GLENDALE TO ACT AS PART OF HOST TO ROTARIANS

Local Organization Makes Plans to Help Receive Delegates in June

GLENDALE Rotarians and Glendale citizens are going to unite in entertaining as many delegates to the convention of International Rotary clubs in Los Angeles next month as it is humanly possible to do.

Hospitality and reciprocity were the topics of the club's luncheon yesterday noon and it was decided to organize the motorists of Glendale for giving the visitors a two-hour trip to Glendale and vicinity on Sunday and Monday of convention week.

It is on those days that the host of Rotarians, with their wives and families, will arrive in Los Angeles and, of course, they will want to see all of Southern California they can before the sessions start. The following arrangements were made by Chairman Val Hollister of the "Oneto Los Angeles committee":

Make Arrangements

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce, the Glendale Theatre and the Buick agency will accept registrations of all those public spirited persons who will donate their motor cars for the two days. Banners will be furnished machines designating the fact that they are from Glendale and it is expected that each party will want to see Glendale, Verdugo Woodlands, Plintridge and other points of interest.

Members of the Rotary club who are in official position in various lodges will call upon their brothers to loan their cars in reciprocity for the hospitality they are extended when at conventions. A general appeal will be made through the newspapers and the Chamber of Commerce membership.

Miss Ina Whitaker Gives Garden Party

Miss Ina Whitaker entertained with a garden party at her home "La Casita," 112 West Elk avenue last Saturday afternoon in honor of the birthday of her godson, Ian Marshall Laird, of Hollywood, and also that of her fiancé, William Prosser Penn, of Tundridge Wells, England, whose engagement to Miss Whitaker was recently announced. Mr. Penn was unable to be present, but sent his greetings and those of the Penn family by cablegram to guests at the party and to all old friends and neighbors.

The house was beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers. Outdoor games were enjoyed by the children and refreshments were served under the pergola. Master Ian wore his Scotch kilts and regalia and a neighboring lad, Alec McDougall, also came in full Highland costume, giving the finishing picturesque touch when he marched up and down the garden playing the bagpipes, on which he is a very skilled performer.

The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. L. Whitaker, and her sister, Mrs. Reginald Whitaker. The guests included Mrs. William Mitchell of Westgate; Mrs. Marshall Laird of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Lamont Greene, Mrs. Thomas G. McDougall and Mrs. Frances Taft. Children present were Ian Marshall Laird, Marjorie Bruce Laird, Alec McDougall, Jane Greene, Lynn and Lucille Johnson.

The Evening News Will Not Publish On Memorial Day

MEMORIAL DAY, Tuesday, May 30, 1922, being a legal holiday observed generally by the merchants of Glendale, The Glendale Evening News will not publish a paper on that date.

For years it has been the custom of this institution to give its employees the opportunity of participating in the services honoring the nation's heroes.

The Glendale Evening News will not capitalize the patriotism of the veterans in issuing a "special edition," but anyone having announcements, advertisements or news for the first of the week will be accommodated in Monday evening's regular edition.

For the convenience of patrons the business office will remain open Tuesday and the public generally is invited to inspect the mechanical department of this institution on Memorial Day, to which $10,000 additional equipment has been added recently.

So, remember, no paper Tuesday, Memorial Day.

Rooster Loses His Life Objecting to Hen Fruit Harvest

ROOSTERS, you say? Glendale sure has them and their tales are getting scattered far and wide.

H. V. Ellis of 309 North Cedar street bought a flock of Rhode Island Reds at Santa Monica recently.

The old rooster proved to be a fighter and every time any member of the family would go into the chicken yard to harvest the henfruit, he had a wound to dress.

Mr. Ellis maintained his dignity as long as possible, but one morning he felt out of sorts.

"Why not have noodles for dinner?" he said.

And forthwith he proceeded to the execution.

So ends the story of that fighting cock.

Have YOU a rooster story to offer? If so, send it along—let's create some more egg-citement.

AUTO PARKING LAW GOES IN EFFECT ON SATURDAY

Two-hour Limit in Certain Sections of Business District, Is Rule

The ordinance regulating parking of automobiles in certain sections of the business district goes into effect tomorrow.

The ordinance was passed by the city council April 27 and the law requires that it go into effect thirty days after passage. The provision relating to parking follows:

"Section 5-A: That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to park any vehicle, or cause any vehicle to be parked on either side of Brand Boulevard from the north line of Colorado street to the south line of California avenue, on either side of Broadway from the west line of Jackson street to the east line of Central avenue, between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 5 o'clock p. m., of any day except Sunday or legal holidays, for a longer period of time than two hours."

The city council, in session last night, made no reference to the ordinance. It is presumed that signs designating the parking hours will be displayed in prominent places in order that auto drivers may not be "trapped."

Mrs. Margaret Smith Convention Delegate

Mrs. Samuel Dick of 309 North Louise street reports that her niece, Mrs. Margaret Horrell Smith, who has taught school in Los Angeles for the past fifteen years, has been chosen by the school board of that city to attend the annual gathering and convention of the National Educational Association, which is to be held in Boston, Massachusetts, on June 27.

Mrs. Smith, who is well known to a number of Glendale residents, has been principal of the Sixty-first street school in Los Angeles for the past twelve years, during which time she has successfully introduced and conducted the system of "individual work" among the pupils. This system, which is fast proving itself to be the most efficient in teaching the children of the grammar school ages, allows the individual boy or girl to make as much progress as he or she is capable of accomplishing.

Elks Band Concert Complete Success

The first public concert of the season given last night by the members of the Glendale Elks band met with success and appreciation by the large crowd which gathered in front of the clubhouse on Colorado street and which also partly filled the athletic grounds of the high school across the street.

The members of the band wore their white and purple uniforms and caps and were led by R. E. Kenny, director. Both Mr. Kenny and Maurice Burke, manager of the band, feel much pleased over the reception which was given the members of the band, and it is anticipated that another concert will be given in the near future.

Hi-Y Boys Seek Noted Fishing Hole

Several members of the local Hi-Y are planning a fishing trip over the week-end and vacation to a noted fishing place above Santa Barbara. Those who are going are Lee Payne, Cecil Wilson, Ted Haig, and Newton Megillis. L. L. Payne will accompany the boys. They will return on Tuesday, they say, with a limit of both trout and ocean fish, as there is good trout fishing adjacent to the beach.

Today's World News In Brief

By International News Service to Glendale Evening News

JURY TO PROBE WAR GRAFT SWORN; STARTS SOON
WASHINGTON, May 26.—The new federal grand jury before which Attorney General Daugherty is to appear in person to submit evidence of war contract frauds was completed and sworn in today by Chief Justice McCoy of the District of Columbia supreme court. Hearings will be started on Wednesday of next week.

WALTER S. WARD MUST STAY IN JAIL, IS RULING
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 26.—Walter S. Ward, confessed slayer of Clarence Peters, must remain in jail, under a ruling handed down today by Supreme Court Justice Frank L. Young. The justice refused the request of Allan R. Campbell, of counsel for young Ward, who had appeared in supreme court in a habeas corpus proceeding and asked for Ward's immediate release.

MYSTERIOUS EXPLOSIONS SHAKE UP SANTA MONICA
SANTA MONICA, May 26.—A series of mysterious explosions shook Santa Monica and awakened hundreds of sleepers early today. The blasts were so violent that it was said the earth vibrated for a period of ten seconds after the sounds had subsided. Investigations conducted by police failed to disclose what caused the shocks. Theory was that a surprise battle-ship practice attack had been staged in adjacent waters.

ONE KILLED AND THREE HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT
SEATTLE, May 26.—Arthur C. Hubbard of Auburn was killed and three others injured when an automobile in which they were riding ran off an embankment on the Black Diamond road near Auburn early today, imprisoning all four under the car for thirty minutes before help arrived. Dave Rae of Kent suffered a broken back and internal injuries while his wife was slightly bruised, and Jerome Uder sustained minor injuries.

CHARLES R. CRANE NOT IN PRISON, ANNOUNCEMENT
PARIS, May 26.—The report that Charles R. Crane, former American minister to China, had been sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment by a French military court in Syria for inciting Syrians to arise against the French occupational troops, is false, it was announced at the foreign field office this afternoon. It was declared that Mr. Crane "was never indicted, never tried and never sentenced and that the story that he has been is a falsehood."

REMOVE LEGAL OBSTACLE TO M'CORMICK WEDDING
CHICAGO, May 26.—Another barrier in the romantic path of Miss Mathilda McCormick, 17-year-old granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, toward a marriage with Max Oser, Swiss riding master, was believed today to have been removed by the appointment of her father, Harold F. McCormick, as her legal guardian. It has been the general understanding among friends of the McCormick family that Mr. McCormick will not oppose his daughter's alliance with Oser.

WILL H. HAYS ASKS FOR CO-OPERATION OF PUBLIC
PITTSBURGH, May 26.—The co-operation of the public in his efforts to establish and maintain the highest possible moral and artistic standard of production in motion pictures, was asked today in an address before an audience at Carnegie institute by Will H. Hays, former postmaster general and now president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America. Mr. Hays warned his hearers however, not to expect any "overnight miracle" in the motion picture industry.

TEN ARE DEAD AS RESULT OF EXPLOSION OF GAS
BIRMINGHAM, May 26.—Ten miners are dead today, five whites and five negroes and one negro is missing as a result of a gas explosion late Thursday afternoon near the fifth and second entries of mine No. 3 of the Alabama Fuel and Iron company at Acmar, St. Clair county. About eighty men were at work in the mine at the time of explosion and all escaped except those killed outright. Little damage was done to the mine. Rescue work continued and all the bodies have been recovered.

GLENDALE KLANSMEN INVOLVED IN JURY INQUIRY
LOS ANGELES, May 26.—With the county grand jury resuming its investigation of the Ku Klux Klan and the Inglewood mob violence, the klansmen are registering their protest against the removal of Kleagle G. W. Price. Klansmen in Whittier, Santa Monica, Redondo, Hermosa, Bell, Long Beach, Covina, Venice, Santa Ana, Inglewood, Glendale, San Pedro and other southern California communities sent telegrams to the headquarters of the so-called "invisible empire" in Atlanta, protesting against Price's removal.

REDUCTION IN PASSENGER FARES IS PROMISED NOW
WASHINGTON, May 26.—Lower passenger fares on the railroads will follow the sweeping cuts in freight rates, high government officials declared today. A strong minority of the interstate commerce commission maintains that lower passenger fares are essential to larger revenues from the traveling public. People are not doing much traveling now under present high rates. This was shown by interstate commerce commission figures revealing that passenger traffic on all railroads in the United States is seven billion passenger miles below normal.

'MAN WHO SHOT TAYLOR' IS STILL BEING DETAINED
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 26.—A man who described himself as "Mac" and later established his identity as Frank Doran of Chicago, was held by the authorities here today upon his boast that "I'm the guy that shot William Desmond Taylor in California." Doran made this statement to a taxi driver, Herman Bernhard, at Fishkill, after forcing the man to drive him at the point of a revolver to a point near Naugatuck. Local authorities are inclined to doubt the man's story, but are holding him until word can be had from Los Angeles authorities.

SEEK TO ARREST CHICAGO'S CHIEF OF POLICE
CHICAGO, May 26.—Demand for power to virtually arrest Chief of Police Charles C. Fitzmorris and take him into court in the habeas corpus proceedings seeking to bring about the release of "Big Tim" Murphy and Fred Mader, labor leaders, was made before Judge Harry B. Miller today by counsel for Murphy and Mader. The judge refused to grant the application for a writ of attachment for Fitzmorris. Chief Fitzmorris has steadfastly evaded appearance in court. Counsel for Murphy and Mader have demanded that the chief show what he has "on" their clients.

WOODRUFF WAR GRAFT RESOLUTION IS BLOCKED
WASHINGTON, May 26.—Speaker Gillett today blocked an effort by Representative Johnson, South Dakota, to force the Woodruff war graft investigation resolution before the house. The speaker ruled that until older rules brought from the house rules committee had been disposed of by the house a charge of violating house privileges by unreasonable delay in presenting the Woodruff resolution would not be entertained by him. Johnson appealed from his decision, but the speaker was sustained by a viva voce vote. Johnson forced a record roll call vote. This vote was 149 to 114 to sustain the ruling of the speaker. The Democrats voted with Johnson and Woodruff while the Republicans stood almost solidly behind Gillett.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY AND BRIDGE ARE CONSIDERED

East Glendale Body Hears West Broadway Project, Names Committee

The installation of a bridge over the Los Angeles river at the foot of West Broadway to connect Glendale and Griffith Park and the establishment of an electric line on Glendale avenue were the two principal topics of discussion yesterday noon at the Polkadot cafe, 710 East Broadway, by the East Glendale Advancement Association.

On account of the absence of C. W. Ingledue of 630 East Broadway, president, C. A. Stuart of 638 East Broadway, was selected as chairman to confer with the committee from the West Broadway Improvement Association in regard to the bridge. Mr. Stuart named Mr. Perch, F. W. M. McIntyre, of 724 East Broadway; John P. Lampert, 622 East Broadway; Herman Nelson, 700 East Broadway; and Mrs. Mabel E. Ticht, 612 East Broadway.

"Personally, I think Broadway is the logical street for the bridge," declared Mr. Nelson. "It takes people right through the business district. Broadway is the dividing street and a bridge across Broadway would be more accessible to a large portion of the city."

City Manager W. H. Reeves made a brief appeal for concentration upon one bridge location at the present time regardless of whether it is the best one. He called attention to the erection of successive bridges by Pasadena and reminded those present that concentration upon one bridge now would make it easier to obtain additional bridges later.

First Summer Dance By American Legion

A record crowd is expected to be present tomorrow night at the Chamber of Commerce hall on South Brand boulevard, when Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, will stage its first summer dance of the season. T. Ralph Goodman, Jr., who is chairman of the dancing committee, is planning an entertaining the largest crowd of merry-makers in the history of the post. He will be assisted by A. H. Jones, Sid Simon, Hal Phillips, Gordon Clayton and W. B. Kelly.

Music for the novel affair will be furnished by Jerry Parker's "Glendale Glad Glidders," composed entirely of local jazz artists. All member and friends of the American Legion are invited to be present, the music to begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Commercial District On Colorado Street

Proceedings to further the establishment of Central avenue from Colorado to Windsor road as a commercial district as provided for in a majority petition on file were taken by the city council last night. Councilman S. A. Davis voting in opposition.

Action looking to set aside Verdugo road from Harvard to Orange as a commercial district was unanimous.

Hearing of the petition to change Ordinance 557 so as to include certain property mentioned in the industrial district was postponed two weeks. The Fox-Woodsum Lumber company is in the territory.

Mrs. Jacob Kull Has Luncheon, Card Party

Mrs. Jacob Kull of 429 West Palm drive entertained a group of friends at her home yesterday at a luncheon and card party. The guests included Mrs. Blanche Aageson, Mrs. George Dewey, Mrs. Granville Jones, Miss Lenox Jones, Mrs. Walter Toenges, Mrs. Dale Hutchinson, Miss Henderson of New York City, Mrs. O. P. Hims of Hollywood and the hostess, Mrs. Kull. High score was made by Mrs. George Dewey and Mrs. Dale Hutchinson.

Intermediate Pupils to Picnic Saturday

About forty members of the "A-8th-2's" will leave the Intermediate as soon after 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning as possible in autos for an outing at Ocean Park. Besides a number of mothers, four members of the faculty are expected to make the excursion. They are Miss Alice Lookabaugh, who is expected to drive her new Chevrolet; Miss Zoia Thompson, Miss eVra Sinclair and Miss Carol Duncan.

Worth Widdows Tallest Boy in Glendale, Weight and Age Considered; That's Why He's Wearing News' Prize Bathing Suit

EIGHT and age considered, Worth Widdows is the tallest boy in Glendale, following a contest held by The Glendale Evening News, in which young giants over 6 feet and under 18 years of age were invited to participate.

Worth won, hands down, or rather, toes up! He weighs 180, or 14 pounds more than normal, yet boasts an almost perfect physique, as will be noted in the picture. His height is six feet two and a half inches, slightly less than his younger brother, Maurice Widdows, who stands 75 inches, but weighs only 150 pounds instead of the normal 170.

He is 16 years old and has a bathing suit, anyway.

Donald Stone, winner of the second prize, is an absolutely normal human being at the age of 15, being 73 1/2 inches high, 160 pounds in weight, and in another week or so will boast being the tallest boy, age and weight considered, as the winning Widdows will be 18 on May 31.

The latter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Q. Widdows, while Stone resides with his mother at 301 East Chestnut street. They are students at Glendale Union High school. There are scores of six-footers around town and it almost makes a fellow 5 feet 6 inches think he is a mighty small thing when the boys are so big.

JAZZ HOUSE NOW BEING ERECTED BY ARTISTS

Burn Wood Before It Is Used; Hunks Cut From Timbers; Paint Dazzles

To burn your house before you build it is the novel plan adopted by Harry Oliver and Raymond G. Smith, who are the architects and supervisors of construction of the unique structure being erected on the Los Feliz Road, just outside of the city limits of Glendale.

Oliver and Smith, who are art director and superintendent of the King Victor studio in Hollywood, are erecting the building for the Montgomery Food company of Los Angeles, who will occupy it as a roadside drinking and eating place. Its construction, slightly of the ancient English architectural plan, is classed as "jazz" by the planners.

Each piece of exterior casing has been chopped out in the rough by the workers with band axes, but only after the wood has been subjected to the flames of a huge bonfire to give it a distinctive dark color. The shingles on the roof also have been taken from the flames and laid in crazy-quilt fashion. In fact the entire structure is "crooked," to quote A. L. Smith, the foreman of the carpenter crew working in the building.

It is estimated that the structure will cost $6000 and is so constructed that an easy swing of the road will bring the automobile trade directly to the door where an old-fashioned well will greet them with its wooden bucket, covered with moss and filled with water, the physiology of which is to create a thirst and thus compel the purchase of a beverage.

The entire interior of the structure, besides the quaint fireplace, will be decorated in various hues and colors, embracing the Persian arts and figures. As a matter of fact, the builders say that until the artists actually apply the brush no idea can be given nor conjectured of the figures that will adorn the walls, thus maintaining the general idea of building a structure that rightfully can be called a "jazz" house. It is expected that it will be ready for occupancy about June 4.

LOCAL FAMILY HAS UNUSUAL CLOCK CENTURY OLD

What is, perhaps, one of the most beautiful old clocks in this country is now in the possession of Randall Garretson of 116 1/2 Olive street, Glendale. The works are of Swiss manufacture, over 100 years old, and are in perfect condition.

It was purchased by the Garretsons and brought from England seventy-five years ago. The case, which is eight feet tall, is of a beautiful quality of white oak, covered with intricate patterns carved by hand. The face is of sheet gold, the dial of old platinum, the hands of solid blue steel.

Above the face of the clock is a calendar face, showing the days of the month, and position of the moon.

The chimes, played on a set of nine cylinders of drawn silver, pure sterling metal, are said to be in exact tune with those of Westminster Abbey. It also rings "eight bells," a most unusual feature. The gong is like the one in the Tower of London. The brass weights weigh fifty, thirty-five and twenty-five pounds, the glass doors are French bevel.

The family paid $2500 for what is now almost a priceless antique. It came into the possession of the present owner as part of his inheritance from the estate of his father, the late A. G. Garretson, pioneer and railroad builder of Sioux City.

Seattle Residents Visitors In Glendale

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Edmonston of Seattle, Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Edmonston's sister, Miss Florence Rogers, also of the northern city, spent several days during the past week visiting with friends and acquaintances in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Edmonston spent last summer in Glendale.

CLOSING SESSION OF CONVENTION BEING HELD

W. C. T. U. Gathering Most Successful In History, Delegates Assert

THE women's Christian Temperance Union of Southern California this afternoon at the First Methodist church is closing its fortieth annual convention. This convention has been one of the most successful ever held, in the opinion of active workers of the organization. Delegates are leaving Glendale with regret. Many of them seemed especially pleased with the meals served to them at the White Inn, 223 So. Brand boulevard, and all of them commented favorably upon the general hospitality of the community.

Rev. Robert Shuler of Los Angeles was the principal speaker last night, "getting into action" on the query: "Shall it be absolute sobriety and law enforcement?"

"The time has come now to the fight for the very life of our country," he exclaimed. "The pathetic thing is that business men will lend themselves to programs that strike to the very heart of our constitution. The Wright bill is as simple as A. B. C. If you vote for it, you vote to uphold the constitution as a law-abiding citizen. If you vote against it, you vote against the constitution."

Enforcement Necessary

"We have come to an hour when we must absolutely insist upon enforcement of the law. If the law is made ridiculous, we are at a tremendous disadvantage."

Rev. Shuler denounced in stirring adjectives the system of law enforcement which raided Chinatown and the shanty section of Los Angeles at periodical intervals with plenty of attendant publicity and then permitted certain large hotels, which conclusive evidence shows are being operated as blind pigs, to remain unlocated.

"You say that we have lots of anarchy?" he inquired. "It is a surprise to me that we haven't got more. A country that enforces the law against the man who is down and out, and doesn't enforce it against the man who can drive a Cadillac—there is something wrong with that."

Mrs. R. G. Payne and Daughter Here

Mrs. R. G. Payne and daughter, Miss Frances E. Payne, of Bakersfield, formerly of Glendale, are spending the week-end with Mrs. Payne's sister, Mrs. E. A. Eingham of 221 West Wilson avenue.

Miss Payne is a graduate of Glendale Union High school and her friends in this city will be pleased to learn of her success in the past year at Bakersfield, where she is supervisor of orchestral music in the public schools of that city. Miss Payne has some eighty pupils under her supervision in private teaching, also five orchestras. Her year's work closed last Thursday with a concert.

Lavera Kitterman Gives Dinner Party

Miss Lavera Kitterman of 311 North Kenwood street was hostess last night at a dinner party at her home last night for a group of the young women from the First National bank. The guests included Katherine Weising, Susan Thomas, Hattie Habersham, Mildred Johnson, Helen Conway, Etta Wilson, Ethel Preston, Dorothy Hamilton and Lois Percy of Sunland. The house was decorated throughout with a profusion of roses. After dinner the evening was spent in playing games.

Rat, Family Pet, Missing, Located In Bed In Auto!

EVEN the rats get the automobile fever in Glendale!

Robert Austin, formerly of Waukegan, Ill., who resides in Glendale, Hattie Street, has a trained white rat. His pet has had the run of the house and was kept in a neat little bed-box at night.

Yesterday morning when Mrs. Austin went to let the little fellow out of his bed, she found him absent and most of the bedding gone.

Consternation reigned at the Austin home for nearly an hour during which a vigorous search was made for the rat.

Eventually, the household pet was found reclining peacefully in the rear seat of the family auto, all bound round with its bedding, which it had carried from the house to the garage. But—

The family must use the automobile, so the white rat was to have to go back into the box-bed again tonight.

Have YOU a little rat in your home—and if so, is there a tale in connection with same, eh?

Pendroy Progressive Club Is Organized

The employees of the Pendroy Dry Goods store at Harvard and Brand boulevard were the guests of honor at an elaborate five-course banquet given last night in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium by E. C. Pendroy.

At that time the Pendroy Progressive club was organized and the following officers elected: D. H. Couse, president; Dale Ludwig, vice-president; Miss H. Cook, secretary; Miss Helen Kapus, assistant secretary; B. J. Hyink, treasurer. The meetings of the club, which will be of a business and social nature, are to be held the second Monday in every month.

Those present at last night's banquet and meeting included Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pendroy, D. H. Couse, Dale Ludwig, B. J. Hyink, Miss H. Cook, Miss Winona McGuire, Mrs. Helen Otto, C. W. Love, Mrs. Schaidell, Mrs. J. H. Hendersen, Miss Dorothy Haig, Miss Marie Clennin, Mrs. R. Knudson, Mr. Dawson, G. Hall Dannon, Miss Helen Kapus, Miss Dora Kroll.

C. OF C. DIRECTORS MEET

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce directors are meeting this noon to consider special business inasmuch as their next week's regular meeting comes on Memorial day and no meeting is scheduled.

Differences of opinion, however, do not change the facts in the case.

Dr. Geissinger Aids In Campaign For Church Fund

DR. J. A. GEISSINGER
Who is directing the campaign to raise funds for extension work of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church. He is a former Ohio resident.

Dr. James Allen Geissinger, under whose direction the campaign has been organized to raise funds for extension work of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church, is formerly from Cincinnati, Ohio, where, during his early years in the ministry, was a co-worker in the conference with Dr. W. L. Y. Davis, the Pasadena district superintendent.

Dr. Geissinger came west more than seventeen years ago, living first in Arizona, and he has been in California for fifteen years. During the Centenary campaign he resigned from a pastorate at Long Beach to enter the field and traveled over California, Nevada and Arizona, becoming quite widely known.

Since the close of that campaign he has been serving as the pastor of the Methodist church of Anaheim. Many local people who have made his acquaintance will be pleased at the opportunity of hearing Dr. Geissinger preach here.

Health Department At South Glendale

This is moving day for the health department. It is moving from the rear of the council chamber at the city hall to the second floor of the former Tropico City Hall at Los Feliz road and Brand boulevard. The move is being engineered by Henry W. H. Hollenbeck, city sanitary inspector.

The man who sets out to learn how to make a lot of money does well to learn how not to lose it.

Gertrude Ross to Give Address For Music Club

Mrs. Gertrude Ross, composer-pianist, who will talk on "The Woman Composer" at the second annual banquet and concert of the Glendale Music Club to be held at the First Methodist church Friday night, June 2.

Plans are being completed for the second annual banquet and program to be given June 2 by the Glendale Music club at the First Methodist church. Several talks and special musical numbers are being planned for the banquet. The themes of the talks will be "Women in Music," L. E. Behymer will talk on "Women Artists I Have Known." Mrs. Gertrude Ross, who has appeared before the members of the club in several delightful programs, will address the members on "The Woman Composer." Mrs. Ross is a pianist-composer of note and her talk will be founded on experience.

"Women as Patrons in Music" will be discussed by Vernon Spencer. Frances Goldwater will address the members on "The Woman Manager." A group of vocal numbers will be given at the banquet by Mr. and Mrs. J. Spencer Kelley.

Special representatives will be present at the banquet from the City Council, Chamber of Commerce, and it is also anticipated that a large number of artists and music lovers from out-of-town will also be present. The new officers of the Glendale Music club for the ensuing year will also be presented. They are:

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, re-elected president; Mrs. Nathan Rigdon, first vice president; Mrs. Dora Gibson, second vice president; Mrs. Calvin Whiting, recording secretary; Mrs. Helen I. VIVID STORY FOR SCREEN FEATURE AT GLENDALE

William Russell Star in 'The Roof Tree,' Strong Film Production

Admirers of William Russell are promised an extraordinary treat in "The Roof Tree," which will be today's attraction at the Glendale Theatre. This Fox picture tells a vivid story of a Virginian who fled into Kentucky after his sister's husband was slain. Under an assumed name he falls in love with a girl whose grandfather had known his family for three generations. Through circumstances he is forced to deny his membership in that family. However, he lives under the benign influence of a magnificent roof tree which his own grandfather had planted when he went to housekeeping with his new bride.

But the magic of the old tree seems to fail, after a lightning blast, and a series of misfortunes result. This unusual picture is based on a story by Charles Neville Buck, an author who is at home in the hills of Kentucky and Virginia, and is thoroughly familiar with the traditions of that portion of the country.

Eddie Lyons will be seen in "Peace and Quiet," while the news and review reels complete the bill. Tomorrow vaudeville will fill the theatre.

DYNAMOS CLUB AT Church Conference

Dynamo Club night was observed last night at the Young People's conference being conducted this week at the Presbyterian church by Rev. Robert C. McQuilkin. The program for the evening included vocal duets by Miss Myra Johns and Miss Dorothy Johns, accompanied by Isabel Spear. Rev. McQuilkin's topic was "He Satisfied."

The talk given by the Rev. McQuilkin had as its keynote the problem of Latin America, which he stated, was that the parents could not trust their boys and girls in each other's company.

"The secret of all happiness is to forget the dark past and face light and salvation," he said. "Trust and obey God. Temptation and covetousness are ruling the vast majority of the young people and ninety per cent of the young people's problem is caused by too much amusement."

"Would you strike God in the face? Of course not; but still you do this by accepting temptation, which becomes sin and later sends men to their graves without Christ."

New Raycraft Shop Now at Eagle Rock

The new Raycraft shop, a printing office, has been added to the fast growing business center of Eagle Rock. From a little top shop it is getting equipped to handle any sort of work and a move is contemplated to give additional room. This will permit the installation of additional machinery and a complete line of stationery and supplies, including rubber stamps, greeting cards, etc.

Noted Contralto of Metropolitan Opera Company and Also of Chicago Company Appears on Chautauqua Program Tonight

The announcement that Frances Ingram, famous American contralto, formerly with the Metropolitan Opera Company and the Chicago Opera Association, is to sing at Chautauqua tonight, is creating no end of comment among those who appreciate the best in music.

With a capacity audience, the Chautauqua opened its seven-day engagement here last night at the tent at Orange and Harvard streets.

Paul Fleming, mystery man, provided the entertainment and, according to many in the audience, he is the best magician ever appearing in Glendale.

Richardson D. White, city superintendent of schools, was called upon to aid Mr. Fleming and he proved to be some entertainer himself.

L. T. Rowley made the opening remarks, introducing Mrs. T. B. Thatcher, in charge of the Chautauqua. Mrs. Thatcher made a number of announcements, including that of the Junior Chautauqua, which meets every day after the afternoon performance, with Miss Kane in charge.

Mrs. Thatcher said that this Chautauqua had "Friendly Relationships" for its slogan. She closed her brief address by calling attention to the program to be given by Miss Ingram tonight.

During the course of her remarks Mrs. Thatcher said that Glendale had received a lot of publicity in the cities visited by the Chautauqua because of the fact that this city ranked second last year in seat sales out of 150 cities.

The first afternoon program of the chautauqua will be given today at the big tent at Harvard and Orange street at 3 o'clock, beginning with an artists' prelude by the Stearns-Hellekson trio. This will be followed at 3:30 o'clock by a lecture-demonstration "Danger Signals on the Road to Health" by Edna Eugenia Lowe.

Miss Lowe has headed the physical education department for women at two of the big universities and is also the author of a textbook on problems of health. She not only tells how to be healthy but demonstrates in view of the audience exercises that everyone should take.

The special feature of the artists' recital at tonight's entertainment, beginning at 8 o'clock, will be Frances Ingram, noted contralto of the Metropolitan Opera of New York and the Chicago Opera association. The late Campanini, former director of the Chicago opera, said of her: "She is the best American contralto." She is a star of the first magnitude and has played opposite Geraldine Farrar in Carmen.

Miss Ingram will be assisted by the Misses Vere and Ethel Stearns, and Mina Hellekson.

Jimmy O'Connell to Wed Wyoming Girl

LOS ANGELES, May 26.—When Jimmy O'Connell, star outfielder of the San Francisco Seals and for whom the New York Giants paid $75,000, goes east to join the Giants next season he will not go alone. Blushing beneath his wholesome smile, the youthful baseball star of the west admitted today it was true that he was going to be married.

Concerning the young lady who will share the joys of his sudden rise to fame, O'Connell had little to say and it was only after coaxing that he admitted she came from Wyoming. He would not divulge her name, or when the ceremony would take place.

Mystery of Phone Calls to Be Solved

Have you ever returned to your office and found a number to "Please Call" on the telephone? Someone has called during your absence and just leaves the message to phone a certain number. And then you wonder who it was possibly he. Maybe it was someone you don't wish to speak to until tomorrow. Perhaps it was someone you want to talk to right away. The only way to do is to take a chance and call or risk missing something important by not calling.

In the classified directory and numerical phone book being issued by The Glendale Evening News all doubt as to number is removed. Every number in the book from "One" up to the highest, is included numerically and is followed by the name of the phone lessee. If a number is left you find that number, look at the name after it and you have your party.

Business men and realtors, especially, are finding the book an invaluable aid. In addition to the novel phone book there is information about Glendale in the form of a Blue Book. Churches, professional men, shops and offices are classified so that looking up someone to do a certain job is easy.

U. V. Hounsell Is Awarded First Prize

U. V. Hounsell of 604 South Glendale avenue won the $25 capital prize offered by the Trice Furniture company of 118 West Broadway for the best reasons why the Sanico gas range is the best model on the market today. The contest closed Saturday, May 13, and the other prize winners are announced as follows: Second—Mrs. D. A. McRae, 225 Dayton court, $15.

Third—Mrs. Mortena M. Hubbard, 451 Patterson avenue, $10. The contest was held as the concluding event to a school of domestic science, conducted by the manufacturers of the Sanico gas ranges. Wonderful results were obtained in the way of publicity, according to W. F. Trice and he believes that the Sanico gas range is firmly established in the minds of the people of Glendale.

Your faith is not measured by your appreciation of the faults of others.

TOUR OF EUROPE ASTONISHING ACT BEING PLANNED BY PASTOR

Rev. Thomas E. Stevenson Of Burbank to Leave On Trip June 13th

The Rev. Thomas E. Stevenson of the Burbank Presbyterian church has a delightful summer planned, for he intends to tour Europe. His itinerary provides for departure on June 13 with a party of thirty conducted by Rev. J. R. Fisk of Monrovia. The party will go by Feather river canyon, Royal Gorge, Niagara Falls, the Thousand Islands and down the Hudson to New York. From that port the travelers will take the steamer, landing at Cherbourg, France.

They will tour Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium, England, Scotland and Ireland, while Fourth of July will be celebrated in Paris. In August the party will see the Passion Play at Oberammergau. The schedule provides for a return to Burbank on October 22nd.

After arriving in the United States, Rev. Stevenson expects to visit his mother in Pennsylvania, who is 91 years old. During the absence of the pastor, Rev. Hubert Hays of Hollywood will fill the pulpit and with his wife will move into the manse.

Ruby Lights to Rubber At
The attractive electric signs which are designed to inform the traveling public when they have reached the city of Burbank, are now in operation and at night are throwing out a beautiful ruby light, for globes of this shade have been placed on the letters. The design is more attractive than many cities have, being slightly arched with the letter closer.

A change of importance in the real estate field of Burbank has occurred with the entrance into the office of Edwards & Wilkey, of William E. Roskam, the change having taken effect the first of the week.

Real Cave Man Is Found in Colorado

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo.—The "Cave Man of the Rockies" has been discovered in the hills west of this city in the person of Dave Marsh, an eighty-seven-year-old negro.

For a score of years Marsh, a former slave, has led practically a hermit life, making his abode in an underground tunnel of a hillside facing Mt. Pisgah, two miles west of Cripple Creek.

The tunnel, blasted from solid rock by some early-day gold prospector, burrows into the mountain for a distance of more than forty feet.

The subterranean home of the aged cave man is dark as a dungeon and only about three feet high its entire distance. Marsh does all his cooking over a stone fire at the entrance to the cave, and has to crawl on his hands and knees into the dark passage by the light of a candle to reach his tumble-down bed.

Marsh, in his twenty-year cave career, has developed an interesting philosophy of life. "A happy life near God" is the way he describes his lonely existence, and declares he would not forsake the cave for the "best house ever built by a white man" in proof of which he has refused to occupy a well sanitized shack erected for him near the edge of the tunnel by Teller county authorities.

Marsh says he was born in North Carolina and was raised in slavery. Nearly thirty years ago he came west. In the boom days of Cripple Creek he prospected for a time in the "greatest gold camp in the world," but had little success, and twenty years ago he forsook the "hurry-burry of the wicked world" to become the original "Cave Man of the Rockies."

The old negro spends much of his time during the daylight hours reading the Bible, sitting at the entrance to his strange home.

"I try to follow the teaching of the Holy Book," he declared. "I keep my brain clear by living near nature, and living in the open keeps me in good health."

Shanghai college, Shanghai and St. John's university to raise funds for a half-million-dollar medical college in Shanghai. Various denominations in America will be asked to support the movement.

Rex, Mental Wizard, Proves Puzzling to Crowds at Theatre Last Night

Rex, the mental wizard, opened an engagement yesterday in the T. D. & L. theatre and presented an act which sold more and presented a more astounded audience attended any performance than that which saw Rex yesterday. Rex is a Hindu seer and crystal gazer and he answered the most puzzling questions in a manner which was almost disconcerting to those who had propounded them.

Whether the questions were written in his presence or not, it made no difference, as he answered them just the same. His method of working is unusual. Slips of paper are passed through the audience and the questions are written after which the slips are placed on a table in plain view of the audience. Then came the astounding part of the performance. Standing well to the front of the stage, which was brilliantly lighted, gazing into the small crystal ball which he held in his hand, Rex read accurately the questions which had been written and then answered them. He told of missing relatives, of contemplated journeys, of business and financial affairs. He called out the initials of those who had written the questions and in some cases where the full names were signed, he gave them as well.

It's Really Baffling
There appeared to be no limits to the man's powers and those who were skeptical when they entered the theatre were convinced when they left that there must be something to mental telepathy besides faking.

Rex makes no extravagant claims but simply states that through study he has perfected himself in the art of mental telepathy and science of thought transference.

Those who are interested in a truly baffling and scientific performance should not fail to see Rex as he will be at the T. D. & L. theatre only today and tomorrow.

In addition to Rex, the Jack Holt-Bebe Daniels picture, "North of the Rio Grande," a red blooded western film, will be the feature picture.

Historic Past and Present Are Linked

SACRAMENTO, May 26.—Linking the historic past with the present today was enacted perhaps the most stirring pageant of the whole week's colorful celebration of the "Days of '49."

Each community of northern California which played a part in the historic days commemorated by the celebration today re-enacted that part for the inspiration of the new generation.

The visualization of the "Days of old, the days of gold," was carried out in remarkable sincerity. The spectacle required three hours to pass a given point. Automobiles were barred lest their modern stamp would rob the event of its realism.

The most precious relics, priceless heirlooms and the most treasured costumes went to make up the completeness of the picture. The Native Sons and Daughters contributed to the parade a caravan of the desert—an exact replica of those which threaded their way across the country when danger beset on every side and only the fittest survived. The same ancient calicoes worn by the women who braved the plains attired their daughters and granddaughters, while the sons and grandsons of the pioneers wore the costumes handed down from their pioneer fathers and grandfathers.

HE WINS HIS DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, May 26.—Frederick Hanson Howater of San Francisco came to Los Angeles and won a divorce from Camille Howater in Judge Summerfield's court on the ground he was compelled to change his place of residence and his wife refused to follow him. He once sent her a railroad ticket and money but she postponed the journey and finally failed to come to him, he said.

Shanghai Will Have School for Medicine

SHANGHAI—Plans are being made by the missionary and educational bodies of East China to establish a Union Medical school in Shanghai at a cost of $500,000 within the next few years.

For more than a quarter of a century St. John's university has had a medical department, and its graduates are among the leading medical men of China. In the past Harvard and Pennsylvania universities co-operated with St. John's university. At the time the Peking Union Medical college was built by the Rockefeller Foundation, an invitation was extended to the Foundation, to found a medical school in Shanghai, and this invitation was accepted.

By reason of this the Harvard school in China closed its doors, leaving the Pennsylvania-St. John's school the only one in Shanghai. Shortly after the Rockefeller Foundation announced its decision to abandon the plan for the medical school in Shanghai.

Because of this a campaign is being launched by the leaders of the Nanking university, the Soochow university, Hangechow Chris-

RADIO EXPLAINED

By E. H. LEWIS
INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK Y.M.C.A. RADIO SCHOOL

DIRECT COUPLED RECEIVING SET

In the simplest practical receiving circuit the crystal detector (or rectifying device) is in series with the antenna, the tuning inductance, which may be a single slide tuning coil and the grounding system. The telephone receivers are connected across the detector. The crystal detector has an extremely high resistance to current flow in one direction and a lower but still somewhat high resistance to current flow in the opposite direction. That is when the crystal is directly in the antenna circuit it adds a rather high resistance to that circuit. If it is recalled that resistance in this circuit means decreased current flow, it will be seen that the arrangement is not at all efficient.

The natural thing to do would be to remove the high resistance detector to a circuit which is coupled to the antenna circuit. High frequency oscillations could then flow freely in the antenna or absorbing circuit and would induce current in the second circuit, which contains the rectifying device and the translating device. This circuit is shown in the figure.

For closer tuning than can be accomplished by the single turn variation of inductance, a variable air condenser could be provided as shown. This condenser would not be an absolute necessity, however. In operation the antenna slider of the two slide tuning coil is slid back and forth until the signal is heard. The variable air condenser is then adjusted to give the loudest signal. The current in the antenna circuit will induce a current to flow in the secondary circuit, which is rectified (detected) by the crystal. During each group of current pulses in this circuit the telephone condenser is charged, and at the end of each charge it discharges through the telephone, causing one click for each group. One thousand of these clicks every second would cause the receiver diaphragms to vibrate at a frequency of 1,000 times per second and would cause a sound of a certain definite pitch of tone. The number of turns on the coil, which are common to both the antenna and secondary circuits, determines the degree of coupling. If the coupling is close energy is withdrawn from the antenna to the detector circuit very rapidly. In fact, the current in the antenna divides, part flowing straight through and part flowing through the detector. When energy is withdrawn from any circuit it amounts, in effect, to the addition of a certain amount of resistance in that circuit. So, if the coupling could be made looser and energy withdrawn less rapidly, there would be less effective resistance in the antenna circuit. The coupling can be loosened by having less turns of wire common to both circuits. If the number of turns in the antenna circuit were decreased it might not be possible to get that circuit in tune with the sending station. Another variable coil might be provided in the antenna circuit, however, and connected as shown in the diagram (the loading coil). The particular advantage of this circuit is its simplicity. But its particular disadvantage is that any change in the number of turns in the two slide coil changes the coupling. That is, when the turns in the antenna circuit are varied the coupling is changed, and when the turns in the detector circuit are changed to put that circuit in proper adjustment the coupling is again changed.

Radio Used to Beat Bookmaker on Races

LONDON — The first race course swindle by wireless telegraphy, in which two American citizens are concerned, has been discovered by the Vienna police. The Americans, one a wireless operator, backed horses heavily in the Paris races about ten minutes after each race was run. A Viennese bookmaker accepted the bets, believing that communication between Vienna and Paris was im-

Radio Is Cure for Insomnia, Claim

By GEORGE VAN SANDS
Radio Editor The Evening News

Do you recollect that about the first thing that one of these high priced doctors would advise to a patient in a general run down condition, would be to sleep outdoors? No home now is considered complete without a sleeping porch, and it is a pretty well recognized fact that sleeping outdoors is most conducive to good health, and those of us who have ever gone camping and pitched our beds right on the ground and woke up the next morning from a most refreshing sleep can all testify to it.

Up to this time, most everybody has been laying all this to the fresh air, but here comes radio along and says you are all wrong, and while admitting that we wouldn't get along without a good supply of fresh ozone, it isn't the fresh air that does it at all, but on the contrary the big health giving feature of sleeping outdoors is due mainly to the fact that it gives these unseen electrical vibrations used in radio a much better opportunity to pass through your body.

Now to give some evidence to back up this theory, they tell you that radio right now is being employed to overcome and cure the worst cases of insomnia, and all that is necessary is that you hook the aerial wire to the springs of your bed, adjust your pillow comfortably, hold the receivers in your hands, and if it is bedtime and you actually need sleep, it will quickly put you into most refreshing slumbers, and you will wake up the next morning feeling far better than if you had taken any drugs, dope or any other of the popular alleged insomnia cures. So if you are laying awake nights from insomnia or any other reason, just try this out and you will be most pleasantly surprised.

Radio enthusiasts claim that in sleeping outdoors, a person would naturally pitch their bed either on or very close to the ground, which would allow these radio vibrations a much better opportunity to pass through your body than they would if you were sleeping in your own bedroom, by sleeping close to the ground, your body acts as the aerial and the health giving quality that progresses combined and it is this duces nature's own insomnia cure.

possible except by telegraphing, which takes at least four hours.

After the bookmaker had paid out large sums several times he became suspicious and informed the police. Both swindlers were arrested and admitted the fraud.

A STORAGE BATTERY FOR THE PLATE CIRCUIT

Many radio experimenters and others who listen to the broadcast concerts prefer a storage battery for the plate circuits of their vacuum tubes. With such a battery it is only necessary to charge occasionally instead of buying new cells or complete batteries when they run down.

The storage "B" battery described is designed to require charging only about once in from four to six months. It will supply a comparatively heavy current upon demand and is, therefore, suitable for use with loud speak-

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

Question: What advantage, if any, is gained by making the entire receiving set yourself in preference to buying it ready made? —L. K., Glendale.

Answer: Generally speaking, a home-made receiver can not be expected to work as well and give as good results as one bought ready made. Its advantages would lie in its cheaper cost, and the fun and experience in making it all yourself.

Question: How many head telephone sets of equal resistance can be used successfully on a crystal detector? —G. R., Eagle Rock.

Answer: More than three sets of head phones will, as a general rule, not give satisfactory results on a crystal set.

Question: Please tell me if there is any way of giving a piece of crystal new life? I have used this piece in my receiving set for about three months, and can hardly find a spot on it now that is at all sensitive, and even when I do find a spot it does not come in as clear as formerly. Is there any way of putting some new pep in it? —J. T. E., Glendale.

Answer: Yes; try cracking it open and in this way you will obtain an entirely new surface which as a general rule will work as well as the old surface did when it was new.

Question: Does the length of the lead in wire from the aerial have any bearing on the loudness of the signals received? —E. H., Glendale.

Answer: Yes, a long lead in wire is considered very beneficial.

Question: Is there any way of constructing an aerial without using a ground wire? —R. E. S., Eagle Rock.

Answer: With a loop style of aerial no ground is required. The construction of a loop will be explained on this page later.

Mill Pond Won't Do In Next Naval Scrap

WASHINGTON.—The world's next great naval battle, if there ever is one, will not be staged in a mill pond, so to speak.

Figures presented to Congress by Secretary of the Navy Denby show that the future naval battles of "civilization" will be Gargantuan in proportions. The opposing fleets, to an observer high in the air, will resemble two monsters, their bodies hundreds of miles long, lashing at each other and whirling about in the sea.

The modern fleet, in battle formation, extends for about 300 miles over the sea and is about eighty miles broad. Obviously an engagement between two such columns, turning and winding around each other over the ocean, will require a considerable fairway, with lots of room for the bystanders to run for cover.

The most dangerous man in society is not the man who robs his neighbor, but the one who stands back and says, "It's nothing to me what other folks do."

INSTRUCTIONS for Radio Phone Receiving Set
By Harry F. Dart, Compiler of the Radio Operator's Course for the International Correspondence Schools
Article 4.—Two-Step Amplifier Set

A COMBINED detector and amplifier is indicated in the accompanying sketch. The extreme left part of the circuit represents the usual antenna with the primary and secondary coils and their auxiliaries. The incoming signal impulses are passed through an electron tube acting as a detector, but instead of then passing through the telephone receivers, the signal impulses pass through the primary (often market input) winding b. of an iron-core transformer, c. For best operation, the resistance of this winding of the transformer should be about 10,000 ohms, necessitating a winding of many turns of very fine wire. By transformer action much of the energy in the primary is transferred from the primary to the secondary winding d which is often made up of about one-tenth as many turns as are used in the primary. The secondary coil d is connected between the filament and the grid of another tube e, and the energy which the iron-core transformer c receives is supplied to the grid of tube e. The energy is amplified or strengthened several times in the tube probably as much as eight times under favorable conditions and the signal impulses pass from the plate of tube e through another iron-core transformer f and into a third tube g. In this tube the signal impulses are still further amplified in which condition they are delivered to the telephone receivers h. This amplifier is often known as a two-stage amplifier, as it employs two tubes for this function. Other stages of amplification may be used, but special precautions must be taken in their design. In the two-stage amplifier, it is desirable to use iron-core transformers of slightly different characteristics from each other. A convenient way to do this is to get one transformer of one manufac-

Short Line Railroads
to Have Their Inning

ATLANTA, Ga. — Short line railroads, long the butt of wits and comic supplement artists, are going to have their inning at last. A meeting in their defense, to which all interested in them are invited to come, has been called at a local hotel by A. J. Henderson, receiver of the Ocilla Southern railroad company. As a result efforts will be made to give them legal protection. The Georgia legislature will be asked to pass laws giving them time to pay their debts. "There has been much said against the short-line railroad and many efforts made to junk them in recent years," Henderson says. "The people served by short-lines would suffer in the end if this were done." He declared that there is not a railroad in Georgia that has not been in the hands of a receiver at some time.

Most of the wear and tear of work on a man comes from his going to it all frazzled out by his play.

LONDON—Miss Alice Young, an American girl, of Mishawaka, Ind., in England on vacation, has won a great newspaper competition on "How to Brighten London."
Here are her prize-winning suggestions:
"Brighter, cleaner railroad and 'tube' stations, with good, warm waiting rooms and good restaurants."
"Electrify all railroads within twenty-mile radius of London, eliminating the present smoke and noise, allowing stations to be kept clean."
"Central heating on American principle, or gas fires, or smokeless fuel or coke. Cut out unsightly chimneys and present smoke."
"More attractive shop-window dressing, with good lighting after closing hours. Introduce district competition by offering prize for smartest business section."
"Hotels allowed popular entertainment and dancing at meals, at a popular price. Light wines to be sold at all hours."
"Eliminate refuse on streets in all parts of the city. Introduce waste baskets on bottoms of lamp-posts. Knock down all walls hiding garden or green plots, and plant trees in the wide streets wherever possible."
"Lots of music and entertainments of all kinds. Clean, light, modern offices on the American plan."
"There is more home life in England," said Miss Young, "than there is in America. The intellectual side is deeper—but, oh, it's dull for the holiday maker."
Still, with her prize, Miss Young ought to be able to make London bright for one night, at least!

TO AID WAR ON DRUGS
NEW YORK, May 26.—Formation of a new labor affiliation representing approximately 100,000 marine workers to aid the government in stamping out the smuggling of drugs into New York was announced here today. The new body will have its own secret service to work along the water front.

London Gets Corner
On Diamond Market

LONDON—London has completely cornered the diamond market of the world.
By an astute financial move the last vestige of competition for the rough diamond market has been eliminated, so that it is absolutely impossible for a single rough diamond to be purchased direct anywhere in the world outside two blocks of buildings—one on either side of Holborn Viaduct, London.
For a long time the output of the world's diamond mines has been falling more and more into fewer hands, but there remained, up to a few days ago, at least two big channels of disposal, and there was competition between the markets of London and Antwerp.
South Africa's output passed through English channels and was handled by the South African diamond syndicate, which was outside the "trust."
The Anglo-American syndicate, in which the Morgans are largely interested, recently bought the German Southwest African Mines and now has taken over the Congo group, which has its center at Antwerp. It also has just purchased Congo diamonds to the value of $8,000,000 francs.
By the agreement just reached the Anglo-American syndicate and the South African syndicate have decided to work entirely together.
In future London will be the only channel through which the rough diamond can reach the lapidary. This means that the market will always be held up strongly and destroy any chance of a slump in the prices of diamonds.

HARDING'S HORSE WINS
WASHINGTON, May 26.—The White House stables today housed a blue ribbon horse. Harbell, the president's thoroughbred saddle horse, purchased a few months ago from Harvey S. Firestone of Ohio, carried away first honors in his class at the capital horse show.

Arms Parley's Baby Real Globe Trotter

LONDON—Kai Yuen, the infant son of Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese minister to Great Britain, is setting up a record as a globe trotter. Kai Yuen, who was born at Washington during the armament conference, is leaving with his parents very shortly for a trip to China. On his arrival in China Kai Yuen will have averaged 1000 miles of travel for every week of his life. Kai Yuen, which means "new era," was given his name by his father in celebration of the settlement of the Shantung issue at Washington.

Your Own Home Is Your Castle!

It is a place of which you can always be proud. When admiring friends ask that inevitable question, "Do you own it or rent it?" there's no answer like, "Oh, yes, it's ours."

As in olden times, the land-owners, the gentry—who lived in the castles—were looked up to and respected; so it is now with the home owners, the gentry of today.

"Ask the man who owns one." He will always say "Pay Rent to Yourself."

We have helped many in Glendale with their building problems and can help you.

CELEBRATION FOR VALLEY MISSION IS OUTLINED

Great Gathering on Fourth of July; L. C. Brand Gives Park Site

Residents of San Fernando valley will gather at the famous San Fernando Mission on July 4 in a gigantic celebration. The affair will be in the nature of mammoth celebration of the nation's birthday and as part of the stupendous fund raising campaign which has been instituted to restore the mission and establish a museum and park.

The Independence Day affair will feature a Spanish fiesta and will depict the early day life of California. Many features are being planned for the occasion and it is expected that more than 10,000 persons will be present.

The San Fernando Mission is this valley's one great historical attraction. It is the one thing in the valley which has stood since the early days of California history and during the past years it has become one of the meccas for tourists to this section of the country.

L. C. Brand's Gift
It is expected that every resident of the San Fernando valley will support the campaign to preserve the remaining parts of the mission and aid in the restoration work and the establishment of the historical museum and park.

Land adjacent to the mission, to the extent of seven acres, was donated some time ago by L. C. Brand for the purpose of establishing the park. Mrs. Martha Nelson McCan, a member of the Los Angeles Park commission, recently toured the state accompanied by an expert botanist and obtained cuttings and slips from shrubs and plants in all of the missions and other historical grounds. These cuttings will be planted in the new park within a short time.

The ravages of the heavy rains during the recent winters have cut heavily in the walls of the old adobe mission and it is planned to restore the building to as near its original state as possible. When this is done the historical museum will be established. Many old time pioneer families of this section have already volunteered the gift of priceless family heirlooms to go into the mission.

One of the intentions of the committee in charge is to have the famous old fountain, which stands across the street from the mission, removed to a point in the mission grounds. This will be done without disturbing a brick in the old fountain. Both the fountain and the mission have been closely connected with San Fernando valley history since their construction in 1797.

All Valley Interested
Practically all of the civic organizations in Los Angeles have united in a campaign to obtain the $100,000 fund for the restoration of the mission. Architects who have surveyed the grounds have estimated that this amount will adequately restore the building and preserve it for a number of years.

The old mission is of particular interest to San Fernando valley people as it was the first semblance of a white settlement in the valley. It has stood for more than a century and a quarter and is expected to remain for another century if care is given it. When there were but few white persons in the valley they used to fly to the mission for protection when attacked by enemy groups.

The campaign is expected to be finished in six weeks and the Independence Day celebration will be somewhat in the nature of a jubilee if the goal is successfully reached.

Cream Puff Winner Over 'Perfect Model'

CHICAGO.—"I hope I get fat!" There you have the last message of Chicago's most beautiful art model, known under the semi-anonymous title of "Mrs. Lucas," to her friends as she sailed away on her honeymoon. She has gone to South America with Henri Elman, a moving picture millionaire, whom she married quietly, and for whom she has given up her career.

Think of such a message from Mrs. Lucas—the "perfect model." The woman over whom artists raved as the possessor of a perfect figure, a form that has been immortalized in bronze. For years she kept her figure through the most rigid dieting and by long walks and strenuous exercising.

And now she's through dieting—and she hopes she gets fat!
Mr. Elman made his fortune in the prosaic business of booking motion picture features. He met Mrs. Lucas and they were mutually attracted. He asked her to marry him, but she refused on account of her art.

Then he began a subtle plan of winning her over. He took her to dinner and while she nibbled at delicacies, he gorged on steaks smothered in mushrooms, cream puffs for dessert, etc. When she walked he rode. She began to weaken.

"My dear, take my heart and a cream puff," he pleaded—and she capitulated. They were married. She visited the artists' colony.

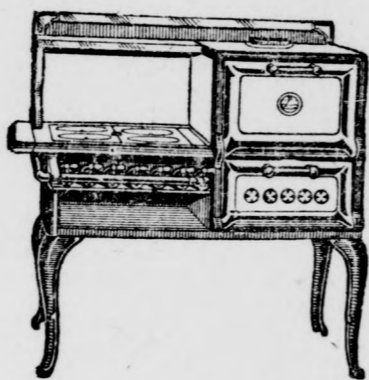

"I am sorry," she said, "but the cream puff won. Lord, how I love them."
"From now on I eat what I please. I ride instead of walk, and I sleep as late as I want to. And—
"I hope I get fat!"
The artists gasped.

Urges Whipping for Criminal Offenders

SAVANNAH, Ga. — Establishment of a whipping post for the punishment of criminal offenders was advocated here by Judge E. T. Surley, of Warrenton, temporarily presiding in the Chatham County superior court.

The remarks of the judge came during the course of a lecture he was delivering to a negro woman who had entered a plea of guilty. He said it is a great problem with the judges to determine what to do with some prisoners, especially women. He expressed his belief that 25 lashes with a buggy trace would be beneficial to the prisoner and could be well applied in many other cases.

NOT MEMBER OF KLAN

SACRAMENTO, May 26.—John S. Blair, deputy state labor commissioner, has notified Governor William Stephens he is not a member of the Ku Klux Klan. Blair's name was among those contained in the list of Klansmen seized in a raid by Los Angeles authorities.

The deputy labor commissioner denied membership in compliance with an ultimatum issued by the governor to all state officials to either quit the hooded order or the state service.

READERS OFFERED VARIED VOLUMES AT LIBRARY

Origin and Evolution of Human Race; Number of Thrilling Mysteries

The origin and evolution of the human race, problems in immigration, stories of Tahiti, China and other countries, sports, art and fiction, these are just a few of the topics included in the large collection of new books which have been released for distribution at the public library on Harvard street recently. Included among the volumes are the following: "The Origin and Evolution of the Human Race," by Albert Churchward. "The Romantic Story of the Mayflower Pilgrims," by Albert Christopher Addison. "The American Home Diet," by E. V. McCollum and Nina Simmonds. What many readers claim to be an answer to that ever-present question, "What Shall We Have for Dinner?" "A Hundred Years in the Highlands," by Osmond Mackenzie. "An Introduction to Mythology," by Lewis Spence. A review of mythic science from its beginning down to the later guesses of contemporary authorities. "The Slave," or relations of the Man Mill, the truth about American immigration, by Feri Felix Weiss. "Geraldine Farrar," the story of an American singer by herself. "The Cruise of the Scandal," and other stories by Victor Bridges. Riotous tales of fantastic adventure. "Poor White," by Sherwood Anderson. This novel deals with the story of the power that dots a vast valley with cities over night and builds a network of industry, making quick men rich and fearful men poor. "Fear God and Take Your Own Part," by Theodore Roosevelt. "The Modern Reader's Bible," by Moulton. "Gist Hunting," by Ozark Ripley, a collection of outdoor stories that have human appeal.

Development of Man
"History of Art," by Elie Faure. The development of man as revealed by art is told in this book, which has been translated from the French by Walter Pach. The author shows art to be the expression of the race, not an individual expression of the artist, and also tells why, not how, man constructs works of art. "Peking," a social survey of China, by Sidney D. Gamble, M. A., assisted by John Stewart Burgess, M. A. The book described life in the capital of China in all of the intricacies of an old and established routine of custom and habit. "Tahiti," by Tihoti (George Calderon). "Civilization in the United States," an inquiry by thirty Americans. This book is the attempt of a group of kindred minds to sum up the larger aspects of American life and culture and point out the defects as well as virtues of American civilization. "The Interpretation of Dreams," by Prof. Sigmund Freud. "Golf," from two sides, by Roger and Jeeve Wethered. "Modern Men and Mummies," by Hesketh Pearson. "Comment on Hawks and Hunters," by Lida L. Fleitman. Story of Roosevelt
"His Soul Goes Marching On," by Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews. A story of Theodore Roosevelt. "Fascist Behavior," by Paul Griswold Howes. "Virginia the Old Dominion," by Frank and Cora Huchins, as seen from its Colonial waterway, the historic river James. "The Middle Temple Murder," by J. S. Fletcher. "The Red House Mystery," a clever and unusual story by A. A. Milne. "The Black Diamond," by Francis Brett Young. A study, forceful and concentrated, of a rough and sensuous but honest and compassionate young miner. "Work and Programs for Women's Clubs," by Caroline French Benton. "Ambition and Success," by Orison Sweet Marden. "Virginia's Story," by Hugh Pennington. "The Princess Far Away," by Edmond Rostand. A romantic tragedy in four acts. Some Thrilling Tales Mystery stories by George Barton include "The Mystery of the Red Flame," a thrilling detective story in which the interest centers around the loss and finding of a brilliant diamond. "The Ambassador's Trunk," "The Pembroke Mason Affair," the chief interest being the murder of a prominent lawyer on the eve of a trial which involves startling disclosures in the business world. "Shepherds of the Wild," by Edison Marshall. Of especial appeal to those who like an exciting story and particularly to lovers of the great out of doors and of animal life. "The Complete Dog Book," by Dr. Wm. A. Bruett. The history, general characteristics, peculiarities, care, feeding, breaking and breeding of 92 varieties of dogs common to America and Great Britain. "The Spell of China," by Arabelle Bell. "Gold and Sunshine," by Colonel James J. Avors, reminiscences of early California. "Crime Prevention," by Arthur Woods. "The Christmas City," by Lewis Gaston Leary. Bethlehem across the ages. "Rich Relatives," by Compton Mackenzie. The author gives both subtle satire and high comedy in this humorous story of Jasmine Grant, orphan, and her rich relatives. "The Colleen Girl of America," by Mary Caroline Crawford. "The

Russia Proposes to Accept Under Protest

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service.
GENOA, May 26.—J. Barwick, one of the spokesmen for the Russian delegation to the international conference, has made a statement indicating that Russia would accept the allied proposal for a commission on Russian affairs to meet at The Hague, under protest.

This phrase "under protest" saved the faces of the Russian delegation and its chief, M. Tchitcherin, foreign minister, but at the same time permits the preparations for the next conference—a continuation of the Genoa conference—to continue.

Russia had announced it would not accept a commission that did not provide for full Russian membership and on this point the Lloyd George plan threatened to collapse.

All eyes are now turned to Washington, while delegates anxiously await news as to whether America will accept the invitation to participate at The Hague.

Doctors for Mumps But Gets New Teeth

ELYRIA, Ohio.—John Brinker, veteran of the Civil war, and 92 years of age, began doctoring himself for the mumps the other day, when his jaw began to swell. The usual remedies, however, brought no relief, and an examination disclosed that the veteran was cutting his third set of teeth. Brinker has used "store" teeth for forty years.

"They gave me good service until a few weeks ago," the veteran said. "Then my gums became sore, and the teeth just seemed to slide around, so I took them out and doctored myself for the mumps. But the more I doctored the more my gums swelled."

When his new teeth will arrive, Brinker says he will have a grand celebration and test out the molars in the most approved way.

Poor Diplomacy Now Blamed for Big War

LONDON.—"The world would never have been plunged into the catastrophe of the world war if the press had not overrated professional diplomacy, thereby entrusting to the diplomats the most vital questions."

This is the view of Mr. Sigmund Muz, who, writing on diplomats in the Contemporary Review, analyzes the characters, deficiencies and pretensions of many of the leading figures in European and American pre-war diplomacy. He is further of the opinion that post-war diplomacy, both in England and America, suffers from ignorance.

"A distinguished participant in the Paris conference has told me incredible things about the ignorance of Central European conditions that prevailed there," he relates.

"And, strangely enough, they were generally Anglo-Saxon diplomats who proved themselves to be ignorant."

"How much," he continues, "could I tell you of the shallowness of the American diplomats with whom I have come into contact!"

"I have met men like Marsh, Andrew White, Elihu Root, Oscar Strauss and others, but they are all men who had distinguished themselves in other ways than the trade of diplomacy."

"American diplomats," he blandly and confidently tells his readers, "are by no means the pick of their country, and were not infrequently people who had helped a president with money or influence in his campaign."

"America has had excellent and well-informed representatives abroad, especially in England. I shall avoid details about the American embassy in Vienna during the last thirty years. But the inner life of the majority of these diplomats consisted of petty social vanities, and if ever their diaries see the light of day they will reveal that the height of their ambition and fame was reached at those hours which saw princes of the blood at their tables!"

Canada Goods Reach $600,000,000 Value

WINNIPEG, Man.—Manufactured products in the four western Canadian provinces had an approximate value of $600,000,000 last year, according to the annual report of commercial organizations. This is five times greater than the aggregate value ten years previous. Capital now invested in industry in the provinces is estimated at $500,000,000. Cities that are becoming industrial as well as agricultural centers include Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Brandon, Edmonton and Vancouver.

"Will You Excuse It, Please--- There Is No One on the Line Now"

Mistakes are bound to happen. We all make them. When your telephone bell rings and the operator says, "Will you excuse it please, there is no one on the line now," she is not responsible for your annoyance and inconvenience.

The occasion for the use of the phrase most frequently arises when the called party is slow to answer—the calling subscriber does not wait and hangs up his telephone.

Many times daily telephone users call wrong numbers—use incorrect prefixes, such as "Main" for "Market"—transpose figures, such as 5342 for 5432. Suddenly realizing their mistakes, they hang up their telephone.

Without fault or negligence on her part the telephone operator is left to explain, and the sentence first quoted is that adopted as most briefly and concisely covering the situation.

J. K. Hill, Former Resident of Iowa, Is Taken by Death

JAMES K. HILL

Friday morning, May 26, 1922, at the Jewel City Undertaking Parlors, Glendale, Calif., occurred the funeral services of James K. Hill. From the parlors the body was removed to Forest Lawn cemetery and with the beautiful and impressive Masonic services laid away to await the resurrection. The death of James K. Hill was a distinct shock to his hosts of friends, especially those who knew him long and well in Iowa, his former state of residence. He was one of the strong and rugged characters that state has developed. With a naturally strong constitution, a determination to succeed and with a will which could not admit defeat, he forged his way to the front, until with plenty and surrounded with many friends and enduring friendships, the silver cord was broken and mortal put on immortality. His heart always beat true and warm. No one could be in distress of any kind and this fact known to him, unless response was immediate. His nature was sympathetic. His word was as good as a government bond. No one knew James K. Hill who did not at once recognize his genuineness. He loved his home and no one appreciated friendships more than he. The greatest legacy he leaves to his wife and children is a long, clean, honest, faithful, Christian life.

James K. Hill was born at Albany, New York, November 14, 1844. Ten years later with his parents, he came to Iowa locating in Bremer county. When nineteen years of age, the lure of the great, partially explored west, seized him, and he attached himself to a company coming overland to California. It took nerve and lots of it, to undertake a trip of this kind, but Mr. Hill possessed just that quality. Sickness could not defeat his plans, and after about five months of time, with plenty of thrills along the way, the company arrived at Marysville, Calif. He lived in that vicinity for nearly three years, working hard and saving his earnings, and with all that he had saved tucked away in a belt, he felt a calling for home and he made the start. This time he decided he would make as much of the trip by water as he could and so he boarded a boat on the Pacific, went to the Isthmus of Panama, across to the gulf, up the Atlantic and arrived in New York. From there he made his way to Iowa and with the generous spirit of youth, established his father and mother on a farm. Married in 1869.

On December 30, 1869, he was united in marriage with Miss Ella Davis and for a number of years the residence was continued in Bremer county. By industry Mr. and Mrs. Hill had been able to accumulate enough to make them comfortable and they decided upon making their home in Mason City, Iowa, engaging in the lumber business. His residence in Mason City was continued until 1893 when he entered into partnership with L. A. Page and removed to Clear Lake, ten miles west operating a lumber yard under the firm name of Page & Hill. In 1914 the old lure which came to him when a boy of nineteen, returned, in fact, it had never entirely forsaken him, and he located in Glendale, Calif. He loved his adopted state. He loved his people, and he was interested in her business as well as her political life.

He was rugged looking and seeing him but a short time ago no one would have expected that the angel of death was hovering so near. Two weeks before his death he was out mowing his lawn. He hardly completed the job, feeling that his heart was not acting properly. That night he was in considerable pain and in the morning a physician was called. From the very first, little hopes for his recovery were entertained. His children were notified and all were at home when the sad summons came. He knew them intermittently, up to the hour of separation.

James K. Hill was a member of the Baptist church of Mason City, Iowa. He was also a member of the Verity Lodge No. 250, A. F. & A. M. of Clear Lake, Iowa. He was a Thirty-second degree member of Los Angeles consistory No. 3 and a member of Al Malakah Temple of Los Angeles.

Surviving him are his wife, four children, seven grandchildren and two sisters. The children are Mrs. C. F. Craney, Clear Lake, Iowa; Mrs. R. M. Brown, Glendale, Calif.; Leon L. Hill, Minneapolis, Minn.; and Frank E. Hill, Hollywood, Calif. The sisters are Mrs. Anna Beal, Waterloo, Iowa, and Mrs. Jane Hodges, Nebraska City, Neb.

Judge Gary asserts Business Is Better

NEW YORK, May 26. — "Big, even profitable business, has been ahead of us all these years, though it has been at times obscured. Now we seem to be nearer a realization," Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, declared today in his presidential address before the annual meeting of the Iron and Steel Institute at the Hotel Commodore. "I am still an optimist and likewise are you. Optimism arises from opening one's eyes and ears and mind to the good things in life which a merciful and over-ruling providence has bestowed. May all of us have sense to appreciate, pity the chronic blind, deaf and foolish pessimist of the United States. We have not, I think, entirely passed from under the clouds of adversity. Certainly we are carrying hitherto unheard-of heavy governmental and financial burdens. To bear them gracefully and contentedly, there must be not only forbearance, encouragement and assistance from every department of government up to the limit of propriety and justice, but every individual, consistently and constantly, a spirit of patience, pluck, energy, generosity, loyalty and charity. "We must do our part. We must be fair and just, as loyal to the government as we were during the war." A man's credit is usually good when he doesn't need it.

Grand View Memorial Park

"GLENDALE'S OWN CEMETERY"

Where Holy Love Enfolds About—
And all around is peace—

Now that Memorial Day approaches— Now that Spring has draped the couches of the gentle sleepers of Beautiful Grand View with an even greener mantle of green, and myriads of flowers thrust their fragrant heads out of the earth to make more beautiful the spot, it is indescribably lovely. Here the ground is high, perfectly drained and overlooks the whole valley, and Nature's ample motherly bosom receives the tired heads of her children who have gone to sleep. Everything conceivable has been done to bring out the natural beauty and further enhance it, by landscape engineers and gardeners. Tens of thousands of dollars have been spent—and hundreds of thousands will be spent in perpetual care, in a great mausoleum—a crematory, and every thing to make Grand View Memorial Park one of the most complete as well as beautiful burial parks in the country.

There is nothing to depress in Grand View. It was designed for the purpose of making the last resting places of departed loved ones as beautiful as is humanly possible, so that we shall not feel for them the sense of utter loneliness associated with the ghastly graveyard of "other days" so that when we "lay them down to sleep" it will be with the thought of "one who wraps the draperies of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams." It is an effort to remove from death the sting of the grave by making the couch where sleep our loved ones, beautiful, and their surroundings all that devoted hearts could wish for them.

Graceful, winding driveways make all lots easy of access, and add to the parklike appearance of Grand View—which is enhanced by the massive entrance arch—removing any semblance of the old-time graveyard. A beautifully designed and well-arranged Chapel and Rest House has recently been erected—work will soon start on the new Crematory, to be located near the Chapel—and plans have already been started on the new Mausoleum—a Temple in honor of the departed—that will be one of the most beautiful in Southern California, when completed.

Come out to Grand View. See for yourself its beauty and the desirability of its lots. Open week days and Sundays from 8:30 a. m. until sunset. A private car is at your service without charge while visiting Grand View.

A deed is issued with every lot, which under our incorporation charter granted by the State of California, positively assures you that 25 per cent is set aside for

PERPETUAL CARE

A visit to this beautiful spot will refresh and uplift you. It is the voice of nature in every tree and flower and blade of grass. Even the silent Sleepers in their narrow beds seem to convey the peace that is surely theirs, at rest in this lovely "God's Acre."

ate Realty Head Calls for Machines

President C. C. Tatum today led a special and extraordinary appeal to all realty boards in northern and central California to furnish automobiles for the transportation of visiting eastern realtors from Los Angeles to San Francisco next Monday via the stage route and the San Joaquin valley. Cars will assemble at the Ambassador hotel, Los Angeles, at Monday morning, May 29, at 11 a. m. President Tatum in his urgent quest to members of the California Real Estate Association declared that the realtors' end of trail caravan was overwhelmed by the number of applicants from eastern realtors to join on this unprecedented automobile tour of 500 miles as guests in California. For that reason, state president said, he felt compelled to call into action the one-state state realty boards from West Coast, to furnish cars or seats for realtors in making marvelous and now famous some of California a one hundred per cent success. All realty boards, and realtors well, who can furnish car accommodations are requested to file the California Real Estate

Irish Pact Doesn't Conflict, Is Claim

By DAVID M. CHURCH For International News Service. LONDON, May 26. — Definite assurances that the Irish coalition agreement, negotiated by Michael Collins and Eamonn de Valera, does not conflict with the Anglo-Irish peace treaty, were given to the British government today by the delegation from the Irish free state. Following the morning session when Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill of the British cabinet conferred with Arthur Griffith, E. J. Duggan and George Cavan Duffy of the Irish provisional government, Griffith, who is president of the Dail Eireann, gave the following exclusive statement to International News Service: "We assured Mr. Churchill that the coalition agreement does not conflict with the Anglo-Irish treaty. We are hopeful of convincing the English signatories of this fact. It is probable, however, that there will not be a final settlement until the arrival of Michael Collins from Dublin."

Colorado Bankers May Locate in City

A. A. Reed, vice president of the United States Bank of Denver, Colorado, and J. F. Chenault, also a Colorado banker, have been guests at the home of Mr. McFalls of Eagle Rock and also of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Allabach of 321 West Oak street and are already boosters for Glendale, and are anticipating locating in this city. Mr. Reed states that on his inspecting tour of Los Angeles and vicinity he found Glendale to beat them all with "her wide streets, modest but beautiful homes, mountains on every side, high class citizenship, proximity to Los Angeles, absence of the lower element and pulsating, highways thronged with traffic." Mr. Chenault, who is a prominent Colorado banker, is contemplating locating in California. He states that Glendale is to Los Angeles what Inglewood is to Chicago. "The traffic at the crossing of Los Feliz and San Fernando roads is almost phenomenal. I can see a wonderful business center there," he said. Mr. Chenault is contemplating locating in Glendale and anticipates helping develop this city.

Over in England

the time-honored method of lawn cultivation is laid down something like this: "First one rolls it; then seeds, rolls, waters, cuts, rakes, waters, seeds, rolls, cuts, rakes, waters, rolls some more, cuts — — — — — over and over for about four hundred years; and one has a beautiful lawn." But over here, Time flies faster—we like to see results for our efforts. So we seed, roll, water—use a "Silent Rich" mower, and have a lawn to be proud of in a single season.

9 Times Better

"Just the thing I've wanted for years! A lawn mower that does much better work; and does it easier, faster, and quieter." "Can't fool an old gardener 'bout a mower;—we judge it by its points—not its paint. No more 'scrubbing' back and forth; no more weary, aching muscles; no more clattering racket."

Its 9 exclusive construction points make a SILENT RICH LAWN MOWER at least 9 times better. Durably constructed of the finest materials, (no cast iron) scientifically designed to cut lawns three to four times faster—to cut closer without missing a blade of grass—and to operate well-nigh noiselessly.

Cutting keen as a razor—running smooth as a sewing machine—"Silent Rich" mowers make cutting lawns a pleasure instead of drudgery. They can be easily handled by women or children. Ask to see this better mower. Dealers now stock the "Silent Rich" and will be pleased to demonstrate its superior features. If your dealer does not handle them, let us know and we will see that your wants are supplied.

Note: Because of their much higher cutting efficiency, "Silent Rich" mowers are, easily the equivalent of other mowers measuring 50% larger in size.

Manufactured and Distributed by Rich Steel Products Co. Los Angeles, Cal. Battle Creek, Mich.

These Nine Desirable Advantages are to be had only in the "Silent Rich"

1. Lightweight: "Silent Rich" mowers weigh only about half as much as cast iron mowers.
2. High Speed: "Silent Rich" mowers cut three to four times faster than any other mower.
3. Close Cutting: "Silent Rich" mowers are instantly and easily adjusted to cut down to within 1/4 inch of ground level.
4. No Greas: "Silent Rich" mowers have no gears to bind or wear, to break or create a deafening racket.
5. Continuous Cutting: Five Tungsten steel blades on every "Silent Rich" so formed that in effect an endless knife catches every blade of grass. A swath is cut perfectly with one going over.
6. Easier Operation: Lighter weight and its much smoother action makes lawn mowing with the "Silent Rich" a pleasure instead of drudgery.
7. Pull or Push: The full-swinging handle of the "Silent Rich" permits equally easy operation when pulled or pushed; just the thing for terraces, under bushes, etc.
8. Finest Materials: There is not a piece of cast-iron in the "Silent Rich." Only the best materials, finely finished and fitted, are used.
9. Greater Economy: "Silent Rich" is built to last and give greater satisfaction than has heretofore been obtained from mowers.

OUR HERO
 The breeze was blowing off my lee.
 The day was dark with hint of rain.
 And "Smoke Ball" Johnson, facing me,
 Had naught to lose and all to gain.

He knew my groove and all that guff;
 He knew I hit just "two-three-eight."
 A sucker for his kind of stuff,
 With one curve ball he'd seal my fate.

At three and two he tried a hook,
 That zippy kind I most dislike.
 I swung a vicious swing and took
 Two bases on the dropped third strike.

THE HEAVYWEIGHT FUTURITY

Fifteen months hence, if all goes well, you may find diverting moments from a perusal of the daily dispatches from Buenos Aires, reading as follows:

"Firpo spent a busy day in his training camp and at nightfall expressed himself as being perfectly satisfied with his ability to take on Dempsey right now. He arose bright and early at 10:45 a. m. and put in an active day, paying particular attention to his footwork by keeping both on one chair. Meantime, he continued his policy of brushing flies from his forehead with an agile left hand. Firpo explained that this furnished excellent practice in that it kept his eye alert to brush aside Dempsey's leads.

"The challenger complained bitterly of the lack of suitable sparring partners, and even threatened to pay a visit to Dempsey's camp to take it out on the champion, informally and unofficially, if something wasn't done about it. However, cooler heads prevailed."

One of the best bets at any race track: Lunch, 12 to 1.

DIDST?
 Didst ever lamp the awful tramp
 Who swings three lusty bats about.
 With this much done he picks up one
 And then proceeds to strike right out.

POSTPONING INEVITABLE

You may have noted that Benjamin Block owns two thoroughbred race horses, in addition to Morvich. You may have noted, also, that neither gets any more action than a first-class paralytic. He will tell you that Mawcorron can step some and that that leggy looking filly Mornaw is a comer, sure enough. But the matter goes no further.

The answer? Simple as a school-girl's faith. Because of Morvich's unprecedented success the Block colors have yet to be lowered on any race track, and the good gentleman feels that he would not be playing fair with himself in allowing such an untoward fate to overtake him. Therefore, Mawcorron and Mornaw remain in the stables to run up expensive feed bills.

Block is a comparative newcomer in the racing game, else he would realize the sublime futility of trying to dodge not only what is coming to him but what, candidly, is just a bit overdue.

LOONEY LINES

A bevy of beautiful chorus girls called on Jack Dempsey the other day but, unfortunately, the champion was forced to plead a previous engagement with a Y. M. C. A. secretary.

BOYCOTT IS DECLARED

BELFAST, May 26. — Sniping broke out here, resulting in a report that the Ulster government may proclaim martial law. The trade association has declared a boycott upon South Ireland goods in retaliation for the boycott of the republicans against Ulster. The military curfew has been extended.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
 PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Al White, of Stanford university, national diving champion, was the first man to send in his entry blank for the Pacific Athletic association senior amateur diving championship contest which will be held June 15 in the outdoor swimming pool of Yosemite Lodge. Al de Ferrari of the San Francisco Olympic club, 1919 junior champion of the Pacific Athletic association, who placed third in the national contest won by White, also will compete. Another entrant is De Hopper, of Stockton, Calif., present holder of the P. A. A. senior title. Several other high class divers will complete an entry list of unusually high calibre.

Pacific coast supporters of the English Rugby game already are casting about relative to organizing a team to represent this country at the next Olympic games. In 1920 the victorious American team of Rugger was made up of players from the University of California, Stanford university and Santa Clara college. The present plan is to hold a series of games during January, February and March of 1923 and 1924 in order to develop a team and bring out all available material. Frederick W. Kubion, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, has written to the effect that inasmuch as the United States will be represented in every line of athletics, it also will include Rugby, and urges any campaign which will provide both a capable team and the finances necessary to send it over.

A crop of "ifs" seem to be in the process of budding at the University of Washington which is sending a crew east to row at Poughkeepsie; at Stanford university, which is to be represented by a team at the national intercollegiate at Cambridge, and also at the University of California which competes likewise in the latter meet. None of the assurance noticeable just after the crew won and the two California universities tied in a dual meet now is apparent. There is nothing like arranging beforehand for a soft place to fall on.

With little dependence now being placed on the ability of Morris Kirksey, Stanford university's star sprinter, to pull through the Eastern Intercollegiate championship meet, dependence is being centered on Eddie Sudden to do the trick. For a week prior to leaving the coast for Cambridge, Sudden was in southern California under the tutelage of Charlie Paddock, world's champion sprinter, who devoted his personal time exclusively to coaching the Stanford runner. There is no doubt that "the fastest man in the world" can do considerable by way of improving Sudden. Paddock himself, however, always was a slow starter. His great driving power came at the end of a sprint.

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
 PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

The lack of high class foreign boxers in the heavy weight class has been one of the peculiar angles of the boxing game. Just why England, or any other country, has not been able to produce a man of world championship caliber is a matter that has not been fathomed.

Georges Carpentier is the only man of any class since the days of Charlie Mitchell, the Englishman. None of the latter day champions, Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, etc., have had any selection of foreign men to meet. Corbett defeated Mitchell in three rounds at Jacksonville in 1894 and that was about the last real international title fight.

Today Jack Dempsey finds himself better off in the way of foreign contenders than any of the men who have preceded him as champion. Dempsey has already disposed of Carpentier and now they are talking of a match for him with Firpo the South American title holder. This makes two foreigners that Dempsey has contended for the world crown, two more than all his predecessors had.

Charlie Mitchell and Sullivan fought at Chantilly, France, in 1888, the fight going thirty-nine rounds to a draw decision. Then came Corbett's contest with Mitchell in 1894, but that was the last real international contest of any significance until Dempsey and Carpentier fought. Tommy Burns was a Canadian but to all intents more of an American, while Fitzsimmons was an Americanized Australian.

When he was champion Jim Jeffries went to Europe about 1906 and had a couple of contests which were billed as for the world title but were not taken into serious consideration as such by the American fight public. At the time Jack Seales was champion of England and signed to box exhibitions with Jeffries. A few months later he was signed to box Jeff in Paris "for the world championship." The contest was a joke and Seales stayed with Jeff for three rounds, but in the fourth quit and made a speech from the ring as follows:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: E's haboballytuley too bally big for me and Hi gives 'im the cham-

CALIFORNIA TEAM LOOMS BIG AT TRACK MEET

West Is Expected to Make Excellent Showing at Harvard Stadium

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sporting Editor International News.
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 26.—
The forty-sixth annual track and field games of the intercollegiate A. A. A. began at the Harvard stadium today as the shadow of another California victory settled across the green reaches of the athletic sepulchre dedicated to Harvard's sport carnivals.

Of the eastern teams, none can be reckoned as a factor aside from Cornell and Princeton. The others have individual stars but no more balance than a top-heavy splinter.

Cornell should score with Lovely in the sprints; John in the quarter; Carter in the half mile; Kirby in the mile; R. E. and N. P. Brown in the two-mile, and Guinness in the pole vault. Kimball, a fine hurdler until he pulled up lame in the indoor intercollegiate, may score a point or two over the sticks, but he is not at his best and Cornell's chances suffer accordingly.

West looms strong in Princeton's hopes rest on McKim in the sprints, Stevenson in the quarter, Johnson in the half, Thompson in the hurdles, shotput and discus, Lourie in the broad jump and Baker in the hammer throw.

Neither of the eastern contenders are impressive when compared with the teams from the west. Stanford's strength is massed around a few stars, notably Kirk, who should score high in both sprints; Glen Hartranft, who has done better than fifty feet with the shot and 145 feet with the discus, and therefore should win both events handily; Black, a 12-foot 6-inch pole vaulter, and Captain Hanner, who tosses the javelin over 190 feet, which is more than sufficient for the field today.

Sudden, a short distance man, is also dangerous.
In reply, California summoned the great Johnny Merchant, who can throw the hammer 170 feet, the javelin 165 feet and the discus 130 feet, certain point getters, and who broad jumps all too close to 23 feet. "Breck" Muller in the high and broad jumps and the discus; Red Norris in the pole vault; Berkey in the discus; Hendrixson and Hutchison in the shot distances; Witter in the shot-put, and Teyer and Boren in the broad jump are figured to score heavily.

Jack Dempsey On Hunt for THE GIRL

LOS ANGELES, May 26.—Home from his European tour, Jack Dempsey let two things be known today.
First, that his next fight probably will be Labor day at Benton Harbor, Mich., with Bill Brannan. For this bout Dempsey will get nothing less than $275,000.

Second, he told the world he was on the market for the girl he had married. Dempsey said he was even willing to get married within the next six months. Put, as to the qualifications of THE GIRL—
"she must be a good wife, and most of all a good mother—that's mighty important," the champion said. "She must not be over 25 or under 21 years of age, have dark hair, plenty of spirit and one who would go to jail for her rights. No, I have no objection to her having had a career in pictures, for motion pictures don't hurt a good girl, just as pugilism doesn't hurt a clean fellow."

Dempsey plans a two weeks' rest, after which he will complete a vaudeville tour in this country, and then return again to Europe for another vaudeville engagement.

Remember several years ago when fighters really fought? We rarely ever heard of a battle being fought.
The boys would hop about the ring exchanging blow for blow.
And after fighting forty rounds they sure had earned their dough.
But now it is a different tale, and we are well aware
That all these fights don't seem to us exactly on the square;
The main thing now is "get the 'jack'" and then they have no fear.

Tagging All Bases

The poor Bambino! Returning from the Isle of Elba only a week ago, Babe Ruth faced the almost certainty of another suspension today for throwing dirt at Mr. Hildebrand and going up in the stand after a bug.

Ruth stood it till the chap yelled "Ye big bum, ya." Then he went after him.
While all this was going on the Yanks were licking the Senators, largely through the efforts of Ruth's old Elba playmate, Bob Meusel, who slammed out two homers, winning six to four.

Those man-eatin' Tigers continue their destructive ways. They fell on three of Tris Speaker's choice hurlers for enough hits to net a 7 to 3 victory.

The Philoanderin' Phillies went further into the cellar by dropping two to the Dodgers in a hit-fest that disclosed five home runs.

Back & Forth AND Sometimes Fifth

By MACQUE
Say Williams and Ruth: "A tooth for a tooth."
As they bat out their home runs galore.
But just wait and see
What Ken's average'll be.
When the Babe's mark reaches fifty-four.

Last year it was Kelly of the Giants, now it's Williams of the Browns and Miller of the Athletics who are making things easy for the country's sporting scribes who are succeeding in getting the prospective conqueror of the Mighty Ruth. It's ten to one that they'll all be lagging in the rear by the first of August.

Remember several years ago when fighters really fought? We rarely ever heard of a battle being fought.
The boys would hop about the ring exchanging blow for blow.
And after fighting forty rounds they sure had earned their dough.
But now it is a different tale, and we are well aware
That all these fights don't seem to us exactly on the square;
The main thing now is "get the 'jack'" and then they have no fear.

For a single round they get as much as the President does in a year.
With the announcement that Jack Kearns, Jack Dempsey's manager, is demanding $500,000 for a battle with Harry Willis it makes us feel certain that one of the following statements is true—either Dempsey is leary of taking on the dusky battler or he is playing the American sporting public for the "goofs" that they really are. (More apt to be the latter than the former).

We have heard of a fellow named Hayes
Who, we think, must be in a daze;
For he wrote to L. A.
And asked, in his way.
To appear with Jack Dempsey in the training stage.
Apparently this aspiring young heavyweight, who hails from Toledo, has forgotten about the shortage of sparring partners that nearly left the champion without a "playmate" during the latter part of his preparation for the Carpenter fight. At least, he has the noiseless phonograph for his exhibition of sheer nerve.

SOUTHLAND'S ELKS MEET TONIGHT IN TOURNAMENT

Contest to Last Fourteen Weeks; Glendale Has Two Teams Entered

By O. U. FOWL
The Southern California Elks' Bowling Association 1922 tournament will open tonight with Pasadena Elks' bowling Glendale No. 1 team at the local alleys and Glendale No. 2 team going to Venice to bowl against Santa Monica No. 2.
There are fourteen teams entered which have been divided into two divisions of seven teams each. Each team will meet other teams on the same division twice during the tournament on each home and home alley.
The tournament will last fourteen weeks, one team in each division being idle one week in each half. At the end of the tournament winners of each division will bowl a series of games to decide championship.
Following members of local lodge will bowl:
Team No. 1—Claude Caswell, W. H. Viohl, F. H. Huesman, Joe Fortunato, J. H. Farnet, J. H. Hearnshaw, Jas. A. Apfel (Capt.).
Team No. 2—H. B. Grenfell, H. C. Pennock, J. R. Royle, Ed Clark, F. B. Halborow, E. E. Brown, S. S. Gilhuly (Capt.).
Arrangements for the tournament here are in charge of 1239's bowling committee composed of S. S. Gilhuly, chairman; H. B. Grenfell and James A. Apfel, J. W. Moist is president and Con H. Cady is secretary-treasurer of the association. Both are Long Beach members.
The schedule has been arranged so that one of the Glendale teams will bowl at home each Friday night.

John McGraw On Search for Pitcher

By DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, May 26.—Quietly and without the least suggestion of his usual ebullience, John McGraw is combing the major league field for a pitcher that can be figured to bring the Giants out of their slump. John doesn't care whether he is a right or a wrong hander, but he does demand that the pitcher be good enough to win twenty games a season and is willing to pay for him in players or money or both.
The reason for McGraw's anxiety to do business along these lines is found in the standing of the clubs. The Giants, you will remember, went into the west a short while ago cake walking. They are now doing the ball and chain. The west, regardless of the late Mr. Greeley, hasn't treated them kindly. In fact, it hasn't treated them at all. The Giants' percentage on the present trip reads something like .364 and one answer is indifferent pitching.
According to our information, McGraw has opened negotiations with every club in the National league but without avail. For one thing, no National league manager is really frantic to help the Giants win another pennant, for another, pitchers of the type referred to are not allowed to wander at large, even if the inducements induce.
McGraw cannot do business with the Dodgers, Braves or the Phillies.
The Braves and Phils are in the same predicament. The same thing holds true of the Cubs, leaving only the Pirates and the Cardinals as possible parties of the second part in a McGraw deal.

Five More Added to Dead in Ulster

BELFAST, May 26.—The wave of violent death which is rolling over Ulster claimed five victims during the night.
Belfast today is an armed camp. Barricades of sand bags and barbed wire entanglements are being erected in the principal streets in the city proper and suburbs. The city is full of soldiers.
One special constable, two Protestant civilians and one unknown man were killed in night fighting. The unidentified man was attacked on a bridge, beaten into insensibility, and his body thrown into the river.
The hospitals are overflowing with injured. In addition to the dead, more than twenty men and women had been injured in outbreaks from Thursday morning up to noon today.
It is reported that concentrations of republicans are continuing along the Tyrone and Londonderry frontiers.
Orange residents are being driven from their homes in the Donegal district.
An automobile containing Cardinal Logue and Bishop O'Donnell was held up by constables while returning to Armagh, but allowed to proceed.

Babe Ruth Barred From Today's Game

CHICAGO, May 26.—Babe Ruth, home run king of the New York Yanks, cannot play in today's game with Washington. Ban Johnson, president of the American league, ruled today. Johnson has not decided what further punishment will be meted out to Ruth for his "run-in" with Umpire George Hildebrand yesterday. The American league president received a telegraphic report from Umpire Hildebrand today and immediately barred Ruth from today's game. He wired Hildebrand and also Umpire Naitin for additional information which he will await before giving his final decision.

Wilbur Hubbell Has Chance for Recovery

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—Hope for recovery is now held out for Wilbur Hubbell, Phillies' pitcher, who lies in a local hospital with a fractured skull as the result of being hit over the right ear by a line drive from the bat of Tom Griffith, Brooklyn right fielder, in the first inning of a doubleheader yesterday.
What a lot of insulting things you would say to people if you dared.

Babe Ruth Barred From Today's Game

CHICAGO, May 26.—Babe Ruth, home run king of the New York Yanks, cannot play in today's game with Washington. Ban Johnson, president of the American league, ruled today. Johnson has not decided what further punishment will be meted out to Ruth for his "run-in" with Umpire George Hildebrand yesterday. The American league president received a telegraphic report from Umpire Hildebrand today and immediately barred Ruth from today's game. He wired Hildebrand and also Umpire Naitin for additional information which he will await before giving his final decision.
Johnson intimated that Ruth's punishment would not be drastic. He said he appreciated the fact that Babe is in a batting slump and therefore under a "kreat men-tal strain" and under those circumstances he is not disposed to deal harshly with the home run monarch.

High School Stars In Athletic Meet

CHICAGO, May 26.—Athletes carrying the colors of high schools and academies of twenty-eight states will compete this afternoon in the preliminaries of the annual national interscholastic track and field meet at Stagg field. Final events of the meet will be staged tomorrow.
Huntington Beach high school, California state champion, is regarded as a strong contender for national honors among the high schools, while Culver Military academy rules favorite in the high school section. Washington high school of Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Manual Training high of Kansas City are also expected to prove strong entries.
New records in the shot-put and discus events are expected from Bud Houser, the Oxnard, Cal., phenom.

Local Merchants to Play Pasadena Team

Glendale's Merchant ball team will take on the strong M. W. A. team at the home grounds (Park and San Fernando Road), Sunday, at 2:30 p. m. Jack Kearns, formerly athletic instructor for the U. S. Marine corps and now an officer on the Glendale Police force, will start the game on the mound with "Welt" Heidler, a former Pasadena hurler, in reserve. King will receive. The addition to the club of McIntosh, formerly of the Wichita team of the Western league, will be great help to the team.
Manager Cobb has also secured several other promising stars and hopes to put a team on the field for Glendale that will be second to none in the bush ranks. The Pasadena M. W. A. are considered a pretty fast bunch and a good game is looked for.
A little money is a dangerous thing at an auction sale.
If all our wishes were gratified how poor we should be!

CLOSING SESSION OF CONVENTION BEING HELD

W. C. T. U. Gathering Most Successful in History, Delegates Assert

Miss Miriam Van Waters, referee of the juvenile court at Los Angeles, also spoke briefly at the evening session.

Mrs. Hattie C. Young of Los Angeles made a short talk at the close of the meeting on the attempt made by the liquor interests to prove the eighteenth amendment unconstitutional.

Discuss Wright Bill

A First Methodist church quartet sang several gospel selections. It consisted of Dr. P. O. Lucas, 358 Riverdale drive; Dr. C. R. Lusby, 339 North Louise street; Paul Butterfield and Howard Butterfield of 421 Arden avenue; Mrs. A. M. Draper of 534 North Kenwood street sang a solo which was well received by the audience.

The afternoon session was devoted to the discussion of the campaign for the Wright bill. Among the speakers were Rev. A. B. Smart of 110 Olive street and ex-Congressman Charles R. Randall of Pasadena.

"The first thing that a civilized government does is to pass a constitution," asserted Dr. S. T. Montgomery of Eagle Rock. "When that constitution is adopted, it becomes the fundamental law and should be sacred. So long as it is so held a nation may expect to prosper and thrive."

"Our fathers adopted a constitution. They recognized that it wasn't a perfect instrument but it was so near perfect that it was very hard to be changed. The eighteenth amendment was written into the constitution in the constitutional way and so declared by the Supreme Court of the United States. No other amendment was so nearly unanimously adopted. Forty-six out of the 48 states approved it and 45 out of the 48 now have law enforcement acts."

"I am not afraid that the eighteenth amendment will ever be changed but I am afraid of the organized onslaught against law enforcement. The Wright bill is the bootleggers' referendum."

All Officers Re-elected

The morning session was devoted almost entirely to business matters. The entire slate of officers were re-elected. They are:

President, Mrs. Eva Craven Wheeler, 301 N. Broadway, Los Angeles.

Vice president, Mrs. Julia D. Phelps, 3140 San Marino street, Los Angeles.

Corresponding secretary, Miss Ada Cummings, 301 N. Broadway, Los Angeles.

Recording secretary, Mrs. Hattie C. Young, 3023 West Ave. 35, Los Angeles.

Assistant recording secretary, Mrs. Lizzie Warren, 814 Parson street, Santa Ana.

Treasurer, Mrs. Clara B. Sheldon, 4901 Normandie Ave., Los Angeles.

Endowment Fund

An endowment fund of $25,000 was proposed yesterday by Mrs. Stella B. Irvine of Riverside, former state president and now superintendent of the Sunday School Branch of the World W. C. T. U. This was unanimously endorsed by the assembly. Mrs. Irvine was the first to pledge $25 and Mrs. L. C. Yeoman of 113 North Orange street was the second. In about four minutes nine pledges of the same amount had been received. The interest on the fund is to be applied to the upkeep of the W. C. T. U. Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at San Diego and to the expenses of the Frances Willard Home for Girls in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Linna Carl, who was to speak this afternoon on "The School Girl Problem," and Mrs. Vera Thomas, who was to give an address, were unable to be present.

Rev. James Walton of Los Angeles made the principal address this afternoon. He is state superintendent of the Anti-Cigarette League of California, who traveled 25,000 miles in a Ford last year and addressed 70,000 school children, including those at Glendale.

"The tobacco bill last year in this country was $2,500,000,000," he asserted. "The biggest end of that bill is cigarettes. Over 50,000,000,000 cigarettes in tailor-made packages were put out last year. This is a slight decrease over the year before."

Puts Them to Sleep

"Thousands of boys go to sleep in the schools and never get past the eighth grade because of the cigarette habit. This is a statement confirmed by the teachers. David Starr Jordan says that the boy who smokes cigarettes need not worry about his future—he has none. Luther Burbank says that many of his youthful friends, who gave promise of making fine men, are now in their graves and the cause of their death is due to the cigarette habit."

"Dr. J. H. Kellogg of Battle Creek states in his recent book on tobacco that its annual death toll exceeds 100,000 men and boys. If any pestilence destroyed 100,000 annually in the United States, the whole governmental forces would be called into action to prevent it."

The following resolution was adopted at the session: "Resolved, that this convention heartily endorses the work of the Anti-Cigarette League of Southern California and we pledge our co-operation to Rev. James Walton, state superintendent of the league whose efficient and consecrated work is recognized and appreciated by this organization."

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Reciprocity for Visitors Everybody Should Prosper Learn State's Resources Poultry 'League of Nations'

By Gil A. Cowan

RECIPROCITY is a term which has been applied to inter-club days until it has lost its true sense of proportion, probably. In other words, it has become common and when it is said that Glendale people should reciprocate in the instance of national conventions, something more than a smile is desired.

Reciprocity of the right kind can be given to the International Rotarians on their visit to Los Angeles next month by every public-spirited owner of a motorcar. Make it a point to provide a machine for at least one day of the week to bring a part of these thousands of visitors to Glendale. Make up your mind today to do this favor for your fellows, folks. Then look for the later details on arrangements. It will mean a lot of favorable advertising for Glendale to bring as many Rotarians here for an hour or two as can be accommodated.

The same holds true with the National Realtors who are visiting southern California in the next few days. If you know any of them, be sure that they see Glendale. Make their stay in California as pleasant as possible and if there is a pleasant place than this, we have still to find it.

In his speech before the Glendale Realty Board, Lon J. Hadcock gave some good advice to real estate men in particular and the public in general when he said it is essential that "we must know our own state."

If you do not know the conditions causing the wonderful prosperity, the reasons why this era of good times will continue and the countless thousands who are coming from the east, it is high time that you find out and do your part in making ready for them.

Now that the interstate commerce commission has ordered a slash in freight rates, which are of benefit to California, the next thing on the program, it would seem, is a proportionate cut in the wages of the railway employees.

That, of course, causes a wail of anguish to be heard in those quarters where people are paid to boost wages, rather than to reduce them. On Chicago labor leader is quoted as saying that "the men are in an ugly frame of mind."

In reality, they ought to be pleased that living costs are coming down, that prosperity is coming back throughout the United States, and that there is plenty of work. The railroad owners are losing money and have been for a long time. Their employees have been making money, good wages, and now they can afford to see the others prosper, too.

On the other hand, the railroads themselves must effect economies, speed up work, and see to it that the people both inside and outside of the business are served rightly. In America there should be no complaint if everyone gets along.

All of us cannot be millionaires, all of us cannot be engineers, all of us cannot work for the government, but everyone of us can accept the spirit of sacrifice that those did who died for us on the battlefield that America might continue to be the land of the free.

This week-end will afford many the opportunity of attending the Valencia Orange Show at Anaheim. It is a sight worth traveling miles to see and reveals one of California's greatest industries at its best.

Not alone is it the citrus groves, but practically all of the allied lines are to be found in special exhibits. The drive to Anaheim by way of Clearwater, or out the Valley boulevard to Whittier and Fullerton, is well worth the time.

Agriculture, oil and citrus activities are pretty well represented along the way. Learn of California's resources.

Of interest to poultry enthusiasts is this story from Dorchester, Mass:

"A Dorchester hen has hatched out a poultry 'league of nations.' The hen is the property of Mrs. Mary Shea. The downy brood includes:

- "Two turkey chicks.
- "Two ducklings.
- "Two goslings.

"Mrs. Shea's son, Maurice, recently came from New Bedford with six eggs for a setting. They consisted two each of duck, turkey and goose eggs. They were tried by Mrs. Shea on one of her wisest hens. The collection was accepted by the hen and hatched to a 1,000 at hatching time."

In the death of Major H. W. Patton, veteran newspaper man, Southern California loses one of its best boosters. He had traveled the seven seas, edited papers here and there, and always returned to this section more thoroughly convinced that it was the best place on earth in which to live.

And then to think, that in the answer of the call of duty, he went to Washington state to write about Seattle and vicinity, only to fall a victim of pneumonia. May his spirit, at least, come home to his loved land of California.

SALT LAKE'S HEAD TELLS PLANS FOR ELECTRIC LINE

General Manager Says His Company Is Ready to Agree With City

The establishment of an electric line on Glendale avenue seems practically assured, according to promoters of the project, who submitted the following letter from W. H. Comstock, general manager of the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company's division of the Union Pacific System, to the weekly luncheon of the East Glendale Advancement Association and later to the weekly session of the city council:

"City of Glendale, California, Sirs—Reference is made to the informal discussion had with members of your honorable body on May 23 by John Treanor, representing the Glendale & Montrose Railroad company, and the understanding, in relation to the transportation problem now confronting your city.

"From the time of our first conference with the members of your honorable body the officials of the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad company have given unprejudiced and careful study of the situation with a view to attaining the end desired and to comply, if it is at all possible to do so without entirely destroying the important business which we have built up after years of effort in our operations into Glendale, with the request made at that time and at conferences subsequently held, viz., the elimination of steam railroad traffic on Glendale avenue.

Reach Agreement

"Various proposed plans have been investigated in the hope of reaching a solution, which would prove satisfactory to your body and to the citizens of Glendale without, at the same time, working a serious detriment to our service.

"In order to meet your wishes fully, we have now, as I orally advised you yesterday, reached a tentative understanding with the Glendale & Montrose Railroad company, under which that company will handle for the Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad Company through the medium of electric power, its freight business on Glendale avenue including the placement of loads and empty at our freight station and at the industries located in the vicinity thereof in the city of Glendale.

"Although this change will involve expenditure of a considerable sum by both our company and the Glendale & Montrose company, we are hopeful that by such an arrangement we will be enabled to overcome the objections and meet the wishes of the city administration and of the people of your community.

Use of Property

"In confirmation of the statement orally made to you yesterday, however, the aforesaid operating agreement with the Glendale & Montrose Railroad company has been made in reliance upon the assumption that the city of Glendale by proper authoritative action will be able to assure the use of property now occupied by certain industries served by it in the area referred to in our discussion as Block No. 4 and also the block immediately north in which our freight station is located and that the city may further open to industrial use, as occasion requires, other property in that vicinity which may be served by the Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company's tracks.

"Our proposal in this behalf is not prompted entirely by selfish motives as we believe that the continued growth and increasing importance of the city of Glendale is dependent not alone upon its ever-increasing popularity as a residential city but that the future of the city must be very vitally affected by the policy which the city authorities and its people may assume toward industrial development.

For Development

"It is the desire of the Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company to co-operate with the city of Glendale and to actively participate in the effort to secure for your city the industrial and business development so essential to its future welfare and stability.

"The arrangement with the Glendale & Montrose Railroad company has also been entered into with further understanding that the Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company will not thereby forfeit any of the franchise rights which it now enjoys within the city of Glendale and on further assumption that whatever permits may be necessary from the city government to enable the Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company's freight and passenger business to be handled into and through the city by electric instead of steam power will be granted upon proper form of application.

"It is our belief that the city of Glendale desires to meet us half way in this matter and before consummating a formal contract with the Glendale & Montrose Railroad company, it is essential that we know what the attitude of the city authorities will be in relation to the matters herein before stated.

"Respectfully submitted,
"W. H. COMSTOCK,
"General Manager."

CHURCH PROJECTS PLAY PARK FOR YOUNG FOLK

Casa Verdugo House of Worship Has Plans for Community Center

Children in the Casa Verdugo section of Glendale, who are affiliated with the Methodist Episcopal church, at Park avenue and North Central avenue, will accept with joy the announcement that plans are under way for immediate improvement of the big corner lot, owned by the church, which will be divided into a general playground, including a double tennis court, handball courts, basketball courts and an arena for the exclusive use of young folk.

Plans for the improvements already have been made and work will begin soon after the close of the extensive campaign next Sunday.

Members of the board of trustees of the church are citing the fact that their church is the only one in the Casa Verdugo section

Reciprocity for Visitors Everybody Should Prosper Learn State's Resources Poultry 'League of Nations'

By Gil A. Cowan

RECIPROCITY is a term which has been applied to inter-club days until it has lost its true sense of proportion, probably. In other words, it has become common and when it is said that Glendale people should reciprocate in the instance of national conventions, something more than a smile is desired.

Reciprocity of the right kind can be given to the International Rotarians on their visit to Los Angeles next month by every public-spirited owner of a motorcar. Make it a point to provide a machine for at least one day of the week to bring a part of these thousands of visitors to Glendale. Make up your mind today to do this favor for your fellows, folks. Then look for the later details on arrangements. It will mean a lot of favorable advertising for Glendale to bring as many Rotarians here for an hour or two as can be accommodated.

The same holds true with the National Realtors who are visiting southern California in the next few days. If you know any of them, be sure that they see Glendale. Make their stay in California as pleasant as possible and if there is a pleasant place than this, we have still to find it.

In his speech before the Glendale Realty Board, Lon J. Hadcock gave some good advice to real estate men in particular and the public in general when he said it is essential that "we must know our own state."

If you do not know the conditions causing the wonderful prosperity, the reasons why this era of good times will continue and the countless thousands who are coming from the east, it is high time that you find out and do your part in making ready for them.

Now that the interstate commerce commission has ordered a slash in freight rates, which are of benefit to California, the next thing on the program, it would seem, is a proportionate cut in the wages of the railway employees.

That, of course, causes a wail of anguish to be heard in those quarters where people are paid to boost wages, rather than to reduce them. On Chicago labor leader is quoted as saying that "the men are in an ugly frame of mind."

In reality, they ought to be pleased that living costs are coming down, that prosperity is coming back throughout the United States, and that there is plenty of work. The railroad owners are losing money and have been for a long time. Their employees have been making money, good wages, and now they can afford to see the others prosper, too.

On the other hand, the railroads themselves must effect economies, speed up work, and see to it that the people both inside and outside of the business are served rightly. In America there should be no complaint if everyone gets along.

All of us cannot be millionaires, all of us cannot be engineers, all of us cannot work for the government, but everyone of us can accept the spirit of sacrifice that those did who died for us on the battlefield that America might continue to be the land of the free.

This week-end will afford many the opportunity of attending the Valencia Orange Show at Anaheim. It is a sight worth traveling miles to see and reveals one of California's greatest industries at its best.

Not alone is it the citrus groves, but practically all of the allied lines are to be found in special exhibits. The drive to Anaheim by way of Clearwater, or out the Valley boulevard to Whittier and Fullerton, is well worth the time.

Agriculture, oil and citrus activities are pretty well represented along the way. Learn of California's resources.

Of interest to poultry enthusiasts is this story from Dorchester, Mass:

"A Dorchester hen has hatched out a poultry 'league of nations.' The hen is the property of Mrs. Mary Shea. The downy brood includes:

- "Two turkey chicks.
- "Two ducklings.
- "Two goslings.

"Mrs. Shea's son, Maurice, recently came from New Bedford with six eggs for a setting. They consisted two each of duck, turkey and goose eggs. They were tried by Mrs. Shea on one of her wisest hens. The collection was accepted by the hen and hatched to a 1,000 at hatching time."

In the death of Major H. W. Patton, veteran newspaper man, Southern California loses one of its best boosters. He had traveled the seven seas, edited papers here and there, and always returned to this section more thoroughly convinced that it was the best place on earth in which to live.

And then to think, that in the answer of the call of duty, he went to Washington state to write about Seattle and vicinity, only to fall a victim of pneumonia. May his spirit, at least, come home to his loved land of California.
