

GERMANS AND RUSSIANS ADVANCING

OFFICIAL REPORT IS FIGHTING CONTINUES ALONG BATTLE LINE

At One Point German Army is Thirty Miles From Paris—Allies Line Remains Unbroken—Enemy is Held By British in North

London, Sept. 3.—The battle to decide whether history will repeat itself in a second siege of Paris is still in progress, according to the latest official announcement here.

Future military historians will write volumes about the details of this battle, but all the British public knows officially concerning the titanic struggle, the most momentous British soldiers have fought since Waterloo, is contained in one sentence of an official report issued last night by the press bureau. "Continuous fighting has been in progress along almost the whole line of battle."

To this generally the French official communication adds the fact that the allied forces have fallen back toward the southwest to avoid an action which might have been engaged in under unfavorable conditions. How far and to what line the allies have gone is unknown.

Confidence Prevails Among Allies.

The brief official bulletin of last night is the first word the British people have received from their government concerning the present battle.

The last previous bulletin was Field Marshal Kitchener's statement Sunday night, throwing a welcome light on the previous four days' battle which ended Saturday, and which reflected the greatest credit on the generalship and the discipline of the British army.

In spite of the fact that the French capital has been removed to Bordeaux and that the German army of the west is within thirty miles of the outer fortifications of Paris, a strange air of confidence prevails to-day among the allies.

The general feeling seems to be that the German attack is wearing itself out in hammering away at the allies' lines which give but do not break.

Small French Fortress Evidently Taken.

Military experts agree that Paris will soon be the pivot of the hostile forces operating in the area of the west. Even the downfall of the French capital is not expected to end these operations.

In the west, the line now held by the left flank of the allied armies in the valley of the Oise runs diagonally from a point northeast of Paris to Compiègne and thence through Noyon (14 miles northeast by north of Compiègne) to La Fere.

La Fere, one of the weaker French fortresses, evidently is in the hands of the Germans.

Enemy Held in North and East.

Farther east and in the north the Allied armies apparently hold their own in the neighborhood of Laon and Reims, (24 miles north-east of Rheims). The right of the allies rests on the fortified Franco-German frontier. The names of the British who fell in the four days' battle last week will not be announced until they have been communicated to relatives. The heavy loss of officers in proportion to the men is the story of South Africa over again. It indicates that the officers refused to take cover, as they insist that the men shall.

The west coast of Belgium and the west coast of Northern France are free from Germans. Many Americans are crossing the Channel to the continent determined to see something of the war at any risk.

WILL DEFEND PARIS TO LAST SAYS GOVERNOR

Paris, Sept. 3.—General Gallieni, commander of the army defending the city, to-day issued the following proclamation to the inhabitants of Paris: "The members of the government of the republic have left Paris in order to give a new impetus to the defence of the nation. I have been ordered to defend Paris against the invaders. This order I will fulfill to the end."
(Signed) "GALLIENI,
Military Governor of Paris."

SHIPPING REPORTS OF ST. LAWRENCE STOPPED

Montreal, Sept. 3.—For the first time since war was declared the government signal service station has been ordered by the censor to suppress all reports as to shipping coming in or going out of the St. Lawrence river.

This order follows the intimation from the imperial authorities that news about the movement of troops was being sent to the Germans.

EXPLODING BOMBS DROPPED FROM SKY JUST BEFORE DAWN

London, Sept. 3.—The Antwerp correspondent of the Central News describes the second aerial raid on Antwerp by a German Zeppelin, which he said occurred just before dawn. The bombardment, he explained, demonstrated from a military point of view the futility of the Germans' efforts to do any damage of importance. His description of the aerial bombardment follows: "I was awakened by a rattle of rifle fire and the crash of exploding bombs. I was just in time to see the airship disappearing southward at a tremendous height. There was an incessant rattle of shots from rifles and machine guns from the darkened town and shrapnel could be seen exploding like meteorites in the trail of the flying marauder. All around from points of vantage on the high buildings spurts of flame indicated the efforts of the flinders to bring down the hated Zeppelin."

RIGHT ABOUT TURN SOON FOR GERMANS INVADING FRANCE

London, Sept. 3.—The Chronicle correspondent at the front writing from an unnamed town in the department of Somme, Tuesday, says: "The superiority of the British artillery, coupled with the lack of the British infantry, is rapidly telling on the German attackers. A few more days such as Sunday and Monday, and the German army invading Northern France will have destroyed itself. No army that ever existed could survive the terrible losses suffered by the Germans in the last few days. Whole divisions of infantry have been shattered, and the German ranks are beginning to show demoralization."

"In the latest assault the Germans manifested unmistakable signs of unsteadiness and were seen to waver and frequently to break and flee in confusion. As a result of this prolonged battle the German line has advanced a few miles but has not gained any marked advantage."

PRINCE FREDERICK TOOK LIFE AFTER MISTAKE

Thought Germans Were Belgians, Ordered Charge, and Suicided Afterwards.

London, Sept. 3.—Prince Frederick William of Lippe took his own life, following a mistake of his regiment, according to Lady Randolph Churchill, formerly Miss Jennie Jerome of New York, who has just arrived here from Germany, coming by way of Holland. "The true story of the death of Prince Frederick William of Lippe," she said, "is that he committed suicide. He was commanding a German cavalry regiment before Liege on August 4, when his men in the darkness of evening nearly annihilated a German infantry regiment which he had mistaken for Belgians. The prince shot himself, fearing to face the anger of Emperor William. His widow, with whom I am acquainted, was informed of his death on August 14."

JAPAN MAY SEND MORE CRUISERS ACROSS PACIFIC

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—More Japanese warships may come to the Pacific coast, the Japanese consulate here said to-day to keep open the line of travel between this port and Japan. A published report that Japan intended to send three battleships, three armored cruisers, one scout cruiser and seven torpedo boats was characterized as inconceivable.

That provisions were being bought here to victual warships the consulate would neither affirm nor deny. It was absolutely without advice or instructions, it said, from Tokyo.

The possibility that more warships might be sent was merely a supposition based on the acknowledged fact that lanes of Japanese commerce between Pacific coast points and the Orient are now poorly protected. Any additional protective force sent probably would consist of a cruiser or two. Their base of supplies would necessarily be the same as now utilized by the Izumo—Esquimaux, B. C.

CROTHERS TELLS FARMERS THEY SHOULD GET BUSY

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—That the farmers of Canada can perform a patriotic service with profit to themselves, was the belief expressed by Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor, to-day. "The farmers will play a most important part in this war," he said, "food will be needed particularly. Raise pigs also. The patriotic farmer will be he who utilizes every acre he has. The farmer will also help to solve the unemployment problem. The farmer is the man the country is looking to. They should get busy and work as they never worked before, realizing that they have a duty to perform to themselves, to Canada and to the empire. Farmers should remember that the boys at the front and those they have left behind them, will need it."

DUKE OF WESTMINSTER SAVES CAPT. GRENFELL

London, Sept. 3.—The Duke of Westminster has distinguished himself on the battlefield. He was in a company with Captain Grenfell and Lieut. Windham during a hot engagement, when Grenfell fell wounded. At great personal risk amidst a galling fire the duke rushed through the battle zone and carried Grenfell to safety.

FIGHTING AT MALINES

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Central News from Amsterdam, says that fresh fighting is taking place near Malines, Belgium.

DELLA CHIESA NOW NEW POPE OF ROME

Successor to Pius X. Will Assume the Name of Benedict XV.

WAS CREATED CARDINAL DURING MAY THIS YEAR

Hundred and Seventy-Four Years Since There Was Pope of Same Name

Rome, Sept. 3.—Cardinal Della Chiesa has been elected pope in succession to the late Pius X. The pope will assume the name of Benedict XV.

The full title of the new pope, in addition to Benedict XV., will be Pope Bishop of Rome and Successor of St. Peter, Supreme Pontiff of the Universal Church, Patriarch of the West, Primate of Italy, Archbishop and Metropolitan of the Roman Province, Sovereign of the Temporal Dominion of the Holy Roman Catholic Church.

Cardinal Giacomo Della Chiesa, elected pope to-day by the sacred college in succession to Pius X., who died August 20, was created a cardinal May 25, 1914. He is the archbishop of Bologna, Italy. He was born at Pegli, in the diocese of Genoa, November 21, 1854, and was ordained a priest December 21, 1878.

He served as a secretary of the nunciature in Spain from 1883 to 1887, in which year he was appointed secretary to the late Cardinal Rampolla.

He was appointed sub-secretary of state in 1901, and in 1907, he was elected to the post of adviser to the holy office.

In 1907 he was appointed papal nuncio at Madrid in succession to Monsignor Rianadini, but this appointment was cancelled three days later. This incident had occurred just before he was made archbishop of Bologna. When Monsignor Della Chiesa was given this post it was declared in Rome that it was mainly with the object of combating modern religious ideas, Bologna being the headquarters of the National Democratic league, whose members advocated what is known as modernism, in religion. In January, 1914, while still at Bologna, the present pope issued a pastoral letter strongly condemning the league.

It has been 174 years since the time of the last Pope Benedict. On his election to the papacy in 1740 Cardinal Prospero Lambertini assumed that title. It is an interesting fact that the new pope was archbishop of Bologna while Pope Benedict XVI. was born in Bologna.

According to a dispatch from Rome, dated at 2.50 yesterday afternoon, and received in New York early to-day, the White Star liner Canopic, bearing Cardinals Gibbons and O'Connell to Rome was not due at Naples until tomorrow. Therefore it is probable that neither of these two American Cardinals participated in the election of the new pope.

The choice falls on a cardinal of Italian birth, and as was expected from tradition and also from the disturbed conditions in Europe.

It was at the age of 24 that the new pope was ordained in the priesthood. He soon attracted the attention of Cardinal Rampolla later secretary of state for Pope Leo XIII. When Cardinal Rampolla was made nuncio to Madrid he took Monsignor Della Chiesa with him as secretary of nunciature. On Cardinal Rampolla's return to Rome to become secretary of state for the vatican, Monsignor Della Chiesa entered the secretariat of state as one of the minutanti, or minor officials, until 1901, when he was appointed substitute of the secretarial and also of the cipher. As secretary to the secretary of state Cardinal Della Chiesa was brought into notable prominence throughout the Catholic world, but his position was not at that time of cardinal rank. On the accession of Pope Pius X., Monsignor Della Chiesa continued in the secretariat until December 16, 1907, when the pope gave him a noted promotion to the position of archbishop of the important see of Bologna.

For seven years he administered the see of Bologna with notable success, until in May last, Pope Pius X. named him among thirteen members to the hierarchy to receive the red hat.

Archbishop Begin, of Quebec, was among the other cardinals named at that time, the others being prelates of Spain, France, Austria, Germany and Italy.

AUSTRIANS ON RUN AFTER SEVEN DAYS' STEADY FIGHTING

London, Sept. 3.—In a dispatch from Petrograd, dated yesterday, the correspondent of the Times quotes the message of Grand Duke Nicholas to the emperor on the Russian victory in Galicia as follows: "I am happy to gladden your majesty with news of the victory won by the army of General Ruzsky. After seven days of interrupted fighting, the Austrians are retreating in complete disorder. In some cases they are running away and abandoning their guns, rifles, artillery packs and baggage trains."

"Prior to this decisive battle General Ruzsky's army captured in the course of the seven days 24 guns, a multitude of firearms and a great number of machine guns."

If all indications do not fail, the report from the Russian capital continues, the Russians will be definitely victorious; as a result the roads to Vienna and Berlin will be open to the Russian armies.

CATTARO SOON BETWEEN SHIPS AND LAND GUNS

Montenegrin Artillery Will Bombard From Shore and Fleet From Sea.

Rome, Sept. 2.—Telegrams from San Giovanni di Medua, Albania, a seaport twenty miles south of Scutari, say that the real bombardment of the Austrian seaport of Cattaro has not begun because the Anglo-French squadron is waiting for the Montenegrins to transport their siege artillery to Mount Lovchen. This move is intended to put Cattaro between two fires.

The garrison at Cattaro has tried several sorties against Antivari, but all were frustrated by the Montenegrins. The Austrians, the dispatch states, lost many men and two cannon in these sorties.

DEFENDING FORCES INTACT; CONFIDENT OF GREAT VICTORY

Russians Fought One of History's Greatest Battles in Capturing Lemberg—Million and Half Men Engaged Over Distance of Two Hundred Miles

London, Sept. 3.—The Daily News correspondent, wiring from Gournay en Bray, a small town near Rouen, says: "The German advance is amazing. A great battle is raging, with what results I know not, but I do know that the French and British armies are intact and still confident of ultimately succeeding."

"Incredible as it seems, the tremendous masses of men that the Germans have hurled at the allies have not overwhelmed them. It seems that while the Germans have the weight, the allies certainly have the wit and science, and these, with reinforcements will eventually win."

"General Pau had fine success, but in the centre and left centre the allies were not so successful, being obliged to retire."

Million and Half Men at Lemberg.

The feeling of confidence was greatly increased by the news of the great victory of the Russians in Galicia. Reports from Petrograd tell of the entry of Russians into Lemberg, the capital of Galicia. These appear credible as news of the defeat of the Austrians in that district has been received from several sources.

The battle of Lemberg was one of the greatest ever fought. Evidently it resulted in a decisive and perhaps overwhelming defeat of the Austrians. The battle line extended over 200 miles, and it is estimated that 1,500,000 men were engaged.

According to an official dispatch received by Emperor Nicholas from Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces, the victory was won after seven days of fighting. The climax came when the Austrians were routed in a final desperate assault on the Russian centre, which was held by General Ruzsky.

The Austrians in Galicia were acting in close co-operation with two German army corps facing Breslau and seeking to envelop the Russian forces in Poland. Their plans, however, met with a series of disasters, ending in a complete rout when an attempt was made to pierce the Russian centre.

Russian Cavalry Breaks Through.

Paris, Sept. 3.—A Havas Agency dispatch from Antwerp contains the following official announcement by the Belgian government: "The situation remains the same in the provinces of Antwerp and Limburg. The Germans have set fire to several sets of farm buildings. M. Moichten, attache at the Russian embassy, confirms the report of the destruction of Lanoberg, Cessel and Beschofshem by Russian cavalry, and also that they had broken the lines of the enemy between Heilsburg (in East Prussia, 40 miles south of Königsberg) and Königsberg."

Penetrate Interior of East Prussia.

A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company from Petrograd gives the following official announcement: "The battle on the east front in Galicia was participated in by the twelfth Austrian corps which had only been transferred from the Roumanian frontier on August 21. The Austrian army has been reinforced by numerous bodies of the landstrum."

"Our troops continue the offensive increasingly, and our cavalry division has penetrated far into the interior of East Prussia, destroying means of communication. They have also occupied a station in the Koerschen region, and Soldau and Sensburg."

"The German forces remain inactive."

LATE NIGHT WAR NEWS

BELGIAN MISSION ON WAY TO WASHINGTON

Cruelties by Germans to Be Put Before Government of Neutral Country

London, Sept. 2.—"King Albert bade us tell all the world that Belgium is not crushed, and never will be crushed. Such a spirit as we have can never be downed. We will fight to the end, and success finally will crown the efforts of the allies."

Such was the message that Carton de Wiart, the Belgian minister of justice, head of the Belgian mission, delivered to the representatives of the press following the visit of the mission to King George and Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister. M. de Wiart reviewed the charges against Germany in detail, laying great stress on the fact that the Germans had violated the neutrality of Belgium in entering that country, and cited alleged specific outrages on the part of the Germans, giving dates and places and the names of persons said to have been killed.

"I have a statement," said M. de Wiart, "from a reliable man who visited Louvain August 30, which says that the Germans were still burning buildings that day and scattering straw so that every house standing would be destroyed. Drunken German soldiers are reeling through the streets with bottles of wine, and officers were drinking at tables set in the streets."

"Louvain looks like a second Pompeii. Only the town hall and the city station are left standing. The cathedral and the theatre have collapsed, as also has the library, with its rare old manuscripts. The university, which had 2,500 students, is a ruin."

"Aerschot, with 8,000 inhabitants, Diest, and many other unfortified villages, suffered the same fate as Louvain. At Diest a mother and her daughter of 12 were shot to death; a young man was bound to a tree and burned alive, and two men were buried alive with their heads down."

M. de Wiart charged the Germans with theft in the taking of funds from the National Bank of Louvain, an institution in no way connected with the government, and said the bombardment of Antwerp without giving 24 hours' notice was a violation of international law.

"I personally saw," said Emile Van der Velde, Belgian minister of state, who is a member of the mission, "the bodies of a father and son, non-combatants, cut all to pieces by German bayonet thrusts. This was near the River Meuse. I have reliable information that the Germans held Belgian women and children before them in the same vicinity."

"At Malines the Germans continued to storm the town after the inhabitants had all gone, trying to terrorize the entire neighborhood and drive everyone possible into Antwerp, so that the food supply there would be exhausted and the siege shortened. Belgian soldiers lying wounded were bayoneted by the Germans at many places. The savagery of the Germans is unbelievable."

The mission will leave Liverpool today on the Celtic, sailing for New York, and its members will see President Wilson as soon as possible.

CANADA ENTHUSIASTIC IN OFFERING SERVICES

Thirty-Two Thousand Men in Valcartier Camp Ready to Go to War.

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—The minister of militia expresses delight at the response which the call for men has met with in the west. In proportion to the population, the west has sent to Valcartier more than its share of men.

The minister commented on the fact that Mrs. D. Armour, of Vancouver, has three sons at Valcartier. Sir Charles Herbert Tupper has two sons in the Canadian army and a third in the N. W. M. P.

So enthusiastic are Canadians to get into the fighting line that 6,000 men who were not allowed to mobilize here appeared at Valcartier. There are now some 32,000 men at the camp, and they are still coming.

GENERAL JOFFRE

General Joffre is commander-in-chief of the French army. He is sixty-two years old. When only eighteen years of age he served in the great Franco-German war of 1870-71. Since then he has been engaged in the task of building up the French army and thoroughly reorganizing the French frontier forces. The results of his labor are seen now—the frontier forts are almost impregnable.

DEATH TOUCHES EVERY CLASS ON BATTLEFIELD

Viscount Hawarden and Other Prominent Men in British Army Are Killed.

London, Sept. 3.—The names of British officers killed or wounded in the fighting in France last week are now made public. The list contains names of men familiar throughout the United Kingdom, both through their military prowess and their social standing.

Among the killed are Robert Cornwallis Maude, sixth Viscount Hawarden, a Lieutenant in the Coldstream Guards, and Major Victor Reginald Brooke, military secretary of the viceroy of India.

Among the officers missing are Lieutenant-Colonel A. W. Abercrombie, of the Connaught Rangers; Lieutenant-Colonel D. C. Beger, of the Cheshire regiment; Colonel C. F. Stevens, of the Royal Artillery; and Colonel H. N. Thompson, of the Medical corps.

Major Bond, of the Yorkshire Light Infantry, has been killed in action.

The mayor of Bath lost his nephew, Paymaster Gedge, in the Amphion disaster.

Viscount Hawarden was only 24 years old. He succeeded his father to the title in 1908. Major Brooke was born in 1873, and entered the army in 1894. He had seen active service several times, and had received decorations for bravery. In the war in South Africa he received the Queen's medal with five clasps, the King's medal, two clasps, and the distinguished service order medal. In this war he was wounded. He was also with the Kabul mission, 1904-1906. Major Brooke was a son of Sir Victor Brooke. Lieutenant-Colonel Abercrombie was a wearer of the distinguished service order medal, as also was Colonel H. N. Thompson.

AUSTRIANS DEFEATED IN IMPORTANT BATTLE

Servia Now Preparing for an Invasion of Emperor Francis Joseph's Territory.

Nish, Sept. 2.—An official statement issued to-day gives new and fuller details of the fighting around Jadar.

The Austrian army, it says, was composed of 200,000 men and held a favorable position. By its retreat it admitted defeat. The Austrians left on the field of battle 10,000 dead and more than 2,000 wounded.

"Altogether," continued the statement, "40,000 of the enemy were put out of the fight. We have sent to the interior more than 4,000 men whom we took prisoners, and have captured 60 guns, much ammunition, the material for the construction of a 600-metre bridge and a train."

"The battle was of great importance because it was decisive. The enemy retired to Santok."

Cettinje, Sept. 3.—Although numerically inferior, the Montenegrins have defeated the Austrians near Blek, in Bosnia. General Vokovitch, according to the announcement, has taken to the offensive and is marching on Tichaintch in pursuit of the Austrians.

Rome, via Paris, Sept. 3.—A telegram received here from Nish says the Servians are preparing to attack and invade Austria, as the Austrian forces for days have failed to confront the Servians.

NICHOLAS HOPES ITALY WILL OPPOSE GERMANY

King of Montenegro Sure Allies Will Win; Intends to Occupy Scutari.

Rome, Sept. 2.—The newspaper Corriere della Sera, of Milan, published an interview with King Nicholas of Montenegro, who is quoted as saying that he hopes Italy will abandon its position of neutrality and side against the Austro-Germans.

The king is sure that the Germans and Austrians will succumb under the weight of Russian arms. King Nicholas persists in his intention to occupy Scutari.

MONS MOST SERIOUS BATTLE FOR GERMANS

Wonderful Marksmanship of British Checked Overwhelming Numbers

London, Sept. 2.—The Chronicle correspondent, from an unnamed point in France, gives a description, obtained from officers, of the great battle near Mons on August 26. He says: "All soldiers agree that Wednesday's battle was by far the more terrible. Certainly it came at the end of several days fighting, but they tell me the Germans put more strength into that day's work than perhaps any other."

"An officer told me it was a terrible day. I think the Germans felt there was an opportunity to wipe out the British force, and they brought up vast numbers of their best and freshest men. They assailed the British position, not only with determination but with what I can only justly call ferocity."

"No doubt the German general staff was of the opinion that the British force could not stand before an attack by an enemy twice as strong in numbers and much stronger in artillery."

"It was really the first occasion in history on which a battle has taken place between a German and a British army, and I think, when we can read its story as we can that of Waterloo it will be found that the battle in which twice as many men were engaged as at Waterloo, deserves far higher place purely as a military achievement."

"It was something really awe-inspiring, another officer said, in speaking of the same day, to see those terrific German rushes. The attacking forces were well served, too, by artillery, and that has not always been the case. Generally the artillery fire of the Germans had been rather poor."

"When you saw the rush start, you thought nothing on earth could stop it. That those tremendous charges were stopped and the attackers driven back in disorder is due in the first place, I am certain, to the magnificent marksmanship of the British soldiers. The officers naturally expected a good deal in this particular direction, but I don't think they thought the men would do so superbly in action."

"At the end practically of a week's hard marching and harder fighting, and in the face of perhaps the fiercest frontal attack ever delivered in modern warfare it must have surprised the Germans. Judging from what they saw, the officers state that Wednesday was the most serious day for Germany since the war began."

NEWFOUNDLAND OFFERS REGIMENT FOR SERVICE

Legislature to Ensure Public Safety and Legislate to Protect Price of Food.

St. John, Nfld., Sept. 3.—The war session of the legislature opened yesterday afternoon. The governor's speech stated that the purpose of the session was to enact bills for creating and financing a regiment, ensuring public safety by providing for a moratorium, if necessary; also the regulation of the price of food.

He promised a measure enabling the government to appoint a commission to investigate last winter's sealing disasters, for which no adequate authority previously existed, and a measure requiring all sealing steamers to carry wireless equipment henceforth.

In both houses the rules were suspended. The opposition approves of the government's measures, and the session will likely close on Saturday. The enlistment of a regiment of 500 men was the government's offer to the imperial authorities, and it now totals 700. Of these St. John's contribution was 640. The eastern districts, as the men return from the fisheries, will probably swell the number to 1,000 or more.

HOW THIN PEOPLE CAN PUT ON FLESH

A New Discovery.

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is, you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your system of assimilation, are out of gear and need reconstruction.

Put out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Omit the flesh cream rubs that cut out everything but the meals you are eating now and eat with every one of those a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol charges your weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles—gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and D. E. Campbell's Prescription Store and all other druggists in Victoria, B. C., and vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back.

You can make your skin what you would love to have it

Your skin like the rest of your body is continually changing. Every day, in washing, you rub off dead skin. As this old skin dies, new forms.

This is your opportunity—make this new skin what you would love to have it by using the following treatment regularly.

Make this treatment a daily habit

Just before retiring, rub in gently a warm water lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap—until the skin is softened, the pores opened and the face feels fresh and clear. Rinse in cooler water, then apply cold water—the colder the better—for a full minute. Whenever possible, rub your face for a few minutes with a piece of ice. Always dry the skin thoroughly.

Use this treatment persistently for ten days and your skin will show a marked improvement. Use Woodbury's regularly thereafter, and before long your skin will take on that greater loveliness which the steady use of Woodbury's always brings.

Woodbury's Facial Soap costs 25c a cake. No one hesitates at the price after their first cake.

Do this today—now! Tear out the illustration of the cake below and put it in your purse as a reminder to get Woodbury's and try this treatment. Tear out the cake in cooler water, then your druggist today. Begin tonight to get the benefits of this Facial Soap. For sale by Canadian druggists from coast to coast, including Newfoundland.

POINCARÉ AND CABINET ON WAY TO BORDEAUX

Seat of French Capital is Moved as Matter of Military Precaution

Paris, Sept. 3.—President Poincaré and his cabinet left for Bordeaux, the new French seat of government, where they will arrive in the morning.

Two trains reserved for the president and the members of the senate and chamber of deputies left for Bordeaux this afternoon. Fifteen judges of the court of casation also will be transferred to the provisional capital of France. In addition to the American ambassador, M. T. Herrick, the Swiss minister, M. Lardy, also has decided to remain in Paris. The population of the capital is taking the departure of the heads of the government calmly, recognizing that it is a matter of prudence.

Although the city generally is placid, the people feel keenly the approach of the German army, and they are rapidly preparing for whatever may happen. Many families left for the west today, taking with them household necessities. These refugees from the capital have been forced to make long detours because the railroads are encumbered with military trains.

The railroad lines out of Paris to the north have virtually ceased running, trains owing to fears of possible raids by German cavalry.

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Paris says that all the foreign ambassadors and ministers to France, with the exception of the American ambassador, Myron T. Herrick, have left Paris, accompanying the government to Bordeaux. Mr. Herrick, in accordance with his wishes announced earlier, remains at the capital.

President Poincaré has issued a proclamation to his people telling them that military necessity alone has led him to remove the government to Bordeaux.

DAWSON SENDS MONEY FOR HOSPITAL SHIP

Six Thousand Dollars Subscribed in Four Days; Many Are Ready for Service.

Dawson, Sept. 3.—Dawson chapters, Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire, yesterday telegraphed additional contributions toward the hospital ship fund for Great Britain, making a total of $6,450 sent by Dawson. Six thousand dollars was raised in four days. The contribution is probably the heaviest per capita anywhere in Canada. Both chapters of the Daughters of Empire here were recently organized by Mrs. George Black, wife of Commissioner Black, chief executive of the territory.

One hundred and fifty Yukoners have signed the roll, indicating willingness to enlist for service at the front.

President Dickenson, of the White Pass railway, left here Tuesday night for the coast after his annual visit.

Yukon navigation will continue six weeks longer. More freight for winter has been received and additional shipments have been rushed.

M. A. WOODS NOW CHIEF GRAND TRUNK ENGINEER

Montreal, Sept. 3.—The resignation is announced of H. B. Kellher, chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway. The circular issued by the president states that M. A. Woods, assistant chief engineer, will assume charge of the engineering department, with headquarters at Winnipeg.

Mr. Kellher's health has not been good for some time past, and he has therefore asked to be relieved of his duties.

For fifty years Mr. Kellher has been engaged in railway construction work.

HIS HEALTH IN A TERRIBLE STATE

"Fruit-a-tives" Healed His Kidneys and Cured Him

Hagersville, Ont., Aug. 26, 1913.

"About two years ago I found my health in a very bad state. My kidneys were not doing their work and I was all run down in condition. I felt the need of some good remedy, and having seen 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised, I decided to try them. Their effect, I found more than satisfactory.

"Their action was mild and the result all that could be expected. My kidneys resumed their normal action after I had taken upwards of a dozen boxes, and I regained my old-time vitality. To-day, I am enjoying the best health I have ever had."

"B. A. KELLY."

"Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest Kidney Remedy in the world. It acts on the bowels and skin as well as on the kidneys, and thereby soothes and cures any Kidney soreness.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c., or will be sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

FIFTY ZEPPELINS ARE READY FOR SERVICE

Engineers Coming From Germany Say Cost of Living Cheap in Berlin.

London, Sept. 3.—Two American oil engineers who have reached London from Roumania via Budapest and Berlin, bring some interesting stories of the scenes they witnessed on their trip. Breslau, and in fact the whole of Silesia, they said, was heavily mined. There were also witnessed great aerial activity in Germany.

Food was cheap in Berlin, they said, and all restaurants, even the best, had largely reduced their tariffs. Business was proceeding as usual, though recruiting stations in Unter den Linden had hundreds of men waiting to be taken into the army.

They visited the flying station and estimated that more than 50 Zeppelins were in readiness to start at any time. There were a hundred of more aeroplanes, and much activity in constructing new craft and training men.

Scores of aeroplanes were in the air at one time, each carrying three men. From the general conversation they heard while in Germany they gathered that there would be a combined attack by the naval fleets at an auspicious moment.

NEW SIEGE GUNS ARE DEADLY WAR MACHINE

French Officer Tells of Highly Explosive Shell Used by Germans.

London, Sept. 2.—The Boulogne correspondent of the Express sends his paper the following: "A French artillery officer who has just arrived from the front, spoke with the greatest earnestness regarding the new siege guns which the Germans are using. He said the guns used a new and highly explosive shell which has a most devastating effect.

"This new gun and shell were recently developed at the Krupp works and the fact that the Germans had it was kept a secret until it was brought into action at Liege, Namur and Louvain.

"In all my experience I have seen nothing like it," declared the French officer.

"I've been watching that little thin man with the tall, short woman for about two hours. First he walks on the right, and then on the left of his lady friend." "Yes, he likes to keep in the shade this hot weather."—Meggendorfer Blatter.

"Chic" Street and Afternoon Dresses

$42.50 and Between Prices to $9.00

All are distinctly Autumn and Winter styles—a display affording very excellent choosing. Many are imported models—the style setters that others follow.

The most significant point, however, is "CAMPBELLS' VALUE-GIVING ABILITY"—a fact that is appreciated by women more, perhaps, at this time than any other.

Dresses of serge or cloth, poplins, crepes de chine, charmeuse and fancy crepes; and the colors—such delightful shades, new as well as the older popular hues. There's the style showing the new bodice and the tunic skirt, a number of novelty styles, too, that are quite beyond our ability to describe fittingly.

THERE is one thing more deadly than shot and shell on the battlefield. It is hunger. Bread is the foundation for the soldiers' rations. Bread that makes bone and muscle and girds the strong right arm for the bayonet charge—bread that feeds and nourishes the entire body and permits of unerring aim to decimate the enemy's ranks. But any bread won't do. It must be made from the ripest, plump wheat. It must be cleansed of all impurities. A perfect flour for Tommy Atkins is

GERMAN GOVERNOR OF SAMOA NOW PRISONER

London, Sept. 3.—A dispatch received here from Wellington, N. Z., declares that the governor of New Zealand has received a message stating that the German governor of Samoa has surrendered and that he has been sent with other German prisoners to the Fiji Islands.

The landing of British troops in Samoa was carried out with great expedition. The Union Jack was hoisted over German Samoa at half-past twelve in the afternoon of August 29.

The Samoan, or Navigator Islands, in the Pacific ocean, up to the present time have been owned jointly by the United States and Germany, each country being in possession of two islands. Upolu and Savaii were the German holdings.

The British force which took possession of this German territory was sent from New Zealand. The announcement of British occupancy was first made through London, August 30.

The Fiji Islands are a British colony about 650 miles southwest of Samoa.

Morrison, Vancouver, was elected president.

WOMAN SHOTS DENTIST AND COMMITS SUICIDE

Note Left to Explain Reason for Tragedy Committed at Ballard Last Night.

Seattle, Sept. 3.—"He has had plenty of time to marry me. I cannot stand it any longer," Clara Lalone, twenty-three, 1118 Market street, Ballard, wrote this explanation of her act before she seriously wounded Dr. L. F. Fleeshart, 34 dentist, and took her own life last night.

Dr. Fleeshart, of the firm of Finley & Fleeshart, American Bank building, had just told an hotel clerk that he had been shot, and the two men were walking toward the city hospital at 9 o'clock last night when Miss Lalone called from a window of the sixth floor of the hotel.

"Frank, Frank, come back here," she cried.

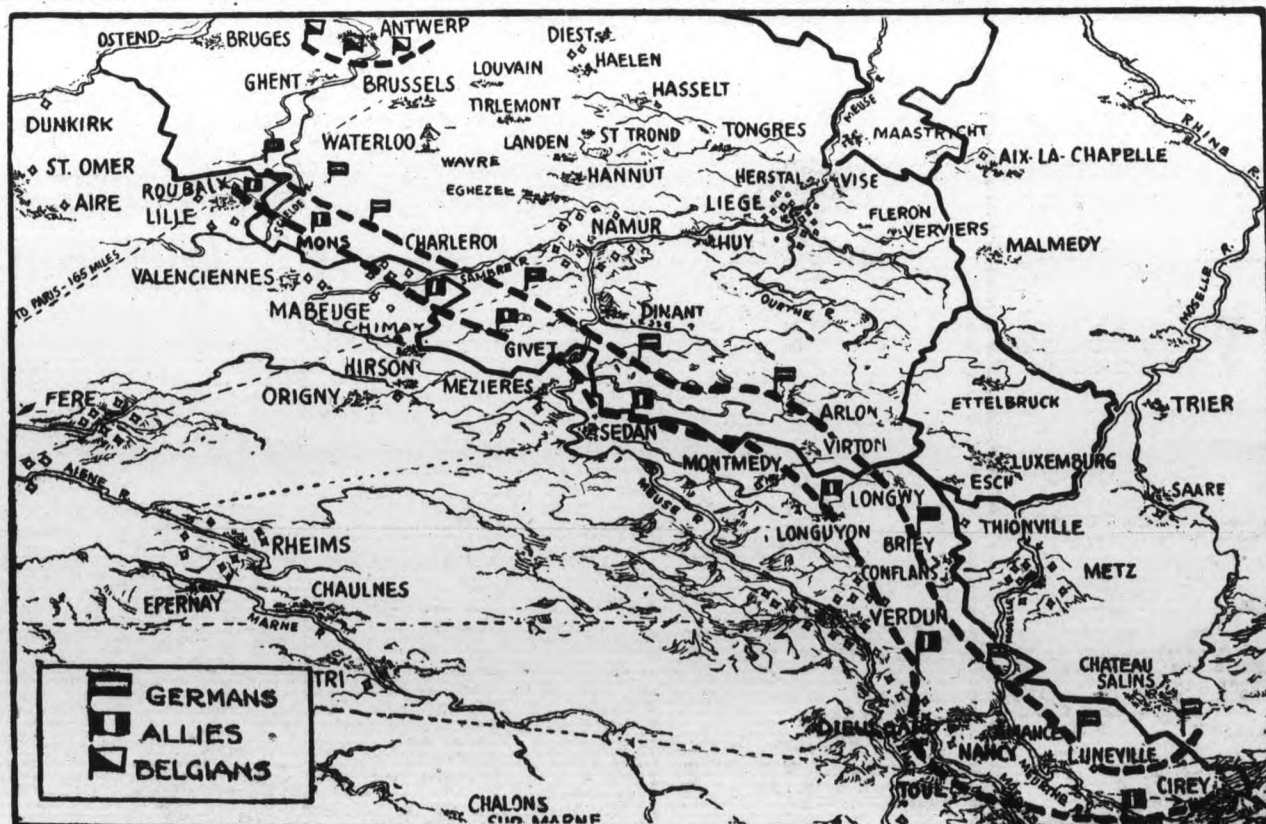

"Not now; it's too late," said the wounded man. The men had been gone but a moment, when the woman hurried herself from the window. She had previously swallowed bichloride. She died almost instantly.

Dr. Fleeshart is at the city hospital. A revolver bullet has pierced both walls of his right lung.

MORE JAPANESE TROOPS LANDED AT LUNG KOW

Chee Foo, Sept. 3.—Japan landed 4,500 additional men at Lung Kow to-day. Of these forces 500 men are marines, the others being soldiers. Lung Kow is a new Chinese port, situated 100 miles north of Tsing Tau in Kiau Chau.

Between 10,000 and 15,000 Japanese troops have landed at Lung Kow previous to to-day. The Japanese control the telegraph lines out of Lung Kow.

A HOPELESS TASK.

"The Fatherland: Fair Play for Germany and Austria," is the title of a pamphlet published in New York for distribution in the United States and Canada.

The Berlin correspondent of the London Times pointed out in a recent article in his paper the inability of the Germans to grasp the viewpoints of other nations.

The people of America know that it is this spirit, often expressed in the blasphemous vapourings of the German ruler, which has prompted the present war.

"Gentlemen, that is contrary to the dictates of international law."

"We were compelled to override the just protest of the Luxemburg and Belgian governments."

"The wrong—I speak openly—that we are committing we will endeavor to make good as soon as our military goal has been reached."

"Anybody who is threatened, as we are threatened, and is fighting for his highest possessions can have only one thought—how he is to hack his way through."

And what of the atrocities perpetrated by those drunken, uniformed thugs on the Belgian people; the burning of their villages, the destruction of the splendid city of Louvain with its priceless library and relics?

There are other requirements which will have to go by the board if this war is prolonged. Certain slight physical defects will have to be overlooked by the recruiting inspectors.

There is nothing in common between the United States and the new triple alliance of Germany, Austria and Turkey.

mans in the republic left their own country mainly to escape the system which oppressed them.

ITALY'S COURSE.

Two German Socialist deputies have visited Italy with the object of inducing their brethren in that state to support the Teutonic cause.

Italy occupies a delicate position. Owing to the temper of her people, she cannot side with her late allies without the danger of internal trouble.

MAKING A SOLDIER.

"Never mind whether they know anything about drill. It does not matter if they don't know their right foot from their left."

Earl Kitchener thus strips the fuss and feathers from military training for active service. The "goose step" and fancy evolutions are of no use in a trench.

The Manchester Guardian thinks the recruiting age limit has been set too low. It points out that many men of more than forty are in better condition to stand a gruelling campaign than a considerable proportion of those ten years their junior.

There are other requirements which will have to go by the board if this war is prolonged. Certain slight physical defects will have to be overlooked by the recruiting inspectors.

Such news dispatches as escaped the censors tend to confirm earlier official claims and admissions. The Germans are pushing their right wing nearer Paris, while their centre and left appear to be held by the French.

"ARCHDEED OF PITILESS SAVAGERY."

The above is the language of the New York Sun in its comments on the campaign the soldiers of the Kaiser, who has implored Providence to shower blessings upon them, have been conducting in violated and desolated Belgium.

"If General Sherman were alive, he would have to apologize to hell. He was unjust to that amiable region. The war of his time was but an innocent harmless killing game."

"Every nation which still believes that something of humanity should be maintained in the usages of warfare should raise its voice against this archdeed of pitiless savagery; against the repetition of such senseless and unforgivable blind massacre."

AUSTRIA'S CRUSHING DEFEAT.

According to reports received today the Russian army in Galicia, after a terrific battle lasting a week in which several million men were engaged, has routed the Austrian forces and occupied Lemberg, the capital of the province.

With Austria as a broken reed it will require the entire German army to meet the Russian advance. The Slav host is so numerous that it can afford to mask the various formidable fortresses with containing forces and press forward.

It would be madness for the invaders to attempt to besiege Paris with the allied armies intact and flanking immense fortifications. To make any headway at all would require the entire German army of effectives, and most of these will be needed shortly to meet the growing menace in the east.

TO-DAY'S SUMMARY.

Such news dispatches as escaped the censors tend to confirm earlier official claims and admissions. The Germans are pushing their right wing nearer Paris, while their centre and left appear to be held by the French.

ported as determined to occupy Sautari. The governor and other German officials of Samoa have been made prisoners by the British and sent to the Fiji Islands.

The government of France is now established at Bordeaux. The foreign embassies and legations, with the exception of those of the United States and Switzerland, have also been removed from Paris to Bordeaux.

In ordinary times the address of Hon. George Foxolds, delivered last evening at the Empress hotel, would have attracted a great deal of attention and excited much interest.

THE KAISER'S HYMN.

I am lord of the universe, Chief by a right divine, To sway all destinies in peace And set the battle line.

What are ten thousand lives to me, Gaped out at my command, So long as I stand gloried in, Saint of my fatherland?

Beneath my feet, by heaven's decree, The nations all shall lie; Shall I oppose the word divine Which sets my destiny?

LORD ROBERTS.

United Service Gazette (British Military) Soldiers are commonly supposed to be men of action and not of words, but Lord Roberts appears in this instance to be an exception to the rule.

THE ORIGINAL HANDY MAN.

A colonel wanted a man-servant, so he inserted an advertisement in the local weekly. One of the applicants who answered was an Irishman.

WASN'T MALICIOUS.

A mobile manufacturer tells of a ducky who came to him one day with a request to be excused from work the next day, explaining that his wife had died and that he must attend the funeral.

HOW LYNCH LAW RISES.

Disrespect for the law brings its own punishment and whenever the law is disregarded or not enforced the people become interpreters of the name of justice that inspires the desire to give the offenders as good as they have inflicted.

CURIOS COINCIDENCE.

Why is it that the city man who takes most interest in putting in a fine flower garden is generally the man who pecks up about this time of year, goes to the country, and does not see his flowers in bloom?

Household League.—Two secretaries have been appointed to assist with the growing work in connection with the Household league, these being Mrs. Graves, corresponding secretary; and Miss Muriel Milligan, organizing secretary. With these two assistants, Mrs. Foulkes has consented to retain her presidency of the league for the present.

Victorian Order of Nurses.—The Victorian Order of Nurses met on Tuesday for the first time since the holidays, a considerable amount of routine business, covering the vacation period, being disposed of. The two nurses reported that during July 150 visits had been paid, and during August 142. Mrs. Harold Robertson presided, and there was a good attendance.

Scouts Association Meets.—A meeting of the council of the Victoria Boy Scouts' association will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday, September 8. Business of importance is to be considered. The 5th troop will inaugurate its season's work to-morrow evening when the troop will assemble at its quarters in Mason street at 6.45. This troop plans to spend Labor Day at Gordon Head when camp sports will be held.

Some Island Show Judges.—At the exhibition of the Ladysmith Farmer's Institute on Wednesday, T. Sanderson will judge the fruit and vegetables. He will also judge at the Parkville show on September 12. Ganges Harbor show on September 16 will have as judges D. Montgomery, for horses and swine, S. H. Shannon, for dairy cattle and sheep, and B. Hoy for fruit and vegetables. The judges at the two-day show at Duncan, September 17 and 18, are Mr. Miller, for horses and sheep, D. C. Platt, for dairy cattle, beef cattle and swine, B. Hoy for fruit, and T. Sanderson for vegetables.

Heather Grown at Uclulet.—In reply to many inquiries as to the source of the heather which has been supplied in such abundant quantities to the Daughters of the Empire for sale as emblems, the I. O. D. E. announces that it comes from Mr. Fraser's gardens at Uclulet, which have been particularly successful in growing flowering heaths of all kinds. The purple and white heather which has been sent is of exceptionally fine quality, and proves the possibilities of introducing the emblematic flowers of Scotland to the Pacific coast. The firm of Angus Campbell & Co., Ltd., has sold a quantity of the heather, and two small girls also disposed of many bunches in the streets. Mme. Schullensen's supply of the flags of the allies was entirely sold out yesterday, but more will be furnished in the course of the next day.

War Will Not Interfere.—Word has been received that the interruption of trans-Atlantic travel caused by the European war will not interfere with the shipment from Holland of the hundreds of thousands of bulbs for the gardens of the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco. Orders for the bulbs in great quantities were placed with Dutch nurserymen by the landscape department of the exposition. As the tulips, iris, and other flowers included in the order will form an essential part of the landscape decoration considerable apprehension was felt over the possibility that Holland growers would be unable to export the bulbs. The shipment will be the largest of the kind ever received in the United States. Word has also been received that a great quantity of plants, flowers and shrubs from the British Isles will shortly be shipped to the exposition.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, September 3, 1889.

Andrew Gray, of the firm of Spratt and Gray, will leave for Scotland on Saturday. He is going on business and will purchase machinery and tools for the works at Rock Bay. He will also take in the Toronto and Paris exhibitions.

Four commissioners of the New England company, W. L. Carpenter, I. Lister, D. Milligan and W. M. Vening, have arrived in the city in connection with work among the aborigines of British Columbia.

W. J. Sutton, government assayer, has resigned his position for the purpose of taking charge of the Cowichan lumber mills. Wm. McCulloch, former assayer, has again been appointed to that office.

The Wellington arrived from San Francisco to-day and commenced discharging cut granite blocks for the residence of Mrs. Dunsmuir. The draw of the new Rock Bay bridge was opened for the first time on Monday to test the working of the mechanism.

Phoenix Beer, $1.50 per doz. qts.

Thanks for Printing.—At its regular meeting this week the Friendly Help society expressed its gratitude to the Hon. Dr. Young, who had had the by-laws of the society printed. These, in leaflet form, were on the table, and accessible to members.

Case Dismissed.—There was not enough evidence to justify a conviction in the case of Harry G. Ellis, charged with vagrancy in the police court this morning. The accused said he desired to enlist, and was allowed to go free for that purpose.

Inquest This Afternoon.—At 4 o'clock this afternoon an inquest was started on the body of W. H. Smith, who died suddenly on Tuesday while in Bridge's shoe store. Heart failure is believed to have been the cause of death.

Patriotic Fund.—Additions to the patriotic fund have been handed to the I. O. D. E. as follows: From Mrs. Ambrose Stewart, $5; from Parkville an additional donation of $6.50. A contribution of $75, the proceeds of a recent dance, was sent in by the Ivy Leaf Social club. The fund committee is extremely grateful for these generous donations.

Office Closed Monday.—The office of the Patriotic Service committee, I. O. D. E., will be closed on Monday, Labor day, and the usual weekly meeting will not be held. After that date the reports from members of the visiting committee will be received daily, except Saturday, between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m. only. This regulation has become necessary since the growth of the work has advanced so rapidly, otherwise no time would be available for the important clerical work attached to the office.

King's Daughters.—At the monthly meeting of the King's Daughters yesterday at the rest room, Courtney street, Mrs. L. H. Hardie, district secretary, in the chair, considerable routine business was dealt with. Reports showed that the average attendance of girls daily at the rooms was about fifty. Plans for the extension of the work were discussed, but nothing definite was decided on. Donations from the following were gratefully acknowledged: Cash, E. B. T.; Mrs. Andrew Wright; Mrs. McKay; and the Camosun Chapter; magazines, Mrs. J. S. Floyd and Mrs. W. Colman.

Membership Campaign.—The membership committee of the Y. M. C. A. met last evening at the association rooms and discussed a campaign for new members. Four sub-committees were appointed: Publicity committee, for the purpose of informing young men of the city of the work and purposes of the association; siege committee, to approach such young men with a view to getting them to join the association; glad hand committee, to give every new member a hearty welcome; and assimilation committee, to get new members interested in some particular line of association work.

Strange Laundry.—Ah Wong pleaded not guilty this morning to being in possession of a quantity of stolen lead pipe. He stated he had dug the stuff from a churchyard, but had no idea it was stolen. A remand was granted until Saturday for the prosecution to bring important evidence. The Chinaman was caught with the lead pipe in his possession by Detectives Murray and Macdonald. The police believe they have found in Ah Wong the thief who for weeks past has been raiding vacant houses and stealing plumbing fixtures. Many reports of such thefts have been received by the police. Ah Wong thought to deceive the officers by carrying the pipe in a bundle which had the appearance of a laundry parcel, and it is believed he has used this method before of disarming suspicion as to his actions.

THE FAMILY MARKET BASKET

These are sad days for the family market basket. Many events seem to have conspired to bring about higher prices, and the careful housewife must be wide awake to make ends meet.

She cannot afford to purchase haphazard. She must have the best available information of products and prices.

In these days the advertising columns of a live newspaper like The Times are immensely valuable. They are the public market place. They keep a woman informed as to the greatest purchasing power of her dollar.

The woman who uses newspaper advertising for her guide is more apt to get 100 cents plus for her dollar than her neighbor who shops haphazard.

TALKS OF SINGLE TAX PLAN IN NEW ZEALAND

Hon. George Fowlds Addresses Henry George Association on Results Obtained

Hon. George Fowlds, former minister of education and commerce for New Zealand, addressed a gathering under the auspices of the Henry George association last evening at the Empress hotel on the single tax movement in the sister dominion. As the call for the meeting had been a hurried one because of the brevity of Mr. Fowlds' visit here, the attendance when Mayor Stewart took the chair was not large, but those who were present followed the remarks of the distinguished visitor with the greatest attention.

After the mayor had introduced Mr. Fowlds as one of the leading single taxers in the world, the ex-minister explained that New Zealand had been able to make experiments in social reform exceeding anything which had been attempted elsewhere, because the inhabitants were a homogeneous people, descendants of British stock only. He traced the origin of the single tax movement from the first attempt to tax land values in New Zealand in 1877, and the repeal of the measure two years later, to the re-enactment of legislation after a Liberal government had assumed office in 1890. Legislation since that date had been directed largely towards setting up machinery for the settlement of industrial disputes, the fixing of land value taxation and the direction of the operations of the state in some forms of industrial enterprise.

The latter movement was still a matter of argument, but he believed state coal mines had reduced the price of fuel, at any rate near Wellington.

As to the operation of the arbitration and conciliation act, the employees had suffered until the reduction of hours and the increase of wages had come to an end. Then they had begun to cancel their registrations under the measure, and a large number had ceased to be subject to its provisions by the time that the strike started last year. Strangely enough the very employers who had declared the act ruinous to industrial enterprise, now required that the men engaged should be associated with unions registered under the act.

Reverting to land value taxation, Mr. Fowlds pointed out that the present tax in New Zealand was graduated from £500 to £200,000, at which it reached its maximum of 6 1/2d. on the pound, with 50 per cent. increase for non-resident owners. He believed that if the single tax were in operation in British Columbia it would check anything in the nature of a land boom, for it would take the speculative value out of land altogether. He alluded to the stimulus given to the erection of better buildings as a result of the system. The man with a two-story building should pay more local taxes than the man with a four-story block and the latter should pay more in proportion than the man with a six-story building.

For local taxation New Zealand had a local option law. About half the municipal and county governments of the dominion had adopted the measure. It had been estimated by an expert that the communities enjoying single tax had increased their population by 25 per cent., while those which had not adopted the system had increased only 8 per cent. Thirteen per cent. of the national revenue was raised by taxation of land values now, and this apart from the revenue for local purposes. What the people of the dominion regretted was that instead of the community benefitting by the great increase in values, the increased revenues had gone into the pockets of the landowners.

The speaker concluded by a brief reference to the enfranchisement of women in New Zealand. It had led to the passage of humanitarian legislation. A vote of thanks was tendered the speaker, allusion being made to the fact that the meeting was held on the anniversary of Henry George's birthday.

Mr. Fowlds sailed on the R. M. S. Marara for New Zealand.

GENEROUS GIFT TO FORCES

J. W. Stewart Provides Highlanders at Valcartier With Uniforms and Equipment; Minister Thanks Him.

An Ottawa dispatch states that Col. Hughes, minister of militia, has sent a telegram to J. W. Stewart, of Vancouver, thanking him on behalf of the nation, for his promptness and liberality in outfitting the Highland regiments now in camp at Valcartier. Mr. Stewart, who was in the city today, was interviewed by a Times representative, but with his usual modesty he positively refused to say anything about the matter and deprecated any publicity so far as he was concerned.

It is understood that Lieut.-Colonel R. G. Edwards-Leckie, in command of the 72nd Highlanders, of Vancouver, upon reaching Valcartier, was placed in command of several Highland regiments at Valcartier. His own regiment was short of uniforms and other equipment and a telegram to Mr. Stewart brought the ready response that he would pay for everything required. This contribution, totalling about $15,000 was so appreciated by Lieut.-Colonel Leckie and his men and also by the minister of militia, that the latter promptly sent Mr. Stewart the telegram referred to.

In addition to what he is doing for Canada, it is understood that Mr. Stewart, who has large interests in the Highlands of Scotland, has joined the Duke of Sutherland in equipping a regiment of brave Highlanders.

TO DECIDE ON POLICY

School Board Will Have to Determine Arrangement for Payment to Men Engaged in Patriotic Duties.

At the meeting of the school board next Wednesday it is probable that a permanent policy with regard to the employees of the board at the front or with the auxiliary forces will be discussed. When the matter was before the board a short time ago it was resolved to follow the city council in paying in full for the month of August, but that time has now elapsed, and as it is stated that the regiments under arms west of the Great Lakes are to be maintained in that state at any rate for the present, it is necessary to determine on some permanent policy.

The city council has not yet given a lead in the matter, so the school board will have to decide what policy it proposes to adopt in the matter, as several members of the teaching staff and janitors are with the auxiliary forces, and substitutes are engaged.

It is expected that the night school question will be settled at the same meeting, as it may be found inexpedient to call a meeting prior to the regular session.

This Frees Your Skin From Hair or Fuzz

(Toilet Tips.) The method here suggested for the removal of superfluous hair is quick and certain and unless the growth is extremely stubborn, a single application does the work. Make a stiff paste with some powdered delatone and water; apply this to the hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rub it off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. To avoid disappointment, be sure your druggist sells you delatone.

STOLE TIRES.

Chinaman Found Guilty and Sentenced to Four Months With Hard Labor.

A Chinaman who has had a different name on every one of the many occasions in which he has appeared in the police court was this morning sentenced to four months' imprisonment with hard labor for stealing two automobile tires from the garage of the M. & B. Auto company. He gave his name on this occasion as Yung Soon. He was arrested by Detectives Murray and Macdonald.

F. W. Young, proprietor of the garage, said he last saw the tires in the garage last Thursday. In company with Detective Murray he made a tour

PATRIOTIC FUND.

To the Editor—I am glad to see the patriotic fund for the whole of Canada is growing to a goodly sum, as it will all be needed to succor the wives and children and others who depend on the men gone to the front. There are many like myself who are too old to be of service in a campaign, and these men are in duty bound to subscribe liberally to the fund for the benefit of those who are fighting the empire's battles.

Now it occurs to me that with so large a fund and so many to be helped there will of necessity be some little delay in getting matters in order so as to work smoothly and have the payments come along for the benefit of the parties entitled to receive them. I therefore suggest that those in charge of the large amount subscribed to the patriotic fund in Victoria should ascertain the names and addresses of all men gone to the front or of other men on duty here, and out of their funds in hand take care of all those needing assistance without delay, as a wife needs more than a dollar a day to keep herself and family.

AT THE THEATRES

"THE CANDY SHOP."

There are many good things to be seen in "The Candy Shop," this season's starring vehicle for that well known vaudeville team, Rock and Fulton. This great musical comedy comes to the Royal Victoria theatre for Thursday and Friday, September 10 and 11.

"The Candy Shop" is one of those sweet-scented, sugar-coated confections where toothsome dainties can be purchased as well as looked at. To begin with, the cast includes the names of many a Broadway favorite. It would be difficult to find a prettier bevy of chorus girls; they know how to sing and dance, which is an asset to any musical attraction.

The scenic and electrical effects are all new and novel, and the plot is almost lost amidst the gorgeous surroundings. A girl, a man and a brooch, which is found in the candy shop, are the pegs on which the evening's entertainment is hung. Who wishes to be entertained with unravelling it, when such stars as Maude Fulton and William Rock have been captured from the vaudeville ranks to add zest and fun?

"THE EARL OF PAWTUCKET."

"The Earl of Pawtucket" and a lot of laughs are in store for the patrons of the Royal Victoria theatre. This clever comedy, which comes to the Royal Victoria theatre for Wednesday, Sept. 9, is in line with the very best comedies of the day. Plots, counter plots and all sorts of humorous intracacies are so closely interwoven in "The Earl of Pawtucket" that every evening's presentation is greeted with two and a half hours of incessant merriment wherever the comedy plays.

The very best talent is said to have been engaged to support Lawrence O'Drory in his Canadian tour; competent players have the character assignments, and carefully arranged stage settings prove fitting frames for the prettiest stage pictures of the season.

ORPHEUM VAUDEVILLE.

A phenomenal bill headed by Charlie Ahearne's Big Comedy Cycling Circus is to be offered by the Orpheum circuit at the Royal Victoria theatre next Monday and Tuesday. The programme carries everything in the way of variety amusement except a dramatic sketch. There is singing, dancing, ground tumbling, statue posing, comedy and one of the most novel and entertaining acts that has ever toured the circuit.

Stan Staley, with the assistance of his "relatives," provides a conglomerate of mirth-provoking "stunts" that are simply irresistible. The unexpectedness of everything, the clean humor of a new sort, and the vivid personality of the actors provide a pleasant relief from the hackneyed skits which one so often sees. There will be a matinee each day.

HUMAN PROCESSION

Sir George Elias Foster, Canadian minister of trade and commerce, was born in Carleton county, New Brunswick, sixty-seven years ago to-day. Sir George is the patriarch of the Borden government, for the Ottawa cabinet, like that at Washington, is now composed almost exclusively of young men, and the wisdom of gray-beards plays a small part in its councils. Sir George was knighted last June, at the same time that the honor was conferred on his chief, Premier Borden. He is about the last of the old school Conservative politicians of the Sir John Macdonald era of Canadian politics, and in the "good old days" he fought shoulder to shoulder with the great "John A." Temperamentally Sir George is inclined to be glib, but his bitterest political enemies admit that he has great ability as a statesman.

The knighthood so recently conferred upon Sir George was a belated recognition of his long devotion to the crown. Shortly before the outbreak of the South African war Sir George, in the absence of the Conservative leader, Sir Charles Tupper, seconded a motion by Sir Wilfrid Laurier which pledged Canada's sympathy and support in any action the home government might take. Both parties joined in unanimously passing the measure, after which the members sprang to their feet and sang "God Save the Queen," starting a wave of enthusiasm which spread throughout the Dominion. The scenes enacted during that period have recently been duplicated in Canada, and in arousing that imperialistic sentiment which has found expression under both Liberal and Conservative governments Sir George has played no unimportant part.

The Canadian statesman is of United Empire Loyalist descent. He was educated at the universities of New Brunswick, Edinburgh and Heidelberg, and in his young manhood was a teacher, and afterwards professor of classics at the University of New Brunswick. His tastes and training were scholastic, but he has demonstrated that the schoolman may become a successful politician. Entering the political arena at the age of thirty-five, his rise was rapid. He possessed great gifts as an orator, which he had previously used as a temperance lecturer in Canada and the United States, and within a few months of his arrival in Ottawa he was looked upon as a coming man. Three years after his entrance into politics as a member of the house he became a cabinet member, holding the portfolio of minister of marine in the government of Sir John A. Macdonald. In 1888 he became minister of finance.

With the return of the Conservatives to power, Sir George was appointed minister of trade and commerce. Last year he made a journey of 35,000 miles, visiting Australia, New Zealand, China, Japan and Korea. Sir George found vast opportunities for Canada in the great empires of the Orient and the Antipodes. In China the Canadian statesman saw teeming millions "ruled by a misbegotten, miscalled republican government," with sixty per cent of the population wholly ignorant of what form of government they lived under. In New Zealand and Australia the visitor was unable to find any ill effects because women exercised the

RECORDS WILL FALL ON MONDAY
WILLOWS TRACK IN FINE SHAPE

Holiday Motor Meet Will Witness Clash of Fastest Riders and Drivers on the Coast; B. C. Horse to Take Part

"I look for new records for the track." This is the enthusiastic remark of E. J. Cameron with regard to Monday's motor meet at the Willows. The Victoria motorcycle riders were on the Willows for several hours last evening, and the men showed splendid nerve in negotiating the sharp curves. The times for the half-mile circuit averaged under 40 seconds, and while the officials do not wish to give out the fastest time of the day, it is understood that some of the riders were turning in laps around 37 seconds. This rate of speed means that the riders travel about 70 miles an hour in the stretch to make up the time lost around the curves. With the track in splendid shape, there is no reason why the marks established at the previous motor meet should not be exceeded. Advice from Vancouver to the effect that half-a-dozen of the best riders on the mainland will compete at the local meet have reached this city. The Terminal City contingent will arrive here on Saturday, Sunday being given over to the visitors for their practice spins. Bayner, of South Wellington, one of the speediest riders on the island, is here for the meet, and is working out every evening at the Willows. Those out to practise last evening included Market, Miller, McDonald, Tubman, Christie, Carmichael, Anderson, Rayner (South Wellington), Bailey, Middlestadt and Ross. The riders will practice from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. to-day, and tomorrow, and on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. The first workouts for the motor cars will be held tomorrow from 5 to 7 p.m.

It is announced that a parade of the motorcycles and motor cars entered in the different events will be held on Saturday at 7.30 p.m., a band heading the procession. Arrangements have been made with the Oak Bay police to keep the track clear at all times. The members of the B. C. Horse will make a special effort to show their skill in the special events that have been arranged for them. Fully twenty of the star horsemen will be seen in action on Monday.

WARDS MAY CLAIM
M'BRIDE SHIELD

City Soccer Champions Likely to Reorganize; All-Star Team Chosen

Whether or not the wards will reorganize this season will be known tonight when a gathering of the city soccer champions will be held. It was rumored that a majority of the blue and white eleven intended joining the proposed Victoria lacrosse club team. The latter has not materialized to date and there is a strong probability that the Wards will once more enter the senior division. A former officer of this club stated that in the event of the team reorganizing, it would put in a claim for the McBride Shield, which the B. C. F. A. has taken away from the Coquitlam club.

Vancouver, Sept. 3.—Having admitted playing an ineligible man under an assumed name in the final for the McBride Shield against the Victoria North Wards last spring, the Coquitlam Football club, champions of the province, has been asked to return the trophy immediately to the B. C. Football association. President D. Leith, of the B. C. F. A., announced last night that the governing body would take the case up at the next meeting. The Coquitlam club can be suspended under the rules for the offence.

One of the strongest elevens that Victoria has ever been able to place on the soccer field was chosen last night to oppose the Nationals of Seattle here on Labor Day in the first of the Inter-City soccer matches. Mr. Okewell will referee and Mr. Moir has been selected as linesman. The game will start at 3 o'clock and the Victoria team will take the field as follows: Goal, Thoburn; backs, Whyte and Sheriff; half-backs, Stewart, Petticrew and Allen; forwards, Kerley, Nichols, Pilkington, Muir and Baker; reserves, Bolton, Blendell and Youson.

A practise match between the Victoria Swimming Club and the Strollers will be played on Saturday, Archie Muir, Lou Godfrey, Jock McNeill and other aquatic stars being on the lineup of the V. A. S. C. eleven.

FEDERAL CLUBS ARE
AFTER JOE JACKSON

Boston, Mass., Sept. 3.—The tempting offers which Federal league scouts have been making to Joe Jackson, of the Cleveland Naps, have been all in vain. Before leaving the Hub with his team the slugging outfielder declared that he had turned down the offers, which included a salary almost twice as large as he now is getting, pay for one year and a half in advance, and absolute assurance that all legal entanglements growing out of his "jumping" would be taken care of.

A member of George Stallings' Boston party stated this week that Doc Hobitzell, the Cincinnati Reds' former first baseman, now allied with the Red Sox, had signed a Federal league contract for 1915.

VICTORIA TWELVE TO PLAY SATURDAY

Locals Also Have Labor Day Fixture With Westminster; Changes in Team

Victoria's amateur lacrosse team will make a big effort to win two games in three days at the expense of the Westminster and Vancouver clubs. The local men received notification last night that they will have to play at Vancouver on Saturday and they have a scheduled match with the Westminster team to play here on Labor Day morning at the Royal Athletic park. The locals will probably leave on the Saturday morning boat for the Mainland as the match is billed to start at 4.30 p. m., after the Vancouver-Tacoma baseball game. Victoria made an effort to have this match postponed for a week, but evidently the Vancouver club had gone ahead with its arrangements for Saturday's game and will not consent to a postponement.

Manager Poulin stated this morning that there will be at least two changes in the Victoria club for the coming matches. Joe Mitchell's place on the attack will be taken by Jeff Baker, and one of the present defence fielders may be shifted to make room for a faster man. The Victoria club held a practise this afternoon at Oak Bay, the team for Saturday's game being chosen. The same twelve will oppose the Westminster team here on Monday morning at Oak Bay. By winning both of these matches Victoria can nose out Westminster for second place in the league standing and while Dad Turnbull's proteges have administered severe defeats to the locals at the Royal City, a different tale is expected here on Monday when the Victoria club make its final appearance of the year.

BEES CLIMB BACK INTO FOURTH PEG

Narveson Held Spokane to Two Runs While Locals Secured Sixteen Runs

Spokane, Sept. 3.—Not only did the Bees climb the offerings of Spokane's pitcher, Win Noyes, to all corners of the ball park yesterday, but they also climbed back into fourth place as a result of their win, the final score being 16 to 2. The invaders took toe-holds upon the slants of the former big-leaguer and scored enough runs in the fifth and sixth innings to win a couple of games. A brace of slugging rounds tells the tale of the battle, for with such a lead Narveson was in little danger of losing the combat. Lynch made Noyes stay on the rubber and take his medicine, Victoria collecting fourteen safe blows, while the Indians scooped six chances. Second baseman Wagner getting three boos batted up against him.

Geo. Kelly, Victoria's youthful first-sacker, was the battling hero of the afternoon, getting three clean hits, while Delmas, Driscoll and Narveson contributed a pair of hits to the general clutter. Wurfli and Wagner led the Indians with a couple of his apiece. Narveson did not give a base on balls, and Kelly's error was the only misplay of the Bees.

Table with columns: A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. and rows for Nye, Lamb, Calvo, Delmas, Kelly, Scanlon, Driscoll, Hoffman, Narveson, and Totals.

Table with columns: A. B. R. H. P. O. A. E. and rows for Wurfli, Butler, Hogan, Frisk, Wagner, Lewis, Nordyke, Shea, Noyes, and Totals.

FAVORITES WINNERS
IN SECOND ROUND

Manchester, Vt., Sept. 3.—Play in the second round of the national amateur golf championship tournament yesterday ran true to expectations and every favorite was victorious. The present titleholder, Jerome D. Travers, three former champions, W. J. Travis, W. C. Fowkes and Robert A. Gardner, and the former open champion, Francis Ouimet, were among the eight survivors. Interest in the day's play centred in the match between Travers and Eben M. Byers, of Allegheny, who on Monday defeated Charles Evans. Travers led by two up at the end of the morning round and in the afternoon played conservatively, while Byers hooked his drives and had other faults. Travers won five up and four to play.

TORONTO WILL HAVE FEDS. NEXT SEASON

Fewer Northwestern league ball players will be drafted by the major league clubs this season than for some time past. Club owners in the circuit share this belief, basing their opinions on the poor attendance, and lack of funds in major league clubs, and the fact that the Federal league agents have the approaches to star young ball players mired.

On a casual estimate of their value the following players by reason of their showing this season stand a chance of being taken to a higher organization.

Seattle—Pitcher Gipe, First Baseman Huhn. (Schneider sold to Cincinnati.)
Ballard—Pitcher Leonard.
Vancouver—Pitchers Steele, McHenry and Narveson, First Baseman Kelly.

Spokane — Pitchers Coveleskie, Noyes. (Holke sold to New York Giants.)
Tacoma—Shortstop Jack Butler, Second baseman Beckel. (Third Baseman McMullin sold to Detroit.)

Seattle, Sept. 3.—Provided President F. C. Farr of the Spokane team consents, the Seattle-Spokane series of six games, starting next Tuesday, will be played here instead of Spokane, and the Tacoma-Ballard series transferred to Joe McGinnity's ball park. Frank Redpath, secretary of the Tacoma club, talked the matter over yesterday with D. E. Dugdale and President E. R. Hughes, and both were willing.

That the Federal league will have a team in Toronto next summer is a definite statement made by a prominent Toronto sportsman. Arrangements have been going on apace and a meeting which was to have been held in Buffalo this week will take place in Toronto in the near future.

POOR CROWDS AT OLD COUNTRY SOCCER

London, Sept. 3.—Although it cannot be said that the football season, which opened Monday, was given a good send-off, there were nevertheless fair attendances at some of the matches. There were, for instance, over a thousand people watching Woolwich Arsenal and Glossop, and six hundred at Millwall.

The leading games resulted as follows:
First league—Sheffield Wednesday 3, Middlesbrough 1; Manchester City 4, Bradford City 1.
Second league—Clapton Orient 1, Wolverhampton Wanderers 1; Grimsby 2, Preston North End 2. Woolwich Arsenal 3, Glossop 0.
Southern league—Millwall 3, Queen's Park Rangers 1; West Ham 2, Gillingham 1.

WALLA WALLA CLUB WANTS LOCAL BOXER

Al Davies, the clever local bantamweight, will make a trip to Walla Walla on September 18 to participate in a big tourney to be held under the auspices of the Walla Walla Athletic club. Davies' opponent has not yet been selected. Two other local boxers will make the trip. It is probable that Jack Larrigan, at 135 pounds, and Blaney Scott, heavyweight, will be the two chosen.

Scotty McKay returned last night from the island. He has not yet broken into the pro. boxing game.

That all-star soccer eleven should win easily from Seattle. Victoria's lacrosse twelve leaves on Saturday morning. Coquitlam deserves to lose the McBride shield for playing unregistered men.

CANADIAN PACIFIC STATES ITS CLAIM

Replies to Libel Placed on Princess Victoria by Owners of Admiral Sampson

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 3.—The Canadian Pacific railway, owner of the Princess Victoria, has filed a suit in the federal court at Seattle for limitation of libel, asking that appraisers be named to fix the value of the Victoria. The railway company alleges that the $70,000 libel placed against its steamer by the Pacific Alaska Navigation company, owners of the Admiral Sampson, is too high.

The court appointed S. B. Gibbs, of Seattle, agent and surveyor for the board of marine underwriters of San Francisco; James Fowler, marine surveyor, and J. V. Paterson, president of the Seattle Construction & Dry-dock company, as a board to appraise the value of the steamer. They have filed a report appraising the steamer at $285,520 and her cargo at $705,100.

It is claimed by the company that the accident was due to the excessive speed of the Victoria, and it is denied that the Victoria was going at the speed stated in the complaint of the Sampson's owners. It is declared that the Victoria was barely moving at the time. The C. P. R. asserts that the steamer has been damaged to the extent of $20,000, which amount should be paid by the Pacific Navigation company, with such other damages as passengers and owners of freight may claim.

In the company's answer to the libel proceedings it is alleged: "The accident was caused by the negligence of those on board and in charge of the Admiral Sampson. The Princess Victoria was proceeding cautiously when the Admiral Sampson emerged from the fog, going at a high rate of speed on a course directly across the bow of the Princess Victoria.

The launch Chema, which has been maintaining a patrol of the vicinity of the wreck for bodies, has towed in three of the Sampson's life-boats, which have evidently become loosened from their fastenings and risen to the surface. It reports that considerable wreckage is coming ashore at Portage, between Oak Bay and Port Townsend. The waters of the Sound are covered with oil from the tanks of the Admiral Sampson, and the result of this is that ducks, loons and other water-fowl are dying by the thousand. They live but a few minutes after the oil soaks into their feathers, and make their way to the beach to die.

PRESIDENT AGROUND SOUTH OF ANACORTES

Seattle, Sept. 3.—The steamer President of the Pacific Coast Steamship company's fleet, went ashore on the south of Anacortes, according to advices received by the chamber of commerce here to-day.

The vessel is resting on soft bottom. Tugs from here have gone to her assistance and she is expected to be floated without damage at high water at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

PRINCE JOHN'S SPACE BEING FULLY TAXED

Grand Trunk Pacific Steamer Comes in To-day; Returns North To-morrow Night

The Prince John, Capt. Wearmouth, of the Grand Trunk Pacific fleet, is expected in from the north some time this afternoon, and is bringing passengers and freight from Prince Rupert and G. T. P. points.

The steamer will sail again during the night for Vancouver, after taking on freight here, and will sail from the mainland port to-morrow night. Passengers for the north will leave here by the afternoon boat to-morrow and join the John at Vancouver.

As there is only one steamer in commission at the moment it is taxed to the utmost to meet the demands for space for both passengers and freight in each direction. As yet the two three-funnel steamships are under the orders of the admiralty, the Prince George as a hospital ship and the Prince Rupert anchored in Elliott Bay awaiting orders.

It is thought possible that one or other may be released in order to take its place once more on the run, and thus give a weekly G. T. P. service to the north. Now that there is a regular train service from the Pacific terminus through to the Great Lakes the need of the boat connection between the capital and the terminus is especially felt.

PILOTED STEAMER UP FAR NORTHERN RIVER

Vessel for Hudson's Bay Taken From Athabasca Landing to Falls

A feat calling for great skill and for the exercise of an amount of ingenuity and coolness that does not usually fall to the sea-going mariner, was that of Captain J. D. Watson in piloting up the Athabasca river a new steamer for the Hudson's Bay company, to be used on the Peace river. Capt. Watson went up to Prince Rupert on the last sailing of the C. P. R. boats and while here told modestly of his task.

This was the first run for a large steamer up the Athabasca river. The vessel was taken from Athabasca landing to Peace River chutes, a distance of 1300 miles, and this necessitated the navigation of 90 miles of rapids. At times the trip was an exciting one for the captain and crew, and their only passenger, P. Patmore, transportation manager for the company. Capt. Watson has seen a great deal of navigation on the Skeena and other northern rivers.

Capt. Watson stated that the most difficult part of his trip started at a point about 120 miles from Athabasca landing, the starting point, where the vessel, a sternwheel shallow draft steamship 156 feet long, was built for the Hudson's Bay service. The river narrows into a rocky defile leaving a narrow channel beset each side with jagged rocks just wide enough for a boat to pass through.

The trip through the most dangerous part was made in a minute and a half, the water dropping 65 feet in half a mile. The vessel was thrown from side to side by the force of the torrent, the hull being torn by the jagged rocks and necessitating the reconstruction of the outer skin after the gorge had been negotiated. Carpenters were kept patching up the places where the water kept pouring in keeping the craft afloat until it got through.

The boat followed the Athabasca north to Athabasca lake, 500 miles from the landing, and then turned off at the junction of the Peace river and the Slave lake into the Peace river. The trip took fifteen days, the boat going with the current for the greater part of the way and then against the tide for the last 250 miles.

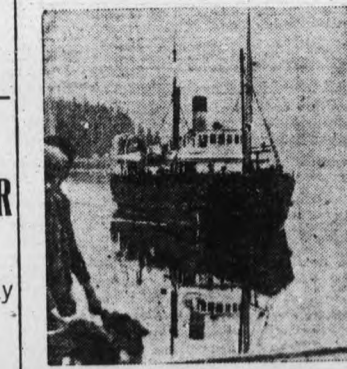

The steamer is to be operated by the Hudson's Bay company on the Peace river between Peace river crossing and Peace river chutes. She will be used for transporting passengers and freight to the northern regions and in connection with the company's trading activities. It is planned to make connection next year with the boats plying on the Mackenzie river between the Arctic sea and Great Slave lake.

Word of the death of Dr. Richard Thomas Freeman, for many years a surgeon on the steamships Shawmut and the Minnesota, running between the Sound and the Orient, and the steamship Pennsylvania, operating from San Francisco, has been received here. Dr. Freeman's death occurred at Balboa, Panama, June 29, and his body was taken to San Francisco and buried there.

Dr. Freeman was born in London, and was graduated from Oxford. He came to this continent thirty-five years ago, when he was 35 years of age.

For many years he was professor of anatomy at the University of Tokio, but in 1900 he gave way to his love of the sea and became surgeon of the Shawmut. There and in his subsequent positions he had many distinguished friends. He was a member of the University Club of Seattle.

BACK TO WEST COAST RUN

TEES RESUMES ITS SERVICE TO COAST

During Winter Steamer Will Be Back on Run Where It is So Well Known

Late last night the Tees left on the west coast service, for Clayoquot and intermediate ports, resuming service after being laid up for some months. The trim C. P. R. steamer, which has done such long service on that run, is under the command, as usual, of Captain Edward Gillam, who knows the rugged west coast like a book.

The replacing of the Princess Maquinna by the Tees is due, Captain Troup says, to the fact that the heavy business of the summer months is now over. During the remainder of the month the Tees will make runs weekly, alternately to Clayoquot and way ports, and to Holberg, at the north end of the island, and the many ports of call on the way. For the balance of the slack season she will make three trips a month, every ten days, two of them the short run and the intermediate one to Holberg and ports between here and there.

It is the belief of the company that this will give the people of the west coast an adequate service during the winter months, especially in view of there being a train service now to the Alberni canal three days a week. The Tees has been given a thorough overhaul while she has been laid up and is in excellent condition to enter on her old run.

The Princess Maquinna will be overhauled and will then be available to relieve other steamers as occasion requires.

RIOT BREAKS OUT ON GERMAN SHIP IN PORT

New York, Sept. 3.—A riot aboard the German steamer Bleucher, at anchor in the harbor of Pernambuco, Brazil, in which three of the Bleucher's crew and fifty of her 100 steerage passengers were killed, was described to-day by passengers aboard the Brazilian steamer Sao Paulo on her arrival here from Brazilian ports, when she sailed at the commencement of the European war.

The passengers had but a hazy idea of the cause of the riot, but believe it had to do with racial troubles. The Bleucher is a vessel of 7,982 tons, trading between Hamburg and Buenos Aires.

FURNESS LINE SHIP ASHORE AT ST. JOHN

St. John, N. B., Sept. 3.—With a hola in her port bow below the water line the Furness liner Shenandoah, Captain William M. Lee, is now aground on the navy island bar in St. John harbor. In a dense fog about 5 o'clock this morning she ran ashore at little Musquash about 15 miles down the bay.

Fog Gun on Marrowstone Point is Out Through Lack of Acetylene

Fog Gun on Marrowstone Point is Out Through Lack of Acetylene

Port Townsend, Sept. 3.—The Norwegian steamer Cuzco, of the fleet of W. R. Grace & Co., which after leaving this port went ashore one mile inside Marrowstone point yesterday, was floated at 2 p. m. and proceeded to Seattle.

The Sound was covered with a dense fog, and the Cuzco was running under a slow bell. Where she struck, the beach was free from rocks, and it is thought she sustained no damage.

The accident is attributed to the failure of the fog gun on Marrowstone point to be in operation owing to the fact that the station is out of acetylene, with which it is operated. The Cuzco was assisted in floating by the United States revenue cutter Arcata.

The small steamer Bellingham, en route to Neah Bay, went ashore on Point Hudson at 4 a. m. She floated at 12.30 p. m. and proceeded down the strait.

The steamer Buckeye went ashore on Whidby Island early yesterday morning, and is said to be a total wreck. Two women passengers narrowly escaped drowning.

All three mishaps occurred within a short distance of the Marrowstone light and fog signal station.

NIPPON LINER MOVEMENTS

The Aki Maru, Captain Noma, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, is due here on Wednesday next from the Orient. W. R. Dale, of the Great Northern Railway, agents for the line, is advised that she is bringing thirty-eight passengers for this port and eighty-nine for Seattle. She has a cargo of 3,893 tons, of which there is probably about five hundred tons for Canadian points to be discharged here. Among it are 110 bales and thirty packages and cases of silk goods and raw silk.

INSPECTED HARBOR WORKS

Grant Smith, of Grant Smith & McDonnell, Ltd., contractors for the new piers at the outer harbor works, was over from the Sound yesterday afternoon and made an inspection of the work being done. He expressed himself as quite satisfied with the progress being made. The piers are beginning to rise into sight and the extent of the contract becomes more apparent as this goes on.

NIAGARA REPORTED

Cable advices from the Antipodes announce the arrival at Auckland on Monday of the R. M. S. Niagara, which would make her but six days behind her schedule, due to her being held at this end and later at Honolulu on account of the outbreak of war and the danger from German cruisers in the north Pacific. She should reach Sydney to-morrow.

BRITISH ADMIRAL WAS ABOARD MAURETANIA

London Visitor Now in City Gives Further Details of Liner's Exciting Voyage

Had the German cruisers patrolling the Atlantic caught the Mauretania when she made Halifax after her most memorable voyage, a British Vice-Admiral would now have been a prisoner in the hands of the Germans.

This was the information brought to Victoria by A. L. Williams, a lumberman and timber broker of London, who traveled across on the Mauretania with Vice-Admiral Basil Cochrane. Mr. Williams is staying at the Empress hotel for a few days prior to setting out for Japan and Siberia. He states that the business is dead just now, and he is using the time to visit all the lumber people on this coast and in other continents.

Describing the now famous journey of the Mauretania when she left Liverpool on August 1, Mr. Williams says it was one of the most exciting experiences he ever had. Men who stayed up all night just before the gigantic steamer reached the Canadian coast declared that they saw the lights of a German cruiser two miles away, and it was for that reason that the Commander had her force boilers lighted, her lights all darkened, and made her way at twenty-seven knots through fog and sleet and storm.

"The speed was so terrific that part of the time the vessel had a decided list to starboard.

"We changed our course five times. H. M. S. Essex kept in touch with us all the time, and kept us informed by wireless what to do. Even getting close to Halifax we got a flash to change to southwest and obeyed, only some time later to be told to make for Halifax again. It was then I believe that we were the nearest to being overtaken by the Germans. The excitement on board was intense, and most of the people stayed up all night on the decks to keep a lookout."

Mr. Williams believes that Vice-Admiral Cochrane, who is a retired officer, was not on board by accident, even though he left Britain before hostilities actually commenced, and though the admiral naturally refused to say anything of his business in crossing the water. He believes that the visit was of some importance and connected with the affairs of His Majesty's government.

Having been educated in Germany, and understanding both the people and the ways very well, Mr. Williams is entitled to speak with some measure of authority on the present campaign. Asked as to what his views were on the land fighting, he stated:

"The German nation, in itself, is no menace to European peace, and with a happy issue (from our point of view) to the present conflict, I dare wager that within five years Germany will be a close ally of Great Britain."

"The real cause of the war in my estimation was that the German military party, because perhaps of the perfection of its mighty military machine, became arrogant to such an extent that it altogether overestimated its own powers of endurance.

"While a war naturally stirs up a large amount of bitterness, I do not think that the general feeling in Germany towards Britain is malevolent. In fact but for the war party I venture to say that the Germans as a whole are particularly partial to British folk. They are a finely-educated people, with high principles, and anyone traveling through their country for the first time cannot but be struck with their remarkable orderliness."

"From another point of view, too, it would be a great pity if this present outbreak were to disorganize permanently the relations between the nations—I speak from the standpoint of commerce. In the past the exchange of trade between Germany and Britain has been greater than between any other two countries, and it would seem therefore that it is not Britain's aim to crush the nation and thus destroy her best customer, but rather to renew her former relations after the great lesson has been taught. The bulk of sentiment in Germany is directed the same way."

Particularizing towards the campaign in Belgium and North France, Mr. Williams thought it surprising that France had made comparatively so poor a showing, and he failed to find a reason for it.

"The French army is magnificently equipped, splendidly disciplined and trained. It only goes, I think, to show the overwhelming masses of German troops there are in the invading forces. What would have happened if the British had not been there to steady them is hard to conjecture, for the Teutons seem to be making a 'dead set' at the British. I think one reason of France's apparent incoherence so far is the fact that she has been slow to call out her reserves, while Germany many days ago had out every available man competent to bear arms."

CAMOSUN SAILED FOR NORTH

Last night the Union Steamship company's steamer Camosun sailed for Bella Coola and way ports. The steamer took a fair number of passengers and considerable freight for the north. She is carrying a heavy amount of freight south on each voyage as present.

GIVEN LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Mrs. R. H. Walker, Recipient of Certificate From St. John's Branch of Women's Auxiliary.

At the first regular meeting of the St. John's branch of the Women's Auxiliary to missions, held on Tuesday afternoon, the members expressed their appreciation of the work of their president, Mrs. R. H. Walker, by presenting her with a certificate of life membership on the general board of the Canadian Women's Auxiliary.

A large gathering of members was present for the surprise had been planned for some time. After prayers, which were read by the Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, the following address was read by Mrs. G. Harrison:

Dear Mrs. Walker, on behalf of the officers and members of St. John's branch of the Women's Auxiliary, I have been asked to present to you as a token of our appreciation of the work you have done amongst us for so many years, and to show the high esteem in which you are held by us, and especially during your term as president, with this certificate of life membership of the general board. We ask you to accept it with our best wishes, and we hope that you will long continue to hold your honorable office as president of this branch.

"May God's blessing be upon you that you may be long spared to further the interests of the work is the prayer of us all."

"Yours most faithfully," Mrs. G. HARRISON.

On behalf of the members of the branch.

The handsome certificate was then presented by Mrs. Harrison and the diocesan president, Miss Turner, who gave the badge, presented a bouquet of flowers, showing the colors, royal blue and white, and spoke most warmly of the zeal of Mrs. Walker and the excellent work done by the society. Mrs. Chadwick presented handsome bouquets of flowers, tied with the blue and gold, to Mrs. Walker and Miss Turner, and the Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick paid a warm tribute to the help he had received from the president since coming to Victoria.

Mrs. Walker, who was completely taken by surprise and much touched, expressed her gratitude and her appreciation of the great honor conferred on her.

A message from Mrs. Hall, the general president, urging the members while doing what was possible for the soldiers and those dependent on them, not to forget that they were pledged to support the missionaries who were working both in the home and foreign fields, concluded the business of the meeting.

A vote of thanks to Miss Turner for her gift of the badge; to the Rev. F. A. P. and Mrs. Chadwick for the gift of the certificate; to Mrs. Andrew for preparing it, and to Mr. George Harrison for the gift of the flowers, was carried.

Do to-day's duty, fight to-day's temptation; do not weaken and distract yourself by looking forward to things you cannot see, and could not understand if you saw them.—Kingsley.

MANY COME FORWARD TO JOIN REGIMENTS

Recruiting of Local Units Proceeds Briskly; Provisions Against Weather

Should the Victoria militia be compelled to remain mobilized during the winter Colonel Roy stated this morning that shelter would be provided for the soldiers. The cool rain which fell this morning made camp life none too pleasant, but blankets and great coats are still sufficient protection to ensure warm sleep. Army tents are rain-proof, too, so that no situation more serious than often arises in the regular militia camps in June has arisen, or is likely to arise for another six weeks or two months.

Col. Roy states that when the really bad weather comes on he will see that the men are given adequate shelter. It is taken for granted that by that time a large number of the men now moved east for overseas service and the problem will be less difficult. No steps are being taken yet to procure suitable quarters as the number of men for whom shelter will be required is military matters locally have been handled from the district office as assurance that when the time comes the question will be dealt with in an efficient manner.

Splendid spirit is being shown by the young men of the city in responding to the call for recruits. That all the able-bodied young men of the nation who are needed is evident from the urgent calls issued by Earl Kitchener and Colonel Hughes within the past 24 hours, and the significance of these utterances. The 5th regiment is the first local corps to be restored to strength, but recruiting is still proceeding in order that a further call for volunteers may not reduce the regiment so as to affect its efficiency in manning the local defences.

It is an open secret now, too, that the defences of the port have been augmented since the outbreak of war and the regiment probably needs more men than ever before.

Fourteen men enrolled at the 88th regiment headquarters at the corner of Fort and Langley streets yesterday. The success of the Fusiliers in recruiting is largely attributable to the wide-awake methods of advertising employed by the officers who have banners and cards located at public places all over the city, and is sure to receive 200 men still, and is sure to receive them in a very few days.

The Fusiliers' five and drum band will play at the regimental headquarters Friday and Saturday evenings from 8 to 10 o'clock, marching through the downtown streets at intervals and returning to the institute. The rifle range will be turned over to the 88th regiment for training purposes next week. So far it has been almost entirely in the use of the two regiments at the Willows, who have done excellent work at target practice.

Active recruiting is still going on at the Willows camp for the 50th Highlanders and the B. C. Horse. In spite of the fact that it has not a regular recruiting office down town, the 50th is not suffering in comparison with the other regiments in the number of enlistings. On the contrary men who show sufficient interest to go away out to the outskirts of the city to enlist may be credited with a genuine interest. Information respecting the regiment may be obtained at 1205 Broad street.

At an executive meeting of the town guard yesterday it was decided that at this evening's parade the guard should be broken up into separate companies in order to facilitate organization. Each company will have a strength of 64 men, in addition to officers and non-commissioned officers. The officers will be selected provisionally by the companies themselves. Permission has been obtained for the use of the range at Clover Point, and the guardsmen will be enabled to obtain rifle practice too. The formation of companies will make it easier for each man to get more practice.

W. J. Edwards, the acting adjutant, wishes to issue a warning to the public that an unauthorized canvass is being made for subscriptions for the town guard. No such canvass has been made by the guard, and whoever is doing it is perpetrating a fraud which persons approached would do well to bring to the attention of the police.

The civil servants of the provincial government are showing enthusiasm in the matter of forming an organization to receive military instruction. Small corps will be formed with competent instructors attached to each.

FRIENDLY HELP IS DOING GOOD WORK

Generous Response to Appeal for Clothing, Food, Etc.; Underclothing Required

The Friendly Help association held its monthly meeting on Tuesday morning, the reports read by the secretary showing that the society had done much work in the past month in assisting families in need. About seventy families had been helped during the month; thirty-five had received groceries; 1000 lbs. of clothing; 1800 single men had been assisted with clothing and several had been helped to find work.

In reporting on the generosity of several citizens, who had sent cash for the purchase of boots for children in order to enable the little people to go to school Miss Lawson noted that there was a constant demand for children's clothing of all sorts, and that underclothing particularly was required. It was hoped, in view of the approaching winter, that friends would see that a generous supply of children's clothing of all sorts was provided, and that the response to the appeal made about a fortnight ago would continue to be as generous as it had been since that time.

Grateful reference was made to the very useful supply of groceries sent by Mr. Paul, Emily, and to the donations of fruit and vegetables which had been sent for distribution.

The following donations were gratefully acknowledged:

WILL HOLD FALL FAIR

Cowichan Exhibition Expected to Surpass All Former Events of Its Kind at Duncan.

The Cowichan fall fair will be held at Duncan this year as usual. The course was unanimously decided at a meeting of the directors, held on Monday when the situation in general was discussed. In view of the cancellation of the Dominion exhibition at Victoria, it was decided to advertise the fall show extensively in various island points, to attract a large number of people. It is believed that when the merits of the coming fair will be experienced in bringing about a large attendance.

The arrangements are in excellent shape and all indications point to a show successful beyond comparison with those of previous years.

The district committee also met on Monday morning to discuss the cancelling of the Dominion show. It was the general feeling among the members of the committee that as many had gone so far in preparing special exhibits, these exhibits should be displayed at this special non-competitive fair. This display would make a most attractive feature, and the large stage in the new hall could be used for showing it.

Since the completion of the new agricultural hall at Duncan, the offices of the association have been moved into it. The transfer took place on Monday.

For Sallow, Blotchy, Rough or Greasy Skins

Some skins require constant grooming to keep them from becoming oily, muddy, blotchy or rough, and in such a condition, developed, to overcome it. In such chronic cases it is particularly inadvisable to keep plugging on cosmetics which clog the pores, collect dust and dirt, making the complexion worse than ever. It's a lot wiser, which literally absorbs a bad complexion, apply the wax, like cold cream, before retiring; next morning, in washing it off, you wash away fine, four-like particles of the unsightly cuticle. Repeat for a week or two and you'll have an evenly new skin—soft, sunny, spotless and more sensible to use ordinary mercerized soap as a face bath. It works like a miracle, yet is entirely harmless.

AGENT'S STATEMENTS MERELY HIS OPINION

Judge Lampan Gives Important Decision Affecting Real Estate Business

Holding that the word of a real estate agent respecting property he is selling for a principal is only an opinion, Judge Lampan this morning dismissed the action brought by Albert Edge, a laborer, against Edwin Dickinson and Louis Burmeister. Edge asked for the cancellation of his agreement to purchase a lot in "Greendale Annex" on the Colquitz river, because of the misrepresentations alleged to have been made by the agents for the defendants. Two men, Messrs. Gregg and Abbott, attached to the office of the Victoria Subdivision company, are the agents referred to. The misrepresentation alleged was in respect to drainage. The price of the lot was $450.

The judgment issued by his honor is of a great deal of interest as affecting the real estate business generally and also in its relation to Colquitz valley subdivisions.

The text follows:

"The plaintiff seeks to have his agreement to purchase land set aside on the ground of misrepresentation and fraud by the vendor. The misrepresentation complained of is as to the amount of water likely to be on the ground in the winter."

"The lot in question is a part of the subdivision known as 'Greendale Annex,' on the Colquitz river, and from the evidence at the trial the plaintiff in question was not suitable for building because of the lack of drainage sufficient to carry away the water in a wet period. It appears that in the summer of 1913 the owners of an adjoining subdivision had undertaken and carried out a work of considerable magnitude in the deepening of the Colquitz river, and that the land would be better drained, and from this the owners of the adjoining land expected much relief, but unfortunately the lands were again flooded."

"The particular claim about the lot in question was as to the deepening and cleaning out of a ditch which might have carried the water away from the lot to the river. The ditch, as a matter of fact, had not been deepened."

"I think the plaintiff must fall on his own story. I do not see how the statements made by the agents can be taken as anything more than the expression of their opinion that the land would be dry. The work on the creek had been done since the previous wet season and they thought it would carry away the water."

"If the plaintiff could establish that he was told that both the creek and ditch had been deepened I think he could succeed in the action, but he has failed to prove that either Gregg or Abbott told him the ditch had been deepened. In his examination for discovery he said nothing at all about the ditch."

VISITING CHIEFS SEE THE MALAHAT DRIVE

Victoria Fire Department Will Give Display To-morrow; Banquet This Evening

A string of automobiles left the Dominion hotel this morning with delegates to the Pacific coast fire chiefs' convention and their friends for a tour over the city's famous show drive, the Malahat. Chief Davis had secured the loan of a number of cars and with the party went Mayor Stewart and Aldermen Fullerton and Todd. Among those who gathered at the hotel to wish the visitors a pleasant drive were Alderman Dilworth, and R. W. Douglas, president of the local Fire Underwriters' association. With honours up to ward off the mist the party left with the intention of making a day's pleasure.

The route lay by Goldstream to the ascent of the Malahat. At Mill Bay the automobiles turned round, returning to the Goldstream hotel, where the covered pavilion provided a luncheon place for the party. After the luncheon a baseball game between two teams selected from the visiting chiefs took place in the hotel grounds.

The party will reach town late this afternoon and this evening the annual banquet will take place at the Empress hotel. The toast list will include the King, the President of the United States, the underwriters, the association, the visiting chiefs and the ladies, concluding with the chairman. An attractive list of speakers has been arranged.

To-morrow at one of the sessions the association will decide upon the next place of meeting. The choice will probably light on San Francisco, as an invitation has already been extended by Chief Murphy to the gathering to meet there in the Panama-Pacific exposition year. The officers of the association will be selected at one of the sessions to-morrow. Secretary Bringham states that the papers will be continued along the lines of those already presented to the association.

To-morrow afternoon the Victoria fire department will be inspected. Practically all the men will be out, and the motor equipment will be shown to advantage. The event will take place on Yates street, between Douglas street and Blanshard avenue, where other displays have been satisfactorily staged in past years. At 2.45 the exhibition tent of the building of David Spencer, Ltd., will be made. The alarm is to be turned in from the nearest alarm box. The last display of this character was given

A Good Suggestion

Before the very cold weather arrives it would be good judgment on your part to get a ton of our LADYSMITH-WELLINGTON COAL and prove its merit. Some people do not give any consideration to the fuel question until the cold weather comes, with the result that during the rush they may be forced to try and burn a cheap American Coal.

Order your Coal and Wood from us and be comfortable and happy during the winter.

Saanich Council.—There will be a meeting of the Saanich council this evening to complete the passage of the by-laws for waterworks, paving, schools and that to purchase water in bulk from the city, and to set a date for the poll.

CONSIDER TELEPHONE MATTERS TO-MORROW

Aldermen Will Hear Opinion of Counsel on Company's Application

Following the precedent set when the opinion of E. V. Bodwell, K. C., on the interpretation to be put on the city's agreement with the B. C. Telephone company was received, the city council will sit in private to-morrow afternoon to hear the opinion on the matter referred to counsel with regard to the payment of $2,000 worth of debentures to the company on account of work done on the conduit system. The company has asked for this advance under the terms of the agreement which the city undertook to provide $100,000 towards financing the scheme, the city having so far provided $50,000. It appears that the comptroller could have paid the money without reference to the council, but in view of the negotiations which have taken place he left to the aldermen the task of determining whether the obligation shall be met as a matter of policy.

Alderman Bell, who throughout the consideration of the matter has taken the ground that it would be better to repudiate the obligations as they must lead to litigation sooner or later, was the only alderman, when the matter was mentioned last Friday, who definitely intimated in council that the council would be advised to find the money. The reason that the mayor has decided to have the council meet in private is that the second opinion of counsel is so closely bound up with the first that it is impossible to disclose without affecting the other.

Alderman Dilworth, chairman of the departmental investigation committee, said this morning that he expected to resume sessions to-morrow, and the further departments would be considered by the committee then. It is impossible to know when the committee will report upon the matter, as it is intended to make the examination a thorough one.

Little business will be before the streets committee of the city council, which meets to-morrow afternoon after the council meeting. It is probable that the tabulation of the bids on the Point Alder bridge repairs will be ready for the meeting.

A committee was to have reported on the proposed repairs on Rockland avenue to indicate whether the dissatisfied owners will consent to pay their assessments provided that the city executes the repairs contemplated, but it is uncertain to-day whether that committee will report in time for the meeting.

Negotiations are in progress with the Bank of British North America with regard to the financing of the balance of the concrete flow line for Sooke waterworks. The city recognizes that beyond the completion of the laying of the steel pressure pipe, which is advancing rapidly, it may not be possible with the present funds to prosecute to a satisfactory issue the flow line without a sale of further debentures issued under the authority of the supplementary loan. The flow line will take twelve months to complete, until which the Sooke waterworks cannot be finished and any delay in completing the concrete pipe will affect the expenditure for the purchase of water. There is $750,000 of debentures unsold and the market does not appear very good for flotation so the bank has asked on what terms it would finance the undertaking so that the Pacific Locomotive company will not be checked. The local manager has promised to take the matter up with the headquarters officials of the bank and give the city officials an answer soon.

BACK FROM BRITAIN

Victoria Citizen Tells of Great Unanimity of British People Regarding the War.

That there is absolute unanimity in Great Britain over the war is the opinion of James McIntosh, of this city, who has just returned from overseas, having been in London during the days when the war fever was at its highest. Business had just resumed its normal appearance when he left, but during the first days of the war nobody commented on the high class of recruits which were being enrolled by thousands at the great office at Scotland yard. They were as fine a body of young men as one could wish to see. The war office was not accepting at that time any man above the age of 35, and the cream of Britain's young manhood appeared to be flocking to the standard.

Another thing that struck him was the absolute secrecy which enfolded the front. When leaving Liverpool a large transport full of 1000 men and soldiers left amid tremendous enthusiasm on the docks. Not a soul, however, of the vast concourse knew where the men were going.

He had intended to pay a visit to several of the larger cities on the continent, but was deterred from doing so by Cook's, the great passenger agents, who warned him as to the non-safety of such a journey at such a time. The censorship in all war news in the British Isles was very strict.

New Hose Wagon.—Great interest has been shown in the new motor hose wagon which has arrived for the Victoria fire department and which is on view at Meston's carriage works. It is regarded as the very latest type of wagon. It carries 3,000 feet of hose, and will be tested as soon as the Chiefs' Convention concludes in this city.

Egg-Laying Contest.—In the third international egg-laying contest now in progress at the exhibition grounds, the Ranguir Egg ranch of New Zealand still leads in class 1, its White Leghorns having laid to date 1,225 eggs. In the second class of heavy weight varieties Tom Barron and E. D. Read are tied with their White Wyandottes with 1,130 eggs apiece.

An Unfounded Rumor.—A strange rumor, the source of which it has been impossible to trace, has received more or less currency in the city for the past few days. It is to the effect that no more marriage licences are to be issued for some time. Though it seems apparent that the rumor has its base in the general disturbance that is due to the great European war, Sheriff Richards is entirely at a loss to understand why any citizens have given a second thought to the matter, as it must be obvious that the war can have no effect whatever on the issuance of marriage licences in Victoria. Many young people have made inquiries as to the truth of the report. Licences are being issued as usual at the sheriff's office.

More Anonymous Communications.—Yesterday reference was made in the Times to the numerous anonymous letters being received at the city hall. Following this it was discovered to-day that there is no Thomas T. Wilson, the man purporting to have been active against the tent colony in Hollywood crescent. The man writing under that name has dated his communications from the 1809 number on that street is 1802. The coolest thing of all was a letter addressed to the B. C. Electric Railway company, complaining of bad service given. This purported to have been written from Alderman Porter's house and to have been signed by him. The alderman knew nothing till a reply came back promising attention to the complaints. An examination of the original disclosed it to be a forgery.

Splendid Record.—Victoria maintained its record for bright sunshine in August. The returns from the observatory here for the month which has just closed show that it was the sunniest spot in British Columbia. There were 305 hours of sunshine recorded, as against 269 in Vancouver and 293.5 in Nanaimo. The range of temperature was also the least, the hottest day being August 19 when the thermometer registered 81.8 degrees. The temperature in Vancouver ranged downwards from 79 to 47, while in Nanaimo the mercury moved from 82.8 on August 19 down to 48.9 on August 17. As usual the mainland had more rain even in a month of drought. Vancouver registered 79 inch, Nanaimo, 33 inch, while Victoria had only .18 of an inch. The maximum velocity of the wind in August was only 43 miles an hour. That was on August 3.

OUTLINES NEEDS OF TELEPHONE EXCHANGES

Portland Visitor Addresses Fire Chiefs on Protection; Fuel Oil Resolution

W. D. Moore, of Portland, representing the Pacific Coast Telephone company of that city, addressed the Pacific Fire Chiefs convention yesterday afternoon on the protection of telephone plants and exchanges.

The importance of prevention of fire in exchanges had been brought home in a fire at an exchange at Worcester, Mass., when that city, having a population of 166,000, had been deprived of telephone communication for nine days. That was worse than the effects of the San Francisco and Baltimore fires, or the Dayton flood, because in the latter cases general business had been paralyzed, whereas at Worcester people had been trying to do business without that indispensable aid to business—a telephone service.

He alluded to the details of the fire. The blaze had caused the destruction of the exchange but the streams of water used in extinguishing the conflagration had put the service out of commission.

Mr. Moore, who is divisional superintendent of the company, spoke of the experience at Salem, Mass., where the telephone company had given great assistance to the fighting of the big fire. Relief works had been necessary. A special organization had been created to aid the officials in the emergency. Telephone company's exchanges were not a bad risk in the opinion of underwriters. The principal hazard to a telephone company were the risks of fire from an adjacent building and the damage done by water being poured in to extinguish a fire. The latter proved ruinous to a company's plant.

He referred to the necessity of permanent substantial buildings being constructed for business exchanges. These would be free from the hazard of an outbreak as the quantity of current used to operate a telephone system was very small, and switchboards were carefully protected. When a fire occurred in a switchboard it was far better to chop it out, or use an asbestos blanket, sand, or even dry gas, rather than water. Chemicals should only be used when absolutely necessary. They often caused damage to the remainder of the apparatus.

Reference was made to the arrangements in case of a fire, and the drills which were held weekly on all coast exchanges to make the operators familiar with their duties in case of fire.

He next turned to the hazard outside from wires, etc., being affected by fires in buildings to which they were attached. It would be well for the members of the convention to visit the B. C. Telephone company's exchange on Blanshard street to see what was being done. All firemen would be welcomed in all exchanges throughout the Pacific coast, he was authorized to say, where they might become familiar with conditions. Telephone companies intended to give more attention to fire protection than in the past.

A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker, on the motion of Chief Foster, of Astoria, Ore., seconded by Chief Raymond, of Pasco, Wash.

A discussion followed. This dealt with the desirability of discouraging people from making unnecessary calls to the telephone officials through idle curiosity about fires.
Chief Stetson, of Seattle, declared that the public preferred to send in messages by telephone to using the street alarm boxes. About 60 per cent of the alarms were turned in by telephone as a rule.
Mr. Moore, answering him, stated that the telephone system could never supersede the street alarms entirely, although it could supplement the city service.
The committee composed of Chiefs T. R. Murphy, F. L. Stetson, and C. E. Foster, reported the following resolution on the storage of fuel oil: "Whereas the standard requirements for the storage of fuel oil in large quantities demand that it be on land, in permanent and substantial tanks, usually of steel, and 200 feet from any large body of water; that these tanks be surrounded by a fireproof and substantial wall or embankment, without openings, and enclosing an area capable of holding from one and one-third to one and one-half the entire contents of all tanks within the enclosure. "And whereas oil companies not wishing to go to the expense of installing the above safety requirements, are trying to induce our coast towns and cities to amend their ordinances so as to allow fuel oil in quantities of 10,000 or 12,000 barrels to be stored in tanks on barges or other floating vessels, permanently in our harbors, and sometimes near combustible buildings or docks.

"Therefore, be it resolved by the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs, in convention assembled, that we strongly favor the old requirements for the storage of large quantities of fuel oil, and would limit such storage to tanks on land properly protected against any possible flow towards water; that we consider the permanent storage of fuel oil upon water as a menace to waterfront property and shipping, in case of a large fire nearby, the breaking drift of the barge or vessel or any accident which might release the oil upon the waters of the harbor; that we call upon our members to use their best efforts to prevent this breaking down of the safeguards which experience has proven necessary for the secure handling of fuel oil."
The resolution was adopted.

Discussion took place on the vexed question of electrolysis. To this matter the city electrical department gave attention last year, purchasing equipment to test what damage was being done by leakage of current from the street railway tanks.
Mr. Moore explained how electrolysis could be regulated and how a thorough survey could be made to estimate the extent of the damage.
Chief Murphy said a commission had been appointed in California to make an investigation of the matter. He promised to advise the secretary of the contents of its report for circulation among members of the association.
The association heard with great pleasure a veteran of fire fighting, former Chief H. G. Kellogg, who was a member of the Chicago department prior to 1860. He was the first chief of the Seattle department.

Mr. Kellogg gave an interesting address, on the early days of the association, which had begun in a very small way over 20 years ago. He regretted that the chiefs did not meet in uniform as they used to in the early days. He thanked the chiefs for having elected him some years ago as an honorary member of the association.
It was Mr. Kellogg who organized the volunteer department of Seattle. He was its first chief. After the fire of June, 1893, the paid department was organized by an ordinance of the city council and he was appointed chief. He held the position until 1906, when the office of fire marshal was created. He became at that date fire marshal, retiring in December, 1911.

At the evening session a paper on the dust and refuse hazard in mills was read by Chief Davis, and comment thereon indicated that the suggestions made were considered most timely, as the experience of chiefs throughout the Pacific northwest had shown that many mill owners were backward in equipping their plants with protective devices.
A number of lantern views were shown at the evening session by Mr. Moore dealing with the subject of telephone exchanges and their protection from fire.
The Canadian Consolidated Rubber company extended its compliments to the delegates in the form of souvenirs, distributed to the members during the afternoon.

CORNERSTONE LAYING

Interesting Ceremony at First Presbyterian Church Next Monday; What New Structure Includes.

Next Monday morning at 10 o'clock, Hon. Dr. Young, minister of education, will lay the cornerstone of the new building of the First Presbyterian church, building operations on which were commenced in July. Alexander Wilson, a prominent member of the church, will enjoy the somewhat unique distinction of releasing, after fifty-two years, the old cornerstone from the original First Presbyterian church, which was commenced in 1862. The old cornerstone contains coins, parchments, and newspapers of the time, these curiously enough bearing Mr. Wilson's name.

The new building is the main edifice of the structure which was started more than two years ago on Quadra street. For the past two years the portion completed has been used for both church and Sunday school, but with the completion of the new building about the beginning of March next the former will be given over entirely to Sunday school and social purposes.

The plans of the larger structure, which are by J. C. M. Keith, call for a building in perpendicular Gothic style, with a big front window in decorative Gothic design. The main auditorium will, when complete, seat somewhere between twelve and thirteen hundred, with choir accommodation for fifty. The Ladies' Aid and the choir of the church have been working on a fund to provide an organ for the new church; the Sunday school is planning for the pulpit and chairs; and the Chinese mission has undertaken to obtain the communion table and furniture. A big basement gymnasium, 32 by 64 feet, will be one of the principal institutional features in the church.
