The Administrations justification for its steamroller tactics was that Brig Gen Courtney Whitney, Manila Lawyer who is Chf of Gen Douglas MacArthurs Govt Sect, had informed the Govt that no amendments to the local tax bill would be accepted by Allied Hq . The incident is of considerable interest here since for the 2d time recently it brings up the theory promoted by Gen Hq that the Japanese Govt has a free hand in the Legislative field without interference by occupation officials. . . .

Folg msg 2 parts contains statements made at 191st meeting of FEC, re FEC 371 (concurrent criminal and civil jurisdiction in Japan).

Part 1. UK Statement.

"I should like to give in the com a gen indication of the views of my govt on the US proposal contained in FEC-371. We see no good grounds for the introduction of a proposal on these lines at this stage in the occupation of Japan. On the other hand, though we doubt whether a good case has been made for action at this time, we do not intend to oppose a proposal of this character, if it is the view of the majority of the com that a modified policy is required.

"In the discussions in the Working Committee we may have a nr of suggestions to put fwd. One of them, to which we attach importance, relates to the procedure in the case of a capital charge being preferred against a UN national. Another pt which we think needs careful consideration is the ques of the acces to the accused of consuls. These, however, are matters which can be more properly dealt with in the Working Committee, and all that I wish to do here is to suggest that there are aspects of FEC-371 which need careful and expert study." Part 2. Philippine statement.

"The conferring upon Japanese courts jurisdiction over nationals of the members of the UN as envisaged in document FEC-371 is considered by the Philippine Govt as opening another way leading toward the assumption by Japan of full international juridical status. It has been the view of my govt that Japan should not acquire a semblance of international personality before a treaty is signed ending the last World War.

"In the status of an occupied enemy territory, nationals mf the UN members, especially those of the Allied Powers, should not be placed under jurisdiction of the Japanese Govt. Such jurisdiction should be exercised directly by the SCAP and should not be delegated to any branch of the Japanese Govt. We share the Chinese view that the present Far East Com Policy decision on the exercise of criminal and civil jurisdiction of nationals of members of the UN (FEC-038/1) reasonably meets the needs of the present situation in Japan.

"In view of the foregoing, Mr Chairman, my delegation registers strong opposition to the proposed policy decision."

New York Times, AP Tokyo 18 Apr: Emperor Hirohito made his 10th semi-annual call on Gen MacArthur today. The subj of their talk was not disclosed.

Seattle Times Editorial 10 Apr: Russia has taken a new tack in the cold war. She is tempting Japan for good will toward Communist China by offering to hand back the Kurile Islands. Giving them to Russia in the first place was a tactical error of the first order. Gen MacArthur can offset these blandishments now. But after a peace treaty is signed, what then?

Spokane Wash Chronicle Editorial 10 Apr: The Russian attempt to make Communist converts of Japanese held by the Soviet as war prisoners appears to have boomeranged. The Japanese don't like the Communist doctrines and according to reports fr Tokyo they are saying so. It is altogether possible that Gen MacArthur's handling of the Japanese people has been responsible for the favorable attitude there....

it by legalized birth control on a more ambitious scale than any other nation has attempted for a long time, if ever....

Philadelphia Inquirer Columnist Ivan H Peterman 20 Apr:... Our mistake since the second war has been to disport like a fat goose, instead of the American eagle. We've been well plucked while laying golden eggs that hatch no security or recognition....only in a place like Japan, where MacArthur shrewdly decided to get along without "Statesmen" and declined to invite Russians into the postwar management, have we had any measure of success....Japan respects the USA because MacArthur was one of the few left in charge who understood the people he dealt with. Our country owes him plenty, but there are those who miss no opportunity to snipe and belittle because he blocked their all Red designs....

Wash Post reporter Marshall Andrews, Wash 9 Apr: Living conditions rivaling the filthiest city slums face the families of American servicemen ordered to duty overseas. . . . hundreds of servicemen and their wives and children are living . . . in abandoned chicken coops, in delapidated trailers, in ancient tents. These poor substitutes are often far from toilets and water facilities, which is of such great importance in such places as Alaska and Newfoundland. For these hotels . . . servicemen have to pay rents which would get them decent modern apartments in the United States . . . the Joint Chiefs of Staff returned from Alaska in 1949 with stories and pictures of the squalid conditions in which young Americans were being forced to live. Again this year the Joint Chiefs told of indescribable conditions on Okinawa. Things are but little better in Japan, on Guam and at other outlying bases and even on colorful Hawaii, now anything but a paradise of the Pacific for many service families ordered there for duty. . . . while . . . the military establishment must shoulder some of the blame, by far the major share belongs to Congress, which has been almost criminally slow to appropriate funds for military housing. . . .

Washington Times Herald, UP Tokyo 5 Apr: Gen MacArthur has spent the past 3 evenings personally supervising some unusual type of top secret war games in the Far East, an aide indicated today. The precise exercise involved were not known, but they have been important enough to make MacArthur change his schedule quite outside his regular habit. For the past 3 consecutive nights MacArthurs 5 starred automobile has been parked behind the barbed wire guarding a big concrete building, believed to be the Army's Communications Center in Japan.....MacArthurs aide, Col Lawrence Bunker, said MacArthur was participating in "war games." Other official sources said they could not talk about MacArthurs movements.

The man he succeeds, Assistant Secy W Walton Butterworth . . . At least he will do no harm cooling his heels in the General's outer office. . . .

Washington Times Herald reporter Ruth Montgomery, 5 Apr: Sen Malone of Nevada charged yesterday that Gen MacArthur had to come to the rescue of Chinese nationalists with 120,000 barrels of aviation gasoline from his own short supplies because Michael Lee and other high Commerce Dept officials "deliberately delayed" the shipments authorized in 48 by Congress. . . .

New York Daily Mirror Editorial 5 Apr: Owen Lattimore, the State Depts expert on the Far East, released his famous memorandum upon the proddings of Senator McCarthy and in a fit of great anger. . . Actually as one reads this memorandum it is evident that this is the plan that was followed by the State Dept and it produced disaster. . . . No matter how anyone analyzes Lattimore's program it calls for giving Soviet Russia a free hand in Asia.

1. He wants us to get rid of Chiang Kai Shek.
2. He wants us to sit tight and do nothing about the Communists in China . . .
3. His program for Japan, mean only one thing-pull out Gen Douglas MacArthur. . . . what we need to do is hold the Japan Okinawa Philippines Line in our own nationalist interest. Lattimore ignores that. . . .

Re Part 3, presume Japan would purch from Chile, England, Canada, Austria through trade agreements and substantially all nitrogen would be purchd for goods rather than dollars. Is this correct? If partial dollar payments required could you estimate percentage of dollar pmts against total value of nitrogen thus purchd?

Fifth country in msg as recd is East Germany. Presume this should have been recd as West Germany.

If DA correct in believing your purchs will be made through trade agreements presume Ltr of Credit mentioned Part 3 would run to SCAP as beneficiary and not to countries mentioned. Similarly re ltr contract SCAP would be party.

Re Part 4, Para A reports indigenous production nitrogen (N) 382,000, and B reports import rqmts for domestic consumption nitrogen (N) 0. Assume these figures were correctly recd and reflect a forecast reduction in nitrogen use for domestic purposes.

1. Re DA-6 cited TELECONFERENCE, informal opinion from GAO not sought, since facts stated in first three sentences of DA-6 preclude favorable reply. This confirmed by legal advisor to Army Comptroller.

2. Projects may be adjusted to insure that participants receive same amounts of money. There is no reason to discontinue advance payment of $360 to National Leaders. However, it must be remembered that during FY 50 all dollars given to National Leaders in Japan are advance payments and must be recovered.

3. Public Law 327, 81st Congress, authorized personal allowances not to exceed $10 per day and travel expenses not to exceed those authorized for like United States military or civilian personnel. The maximum travel expense allowance is $9 per day.

4. Under this authority three methods are suggested whereby you may continue to make advance payments of $360 to National Leaders:

A. Authorize sufficient travel expense allowance in each order to provide for and advance payment of $210, leaving $150 as an advance against the personal allowance.

B. Allow each leader to accrue personal allowances during ocean voyage to and from US, thereby providing for advance payment of $210. No travel expense allowance would be authorized.

In cases where travel has not started, any one of the three methods may be used. Except in special instances the second method appears to be preferable.

7. Under present authorization, contracts are not required for this program, and it is suggested they be discontinued at earliest opportunity. It is noted that your present contracts limit accural of allowances in the United States to a specified number of days. Where stay is less than the specified period, the individual would draw allowances for the time spent in the US, less the advance against his perosnal allowance. However, when individual must stay in US longer than period specified, no provision is made for accrual of allowances. A case in point is Issac Koga, Project 34, now in San Francisco without funds; period of stay ended 30 Mar and he is due to depart 4 Apr. The provision in the contract concerning the $210 is illegal since it provides these funds on a gratuitous basis.

8. Your request for funds needed based on additional requirements indicated above will be favorably considered here.

taken by SCAP to grant parole to Japanese war criminals. According to a United Press news dispatch from Tokyo dtd Mar 7, SCAP announced on that date the establishment of a 'three man Occupation Parole Board' for the purpose of considering parole to Japanese war criminals. So far I am not aware of any info from official sources to verify that news story. Since the meeting out of stern justice is a matter of importance and has been under-taken as a joint responsibility of the Allied Powers, I have a few queries to make on behalf of my govt. I wish to know, in the first place, the composition and power of the 'Three man Occupation Parole Board'; secondly, its relation to the Allied Council in Japan and the representatives in Japan of the other powers members of the Far Eastern Com; thirdly, whether the Japanese war criminals to be considered for parole include those who were tried and convicted by the International Mil Tribunal for the Far East; and if so, finally, the legal basis on which SCAP took that action. Your early reply to these questions will be greatly appreciated."

Part 3. SCAP Oir Nbr 5 dtd 7 Mar was circulated in reply to Philippine inquiry of previous meeting for info regarding release of war criminals in Japan. Re Chinese statement State believes Chinese Delegate may eventually raise ques violation Para 5 B of FEC policy decision of 3 Apr 46 reapprehension trial and punishment of war criminals in the Far East. "In addition to above mentioned ECA orders of dollars 28.7 million and that of dollars 4.5 million which Rusi has ventured on own account Djuanda thinks fol constitutes bare minimum: 90 million meters textiles should be ordered fr Japan immediately and 60 million more in June or total 150 million meters worth dollars 38 million to which should added 2,000 tons of yarn at dollars 3 million or total dollars 41 million. In addition would seek 40 million meters textiles from US at once and 40 million from other countries in June or total 80 million at dollars 20 million.

"Program for 1950 set forth preceding para thus involves textiles totalling dollars 91.2 million plus dollars 3 million for yarn. Djuanda believes can manage on about this total for textiles. Estimates raw cotton needs for 1950 at dollars 4 millions and total yarn at dollars 21 million. Said purchase most of 80 million meters from US and other countries could be switched to Japan if production and credit facilities ample.

"Djuanda said obliged calculate very conservatively on amount consumer goods can be ordered at own expense until observed to what extent exports will be revived by recent monetary measures. Djuanda thinks should concentrate much as possible on capital imports that will help restore economic productivity of country. Considers textiles, however, most essential consumer item and feels must take immediate steps insure continued import flow thereof.

"Indonesians willing their trade delegation discuss possibilities at Tokyo around middle Apr. Djuanda fears, however, this parliament would not approve seeking credit fr a Japanese Government. I have not attempted explanation of credit arrangement that agriculture and SCAP might consummate, but should like to see it of such character that it could be identified and explained as credit of American origin with repayment to be made accordingly. Do not favor further grants to Rusi unless may be some distribution sea countries of unused ECA funds originally intended for China or some new funds of this type becoming available without necessity Rusi case having to be taken separately to Congress. Considering exporting potentiality of borrower as well as its importance as textile market and facing fact that US has vital interest in economic viability and political stability of this new state, believe risk of good sized 3 or 4-year credit should be taken. Might be broken into 2 components; 1 for purchases on Japanese market and other on US with effort thus to channel current Indonesian needs."

Washington Post, AP 29 March: Strong pressure is building up inside the Truman administration for an early peace treaty with Japan

The pressures which have been building up may force a decision soon between those who want an early treaty-a group principally in the State Department-and those who belive the treaty project.should be shelved to prolong indefinitely the present American control over Japan's future and its military position in the Western Pacific. This latter view is held mainly by military officials whom Army Undersecretary Tracy Voorhees has been the leader and advocate, . . .

Washington Star, Reporter John Giles, 29 March: Admiral Forrest Sherman whose 20 months in the Mediterranean qualified him as an expert in the Cold War, shows signs of employing similar tactics in the Far East to back up administration attempts to bolster opposition to Communist inroads.

For the Admiral, now Chief of Naval Operations, knows what an impression it makes on the natives-and the Communists-simply to put 8 planes in the air at once, or to anchor fleet units at strategic ports. . . .

New York Times, Reporter B K Thorne, 30 March: Scores of the Air Force's finest fighter pilots met here today to fly in the Armed Services first publicly viewed aerial gunnery meet. . . . Colonel Joe Mason, Commanding Officer of the Las Vegas Air Force Base, who spent a year preparing for the meet, when briefing the participating pilots pointed out that they would fly down close to the ground while traveling 500 to 600 miles an hour. . . .

New York Times, 24 March: A month ago the Chinese Communist radio was berating the United States because its officials, formally recalled, had not left China. "If they want to go, why don't they get out?" was the tenor of the broadcast.

Now the Americans are trying desperately to get out and the same Chinese Communists are making it impossible for them to do so. One action after another has prevented the promised and arranged departures. In this tangle of crossed actions and obscured motives it is difficult to see rational patterns as we know them. Some of the frictions, delays, stupidities and contradictions doubtless arise from sheer ineptitude on the part of local Communist regimes. . . .

Dallas News, 24 March: Nearly 5 years after the shooting ended, American taxpayers still shell out $600,000,000 a year for our military occupation of Japan. Most of the nations which were at war with Japan have indicated willingness to sign a peace treaty. But the big allies-America, Russia and Britain-still hold off. This is not because anyone thinks Japan is not yet ready for a treaty. It is because our Government and that of Russia cannot agree on the terms of a treaty. . . .

Institute of International Education is concerned about placement of the large number of Japanese graduate students whose applications were included among those recently submitted by your headquarters. Placement of these students in such universities as Princeton, Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Michigan, Chicago and others in high cost of living areas, would best serve their scholastic interest. It is the experience of such institutions however that students cannot maintain themselves on the $90.00 a month allowance authorized. For example, University of Michigan has found it necessary to advance in excess of $175,000.00 to foreign students who are without sufficient funds to meet their maintenance requirements. Therefore, institutions in this category are in increasing numbers refusing to admit students unless maintenance funds in amounts in excess of the $90.00 are available. It is not considered advisable that the amount for maintenance be increased.

The Institute in making arrangement with the Educational Institution will make it clear that both the student and SCAP understand that the particular specialty of the student is not the primary consideration in selecting a school. In the opinion of the Institute this will result in a reduced number of scholarships but will tend to avoid misunderstanding and dissatisfaction on the part of both the student and school authorities which would otherwise result. The Institute urges that the student be advised of the reasons for his placement in institutions other than those of his choice or best scholastic interest and in those cases where such placement is not entirely satisfactory to the student, the application be withdrawn.

The Institute requests that consideration be given to a greater percentage of undergraduate students in future selections. Undergraduate students can be much more readily placed in educational institutions in low cost areas.

Your comment and advice requested.

Erroneous charges of eastbound shipboard subsistence of Japanese leaders and students to FEC allotment apparently were due to misunderstanding concerning statement in orders that all expenses are chargeable to cited allotment. For example, Major Aylesworth, at SFFO, recently was unable to get ship purser to accept money from Japanese. Suggest future orders specify that shipboard subsistence will be paid by individual.

Sponsors have been requested to notify 63 national leaders, now in US on Letter Order 10-12, who owe $16 for shipboard subsistence, to pay Aylesworth on return to west coast and to reserve comparable amount for return subsistence. 14 students on Letter Order 7-7 being asked to send $19.50 to Aylesworth. Radio Commentator Drew Pearson, ABC 26 March: Little Rock exclusive-another Son of Arkansas will soon join the cabinet, Frank Pace, as Secretary of the Army. . . . One of the worst boners of the Cold War was made by the AF last week. Information sent to Congress supposed to be Top Secret, tipped off the Russians regarding new bases in Alaska. Secret gasoline depots and a radio hookup in Alaska to eavesdrop on battle waters inside Russia 2,000 miles away. All this became officially public by mistake. The two officers blamed by the Air Force for the Leak are Col C J Skinner and Gen Colby Myers. . . .

Gromyko and Acheson. . . .Shanghai-The refusal of Red China to allow 2,000 Americans to leave has ignited the gravest international crisis. Some of our top officials favor using the United States Fleet to bring them out. . . .

Christian Science Monitor Correspondent Gordon Walker, Tokyo 17 March: A major step forward in Japans economic recovery is expected to result from a recent directive of the Supreme Commander, Allied Powers, permitting return of Japanese Ocean Shipping to International Sea Lanes. . . . Significant political and economic obstacles however face Japanese shipbuilders and owners under the new system. . . . and current newspaper editorials here take note of the fact that private shipping companies in both the United States and Great Britian have voiced strong opposition to the recovery of Japans shipping business. One of the solutions which the Japanese now are considering is charter of foreign vessels and establishment of Joint Japanese American private shipping firms.

Fol statement made by Chinese Delegate at 187th Meeting of FEC, 16 Mar:

"Mr Chairman;

"I have a few obsns to make on the paper FEC-371. While I am still without instructions from my Govt on this subj, I believe it will serve some purpose if I state at this stage the broad conclusions that my delegation has arrived at as a result of a preliminary study of the paper.

"My delegation regrets to say that the proposed policy decision has given rise to no small misgivings on our part. In our view the paper seeks to restore to Japan an undue measure of sovereignty, which seems to be incompatible with her status pending the conclusion of a peace treaty and may, if adopted, constitute a departure from the principles that underlie the occupation. Moreover, it would supercede an existing FEC policy decision, namely that of 15 Aug 46, entitled 'Exercise of Criminal and Civil Juris over Nationals of Members of the United Nations'-a policy decision which in our opinion has reasonably met the needs of the present sit in Japan.

"My delegation finds an added reason for concern on acct of possible effects which the proposed transfer of juris may have on the large nbr of Chinese Nationals in Japan.

"Mr Chairman, we feel therefore that the FEC should have a gen discussion on the principles embodied in the proposed policy before referring it to the Working Committee."

New York Times Correspondent Lindesay Parrott, Tokyo 8 Mar: Some Japanese, particularly in intellectual circles, have begun to express increasing worry over proposals fr the US for the partical rearmament of Japan and the maintenance here of US Military and Naval bases after a peace treaty is signed. . . The most recent public expression of this view has been made by the Tokyo Newspaper Jiji, one of the smaller dailies which never has been suspected of leftist connections. While Jiji did not touch the problem of bases, it did take a strong stand on statements made in the US by Lt Gen Robert L Eichelberger former Comdr of the Occupation Ground Forces here who long has held that a rearmed Japan would constitute a valuable US Ally in the Pacific. On the contrary, Jiji said Japanese rearmament would be "suicide." . . .

Radio Commentator Ray Henle, NBC 13 Mar: Tokyo-The Army Medical Corps has created some headaches for itself by giving special treatment to Japanese injured when we dropped some atomic bombs on Japan during the war. The Army doctors see to it that those Japanese war casualties get medical care and enough to eat and a place to live; while other Japanese not victims of our Atomic Bombs are catching on. They are claiming everything fr colds to measles as the result of the Atomic blast and they are insisting that they be put on the Medical Corps gravy train.

Washington Star, Tokyo 10 Mar: The Japanese think Americans are the luckiest people in the world. . . . Their admiration for American industrial products is unfounded. Generally speaking and this can be only an impression-the Japanese like Americans. They like the American GI in-exceptions noted. But they also know that all Americans are not like the GI they meet. And they recognize the difference between the combat soldier who entered Japan and the peace time soldier who is here today. . .

Washington Post correspondent Hessell Tiltman, Tokyo 12 Mar: Occupied Japan is today a show window demonstrating that under favorable conditions, President Trumans Point 4 works. The modernization of Japan and the full exploration and development of its slim natural resources are being hustled along in a fashion which makes this the most spectacular chapter of the occupation. . . . Apart fr Gen MacArthur himself the 2 men most responsible for the MacArthur restoration in Japan are Brig Gen Crawford F Sams, Public Health Expert who as Chief of SCAPs Public Health and Welfare Section is doing one of the biggest jobs in Military Medical and Welfare Administration ever tackled and Lt Col Hubert Gregory Schenck who throughout the occupation has headed the Natural Resources Section at MacArthurs Hqs. . . .
