notorious safe breaker. Because of the little lad's delicate hands, which earn him the name of "Alias Landyngers," he is educated in the risky art of opening strong boxes. His proficiency gains him a national reputation with the police who, while trying to trap him, learn that the much-wanted safe-cracker is the heir to the fortune of his grandmother. The valuable pearls of that grandmother become a lure to Landyngers, who is ignorant of his relationship, and his entrance as a thief into the home where he is being sought as the heir brings about complications which make "Alias Landyngers" one of the most powerful dramas of the screen.

A notable cast support Mr. Lytell in this production, including Ora Carew as leading lady, Frank EHlott, Edythe Chapman, DeWitt Jennings and Stanley Goethals. Lemore J. Coffe adapted it from the story by Jackson Gregory, Arthur Martinelli was photographer and A. E. Freuderman, art director.

Mix Mirth with Melody

LISTEN and laugh—it's Bert Williams and laugh—it's Bert Williams. The greatest of burnt-cork comedians—shuffling comically behind the footlights, rocking packed houses with his delicious ducky dialect—never told anything funnier than the two stories on A-6216, "You Can't Do Nothing 'Till Martin Gets Here," and "How? Fried!"

But it wouldn't do to laugh all evening.

Elliott Shaw in his latest ballad selection will pull your heart-strings, and maybe make your throat get lumpy with "Mary, Dear," a song of deep feeling that gives full play to his rich baritone. A charming companion to this is Billy Jones' tenor voice singing "I Wish I Had a Wireless to Heaven," a song full of pathos, of a baby girl who misses her mother.

These new Columbia Records are typical of the all-star Columbia Monthly Program that's out today—each number flawlessly reproduced to give you melody unmarred by scratch or scrape or other surface sounds. The new Columbia Records are ready at Columbia Dealers, waiting to be played for you. Tear out the list now. Take it in and listen to this delightful collection of latest selections.

SANTA MONICA TO HAVE MEETING

Old-Fashioned Camp Affair to Open August 20 With Methodist Host

The Methodist hosts of Southern California are scheduled to gather in an old-fashioned camp meeting August 20 to September 2 at Pacific Palisades, near Santa Monica. The evangelists are Dr. Thomas O. Grieves, Dr. H. W. Peck and Rev. Fred H. Ross. The music will be in charge of Prof. Robert E. Clark, who is a resident of Pasadena and musical director of the First Methodist Episcopal church of that city.

NEW ADDITION TO CAMPBELL'S FORCE

E. M. Shutt, New Salesman, Is Solid on Glendale Realty

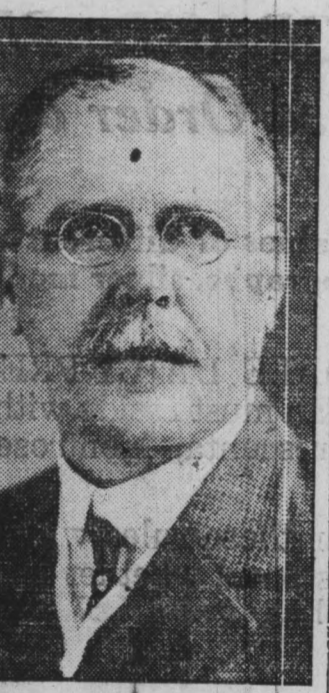

Glendale has made a hit with E. M. Shutt, a recent addition to the sales force of Arthur Campbell, realtor, at 110 East Broadway. Mr. Shutt came to Glendale three weeks ago from eastern Oregon, where he has spent many years. He made connections with Mr. Campbell and says that he will have Glendale for a permanent address.

Mr. Shutt resigned as sheriff to enter the real estate business. He has operated real estate offices in Oregon for several years. Three weeks ago he came to Glendale and located. He made the decision to locate here after having looked over the entire Southern California field.

Yesterday he said, "I have not regretted my choice of location. In fact, each day makes me glad that I chose Glendale. There is a home folk spirit about the people that is very enjoyable. The people here seem to be one large family working for the best interest of the community."

Mr. Shutt said that sales have been very good during the time that he has been connected with the real estate business here.
