Club Women Attending Big Convention Stop Here On All-Day Trip

Glendale has extended the hospitality of the city to the thousands of clubwomen attending the biennial convention in Los Angeles, for the play day tomorrow.
All business of the convention will be suspended tomorrow and the clubwomen will see California, at least as much of the golden state as is in proximity to Los Angeles.

To Visit Here

Among the places to be visited will be the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse in Glendale, where the local clubwomen will hold open house from 2:30 till 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Members of the board of directors will receive and punch will be served by the hospitality committee. Mrs. Daniel Campbell, retiring president, and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, president-elect of the club, will head the receiving line. Mrs. Homer D. Lockwood and her hospitality committee will serve.

Other places to be visited by the clubwomen will be Culver City and Hollywood, where the motion picture studios will throw open their doors. The sightseeand Catalina.

Bold Bandit Lifts Roll From Police Judge In Hold-up

LOS ANGELES, June 5.

The ONE great crime has been committed.

Some BOLD bandit last night essayed to hold up Police Commissioner I. W. Birnbaum when the latter drove Police Judge Hugh Crawford home in his closed car.

The commissioner expostulated with the "stick up" man as he relieved the judge of his wallet containing an amount to exceed $10. But Mr. Birnbaum, who is an investment broker, had SOMETHING to argue about. He had $160 in his wallet. As he drew it out of his coat pocket, he also flashed his police shield.

"See my STAR," he said. "I am the commissioner of police courts." Evidently the bandit had seen that face somewhere before. He left Birnbaum holding his wallet, but made away with the judge's money.

Ask Intervention Of State In Probe Of Aqueduct Blast

LOS ANGELES, June 5. —Attorney-General U. S. Webb, of California, was today studying important evidence submitted in connection with the dynamiting, May 20, of the Los Angeles aqueduct with a view to taking personal charge of the investigation of the outrage.

The intervention of state authorities in the dynamit-ing was sought by District Attorney Asa Keyes because the dynamiting occurred at a point beyond the jurisdiction of Los Angeles county officials. The clues submitted to Webb, Keyes said, can only be developed by investigation in Inyo county, scene of the blasting.

In the controversy between the city and Owens valley ranchers as to water rights, a change of venue in pending suits will be sought, it was announced, owing to the inaccessibility of Marklesville in Alpine county, where hearings are now scheduled.

D. A. R. PLANS TO BUILD HOME FOR GRIDLEY CHAPTER

Members Discuss Project at Annual Breakfast Meet In Local Church

By KATHERINE V. SINKS Of The Evening News Staff.

Hopes that the General Richard Gridley chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, founded eleven years ago by the late Mrs. Mary Howard Gridley Braly, will be in possession of a chapter house at some not far distant date, were expressed yesterday during the annual "White Breakfast" at the First Congregational

During the eleven years' history of the chapter the membership has grown from thirteen members to well-nigh 100, so that the dream of the chapter house will some day be as delightful a realization as the beautiful home of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

The meeting yesterday was most significant in the chapter's history, for it marked the completion of the regency of Mrs. C. W. Houston, who is now the only living regent of the chapter, and the installation of Miss Ida D. Myers as regent, the third regent the chapter has had.

The late Mrs. Mary Howard Gridley, organizer of the chapter, was life regent.

Gift of D. A. R. Pin

Most deserving tribute was paid to Mrs. Houston yesterday, when Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, on behalf of the chapter, presented her with a beautiful D. A. R. pin. Since the organization of the chapter

AN INDEX OF WEALTH

The statistical matter compiled by the Class Journal Company and Automotive Industries presents instructive information upon the distribution of automobiles through the several states of the Union. The compilation gives the number of automobiles in each state, this figure being based upon the official record of the number of licenses granted, and also the ratio of the number to the population of the state. It reveals the interesting fact that in the eleven states west of Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas and the Dakotas the ratio of autos to inhabitants is one to four, but in the remaining thirty-three states and the District of Columbia this ratio is one to eight. This difference does not indicate that Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming own more automobiles than the thirty-three other states. It means only that there are fewer dwellers in the West than in the South, the interior and the East. This becomes evident when one notes that California, though having 3,426,861 inhabitants in 1920, had 1,100,283 autos on January 1, 1924, a ratio of one to three; whereas New York, though having a population of 10,385,277, according to the census of 1920, on January 1, 1924, had only 214,359 more autos than California, a ratio of one to nine.

The numbers of autos and the ratios vary quite noticeably as between the several states. As might be expected, the numbers are fewest in the Southern states, and the ratios between them and the populations spread most widely apart in the South. Inferior roads, less wealth than in other sections and "poor whites" account for the facts. Texas leads with more autos than any other Southern state possesses, having 688,899, but Mississippi has the smallest number, 104,400, while it and Georgia have the smallest ratio, one to seventeen. New York has the most autos, 1,214,642, but Ohio and Pennsylvania and Illinois press it close with 1,068,700 and 1,064,624 and 969,331 autos, respectively. Nevada owns the fewest autos, 15,700, but Delaware and Wyoming are almost beside the Silver State, for Delaware has 29,977 autos and Wyoming 39,831. The highest ratio of autos to population is recorded by California, where it stands at one to three, but Iowa comes next with one to four, and nine states have ratios of one to five.

Though no other state has so few autos as Nevada, the District of Columbia anomalously has 103,171 autos, whose ratio to population registers at one to four. Here the large figures are owing to there being relatively few dwellers in the district and to the wealthy members of Washington society having an abundance of autos.

IMMIGRATION LAW PROVISIONS

The new immigration law signed by President Coolidge makes the following provisions: Preserves the basic immigration law of 1917.

Retains the principle of numerical limitations as inaugurated in the act of May 9, 1921.

Changes the quota base from the census of 1910 to the census

Reduces the percentage from three to two, plus a small base quota for each country.

Counts certificates, not persons.

Provides for preliminary examination overseas.

Exempts wives, children under 18 and parents over 55 of American citizens. Reduces classes of exempted aliens.

Places burden of proof on aliens rather than on the United

Meets the situation with reference to admission of persons ineligible to citizenship.

Carries numerous sections to lessen hardships of immigrants. Quotas under the three laws will be as follows:

PERSONAL SUCCESS QUALITIES FOR OFFICE

When the business man wants the services of a department head or an employe he picks a man who has had some experience and success in that line of work. When the people want to be, when the earth was hotter than they used the proprietor of a wax-works some one to represent them in an official capacity they seem and its crust was more thin and show; and under this make-up he some one to represent them in an official capacity they seem to feel that any knowledge of the work to be done and any personal success the applicant has had are drawbacks. boots and look over his fishing tackle. So, when the Spring came, with it came a great uneasiness, a desire to be away somewhere in the vast distances and in the wild woods.

For he loved all the living things that crept and scurried and flew in the wild outdoors. He could tell one kind of insect from another; he knew if a bird lived on the fruit of the land or on vermin; he knew hickory from oak, and the best fishing places where the bass lie and the pools where the trout jump.

So he was lonely in the city and the sight of the multitude irked him, and when the Spring came it brought with it a great homesickness. He longed to be away, and when he had fixed his boots and rough jacket and put them on, he went away whistling to the north woods, happy

SONG

Because the rose must fade, Shall I not love the rose? Because the summer shade Passes when winter blows, Shall I not rest me there In the cool air?

Because the sunset sky Makes music in my soul, Only to fail and die, Shall I not take the whole Of beauty that it gives While yet it lives?

Because the sweet of youth Doth vanish all to soon, Shall I forget, forsooth, To learn its lingering tune; My joy to memorize In those young eyes?

If, like the summer flower That blooms—a fragrant death, Keen music hath no power To live beyond its breath, Then of this flood of song Let me drink long!

Ah, yes, because the rose Fades like the sunset skies; Because rude winter blows All bare, and music dies-Therefore, now is to me Eternity!

HORRORS OF JAP QUAKE RECALLED

D. R. Salisbury Tells Details Of Tokio's Holocaust Of Last October

Seeing a city of over 5,000,000 stroyed by earthquake and fire, thousands of corpses burnt beyond recognition strewn over an area of a few city blocks, and a distinct change of coast-line of the island, were some of the experiences of D. R. Salisbury who was residing in Tokio at the time of the Japanese earthquake.

Mr. Salisbury returned to Glendale last Saturday after spending four years in Japan as manager of the Horne Co., Ltd., of Tokio, large machinery house owned by the Allied Machinery Co. of America, and has taken apartments at 1158 North Central ave-He was in the city of Tokio at the time of the quake and saw two-thirds of that city burned to the ground and thousands of human beings burned to death and killed by falling structures.

At the time of the first quake he was on the third floor of the Horne Company building, which was damaged considerably by the quake but was not destroyed. He describes the day as being bright and warm, very similar to a Southern California summer day, when the first shock came without the slightest warning. An atmosphere of comfort predominates in the handsome foyer of the Glendale Clinical Group's building, and visitors to the institution are welcomed amid restful, homelike surroundings. The offices of the members of the group are on the ground floor, and the second floor, at present leased as offices, is constructed so that it can be converted into a hospital should the requirements of the doctors render such a step necessary.

New Issue Stamps Are Received at Local Postoffice

Stamp collectors now have an opportunity to invest in a new issue of Uncle Sam's stamps, the Huguenot-Wal-loon, which the postoffice department was authorized to issue in commemoration of the landing of the Hugue-nots, 300 years ago, in 1624.

A limited supply has been received by the local post-office in one, two and fivecent denominations, reports D. Ripley Jackson, postmaster. It is expected that there will be a large demand for the new issue among philatelists. The stamps are about double the size of the standard stamp.

Advances of Science Demand Specialists in Every Medical Field

Medicine has advanced further in the last forty years than in the preceding forty centuries, according to Dr. A. G. Bower, who heads the Glendale Clinical Group, and in the last ten years it has advanced further than in the preceding forty years.

Indeed, so rapid has been its advance that no one doctor can any longer cover the entire field, and even specialists nowadays are finding it difficult to keep up with the developments of their own particular branch, he states, with the result that clinical groups have come as a natural solution

These groups had their incep-tion at the medical colleges, where student doctors and visiting physicians and surgeons gathered to study at first hand the methods of the leaders in their profession. Then came such private clinics as that established by the Mayo brothers at Rochester, Minn.

War's Stimulus

The late war gave clinical groups an immense stimulus, Dr. Bower believes. Doctors thrown together in the army hospitals naturally departmentalized their work, and the effect was to the great advantage of the soldier patients. Following the war, many of these doctors were loath to return to general practice. The five members of the Glendale Clinical group were of that number. The grouped formed by Dr. Bower 11 the San Joaquin valley was a natural result.

The advantages of a group of doctors associated together are many, it is pointed out. The patient has the benefit of a consultaton of doctors in his particular case at far less than the cost of seeing each doctor separately. And the several doctors being specialists in their respective fields, each is able to keep up with the most advanced developments in that field. The overlapping that naturally results from several doctors entering into a patient's case greatly lessens any possibility of missing any symptom or evidence of disease. The total result is the saving of many lives that under old methods would unquestionably be lost.

Turn to Specialists

Naturally some general practitendency to resent the developknows all his patients by their first names. While it may do this to a certain extent, it is said, the patient unquestionably gets something more important - an exact, scientific treatment of their particular cases by experts.

So you can see that practically every baby, from six months to 2 1/2 years, is cutting teeth continuously.

Babies should cut their teeth without any trouble. About 10 per cent are fussy and may lose their appetites temporarily. Disturbances should not be blamed on teething until other things are ruled out. Occasionally teething may be difficult and the gums may be swollen and tender, and very rarely they may have to be lanced. BEAUTIFYING SLEEP No woman can keep her looks and her health if she goes for a long period without the proper amount of sleep. Most people need eight hours, nervous women nine, very healthy, phlegmatic people, seven. Alas, those who need nine hours are the very ones who find it hardest to get to sleep by any hour likely to give them more than seven or six!

Do you get enough? It's hard cracker at bedtime. It is the same with a hot bath.

Most people say they can sleep better for one just before bedtime, as the heat relaxes them. But some find it stimulating, like a hot drink. You must experiment, and find out what your special, nervous temperament needs. Don't try to force sleep. Sleep is the most stubborn mule that was ever known, it will not be forced. If it is hard to sleep, do as little brain work as possible an hour before bedtime, spend as many evenings quietly or frivolmany evenings quietly or frivol-ously as possible, save your work and worries for the day. Go to bed with your cracker and drink and a hot water bottle to take the blood to your feet (except on hot nights) and a frothy, amusing book. Books of short stories are good bedtime reading, for too fascinating a novel might keep you awake until late. Sleep always comes unexpectedly.

MERLIN KOPP IS HERO OF SECOND GAME, SACS WIN

Singled, Stole Second and Third, Scored on Hit; Final Count 2-1

By BEN McGUIRE For Southland News Service.

LOS ANGELES, June 5 .- Sacramento made it two straight yesterday by defeating Los Angeles, 2 to 1. Thompson and Hughes were both in fine form, allowing six hits each.

Merlin Kopp was the outstanding figure of the game, when he singled to center, stole second, and scored on Hemingway's sin-gle to left. The Solons' other run came in the eighth on a walk followed by a double to the scoreboard.

The Angels scored their only run in the eighth, when Twombley walked, was safe at second on Koehler's low throw to Siglin, and scored when Krug singled to left-center.

If you want to know anything about a play or player—

Write John B. Foster, the man who helped make the rules under which the game is played today. If you want a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed, envelope. Otherwise your question will be answered in this column.

Address: John B. Foster, Special Baseball Correspondent of the Evening News, 811 World Building, New York.

Copyright, 1924, by Evening News.

QUESTION—If a player bats a home run and he skips a base because he is too fast is he out if you touch the base with the ball?

ANSWER—He is out if the ball gets to the base before he can legally retrace his way to it. Players who are too fast are as much a menace to their teams as those who are too slow.

QUESTION—When young, 10 to 14 years of age, does it hurt your arm in anyway or have any effect on it when big, to pitch curves?

ANSWER—I do not think it harmful to pitch curves when 10 to 14 years of age, providing too much snap is not put on the wrist. Furthermore, do not try to use too much speed.

ANSWER—I have no faith in any record that has been alleged to have been made. It is not a standard record because it is not customary to keep it and the only one that I have heard cited is open to suspicion of being incorrect.

Moors Pound Smith at Will Failure to Secure Needed And Get Five Runs In Opening Inning

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR. Of The Evening News Staff. The Glendale Dynamiters went down in defeat again when they lost to the Alhambra sluggers vesterday on the Moor field, 15 to 5. The game was a hitting bee for the Moors, who pounded thirteen hits for fourteen runs off Charlie Smith in six innings.

The Moors had the game won the first inning, during they scored five runs. Charlie Smith walked Jenks and Rogers. Then followed a barrage of singles by Porter, Kolster, Hudson and Donaldson. These brought in five runs and completely demoralized the Glendale team.

In the second the locals shoved over one run on hits by Fred Smith and Stumpf, a force and a stolen base. In the fourth chapter Stumpf hit a hot one to center field, which took a mean bounce and got through Jenks. will be only a bleached, sun-cured The hit went for a homer and skeleton of its original form. This is the house we have been advertising. So many have looked at it, and are hesitating, we take this method of saying to those who have seen it, and those who may want to see it, that this house is going to be sold, and at the greatest sacrifice, considering location, cost and present value, of anything we have offered for a long time.

THE HOUSE COST $5400 TO BUILD, TWO YEARS AGO. NOT A LOT IN THIS BLOCK CAN BE BOUGHT UNDER $3500; WE OWN THE LOT DIRECTLY OPPOSITE, WHICH IS $3750.

Living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast nook, three bedrooms, unfinished attic, with stairway, can be utilized for additional sleeping rooms, if desired. Unit gas furnace, electrically controlled, pipes to every room, cost $275 to install. Laundry in basement. Floors hardwood throughout, laid over tongue and groove sub floor. Solid cement foundation under every dividing wall. Water tight windows. Splendid shingle roof. Foundation in for fireplace, which can be added with little expense, if desired. East front lot, several large fruit trees, garden, chicken yards, double garage.

This house was listed with us two months ago for $9000, which is less than others no better in this territory have sold for. Owner has made all arrangements to return to Kansas, where property is demanding his attention. He has cut the price to $7500, with $2500 cash. If you have $5000 cash, make an offer. This house can be sold next fall at a profit of $1500 or more.

Drive by and see it. Owner will show you, or phone this office.

BIBLE DOCTRINE

Self-Willed, Pampered Boys Reach Logical End of Early Training

By OWEN L. SCOTT pecial Correspondent of The Glen-iale Evening News, Copyright, 1924 CHICAGO, June 5.—The ageold Biblical doctrine "spare the rod and spoil the child" is findng forceful vindication once more in the case of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, brilliant education, who slew young Rob-

Pampered, petted, tutored and coddled, with all the attention that money can buy, young Leo-pold and Loeb had been brought KODAKS — ALL STYLES AND SIZES. Films and Kodak supplies. Each whim of their carefully studied minds was granted that there might be no hampering of the full play of latent ability. Unspanked, their own masters, conditions that sponsors of der modern methods of child raising 544 | would term ideal.

Lopsided Creatures

Now pitiable, lopsided creatures, a veneer of polished sophistry, their only asset, they are face face with the gallows. Nurses, tutors. private schools, chauffeurs, unlimited wealth-all failed to give that moral stamina. that regard for the others, that understanding of social relationships which they needed to fit them for the place in society to which their family standing would naturally entitle them.

Both lads had shown a decided mental precocity in early youth. Taken as a sign of genuis, precocity was carefully developed until it brought Loeb recognition as the youngest graduate of the University of Michigan and Leopold honor as the most youthful of University of Chicago law young lives were neglected for supported mainly by the Yale alumni, is one of the largest and the sake of bringing out all the possibilities of carefully tutored minds.

But the system gradually got death at his daughter's wedding in Salt Lake City. the better of the boys. They came to believe themselves super-men, intellectualists, "Nietzchean colossi," as Leopold termed it. They revelled in the pessimistic philosophy of Schopenhauer, and the more virile, cynical teachings of Nietzche. Psychiatrists say that their minds got all off balance . . . they became lopsided mentally with a preverted sense Seek 'Kick' in Life In this condition, with plentiful allowances, cars at their disposal, beautiful homes and social position behind them, they set out to get "kicks" out of life. Every desire was satisfied. They took to drinking-became cigar-

'teens. Even weird, bizarre foods were eaten, Leopold said, in the quest of "thrills." He told of downing dog meat, horse meat, raw fish, sea weed, and bamboo shoots-all for the kick. They must at least have toyed with the idea of sampling human flesh, for Leopold dropped the observation that "convention alone keeps people from eating human flesh. Next, according to the theory on which the authorities now are working, they went in for experimentation with the knife their fellow humans. An effort is being made to fasten on them the blame for one criminal operation on a young chauffeur and for a similar attempted operation which resulted in murder when the victim fought back. As Leopold has said, it was as easy for these young super-men to justify their crimes against fellowmen as the impaling of a beetle on a pin. Then came the final "thrill"the murder of a helpless boy, a second cousin of young Loeb.

Only 'Smart Alecks' Sublime egoists, perverts, literary peeping Toms, jazz maniacs, are some of the terms that pathologists are applying to the youths in an effort to classify them. They see in the bold, blase, depraved flippancy of Leopold as he brags and talks of the latest "thrill"—the killing of a human being-a mind so overbalanced that it represents almost a new type. Sadism, in its most flagrant form, possibly. The enjoyment of pain inflicted on another person. But Dr. W. O. Krohn, alienist who has examined the boys for the state's attorney, sets them down as simple "smart alecks." Youths of their age have a natural bent toward deviltry. ordinary youth, held in by dis-cipline, this inclination displays itself in harmless pranks. In the one-sided, mental over-development of Leopold and Loeb, is brought killing. Given less favorable home surroundings, more battling with real problems of life, the troubles of these experimenters might have been averted. An application of the rod might have removed the threat of the gallows.

SECOND BENEFIT DANCE TO RAISE HOSPITAL FUNDS

Pearl Keller's Pupils Will Aid Crippled Children By Performance

Dancing and philanthropy are oth very near the heart of Pearl Keller, well-known Glendale dancing and dramatic art teacher, who attracting wide attention all over the southland by the brilliant program she is to present Saturday afternoon and night in the Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles, as a benefit for the Crippled Children's Guild of the Orthopedic hospital.

Miss Keller's art and success as a dancing teacher reaches much farther than developing the aesthetic talents of her many pupils. It develops in each one the spirit of true service, so dominant in the enthusiasm with which 200 of her pupils are anticipating the rogram this week for the little crippled kiddies over at the Orthopedic hospital.

This worthwhile spirit is contagious, and Miss Keller is most gracious in telling of the hearty support she is receiving on every

Second Benefit

This is the second annual benefit the Keller studio has given for the Orthopedic hospital, and predictions are that great success will mark each performance.

Cunning kiddies from 2 years ld up through the teens are to entertain, clever dances, colorful costumes, artistic settings, catchy music and entertaining dramatic numbers will all combine in the brilliant program.

When the first curtain rises a truly fairyland atmosphere will be created, for, on a huge valentine, twenty elflike figures of baby dancers, ranging in age from years and 7 months to 4 years will smile happy greetings and EAGLE ROCK, June 5 .- Information has been received from trip down to present "The Cupids" Robert Dominguez, Los Angeles city clerk, that the sewer report

Why I Am In Glendale

My husband and I moved with our family of five children to Glendale, as we think there are more advantages for the children here than there were in Los Angeles. And then, too, we both like the city of Glendale better than Los Angeles or any other Southland community.

The scenery is beautiful here, there is nothing more beautiful than those hills when the sun casts his shadows

Glendale is a fast growing city, so we came here to live and grow with it. Good luck to Glendale. A Glendale citizen.

GRUNION RUN IS DUE TONIGHT AT SPOTS ON BEACH

Expect Thousands Will Try to Grab Elusive Fish Along Shores

Glendale parties that were disappointed at the time of the predicted grunion run between May 20 and 23 will have another opportunity of trying their luck at catching the elusive little smelt tonight and tomorrow night, when another run is due to take place at high tide.

Hundreds of motor parties visited the beaches at the time of the last run and got nothing for their efforts except colds and wet clothing. The grunion evidently failed to receive word of what was expected of them and did not keep the appointment with the watchers along the shore. For three nights the persistent ones returned to the shore in hopes that the "silver horde" would appear with the full moon, as is their custom, but even the luckiest were able to get only a small pail full of the elusive fish.

Those who have studied the grunion say that it is a deep water fish that rises to the surface at certain times of the year to spawn on the sand of the Southern California beaches. Pursued by the larger fish, they swarm into the shore in great schools and are washed up on the beach in large numbers, where the females deposit their eggs, and are washed back again. Catch with Hands
