MATTER OF INITIAL PAYMENT ON PARKS DELAYS PURCHASE

City Trustees Will Ask to Make First Payment Next Fall; Contract For Street Sweeping Is Let; Redmen to Hold Circus.

If arrangements can be made to make the first payment of $2,000 next fall instead of now, the city will purchase the park sites recently priced by the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company at $22,000, it was decided in the meeting of the city board of trustees Monday evening in the city hall.

The proposition of the land company was presented in writing. It provided for a down payment of $2,000 and $2,000 per year for 10 years at 5 per cent interest. Since no provision was made in this year's budget for such an expenditure, it was deemed advisable to ask for a postponement of first payment. The consensus of opinion of the board is the request will be granted.

Other communications included: Petition of Mrs. Pacheco to build a five-room bungalow to cost $5,000. Granted.

Petition of A. Mairani to extend his business building at the corner of Linden and California avenues. Previously granted.

Request of Tippecanoe Tribe No. 111 for a permit to hold a three day Indian pageant and indoor circus in Fraternal Hall on February 10, 11 and 12. Granted.

Petition of an organization for permit to hold a dance in Fraternal Hall on Saturday, January 31. Granted.

CIVIC CENTER PLANS WILL BE SHOWN TONIGHT

Landscape Artist to Discuss Situation With Chamber Committee

Beautification of the civic center will be considered at a meeting of the city parks committee of the chamber of commerce slated for 7:30 tonight in the city hall.

Early in January the chairman delegated the following members of the committee, Mr. Arndt, as chairman, to consider the matter of the beautification of the Civic Center. The members selected for this work were A. T. Arndt, chairman; Father Jas. P. Moran, the Rev. A. P. Beall, J. T. Jennings, and A. McSweeney.

Arndt now reports for his committee that he is prepared to present to the committee on Thursday night plans for the beautification of the Civic Center.

These plans have been prepared by the landscape artist, Walter A. Hoff, who will be present at the meeting with a sketch of the proposed beautification of the Civic Center, to explain details of the plan and furnish estimates to the committee.

It is important that as many of the committee attend as possible, in order to get the viewpoint and suggestions of the majority. The plans are interesting and it is our understanding that it will not be expensive.

ARE SCHOOL BUILDINGS NEEDED?

During 1924 there were built in South San Francisco 123 new homes. These homes were built at a cost of $368,425.

The building of 123 new homes means 123 new families have come to this city. Census figures show that the average family contains 5 members, or 3 children besides the parents. At that rate this city's juvenile population was increased 369 last year.

The school laws require that no more than 35 children be placed in a single room. At that rate 10 rooms were needed to house 369 new children.

They have not been provided. The present buildings have been overcrowded at the risk of the health and lives of the children.

This city is now growing faster than ever before in its history. Its population will increase by more than 123 families this year. The present bond issue will provide school buildings to care for that increase and for future growth.

POLICE SEEK PARENTS WHO KILLED CHILD

Infant Body Is Found on Trash Heap Near S. P. Yards on Bayshore Route Friday

Police of San Francisco are searching for parents who are believed to have abandoned an infant to die on a rubbish heap near the Southern Pacific Yards at Bayshore last Friday. The baby, perfectly formed is believed to have been left alive by its parents and to have died of exposure.

The tiny body was found by a man working on the rubbish heap. He called a truck driver of the Virden Packing Company who was passing. Lawrence Neri, connected with the office of Deputy Coroner S. Neri was summoned and brought in the body. A coroner's inquest Friday afternoon returned a verdict of death from exposure and negligence. The infant body was buried in Mt. Olivet.

Constable James Wallace immediately started working on the case and enlisted the aid of the San Francisco police department. It is believed that the child was left to die by a San Francisco couple. Nothing has been discovered in the case to date.

CLOUD URGES PASSING OF BONDS

County Superintendent Cloud pointed out South San Francisco is the biggest industrial center in San Mateo County. It, therefore, must provide school facilities for the children of the hundreds of workmen who reside here. But, he said, it has less outstanding school bonds than any other school district in the county. Burlington, he said, was building for the future and had approximately $500,000 outstanding in bonds. Colma is paying $289,000 for new school buildings. It is time, he declared, that this city start preparing for the greater growth which is already starting.

W. J. Martin pictured the growth of this city from its founding more than 30 years ago. He declared that San Francisco had lately been accorded the reputation of the fastest growing city in the United States. South San Francisco is greatly affected by the growth of San Francisco. The school program of our city must be made to keep pace with its growth, he said.

MANY OTHER SPEAKERS

In the general discussion endorsement was made by the following: Edgar H. Lewis, Mrs. Carrie Winterhalter, Mrs. W. H. Coffinberry, Pete Mairani, J. W. Coleberd, G. J. Roney, Harry Scampini, W. H. Dinning, H. A. Cavassa, J. G. Walker, Daniel McSweeney, Mr. Norberg, architect, and B. H. Truax, chairman of the chamber's committee.

Following this general endorsement of the school extension program Mayor McNellis confirmed the selections of committees made in the mass meetings of Monday and Tuesday evening and completed the body which will act with the trustees on the

ED NOLAN IS NEW CITY RECORDER

By the unanimous vote of all members of the board, Edward Nolan was named city recorder to succeed the late Judge Ebenezer E. Cunningham. Nolan is proprietor of the Reliance Garage and is well known throughout the district.

Only two applications were received for the position and the trustees seemed to be agreed on the man for the position.

Street Cleaning Contract Let

M. A. Borba of Peck's Lots was awarded the contract for cleaning the streets for the ensuing year. Five bids were opened, the highest being $375 per month and the lowest, that of Borba, being $299.

Dimitre Petroff was requested to hold construction of an auto park behind the service station at the junction of Linden and San Bruno road until the new zoning ordinance is put into effect. It was explained he may not care to build a park when the full regulation under the new law is published.

M. Cognacci of 442 Baden avenue was granted a permit to extend his store building to within a foot of the sidewalk. Charles McMillis appeared for him.

Recommendation of Building

Building Inspector Edgar H. Lewis recommended that the trustees order Fire Marshal Ben H. Truax and City Health Commissioner Dr. Doak to inspect the premises occupied by a number of Mexicans at the corner of California and Linden avenues before they are permitted to add new walls and a new roof. Lewis urged condemnation of the property as unfit for habitation.

Trouble caused by the growing roots of a tree in the sewer front of the property of J. N. Hickey at 67 Grand avenue was referred to the street committee.

The hearing on re-zoning, called for Monday evening, was postponed until next Tuesday evening.

A resolution of mourning for the late Judge E. E. Cunningham, who passed away on Wednesday, January 14, was introduced and read into the minutes.

MASS MEETING AT HIGH SCHOOL ELECTS TWO COMMITTEEMEN

Robert Learmonth and John W. Coleberd were chosen members of a committee of seven to work with the school trustees in expending funds for new buildings in the event the bonds carry today, at a mass meeting held in the high school Monday evening.

The meeting was reported highly successful by Chairman Ben H. Truax, who called it. Guy J. Roney, principal of the high school, spoke on the condition of the schools of the city and the following persons contributed their opinions: Mrs. William Coffinberry, Mrs. J. O. Snyder, the Rev. Asa P. Beall, Messrs. Ira H. Potter, Guy Roney, A. Kleemeyer, Andrew Hynding, J. G. Walker, Les Howard, Ph. H. Thompson, Mayor H. F. McNellis, J. E. Norburg.

Sketches of the proposed schools were shown. Music was furnished by the high school orchestra preceding the meeting.

THRONGS PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO JUDGE E. E. CUNNINGHAM

Judge Ebenezer E. Cunningham, 85, pioneer resident of this city, was laid to rest Saturday morning at 9:45 o'clock from the family residence at 250 Baden avenue.

Six of the judge's friends since the early days of peninsula development acted as pallbearers. They were Constable James C. Wallace, Mayor Hugh McNellis, Trustee Hugh McCaffrey, Joe Laird, W. J. Martin, and J. E. Norburg.

Active Pallbearers

Six more friends of the departed jurist and pioneer were active pallbearers. They were County Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney, A. J. Connelly, William Raece, Richard Hasler, Andrew Hendling, and Richard Setzer.

The funeral was one of the largest in the history of South San Francisco. Nearly fifty machines made up the funeral cortege and delegations represented Knights of Columbus, American Legion, Grand Army of the Republic, and almost every patriotic and civic organization of South San Francisco.

Church Services

All Souls' church, South San Francisco, was thronged with a reverent crowd of comrades of the veteran official coming to pay their last respects to the dead.

Judge Cunningham, first postmaster of South San Francisco, founder of the South San Francisco Enterprise, pioneer newspaper of the city, and active in politics and civic leadership for many years, would have been 86 years old next April.

Despite his years, Judge Cunningham remained in active service on the bench of San Mateo county until his fatal illness. He was typical of the pioneer in robust health and keenness of mind.

Following a distinguished record with the Union army during the Civil War he was president of the Nebraska state senate, and later in charge of field work for the United States Geographic Survey. He was among the first of those who developed the mines of Colorado and California, coming to San Francisco more than a generation ago.

He was twice chosen recorder of South San Francisco.

As a result, the paper's circulation, which had previously dominated the local field, became even more dominant by adding within the immediate trade area of South San Francisco merchants a host of new subscribers, giving the paper a paid circulation of

No attempt was made to build up a circulation outside of the immediate territory, whose subscribers are of no avail to the city's advertisers, as it has always been the policy of this paper to equify itself to serve the merchants efficiently without burdening itself with unprofitable and unserviceable circulation.

Immediately on the stroke of the clock the doors of the contest office, which has been the scene of great activity the past nine weeks, were closed and after the candidates had finished casting their last credits the judges opened the ballot box and the counting began.

January 17, 1925.

We, the undersigned members of the executive committee appointed to have supervision of the South San Francisco Enterprise Free Gift Distribution concluded this date, and who have been selected to act as counting judges and auditors, certify and state that we have this date made a careful check and count of all ballots cast in this election, and find results to be as follows:

It is our belief that the campaign has been conducted in a fair and impartial manner to everyone interested and concerned, and we commend the Enterprise and the campaign management for the businesslike methods employed in conducting the election.

We further find that the contestants whose names are hereby given, received the number of votes listed opposite their names and are declared the winners in their respective positions.

Mrs. M. C. Ferron, 12,749,800; second position.

DISTRICT NO. 2

Rose Lombardi, 34,429,975; touring car.
Mrs. George McMillis, 22,957,400; second position.
Mrs. Josephine Jensen, 3,972,775; $50 cash.

As a result of the nine weeks' battle of votes, Mrs. Asa P. Beall won the first choice of automobiles, the Chevrolet De Luxe Sedan. Mrs. Beall also won the $200 extra cash prize, while Miss Rose Lombardi was awarded the other capital prize. Both these prize cars were purchased from Edgar H. Lewis, Chevrolet dealer of this city.

First choice of the two second district prizes went to Mrs. George McMillis of Pecks Lots, in District No. 2. Second choice to Mrs. M. C. Ferron, Mrs. McMillis receiving the $190 Radiola, purchased from the Peninsula Music Company of this city, and Mrs. Ferron a cash prize of $100. Miss Josephine Jensen in District No. 2 and Mrs. G. Carl Weller in District No. 1 each received cash prizes of $50.

In addition to these prize winners, all other contestants who remained active to the finish, according to the rules of the campaign, were presented with checks equivalent to 20 per cent of their entire collections.

The judges who took charge of the final count were all well known local men, whose decision was beyond a doubt without reproach. Their names appear above.

The closing hours of the contest lacked the excitement so common in most contests, caused by the various candidates attempting to outbid the others by "buying the winners" won because they did not at the last minute. The management did not desire this kind of a finish, because it held that it is unfair to some candidates who might not be able to match the financial resources of others.

The official records show that all the leaders turned in normal amounts of collection all during the last week of the contest. They did not buy the winners because they did more business for the Enterprise than their competitors all through the contest. There was no spending of private resources at the close, no buying of credits. Every

Children Stage Parade in Plea For More Schools

More than 600 school children of the Grand Avenue and Martin schools paraded through the principal streets yesterday afternoon in a demonstration on behalf of school bonds which are to be voted today.

Carrying the flag of the nation and numerous placards the children made a striking appeal for more buildings and better educational equipment. The first graders carried a banner "We appeal for a square deal. Vote Yes!" Another read, "It's a duty you owe the children. Vote for the Bond Issue." Many other appeals were made in signs of varying sizes and colors.

Most of the children carried small American flags. They marched two abreast and were led by a drummer boy and bugler.

Attempts at keeping the death of her husband from her failed, and Mrs. Borges, who was bound to her cot, loosened her bonds and jumped from the bridge that leads from one ward to another.

She leaves one son, John Harris of Richmond, who had visited her that day.

ABOUT THIS NEWSPAPER

Practically a Complete Coverage of the City and Surrounding Territory Is Guaranteed; an Aid to Civic Development and Community Spirit Building

This newspaper is pleased to inform its readers and advertisers it now is welcomed into 90 per cent of the homes of South San Francisco. Of the 881 residences listed in the city directory, published two months ago, 792 have paid up subscriptions to the Enterprise.

It is now possible for this paper to carry its message of construction and progress to 90 per cent of the population of the city. It has been the policy within the past year to give generously of our news space to every civic enterprise deemed worthy of support. This we have evidenced in the past three weeks in urging the people to vote school bonds. Since no opposition developed against the bonds, we presented but one side of the question, but had there been another side it would have found space in these columns. Aid has been given the city trustees in their efforts to secure parks, through car service and the extension of Orange avenue; the chamber of commerce, merchants' association, manufacturers' association, woman's club, the churches, lodges, and every other progressive organization has been given practically free run of our columns.

Through our added circulation we believe we can be of even greater service to the community in the future. By reaching into practically every home in the city this publication is enabled to give greater impetus to every forward movement of whatever organization.

In the matter of the dissemination of local news it is our endeavor to print every available bit of information that is clean and wholesome and of interest to our readers. A review of our columns during the past year and a comparison with practically any other paper in the state of California will show that the Enterprise has printed more strictly local news per issue than is customary in any other community. That policy is to be continued.

The Enterprise is grateful for the support of the community during its campaign for added circulation. That it was welcomed into many hundreds of new homes during the past six weeks is proof it is the kind of newspaper the citizens of this community desire.

THE TRAFFIC COPS' WORK

Making the Streets and Highways Safe for Everybody Is the Fundamental Purpose of Their Vigilance

It is an annoyance to be held up by a traffic officer for inspection of faulty headlights on your automobile. But it is a greater annoyance for all the drivers of cars passing you in traveling the opposite direction to have to contend with blinding rays of your light when it is improperly focused.

It is very aggravating when you are in a big hurry to be halted by a traffic officer with a citation to appear in court on a charge of speeding. But it is something more serious than an aggravation for other cars to be menaced by your excess speed.

Similarly, the drunken driver is in no mood to appreciate interference by an officer who arrives opportunely to prevent further exposure of the traveling public to the recklessness of a speeding madman.

However unappreciative the violators of the traffic laws may be of the vigilance of the traffic officers, it is a gratification to the public in general to observe the diligence with which such officers are performing their duties, as manifest by the police and court records.

Don't curse the traffic officer, even if you yourself fall into his clutches. He is doing his part to make travel on the streets and highways safe for human life. There is no telling how many times your own life has been saved from an imminent danger as a result of a traffic officer having nabbed some speeding maniac in time to prevent a collision with your car, or through timely enforcement of the vehicle headlight law which prevented you from driving into a tree or over an embankment, as can easily happen when the chauffeur is blinded by glaring headlights from an approaching machine.

The prospect, even if remote, of having cargoes of cotton piled up on our waterfront makes a person wonder what the old wheat growers who have passed to their reward would have to say about that.—Stockton Record.

A DIVERSELY USEFUL MAN

Hoover Seems to Strike Presidents as Fitted to Fill Any Difficult Post, but Prefers to Finish His Own Task

Herbert Hoover, it is reported now, has decided the offer of the position that is particularly bothering President Coolidge, that of secretary of agriculture, as two years ago he declined the headship of the Department of the Interior, on the simple ground that he would rather stay with the Department of Commerce until he finishes some jobs that he has started there. Each of these departments is in itself of greater prestige in the president's cabinet and in popular estimation than the one that Hoover accepted at President Harding's invitation, and which he now prefers to retain because of important work he is trying to do there. Hoover himself has raised the relatively unimportant post to one of major significance by his own personality, ability, clear-headedness and originality. What the department was when he took hold of it, or what it had done and tried to do up to that time, didn't concern him very much; what interested him was what could be done through its agency.

A good many things that could be done could not be accomplished with full effectiveness under the organization of the department as it was when he became its head. Quietly, therefore, he has made it completely over in many aspects, so that now it does things easily and efficiently that formerly it was able to do only in part and clumsily. This is particularly true of the foreign service through consuls and consular agents. In many domestic bureaus, also, there have been reorganizations and a speeding up and broadening of work to a scope and scale that were formerly not contemplated at all.

Hoover has stressed especially ever since he has been in the office the need of eliminating wastes of effort, time and material in many industries, and he is still working to spread his ideas among business men. This program is one that depends for success largely on making the industries themselves perceive the benefits they may secure for themselves and for the country as a whole by voluntary co-operation. Hoover has managed to bring about a good deal of saving in many directions, but he has a good deal yet to do to establish the idea firmly so that it will persist. That is one job that he has his heart in and that he cannot find himself willing to abandon, as long as he remains in government service, to take up any other post. Besides this big original undertaking there are a number of others, including several dealing with waterways and with land transportation difficulties that he has in hand and prefers to finish rather than to abandon for other duties of administrative responsibility.

Hoover would be an excellent secretary of agriculture in the present irritating and disturbed situation, but his modest interest is in doing whatever he has in hand completely and right, and just now he has a number of tasks in hand that haven't yet been finished. Finishing them is going to mean a great deal to the future welfare of the country.

Beethoven's piano has come to America and is in the possession of Miss Lotta Van Buren of New York. One interesting thing about the old great composer is that their music sounds better today than it did when it was composed, because piano-making has advanced. Even a modern upright has more volume and variety of tone than this queer old "grand" on which the deaf giant dreamed his mighty dreams. If Beethoven could hear his own music today, he would scorn the very instrument which Miss Van Buren bought at a lofty price. Which gives us a new angle on this business of "collecting": collectors buy for sentimental associations, not for real value.—San Francisco Examiner.

For the first time in the history of the state, the Southern California lawmakers are divided. Hitherto they have presented a solid unit to the North and have usually gotten away with whatever they went after. Now, Los Angeles is accused by San Bernardino, Riverside and some other counties with a desire to hog everything. Riverside will demand a Southern California state fair, or at least a big appropriation for a citrus development station before it will play with Los Angeles on apportionment, and other Southern California counties will hold out and help.—Chico Enterprise.

Scientists are dwelling more than ever on the virtues of sunshine to cure or prevent disease. Sunshine is declared better than codliver oil to keep children from getting bow-legged. This is good news for the boys and girls now taking the oil.—Sacramento Bee.

PENINSULA PORT BILL IS DRAWN

Solution of Harbor Problem Sought in Redwood City Meeting

A possible solution of the port problem confronting peninsula towns and cities on the rim of San Francisco bay south of Hunter's Point was offered in a legislative bill read at a meeting of chambers of commerce representatives in Redwood City Saturday night.

The bill, which was prepared by a committee appointed at a meeting in the offices of the Three Cities Chamber of Commerce, San Mateo, January 16, provides for the extension of the control of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners so as to include within its jurisdiction all of the bay waters as far south as Dumbarton bridge. Two additional commissioners would be appointed under the provisions of the proposed act. The duties and status of the present board would not be changed, except to increase its jurisdiction. Of the two new members, who would be appointed by the governor, one must come from San Francisco county and one from San Mateo county, according to the terms of the measure.

The San Francisco Harbor Act, as it has been called, was drawn up by Attorney Mason, legal adviser of the board of supervisors of San Francisco. The committee men who were appointed to get the bill ready for presentation this week to the state legislature were Chairman M. G. McClinton, Burlingame; C. H. Holt, Redwood City; Fred Drake, San Carlos; H. A. Peckham, San Mateo; and William Augustus, South San Francisco.

On motion of Asa Hull, a director of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, a vote of thanks was given the committee for its work in behalf of the port bill.

The purpose of the act is to open the way for the development of industrial sites skirting the margin of lower San Francisco bay. This can be done, it was pointed out at Saturday night's meeting, only by dredging the bar off San Bruno Point, so as to allow ships to come down the bay as far as Redwood City. The next fundamental thing to be accomplished, in the opinion of those who have studied the problem, is to get peninsula towns and cities on the bay included in the terminal freight zone now enjoyed by San Francisco and Oakland.

C. H. Holt presided at the meeting Saturday night.

The meeting went on record as favoring the enactment of the harbor bill. It will be offered to the legislature by a joint group of San Mateo and San Francisco county representatives.

School Board to Act with Citizens' Committee

Letter received by B. H. Truax, chairman of committee appointed by South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, from W. H. Dinning, chairman Board of School Trustees:

"In answer to yours of January 15, 1925, will state that the new grammar school as planned will be a concrete building. The four-room addition to the Martin Elementary School, construction similar to the one at present there. At the High School if we can secure a fireproof building for the amount of money available, it will be so constructed.

If the people of this city prefer any different form of construction, we will gladly consent to their wishes; in fact, we would welcome suggestions, and hope a citizens' committee will be appointed to go over plans and specifications and work out details as to how the money should be divided in the different districts.

Bear in mind that we are only going to do what the majority of the people want if the bonds carry and trust the interest manifested at present will continue until every detail is worked out satisfactorily.

Yours truly,
W. H. DINNING, Chairman."

"In risposta alla vostra del 15 Gennaio, 1925, posso dire che la scuola nuova elementaria, secondo i piani, sarà costruita di cemento. La quattro sale che verranno aggiunte al Martin School, saranno di una costruzione simile a quella delle presente sale. Al High School, se possiamo costruire un fabbricato sicuro contro il fuoco con il fondo che sarà ottenuto, lo costruiamo.

"Se i cittadini della città preferiscono una costruzione differente, saremo lieti di concedere al loro volere; in fatti, apprezzeremo qualunque suggerimento, e speriamo che una commissione composta di cittadini verrà formata per riguardare i piani e specificazioni, e cercare il modo per meglio dividere il fondo ai vari distretti.

"Non dimenticate che vogliamo fare quello che la maggioranza dei cittadini vogliamo, se i buoni vengono passati, e speriamo che l'entusiasmo che è manifestato al presente continui fino che tutti dettagli sono soddisfacenti."

"Demo vostra,

UNLIMITEDS SCORE—WIN, VANQUISH LOS GATOS, 25-10

The jinx has been broken at last. The unlimiteds basketballers won their first game when they beat Los Gatos to the tune of 25 to 10 last Friday afternoon.

The "Cats" were on the defensive from the beginning of the first quarter. Molinari and O'Connell worried the "Cats" guards so much that their forwards were constantly falling back to give their support.

The "Cats" broke the ice in the first quarter when they scored the accidental basket; we say accidental because they made the rest of their points on fouls.

"Pop" O'Connell was so unfortunate as to be asked off the field of encounter due to a disagreement with a member of the opposing team that would have led to a fistful encounter.

We all know that South San Francisco is rapidly growing. In order to keep pace with the rapid growth of the city, we need new and better schools.

We also know that one of the grammar school buildings is a fire trap and that the buildings are inadequate in size.

If the bonds to be voted on January 22 do not carry by a two-thirds majority, we shall not have the much-needed buildings. The superintendent of schools can order temporary buildings to be erected until the citizens of South San Francisco decide to build a new school.

credit voted was earned. The margin by which the two winners won was pronounced, but it was apparent to the management throughout. All candidates were given reserve vote coupons at every report, so that no candidate knew the standing of the other. At no time was the full credit of any candidate announced. This precaution was taken, of course, to keep the ballot results fairly even, preventing the more successful contestants from discouraging the other or handicapping the others early in the contest.

The successful candidates worked to the last minute. Eagerly they continued their canvassing until the last minute, and just before the campaign was formally closed, all envelopes from the postoffice were placed in the ballot box.

The judges finished their work only after a long period of strenuous work. They found hundreds of subscriptions and thousands of coupons collected by candidates and friends of candidates. Every receipt, money order, bill or coin was carefully checked and results tabulated. It was not until after midnight that the count was completed and the winner determined.

The Enterprise wishes to take this means of expressing its thanks and its sincere gratitude to every candidate in the list for his or her part in making the big campaign the rousing success it has been and to the public for the readiness with which it supported them. It is doubtful if there were many homes in the territory that were not vitally interested in the success of some one of the candidates.

More than anything else, the Enterprise appreciates the expressions of the various candidates, winners and losers, about the fairness and squareness of the entire campaign. It has been the constant aim of the management to conduct the campaign on an absolutely unquestionable plan, to make it fair and square in every detail to every one.

PERMITS FOR SOFT DRINKS ARE DELAYED

REDWOOD CITY, Jan. 22.—

Over 25 applications for permits to conduct soft drink establishments in San Mateo county were held up for further consideration by the board of supervisors Tuesday afternoon. Earlier in the day the supervisors granted permits to nearly a hundred applicants, many of whom appeared in person.

A number of applications which were considered as worthy of investigation will be given a final hearing at the next meeting of the board, February 2.

In a number of cases, the supervisors held up permits on recommendation of District Attorney Franklin Swart. Others were held up for further probing at the request of interested citizens, who registered their protests either orally or by written communications.

Despite efforts of Supervisor Rosalie Brown to halt the application of Peter Lera, Supervisors Thompson, Hickey and Francis voted against her and Lera was given his permit. Mrs. Brown declared that she had been given information which, if true, ought to be considered before the application was given his permit. District Attorney Swart declared that he knew the details of the case; that he had investigated the charges against Lera and that they were unfounded. On roll call, Mrs. Brown's was the sole negative vote.

Warning was given by the district attorney that a check would be made early in February on all soft drink establishments, dance halls and other resorts, and that their proprietors would be prosecuted if they could not produce permits granted by the county.

Following are the names of the applicants who will be given hearings at the next meeting of the board of supervisors:

Heated controversy developed at a meeting of the board of supervisors this morning over the question of whether or not the county auditor could honor claims of Miss Mary L. Farnham, library custodian at San Carlos.

Back pay for two years, at the rate of $10 a month, is due Miss Farnham, it was alleged by a delegation of San Carlos citizens who attended the board's session today.

District Attorney Franklin Swart said it was his opinion that, if the auditor paid the claims, he would be subject to suit.

J. E. Cowgill was spokesman for the San Carlos representatives who appeared in behalf of the library custodian. Mrs. W. H. Getchell, president of the San Carlos Parent-Teachers' Association, was also present.

Acting Chairman Thompson said that the board would abide by the opinion of the district attorney.

It was the contention of the San Carlos delegation that there are sufficient library funds in the county treasury to pay the money said to be due Miss Farnham.

SPEEDING CAR LEAPS SIDEWALK

While the development of X-ray photographs were awaited Tuesday to determine whether or not John Keller, aged 6 years, had incurred a broken leg when he was struck down on a sidewalk near Grant avenue and Woodside road, Redwood City, Tuesday afternoon by an automobile driven by C. Osorio, the later was in the county jail, sentenced by City Recorder Albert Mansfield to spend five days for reckless driving.

Osorio, 22, a mechanic, was arrested by City Traffic Officer Elgin Kreiss after Osorio's automobile, said to have been driven at a high rate of speed, was unable to make a turn at the end of Grant avenue and Woodside road, when it leaped the sidewalk and struck the child.

According to Officer Kreiss, Osorio picked up the victim and carried him to a doctor.

The child's parents live at 123 Grant avenue.

Osorio was held in jail Tuesday night and Wednesday morning was taken before Judge Mansfield, who sentenced him to spend five days in jail. The court also revoked Osorio's operating license for 60 days.

X-ray pictures of the injured leg, taken by Dr. N. M. McKenzie were to be developed this afternoon.

NERVES AND GLANDS CLOSELY RELATED, SAYS PHYSICIAN

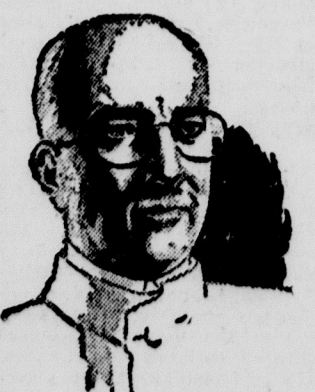

Scientific Discoveries Reveal Importance of Normal Glandular Activity to Vigorous Health and Strength. Thousands of Men and Women Now Taking Glandular (Glandogen) Treatment

At a recent medical convention in Chicago, Dr. Roy Upham, President of the American Institute of Homeopathy, stated that because of the intimate connection of the nervous system with the glands many sufferers from nervous disorders were receiving remarkable benefits from glandular treatment. He further stated that this glandular treatment could be taken by mouth like any other medicine, and that an operation is not necessary.

EMINENT SCIENTISTS AND PHYSICIANS REVEAL AMAZING FACTS ABOUT GLANDS

Dr. Serge Voronoff, an international authority on Organotherapy, has said: "The brain, the nerves, the muscles, as well as the liver, the kidneys and all other organs would be incapable of playing any useful part without the aid of the glands. The functioning of our organs is no more than the activity of our glands, and when the bodily functioning is disturbed, the cause in most cases should be sought, not in the condition of the organ itself, but in the condition of the gland which controls it."

Dr. Arnold Lorand says in his book, "Old Age Deferred," in speaking of the glands: "We must insist upon the reinforcements of their functions, if changed by age or disease, by means of extracts obtained from the similar organs of healthy young animals."

Glandular Treatment (Glandogen) can now be taken in convenient tablet form. Thousands of men and women are now turning to glandular treatment to help regain lost strength, vigor, vitality and health. Since Science has prepared a gland treatment in simple compact tablet form—Glandogen—it is a simple matter to take glandular treatment. Glandogen is scientifically prepared in two different forms, one for men and one for women, from the vital glands of healthy young animals, combined with other efficacious ingredients. Peninsula Drug Co., South San Francisco, Daly City and Colma, will supply you.

If arrangements can be made to make the first payment of $2,000 next fall instead of now, the city will purchase the park sites, it was decided by the city trustees in session Monday night. SONO. ALCRI PALAZZI SCOLASTICI NECESSARI?

Durante l'anno 1924, in South San Francisco furono fabbricate 123 nuove case. Queste case contengono 577 stanze e furono costruite per il costo totale di $368,425 dollari. La costruzione di 123 nuove case, vuol dire che in South San Francisco sono arrivate 13 famiglie. Le cifre de censimento dimostrano che la media di ogni famiglia e' di 5 membri, tre figlioli all' infuori dei genitori. In base a questi calcoli, la popolazione della citta' di questa citta' l'anno scorso e' aumentata di 369 bambini.

SONO. ALCRI PALAZZI SCOLASTICI NECESSARI?

I regolamenti scolastici richiedono che non piu' di 35 alunni possono essere tenuti in una sola camera. Basandosi su questa rata, per collocare i 369 nuovi scolari sarebbero accorse 10 nuove aule scolastiche. Queste non furono provvedute. Le scuole sono piu' che affollate col pericolo della salute e della vita dei nostri bambini.

SONO. ALCRI PALAZZI SCOLASTICI NECESSARI?

Questa citta' ora progredisce molto di piu' di quello che lo fu nel passato. Nell' anno entrante la sua popolazione aumentera' molto di piu' di quello che lo fu quest' oggi. La votazione di quest' oggi, se sara' favorevole provvedera' per il continuo aumento. Votate "Yes" per i "Bonds" quest' oggi.

BAYSHORE ROAD CAMP PLACED ON BELLE AIR ISLE

Bayshore highway construction work is progressing steadily across the marsh land between South San Francisco and the northerly limits of the city of San Mateo.

The grade has been thrown up over the marsh for a distance of one mile and a half, and connections have been made with Belle Air Isle, from which most of the dirt for the grade is to be obtained. The contracting firm building the road has already established its road camp on the island and will soon install additional equipment in the shape of steam shovels and dirt trains to convey the dirt to the city.

Recently the City of San Francisco turned over to the highway commission a check for $100,000 to be expended in the building of this unit of the road. With this

In commenting on the activities of National Thrift Week, which began on January 17, it is particularly fitting that the postal service should play an important part in these activities, according to Postmaster L. G. Hardy, and it should pay tribute to the first and foremost advocate of thrift, Benjamin Franklin.

It is desired that the patrons of the postoffice at South San Francisco should understand the purpose and functions of the postal savings system, the agency of the government by which thrift is promoted. Contrary to the conception of many, the postal savings is not a bank. While it is a savings institution in the proper sense of the word, its similarity to a bank ends at the point.

The policy of postal savings also differs from that of savings banks and other savings institutions. The most humble patron of the office is welcomed at the postal savings department. His purchase of a 10-cent savings stamp or his deposit of a single dollar is received as kindly and given as courteous treatment and attention as the transactions of the holder of a million-dollar account at any bank. And, also, postal savings does not look with disfavor on such of its depositors who, having accumulated a tidy sum, make withdrawals for the purchase of sound investments, a home or a business.

While the redeposit of postal savings funds in local banks benefits the community by restoring to active use in the channels of trade, funds which might otherwise have remained hidden in trunks, under mattresses, etc., and while financial profit accrues to the government by reason of the operation of the service, the real value of this service cannot be measured in dollars and cents. It is a potent force for good in any community and plays an important part in the upbuilding of our country today.
