

All the B's that she would send for all if she could - but has no room - those who come will be crowded -

Boston Sunday Night

Dear Lucia -

I hasten at the end of a Sabbath day's work such as I have rarely accomplished to put you to the expense of 5¢ cents that I may explain something - when I wrote to Ann this forenoon I was in great haste - & believe I also - hastily forgot you - & it was not till she began to arrange the beds that I remembered - as she began to find a place for you that I had said nothing about you - Ann said & I suppose you would come all the same - but the precise I can say - perhaps I had better write & make sure - We shall put you & Emma in garrets - large beds - Debon in Co - & the others in large beds below - so if you bring bed clothes wh

It shall be taken care of, & returns are, can be accommodated - But Debon can fix up when she comes -

I shall send by Stage in the afternoon a letter giving an account of Bishop's actions & Sunday other matters - Mr B. acts no better - Mr Adams was here all the afternoon to day trying to persuade himself & us that some place or salary had better be found for B. to keep him still - This cannot be - so he will go on to make all the difficulty he can -

He is now I am sorry for Debon who is to go next? -

- Mrs Lewis is dead - & Mary goes to Providence the Monday Lucy wrote a good letter about the 3 effen & sent the B's letters to him - but is not quite aware how much time B can I will make -

We had a good meeting yesterday afternoon -

all in good spirits -

Love to all - We should send for Aunt Mary - but suppose she will prefer to work on at home - rather than live the fair & if she can, stay after it - but if she thinks differently let her come on, & we can find work now -

Will be not to knit herself poor. This is what she will probably try to do - take it easy - & let other people do what they can - in haste
