To conserve the Grapevine paper stock, please place your copies of the Grapevine in your out-box after you have finished reading it. Two hundred copies are needed for mailing to FCA men and women in the service.

WHAT'S GUMMING OFF HERE?

Twenty-four folks are chomping their gums instead of their gum because one gal stood at the canteen and fed twenty-five pennies into the gum machine, one right after another, just as soon as the machine had been filled up. There's a gal - she may give her blood to the Red Cross, and maybe she's got a brother or sweetheart in the service - but somewhere along the line she got some of her wartime ethics all gummed up. It's just a little thing, and nobody's suffering very much, but we can't help but wish it could have been different.

LETTERS FROM OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Pfc. Charles O. Nelson, (Co. M, 63 Inf., APO 6, c/o PM, San Francisco, Calif.) Received several issues of the Grapevine and was really happy to get them. I have moved so much that they all don't catch me. Right now I am over in New Guinea and boy what a spot. It's been 15 months since I left FCA, and I have really seen lots of the old world. Since I have been overseas I've joined the V.F.W., so I'm a little veteran now. There is very little to see and tell about over here, it's just hot and muddy, that's all. I want to say hello to all in FCA, and especially to my friends in Examination. Keep up the good work.

T/Sgt. Vernon F. Klenk, (36197947, 561st Bomb Sqdn., APO 638, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.) Since I wrote last, quite a bit has happened. I am now assigned to a group and a squadron, so should be receiving mail pretty regularly now, and am anxiously looking forward to the copies of the Grapevine. We are now flying on Fortresses which is quite a bit different from what we flew in the States. I received a grade promotion 4 days ago and am now a technical sergeant.

T/Sgt. Peter Massaro, (33095736, APO 758, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.) I have been neglectful since leaving Africa in not writing to you and telling you about this country. I am in a nice spot. The door of my tent opens toward the Mediterranean which is only about a hundred yards away. Back about another hundred yards is a mountain about a thousand feet high. All around us are tall cactus plants which give us perfect natural camouflage. The weather is just about the same as Africa. The rainy season is on now and we have 6 days of rain and 2 days of sunshine. There are many hundreds of articles that can be bought, but the price is terrific. With the knowledge I have of the language I get along fine and can generally talk the price down about half. Many thanks for the Christmas package.

Lt. Paul James, (21st Spec. Serv. Co., APO 763, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.) Let me extend to the FCA Club my real appreciation for the Christmas package. It was good of the Club to think of us and to include the very attractive greeting. As for local gossip, I don't know anything about the war. When I joined the Army, I put all that behind me. It is exciting and interesting here and like most experiences in life, I would not take a million for what I get nor give a dime to go through it again. But I'll be glad to knock off and go home the minute the bell rings. The Grapevine just arrived. Good paper - very clever name. Regards to all. (Editor's Note: Paul James won the prize offered for suggesting a name for this publication when it started. His suggestion: "The Grapevine.")

Cpl. Elinor Frederick, (Wac Det. HQ Sq. VIII, APO 637, c/o PM, New York, N. Y.) The greeting in my Christmas package was so nice that I am going to save it for a scrapbook I intend to make when I get home. It certainly seems to be much less than 1 year that I have been a Wac. Yet, now I have in more than 6 months over here in England. It is exceptionally nice for me here because I have a brother stationed only 12 miles from here and he came over to spend Christmas with me. I really must say that I like my work very much over here. It is statistics - the same as work at Farm Credit. It is different that this is current and not research. You see, I am chief of the personnel section in the adjutant general's office. The boys and girls (should say soldiers and Wacs) are all very nice to work with. Most of them have the idea that we have a job to do and that we are going to get it over as soon as possible. Thanks again for the nice gift and being in England, will close with the same greeting an Englishman would use, cheerio.

RED CROSS DRIVE NEARS THREE-QUARTER MARK

At the end of the first week of the American Red Cross 1944 War Fund Drive, Farm Credit employees had contributed $3, 119.25 (including $56 contributed to chapters other than the Kansas City chapter) or 73% of FCA's total quota. Sixty-four percent of all employees have contributed thus far.

"If the 221 employees who have not yet subscribed give as generously as those whose contributions already have been counted, the FCA quota of $4, 250 should be reached," Irv Dyke and Joe Fraile, co-chairmen of the campaign, said this week.

Thus far all of the employees of five divisions, in addition to four units in F&A and Administrative, have given. The names of these units appear on an honor roll elsewhere in this issue. Several other divisions are nearing the 100 percent mark, and are driving hard to win the right to display the Red Cross 100% poster.

Paul Lindsey's Crop Loan gang and Cap Arnold's fifth floor outfit ran a dead heat to the finish line Wednesday, finally reaching 116 and 123 percent of their respective quotas. Close on their heels came the quota-smashing performances of Information & Extension (103%), FPMC (100%), and Library (146%). Among the big fellows - Administrative and F&A, whose quotas account for 43% of the Farm Credit totals - the lead changes daily. At the close of business Wednesday, Administrative had come through with 76% of its quota and F&A had reached 73%. The following table gives the current standing of all divisions:

GOVERNOR BLACK HONORED

Governor A. G. Black left this week to assume his new duties as a member of an American mission to the Iranian government, on which he will serve as a financial adviser to Iran.

To express its appreciation for his friendship and cooperation during his 4 years as head of FCA, the Farm Credit Club held a party in the Little Theater Thursday afternoon, March 16.

Julia Connor, who had succeeded Gray Hume as president of the Club only the week before, expressed the Club's best wishes to Governor Black and characterized him as "a captain ever mindful of his crew."

Elbert Smith, adding a light touch to the meeting, recounted the inconclusive results of the "exit interview" with the departing employee, and reported on other incidents in the past life of the Governor, previously known to no one at all.

Governor Black expressed his appreciation for the loyalty and faithful service of Farm Credit employees. He pointed to four major developments in the past 4 years: The application of service policies which materially reduced land bank and commissioner loan foreclosures; the drastic reduction of indebtedness on the part of farmers using Farm Credit facilities; the improvement in the financial condition of Farm Credit institutions, and the successful removal of Farm Credit offices to Kansas City. He complimented the employees on their capacity to undergo the latter change cheerfully and without impairment of the organization's efficiency.

Presentation of a brief case to Governor Black concluded the meeting. Later in the week his staff presented the Governor with a watch and a scroll expressing the staff's appreciation and best wishes.

HONOR TO BJORNSON

Hal Bjornson, formerly of I&E, later lend-lease representative in Iceland, now editorial writer for the Minneapolis Star-Journal, recently received the Order of the Icelandic Falcon, highest honor in the gift of the Icelandic government. It was awarded for his lend-lease services. He is the youngest person to whom the honor ever has been awarded.

HOBBY SHOW SLATED

Encouraged by the enthusiastic response to last year's hobby show, directors of the Farm Credit Club last week voted to sponsor a similar show this year and named Tom Pritchard to head the committee which will make arrangements.

Pritchard announced this week names of other members of his committee: Helen Colling, Bruce Denman, Lucille Jacomet, Anna Messinger, Landon Porter, and Francis Sayre.

"Those of us who were here will long remember the fine show we had last year," Pritchard said. "The committee hopes the exhibitors in that show will participate again. Employees who did not exhibit last year are urged to enter their hobbies. If you have a collection of anything, if you like to take photographs or make things, get in touch with one of the committee."

Details and dates of the show will be announced later.

FINAL BRIDGE CLASS

The bridge class will hold its final meeting for the season Tuesday, March 28, at 7 p.m., in the Clubroom. Any Club member who has attended one or more of the class sessions during the fall and winter of 1943-44 is invited to play next Tuesday night. Cecilia Jacobs announces that her treasury will supply the necessary funds for half a dozen worth-while prizes and also for some rather special refreshments. Lloyds of London has already announced Marie Puhr as the favorite for first prize; but if Gardner Walker's luck holds out, his cumbersome-hunch system may win him the blue ribbon. Kibitzers should also keep an eye on dark-horse Grace Tryon whose second-hand-high, third-hand-low system may baffle all comers.

SHOSTAKOVITCH QUINTET

All music lovers are invited to attend the first playing of Shostakovitch's piano quintet in room 1345E, Wednesday, March 29, at 12:15 p.m. Many music critics listed this composition as one of the most outstanding recordings of the year 1943.

Because of the popularity of Decca's OKLAHOMA, the Club library has purchased a second album. Any Club member may borrow these records for a few cents a day. Other recent accessions include Victor's UPSWING, with numbers by Tommy Dorsey, Artie Shaw, Glen Miller, and Bennie Goodman; also ONE NIGHT OF VENUS with Mary Martin and Kenny Baker singing Ogden Nash's witty lyrics to Kurt Weill's catchy tunes.

STRICTLY SOLID CHICK

(Editor's Note: For many reasons (some of them valid) it has not been the policy of The Grapevine to introduce new employees through its columns. There comes a time when the best rules must be disregarded. The following report of the half-pint messenger with the 10-gallon mail bag was prepared at the request of the editor, as a matter of public service, and sets no precedent.)

Time was when only grown-up people toiled for Farm Credit. That was long before fate, and the Civil Service Commission, left 85 pounds of flaxen-haired Colleen Glover on FCA's doorstep. Those of you who mentally suffer as she staggers from office to office, under a bulging mail-pouch, must take her word for it that she first opened those dark blue eyes 17 years ago, come last October. Telephoning the SPCC is out.

Colleen has always lived in Missouri, except for "one wonderful month in California." She told the story eagerly. "I worked until I saved $150.00 to take the trip. My father put me on the train and got me a seat next to an old man who read scriptures to me all the way out." She laughed. "The car was full of cute soldiers. They kidded me about it." Her father's decision to go to Pearl Harbor as a civilian technician brought her stay in California to an abrupt close.

Colleen has more ambitions than a kitten has fleas. She is finishing her high school course at night. Next to being successful at Farm Credit, she wants to sing with a swing band. (Metronome and Down Beat please copy!)

At first, there was some doubt in the minds of mailroom "gates" as to whether Colleen and the top row mail boxes would ever get together, but although they don't know how she duzzit, she duzzit! Tiny Glover says, "I love everybody in Farm Credit, and I'm going to be the best whiz-bang messenger in the joint!"

PALM TO FCA'er

Milk isn't rationed because a former FCA'er figured out a practical way for the dairy industry to control the marketing of its own product.

The man who figured out that system is William C. Welden, formerly of Cooperative Research and Service, now assistant chief of the Dairy and Poultry Branch of the Office of Distribution, War Food Administration. His chief is Tom G. Stitts, on leave as chief of Cooperative Research and Service.

For his development and administration of the milk marketing program, Bill Welden has been given a meritorious service promotion. You can read about him, if you haven't already, in the March 4 issue of USDA. And you can thank him every other morning when you find your milk at the front door, with no ration stamps asked or needed.

CREDIT UNION NOTES

More than $5,000 was borrowed by 65 members of the FCA Employees' Federal Credit Union to pay income taxes.

One member of the FCA Employees' Federal Credit Union recently got a production loan, to buy corn for a hog project.

If you need money to pay doctor or dental bills, see your FCA Employees' Federal Credit Union.

Next winter may seem far away, but you may need coal then, too. If you want to get in your supply now and pay for it, why not get a loan from the FCA Employees' Federal Credit Union, repayable in small amounts each pay day.

CLUB HAS BEST BOOKS

John Chamberlain writing recently in Harper's magazine picked the following three novels of 1943 as those that will linger for a long time in the memories of their readers:

Betty Smith's "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn"

Elizabeth Janeway's "The Walsh Girls"

Christine Weston's "Indigo"

All three of these books may be borrowed from the Club library at little or no cost.

TWO GENERALS WITHOUT AN ARMY

When 11 o'clock struck last Sunday morning at the corner of 11th and Baltimore, not a single Club member had reported for the scheduled hike along Wyandotte County's country roads. So the two leaders, Hoyt Elkins and Paul Rapp, enjoyed a womanless hike free from the necessity of mincing with even a single maid. But they admit having missed those dainty luncheon tidbits that the ladies always insist on sharing with the leaders.

running. The semi-final play-off games were won by Hemstreet and Maguire, each by a 3-0 count. On Saturday, March 11, these two battled it out, matching shot for shot in one of the finest exhibitions ever seen in the Auditorium. Maguire won the first 2 games by scores of 21-19 and 21-18, but Hemstreet rallied to smash his way for the next 2 victories by scores of 21-15, and 21-19. The odd game was a real thriller, being deuced 3 times, but Hemstreet broke it up, final score 22-24. Champ Art Hemstreet will be presented with the beautiful trophy which was on display in the Clubroom.

The women's tournament will be postponed until more interest is shown by the fair sex.

March 14 was the opening day of the men's doubles table tennis play. This tournament is a round-robin affair with 11 teams entered. The matches are being played from 12 noon to 2 p.m., each day, everyone is invited to come and root for their favorite team. The powerful Hein-Selby combination is in the lead at the end of the third round with 11 points won; the Ward-Beauchamp and Hemstreet-Albright teams are close behind with 10 points each.

LAST MINUTE FLASH!!!!!!

Hein and Selby are now leading the tournament with 16 points, 3 above their nearest competitors, Beauchamp and Ward.

FCA BADMINTON CLUB NEWS

The FCA Badminton Club is beating the draft by having its party early before the 1-A's belong to Uncle Sam. The party has developed into a steak fry with all the trimmings and is to be held at Loose Park, March 25, 1944. Later in the evening the party will adjourn to the Porter-Porter apartment. The committee, headed by Margaret Porter and assisted by Bessie Docman, Edna Marie Beirne, and Boots Porter, guarantees an enjoyable evening for members and their guests.

Of late, the Badminton Club has finished off its evening of play with a volley ball game as wild as any Wild Western ever seen. The ceiling and side walls seem to bother John Kennedy more than any other factor, while Amos Russell's trouble seems to be getting there just a split second after the ball has already done its damage. "Boots" Porter would like to have about 10 feet added to the length of the court and (he says) his troubles would be over. Sam (one-man team) Weinberg plays no special position but just covers the whole court (ignoring all obstacles as well as players) and always seems to be on the winning side. The girls don't complain at all but have suggested that a referee and scorekeeper would be excellent additions.

John Kennedy fires the latest gun in the annex vs. foxhole battle of twits. "The reason the Navy is taking so many men from Farm Credit," says John, "probably is because they have so much 'below decks' experience." That from a man with a window in his office.

Deere Ma:

Well, Ma, I guess maybe I tole you befour this is a very fassynatin plais, but boy, have things bin heppening laitley. First Gray Hume left. I guess I tole you about him. He was presidunt of the Sochul club. Then Bill Mason joyns the Navy. He was treasurerer of the club. It was verry conspishus that he didn't leeve until the books had bin addited, so I guess he was onist after all. Finely the governor ups and goes off to Persha. I tell you, Ma, if the draft keaps on the way it is going I'll ether be a corprul or governor of Farm Credit one of these daze, because shore as shootin I'm getting cloaser to one or the uther just by seenaroarity.

They had a big wing-ding for the governor just befoar he left. Everybody went up to the little theayter and Julia Connor said a few kine words for the Sochul club. Youd like Miss Connor. She reminds me of Ant Aggie onely a little more reefined. She wares shoes. Then they was Elbert Smith. He is the personal officer. He shore got personal with the governor, two. Then finely they give the governor a chanse to say sumthing in his own defence. When he was threw, they give him a breef cais.

I gess it was a pritty appropryate gift, too. It gets pritty hot in Persha and nobody wares long unnerware only breefs, and so they got him a breef cais. Still, it kinda looks like putting on the dog to have a suit cais for nothing but summer unnerware. But the governor ackted like he like it, and I gess that's all that's nessary.

OUR GOODE NEIGHBOR

Gwendolyn Goode, because of her knowledge of the Portugese language, found herself an important factor in the entertainment of two distinguished Brazilian visitors to Kansas City on March 17. Senhor Lourival de Fontes, who is a close friend of Getulio Vargas, president of Brazil, and Senhora Fontes are visiting ten American cities to foster Inter-American understanding.

Gwendolyn accompanied the visitors on an excursion of the city, including tours through the City Hall and the Star building. At Mayor Gage's reception she interpreted for them, and, lastly, she officiated in Portugese at a dinner given in honor of the visitors by the Brazilian-American Club.

BOWLING

March 13: Graphic, sparked by Apprentice Seaman to-be Sam Weinberg's 479, and with the help of a 55-pin handicap per game, made a clean sweep of their set with Reports. Kennedy and Jones also had nice sets with 467 and 460, respectively. George Olson's 534 was not enough to off-set the mediocre bowling by the other members of the Reports team. Corporal John Barber, former member of Reports, substituted and accounted for a 451 set. The League's treasurer, Bob Yorkdale, cashed in with a 202-525, leading the Accounts team to a double win over Coops. Doug Lawrence was second to Yorkdale in this match, getting 440. Administrative's big set of 2395 was good for 2 from Mortgage Corporation. McClurg was the heavy demolisher for Administrative, spilling the maples for a 212-574, while teammate Maguire's 174-489 was next best. Havelka's 170-513 and Plott's 197-486 helped the Mortgage Corporation to bang out a big 859 game which accounted for their lone win. Andy Morrison with 191-523 was the heavy contributor to Land Bank's 2 wins over Legal. Selby and Uhlenhop with 463 and 461 were top men for the odd-game losers.

March 20: Legal bumped into a hot Mortgage Corporation team and bowed 3 times.

The 2344 set by Mortgage Corporation was made up of Fowler's 505, Buck's 475, Plott's 459, Guill's 454 and Havelka's 453. Van Leer and Scott with 486 and 469 were top bowlers for Legal. Graphic, by some heavy bowling of the team, took 2 from Accounts. Administrative, in spite of Menk's big 570, downed the Land Bank team twice. Reports won 2 easily from Coops. Jacomet and Barber, with 509 and 496, were the high bowlers in this match.

FCA WOMEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE

In the past few weeks, the tide has changed considerably for second place. Personnel was resting very comfortably in this spot with a 4-game lead, until they met the sizzling Reports team who downed them on Wednesday, March 15, for 3 games, by a wide margin, leaving them with a slight lead of 1 game up in second place. On Wednesday, March 22, this same Reports team faced the League-leaders, Legal, and took all 3 games without the aid of the handicap while Personnel was losing 2 to Land Bank. This dropped Personnel into third place and gave the Reports team the runner-up position by one game. Legal appears to be "in" as their next opponents will be Personnel, who are now experiencing a slump. However, anything can happen.

March 15: Bowling from scratch, Land Bank nosed out Audit for the first 2 games and lost the last one despite Owens' 156. Holland's 141 was high for the losers. Handicapped by the loss of Hanley to the Armed Forces, Stenographic dropped all 3 to Legal, losing the second on the roll-off of a tie, Porter rolled 156-452 for Legal. General Files took the first game but lost the last 2 to Finance and Accounts when Y. Meuers rolled two 150 games and Martin turned in a snappy 153. Securities took the first game from Purchase by 5 pins, lost the second by 10 and took the third with no difficulty. The upset of the evening was the clean sweep of Reports over Personnel. Shreve turned in a 150 game for Reports which was high for both teams. These 2 teams are competing for the second spot in the line-up.

March 22: Stenographic lost all 3 games to Audit, the last game by 1 pin.

Holland rolled 148 to aid the winning team to take the second game. Owens' 141 in the first and Sterling's 140 in the second enabled Land Bank to take those games by a narrow margin. Personnel came back to take the 3rd with Hurray and Rech rolling 150 and 156, respectively. With Feeley turning in 143-413, Purchase took 2 from Finance and Accounts, despite Y. Meuers 148-407. With Mehaffy rolling 147, Harbert 164, and Sible picking off her spares, Reports had a clean sweep over Legal and edged into second place. B. Meuers' series of strikes netted her a 175 for the losers. Securities took the first from General Files, lost the second when Ehlers hit the maples for 159, then rallied to take the third with little opposition.
