

HIGH SCHOOL OPENS

ENROLLMENT THIS YEAR MUCH LARGER THAN LAST—LIST OF THE TEACHERS

The Glendale Union high school opened Tuesday morning after a vacation of ten weeks.

The construction work on the new buildings and larger curriculum greeted the incoming students. Needless to say, the enrollment this year is much larger than that of the last year, with the usual decrease in the higher classes and increase in freshman and sophomore years.

School opening was appropriately observed by a few words from the principal, Geo. U. Moyses, and the entire assembly singing "America."

The new courses of the year and new teachers were announced and the assembly convened to the various class-rooms for the final registration. The registration is excellent and no doubt will be greater than the total enrollment for last year.

The incoming freshman class from the local grammar schools in the district is a healthy looking bunch of individuals, who will take their place in the upbuilding of the greater Glendale high.

One of the pleasant occurrences of the vacation was the redecoration of the auditorium, which is both pleasing to the students and elders.

The teachers for the year are:

Geo. U. Moyses, principal.
Harry L. Howe, vice-principal; U. S. history.
Helen M. Darsie, Latin, German.
A. L. Ferguson, mathematics, physics.
Bessie L. Field, Spanish.
Ethel Hume Flood, Latin.
Clarence L. Gates, commercial subjects.
Dora L. Gibson, music.
Ellen J. Hanson, cooking, sewing.
Walter I. Hildebrand, woodworking.
Vera E. Holloway, sewing.
C. E. Houdyshel, physiology, biology, physics.
Margaret Knepper, English.
Frank Ray Morris, mathematics.
M. Irene Muller, drawing.
Arthur R. Oliver, forge, foundry, machine shop.
Dorothy B. Poppy, English, history.
W. Darwin Root, English, debating.
E. Maud Soper, English, history.
Geo. F. Taylor, chemistry, agriculture.
Abbie C. Terry, oral expression, music.
Katherine M. Turner, English, physical training for girls.
Earl H. Wight, physical training for boys.
Mabel Newcomb, office assistant.
May Church, librarian.

SOUTH PASADENA VS. P. E.

State Railroad Commissioner Edgerton Monday heard the case of South Pasadena citizens against the Pacific Electric Railway Company to compel the company to stop at every block on its Fair Oaks avenue line. The hearing was held in the city hall in Pasadena. Commissioner Edgerton announced that a finding will be handed down at a later date.

Before closing the hearing Commissioner Edgerton stated that it has been the aim of the state board to regulate traffic so as to serve best the greatest number of people, and that he thought the 40,000 population of Pasadena ought to be placed above that of the smaller city in the matter of regulating car service.

MRS. VOLKER SAILS FOR U. S.

Glendale friends of Mrs. Emelie E. Volker have been pleased to receive messages from her indicating her safety in the warring countries, through which she has been traveling. A card addressed to Mrs. J. N. McGillis from Rotterdam and dated August 25th, says that she expected to sail from Rotterdam August 29. She says: "This has been a very anxious time. One hundred and fifty thousand Americans over here."

PLANNING BIG CONVENTION

Los Angeles is laying its first plans for the forty-fifth state fruit growers' convention, to be held there on November 9 to 14. More than one thousand horticulturists, representing the entire fruit-growing industry of the state of California, will attend the convention. This number will include more than one hundred women interested in the industry, members of the women's department.

All copy for advertisements and reading notices for the anniversary number of the Glendale Evening News should be forwarded to the Evening News office at once.

BLAME THE LIONS

HUNTERS SAY MOUNTAIN CATS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR KILLING OF MANY DEER

Monrovia News: That local sportsmen may join forces in a concerted effort to drive mountain lions out of this part of the mountains, is the belief of a number of well-known hunters of Monrovia and the vicinity. The situation has developed strongly this season, when very few deer have been found in the hills above Monrovia, while lion tracks are plentiful, especially in the country frequented by deer.

There has been considerable interest in lion hunting since Hollie Seymour returned the other day with his handsome trophy, and many hunters who have tramped the hills in a vain effort to catch sight of a buck are ready to take the warpath against the big mountain cats.

Although many deer are killed annually in the state by men during the thirty days of open season, it is estimated by old-time hunters and trappers, men familiar with conditions of forest and mountain, that mountain lions do much more harm to deer than human beings. A number of Oregon hunters recently agreed that at a conservative estimate a full-grown lion destroys at an average of seventy-five deer annually. This enormous slaughter makes it imperative that the lions be thinned out from the deer country, or there will soon cease to be any deer hunting at all. As it is, the federal authorities are now considering closing the deer season for a number of years.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

At the First Congregational church last Sunday morning a good sized audience listened to an able sermon by Dr. E. H. Willisford on "Labor's Best Friend, Christ and the Church."

The speaker vividly showed that there are real and vital problems in the industrial world. That these questions cannot be ignored by the people. The complicated industrial life of today has made the problem the more complicated.

The following are some of the pointed and pithy sentences taken from the sermon:

"An industrial system which produces paupers and billionaires is economically bad, politically dangerous and morally wrong."

"He who arranges class against class is a traitor."

"The ballot and not the bullet should settle industrial difficulties."

"Men should be ruled by the Golden Rule rather than by the rule of gold."

"A brawny arm is far more valuable than a black heart."

"A white life more important than a white shirt."

"The walking delegate should be kept walking. Too often he is labor what the ward-healer is in politics. Better make him a working-man."

"Labor should be dignified by making the conditions under which it is performed sanitary, cheerful, moral and elevating. Labor should improve man physically, intellectually and morally."

"The employee should be able to make a just wage and happiness at the same time."

The speaker in speaking of Christ as the friend of labor, said: "Jesus Christ was a man; he was for men; he was for all men. Jesus Christ taught equity, equality, kindness, love, mercy and justice. He was a great worker; lived among men and knew men."

"The church is organized Christianity. There is very little Christianity outside the church."

"The church is the agency of Jesus Christ. The church is the one organization which stands for all men, for it is of the people, by the people and for the people."

"The social program of the Federated Council of the Churches of America is a model for all forms of industrial organization."

ANNIVERSARY NUMBER CUTS

More than two hundred cuts of individuals and residences of Glendale will appear in the anniversary number of the Glendale Evening News. The business men and citizens of Glendale in general are responding nobly in the way of assisting to make this number a success.

WOLVERINE-MICHIGANDERS

The Michigan State Society of Southern California will hold its annual all-day summer picnic at Bixby park, Long Beach, on Saturday, Sept. 19th. Many picnic novelties will be introduced. It is expected that ten thousand former residents of the peninsular state will be present. Coffee served free. Fine program.

Total amount paid on bonds June 30th, 1914.....	6,000.00

Eleventh:

We installed during the year 517 new services, and in addition to this we installed the street lighting for Casa Verdugo, which represents considerable income and other advantages to the city of Glendale.

I might also mention that considerable work was done for the city of Burbank, both places being rendered bills covering the expenditures, which bills were promptly paid, with the exception of a small balance due from the city of Burbank.

In reviewing the above you will note the electric light department of the city of Glendale is on a good financial basis and with the prospect of new business when we take over the water companies, etc., we hope the coming year will show an increased profit.

Monthly reports covering the operations of the electric light department from July 1st, 1913, to June 30th, 1914, are on file.

Respectfully submitted,

H. B. LYNCH,
Manager of the Electric Light Department of the City of Glendale.
Glendale, California, September 8, 1914.

ITEMS FROM TROPICO

SCHOOL OPENS NEXT MONDAY—TO OCCUPY NEW BUILDINGS—PERSONAL ITEMS

The Tropico schools will open on Monday, September 21. Mrs. Martha McClure, principal of the schools, and the following corps of teachers will be in charge at the old building located in Cerritos street, between Glendale avenue and Brand boulevard: Mrs. Helen F. McNaughton, Miss Emily Elias, Miss Brown, Miss Gertrude Lohouse, Mrs. Lorene McKnight, Miss Freda Borthick and Miss Annie L. Curtiss. Miss Grace Burnham, supervisor of domestic science; Miss Marguerite Weatherby, supervisor of music, and Miss Lucie Bettanner, supervisor of manual training. Under the direction of the present board two new additions have been erected on Acacia avenue and Mariposa court and San Fernando road and Magnolia avenue respectively. The groups will involve an expenditure of $40,000. One unit (comprising two rooms) was built. The Mariposa and Acacia avenue group will be merged into one building of eight rooms to accommodate the eight grades. It follows the mission style of architecture and has a cloister along the front connecting the two wings. An entirely different idea is being followed in the development of the other group. Instead of being all in one building, there will be four of two rooms each, thus giving the maximum light and ventilation and contributing to the grounds the appearance of a college campus. Both buildings are erected of hollow tile. The schools are erected under the immediate direction of the board, which comprises Mrs. Charles A. Barker, James Rich and Clyde R. Carmack. Miss May Cornwell will supervise at the Acacia and Mariposa school and all school children of the first and second grades residing north of Tropico avenue and east of Brand boulevard will attend the Acacia school. Miss Emma Saxton will supervise the Magnolia street school and all school children of the first and second grades residing north of Tropico avenue and west of Brand boulevard will attend the Magnolia school. All school children of the first and second grades residing south of Tropico avenue will attend the old building on Cerritos between Glendale and Brand boulevard. All pupils in the other grades throughout the school district will attend at the old building.

The ladies of the Tropico Thursday Afternoon Club are busily engaged preparing for Saturday's festivities, which will be held on the open space north of the city hall and will begin about 11 o'clock in the morning and continue until in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Shaw have returned to their home on West Park avenue after a two weeks' delightful outing enjoyed at Forest Home in the San Bernardino mountains. One of the pleasures of the outing was climbing Grayback peak.

Glenn A. Cole of Maricopa was suffocated by the overturning of his auto, his face being held in a pool of gasoline. His sister was seriously injured in the accident, but is expected to recover.

BURBANK MAN KILLED

The Pulliam Undertaking Company was called to the Los Angeles water works station in Griffith park Tuesday night about 11:30 following an accident in which James Gallagher of Burbank lost his life. He and a companion were working in a well when a heavy piece of machinery fell upon them, crushing Gallagher's head and chest and injuring the other man.

The remains were brought to the undertaking parlors in Glendale awaiting funeral arrangements. The injured man was taken to a Los Angeles hospital.

PINK DINNER PARTY

Pink and white was the color scheme chosen by Mrs. Warren Roberts when she entertained a few friends at dinner in her home, 707 West Seventh street, recently.

Roses were used in embellishing the living and music rooms and in the dining-room, where an elaborate repast was served, delicately tinted carnations hurled their pungent aroma over the festive board, which held covers for ten. Bonbon boxes of pink and adorable hand-painted miniature heads completed the setting and marked places for Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tower, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hunchberger, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McFadden and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY

NOVEL AFFAIR SURPRISINGLY ANNOUNCES SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Over seventy guests were welcomed into the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cushing, 568 East Colorado boulevard, last Friday evening, when unknown to those present, this charming host and hostess entertained with a beautiful party in celebration of their twenty-fifth or silver wedding anniversary.

A wild profusion of American Beauty roses, carnations and exquisitely shaded lights transformed the home into a veritable bower of fairyland—a fairyland that took one through the joys of wonderland and travel, as the entire home is fitted up with antiques and furnishings that have been gathered from far and wide by Mr. and Mrs. Cushing, who have been around the world no less than five times.

Most interesting indeed were the tales these charming people produced in answer to countless questions about this or that, and in this manner, together with music, the evening passed merrily and quickly.

An unique feature of the evening was the manner in which the elaborate refreshments, which furthered the chosen motif, were served. A large twelve-pole tent, the very same used by the emperor of Germany during his tour through the Holy Land, and later purchased and used by Mr. and Mrs. Cushing when they enjoyed the same trip, was erected in the beautiful garden so arranged to accommodate the many guests, who were made to squat upon the ground during collation hour. This tent is of typical Egyptian construction and unusual to say the least. The gorgeous throw that covered the serving table was at one time a dress belonging to one of the higher natives of India and in itself was quite a curiosity. The refreshments were served by two young ladies garbed in costumes to correspond with the acquired surroundings, and as each guest was served they were given blazing candles as souvenirs of a very novel and wholly delightful party given by equally delightful and interesting people.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON TEA

Mrs. Albert Chase of 1500 Riverside drive proved herself a charming hostess Tuesday afternoon when in compliment to Mrs. English and her daughter, Mrs. Oliver, who are visiting in Glendale from New Jersey, she entertained in her home with an informal tea. Bright late summer blossoms filled the rooms with color and fragrance and those who enjoyed the music and needlework, which had been chosen as means of diversion, were Mesdames Johnson, Cable, Frazier, Patterson, English, Oliver, Van Owen, Packer, Krumholt, Hodge and the Misses Alice Patterson, Irma Patterson and Sadie Yarnell, all with the exception of the honored guests having been residents of Glendale.

MOONLIGHT PICNIC

Between forty and fifty merry-makers enjoyed the rollicking "wienie roast" given by the Men's Club Tuesday evening of this week. The beautiful Sycamore canyon was the chosen goal for such revelry as games and songs and the out-of-door supper, and to this destination those attending were conveyed by way of a four-horse hay wagon that left St. Mark's church at 8 o'clock sharp. Every minute was thoroughly enjoyed and it was not until the late hours of the night that the moon-beam picnicers again saw the bright lights of Glendale and home.

ENJOY EVENING OF CARDS

As usual the Jolly Twelve enjoyed an evening of much fun and merriment Saturday when in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hinkle, 137 South Jackson street, who are well known as the most gracious and charming of hosts and hostesses, several games of Five Hundred were played.

Everything for the occasion was carried out in the bright combination of yellow and white, the delicious refreshments, which were served about midnight, having furthered this chosen motif.

Guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Beach, Mr. and Mrs. V. Price Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Truitt, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Beamon and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Smith, the latter to entertain the Jolly Twelve in their home, 146 South Maryland avenue, Saturday evening, September 19.

Dr. M. Louise Davis of Los Angeles is spending a few days this week with friends in Glendale.

Roy D. Van Alstin, a civil engineer at Los Angeles harbor, with his wife spent a portion of a week's vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Van Alstin, 1447 Riverdale drive, and enjoying an auto trip with them through the citrus district as far east as Redlands.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Offatt and son Jack, accompanied by Mrs. Minnie Hendricks, motored to Venice to spend Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. G. C. Ivy and son Charles of Whittier are guests at present in the home of Mrs. Ivy's cousin, Miss Coral Griffith, 1467 Salem street.

Mrs. Colin Cable will entertain informally at luncheon in her home, 755 Columbus avenue, tomorrow. Invited guests are all from Los Angeles.

Miss Roxie Given of Elgin, Ill., and Mrs. Marguerita Perry of Yuma, Ariz., are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Lila Cutler, of 226 South Louise street.

The Misses Wanda and Ethel Davis who for the past week have been house guests of Mrs. Ruth Head, 124 North Louise street, have returned to their home in La Habra.

Glendale boasts of a new 1915 Overland and upon investigation it was found that said automobile is the recent purchase of Mrs. Rebecca L. Lacy, 135 South Kenwood street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Johnson, newly arrived residents in Glendale, took possession today of their new bungalow home, 1470 Salem street, where they will be most happy to receive friends and callers.

Contractor G. W. Calkins of Salem street has commenced work on an attractive new six-room bungalow on Pioneer drive, said abode belonging to Miss Winkler, a resident at present on Riverdale drive.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Weaver of 301 South Kenwood street are entertaining as house guest Mrs. E. H. Phelps, wife of the chief of the commissary department of the national soldiers' home at Sawtelle.

Mrs. Helen Woodruff Boyd of 1460 Ivy street is spending the day in Los Angeles, where she is among the guests who are being entertained by Mrs. George Goodfellow, hostess at a beautifully appointed luncheon.

Mrs. J. O. Elliott of 1508 Ivy street has returned from a week's rest at San Diego, where she was the house guest of friends. Trips were taken each day to Coronado, La Jolla and other attractive spots in the near vicinity.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the First Congregational church will meet at the church tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. A business session will be held at 2 o'clock. A good attendance is desired. There will be work for all.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Armstrong of 1468 Salem street, accompanied by their two little grandchildren, have gone to Imperial to live. Their home is now being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. Coffin, recent arrivals from Oakland.

Mrs. Ralph Bourne, Miss Ruth Browne and Miss Rae Davis, all three well known in the younger circles of Glendale, are spending the day in Los Angeles, where they are playing in the finals of the tournament now being held there.

Mrs. Arthur Chapman and small son Frank, who for the past two months have been visiting relatives in the North, are again happily domiciled in their home, 1463 Salem street, to which place they returned Sunday evening.

Dr. Margaret Lewis, recently arrived from Kolar, India, and since July 2 a visitor in the home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, 101 South Brand boulevard, left on Tuesday for Parsons, Kansas, going later to Chicago, where she will remain indefinitely.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Barnett of 1434 West Broadway are home again from a splendid outing and camping trip in Kern county, having spent ten days journeying through the beautiful Sierras and camping along the banks of the Kern river, where fishing and hunting were enjoyed to the utmost. Mr. and Mrs. Cleon Paxton of Lelliter, Kern county, were also along and the trip was made by auto.

Mrs. William H. Sholes of 1514 West Broadway entertained friends from Los Angeles as guests in her home Tuesday.

Miss Eva Black of 221 Belmont street has returned from a thoroughly enjoyed outing and rest at one of the local beaches.

Mrs. Cora Deacon of 1615 Oak street and daughter, Mrs. David Anderson, who has been visiting in this city for the past month, will leave in the morning for the latter's home in Kansas City, where Mrs. Deacon will make her future home. San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver and other points will be visited enroute.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Reinhart, formerly of Lomita avenue, will leave the latter part of the week for Prescott, Ariz., where they expect to locate permanently. At present Mr. and Mrs. Reinhart are visiting in the homes of various friends, both in Glendale and Los Angeles, who greatly deplore the departure of this popular couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood, Sr., of 1420 West Broadway, accompanied by their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood, Jr., also of Glendale, and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wilson, of Huntington Park, motored on Monday to Eastlake park, Los Angeles, for an all-day picnic.

Monday of this week Mr. and Mrs. James Farrell of 123 East Broadway motored to a ranch home above Newhall, where they spent the day with Mr. Charles Conrad, brother of Dr. O. S. Conrad of Tropic. The afternoon was spent in auto riding, the return being made late in the evening.

The Rev. and Mrs. George Eley, who for the past month have been enjoying a delightful sightseeing trip in the North, visiting as they did Seattle, Tacoma, Bremerton and other well-known points, returned on Saturday evening to their home, 1210 Lomita avenue. The trip both going and coming was made on the beautiful boat Congress.

PARAGRAPHS WISE AND OTHERWISE

These paragraphs are here for you and you had better read them; if to some other truth is due just make that fellow heed them. Just read before you pass it on, and mark it "going, going, gone."

A great truckload came from the ranch and was unloaded here, and hence the time is fully due this "chestnut" should appear: "Those melon-colic days have come—the saddest of the year."

Los Angeles Realty Board declares most solemnly: "We resolute and do oppose our state in going dry," and yet each bloomin' lot they sold for residence so high in price that tenderfoot could scarce afford to buy. "Sir, this is gilt-edged property; you see the town is dry."

Sing a song of reason, shall the state go dry, or for the fair season be run by rum and rye? Which shall dominate there, sobriety, good cheer? Or shall it be wide open, controlled by booze and beer? Men of California, what you going to do? New-made women voters, the question's up to you.

A poor little stranded woman in Los Angeles, anxious to get back to a sick mother in a Texas town, put on man's apparel, the better to escape observation, and the easier to hold place on the truck cross-trees beneath the train, where she was expected to take passage. But the sharp eyes of the police detected her, arrested her, and divested her of her male attire, and she never once raised the personal liberty cry of right to dress as she pleases.

"Do you really think?" asked old Joe Bright, "that the use of glasses would aid my sight?" For frequent potions of amber oil had caused Joe's natural vision to fail. When down and out Joe, posed on his crutch, said: "You bet it will help for it helps me much after two or three glasses I find no trouble seeing every thing but my money double."

He had a touch of delirium shakes and his shoes were fast filling up with snakes, and yet this once brilliant, now sodden soak, would sometimes wake up and flash a joke. He entered the office with pompous tread and to the new corner doctor said: "Doctor, on skill I greatly dote, and I called to have you examine my throat, and look it over most carefully, and tell me truly what all you see." And the doctor looked and looked again, but all his looking was done in vain. And so he said: "So far as I see, your throat looks very well to me." Then the toper said: "It seems strange to me that down that throat you nothing can see, for I have put down it in dissipation one hundred negroes and a good plantation."

Don O. M. Covarrubias, one of the best known of the Santa Barbara pioneers, was dangerously injured by being thrown from a runaway horse.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Young of 810 North Brand boulevard, with their children, Messrs. Edison and Lawrence, and Miss Fern Eleanor, enjoyed a motor trip to Pasadena last Monday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Colton while there.

Mrs. E. J. Young of 810 North Brand boulevard was the hostess at a dainty pink and white luncheon Tuesday. The attractive home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, in the living-room pink and white asters gaily nodding, while the dining-room was lovely with fragrant pink roses. Covers were laid for nine and a full course luncheon was served by the gracious hostess to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Fairburn and Miss Ruth Fairburn, Mrs. J. A. Small and daughter, Miss Alberta Small, all of Burbank, with the members of the immediate family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Marsh and children of 1645 Ruth street, North Glendale, with Mrs. Marsh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilbur; Mrs. Howard Wilbur and children, Densel and Florence; Mr. De Loss Wilbur and Mr. Harry Wilbur of San Gabriel, formed a family party that picnicked at Venice last Sunday. Sports of various kinds were enjoyed during the day and a delicious luncheon was served by the ladies of the party, to which ample justice was done. That the occasion was a most delightful one was the decision of all present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Duane Moore of 1603 Burchett street and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alberts of Randolph street were a merry party who spent Sunday in Los Angeles.

Mr. Floyd Murphy of 1648 Ruth street spent the week-end in Burbank, where he was the guest of Luther Colson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Berry and children of 703 North Louise street, with Mrs. Berry's sister, Dr. Coffey of Los Angeles, motored to Point Firmin last Monday, where they spent a most enjoyable day on the beach.

Mr. R. D. Jones of 908 Dryden street, with Mr. Charles Tyrrell of 1640 Ruth street enjoyed a hike up Mount Baldy last Saturday, returning Sunday night. While the party did not encounter snow, it was cold enough to realize that it was not far away. A jolly good time was the report of the party.

Mr. C. Parsell, one of the employees of the county now working on the roads in Casa Verdugo, has moved into Rev. T. H. Wilkinson's property, located at 1636 Ruth street, which he will occupy with his family during their stay here.

ENCOURAGING WORDS AND ACTS

Two gentlemen, owners of residences in Glendale, came to the office of the Glendale Evening News this forenoon and said: "We want to know what we can do to assist in making the anniversary number of the Evening News a still greater success." Following a brief explanation, each gentleman agreed to be represented by a $7.50 space. Such voluntary acts make a man feel that his efforts are appreciated. Thanks to these gentlemen. A gentleman from North Glendale entered our office in the same spirit last Saturday. There are many other people in Glendale who are ready to do likewise when they become aware that this anniversary number is being published without selfish motives.

OPPOSE PROHIBITION

An eastern dispatch says that the trades unions in New York have decided to fight prohibition, "believing that the consumption of intoxicating liquors cannot be stopped by law and that thousands employed directly or indirectly in the liquor traffic would be thrown out of work by such legislation. Labor intends to stand by the saloons." As the brewery workers and bartenders are a part of the trades union scheme of things, it is no wonder that the trades unions are opposed to prohibition, because naturally prohibition would destroy these parts of their organization.

Commenting on this action of the unions, an eastern contemporary thus wisely comments: "However, there is one side of the question they, the unions, perhaps do not look at, that, whether they like it or not, prohibition is coming. This is being recognized by even the liquor dealers, and it is not coming as a great moral issue, but as an economic one."

"People are realizing that no one can safely drink the stuff and remain as a man of full stature; that a man under the influence of liquor is not a safe man in any position in the economic world, not even as a bartender. Therefore, day by day we are drawing nearer to the time when all the people will realize that intoxicating liquors are a menace to their economic well-being as also to their moral well-being, and when that day comes—as come it will—the labor unions will have to change their positions, whether they want to or not."

"When the question comes up as to prohibition or local option, it is not whether we want to take some privilege away from someone else. The real issue is whether we believe liquor is a good thing or a bad thing, and we vote yes or no on the prohibition or local option question in accordance with our understanding and belief in that matter."

CALIFORNIA PRODUCING STATE

California in fifty years has been converted from one of the great stock states of the union, producing hundreds of thousands of cattle and sheep and millions of pounds of wool, first into one of the greatest cereal-producing states, producing hundreds of cargoes of wheat and barley for Europe, one county turning out in one crop 14,000 carloads of wheat, finally into the great fruit-producing section of the world.

The San Fernando valley, a wheat field a few years ago, is being rapidly developed into an orchard section, where two-year-old peach trees are yielding two boxes of fruit a piece and where one company is planting 200,000 deciduous fruit trees in one little section of the valley. In the production of many varieties of fruit, California has a monopoly on the markets of the world and in others a monopoly of the American continent. Almonds come in this last category, California and Southern Spain being the only competitors for the markets of the world. Almonds are uncertain bearers, but when the crop is short the prices are high. The California Almond Growers' Exchange says of the crop of this year that it will be about one-third of normal, say 1000 tons, but they will bring $500,000. The cheapest are selling at 11 cents wholesale and the best at 18 1/2 cents. Southern California produces nearly all the English walnuts marketed on the American continent, amounting last year to a crop of 9500 tons, which sold at an average price of 14 cents a pound, bringing $2,500,000. The crop of the present year is estimated at $3,000,000. The deciduous fruit crop for the whole of Southern California for this year is estimated to produce an income of $15,000,000.

The occupation of the Pacific by the world's foremost civilization will prove the most absorbing problem of the coming centuries. The attractions are superior to any hitherto offered to progressive peoples, soils of every sort, climates of every variety, airs of every temperature, wealth in every form.

All new lands have their primeval resources to draw from. As compared with the seats of ancient empires in the Mediterranean, of Syria and Carthage, of Greece and Rome, or of the less prolific shores of the broader Atlantic, whether of Europe, Greenland, or America, the untouched wealth of the Pacific is vastly superior to them all.

So that with the natural and inevitable progression of the race, while the material reduction of the Pacific is going on, we may with reasonable confidence predict for these shores a culture and development such as the world has never imagined.—Hubert Howe Bancroft in The New Pacific.

OWNERSHIP OF LOS ANGELES COUNTY HOMES

The United States census department at Washington has just issued a bulletin dealing with the ownership of Los Angeles county homes. The important facts contained in the bulletin relative to this county are as follows:

There are 127,362 homes in Los Angeles county.

Of this number, 6815 are farm homes, and 2831 of the farm homes are owned by their occupants and are free of mortgaged incumbrance. The mortgaged farm homes number 1951.

Renters occupy 1932 farm homes in this county.

Out of a total of 127,362 homes in the county, 120,547 are urban homes.

There are 57,380 urban home owners in the county.

Of this number, 25,370 are mortgaged, and 31,144 of the urban homes are free of incumbrance.

There are 59,563 rented urban homes in the county.

The census enumerators were unable to secure data pertaining to the ownership of a small percentage of both the rural and urban homes in this county.

Riverside trustees are contemplating the forcing of an economical administration during the coming year and have cut the financial budget accordingly.

A grand pageant was planned by the women of Santa Monica to portray the progress made by the women of various countries, but it has been postponed on account of the European war.

PEOPLE JUDGE THE WEALTH OF A TOWN

by its banks. If they are located in modern buildings, well equipped to give first-class service to their depositors and well organized to insure safety, people speak of such a city as a rich and prosperous one.

The First National Bank of Glendale has had a most successful growth and offers its depositors every advantage and convenience of a metropolitan bank, but could be a still greater factor in the upbuilding of Glendale, if every Glendale citizen transacted his or her banking business in Glendale, for the reason that the funds of this bank are loaned to Home People on Home Securities and are at all times engaged in the upbuilding of local interests.
