GIVES HIGH LIGHTS HIGH SCHOOL WORK ON RECENT TRIP OVER EUROPE TEACHERS' TOPIC BEFORE P. T. A.

Miss Gertrude Darlow Tells of Nominating Committee Named; Conditions; Thursday Club Thrift Department May Be Instituted

A most successful "husbands' night" entertainment was given by the members of the Thursday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. E. V. Bacon is president, at the home of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, Laurel and Brand boulevard, last night, with about 125 members and friends in attendance. The program, which had been arranged by Mrs. Kemper Campbell, proved to be a great treat, and included a most interesting talk by Miss Gertrude Darlow on her recent trip to Europe, and trombone solos by Fred Stuckey, accompanied at the piano by Miss Eleanor Mack.

Mrs. Bacon extended a few words of welcome to those present and turned the meeting over to Mrs. Kemper Campbell, who spoke briefly on the duty of women to join clubs and also the aims of the clubs. The purposes of women's clubs she explained as being two-fold—it gets the women out of their houses and out of a rut as well, which is really the secret of youth, and it also does much in a civic way and in guiding public opinion.

Miss Gertrude Darlow of the Los Angeles library was then introduced and gave a talk on her recent trip to Europe. Especially noticeable to her in her travels were the many beautiful cathedrals and the quaint old-time architecture which seemingly was the same as centuries ago. She stated that the charm of Europe is exactly opposite that of America. "In America it is progress, movement and initiative. In Europe the charm of the past is preserved for you," she said.

Tells of Quaint Town
In part, Miss Darlow's talk was as follows: "After landing at Liverpool I went to Chester, a town of very ancient foundation and which is a typical old English village. The streets are very quaint and the second stories of the houses project out over the sidewalk. The architecture is very queer and makes one feel that they had stepped back several centuries. The many beautiful legends which are told regarding things that have happened in the village add much to the charm of the old buildings. Surrounding Chester is an old Roman wall. In nearly all of the cities where these walls still remain they have been turned into promenades, being from ten to twelve feet wide."

Miss Darlow also visited the home of John Keates at Hampstead, Chel-

An opportunity greatly appreciated by the parents was given the members of the High School Parent-Teacher association at the meeting yesterday afternoon. They learned of the work of the various departments of the school from the teachers in charge. At the session, which was in charge of Mrs. Elliott B. Wyman, president, a nominating committee, composed of Mrs. A. H. Brown, Mrs. A. S. Chase, Mrs. Riley and G. Lockwood, was named.

Mrs. John Robert White announced that Mrs. Wyman was a candidate for district parliamentarian at the convention to be held in Los Angeles April 27 and 28. A communication was read by Miss Eva Daniels, secretary, from Lucy Strother, president of the student body, expressing appreciation of the cooperation shown by the organization during the past year, especially in securing the band and band instructor.

An amendment to the constitution was offered, to be voted on at the next meeting, substituting a thrift department in place of the department of home economics in the high school parent-teacher association work.

Teachers Tell of Work

Miss Wilhelmina Hübsh of the sewing and millinery stated very briefly some of the aims of that department. She said that while the girls are in high school their standards of dress are formed. The department encourages them to dress modestly and modestly.

J. Rhea Baker, of the commercial department, stated that at the present time that branch has six teachers, and the number of students is constantly increasing. The high school department, he said, is better equipped than most of the commercial schools, and offers a much broader course. Classes are held in business law, business arithmetic, bookkeeping, typewriting, shorthand and other subjects dealing with commercial work.

Miss Maude Soper, of the history department, stressed the importance of that study from the standpoint of making the young people better trained for citizenship. She stated that it gives them an understanding of the national and international affairs. In the freshman year ancient and medieval history is studied, in the sophomore year the modern Eu-

San Fernando Valley Welcomes C. of C. Pilgrims

If You Can't Buy It at Home, You Can Buy It in Glendale, Is Battle Cry of Invading Forces See Many Communities -- There's No Place Like Home, Eh?

Trade Trek Triumph! That's What Everybody Says and Prediction Is Made This City Will Get Excellent Results Long Time to Come

Missionaries — missionaries of merchandising — went out into the highways and byways of the San Fernando valley yesterday carrying the gospel of Glendale to that land of milk and honey, fruits and flowers — and industries.

Enlisted under the banner of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce these missionaries spread throughout the valley the glad tidings that Glendale is the fastest growing city in America; that there's no law against parking on its business streets; that "when you can't buy it in your home town, you can buy it in Glendale"; that Glendale is friendly toward the whole valley and wishes to co-operate and help solve the problems of the entire San Fernando district.

Natives, from Montrose clear to Oaktown, greeted the missionaries in their roaring town, heard messages of good cheer, broke bread, spilled the salt, clasped hands, exchanged words of praise, and sent Glendale's caravan home happy in the thought that it had not trespassed but had made the trek a success, a mutual success.

Fifty automobiles, every kind of car from the one that supports Jesse Smith to J. E. Phillips' big ambulance, started — and finished — the 150-mile trip without accident and on schedule. W. M. Towman, local representative of the Automobile Club of Southern California, piloted the pilgrims — 200 of them.

Mayor Spencer Robinson, carrying both his singing and oratorical voice,

Glendale to Debate Hollywood, San Diego

Glendale High school will have its third debate of the season on Friday night of this week when the debating team will meet San Diego High school and Hollywood High school. The debate with San Diego will be held here in the high school auditorium and with Hollywood at its school auditorium.

The Glendale debating team has won both its former debates with Hollywood and Long Beach and has a high standing in the league. The team has been coached by Voltaire Perkins, attorney of Los Angeles and former member of the University of Southern California debating team. The question for the debate, which was selected one month ago, is: "Resolved, that the state of California should adopt a judicial court for the settlement of capital and labor disputes similar to the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations."

The affirmative team, which will meet Hollywood, will be Helen Sherwood and Harold Majors; the negative team which will debate San Diego is composed of Kathleen Campbell and Victor Colburn. If Glendale wins these debates, it will stand an excellent chance of winning the Southern California championship.

Lutherans Greet New Members at Meeting

New members of the First Lutheran church were given a reception last night which, according to Dr. H. C. Funk, fully sustained the reputation of the house of worship as "The Friendly Church." Music was furnished by the "Melody Boys" and Miss Sigrid Berg of 548 West Broadway gave several recitations which were much applauded. Light refreshments were served.

was a passenger in the second car, which also contained Councilman S. A. Davis wearing, among other things, a bright red necktie to dazzle the tribes inhabiting the valley.

Then, too, there was Henry Wright, supervisor of this district, introduced as "the mayor of San Fernando valley," W. H. Reeves, city manager, locked the safe at the city hall, put the cat out on the lawn, forgot the municipal deficit for a day and went along. His oratory echoed from hill to hill — until his voice broke in the vicinity of Lanker-shim and he was forced to seek a drug store for a throat gargle.

V. M. Hollister, president of the Chamber of Commerce, drove the car carrying the big baggage. But that isn't all he did, for he presided at the luncheon held at the Porter House at San Fernando. Mrs. Porterhouse is a good cook — make no mistake about that — and 250 people ate about $500 worth of San Fernando foodstuffs, the extra fifty folks being representatives of the Chamber of Commerce who are anxious to witness the way in which Glendale citizens handled knives and forks — and whether they carried away the silverware.

All Keyed Musically
The Glendale Shrine Club's orchestra, mounted on a truck provided by the Page Furniture company, provided jazz and the right key to start Mayor Robinson into song. The musical truck lost a wheel or sense of direction near Tujunga, pronounced To-hug-her, and was missed in the parade, but soon rolled into line again with the explanation:

"Dropped some notes. Had to stop and pick 'em up."
Those notes were the only flats in the pilgrimage. At San Fernando a collection was taken for the music-

Give Grand Opera Far Out on Desert; By Radio? Oh, No!

Grand opera on the desert! And not by radio, but by the members of the Chicago Grand Opera company which left Los Angeles last Saturday night. That was the pleasure accorded E. C. Horner, Santa Fe traveling passenger agent residing at 432 West Broadway, Glendale, who accompanied the troupe's train as far as Albuquerque, N. M.

On Easter morning at Winslow, Ariz., the shop workers and several citizens, gathered at the rear of the train while engines were being changed and heard arias that would cost $3 and up in the city. But Flagstaff on the top of the world — was where the people concert was staged Easter. A stage had been erected by the people there who were out en masse. An organ was hauled out of one of the baggage cars, the men's chorus and others sang, including the great diva and director, Mary Garden.

Better yet, according to Mr. Horner, was her amiable disposition and she "mixed among them" the compunchers, miners and merchants. After everyone was much awake, the railroad men and manager of the company told stories of holdups and alleged holdups in the Arizona and New Mexico wilds with the result that a large part of the day was spent in tucking diamonds in their stockings. "The men of the party enjoyed the scenery very much," Mr. Horner comments.

DISPLAY OF THREE IMPROVEMENTS FOR ARTS TO ATTRACT MUCH ATTENTION GLENDALE AVENUE ARE DEBATED

Special Committee of C. of C. Is Organizing for Exhibit Here April 25 to 29

Zoning of Lumber Yard Out of Present Location Argued; Predict Electric Line

A display of three arts — sculpture, painting and music — will be made at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium April 25, 26, 27, 28 and 29, as previously announced, according to Bert Short, who is co-operating on a special committee with Secretary James M. Rhoades in giving Glendale this great treat.

While the Sculptors' Guild of Southern California will provide the statuary, local artists are being programmed for the music each evening and F. Grayson Sayre will hang his studies of the desert and mountain, a unique offering in the way of a water color. He is residing at 914 South Central avenue and is greatly interested in this art show.

Work Highly Praised
At a recent showing in San Francisco, Edwin A. Morphy, writing in The Bulletin, said of Mr. Sayre's work:

"It is in the medium, perhaps, more than in the treatment, that the uniqueness of these fascinating studies principally lies. That medium is an opaque water color that can be laid in after the fashion of oils, and painted over to bring out the tone effects, wholly different from the ordinary transparent effects of aqua-relle and also different from oils in that the medium is dull and glassless. His medium aside, Sayre's technique of production is unusual. He obtains remarkable effects with a small brush, wherewith, by parallel and cross-hatching, he gets lights and colors vivid and beautiful."

Must Have Instinct
"Any artist with a spirit that understands the desert must have the instinct of composition in landscape and the ability of selection in the superabundance of themes the desert gives and inspires. That instinct is obviously the gift of the artist in the collection now exhibited; but the quality that rivets and enthralls by its predomance and unusualness is the blazing and palpitant portrayal of living color."
"This fact is remarkable inasmuch that the artist, until four years ago when he came out to the desert country for his health, confined his work almost exclusively to black and white illustrating."

An informal civic debate was held last night in the auditorium of Glendale Union high school under the auspices of the Glendale Avenue Improvement Association.

The subject was the improvement of Glendale avenue. Among those who participated in the debate were Attorney Harry C. Levey, 811 South Glendale avenue; Attorney Kemper Campbell, 1412 South Glendale avenue; Councilman Sam A. Davis, 118 West Colorado street; C. W. Ingledue, 501 West Wilson avenue; and Gus Rosenberg, 1420 South Glendale avenue. All of them took different sides of the question.

"We have not had a meeting for a long time as large as this," remarked Attorney Levey, president of the association. Thirty-eight citizens were present.

Opposes Lumber Yards
Attorney Levey declared that it seemed foolish to go to the expense of attempting to improve Glendale avenue while the Union Pacific tracks remain there. He urged the zoning of the lumber yards from Glendale avenue to the industrial district on South San Fernando road on the plea that, if the railroad had no lumber to haul, it soon would lose money and abandon its tracks voluntarily.

Councilman Davis asserted that the zoning of an industry out of a location which it occupied already was quite different from preventing the same industry from moving into a certain zone. He expressed his skepticism over the legal aspects of the action.

Several legal references were cited by Attorney Levey, who offered to send a transcript of the decisions involved to City Attorney Hartley Shaw and fight the case through to the supreme court without compensation.

No Hardship Intended
Mr. Davis said that he was opposed to arbitrarily interfering with private business and ordering an industry to leave on a moment's notice.

Attorney Levey replied that it was not intended that undue hardship should be worked upon the lumber yards and that they should be given

DEATH WALK WITH HUSBAND RELATED BY WOMAN

Widow of Man Killed in Unavoidable Automobile Crash Tells of Accident

A stifled sob, a slow-spoken word in response to questions, and Mrs. William H. Kortz told the story this morning of her last walk in the avenues of this life with her husband, told how they were going together to an Eastern Star meeting, how her husband was a step ahead of her when struck by the machine driven by Robert Roach, aged 16, at the corner of Central and Wilson avenues.

Mrs. Kortz was injured herself, broken by the blow, but two stalwart sons stood by to comfort her as the jury considered the evidence in the case and rendered the verdict that death resulted from "crushing of the ribs and internal injuries caused by an unavoidable automobile accident."

Tell of Accident
Chief Deputy Coroner William A. Macdonald conducted the inquest and called upon young Roach, the driver of the death car, to tell the story of the accident.

His mother, Mrs. G. D. Roach of 449 West California avenue, who was with him, was next to take the stand, and they were followed by W. E. Seidel of 1223 Viola street, one of the first to help Roach extricate Mr. Kortz from under the car.

Mrs. Kortz took the stand and told of the fatal trip from their home at 341 West Salem street. She verified the statements of others that both Roach and his mother gave all of the assistance possible. Charles H. Whitney of 124 South Columbus avenue, the last witness, added that the machine was proceeding at about ten miles an hour, that the corner was dark, and that he considered Central and Wilson avenues a dangerous place for pedestrians and motorists alike.

Inquest Is Conducted Over Mrs. Gwynn Cramer

The second inquest of the day was held in the funeral parlors of Pulliam & Kiefer between 11 and 12 o'clock this morning when a verdict was returned that Mrs. Gwynn Cramer came to her death about 3 o'clock yesterday morning by "being crushed and mangled by a Southern Pacific train."

The body was found upon the Southern Pacific tracks near Park avenue and it was found that Mrs. Cramer had climbed out of a window at the Mission Rest Home, 1011 South San Fernando road. It is believed that she deliberately threw herself on the tracks to commit suicide in a state of temporary derangement due to extreme nervousness, toothache and other complaints.

The inquest was conducted by W. A. Macdonald of Los Angeles, deputy coroner. Members of the jury were D. F. Ray, J. N. Stuckey, T. J. Hutchinson, R. Y. Brundage, P. J. Conway and J. L. Brown.

Out of Door Lunch Party Much Enjoyed

Quite in keeping with the balmy weather, a very pleasant meeting and noonday luncheon was enjoyed out-of-doors yesterday by fifty of the members of Glen Eyrre Social club of the local Eastern Star at the home of Mrs. Daniel Campbell at Ardmore, North Highland avenue. The hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Jennie Phillips, Mrs. William Reynolds and Mrs. Fannie Parke, substituting for Mrs. John Everson, who yesterday celebrated her wedding anniversary, and Mrs. Daniel Campbell. The honorees of the occasion were Mrs. Sallie Campbell Braden, who organized the social club, and Mrs. A. W. Reese, worthy matron of Burbank chapter. Luncheon was served under the pepper trees on the grounds of the Campbell home, overlooking the entire San Fernando valley and Glendale.

In the afternoon a short business session was held, with Mrs. Orma V. Naudain, president, in charge. The matter of holding a bazaar previous to Christmas time was discussed, as at each club meeting part of the time is given over to sewing on aprons, towels and other handwork. Mrs. Reese of Burbank gave a brief talk complimenting those present on the success of the social club.

Big Time Tonight At Local Chamber; Pleasing Program

"Forum Meeting Tonight?" That is the big news at the Chamber of Commerce.

The 1000 members are invited to attend at 7:30 p. m. and take part in the discussion, also hear some mighty fine music, and listen to Lon J. Haddock, noted Utah educator, speak.

While Mr. Haddock is interested in the real estate business in Glendale, he will take some topic on organized community effort.

Of course, you will attend. Remember, this is not a dinner. Simply a rousing rally of Glendale boosters.

HUGE GOLD SUPPLY MISSIONARIES ARE IS BEING HELD HOME! NO PLACE AT U. S. MINTS LIKE HOME, EH?

More Than Three Billions of Dollars Held in Custody of Uncle Sam Now

WASHINGTON—Raymond T. Baker retired as director of the mint recently, turning over to F. E. Scobey, his successor, approximately one-third of the world's gold supply. The gold bullion and gold coin held at the United States mints at Philadelphia, Denver and San Francisco, and at the assay office in New York on March 1, totaled more than $3,000,000,000. The world's supply amounts to about $9,000,000,000.

Short Weight Packages

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace says that his department had discovered that several large butter packers are putting out short weight packages, but that there is no law to reach them because of the label "15-oz. net" on the package. The unsuspecting consumer, not deeming it necessary to scrutinize carefully, hands over the price of a pound.

Wheat in Elevators

Stocks of wheat in country mills and elevators March 1 are estimated at 72,564,000 bushels by the United States Department of Agriculture. This is the smallest quantity in the record of reports made to the department for that date during the past ten years, with the exception of March 1, 1918, when the abnormally low stocks of 66,000,000 bushels followed the small wheat crop of 1917.

Average wheat stocks in country mills and elevators March 1, during the past five years were about 91,000,000. Stocks this year are 20 per cent less than the five-year average. Wheat stocks of this class were as much as 155,000,000 bushels in 1916 or 112 per cent more than the 1922 figure.

Smallpox Is Conquered

The Department of Commerce, through the Bureau of the Census, announces that there have been very few deaths from smallpox in recent years. Since the beginning of annual compilations in 1900 the highest rate from this cause in the death registration area of the United States was 6.6 per 100,000 population in 1902, while in 1903 it was 4.2, and in 1904, 2.1, since which time the rate for the registration area has never reached 1 per 100,000 population. Much higher rates in certain states and cities, however, clearly show that the danger of smallpox in an unvaccinated population must not be lost sight of. The high rate (9.2) in 1920 in Louisiana should serve as a warning.

Trend of Farm Prices

The level of prices paid producers of the United States for the principal crops increased about 2.6 per cent during January, compared with an average January increase during the past 10 years of a like amount. On February 1 the index figure of prices was about 28.4 per cent lower than a year ago, 60.3 per cent lower than two years ago, and 33.4 per cent lower than the average of the past ten years on February 1.

Footsteps of a house fly booming out like thunder as it walked across a piece of paper have been heard by scientists visiting the Bell telephone system's research laboratories.

Here Are Two of Newest French Importations

Left, a creation of white chiffon, black satin and coral beads for dinner wear. Right, a startling gown of mauve satin with peculiar waist of chiffon in purple and orange billows. The flowers are hand made and grouped around her waist in charming quaintness.

The hungry pilgrims in the early stages of the journey. A mournful feature of the luncheon at San Fernando was the fact a folder, put at each plate, contained a fine map of the valley that failed to show Glendale in its accustomed position. In fact, a careful hunt by 200 pilgrims failed to locate Glendale any place on the map.

The social error caused loud wailings and gnashing of teeth to go up from the Glendale missionaries and the San Fernando representatives got red behind the ears. However, it was explained that Glendale already has its place in the sun and a more map isn't necessary to guide the tourists here. So that's that.

There was a brief stop at the San Fernando Mission, where a big celebration will be held in June, and then Owensmouth was entered. "Ought to have a dentist on this trip," said a voice.

"Why?" came from I. Will Bite. "To look into Owen's mouth," was the answer. And silence reigned. Then the poultry cackled and the bees upon the bloom buzzed and buzzed.

But Owensmouth was looked into and over. Meanwhile, City Manager Reeves and Supervisor Wright orated and the Shrine Club's orchestra jazzed.

C. of C. Takes Credit

It was here that City Manager Reeves declared: "This is the first fine day we have had in six months—and the Glendale Chamber of Commerce arranged it."

The big surprise of the trip was provided by Zelzah, the high spot town of the valley. Zelzah was named by Mrs. F. M. Wright. She found the name in the Bible, I Samuel, tenth chapter. Look it up, if you are interested. Here the Zelzah

Women's club was thrown open to the pilgrims. Attorney W. E. Evans made a rattling good talk. But that wasn't the surprise. The surprise was in the welcome provided by the Zelzah folks. They served punch, candy and cigars, many of the visitors consuming all three. The reception by Zelzah, arranged by the Women's club and the Chamber of Commerce, was a complete success and caused Mayor Robinson to make a speech and then sing, finally ending up with:

"When you Zelzah folks come to Glendale, just take what you happen to fancy—you've earned it."

After visiting Marion, the missionaries hied to Van Nuys and here A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, spoke on the need of more good roads and the necessity of co-operation to secure them. More music by the orchestra; more harmony from Mayor Robinson. More assurance from the people of the valley that the invasion was well received.

Mayor, No Tax—Hooryay!

At Lankershim the gospel of Glendale was offered by Roy Kent and he made a hearty talk in which he urged "trade at home first," but if you can't get it at home, you can get it in Glendale.

An enthusiastic citizen of Lankershim, in answer, declared that Lankershim has no mayor or "other troubles," is unincorporated, pays no city taxes and has no financial worries.

Mayor Robinson promptly pointed out that "everything is free in Lankershim. No mayor, no police, no nothing." And, he continued, with a grin:

"If you want a porterhouse steak, you go to the butcher and get it free; if you want a suit, you go to the tailor and get it for nothing; if you want salvation, that's free, too, for you don't pay the preacher. Now in Glendale, we have taxes, we pay—sometimes—the butcher, the tailor and the preacher. Yes, and a city manager, the mayor and the councilmen. Oh, happy Lankershim! Thy troubles! There has none!"

The crowd, of course, received the remarks in good spirit and wouldn't let the pilgrims depart until Mayor Robinson had sung—including "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

From Lankershim the missionaries journeyed into Burbank and here there was more speech-making, including a dandy talk by Owen Emery, justice of the peace for Burbank township and Glendale attorney.

At Last! We're Home!
It was 6 o'clock when the missionaries tooted their way into Glendale and the first trade excursion of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce ended as it had begun—with success.

MANY FARMERS TO GET SMALL LOANS OF SEED FUND

Government Comes to Aid of Those Whose Crops Are Declared Failures

WASHINGTON.—Distribution of the $1,500,000 provided in the Seed Loan act just signed by the president for relieving the acute stress of the farmers in the crop failure area of the Northwest will begin immediately. Preparations for the work of making the fund available in small loans to farmers have been going forward rapidly for some time and the United States Department of Agriculture, through its seed loan committee, is ready to begin business without delay in time for the spring planting.

Arrangements have been made for opening a branch office at Grand Forks, North Dakota, as was done in the case of previous government loans for the relief of farmers in that section of the country. Who have suffered a series of crop failures for the last several years. The clerical force that served at the office there last season will be reassembled. Their familiarity with the work will make possible a speedy organization of the office.

The relief is provided for farmers in the "crop failure area" for the purchase of spring-grown grain for seed, which includes wheat, oats, barley and flax. The area comprises North Dakota, northwest counties of South Dakota, Montana, several counties in Idaho and Washington. Drouths for a number of years have worked severe hardships with the farmers of this region, many of whom have no seed and no credit or money with which to buy any for this year's planting. Since 1918 about $6,000,000 of government money has been lent in small loans, of which only about $2,000,000 has been repaid. Each succeeding year has brought a crop failure and the farmers, it is said, are as bad off now as they were when the work of relief was first started.

Farmers desiring loans should make application to their county agent, to the director of extension work in their respective states, or directly to the Seed Loan Office at Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Improvement in Business

The most recent figures received by the Department of Commerce bear out the conclusion reached in earlier months to the effect that business is gradually working its way back to what President Harding calls "normalcy." This movement is not always evenly distributed among the different industries, but having regard to those fundamental industries which constitute the backbone of American business, there is a very marked improvement over the conditions recorded a few months ago.

The most fundamental change that has occurred in recent weeks is the improvement in the prices of agricultural products. With the exception of tobacco, every agricultural product for which prices are given in the "Survey of Current Business" made a substantial increase in February over the preceding month. The price of hogs in Chicago increased 45 per cent in two months. Sheep and lambs increased from 40 to 70 per cent. During the same period wheat and corn each rose about 20 per cent. Wool increased 28 per cent, while cattle and minor cereals showed substantial gains. Cotton, although slightly higher than in January, is still below the price attained in the last quarter of 1921.

IN SYMPATHY WITH MEN

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 20.—Only general support can be given the striking coal miners by the railroad brotherhoods, L. E. Sheppard, president of the order of railway conductors declared in a statement here today.

"The rail unions are naturally in sympathy with the miners," said Sheppard, "but will not make any move in violation of their contracts with the road owners."

A determined fight is being made on all labor unions, Sheppard said. "The best way to combat the attack is for the unions to induce the public to take a kindly interest in their welfare."

OFFICIALS ORGANIZE BANK

SACRAMENTO, April 20.—With 220 stockholders, many of them prominent in financial and political circles in the state, the Berkeley Commercial and Savings bank filed articles of incorporation with Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan here today. The new Berkeley financial institution is incorporated with a capital stock of $1,000,000, a total of $300,000 being actually subscribed. Among the prominent stockholders in the bank are: Frank R. Devlin, Elwood Mead, Friend W. Richardson, R. G. Sproul, Max Thelen, Wm. H. Waste, C. C. Young, H. H. Jarvis, W. F. Morris, Fred Van Wambeke, Lester W. Hink and Percy T. Tomkins.

POINCARÉ EXPRESSES VIEW

PARIS, April 20.—"If we can't prevent the Germans from uniting with the Russians at least we can force Germany to respect the treaty of Versailles," Premier Poincaré is quoted as declaring early today by Marcel Hutin, writing in Echo de Paris.

"Not at Genoa will we settle this account," the premier continued. "We've means to enforce the sanctions to bring Germany to order. We demand that the allies, principally Great Britain, join us in obliging Germany to make honorable amends—not verbal but practical."

COME DWELL IN IVANHOE THE HILLS OF

You are tired of the "long daily drag" between the house and your "downtown" office.

For months you have passed, on Glendale Boulevard, only 3 miles from Broadway, picturesque Ivanhoe Hills, held in acreage as a part of the Griffith estate. Often you have thought how convenient would be a home on their slopes, overlooking the San Fernando valley and Glendale, and affording a panorama of the Sierra Madres. Possibly you have even pictured the joy of a "before-breakfast" walk along the quiet waters of Silver Lake.

All these things are possible now. Large, well restricted homesites may be purchased on Ivanhoe Hills. Water is in. Buildings may start at once. Gas and electricity are within a day's work from the tract. We pay for all improvements. Courteous salesmen will call for you on request.

By Dr. Otey "How long does it take to give an Osteopathic Treatment?"

A treatment is not a routine of exercise, or set of motions. It is not learned or given by rote. When you go to a dentist to have a tooth pulled he cannot tell you how long it will take—perhaps one minute, possibly an hour. When he gets through he will quit. That is what your osteopath will do, whether it takes him five minutes or an hour. It may take one treatment or a dozen. Likewise, the dentist will not pull your tooth till he examines it and determines whether that is the best course to pursue. Neither will the Osteopath take your case unless he determines on examination that yours is a case that will yield to Osteopathy. Perhaps the average length of treatment is thirty minutes. They are not given by the clock.

Lorraine B. McIntyre Has Birthday Party

A birthday party was held at 135 North Cedar street Tuesday afternoon for Miss Lorraine Belle McIntyre. The home was decorated in pink and white and pink and white cake and ice cream were served. McIntyre, a flirted most scantly with all the young men present. Her mother, Mrs. W. J. McIntyre, admits it. However, there was only one candle on the cake.

The affair was the baby's first party. Throughout it all she cooed and gurgled pleasantly and smiled most amiably. The "young men" in question were slightly older than Lorraine. They were properly chaperoned by their mothers. Among them were Dick, son of Mrs. George Robinson, 630 North Jackson street; Donk, son of Mrs. Simon MacMullin, 412 West Wilson avenue; Frae, daughter of Mrs. Edward Rohr, 631 Orange Grove avenue; Charlotte, daughter of Mrs. Cecil Crandall, 303 Salem street; Tommy, son of Mrs. Thomas Furst, 400 North Glendale avenue; Olive Lemch, daughter of Mrs. Charles B. Dow, 123 North Cedar street; Yvonne, daughter of Mrs. Leo C. Goode, 226 Dayton Court, and Dick, son of Mrs. Howard H. Ford, 817 East Wilson avenue. Lorraine's grandmother, Mrs. W. F. McIntyre of 135 North Cedar street, was present as were also her three great aunts: Mrs. Helen I. Campbell and Miss Annie L. McIntyre of 718 East Harvard street and Mrs. James Dismuke of Los Angeles. Pictures of the babies were taken and will be given to each of the mothers as favors.

Reading Circle Baby Day to Be April 26

Mrs. H. V. Henry presided at the regular meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle at the library yesterday in the absence of the president, Mrs. A. A. Barton, who is vacationing at Camp Bundy. The review consisted of a magazine article, "It is Up to You," given by Mrs. C. H. Pendleton. Arrangements were made for the celebration of Circle baby day, to be observed next Wednesday, April 26, and a large attendance is anticipated at that time. It was announced that the review for next week will be on "Reading for Children," taken from the book "Parents and Their Problems." Mrs. J. C. Danford, librarian, will give a short talk of good books for children, along lines of nature lore and biographies. The treasurer, Mrs. Pendleton, stated that the reading circle enrollment now totals 73 paid-up members. In the afternoon the reading of the book "Mother Love in Action" was continued by Mrs. E. B. Moore.

Trip to Mount Lowe Planned for Sunday

A trip to Mount Lowe next Sunday is being planned by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Killiek of 421 Oak street. They will be accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. William B. Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bushan, Miss Esther Bushan and Marcel Bushan, all of Los Angeles. Members of this party enjoyed the closing Twilight recital last Sunday very much. A week from Sunday they will be entertained with a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Bushan in Los Angeles. Miss Esther Bushan will be remembered as one of the most active workers for the benefit of the disabled veterans of the World War.

7-Apartment Court Plans Prove Unique

Specifications and plans have been drawn for a combination of 7 one-story apartments to be erected on a lot at the corner of Glendale and Windsor Road. The foundation for the new structure is now being surveyed and will cost about $50,000. The plans were drawn for George R. Bradbury, 732 North Maryland, and M. M. Brown. The apartments will be something different from anything now in Glendale, being of old mission style, hardwood floors in practically every part of the house except the kitchen which will be regular flooring covered with linoleum. Kemper Nonland of 325-B West Maple avenue is the designer.

Deaths and Funerals

ERNEST F. GANSERT Ernest F. Gansert, aged 41 years, 3 months and 18 days, died April 18, 1922, at the California hospital, Los Angeles, after suffering for months from a complication of diseases. He had spent his declining days until recently at the home of his parents, 414 West 75th street, Los Angeles. Born in Connorsville, Ind., Mr. Gansert learned the barber trade, shipped as a steward in coastal trade, and came to Glendale more than 10 years ago to better his health. He was employed in several local barber shops and at one time owned an interest in one. He leaves a widow and daughter in addition to his parents. Funeral services will be held from Pierce Brothers chapel, 810 South Flower street, Friday morning at 10 a. m.

The members of N. P. Banks Post and Corps are planning to meet in a body at the Jewel City Undertaking Company's parlors tomorrow afternoon at 6 o'clock to attend the funeral services of William Kortz.

Last Contest Tonight In Elk Alley League

The final round of play in the Class A division of the local Elks' Scratch Bowling league will be played on the club alleys tonight instead of Friday night, as had been previously scheduled, according to an announcement made by Bert Ward, captain of the Ward team and secretary and general manager of the league.

Tonight's play promises to be a thriller from start to finish, as there is a possibility of any one of three teams winning the league championship. The Grenfells, who won three straight games last week, have the edge on the other squads due to the fact that they have played three more contests than either the Fortunatos or the Wards, who postponed their match last week.

The headliner for tonight's program will be the battle between the Grenfells and the Fortunatos. Should the former team win two games they will have the pennant as good as won, while on the other hand should they drop three straight, the two squads will be tied for first place. The Wards, who are now in third place, are liable to come in "con mucho gusto" at the finish, as they are scheduled to meet the Clarks, last place artists and official "goats" for the rest of the teams.

In all probability the ultimate winner will not be decided until next Tuesday night, when the Fortunatos and the Wards will hook up in their proposed match. The winners will be matched against the Lawrencees, winners in Class B division.

Thousands Killed by Explosion, Is Report

LONDON, April 20.—Thousands of persons were reported to have been blown to pieces in a munitions explosion in Saloniki, according to a dispatch received here today. Hundreds of children were reported to have been burned in the ruins of a church which was destroyed. It is believed that 1800 soldiers were buried in the ruins of their barracks. Fire immediately broke out among the ruins and inhabitants of the stricken area fled in terror. The soldiers were at their mid-day meal in the barracks when the explosion occurred. Full details of the explosion have not yet been gathered. The people of Athens are greatly excited over the disaster which has befallen many of their countrymen. The explosion occurred in a mass of war material. It occurred at noon yesterday, in an ammunition dump 100 meters from the Saloniki railway station. One shell exploded on top of a church, believed to be the one in which the children were buried. The railway station was damaged and barracks of soldiers totally destroyed. Reports say the casualties were mostly Greeks.

Saloniki is a city of about 100,000 inhabitants, mostly Jews and Mohammedans. After Constantinople, it is the most important seaport of European Turkey. "The Christian must give to his religion his best intellect, his best service, his best vision and, above all, he must be loyal," declared Bishop William B. Stevens of Los Angeles to the eight candidates who were confirmed last night in the presence of a large congregation at St. Mark's Episcopal church. "One hundred per cent has become a rather cheap phrase," he continued, "but it is undeniably true that the great task that confronts the church of today demands one hundred per cent Christians, who do not shrink from the crispness of religion. The Easter season comes with a message of life beyond the grave but this should not cause us to forget our responsibilities in this world. It is possible to become as insensible to sin and temptations as the dead are to all earthly things. It is possible to be dead to sin and dead also to everything else and to be merely negatively good. Christianity is a wide-awake religion. It demands the co-operation of all of man's faculties." The choir sang an Easter anthem.

Mr. and Mrs. Doner Have New Home Plans

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Doner of 137 North Orange street have okehed plans prepared by Charlton & Brainard, 111 East Broadway, for a new, seven-room home on the southwest corner of Myrtle street and Central avenue. A porch across the front and extending around the house 34 feet on Myrtle street will be one of the features. The girders ordered for this home are about twice the size used ordinarily. The cost of the bungalow will be about $6500 which will include a tile bath.

ONE KILLED; FOUR HURT

SEATTLE, Wash., April 20.—One man was instantly killed and four others, including three Seattle policemen, were injured when an automobile crashed over an embankment on the Enumclaw-Tacoma road, five miles east of Tacoma, at an early hour today. The dead, Dr. W. D. Merritt, Enumclaw physician. The injured: Fred Mills, patrolman; J. C. Jensen, patrolman; H. Peterson, city hospital ambulance driver; Joe McKlinski, Enumclaw. The party were guests of Dr. Merritt and were on their way to Enumclaw to visit McKlinski's wife, who is in a hospital there.

Music Has Charms
At Loomis - Shuck
Store on Any Day

"Music hath charms." That has been said many times when speaking in terms of the Knabe with the Ampico. So natural is this mechanically played piano that were one's back turned, he would be convinced that the artist were seated at the piano in person.

Not only that, but the music box itself has charms, as George Loomis of the Loomis-Shuck Music Company at 211-13 North Brand boulevard stated, that since the first of the year they have sold so many pianos and phonographs they have decided Glendale can and does appreciate music.

This music store is known throughout the San Fernando valley as "the home of the Knabe with the Ampico," said Mr. Loomis. In addition to this line, they carry the Haines Piano with the Ampico and the largest line of phonographs in the valley. They are agents for four different makes and, in addition, they carry three other makes in stock.

If a person wants to get the latest phonograph records or the latest sheet music, this store is ready with the goods to deliver.

The service department, for the convenience of their customers and prospective customers, is complete. Just a telephone call will bring them to you even if you live at the farthest end of the valley because service is their aim. Mr. Loomis concluded. Fred Shuck is pictured here with Mr. Loomis.

NEW YORK.—According to all accounts, the brothers Leonard of the well known Bronx Leonard, are to enjoy a rather large evening with-in a matter of weeks. Benny, the lightweight champion, is to meet Jack Britton, the welter weight champion, in one of those Joisy City non-decision things which means that nothing of any abiding nature is to happen to Benjamin on that occasion.

On the same bill Joe Leonard, the great man's brother, is to make his professional debut. His fistic vis-a-vis has not been named, but Billy Gibson informed us that he will be chosen from that lean and hungry division known as the junior light-weight class. At Chaney, Dundee and Valgar are the only junior light-weights of distinction, Benny's brother will be amply provided for on that occasion. He will not meet any of the three named, for obvious reasons, and certainly the rest of the field should not appoint this youth, who is said to have handled brother Benny, Johnny Dundee, Midget Smith and others without trouble in the gymnasium. Of course, that gymnasium business is the well known water works. You can't prove anything by it.

At that, the young fellow has shown class beyond his years, which are nineteen in number. Benny himself admits that when he says he wouldn't send brother into the ring with an experienced battler until he was sure Joe was "ready."

"He can carry me along for six rounds as fast as I care to go," says the champion. "He can sock, too. The only thing he lacks is experience and he's going after that right away. I don't think he will have any trouble until he starts to meet the good ones, for he seems to have boxing instinct and is as cool under fire as a veter-an."

PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

A revival of interest in bicycle rid-ing is under way at Coronado, Calif., where a coterie of enthusiasts are de-veloping a plan which will provide racing and runs and other events for those who still cling to the sport of the wheel. A great wheelman's pa-rade is contemplated for May 6 in which a big turnout is expected with wheels profusely decorated with bunting and flowers. There will be prizes awarded for the best effects.

Another event decided on is a race meet for May 29. Eventually the wheelmen will have a regular track, a suitable property for the building of an eighth of a mile track being available. It will be financed by the selling of member tickets admitting to all meets for a period of two years.

Now that it is settled that Babe Ruth will have to serve out his full sentence on the side lines, followers of the baseball game are of the opin-ion that he has no chance of better-ing his last season's record of 59 home runs. Ruth will not be allowed to get into the line-up until May 29. At that time last season he had an even dozen of homers to his credit, and it is more than likely that he never will be able to overcome this handicap. Another thing, the Ak-hon in practice this season as was his wont last year. He is conscious of this fact himself, and it is consider-ably nettling him. Altogether it looks as if the Babe was out of it for this year as far as any record breaking figures are concerned.

PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

For the first time in the history of the Pacific coast tennis champion-ships since 1889, the coast title is likely to be held by an eastern cham-pion. William Tilden Jr., of Phila-delphia, Vincent Richards of New York, Laurence Rice of Boston and Fred Alexander of New York are all entered in the event. The eastern men are to play on the national "East vs. West" championship May 6 and 7 and will then play through in the Pacific coast championships which are also to be played at Berke-ley, Calif., May 8 to 14 inclusive.

It is the first time that a player other than a Pacific coast product has entered the classic event of the far west. Bill Johnson, the pride of the west, will be on hand to defend his coast title which he won last year, but whether he will be in shape to meet such opposition as Tilden, Richards, Rice and Alexander can give, remains to be seen.

The record of former Pacific coast champions reads like a blue book of national and international stars. Back in the early 90's Samuel and Sumner Hardy were nationally prom-inent and Sam Hardy today holds the spotlight as a brilliant player as well as having been the man who managed the Davis cup team which regained the trophy in 1920 and suc-cessfully defended it last year. Fur-ther down the list the names of Mel Long, Morry McLoughlin, Bill John-son, Roland Roberts and Willis Davis are all former winners of the title and all of them are nationally and internationally prominent.

The championship series this year, preceded as it will be by the East vs. West, will bring out the greatest coterie of stars that have ever played in one tourney for the western clas-sic. Johnson, Roberts, Davis, the Griffin brothers, the Kinsey brothers, Strachan and Phil Neer, the lat-ter the national intercollegiate cham-pion of 1921, are a few of the bril-liant men who will oppose Tilden and his invaders from the east. Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle will also send entries, but nothing defi-nite is known at this time of the en-trants from these sections. Entries for the championships will close on May 4 with the California Lawn Ten-nis Association.

The record of the Pacific coast championships since its inception in 1889 is as follows:
1889-1892—W. H. Taylor, Jr.
1893—T. A. Driscoll.
1894—Samuel Hardy.

HE'S CITED FOR CONTEMPT
DENVER, April 20. — Warren R. Givens, former newspaper man and well known broker, was cited for contempt of court and ordered next Saturday to show cause why he should not be punished for refusing to obey an order of the court. Judge Butler ordered Givens to answer before the grand jury questions regarding the Ku Klux Klan, which was under investigation. Givens refused on the ground that he could not violate the oath of a secret society.

Judge Butler informed Givens that secret oaths did not supersede the laws of the land, declaring that Givens' only claim to immunity from answering the questions was for him to stand on his constitutional right that he might incriminate himself. The broker refused to do this.

GIVES ANSWER TO WILSON
WASHINGTON, April 20. — Senator "Jim" Reed of Missouri has hit back at Woodrow Wilson. He issued a lengthy statement to the effect that Mr. Wilson's letter to a St. Louis newspaper, in which the former president expressed his opinion of the senator in no uncertain terms, was "grossly insulting" to him. Senator Reed also expressed doubt as to Mr. Wilson's power of memory, pointing out that the former president had denied writing a letter which has now been produced.

Spick and span or shabby-which?

A paint-worn, "rusty" house is an eyesore to any neighborhood. You can make your home spick and span—truly a delight to the eye—by the judicious use of B-H Paints.

Paints of real character—permanent preservatives for woodwork of all sorts—a sure insurance against decay.

A little higher in price than the cheap kinds, but B-H Paints last twice as long so are far more economical in the end.

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

Question: Would like to know where I can get a receiving set that would take in all the concerts in the United States. Have been experimenting with an inside aerial, but I get very poor results. I have a well known make of set with two steps of amplification. Please tell me how to get better results.—J. L. Glendale.

Answer: Your first question asks for something that cannot be bought, as it is impossible to hear radiophone concerts from stations on the Atlantic coast because the transmitting set has not the necessary power to reach this far, and the same thing holds true of many other broadcasting stations. You have a good set at present, and you are handicapping it with a poor aerial. Erect a one-wire aerial about 100 feet long, and as high as you can get it, and put it out doors. You can not expect to get long result of long distance on a small indoor aerial. If you have the set wired up correctly to the batteries and they are in good condition, you should be able to hear the long distance stations; just how far it is hard to say as every day I hear of someone who picks up something from stations that were thought to be such a great distance away that they were entirely out of range.

Question: I have the necessary amount of No. 14 copper wire to erect an aerial, but the wire is insulated. Please tell me if insulated wire would work the same as bare wire?—G. B. Verdugo Woodlands.

Answer: It does not make a great deal of difference whether it is insulated or not, but it is so easy to remove the insulation that I would advise you to go to the trouble of removing the insulation as the best authorities recommend bare wire. I would cut the insulation off rather than the easier method of burning it off.

Question: Does the piece of crystal ever have to be replaced in a receiving set?—A. H. Glendale.

Answer: Yes, this piece of crystal does have to be replaced occasionally, about every three months, but the cost is trifling, as a piece of crystal the size needed for a set only costs about 25 or 50 cents.

Question: Can a loud speaker be attached to a crystal set, the same as on a vacuum tube set?—R. H. Glendale.

Answer: A loud speaker will not work on a crystal set.

RADIO EXPLAINED

BY E. H. LEWIS
INSTRUCTOR, NEW YORK Y. M. C. A. RADIO SCHOOL

RESONANCE

Resonance phenomena are not confined solely to radio work, but are of the greatest importance in that field and should be thoroughly understood.

If a plumb bob or other weight is suspended from a support by means of a cord, we have a pendulum. The length of the cord controls the number of times per second the pendulum will swing back and forth if struck a blow. The swings will die out, of course, after a time because of the friction between the weight and the air. If the weight is struck a blow each time it swings to a maximum height in one direction, it will continue to move to and fro as long as the blows are applied. The blows need only be very light in this case to cause a considerable swing in each direction. The number of and fro swings of the pendulum per second when hit one comparatively hard blow is constant until the pendulum comes to rest. Since the number per second, or the frequency, depends upon the length of the suspending cord, it may be said that this is the "natural frequency" of the swings. If the light blows are applied above the proper times, as mentioned, the frequency of the swings is the same as the frequency of complete swings to and fro. The frequencies coincide and the blows (applied force) are in resonance, or in step, with the swings.

An alternating current may be likened to the swings of a pendulum back and forth, since the alternating current actually flows periodically in one direction and the opposite. The current also increases and decreases in each direction of flow in a manner similar to the swings of the pendulum upward and downward in each direction of swing. It is not difficult, then, to understand that a sudden electrical blow would create an alternating current in a circuit containing a condenser and a coil of wire in series. This blow would be the result of a suddenly applied electromotive force. The frequency of this alternating current which would then flow would depend only upon the characteristics of the circuit. If the electromotive force were applied in step with the current swings, it would take only a comparatively small pressure, applied at the proper times, to keep the current changing between large values of strength. Also, this current would continue to flow so long as the electromotive force were applied. The electromotive

Wireless Receiver Isn't Complicated

BY GEORGE VAN SANDS,
Radio Editor, The Evening News

Quite a number of Glendale folks attend some of the numerous radio concerts or radio parties, announcements of which appear just about every day in the columns of The News; they hear the latest music, or some other delightful program, and the wonder of it all, coming through the air in such apparent mysterious manner, seems almost beyond comprehension.

They see the receiver itself, which at first glance appears to be a complicated box of mystery; perhaps the operator happens to be a young Marconi in the making, such terms as vario-coupler, grid leak, tickler, filament rheostat, wave lengths and a thousand and one others flow from his lips like water over Niagara Falls.

It is so much Greek to the average citizen, and he is apt to get the impression that one has to be pretty well versed in mechanics and electricity to successfully operate a wireless telephone.

The fact of the matter is, that a wireless telephone receiver is not a bit more complicated than your own talking machine, and it is just as easy to operate. Of course it is very interesting to be fully familiar with the theory of radio, and to know the whys and wherefores of the different attachments of the machine, but this is not at all necessary.

Talking machines of various makes are now almost as common in our homes as the front door, but just how many of us would be prepared to give the correct answer as to just why a talking machine talks? You buy your talking machine, buy the records, wind it up, put on a record and away it goes, and we do not give it another thought except, perhaps, when the payments happen to fall due.

Well, a wireless receiver is much the same thing, only you do not have to buy your records, and in a recent radio magazine I actually read the advertisement where some concern is offering to sell them on "easy payments" and I am wondering if you should happen to get behind in your payments would they send the bill by wireless?

Ivanhoe Hills Lure Known by Commuters

Ivanhoe hills! If there ever was a lure in a name for folks who daily pass that beauty spot between Los Angeles and Glendale, they will answer the call of their heart's desire and investigate the property offered in today's issue of The Glendale Evening News by the Ivanhoe Hills Realty Company which has its tract offices along Glendale boulevard.

The vista of the San Fernando valley and Los Angeles, the hillside sites in close proximity to Silver Lake, and the accessibility of this subdivision to both cars and boulevards make it mighty attractive.

KLAN BUSY AT OAKLAND

OAKLAND, April 20.—Bootlegging, gambling and other vices in Alameda county must go, warns a letter received by city and county authorities today and purporting to be from the Ku Klux Klan. Citing a number of alleged violations of the law and naming several places said to have been under investigation, the letter asserts that the clan will take action to remedy the vice conditions "if the authorities fail in their duty."

METAL DIALS FOR RECEIVERS

In constructing a radio receiver, a metal dial may, however, be substituted for the usual composition dial and will have the effect of shielding the circuits to a great extent from body capacity effects. If the metal dial is connected to ground, the shielding is usually ideal.

In the illustration a dial indicator is shown which has a flanged, bakelite knob attached to it. The dial itself is made of brass, heavily plated with silver and coated with a special non-needing lacquer. The lacquer serves to preserve the silver plating and to prevent tarnishing.

This particular dial has heavy brass bushings, and a special method of assembly is used to insure easy and true running on a shaft. It is insulated from the shaft bushing so that it may be grounded for shielding purposes without interfering with the functioning of the interior component receiver parts.

One of the novel and useful features is the calibration space below the scale figures. This space permits call letters of stations to be noted for quick adjustment in tuning. The "hair-line" indicator, also shown in the illustration, may be mounted in proximity to the dial and is made of a celluloid piece, with a fine line drawn upon it.

These dials are made in two sizes, 4 inch and 3 1/2 inch diameters, and will be sure to fill a need felt by the radio constructor.

PERSHING IN POLITICS?

ST. LOUIS, April 20.—General John J. Pershing is in a receptive mood as regarding the Republican senatorial nomination for Missouri, according to Dr. E. B. Clements, Republican state chairman.

Dr. Clements has just returned from Washington. He did not take up the matter directly with General Pershing, he said, adding, however, that he "understood" that the general was willing to be a candidate if the nomination were tendered unanimously and he were not required to make a campaign.

"It would seem that the senatorship should be a stepping stone towards the presidency," said Dr. Clements.

TO FIX BLAME FOR TRAGEDY

SEATTLE, April 20.—A coroner's jury will probably be called to assign responsibility for the deaths of Charles Hebenstreit, president and treasurer of the Overseas Corporation, Ltd., and Mrs. Hebenstreit, who were buried beneath the wreckage of their home in West Seattle recently when tons of earth, loosened by recent rains, demolished the structure and carried two of its occupants to their deaths. Coroner W. H. Tiffin will begin an investigation today and it is thought probable that an inquest will be held to place the blame for the tragedy.

Fords $20 Lower, Due to Freight Rate

Here's $20 worth of joy for prospective Ford car and truck purchasers. According to telegram received by Jesse E. Smith, local Ford dealer, the freight charge on all models of Ford cars and trucks has been reduced by the above amount, effective April 18th.

Mr. Smith explains that this substantial reduction in Ford freight has been made possible solely by the fact that the operations of assembling, upholstering and finishing Ford cars have been developed at the Pacific coast branches to the point where the entire local demand can be supplied from these plants. This means that the raw material from which all Ford cars and trucks for this territory are manufactured, is received in compact, knocked-down form, taking the lowest freight rate.

"Mr. Ford's policy of passing on to the customer the benefit of any possible saving is well illustrated in this latest decrease," says Mr. Smith. It is estimated that the saving to residents of Southern California and Arizona alone during the balance of the year will amount to more than $400,000."

JAPAN WARS ON REDS

LONDON, April 20.—Following the arrest of eight persons at Vladivostok on the charge they were hatching a bolshevist plot against the Japanese, the Japanese military authorities have announced that no communists will be allowed to enter the coast districts of Siberia in the future, according to an exchange telegram dispatch from Helsingfors today. The Japanese, the dispatch added, have begun a strict offensive against the entrance of red citizens of the far eastern republic into Vladivostok.

Tom Mix Must Have Nine Lives of a Cat in Film 'Sky High'

The question that probably came to the mind of every person who saw Tom Mix's latest William Fox thriller, "Sky-High," at the Glendale theatre last night, was, "If he's still alive, why and how come?" Mix must have more lives than the time-honored cat to do the stunts he does and come up smiling and handsome every time for a new picture.

"Sky-High" is billed as a thrilling story of the Grand Canyon of Arizona. It certainly is that. What is more, it is blessed with an eminently satisfactory cast and some of the best photography that has ever slid over a local screen. The shots of Mix, as an immigration officer, riding an airplane through the Grand Canyon is a delight to the eye; but the hazard of making such scenes is so palpable that the audience is worked up to a high pitch of suspense.

Seriously speaking, however, this is a picture that ought not to be overlooked. The Canyon scenes alone make seeing it worth while. Larry Semon, the inimitable droll, presents "The Show" that is one scream after another. You will appreciate what it takes to make a show after seeing Larry's efforts. Other attractions are equally as good and it is a bargain bill for the money today.

BROKER LOSES LICENSE

LOS ANGELES, April 20.—Charging that J. Earl McIntyre, Long Beach real estate broker, negotiated the purchase of valuable oil-bearing lands through alleged dishonest dealing and misrepresentation, Edwin T. Kelsor, state real estate commissioner, today ordered the man's license suspended for a period of three months.

Tuberculosis Victim Saved by Cut Throat

TRENTON, N. J., April 20.—His windpipe slit open by two fellow prisoners to permit air to enter the lungs, John Monroe, convict at New Jersey state prison, serving from five to ten years for breaking and entering, is much improved today after an operation early this morning.

While prisoner's held the man's windpipe open, a taxi rushed to municipal hospital, two miles distant, to secure a tracheotomy tube that was inserted in Monroe's windpipe.

Monroe is affected with tuberculosis. He was found gasping for breath in his cell. Dr. Martin W. Reddan of this city, prison surgeon, was called. He immediately slit the man's windpipe and asked for aid of two convicts to hold it open to permit air to penetrate the man's lungs.

U. S. CLAIM UNQUESTIONED

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Great Britain has formally notified the United States that it has never questioned the justice or validity of the American claim for $241,000,000 due for maintaining the American troops on the Rhine. In a note transmitted through Ambassador Harvey at London the British government stated that it would immediately consult with France and Belgium to the end that means could be found to satisfy the American claims.

AIR DEFENSES ARE URGED

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Development of aircraft for defensive use in war as a substitute for the expensive navy, most of which was scrapped under the naval limitation treaty, was urged upon the house today by Representative Campbell, Republican, of Kansas, when consideration of the navy appropriation was resumed.

Vexed Wife Declares She's Cured by Nap

WOOSTER, O.—"When I became vexed I took a nap. It has done wonders in calming me down." In these words Mrs. Louis B. Howard, 78, of this city, explained the success of her married life, which has just reached the 60th milestone. Mr. and Mrs. Howard a few days ago enjoyed their sixtieth wedding anniversary dinner, which was prepared wholly—except for the cake—by Mrs. Howard.

Mr. Howard, 81, also helped to preserve the family harmony. "When I felt quarrelsome I always left the house and stayed away until I got over my spell," he declared.

Mrs. Howard admitted that staying at home constituted no small part of her secret of a happy home. "My husband never came home and found me gone," she said. "Once, when my sister died, I was away from home five weeks. But that was my longest absence."

St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, one of London's most famous churches in Trafalgar Square, turns its pews into couches for London's homeless each night.

Woman in Mourning Found to Be Crook

NEW YORK—Brooklyn detectives are searching for "the queerest crook," a woman who wears mourning and speaks several languages. Meeting her has been an expensive luxury to numerous "victims." She admits upon approaching strangers, that she doesn't reside in Brooklyn and asks to be shown to a certain number on some street. Unsuspecting "Samaritans" who have accompanied her have been put to sleep by "knockout drops" in liquor and then robbed.

OPPOSES CUT IN ARMY

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A potential "war army" of 2,000,000 men as planned by the War Department and approved by congress is absolutely dependent upon a "peace army" of 150,000, it was declared today before the senate military appropriations committee by Brigadier-General Wm. Lassiter, the assistant chief of staff. General Lassiter opposed the reduction in the present man power, declaring it would endanger the war department's plan for whipping a great war army into action.

Village Cop Is Beaten, Robbed and Locked Up

BUCKNER, Ill.—If you are among the unfortunate unemployed go to Buckner. There is a job for a good man on the Buckner police force.

However, do not rush. First listen to what happened to one Thomas Spees, a native of Marion. Spees took a job on the night force and the third night was attacked by four men and women, who deprived him of the following property: One gun, one bright police star, one set of rusty jail keys, one knife, one pair of scissors, $2.30 in legal tender and six 2-cent postage stamps.

They kicked and beat the officer and then took him to jail, where they locked him in.

This reign of lawlessness was due to aroused suspicion among the natives of the vicinity that Spees was either a detective or a prohibition officer in disguise.

One Becomes Judge, Other Becomes Senator

Senator Kenyon of Iowa, on left, who resigned his office to accept an appointment as federal judge of the eighth circuit court, and his successor, Charles A. Rawson, who at present is republican chairman of Iowa.

Sea-Going Goats to Return to Tin Cans

WASHINGTON — The sea-going goats of the navy are retiring to the tin cans of civilization.

They have discarded the navy blue in such numbers as to be almost extinct as navy mascots. It is reliably reported. Owing to the slackness in the mascot business the goat's historic place as a ship's mascot is being taken by the cat, who is reported to be flocking on board ship in large numbers. The navy parrot is also losing his perch on the navy's guns, giving way to the more respectable dog, who is now going down to the sea in ships more than ever before.

YOUNG WIDOW IS ACCUSED

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Charges that Mrs. Cecile Ready Oyster, beautiful young widow of George M. Oyster, millionaire Washington dairy man, hastened the death of her aged husband by "repeated acts of cruelty" were filed in court here by Edward C. Brandenburg, executor of the Oyster estate. Mrs. Oyster is contesting the will of her late husband. Their marriage a few years ago, when she was 23 and he was 72, was one of the social sensations of the capital.

Chest, Locked for 37 Years, Brings Surprise

DEFIANCE, O.—With courthouse habitues gathered in his office, visions of a hidden fortune dancing before the eyes of those assembled, Probate Judge C. W. Palmer wielded a wrecking bar on the two giant padlocks holding the lid on a brass-bound chest.

Brought from the west thirty-seven years ago, it was claimed the chest had been unopened since that time.

Breaking off the padlocks, the judge drew forth—

Three musty vests, a bundle of patent medicine advertisements, several pictures of pretty women, dressed in old-fashioned costumes, and a sock filled with letters.

The chest was bequeathed by an uncle to Edward C. Beal, for whom a guardian had just been appointed by the court.

Seven million square yards of canvas duck, received by the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, as surplus war material, is to be distributed to state highway departments for use in road construction.

SPRING CLEARANCE SALE

McGee's Dry Goods and Furnishings

THIS IS TO BE A REAL SALE!

We Are Making Prices That Will Make This Sale Go.

- Those of you who have seen our sales in the past know that we never put on a fake sale.. New goods and new prices are to prevail throughout.
- We want, especially, to call attention to our Shoe Department, where we are making not only great cuts in prices, but also wish to direct your attention to the completeness of this department. We have thousands of dollars' worth of New Spring Shoes for every one in the family—Men's, Women's, Boys', Girls', Children's and Infants', and we have reduced the price from 50 cents on Infants' to $2.00 on the Men's higher priced shoes.
- You will see only a few prices below as we cannot list prices on every article. Dry Goods, Furnishings, Hosiery, Underwear, Hats and Caps and Notions all come in for a big cut.
- These prices are not made in anticipation of lower wholesale costs as many Textile Mills in the east are now closed on account of labor troubles, and prices will be higher rather than lower.

HIGH SCHOOL WORK TEACHERS' TOPIC BEFORE P. T. A.

Nominating Committee Named; Thrift Department May Be Instituted

Science and Logic
Earl T. Brown, of the science department, responded. Logical thinking and arriving at definite conclusions, as well as laying the foundation for inventions, were some of the aims of the department, as explained by Mr. Brown.

Miss Ellen J. Hanson, of the domestic science department, was to have spoken, but was called away on business.

Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, of the music department, explained the two-fold purpose of that branch as being to develop musicians and also to put music into the hearts of the boys and girls and giving them a good, wholesome activity. She also told of what a great help the Parent-Teacher association had been in inaugurating a high school band. The band, she stated, means big things to the school. It arouses the enthusiasm of the pupils and encourages a unity of spirit as well as elevating the morale.

Mrs. L. T. Rowley, chairman of finance, stated that it was desired that the additional $100 necessary for the band should be raised by donations, and those interested may make donations to her for this purpose.

Many Studying Spanish
Miss Isabel Stevens, of the foreign language department, stated that there are 635 pupils enrolled in that branch, 60 taking French, 175 Latin and 499 Spanish. In the French and Spanish classes, she stated, the pupils are encouraged to speak those languages. The customs of the people of the various countries are studied a great deal through the medium of the various French, Latin and Spanish clubs which have been organized at the school.

Miss J. Y. Freeman, of the English department, stated that at the present time there are fifty classes in that branch, with over 1200 individual pupils enrolled. In the classes are studied grammar, composition, literature, oral expression, dramatics and journalism, as well as supplementary reading. The cultivation of the habit of reading is also encouraged.

Arthur R. Oliver, of the mechanical arts department, told of the splendid work being done by the pupils enrolled in the drawing, wood-working, auto shop, forging, machine shop and laundry branches of that department.

'Bought and Paid For' Last Showing Tonight

Tonight will be the last presentation at the T. D. & L. theatre of the special and extraordinary double program of William de Mille's "Bought and Paid For," the feature de luxe of the famous story portrayed by Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt, and the personally staged playlet, "The Last Shot," the hit of the vaudeville season by Arthur Clare and company of screen players. This selective and exceptional bill offers anyone a wonderful amusement treat and this reminder is purely for the purpose of advising its final performance this evening. Very unusual, novel and altogether high class, is this all-star act and special picture. If you have not already seen it, do so—it is well worth it, and Manager Ralph Allan deserves much credit for his endeavors to offer something different to the Glendale public.

Anything for All Pleasing to Jenney

"I don't believe that a man can get stung buying Glendale property wherever it is," remarked E. T. Jenney, manager of the local office of W. A. Heitman Realty Company at 1737 South San Fernando road, recently. "I have often thought of putting that in my ads."
Mr. Jenney is a firm believer in co-operation between Glendale and Southern Glendale.
"It is all one city," he asserted. "We are all together. I am not fighting Brand boulevard or East Broadway. What is good for one is good for all of us. Anything that happens up town 'tickles me pink' because I know it is going to help us down here. Any building up around Broadway and Brand brings capital to town and keeps things moving. It makes people more interested in Glendale and shows that it is a live place. And anything we do down here in the southern section is the same way."

SHOOTS WIFE, THEN SELF

NEW YORK, April 20.—In full view of the early morning throng of business-bound workers, Frank Mueller, 28, of Brooklyn, shot his wife, Elsie, 24, and then turned the gun on himself. The shooting took place on a crowded subway platform. Mueller died. Surgeons say his wife probably will die.
The shooting caused a panic. There was a general rush to get out of range of the bullets. The couple had quarreled after meeting, following a four-year separation.

TONG WAR AT ASTORIA, ORE.

ASTORIA, Ore., April 20.—Fung Chong, local Chinaman who belongs to the Bing Kung tong, is under arrest today and will probably be charged with murdering Go Yet, Hip Sing tongman, late last night. The authorities believe the killing was due to hostilities between the two tongs. Go Yet was found dead in a pool of blood in Fung Chong's place.

Good Publicity for New Subdivision Put on Market Sunday

Facts about Glendale, which were compiled by The Glendale Evening News, have been used in Chamber of Commerce literature, advertising and personal communications to good advantage. Appreciating their value, the F. P. Newport Company, subdividers of the nationally known Glendale foothill property, Verdugo Woodlands, are devoting a page of their latest folder to these facts. They will be broadcasted throughout the country, advertising a new subdivision this Sunday.

On an opposite page is found the pertinent question:

"Do you like the green sage-scented foothills, the music of running brooks, the balmy, fragrant atmosphere of the highlands, the majesty of the giant sycamores and the live oaks, imperishable vistas of the towering mountains, the clean aromatic odors of the wooded canyons, pure, soft mountain water, bridle paths, wooded trails, sunny knolls, shaded vales, the peace, quiet, restfulness of the country?"

Of course, the answer is Verdugo Woodlands in the green "Verdugo hills." That combination of publicity ought to awaken the people to the "homing" instinct, don't you think?

Girl Who Shot Boy Is Revealed As Poet

SAN JOSE, April 20.—Pretty 14-year-old Irene Granstedt, who may face a murder charge as a result of the shooting of her 17-year-old lover, Harold Callaway, was revealed today as a child poet who has written verses for years of great merit. One of them reads:

Youth builds castles in the air; Some seek love and beauty there. Others all through life have dreams. Ambition seeks but youth it seems. Youth sends ships across the sea; Ambitions materialize the Key. Dreams of love and youth are past. Another, as if prophetic from her child heart, reads:

Everyone seems to wear a mask With which to hide their soul. Day dreams seldom, never last. Heartaches take their toll. To the piper's song, we all must dance. The price is always high. Love passes without a glance. It hears not mortal sigh. If our cares are heavy and our hearts are dead, We must smile and live and die.

OLD CONVENT NOW IN RUINS

MONTREAL, April 20.—The convent of the Congregation of Notre Dame at Point Au Trembles, near here, is mass of ruins today as a result of fire which damaged the building to the extent of $150,000. The convent is the oldest in the province of Quebec, having been founded in 1419.

SIMPLE SYSTEM OF RULE IN ALASKA GREATEST NEED

Bureaucratic Control Halting Development, Is Claim of Governor S. C. Bone

By U. S. Press Association.
WASHINGTON.—The "paramount, overshadowing need" in Alaska is a "simplified and co-ordinated and centralized system of administration," says Governor Scott C. Bone, who is now in Washington in the interests of Alaska. "The present order of things in Alaska is chaotic and impossible," Governor Bone said. "Bureaucratic control has paralyzed and palsied this rich domain, which has actually gone backward for twelve years and today is at a standstill. A consolidation of the essential bureaus under one department here at Washington, with the administration brought closer home to Alaska, is a prerequisite to progress and prosperity in Alaska. It must be made easier for people and capital to gain a foothold in Alaska. The present system is unworkable, unbusinesslike and positively repressive."

"The late Franklin K. Lane, as Secretary of the Interior, did his best to correct this system and put Alaska upon the basis of constructive development, but failed. He combatted the rampant tapetism in Alaska with all the power at his command."

General Rate Investigation

One of the three possible decisions will be made by the Interstate Commerce Commission when it has completed consideration of the evidence and argument in the general rate investigation, says the Washington Herald, which "roughly" indicates the following as likely to happen:

1. No further reduction in railroad rates and passenger fare while the railroads are in their present financial condition and in the absence of further reductions in operating costs—which means reduction in wages.

2. A general reduction on all commodities to meet the contention that such a reduction will stimulate business and increase the business of the railroads and in turn increase their revenues.

3. Reductions on selected commodities, such as coal, steel, iron and other basic articles.

Railroad Earnings

Two hundred of the 201 class one American railroads earned $29,604,000 in January last, according to railroad compilations of Interstate Commerce Commission Reports. This was said to show 2.60 per cent capital return on 235,389 rail miles, compared with 3.4 per cent in December.

Patience is a good servant whom all recommend but few like to employ.

Lake Region Growth Seen in Plans to Build Large Canal

By W. H. ATKINS
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON.—A new era in the industrial and commercial development of the states and provinces of the Great Lakes region on both sides of the international boundary line is seen by members of Congress in the proposed new deep-channel waterway to the sea via the St. Lawrence river, the construction of which has just been recommended in the report of the joint international commission of the United States and Canada.

Not only would the canal mean renewed expansion and growth in the great cities on the lakes, such as Buffalo, Chicago, Milwaukee and Cleveland, but the growth of new great cities loomed, it was pointed out.

Senator Kellogg, Republican, of Minnesota, pointed to the report of the joint commission, in which rapid development was predicted for Duluth, Minto and Twin cities of Port William and Port Arthur, on the Canadian side of Lake Superior. "Forty thousand miles of railway serving the great American west, are tributary to Duluth, while Canada's transcontinental railway systems serve Port William and Port Arthur," he said.

"The possibility that these two Canadian cities might rival the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis as the result of the construction of the new canal system was pointed out by members of congress who stand sponsor for the project."

"The proposed new waterway to the sea from the heart of the American continent would be very beneficial not only to the immediate lake region, but to all that mid-western country lying as far westward as Harold Mountains," said Senator Kellogg today. "It would afford an outlet to the markets of the world for the products of this region."

"The report of the commission seems entirely practicable and highly satisfactory," Senator Townsend, Republican, of Michigan, another of the sponsors of the proposed waterway, declared it would be of tremendous benefit to the region served.

"It would afford an outlet to the seaboard, without transhipment of the products of this region, which at present can't stand the heavy freight rates charged by the railroads," said Senator Townsend. "It would make of the Great Lake region a mighty commercial, manufacturing and shipbuilding center. It would afford a cheaper rate on raw materials brought in for the purpose of manufacture and also a cheaper rate on products sent to market."

Several years would be needed to complete the proposed project which, the commission estimated, would cost a total of $372,000,000. Of this $252,000,000 represents the cost of the St. Lawrence river project and $120,000,000 the cost of the New Welland canal project, between Lake Ontario and Lake Erie, which already has been undertaken by the Canadian government.

Make it your business to know yourself, which is the most difficult lesson in the world.

Singer and Chauffeur In Divorce Courts

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—"Orchid and Wild Mustard" are in the divorce courts. Prima donna Mme. Margaret Mathenauer and Chauffeur Floyd Glotzbach are the principals.

The diva is prosecuting her action in New York. Today Glotzbach, through his attorney, J. Maxwell Peyster, will file suit here. Thus finally comes to an end the romance which had its inception when the famous opera singer, wintering at the fashionable Del Monte hotel, was assigned Glotzbach as a chauffeur.

In his divorce complaint Glotzbach seeks severance of the matrimonial bond contracted in Carlsbad, Austria, on the grounds of "grievous mental suffering."

"Orchids may thrive in hot houses but wild mustard needs the California sun" was his explanation of the separation when it first became known.

Glotzbach remained silent as to his side of the case until notice came to himself and other Monterey witnesses to appear at Monterey and give depositions in the divorce suit of Mme. Mathenauer.

Then Glotzbach decided to air his grievances in a divorce complaint of his own. His "mental suffering" charges are many and include declarations: "That the prima donna sought to make a lady's maid out of her six-foot husband and when he rebelled at assuming such duties as buttoning up the madam's dress frequent quarrels ensued."

That Mme. Mathenauer suffered from "intolerable jealousy," refusing to permit her husband out of her sight even for a walk.

That on one occasion in refusing to permit him to take a walk, the diva "flew into a terrible rage and tore off her rings and threw them at the plaintiff."

That she tore up his photograph, remarking that "she had picked him up out of the gutter, clothed and fed him, and what would he do if she threw him out?"

That while abroad she introduced and talked about him in German, which he could not understand, despite his request that she use English.

And the final straw was her charges that he had been intimate with other women. This came after their return to New York.

It is revealed that there was one reconciliation between the couple after Glotzbach had returned to California last winter but it failed to be lasting.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH

NEW YORK, April 20.—A mother and two children who were spending their first night in their new home were burned to death when fire swept the apartment house. The superintendent was unaware they were in the building and, after arousing four other families, believed all were safe. Later three charred bodies were found in the debris. Mrs. Florence Helms, 23, and her two children, Harold, 5, and Florence, 3, were the victims.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR GLENDALE AVENUE ARE DEBATED

Zoning of Lumber Yard Out of Present Location Argued; Predict Electric Line

(Continued From Page 1) a reasonable length of time, such as a year, in which to move. He said that he understood they had acquired property on San Fernando road already.

An electric line will be running on Glendale avenue before Christmas is the belief of Mr. Davis, who said that negotiations to bring about the electrification of the line had about been completed. He declared that he was not at liberty to divulge the full details, but that all freight would be hauled under electric power.

The establishment of an electric line on Glendale avenue would mean another public utility to be supported by the citizens, according to Attorney Kemper Campbell. He expressed an opinion as a lawyer that it would only be a short time until the railroad commission would raise the fare of this line to equal that charged by the Pacific Electric.

Gus Rosenberger denounced the operation of freight trains on Glendale avenue and declared that they vibrated the foundations of the residences in the neighborhood. He expressed himself in favor of the proposal to zone the lumber yards off Glendale avenue.

An appeal for harmony in the consideration of the subject was made by both C. W. Ingledue and Attorney Campbell.

SULPHUR CLEARS ROUGH, RED SKIN

Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Advertisement.

Woman Mayor, 80, Fights Male Vamps; Also Hits at Wets

Mrs. Mary McFadden

MAGNETIC SPRINGS, O.—Declaring the efforts of the government to enforce the eighteenth amendment remain her of a small boy trying to dry up Lake Erie with a one-ounce sponge, Mrs. Mary McFadden, 80, who recently became mayor of this little village, let fall for the benefit of a band of church members who visited her such pearls of wisdom as would do credit to the late King Solomon.

"Prohibition leaders must remember," she said, "that Rome wasn't built in a day, and they can't expect the few thousand agents now employed to enforce the law among all the millions of inhabitants of this country. The effect of the prohibition law will be most noticeable twenty years from now, when children will not know the meaning of the term 'whiskey'."

Replying to a question regarding her attitude on the present-day girl's mania for bobbed hair, short skirts and rolled stockings, Mrs. McFadden said no real mother would appeal to the authorities or the press for assistance in rearing her own children.

Tip for Distinguishing "However," she said, "I believe that some of the mothers whose skirts are just as short as their daughters' should encourage the daughters to bob their hair as a mark of distinction between parent and child."

"The world isn't half as bad as it is painted. The chief trouble lies in the fact that there seems to be a band of reformers, who, for a consideration, will attempt to change anything desired. Less fanatical reform and more good common sense is needed, and this fact I will keep in mind while administering the affairs of the village."

Mrs. McFadden also outlined the principles which will govern her as the chief executive of this village—one of the famous health resorts of the central west. They are:

- War on all male vamps. 2. Enforcement of the curfew law. 3. Good roads and more of them. 4. Harmony with council. 5. Stop the leaks in prohibition. In connection with her fourth policy, Mayor McFadden lays great stress upon her plan, already announced, of serving coffee and doughnuts, or cake, pie and coffee, to bring the councilmen to the regular and special sessions of council.

"Men are only boys with beards," she says. "I've always found that they are very reasonable after they are fed, and I'm sure there'll be a full session of council as long as I'm mayor. Of course, I'll study their diet in foods, and if some of them don't care for doughnuts we'll have apple pie or cake for them."

MELLON'S RIGHT TO STAY IN CABINET UNDER ATTACK

Georgia Democrat Is Latest One to Direct Fire on Secretary of Treasury

By WARREN W. WHEATON Written for International News Service WASHINGTON—The eligibility of Andrew W. Mellon to serve as Secretary of the Treasury is becoming almost a daily bone of contention in Congress.

Demand after demand has been made that the man who is credited with running John D. Rockefeller a close second as the wealthiest man in the United States—individually and not as Secretary of the Treasury—be ousted from his job in the President's Cabinet.

Representative Brand (Democrat, Georgia) is one of the latest assailants of Secretary Mellon. Brand has served formal demand on the Senate that, while it is investigating the eligibility of Senator Smoot and Representative Burton to act as members of the Debt Refunding Commission, it include in the inquiry determination of the status of Mellon to act, not only on the commission, but as Secretary of the Treasury.

Owe U. S. Billions. "The question involved is one in which every taxpayer in the United States is interested," says Representative Brand. "It is a world-wide known fact that certain European nations owe the United States about $11,000,000,000. It is generally known also that they owe a group of international bankers about $5,000,000,000.

"This group of international bankers are bent on having their money and are interested in collecting it whether the United States ever collects a dollar or not. Here are two classes of creditors with claims against a common debtor which is generally reputed to be bankrupt. Their interests are in conflict and are adverse. Therefore it becomes a very important matter to know whether or not Mr. Mellon is the owner of any of these obligations due these private bankers or whether any of his kindred within the prohibited degree are the owners of them, or whether any of the great banking and financial institutions to which he belongs is the owner of any of them or interested in any of these debts."

Brand declares that there is a statute, placed on the Federal books in 1789, which disqualifies the Secretary of the Treasury from acting if he is engaged in the business of trade or commerce or if he owns any state or national securities.

Mellon's Banking Connections Brand declares that Secretary Mellon is connected with three banks, four insurance companies, seven educational and philanthropic institutions and sixty-two other corporations.

The Georgia Representative indicated that, in his opinion, Mellon is connected with the international banking interests to the extent of $5,000,000,000.

"The truth is," he said, "some of these international bankers want the debts due the United States canceled, knowing if this is done that it will make their debts against the European nations worth a hundred cents on the dollar."

"Those who do not come out squarely for cancellation of these debts are intensely interested in having the United States agree to a long term postponement of the collection of its loans. Mr. Mellon believes in this. The minute this is done, and it is going to be done, the debts of the private bankers will increase in value, and every dollar of the same will be collected before the United States collects a dollar of its principal debt."

Confidence In Ability. The United States sold to German buyers in 1921 $372,325,000 worth of goods. That exceeded by nearly $200,000,000 the amount Germany bought. But it is upon security that American firms, backed by bankers, consider reliable. There is one fact that stands out in the German-American trade relations and it is the important point that American business has confidence in Germany's ability to pay and the confidence that she will pay, within a reasonable period, the trade debts now contracted.

American cotton producers thus far have fared best of all in the revived German traffic. Of the total exports last year, Secretary Hoover said, cotton exports alone made up $100,000,000, or one-third of the entire sum of exports of all kinds.

Germany is now having heavily of American wheat, copper and fats, such as lard. The volume of these and other exports during 1922 will increase very materially.

Dependent on Others. Germany has been entirely transformed from a self-supporting country to one absolutely dependent upon the United States and a few other nations for some of the products that she deems most essential to her welfare.

This furnishes an explanation of the character of our exports to Germany. The American export trade with Germany appears to have re-established itself with Germany, with somewhat the same commodities generally as in the years before the war, but with higher values than obtained at that time. Germany's need for foodstuffs has not diminished and will not decrease in large degree. American observers agree. This is due to the fact that Germany has become a highly developed industrial nation, and her needs will be principally for raw materials to supply mills and factories.

When German financial stability is more assured American producers and manufacturers will reap enormous financial returns in the larger demand for American wheat, flour, grains and meats.

UNITED STATES HAS LARGE SHARE OF GERMAN TRADE

Economic Recovery of Former Enemy Nation to Affect American Conditions

By W. H. ATKINS International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Germany's recovery, by ability to ship more of her exportable surplus, will mean for the United States a greater proportionate share of business than for any other of the big world powers, according to government officials.

Germany during the present year, and before the year is far advanced, is expected by leading government experts here to become more stable financially and commercially. Germany's shipments to the United States last year amounted to $80,000,000, Secretary Hoover's figures recently showed. In dollars that was less than in 1920. But in the volume of goods transported it reflected greater export activity by German merchants.

As soon as Germany can see more clearly above the reparations fog, complicated through the unwavering French attitude, a reopening of the trade avenues for tremendous traffic is predicted by American observers abroad.

Confidence In Ability. The United States sold to German buyers in 1921 $372,325,000 worth of goods. That exceeded by nearly $200,000,000 the amount Germany bought. But it is upon security that American firms, backed by bankers, consider reliable. DRAGON FRAT IN SESSION DENIES SECRET CLAUSES GENOA, April 20.—Walter Iatheanu, head of the German delegation, in a statement to the International News Service, today denied that the Russo-German treaty contained any secret clauses.

"Especially there is no clause providing for a military alliance between the two countries," he declared.

Views of W. J. Bryan Scored by Ministers WASHINGTON—William Jennings Bryan spent a good part of his time in the national capital during the time when the Senate was debating the four-power Pacific treaty. Even though Mr. Bryan claims to have fanned the original doves of peace while he was secretary of state, he was as much as an orator concerning the great issues being determined by the senate.

Nevertheless, Mr. Bryan had his audience almost daily in Washington, and the subject of his talks related to Darwinism, and the theory of evolution, which he declared to be all rot, because he thinks they disagree with the Bible stories of creation. Usually Mr. Bryan knows in advance what is likely to happen when he opens up on a subject, but there are a good many people who believe that he missed fire this time. Ministers of the gospel whom he lashed as backers for his arguments, were the first to take a fall out of the "silver tongued orator" of the Florida Everglades. They called him a "mossback" and his reasoning was described as archaic, behind the times, Calvinistic—and everything else that meant disagreement.

GIVES HIGH LIGHTS ON RECENT TRIP OVER EUROPE

Miss Gertrude Darlow Tells of Conditions; Thursday Club Has Husbands' Night

sea and London. Miss Darlow was born in England and states that London remains substantially the same, with its quaint old streets and curious street signs unchanged. In almost any restaurant in the city you will find large mirrors shattered and underneath find a sign stating that it had been damaged by the bombs during the war. She continued: "I visited Stratford, the William Shakespeare country, and where you feel that you are right in the heart of rural England. At Stratford is the home of Ann Hathaway, and the grammar school where Shakespeare received his education, and which is still being used as a school. Across the street from this is the Shakespeare house. A visit was also made to the house where John Harvard, founder of Harvard university, was born. Another interesting visit was that at Oxford where so many colleges are located, forming the university.

Honor War Heroes

"Wherever you go in England you will find in the church yard or public square a monument in honor of the men of that town who died in the war. One of the things that is particularly noticeable everywhere is the absence of young men. After a visit at Rouen, a city which is saturated with the wonderful associations in connection with Joan of Arc, I went to the battlefields. But the fields have a very wavy look, showing where they had been. Neither in England nor France does anyone speak about the war unless you question them."

Miss Darlow told of her visit in Belgium. She spoke of her visit in Brussels to the residence of the King and Queen, the wonderful lace shops and art museums. "The soil in Belgium is highly cultivated, with something growing everywhere. That was the first country to receive payment after the war and they are busy rebuilding," she said.

Tells of Berlin Visit

"At Paris I visited many of the old book shops and the national library. Also visited the palace at Versailles. From that city I went to Strassburg in the Alsace country. The people go from the German side of the Rhine to the Alsace side for employment, and vice versa. However, they must show a pass before being allowed to cross. My visit to Berlin was very much different from what I had pictured it. Instead of the quaint old fashioned buildings I found a very modern city. I visited Cologne and from there to Warsaw. In Poland there is very beautiful scenery. The houses there are washed with brilliant colors and around them are woven wicker work fences. Huge white stones are placed along the roads to guide travelers at night. "In Poland there is a total absence of horses. Everything is drawn by oxen. It is not unusual to see in the middle of a field a crucifix. The American relief in Poland has been so great that the people of that country treat the Americans with the utmost respect. I also visited Ostend, Dover, back to Liverpool and Los Angeles."

The next number on the program was a group of two trombone solos by Fred Stuckey, accompanied on the piano by Miss Mack. "An Old Home Down on the Farm" (Harlow) and "When the Quiet Moon is Beaming" (Campagna). Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Thursday Afternoon club, and Mrs. John Robert White, president of the P. T. A. federation, were present and gave a few words of greeting to the club members. At the close of the meeting refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served. Mrs. William C. Mabry was hostess for the evening. She was assisted by Mrs. Harry C. Wesley, chairman of the hospitality committee, and Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, Mrs. J. W. Everington, Mrs. Stuart M. Street, Dr. Jessie Russell, Mrs. George Larkin, Mrs. Florence Meddick, Mrs. A. H. Mayne, Mrs. Hal Davenport, Mrs. S. Storer, Miss Cora Hickman, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. C. E. Dunlop, Mrs. A. J. Becker, Mrs. Roy Bancroft, Mrs. Ernest Morgan, Mrs. Josephine Fairchild, Mrs. J. C. Wilbur, Mrs. F. E. Brown, Mrs. F. M. Van Tine and Mrs. L. B. Denman.

WILLIAM DESMOND HURT

LOS ANGELES, April 20.—While "shooting" a snow scene on the edge of a cliff near Truckee, Calif., William Desmond, prominent motion picture actor of this city, slipped on the ice and fell fifty feet into the Truckee river, dislocating his right shoulder, spraining his left ankle and suffering major body bruises, according to a telegram received at Universal City, Desmond, Laura La Plante and several cameramen were on the cliff at the time the star lost his footing.

BIG INCREASE IS SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, April 20.—An appeal for an increase from $900,000 to $4,200,000 in the appropriation for army research work in aviation was made by Senator Willis, Republican, and Congressman Fitzgerald, Republican, both of Ohio, before the senate army appropriation committee.

SLUGGED, ROBBED OF CASH

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 20.—Max Goldberg, president of the Kansas City Custom Garment company, was slugged and robbed of $5,663 while walking on the street in the heart of the business district. He was carrying the money to a bank.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

See Others, Know Yourself
Aunt Alice Won't Be Bullied
Flappers Come Into Their Own
Everybody Getting Excited

By Gil A. Cowan

THE San Fernando Valley today knows Glendale the better, for its trade excursion under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce took the merchants to their patrons as prospects.

And it was a mighty nice thing to see that civic spirit evinced; those fifty or more cars winding in and around the hills, the people from a happy city carrying their business message to the people of a happy country.

However, there is no need for extensive comment when the subject is so well covered in the news columns today. Therein you will find a lesson, yes, several lessons, in community upbuilding.

These triumphal parades are funny things. Marshal Joffre, veteran hero of the first battle of the Marne, was carried in a basket yesterday, his first visit to the capital since he made it the starting point for his tour of the country.

According to the news dispatches the famous Frenchman skipped into the capital almost unnoticed, in deep contrast to the cheering throngs that packed the streets several years ago.

Aunt Alice Robertson, the Oklahoma congresswoman, refuses to "knuckle down" to the league of women voters.

"They say that the women's organizations have the most powerful lobby in congress, but they can't bully me," the former cafeteria proprietor is quoted as saying.

"I am in congress to serve the people of my district and the United States, not to serve any single class of women."

So there you are!

"I like the flappers for some reasons," said Dr. R. B. Von Kleinsmid at a meeting here the other night.

Thomas S. Finegan, state superintendent of Pennsylvania public schools, approved flappers and rouge at almost the same hour.

"Girls in Pennsylvania schools can wear knickers to school as far as I am concerned," Finegan said. "So long as they get their lessons and attend school regularly we have nothing to say."

So the flapper is coming into her own, it would seem.

Yes, and one of these little flappers, who was born and reared here, was heard to say yesterday, "Gee, but ain't Glendale getting so big."

And a young man passing by on the street last night added to the thought with this, "Glendale is growing to where nobody knows."

Both will live to see the day when this city has a population and more. Wonder what their children will think of that?

With the warm weather fairly upon us, the Lenten season past and spring in full bloom, it is a grand "amazing" thing as it were.

If you wandered about the business section last night Glendale looked mighty good. "Deed it did. The well lighted, modern stores; the hundreds of motor cars; the hustling populace; and the whole effect simply startles the old timers."

Chicago got lambasted by a sixty-mile gale during the last twenty-four hours. One mounted policeman was blown from his horse. Auto tops were lifted. Signs were blown down. Windows smashed. The lake whipped into a fury.

Then to think that southern California will not have anything to blow about for another six months. Certainly, it must be tempting for the news writer to discuss the police chief situation in Los Angeles.

IRISH MEET ADJOURNS

DUBLIN, April 20.—The conference of Irish leaders called by Lord Mayor O'Neil of Dublin, in an effort to adjust differences between rival factions, adjourned late today after a two-hour session. The next session will be held next Wednesday. Prior to the conference Archbishop Byrne of Dublin held a conference with representatives of the Irish Labor party. As Michael Collins, head of the Free State government entered the conference hall he was loudly cheered by the assembled crowds.

MAKES PLEA FOR MOONEY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—District Attorney Matthew Brady in a letter forwarded to Governor William D. Stephens urged that Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings, convicted of responsibility for the preparedness day bombings here and now serving life sentences in the state prison be pardoned. "I believe that no person that permits himself to analyze the situation entertains any doubt that Mooney and Billings were convicted on false testimony," the letter declared.

THREE CHILDREN SMOTHER

HOUSTON, Tex., Apr. 20.—Three children, huddled together in their bed, were found dead at their home this morning. Gas fumes filled the room, escaping from a kitchen stove. The children are Louis E. Mathis 6, Elizabeth 8, and William 9, who lived with their father, H. J. Mathis and their grandfather, Y. S. Mathis. Neither the father nor the grandfather could account for the open gas jets of the stove which had poured gas into the room during the night.

INCREASE BOND ISSUE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Announcement was made today that the stockholders of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company meeting here yesterday had authorized the proposed increase in the bond issues of the company to $60,000,000 and of the capital stock to $100,000,000.

PROPOSE TO REVISE SPECIFICATIONS OF HIGHWAYS

Number of States Join in Plan To Reduce Costs; Meetings Held by Officials

By U. S. Press Association

WASHINGTON, D. C.—An attempt to standardize certain features of road-building specifications for the sake of economy in construction has been made by highway officials of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky, and officials of the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, who have recently gathered in Washington. The aim is to revise the specifications so that material from the same source may be used in all of these states at the smallest cost. At present a stone, gravel or sand plant may be supplying road jobs in two or three states and due to variations in specifications the same sizes of material can not be used on the different jobs for the same classes of work. The plan must use different screens and bins in supplying each job, and the result is an increase in cost without a corresponding increase in the quality of the work. Similar meetings will be held shortly between officials of the bureau and highway officials of other groups of states for the same purpose. The movement was initiated by the American Association of State Highway Officials, and is being worked out in groups of states, so as to take into account conditions existing in each locality. A committee composed of bureau and state highway bridge engineers has been working for some time on the standardization of bridge specifications.

Cattle Tested

The total number of cattle now under supervision in the tuberculosis-eradication work being carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the states, has passed the 2,000,000 mark. During February 290,324 cattle were tested. On March 1 more than 12,000 farmers and breeders had accredited herds.

Wool Schedule

Through the influence of the Agricultural bloc the finance committee of the Senate, in fixing its rates on manufactures of wool reduced them considerably below the old Payne-Aldrich act rates, but kept them materially higher than in the present Democratic tariff act, thus overturning the old Republican policy with respect to the wool schedule of making compensatory duties about four times as great as the raw wool rate. The rate is thirty-three cents a pound on clean wool, with proportionate rates on lower grades.

Potato Stocks

Stocks of potatoes in the hands of farmers and local dealers in the fifteen leading potato states are estimated at 90,946,000 bushels by the United States Department of Agriculture. Of this quantity, 73,486,000 bushels were held by farmers and 17,460,000 by local dealers. Of the holdings in the hands of producers 30,935,000 bushels are expected to move off the farm and 42,556,000 to be retained. This is the first year that stocks of potatoes on March 1 have been estimated by the department. Therefore there is no basis of comparison with stocks in preceding years. The service has been started to meet an urgent need for information with reference to the present supply of white potatoes for market.

Compliments Local Veterans' Organization

The local post of United Spanish War Veterans, which met last night in American Legion hall was complimented upon its organization by Edward F. Shultz of Los Angeles, inspector for the southwestern district, which includes California, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona. Decision was made to encourage the organization of an auxiliary at the next meeting which will be held on the evening of May 3. Commander W. H. Reeves will extend an invitation to mothers, sisters, and wives of those who served during the Spanish war to be present. Two new members were initiated last night: W. T. Watts, 125 South Converse street and Edgar T. Denslow, 1016 North Central avenue.

SAN JOSE, April 20.—"It was a bluff—honest it was. I wanted to scare Harold—I didn't want to shoot him; he was my best friend in the world before we fought and I thought we could be friends again."

So sobbed pretty blue-eyed 14-year-old Irene Hanstedt at the juvenile detention home today, where she is being held pending the outcome of a trial. At present a stone, gravel or sand plant may be supplying road jobs in two or three states and due to variations in specifications the same sizes of material can not be used on the different jobs for the same classes of work. ### Make Improvements at L. C. Brand's Home

The palatial home of L. C. Brand, of Brand's estate, has had some of the rooms remodeled, and a number of small changes made. French doors now connect the dining-room and court and French windows have been placed between the court and reception hall. The dining-room and reception hall have been painted, and the walls and ceilings of the drawing-room and library have been surfaced with silk in most exquisite shades. Several new pieces of beautiful, hand-made furniture have been placed in the different rooms, and built-in seats are upholstered with leather. The improvements are said to have been estimated at approximately $5000.

Kings or emperors have ruled India only twice in its history.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite
Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Advertisement.
