

Planes Collide, Two Killed in One Craft

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Two men were killed today when a navy plane and small monoplane collided over Floyd Bennett field.

The monoplane, piloted by Eddie Schneider, 26, an instructor, and George Herzog, 22, a pilot taking a "refresher" course, went into a spin and crashed into Jamaica bay off Marine park, Brooklyn.

The navy ship, piloted by Ensign Keuhner and with Cadet Franklin Newcomer as a passenger, made a safe landing at Floyd Bennett field, only slightly damaged.
