PREFACE

VOLUME No. II of the Taylor Genealogy of the Taylor Family contains a revision of the original recordings as made available by the descendants of the various branches and carried down to 1954.

Every effort has been made to check with exactness the information that appears in these recordings. If additions have been accomplished during the last year or so that have not been submitted, such data would be gratefully received for future records.

Inasmuch as photographs appearing in Volume I are not available for reproduction they have of necessity been omitted.

Volume I was published in 1903 by my Father, William Shipley Taylor.

Genealogy of Taylor Family

The name was originally, in the Norman language, Taillefer. After the invasion and settlement in England this became corrupted in the Saxon into Taylerfer, or as now spelt by the greater portion of the family, Tayler or Taylor.

ARMS.

Argent, on a chief Sa. two boars' heads coupé of the field, Crest: A dexter arm embowed in armor, the hand in a gauntlet grasping a javelin proper.

MOTTO.

Consequitur quodcumque petit ("Whatever he aims at he accomplishes").

Taillefer (1)*

A Norman Baron and the favorite minstrel of William the Conqueror, who accompanied him in his invasion of England, and is spoken of by the Anglo-Norman poet Trace in his description of the Battle of Hastings.

This took place on Saturday, October 14, 1066.

In this battle, which resulted in the overthrow of the Saxon and establishing the Norman rule, Taillefer was slain by Leofwine the Saxon.

As the friend and favorite of the Conqueror he received grants and many favors. These, inherited by his descendants and confirmed by William, gave great influence to the family. He is often mentioned in the old Roman de Rou, likewise in the famous ballad known by the title:

*The numbers refer to Rev. W. H. Taylor's chart.

“HAROLD OF ENGLAND CLEAVES THE HELMET OF BAVENT.”

Ho! Taillefer, a Taillefer! Give place, ye men of Rou!
What deed of might in battle bright, but Taillefer can do.
To hurl the spear, to bend the bow, a fearful arm hath he,
Like his no hand can wield the brand, in warlike Normandie.
With brand or bow or rushing spear, he equal ne'er hath seen
For rash the wight, would dare the fight, with Taillefer I ween.
So sang the warrior minstrel and straightway, loud and long,
Burst forth the pealing tribute of thousands to his song.
Then up with harp in hand he sprang, Taillefer of giant frame,
The bravest of the host in strife, featest in martial game.
Now for a cast! Boy, hither bring the longest, weightiest spear!
He grasped the shaft with iron might and held it at his ear.

* * * * *

But all unmoved stood Taillefer, the genius of the throng,
As calm as if in festive hall he twanged the harp in song.
With foot advanced, and head thrown back, he launched the spear on high,
So dire its speed it e'en defied the ken of quickest eye.
It fell in earth half buried, nine cubits and a span
Away beyond the farthest throw of Rouen's stoutest man.

* * * * *

Before his tent Duke William stood, gazing on the plain.
Keen was his glance and proud his lip and warriorlike his mien.
Just then, upon a passing breeze, came up the pealing cry
That greeted giant Taillefer, for his boastful minstrelsy.
'Tis but the welcome of the host that greets some featly deed.

* * * * *

Hanger Taylerfer(2)

The descendant of Baron Taillefer, the Norman, held lands in the tenure of Ospringe, Kent County, in the thirty-ninth year of King Henry III's reign, 1256.

John Taylor(3)

The descendant of Hanger Taylerfer and possessor of the "Homestall," Shadochurst, Kent County. Was living in King Edward III's time.

William Taylor(4)

Of "Shadochurst Manor." Lived in the time of Richard II, 1366-1400; Henry IV, 1366-1413, and Henry VI, 1387-1422.

John Taylor(7)

Son of William and heir of "Shadochurst Manor." Died in the fifth year of Edward IV's reign.

William Taylor(8)

Son of John, succeeded his father, purchasing additional lands adjoining "Little Green," in the fifteenth year of Edward IV's reign. He married Joanne, the daughter of Henry Gilbard, of Shadochurst. His will was proved August 20, 1493.

John Taylor(9)

Of "Shadochurst Manor," son of William. Purchased, sometime during the reign of Kings Richard III and Henry IV, "More Court" in Ivie Church. He married Margaret, the daughter and sole heir of Humphrey de Fairsted, of Shadochurst.

John Taylor(13)

Of Shadochurst, son of John. He died in 1560.

John Taylor(24)

Son of John and Thomasine, of Sevington, Lord of the Manor of Shadochurst. Married Elizabeth Chute, descended from Philip Chute, standard bearer of King Henry VIII, and inheritor also of the estates of Challoner Chute, speaker of the House of Commons.

Matthew Taylor (49)

The youngest son of John, of Shadochurst, and Elizabeth Chute. Removed into Sussex and settled at Lordington in the neighborhood of Chichester. He married for second wife, Margaret, of Greatham.

John Taylor (66)

Fourth son of Matthew and Margaret, of Greatham; was baptized at Shadochurst, December, 1611, and appears to have been buried at "St. Dunstan in the East," on Nov. 21, 1683. He left by his wife, Mary, two sons, Matthew and Edward.

Matthew Taylor (67)

Son of John; was baptized at Midhurst, Oct. 15, 1653. He spent some time in New York, purchasing lands from the Indians of New Jersey. This he did by virtue of the grant of his connection, Sir George Cartaret. A deed bearing date, Dec. 19, 1681, conveys from certain Indians a tract of land on the Raritan River, beginning at a place called "Aqueckson" and running to "Tuckara Mochachinge," in depth four miles upon each side of the river, to Lady Elizabeth Cartaret, to hold in trust for Matthew Taylor, of New York. By his will, dated at New York, 1687, he bequeaths ten guineas to his friend, I. Manning, of New York, to buy a mourning ring, and the rest of his property to his brother Edward, then residing in London, with reversion to Edward's younger son, George.

Edward Taylor (68)

Of Brigge House, London, son of John, succeeded to his brother Matthew's property and purchased in addition one thousand acres of land in or near Middletown, Monmouth County, New Jersey. The most ancient of anything written found in the family is the memorandum of the sale of land from George Hutchinson, of Sheffield, York County, England, to Edward Taylor, of Brigge House, dated Sept. 6, 1678. He came to America presumably soon after his brother Matthew's death.

Edward Taylor (101)

The son of Edward, of Brigge House, known also as the "Emigrator." Bought land on "Garret's Hill," Monmouth County, New Jersey. He married Catherine Morford. His younger brother, George, succeeded by reversion from his Uncle Matthew, to his father's estate. A copy of relinquishment of rights to administer on said estate to the younger brother, George is dated 1710. This is preserved in the Secretary of State's Office, Trenton, New Jersey. He bequeathed to his son, Edward, a silver cup brought from England by his father.

Edward Taylor (129)

The son of Edward, of "Garret's Hill," and inheritor of the silver cup brought from England by his grandfather. This bequest is the first mentioned in the will dated February 27, 1733. He was born Jan. 20, 1703. His wife was Hannah Lawrence.

Edward Taylor (153)

Son of Edward and Hannah Lawrence and inheritor of the silver cup brought from England by Edward, of Brigge House; was born August 22, 1736, and died Oct. 7, 1794. He married Hannah Forman and left Mary, who married Wm. Ford Manning; Hannah, who married Samuel Stelle; Elizabeth, who married Judge William Watts; Anne, who married Wm. Bullus, and Edward, our grandfather.

Dr. Edward Taylor (158)

Son of Edward and Hannah Forman, inheritor of the cup brought from England by Edward, of Brigge House; was born in Monmouth County, New Jersey, July 6, 1763, and died May 2, 1835, at Bordentown, N. J. He married Sarah Merit (afterwards spelled Merritt), daughter of Jacob Merit and Thomason Wright. She was born July 15, 1765, and died March 23, 1832, at Friends' Asylum, Frankford, Philadelphia, where from a sense of duty she had taken the position of Matron. They were both interred at East Branch Burial Ground, Monmouth County, New Jersey.

They left six sons and one daughter, as follows: (A) Edward, (B) Jacob Merritt, (C) Abraham Merritt, (D) James, (E) Nathan Hunt, (F) Hannah, (G) Dr. Joseph Wright.
