Eyes of All Southland Focused on Big Football Game of Saturday

TOMORROW afternoon at the Los Angeles Coliseum two football teams from Glendale union high school will play for the championship of Southern California. The opponents in each game will be a team representing Long Beach high school.

To be able to reach the finals and have an opportunity of playing for the championship in one division is a great honor, but to be represented in two weight divisions is a double honor and one seldom enjoyed by any school.

WE have all hopes that after the two games are played, Glendale high school teams will hold the two championships. The first game will start at 12:30 and will be played by teams of the 110-pound class. The other game will start at about 2:15 and is between teams of the heavyweight division.

An article appearing in a beach paper yesterday explains our feeling regarding this last game better than we can express ourselves so we quote: "We will not say that Long Beach cannot beat Glendale, but we will say that Long Beach must have one of the best high school teams we have ever seen in order to do it." But, win or lose, the boys on both teams have displayed the same spirit to bring them to the finals, which goes for success in life. Football, like business, calls for enthusiasm, energy and ability to make a quick decision with good judgment, and the Glendale boys have displayed all of these qualifications.

EAGLE ROCK is also much interested in the game, for she is represented on the first team by four boys. In fact, the Glendale teams should have the support of all the San Fernando Valley towns, for they have common interests.

Of course there is rivalry between them which is well, because it stirs up their enthusiasm and energy, but is of a friendly sort. So at tomorrow's game the north bleachers, which is the section set aside for Glendale, should be filled with rooters from not only Glendale, but Eagle Rock and all the San Fernando towns as well. Bear in mind that the morale of the team is increased or decreased by the way in which it is supported by those in the bleachers.

EAGLE ROCK LEGION POST ELECTS OFFICERS

When the barrage was over and the results were known, members of the American Legion of Eagle Rock greeted Comrade McKelvey as their new commander, the election taking place Wednesday night in the library basement.

The election was an interesting one, and nominations came like the never-to-be-forgotten firing of the machine guns. Dr. C. M. Hensley was elected first vice commander and Comrade Dutton, second. Comrade Glover got the high vote for adjutant and Comrade Rose will be sergeant at arms. Comrades Prindle, Jackman and Yutz form the executive committee, and Comrades Bessolo, Glover and Haimbaugh compose the interpost council, city and county.

The next meeting of the Legion is to be a social one, on December 19. The regular meeting date was established for the first and third Wednesday of the month. The library basement was chosen as the meeting place.

HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI AT FOOTBALL GAME

There will be a special section reserved for the alumni of the Glendale high school and their families at the football game between Glendale and Long Beach Saturday afternoon. The section will be on the north side of the Coliseum to the west of the Glendale routing section, down in front. All alumni are urged to be present in that section. Come out and see the old-timers again as well as another Glendale victory.

SPECIAL SEWER COMMITTEE IS ON THE JOB

Plans Many Measures For Boosting Bond Election

The special sewer committee of the Glendale Realty board met at the board offices for two hours this morning with Cameron D. Thom presiding and the following members present: O. M. Newby, C. W. Ingledue, W. L. Twining, W. L. Truitt, L. H. Wilson, J. M. Boland, J. I. Wernette, L. H. Myers and Peter Hanson. Arrangements were completed to have speakers at all theaters in Glendale tonight and Saturday night to urge people to register so they can vote, and also to have registrars in front of the theaters so that people may register when coming from the shows.

O. M. Newby and J. M. Boland were appointed a committee to ask the theaters to run a slide boosting for the bonds and giving date of bond election, and also get out stickers for automobiles with the words "Bopst Sewer Bonds, January 8."

DR. BROUGHER AND WILL ROGERS IN HUMOROUS DEBATE

"Resolved: Moving picture actors do more good to humanity than preachers."

A humorous debate on this question was the feature yesterday at the Bitmore hotel of the weekly luncheon of the Optimists' club. Will Rogers of Hollywood, notorious liar-throwing epigrammatic screen comedian, upheld the affirmative. Dr. Whitcomb Brougher of Los Angeles, pastor of the Temple Baptist church, supported the negative. Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, justice of the federal court, presided. The entire bench of the Los Angeles county superior court sat in judgment.

Glendallians present included Mayor Spencer Robinson, E. F. Sanders and Lyman P. Clark, secretary of newly-elected director of the chamber of commerce, and Attorney Mattison B. Jones. About 500 persons were in attendance.

W. GIBBS FALLS 200 FEET FROM HIGH WIRE, DIES

A fall from a span of wire between two of the high-tension towers about a mile and a half north of Sycamore Canyon at 8:30 this morning resulted in the death of Walter Gibbs, 36, to be from Santa Paula, an employe of the Southern California Edison company. Rushed to the Glendale Sanitarium hospital by fellow workmen, Mr. Gibbs died a few minutes later from an internal hemorrhage. Mr. Gibbs was quartered at Camp No. 7 of the Southern California Edison company which is located in the vicinity of La Crescenta. The body is in charge of the Jewel City Undertaking company. Coroner William A. Nance has not set the date of the inquest. Gibbs was engaged in repairing a wire which spanned a canyon and he fell nearly 200 feet.

CALL BOND ELECTION FOR GLENDALE SEWER

The official call for the sewer bond election was made by the Glendale city council last night. Following the passage of the resolution declaring the intention of the council to call the election the ordinance actually calling the election was passed. This ordinance contains an incomplete list of the polling places, these being eighteen in number, and names of the officers at the various poles.

EAGLE ROCK KIWANIS CLUB ELECTS ITS 1924 OFFICERS

The Kiwanians are certainly going ahead at full speed. With a snappy meeting that savored well as to its future, a splendid luncheon was had in the Women's club house. The officers for the next 13 months were chosen and are as follows:

G. A. Hege, district trustee; Andrew S. Wilson, president; Harry B. Crawford, first vice president; Charles D. Goedele, second vice president; Clarence Suits, treasurer. Those on the board are Emil Swanson, Thomas W. Yatz, August A. Herrman, T. E. Fisher, William S. Middlemass, W. R. Johnston and C. M. Hensley. Donnell G. Montgomery, Eagle Rock's popular C. of C. secretary, was elected by the board as its secretary. J. D. Rorick was elected sergeant-at-arms.

Emil Swanson, temporary president, turned the meeting over to Mr. Coffman, president of the Burbank Kiwanis. The speakers were Harry B. Crawford, C. M. Lindsay and Franklin Keen, who is an international representative. Mr. Keen's wonderful personality was very vividly shown in his talk before the members. He told of the ideals and what the Kiwanis club stood for. He emphasized the need of getting a good start by having the right men elected for the right office.

APARTMENT HOUSE OF FORTY ROOMS FOR LOMITA AVENUE

Lomita avenue, in Glendale, street of the giant eucalyptus trees, is to have another apartment house! Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Dougherty of Los Angeles this morning secured a permit for the erection of a two-story 40-room apartment house at 210 East Lomita avenue at an estimated cost of $48,000.

Contractor C. T. Palladino of 600 East Lomita avenue intends to begin construction upon the new structure at once.

The property which the building will occupy has a frontage of 50 feet on the south side of Lomita avenue and a depth of 175 feet. The apartment house will be 38 by 128 feet in size.

W. S. Caldwell of 326 West Wilson avenue recently sold this lot to its new owners.

L. A. MAN HURT BY AUTO IN GLENDALE

J. F. Pecare of 319 East Eleventh street, Los Angeles, had his collar bone broken when struck by an automobile on Brand boulevard, Glendale, just north of Harvard street, about 6:30 last night, and is now a patient at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

Mr. Pecare was crossing from the east to the west side of Brand boulevard and, according to report, stepped directly in front of a machine driven south by H. C. Schumacher of 109 South Brand boulevard. He was grazed by the left front fender and knocked down. It is understood that the automobile was going about fifteen miles per hour.

FIVE MILLIONS ROAD REPAIRS PLANNED BY THE STATE

[By Associated Press]
SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7.—Construction work of the estimated cost of approximately $5,000,000 for widening and thickening existing paved state highways is included in the program of the state highway commission for the next few months, according to a statement issued here today from the office of R. M. Morton, state highway engineer.

Plans and specifications for a large part of the work and in some instances bids already have been called for.

The expenditure will be made from funds derived from the state's share of the new gasoline tax and motor vehicle license fees.

While it is impossible, according to Morton, to make a definite statement at this time regarding the location of all of the rebuilding work under consideration, the contracts to be advertised will include paving of some nine miles south of Sacramento on the Stockton road; paving south of Stockton on the Manteca district rebuilding of the highway between Oceanside and San Diego; rebuilding of the Rincon highway in Ventura county; widening of the highway in the Calabasas section of Los Angeles county; widening and grading of the Pacific highway north of Redding in Shasta and Siskiyou counties.

It is estimated that the state's share of the gasoline tax and the motor vehicle fees will be at least $7,500,000 for 1924, which is 50 per cent in excess of the present revenues for maintenance and reconstruction.

HELP COMRADE BOCK CELEBRATE 94TH BIRTHDAY

Ten comrades of N. P. Banks Post G. A. R. of Glendale, gathered yesterday at the home of Comrade Charles Bock in Rock, Rock in honor of his 94th birthday, bringing to him and his good wife the greetings of his comrades and congratulations upon the preservation of life and reasonable degree of health and activity to such a ripe old age. Those present were Chaplain Chas. R. Norton, J. A. Thayer, Geo. W. Sanford, T. C. Fuller, W. G. Collins of Glendale and George W. Davis, Geo. F. LeClere, F. B. Wood, Geo. T. Dorrance and C. H. Clark of Eagle Rock. Wives of comrades present included Mrs. C. R. Norton, Mrs. J. A. Thayer, Mrs. Geo. W. Sanford, Mrs. C. H. Clark and Mrs. Geo. W. Davis. Five daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bock were present also: Mrs. Geo. Sheldon, now living in Seattle; Mrs. E. C. Kiner, Mrs. Minnie Stanner, Mrs. F. L. Severance and Mrs. J. C. LeSaulnier, all of Los Angeles, also a granddaughter, Miss Dora Smith. Mrs. Herman Banker, Mrs. Dorothy Curtis and Mrs. Earl Biggins, intimate friends of the family were present, also. An appetizing luncheon was served. Words of greeting extended by Chaplain Norton, J. A. Thayer and C. H. Clark, and an original poem read by Comrade Sanford made up the informal program. All expressed their enjoyment of the occasion, wishing Comrade Bock many more happy birthdays.

TWO MEXICANS TAKEN UP ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Two Mexicans, B. Carmono and N. Ruiz, both of San Fernando, were picked up last night in Burbank by Officers Ackerly and Miller on San Fernando boulevard, for possessing and transporting liquor. The officers found one gallon and one pint of moonshine. The men were held pending their hearing which is set for this afternoon.

GRIFFITH PARK AUTO CRASH

The entrance to Griffith Park late last night was the scene of a collision between a Chandler sedan driven by Andrew C. Snyder of Hollywood and a truck driven by D. C. Kerns of 725 Porter street for the Calla Lily creamery. Not much damage was done to the machines, but Kerns suffered a badly cut finger.

GLENDALE KIWANIS CLUB HEARS FINE SPEAKERS

By W. L. TAYLOR
Glendale Kiwanis club had two prominent men as its guests today at the noon luncheon. E. R. Waite, secretary of the Shawnee, Oklahoma, chamber of commerce, and Prof. Emory Olson, assistant to the dean of the University of Southern California. On account of Mr. Waite coming unannounced he was not able to speak for any length of time, but his five-minute talk had a ring and a thrill that was felt by the hundred or more Kiwanians and guests present. Mr. Waite said he could talk for hours on Glendale and not say the same thing twice.

"Gentlemen, you are selling the world opportunities," said Waite. "Half of the world is already sold on Southern California. They don't know anything about any other section, and it is up to you to make your city what you want it to be. I know you will put over the sewer proposition, for it will be your strongest factor in building a big city here. With such a bunch of live wires as you have, Glendale should grow so large that your city limits will expand for many miles on every side."

President Ferguson asked the speaker to return at a future date when he could have ample time to give an address.

W. L. Taylor, in introducing Mr. Waite, said, "This is the only man in the United States who can boost and get the name of his city in every newspaper without paying for it."

Mr. Olson, the speaker of the day, was then introduced. He took as his subject, "When is a Dollar not a Dollar?" After telling several humorous stories he proceeded to throw light upon this much misunderstood subject.

"The shopkeepers of Austria use their money as labels for their packages, so depreciated has become its value," said Mr. Olson. "Money—what is it? Money is an instrumentality—a go-between by which we are able to operate our affairs and get what we need. But money must have a standard—an economic value. During the Civil war we had a parallel case of what is happening in Germany. The printing presses of our country were kept busy turning out greenbacks, which were promises to pay, and which had no standard back of them, and Civil war money is not worth any more today than the German mark. Promises to pay carry no interest, and the gold must be back of money to give it a standard value. We put twenty-two and twenty-three hundreds of gold in our money and try to measure everything in gold. There was the greenback and gold standard back in the early days of strife, and the same condition practically prevails in Europe today. You cannot make a standard of value which does not have value in itself. A dollar is not a dollar unless it has an economic value behind it."

The luncheon meeting today was a hummer, and a spirit of good fellowship predominated. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Herring of the Glendale Ice Cream company gave the silent boost in the form of blocks of delicious ice cream which had "Kiwanis Club" artistically worked in chocolate letters on their face. Eddie was given a rising vote of thanks for this contribution.

The winning football team came in for its share of praise and after many eulogies and hearty cheers it was voted to join with the other clubs in giving the team a rousing time at a dinner to be put on by several luncheon clubs.

Lyman P. Clark, chairman of the committee on publicity, gave a few pointed remarks on the sewer bond election and urged every Kiwanian to vote. He called upon Capt. T. D. Watson, who explained registration. "Every one, who has registered since January 1, 1922 need not re-register unless he has moved," said Mr. Watson, who had received the latest information from Registrar Lyons. Mr. Watson urged every one to register. There are four places at which voters can register, namely, the Glendale Daily Press, the City Hall, Chamber of Commerce and the Security Bank.

W. L. Twitt stated that the Realty board had appointed a committee of four of its members to work with the other committees in assisting in the sewer campaign.

The much-talked-of "Visiting Contest" put on by the Kiwanis Club closed today and there were quite a few members who made 100 per cent. A banquet will be given next Friday night, and the losing side will pay for the same.

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER TOMORROW

Registration for Glendale's approaching sewer bond election closes tomorrow at midnight. The importance of every citizen who is interested in the community's welfare making sure that he is properly registered was emphasized this morning by E. F. Sanders, secretary of the chamber of commerce. A registrar is on duty at the Security Trust and Savings bank at 100 South Brand boulevard and also in the local newspaper offices.

NEARLY 102 YEARS OLD BUT WORK IS EXACT

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Daugherty of 700 East Harvard street, Glendale, have just recently received a highly appreciated gift from their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert Daugherty of Pasadena. It is a wood block, 5 1/2 x 8 1/2 inches, and three-fourths of an inch thick, made to cut bread on. It is made of more than a hundred pieces of wood of different species and colors, accurately shaped and then glued together. One side is in four sections, divided by cross pieces, each made of several strips of varicolored wood. On the other side two diagonal cross pieces of similar construction mark the divisions. The work is all so accurate that no wood carving could surpass it in symmetrical completeness.

On one edge of the block is written in a clear, plain hand, "Miss A. Cleveland, Cleveland, Ohio, Born Oct. 20, 1822." Mr. Cleveland is now in his 102nd year, yet he still makes these little souvenirs for relatives and friends. His sight and hearing are still good and his frame is erect. He does all the work on these blocks and has lost nothing of the deftness of touch that characterized his earlier years. He has lived in Cleveland and vicinity all his days. It was his family that gave his home city its name.

Young Mrs. Daugherty is hoping that this hale and hearty centenarian grandfather may yet pay her a visit. Her husband, Robert Daugherty, is head engineer of Caltech and a valued member of the faculty. He recently underwent a rather serious surgical operation from which he has not yet completely recovered.

BIG GIRL SCOUT RALLY FOR SATURDAY EVENING

Plans are completed for a big Girl Scout rally to be held in the auditorium of the Glendale High school at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night. Mrs. F. A. Beach, chairman of the Glendale council, invites all girls between the ages of 10 and 15 who are interested to be present. She also urges the parents to come and see what the scout movement is doing.

During the past week Mrs. Beach has been in consultation with Mrs. W. G. McAdoo of Los Angeles, who is a member of the national committee in New York City. She is very enthusiastic over the work and regrets that she will be unable to be present Saturday night but has promised to come to Glendale at some future meeting.

Miss Beachly of Pasadena, who was formerly a field director of the scout movement, will be present and there will also be stunts put on by each of the five troops, musical numbers and refreshments.

GLENDALE'S FAME LURES YOUNG MISSES

The fame of Glendale caused Margaret Lamb, 15, of Riverbank, and Ruth Gardner, 16, of Oakdale, to leave their homes and come to the Jewel City on an outing. Clinthe Gardner of 472 Vine street was surprised to find his sister and her companion in his room when he returned home last night. Upon finding that the two girls were runaways he escorted them to the police station and they were taken to juvenile hall in Los Angeles to spend the night. Relatives are expected to come after them today.

GLENDALE HAS GOOD CHANCE TO BEAT L. B.

Jackrabbits Heavier by 20 Pounds Average But Dynamiters Faster

By FRANCIS W. READ
"I believe that we have a good chance to beat Long Beach." It is in these words that Normal C. Hayhurst, coach of the Glendale high school football team, speaks of the game tomorrow afternoon at the Los Angeles Coliseum for the Southern California high school championship. There is none of the gloomy Gus stuff about Hayhurst. He has a real team, a football aggregation that has defeated all opponents this season, and has been scored on in but one game. The team is full of the same spirit of optimism that characterizes Hayhurst's speech these days. The boys are out to win and realize that they are expected to bring home the bacon. They feel that they can do it. The school is behind the team and overflowing with enthusiasm. The students tell the world that the "Dynamiters" are loaded for Jackrabbits and they are firmly of the opinion that the dynamite will take effect. The whole city seems to have the feeling that the Black and Red gridgers will defeat Long Beach and it is understood that Mayor Robinson has officially proclaimed tomorrow an open day on Jackrabbits. At any rate it is certain that the Jackrabbits will be playing with dynamite Saturday.

This spirit of optimism that prevails among the coaching staff, the team, the students and the entire city must, however, be interpreted as overconfidence. The

F. M. BUTTERFIELD'S ARREST IS DUE TO OVERSIGHT

Officer Carroll of the Glendale police department informs the Daily Press that a serious injustice was done F. M. Butterfield of 121 West Maple street, Glendale, by his arrest on a false charge of moving an auto from Milwaukee, Wis., to Los Angeles before payment was completed.

Officer Carroll says he personally investigated the matter and was shown the cancelled checks for payment in full for the machine. The Milwaukee dealers had failed to return his notes and give him credit on their books. As soon as Mr. Butterfield's defense was wired the company, an investigation was made and the true facts disclosed. The company at once informed the Milwaukee police head to wire instructions to release Mr. Butterfield, acknowledging it had overlooked his payments.

The Daily Press feels that this statement is due Mr. Butterfield, who has been an exemplary citizen of Glendale for the past six months.

MRS. JONH IRELAND IS KNOCKED DOWN BY BUS

Mrs. John Ireland of 312 West Harvard street, Glendale, was slightly injured about 6:45 p. m. yesterday when she was knocked down by an automobile. She was taken to the Glendale Research hospital. While waiting for a bus at the corner of Harvard and Glendale avenue, Mrs. Ireland walked to the center of the street to see if one was coming. The next thing she remembers is that something hit her. Injuries consisted of a bruise on the right side. She suffered also from the shock.

Glendale's Sewer

EXPERT INFORMATION FURNISHED DAILY ON THIS GREAT PROJECT

(In this column will appear from day to day, comments on the sewer project, which is the biggest thing that has ever confronted the citizens of Glendale. These articles are prepared by the public committees of the sewer committee of the chamber of commerce and may be considered as expert information.)

SEWER COMMENTS
E. E. Harrington, 334 North Hollywood:
"There is only one stand that can be sensibly taken in connection with the sewers—they simply must be voted. If the city is to continue her progress they must be voted. No large building or hotel will come to this city so long as we have nothing but pools. To turn down the bonds would be to retard the growth of the city."

Carl M. Pomeroy, 622 North Louise:
"The sewer bonds should go over big. They are a good thing—an absolute necessity—for two especial reasons, the health of the people of this city and for continued growth of Glendale."

THE AGREEMENTS BETWEEN GLENDALE AND LOS ANGELES

This is the second of a series of articles discussing the agreement between Glendale and Los Angeles relative to the disposal of sewage from Glendale thru the sewers of Los Angeles. Sections four and five of this agreement follow:

"IV. Said party of the second part agrees to procure as soon as possible, by purchase or condemnation (or if it is necessary for the party of the first part to condemn, second party agrees to pay all costs thereof) all necessary rights of way for said sewer so to be constructed, between the points of said City of Los Angeles heretofore mentioned, and along the line, as nearly as may be, heretofore described—said points and said line being subject to modifications as may be found to be necessary and convenient for the laying and construction of said sewer and all pertaining to the engineering designs, plans and specifications of the Board of Public Works of the said City of Los Angeles, party of the first part.

"V.—It is mutually understood and agreed by and between the parties hereto that said party of the first part shall have the right to make all connections to said sewer so to be constructed hereunder and discharge all water into said sewer from any and all territory within the present boundaries of the said City of Los Angeles, party of the first part, or from any and all territory which may hereafter be annexed to or consolidated with said City of Los Angeles, party of the first part, which territory is so located as to be properly or necessarily tributary to said sewer so to be constructed under this agreement.

Section IV. requires the City of Glendale to procure all rights-of-way for the outfall sewer to be constructed under this agreement. This outfall is forty-nine thousand, seven hundred feet (49,700') long. The right-of-way for thirty-nine thousand, nine hundred feet (39,900') has already been secured by the City Engineering Department of Glendale free of cost to the City. The remaining ninety-eight hundred feet (98,000') is promised free and seventy-seven hundred feet (77,000') remains yet to be secured. It is anticipated that this last item with the exception of fifteen hundred feet (15,000') will be secured free of cost to the City.

Section IV. also allows the line and the designs to be modified as is found necessary for the proper and economical construction of the sewer. Such modifications from the original design of the City of Los Angeles have already been made thru the cooperation of the Sewer Department of the City Engineering Office of Los Angeles and have resulted in a saving of approximately $200,000.00 to the City of Glendale. Three general types of construction have been approved by Los Angeles and it is proposed to take bids on the construction of all three and to select and build the one which proves to be the cheapest and best.

Section V. permits the City of Los Angeles to connect any sewers within the City of Los Angeles which are necessarily tributary to the outfall sewer to be constructed under this agreement.

As stated before, this sewer is one unit of a system designed to serve ultimately the entire San Fernando Valley. It is impossible for any of the territory south of Alhambra and west of Los Angeles river to enter this sewer before this agreement.

HERE'S A POINTER FOR GLENDALEANS ON HOTEL GETTING

FRESNO, Dec. 7.—Fresno's new $1,250,000 hotel, The Californian, will be opened for public service at a grand opening on the evening of December 29, it is announced by H. Wingate Lake, who with Albert Bettens, is the lessee of the magnificent new hostelry.

Prominent hotel men of California and others interested in hotel as well as the public will be invited to attend the opening ceremonies. When it is opened, the new hotel will take its place as one of the finest and largest in interior California.

Construction of the hotel has represented a unique spirit of community enterprise. In response to a real civic need and supported by the chamber of commerce and luncheon clubs of the city, the new building was made possible largely by stock subscriptions of public spirited citizens.

The new hostelry has 258 rooms with a bath in every room. The building is 150 feet square, with two wings, each eight stories high and a superstructure making it ten stories in height. One of the architectural features is the loggia from which an excellent view can be obtained of the valley surrounding Fresno.

The exterior of the building is of Italian renaissance type blended with the California style. The lobby of the hotel is its most spectacular interior attraction. It is three stories high, 90 feet long and 56 feet wide. A roof garden, overlooking the lobby is 1,800 square feet. The principal dining room on the main floor will seat 200 guests and a banquet room on the second floor will accom-

SHOE DEPARTMENT FEATURES PARIS STYLES

The shoe department of Pendroy's store, Brand at Harvard, is featuring for the Christmas rush several new importations in fine ladies' footwear, recently received from New York and Paris, all of which are offered at decided savings. Included in this lot are several new designs, comprising fancy pumps, strap effects and two-tone colorings which will please the eye and give excellent service.

Besides carrying a full line of high-grade women's shoes, this department specializes in misses' footwear, and the stock is at the present time complete. Fancy bedroom slippers for Xmas are offered, and expert salesmen will take care to fit and serve you right.

Never before, since the opening of the store two years ago, has the demand for high grade footwear been so great, each clerk being at all times in the sale of ladies and misses shoes.

modate 400. There will also be a smaller "coffee shoppe." The hotel has four speedy elevators.

Most of the furnishings have been constructed especially for The Californian. The carpets are of an unusually refined and attractive pattern. The silver and china glass also have been ordered with special care to good taste. A magnificent pipe organ is another lobby feature.

FANSET'S DYE WORKS IS DOING BIG BUSINESS

John H. Fanset, proprietor of Fanset's Dye Works, reports a flourishing business in both of his establishments, one of which is located in the Court shops, 213 East Broadway, and the other in Los Angeles. Both of the large businesses were built up by years of excellent service in cleaning and dyeing. The local plant was opened about eight years ago, at 110 East Broadway, and later moved to its present location. Quick and excellent service is offered by this company and a splendid delivery service is maintained, making it one of the most up-to-date plants in the city.

"The slogan, 'None better,' is truly carried out," says Mr. Fanset, "and our prices are consistent with our excellent work. Our cleaning and dyeing is guaranteed."

NOMINATING COMMITTEE OF LEGION WILL REPORT

The nominating committee will make its formal report of nominations of officers for the ensuing year at tonight's session of Post 127 of the American Legion.

"The report of the nominating committee does not close nominations," asserted Commander Chalmer D. Day this morning. "It simply starts the nominations off. Nominations will be open until the night of December 21st."

The meeting tonight will be in charge of Past Commander Emil Kiefer and Past Commander James F. McBryde, both of whom are members of the nominating committee. Besides the commander, other members are Attorney D. W. Stephenson and Dru Nicols.

TAKE DUE NOTICE ALL YE GLENDALE SCIOTS

Here is how the Glendale Sciots' Bulletin reads this week:

"When the roll is called this Friday, will YOU be there?"

"The meeting this Friday, December 7, will be plumb full of pep from start to finish. Many things of importance in the Pyramid will come up and it behooves every Scot to have his carcass displayed some place along the lines when the Toparch in all his wisdom starts reading the gavel."

"And now again comes another invitation from the tent of the Toparch and his hordes of camel driving followers of San Bernardino Pyramid No. 38 to that great and monstrous ceremonial to be held in their midst on Saturday of this week. Our band is going in all its glory to again show the Sciots of Southern California the true and proper way to render prize winning music and in its wake will follow the hoards of Glendale Pyramid to assist our neighbors in feeding their raw meat to the Crocodiles. Every Scot should go who can and it is extremely necessary that all who intend to go be present this Friday that proper arrangements may be made in regard to transportation."

"The Crocodiles weep; their mournful groans are heard coming over the Valley of the Los Angeles river. The followers of the Pharaoh and his Libyan guards wait patiently on the shores of the Nile for the raw meat which is to be brought to them to be roasted on the hot sands. Woe to the sheep-herding, crocodile-feeding member of Glendale Pyramid No. 39 who fails to bring in an application for that biggest of ceremonials to be staged in January. We need two hundred candidates, and if each Scot will bring in one at this week's meeting we will be well on our way to that number."

"The Pyramid has voted that on and after the first day of February the fee for initiation will be raised to 25 bucks. If you have a prospective member lined up be sure and get his application right away. Too much delay is expensive. "Our motto: If we don't eat, we starve. We can't starve."

PERSONAL AND LOCAL ITEMS

Mrs. Mary Beauchamp, 1210 South Glendale avenue, is now able to be up and about a little after quite a serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Haggis, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. J. Ray Bentley, motored to the city Wednesday evening, December 6th, to attend the Orpheus club concert which was held in the Philharmonic auditorium.

Mrs. L. H. Fuller of 714 East Elk avenue has been entertaining her nephew, Grover L. Simpson, who is an officer of the U. S. S. Mississippi, which is now at Los Angeles harbor.

Fred S. Boyd of Glendale was an outgoing passenger from San Francisco on Wednesday's steamer Manoa for Honolulu. He plans to spend some time in Hawaii and will visit Kilauea volcano while in the island, besides enjoying the delights of winter bathing at Waikiki beach.

Mrs. George E. Daniels of 142 North Central avenue is anticipating the arrival from Chicago of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Orson and family, who are planning to make their home in Southern California. She has not seen her brother for twenty years and is looking forward to the event with much pleasure.

ODD FELLOWS ELECT OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

H. T. Stevens was elected noble grand of Glendale lodge of Odd Fellows for the ensuing term at the regular meeting held Thursday night at L. O. F. hall. Other officers chosen included H. W. Hollenbeck, vice grand; Howard Stanley, recording secretary; Charles Stanley, financial secretary; Charles Pease, treasurer; Lee Murdoch, trustee. Initiatory work was conferred on a Mr. McMullin. There were a number of visitors present from other lodges and after the meeting an oyster supper was served.

READING CIRCLE MET WEDNESDAY AT LIBRARY

Mutual Benefit reading circle members held a very interesting meeting at the Glendale public library on Wednesday morning. It was announced that the quotation books would be distributed at the next meeting, or those desiring to secure them before that time may communicate with Mrs. C. L. Viereck, Glendale 1363; Mrs. E. V. Henry, Glendale 2127; Mrs. E. B. Moore, Glendale 1517; Mrs. B. L. Cline, Glendale 971. A review of an editorial "The Christmas Cry of the Children" was given by Mrs. B. L. Cline. In the afternoon Mrs. Henry continued reading from the book "Play in Education" (Lee), in which it brought out the benefit of strenuous play in the mental, moral and muscular growth of the girls as well as the boys. The meeting of the circle on December 12 will be the last for the year. At that there will be a pie sale conducted at noon.

GLENDALE HAS OUTGROWN SCHOOLS

So rapidly is Glendale growing that so far as the grammar school situation is concerned the city is in the same position now that it was before the bonds were voted several months ago for additions to the various schools, according to a statement made by Richardson D. White, superintendent of the city schools of Glendale, at a mass meeting that was held last night at the Central avenue school. Practically all of the rooms of the city schools are filled to the limit, which is 42 pupils, while some of them have more than the limit. That action looking toward the increasing of the school facilities should be taken at once was the opinion expressed by Mr. White.

A committee of three, consisting of O. G. Thompson, H. P. Goertz and Mr. Jones, was appointed to meet the board of directors of the city schools and ask that the high school be moved to a not too far distant date for the purpose of discussing the advisability of voting additional bonds for the construction of an intermediate school at the site already purchased by the city at the corner of Kenilworth avenue and Glenwood road.

Prof. G. U. Moyle, principal of the Glendale High school, spoke at the high school situation in general and expressed the hope that plans for the High school on the west side of the city would be taken up for serious consideration in the very near future.

Prof. Moyle also spoke at length on the football situation in the Glendale High. He told of the favorable comment that is being made on the clean tactics of play of the local team, which has battled its way up to the finals in the prep division in Southern California, and which will play Long Beach Saturday afternoon for the championship. He said that he knows of people who have been influenced to come to Glendale by the clean playing of the team. They feel, he says, that any city that can produce such a clean bunch of players must be a good place in which to live. He urged that the whole city get behind the team Saturday afternoon at the game at the stadium in Los Angeles.

This mass meeting was presided over by O. M. Newby, while J. R. Gray was secretary.

LODGES CLUBS - CHURCHES

FIRST PRESENTATION OF "OH-HO" TONIGHT AT TUESDAY CLUB

Tonight is "Oh-Ho" night. It is the night of the premier of this musical show of college life that is expected to rank as one of the very finest things ever accomplished in local talent shows in Glendale.

"Oh-Ho" has its premier tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon club. The final presentation of the show will be on Saturday evening.

Those who have not yet made their plans for seats can get reservations any time during the day at the Sun Drug company's Glendale store. After 6 o'clock each evening the box office will be moved to the Tuesday Afternoon club theater.

All the officers of the Tuesday Afternoon club are acting as patronesses of the "Oh-Ho" show, headed by the president, Mrs. Daniel Campbell. Many have invited guests for the show, many of the guests being from out of town, as this event is one of the most important in the annals of this popular organization.

Glendale's most beautiful girls are all connected with the "Oh-Ho" show. They will either be on the stage or act as ushers. The ushers are: Margaret Brown, Sara Chandler, Florence McLaughlin, Evelyn Sample, Charlotte Busby, Katherine Stofft, Doris Osmon, Winnie Parker, Mary Stanley, Evelyn Curran, Beth Humes and Emma Laura Cooper.

On the stage is a galaxy of twenty fascinating dancers, including Alice Dewey, Marjorie Temple, Beryl Goodale, Gladys Gilman, Elizabeth Walker, Leona Hunt, Marjorie Hart, Rebecca Hodson, Ruth Clauson, Edna Steerman, Sally Trump, Dorothy Houston, Polly Richmond, Ida Englehart, Evelyn Hunt and Marie Hearnshaw.

And the jazz and pep that is being put up by that boys' chorus, including Howard Elliott as the yell leader, Archie Neel, Tubby Walcott, Henry Grace, Arthur Cressy, Wally Haynes, Norman Nelson, Bill Shinner, Jack James, Golburn Danner, John Lovel, Theodore Haig, Ronald West, Elmer Fitz, Darrel Elliott, Cyril Walker, Dante La Frankie, Bub Carver, Jess Hibbs, Marion Morrison and Ralph Eccles.

The "Oh-Ho" leads are one of the cleverest organizations that has ever presented an amateur show in Glendale. They include Mrs. John Cole, Mrs. Malvern Barker, Miss Jane Pearsall, Miss Hazel Linkogel, John Reber, Arthur Wyatt, Joe Griffin, Jack Stathem, Stanley Lindman and George Lowry.

Arthur Wyatt, past exalted ruler of Pasadena Elks, has consented to play his famous role of the college professor in "Oh-Ho" here, a role that he is noted for in the Crown City. Wyatt is a professional comedian of wide experience. He will sing his great comedy song, "A Little Bug," one of the best bits of comedy humor that has ever been written. During the war, Wyatt, as one of the best known entertainers in Uncle Sam's service, sang this song to more than 300,000 soldiers in France.

Tonight's the night. The place is the Tuesday Afternoon club. The time is 8:15. The doors will open at 7:30 to take care of those who have not already made reservations for seats.

HARMONY QUARTET AT BROADWAY M. E. TONIGHT

The Harmony quartet, a group of singers sent out by the district church, will be the feature at the concert to be given tonight at the Broadway Methodist church, South. This quartet, composed of young men who have proven their worth as singers, is known all over the state of California, they having been on programs in all churches of the state. Included on the program are several other artists of note, musical and vocal selections furnishing the remainder of the entertainment. There is no charge whatever and the public is cordially invited to attend.

ALTAR SOCIETY TO HOLD AFRON, COOKED FOOD SALE

On Saturday, December 8, the Altar society of the Holy Family Catholic church will hold an apron and cooked food sale at Coker & Taylor's, 209 South Brand boulevard. The committee in charge includes Mesdames Chappius, Huesman and Quinn.

HOME ECONOMICS SECTION HEARS MR. SKELTON TALK

Through the courtesy of J. A. Newton Electric company, Mr. Skelton of the Westinghouse Electric company gave a very interesting talk at the regular meeting of the home economics section held at the Tuesday club house on Thursday with Mrs. Allen Fairchild, curator, presiding. Mr. Skelton's talk was on table and household electrical appliances. There will be no meeting of the section until January 17, the meeting for December 20 being eliminated on account of the holiday season.

CHAPTER C J OF P. E. O. PLANS FOR A CHRISTMAS STORY

Chapter C J, P. E. O., is planning to have a Christmas party at its next meeting, which will be held on December 20 at the home of Mrs. Durhan Porter on Spencer road, according to plans announced at the meeting on Thursday at the home of Miss Janette Herrick, 1237 North Central avenue. There will be a Christmas tree, gifts and a Christmas program. Miss Herrick was assisted as hostess by Mrs. Harriet Hamilton and Dr. Laura Brown.

CASA VERDUGO M. E. LADIES' AID BAZAAR

The Casa Verdugo M. E. Ladies' Aid will hold a bazaar all day on Saturday, December 8, at the church. Luncheon will be served at noon.

"LADIES' NIGHT" DANCE AND BAND CONCERT, SCIOTS

Combining a dancing party given by the Glendale Sciots' band and the first "ladies' night" of Glendale pyramid No. 39, A. E. O. S., a most delightful evening was enjoyed by a large crowd Thursday night at the Glendale Press hall, 333 North Brand boulevard. During the evening numbers of entertainment were given by Mrs. Evelyn Pierce, reader; songs by Dorothy Potter; recitations, Evelyn Thompson; Scotch bagpipe and Highland Fling number by Scot Fraser and son. Music for dancing was furnished by the Sciots' band and members of Kelly's Shrine orchestra. The committee in charge of arrangements included Sciots R. E. Johnston and G. O. Russell.

PLAN CHRISTMAS PROGRAM FOR PACIFIC AVE. SCHOOL

Plans for the Christmas program to be given at the Pacific avenue school were announced at the regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association held there on Thursday. On December 18, beginning at 1:30 o'clock, a Christmas play will be put on by children of the fifth and sixth grades. The meeting was opened with the flag salute and singing of "America," led by Miss Taylor.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery was the speaker of the afternoon, her topic being "Service."

She closed her talk with the reading of the poem "Out Under the Stars" (Louise Stevenson). Announcement was made of the opening of the new school cafeteria. Members of the association voted to have a platform built in the court to make it more convenient for school entertainments, meetings, etc. Mr. Prickett has volunteered his services for the construction of the platform.

On taking the room count Mrs. Laughlin's room won first place and Miss Todd's second place for having the largest percentage of mothers present.

ACTIVITIES OF EAGLE ROCK B. & P. WOMEN

Mrs. E. D. Snow, president of the B. & P. club, entertained its membership with a most enjoyable party at her home on Summer avenue, Monday evening, with Miss Dorothy LaVoy as guest of honor. Miss LaVoy talked about the value and beauty of the drama, especially the one-act play. There will be no more meetings of the drama section until after the holidays.

Next Monday evening the music section will meet as usual with Mrs. Mott M. Marston.

These evenings are proving very valuable. The Spanish section meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month in the library auditorium at 7:30. Miss Gardner has taken the group over much ground but it is not too late to enter on next Tuesday.

The executive board voted to extend the open charter until the first of the year to accommodate those women who will be unable to affiliate with the club until after the holidays.

The club will meet in regular session next Thursday evening at 7:30 in the kindergarten room of the Central school, where the meetings will be held hereafter. After the program the social hour will be in the nature of a "white elephant" sale. Members will bring their "white elephants" and sell them. The money will be used for the physical training section.

LARGE CONGREGATION AT REVIVAL SERVICE

The largest congregation this week so far, attended the Nazarene Evangelistic meeting Thursday night. Rev. Hatfield preached a very helpful sermon from the text as found in 2 Peter 2:9. He is bringing some very deep truths home to the congregations each night. Rev. Leo S. Kline, pastor of the Central Avenue M. E. church and a number of his people attended last night. It is hoped they will come again. The meeting tonight will be at 7:30.

ST. MARK'S GUILD CLEARS $300 ON BAZAAR, DINNER

According to the reports made at the regular meeting of St. Mark's guild of the Episcopal church, held Thursday with Mrs. A. A. Bassett in charge, about $300 was cleared at the bazaar and dinner held recently. It was decided to hold an all-day meeting next Thursday, beginning at 10 o'clock, with a pot luck luncheon at noon. Each member is to bring a guest. Miss Louise Packer will have on sale the remainder of the dresses and aprons from her booth at the bazaar and Mrs. Card will have some fancy work. On January 3 the guild women will serve the annual parish dinner.

CANADIAN CLUB PLANS CHRISTMAS TREE

Plans for a Christmas tree and entertainment were made at the business meeting of the Glendale Canadian club held Thursday night at the K. P. hall. The place and details will be announced later. After the meeting an interesting program was given, including vocal numbers by J. C. Wight, also by Mrs. Lowry, and a talk by Dr. Crosby. The Glendale Canadian club orchestra, including violin, piano, saxophone and cornet, made its first appearance last night and rendered several selections. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

On December 20 the club will give a dance, to be in charge of the young people. The committee for arrangements includes Al Western, Mrs. Hugh Livie and Albert Jones.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH BAZAAR AGAIN TODAY

Attendance at the Congregational church bazaar and dinner at the church Thursday afternoon and evening was very encouraging and an equally large crowd is anticipated for today. The women of the church will again serve dinner tonight from 5:30 o'clock until 7.

THURSDAY CLUB HAS FINE PROGRAM

Thursday Afternoon club members enjoyed a very delightful program at their regular meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft when they were entertained by readings given by Miss Hazel Campbell and musical numbers by Mrs. Svendsen of Los Angeles.

Mrs. E. V. Bacon presided at a short business meeting, which was opened with the flag salute and singing of "America," led by Mrs. Coleman. After the reading of the minutes by Miss Eva Daniels, a communication was read from the Tuesday Afternoon club asking the Thursday club to appoint a chairman for a committee to co-operate with the ex-service men and women, which would work in conjunction with the committee from the former organization and also the various women's clubs of Los Angeles district. Mrs. Bacon requested that some member volunteer for this work.

Arrangements were announced for the Christmas bazaar, which will be held on Thursday, December 13, in a store on South Brand boulevard near Cypress. Those who will have charge of the various booths will include the following: Fancy work, Mrs. M. Barnes; dolls, Mrs. L. C. Denman; aprons, Mrs. Becker; candy, Mrs. Valet; toys, Mrs. Archer; grab bag, Mrs. John Sharpe; ice cream, Mrs. Coleman. There will also be hot dogs, coffee, and home-cooked foods. Mrs. C. Lake of 325 West Cypress street, announced that on Friday evening, December 7, a card party would be held at her home for the benefit of the club. At the food sale held recently over $21 was cleared.

Mrs. E. J. Morgan, chairman of the Glendale auxiliary of the Children's Hospital society, which is being sponsored by the Thursday Afternoon club, announced a meeting to be held the first Monday in January at her home. She also asked for donations of fruits, etc., for the children at Christmas time. A communication was read inviting the club members to attend the house-warming of John McGroarty's new home at Tujunga on Saturday afternoon.

A letter of appreciation for the bowl which had been presented to her by the club was received from Mrs. Roy Bancroft, member of the club who recently moved away from Glendale. Miss Hazel Campbell of Glendale gave a very clever selection from "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" and "Dorothy Sullivan and Her Sweethearts." Mrs. Svendsen gave two charming vocal numbers, "A Thanksgiving Song" and "All For You" (Brown), followed by a vocal solo "To the Rising Sun." Miss Campbell completed the program by giving in costume a group of Chinese Mother Goose Rhymes, with Mrs. Svendsen at the piano.

At the close of the program a social hour was enjoyed, during which the following hostesses for the afternoon served coffee and cake: Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, Mrs. L. C. Denman, Mrs. Ella Galtner, Mrs. Frank Peters and Miss Mae Cornwell. The meeting of the club on December 20 will be devoted to arts and crafts work.

ETHEL HODGSON CLEGHORN WILL GIVE RECITAL

Ethel Hodgson Cleghorn of the professional department of the Emerson School of Self-Expression will give a recital on Saturday night, December 8, in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, 150 South Brand boulevard, beginning at 8 o'clock. This will be the first of a series of recitals to be given by students of the professional department. Mrs. Cleghorn will be assisted by Besse Long of Glendale, pianist; Miss Carrie Stafford of Los Angeles, soprano; Miss Harriet Stafford, accompanist.

COLLEGE WOMEN'S CLUB TO MEET SATURDAY

Glendale College Women's club members will meet Saturday at the Tuesday Afternoon club. Luncheon will be served promptly at 12 o'clock and will be followed by a business session in charge of Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, president. The program will be in charge of the University of Southern California women with Dr. Jessie Russell as chairman. Mrs. R. D. Von Kleinsmid will be the guest of honor. Mab Copeland Lineman, prominent Los Angeles attorney, will speak on "Property Rights of Women." Musical numbers will be contributed by Mrs. Ralph Pauland, vocalist, and Miss Mary Taylor, pianist. Mrs. Max Green is chairman of the reception committee and Miss Ruth Palmer is chairman of decorations. The University of Southern California students are invited to attend the program, which starts promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

FATHERS' NIGHT AT COLORADO SCHOOL

"Fathers' Night" will be celebrated tonight, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, by the Colorado Parent-Teachers' association. During the pause between two reels of motion pictures, a program will be given by the children of the school. During the social hour pumpkin pie and coffee will be served. The next regular meeting of the association will be held in January.

North Country Looks For Good Ski Season

[By Associated Press] DULUTH, Minn., Dec. 7.—Skiing, long one of the most popular sports in the north country, promises to have an unusual successful season during the coming winter, according to reports from local clubs and from clubs throughout the Iron Range country.

indications point to Minneapolis as the place where they will be held. The Duluth Ski club plans to send entries to the 1924 national tournament, which will be held in Vermont, and also representatives to bid for the 1925 meet. The last national meet held in Duluth was in 1914.

OTTAWA, Ontario.—Last year $170,000,000 came to Canada through its tourist traffic, and as a revenue producer this takes its place as fourth in the Dominion. According to government estimates, 996,329 automobiles entered Canada on pleasure or business in 1922. Of these, $82,926 went to Ontario, $7,851 to Quebec, $5,226 to British Columbia, $10,576 to Manitoba, $2,394 to New Brunswick, $97 to Saskatchewan, $492 to Alberta and $21 to Nova Scotia.

LABOR BANKS' RESOURCES ARE NEAR $40,000,000 CLEVELAND, Dec. 7.—Twenty-three cooperative labor banks will be in operation in this country with the completion of the three new under organization, it is indicated by the All-American cooperative commission here. In a short time the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks' National bank will open in Cincinnati with capital and surplus of $250,000. The new bank of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union will open its doors in New York about December 3, with a capital and surplus of $500,000. John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, is head of the United Labor Bank & Trust company, of Indianapolis, which is capitalized at $1,000,000. Its backers announce January 2 as the date of commencing business. Notice of incorporation has been filed in Albany for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' Cooperative Trust company, of New York, seven proposed incorporators of which are directors of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' Cooperative National bank of Cleveland. Organization details have not yet been announced but it is expected the bank will be started some time during the winter. Information collected here shows that the resources of all the labor banks in the United States, including those now forming, are about $40,000,000. Ayes: Hall, Horn, Davis, Robinson. Noes: None. SPANISH BARBECUE AT HERMOSA VISTA SATURDAY

A delicious Spanish barbecue will be served Saturday to mark the pre-opening sale of Hermosa Vista, one of the most charming home locations in the entire La Crescenta valley. The repast will be served promptly at 1 o'clock and all those who are on the tract at that time will be guests of the firm of Brownlee & Hamill, 343 South Hill street, that is putting on the subdivision.

The purpose of this barbecue is to popularize to the world the wonders of Hermosa Vista. No valley in the world is more charmingly located than is the La Crescenta section. To the north are the Sierra Madre mountains, to the south the green Verdugos, to the east the Montrose and La Canada sections, while to the west lie the cotton and towns of Sunland and Tujunga.

Here is what one of the owners of this tract has to say about this subdivision:

"At 'Hermosa Vista' reposing in this delightful mountain valley, between the uplifted, gently undulating Verdugo hills and the stately Sierra Madre mountains, a rare scenic panorama is spread before your view in every direction, endless, ever-changing pictures—always beautiful: near wondrous canyons, virgin wooded parks, set in natural gorgeous beauty. This, together with the blue sky, forms a magnificent background for your home. Come from your house in the low-land, with limited outlook; establish yourself and live in this heart-rejoicing, immortal beauty spot.

"No photograph can give you more than the merest hint of the deepening beauty and increasing charm which this valley holds for lovers of nature. No lens can reproduce and only the brush of the finest master could imitate the delicate and exquisite shadings of color that light the hills and canyons throughout the procession of hours from morning till night—always fleeting and changing but always wonderfully beautiful."

Hermosa Vista, at Sunland is nineteen miles from Los Angeles, through Glendale, over the picturesque Verdugo road connecting at Montrose with the state highway, through La Crescenta and Tujunga to First street, Sunland, thence one block south.

From Pasadena go west over the Devil's Gate bridge, through Flintridge and La Canada, picking up the same state highway at La Crescenta.

From Burbank leave the San Fernando road at Roscoe and turn to the right over a good dirt road to Sunland.

From San Fernando drive east over the paved state highway to Sunland.

PROHIBITION CAN BE ENFORCED--BURNS

[By Associated Press]

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—Prohibition can be enforced to the point where bootlegging will become too hazardous to be profitable, in the opinion of William J. Burns, famous detective and chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, who is in San Francisco for several days. He said, however, there will always be bootleggers just as there are other criminals.

Burns explained that his trip here was to complete an inspection begun last spring. Burns said if the enforcement job was thrust upon his office, he would form an organization of office men, a general enforcement agent and secret agent unknown even to the general agents. The secret agent, he added, would have a psychological effect that would make the bootlegger act more cautiously in the expenditure of money.

FIERCE WINDS, HEAVY RAINFALL IN OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 7.—Heavy southwest winds, driving almost steady rainfall, gave Oregon a severe storm last night. Some minor damage was done at Portland. Plate glass windows were broken, a trolley wire was snapped and radio aerials were reduced to tangled masses in some sections. Telegraph wires in the state were crippled. The precipitation here for 24 hours ending at 5 a. m. was 1.21 inches. At North Head, at the mouth of the Columbia river, the highest wind velocity of the season was recorded, 54 miles an hour during the night. This morning it had dropped to 48 miles an hour. The steam schooner Oregon which put into the Columbia river late yesterday leaving, was expected to proceed to Portland for repairs.

WE WOMEN

By BETTY BRAINER

WILD ANCESTORS AND STYLES

I know of nothing which makes for frankness so much as the interest which we take in the dresses our friends and neighbors wear. We either like or dislike and say so frankly. It is a right which is universally ascribed to women. Mark Twain winked at the habit. Most men recognize and concede it and smile at us for it. This is one thing they understand and do not try to reform.

But there is a limit to everything. Criticism shouldn't be carried too far. Certainly it shouldn't provoke an international dispute.

I see by the paper that "Paris Scoffs at London as Fashion Rival." The reporter then goes on to quote a French painter who specializes in society portraits. It appears that London dressmakers claimed supremacy because the Duchess of York, recently married to the second son of the King of England, had her gowns designed in London along lines entirely different from those prevailing in Paris. This view was ridiculed by the style creators in Paris. One word led to another and for a while the subject was a popular topic for conversation.

The painter was interviewed and he said that the best-dressed woman in the world is the American woman who wears styles which originate in Paris. The most poorly dressed, he said, are the German women, with British women next poorest.

Every man is entitled to his opinion, but absolute frankness should end where indiscretion begins. There are some things which women can say which men shouldn't. The compliment which the painter paid us had a recollection in it. "American women," he said, "are the most graceful because they incorporate the grace of their ancestors." Then he says our ancestors were wild men two bare centuries ago.

"The Germans," he adds, "are too dumpy and do not care about their shapes, while English women are too rawboned and manly. The most expensive gown on the average English woman resembles a sack. The French woman would be the best dressed, but on the average they are too small and use too much make-up. The titled English women are of such peculiar architecture that they must have specially designed gowns—hence those worn at the Duke of York's wedding. London's finest gowns make American women gawkish and dowdy."

STRIKING PLAID DRESS

Plaid dresses are extremely smart this season, and the designers have shown much ingenuity in the way they have handled this difficult medium. A most unusual frock of plaid-velvet, has a very large collar of red leather edged with a narrow border of beaver. The sleeves are finished with two small bands of the leather. The combination of the velvet and leather is most striking.

CREAMED CODFISH WITH EGG

Break up and soak 1 pint measure of dried fish. Change the water once or twice. If wanted for supper put in soak about noon. Drain and add the following cream:

One and one-half pints milk scalded with lump of butter size of large egg. Stir with a fork 2 tablespoons flour into 3-4 cup cold milk. Add 2 well-beaten eggs and pour into the hot milk. Serve on toast.

Frightful Speed of Fifteen Miles an Hour

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 5.—Calling upon all the churches of America to answer the present national challenge, Dr. John McDowell of New York, secretary of the Presbyterian board of national missions, outlined a program of five essential duties, in addressing the national Presbyterian conference here this afternoon. He said that the churches must enlarge their conception of the task and must enlarge their program, their organization, their resources and their spirit. He gave three successful baseball rules as adaptable for the church—play together, play to win, make sacrifice hits whenever necessary.

The American frontiers are not alone the shifting frontiers of the west, but exist also in the foreign sections of the great American cities, according to Rev. Fred Eastman of New York, director of education for the board, in an address before the conference. "It has been less than 100 years," said Mr. Eastman, "since a school board in Ohio passed this resolution addressed to some young men: 'You are welcome to use the school house to debate all proper questions. But such things as telephones and telegraphs are impossible and rank infidelity. There is nothing in the word of God about them. If God had designed that His intelligent creatures should travel at the frightful speed of 15 miles an hour by steam, He would have foretold it by the mouth of His-holy prophets. It is the will of Satan to carry the souls of the faithful down to hell.'"

TOURING THE SHOPS with BONNIE JEANNE

AN IDEAL TABLE
Bonnie Jeanne wanted to know when the banquet was to be served when she saw the sparkle of cut glass, the sheen of silver, and the glister of gold dinner-ware artistically arranged ready for the guests—at the Lewis Jewelry Co., 133 North Brand. Before deciding of your table arrangements, you must see this one. For the convenience of shoppers, the Lewis Jewelry company will be open evenings, beginning December 12.

M. & L. BOOTERY
In order to make room for a stock of children's shoes, all lines in late model women's shoes have been reduced one-third in price at the M. & L. Bootery, 116-A South Brand. With holiday festivities at hand, the women of Glendale will be only too ready to seize upon this opportunity. Starting Saturday, you can buy regular $11 shoes for $7.35, similar reductions prevailing throughout the entire stock. Bonnie Jeanne saw many dainty and desirable models in satins, suedes and combinations.

THE THIRD SHOPPER
It is a strenuous job to shop—whether you are just doing ordinary buying or following your Christmas list. A cup of delicious hot chocolate, with wafers or a tasty sandwich is sometimes just what one wants, and Bonnie Jeanne thinks there is none better than that served at Roberts & Echols, Brand and Broadway. Don't grow weary in "well doing."

THE SOLUTION
It is a problem to choose a gift for a man, but Bonnie Jeanne thinks that if you present him with one of those very inviting lounge robes, made of neck-tie silk, now being shown at Fred B. Walton's shop for men, 1446 South Brand, he is certain to be pleased. Of course, there are many other acceptable gifts from which to make your selection—an excellent line of ties, socks and shirts, at all prices, and many pleasing special Christmas boxes that he will welcome. In making your choice, you will be given the benefit of a man's opinion, which may direct you to buy the very thing he would have chosen.

Always sweep rugs and carpets the way of the grain. Brushing against the grain roughens the surface and it tends to brush the dust in instead of out.

FOR THE TRAVELER
The inveterate feminine traveler will appreciate the gift of a collapsible hat-stand painted a delicate pastel shade. The stand consists of two pieces that can be separated and folded flat for packing. They take up practically no room.

PEARLS ARE BECOMING—TO EVERY WOMAN
No matter what her type, Bluebird pearls will pay tribute to her charm. For the woman who is distinctly the brunette type, there are pearls of rose and deep cream hues—pearls of purest white to blend with another woman's blondness—pearls in coloring to enhance every woman's charm. The collection of Bluebird pearls Bonnie Jeanne saw at Ed N. Radke's jewelry shop, 109 South Brand, not only includes an unusually wide range of colorings, but it offers also necklaces of every smart length from the vogueish choker to the long rope—priced from $3.90 to $1.00.

Trend of Fashion

The opening of the social season brings into the limelight evening wraps which have never been more subtle in line or more exquisite in color. While several women have revealed a preference for the long enveloping wrap of ermine, the majority have chosen models of velvet with touches of fur used for contrast.

The possibilities of combining fur with velvet, particularly velvet in the marvelous high colors of this winter, are almost endless, and designers were quick to realize this fact and to turn out models that are amazingly lovely. Frequently an even more luxurious effect is achieved by the addition of metallic or brilliant embroidery that entirely covers the surface of a cape or coat.

One of the most beautiful capes is made of black velvet collared with white fox and embroidered in crystals and silver thread.

When velvet is used for the outside one frequently sees a lining of metal cloth, and quite as often metal brocade forms the outer part, while velvet in a brilliant color is chosen for a lining.

Exquisitely beautiful is a wrap of silver cloth trimmed with grey fox and lined with vivid flame-colored velvet.

A bit more subtle in its color contrast and extremely smart is the cape sketched. It is made of pale lavender velvet with narrow bands of squirrel edging the collar and outlining a pleated yoke.

THE CALIFORNIAN
Bonnie Jeanne couldn't think of anything more truly Californian to send to the folks back home at Christmas time, than the enlarged photographs of California scenes, oil tinted and placed in art frames. The Photocraft Shop, 214 1/2 North Brand, is offering a choice selection in these. They would enhance any wall, and could properly be hung in any room in the house.

NO, THERE ISN'T!
There isn't anything in the world that can take the place of a rocking chair. One must have them about the home to make it "homelike." Bonnie Jeanne thinks a rocking chair occupies a foremost place among useful gifts. There are some very desirable full-leather and Windsor mahogany rockers to be had at the Enterprise Furniture Co., 216 East Broadway and 1261 South Brand.

A SURPRISE PACKAGE
"Good things" in small packages might well have been spoken of as a cosy little hook for the Christmas shopper—one that Bonnie Jeanne found in looking for toys. You'll be surprised at the world of things to make this Christmas merry for the children—wind-up toys, games, doll buggies and coasters—at the Broadway Variety Store, 624 East Broadway, successor to the Barlow Variety store. You'll find the trimmings, Christmas boxes and many things to meet the Yuletide demand.

A KINDLY THOUGHT
Expressed in the cheeriness of Yuletide verse or greeting is long remembered by a friend. The spirit of Christmas time lives on, after gifts have become relics of the past. That is why Bonnie Jeanne deems it a matter of keeping faith, to remember all, with a Christmas greeting—so little and yet so much. The selection at Roberts & Echols, Brand and Broadway, is complete.

SMALL UMBRELLA BACK TO STAY
The small umbrella has come to stay. A new type has the added improvement of a black cord that is attached to the top and the tip so that the umbrella may be carried slung over the shoulder when not in use.

Velvet evening wraps are in vogue.

LOOK AT THE FLOOR
A housewife has her pet economies and some pet extravagances, both of which are forgivable, but if her secret sin is neglect of the little things that must be done to keep the home cosy and cheerful for her family, she isn't to be forgiven. For instance, there are the floors in the home. She has looked at the scars and "bad places" in them and has decided that something ought to be done, and that has been the end of it. When Bonnie Jeanne found that one can stain or varnish a whole floor, about 12x12, for less than $2.00, she decided that the only reason housewives "let the floors go" is because they don't know what a simple matter it is to go over them. Everything needed for the floor can be purchased at Harry Moore Co., Inc., 304 East Broadway.

RHINESTONE MONOGRAMS
Very new indeed are rhinestone ornaments mounted upon narrow black ribbons and worn upon the left shoulder of a tailored suit. These ornaments are particularly good when they come in the form of the owner's monogram.

CHARMED
Introducing a new member of the Colgate family. You know the compact cases, and now you will be delighted to know that a new double-compact, much lighter than the one you have been carrying, is making its debut in the feminine world. It is known as the Watch Case model, done in ebony enamel. See this at the Ahmann Drug Co., 200 South Brand. Bonnie Jeanne found their line complete, in Hud-nud's Dickies and other famous perfumes.

1924 IS LEAP YEAR
A hope chest may be regarded as a thing of the past, but the cedar chest will always be considered a valuable addition to the furnishings of a woman's home. Bonnie Jeanne hopes you will put a cedar chest among the possibilities on your shopping list, and then drop in at Hunt & Bowers, 117 South Brand, on your shopping tour. You will find rare workmanship in these chests which are offered in many sizes.

AN AID TO THE TAILORED SUIT
To soften the strictly tailored little suit large squares of printed chiffon are worn knotted loosely about the throat with the ends tucked in.

STYLE WITHOUT EXTRAVAGANCE
What does your wardrobe lack? You can supply the need, and at the price you want to pay—a rare opportunity indeed, for reduced prices are seldom offered at the time the article is needed. Bonnie Jeanne is delighted to announce that prices have been reduced one-fourth and one-third at the Paris Shoppe, 223 North Brand, on dresses, coats, furs, wraps, jackets, capes and sweaters, for the entire month of December. Any woman who knows the Paris Shoppe will certainly grasp this opportunity.

DRESSING TABLE ACQUISITION
A most decided acquisition to the dressing table is a small china doll with many ruffled skirts of taffeta. Beneath her petticoats are concealed the necessary powder puffs and bits of cotton.

SHE KNEW
"Honestly, every day, I seem to feel more thankful for that writing desk," said an elderly friend of Bonnie Jeanne's, who has been keeping house for many years. "If some of these young husbands only knew, they would present their wives with a desk like that for Christmas. I bought mine at the Enterprise Furniture Co." Remember, the Enterprise Furniture company operates two stores, 216 East Broadway and 1261 South Brand.

LUXURIOUS PILLOW COVER
Luxurious enough for any boudoir is a long and narrow pillow with a cover of alternate stripes of fine valenciennes and shirred net. The pillow is made up over delicate pink silk.

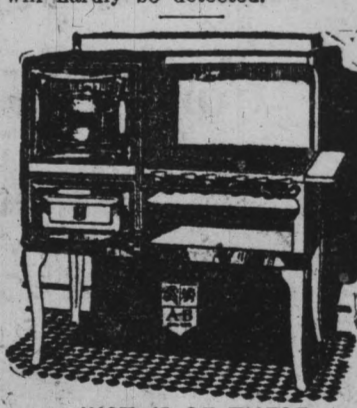

TWO DAYS
You really will regret it if you don't visit Ferber's, 103 South Brand, either Saturday or Monday, because there are so many really remarkable offerings in ready-to-wear. You undoubtedly know that Ferber's will move to their new store next week, and that Monday is the last day on Brand boulevard. As the plan is to dispose of all of the stock in the present location, you will find splendid values these two days.

ENVELOPE BAGS FOR EVENING
Cloths of silver envelope bags are an excellent choice for evening wear, as they are sure to blend with any color scheme. They come in various shapes and sizes.

ANOTHER RECORD
Imagine the disappointment of receiving a Christmas gift that has been broken in the sending! Bonnie Jeanne knows that you wouldn't want anything like that to happen to the gifts you send away, so she refers you to the Japan Art & Tea company, where they wrap packages free of charge, and out of all the hundreds they have sent, not one claim has come back. You know the Japanese understand so well how to pack goods.

MAKE IT MERRY
Eighteen days until Christmas. And all through the town All the shoppers are stirring. And "looking around." Gifts for Alice and Mary. And for big Uncle Dan— So much fun, work and worry. To buy gifts for a man. Bonnie Jeanne wants to help you. She's been through it all. There isn't a shop Where she doesn't call. So watch for this shop page It's here twice a week. On Tuesdays and Fridays— You may find what you seek.

MY NEIGHBOR SAYS:
Silk stockings in which a thread has been dropped may be mended by the use of a fine crochet hook. Pick up the dropped stitch and continue crocheting all along the raveled part. Care must be taken to pick up every thread as you work along the length of stocking. Fasten the last stitch securely with a needle and thread. If two or more stitches have been dropped the rip is wider, but continue working each stitch in a straight line. If the work is done carefully the mend will hardly be detected.

JUST AS OF THESE
Another purchase of the nationally-famed A. B. gas ranges from the factory, in closing out the warehouse, prior to the establishing their own plant in Los Angeles, enables the Good Housekeeping Shop, 140 South Brand, to renew the offer of special prices on these tried and tested ranges. Bonnie Jeanne knows that you will be given every consideration at the Good Housekeeping Shop, and that you can purchase these ranges on easy terms. Your range need not be delivered for 30 days.

Whenever possible vegetables should be cooked whole and without peeling. If they must be cut they lose less of their nutritious substances when cut lengthwise rather than crosswise. Water for cooking vegetables should be boiling when they are put into it. This helps to set the color of some kinds and shortens the time of cooking so that a smaller proportion of the minerals is extracted than when cold water is used.

Modern Version of New Testament

By EDGAR J. GOODSPEED

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MARK

"We do not know," Jesus said to them, "Nor will I tell you what authority I have for doing as I do."

Then he began to speak to them in figures. "A man once planted a vineyard and fenced it in and hewed out a wine-vat and built a watch tower, and he leased it to tenants and left the neighborhood. At the proper time he sent a slave to the tenants to get from them a share of the vintage. And they took him and beat him and sent him back empty-handed. And again he sent another slave to them. And they beat him over the head and treated him shamefully. And he sent another; and him they killed; and so with many others, some they beat and some they killed. He still had one left to send, a dearly loved son. He sent him to them last of all, thinking, 'They will respect my son.' But the tenants said to one another, 'This is his heir! Come on, let us kill him, and the property will belong to us!' So they took him and killed him, and threw his body outside of the vineyard. What will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come back and put the tenants to death and give the vineyard to others. Did you never read this passage of Scripture:

"That stone which the builders rejected Has become the cornerstone; This came from the Lord And seems marvelous to us?"

And they tried to have him arrested, but they were afraid of the people, for they knew that the illustration was aimed at them. And they left him and went away.

They sent some Pharisees and Herodians to him to entrap him in argument. And they came up and said to him, "Master, we know that you tell the truth regardless of the consequences, for you are not guided by personal considerations, but teach the way of God with sincerity. Is it right to pay the poll tax to the emperor or not? Should we pay it, or refuse to pay it?"

But he saw through their pretense, and said to them, "Why do you put me to such a test? Bring me a denarius to look at."

And they brought him one. He said to them,

"Whose head and title is this?"

And they told him, "The emperor's."

And Jesus said,

"Pay the emperor what belongs to the emperor, and pay God what belongs to God!"

And they were astonished at him. Soem of the Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection, came to him and asked him a question.

"Master," they said, "Moses made us a law that if a man's brother died, leaving a wife but no child, the man should marry the widow and raise up a family for his brother. There were once seven brothers. And the eldest married a wife and died, leaving no child. And the second married her, and died without leaving any child, and so did the third. And none of the seven left any child. Finally, the woman died too. At the resurrection, which one's wife will she be? For all seven of them married her."

Jesus said to them,

"Does not this show that you are wrong, and do not understand either the Scriptures or the power of God? For when people rise from the dead, there is no marrying or being married, but they live as angels do in heaven. But as to the dead being raised, have you never read in the Book of Moses, in the passage about the bush, how God said to him, 'I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?' He is not God of dead men but of living! You are entirely wrong."

One of the scribes came up and heard them arguing. He saw that Jesus had answered them well, and he asked him,

"Which is the first of all the commands?"

Jesus answered,

"The first one is, 'Hear, Israel! The Lord our God is one Lord, and you must love the Lord your God with your whole heart, your whole soul, your whole mind, and your whole strength.' And this is the second: 'You must love your neighbor as you do yourself.' No other command is greater than these."

The scribe said to him,

"Really, Master, you have finely said that he stands alone, and there is none but he, and to love him with one's whole heart, one's whole understanding, and one's whole strength, and to love one's neighbor as one's self is far more than all these burnt offerings and sacrifices."

And Jesus saw that he answered thoughtfully, and he said to him,

"You are not far from the Kingdom of God!"

And no one ventured to ask him any more questions.

As Jesus was teaching in the Temple, he answered them and said,

"How can the scribes say that the Christ is a son of David? David himself, under the influence of the holy Spirit, said,

"The Lord has said to my lord, 'Sit at my right hand.

'Until I put your enemies under your feet.'"

David himself calls him lord, and how can he be his son?"

The mass of the people liked to hear him. And in the course of his teaching he said to them,

"Beware of the scribes who like to go about in long robes and to be saluted with respect in public places, and to have the front seats in the synagogues and the best places at dinners—men that eat up widows' houses and to cover it up make long prayer! They will get a far heavier sentence!"

And he sat down facing the treasury and watched the people dropping money into it; and many rich people were putting in large sums. A poor widow came up and dropped in two little copper coins which make a cent. And he called his disciples to him and said,

"I tell you that this poor widow has put in more than all these others who have been putting money into the treasury. For they all gave of what they had to spare, but she in her want has put in everything she possessed—all she had to live on."

As he was leaving the Temple, one of his disciples said to him,

"Look, Master! What wonderful stones and buildings!"

Jesus said to him,

"Do you see these great buildings? Not one stone shall be left here upon another that shall not be torn down."

As he was sitting on the Mount of Olives opposite the Temple, Peter, James, John, and Andrew asked him, apart from the others,

"Tell us when this is to happen, and what the sign will be when it is all just going to be carried out."

And Jesus said to them,

Two Congressional teams were playing a game of ball with a Senator acting as the umpire. One Congressman undertook to argue about a decision and addressed some complimentary remarks to the arbitrator. He was requested to take a seat on the bench. This brought forth another burst of oratory. "Take your seat," directed the umpire. "But—" "You have said all I care to hear. You can extend your remarks in the 'Congressional Record.'"

ALASKANS ARE UNDERGOING A MENTAL COMPLEX

Alaskans are undergoing a strange mental complex. They boastfully point with pride to the ultra healthfulness of their country, and facetiously remark that because of it, physicians are starving to death there, yet at the same time they are showing an eagerness for modern health teaching and application that bids fair to rank them eventually in all matters of health as one of the best informed outlying sections in the entire world. This is the information just brought back from the Territory by Miss Charl Ormond Williams, field secretary of the National Education Association, and connected in an advisory capacity with the American Child Health Association, of which Herbert Hoover is president at 370 Seventh avenue, New York. "Alaska and Alaskans are naturally healthy," said Miss Williams, "but at the same time they need unlimited instruction in the groundwork and elementary factors of all matters pertaining to the health of the individual and the community. If their country were a less healthy one the need of this education would be more strikingly brought to them by reason of inevitable disease and lack of physical fitness." Miss Williams said that in the matter of academic education, also, the Territory is going ahead rapidly and that little school houses are conveniently scattered throughout all of the interior much as they are in the United States. The classes are taught almost entirely by teachers from the States, only a few native Alaskans taking part in the work. On the boat on which Miss Williams went out during the summer there were more than 60 new graduates from normal schools in the States who had accepted positions to teach in Alaska for this year. Miss Williams made her visit soon after the visit of the late President Harding and she said that the good will and the clearer understanding between the Territory and the main country left by this first visit of a chief executive to Alaska was conspicuously noticeable. Much credit for the success of the schools and of education in Alaska, Miss Williams said, was due to Commissioner of Education Lester D. Henderson, who has occupied the position for more than 10 years.

Two men had planted themselves in a field and were about to fight a duel with pistols when the farmer dashed up. "No duelling here," he declared. "I don't suppose either of you can shoot straight." They admitted the truth of this. "Then your shots are apt to go wide and hurt somebody." "Well where can we fight? Got another field?" "Go over yonder to the railroad," suggested the farmer. "What you want is a tunnel."

FIERCE SLUGGING IN BURBANK FISTIC BOUTS

Gilbert Gallant fought his way to a well-earned decision over Joe Kelly in the main event of Al Barton's fistic show at the Burbank armory last night. Forgetting about a blow that sent him to the mat early in the third round, Gallant proved worthy of his name and with a flash of speed and heavy punches that rocked Joe, he elegantly laced the lanky Kelly in the fourth. The decision was well earned partly on account of the old timer's pluck and aggressiveness.

In the semi-windup, Mike Paulson, handicapped with a bad knee, drew with the flashy Arizona Wildcat. Arizona perhaps had the edge on his man in the first three rounds but with the opening of the fourth Mike came across with several good things, among which were several punches that "registered" on the grease-smeared countenance of the Wildcat. Mike showed that he had the stuff and his actions in the last round earned him a draw.

Jim Brooks and Joe Dooley staged a great scrap that resulted in a draw. Brooks is a heavy hitter and did get a few home, but the wily Joe used his bean and stayed away from his man. When the opportunity came Dooley would get away with his right and plant it fairly on the jaw. His effort opened the hip of Brooks and closed one of his eyes, but in spite of this Jim would try, and he fought his man to the final gong.

Once again Dick McCarren and Young Manlio, a pair of slugging boxers, came across with a scrap that was a regular whang. The four rounds saw one onslaught of punishment after another with each man taking and giving his share. Dick won the decision in his work in the last round.

As usual, Jack Carr of the G. A. C. brutally beat his opponent to a pulp. Jack needs to learn to step back and not grow anxious when a man is on the floor. Referee Ruwin urged Ed Roberts to take his corner in the second and Robert was scarcely able to turn the trick unassisted.

EAGLE ROCK NOTES

Mr. Charles L. Ohrenstein, C. S. B. will lecture at the Woman's club tonight on Christian Science. Everyone is invited and it is free.

The Annual Cosmopolitan banquet of Southern California was held in the Occidental College Commons last night. Representatives from all over the world were present. This is an association in which are the different nationalities of college men and women come together. There were many members present from Pomona College, University of California (Southern Branch), and the University of Southern California.

The tables and chairs were arranged so that all could mix in and get acquainted. President Bird of Occidental served as the very delightful toastmaster of the evening. Mr. Hoohyar, an Occidental student from Persia, gave the introductory number on the program. He was followed by Mr. Kawai of the Southern Branch of the University of California, who spoke on "The Place of the Cosmopolitan Clubs in Inter-Racial Understanding." The next number on the program was a selection of Russian songs by a Russian quartet. A very delightful talk was then given by Mr. E. Galirza who spoke on the "Student's Opportunity." Mr. Patton, of the University of Southern California, then gave a beautiful vocal solo.

The main address of the evening was given by Mr. Luther Freeman. At the conclusion of the affair, everyone felt that we are all brothers and sisters, even if far stretches of water and land do separate us.

Occidental's junior class play will be given tonight in the Central school. There are a few tickets left, and they are seventy-five cents each. Don't miss this play. It is splendid. If you want to see men and women who have made hundreds sit up and take notice, see them tonight. Herbert Sutton, one of the main characters, debated for Occidental in colleges and universities clear to Maine last year. Jacobson has traveled all over the state while on the Glee club, making people almost sick with laughter, and he will be right there with the goods again tonight.

The rest of the talent is just as good. That's enough said.

The Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation is busy putting a pipe line into the W. L. Miller real estate office at 2122 Colorado boulevard. The street is, consequently, torn up on both sides of the car tracks. This slows up traffic to a certain extent, but the job is expected to be completed by tonight at the very latest.

MANY DESIRABLE CHRISTMAS GIFTS, HUNT & BOWERS'

Many desirable Christmas gifts can be found in the stock of Hunt & Bowers' Furniture store, 117 South Brand, where high-grade furnishings and novelties are carried.

A special sale of fine cedar chests is being featured for the holiday season, these making excellent gifts. All sizes are offered, from the small two-foot chest for dainty neckwear to the large five-foot size in which an entire wardrobe may be kept safe from the ravages of the moth.

Other high-grade furniture is in stock, including lamps, chairs, tables, children's wheel goods, and many other articles suitable for Christmas gifts.

RAY HALEY ADVISES BUYERS 'GET IT NOW'

The Broadway Variety Store, 624 East Broadway, formerly known as Barlow's, has recently been bought by Ray Haley, former employe of the Daily Press. Mr. Haley has had previous experience in this line in the east, and is ready to build up the already large trade established by Mr. Barlow.

A full line of Christmas boxes, gifts, tree ornaments, toys and other articles are in stock, and the saving is large, due to the low overhead, the store being located out of the high rent district. Mr. Haley will keep his store open evenings until Christmas, and his advice to shoppers is "get it now while you can."

The Order of the Eastern Star will hold its regular meeting in the Masonic hall at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Building permits issued the last few days are as follows:
John L. Scates, private garage, 3061 Delaware drive, $300; L. A. fire department, addition, 207 Colorado, $10,000; Elbert and Hazel Thompson, residence, 4945 Packard avenue, $3,000; G. A. Vienna Thievery Much Exaggerated

[By Associated Press]
VIENNA, Dec. 7.—Thievery in Vienna was not as prevalent during the first five months of this year as was made to appear in a story sent out from this city last August in which erroneous figures, inadvertently used, created a wrong impression. It was then related that property of various kinds worth some 750 milliards of paper crowns had been stolen during this period of time, and that very few jewels were on display in the shop windows, the custom being regarded as unsafe. As a matter of fact, careful police records show less than nine milliards of losses, instead of 750 milliards, and the shops on the best streets of Vienna today carry a display of jewels and fine dresses equal to the Rue de la Paix in Paris.

There was a pretty city dandel spending the summer on the R. F. D. route and the village postmaster was a little afraid she might damage the heart of his youthful carrier. So he called the young man in for a conference.
"Now, Abner, don't take that summer boarder too seriously."
"I won't."
"She may mean no harm," continued the postmaster, "but she's a bit of a flirt. I know for a fact that she has love and kisses sent her from three city fellers."
"That's all right," said the young carrier. "All I do is deliver 'em."

Matchmaker Barton had a show that pleased, but only a few trekked out to see it. But they'll get wise, and in a few short weeks S. R. O. signs will be in order.

Montrose Notes

Realizing the need of fire protection for Montrose the Montrose Chamber of Commerce has been at work for some days endeavoring to find adequate means to meet this need. A committee comprised of Theodore Belanger and C. A. Haskins made a canvass of the business houses, which met with fine success, practically all the merchants pledging their support. It is the plan to tax each business house a stipulated amount to be paid monthly. The funds thus raised will be used to pay the salary of a night watchman, and for the purchase of a siren. With a siren installed at some central point and alarm buttons located at various convenient points in the business district, a watchman would be enabled to send out an alarm that would be heard for several miles around, and would bring immediate aid. This plan would also be useful as a burglar alarm. A siren has already been secured from the Forestry Department, and it has been announced that the County Fire Protection League will provide means for the purchase of fire equipment.

Methodist Community Church Dedicatory Service
Dedicatory services for the Montrose-La Crescenta Methodist community church will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The service will be preached by the Rev. H. I. Rasmus, pastor of the First Methodist church of Glendale. Rev. Rasmus is a very gifted speaker and a man of superior intelligence. The announcement that he will speak Sunday will no doubt draw a large crowd.

The new church building is situated on the corner of Montrose and Mira Vista avenues. Work on its construction was commenced less than two weeks ago, and by Sunday it will be practically completed. The building will be used only as a temporary tabernacle. In the spring the church plans to build a beautiful structure which will cost around $20,000. Two hundred people can be seated in the present building.

Choose Name for American Legion Post for Montrose
The Verdugo Hills Post will be the name of the American Legion Post that is being organized here. This was decided upon at the meeting held Wednesday evening. Details incident to the formation of the post were gone into at the meeting, and a campaign was launched for the purpose of securing 100 members by the first of the year, when it is expected that the charter will have been returned from national headquarters, and all steps taken in the post's organization. Captain Frank Green was named as temporary chairman, and he will have charge of proceedings until permanent officers have been named. The men of this district are enthusiastic over the formation of the post and are endeavoring to interest all the ex-service men and women here, and in La Crescenta and La Canada.

Mrs. Frank Turner has returned from San Francisco and is at present staying with her mother, Mrs. Leach, in Verdugo Woodlands.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Rettberg are now occupying their beautiful new home in Sparr Heights, on the corner of Broadview and Grandview avenues.

Mr. L. E. Denman, a Glendale business man, has moved with his family to Montrose. The Denmans have a home on Honolulu avenue, and they are well pleased with the beautiful view and agreeable climate of the hillside district.

BIG BURTON HEIGHTS BARBECUE TO BE DUPLICATED

So many people were made happy at the barbecue given at Burton Heights last Sunday that the subdividers of that tract have decided to "duplicate the trick" next Sunday, December 9. Seven hundred people were fed at last week's party, and every one of that throng went away singing the praises of Joe Romero, the unsurpassed Spanish chef, and the men who are putting on the tract.

"Next Sunday's barbecue will be better than ever," said Joe this morning. "I will unbuckle some surprises that will be welcomed by those who eat my dinner. Tell the folks to come early and be ready for a big feed."

That should be good news to the person who likes barbecued meat and everything that goes with it. And who does not like the feeds that Joe Romero puts up?

Burton Heights is located in the center of the La Crescenta valley, which the United States government says is the most healthful spot in this entire country. This should mean something to the fellow who is desirous of preserving his health.

The La Crescenta valley is noted for its scenery, and nowhere in that entire section can the scenic wonders of that territory be seen as they can from Burton Heights. This tract is located upon the summit of a mammoth knoll—up where the air is pure and the birds sing contentedly. From this knoll an unobstructed view is obtained in all directions. To the north are the beautiful Sierra Madre mountains; to the south are the evergreen Verdugos; to the eastward the towns of Montrose and La Canada are plainly visible, while to the west are the thriving communities of Sunland and Tujunga.

Could more be desired in the scenic line? That this subdivision is truly a "dream tract" is evidenced by the fact that last Sunday, the opening day, more than $54,000 worth of lots were sold, practically all of them being to prospective home builders. These lots were not sold by the agents—they sold themselves. The buyers went to the tract, saw its wonderfully appealing features, and decided that that was the "one place" they had been looking for. That's all there was to it. They made their first payments, got their receipts and went away happy. Deeds, not contracts, will be given to these parties without further payments.

This tract is located on Pennsylvania avenue near Michigan boulevard. It is being placed on the market jointly by Wilson & Burton, Central and San Fernando, and Twining & Myers, 227A South Brand boulevard, both of Glendale.

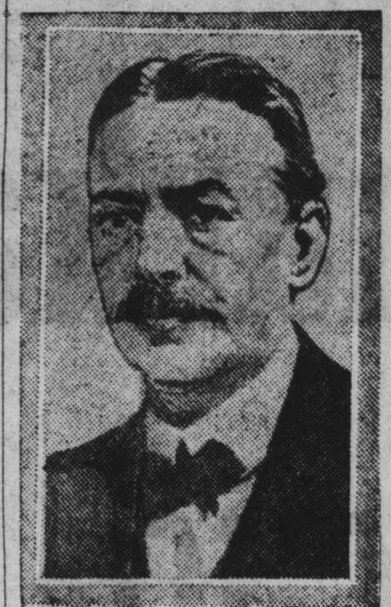

The prices are right and the terms are easy. Everything has been done that would assist the rent payer to own his own home and thereby get his start toward independence.

To reach Burton Heights from Glendale go out Verdugo road to Honolulu avenue in Montrose and continue on Honolulu to tract office, or take Glendale-Montrose electric car to Pennsylvania.

FASHION CENTER IS REJOICING OVER CHRISTMAS

Mr. McKinnon of the Fashion Center on South Brand rejoices in Christmas because it justifies him in an increase of his wonderful and very beautiful stock of chappie coats of the brushed wool variety, which is almost a fad with him. They make his window, together with the skirts in harmonizing colors which he offers in conjunction, a rainbow of soft colors. The shop also specializes in gift neckwear, and silk petticoats in Jersey, pussy willow, and milanese. It has likewise added a very nice line of fur scarfs in all the shades of fox, blue, platinum, beige, brown and black, together with stone marten, fitch and opossum, beaded gift blouses are another specialty which attracts many buyers.

BOY GIVEN VERDICT FOR $14,000 DAMAGES

Judgement for $14,000 was ordered entered yesterday by the superior court in favor of Francis M. Hilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hilton of 605 West Lexington drive, against the Southern California Edison company. The boy was playing in the Atwater tract during February, 1922, and picked up a live wire. He was hurried to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital and a desperate fight was waged to save his life. The suit asked for $50,000 damages.

ARIZONA'S GREAT DAM SURPASSED IN OLD KENTUCKY

HIGH BRIDGE, Ky., Dec. 7.—Construction has been commenced on the Dix river dam, near here, which when completed will surpass the Roosevelt dam in Arizona, according to engineers. It will be larger and will be capable of developing 30,000 horsepower as compared with 23,000 horsepower of the Roosevelt dam.

CHAMPION SPRINTER SPRAINS HIS ANKLE

[By Associated Press] BURLINGTON, Iowa, Dec. 7.—Charles W. Paddock, world champion sprinter, is confined to his room in a local hotel today as a result of a sprained ankle incurred while practicing with the New London, Iowa, High school basketball squad last night, following a lecture before the school assembly in the afternoon. As a result of his injury, the remainder of Paddock's tour has been cancelled.

For the last 14 years engineers of international reputation have acclaimed the location an ideal place to build a high dam.

The project, when completed about February 1, 1925, will tower 270 feet between the rugged cliffs of Dix river gorge and will be the highest dam east of the Rocky mountains, it is announced. The cost will be $7,000,000. More than 1,600,000 cubic yards of material will be used in its construction. It will be 700 feet thick at the base, tapering to 24 feet, and 760 feet wide at the top. Its backwater will form a lake 36 miles long, storing approximately 6,000,000,000 cubic feet of water.

Scientific calculations were made for 12 years by prominent engineers from many parts of the world who checked and rechecked calculations and estimates and at last approved the hydroelectric development project. Arthur P. Davis, an engineer of international reputation, who planned and built the Roosevelt dam, is associated with L. F. Harza and other engineers in building the Dix dam.

Customer Cooperation

TELEPHONE service consists essentially in providing the facilities for communication.

Reduced to fundamentals, it may be stated thus:—

- A is provided with a telephone.
- B is provided with a telephone.
- C, through wires and mechanism, connects these two telephones.

Satisfaction with the service depends largely on A and B.

From the very beginning their cooperation is imperative. A must call B and B must answer. Doing these things in the way which makes for good service involves:—

- 1—Such care in asking for the number as one would use in addressing a letter.
 - 2—Such promptness in answering the call as one would give to keeping a personal appointment.
 - 3—Such courtesy as one would show in making or receiving a business or social call.
 - 4—Such clear, correct speech as one would use in the face-to-face transaction of the most important business.
- Each subscriber can increase the effectiveness of his telephone communication by such thoughtfulness as he would employ in his daily life.

ENGINEERS TO PAY PENSION TO WIDOWS

CLEVELAND, Dec. 7.—The board of governors of the Pension Association of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has arranged to put the Widows' Pension into effect December 1. On that date, 281 widows will be placed on the pension list and commence to draw a fixed amount each month. In addition there will be paid to them an aggregate sum of $80,650 in back pay for pensions from the date of their husbands' death.

Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood, referring to the widows' pension, said: "Perhaps one of the most historical events that ever happened in the annals of organized labor occurred when the board of governors of the Pension Association decided upon putting into effect the Widows' Pension."

"We believe we are the first of the railroad labor organizations, if not of any of the labor organizations, to pension the widows of the pension members for life, and we think it marks a distinct step forward in the history of organized labor, and one that will perhaps have a more far-reaching effect than any other single action of the many activities of the brotherhood."

"Eventually we hope that some plan will be worked out whereby not only the widows of pension members, but also the widows of all members of the brotherhood will be pensioned from the date of their husbands' death."

SAYS LEGION DID NOT KIDNAP BERGDOLL
MOSEBACH, Baden, Dec. 7.—Lieutenant Corliss Hooven Griffis of Hamilton, Ohio, unburdened himself today before the German court here trying him for the part he played in the attempt to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, American draft evader at Eberbach last August. Griffis related in detail how and why he conceived the plan to capture Bergdoll and take him back to America. Griffis repeatedly asserted he was the prime mover in the plot and that while many American officers in Paris were aware of his plans the American Legion had nothing to do with it.

A LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Christian Science—Salvation for Humanity

By William W. Porter, C. S. B. of New York, N. Y.

Member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. Delivered in the Church Edifice of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Glendale, California The Lecturer Was Introduced by Russell Killgore

THE LAW OF LOVE

The presentation of Christian Science today, as throughout its history, is strengthened by the premise that no person is expected to accept any part of this Science of salvation otherwise than as it appeals to thought through the unimpeachable logic of reason and revelation; and let it here be recognized that revelation itself is that orderly process of understanding in which thought is led by Christ, the true idea of Love, out of the dim chambers of mystical existence into the mount of transfiguration where the nature of true being appears.

In Christian Science, salvation from sin, sickness, and limitation is not a haphazard, uncertain future experience, but is the fulfillment of right desire according to law.

It may be defined as exact and inevitable procedure. Spiritual law may be said to be the true idea of infinite Love or God operating in human thought.

Referring to his words and to the fidelity with which they express lawful activity, Jesus declared: "If ye continue in my word, ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Here is a clear statement of salvation in accordance with law. God's law of fulfillment, Jesus did not transcend law; he fulfilled it; that is, he carried out the promises lawfully. The influence of Christian Science upon human thought is natural and lawful.

We read in the Scriptures: "He sent his word, and healed them." The creative cause called God must be expressed or manifested, and this expression or manifestation, must come to the consciousness of men by means of the idea which reveals the nature of true being or God. This Word, or true idea of God, is tangible and true, although obviously it is not a material thing which can be weighed on the scales or measured with a yardstick; it is the divine or true idea of God. This true idea of God, entering human consciousness, by the way of Christian Science, forms the basis of human thought until, through this process of evangelization, thought truly reflects the nature of the divine Mind or God.

The solution of every problem exists in the divine Mind. Because of this the nature of the divine Mind must be recognized to be identical with infinite Love. That is reasonable, is it not? Hence the activity of the divine Mind exists, as the law of Love, in the every person. On page 17 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, one of the most concise statements of this law is found in these words, "Love is reflected in love." Here is a definite statement of unimpeachable law. Let it control your thinking for a moment. God is Love. When the true idea of Love is present in your thinking you will find that your health, your business, your home, your sense of life are controlled by the law of infinite Love or God.

Throughout the ages mankind has looked ever toward the promises. The children of Israel looked toward the promised land, yearningly; they sang psalms and comforted themselves with visions of a land flowing with milk and honey; and many are still viewing afar off the traditional land of promise, waiting to cross some material borders in order to reach it. Subsequent promises bespoke the advent of a Deliverer whose name should be called Wonderful, the Prince of Peace. Inspired thought voiced the promise: "I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not; I will lead them in paths that they have not known; I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them" (Isaiah 42:16). Jesus promised the coming of the Comforter which should unfold the way of Truth. During the intervening centuries human thought has looked steadily, eagerly toward these promises, viewing them always through the uncertain mists of the future.

With human thought ever looking to the attainment of salvation in the hereafter, it is surprising that the people, their leaders and teachers, have been unable to hear and to understand the message of fulfillment which the Nazarene Prophet brought to tired, waiting humanity?

One of the evil results of looking into the future for salvation is found in delayed healing from sin, sickness, failure, and lack. When suffering from these evils it is difficult, apart from Christian Science, to believe that relief from the discordant condition is straightway at hand. The inability to see that the healing balm is instantly found in Christ, the true idea which reveals the nature of God, is due to the educated beliefs that salvation is in matter or in a future state. This evil of procrastination may be broken, and health may be found, if one will only begin to realize that the fulfillment of the promises is not a reward to be obtained in a hereafter state, but that it is the unfulfilling and lawful activity of Love, in response to pure desire or prayer, here and now. Any one may begin at this moment to experience the fulfillment of God's promises. Regardless of what mortal consciousness may argue about you, sin, sickness, failure, sorrow, you may at once begin to experience freedom from these evils by holding your thought rightly related to God.

The beginner may ask how he is to gain this relation. On page 465 of Science and Health is to be found the following definition of God: "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love." When you realize that God is in the light of this definition—and you will be surprised and gratified to learn how constantly and helpful this definition will be present with you—you will find that your understanding of God is growing in wonder and joy as Christ, the true idea of God, unfolds the grandeur of God's nature to your eager, hungry thought. When you think of God as the Love which has tenderly mothered man and the universe throughout the ages "word without deed," when you realize that Love's government is related just as much to you and to your affairs as to the worlds in space or to the orderly progress of the seasons, you will find that your day is much brighter, that discordant conditions are disappearing, that confidence is growing where fear held sway, that evil habits are leaving you, that good is becoming distinctly attractive, and that your influence and usefulness in the world are increasing in ever-widening activities of good. You will really prove in this way that God's law, the law of Love, is always present to meet your human needs.

The promises have been ready for fulfillment throughout the ages. The trouble is that men have been busy preaching about a future salvation, looking forward to the future for the fulfillment of the promises, until they have become a system of traditional rite or religious attitude of thought. It is this attitude of thought which hastened to exclude from human experience the idea of salvation whenever it has lawfully appeared. Truth, however, chooses its own time and place as well as its messenger of manifestation.

DISCOVERER AND FOUNDER The healing of Mrs. Eddy in the year 1866 from a so-called incurable illness was to her the evidence of a present salvation, or the fulfillment of promise. This incident revealed to Mrs. Eddy the all-important fact that a healing and regenerative influence is associated with a radical or scientific reliance upon God. With this great revelation, there came to Mrs. Eddy a strong desire to learn how her healing had been wrought in order that she might bring this understanding to those who suffered.

In the book "The Life of Mary Baker Eddy," by Sibyl Wilbur, is recorded interesting details of how step by step, healings were brought about in the lives of other people through the ministrations of Mrs. Eddy. As others were healed of sickness and sin, the Science of the healing process began to unfold clearly in her thought; and Mrs. Eddy saw distinctly that the healing and regenerative influence associated with a radical reliance on God is not and never was a supernatural power, but the natural effect upon the human mind and body of Truth understood and demonstrated. Then followed a period of consecrated study, and the writing down in a precise and orderly way of the logical conclusions growing out of these unusual experiences. These conclusions, together with the premises of Christian Science and rules for its practice, are embodied in Mrs. Eddy's book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." To present here a recital of the life and works of Mrs. Eddy would take more time than we have at our disposal. Such a recital would naturally include the details of how Mrs. Eddy founded and developed Christian Science in the face of what seemed to be overwhelming odds and opposition. It would include the history of how Science and Health was written and published—and incidentally filled with startling incidents as well as the proof of marvelous protection. It would tell of how a church was organized, and later reorganized into The First Church of Christ, Scientist, The Mother Church, in Boston, Massachusetts, with its branches extending into all parts of the civilized globe. It would set forth the organization of various church activities and related interests; the editing and publishing of weekly and monthly periodicals; the founding of a College and a Board of Education to perpetuate the correct teachings of Christian Science; the establishment of a daily newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor, which has been pronounced by representative men and women to be the ideal of ascendant journalism; the formation of a system of church government, the Manual of The Mother Church, which has won the admiration and the commendation of the brightest judicial thinkers of the times. To carry out any one of these activities is a task which might well represent the life-work of any highly trained industrial captain. As thought is removed from her immediate day, the divine idea which molded and shaped Mrs. Eddy's nature becomes more and more apparent. Mrs. Eddy did not become the Leader of Christian Science because she desired to be a leader. The power which impelled her progress was irresistible and final, and she became a leader because of her love for God and for humanity. Mrs. Eddy's life-work will stand as an enduring monument depicting fearlessness in the teaching and pointing human thought with infinite tenderness to the compassionate and sheltering nature of God.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE PRESERVED

Mrs. Eddy gave to her discovery the name Christian Science. This name will always identify and distinguish the discovery. With rare insight also she founded the institutions necessary to protect and preserve the integrity of Christian Science teachings and works. Human thought begins to understand today that Mrs. Eddy did not build the structure of Christian Science with "untempered mortar"—upon the foundation of human personality. One of the far-reaching effects of Mrs. Eddy's teachings is to turn the thoughts of Christian Scientists away from the contemplation of her personality to divine Principle. This Christian Scientists have learned the doctrine of pure Christian Science. When questioned concerning his teachings Jesus replied, "My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me." Christian Scientists have learned that the doctrine of Christian Science is of the divine Mind or God, and that its coming is in fulfillment of promise and for the salvation of the race.

The religion which Jesus and his followers practiced healed the sick and regenerated thought. It thus gave evidence of spiritual power. In this the teachings of Jesus differed from the religious teachings of his day. Had the teachings of Jesus been obeyed in name and in purity, mankind today would know less of sin, sickness, and death. History, however, bears no record of any distinguishing name given to these teachings or to this religion in those early days. Human thought succeeded in merging certain features of Jewish ritualism and pagan priesthood into a system of religion which adopted the name of Christ; but this system, thus formed, was not able to bring forth the spiritual understanding necessary to heal the sick. As a result of this, within three centuries thereafter, the healing power disappeared from the early church. The uplifting and healing influence of Love unmistakably associated with the Nazarene and his followers is what distinguished the teachings of Jesus from the systems of his day. When, therefore, this influence disappeared in the third century we are compelled to admit, whether we want to or not, that dogma began to take the place of demonstration. When dogma is substituted for demonstration it is not long before unbelief and agnosticism begin to ask, Where is thy God?

AGNOSTICISM REMOVED

Much of the discord and woe of the world is due to the lack of understanding concerning the nature or character of God. The main hindrance to the development of the true understanding of God is to be found either in an admitted or a hidden state of agnosticism or unbelief. In the presence of Christian Science agnosticism disappears. The basic teachings of this Science unfold the nature of Truth, or God, in a reasonable light. Agnosticism says, I do not know. Christian Science reveals the idea of true being or God; it dispels ignorance, which is the basis of agnosticism, with the simple facts of understanding. Christian Science shows that God does not need to be reconciled to men. It is very true, however, that the thought of men needs to be reconciled to God. This reconciliation Christian Science effects by revealing the true nature of God which heals and satisfies sick and tired humanity.

GOD

Mankind, it may be observed, possesses the capacity to think. In our thinking, however, it is not so important for us to know whether material man sprang from monkeys or from protoplasm. That, after all, matters very little, except that such speculations may lead to confusion, as in the case of the man who fell asleep and dreamed that he was protoplasm, and who, when he awakened was puzzled, and wondered if then he might not really be protoplasm dreaming that he was man. The really important thing for us to know about man is whence comes his ability to think? This is not an undervalued capacity with man—something has created it. Obviously that which is responsible for the power to think is Mind, because thought is a property or quality of Mind.

Should you believe that it is what you call your human mind which creates the capacity to think, try to bestow this capacity upon something. Where will you put it? In the brain, in the stomach, in the heart, the lungs, the blood, or the bones? And after you have decided where you will place this capacity, just how will you go about to make it think? Of old it was Job who pondered: "Who hath put wisdom in the inward parts? or who hath given understanding to the heart?"

The conclusion is natural that what you call the human mind—that which you would identify with the human brain—is not Mind, because it cannot bestow the ability to think. That which creates and bestows the ability to think is infinitely above the human mind; it is so far transcendent the human mind that it must be identified as the divine Mind or God, and as nothing else.

The inarticulate cry of humanity to-day is: Tell us about God! Truly, if men are to believe in God, then must God be revealed to men as something other than a mystery. God must be revealed to the understanding. The Scripture says, "No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him" (John 1:18). God, the divine Principle of man, cannot be known through the physical senses. In Christian Science God is known through the spiritual idea, or Christ, which reveals the eternal Principle of the universe and man. And there is no other way than the way of Christ, or the spiritual idea by which God can be known of men.

Whether a man follow the leading of revealed truth, or what he is pleased to call his reason, the conclusion is inevitable that a governing power, or what we call God, exists. For the sake of illustration, no one will contend that the universe is controlled either by the genius or the hands of men. The universe and its government may be accepted as an object lesson indicating by goodly and precise activity something of the nature of a governing power which transcends human capacity. If we are agreed upon this we must, in the nature of things, accept the statement that the universe is controlled by a power apart from men. This power, by reason of its goodly operation, evidenced by "the early and latter rain," and by fruitful harvest, meeting the needs of mankind as a mother meets the needs of her children,—this goodly power must be recognized to be infinite Love.

Men have marveled that the study and the understanding of true being or God as revealed in Christian Science should bring healing to the sick, reformation to the wrongdoer, strength to the weak, and life to the dying. But why should it be thought strange that the nature of God understood unfolds the harmony of true being? To know God to be infinite Mind, transcending mightily the limitations of the human mind, unfolds the comforting and kindly assurance of the actual omnipresence of God. It is a fact which brings no little comfort to every Christian Scientist that no place exists where infinite Mind is not; hence the presence and protection of the divine Mind or God may be enjoyed everywhere.

This understanding of God to be ever-present as infinite Mind destroys the fear of separation or oblivion. One learns in Christian Science that because there can be no exertion of the divine Mind, one never is separated from the living Christ; this idea revealed by Christian Science, which unfolds the actual presence of the living God,—the ever-active divine Mind,—may be found the explanation of the remarkable effectiveness of what is called in Christian Science absent treatment. Herein likewise is found the explanation of the many instances of absent healing performed by Jesus, notably the healing of the centurion's servant, the daughter of the ruler of the synagogue, the nobleman's son who was sick at Capernaum, and many others. Here also may be seen the fulfillment of that earlier Scripture, "Before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear." Moreover, in this way, Christian Science shows that no necessity exists for the attempt to project the human mind by some tremendous effort of the human will to a remote point in the endeavor to heal the sick. The divine Mind is already there. Christian Science teaches that the law of Christian Science teaches that the law of salvation with respect to any specific need begins the moment this basic fact is understood and declared. When a person learns that two times four are eight, have always been eight,—that nothing can ever happen to injure or change this eight with respect to two times four,—a mathematical truth begins to control his thinking. Let a person gain some understanding of the true nature of God as infinite Mind, and of the unchanging nature of man's relation to the divine Mind,—that man is image and likeness, has always been and will always be image and likeness,—then this understanding will begin straightway to establish in his thought the consciousness of true being. It is this consciousness of true being which rehabilitates the wrong thinker, which heals the sick, which comforts the sorrowing, and which brings life to the dying. There is no mystery in all of this, no occult subtlety. It is the Christian Scientist's action of the divine Mind upon the human mind and body.

To know, as taught in Christian Science, that God is infinite Life, without beginning or end, enables thought to embrace and enjoy the true idea of selfhood; because man in God's image and likeness is in image and likeness of infinite Life. One thus begins to enjoy "The truer step, the fuller breath, The wide horizon's grander view, The sense of life that knows no death."

The life that maketh all things new" (Christian Science Hymnal). The loving Counselor of mankind gave this message to the world: "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." Christian Science proves that this more abundant life is to be known and enjoyed in daily experience,—here! And why should this not be so? Do not the Scriptures declare "God is not the God of the dead, but of the living"? God is the living God!

The understanding which unfolds the nature of God to be infinite Love enables one to rise above the fears and limitations involved in a sense of personal attachment, and as well to gain the larger meanings of Love synonymous with divine Principle or God. The term Principle used by Mrs. Eddy as a synonym for God is sometimes objected to on the ground that it is cold and lifeless and loveless. This is a wrong impression, however, which is due to a misapprehension of the term. Perhaps a better illustration can be found than is present just here to indicate the harmful influence of misconceptions. Webster gives "primordial substance" as one of the definitions for Principle; that is, that which is substantial, eternal, unchanging, emanance of a goodly state or thing formance of a goodly state or thing such as happiness, health, or true consciousness is desirable and worthy to be attained. But how do we gain this ideal of permanence? All of these desirable and worthy states depend upon the nature of Principle for their permanence, because only the nature of Principle can impart the idea of enduring substance to creation. Love is lovely and beautiful only as it reflects the properties of permanence. All mankind desire to know love; but none desire to know love as transient and uncertain. Where is the desirable quality of permanence? In response to desire or prayer, unfolds to human thought the health, business, and universe of God's creating in which no imperfection or failure can appear.

In Christian Science, as one turns his thought intelligently and in the prayer of pure desire toward God, he closes out of his consciousness the lie about his business, about his health, or about anything else, and when this is done the law of God begins to operate in his behalf, and Christ, the true idea of God, governs his business, his health, and all things that are to him related. CHRIST JESUS In Christian Science Christ Jesus is the Way-shower; that is, he shows the way by revealing what is the nature of the real man. Jesus was conscious of man and the universe from the point of reality. This reality which Jesus saw in man and the universe, and which appears to-day in Christian Science, transcends the knowledge of matter and the limitations of physical sense. Jesus' true understanding of God enabled him to see man aright,—to see the man of God. When different phases of erring mortality were brought before him Jesus consistently refused to see them as real; he refused to accept the evidence of the physical senses; he refused to see reality in matter. Said he, "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh (or matter) profiteth nothing"; and Paul said, "Flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of heaven."

Jesus said that those who followed his way, or his nature, should do the works which he did. He indicated that there is no way to gain freedom except by following in the way of his nature. At no point in his teachings does he say that this nature is such that it cannot become the nature of every God-knowing and God-loving man, woman, and child. On the contrary he has said, "If any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him"; that is, if any man understand my nature—what I am will come to him. The doctrines of men based upon material misconceptions of his nature have enveloped the life of Jesus and his teachings with a material veil. The result of this has been that his true character or nature which alone—as he pointed out—can save and succor mankind, has become a mere tradition. By revealing the true teachings of Christ Jesus as being unrelated to matter and the physical senses, Christian Science will check the misrepresentation of Christianity.

Christian Scientists know that Jesus of Nazareth was, as Mrs. Eddy has said, "the most scientific man that ever trod the globe" (Science and Health, p. 313); and they are honest in their desire to understand the truth, or the Science of his teachings. They are experiencing much of the joy, happiness, health, success, which Jesus said would appear as a result of following in his way, or in his nature. They have not yet attained all of the promises; but they are happy and never discouraged. Among the many lessons taught by Christian Science is one which stands out like a rock in a weary land; there is a beauty in goodness more rare and priceless and more to be desired than all material possession, and more healing than all the phantom dreams of matter. OLD AGE BEGINS RIGHT

ACTIVITY Mankind born into mortal consciousness come straightway under the influence of a consciousness which seemingly has been prepared for them; and they begin to think and to act under the impulses of educated tendencies. This mortal consciousness attempts to set up laws for its people; laws of health, of success, of happiness; and it seems to enforce these so-called laws except where Christian Science is shown to exist and to govern mankind under the law of God. One of the tendencies of mortal mind is named "heredity." This so-called law claims to bring over with a new-born mortal the weaknesses and evils of previous generations, all in contradiction of God's law, which demonstrates the continuity of good. The fact that human beings are healed under God's law as revealed in Christian Science proves that the influence of this false consciousness is not of necessity any part of human existence. Thus may be seen how utterly illegitimate and without foundation is the assumed dictatorship of mortal consciousness, and how utterly foreign this consciousness actually is to the nature and needs of mankind.

In the line of human generation mortal consciousness proceeds to evolve other laws or beliefs and names them "astrological laws" or "planetary influences." So runs the list on and on, becoming more and more involved and mysterious. Christian Science resolves these things into their true nature, and shows this entire range of beliefs in hereditary and planetary "influences" involving evil tendencies, and disposes of them in Christ's own way. Jesus said: "Call no man your father upon earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven." This import of this injunction is made clear in Christian Science. Its effect is to relate thought and desire to God. Mrs. Eddy writes that Christian Science "resolves things into thoughts." Science and Health, p. 269. By recognizing God to be divine Mind, and man to be the manifestation as idea of this Mind, Christian Science rightly relates thought to God, and thus establishes the true idea of relationship into which no use of mortal heredity can come.

One favorite diversion of mortal mind is the birthday habit,—the attempt to measure man in terms of years. Twelve months after a child is born he is said to be one year old, and he then begins to have birthdays upon which, with certain festivities, he celebrates the belief that he grows old. Following the age-mark of birthdays he becomes a young man, a middle-aged man, and finally he is said to be an old man, bent, weak, and decrepit,—tottering on. Not an attractive picture by any means, but it is the picture which mortal consciousness impresses upon the thought of man, and until man reproduces the picture in their own experience. The birthday habit helps amazingly to paint the picture.

How often do men and women look forward to the time when they can lay aside their useful occupations; and how often do they plan to find the pleasant hillside overlooking the quiet valley where they may settle down in comfortable rocking chairs to enjoy a peaceful state of stagnation. One may, of course, with perfect right, find the quiet place for study and contemplation with comfortable things surrounding him, and enjoy them; but one should be careful to know that mortal mind is not setting up the measuring stick of years and whispering into his consciousness that he has completed his career and that now it is time to settle down to fruitless round of inactivity and diversion.

The demand of Christian Science at all times is Scriptural: "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light." Under the heading of "Love's endowment," Mrs. Eddy writes on page 248 of Science and Health as follows: "Men and women of riper years and larger lessons ought to ripen into health and immortality, instead of lapsing into darkness or gloom. Immortal Mind feeds the body with supernatural freshness and fairness, supplying it with beautiful images of thought and destroying the woes of sense which each day brings to a nearer tomb."

RECONCILIATION Christian Science enables men to have one God and to look to the infinite Mind for guidance. By rightly relating desire to the divine Mind thought begins to manifest the wisdom and activity of this Mind, in whose government there is found no incentive to array men against men and class against class. The antagonisms which obtain among human personalities the conflicts which arise between classes, which are only wars, are learned, as taught in Christian Science, that there is a supreme governing Principle which controls harmoniously all existence, and that the nature of this Principle is found to be the nature of unchanging Love.

One may say that if this be true then Christian Science has solved an age-old problem,—that of antagonism or conflict between men and classes. And this is the exact fact. Christian Science reveals a universe which is filled with spiritual or true ideas,—ideas of health, agreement, courage, kindness, confidence,—God's ideas; and these ideas are becoming more potent and permanent than are the educated beliefs in sickness, old age, war, conflict, death.

Christian Science imparts the true idea of man and creation in the midst of imperfection; and this true idea unfolds unity of thought and agreement, together with the fact of consciousness,—health, confidence, and success. Think for a moment what this revelation means! Men and women surrounded by a world of failure, sickness, and conflict suddenly learn that these distortions are not legitimate; that they are trickeries and impositions; and that there is at hand in Christian Science a new heaven and a new earth where in is found the consciousness of true being. Think of what this understanding means to men and women who have heretofore believed that the only way they can escape from this world of failure, sickness, and conflict is to die out of it! Have you ever pictured to yourself a day in which evil tendencies, sickness, death, would not be known? Yes, you have thought of it; and you have yearned to see the dawning light of that day. This era is at hand in Christian Science. Like the wireless and the radio it always has been here though unrecognized by human thought.

To-day Christian Science has revealed the Science of salvation which is unfolding to human thought with infinite tenderness the nature of divine Love and its availability to meet human needs, whatever those needs may be. In this revelation of divine Love is found the fulfillment of that Scripture which declares, "Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ."

PAGE FURNITURE CO. IN BIG REDUCTION SALE NOW

The Page Furniture company, 306-308 East Broadway, is launching today a monster stock reducing sale of high-grade furnishings, which should draw hundreds of people to the store, coming as it does at Christmas time. The cause of this great sale is the fact that delayed shipments of eastern furniture have just arrived, and those, together with the already large stock, have created an overstocked condition in the show rooms and warehouse, making it necessary to reduce the stock.

According to Mr. Page, this sale is one of the greatest of its kind ever held in Glendale, the entire stock of high-grade furniture being offered at away below market prices.

Included in the stock are many high-grade suites in period models, table and floor lamps, a large variety of overstuffed pieces, beds, and many other articles. In fact, the entire display will go on sale, the large ad in the columns of today's paper giving several of the bargains.

Of special interest to home owners will be the sale of high-class gas heaters; the winter season just starting and gas being the cheapest and cleanest mode of heating in Southern California, the large lot should be closed out in a very short time.

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

Election of officers for the coming year was the important feature of the La Crescenta Improvement association meeting last evening at the school auditorium. M. S. Collins was elected president; C. E. Culberson, first vice president; Dr. E. N. Nettleton, second vice president; C. Plaisted secretary, and C. A. Haskins, treasurer. Just preceding the election, Ex-Governor Plaisted, of the state of Maine made a very flattering talk, dwelling much on the natural beauty of the La Crescenta valley, the progressiveness of its people and stated he hoped soon to become a resident of La Crescenta. During the evening the maintenance of the fire truck and improved telephone service was generally discussed. The upkeep of the local fire equipment has been one of the chief aims of the La Crescenta Improvement association, the money being raised by subscription, dances and entertainments. Improved telephone service was considered one of the vital needs for the La Crescenta valley. Dr. Montague Cleaves made a motion that the association go on record protesting the poor telephone service for this district. C. E. Culberson, president, reported a recent interview with the president of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, who, after making some personal investigation, promised improved service for the district. M. S. Collins read a letter from the railroad commission, stating they would like to have the names of people who had made applications for telephones and date of application. Mr. Collins would like a letter from all residents of La Crescenta who have made application or wish phones installed. A letter from W. W. Patch of the state highway commission stated the commission intended to widen the various state highways early in the year of 1924. Albert Blanford, principal of the local school, requested a donation of $25 for the school Christmas tree. A collection among the members present over-subscribed that amount. C. Barrow, a local veteran, made a talk on the Verdugo Hills American Legion, a recent organization, which has adopted the slogan, "100 members by Christmas." Mr. Barrow announced the next meeting would be held at Sparr Heights community house next Wednesday evening. A rising vote of thanks was given C. E. Culberson, the outgoing president, for his devotion and efficient service to the community and association. Mr. Koltz acted as secretary in the absence of Secretary D. Gavin Telfer.

BURBANK NOTES

The Pullman cafe No. 3, located at 116 West San Fernando boulevard, will throw open its doors to the public on Saturday at 6 a. m., with H. E. Brady as local manager. This is one of a series of cafes which are to be operated throughout the valley. The company has refurnished and remodeled the interior of the store occupied and everything will be in order for the grand opening tomorrow.

Miss Flossie Short, formerly in the escrow department of the Security Trust and Savings bank, has accepted a position with Attorney Walter C. Fisher in the Victory building.

Burbank building permits issued on Dec. 6 were as follows: James Green, Fifth and Valencia avenue, 4 rooms, $2500; Albert Cladel, 811 Sixth street, 4 rooms, $1800; C. M. Stains, Magnolia Park, garage, $750; A. J. Johnson, 843 Fairmont, 6 rooms and garage, $5000; Wallace J. Paice, 802 Kenneth road, 3 rooms, $200.

The annual bazaar given by the women of the Christian church will be held today and tomorrow in the Studebaker garage, where there will be on sale many beautiful hand-worked pieces and various other articles. Many should take advantage of this sale to stock up on Christmas presents. The women are to serve a chicken dinner this evening in the church hall which will be open to the public.

Mrs. Seymour Thomas, yesterday afternoon. The guests included many out of town friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas who are interested in the building of the Episcopal church in La Crescenta. Most attractive were the many booths, containing candy, needle work, cakes, jellies and games, which were presided over by Mrs. C. E. Culberson, Mrs. M. S. Collins, Mrs. M. B. Darrow, Mrs. Robert Wildhack and Miss Janet Culberson. Assisting were Mrs. C. J. Clate, Mrs. C. Dingwithie, Mrs. E. Wemple, Mrs. E. McLain and Betty Martin. Mrs. Charles Turck and Mrs. C. J. Hawks poured. The proceeds of the affair, $150, will be donated to the building fund of the Episcopal church. A happy feature of the afternoon was the presence of a group of ladies from St. Mark's guild of Glendale which included Mrs. F. S. Card, Mrs. Nell Holbrook, Mrs. Kate Goodwin, Mrs. Annette Powers, Mrs. Harry Speck and Mrs. Gibson Kelly.

C. & S. CAFETERIA IS OLDEST EATING HOUSE

The C. & S. cafeteria, which several months ago moved into its new home at 222 North Brand boulevard, is Glendale's only cafeteria, and it also claims the distinction of being the oldest eating establishment in the city. It formerly occupied the store room on North Brand boulevard which now houses Woolworth's store. The business grew rapidly, forcing the proprietor, J. T. Stuart, to seek larger quarters, and the change into the new and fully equipped home on North Brand was made as soon as was possible. Only the highest grade foods are served, these being prepared by the best of chefs. Service and excellence of food is the motto of the proprietor, and this is carried out fully, and the prices are maintained on a minimum basis. "Our excellent salads are great attractions for the hundreds of people who dine with us daily," states its general manager, Mrs. Stecker. "Our long experience in the cafeteria business enables us to serve the best, and an expert salad-maker is in our employ, guaranteeing the best in that line as well as in all foods served from our counters."

PENDROY'S IS MECCA FOR XMAS SHOPPERS

The good citizens and citizenesses invariably have warm hearts and a host of friends whether they have relatives or not. If Providence has blessed them with comfortable prosperity, Christmas is a period of joy and also of shopping activity. Fortunately manufacturers have learned to make things as easy as possible for Christmas buyers by putting goods into Christmas containers so perfect that they scarce require more than the visiting card of the donor to make them ready for presentation. At Pendroy's a beautiful assortment is found. Thus one can buy handkerchiefs from three to a dozen for both men and women; stockings, all silk, plaided; silk, silk and wool neckties; beautiful corsage bouquets which add the final touch to an evening costume, boudoir caps, and numberless other things, small and large. Santa Claus has sent an advance stock, some of which has been placed in the windows for the delight of the small boys and girls who are trying to make up their minds what to ask the good old Saint to bring them. These samples which include electric tracks and trains which run, with full line equipment of stations, tunnels, switches, etc., mouth organs, doll buggies, dishes and doll furniture, everything for the world of make-believe in which children live. No living, tender-hearted parent will fail to give his or her child the pleasure of viewing these latest products from Santa Claus' workshop which have been sent to Pendroy's to show what he can do for boys and girls when he really tries

Movies Lure to German Children

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—German parents complain bitterly that their children flock evenings to the movie houses and stay up late to watch blood-curdling dramas. The laws against young children being abroad at night alone apparently are not enforced. Crowded housing conditions and lack of heat and light in the homes are given as reasons for the disposition of the youngsters to take to the cinemas. Staircases are no longer lighted in many apartment houses in Berlin, the landlords saying the expense is too great. Signs reading as follows are not infrequent: "This house is closed at dusk; persons entering later do so at their own risk."

LEWIS JEWELRY CO. ADDS MANY CLERKS FOR RUSH

In order to meet the great rush for high-grade jewelry during the remaining two weeks of Christmas shopping, the Lewis Jewelry company, 133 North Brand boulevard, has added several new clerks, making a total of ten salespeople experienced in this line, who are ready to help you with your Christmas needs. The addition of these clerks does away with long and tedious waiting and guarantees the people of Glendale and vicinity prompt and efficient service, a feature very important in Christmas shopping.

This firm boasts of having the largest jewelry establishment in the San Fernando valley. Since taking over the added space in the store formerly occupied by Heschke's Shoe shop, a complete silver department has been added. The fine display of this silver makes this store one of the show places in the city, two well-appointed tables being completely set with fine silver goods, including knives, forks, spoons, trays, platters, percolators and many other fine articles of silver. Several dishes of fine cut glass also grace the table, all of which is regular stock of the store.

According to F. N. Butler, gifts for everyone can be found in the cases and on the shelves of this store. For the lady, there are many novelty earrings, bracelets, watches, diamonds, vanities, pen and pencil sets, traveling sets and many articles of Ivory Parlyn, which will please the eye of every woman. For "him" there are a fine selection of watches, rings, leather goods, humidors, fountain pens and many other exquisite gifts too numerous to mention. In keeping with the firm's slogan of service and efficiency, the store will remain open every evening until 9 o'clock till Christmas, starting Dec. 12, giving everyone full opportunity to complete the Christmas shopping.

BOUGHT MAN'S ASHES IN URN

BABSON SEES GROWTH FOR ELECTRICAL INDUSTRY

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Dec. 7.—Roger W. Babson has just completed a survey of the electrical industry. His findings, summed up in a statement issued today indicate continued rapid growth for the industry and are of unusual interest to investors owning the securities of these electrical equipment corporations.

"The long trend in the growth of the electrical equipment industry is strongly upward," says Mr. Babson. "The industry has had a remarkable increase in every item of importance. All companies have, of course, not done equally well, many of the smaller concerns that rushed into the business without experience or financial backing having failed. On the other hand, well managed businesses with competent organizations have thrived. The basic trend of electrical development is more strongly upward than the basic trend in general business. It is so strong that depressions in general business such as the depressions in 1907, 1914, and 1921 cause only temporary slackening in electrical lines. This strong growth is exemplified by the increasing use of electrical power. Electrical horsepower used in manufacturing increased from $335,970 horse-power in 1914 to 16,317,277 horse-power in 1919, and is not estimated to approximate 20,000,000 horse-power or nearly 70 per cent of all the power used in manufacturing. This latter percentage compares with 55 per cent in 1919, and slightly under 40 per cent in 1914. The total output of central stations, which furnish approximately 70 per cent of all the electrical power used in manufacturing, has shown a similar growth. The market for electrical industrial equipment has kept pace with this development.

"Notwithstanding the strong growth in the production and sale of electrical equipment, apparatus, and supplies, all concerns in the industry are not equally prosperous. Increasing costs this year have apparently tended to neutralize the advantage of larger sales. Moreover, the competition of the larger concerns is apparently hurting many smaller concerns. It is true, however, that some of the smaller concerns catering to the automotive industries are doing well. "The industry has been especially favored with a good broad demand. Orders in connection with the manufacture and operation of automobiles, and also with the building boom has been very good. Furthermore, the growing use of electricity in the home and in industry has fostered an attractive market. This tendency is still strong and may do much to support the business during the quieter periods that may be faced next year. "Considering all electrical equipment, apparatus, and supplies as a whole, statistics show that the cost of raw materials used in their manufacture average 45 per cent of the manufacturer's selling price—direct labor a little over 20 per cent. Inasmuch as this industry uses approximately 175 different raw materials, the trend of costs has a close relationship to the trend in raw commodity prices. Costs have, therefore, averaged higher this year than they did in 1922, but copper and many other raw materials have been declining since last April, so that alert executives have had opportunities to buy at somewhat better levels than that represented by the average. "Reports from various quarters indicate that prices of electrical apparatus and supplies have, on the average, shown but little change during recent months. Inasmuch as costs have been higher this year than last year, prices might reasonably have also averaged higher. Competitive conditions, however, plus quiet conditions in general business—present activity as shown on Babsonchart is 6 per cent below normal—have tended to counteract the effect of rising costs and there has been more or less irregularity in prices. This condition is expected to continue. "Considering the situation as a whole, the industry should do a good business in 1924. For the long pull, the outlook is stronger. Some day the railroads will electrify on a large scale. The superpower propositions now awaiting legislative sanction in various states will, when established, bring railroad electrification very near. Moreover, electricity is still in its infancy—great development is probable in many different avenues of use. "Turning to Electrical Equipment securities, Mr. Babson continues: "Electrical equipment stocks have held well against the declining trend of the stock market since last March. The two leading listed issues in this group, Westinghouse and General Electric, are off but 7 per cent from their year's high as against a decline in all industrials of slightly over 13 per cent. This is quite in keeping with the continued activity in building, the growth of radio and normal electric power development. "It is interesting to note, furthermore, that the peak of this group last spring was the highest point ever reached, 35 per cent above the top of the 1919 post-war boom and 29 per cent higher than the 1915 war peak. In other words, the stock market has lent material emphasis to the thought so often expressed that 'this is an electrical age.' "What the future holds for these stocks is, of course, dependent upon the earnings of the industry that they represent. From a very long swing point of view there would seem to be room for still greater earning power and still higher stock prices than have yet developed. Certainly any railroad electrification program adopted on a large scale would mean only one thing, substantial earnings, to these properties. For the next few months it is more than likely that electrical equipment issues will turn downward in accordance with the trend of security prices as a whole. They will, then, of course, participate in the broad general rise."

Socialists Gain in Austrian Elections

[By Associated Press] VIENNA, Dec. 7.—The socialists made a decided gain in the recent election of members to the national assembly. They lost but one seat, while the conservative parties lost 17. This assembly has 18 fewer members than the last one. It is held in some quarters that the socialist success was largely due to organizations; they got out their vote, while the conservatives did not. The result is a keen disappointment to the Selpi government. The chancellor's success in gaining the League of Nations loan, which virtually saved the country from disruption and possible partition; the general revival of business, and the betterment of conditions in all classes, had been thought to insure a decided conservative majority. As it is the government is no more powerful than it was, and must face the same old conditions unless the socialists change their minds and consent to a coalition.

Nothing ever takes a harder fall out of worry than hard work.

Truths in Epigram

There is no trusting to appearances.—Sheridan.

A lie has no legs and cannot stand; but it has wings, and can fly far and wide.—Bishop Warburton.

I have no patience with those who throw the blame on God when it belongs to themselves.—Spurgeon.

PREVENTING COLLISION

The invention is announced of a method to prevent railroad collisions. It seems to have the endorsement of wise men of the traffic world. They believe it will do all the inventor claims for it. The new method is a vast improvement over the block system, which in itself is highly promotive of safety. The block system, however, does not bring about automatically the stoppage of trains. It places a signal within view of the engineer, giving him warning in time to set brakes and prevent a crash. The human element in this operation, however, is the source of possible disaster. Suppose that the engineer, weary with long hours on duty, nodded at his post, and failed to see the signals? This has been known to happen, and disaster to be the result.

The new invention not merely indicates the proximity of another train, but it causes the threatened trains to stop. They would stop even in the absence of the engineer. A locomotive running wild would be subject to the automatic mentor, and would meekly but abruptly come to a standstill.

A description of the invention would be technical and not of great interest to the average reader. But that such a contrivance has been perfected will be regarded as very important by every man and his wife, for all travel by train occasionally despite the multiplicity of automobiles.

GETTING EASY MONEY

"I thought I'd get some easy money. Now look where I am."

This was the remark of a bandit. He had, with a comrade, stolen about $4000. Within twenty-four hours he had been wounded by the police, and was in their hands. This was his condition at the time he made the comment quoted.

Probably there are others of his kind who would be wise to heed the admonition, to look where he is, and to fancy themselves in his place. Whether or not there is such a thing as "easy money," there is grave question that it is worth obtaining, for the cost is great, payable in loss of reputation and self respect. But money taken by the act of robbery never is to be classed as "easy."

There have been in this community in the few months last past a series of crimes of violence. Some of them have resulted in the acquisition of much booty. In numerous cases the offenders have been caught. In most cases, however great had been the apparent profit, they were without funds. By the time they had paid for defense the more fortunate in this respect were penniless. At a constantly increasing ratio the criminals have been captured. A large number have been killed. The jail of Los Angeles county is crowded with them. They move in steady procession to the penitentiary. The hand of every honest person is against them. There is a distinct feeling of relief every time a bandit is shot. There is regret when one surrenders so abjectly as to give the officers of the law no excuse for settling his status on the spot.

The ambition for "easy money" never got any one anywhere but in the direction of trouble.

PLAN TO BAN WAR

The Christian Science Monitor proposes an amendment to the constitution, substantially as follows:

"In the event of a declaration of war, the property, equally with the persons, lives and liberties of all citizens, shall be subject to conscription for the defense of the nation, and it shall be the duty of the President to propose, and of congress to enact, the legislation necessary to give effect to this amendment."

This is certain to provoke discussion. The people of this nation hate war. They would take any honorable course to prevent it. They do not expect another war; but war has been known to come as a surprise. It is usual in case of war for fighters to be conscripted if necessary. In this country such a course could be demanded only by a campaign of magnitude. There was conscription for the raising of an American army in the recent world war. It took into the service a lot of young men who would have volunteered but for the fact that they knew conscription was coming. The interval gave them a chance to arrange their personal affairs.

But conscription on the plan usually enforced leaves a large element of citizenship immune, and it leaves property untouched. The very individuals who make profit out of a war escape being drafted into service. They sit at home in comfort and watch their fortunes expand.

If a country is engaged in a righteous war it could not be deemed unfair that all should share the burden. The man not able, by reason of age or physical defect, to carry a gun, still could lend his best effort. He could place his property at the disposal of the government, and not sell it to the government at inflated prices. If he worked, it would be, and justly so, at a soldier's wage. The proposed amendment would end the profiteer as such, and render him of use.

But if money were to be drafted as rigorously as men are drafted, would this lessen the likelihood of war? If ever wars are brought about for purely selfish reasons, at least a temptation would be removed by the placing of all men on a common level, diplomat and ditch digger in the same rank, and making a war-chest out of all the wealth in the land.

It is singular that political gatherings in England are marked by a degree of disorder that would not be tolerated in this country, for such ruffianism as goes unrebuked there would lead to riot here. During a hot campaign a British speaker expects to be insulted, and he seems to endure it well.

THE IMPOSSIBLE CANDIDATE

A representative of the Ford-for-President movement endeavored to address the farmers and organized labor of Iowa in behalf of his scheme. These political elements were in conference and doubtless felt that they had subjects worth discussing. Therefore they told the gentleman that Ford did not in any manner interest them. To make this emphatic they adopted a resolution to expel him from the room. An instant later he was on the outside wondering what had struck him.

The tone of Ford publicity has been designed to foster a belief that working men favored him. It is probably true that in his status as employer they think well of him. Here comes a concrete instance proving that as a candidate for the presidency they regard him as not even a remote factor in the situation. If the farmers and representatives of labor do not favor Ford, then who does? This is a fair question to which no answer appears to have been made.

Men who have occupied the presidential chair have been of a high average of intelligence, most of them well educated. It is to be assumed that all of them knew something of their own times; that they were aware of the history of their country; that the constitution was to each of them a familiar document. Ford, shrewd as he may be along some lines, is appallingly ignorant. A set of questions that a ten-year-old schoolboy ought to answer readily, would be utterly baffling to him. These facts alone are enough to make him impossible.

In the opinion of a New York doctor the profession of medicine is to pass into the hands of salaried practitioners, and the old style country doctor is to pass out. The man who gets his view of American life through residing in the metropolis, of course has scarcely a glimpse of the real article. Millions of people live where the publicly hired doctor has no jurisdiction, and still depend upon the family physician who is a friend as well as a doctor.

WHAT WOMEN WANT

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

What would we think of a man who cursed his automobile when it stopped going instead of taking it to the shop to have the cause of difficulties removed?

We would think he was crazy, and, incidentally, he would walk indefinitely unless he changed his tactics.

Now the birth rate among the higher classes all over the world has slowed down and all over the world alarmists are cursing the woman because of it.

Listen to Albert Edward Wiggam, New York biologist.

"The crime wave is no mystery to biologists. Every decline in intelligence brings a decline in morals. On an average one child is born to every three of the graduates of our leading woman's colleges, but one low class, broad backed, flat chested, stout legged, high necked, stupid, ugly immigrant woman will in the same time produce three."

Very well, the automobile is stalled. What's wrong?

Does Dr. Wiggam suppose for a moment that educated women willingly forego motherhood or that the stupid immigrant woman has children because she wants an entire flock. If so, he is not a good adviser, however much he may know about biology.

For fourteen years I have talked almost daily with women who have and have not children, and I know why they have many, why they have few and why they have none. And in all these years I have never met an educated, refined, high class woman who did not desire motherhood.

Space forbids a full discussion of the many reasons back of the decline in the birth rate, but a few may be indicated here. The chief reason is lack of security.

The ignorant woman cares nothing about security; she breathes and thinks as a little of one process as of the other.

The educated woman is different. She wants security for her children and she knows that as things now stand there is little security in the world.

How many women can count on their men, even? It is a common thing for girls to announce that they are engaged to married men and that they will marry them as soon as the wives in question secure a divorce. Is that calculated to inspire motherhood?

Educated women want other kinds of security, too, financial security, the security of health for mother and child, security from further war and security from the unnecessary agonies of child birth. The last security is easiest of all to give, but the demand for it has brought for response curses and charges of cowardice.

And so the birth rate continues to fall and will so continue until men substitute sympathetic help for abuse.

If Dr. Wiggam wants further particulars I'll give him data enough to broaden his outlook on a question that needs intelligent handling.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Little Georgy Kelly dropped in to see me today. I've always liked Georgy, ever since he caught the lad who stole Mrs. Pilgrim's watch and chain. That was when he was a city detective. Georgy pretty well knew who got it but he had no proof. So he took the lad who stole it into the back room and twisted his wrist until he came through with the confession.

"That's the only way to handle crooks," said Georgy. "They ain't human beings, like you and me. They're crooks. You gotta be rough to 'em."

When he became a private detective I threw him quite a little business. Then I lost sight of Georgy until he came in yesterday. He has moved to the Big City where he is running a bonding business. Making a pile of money out of it. It will be only a little while, he says, before he will be able to retire. He has a country place under option right now.

"I don't know just what is a bonding business, Georgy," I said.

The way he explained it, if you or I got arrested we do not want to approach our business friends to get bail. An innocent man, says Georgy, hates to do that. Maybe the thing of which he is accused is pretty terrible. So the bonding company goes on his bail.

"Of course, if he isn't right, he has to put up enough to cover any loss I may have," said Georgy. "I don't take any chances. Usually I make a little every time a crook hops his bond."

"Sort of licensing a crook to do business, isn't it?" I said.

"If you look at it that way," said Georgy. "But I might as well get the money. Somebody will. It's the law."

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

We don't know who invented Santa Claus. Somebody did. Somebody was responsible for all the myths and legends with which we were delighted when we were youngsters.

And from which we take joy in our later years.

What would Christmas be without Santa Claus?

With his rosy cheeks and his round belly and his whiskers and cap?

His obvious love for little children.

His willingness to undergo storm and cold that his children may be happy.

So whoever invented Santa Claus did the world a great service.

Gave the children a myth and legend that makes them happy.

Makes the spirit of Christmas glow with fervor and warmth.

A long time ago a country doctor wrote a poem.

He did not know what a poem it was.

But it has brought joy and delight to millions of little people.

The poem was "The Night Before Christmas."

That poem was one of the greatest gifts to humanity that has been made.

It was a gift to the kindly spirit of humanity.

Songs of the Poets

Rivals—By William Walsh (1663-1708)

Of all the torments, all the cares,
With which our lives are curst;
Of all the plagues a lover bears,
Sure rivals are the worst!
By partners in each other kind
Afflictions easier grow;
In love alone we hate to find
Companions of our woe.

Sylvia, for all the pangs you see
Are labouring in my breast,
I beg not you would favour me,
Would you but slight the rest!
How great so'er your rigours are,
With them alone I'll cope;
I can endure my own despair,
But not another's hope.

DEATH IS A RELATIVE TERM

By DR. FRANK CRANE

I MAY be dead to poetry, or to sports, or to Greek, or to art, or to humor, or to the religious feeling.

Death means, Zangwill I think it is who says, all the countries I have not visited, all the emotions I have not had, all the languages I have not spoken, all the experiences I have missed.

The thirst for new thrills is therefore a manifestation of the life-force; so we travel, go to theaters, shoot the chutes.

Hence the distinct pain to you when one asks you, when you return from Europe, if you have been upon a certain Alp or seen a certain picture, and you must answer no. Hence also the smug satisfaction of having been somewhere, whether you know anything about it or not.

But, more truly speaking, death means incapacity of emotion, lack of nervous response, any particular environment. My deathliness consists rather in all I am not able to feel, than in all I have not seen.

The dead heart gives no sound when touched by beauty; the dead mind does not leap when there opens before it the door of knowledge; the dead soul is inert as putty at the appeal of goodness and nobility.

The sensualist would walk the streets of heaven and be bored to extinction; a pure woman would walk the streets of hell and wonder why the inhabitants were suffering; in each case the environment would strike a dead nerve.

The salvation of life, therefore, consists in the enlargement of life.

The real desire of the human being is not to live a long while, but to live a great deal. The youth is not so much interested in anything that will keep him alive for over a hundred years as he is in that which will give him an abounding life for his natural term.

Anything, therefore, that opens our windows to new views or that builds additions to our house of life where we can find new interests, goes to make life more worth living. Therefore, art and culture are distinct life savers. The man who loves beauty lives more than one who does not. The man who loves books and the pursuit of knowledge has a wider and richer quality of living than the one who does not read.

The real advantage of religion is not so much that it saves life by rescuing us out of this world into another one, as it is that it deepens and widens our satisfactions, gives us profounder satisfactions, longer hopes, great nobilities and altogether lifts us farther away from the life of the brute and up into that higher and richer realm of experience, which is the latest product of evolution.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

JUST A BARNACLE
[New York Times]

A voice oracular hath pealed, Hiram Johnson has thrown himself upon the bosom of a country not at all surprised but somewhat amused. In a manifesto whose heretic sociological-scientific solemnity befits the occasion, he offers his services to his republican countrymen. "We would have a revitalized republican party, a party representing alone its rank and file, the instrument of neither of static reaction nor destructive radicalism." "Static reaction" is good. Mr. Johnson says that he is for progressivism in domestic affairs. In regard to foreign affairs he is a static reactionary. He would progress by standing still. He paws and snorts at the League of Nations. He stands upon the shore and international and political landscape is secured, according to Michael Angelo Titmarsh's system, by sticking his head between his legs and looking backward.

In domestic politics he seems to be living in 1912. Nobody grudges him the usual patter about "reaction" and "progress." Unfortunately, he has long ceased to be regarded as a progressive. He is a regressive. Joining with the stern and rock-bound reactionaries of the senate, acting in that body as "the business agent of California products," which no American ought to consume without gratitude to that thoughtful jacker-up of prices, he lost the odor of progressive sanctity. He hasn't kept up with the procession. An older, if not a better, soldier of progressivism and seeker of the presidency may be addressed at Madison, Wis. And Mr. La Follette is sure of a considerable package of votes.

Many curious political transformations

An Illinois spinster of 96 explains her age by the fact that she never has been bothered by a man. Possibly it was the hope of being bothered that sustained her.

have been seen. Mr. Johnson imagines himself to be a swift-sailing ship. In reality he is a barnacle. Some parts of his recommendation of himself smack of the usual nominating speech. He holds the philosophy of government which is "idealistic and forward-looking." It avoids alike ultra-conservatism and ultra-radicalism. "All candidates are like that. They remind one of the language of the old-time beanie: 'Draw one in the dark, just right.' Up comes a cup of coffee, standardized with the amount of milk and sugar that the average customer is supposed to want. Colonel Roosevelt had no objections to 'another cup of coffee.' Mr. Johnson has ordered his early, 'just right.' Evidently he anticipates slow service.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

In Chicago, patrons of the bootlegger have been drinking as whisky a concoction made up of distilled hair tonic, to which had been added water, alum, cresote, a little bourbon extract and caramel sweetening.

All this has been peddled, under very convincing label, as a fine quality of Scotch. What it did to the consumers is not related, nor is it extremely important. If that is the sort of stuff they like, and will kill them off quietly and with reasonable dispatch, it serves a sort of purpose.

Philadelphia bootleggers have been serving something quite different, known to the trade as "smoke." Perhaps this is because it must be suggestive of fumes from the lower regions. "Smoke" is made from coal tar chemicals and denatured alcohol, artificially flavored and colored. The taste of it is not described, but the effects as shown by hospital and morgue records is blindness or sudden death.

Without any desire to appear heartless, it may be said that these poisons are doing much toward solving the problems of prohibition. Nobody without an unquenchable thirst already established could be induced to partake, while those who do partake will soon pass on, leaving the bootlegger under the necessity of earning a living by toil. If perchance he is a patron of his own wares another annoying social element fades from view.

The entire community was made indignant by a recent double killing in Pasadena. The victims were two women, mother and daughter. They were struck by an automobile going at great speed. There was no excuse for the accident. It was one that any but a reckless and brutal driver would have avoided. The driver did not try to avoid it. Having killed the women he drove the machine faster than ever. But many had been witnesses of the crime, and they noticed the automobile so closely as to be able to identify it.

The lightest charge that could lie against that driver would be that of manslaughter. If justice were to be considered, instead of the letter of the law, the charge would be that of murder.

When criminals such as the driver in question rush through the crowded streets, a threat to everybody, they are unconsciously coaxing the spirit of the public out of its quiescent mood, into a lynching humor.

They have arrested a man in Kansas City who confesses to most of the crimes that have been committed in southern California. Of course the prisoner is a liar. He is trying an ancient game. They have "something on him" as the saying is, in Kansas City, and he is looking westward as a play for safety.

The sob sister should not be kicked out of journalism. Such treatment would hurt her feelings. But she should be quietly dropped out. She is a nuisance and a menace. Both of these charges have been established many times. She sobs on behalf of the wicked and the vile but never on behalf of the victim. The sight of a red-handed murderer in a cell provokes her to tears and quaverings. She pets every thug and makes eyes at every prisoner who deserves hanging.

What's the matter with the sob sister? There is not a trace of gray matter under her hat. She has less mentality than a cockroach. That is the matter.

Perhaps its all right to yank out teeth as a cure for water on the knee, or ringworms, but the observing layman entertains doubts. If all the allegations concerning the mischief wrought by teeth were true, there would be no respectable teeth in the world but those movable at will, and the seniles, gumming their victuals, would have the only good chance to be healthy.

It is possible now to buy a "flying flivver" for about the price of a light type of automobile. Probably it will be long before there is active demand.

The ordinary citizen is not afraid to experiment with an automobile, but he is decidedly cloud-shy.

The Illinois spinster who attributes her longevity—she's 96—to the fact that no man ever has bothered her, need not expect many imitators. The ambition to get through this vale of tears without being bothered by any man is not entertained by all members of the charming sex.

The red cavalry of the Russian soviets is finding relaxation in renewal of programs. Murdering harmless people is not really valuable as military training, but perhaps it will tend to make the cavalry more brutal, and thus nearer the communistic ideal.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

I DON'T WANT TO

Usually children want to. When they begin to say, "I don't want to" there is something wrong. It usually means that they are not in good condition. There is a mother in our neighborhood who takes the "I don't want to," as a signal for a dose of medicine. There is much to be said on her side.

But the "I don't want to," that is more serious in the wail of the adolescent child. He is the target for far more suggestion and many more orders than the little one. This older child is "growing up now and ought to have some sense." Accordingly he is peppered with advice and orders.

It is he who says, "I don't want to," and balks and sulks or obstinately resists. This is not because he is bad tempered and suffering from a bad disposition. It is because he is growing; a mind and one of the first qualities the human mind seems to acquire is the one that hastens to say "No" at the slightest attempt to introduce a new idea.

Perhaps it is because the mind is so young and dreads the strain of the new idea. I don't know. That may be it, but I have met so many rather old minds that have the same trait in a greater degree that I am afraid that it is a deep rooted instinct of avoiding trouble. You know thinking of any kind bothers all of us.

Anyway, the adolescent starts early to build his defense screen and his "I don't want" is a thorn in our flesh. How can one make him want to? If he doesn't want to, nothing he does in that mood will amount to anything. Work done against the grain of the mind is always a poor job and cast out as soon as possible.

Suppose you want Archie to take a bunch of parsley down to Mother Kelsey and he says:

"I don't want to."

You know that Archie does not relish Mother Kelsey at all. That is the first difficulty. Then he is inclined to consider his day done when he finishes his dinner. And he hates to do an errand alone.

At dinner you say how nice the parsley looks, thanks to Archie's good care of it. You think it's probably the best in town. A little later on you wonder if Mother Kelsey is feeling well. Poor old soul, without chick or child to do for her! People without boys are so unfortunate.

A few sentences on, just as you hand Archie a large saucer of creamy tapioca pudding and his spoon is poised you wonder if he wouldn't like to take down a bunch of parsley to the old lady.

He wouldn't and he mumbles about it for a spoonful or two and you talk to father about the new neighbor, deaf to the other side of the table. After dinner Archie says, "Spouse I'll have to take that parsley down. It's a wonder she wouldn't raise some of her own." It isn't always as easy as that—but "You know what I mean."

FRANCIS W. READ

A STORY THAT MIGHT HAPPEN

Once upon a time, in a city down beside the ocean, there lived a little rabbit. He was not a New Zealand rabbit, neither was he a Belgian Hare, he was just a plain, ordinary, everyday Jackrabbit. He hopped around the ocean shore, from sand dune to sand dune, and led a very care-free existence. He was a scrapper, was this little Jackrabbit, and could whip his weight in anything. He had been a prize scrapper for so many years that everyone was afraid of him, although he was really very playful. Now in a certain particular year this Jackrabbit set out on his annual hunt for fights. He licked everything from Bearcats to Tigers and by the time he had engaged in about a dozen battles or so, he was beginning to feel his oats, so to speak. Yes sir, this little Jackrabbit was some puffed-up little animal.

About the same time, in a large community located some twenty-five or thirty miles away from the ocean known as the "fastest growing city in America," there lived a boy who had an intense fighting instinct. Not only did he fight with his fists, but he carried around with him a quantity of T. N. T. at all times, so that on occasions some people took him for an I. W. W. But he used his Dynamite only in case of necessity and it must be said that from the habituation of this lad there emanated many and numerous Explosions. He fared forth on this self-same year in a quest for adventure and everything he saw he blew up. He was so expert at the art of destruction of his enemies in this fashion that he was soon given the title of the Dynamite.

Now it happened that both the Dynamite and the Jackrabbit had a certain affinity for ladies. Miss Southern California Championship was a very winsome miss indeed, and both the Jackrabbit and the Dynamite desired a complete monopoly of her attention. Miss Championship being of a sporty disposition, suggested that the two rivals stage a fight over her affections.

No sooner did she make this suggestion than the rivals prepared for a battle to the death. The Jackrabbit took it all in fun. He had won so many fights that he knew that he could not lose this one. He scoffed at the idea that the Dynamite boy could even hurt his tough hide. His friends were of the same opinion, and soon bet three to one that the Jackrabbit would knock the Dynamite for four goals. In fact, so confident was this little rabbit of winning that he spent most of his time bragging about his wonderful fighting ability and the things he would do to the Dynamite.

Not so was the lad with the Dynamite. He realized that he would had a difficult task to beat the Rabbit, but he thought himself equal to the occasion. A week before he was to battle for the heart of Miss Championship, he took on a Blue and Gold scrapper from another seaside community, and, lo and behold, the Jackrabbit was there to see how he did it. So, to fool the little animal, the Dynamite did not use any of his dynamite, but instead knocked the Camoibi 27 different ways without using his T. N. T. From that the Jackrabbit got the idea that the Dynamite boy did not know his explosives and began to exclaim that he was wasting his time on him.

In the meantime the Dynamite worked and worked and worked. He bought fresh quantities of dynamite and used it in seventy different ways. He searched the records to find the weaknesses of the Jackrabbit and there he decided to place his charge.

The day for the fight came around. They were real gladiators, so, in true Roman custom, they decided to hold their fight in the Coliseum. The Jackrabbit went on the field laughing. This Dynamite was nothing, he said he would clean him up, and then make a date with Miss Championship for Bakersfield. The Dynamite went on the field with a grim determination to beat the Jackrabbit and win the love of Lady Championship. Lo, and behold, the Jackrabbit was so confident that he would win that he underestimated the charge of the T. N. T., and when they cleared up the field that night they picked up his remains and carried them back

DYNAMITING FLEAWEIGHTS TO CLASH TOMORROW WITH BABY JACKRABBITS

Glendale Babes Expect to Wallop the Beach Men Although Game Will Probably Be Very Closely Contested

Trained up to the highest possible pitch, and in the best of condition, the baby dynamiters expect to carry all before them in their championship scrap with the Long Beach babes. According to all the dope obtainable, the dynamiters may make good their boast.

The Huntington Beach 110 lb. aggregation was set back by the baby bangs with a 31-0 score while the jackrabbits defeated them with a 7-0 score only. By this, the dynamiters are a least 24 points better than their opponents. The Glendale babes also beat Van Nuys' 130 lb. team 13-7. This was an exceedingly good score considering the fact that Van Nuys outweighed our aggregation by about 20 pounds.

Lowe, who pays quarter, is an exceedingly good field general. He knows the plays and the right time to bring them forth.

Apsit, the charging fool, at right half is expected to be one of the chief ground gainers of the day. He is exceptionally speedy and he hits the line hard. His mates, Harris at full and Ward at left half, could hardly be considered weaklings at the job.

Stone on the line at right tackle, is a very consistent player and always has a hole ready for the runner to plunge through. All the rest of the line can scatter their foes for the plays in good shape.

The probable lineup for the Glendale aggregation follows:

- L. E.—Breniman. L. T.—Grayson. L. G.—Edwards. C.—Grindell. R. C.—Hunsinger. R. T.—Stone. R. E.—Begg. Q.—Lowe. L. H.—Apsit. R. H.—Ward. F.—Harris. No substitutes needed.

to the city beside the ocean. At the same time the Dynamite boy was making a date with Miss Championship for a little scramble up at Bakersfield the following week.

ATHLETIC CLUB TEAM TO PLAY SATURDAY BALL

Saturday baseball will be dished out to the local fans tomorrow afternoon for the first time when the Glendale Athletic club team crosses bats with Dad Thulman's Buick Auto nine at the Glendale Baseball park on South San Fernando road. The game will be called at 2:30. The Athletic club has felt for some time that local fans would welcome Saturday baseball, and inasmuch as there are two other Glendale teams playing on Sunday, they decided to abandon their Sunday schedule and play their games on Saturday afternoon. They have completed arrangements with the management of the White Sox whereby the new park will be used for the Saturday games.

Tomorrow's pastime is slated to be a hot game of baseball. The Athletic club team has a fine record, having won the great majority of its games this season. A short while ago the team was completely reorganized and is now managed by Ziall, who plays at the initial sack. The Buick Auto nine has a reputation as being one of the fastest semi-pro teams in the south and there should be some fireworks when the two aggregations meet. Lefty Bacon will wear the Glendale Athletic, with G. Harrison receiving behind the bat.

GLENDALE HAS GOOD CHANCE TO BEAT L. B.

Glendale high school football team is up against the hardest team it has ever faced and every man of the gang is aware of the fact. There are no 3 to 1 odds that the Dynamiters will win by a wide margin, or anything of the kind. There is no bragging about the team and how it will make quick work of the Jackrabbits. In place of this there is a spirit of true optimism that cannot be downed by any craze hanging the optimism of a team that knows that it is in for the hardest game of its existence, and that victory will be by a narrow margin. But it is a team determined to win.

Dope in some quarters seems to run in favor of Long Beach winning by heavy odds. All who know anything about the Glendale team are of the opinion that this hope is wrong all the way. The main reason some people give Long Beach the edge is because of the 20-pound supremacy in weight. Those who know the Dynamiters can testify that weight means nothing in their young lives. They have whipped teams that outweighed them more than do the Jackrabbits, and figure that they can do the same thing to Long Beach. They are so fast that the Long Beach weight will be of little avail against their speed.

The Dynamiters are the fastest bunch of football players on the coast, and if they can stop Morley Drury, the Long Beach fullback, all should be well.

Man for man, Glendale looks every bit as good as Long Beach. The much vaunted supremacy of the Long Beach line is all bunk. Those who advertise it are not acquainted with the speed and charging power of the Glendale forward wall. In the backfield the Dynamiters are faster than Long Beach and should show the Jackrabbits a lively time.

As nearly as the dope shows, Horri and Lavelle at ends outclass Hand and White, the Long Beach wingmen. Phillips and Brucker at the tackle berths are every bit as good as Hulen and Tandy, and perhaps a little better. Boren, playing right guard, is the best man of the Jackrabbit line. Against him will be our own "Iron Duke" Morrison, and Morry surely can play football. Brucker and Penn face each other at the nose guard position and Brucker looks the better of the two. Zaun has been rated as about the best prep center on the coast and he is every bit as good as Artman. From this it looks like the Dynamiters have the superiority of the line. Morrison faces the hardest man on the Jackrabbit forward wall and if he can be held the rest should not be hard. The Dynamiters are so fast that the superior weight of Long Beach should here make very little difference.

It is certain that the Glendale backfield, man for man, is faster than that of Long Beach. Drury at full is the only burst of speed that Long Beach can claim. His 190 pounds, added to his sensational speed, make him the most dangerous man on the entire beach team. He will be opposed by "Tony" Elliot, the triple-threat man of Glendale. All Glendallians know what Elliot can do. He looks every bit as fast as Drury and can outkick him every time. Bud Elliot at quarter faces the young Evans prodigy, brother of Hoggie Evans of the Golden Bears. Bud is a real signal barker and directs the play in a crafty fashion. It is doubtful whether Evans has anything on him. Ryan and Walton at halves oppose Hill and Rich, with the possibility of Jones going in. Ryan is one of the mainstays of the Glendale team and can be counted on to tell the Beach backs just what is what. Walton is a great ground gainer and since last Saturday the beachers are directing all their attention on him.

Just like that vanishes the Long Beach supremacy, and Glendale should stand an even chance to defeat the Jackrabbits tomorrow and grab the Southern California title.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 9 BURTON HEIGHTS

Burton Heights is located in the heart of the La Crescenta Valley—the Section that is “going.” So appealing are the homesites in this tract that it was almost half sold out in a single day, establishing a sales record for Southern California.

It is a part of the famous Toschke vineyard, on Pennsylvania avenue, near Michigan boulevard on the top of a mammoth knoll from which a wonderful view in all directions is secured. Each lot is covered with an excellent quality of grapes—the kind that this ranch has long been noted for.

Government statistics show La Crescenta valley the most healthful spot in the world—get that—IN THE WHOLE WORLD. And—get this, too—Burton Heights is right in the heart of this valley. Could more be desired?

If you love the mountains, this tract will appeal to you. If you delight in valley scenes, you will go wild over Burton Heights. If your heart yearns for the open spaces—to get away from artificial things—to experience the freedom that only the mountains and the valleys can give—to have a little cozy home of your own out where things are real—this wonder tract will grip your very soul.

The La Crescenta Valley is the section that John S. McGroarty selected for a home. All over Southern California this famous poet and writer rambled until he came to this valley—and there he settled down—the end of the rainbow had been found. “It’s the garden spot of the world,” says Mr. McGroarty. “God kissed this wonderful favored section. He carressed it with his unspeakable love. His smile bestowed upon it health-giving qualities, a peace that has come to abide, a quiet restfulness that cannot be surpassed.

OWNERS AND SUBDIVIDERS

SOME ACTION

Over $54,000 worth of property was sold in Burton Heights last Sunday.

Some record for a single day. Stop a moment and ask yourself “WHY.” There must be a reason.

Run out to the tract. Stand on one of those grapevine-covered lots and look about you. To the north are the wonderful Sierra Madre mountains—to the south the evergreen Verdugos—to the east the Montrose and La Canada country—to the west Sunland and Tujunga.

Take in this wonderful all-direction view and you will not have to ask the question, “Why.”

The continuous panorama will captivate you—the nearness to nature will grip you,—the wonderful health giving climate will enthrill you.

You will then see why dozens of homelovers selected Burton Heights as a location for their future abode. You will know why they consider this the “cream” of Southern California.

THAT BARBECUE

Last Sunday's barbecue was a “Whale” of a success. Seven hundred folks from Glendale and surrounding country were fed, and every one went away singing the praises of Joe Romero.

Joe was on hand “with the bells.” He knows exactly how to barbecue meat and to serve it with delicious salad, coffee, and everything else to go with it.

“Next Sunday's barbecue will be the best I have ever served,” said Joe this morning, and Joe meant what he said. This means that if you miss next Sunday's “feed” you'll have just reason to be sorry. These Spanish viands blend wonderfully with the beauties of the charming La Crescenta Valley.

Come out, and experience a touch of nature—get close to the hills, and the trees and the growing things.

Everything will be free.

DIRECTIONS

From Glendale drive out Verdugo Road to Honolulu Avenue in Montrose and continue on Honolulu to our Tract Office on Pennsylvania Ave., just south of Michigan Blvd.; or take Glendale and Montrose car at Maryland and Broadway, get off at Pennsylvania. One Block North.

cause the line is higher than the river bed and overhead crossings are impractical in this district. The small area north of Alhambra to Elysian Park is now sewered and drains to the southwest. The territory east of the River and comprising East Los Angeles and Eagle Rock is with the exception of the Valley immediately adjacent to the river, the only territory below Glendale which will be served by this sewer.

Eagle Rock and East Los Angeles are now three-fourths sewered and contribute about six and one-half million gallons per twenty-four hours. Only a small proportion of this present flow, namely that from Eagle Rock will be allowed to enter the proposed new line. The future increase in flow will, however, be taken care of and six and one-half million gallons capacity has been allocated for this purpose. The territory immediately adjacent to the river, between the hills and the San Fernando Road, has been provided for to the extent of three and one-half million gallons. In setting this figure due regard has been taken of the possibility of industrial development in this area.

Glendale proper has been assumed as contributing ultimately to twelve million gallons of sewage. This represents, in terms of population, service for over two hundred thousand inhabitants.

At Aviation Drive, the end of the proposed sewer, there is capacity, in addition to that required by Glendale at this point, for one-half million people. This capacity is provided for the future development of the upper part of the San Fernando Valley. To visualize the development of the San Fernando Valley to the point where this capacity will be required, one must imagine the entire valley from the Simi Hills to the Verdugo Mountains, and from the Santa Monica Mountains to the Santa Susana Mountains, as thickly populated as is the City of Glendale at the present time.

The above account represents briefly the manner in which the problem of providing for the territory to be served by this sewer was studied. All calculations and assumptions were carefully detailed and checked to the end that all the territory tributary to this sewer be properly and adequately served.

Universal Receiver For Young Radio Fans

Radio fans, young and old, amateur and professional, will be interested in the plans outlined for a Universal Receiver by Zeh Bouck, in the Radio Department of the December issue of Boy's Life.

The receiver described is capable of receiving on any wave length. It not only brings in the concerts in a way that very few other sets can equal, but it gets right down to two hundred meters, the amateur's hunting ground where all their intercommunication and traffic is carried on. Best of all, says Bouck, it goes up just as efficiently to where the trans-Atlantic stations are sending slow code day and night—the ideal code practice.

While the Boy's Life radio expert is talking primarily to Boy Scouts, his plans are of equal value to anyone anxious to install an equipment that will get everything that is going. Moreover, the cost of the equipment described is within reach of even the average purse.

The Boy Scout Zeh Bouck points out, is fundamentally a code man. He takes radio much more seriously than his friend, the broadcast enthusiast. The Scout is interested in code as a companion to his wig-wag system. He desires to learn the code, a really difficult feat, requiring diligence and practice running into many months. The Universal Receiver enables him to secure this practice, for a good deal of the trans-oceanic traffic is transmitted at about twelve words a minute, and in many cases each word is repeated. Code is the most fascinating side of the radio game. The equipment needed for the radio receiver is as follows:

One three-coil honeycomb mounting.
Sets of three coils for the waves

Grid condenser and leak, "CC."
Two variable condensers from 7000 mfd. to $815 mid. maximum capacitance. "C" and "C2."
Phone condenser, "C3."
One series-parallel switch.
One panel, bakelite, hard rubber or wood. If the set is built with the detector only the panel should be about 7 inches by 15 inches, and if the two-stage amplifier is included, 7 inches by 24 inches.

One closed circuit telephone jack, "J1."
One rheostat (six ohm).
One standard socket.
Two knobs and dials for the condensers.
This set may be constructor with the detector alone, or with the built-in two-stage audio amplifier. If the amplifier is to be included, the following additional equipment will be necessary:
Two standard sockets.
Two rectifiers for UV201A tubes.
Two audio frequency amplifying transformers, "trans."
One closed-circuit jack, "J2."
One open-circuit jack, "J3."

The article, of course, carries diagrams showing how this equipment should be installed, special emphasis being given the important point of wiring.

RUSSELL-PIERCE FURNITURE CO. HAS PRACTICAL GIFTS

With the demand for high-grade furniture for Christmas gifts even greater than that of last year, the Russell-Pierce Furniture company, South San Fernando road, has just received a large shipment of novelty furnishings, all of which make excellent Yuletide gifts. Since adding more than 1200 square feet of floor space and also employing several extra clerks, the firm is ready to fill the needs of the Glendale public for real practical gifts.

"A gift that will last and give service is cherished longer and will do more good than one which is beautiful at first but soon loses its luster and desirability," states Ralph Pierce, one of the proprietors. "Furniture will please any home lover and the qualities of our stock will beautify any home, whether it be a simple cottage or an expensive mansion. We have just received a large shipment of high grade floor and table lamps, the beauty of which will increase the pleasure of the receiver at Christmas time and will be enjoyed by the entire family."

Many other novelties are offered, including smokers' stands, card tables, book ends, etc., all of which may be bought on easy terms.

Although the firm is a South Glendale business, it caters not only to residents of that section but solicits the trade of the entire San Fernando valley.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

JUST FEELING FRIENDLY

Just feelin' friendly; that's the way To make a friend and keep him. Say! There's somethin' bigger 'n any art Down in a friendly fellow's heart. It's somethin' you can't coax or make. It's somethin' you can't once mistake. It's feelin' friendly, square and true And wantin' to play fair with you.

Just feelin' friendly, that's the thing. To want to come to you and bring A bit of help; a kindly word. Some gladness, that your heart be stirred With warmth and light and happiness. There is no doubt or any guess About it; nothin' you can hide. For it just bubbles up inside.

Just feelin' friendly; somethin' warm Inside of you; not any form Or creed or doctern; just a lot Of human kindness and that's what. You can't pretend it, you can't hide It if you've got that soul inside. Just feelin' friendly—that's the way To make a friend and have him stay.

BRILLIANT CAST OF CELEBRITIES IN FILM "SIX DAYS"

Charles Brabin, in his production of Elinor Glyn's sensational story, "Six Days," which is showing at the Gateway theatre, spent more than a month in choosing players for the cast.

Corinne Griffith and Frank Mayo, who head the brilliant list, have long been stars in their own right. Corinne Griffith made her bow to the screen in 1917, when she played the feminine lead in a picture called "Bitter Sweet."

Myrtle Stedman qualified as a gifted actress in 1912, and for several years was starred in three-reel features. Maude George has an important part in "Six Days." Spottiswoode Aitken and Charles Clary have appeared in pictures since 1910.

Claude King has had less picture experience, but has a long and distinguished stage career. He made his debut before the camera with Pola Negri in her first photoplay filmed in America.

KAFFIRS FORMING LABOR UNIONS

[By Associated Press]

JOHANNESBURG, Dec. 7.—Striking evidence of the extent to which socialistic propaganda has been carried on among blacks in South Africa has been given by an incident in a Northern Rustenburg district, says the Daily Mail.

A number of farmers who required additional native labor went to Mochudi, across the Transvaal border in the Bechuanaland Protectorate, and put their case before the chief Isang.

To their astonishment the chief replied that his people (Kaffirs) were organizing a native labor union with a view to regulating wages, and when the union was formed the farmers should apply to it for the labor they required.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG STARS IN "WIFE'S ROMANCE"

The photoplay showing again at the Glendale today is a real treat. "A Wife's Romance" is the title and its principal role is played by such a well-tried artist as Clara Kimball Young. This fact alone assures an evening of the keenest enjoyment.

Miss Young has proven long ago that she can be depended upon to give a living portrayal if the role is suitable to her special talents. However, "A Wife's Romance" is taken from the well known novel, "La Rubia," by H. W. Roberts and this is just the kind of thing Miss Young does best of all. Her role is that of the American woman of high strung, emotional temperament who is denied the love for which her whole being hungers. Finally she finds a measure of excitement and romance if not real love in the person of Ramon, the delightful bandit of Spain.

BEAUTIFUL ALICE JOYCE IS BACK IN FILMS AGAIN

An event of no little importance is the return to the screen of the gorgeously beautiful Alice Joyce, in "The Green Goddess," the distinctive picture starring George Arliss, which is to be shown at the T. D. & L. theatre again tomorrow.

When Alice Joyce married James B. Regan, Jr., one of the wealthiest young men in New York, she announced she was through with the screen for all time. However, it seems she could not resist the opportunity offered by the excellent part of the young English wife in "The Green Goddess," and it required little persuasion on the part of Arthur S. Friend, president of the Distinctive Pictures corporation, to have Miss Joyce change her mind, once she had read the scenario.
