STAGE IS ALL SET FOR CITY'S THREE-DAY FROLIC

SOVIET ACCEPTS MOST OF BRITISH DEMANDS AND ASKS CONFERENCE

Russians Ready to Make Agreement At Once Regarding Fishing Outside Three-Mile Limit and Have Extent of Territorial Waters Settled By International Convention.

London, May 23.—Soviet Russia's second reply to the British ultimatum accepts the majority of the British demands and suggests the holding of a conference to consider points in dispute.

ALLIED POWERS MOVE TO PREVENT A NEW TURKISH-GREEK WAR

Paris, May 23.—The French Foreign Office to-day confirmed reports that the Allied Governments were actively occupied in an effort to prevent another outbreak of hostilities between Greece and Turkey.

The French and British Ministers at Athens have pointed out to the Greek Government how inopportune would be the issuance of anything approaching an ultimatum while the Lausanne Conference is endeavoring to establish a basis for peace and how dangerous, for Greece, would be any offensive action on her part.

Fleet at Dardanelles. Constantinople, May 23.—A Greek fleet is cruising about the entrance to the Straits of the Dardanelles and the Turkish Government has formally called the attention of the British to the incident, lodging a protest against the presence of the Greek vessels.

Rumors of various activities on the part of the Greeks are causing much uneasiness in Constantinople.

Lausanne, May 23.—M. Venizelos and Foreign Minister Alexandris of Greece have asked General Pella, president of the Financial Commission, to arrange a formal discussion of the indemnity question by the Near East Peace Conference as soon as possible.

The meeting probably will be held Friday.

The Greek delegation officially denied a report that Greece had offered the city of Karagatch, opposite Adrianople, to Turkey, if the latter would renounce her indemnity claims.

The Greeks also characterized as ridiculous rumors that Greece was ready to hand over part of her merchant fleet for the same purpose.

London Watches Situation. London, May 23.—Threats of fresh trouble in the Near East are attracting attention here.

Referring to the wrecking of the bridge across the Maritza River connecting Adrianople and Karagatch, the Daily Telegraph's diplomatic correspondent says that although the railway bridge has not yet been damaged, it is in danger, and recalls that the Turks are known to have mined it.

The Maritza explosion, says the writer, is merely an incident.

He adds: "It coincides curiously enough with the landing of troops in flagrant violation of the Mudania convention at or near the Isthmus of Bulair, which joins the Gallipoli Peninsula to the mainland."

"This is regarded with far greater seriousness in British circles than what has been happening near Adrianople, for it aims at the cutting of overland communications between the Allied garrisons at the Dardanelles and Constantinople. This already awkward position is further aggravated by the Turks, by the destruction of all the Maritza bridges, made it impossible for the Greek army to re-enter Thrace without grave delay in the event of the Allies being suddenly attacked at Constantinople."

The budding Turkish menace can not be dismissed as bluff, and there is some realization in competent quarters that it must be promptly scotched.

NAMING OF BALDWIN FAVORABLY RECEIVED

New British Premier Starts Under Encouraging Conditions

Derby Will Continue as Secretary for War

London, May 23.—No incoming Prime Minister could wish for a better reception from the press than that accorded Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin.

The comments of the Labor and Liberal newspapers are influenced, of course, by political considerations, but none has a word against Mr. Baldwin personally. Some of the Opposition critics, however, regard the appointment as a triumph for the die-hard section of the Conservative Party.

The Chronicle sneers at Mr. Baldwin's budget, and regarding his part in the United States debt negotiations, it says: "It is possible that no negotiator could have got better terms, but it is certain that none would have got worse."

The one lost sheep whom the Tories seem more than willing to leave in the wilderness is Lord Birkenhead. His bitter tongue has made enemies for him and the newspapers think there is little likelihood that Mr. Baldwin will offer him any Government post.

Foreign Secretaryship. It is still unknown whether Lord Curzon has agreed to retain his place as Foreign Secretary. Reports also the Foreign Office post either to Lord Derby or to Lord Robert Cecil in the event Lord Curzon retires.

Very few details of Mr. Baldwin's life are printed in the newspapers to-day. The Morning Post recalls that during the war, oppressed by the consciousness that his age prevented him from doing his duty, the young men of the country were rendering, he had his whole private fortune appraised and contributed one-third to the war effort.

SEVERAL MEN IN RUHR WERE KILLED

Shot By Dortmund and Scharnhorst Police During Riots

Miners Are on Strike for Higher Wages

Dusseldorf, May 23.—Rioting is in progress to-day in the Dortmund district. Several miners were killed and others wounded in a conflict with the police.

According to reports received at French headquarters, 30,000 striking miners held a demonstration in the square in Dortmund, the Dortmund police, endeavoring to disperse the gathering, fired several shots into the crowd, killing several persons and wounding many others.

The angered crowds attacked the police, of whom many were wounded. Similar demonstrations occurred at the Scharnhorst mine nearby, where several workmen were killed and others wounded by the police.

The miners' strike was brought about by Communist agitators on demands for higher wages, and they are now reported to be trying to effect a general strike throughout the Dortmund area affecting 200,000 workers.

INSULIN USED IN MANY LANDS, SAYS DISCOVERER

New York, May 23.—That remarkable progress has been made during the last year in the use of the insulin treatment for diabetes and over 2,000 cases in the United States alone have been benefited by it was a statement made last night by Dr. F. G. Banting, of Toronto, discoverer of the treatment, who spoke at the 117th annual convention of the New York State Medical Association.

The treatment has been most effective and its use has steadily grown until it is now employed in almost every part of the world, according to Dr. Banting, but as yet it is impossible to say whether insulin supplies an absolute cure for diabetes.

BOY DIES AFTER FALL FROM WAGON

Tragedy Follows Holiday Outing at Rocky Point; Local Boy Meets Death

Falling off a wagon on the Thornett farm at Rocky Point at 4 p. m. yesterday, Frederick Reynolds, son of parents residing on David Street in this city, sustained concussion of the brain, it was reported to the authorities to-day and died at eight o'clock this morning.

Details of how the accident happened are meagre, but it appears the boy had gone to the farm on a holiday and was riding on a dump wagon at the time of the accident. The victim of the accident was rushed to a nearby house, where Dr. Felton, of Sooke, was summoned. Death followed the fatal fall, after an all-night fight to save his life. Coroner E. C. Hart was notified this morning of the accident when it was said that the body was to be brought to town this afternoon.

Macleod M. P. Suggests Longer Hours for Town Banks

Ottawa, May 23.—(Canadian Press)—That all Ministers of the Crown, whether Dominion or Provincial, should resign all directorships on assuming office, was proposed as a notice of motion by J. T. This impartial application of the principle contained in the McMaster resolution of last session in regard to Ministers and directorships.

Another notice of motion given by G. C. Coote, Progressive, Macleod, Alberta, proposes that banks in smaller towns be required to keep open until four o'clock instead of three o'clock, which is the present practice.

VICTORIA TO BE HOST TO PACIFIC NORTHWEST WHEN FROLIC OPENS TO-MORROW

Aldershot, Eng., May 23.—Queen Mary and Princess Mary, Viscountess Lascelles, narrowly escaped what might have been a serious accident to-day while motoring here, when a motor lorry dashed from a side road and collided with the car of Lieut.-General Sir Philip Chetwode, which was following close behind the royal motor car. Through great presence of mind on the part of Sir Philip's car no one was hurt, although the machines were damaged.

The Decoration Committee in charge is appealing to merchants benefited by these beautiful blossom clusters to undertake the daily watering of the baskets in front of their premises. In the course of the next few weeks there will be a large number of convention and touring visitors to Victoria, and the committee urge that the geraniums be well looked after, in order that they may continue to be a feature of welcome throughout the Summer.

PREMIER TACKLES B. C. DISTRIBUTION

He Gets to Work on Preliminary Preparation for Next Session of House

Four Constituencies Now Show Less Than 1,000 Votes in Them

In the lull between freight rate fights, Premier Oliver has started work on the redistribution problem. The work he is doing is sort of a preliminary survey, he said to-day.

Last time redistribution was brought in, ten years ago, it was handled by a commission. The Premier asserted he didn't know yet how it would be effected this time or just in what way it would be brought before the Legislature at its next sitting.

Nothing has been worked out yet as to whether the membership of the House will be increased or reduced from the present number of 48.

The Premier pointed out, however, that at the last election there were four or five constituencies where less than 1,000 votes were polled and one in which there was only between 500 and 600 votes.

In this he was referring to such constituencies as Lillooet, Greenwood, Grand Forks, and Rossland.

"A number of factors have to be considered in redistribution," he said. "There is the question of the number of voters in the constituency, then density of population, whether it is urban country or isolated, and community of interest which is largely affected by geographical features."

"We can't work it all out yet to good advantage until we know what the revised voters lists show and they won't be ready for a few weeks."

NEW PAPER MILL

Armstrong-Whitworth Idea Will Be Carried Out Following Election

St. Johns, Nfld., May 23.—With the recent rejection of the Squidron Government, which concluded the agreement, there is apparently no hitch likely to occur to prevent rapid development of the Sir W. G. Armstrong and Whitworth Company's pulp and paper project at Humber Mouth. Architects and others are now drawing up plans for the town which will be located on the site of the enterprise. Five hundred men were employed there throughout the winter and the number is expected to reach 2,000.

The Armstrong-Whitworth development calls for, when completed, a production of 400 tons of paper a day, and this will increase Newfoundland's yearly production to 500,000 tons of paper. The enterprise is guaranteed, according to the agreement reached by the Newfoundland Government, to the extent of $10,000,000 by each Government.

$1,479,000,000 IS TOTAL OF CLAIM

Judge Parker, Texas, Named Umpire for U. S.-German Commission

Washington, May 23.—Partial reorganization of the Mixed Claims Commission, constituted to adjudicate war claims totalling $1,479,000,000 of the United States Government and American citizens against Germany, has been caused by the retirement of former Justice Day of the Supreme Court as umpire of the commission.

Judge Edwin B. Parker, of Texas, American member of the commission, was appointed immediately by President Harding to succeed Mr. Day as umpire, leaving the post of American commissioner temporarily vacant.

The resignation of Mr. Day, who told the President he wished to be relieved of his duties because he believed a younger, stronger man should serve as umpire, came as the commission was beginning to consider the 12,416 claims filed. The commission representing the United States and Germany, respectively, Judge Parker and Dr. Wilhelm Kieselbach, already had begun hearings on the Lusitania claims. Those had been presented last week by Robert C. Morris, American agent, and Marshall Morgan, counsel for the commission in charge of the Lusitania claims. Their rearrangement after the appointment of the new American commissioner probably will be necessary as the duties of Judge Parker as umpire will require him to function only in settling disputes between the American and German commissioners.

Mr. Day's retirement from the commission was a surprise. His selection as umpire had met with widespread approval because of his past experience in mixed claims commission work and his reputation in long public service and as former Secretary of State and on the Supreme Court bench. Germany asked the United States to appoint the commission's umpire and especially approved the selection of Justice Day.

Little Delay.

Little delay in disposal of the American claims, officials said, will result from the commission's personal change. President Harding is expected to appoint a new American commissioner promptly, and in the meantime the American agent, Mr. Morris and his staff will proceed with preparation of test cases for presentation to the commission. There has been no intimation so far of the probable choice of the President for the commission's successor, but the executive and Secretary Hughes were said to regard the position as one of prime importance, containing great responsibilities to the Government and to the thousands of individuals who are in the long list of claimants.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion or Stomach Trouble OUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, heartburn, food fermentation, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well-known authority.

Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastritis accompanied by dangerous stomach ulcers. Don't dose an acid stomach with poison or artificial digestants that only give temporary relief by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines.

Instead, neutralize or sweeten your acid stomach after meals with a little hot water and bisphosphate of Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than bisphosphate of Magnesia to sweeten and settle an acid stomach. It soaks up the harmful excess acid much as a sponge soaks up water. It is fine in just a few minutes. Bisphosphate of Magnesia can be taken in any reliable drugist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use. It is not a laxative and is not at all expensive. ## McMASTER VOTES AGAINST BUDGET

Member for Brome, Que., Supports Progressive Amendment

Ottawa, May 23.—A. R. McMaster, member for Brome, Quebec, during his contribution to the budget debate in the Commons last night announced that he would not vote for the budget but for the Progressive amendment, and hereafter regard himself as free to support or oppose Government legislation as he might see fit.

"I am a Liberal," Mr. McMaster added. "I was never more a Liberal than I am to-night."

"Why would he vote against the budget?" "Because he believes," he said, "that it is not a Liberal budget. It is a protectionist budget with a strong Maritime Province flavor."

Subsequently, Herbert Marler, Liberal member for the St. Lawrence and St. George division of Montreal, questioned why Mr. McMaster, and he alone, should set himself up as the arbiter of Liberal doctrine. It was "very regrettable" that Mr. McMaster would have taken the attitude he had, Mr. McMaster was standing out for a fetish and a fad. It was an impossibility, said Mr. Marler, to have trade and have the country prosper.

Mr. McMaster opened his speech with several references to the speech of Mr. Meighen.

Dealing with Mr. Meighen's reference to the United States tariff, Mr. McMaster said that since the tariff had been increased, a congressional election had been held at which the Republican Party had lost heavily.

As to Mr. Meighen's warning that the doors of the trade, if opened by reciprocity, might be closed again, Mr. McMaster said the producers of Canada were willing to take that chance. Canadian products would not flow into the United States markets unless prices there were higher than in Canada, and vice-versa. Should the doors be closed in ten years, Canada would be better for the trading period which had intervened.

Mr. McMaster said he proposed to take his seat at the place which in this House is the nearest approach we have to the cross benches.

"I wish to say that I am a Liberal," he asserted, "I was never more a Liberal than I am to-night. I believe in the necessity of Liberalism."

He continued his declaration that the ills of the country could be healed only by the application of Liberal principles, but he wanted to see these principles applied with courage. The essence of Liberalism was found in the watchword of the old Whigs and Liberals, which embraced peace, retrenchment, reform, good will among nations and trust of the people as against mistrust.

Above all, it embraced a fair deal for the underdog.

The 1911 Campaign.

In 1911 he had closed his law office in Montreal and had gone into the reciprocity fight. Sectarian, racial and imperial crises had been raised and that election had been lost. One of the reasons for that defeat was that from 1909 to 1911 "we failed to preach the Liberal doctrine on trade matters." In 1911 the Government was overtaken by "the nemesis which overtakes even churches which fail to preach their Gospel." Hundreds of thousands of young men had grown up to voting age without ever having the questions of trade and other matters discussed before them.

They were ready to listen to the flag flapping and the anti-American sentiments "which unfortunately were used by some Conservatives of that day."

Calls It Protectionist.

Mr. McMaster said he had believed that the Liberal party was the instrument for the putting into effect of Liberal principles. He was opposed to the present budget, he said, because it was not a Liberal budget. It was a Protectionist budget with a strong Maritime Province flavor.

He referred to the British preference provision, which demanded that goods enter by Canadian ports in order to enjoy the reduction. In other words, he said, they must pay additional freight charges to enter by Halifax in preference to entering via Portland and coming over the National Railways into Canada.

He would vote for the Forke resolution, but it was not entirely desirable. The clause which might be embarrassing in the future, Mr. McMaster did not like the idea of considering protectionist claims for protection before a committee or any other body.

He considered that there should be a tax on the unearned increment of land and a Federal succession duty on large estates.

Ambassador Needed.

Mr. McMaster did not agree with the reciprocity clause in the budget. What was required was a Canadian Ambassador at Washington who would represent Canadian interests there all the time.

The Minister of Finance had said he would not be bound by the tariff plans of the States, Mr. McMaster said.

Mr. McMaster, Mr. King had attended the same convention and after this tariff resolution was passed, he accepted nomination as leader of the Liberal Party. The acceptance of this nomination could be reasonably regarded as acceptance of the programme laid down in the platform, Mr. McMaster said.

Joins No Other Party.

The speaker said he had visited his constituency and consulted with a number of his supporters, and he believed that, though they regretted that he must take a seat which showed he was not in sympathy with the budget, they were satisfied that he should follow the course which was taken. In a short time there would be an opportunity for him to appear before them and discuss the matter with them freely and openly.

He would place himself in their hands. "If they wish to have a Liberal who thinks more of the label on the bottle than what is in it, then I will resign my seat," he said. He declared that he would join no other party, but would take a seat in the corner of the chamber where he would be free to support or oppose Government legislation as he saw fit.

Lower Freight Rates.

H. Marler, Liberal, St. Lawrence and St. George Division of Montreal, said lower freight rates were needed both in the East and West, but operating charges on the railways must be met. Rural credits were apparent, but a necessity in the West but this was a matter for Provincial rather than Federal action.

He believed too much money was being spent for civil government in Canada.

Mr. Marler thought well of Mr. Fielding's stability declaration. There must be revision from time to time but stability was needed. He believed

Less Vibration with this Non-Detonating Gasoline

There's a marked difference in the way gasolines explode. One kind detonates—a crash against the piston head delivers all the power in a single blow. These sudden blows, repeated, cause vibration, increasing wear and tear. And detonating gasoline limits compression by its tendency to explode prematurely. Thus a loss of power and efficiency in your motor result. More Power, Prolonged

Union is non-detonating gasoline. The explosion is prolonged, sustained. Piston heads are thrust rather than "kicked" down. You'll find a new "lift" on hills and no "knocking."

Non-detonating gasoline permits of higher compression, for as all authorities know, compression is limited by the tendency of a gasoline to detonate. So more power is delivered by Union Gasoline. You find a new rush in the pickup and more speed on the level.

Impulses come more smoothly, so there's less vibration—this saves wear and tear.

And all this higher efficiency means greater fuel economy. So Union Non-Detonating Gasoline delivers superior service in several important ways.

Union is always uniform. It doesn't disintegrate, thus doesn't deteriorate in storage. It has all the power when you use it that it has when it leaves the Union plants.

MAKE THE VISITOR FEEL AT HOME.

Unless the carefully compiled estimates are all very seriously awry there will be more visitors in Victoria during the next three days than have ever been in the city at any one time for many years.

This highly important initial success imposes a definite obligation upon every Victorian to do his or her best to ensure the success of the whole programme.

Viewed in the cold light of commerce it should be understood that in cultivating the visitor and assuring him a pleasant time in our midst we are doing nothing more or less than helping our city.

PUSHING CANADA ASIDE.

After making a study of immigration methods that are being employed by the British Dominions in the Old Country Mr. J. H. Woods, editor of The Calgary Herald, has returned home with the conclusion that "Canada is no longer the favorite among British people interested in the overseas Dominions."

Mr. Woods points out that Australia and New Zealand have gone to Britain to push Canada aside. Representatives from the Dominions "down under" are getting excellent results because they have gone after the business with their coats off.

The British people love a fighter and this halting attitude of the Canadian Government is not alone reflecting on the King Government, but on the Meighen and Borden Governments in their dealings on immigration with British political and farming interests.

Every Canadian who recognizes this country's urgent need of more population will sincerely hope that the British attitude towards Canada, by reason of our own hesitancy to go after settlers as if we really wanted them, is not as serious as Mr. Woods describes.

If Canada cannot take care of all the immigrants that Britain can spare the Dominion Government might as well apply for a winding-up order and put the country out of business without any further ado.

The idea that more immigration to Canada would increase unemployment ought to be bumped out of stupid heads that contain it. Never was a sillier objection to an aggressive policy put forth. How is it that people are going to the United States when that country's population stands at 110,000,000?

DAVE CARLEY.

PRACTICAL INTEREST NECESSARY.

No doubt other attractions and the proximity of festivities were responsible for the meagre attendance at Monday night's Chamber of Commerce forum meeting. It is a matter for regret, however, that such an important subject as communication with the West Coast did not attract that interest which one might expect would prevail.

NARCOTISM.

Surely there are very few people who would willingly regard narcotism as a crime rather than a disease.

Federal or provincial law designed to deal with this terrible affliction should obviously be as humane as it is possible to make it. It is not a simple matter to cure a drug addict unless he or she has been caught in the early stages.

Offenders against the criminal code are promptly punished and subjected to such corrective processes as are employed in our prison system; but the poor drug addict usually remains in the clutches of the street peddler and is left to unimaginable tortures or to death.

THE NEED OF TO-DAY. TOO WEAK TO WALK

Lost All Strength After Years of Suffering

"I suffered for years with non-assimilation of food, nervousness, nervous chills, and irregular and weak heart action. I lost flesh and strength until I was scarcely able to walk. My limbs got so numb and weak that when I tried to walk even a short distance I felt I must sit down at once if I didn't want to fall down. A friend told me that Wincarnis would be the best thing in the world for me. I took Wincarnis and such it proved to be in my case. It helped me in every way and did quickly. I soon gained new flesh and blood, strength and vim. I feel alive once more. I always keep Wincarnis on hand for I found it a friend, tried and true."

YOUR HOME AND YOU

Not long ago I was a weak and timid in the home of a woman whose children seemed to me unusually happy, confident, and well-trained. She never seemed to be nagging at them or correcting them, although they were by no means perfect. And presently I found out the secret of bringing them up by praise instead of blame.

On a Saturday afternoon, as we sat under the trees, her young daughter of fourteen—the usual grown, dainty girl—was starting off for a game of tennis. The child walked badly, scuffing her feet and throwing her hips out of joint at each step. But the mother waved a cheerful hand, and called out: "Good-by, Peg. Have a good game. You're standing up beautifully straight-to-day!"

The little daughter threw a pleased, merry glance at us both, instinctively held her head a little higher and more erect, and her awkward step became lighter and more graceful. Naturally I expressed my admiration of the mother's method.

"Well," she explained, "if I had called out, 'Stand up straight, pick up your feet when you walk, hold your head up, keep your hair out of your eyes,' and so on, she would have been self-conscious and ill-at-ease, and would have gone off more awkward than ever. But praising her gives her confidence in herself and the sense of my approval, and she unconsciously responds by holding herself better."

LAWS DEGREE GIVEN TO MRS. FARRIS

Signal Honor Conferred at Convocation of Acadia University To-day

Wolfeville, N. S., May 23.—Mrs. J. W. de B. Farris, of Vancouver, was signally honored by her Alma Mater to-day when she was conferred with the degree of Doctor of Laws at Acadia University, Wolfeville, Nova Scotia. The degree was conferred at the convocation this morning, the President stating that the distinction was awarded "for service rendered education and for other distinguished public services."

The occasion marks the first time on which Acadia University has conferred this degree upon a woman. Indeed, only two other similar degrees have been conferred in Canada, McGill University giving one to Lady Aberdeen some years ago while Queen's University gave one to Dr. Marty, Chief Inspector of Schools in Toronto.

Evelyn Fenwick Farris is the elder daughter of Professor, Kilmichael, LL.D., of Toronto. She graduated from Acadia University in 1898 with the first class honors degree of B.A., and took her M.A. in Philosophy in 1899. In 1905 she married John Wallace de Beque Farris, eldest son of the Hon. L. P. Farris, of New Brunswick, and former Attorney-General of British Columbia.

Mrs. Farris was the founder and first president of the University Women's Club of Vancouver. She was convener of the section on Education in this Club for several years, during which time the Club took an active part in organizing Parent-Teacher Associations.

During her four years' residence in Victoria Mrs. Farris was president of the Victoria University Women's Club, and created an honorary life member in recognition of her services to the Club. She is also the British Columbia representative on the National Committee on Education of the Federation of University Women in Canada, and President of the Associated Alumni of Acadia University on the Mainland of B. C.

Mrs. Farris had also the distinction of being the first woman elected to the Senate of the University of British Columbia, on which she served five years, and is now the only woman on the Board of Governors of the University. Her many friends in this city will rejoice to hear of the signal honor which has been conferred upon her by Acadia University.

ELABORATE PLANS FOR EMPIRE BALL

May Queens and Naval Officers to Attend Friday's Function

A detachment of naval men is working to-day preparing the elaborate decorative scheme which will greet patrons of the Empire Ball at the Empress Hotel on the evening of May 25 and the finished effect promises to be one of the most striking ever seen in Victoria. Naval officers from the U.S.S. Omaha, which arrived in port this morning, have signified their intention of attending the function, which will thus take on an international aspect.

With Professor Heaton's eighteen-piece orchestra in attendance and the May Queens gracing the ball with their presence, it will readily be realized that the Empire ball will be on a scale commensurate with its importance as the culminating social function of the Proleic celebrations. Arrangements have been made for the serving of supper buffet fashion, and the palm court and writing room will be pressed into service to accommodate the big crowd which is expected.

For the convenience of those who were unable to make early application, the committee states that tickets may still be obtained in person at the committee or from the secretary of the Empire Ball committee, at room 38, Arcade Building.

CHILDREN FLED WHEN MOVIE SHOWN

London, May 22.—The first movie show ever witnessed by farmers' children on the island of St. Kitts, so terrified them that they stampeded from the schoolroom where the film was being exhibited and sought safety on the wild hillsides, says a correspondent of The Daily Express who is touring the lonely islet that lies west of Scotland. A party of visitors, thinking to give the natives a

FAMOUS HUNTER'S PET

Here is Dad Jones, noted island hunter and proprietor of the Lakeside Hotel, Cowichan Lake, and his pet deer which he tamed some years ago. The animal used to come and graze on the hotel lawn and gradually grew so bold that it would feed out of Dad's hands. Now it is like a house dog and, as shown in the picture, begs for a lump of sugar like the best-trained terrier. As a result of the protective work of the Game Conservation Board, game is increasing in the Cowichan Lake area, Dad told The Times on a recent visit to the city. He said he saw at least seventy-five deer in one herd recently. His deer, he added, often brings companions in from the woods and entertains them at night on the hotel lawn.

This picture was taken by a party of fishermen who visited the Lake recently. The party consisted of the following: George Strath, Jack Grey, Arthur Little and Arthur Danby.

MEIGHEN SHARED IN BUDGET DEBATE

Said Fielding Should Have Given More Details

Declared Tobacco Trade Reduced Nearly One-Quarter

Ottawa, May 22.—Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, speaking on the budget in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, said he did not think Mr. Fielding's budget presentation had been sufficient in its details. History had shown that the budget speech should contain a careful examination of the whole financial condition of the country, he said.

Debt. Mr. Meighen said the Minister of Finance had given the year's addition to the national debt as $48,000,000, but he got this amount by crediting $8,000,000 which belonged to the country just as much five years ago as it did today. This sum was for exchange, and the amount of it had only now been ascertained.

Great Britain, however, continued to reduce her debt, said Mr. Meighen, while Canada, with a new Government continued to increase hers. He thought the time would come when Canada should make a better showing and should not have to tell the world that she was budgeting for a deficit in the present year.

The Government had promised great reductions in expenditure, but the actual diminution last year was but $9,000,000, he said.

The Minister of Finance had taken something off the sugar duty, said Mr. Meighen, but he had not taken enough off to remove protection.

Referring to tobacco duties, Mr. Meighen charged that the Government's action of a year ago had in one year reduced the tobacco trade of the country by twenty-two per cent and had depleted the treasury of the country by $1,327,000. There was just as much tobacco used, but the trade had been impaired and the only people to benefit were the United States tobacco dealers and producers and the bootleggers, who were given a return package to get home.

British Preference. Mr. Meighen next dealt with British preference. The Government might have scaled duties down upon the preference by ten per cent, but instead of aiming blows at combines and trusts, it had damaged the woolen industry of Canada, which was anything but a monopoly, its factories all being small ones and scattered all over the country. The chief competitor of these factories was the United States industry, a most highly organized and protected industry.

Reciprocity. Coming to reciprocity, he said no honorable gentleman in the House should delude himself into thinking there had been a change of sentiment in this country. They had heard a lot about change, but in the eighties, in 1891 and in 1911, the same question had come up. If Canada had an equal chance with the United States, he said.

Country Will Grow. Admittin' that Canada's war obligation was great, Mr. Meighen said there was no reason for pessimism in regard to them. It must be remembered that Canada was capable of expansion.

World conditions were chiefly responsible for the present condition of depression. Economic group legislation did not tend to make Parliament view the problems of the country in a national spirit or with a broad vision.

Guide to Rose Growing

Dominion Horticulturist Issues Instructions

Although most persons who love flowers desire to grow roses, many who have planted a few bushes have been unsuccessful and have become discouraged. To assist in overcoming the difficulties that beginners sometimes find in growing roses, the Dominion Horticulturist has prepared a bulletin that deals with practically all phases of rose culture in Canadian gardens. The bulletin is entitled "Hardy Roses, Their Culture in Canada," and bears the official number 17 of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

The observation is made that certain species of roses are very easy to grow and that those who are not prepared to give the finer type the attention their beauty merits, will find in the Rugosa hybrids, the Austrian briars, the Provence or Cabrage, and the Damask roses, a very good assortment of roses that are hardy and of easy culture, requiring but little pruning, and not being troubled by insect and fungous enemies.

It will be of interest to learn that the Experimental Farms have succeeded in producing a very beautiful rose of unusual hardiness. It is a cross between Rugosa and Persian Yellow and has been named Agnes.

Besides giving complete instructions as to soil planting, winter cultivation, winter protection, and insect enemies, the bulletin gives lists of various classes of garden roses that have succeeded in Ottawa.

The following varieties of Hybrid Perpetuals and Hybrid Teas have been selected as a dependable collection of reasonably hardy roses: Frau Karl Druschki, white; General Jacquemint, scarlet crimson; Her Majesty, pink; Hugh Dickson, crimson; Mrs. John Laing, pink; Mrs. R. G. Shannon Crawford, pink; Ulrich Brunner, cherry red; Caroline Testout, pink; General McArthur, bright crimson; Gruss an Teplitz, bright crimson; Lady Ashton, pink; Lady Pirie, copper; pink; Madame Edouard Herriot, coral red; Madam Ravary, yellow.

Recommended climbers are American Pillar, Dorothy Perkins, Hiawatha, Tausendschön.

Railways. As far as the railway deficit went, he did not agree with the Leader of the Opposition that the people should be taxed to meet this and balance the budget. He preferred to look upon the advances made to the road as loans repayable when the system was a financial success.

With regard to the 1919 Liberal platform, he did not think it wise for any convention to write a tariff subject. He had not been present at the convention in question, but the Liberal Party was not the only one which had made this mistake. The Progressives had not been equally foolish. If they were to attain power tomorrow they could not possibly establish their tariff platform immediately.

THE ARMY HABIT
The custom of playing practical jokes on recruits in the army is still popular. A short time ago a recruit who was more than usually soft joined a regiment at Aldershot. He was promptly taken in hand by his new comrades, the result being that he presented himself at the guard-room that evening. On being asked by the sergeant of the guard what he wanted, he confessed that worthy by answering: "I have come to be measured for a 'ope'!"

Ask the Way

To those prettier teeth which millions now enjoy

You see prettier teeth now wherever you look. A few years ago they were seen less often than now.

You cannot but realize that a change has come in methods of teeth cleaning. Won't you ask for a test and learn what brings those whiter, cleaner, safer teeth?

Their fight film

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.

Film absorbs stains, then forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. That's why teeth lose luster.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

That's why tooth troubles are so common—why so few escape.

Two new ways now

No old-time tooth paste could effectively fight film. So dental science sought new methods, and two ways were found. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research, and these two methods were embodied in it.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. It has come into world-wide use. Dentists of some 50 nations urge their people to adopt it.

Powerful aids
Pepsodent also gives manifold power to Nature's tooth-protecting agents. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent cleans the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combant which contains harsh grit.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids. Old methods brought just opposite effects.

Watch the change

FURNESS, WITHY CO. INCREASES PACIFIC EUROPEAN ACTIVITY

Will Give Three-Weekly Service; Have Fine Fleet of Motorships Dominion Miller Is First to Visit Coast

With the announcement that the Furness, Withy Steamship Company would increase its activities in the Pacific-Coast-European trade comes the news that the company has established an office at San Francisco with T. A. Lee as representative and Pacific Coast manager for the company. The Dominion Miller, one of the company's vessels, moved to Vancouver yesterday after discharging some 322 tons of general cargo and 16 1-2 miles of submarine cable here. Starting in September, sailing will be increased to three-weekly intervals, or more frequently if the trade warrants, the head office announces. Three motorships, with refrigerator holds, are now being constructed especially for this run, and the fast-ventilated motorship Dominion Miller, one of the first of the opposed-piston type is now on this Coast. Ports of call of the increased service will be Liverpool, Havre, London and Hull it is intimated. These will be strictly adhered to except as refrigerator cargo is sent to other United Kingdom or European ports. Furness, Withy and Company, are among the largest British shipowners, operating some 201 vessels in various trades. The larger majority of their vessels are steamships, but the company is now planning to replace them with motorships. The Dominion Miller which visited Victoria for the first time on Monday and Tuesday is the latest type of motorship, being equipped with Diesel engines and fitted by British shipbuilders. It is stated by the head office that the company will maintain monthly service until Fall, and will return to this basis after the rush season if it is found impossible to continue on the three-weekly basis, as planned if inducement offers. With the exception of two steamers, Siberian Prince and Mongolian Prince, the vessels assigned for the next six months are motorships or oil-burners and will omit the usual calls at Newport News for coal bunkers, thus speeding up the passage. The motorship Dominion Miller, calling in early June, will be the first carrier to go direct to Europe. Following the Dominion Miller will be the Siberian Prince, in July; the Northwestern Miller, in August; the Southwestern Miller, in September.

VICTORIANS WERE ABOARD MARVALE

The following telegram, which arrived in a Victoria home-to-day, caused the minds of Mr. P. Wells and his son Edgar Wells, whose mother, accompanied with her youngest son, Frank Wells, were on the Canadian Pacific liner Marvale when she sank off the coast of Newfoundland. The wire simply stated: "Both safe and well. Melita picking us up at St. Johns. All belongings lost." Mrs. P. Wells was on her way to visit her parents and friends in the Old Country. Her native home is York, England.

THE DOMINION MILLER AND MONGOLIAN PRINCE, IN OCTOBER, AND THE SIBERIAN AND MOTORSHIP LONDON CARRIER, IN NOVEMBER.

The London Carrier will be the first refrigerator vessel, although the Dominion Miller, Northwestern Miller and Southwestern Miller have fan ventilation. Liverpool, Havre, London and Hull have been designated definitely as the regular ports of call on the other side.

MOTOR PRINCESS IS ATTRACTIVE BOAT

Beautiful Route and Fittings of Ship Should Please Tourists

The Canadian Pacific ferry boat Motor Princess has proved in every way a great success. The accommodation for motors and passengers are of the best, two decks accommodating automobiles, and the upper decks for passengers, as well as the after middle deck. The dining room is aft, and on the second or middle deck. Hardwood floors and big windows give the place a pleasing atmosphere. The dining tables, on both sides of the saloon, are placed in such a way as to leave a large amount of floor space in the middle of the room. At one end in the galley and at the other a big gramophone. The galley towards the stern and the air current keeps the dining room cool. On the main motor deck, or the lower deck, there is space for about twenty cars or more. In the middle is the engine room companionway and a run-way leading to the next deck, and of such a type as to be useful for motors when their owners find it necessary to climb to the next deck for the purpose of landing or making room for more cars. This second or middle deck has an opening upon it, at the fore end of the vessel, several cabins, and an observation room on each side of the ship. These observation rooms are very comfortable, with deep upholstered chairs and soft, thick carpets. Windows run the length of these rooms, and big mirrors are set into the walls at the ends. As to her motive power, she is the first boat on the run from Sidney to Bellingham there should be an added attraction for tourists to come to this Island. Speeder Channel, Pole Pass, Anacortes Island, Shaw Island, Obstruction Pass, Battleship Island, Cypress Island, Bellingham Bay and a thousand scenic beauties of a similar nature appear on the route of the Motor Princess.

AUSTRALIA WENT INTO ROYAL ROADS

Empress Liner Failed to Dock at Pier 2; Princess Royal Tender

Over 300 Passengers Arrive From Orient

With the Dominion Miller occupying her berth at Pier 2, and the Restorer tied up at Pier 1, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia, Captain S. Robinson, after making good time across the Pacific and securing pratique at William Head refused to accept the risks of berthing at Pier 2 with the strong wind which was blowing last night from the southeast. Standing off for some time she finally put into the Royal Roads for shelter, where she remained until the tender Princess Royal went alongside to take off passengers. It was 7:15 p. m. when the Princess Royal left the C. P. R. docks an hour and a half later she was alongside the Australia. The Australia did not leave for Vancouver until after 10 o'clock. Baggage, mails and passengers were all transferred to the Princess Royal, which left the ship's side at 10 o'clock. The U. S. mail which is generally put off here was taken on a small brought in for the local post office. Thirty-nine first class passengers disembarked at Victoria, while there were four second class and 15 thirds also booked for Victoria or Seattle. In all the Australia carried on her journey from the Orient for disembarkation at Victoria 151 passengers and for Vancouver and Victoria together 240 first class and 101 seconds. Her trip across was making an average speed of 18.3 knots an hour. Fair weather prevailed the entire passage. Amongst the passengers traveling from the Orient were Sir C. Paul Chater and Lady Chater, Dr. F. Cavalkovsky, R. M. Dyer, a big figure in the shipping business of Hongkong, accompanied by his wife; Prof. L. Latta and a notable silk merchant, A. W. Reynolds.

BELIEVE CREW OF ELINOR H. LOST

San Francisco, May 22.—Mystery of the disappearance of the five-masted sailing schooner Elinor H. and her crew of fifteen men still is unsolved. The vessel is forty-five days overdue from Newcastle, Australia, to Honolulu. Since the Elinor H. sailed February 19 no word of her whereabouts has been received. She is now ninety-one days out from Newcastle. The barquentine Amy Turner, which sailed from Newcastle the day before the Elinor H. left, encountered a typhoon and was lost. Only a few of her crew were rescued. Like the Amy Turner, the Elinor H. is believed to have encountered a great storm and to have foundered. The crew, it is believed, perished.

Alaska Steamship Co. Replaces Wrecked Lake Gebhart

San Francisco, May 22.—The Shipping Board freighter Lake Filbert has been bought by the Alaska Steamship Company to replace the steamer Lake Gebhart, which was wrecked off the coast. The Lake Filbert will go to the plant of the General Engineering Company to be overhauled and reconditioned for the service of the purchasers. The T. K. K. liner Siberia Maru sailed yesterday for the Orient. She carried a good cargo, but her cabin passengers numbered only thirty-eight.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Fellowship of Applied Psychology will hold no further meetings until the opening of the Fall season. It is announced by the executive.

Members of Court Triumph A.O.F. will meet at Foresters' Hall to-morrow morning at ten o'clock to take part in the Maytime Frolic parade. Dress will be white, and crowns and regalia will be provided.

Well alight, a roof at 465 Quebec Street gave the fire brigade a sharp fight, a blaze starting at 2:30 this morning. Damage to the extent of several hundreds of dollars was caused by the fire. It was estimated.

The meeting of Saanich ratepayers called by the Saanich School Board to discuss the teachers' salary question will take place on Monday next in the Royal Oak School, instead of at the Municipal Hall. Proceeding will commence at 7:30 p.m.

The secretary of the school sports has asked the Retail Merchants' Association to act as a clearing house for the scrip which is to be given as prizes. This request is being granted and merchants may clear scrip at the headquarters, Room 304, Sayward Building.

The suggestion is made to persons purchasing leg-bands for chickens that these should be selected in accordance with the species of the bird they are intended to fit. An unsuitable band may cause great suffering, especially with the growth of the bird, and the S.P.C.A. would draw attention to this matter.

The Veterans of France have extended an invitation to the officers and men of the U. S. S. Omaha to make use of the former organization's club rooms while the American ship is in port here. It is hoped by the Veterans of France that they will have the opportunity of giving a welcome personally to the members of the crew of this visiting war ship.

Climbing the disused wireless mast at the Willows fair grounds shortly before ten o'clock last night with the object of securing hayrads to which to attach a flag in honor of the Maytime Frolic, William Bone, 708 Blanshard Street, fell a distance of fifteen feet and was seriously injured. The victim of the accident was alone at the time and made his way to the gate of the fair grounds, where he was able to summon help. He was rushed by the Oak Bay police to the Jubilee Hospital where Dr. Grant attended. Mr. Bone was placed on the operating table immediately when it was found that he suffered from grave internal injuries.

At the conclusion of the hearing of the libel action of Frederick Smith versus William H. C. McGregor in the Supreme Court yesterday.

WILL OPEN GARDENS FOR REGATTA

Mrs. Crow-Baker, of "Sissinghurst," Gorge Road, has kindly announced that she will throw open the gardens of her residence on Saturday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 6:30 o'clock for the accommodation of the general public desiring to witness the regatta from this vantage point.

Mr. Justice Macdonald gave judgment for the plaintiff. The Court awarded nominal damages in the sum of $10. The plaintiff, a former employee of the firm of Watson & McGregor, sued a partner of that firm for libel following the issuance of a circular letter to which he objected. J. C. Clearhouse and William Straith acted for the plaintiff, and J. S. Brandon and H. W. Davey for the defence.

At the inspiration of the regent, Mrs. R. B. McMicking, the Lady Douglas Chapter I. O. D. E., by kind permission of the City Council, have placed on the slope of the Parliament Building, facing Queen Victoria's Birthday, Born 1819, Died 1901." As a gentle reminder to our citizens and the public generally of the significance of the 24th anniversary of the regent's coronation, the work was executed at the Red Cross Workshops, and the crown in the centre kindly loaned by the Crown Realty Company. The regent's coronation is being commemorated in the pageant, commemorating the reign of Queen Victoria at the time of her jubilee.

The report that special plain clothes officers had been imported to aid the Victoria police in the hunt for sneak thieves and pickpockets during the Maytime Frolic celebrations here was denied by Chief of Police Fry and Deputy-Chief O'Leary, to-day. No police aid has been asked from Vancouver. Detective Ernest Yoris, of the Seattle Police force, arrived in the city yesterday in company with a companion on holiday bent. The Seattle plain clothes officer will stay in the city during the frolic. The police again warn householders to beware the action of sneak thieves during the time of the celebrations, particularly in the homes which may, due to the holiday occasion, be left unattended and an easy prey to second story men.

In a short session of the City Police Court to-day, Hing Sang, and Sing, Wing Chung and Chung, charged with being keeper and inmates of a gaming house, were acquitted. A. H. Harman, charged with the first named defendant, Sergeant Boulton told of going with Constable Woodburn to the premises at 521 Fisgard Street on May 14, when the officers said they found lottery tickets on the counter, between the four men. A. Buckley and A. McCallum, charged with speeding were each fined $18. A. H. Harman, charged with improper car parking, was fined $5. E. A. Calwell, charged with failure to have the 1923 motor license, was remanded until Saturday, when Frank Higgins, K. C., will appear on his behalf.

U. S. S. OMAHA ARRIVES FOR MAYTIME FROLIC

is 16.6 feet. She is equipped with four engines in two separate engine rooms. The engines are of Parsons turbine type, built by Westinghouse. They are 193,000 horsepower and drive four propellers.

Built at Tacoma.

Todd Drydocks, Inc. built the vessel, completing it last winter. She is one of the largest American Scout ships, and was commissioned three months ago.

Speedy Craft.

The four large propellers and the 193,000 horsepower engines spell speed to the craft of beautiful lines. The very builder of the vessel tells the average visitor that she has been built for speed. Her top speed, the captain says, is 37 knots and for three hours on one occasion she traveled at 34 knots an hour. Another feature of her make-up is that she possesses six arrow boilers.

Broke Record.

Prior to her visit to Victoria as guest of the citizens during the carnival week the Omaha broke the record from Honolulu to San Francisco in 104 hours, 45 minutes and 10 seconds for the distance of 2,100 miles, but the scout cruiser traversed this distance in seventy-five hours, 45 minutes and 10 seconds.

The class that she belongs to is of the type that was laid down by the United States government in 1916. No other class has been built and two are under construction at Tacoma.

Armament.

In armament she is well equipped. There are ten torpedoes. There are two on each side of the upper aft deck and two torpedo tubes on each side of the lower decks.

Turrets on the lower stern deck carry all modern equipment including the new twin 6-inch guns. On the upper aft deck are twin 6-inch guns on either side of the vessel, the captain says. In addition, there are two 3-inch anti-aircraft guns on either side of the upper forward deck make a total of twelve 6-inch guns.

Aircraft Catapults.

The aircraft catapults is part of the equipment of this vessel. Two aeroplanes, which are more commonly known as scout planes, are placed on these catapults and thrown in whichever direction is required according to the speed of the boat. Two other planes can be carried on a raised platform but these planes have to be assembled before they are used. At present the aeroplanes have not been placed on the vessel but on her return to Bremerton these aircraft will be placed aboard the cruiser.

Four 3-inch anti-aircraft guns are located amidships.

Mine Planer.

Tracks and equipment for the placing of mines is another of her outstanding features.

Officers and Crew.

The vessel carries a crew of 420 men and 22 officers, the following are the officers: Captain D. C. Hanrahan, Commander B. L. Canaga, Lieutenant J. C. Smith, Lieutenant Commander H. H. Bouson, Lieutenant W. M. Quigley, Lieutenant S. H. Hurlif, Lieutenant J. P. Owens, Lieutenant M. Newton, Lieutenant H. Caldwell, Lieutenant B. N. Ward, Ensign W. A. McDowell, Ensign A. L. Hamlin, Chief Boatswain A. N. Anderson, Chief Machinist A. W. Bird, Chief Machinist E. F. Kilde, Gunner A. R. Eubanks, Gunner C. W. Manegold, Gunner J. Nicol, Gunner T. A. Marshall, Machinist A. M. Gainer, Carpenter J. Sanders, Pay Clerk J. L. Formann.

Tripod Mast.

Following the example of ships in the British Navy, a tripod mast is carried by the Omaha, the mast being 180 feet from the waterline.

The vessel has large aerials for her wireless and radio equipment. Her radio is a very powerful one. Her receiving power is 3,000 miles.

Appointments.

The Omaha has many appointments which may be enumerated as follows: Two engine rooms, electrical bake-shop, electrical laundry, oil burners in the cook's galley, machine-run scullery, machine-run repair shop, carpenter's shop, libraries for crew and officers, dispensary, including operation table, sterilizers and other equipment, hospital, paymaster's office, four gramophones for use by members of the crew, and last of all, but a place that has never yet been used, the "brig" or ship's prison.

Captain Hanrahan, the commander of the cruiser, has had considerable experience in the United States navy. He was in charge of the bombing squadron at Dunkirk, Belgium, dur-

NEWCOMBE VERSUS GREEN TRIUMPHING IN SUPREME COURT

Continuing before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald in the Supreme Court to-day the action of Newcombe versus Green, reached its concluding stages. In submissions to the court to-day W. C. Moreby for the defendant, John R. Green, urged that the jury had erred in finding negligence on the part of the solicitor in respect to his conduct of the case for the client, the plaintiff, Mrs. Sarah Newcombe, in litigation with the Yorkshire Trust Company.

The failure of the defence in that action, held counsel, did not rest on the solicitor's failure to examine into the bank accounts of Mrs. Newcombe, but in that the learned trial judge disbelieved the client in the witness box. The failure of the trial judge to believe his client led the Court of Appeal to affirm the judgment of the lower court, held Mr. Moreby.

As a principal of law a solicitor was not liable for either ignorance of the law or mistake in the facts, if he had acted with honesty and diligence, held Mr. Moreby, citing from judgments in former cases. Further, he would urge only gross ignorance or gross negligence would render a solicitor liable for any such claim.

There was no distinction between negligence and gross negligence, held S. T. Hankey, for the plaintiff. The jury had found the defendant negligent in failing to examine the bank accounts, he submitted, holding the defendant liable for any such claim.

PIPE LINE JOINTS SAVING CITY HUGE VOLUMES OF WATER

Engineer's Latest Repairs Save 600,000 Gallons a Day

New expansion joints, installed on the Shocks Lake waterworks flow line under the direction of City Engineer F. M. Preston, are saving the city enormous quantities of water, previously leaked out of defective joints. Figures issued at the City Hall to-day show that the last twenty joints installed on the flow line are saving 600,000 gallons of water a day. By the end of the Summer 350 joints, built on a model devised by Mr. Preston, will be in place, the Engineer said to-day.

Altogether 200 joints are being installed this Summer under Mr. Preston's direction. Seventy-five joints remain to be put in place, and the work is proceeding rapidly now.

The 600,000 gallons of water a day saved by the last twenty joints, at six cents a thousand gallons, represent a saving to the city of $48 daily.

BADCOCK HOME FROM WORLD TOUR OF 30,000 MILES

Hongkong Cheapest, Victoria Best Place, Fishery Commissioner Says

Only Drawback Here Is Telephone Poles Along Our Streets, He Declares

John P. Babcock, Assistant to the Commissioner of Fisheries, who sailed from New York last January for a tour of the world, returned to Victoria to-day having landed in San Francisco a few days ago.

He made the 30,000 mile trip on the new Cunard 30,000-ton Samaria, in company of friends with whom he traveled in Egypt and the continent a year ago. Stops were made at Madeira, in the Atlantic, and at Gibraltar, Algeria, Naples, Alexandria, and Port Said on the Mediterranean. A week was spent in Egypt, three weeks in India, two weeks in Japan, and from two to five days each in Ceylon, Burma, Sumatra, Java, Hongkong, Singapore, Manila, Canton, Shanghai and Honolulu.

"The trip was made," he said, "under the direction of Thomas Cook & Son, in company with some 378 other people, several of whom were with me last winter. The Samaria's crew consisted of some 400, all of whom were selected from men who were on active service in the Royal Navy in the war. Many of them wore decorations, including two V. C. men."

Canadians on Tour.

"A finer lot of passengers and a finer captain and crew or a better ship never made the tour of the world together. There were 27 Canadians, 10 English and many well-known Americans on board.

"The India that we visited was hot, dirty and depressing, notwithstanding that we visited Agra and saw that incomparably beautiful building—the Taj Mahal. We all took our hearts to the clean, healthy, well-fed and merry natives of Ceylon, Sumatra and Java, and to their beautiful tropical countries. And we all loved Hongkong and Japan.

"The Cook's staff included experienced travelers in all the countries visited. A Harvard professor, using excellently colored lantern slides, lectured to us on the country just before we made each stop—there was a fine orchestra, and a library of 1,000 books of travel and history.

"Fushina in Madras, Kandy in Ceylon, Nara, Nikko and Mineosita in Japan, and Honolulu were voted the most beautiful places we visited. Singapore, Hongkong, Manila and San Francisco have the finest harbors.

"Hongkong is the finest city in the Orient, if not the finest we saw. Wonderfully located, well laid out and constructed, and so clean. Living there is cheap. Fresh eggs retailed at 10c per dozen in our money, and fat chickens for 25c. Goods of every kind were much cheaper than anywhere else. Every Britisher should visit Hongkong and Singapore for that matter.

In China.

"Conditions in China are not favorable for travel, but we went to Macao and Canton. We had a special train to Canton with two armed guards at each end of each car, and we were under the same guards in Canton. The guards were furnished by the Government of Hongkong. The soldiers in China are hand and glove with the bandits and can not be trusted, as recent events so painfully demonstrate. Though very interesting, we were glad to get out of China.

Good to Be Back.

"Victoria looks good to me. It has as fine a location and as fine a climate most of the year, as any place in the world. Take the telegraph poles from our streets, as has been done in all the show places outside of America, and Victoria will head the list. Many of the Samaria's passengers had visited Victoria and all agreed that it was one of the most beautiful places in the world. I think it the most beautiful, and though we had a fine cruise, full to the brim with interest, I am glad to get home."

COUNCIL TO MEET TO CHOOSE COMPTROLLER

The City Council will meet in a special private session Monday afternoon to discuss the resignation of the present City Comptroller to succeed the late James L. Raymond. At this meeting the Finance Committee, which has been doing in all the show places outside of America, and Victoria will head the list. Many of the Samaria's passengers had visited Victoria and all agreed that it was one of the most beautiful places in the world. I think it the most beautiful, and though we had a fine cruise, full to the brim with interest, I am glad to get home."

DOMINION

Between scenes in George Melford's splendid Paramount production of "You Can't Fool Your Wife," which is attracting big crowds to the Dominion Theatre this week, Paul McAllister, who plays an important part in the picture, is surrounded by an admiring throng of young women who proudly confess that he was their idol in the days when he played in stock at Proctor's 125th Street Theatre in New York.

One girl who has the part of a nurse in "You Can't Fool Your Wife" said: "When I was a good little girl, my mother rewarded me by taking me to see you in a play. We sat in a box, and when you came on the stage, I saw nobody else in the theatre. I used to wear my prettiest dresses, and if you looked anywhere near our box, I was proudly certain that you were acknowledging the regularity of my attendance. I even made mother

Be careful—if you coddle them, they may turn out to roses and peaches." The picture is called "The Wall Flower," and it's about a girl who was brought up to believe she was homely and awkward and deserved whatever she got. It is the funniest, and at the same time the most thought-provoking picture Mr. Hughes has ever made. See it to-day.

ROYAL VICTORIA

The famous English romantic melodrama, "Dick Turpin's Ride to York," will be shown at the Royal again to-day. Although at one time gibbets used to decorate the crossroads of England, for his special benefit, we all cherish a sort of admiration for the highwayman. And in spite of the fact that historians assure us that Dick Turpin was really a cowardly knave and cut-throat, we all persist in regarding him as the Prince of all the highwaymen. We remember Claude Rieu and Tom King, but Dick Turpin easily dominates all the other gentlemen of the road in our estimation. Largely, no doubt, this is because his famous ride to York fires our imagination. The part of Dick Turpin is taken by the eminent English actor, Matheson Lang, who has been given an all-star cast to support him. This picture when shown in England was a huge success, and after being shown in London and Liverpool for four weeks is now back again playing an indefinite run.

Drugged and shipped penniless to Panama is Thomas Meighan's lot in his latest Paramount picture, "The Ne'er-Do-Well," coming to the Capitol Theatre all this week. Several of his friends, while celebrating a football victory, decide that it would be a great joke to send Kirk Anthony (Meighan) to Panama without a cent to his name. This is done, any many amusing incidents follow. "The Ne'er-Do-Well" is a comedy-drama written by Rex Beach. Lila Lee plays opposite the star, and John Milton and Laurance Wheat are included in the cast.

WHITEHEAD BAND THRILLS CROWDS AT 'PAN' OPENING

Chuck Whitehead and his famous band, which knocked dizzy popular music lovers here in the early days of the Capitol Theatre, returned to Victoria last night for the reopening of Pantages Theatre. Brought back to life last night after being dark for more than a year, Pantages was crowded, Robert Jamieson, manager of the house, with a great beam across his face, said it was "Great." Whitehead makes his music interesting and entertaining as well as harmonious and snappy. He has eight skilled musicians under his baton in the present aggregation. Those who have heard the two say that the Whitehead organization is the equal of the famous dance orchestra of Paul Whiteman which has now taken to Europe on tour.

BIG MUSICAL FESTIVAL

For many years the province of Alberta has had large and successful music festivals, and adjudicators or judges have been engaged from eastern Canada, New York and Great Britain. Many years ago in North Vancouver small music festivals were held, but this year at Vancouver the festival planned for five days, beginning with May 22, and concluding June 2, is on a much larger scale, and great interest is being shown throughout the province judging from the numerous entries received in all classes. The forthcoming event, styled the First Annual Competition of the British Columbia Musical Festival, May, 1923, is under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias, with E. S. H. Winn, K.C., as chairman of a committee comprised of twenty leading public men of Vancouver and district.

HEALTH, WEALTH AND HAPPINESS MUSIC GAINS THEM ALL

You can soothe your pains with music

I had him for a pool—Health, peace, tranquility

LAME AND DEAF CURED BY PRAYER

London, May 23.—Remarkable faith healing scenes are being witnessed at Lavenham, Suffolk, where the Rev. F. G. Chaplin conducts missions in an old motion picture theatre.

Mr. Walker, a carman, who has been unable to work for twenty-four weeks owing to heart trouble, claims that his health is restored. He was wheeled in a bath chair, but appeared to be in excellent health when interviewed.

He stated that he was visited by the "Band of Friends," who prayed with him before the "laying on of hands." He added: "I have prayed for restoration of my health, and I believe I have received it." Since then he has been able to walk about the streets.

Mrs. Allen, who was almost totally deaf, states that after being anointed she heard the school bell for the first time for six years.

C. Mills, of High Street, who was in a state of collapse, is able to walk about. He claims that this is due to the fact that he was anointed.

The Second Oldest Living Woman Resident was talking about the Old-est, against whom she naturally felt a certain degree of jealousy.

"I never see her beat," she declared. "She'll top down in a chair and there she'll set and set and set, and she'll absolutely nothing for hours and hours day after day! My stars, I sh' think she would mildew!"

With music—
You can tap the vast resources of your subconscious self.
You can soothe your pains.
You can treble your appreciation of life.
You can almost control your destiny.

So says C. C. Birchard, music publisher of Boston, who spoke to the music supervisors' national conference here.

"Consider the case of Dr. Emilie Coue," Birchard told me. "I believe he rather lost out with the public. Why?"

"His theory is sound basically. He says there is a point midway between our conscious self and our subconscious self, and that just before we fall asleep we pass through that stage, which is the closest we can reach to our subconscious self."

"But he didn't explain how we may reach that state. Some think he doesn't know. I believe he must. But he didn't explain to us.

Music Does It.

"Now we come to music. Go to a concert, an opera. Listen. Allow yourself to be carried away with the music. Live it. Breathe the spirit of it. If you do this you will find yourself in a deep state of consciousness."

"You will feel almost—as if you are leaving your body. But don't allow yourself to go to sleep. Tell your conscious mind: 'I will not go to sleep.'"

"But you will be close to your subconscious mind, that strange thing that is nine-tenths of us. Reach that stage and you can talk to your subconscious self."

"You can determine to do such-and-such a thing, and you will be filled with the tremendous power of your body to accomplish it."

Possible Without Music.

"But," I asked, "can a person reach this state of mind without music?"

"Of course, but not so easily. Music transports you there by its very nature."

He told of a friend complaining of a sore shoulder. They met in a hotel lobby.

"I took him over to where an orchestra was playing—for it doesn't make any difference what kind of music it is, it could even be a march—and told him to allow himself to be carried away by the music."

"Then when he had done that I had him repeat in tune with the rhythm of the music: 'Health, peace, tranquility.' The pain left him."

"It all resolves itself into the law of vibrations. Everything centres around vibrations. And the vibrations of music act on the muscular system of man."

KEEP CENTENARY OF PIANO MAKER

Jonas Chickering Got Inspiration From Old Instrument.

Present Great Factory in Boston Erected by Him

It is now just one hundred years since Jonas Chickering made and sold his first piano on this continent, and the event was duly celebrated on April 21 by a banquet in Boston at which Vice-President Coolidge, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and other prominent citizens of the United States told what Jonas did for music. Concerts and other celebrations have been arranged to be held in New York and other cities during the course of the year.

Jonas Chickering got his inspiration from a piano which King George III bought from the Princess Amelia, Fate, in due course, brought this little instrument across the Atlantic and it may still be seen in a corner of the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston.

This instrument presently found its way to the home of a General Montgomery at New Ipswich. The town cabinet maker, being summoned to mend the case of the only piano in the village, sent his apprentice, Jonas Chickering. Dwight's Journal of Music seventy years ago, the year of Chickering's death, told how as a lad he loitered outside the house he was too bashful to enter, listening to the maiden playing. So his master's command to take his tools and mend Mistress Montgomery's piano must have been a welcome one.

Instrument Opened New Word

The instrument he saw (it was, by the way, fitted with a pipes and bellows attachment, and could be played as an organ as well as a piano) opened a new world to Jonas. As he returned to John Gould's cabinet shop he said to himself: "Some day I shall make pianos." Just why he felt that urge was one of those psychological things which Chickering family had not been musical, and Jonas's educational opportunities had been slight. His father, a farmer and village blacksmith, could only send him to school a scant six weeks in winter. After he left home he taught himself to read music at sight, and sang in the choir. That he had a gift for music, the Princess Amelia piano. But in 1818 he made his way, with a few dollars in his pocket, to Boston, and found work with John Broad, the only piano maker in the city.

Pianos had been made in this country: John Behreut fashioned one in Philadelphia in 1775, Benjamin Crehore, Alpheus Babcock and others had their try at it, but their pianos, it is said, were not very practical. It remained for Jonas Chickering to perfect them, to invent the iron plate which enables the grand piano to stand the tremendous strain of the strings, to invent overstringing, which economizes space and brings the bass wires near the sounding-board, to improve scale drawing and to insist on the use of materials so seasoned as to endure the test of time. All this came later. He worked with Osborne till he mastered the trade, then he started a small factory in partnership with one James Stewart.

Jonas continued to make pianos. He became president of the Handel and Haydn Society, he was called to various civic responsibilities, but his workbench in his factory was the darling of his heart. The factory presently expanded to a large building on Washington Street, where he managed three hundred workmen and turned out thirteen hundred pianos a year.

Time Has Proved His Wisdom.

In 1832 the Washington Street factory was burned. Jonas, first telling his employees that their salaries would be continued, and finding temporary quarters for the work, set out to build the present great factory on Tremont Street. "Chickering Folly" people called it then. The site was a lonely spot, the waters of the Back Bay washing it up at the back, and a wide stretch of vacant land dividing it from Dover Street, with only a connecting path of oyster shells which scratched the young salesman's shoes badly, to their great annoyance. But they stayed with Jonas, for no man ever left him willingly. There were twenty-seven employees of the house who, between them, gave one thousand years of service, the oldest of them being there sixty-two years.

Jonas built his "Folly" firmly and well, so well that when recently a contractor was engaged to cut a new door through he reported that he couldn't do it for the regular price, because the walls were two feet thick and of solid brick. Five stories high Jonas built it in a huge hollow square, and it was the largest building in the country then save only the Capitol at Washington. And when it was all complete, Jonas died, firm in the faith that "Chickering's Folly" would prove to be Chickering's Wisdom. As it has.

THE HUMAN DOVE

McGinnis was up in court on a charge of assault and battery on another workman employed on the same construction job, and his face looked vaguely familiar to the magistrate.

"Haven't I seen you here before?" he demanded.

"See here, Judge," retorted McGinnis with rancor, "I don't quarrel and I don't pick no fights. I just bust 'em one and go on about my business."

Many a man has discovered that the bonds of matrimony are not gilded securities.

"WHISTLEPIPE JOE" QUEER HERMIT, DEAD

London, May 23.—An eccentric hermit known to the country round Dorking as "Whistlepipe Joe" has just died, after living many years in his tin can home, which was simply a shanty made with branches, old tin cans and canvas, nestled in the Surrey hills. Inside the floor is littered with old tin cans, bulgy beef cans that served as swinging saucepans and an improvised gridiron. Outside is a tiny garden of flowers that shows Joe had some idea of the beautiful.

Ragged, unkempt but robust, Whistlepipe Joe, whose real name was Albert Smith, always prided himself on being an exceptionally healthy man and was never sick. The day before his death he told a villager he was not feeling very well, then added quickly: "But I'm not going to die." The next day the body of the old recluse was found lifeless on the floor.

Whistlepipe Joe derived his name from his faculties as a breezy entertainer, whose good voice and tin whistle regaled the villagers. Wearing a tall hat trimmed with feathers, he was the feature of Dorking life, which he frequently enlivened with his songs. He was accustomed to read the newspapers only one day a week and that was Friday.

He: "Won't you look up at me?"

She: "Then what's the good?"

Among the soloists, Stanley Stonier and D. Dale were favorites in several songs. A. Johnson, S. Wakeman and R. Ward rendered violin solos and duets very acceptably. H. McKenzie was applauded for his cornet solo, "Star of the East," and the Fuller Brothers played a piano duet, "You and Me." A. Acres was recalled for his clever manipulation of the bongos. Mr. Rowles appeared in an original sketch at the close of the entertainment.

BELLINGHAM GUESTS ENTERTAINED BY PUBLICITY BUREAU

Large Delegation Met By Citizens at Luncheon at Empress Hotel

Customs Official Promises
Little Handicap to Free
Traffic By Ferry

The luncheon tendered Bellingham and Washington State visitors yesterday afternoon, at the Empress Hotel, by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, was one of the most successful affairs of the kind held in recent years. The short speeches reflecting optimism for the future of the new Bellingham-Sidney Ferry and good feeling between Victoria and the mainland.

J. C. Pendray briefly welcomed the guests, and after urging the fullest use be made of the facilities of the Bureau, recalled that the existence of the ferry was chiefly due to the successful operation of the Anacortes service last year, which was initiated and strongly supported by the Bureau.

Mayor as Welcomer
Mayor Hayward led the three-minute speech series. "As official welcomer I extend to you the most hearty and cordial greetings. If you stay the rest of the week you will find that this sentiment is truly reflected in the hearts of the whole of the people of Victoria," he said.

"The Maytime Frolic has been held yearly, under some name, in commemoration of the birthday of Queen Victoria; the city is now eighty years of age, and if you will stay a while you will discover that it has kept pace with the progress of the times, in fact, the Council thinks the city has gone a bit ahead of the time. Once again I heartily wish you pleasant hours in the course of your stay," said the Mayor.

Congressman Len H. Hadley remarked that the delegation represented over 60,000 people in the country of which Bellingham is the metropolis, all of whom looked upon the new ferry link as an epoch in international development. He referred to the great highway construction campaign now under way in the district tributary to Bellingham and promised, "We will provide our share to attract the best civilization of the world to this area, and we hope you will come and visit us as freely as we will come over and see you; so will we get better acquainted."

Lieut.-Governor W. J. Coyle denounced the three-minute limit on speeches as an outrage on all politicians asking to address an address of welcome. There was one attraction which Victoria had failed to provide the visitors he complained; "We have seen your handsome Motor Princess, we have admired your beautiful Empress Hotel, but I am sure I speak for this entire delegation when I say that we would have been more pleased had we been privileged to meet your lovely Queen of Victoria." Amid applause Chairman Pendray promised personal introductions to Queen Dora and her Court to Bellinghamites visiting Victoria on May 24.

M. B. Jackson, M.P.P., for the Islands, joined in the welcome to the guests, remarking that Victoria regarded Americans from the standpoint of brothers in Anglo-Saxonism rather than as strangers.

No Red Taps Promised.
Judge Milton T. Hartson, of Seattle, Commissioner of Customs for Washington State, promised that formalities would be reduced to a minimum to facilitate exchange of traffic, "provided travelers be conservative and have no hip pocket packages."

W. H. Snell spoke on behalf of the Canadian Pacific Railway, declaring that the pledges of support received from all the nearby Coastal cities assured success for the new service.

Judge C. W. Howard, of Bellingham closed the speechmaking with a witty play upon the hospitality offered the guests by the Bureau, this being in part of a type lacking across the boundary.

The singing which Bob Webb led at intervals through the luncheon was marked by most hearty enthusiasm, the guests appearing delighted with Ernie Down's popular local hits. Singing of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" and "God Save the King," brought the gathering to a close in time to allow the guests to catch the returning ferry from Sidney.

THE SAME FOR BOTH.
The teacher was trying to impress upon her pupils the importance of being right at all times, and to bring out the answer, "Bad habits," she inquired, "What is it that we find so easy to get into and so hard to get out of?"

"There was silence for a moment, and then one little fellow answered, 'Bad.'"

ACCUSED WINS FIRST MOVE FOR NEW TRIAL

Charles Brigden Given Leave to Apply to Court of Appeal for Fresh Trial

Application for leave to reserve a case before the Court of Appeal asking for a new trial of Charles Brigden, found guilty by a jury at the Assizes last week was granted at the resumption of the Assize Court yesterday afternoon before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald.

J. A. Aikman, counsel for the accused had asked alternatively that a new trial be granted by the trial judge or that leave be given to apply to the Court of Appeal for a new trial by way of a reserved case. Henry C. Hall, K. C., for the crown, did not oppose the motion beyond questioning the wording of the questions that will be forwarded to the Court of Appeal.

The determination of the questions to be raised by the trial judge will be agreed upon when the Assize Court resumes on Friday morning, at 10:30. Brigden, by the leave granted by the court yesterday, thus wins the first step in his move for a new trial.

The Doctor Was Right

When the good old family doctor was asked about baking powders, he said:

"Use Royal. It is made from Cream of Tartar and is absolutely pure. You could dissolve a couple of teaspoons of Royal in water and drink it with benefit. That's a health test mighty few baking powders can meet."

The doctor was right.
