EDUCATIONAL.

Classical, Commercial and Mathematical Academy.

MADAME POTIER, Widow Lucas and Sister are well known, and have this winter opened their Academy for the reception of young ladies.

She will teach the Classical languages, as well as all their branches, Mousseing, Cutting, Fancy, Embroidering, and the making up of garments, so that all young ladies leaving our establishment will have a trade.

The classes will be opened about the 1st of September, and will be held every day from 9 till 4 o'clock, P. M.

N. B.—Any young lady, although not being one of the pupils of the grand establishment, may be admitted to the classes by paying $5 per month.
dec29 MR. POTIER.

St. Louis Institute for Young Ladies.

Conducted by Mrs. Dorsey.

No. 113 Dryades street.

A VERY desirable, well-located dwelling, in the centre of a garden; in summer residence on the above street, at reasonable, accessible sources of studies, and for relaxation, recommend this establishment; maternal care—with first rate advantages of the above establishment, are respectfully invited by many young ladies therein educated. Parents wishing to place their children in a good institution are respectfully referred to the parents of Mrs. Dorsey's pupils.

For terms and prospectus of the institute, apply at the

G. SOYER'S INSTITUTION,
No. 148 Conti street, between Dauphin and Burgundy streets.

MRS. G. SOYER, founder of this establishment, the oldest in New Orleans, avails herself of this opportunity to make a few remarks on the usefulness of parents. This institution is conducted in a large and airy building, occupying a fine central position, being well ventilated, and in other respects eminently unobjectionable. The range of studies which occupy the attention of the pupils extends over all the branches of learning which are necessary as a useful, polite and finishing education, from primary instruction to the more abstruse subjects, which are especially the province of a collegiate course. The elementary studies are attended to with more than ordinary care, considering the importance of a solid, one taken as a groundwork for other branches of instruction. Discipline, which must at first be exercised from authorities only, has been of good advantage, is enforced with success. It is calculated from day to the age and character of the students, and kindness is given them on numerous days of duty and good behavior.

DAY AND BOARDING SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES,

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF

MADAME CHARPAUX.

At the corner of Bayou and Claiborne streets.

THIS SEMINARY, whose existence dates seventeen years back, has, in a manner, become the property, beyond all envii, the capacity of those who have charge of it.

Determined to merit the confidence of parents, Mad. Charpaux will spare no pains to make her seminary equal to the best institutions of New Orleans. The location, and in order to do this, she has employed the ablest teachers.

Madame Charpaux has purchased 4 a large and airy edifice on one of the highest pieces of ground in the city and the basket to connect the benefit of a few pupils she has had spacious, elevated apartments built on purpose for school and sleeping rooms, through which there will be a constant circulation of air from many windows.

Great attention will be paid to the improvement of scholars in the English branches, as well as in the American ladies of acknowledged capacity, as teachers, will successively reside in the institution.

As religion should be the foundation of all sound education, it will be carefully attended to by Madame Charpaux, who will conduct to church and prahmas, if catechisms all her young ladies who may have their first communion to make.

Music having always been a most desirable branch of the education of young ladies, Mr. Charpaux, from his long musical connection of the late Mr. Charpaux with the Orleans Theatre, will devote all his time to teaching music. All the Scholars, besides their regular lessons, will practice daily under the eye of the professor. The study of the scales will precede the performance of pieces. The professor will put the pupils through the execution of the regular keys and scales, and this will be attended with no extra charge.

In order to facilitate lessons and to avoid the loss of time, Madame Charpaux, in order to complete the structure of her school, has had a large room erected in the yard, where will be taught all the useful and ornamental branches of needle-work.

During the summer the classes will open at 8 o'clock, and close at 2. Re-open at 4 and close at 6 o'clock, P. M. In winter, they will open at 9, and close at 3. Re-open at 4½ and close at 6 o'clock, P. M.

DAY AND BOARDING SCHOOL.

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF

MADAME PARENT,

Corner of Rampart and Du Maine streets.

THIS Institution occupies one of the best locations in the city with respect to health and many other important advantages. The building is magnificent, the apartments are vast and well ventilated, and are particularly well adapted for the purpose.

There are four fine ornamental with dressing cabinets, also spacious galleries all round the house; a splendid terrace commanding a most beautiful view of the city as far as the lake.

The best means advantages are offered to parents, as to the moral and intellectual cultivation of the minds of their daughters.

Madame Parent is always present with her pupils, she teaches during the hours of class, and superintends the different divisions. There is an ample number of the best professors employed, besides those residing in the institution.

Every branch of a solid and refined education is taught in both languages, all accomplishments, such as Drawing, Painting, Dancing, and Embroidery, &c. The Musical department is conducted by the most eminent professors and artists in the city.

It would be superfluous to say anything respecting the special attention that is paid to the English, by which Madame Parent's ladies have acquired the reputation that she can give to the public to that the French young ladies who have been educated by her establishment, if as fluently as their mother tongue.

Mr. Cortes, the celebrated musician, will superintend the vocal department.

For terms, apply at the institution, where prospectuses can be obtained. ad 1y
