WRECKS ON GREAT LAKE.

Many Vessels Damaged During a Severe Gale.
(Associated Press.)
Chicago, Sept. 17.—The cool northwest wind which for several days has swept over the lakes assumed during the past 24 hours the proportions of a gale, and much damage was done to shipping. The southern end of Lake Michigan escaped comparatively unharmed, but in the upper lakes, where the boats had gone out despite the storm signals sent out by the government weather bureau, many wrecks and mishaps occurred.

Unknown Steamer Founders.
Houghton, Mich., Sept. 17.—Shipping disasters are following one another in rapid succession at Eagle River reef. An unknown two-deck steamer is believed to have foundered with all hands yesterday. This morning a whale-back barge was discovered resting on the reef. The life saving crew started from the canal at 9 o'clock to the rescue. There was a terrific sea running, and up to noon it was not known whether the life boats had reached the stranded craft.

CAPTAIN RESPONSIBLE.

Verdict in Inquest into Drowning of Two Pilots Run Down by Steamer.
(Associated Press.)
New York, Sept. 17.—The inquest today in the case of Pilots Harry Mix and John Gough, two men who were drowned when the pilot boat James Gordon Bennett was run down and sunk by the Hamburg-American line steamer Alene off Scotland last night on August 17th, resulted in a verdict of fixing the responsibility for the accident upon Capt. Rhode, of the Alene, who was found guilty of "gross carelessness."

AN UNKNOWN MAN MURDERED IN NORTH

BONES WERE FOUND UNDER PILE OF ROCK
Discovery by Prospectors on Moresby Island, South of Skidegate—The Body Had Been Burned.
(Special to the Times.)
Vancouver, Sept. 17.—News was brought by the steamer Tees this morning of a mystery in the North. The skull and bones of a man were found on the shore of Moresby Island, just south of Skidegate, the discovery being made by four prospectors who left Vancouver a month ago. They found the remains of what appears to be a white man in the bottom of a pile of rocks, where the body had been burned to a crisp. A newspaper was found nearby bearing the date of June of last year. The skull was certainly not that of an Indian, and the whole discovery indicated to the prospectors that a white man had been killed and the body buried to avoid detection.

CHILD DROWNED.

Galt, Sept. 17.—The ten months old girl of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Conkey was drowned in three inches of water on Saturday. The little one had fallen into a bucket and the water covered the face so that her cries could not be heard.

WATERS CASE DISMISSED.

Nanaimo, Sept. 17.—Police Magistrate Yarwood this morning dismissed the Waters case, in which defendant was arrested in Victoria on the charge of stealing the funds of the Spiritualistic Association.

Many Persons Injured.

Washington, Sept. 17.—When the doors of the rotunda of the Capitol were opened today in order to permit an inspection of the remains of President McKinley, the crowd brushed by the police cordons and a terrible congestion followed on the Capitol steps and at the entrance door. At the latter point there was such pressure that numbers fainted.

FUNERAL SERVICE AT THE CAPITOL

PRESIDENT'S REMAINS ARE LYING IN STATE

All Nations Represented at the Solemn Ceremonies—Many Persons Injured in the Crush.

Washington, Sept. 17.—The day of the state funeral of the late President McKinley opened as sombre as the occasion. The sky was overcast with dark, slow moving gray clouds, occasional showers of rain fell, giving way for momentary intervals to gleams of dull sunshine, and a soft wind barely stirred into relief the signs of mourning on the building fronts, that told, as well as the subdued air of the public, that this was a day of sorrow. To-day was the occasion on which the nation was to pay its last tribute of respect and admiration at the bier of the dead President. All the country had sent here its representatives to testify that the dead had his place Deep in the National Heart.

Other Embassies and Legations.

Other nations had ordered their diplomatic and military representatives to be present as a token that they mourned with America in its loss. Ex-President Cleveland was here to take part in the ceremony, and like President Roosevelt, paid his tribute first in private at the White House and later at the public services in the rotunda of the Capitol.

THE KING OF GREAT BRITAIN.

The King of Great Britain was represented by Mr. Gerard Lowther, charge of the British embassy, whose personal VII had specially commissioned to participate in the services as his personal representative. Capt. Louis Bailey, of the Royal Navy, represented the embassy. They will return to Newport to-night and not go to the family funeral at Canton. The

THE DUTCH PARLIAMENT.

Queen Wilhelmina Delivers the Speech From the Throne.
(Associated Press.)
The Hague, Sept. 17.—The States general were reopened today by Queen Wilhelmina in person. The speech from the throne, after the customary reference to friendly foreign relations, dwelt on the necessity for social reform.

FISHERMEN WANTED.

Ottawa, Sept. 17.—Mr. Copp, M. P., Digby, N. S., is here interviewing Mr. Pedley, superintendent of immigration, regarding the immigration of fishermen from Norway, Sweden or Scotland to Nova Scotia. He says there is scarcely a fisherman in Digby, where fishing firms are ready to employ 200 men.

CHINESE TROOPS IN PEKIN.

Peikín, Sept. 17.—Chinese troops entered Peikín today. The Americans and Japanese simultaneously handed over the forts to the Chinese authorities.

MORE GOLD.

Thirty Thousand Dollars' Worth Will Be Shipped by the Government To-night.
A consignment of gold, amounting to over thirty thousand dollars, goes over to the Seattle steamer tonight from the British Columbia government. The consignment represents the revenue of the office in gold dust for the past week and consists of several bars of the precious metal. The stream of dust to the office has been continuous ever since the season opened, and the results to those having gold to sell has been most satisfactory.

CAMPAIGN IS NOW NEARING THE CLOSE

LAST NIGHT'S MEETINGS WERE WELL ATTENDED

Number of Speakers Are Taking Part in the Political Gatherings at New Westminster.

(Special to the Times.)
New Westminster, Sept. 17.—The last days of the bye-election campaign in New Westminster are certainly the warmest of any political contest ever held in the Royal City. Speakers have been imported by both sides from all parts of the province. Two meetings were held last night, one in the opera house and the other in St. Barnabas parish room. The latter, called by Mr. Gifford, was well attended and was addressed by A. E. McPhillips and Capt. Tatlow, M. P. David Bogle and Thomas Gifford. An one speaker on behalf of J. C. Brown of the government.

A Typical American.

London, Sept. 17.—In M. A. P., a weekly society paper, T. P. O'Connor interestingly of his recollections of his meeting with the late President McKinley at Washington. Mr. O'Connor eloquently pays tribute to the character, abilities and simplicity of the dead President, concluding as follows: "The career of McKinley was typically American. It is indeed American at its best. Even the murmured words of the church hymn which were among the last things uttered by the dying lips, even that is typically American too. Amid all the riot and deafening noise of a country bursting with the abounding vitality and defiant strength of its young youth, America is, in its foundation, a country of tranquil, sober, God-fearing homes. Every individual American mourns in simple William McKinley, the sweetness, wholesomeness and faithful affection and enduring fidelity of the typical American citizen, the true American wife and the typical American home."

AFRICAN VETERANS DECORATED BY DUKE

FIVE THOUSAND TROOPS IN REVIEW AT QUEBEC

Father O'Leary and Rev. Mr. Almond Among Those to Receive Medals For Their Services.

(Associated Press.)
Quebec, Sept. 17.—Bright weather halted the dawn of another day here this morning, but the fond hopes of the crowds which throng this ancient capital were early dashed to the ground by rain-fall. Notwithstanding this the Duke was an interested spectator of the review on the plains of Abraham. The inspecting officers rode from the right of the line where the blue-jackets and marines were assembled, to the end of the line and back, and the rifle regiments, and returned to the grand stand after passing around the rear. The march past then commenced as follows: Q. O. C. H. led by Major Turner; Col. Lessard in command of brigade; two batteries of artillery with Col. Pelletier, D. O. C., at the head; detachment of sailors from all the ships in port, about five hundred, led by the commander of the Crescent; the marines, Major Hawford commanding; Royal School of Infantry, St. Johns, Quebec, one company; E. C. A. of Quebec, one company; Col. Wilson, commandant of fortress and Col. Farley; four companies Pioneers of all regiments of the first infantry brigade; 1st Prince of Wales Fusiliers, eight companies, Montreal; 53rd Battalion of Sherbrooke, under Col. Fraser, 85th Battalion of St. Hyacinthe attached, in all 2 companies; Vies, Montreal; 8th Battalion Col. Jones commanding; Quebec High School cadets, under command of Capt. Jordan; 65th Battalion, 8 companies, about 450 men; No. 3 medical corps, Montreal; Major Barker and Major George Parke; No. 7 Boarers Co.; mounted guard of honor, etc. Medals were presented to the South African heroes, 113 in all, and to Father O'Leary and Rev. Mr. Almond of the first contingent. Col. Pelletier got the Distinguished Order Medal and the Victoria Cross went to Lieut. Ernest Turner. The Royal stand was filled with notabilities.

Joseph Thomson, the African Explorer, who died at 35 years of age, was the only man who penetrated to the interior from all four sides. From Morocco, on the north, he explored Mount Atlas; from the west he went up the Niger; from the east he reached the great lakes and the spot where Livingstone died; and from the east he traversed through the Masai country to the lakes. In all his expeditions he never found it necessary to use a revolver or a rifle against a human being.

ARRIVAL OF BODY AT WHITE HOUSE

A SILENT PROCESSION THROUGH WASHINGTON

Remains of President McKinley Reached National Capital Last Night—Charge Against Czolgosz.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—The remains of President McKinley to-night lie in the east room of the White House, where for more than four years he had made his home as the chief magistrate of the United States. The silence that marked the progress of the funeral party through the national capital was profound. The people as a whole did not talk, even in whispers, and the only sign of agitation in the great crowd was the silent pressing and striving against the ropes to see the mournful cortege which swept slowly along. At the Pennsylvania railroad station men in light frock coats and a mixture of soldiers and sailors were present in silence two troops of cavalry from Fort Meyer swung from Pennsylvania avenue into Sixth street. Then came Secretaries Hay and Gage and Acting Secretaries Granger and Commissioner McFarland and a few subordinates privileged to enter the space within the station. The train was due at 8.25, but the clock stood at 8.38 when the headlight of the big locomotive flashed along the rails and the cars swept quietly to a stop at the gates. They were met at the entrance of the observation car, while down the pathway strode a body of sturdy soldiers and sailors chosen as the body-bearers and guards. Meanwhile, further down the station the party on the funeral train were alighting. Secretary Hay and Secretary Gage had pressed forward, and entered the car where the mourners sat and assisted them to descend. Mrs. McKinley was aided by Abner McKinley and Dr. Rixey, and was speedily placed in a carriage, which drove off at once to the White House without awaiting the procession. Close behind came the members of the family of the late President who likewise were driven away immediately to the executive mansion. Mrs. McKinley was deeply veiled. She appeared to be up with fortitude, but leaned heavily on the arms of her supporters. President Roosevelt came next. His arm was closely clasped by Capt. Cowles of the navy, his brother-in-law, who walked rather hastily along between the files of officers to the carriage way, next the gates of the station. Just beyond the entrance to the station President Roosevelt, with the members of the cabinet, took station so as to leave a broad space for the funeral cortege. They ranged themselves on the sidewalk in double rows, opposite each other, and stood with bowed heads as the corpse was carried to the hearse drawn up at the side of the gate. The hearse was an exquisitely carved affair, and was drawn by six black horses, each of which was led by a colored groom in black livery. Just as the body was being placed in the hearse an incident occurred that caused a murmur of disapproval. A photographer from a nearby window suddenly flashed a light near the window for the purpose of obtaining a reproduction of the scene. The flashlight and accompanying noise made people shudder. The hearse bearing the body moved away, followed by President Roosevelt and those accompanying him. In the President's carriage, beside Mr. Roosevelt, were Secretaries Hay, Gage and Capt. Cowles, and Secretaries Root and Hitchcock. A platoon of mounted police led the way. Next came a delegation of G. A. R. men from the department of the Potomac, members of the Union Veterans' Association and the Spanish war veterans and troops and of 11th cavalry from Fort Meyer, Va. Following the cavalry was the hearse flanked on either side by the body-bearers. The carriages containing the distinguished officials were next in line, that of President Roosevelt being immediately behind the signal corps. It was about 9.30 when the head of the procession reached the White House grounds and turned into the driveway, Canada's sorrow.

Look at the Facts. Mrs. T. Dolan, of Madrid, writes: "I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I have taken it for nine months previous to confinement, and I suffered scarcely any compared with what I had at other times. I suffered fifteen years with female weakness and nervousness," writes Mrs. Vincent Bohall, of Franklin, Johnson Co., Indiana. "One year ago I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took six bottles of each and now I am well. I owe my life to Dr. Pierce."

with him. The crowds surged after them, but found the exit barred by four strong policemen. Outside the door, the prisoner was surrounded by 12 policemen with clubs drawn and under command of Capt. Michael Hogan, Jailer George N. Mitchell and several deputy sheriffs. The prisoner was hurried down stairs into the basement whence he was taken through the tunnel to the jail. Whether he was left there for the night or taken elsewhere the police refused to say.

Advocates Vigorous Action.

New York, Sept. 16.—Anarchists were dealt with severely, said John W. Hardress Clarke, an interview last night. We never had so good a government in San Francisco and Virginia as during those years when the vigilance committees were in control. Every offender was tried by a jury of twelve good men, and if found guilty executed on the spot. Bad characters left the country, and a peaceful and happy society was the result. It did not have to be repeated.

Advocates Vigorous Action. I hope the newspapers and public officials will urge immediate action. This shooting down of good men like President McKinley is a serious matter. It makes no difference how brave a man may be, some cowardly assassin with a poisonous gun may shoot him from a roof at some unexpected moment. Guards amount to nothing. Men have been assassinated in the midst of their soldiers. Summary justice properly executed will do the work. Drive the Anarchists out of America. Hang every one of them caught in these crimes without delay. Let the movement begin with vigorous action on the part of the community, and they will soon disappear when they find we mean business. Every Anarchist arriving in this country should be sent back by the same steamer. The European police will attend to them. They are shadowed everywhere, and they should be kept over there, hunted down, and promptly exterminated.

The time has come for business men to take hold of this matter and settle it in good shape. There should be no half way measures. Let the papers help the movement along, force congress to make a proper law at the earliest moment, and have officials see that it is executed. Public sentiment will do the rest. The country will sustain such a movement, and make Anarchism a thing of the past.

ROYALTY AT QUEBEC.

Quebec, Sept. 16.—Royal lunch at the Citadel today. The Royal party paid a visit to Laval University. They were received in the large hall of the institution, the galleries being filled by pupils, while the body of the hall was filled with clergy and distinguished guests. At the Royal party entered the students struck up the National Anthem, and all present joined in singing it. Four band leaders headed the procession, next the Duke and the Rev. Rector Mathew, the Duchess, accompanied by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Governor-General, Lieutenant-Governor Jetties and the Roman Catholic Archbishop. The Duchess was also in deep mourning. The Duchess was also in black, and wore such a diamond necklace and a long gold watch chain set with diamonds.

The Duke then addressed these present, dwelling particularly on the appreciation of the loyalty of the French-Canadian subjects to the crown. A Marchion of Three Rivers Sealby, and T. Nadeau, of the College de Levis, who won the Prince of Wales prizes for philosophy and rhetoric, were then presented by the Rector to the Duke, who shook hands with them and presented their prizes. The Faculty was presented to the Duke, after which the party were escorted back to the Citadel by Hussars, the crowds cheering all the way.

WHI NOT ATTEND RECEPTION. Montreal, Sept. 16.—Mayor Prefontaine to-night received a telegram from Major Maude, A. D. C. to the Governor-General, saying that the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall, out of respect to the late President McKinley, would not be able to attend the reception which was to be held in the city hall here on Thursday night.

MANY MINERS ENTOMBED. Explosion in Colorado Coal Mine—Fearful Great Loss of Life. Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 16.—A special to the Gazette from Glenwood Springs, Colo., says: "A frightful explosion occurred at 5.30 o'clock this evening in the coal mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company at Spring Gulch, probably resulting in the instant death of all the miners at the time engaged in work, an estimate being 100 men. The explosion of the explosion was terrific, and the entry was badly curved in. Three men were rescued from near the entry soon after the explosion, but they were so frightfully mangled as to be unrecognizable. The telephone line to Spring Gulch is out of existence, and a message was dispatched to the office of the Pennsylvania Railway, where, through telephone connection was obtained with Glenwood.

WORKERS DISSATISFIED. Steel Employees Are Not Pleased With Settlement of the Strike. Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 16.—There was no general resumption of work at the steel mills to-day. With the exception of McKeesport, the mills in this district were operating about the same as last week.

THEORETICAL TALKS. Theodore Roosevelt, 26th President of the United States, is an interesting personality in American politics. He has been described as rich enough not to work at all, yet he works hard all the time. He is brilliant, but not discreet. Always speaks his mind, is tireless in industry, but yet finds time to enjoy the society of his wife and children. He has been a deputy sheriff in Montana, a politically unimpeachable figure, a sportsman, an author and a soldier. "Teddy" Roosevelt, as he is popularly known, is the author of the phrase "the strenuous life."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT. Theodore Roosevelt, 26th President of the United States, is an interesting personality in American politics. He has been described as rich enough not to work at all, yet he works hard all the time. He is brilliant, but not discreet. Always speaks his mind, is tireless in industry, but yet finds time to enjoy the society of his wife and children. He has been a deputy sheriff in Montana, a politically unimpeachable figure, a sportsman, an author and a soldier. "Teddy" Roosevelt, as he is popularly known, is the author of the phrase "the strenuous life."

As a young man Roosevelt graduated from Harvard in 1880, and then entered Columbia law school. In 1881 he was nominated for the assembly in the 21st district of New York city, was elected by a handsome majority, and soon became one of the Republican leaders. In 1886 Mr. Roosevelt was nominated for mayor of New York by the Republicans, and ran against Abram S. Hewitt, Democrat, and Henry George, the Labor candidate. He was badly beaten in this three-cornered contest, and for a time kept out of politics, and turned his attention to literature. Early in May, 1889, President Harrison appointed him to be a special commissioner, and he continued in office under President Cleveland, resigning in 1895 to become president of the police commissioners of New York. He did remarkable work in reforming the department, which, under Tammany influences, had become utterly demoralized and corrupt. It was his habit to walk about the city at night and in the early morning, to see for himself how the officers were attending to their duties. He kept up this work for several weeks, and the police of New York suddenly found themselves attending to business.

MOTOR MEN AND WOMEN. The Dues and Duchesses who have come out as motormen and motowomen must have caused as much loss of life as a battle had M. Waldeck-Rousseau not interfered to put a stop to their reckless driving. A delay of a few seconds in crossing a highway is fatal to a civilian, and in towns where the carriages are crowded together in Paris, where there are no refugees or policemen to regulate traffic, it is trifling compared to that of walking on a high road in the country. The motor cars and swells for all motorists now want to be swells—such as the broad light of day, they prefer the cool of the night. One may be out on foot enjoying the fragrance of forest or field on a high road. Suddenly you hear a screech like that of a porcupine, and you have hardly time to jump out of the way when the motor is tearing at you. A delay of a few seconds in escaping, and you would have been run over. These motor men and women seem to imagine that the roads are made for them only. The dust they raise as they rush ahead and the foul smell they leave behind them make them apart from you a danger, and they are a nuisance. People in donkey carts, dog-carts, and other light vehicles are in as great danger, if not greater, than pedestrians. It is now commonplace to hear of such vehicles being run down. The chauffeur, as the motor jock is called, does not stop to help his victims, but puts on higher pressure and is out of sight in a moment. He is free from any civil action. As he has no conscience (what human being who lives to be amused or to show off has a conscience?) he is sure not to look out for the injured persons and send them relief anonymously.—London Truth.

Seventy Thousand Dollars Said to Have Been Handed Over By C.P.R. Through Rothschild & Co.

According to the Port Townsend Call there passed through the hands of Messrs. Rothschild & Co., the pioneer ship brokers of the northwest, what is probably the large single "bunch" of money that anyone outside of the government or local bank officials has seen for many a long day in that city.

The Call says: "Back of the receipt of this check is a story that will forever rest at rest the oft asserted opinion that Americans seldom receive justice outside the country. In this instance Americans have received that same, and that too, through no intervention or assistance from this government, but simply as a result of the sense of right and justice exhibited in a British Admiralty court."

"All readers of the Call, which gave first and fullest particulars at the time, will remember the collision off Cape Flattery last November between the American bark Abby Palmer and the British steamship Empress of Japan. As a result thereof the Abby Palmer libelled the Empress of Japan for $35,000, and the steamer cross-libelled the bark for an equivalent sum. The bark was compelled to furnish bonds in cash to cover the cross libel. The British Admiralty court in Victoria after a careful probing of the facts has decided that the Abby Palmer's claim was just and that to the negligence on the part of the Empress of Japan she was liable for the same."

DERELICT NOT IDENTIFIED.

Nothing has been learned about the derelict off the Central American coast since it was first reported by the steamer Meteor a few days ago upon arriving here, says the San Francisco Chronicle. Capt. Monroe of the steamer Leelanaw, sailing for Panama direct the same day the Meteor arrived, took the longitude and latitude of the derelict, and will keep a lookout for the wreck. In shipping circles the opinion is expressed that the derelict may be the Chilean ship Antoinette, of 965 tons, now out 114 days from Chemsinus for Antofagasta. The ship should have reached her destination two months ago. Other overdue vessels, any one of which might have been the derelict, are the Chilean bark Bertha, 88 days out from Port Hadlock for Coquimbo; the Chilean bark Latona, 101 days out from Port Blakeley for Valparaiso; the British bark Lot, out 77 days from Port Blakeley for Valparaiso; the schooner Manila, 90 days out from Ludlow for Iquique, and the British bark Mary A. Troop, out 90 days from Port Gamble for Molokai.

MARINE NOTES.

A Vancouver exchange states that there has been shipped to points in the East within the last few weeks 45,000 cases of salmon. When the R. M. S. Mowera sails for Australian ports on September 20th, she will have in her holds some 17,000 cases. There will also be some large shipments of salmon to China shortly, but none will go on board the steamer Tartar, due to sail on September 20th. A big run of fish is still reported on the Fraser.

THE CIVIC FATHERS IN DELIBERATION

ROUTINE BUSINESS ALONE TRANSACTED

A Number of By-Laws Were Completed in Committee and Finally Passed—Other Matters Considered.

The council held a brief session last night only routine business being transacted.

After the disposal of the minutes, which were approved, a letter was read from Pell & Gregory, counsel for C. A. Bossi, complaining that a piece of property purchased by him, and which had been represented by the city treasurer to be free of taxes, had been partially sold by the city. They asked that reparation be made. Referred to the city solicitor.

W. Ridgway Wilson, for E. G. Prior & Co., asked the council to lay sewer pipe on Johnson street, upon which the firm contemplated some improvements. Referred to building inspector and city solicitor for report.

J. R. Anderson, secretary of department of agriculture, transmitted a resolution of the horticultural board, urging that manufacturers adulterating jams and jellies be prosecuted.

One alderman suggested that the city solicitor be instructed to act.

The Mayor—What's the matter with the attorney-general?

Ald. Yates—Things are a little precarious now.

In the informal discussion which followed, Ald. Williams suggested that it was high time that a regular inspector for all food stuffs consumed in the city should be appointed, a suggestion which met with vigorous hear, heurs from the other aldermen. Referred to city solicitor.

Frank A. McKelvie approached the council, asking the sum of $200 for a license advertising the city as a tourist resort. Referred to the finance committee.

Fred. Davey, secretary of the Oddfellows' Union, complained of a stove pipe passing through a partition adjoining the O. O. F. property. Referred to building inspector.

C. C. Moody addressed the council, inquiring "which end of the pole the suckers were attached to." The question passed and the communication was filed.

Sanitary Officer Wilson and Building Inspector Northcott were recommending the destruction of three one-story wooden buildings on the west part of lot 54, block 23, facing Douglas street.

Known as Nos. 41, 43 and 45, also a one-story frame building situated on lot 23, known as No. 3 Marion street. They also recommended a similar course with a wash house adjoining the K. of C. hall, known as Nos. 1 and 9 Pandora street, and a one-story frame building, No. 5, lot 661, block 17. The proper officers were directed to carry the recommendations into effect.

A conference with the owners was set for Monday at 4 o'clock.

A recommendation of the sanitary officer that surface drains not in use be taken up was adopted.

A complaint from E. Harris regarding defective drainage was referred to the city engineer.

The water commissioner reported on the petition for water extension on the lot known as No. 2500. It would require 2,250 feet of 6 or 4-inch pipe, costing $2,404 and $1,547 respectively, and 1,200 feet of 2-inch, costing $366.

He also reported that Mr. Bravenant's requested extension to Hillside avenue would cost $250. In view of the expense involved, the council refused the application. This was adopted.

Poundkeeper Curran repudiated the charges made against him by a female complainant. It was received and filed.

A petition was filed from B. S. Heisterman and others asking for a permanent light at the corner of Robins avenue and Spanish street. Referred to electric light committee for report.

The special committee appointed to report on F. M. Rattenbury's application for a modification of the building regulations recommended that permission be given to have the skylight of wood instead of galvanized iron. The report was adopted.

The special committee appointed to look into the tenders for gravel and sand for the bridges submitted a report as follows:

To His Worship the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, in Council Assembled:

Gentlemen—Your special committee having considered the undermentioned subject, beg to report and recommend as follows:

1. Having examined the tenders submitted for sand and gravel for James Bay and Point Ellice works, would respectfully recommend the contract for sand be awarded to John Haggerty, providing beach sand is supplied, the same to be delivered when and where required.

2. That the contract for beach gravel be awarded to F. M. York, providing the same be delivered on scoops or where required on the bridge.

3. That the purchasing agent be instructed to order two courses of dimension stone at $9 per cubic yard.

4. In reference to the communication from A. Henderson, of the Transfer Co., offering to supply teams to haul beach gravel and sand for James Bay and Point Ellice works at $5 per day, we do not consider it fair to the other tenderers to entertain his offer now. We, therefore, recommend the same be not accepted.

The report was adopted.

The finance committee recommended the admission of G. Parry to the Old Men's Home. Adopted.

undermentioned subjects, beg to report and recommend as follows:

Re Point Ellice Bridges. The report of the city engineer, dated the 5th inst., in regard to this matter, reads as follows:

"I am informed that my plans for pier spacing, etc., which were submitted to the proper department at Ottawa, have since been approved, and, in accordance with instructions, I would therefore recommend that tenders be invited for the structure as soon as possible, as follows:

"1. That one or two styles of construction which are in general use be selected, and tenders be called for the same in the usual manner.

"2. That in addition to this bidders be allowed to submit any design desired; providing the same fills all the requirements such as head room, length of spans, strength, etc., etc., set forth in our instructions to bidders at the time of receiving tenders."

Your committee would recommend the following resolution for the adoption of the council, namely:

1. Resolved, That the city engineer's report in regard to this matter be adopted.

2. Resolved, That the width of the bridge be 24 feet with two sidewalks, each five feet wide.

3. Resolved, That the tramway track be placed on the north side of the bridge.

4. Resolved, That the new bridge be built in line with the centre of Work street.

5. Resolved, That the bridge be constructed with gradual incline towards the west end, so that the west end will be raised 3 feet 6 inches above the height of the east end.

6. Resolved, That the tenderers have six weeks wherein to submit tenders for the construction of the bridge, and that such tenders include flooring and the supplying of tramway rails and large same, also include separate figures for floor covering in air and oak.

7. Resolved, That tenders be called for putting in the foundations with cylinders.

Ald. Yates thought the report was not quite accurate. The committee was proceeding to the consideration of other work when informed by the finance committee, that there were no more funds available. This should be stated in the report. The report was adopted.

The Public Morals Amendment By-law was reconsidered and finally passed.

Ald. Cameron moved that the Government Street Laying, Equal Improvement Amending By-law 1901 be read a second time. This was necessary, he explained, because the council was not able to go on with the work this year, and it was not desirable to have the debentures running until the work was carried out. The by-law passed its first and second readings and the council went into committee on it. The bill was reported complete with amendments, and the report was adopted, the by-law read a third time and finally passed.

The Menzie Street Widening By-law Amendment By-law was read a second time and was committed for report.

The date of issue of the debentures, the by-law was reported complete, and read a third time.

Ald. Williams asked if it was the intention to make Thursday a civic holiday. He moved that the matter be left in the hands of the Mayor.

The motion carried and the council adjourned.

"A RUNAWAY GIRL."

Augustine Daly Company Will Play Here on Thursday.

An attraction of considerable importance will be seen in this city at the Victoria theatre on Thursday evening.

In the London Gaiety "A Runaway Girl" played six hundred consecutive performances, and duplicated its phenomenal success at Daly's theatre, New York city, where it played for three hundred consecutive nights. It will be presented here by the Augustine Daly Company, an organization of exceptional merit, headed by the well-known comedian, Arthur Dunn.

Including principals and chorus, there are some fifty members in the company. The original elaborate stage settings and scenery from Daly's theatre are carried by the company, as well as the handsome and picturesque costumes and paraphernalia.

The comedy itself is full of life and action and interspersed with droll and humorous situations. It possesses many quaint, odd and amusing characters, which are ably interpreted by this excellent coterie of metropolitan artists. Its principal charm, however, lies in the many catchy airs and musical features which are constantly and consistently introduced during the action of the play and which become deservedly popular wherever heard.

The Journal, which was established many years ago, will be discontinued as a distinct publication, and will be merged into the Ladies' Magazine, which has already won a place for itself as the popular home paper for Canadian women.

ARE AGAIN HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER

ZIONITES ARRESTED ON SECOND CHARGE

Coroner's Jury Returned Verdict Yesterday Afternoon—Brooks and Rogers Taken Into Custody.

Again Eugene Brooks, Zionite elder, and John Rogers, one of his flock, stand charged with manslaughter. They are held by the coroner's jury responsible for the death of Cecil Alexander, the six-month-old child of Rogers, who died, it is alleged, of diphtheria and without medical attendance. This inquest had been adjourned from Saturday week, that on the other child occupying the attention in the meantime. Four witnesses were examined yesterday afternoon, after which the jury retired for about half an hour. Returning, the foreman handed to the coroner the following verdict:

"We, the jury, called upon to enquire into the death of Cecil Alexander Rogers, find that the said Cecil Alexander Rogers died from diphtheria. That the father was criminally negligent. That through the teachings of one Eugene Brooks we find that such criminal negligence was responsible for the death of the said Cecil Alexander Rogers."

This is not the official text into which it subsequently evolved, but it is the exact form presented by the foreman on the strength of which Brooks and Rogers were taken into custody. The arrest was made by Detectives Palmer and Perdue on the coroner's warrant.

The first witness yesterday was John Rogers, father of the deceased child, who, being sworn, said that the child had been suffering from teething for some time. The other children were ill. After the death of Victoria Helen no alarming symptoms were traced by the baby, but it still continued ill. Witness did not do anything for it, and was not advised to do anything. Dr. Fraser was there the day before the child died, but he did not advise anything. He promised to call the next morning, but did not do so. Witness did not call Elder Brooks especially to see the child. The child died about 6 p. m. on September 6th, witness being absent at the inquest over the other little one when it died. He did not consider the infant very ill. The day before it died it vomited a little and became unnaturally pale.

To Foreman Deary—He believed that a child could recover from diphtheria without the assistance of a doctor. Three of his children had done so. He was not aware that it was necessary to notify the health authorities of a case of contagious disease. As soon as they learned the nature of the disease in their house they established a quarantine. They did not call in a doctor.

Continuing witness stated that the deceased was quite well up to the time of the first child's death, only troubled by teething. Dr. Hart came to the house after the death of the first child and examined the family. He called about an hour later with Supt. Hussey, and obtained a statement from him. He at that time said that the baby had diphtheria.

He called again that evening about 8 o'clock with Dr. Fraser. They examined the baby and the rest of the family. Dr. Fraser said witness's wife, boy and oldest girl had had diphtheria, and were convalescing. He then, with Dr. Hart, examined the baby, and said there was no diphtheria there, that the throat was clear, and that the baby would be all right by morning. Mrs. Rogers was alone when the baby died. She did not leave the house, even if she wished to call assistance. Just before the baby died, however, she shouted to the neighbors, and sent word to Mrs. Malby, who came in a doctor.

To a jurymen—They had no chance to call a doctor even if they desired. They were quarantined and did not consider the child dangerously ill. When it became alarmingly ill they called to the neighbors. Dr. Fraser after examining the baby's throat had said that it was not diphtheria. He believed in the efficacy of poultices in the treatment of illness. Would not call in a doctor unless his opinions changed. The doctors who came did nothing. Dr. Fraser is promising to call and in not doing so had lied to them.

Dr. Fagan, provincial health officer, gave evidence regarding the bacteriological examination of the specimens taken from the child at the post mortem, and the discovery of the diphtheria bacillus, after which Dr. Fraser was sworn.

Dr. Fraser said he made the post mortem examination on the body, which was that of a well-nourished male infant about six months old. The only external marks on the body were signs of eczema behind the ears. All the organs were normal except the heart, which was soft and friable, the left side being distended with clotted blood. This was a condition which followed blood poisoning, consequent on such diseases as diphtheria. He believed the child died of cardiac failure, subsequent to diphtheria. Such conditions would occur after two weeks' illness. There was nothing abnormal about the throat.

The statements of Rogers regarding his visit to the house were substantially true. He had done so in company with Dr. Hart the day before the death of the child. He gave his opinion that the child did not have diphtheria, there being no visible membrane in the throat and no difficulty in respiration. The child was sleeping at the time. It was very pale and feeble. Dr. Hart considered the child very ill, but witness did not think it was near death. Witness advised giving the child whiskey, but the parents said they had none, and that they would give it stimulants.

As to not calling next day the witness explained that on that night his term as health officer expired, and he reported the case to Dr. Robertson, the new officer. He believed proper treatment a fortnight before the time of death might have saved the child's life. Although he did not make a thorough examination he was of the opinion that stimulants would have proved its life.

Mrs. Alice Rogers, the mother of the child, after being next sworn, deposed that the child became ill with teething about three weeks before it died. They did not consider him very ill until the little girl died. He appeared better the day before he died, and in fact to within half an hour previous to its death. Before that time witness was not alarmed. Had had considerable illness in her house previous to the child's death, members of the family being troubled with sore throat. She did not think the baby had the same illness as the others, as he did not breathe the same. Witness did nothing but call a doctor. Elder Brooks prayed for him, but was not sent for especially for him. Dr. Fraser called at the house the day before the child died and promised to call the next day. He did not advise them to do anything. He said a little whiskey would not hurt witness and the other children. During the afternoon of the baby's death Mrs. Malby was at the house. The sanitary inspector also called and took her husband to the inquest.

To a jurymen—She never had diphtheria in her family before. They did not know whether the disease was diphtheria or croup. They kept to themselves.

To the coroner—In cases of this sort they would consider it wrong to take the doctor's advice even if they did not call him. She knew the baby was in the doctor's care and could do nothing for herself she certainly would not have medical assistance or take medicines.

To a jurymen—She would not have given the baby stimulants and would have considered such wrong. She believed implicitly that God would heal and God did not want any assistance. There was nothing too hard for God. She would not at any time call in medical attendance. They never had a doctor in the house but once before joining the Christian Catholic church.

The sanitary inspector, James Wilson, the last witness, gave evidence regarding the removal of the body to the morgue and calling at the Rogers house. Also as to the quarantining of a house in which contagious disease existed.

In summing up, the coroner explained the duties of a father toward his children of minor years, pointing out that he was bound to provide them with necessities, which included medical care. There were two verdicts returnable, natural death and manslaughter.

As for Elder Brooks, while he was not very directly connected with the case, he had been in the house and prayed for the child. Also their peculiar belief was acquired under his teaching.

After retiring and deliberating for about half an hour the foreman submitted the above verdict. The jury were then dismissed, and Brooks and Rogers arrested.

The jury were: Thomas Deary, foreman; James D. Ogden, Walter Krippen, Edward F. Geiger, Mortimer Appleby and Samuel Sea.

BACK FROM CALIFORNIA.

Chief of Police and Family Have Returned From the South.

J. M. Lanley, chief of police, Mrs. Langley, Master Langley and Miss Shotbolt returned yesterday on the steamer City of Puebla from California, where they have spent the past several weeks.

Chief Langley says the strike situation is as uncompromising as ever, the shipping being completely tied up. There is a large fleet of ships at anchor in the bay, all heavily laden with coal and lumber, and they are likely to remain as they are until the strike is settled. It is absolutely impossible for them to be discharged under the present difficulty. The authorities are taking every means to afford protection to the non-unionists, and uniformed constables in various parts of the city are frequently seen.

could not think of sitting down alongside of the member for New Westminster as one of his colleagues. His speech, we confess, seems a trifle "far fetched" and unreasonable. Perhaps now that his schemes to convert the government into a true-blue Tory one have been defeated, Richard would be willing to become the head of a composite administration, Tory, Grid and Labor.

It would have been better for the reputation of Mr. Brown if he had been perfectly straightforward about the negotiations antecedent to his entry into the cabinet. It may be literally correct that he had no communication with the Premier. It was perfectly obvious at the last session of the House that the opposition to the general policy of this government did not proceed from the opposition side of the House.

THE NEW POLICY. The Colonist intimates this morning that the government has in process of incubation a "strong policy," embracing the construction of railways upon a plan which cannot but be approved by the people, the settlement of agricultural lands, and retrenchment.

PREPARING FOR SEASON.
Draft of Proposed Regulations to Govern
New City Association Football League.

This evening at the Philharmonic hall a meeting of those interested in Association football will be held. At the last session of football players a committee was appointed for the purpose of drafting rules and regulations for the governing of the new city league, which it was decided should be formed.

This committee met last night, and after a very busy session, decided upon rules which will be submitted this evening for the approval of the general committee.

First thing to come up for consideration was what the league or organization would be called. The appropriate term, Victoria District Association Football League, was finally decided upon, meeting with the consent of all the delegates. The age limits for the different grades were set as follows: Junior, under 16 years of age; Intermediate, from 16 until 21; while the senior will consist of players over the latter age. Of course, in regard to the intermediate limit, if the player is competent to play senior, before reaching 21 years of age he is allowed to do so, but he cannot play a league game in an intermediate team after reaching that age.

The entrance fee for every team will be: Junior league, $2.50; intermediate, $5; and senior, $10, payable before the first game. This will all probably be altered by the general committee this evening, as it is understood that some dissatisfaction exists at this rate of fee.

A recommendation will also be made to the committee that two smoking concerts be given to defray the expenses of the league and to obtain trophies for each division; also that the gates be divided, giving the league one-third of the net profits of the gate, the contesting teams taking the remaining two-thirds.

It will also be recommended that the league play the Scottish football rules, which are in vogue in provincial football in the province, in preference to the English rules. Each game won will count two points in favor of the winning team, while a draw will be one point in favor of each of the teams playing.

Bodies receiving the report of the committee appointed to draft regulations, it is understood, that some new rules football players drafted. One of these is a motion which will be made by J. W. Lorimer in regard to the Scottish football rules, which he will recommend that some rule be formulated which shall prevent any team entering from the schools or from clubs taking players from outside the schools or clubs and playing them in a team which is supposed to represent that particular senior or club. Last year, according to Mr. Lorimer, there was some trouble in the junior league on that score.

A meeting of the Boys' Brigade will be held a week from tomorrow in their hall, when arrangements will be made for the coming season. It is expected that the Brigade will enter teams this year in both the junior and intermediate leagues. Their intermediate team will be a strong aggregation, consisting, as it will, of former members of the junior team who carried off the championship on two occasions.

Rugby Preparations.

On Friday evening at the same hall the Victoria Intermediate Rugby Club will meet for the purpose of organizing for the season. A cordial invitation is extended to all players of that popular game to be present.

Meeting Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon an enthusiastic meeting of the High school boys was held. It was unanimously decided to place two teams in the field this year, one for Association and the other playing Rugby.

H. Marchant was re-elected captain of the Rugby eleven, while L. Netherby was chosen as captain of the Association eleven. A. Levy will act as secretary-treasurer for both teams.

SYMPATHY APPRECIATED.
Hon. Abraham Smith Thanks the People and Government of the Province.

Hon. Abraham Smith, U. S. consul, has acknowledged the resolution of sympathy with the American people, and the family of the late president, forwarded by the local government, as follows:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your kind note of the 14th inst. conveying the deep regret felt by the Hon. Jas. Dunsmuir and the members of the executive on account of the sad termination of the murderous attempt on the life of our beloved and honored President."

"I have telegraphed the same to your government and take the occasion to express my thanks at this demonstration of the respect entertained by the officials and people of British Columbia for our stricken chief, their detestation of his foul assassination, and the kindly feeling shown out here for our nation."

"Hon. Mr. Smith has received the following from John Hay, secretary of state, dated Washington, September 17th:

"The affecting expressions of sympathy you convey on behalf of Lieutenant-Governor Sir Henri Joly, Premier Dunsmuir, and people of British Columbia, are deeply touching to the people and government of the United States, and voice the deep feeling of brotherhood that mutually inspires the two countries. I beg you to make fitting acknowledgment."

Reached Victoria on Empress To-day—
Other Distinguished Passengers.

R. M. S. Empress of India reached quarantine from the Orient this morning, the Yosemite acting as tender to her from Victoria. She had on board seven saloon passengers and of intermediates had 81 men of the B Battery, Royal Horse Artillery. There were 254 steerage passengers, of whom 16, all Chinese, were landed at Victoria.

Her cargo consisted of 2,254 tons of ordinary freight and 2,158 packages of silk.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL CORBIN.

The ship had a good voyage across, although the first three days out from Japan was rather rough, the vessel getting into the finish of a typhoon.

The most distinguished of her passengers were Adjutant-General Corbin, of the United States Army, who is returning from the Philippines, accompanied by Lieut. Col. John W. Johnson. When apprised of the death of President McKinley he manifested deep emotion, and was evidently much affected. He is in the best of health. Although affable and courteous in his treatment of the Times reporter, he intimated that he thought it would be inexpedient for him to grant an interview.

The Royal Horse Artillery which departed here are under the command of Capt. Orr. They were met by Captain McDonald, R. E. of Work Point, and Surgeon-Major Hart. They will remain at Work Point for a few days.

Other notable passengers were Rt. Rev. Bishop Partridge, of Kyoto, Japan; Rev. T. H. Evans, of Japan, and Rev. M. N. Trollope, all en route to San Francisco to a church convention; J. Mellon Cheetham, secretary to the British legation at Tokyo, who is on his way home; Miss Elizabeth R. Skidmore, the authoress, and Wm. C. Payne, C. P. R. agent at Yokohama.

THE MILLINERY OPENINGS.

Capital Showing—Made by the Firms of the City.

A very fine array of millinery is being displayed by the city merchants in connection with the fall openings.

At Spencer's Arcade the major portion of the windows are given up to an exhibition of the latest styles and models altered in the latest creations of the milliner's art. Some very rich gowns are shown.

The White House windows are adorned in their usual tasty style, the window dresser of that reliable firm having spared no pains to make a striking display.

Mr. Hills, of The Westside, has outdone all previous efforts in his dressing of the windows of that firm for the anniversary of its establishment. The lights were turned on last night and admiring groups were before the windows all evening. The effect of his grouping is exceedingly tasty and artistic.

At The Elite and at Mrs. Vigor's there are also splendid displays.

—Steamer Charmer left Vancouver at 1.25. She did not connect, as the train was four hours late.

—A fine eagle of the bald-headed variety was shot at the Summit yesterday and is on view to-day at Brown & Cooper's on Government street. It measures 4 feet 1 inch from tip to tip.

Millinery Opening at The White House to-day and following days.

—The marriage of Mr. Peter Lampman and Miss Maud Prior, originally set for the 4th inst., and which had to be postponed owing to the illness of Mr. Lampman, will be solemnized on the 26th inst.

—A meeting of the Labor party will be held to-night in Sir William Wallace hall, when a number of speakers will address the gathering. The meeting has particular reference to the present political situation.

—All Americans, resident of the city, are reminded of the meeting to be held at the United States consulate, 431 Government street, to-night, to make arrangements for the memorial service to be held on Thursday, the day of the late President's funeral.

—Work commenced yesterday in the construction of the bastion fortis and arch for the Native Sons of B. C., on Belleville street, near the J. B. A. A. club house, in honor of the visit of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. The work is under the charge of John Henley.

Yesterday afternoon the ladies' committee of the B. C. Protestant Orphan Home held a meeting, at which the resignation of Mrs. McGregor, the matron, was received unopposed. The secretary was requested to advertise until Friday, October 4th, for application for the vacant position.

—This afternoon Elder Brooks and John Rogers, Zionites, will appear in the police court for their preliminary hearing on the second charge of manslaughter, preferred against them as a result of the verdict at yesterday's coroner's inquest. They will probably be remanded, after which they will apply for bail.

—It is altogether probable that the corner stone of the new high school will be laid by F. McI. Young, of Nanaimo, provincial grand master of the A. F. & A. M. A communication has been forwarded to him asking him to officiate, and it is quite likely he will consent to do so. The ceremony will take place on October 3rd at 2 p.m. The building and grounds committee of the Nanaimo board have the matter in hand. The workmen have already commenced laying the foundation and are making good progress.

Next Friday and Saturday the Nanaimo fall fair and carnival will be held. The prize list and carnival programme is a very extensive and attractive one. Some of the specialties are: a fine show, balloon ascension each day with parachute drop, military tournament, field sports and water carnival, also a band competition. The fare from Victoria has been placed at two dollars return, good going Friday and Saturday morning trains, returning as late as Sunday. Half prices for children under 12 years. A special train will leave Nanaimo for Victoria at 6 p.m., Saturday.

—The school board met yesterday to investigate the charges preferred against Ian St. Clair, physical instructor in the school, by P. R. Brown. Mr. St. Clair in defence disclaimed any intention of applying an offensive expression to Mr. Brown's son, Principal Taft, of Victoria West school, said that he heard Mr. St. Clair call the boy a sneak, and ordered him out of the line. Miss Gardner, the boy's teacher, stated that the instructor could not have spoken violently to the lad or she would have heard it. She had subsequently heard Mr. St. Clair speak very favorably of Mr. Brown's son to board members. After some consideration the secretary was requested to inform Mr. Brown that the board found that he had been misinformed to some extent as to pertinent facts; and that he had entirely misunderstood the spirit of the reprimand given his son; also that the board still retained its confidence in Mr. St. Clair. The secretary was also instructed to caution Mr. St. Clair against the use of expressions which might be open to offensive interpretation.

—There was a small attendance of members at the meeting of the Natural History Society last night. There was no paper read, but James Doxton, who has just returned from a trip to Glasgow, Ireland, and to the Pan-American, gave a deeply interesting outline of his trip. —A handsome little souvenir of the Centennial Methodist church, Gorra road, has been issued by the management in connection with the sixteenth anniversary services of the church, which are to be held on the 22nd and 24th inst. The booklet contains a sketch of the history of the church, list of circuit officials, programme of Young People's Society, references, roll of members and financial statement. It is illustrated with pictures of church officials of the present and former pastors. The 35 pages of reading matter are enclosed in a chaste and suitable cover with gilt lettering, the whole making a most attractive and interesting souvenir of the occasion.

INDIANS' TURKISH BATHS.

The "Medicine Sweat" Which is a Physical and Spiritual Rite.

Few, if any, of the writers on the habits, folklore and story of the American Indian have devoted any space to the red man's Turkish bath, an institution, home made, to be sure, but a recognized necessity in every camp, and a feature of the daily life of the Indian.

By the avidity and frequency with which the Indian indulges in his home-made Turkish bath he proves the fallacy of this belief and shows that he, as well as his white brother, can live up to the precept "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," only in the practice the Indian puts cleanliness first.

The term Turkish bath is unknown to the Indian. He calls that method of ablution a "medicine sweat." It is to him a rite both physical and spiritual, for he cleanses his person and then "makes medicine" to the Great Spirit.

The framework of this tent is of hoop-poles so trained that it is about 9 feet in diameter, 4 feet high, flat topped, and almost circular in form.

Just within the framework there is a soddling of straw packed so close together that even if they would they could not move.

When they are all ready blankets, skins and canvas are thrown over the framework until the tent is almost airtight, two or three buckets of water are pressed in and thrown upon the hot stones, and the "medicine sweat" begins.

Begin a Chant which is kept up without intermission until the sweat is over. Packed together, enveloped in steam so thick that none can see his neighbor, the Indians sit, singing and perspiring for an hour or more. Not an Indian moves; he neither can nor wants to.

At a signal from the chief or the medicine man a section of the tent is torn away and with a heave and a whoop all the bucks make pell-mell for the water. A run and a jump, and in they go. It is just as much sport for the oldest warrior as for the boy who has not yet won his war bonnet.

The Indian, clean in person and at this moment, he is in communion with the God of his Fathers, supposed to be wholly clean of mind and guileless of soul, now proceeds to the highest point of land in the vicinity of the camp, thus getting as near to the Great Spirit as it is possible to do while on earth. On the way he gathers up a little soil, a stray leaf, some old tobacco quids, a dead fly or two, in fact, anything which may be deemed refuse, for he is about to convey to the Great Spirit that he has cleansed his person, and that all things unclean have gone from him.

These things that he has gathered he places in a piece of white cloth, which in turn is fastened to the end of a long stick. The other end of the stick is thrust into a hole at the top of the hill or knoll, and the good Indian has made medicine. Two days seldom pass without the repetition of this ceremony.

The scene may change, the Indian may wander to new lands, or be driven to them, but where he is there he "makes medicine" to the Great Spirit and there he "makes medicine." - New York Times.

IT SAVES OUR WOMEN! Paine's Celery Compound

BANISHES ALL THEIR PHYSICAL TROUBLES AND SUFFERINGS.

To tens of thousands of women of all ages, life is one long and dreary road of suffering, without an escape or turn. Few outside of their own sex have any idea of the agonies which some women endure. The troubles from which the majority of women suffer arise from functional irregularities, liver and kidney troubles, nervousness, impure blood and sluggish circulation.

For the complete establishment of physical strength, nerve force, and a vigorous, happy life, there is no medicine known to the medical profession equal to Paine's Celery Compound. This marvelous medical discovery of Dr. Phelps goes directly to the root and seat of the disease. It does its grand work without lessening the strength of the sufferer. From the first dose, Paine's Celery Compound infuses new life and strength.

THE GOLDEN ROSE.

An Imposing Ceremony Performed by the Pope.

Every year the Pope sends a golden rose, as a special mark of distinction, either to a crowned head or to a town or church, and the ceremony of blessing the rose has long been an imposing event. It cannot be ascertained definitely when this ceremony was first observed by the Roman Catholic church. It is maintained that the custom arose during the pontificate of Pope Leo IX., who was born in 1002, in the Castle of Egisheim, in Alsace, and was elected to the chair of St. Peter in 1048.

When during the Middle Ages, the Pope resided in the Lateran, he was wont to ride after the ceremony in a gorgeous procession, and, accompanied by the entire College of Cardinals, to the Basilica of the Holy Cross of Jerusalem, and he held the symbolic flower in his hand all the way. In the Basilica the Pope delivered an address upon the mystical meaning of the rose, as portrayed by its beauty, color and perfume, and then the High Mass was celebrated.

At a later date it was made out of gold, and in its centre a ruby or sapphire used to be inserted. The "Golden Rose" of to-day costs about £400, and it has a stem, leaves, and buds wrought in gold. The stem rests in a silver-gilt vase, on which are engraved the coat-of-arms of the Pope and the name of the person for whom the gift is intended.

ELECTRIC FANS.

"During the present hot spell," said a gentleman who occupies an upstairs office, "I have been conducting an experiment with an electric fan, and I have made some rather interesting discoveries. These fans are full of mischief, in a way, and for a long time I felt very much intimidated by a fan in my office, and would almost do an Oriental salaam when I approached it in any way.

Some pews in the fine old church at Malpas, Cheshire, possess a most amusing peculiarity, says The Golden Penny. Each one consists of several seats, which are really, though not apparently, detached, and they look easy and comfortable. In this case appearances are deceitful, for should one occupant of any one seat lean forward while "noddin' nodding," over he goes on the floor.

In the good old times, when the squire was lord of all he surveyed in the village, his pew in the parish church was often a kind of sitting-room. One such pew occupies the whole of the south transept of the diminutive church at Gattou, in Surrey. It has a fireplace, a low seat which extends round two sides of the room and blue tapestry decoration. Above it is another door, on which are three or four ordinary pews for the use of the squire's servants, and from it a covered way leads to Gattou Hall, some few yards away.

CASCADE. Early on Wednesday morning a fire at Cascade destroyed Black's hotel and a greater portion of the business blocks in the city. The damage is roughly estimated at about $20,000.

REVELSTOCK. The result of the labor meeting here last week was the formation of a committee of the following named: Thos. Gillespie, bridge foreman; J. G. Webster, machinist; and J. W. Bennett, storekeeper, to get the unions to choose delegates to draw up a labor party platform. The new sawmill at the Big Eddy is nearly ready to start work.

NANAIMO. A meeting of the Rocky Mountain Rangers and Rifle Association was held on Friday evening in the armory, and it was decided that shooting should take place every Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and that if any members wished to shoot on Sundays at least six names will have to be handed to Sergt. Steel not later than 9:30 p.m. on the Saturday preceding the shooting, otherwise markers will not be at the butts.

VANCOUVER. Officers of the Puget Sound canners combine were here yesterday for the purpose of arranging with the local people to use their influence with the Federal government to build an American hatchery on the Fraser river. The Americans agree to put up all money for the cost and operation if allowed to place a hatchery in Canadian territory. Other-wise they will put an establishment on a tributary to Chehalis lake, on the American side, just over the boundary, where a party of surveyors is now at work. The grading of the Vancouver and Lulu Island railway is nearly completed, and piling across the river, on a third of a mile long, has been placed ready for the bridge. Work is being pushed forward with the greatest dispatch. The Chinese Empire Reform Association are to build a home in Vancouver. It is estimated that the building will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000. The association is thriving in Vancouver, and its membership is constantly increasing.

LONG HEADS. We are told of Faraday the writer of the article being Tyndall that he had an abnormally long head, so that his hats had to be specially made for him, and we are told of Tyndall himself the writer here being his widow that in this respect Tyndall resembled Faraday. This scrap of evidence, as far as it goes, would confirm the proverbial belief in favor of the intellect being located in the head, and we are, however, belied by many, who can bring forward good evidence on their side, that intellectual ability goes with broad-headedness. It may well be that in this matter, as in that of stature, the range of variation is great, and that both extremes tend to prevail to an undue extent. This has been found to be the case in another abnormal group, that of criminals. The Popular Science Monthly.

LACROSSE. SATURDAY'S MATCH. The local team will do some hard work this week for the big match on Saturday with Westminster. This will be the last game of the season and the boys will make a hard fight to lower the colors of the champions. Regular practice will be held every evening at 6 o'clock, and the players are all requested to be on hand. Last evening the team, with one or two exceptions, was out and had a good half hour's work, and will be in the best possible condition when they line up next Saturday.

THE NEW WESTMINSTER PROPOSAL. Additional information has been received by the Victoria Lacrosse Club executive regarding the proposal made by the New Westminster fair management for them to play a series of matches with the champions during the approaching exhibition. The series will be the best two out of three, and the prizes will be either cup or medals. New Westminster allows Victoria $250 for expenses, and will also defray board expenses.

ROW IN CHINATOWN.

One Chinaman Strikes Another, Inflicting Painful Wounds—Case in Court.

There was a great commotion in Chinatown last evening between 8 and 9 o'clock. Call whistles were sounded, bells clung the atmosphere, and a pandemonium such as only Chinese could raise drew Sergeant Walker and Detective Palmer and Perdue to Government street. About five hundred excited Chinese were standing in the road and the din they made was ear-splitting. It looked like a society fight or a revolution in embryo, so the police made for the centre of the mob.

There they found one Chinese, Ah Chong, with gore pouring freely from several wounds in his head. He was holding another Celestial gently by the arm. The struggle had ceased and all were as peaceful as lambs. Sergeant Walker took one man, Detective Palmer the other, and marched them to the police station, where Dr. Carter attended to the wounded man, who needed several stitches.

The other, Wong Ai, was charged with doing the damage. Detective Perdue remained on the scene to investigate, but none of the Chinese seemed to know anything about it. It was a case of "no sabbe" all round. The only information obtained by the police was from the wounded man, who said the other had struck him with a club. The case was remanded in the police court this morning, and the accused, who pleaded not guilty, is out on bail. The police are now on the qui vive for witnesses, but so far the case is shrouded in mystery.

There have been several cases of this sort before the police, but nothing ever came of them.

The Best Kind for Work on the Battlefield.

A good deal has lately been written about dogs and their work in the army, but so far few details of the actual work have been given to the public. The Temple Magazine, however, has a very interesting article on the subject. As to the kind of dog best adapted to ambulance and other work in the battlefield, the writer says: "Provided that you take a dog with a broad head, of an intellectual race, and that you are in the habit of training animals, you can make him do almost anything that you please." Absolute obedience is the first principle in which the soldiering dog is trained. He is trained himself, most be trained. He is then "retrieved with a vest" little saddle, with a pocket on each side, in which are placed all kinds of lint and bandages, and slung around his throat is a flask of brandy. On the outside of the saddle pockets there are two conspicuous red crosses, which should protect the dog from molestation by the enemy. And this equipped he starts on the mission for which he has been carefully trained, and which is to carry assistance to the wounded.

When the battle is over and the firing has ceased the ambulance dog is let loose. "The animal makes straight for the bushes with a businesslike air that is very funny to watch. From tree to tree he hurries, sometimes sniffing the air, but more often, rearing with his nose to the ground, scenting, until he comes on the wounded man. Then he calmly sits down to await the arrival of his master and the stretcher bearers, who will be guided to him by the bell which is hung upon his neck."

As the soldiers of an army which employs ambulance dogs are taught where to look for bandages, etc., a wounded man can easily avoid himself of the help thus brought to him, especially as "the dog understands precisely what is going on, and 'smocky' stands close up to the man to enable him to reach the pockets." Thus the old idea carried out by the famous St. Bernard dog in the High Alps is now being utilized on a vast scale, and with most important results.

Another interesting part filled by the "army dog" is that of doing outpost duty. "The outpost dogs are taught not to bark upon observing the approach of a stranger, but if a still might he will detect footsteps at a distance of 400 or 500 yards, and on seeing or hearing anything suspicious he makes no kind of remark on the subject, but turns tail and trots into camp, to inform."

With regard to the most suitable dogs for the work of an ambulance dog, the writer explains at the end of his article in the Temple Magazine: "The average dog takes about eighteen months to train, and in the German army each one has to pass an examination before he is put on 'the strength.' Thus they can be depended upon almost absolutely. It is exceedingly rare that a trained dog will play his master or his orders false. The only reason that pointers cannot be used for this work is that their natural love of sport is too strongly inherent in them, and they could not be depended upon, if they happened to come across the carcass of a good chicken, as they would probably forget all about their work, and go flying off after their own pleasure. But the steadfastness of collies and sheep-dogs is to be feared; they are faithful and valiant, sticking to their duty with conscientiousness, and fighting to the death in a manner that gives a fine example to their superiors."

NOTHING HUNTING BY NIGHT.

The glorious Wyeke Sledge Pen in Cambridge—only bit of "wild" Pen left in England—has for ages past been the happy hunting ground of the entomologist, and it is now the only place where some of the rarest insects find an English home.

Night hawk among the moths requires a certain amount of courage in the man who undertakes it alone, for though when spun is brisk the excitement tends to keep up one's spirits, yet, when no moths are flying, the entomologist, standing out in the darkness of the wide fen, is apt to feel the loneliness of so vast and wild a space.

A successful night's work entails a good deal of trouble. Towards sunset the moth-catcher will start for the Fen, wheeling a barrow heavily laden with such articles as he may require. These include a stout wooden box (inside which is carried a big lamp, measuring about 18 inches high, 12 inches wide and 10 inches deep; a "killing" bottle of cyanide and a number of pill boxes of various sizes; three 8 ft. poles; a white sheet some 100 feet long by 5 feet wide; a pot of molasses (called "sugar" by the moth-catcher), a lantern, a moth-trap, and the indispensable net.

He makes his way somewhat laboriously over the marshy ground, along narrow paths which he picks out as though they had been already defined, though to the uninitiated there would appear to be nothing to distinguish them from the marshy soil off which he comes. About fifteen minutes he arrives at a gloomy, open space, where the sedge has been cut.

Quickly rising in the ground two of the long poles, the moth-catcher stretches out the big white sheet between them. Ten feet or so away he fixes his lamp on the third pole, so that a wall of soft light falls on the sheet. Conveniently near, he arranges a number of the pill boxes, the lantern, and the "killing" bottle, and hangs the moth-trap on an adjacent tree to take his share of the night's spoil. This moth-catcher, though regarded as of secondary importance, is a very ingenious contrivance, so designed that when the moths, attracted by a light inside, once enter, they cannot escape.

After the trap has been "set," a third snare for the moths is prepared, the snare, young branches of the low, sallow shrub, which grow profusely hereabouts, being twisted and tied together in knotty bunches, which are liberally smeared with treacle, with a dash of rum in it. This "sugar" is certainly not very appetizing in appearance, especially as a potfall is made to last a considerable time, but is quite good enough for the moths. When the moth-trap is dark for the moths to fly, the big lamp is lit, and its strong light is thrown upon the sheet, so that it is easy to see the smallest moth that may come within range.

The moth-catcher takes his stand, net in hand, slightly behind the lamp, and in this position he is ready to rush forward and take any moth which may settle on the sheet or fly in the lighted space. Should it be a hot, dry night, with heavy clouds banked over the set, as often happens, particularly in July, the moth-catcher will have a very warm time of it. The perspiration will soon be streaming down his back, his pipe will grow hot between his teeth, and it will only be kept there to repel the attacks of the flies and gnats which will soon be singing and buzzing in his eyes and ears.

On most nights the fun is all over by twelve o'clock, but on a good night it will last until one or two o'clock, and in the early part of July the moth-catcher will sometimes wait for the sun, and then stalk about to watch a beautiful little Geometer called Myra auraria, which is itself the caterpillar of the fisher fly, and only flies from 3 to 8 a. m.—Pearson's.

ORDER AND DETAIL OF THE PROCESSION

COMPOSITION OF THE ESCORT TO ROYALTY

Official Outline of the Formation of the Parade—Yosemite Chartered to Carry Horses and Carriages.

Acting on information supplied by Major Maude, steps have been taken by the government to charter either the R. P. Rithet or the Yosemite for the conveyance of the carriages, horses and grooms of the Royal party. Provision has been made for thirty-one horses in addition to the fourteen belonging to the Royal party, Major Maude having intimated that this number will be employed.

The Yosemite or the Rithet will leave Vancouver in advance of the Empress of India, upon which their Royal Highnesses will embark. It will sail at about eight o'clock on the evening of the 20th of September, and will reach Victoria early on the morning of the 1st of October. The horses and carriages will be taken out by the grooms to Oak Bay hotel, where stables are now being erected.

Major Maude has also asked that provision be made on this steamer for fifteen representatives of the British, United States and Canadian press. These will come over on the Yosemite the night previous to the Empress.

There has been a great deal of speculation in those cities included in the Royal itinerary regarding the nature of the Royal procession and the disposition of the troops and others composing it. The exact formation of the Royal procession is herewith given, being a copy of that issued by Major Maude by command, and received yesterday by His Honor the Lieut.-Governor.

Three Mounted Police, Twenty-five yards.

Five Troopers, Fifty yards.

One Sergeant, Fifty yards.

The foregoing are the advance guard of escort.

A Staff Officer, No. 1 Troop of Escort, Fifty yards.

Carriage of Royal Suite, No. 2 Troop of Escort, Fifty yards.

A Staff Officer, Headquarters Staff, Canadian Militia, Fifty yards.

Lieut. the Duke of Roxburghe, M. V. O., R. H. G. O. 2nd in Command of the Escort, Fifty yards.

The Viscount Clifton, D., S. O., R. H. G. O. C. the Escort—Tram-peter.

No. 3 Troop of Escort, Fifty yards.

No. 4 Troop of Escort, Fifty yards.

One Sergeant, Fifty yards.

Two Troopers, Twenty-five yards.

The foregoing are the rear guard of escort.

N.B.—When a field officer's escort of full strength cannot be furnished, the formation will still be as above, but the strength of each troop, instead of consisting of 24 troopers, will be reduced as found necessary.

His Excellency's Procession.

The formation and detail of the Governor-General's procession is as follows:

Three Mounted Police, Interval of twenty-five yards.

Two Troopers, Fifty yards.

One Sergeant, Fifty yards.

Two Troopers, Twenty-five yards.

(The foregoing are the advanced guard of escort.)

Sixteen Troopers, Fifty yards.

A. D. C., Subaltern—Governor-General's Carriage—A. D. C., Captain, Tram-peter.

Fourteen Troopers, Fifty yards.

One Trooper, Fifty yards.

Two Troopers, Twenty-five yards.

(The foregoing are the rear guard of escort.)

Three Mounted Police.

Tall men, as a rule, have bodies out of proportion to their lower limbs—that is, smaller than they ought to be—with the smaller result that they are unable to bear fatigue, or to compete in the struggles of life with lesser men more harmoniously proportioned. Army experience bears out these observations. In a long and fatiguing march the tall men usually fall out first, or succumb to camp-sickness, unless, as is very rarely the case, they have well-knit shoulders.

AN INTERESTING EXHIBIT.

Display of Indian Relics to Be Made at Coming Fair.

Among the many exhibits of a novel nature which will be made at the coming exhibition in this city will be a most interesting display of Indian relics, which has no doubt the best collection of Indian carvings, etc., on the Pacific Coast.

This morning a representative of the Times was shown a small canoe constructed with walrus skin, which will be included in his exhibits. The canoe is about 15 feet in length, and in the centre has an opening large enough to allow a man to sit comfortably.

Besides this canoe Mr. Landsberg has a carving of the late Sir James Douglas in stone, done by an Indian at Skidegate, who, he says, will be down at the time of the exhibition to help in explaining and giving the stories of different relics.

Besides the novelties mentioned he has many masks used by the Indians, boxes adorned with beautiful carving done by Indians, old spoons, war implements, etc.

PERSONAL.

A. W. Esnoor, of White Horse, where he has been spending the greater part of the spring and summer, has returned, and is at the Victoria hotel. A McIntosh, of whose company he travelled from White Horse, and who came out from Dawson, is at the same hotel. Mr. McIntosh says business is very good at Dawson, as is also mining. He does not think much work will be done this winter. It is his intention to go North again next spring.

E. O'Reilly and wife, of Calgary, who have been spending their honeymoon in Victoria, guests at the Dominion hotel, left for home this morning. White bears Mr. O'Reilly met Constable Conlin, whom he knew when going to school in Heat, Ontario, and whom he had not met for 17 years. Mr. Conlin entertained his old friend, and graciously aided Mr. O'Reilly in enjoying his stay here.

Having arrived yesterday, and is at the Dominion hotel. He is here for the purpose of settling the affairs of his brother who died a short time ago in the East, and who left considerable funds deposited in the Bank of Montreal in this city.

Mrs. H. McKenna-Cleland, M. D., who has spent a very enjoyable summer in the East, returned to Victoria yesterday. She was met at Seattle by Mr. Cleland.

W. H. Horman and wife, of Seattle, are at the Dominion hotel.

London Man Loses His Savings and Inherits Two Fortunes.

To few men is it given to make a fair competence, how it, and suddenly and without expectation, find two fortunes thrown at their feet. Such has been the experience of Mr. Joseph S. Stadden Russell.

At the beginning of this year he was employed in the humble capacity of groom; to-day he is in possession of a fortune of £100,000, most of it invested in freehold property in New York and Pittsburg.

Mr. Russell had two uncles, but from neither did he entertain any expectations of an inheritance. One lived in Pittsburg, the other in New York. One was his uncle on his father's side, the other was the brother of his father's second wife.

Mr. Russell himself was born in London "within the sound of Bow bells," but he spent fully thirty years in the States. Both his uncles went out there when very young and very poor, but they rapidly advanced and became considerable property owners.

Recently Mr. Russell returned to England and started a public house at Maidstone, at the same time depositing all the money he had saved in America with Donnell's bank. When the bank failed he lost everything and at fifty had to face the world penniless.

It was then that he took a position as groom, but he had not been long in that situation when the news came that his father's brother had left him a fortune. Originally stated to be £50,000, but in reality nearly approaching £100,000. That, however, did not exhaust Mr. Russell's luck.

Only the other day he received intimation from a firm of solicitors in New York that his uncle-in-law had bequeathed to him

LEMP'S.

This is the season for Beer, and Lemp's St. Louis "Extra Pale" is the best bottled beer on the market today. So say all who are judges. It is simply perfect—contains all the qualities which go to make up a perfect Beer. It is pale in color, light and sparkling; is made from Hops and retains its full Hop flavor. No other Beer compares with it. For a Family Beer it has no equal. Your grocer has it; take no other; there is none quite so good. Should a bottle be opened and contents not all consumed at once the remaining quantity in the bottle will be just as good the next day. This is a great saving to the dealer or consumer. This does not apply to any other Beer but Lemp's. All Hotels, Clubs, Restaurants and first-class Bars throughout British Columbia are supplied with Lemp's. They have tried other much advertised Beers, but all "fall back" on this favorite brand. Your refreshment list is incomplete without it. Always the same, never changes in quality.

THE EARTH'S BENDINGS.

Little bendings are in progress all the time the world over. The "immovable" hills are bowing and scraping to one another. Every evening, as the dew settles in the valleys between them, they nod to one another. No, likewise, do the mountains, even to a greater extent. Gravely is tugging all the time. And in London, too, where earthquake sensations are practically unknown, the earth bents daily, and the buildings, like the hills and the mountains, nod to their friends opposite when the morning traffic begins. On Sunday, usually, their manners take a rest, excepting in such places as Petticoat Lane, where business flourishes as in lively fashion as in Paris. Heine said that even the trees made obeisance to Napoleon the First when he entered Berlin. This was imaginative yet truthful, for the weight of the crowd along Tree Lane made a tugging vibration for Prof. Milner's pendulums to have recorded distinctly. One might say the crust of the earth acts like a steel spring. It bends so easily.—Everybody's Magazine.

BUNION LAST

"Six into four you can't!"
A foot and a bunion, into a shoe big enough for the foot alone, won't go.
So you've had to get a shoe too wide for the rest of the foot, and too wide for the other foot, in order to take in the bunion.
This meant leather-slack, wrinkling, and clumsiness—when it didn't mean punishment.
But now you may have the bunion last Slater Shoe.
If you are bunion cursed, you may at least have comfort, and wear a size smaller shoe, by selecting this Goodyear welted bunion shape of—
