

SUDDEN DEATH OF SENATOR CURTIN

PROMINENT STATE FIGURE SUC-
CUMBS TO HEART ATTACK

SERVED HIS DISTRICT
FOR SIXTEEN YEARS

Acknowledged Party Leaders in State—Intensive Study of Constitutional Law Earned Him Title of "Constitutional John."

Sonora.—Former State Senator John Barry Curtin, one of the outstanding political figures of California, died suddenly, May 18, in Sonora, succumbing to a heart attack as he was to appear in court to defend an accused violator of the prohibition amendment. Feeling faint, he left the courtroom, returned home and died five minutes later.

His end came as a shock to his relatives, although Curtin had not been in the best of health lately.

Senator Curtin's death brings to a conclusion one of the most brilliant careers in the state's political history. For sixteen consecutive years he served as senator from the Twelfth district and was the acknowledged leader of the Democrats of the legislature, and the state as well. He was said to be the best versed representative in California on constitutional law, a reputation which earned for him the sobriquet of "Constitutional John."

Perhaps his crowning legislative achievement was his authorship of constitutional amendment No. 1, by which the corporations of the state are required to pay for the upkeep of the elementary schools. He brought about its passage after a strenuous campaign.

In 1914 he branched forth into broader political fields and won the Democratic nomination for governor, opposing Hiram Johnson and John W. Fredericks. Although Curtin launched a bitter attack upon the incumbent machine, the election took place at the height of Johnson's California popularity and Curtin was defeated.

Although Curtin is said to have received no more than an elementary school education, he was reputed to be one of the best-read men in California.

He was born at Gold Springs, Tuolumne county, in 1867; was elected district attorney of Tuolumne county when only a youth and was said to be the youngest district attorney the state ever had.

Crime Drive Fills Jails

Chicago.—The judicial drive on crime has resulted in the conviction of 167 persons within the three weeks since the start of the campaign. Chief Justice Jacob H. Hopkins, who presides over the newly organized "gun court," sentenced thirty-four offenders. Within the past week, six judges on the criminal bench handled 610 cases, resulting in the conviction of seventy persons. Twenty-three were acquitted, while trial dates for the majority of others have been set.

S. F. Man On Game Board

Sacramento.—Governor Richardson has appointed I. Zellerbach of San Francisco as a member of the state fish and game commission, to take the place vacated by George Anderson of San Jose, who recently resigned. In making the appointment the governor said: "The state is particularly fortunate that a business man of the ability and standing of Mr. Zellerbach would accept a position on this commission."

Wales Attends Deathbed

Port Alfred, South Africa.—Natives and Britishers far from their home land are relating an act of consideration by the prince of Wales as another demonstration of his thoughtfulness. The young prince was attending church services here when he received a request from a dying woman that she must see him. The prince went to her home and spoke cheering words to her as he stood at her bedside.

Motorless, Pilotless Plane Record

Frankfort, Germany.—A motorless and pilotless model airplane flew for twenty-one minutes. This time doubled the world record time previously held in the United States. The plane was constructed by Herr Moebius of Hanau.

HALL, A CAPTIVE TELLS OF ESCAPE

DENIES THAT INSIDE HELP WAS GIVEN THEM

FIVE-WEEK CHASE ENDS
FOR ONE OF MAD PAIR

In Giving Story to Sacramento Police,
Denies Guilt of Several Crimes
Charged to Pair While Chase Was At Its Height.

Sacramento.—The capture of Floyd Hall here was a spectacular climax to five weeks of most sensational escapades.

The police, certain that the fugitives were hiding here were scouring the city.

Two policemen were detailed to visit the moving picture theaters where it was thought the convicts might feel safe in the darkness.

At the Nippon theater, at Third and L streets they turned on the lights. Hall was there and possibly Tanko, but they were not sitting together and Hall was not recognized.

Hall was alarmed knowing the meaning of this visit. He got up and a stranger, observing him, followed him to the Japanese quarter and telephoned the police.

Chief McShane, and three officers answered the call. By questioning Japanese they traced Hall to the Colusa rooming house at 1108 K street. They went through the house from room to room. Coming to a locked door, they forced an entrance and found Hall, unarmed, hiding under the bed. He offered no resistance. There was no evidence that Tanko had ever been at the rooming house. The Japanese proprietor had not seen him.

Characterizing the "last five weeks" as a nightmare, Floyd Hall detailed the escape of himself and Joe Tanko from San Quentin by prefacing his story with a denial of "inside" help. He said:

"Going back to the night we escaped from San Quentin I want to settle one question. We had no help from trustees, guards or anyone on the outside. We worked entirely by ourselves. We were locked in a cell in an old part of the jail. The old-fashioned brass padlock is on the outside, but there was a wicket in the door and we found that we could reach through and pick the lock with a wire.

"When we got out of the cell we went to the inner yard and walked along the wall on the San Francisco bay side. We had previously secured a rope. There's no use of starting trouble now about where we got it.

"We threw it over the wall close to the guardhouse and waited in the shadow. When the guard sat down in his house on the wall he could see all along it except for two or three feet right under the window. We went over the wall so close to the guardhouse that we rubbed it, but slid down the other side without being seen.

"We had no plan except to get away and keep going in any direction that was open. We knew the sheriff and the guards would soon be out after us and we kept going pretty fast the first night. We stopped at a store in a small town—I don't know what it was—and there we took a 30-80 carbine and some ammunition.

"They accuse us of a holdup at Santa Rosa. We didn't do that. We spent several days near Sacramento, and then we came into town, bought a newspaper which said the police were hunting all over Sacramento for us, and that we were accused of killing Litzberg. That gave us a scare and we decided to get out of Sacramento.

"We walked to Roseville. We didn't hold up the Harlow machine in Sacramento.

"At Roseville we got in a gondola car and rode to Auburn. When the train stopped there we heard the officers come along searching it. Some one fired a shot at us. We kept running and got away into the hills.

"We knew nothing of the country. So we held up the stage and turned back down toward the valley. We had a wild ride from Nevada City to Colfax and it looked at times as if we would be caught.

"When we knew that the machine would not take us much farther and while we were out of sight of anyone we turned off the road and took to the hills again.

"We came to the cabin on Iowa Hill and as there was no one about and the camp seemed deserted for the winter we broke open the door and went in. We decided to cook a meal. While we were doing that someone

CLUB VISITS HIGBIE TEA ROOM

The Johnson avenue club made a delightful excursion last Friday going by automobile to the Tea Room and Gift Shop recently opened at Haywards by their member and neighbor, Mrs. H. W. Higbie.

Arriving at noon, the party was welcomed by Mrs. Higbie, and presently ushered into the dining room, where a long table, beautifully decorated, was spread, and a delicious luncheon served which all enjoyed. After the lunch, the afternoon was all too quickly passed in visiting and in enjoying the artistically decorated rooms, whose antiques and curios elicited many exclamations of pleasure and much animated questioning. The many beautiful and antique articles in the Gift Room were also a source of much pleasure.

Friends of this new venture of Mrs. Higbie's will be particularly interested in the following statement, which appears on the house literature: "We invite a patronage in accordance with the Federal restrictions. This law will be strictly enforced."

Members of the Johnston Ave. club who enjoyed this outing were Mesdames Shaw, Beardsley, Price, Johnson, Dunphy, Hamilton, F. E. Duncan, Moulton, Henderson, McConnell and Waddell and Miss Lina Moulton. The party from Campbell was joined in the afternoon by Mrs. Freeman Duncan and children of San Leandro.

JUDGE A. J. FARLEY LAID TO REST

The last rites for our late fellowtownsman A. Judson Farley were held from the family home Friday afternoon and the large attendance of friends and the quantities of beautiful flowers were silent tokens of the high regard and esteem in which he was held. Rev. F. C. Farr sang at the house and had charge of the services at the cemetery. The pall bearers were old friends of the family, R. Alison, S. L. Hayes, Jas. Fablinger, R. W. Kennedy, S. F. Graves and S. F. Newcomb, the funeral direction being in the hands of E. H. Melvin, of Los Gatos.

ATTORNEY THOMAS ADDRESSES CLUB

Those members of the Country Woman's Club who braved the rain Monday and attended the club meeting were very amply repaid by both the splendid talk which Mr. Fred Thomas of San Jose gave, and also the interesting reports at the business meeting.

Mrs. E. R. Kennedy's financial report was very encouraging. After providing for expenses during the summer, when the club is not in active session, and adding to the budget funds, it will probably be possible to pay another $200 on the note.

Miss Jessie Lewis, acting secretary, and Mrs. L. Carboni, corresponding secretary, presented their accounts of their year's work, reviewing the activities to date.

Mrs. R. Alison, president elect for the coming year, named as her program committee for next year, Mrs. E. R. Kennedy, Mrs. E. I. Price, Mrs. E. E. Pomeroy, Mrs. H. P. Bean, and asked that members come to the next meeting prepared to make suggestions to this committee of their choice for next year's study.

Mrs. Blaine, chairman of the committee for the day, announced a violin solo by Harold Cramer, who played "Cavatina." He was accompanied by Miss Miriam Blaine.

Mr. Fred Thomas, of San Jose, was then introduced and talked most entertainingly and instructively on the three-fold subject for the day—Child Labor, Eight Hour Law for Women, and Divorce Laws.

He began by saying that the Eight Hour Law was the product of civilization; that in tribal states and countries of least advancement the women are the chief laborers. The California law was first passed which has since been amended. The law has been thoroughly tested, the case having been carried to the United States Supreme Court.

California is quite to the fore in its care of child welfare thru its Child Labor Law, but many of the states make no restrictions as to hours or conditions.

The crying need of the nation in regard to divorce is a national and so, a universal divorce law. Causes for divorce vary so in the different states and regulations as to time for remarriage differ so radically that there is great need of one law to govern the whole country.

Attention of members was called to the June 2 meeting when Miss Emily Cohen will speak on "Internationalism". Members are privileged to invite friends and any who are interested are welcome to the program at 3 o'clock. This is the last program meeting of the year and a full attendance is desired.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On next Friday evening, May 22, the Woman's Guild of the Congregational church will hold another of its popular birthday parties; those having birthdays in May are to be the honored guests. All who attend are requested to represent some book of history or fiction. A prize will be given for the best representation and a fine will be imposed on those who do not wish to enter the contest.

The committee of young folks are planning something new in the line of entertainment and solicit the co-operation of all members of the church and congregation in putting over an evening of real pleasure for all.

Thru an oversight on the part of the chairman this notice was not read from the pulpit on Sunday, so be sure to spread the word as soon as you read this communication.

Ask Uncle Sam anything in reason. And he will deliver the goods. But don't ask him to guess the address. Of your correspondent.

SCHOOL OPERETTA GRAND SUCCESS

Again has the Campbell high school made marked success of its undertakings. This time it took on a light opera "The Love Pirate of Hawaii" which from the opening chorus to the curtain proved very entertaining.

During the intermission Miss Patrice Smith played two numbers by Moszkowski, "Waltz" and "En Antonne" and two by Litz "Love Dream" and "Gnome Dream" which were very well received as her numbers always are.

The leading parts were taken by Olive Hanger, a daughter of a plantation manager; Margaret Greene, the prim old maid school principal; Ruth Matteson, Ellen Armstrong, Margaret Pardee and June Van Arsdell; George Blaine, navy Lieutenant; Antone Bonaccorso, the pirate bold and Richard Shelley, the martyred pirate.

The other Hawaiian girls were Miriam Blaine, Hazel Brown, Martha Carlson, Frances Nichols, Edith Heiby, Patricia Hunter, Grace and Virginia Larry, Esther Lynn, Cynthia Morris, Marjory Collis, Mary Rose, Catherine Pugh and Anita Strom.

Bad Pirates, who later succumbed to the tune of a "good cook book" were Cloyd Barker, Harold Cramer, William Dick, Kenneth Downing, Earl Frietas, Stephen Merrill and Glen Phillips. Those having direction of the music and performance were Mr. Josef Halameck, Miss Charibel Borsch and Miss Marian Jenkins. The scenery, quite Hawaiian, was the work of Miss Kittie Johnson, Miss Bernice Bogart and Beverly Davis, and added much to the atmosphere of the play.

Mr. Arthur Wiegel and Cecil Hiatt were in charge of the lighting effects and Miss Verna Darrow, Mr. Ralph Noddin and the Juniors took care of the publicity which showed its results in a packed house.

The Hawaiian girls showed themselves very charming song birds which were strongly contrasted by the sea pirates, peg-legged and one-eyed, with their cutlasses and bowies.

The solos and choruses were very well rendered showing some real musical talent and tireless and conscientious effort in preparation.

We may justly feel proud of our popular young performers.

CLASS PREPARING FOR GRADUATION

Campbell Grammar School had its turn at editing the County school paper. Helen Stray was editor. Geo. Buckner and Edward Merrill contributed poems and Phoebe Payne wrote a history of Campbell, Annette Merrill wrote of school activities, and there were stories and essays by others.

For some time the yard has been very clean. The grammar grade divisions have each taken turns for a week at policing and any one caught dropping paper had to clean the whole yard.

June twelfth is to be visiting day at the school when exhibits of work will be shown in the different class rooms and the parents are to be invited to visit.

The members of the graduating class are busy writing prophecies and wills and in selecting class colors and motto. They are planning a paper drive very soon in order to make expenses of graduation.

FATHERS' NIGHT

Cass, County Physical Education Supervisor, will be there to direct the games in which young and old will take part. It will be an evening of fun. Come and bring a friend.

MAKING A GOOD TOWN BETTER

Population is the gauge by which most of us judge a community; yet it is not always a safe guide. The type and quality of citizenship, rather than the mere number of people, determines whether the particular community is a good place in which to dwell and bring up the family. When increase in population can be combined with the keeping of a high standard of citizenship, the ideal growth is the result. The so-called middle class, which constitutes the major portion of population, is the saving grace in American citizenship. No city, however great in size, can stand high in its economic development, or claim distinction in its moral and educational life without the great middle class which of course includes the wage earner.

The United States Census reports, although containing dry facts and figures, is a most interesting study. It shows America as the melting pot of the many people that come to her shores. It is convincing, too, that difference of beliefs, creeds and customs is not necessarily detrimental to the growth and life of a great nation like ours. And it proves that differences of opinion, instead of creating strife, only serve to unite in the great work of joining all forces and hands in support of the fundamentals of tolerance, liberty and happiness.

THE PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

Newspapers all over the land are giving liberal news space to activities of the Parent-Teacher Associations. This is a healthful sign so far as schools and education are concerned. In the past there has been too great a gulf between the parents, the teachers, and the pupils. The Parent-Teacher Associations foster the mingling of the three groups, making them feel that their problems are in common. The one big problem before them is the making of better citizens—not alone for the pupils, but for the parents and teachers as well. A proper attitude on the part of the child is an inspiration, or ought to be an inspiration, for the adult. The rule works both ways. Man makes the child and the child makes the man.

RELIGION STILL ALIVE

Finding no means of transportation at hand, seven boys recently walked seven miles to take a Bible study examination at a Y. M. C. A. These boys were of high school and grammar school age. Although a little tired, they did themselves credit in the handling of the questions at the examination.

This is not remarkable except that it shows these youths have a zeal and devotion to things reverential. It is common for groups of gangs of boys to use "shanks horses" for a hike to the woods, to the "ole swimmin' hole" or a basket ball game. But to walk seven miles to participate in a test of their knowledge of the Bible is at least worth creditable mention.

Poor grouch. Sometimes it's poor food and lack of variety that started him in life that way. Maybe his wife doesn't smile, herself. BETTER MAILING WEEK

Uncle Sam is going to join the prevailing vogue and June 1 to 7 the Postal Department will have a "Better Mailing Week." The chief object will be to educate the public especially to use return addresses on all mail and to be more careful in the addressing of mail. If all mail bore a legible return address, the Dead Letter Office would soon be a thing of the past. When the stupendous amount of mail handled thru that branch, much of which is totally lost, is realized, it seems as tho so simple a preventative as a clear return address would be universally used.

Here are a few of the statistics the Postal Department has completed:—

DO YOU KNOW

THAT 21,000,000 letters went to the dead letter office last year?

THAT 803,000 parcels did likewise?

THAT 100,000 letters go into the mail yearly in perfectly blank envelopes?

THAT $55,000 in cash is removed annually from misdirected envelopes?

THAT $12,000 in checks, drafts, and money orders never reach intended owners?

THAT Uncle Sam collects $92,000 a year in postage for the return of mail sent to the dead letter office?

THAT it costs Uncle Sam $1,400,000 yearly to look up addresses on misdirected mail?

THAT 200,000,000 letters are given this service, and

THAT it costs in one city alone $500 daily?

AND DO YOU KNOW
 THAT this vast sum could be saved and the dead-letter office abolished if each piece of mail carried a return address, and if each parcel were wrapped in stout paper and tied with strong cord?

MORAL: Every man knows his own address if not that of his correspondent:

Put It in the Upper Left-hand Corner.

Mrs. McConnell Hostess

The regular meeting of the Johnson avenue club was held Monday of last week with Mrs. O. G. McConnell, of San Carlos street, San Jose. Mrs. McConnell was a former resident of Johnson avenue and still keeps her membership and her interest in the club.

At the close of a delightful afternoon, delicious refreshments were served and the company dispersed, all voting Mrs. McConnell a royal hostess.

CONG'L CHURCH NOTES

Rev. Herman F. Swartz, President of the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley, will preach at the Congregational church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Dr. Swartz is one of the leading Congregational ministers, not only of the Pacific Coast, but of the country, and it is a rare privilege to have him in Campbell. It is hoped that a very large audience will greet him.

Sunday school at 9:45.
 Senior and Intermediate Christian Endeavor at 6:30.

Evening Worship at 7:30 with stereoptical pictures on Turkey and a short talk on the great work being done by Americans in that land.

Everyone knows his own address

If not that of his correspondent. A return address on each piece of mail

Would put the Dead Letter Office Out of business.

OVER THE TOP

Auburn, California.—Lake Spaulding, the parent reservoir of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's Spaulding-Drum development in Placer County, has filled and is now spilling. A dam 275 feet high stores water which is used during the summer months for the operation of five power houses. After passing thru the power houses the water is used again to irrigate thousands of acres of orchard lands in the foothills. There is enough water in this lake to supply San Francisco's needs for a period of two years.

The state expects nearly 500,000 automobile tourists during the coming summer and will entertain 1,500,000 visitors between May 15 and October 1, it is estimated by Dr. E. M. Rastall, manager of Californians, Inc., and they will expend approximately $50,000,000.

Publicly Owned

THE people own the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. There are 30,270 of them on its list of stockholders, and their homes are to be found in every city and hamlet in California.

These stockholders—the people of California—provide the money that builds the dams and the power houses and the transmission lines that bring light and power to your door.

It is their money that lights your streets and homes and runs your shops and factories.

This is people's ownership.

The P. G. and E. is a peoples Company.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company

Owned, operated and managed by Californians

"If it works, it's true!"

But it doesn't prove out in practice—this legend about salt as an aid to bird-catching.

Neither does this superstition that there is something mysteriously "better" about eastern lubricants—merely because they cost more. Every quart of Zerolene you buy proves the groundlessness of this superstition.

Pacific Coast Crude Is Best

Zerolene is a western oil—and a better oil even if it does cost less.

As a matter of fact, the best crude petroleum so far discovered for the manufacture of a motor lubricant is obtained from Pacific Coast wells, and the most advanced refining process is this Company's patented high-vacuum process during the use of which Zerolene is submitted to 15 positive checks for quality.

Experienced Drivers Prefer Zerolene

Experienced drivers know this—that Zerolene lubricates more cars in the Pacific Coast states than any other oil made—heavy-duty trucks and high-priced cars alike. Superstitions don't work out in practice—Zerolene will increase the gasoline mileage of your car, reduce carbon accumulation in the cylinders and lengthen your car's working life.

Why pay tribute to a superstition? Insist on Zerolene—ask for it by name.

Get the Facts!

A series of independent and impartial reports showing the experience of large users with Zerolene has been collected in our booklet, "Why Pay Tribute to a Superstition?" Ask any Standard Oil Company representative or Zerolene dealer for a copy.
