BORDEN'S PLAN IS DISCUSSED

Periodic Disarmament Conferences Are Suggested

Memorandum Approved by Australian Delegates

Limitation of Submarine Tonnage Considered

(By Lukin Johnston, Special Correspondent of The Times)

Washington, Nov. 16.—Those who attended the second open session of the conference on the limitation of armaments expecting the thrill of the first to be repeated were disappointed, for apart from the more or less formal speeches of Balfour, Prince Tokugawa, Briand and Carlo Schanzer of Italy, agreeing in principle with the naval proposals, there was little business transacted in the open.

There was less formality about the proceedings, naval and military officers appearing in more workmanlike aspect of the gathering. The British contention with regard to lessening the amount of submarine tonnage to be allowed meets with a good deal of sympathy from the Americans. There was less contention of course, might be that their long coastlines require larger submarine defences, but Britain can well resist that as an island she is absolutely dependent on shipping for her bare food supply.

Plainly Stated.

From a well informed quarter it is learned that Britain favors limitation of submarine tonnage to 50,000 tons. Balfour put this point strongly and the argument went home. Despite press statements to the contrary, one American Senator who is close to the administration told me that he anticipated no obstinate attitude on this question from the United States.

Japan is expected to endeavor to have her maximum of shipping at the end of ten years increased. These matters, however, are details and the optimistic feeling which prevailed on Saturday has in no wise abated.

BORDEN'S PLAN

The memorandum of Sir Robert Borden, concurred in by Senator Pearce of Australia, urging that continuity in the policy of limitation be secured by further conferences to be convened some time before the expiration of whatever period is fixed for the naval holiday, was considered of sufficient importance according to the British delegate, to be circulated among all the British party and their advisers.

The proposal with regard to shipbuilding yards would of course have no effect on Canadian yards engaged in constructing merchant vessels. Mr. Balfour emphasized the need of some modification of the naval holiday plan in order that yards might not entirely be put out of business. The opinion prevailed that some reduction in the maximum size of small yards may be maintained capable of building perhaps one ship per year.

JAPAN

Japan, it is said, is not pleased at the idea of having to construct on and scrap her new super battleship, the Mitsu, which was to be launched next month. The vessel is of approximately 40,000 tons. That about the maximum size discussed in the proposals of Mr. Hughes.

TO HASTEN WORK

The general prediction was that the task of drafting a method of procedure would be entrusted to a smaller committee. It was expected that all nine of the nations represented here would have membership on the committee and would unite their influence to hasten the committee work so that the Far Eastern discussions might take rank as soon as possible, abreast of the more advanced negotiations on limitation of armaments.

While the delegates were beginning their actual consideration of the second big topic on the conference program, the navy experts committee of the "Big Five" powers held its first meeting and compared impressions on details of the American reduction plan accepted yesterday in spirit and principle by all the powers.

The session, however, recessed at 1 o'clock for luncheon, delegates being guests of Secretary Hughes at a luncheon served in the building.

Await Statements by Delegates in United States

Rome, Nov. 16.—The newspapers continue their comments on the developments at the Washington conference. Several prominent men said they strongly favored limitation of armaments, but would leave any expressions on the American proposals to the Italian delegation in Washington.

"It remains to be seen just what point the dual name Anglo-American, which is the key to the conference, will manifest itself," said Giornale d'Italia, "and to what limits Japan will attempt to react against the delegates who would destroy her hidden ocean hegemony."

Delegates Framing Order of Procedure For Pacific Debate

Washington Conference Met As Committee of Whole This Forenoon and Adjourned to Meet Later In Day and Discuss Details.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Problems of the Far East took the centre of attention at the disarmament conference to-day while the plan for reduction of naval establishments was passing through a period of technical examination at the hands of a committee of experts.

For the first time the delegations of the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France, Italy, China, Belgium, Portugal and The Netherlands, acting as a committee of the whole on the Far Eastern questions, assembled for preliminary discussion and to lay plans for procedure.

When luncheon recess was taken at 1 p.m. no programme for the consideration of Far Eastern questions had been agreed upon, but the heads of the delegations of the nine powers forming the committee were to meet later to-day to frame an order of procedure.

There was no response from the Japanese after China had presented her view of the situation, and although some general discussion developed all of the other nations represented reserved a detailed statement of their opinions for later presentation.

Indications were that the first attempt to get down to cases would be made in the meeting of the heads of delegations later in the day.

Maintenance of the open door in China was said to have been urged vigorously by Chinese Minister Sze, who also spoke strongly for abolition of secret treaties affecting China and urged that hereafter all such treaties between the powers be made public.

URGENT PACIFIC UNDERSTANDING

Australian Papers Support Washington Conference

Fair Conditions Among Nations Are Desired

Melbourne, Nov. 15.—Argument for the reaching of an understanding in the Pacific as indispensable in connection with drastic naval limitations is advanced by The Sydney Evening News in commenting on the Washington conference proposals. The United States has taken a strongly popular line, the newspaper says, and the world will applaud the proposition, "but the limitation of armaments is worthless and might even be inadvisable unless the great sea powers make a covenant to observe international equity in the Pacific."

BANDIT GARDNER IS RECAPTURED

Escaped Washington Convict Taken in Arizona

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 16.—The bandit captured here last night at the Santa Fe station following an attempt to rob a mail car was identified by fingerprints to-day as Roy Gardner, who recently escaped from the Federal penitentiary at McNeil Island, Washington. According to the police, Gardner admitted his identity.

Police this morning said that while there was nothing of unusual value in the mail on board the car attacked last night, a local bank planned to ship $15,000 from here to-day, and they believe the would-be robber had been "tipped off" to the shipment, but got the wrong train.

SAT ON HIM

Herman Interled, of Phoenix, clerk in charge of the car, said he was not looking when the would-be robber got into the car, and that the first he knew of the other's presence was when he felt a gun pressed against his body and turned around to find a masked man holding a revolver against him. Interled, who is six feet two inches tall and weighs about 215 pounds, struck his assailant, took his gun away from him, and then sat on him while he waited for officers to respond to his distress. Then the bandit was taken to the county jail, where he said he was "R. F. Nelson, of Chicago."

AT HOTEL

Gardner told the police officers he had lived here for three weeks, staying at a hotel and driving about the streets of the city in his automobile.

Gardner confirmed the police theory that he intended to try to get the $15,000 he believed was to be shipped, but he denied that he had any accomplices.

Usurpation or the return to recognition of the people's right to self-government was the great issue to-day.

High Priest.
He characterized Premier Meighen as the high priest of protection in Canada to-day, who held there must be now lowering of the tariff.
In Mr. Crear's view, the time had come when protection no longer met the vital needs of Canada. There had never been a greater "imposture" than the argument that protection found home markets for the Canadian farmer.

YUKON PIONEERS CALLED BY DEATH

Dawson, Nov. 15.—Death has claimed many pioneers of the Yukon this year. Four old timers of this district have died within a week. They were Adam MacKay, Wm. H. Hindson, Stephen Remity and Daniel McLeod. Added to the four Yukoners who succumbed to pneumonia in the Mayo camp last week, they make eight well-known figures of pioneer life to join the majority in a week. The Dawson men died from various natural causes. The epidemic of pneumonia which ravaged Mayo has subsided. A few people are still suffering from the complaint, but are recovering. This news was brought in to-day by William Anstett, who made the trip from Mayo overland in eight days by team. He says that the telephone line has been completed, connecting Mayo City with Keno Hill, a distance of forty-one miles. Hauling of silver ore from Keno to Mayo Landing is well under way. It is expected that 5,000 or 6,000 tons of ore will await the first steamers next Spring. Headaches from Slight Colds Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets soon relieve headaches caused from colds.—A tonic, laxative and germ destroyer. ### CRUDE OIL SUPPLY IS NATION'S NEED, DECLARES EXPERT

E. E. Estlin Finds Conditions Good in Province

Before 200 people in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last evening E. E. Estlin, former Commissioner of Natural Gas and Petroleum under the Bureau of Mines, Ontario, delivered a stirring appeal for interest in the efforts of the pioneers of the oil fields in this Province.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the B. C. United Oil Company, with Dr. H. J. Adams in the chair. G. F. Gibson, of Vancouver, was to have presided, but was unable to attend.

In opening the meeting Dr. Adams stated that somewhere in the neighborhood of ten thousand people in this Province are depending on the various British Columbia oil companies, and that the purpose of the meeting was to dispel some of the doubt and apathy that prevailed on the question of oil in British Columbia. The speaker of the evening, concluded the chairman, was managing director of a company which held 18,000 acres at Abbotsford, in what is considered to be one of the best of oil districts.

"I propose to deal with the question from a national and provincial standpoint," stated Mr. Estlin. "As you know I was Commissioner of Natural Gas and Petroleum, and it was my duty to make a survey of the natural gas fields of Ontario in connection with the industrial use of the gas there."

Mr. Estlin described his experiences in Ontario, and said: "I found that in thirteen years one well alone yielded 153 billions of cubic feet of natural gas, equivalent to between seven or eight million tons of coal; in British thermal units. The people were paying for this at the rate of twenty cents per cubic foot. Had they been obliged to use coal, say at $7 a ton, think what they would have paid."

"In that one district alone natural gas saved the people one million dollars a year for thirteen years. That is what a natural gas field means to a district. "In regard to the oil, I had the pleasure of meeting the oil men, and in eventually increasing the production, and had I stayed the increase would have been greater this year."

Nation's Production. "Canada to-day is producing 250,000 barrels of oil a day, she is one time produced more, and is now gaining a little I think. Last year we imported from the United States 12,000,000 barrels, not counting petroleum, at a cost of $48,000,000, and that is the aspect of the case to-day. That on the fact of it is so serious that it should make us stop and think," said Mr. Estlin.

"In Vancouver now twelve-inch pipes are running oil down into boats along the Pacific. Our engines are climbing the Rockies, even our factories' wheels are being turned by American oil, while the oil Canada produces, 250,000 barrels, would not run 154 cars. It is a very serious matter."

"I could see that it was absolutely crucial that Canada should have a crude petroleum supply of her own," said Mr. Estlin in explaining why he came to associate himself with development on the coast.

A Critical Situation. "If any international trouble should develop," said the speaker, "and the American supply of oil be cut off from us, our trains, boats and factories would come to a standstill in six hours. It is much the same with coal. Last year we sent to the United States $88,000,000 for coal, and yet coal is sticking out beneath our feet."

"No, we have come to the point where these conditions have started men's minds in a wave of search all over Canada. The search has spread to the west, over the Rockies, and there are about 150 different places in this Province and the Rockies now where oil is being sought."

"These searches are out to get oil—it must be got. I have had 500 companies under me, seen good methods and bad—I have seen the good prevail and the bad lose out, and with that idea in mind I came to this coast."

"We have conditions here particularly favorable for the formation of oil fields, and in a great many cases, too, we have the oil. I have taken it from the rocks myself. Therefore we have these points in our favor."

Methods. "We must have oil, and we are going to get it here on the coast. To the oil men the matter is one of the most respected in the industry. The wild cat man goes out to the wild districts, with money, energy and pluck and drills a well. He is a prince and a public benefactor. "If he gets production he benefits not only himself but the whole community. If he does not he is at least protecting others who would have tried there and failed too."

"Another man worth while is the man who first puts his money forward to start these schemes. We cannot go to the bank for money. Money to start those fields is drawn from a certain class, who are brave enough to put their little bit of money in the enterprise to make it win. These are the best of spirits too, and we have ten thousand of them in this Province. I have had to nurse every department of the field and I know what it means, they are going to win, they must win."

"Then we must not forget the driller, the man who fights with a bit of broken steel three-quarters of a mile down in the earth. "It is unfortunate that so many have grown to look down on oil. They think it is a game, but it is not; it is a business—a necessity, indeed. If oil is found in the Fraser Valley wonderful prosperity would spring into life and every line of business would be benefited. It would put life into the whole Province."

Oil There Undoubtedly. "I went out to see one of the wells in the valley, and I took samples, there and elsewhere, and there is no doubt we are going to have oil. In what quantity and at what depth I cannot say. It is not a good thing for a company to go too far afield for funds. "That is the situation exactly, and I want to impress on you the necessity of taking a little more interest in the matter. "Canada must have oil—and she is going to get it. We must stop sending our money out of the country. The whole of the country must be worked for other minerals too. The crying need of the moment is for business parliaments with business methods. At the close of his address the speaker was accorded a hearty ovation and asked a number of questions relative to the assets and mutual arrangements of the B. C. United Oil Company. Mayor Porter was an interested auditor of the address, while the Chamber of Commerce rooms were packed to the doors.

Could Not Eat

Constipation is caused by a torpid condition of the liver. Dosing with salts, castor oil, etc., to move the bowels, cannot afford more than temporary relief.

If you are to rid yourself of this ailment and the scores of annoying symptoms and diseases which come in its wake, it is necessary to get the liver right by such treatment as is suggested in this letter:

Mrs. Alvin Richards, R. R. No. 1, Seely's Bay, Ont., writes:

"For two years I was afflicted with indigestion, and in the morning when I got up my head was bad. I had a poor appetite, and just felt like eating certain foods. I used many different medicines as a laxative without benefit, and the doctor's medicine did not help me at all. Finally I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and found them better than anything I had ever tried. I can highly recommend them to anyone troubled with constipation or kidney troubles."

ALBERNI LIBERALS ELECT OFFICERS
Annual Meeting Held; W. P. Beaven Here

The annual meeting of the Alberni Liberal Association was held on Friday night, when there was a good attendance of members present. The treasurer presented the financial statement showing a small balance on hand, after all accounts had been paid for the year.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the various officers for their services during the past year, and the following were then elected to fill the various positions: Hon. president, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King; president, E. M. Whyte; vice-president, R. H. Milligan; secretary-treasurer, H. Hills; executive, Messrs. W. R. H. Prescott, J. Redford, W. A. Phillips, J. F. Bledsoe, D. H. McKenzie, A. J. Pines and T. Plaut.

The association decided that in view of there being no Liberal candidate in the field to take no part in the forthcoming Federal election, and left it to each individual member to act as he thought best.

The wedding of Miss M. J. Redford, more popularly known as Jennie, formerly of the Royal Bank of Canada staff in Port Alberni, took place at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Rochester, on Saturday at 8.30 a.m. to Laurence Partelow.

Both bride and groom are residents of Alberni, and after spending a short honeymoon in Vancouver will take up their residence on Johnston Street, Alberni. The congratulations of a large number of the residents of the district were extended to the happy young couple, who are both very popular. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. A. Bain, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

W. P. Beaven, assistant-engineer of the Public Works Department, left for Victoria this morning on business in connection with his department, and expects to return on Thursday.

Why School Children Should Wear Rubbers

There is very real danger of serious illness when the kiddies sit all day in school in wet shoes.

To allow the little ones to start out in the wet without rubbers of any kind is to court colds and sore throats.

The best is none too good for your children. Therefore see that they wear DOMINION RUBBERS.

Dominion Rubbers

and Economy, too, because on wet days children can wear their old shoes with rubbers and save their best shoes.

They mean longer wear, because dealers selling DOMINION RUBBERS can get styles and sizes to perfectly fit every shoe—and perfect fitting rubbers give 50% longer wear. Dominion Rubber Dealers will see that the children's feet are fitted with the right rubbers.

Don't ask for "A Pair of Rubbers," Say: "I Want Dominion Rubbers."

IN GOOD FAITH.
Commenting on the programme of naval armament reduction proposed by Secretary Hughes, our morning contemporary says: "In effect, and stripped of all its seeming sacrifice, what the American proposals amount to is simply this, that, after ten years the strength of the naval armament of the United States will be equal to that of Great Britain."

The implication of this and what follows is that the Hughes proposals are the outcroppings of a plot to enable the United States conveniently to develop a navy equal or superior in strength to the British navy. But it should be obvious that if the aim of the United States was to develop a navy equal or superior in size to that of Great Britain, not only would the Hughes proposal not have been made but there would have been no conference on armaments at Washington.

According to the present programmes of the two countries the United States in ten years would have a greater number of new capital ships than Great Britain, and in the light of the recent war it is recognized by all the admirals that the number of post-Jutland ships would mainly determine a country's naval power as far as ships are concerned.

This would leave Great Britain in a stronger relative position than she would be if existing conditions continued. Incidentally, it is only fair to recognize that the country which has made the proposal is in very much the best position to proceed with a big naval construction programme, her present debt being much less than that of any of the other Great Powers, while the total of her national wealth is greater than the combined wealth of the British Empire and Japan.

Viscount Grey of Falloden declares the failure of the Washington Conference would be a "disaster," and Mr. Lloyd George has likened the Conference to a "rainbow in the sky." They realize better than anybody else that the only outcome of a continuation of competition in armaments must be, in all probability, stark revolution and chaos, for most, if not all of the nations involved, nine-tenths of whom already are struggling under a debt which has reached the limit of endurance.

ments on a renewed scale were resumed?
The most vital need for the peace and vitality of the world, the revival of hope, encouragement, and consequent social and economic progress among the peoples of the earth, is the co-operation of the two English-speaking nations in a movement for the removal of the provocative agencies of war.

AN ALDERMANIC JOKE.
It would not be a compliment to the intelligence of the people of this city to dwell at length upon the proposal made by the City Council to ask the Dominion Government to investigate the conduct of business by the Provincial Administration.

It really should not be necessary to point out that the Dominion Government has no authority whatsoever over the administration of any Province; that the Provincial Government is supreme unto itself; that both Federal and Provincial Parliaments received their individual inviolable legislative jurisdiction from the Imperial Parliament, and therefore there is no body in this country competent to receive the Council's resolution.

Convinced that the people as a whole are fully informed on these matters it is only left for us to suggest that the Council request the Provincial Government to investigate the conduct of the nation's business by the Dominion Government and to explain why there is a deficit of three hundred million dollars this year at Ottawa.

Should this method of procedure not appeal to the wisdom of the Council some off-week in which the League of Nations would find time hanging on its hands might be chosen for such an inquiry as aldermen desire. And in order that such an august body should not suffer any sort of indignity by reason of the absence of an international aspect to the business it might call upon Mr. Austen Chamberlain and ask him to explain why he has been tapping the public purse in such large amounts.

INDUSTRIES.
It can be set down as a certainty that as long as the City Council wrangles over the terms that should be given to a new industry after one or more concerns have applied for concessions there is little likelihood that anything but negotiations will result.

HEALTHY STREETS.
It is argued that public health improves in the city of Victoria during what may be described as its rainy season.

tend need not exist—by declaring that rain cleanses the streets and swills away all the germs laden dust and refuse. Their suggested preventive of much of the abdominal flu which prevails nearly all the year round in a mild but irritating form is a nightly wash of the traffic areas by water from fire hydrants.

NOTE AND COMMENT
George Bernard Shaw has agreed with William Randolph Hearst to "express his soul" on the subject of the armaments conference in the publications of the latter. He could not have chosen a better medium for his wares; both Shaw and Hearst are discredited in the realms of reason and peaceful endeavor.

Ulster has been warned to be careful lest a too obstinate attitude might result in the whole Irish question being used as a tool of party faction in Great Britain. Now is the chance for both North and South to put their troubles behind them and Mr. Lloyd George wants to do what others have failed to do in the interests of all concerned.

In discussing disarmament proposals the morning paper says: "so long as Britain's main defence against aggression is founded on sea strength her peoples must uphold the hands of their governments in making certain that their interests are fully safeguarded." Yes, but the peoples' main concern in Great Britain is a public debt of something like forty billion dollars and a weight of taxation that is breaking their backs.

POLITICS
The Government We Deserve. Campaign "Chivalry." Who Made Times Hard?
Meighen's "Nervous" Oratory the Poor Politician.

After all, continual rushing from one part of the country to another in the heat and excitement of an election campaign is not the best thing in the world for putting sunshine into a man's life and public utterances. Directing a general election in Canada is an enormous task, The Edmonton Journal points out. Distances in this country are so great that just to cover them, with the haste that an all-Dominion campaign always calls for, is a strain upon a strong man's powers of endurance.

Mr. Meighen's style of oratory finds a vigorous champion in The Kitchener Record. "Mr. Meighen was at one time a school teacher and, everything considered, one would expect him to use lucid, chaste and nervous English," says The Record. "Indeed, the position in which he is placed would make almost anyone nervous."

"Surely the readers of the Hamilton paper must smile at the predicament of the Editor who finds the most important feature of the announcement of the country's chief statesman at a momentous time to be the excellent language in which he clothes his thoughts."

"A vote for Meighen is a vote for speedy return to more prosperous times." This is the assurance which is being hurled at Canadians from almost every billboard in the country and is being forced on the voters through all the other expensive publicity channels into which the Government is pouring its campaign fund.

MR. PRITCHARD'S CANDIDATURE
To the Editor.—Considering that your paper has so impartially reported my meetings in various parts of the Nanaimo constituency, I take this liberty of trespassing upon your space in the firm belief that it will readily be granted.

WHO ARE THEY, ANYWAY?
To the Editor.—The Union of Municipalities has spoken. Through their president, the Union has declared that the municipalities will not accept the financial proposals of the Government.

ALD. TODD'S REPLY.
To the Editor.—The Premier is reported as taking exception to remarks of mine, made in presenting a resolution to the City Council Monday evening, concerning Governmental extravagance.

ALD. TODD'S REPLY.
In speaking to the resolution, and in referring to a newspaper report of the recent Budget speech, the point I wished to make was that, in addition to the Government's enormous borrowings, the great increase in annual expenditure, was, in itself, evidence of extravagance.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY
Victoria Daily Times, November 16, 1921

Hon. J. I. Tarte, Minister of Public Works, and party, accompanied by Aulay Morrison, M. P., Mr. Kennedy, M. P., P. and Mr. Ketchen, M. P., left for up-river points to-day to inspect dyking improvements.

Several burglaries were perpetrated at various points in the city last night.
A deluge of rain has carried away a large part of the E. & N. Railway bridge across Niagara Canyon. The truss bridge across Sooke River also has been carried away.

Okanagan Valley, in order to save freight, etc. I called at the City Hall to find out what they could do, to sell or lease property belonging to the city. I received great encouragement from the Mayor and Industrial Committee.

Beaven requested the then Provincial Government to grant the personal property tax, but was curiously refused. Had the city then obtained it, taxation on land would have been lessened but probably extravagance would have soon wasted the money.

W. MARCHANT.

WHO WILL STICK THE LONGEST?

Bobby Rowe, Moose Johnson, Tommy Muldoon and Smokey Harris are trying to see who can stick longest in Coast hockey. They are originals.

"I'll Take Another Whirl" Says Bobby

Rowe, Seattle Defence Man, Signs Contract and Will Try to Stick Another Season in Coast Hockey—Muldoon Getting His Team in Shape

Seattle, Nov. 15.—Pacific Coast goal shooters, please note: Bobby Rowe signed up yesterday. The veteran of the Seattle "hockey" force put his name to a contract, thereby fooling the critics who thought Rowe was about ready for the shelf.

One by one the gaps in the line-up of the Seattle Metropolitans is being plugged. Manager Pete Muldoon let out another notch in his already satisfied smile over the situation, when Rowe signed. There was little fuss over the transaction. Rowe and Muldoon arrived at mutual satisfaction in short order.

Pilot Peter now has five players lined to the payroll for the E. C. H. A. campaign. Roy Riecky, Harry Holmes, Jack Walker and Gordon Fraser are the other four players who have already agreed to terms with the club.

Riecky and Fraser arrive. The gathering of Rowe within the fold was but one of three happenings of interest to hockey followers. The morning boat brought Roy Riecky, one of the Seattle acquisitions from the Big Five. To be correct one should say Mr. and Mrs. Riecky, because Roy and his wife will make Seattle their headquarters during the puck season. Few of the fans knew Riecky became a benedict some six months ago, thus removing another from the bachelor clan on the Met roster.

Take it a Little Easier. "I reckon I'll take another whirl at it this year," said Rowe as he lotted down his cognomen upon the dotted line. "I know I'm not quite as spry as I used to be, but I still think I'm good enough to fool a lot of these youngsters cutting their hockey teeth. I worked too hard last year at the start, but I figure to take it easy this season, and be able to hold up all the way."

And Pilot Pete was glad to have Rowe back. Bobby is no Goltath, nor is he just getting onto the ropes of the thrilling sport; but his old noodle and knowledge of the styles of the goal shooters of the league more than make up for his diminished stamina and speed. With a couple of usky utility men to spell the veteran when tired, the Met will be in much better shape than last year.

Briden Due Next Week. Archie Briden, the other recruit picked up from the prairies, was slated to leave Ontario for the Coast Monday, according to Muldoon. He should arrive in Seattle by the first of next week at the latest. Frank Foyson is still in Edmonton, but is expected to drift in before long. Jim Riley has been visiting his brother out on the prairie, but a big snow has hit that section, and Big Jim will likely pull his stakes and hit for Vancouver. Muldoon expects to be in communication with both soon.

The arena management announces the rink will be opened for skating Friday.

French Idol May Have Fought Last Fight; Bout Postponed

Georges Carpentier.

Dieppe, France, Nov. 15.—Georges Carpentier has asked an indefinite postponement of his fight with George Cook, scheduled to be held in London, December 9. The bout had been previously delayed a week at Carpentier's request.

The French fighter is reported to have broken down under his strenuous training routine and physicians say he is physically unfit to fight.

Carpentier took a terrific beating from Jack Dempsey in their bout at Jersey City last July. It was about the body that Georges suffered the greatest injury and for weeks after his return to France he was in pain. Reports were circulated then that he would never again be able to stand punishment in a ring. There were rumors that he would not return to the States for his bout with Tommy Gibbons for the light-heavyweight championship. However, Georges came out with the statement that he would take on Cook and immediately afterwards sail for New York.

French stars seem to have been trailed by misfortune on their visits to the States. Two great idols of the republic came to grief. Carpentier went out in the fourth round when Dempsey smote him and Suzanne Lenglen, the world's champion tennis player, took ill in the middle of a match with Mrs. Molla Mallory. Suzanne returned to France and the report has now been given out that she may have to lay aside her racquet for good as her bronchial tubes are affected.

If both Suzanne and Georges are forced to quit France will lose two of the most popular athletes that ever carried its colors.

HOPPE AND SCHAEFER WIN THEIR MATCHES

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Jake Schaefer, Jr., yesterday defeated George Sutton, both of Chicago, 400 to 350, in the second afternoon game of the world's 18.3 ball line billiard championship tournament. The match went seven innings.

Schaefer made a high run of 187 in the sixth inning and went out in the seventh with an unfinished run of 144. His average was 57-1-7. Sutton's high run was 148 and his average 37-1-7.

Willie Hoppe, world's "bank line" champion, defeated Roger Conti, of France, 499 to 388. The match went six innings.

Hoppe's high run was 175 and his average was 62-2-3. Conti's high run was 159 and his average 37-2-5.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Ora Morningstar of San Francisco, defeated Edward Horemans of Belgium in the annual 18.3 ball line billiard tournament yesterday. The score was 400 to 350. It was the Californian's first match of the tournament.

The coast man outclassed his opponent at all stages of the game. He was in good form. He ran 145 soon after the game started and added to the advantage as the match progressed.

Horemans ran 65 once, but missed several shots when it looked like he had a chance to catch the San Francisco man.

Jake Schaefer, Jr. defeated George Sutton, of Chicago, 400 to 350 in the second afternoon game. The match went seven innings. Schaefer made a high run of 187 in the sixth inning and went out in the seventh with an unfinished run of 144. His average was 57-1-7. Sutton's high run was 148 and his average 37-1-7.

GARRISON FOOTBALL

In a rather one-sided game of soccer played at Work Point on Monday the Departmental Corps trimmed the Machine Gunners to the tune of nine goals to two.

The Princess Pats are now leading the league with six points, whilst the Departmental Corps have four points. These teams meet to-morrow and a real battle is expected, with the Pats slightly the favorites, but should the Departmental Corps display the same form as Monday they should stop the fast-stepping Princess Pats.

The league standing to date is as follows:

P. P. C. L. I.	6	3	0	0	6
Departmental	3	2	1	0	4

TIJUANA ALL AGOG OVER RACING MEET

Eight Hundred Horses Will Participate in Meet Which Runs for 100 Days

Jake Schas, Dr. Corbett and Carrie Moore, Horses That Ran Here, to Perform

San Diego, Calif., Nov. 15.—When Tijuana throws open its gates to the racing public on Thanksgiving Day there will be some 600 thoroughbreds stabled at the Mexican plant in readiness to participate in the long meeting of the 100 or more days. This number of equines is alone a guarantee that the coming meeting is assured of success. However, the many bangtals here will be added to shipments from New Orleans.

Many horsemen have signified their intentions of first taking a short whirl at the Crescent City game and then journeying on to sunny California to finish out their winter racing. If such is the case there will be upwards of 800 runners munching hay at Coffroth's track by the first of the year. The meet opens on November 24.

The weekly programme of races which will fill usher in the sport here has been distributed among the horsemen by Racing Secretary Leon Wing, and with the distances and conditions of the races are now being pointed out to their respective horses for the coming events.

Jake Schas in Opener.

The opening handicap at one mile and seventy yards with a value of $1,000 attached to it promises to bring into action some of the best long distance runners of the West.

The statement should have been issued long ago and there is no reason why we should be kept waiting.

Other Business.

After the members had finished with the discussion of the financial statement it got down to its regular business and drew up the games for Saturday. The schedule will be as follows:

First Division.

Metropolis vs. Garrison at Royal Athletic Park; referee, Brown. Wests vs. Yarrons at Beacon Hill; referee, Cronin.

Second Division.

Native Sons of Canada vs. Sons of England at Central Park; referee, Lawrence. C. P. R. vs. Wilsons at Beacon Hill; referee, Wilcox.

Junior Division.

Wests vs. Gorge at Macaulay Point; referee, Knappan. Saanich Thistles vs. James Bays at Central Park lower ground; referee, Payne.

Players Reprimanded.

Severe reprimands were handed out to "Cotton" Brynjolfsson of the Mets, and Cyril Baker, of the Wests, who exchanged knuckles in the recent game between the Mets and the Wests.

Efforts are to be made to stimulate interest in junior football here. The league will finish its schedule at the end of the month and unless the youngsters double up their season they will come to an early halt.

An effort will be made to bring several outside junior teams here for the locals to compete against.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUE IS HOLDING MEETING

A general meeting of the Sunday School Athletic Association will be held in the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening November 17, at 7:30 o'clock. The business up for discussion will be the opening of the Senior Intermediate and Junior Basketball League, ice hockey and an inter-church swimming gala. All delegates are asked to attend.

Ladies' basketball will soon be under way, entries closing on November 29, and the league commencing early in December.

Miss Mabel Charlton has taken on the duties of secretary of the ladies' divisions, and all entries should be sent to her at 157 Wellington Avenue, before November 29.

BALL PLAYER GIVEN AWARD FOR INJURY

Philadelphia, Nov. 15.—The first baseball player to receive an award for injury in playing baseball has been granted under the state workmen's compensation bill to David J. The indoor pedal carnival is an appetizer for the annual six-day grind, the first week in December.

Local Football Association Again Demands Action and Wants Statement by Secretary Roy at Once—Saturday's Games Arranged

Demanding a full financial statement of the tour of the Scottish international footballers and if this is not forthcoming immediately that a delegate be sent from British Columbia to go over the books of the secretary of the Dominion Football Association, were the outstanding points of a strongly worded resolution unanimously passed at a meeting of the Victoria and District Football Association held last evening.

The local body is highly dissatisfied at the actions of President McNeill and Secretary Roy, of the D. F. A., at not having issued the desired statement long ago. It was pointed out last night that the remarks attributed to Secretary Roy to the effect that certain returns had not been received from some cities in which games were played, were entirely incorrect, and were simply used to evade the point.

The financial statement for every game was made immediately after the game, the D. F. A. officials saw to that," said one of the officials.

Delegates to Go.

The resolution passed here last night will be forwarded to the British Columbia Football Association for action. If that action is not taken at once delegates from the local association will go over to Vancouver and press their case there. If the Victoria officials have their way, a representative will be sent from this province to go over the books of the secretary to see that everything is in order.

"We are going to see this thing through," remarked Billie Cull, secretary of the association this morning. "The statement should have been issued long ago and there is no reason why we should be kept waiting."

After the members had finished with the discussion of the financial statement it got down to its regular business and drew up the games for Saturday. The schedule will be as follows:

First Division.

BOY MCCORMICK TO BATTLE TED LEWIS

New York, Nov. 15.—Ted Lewis, who used to be Jack Britton's closest rival for the welterweight championship, has grown ambitious since he defeated Johnny Basham in London recently. Lewis has signed to meet Boy McCormick, the light-heavyweight. McCormick was stopped by Joe Beckett recently, but is a fairly good man. While in this country last year he defeated Battling Levinsky and held his own with Tom Gibbons. He has agreed to make 170 pounds for Lewis. This will give him an advantage of at least twenty-five pounds. McCormick is taking the place of Mike Gibbons, who was to have faced Lewis on November 17.

WANT JAM AND FRUIT FOR HUNGRY KIDDIES

Friendly Help Appeals on Behalf of Distressed Families

Stale dry bread for breakfast, stale dry bread for dinner and very little variation for supper is the daily diet confronting a number of poor children in the city of whom went to the Friendly Help offices two days ago. The little delegation included a very small boy who reiterated one word—"apples"—his desire for this fruit outweighing every other consideration in his childish mind.

Distress is proved that the family were in dire need, dry bread being almost the only food available for the little ones owing to the distress occasioned by the long-standing unemployment of the father. To help to make the diet of just such cases a little more palatable, Miss Lawson, of the "Help" association, is making a special plea for gifts of jams and fruit for the children and donations from well-laden pantries will be very gratefully received.

There is also urgent need for a perambulator for use in a family of little ones, and anyone having such an article for sale or wishing to further use is requested to communicate with Miss Lawson.

LITERATURE FACTOR IN NATION BUILDING

Women's Canadian Club Heard Address by Mrs. Ecclestone McKay

Strong advocacy of the inclusion of the study of Canadian literature and music as part of the curricula of the public schools was voiced by Mrs. Ecclestone McKay, the well-known author, at a meeting of the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon.

"Avoid being 'A Sponger'."

Taking as her subject the topic, "Literature as a Factor in Nation-Building," Mrs. McKay addressed the women to see that Canada should not become merely a sponge soaking the literature of other countries but should rather encourage the growth of its own. National pride should be an incentive to greater production in the realms of music and literature she claimed, and poetry and music should be a daily diet in school and home.

After reviewing at length the part played in history by literature, from the days of the epic, when history was handed down from generation to generation in the form of "sagas," she said, "We in Canada to-day are foundation layers, and a national culture should be our corner-stones in the building up of a great nation."

Bliss Carman.

Among the Canadian writers quoted, some of them at considerable length, were the only ones with biographic references were Dr. Mills, Robert Barr, Chas. G. D. Roberts, Archibald Lampman, William Wilfred Campbell, George Frederic Mackay, Isobel Crawford, Robert Service, Pauline Johnson, Marjorie Pickthall and several others.

Of Bliss Carman, who is to speak here in a few days, she said: "The art of gripping and firing the imagination Bliss Carman possesses to a great degree. Nature to Bliss Carman is Bliss Carman. To all who love the mystical his poetry has a potent charm; he is anything and everything, and always unexpected."

Mrs. J. F. C. Hyndman, president of the club, expressed the members' thanks to the speaker. Mrs. Walter C. Nichol, honorary president, was among the officers seated on the platform. Mrs. R. G. Morrison declared that she had enjoyed the club's charming vocal numbers, with Mrs. Charles Conyers at the piano.

Prior to the address, Mrs. Hyndman announced that an initiative given to Miss Marie Lohr, had been regrettably declined by the popular actress owing to pressure of time caused by frequent rehearsals. Announcement was also made to the effect that the club, through its executive, had sent a message to Sir Robert Borden praying for the successful outcome of the Washington conference, to which the Canadian delegate had replied, expressing his grateful thanks at the club's expression of confidence.

I. O. E. MILK FUND TO BENEFIT BY BIG DANCE ON FRIDAY

Final plans for their big dance to be held at the Alexandra ballroom on Friday evening in aid of the milk fund were made at last night's meeting of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, I. O. E. Mrs. W. M. Ivel, the regent, presided and five new members were received into the order.

The milk bill for the month was reported to amount to $175 and children in fifty-nine families are being supplied with milk. Several letters of appreciation from grateful mothers were read.

Much gratification was expressed by the meeting on the receipt of various donations including $25 from the Hon. John Oliver, $10 from Mrs. Gonnon, also from Mr. C. L. Harris, Dr. W. E. Bayly, Miss A. Russell, Mrs. Steinberg, Mrs. E. Leiser, Mrs. Jas. Kennedy and Mrs. C. P. Hill.

Charming posters designed by little Katherine Goward, of the Empress, will be displayed in connection with the bazaar to be held at the Nurses' Home, Jubilee Hospital, on December 3. Mrs. N. Horseley was elected the Chapter's delegate to the Christmas hamper fund. Mrs. Walsh announced that the gross proceeds of Miss Marian Holm's recital on December 3 would be given to the Chapter's milk fund.

GIRLS' CORNER CLUB

The next meeting of the Girls' Corner Club will be held on Thursday in the I. O. O. F. Hall, where supper for business girls will be served at 6-15 p.m., to which all girls working in the city are cordially invited, especially new comers. Ladies of the Metropolitan Missionary Circle are kindly assisting with the supper. After a short social with singing, Mrs. E. Marchant will give a dress. Members are reminded of the sale of work to be held in the club rooms on Thursday, November 24, from 7.30 till 9 p.m., the proceeds to be used for the relief of the poor. A good number of dainty article suitable for Christmas gifts have already been received, and it is hoped that every member will contribute.

Q. Are there any authorized agents in Victoria for any of these wells?

A. Yes. The Pacific Coast Development Co., Limited, at 310 Hibernia-Bone Building, represent the Empire, and they are drilling from that well that would surprise the most skeptical. They also have stock to sell in that company, and anyone would like a genuine gamble with the big end of the gambler's stick. We are building our classed investment, making it practically an investment, should call at their office and ASK QUESTIONS. (Adv.)

I.O.E. CHAPTER TO HOLD BAZAAR AT CRITERION FRIDAY

Mrs. Curtis Sampson, municipal regent, will formally open the bazaar to be held at the Criterion on Friday afternoon in aid of the funds of the Florence Nightingale Chapter, I. O. E. Members of the Chapter met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. C. Elliott, Hampton Court, to make final arrangements for the affair.

A beautiful and varied assortment of articles is the result of the members' handwork, and many pretty and reasonable Christmas gifts will be displayed on the different stalls, which will be under the following conveners: Baby stall, Mrs. H. E. McIntyre; fancy work, Miss K. Lovell; candy, Mrs. H. Catterall; 50c and 25c tables, Mrs. H. K. Prior; home cooking, Mrs. Kyrie Symons; Mrs. A. B. Hudson is convenor-in-chief of the affair, and Mrs. R. D. McCaw of the musical programme.

A special feature of the bazaar will be a stall displaying the work of the "Cross" workshop, Miss K. Lovell, in charge of one of the returned soldiers, and during the afternoon a large wicker basket, the work of this institution, will be raffled.

The Chapter has done splendid work for the Jubilee Hospital, particularly in the tubercular ward, and its members hope for generous support of this effort to raise funds for its work.

Alert men and women know that quantity must go hand-in-hand with quality. We are building our classed investment, making it practically an investment, should call at their office and ASK QUESTIONS. (Adv.)

AMUSEMENTS TO-DAY

Capitol—"After the Show," Variety—"A Man's Home," Columbia—"Where Lights Are Low."
Royal—Marie Lohr in "The Voice From the Minaret," Dominion—"Sacred and Profane Love."

If you want to make a journey back stage, you should see William de Mille's splendid Paramount production, "After the Show," which will be the big feature at the Capitol Theatre this week. The picture mirrors the lives of those behind the footlights, who mask the sorrows and tragedies of their own lives with a smile and a song, that the world may be amused.

A complete theatre setting with audience hall, orchestra pit, stage and back-stage areas, with dressing rooms, wings, flies and all the typical stage accoutrements, was constructed at the Paramount studio in California where the picture was filmed.

For the theatre sequence, a gorgeous musical show was staged, in which thirty beautifully gowned and costumed girls took part. The sketch was rehearsed for some weeks before actual filming started. The studio grips, stage carpenters and electricians employed in the scenes were all perfectly at home in their roles. The sets were prepared at an enormous expense.

The principal characters of the story are Jack Holt, the wealthy banker of the show; Charles Ogilvie, the old stage-door man; Lila Lee, the little chorus girl who, having played in amateur theatricals in her home town, comes to the city to win fame. Out of the lives of these three characters come a powerful and gripping drama.

VARIETY

Too much cannot be said of the manner in which Ralph Ince has held the tempo of "A Man's Home," playing at the Variety Theatre this week. For practically throughout the entire length there were many opportunities afforded of going wrong, but he has skillfully avoided the temptations to bring in typical and usual "movie stuff," although he has drifted a bit to melodrama at the finish when he stages a fight. Not one of the usual Harry Morey slam-bang affairs, but just the same a fight—where the man finally wakes up and the cheap villain gets it good and plenty. He deserves also special consideration for the cast assembled. Harry T. Morey makes his first appearance since leaving Vitagraph, where he was a star for many years, and Kathlyn Williams, another excellent player, is fine as the wife. The crooks, presented by Grace Valentine and Horace Bottomley, are natural, and little Faire Binney is excellent as the child.

COLUMBIA

The struggle of love against the iron wall of Chinese tradition which extracts from its victims sacrifice without question, is the vital dramatic theme on which "Where Lights Are Low" is based. It's an E-C Pictures production starring the eminent Japanese-American actor, Sessue Hayakawa, and will be screened for the last time to-day at the Columbia Theatre. Hayakawa is seen in the role of a Chinese prince who falls in love with a gardener's daughter. When his illustrious uncle, who has planned big things for the prince, discovers the state of affairs, he immediately makes arrangements for a public betrothal of the prince to the daughter of a wealthy mandarin. The prince rebels, but finds that even love must give way to tradition in his country. He is sent to America to acquire Western education and culture, and there, his overpowering love for the girl of his choice leads him to disgrace in the eyes of his countrymen. He is ably supported by a cast of prominent screen players, among whom are Gloria Payton, as the gardener's daughter, and Toyo Fujita, the uncle.

THE VOICE FROM THE MINARET

It used to be a convention that the more brilliant the dramatist, the less effective the dramatist. One of the men out to upset this theory is Mr. Robert Hichens, who has written three parts of the most effective plays of modern times, "Bella Donna," "The Garden of Allah" and "The Voice from the Minaret." Mr. Hichens is always at his best when his business is to reproduce the glamour and the mystery of the East, which many years of residence and sympathetic study have made him know so well. Here you have them in "The Voice from the Minaret," the prologue is the thrilling note of the prologue. The play is unfolded in Western civilization—in an austere paragon, in a luxurious hotel. The prologue reveals passionate lovers, lingering in Damascus. A woman who has fled from a cruel and malignant husband—a young clergyman, who has halted in Istanbul, on a pilgrimage to the Holy Places. From the Minaret comes that droning, peremptory call to prayer. It calls the laggard priest back to his parish, made more ardent more zealous by the memory of his lapse. It calls the unhappy wife back to her duty, in a loveless home. And then the lovers meet again—as priest, striving to be true to his God, and to his calling, and penitent—who cannot, and does not desire to, forget. Now is the turn of the husband who has found out, who waits with devilish patience, who plans revenge with Machiavellian skill. That sweet suffering wife shall be branded; that eloquent universally admired clergyman shall be unfrocked as an adulterer and a hypocrite. There is no conventional ending in the noble play—just a vague promise of "Repentance, pardon, peace."

Such is depicted by Marie Lohr at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

DOMINION

"Give me that bottle!" The drunkard lunged at the woman with insane cries. His eyes, who's appearance betokened alcoholic degeneracy.

"Out," cried the director. And then "Lunch!"

The drunkard returned to normal, frooned his features to a pleasant gaze, picked up a copy of "Julius Caesar" which he had been reading "off set," and started home to help his wife feed the baby.

It was Conrad Nagel, who plays "Dias" in "Sacred and Profane Love," the William D. Taylor production of Arnold Bennett's play which will open at the Dominion Theatre, all

MAIN STREET

THE STORY OF CAROL KENNICOTT
By SINCLAIR LEWIS

She had, she meditated, passed through the novelty of seeing the town and meeting people, of skating and sliding and hunting—Bess was competent; there was no household labor except sewing and darning and gossiping assistance to Bess in bed-making. She couldn't satisfy her ingenuity in planning meals. At Dahl & Oleson's Meat Market you didn't give orders—you wofully inquired whether there was anything to-day besides steak and pork and ham. The cuts of beef were not cuts. They were hocks. Lamb chops were as exotic as sharks' fins. The meat-dealers shipped their best to the city, with its higher prices.

In all the shops there, Bess found the same lack of choice. She could not find a glass-headed picture-nail in town; she did not hunt for the sort she could get; and only at Howland & Gould's was there such a luxury as canned asparagus. Routine care was all she could devote to the house. Only by such fussing as the Widow Bogart's could she make it fill her time.

She could not have outside employment. To the village doctor's wife it was taboo.

She was a woman with a working brain and no work.

There were only three things which she could do: Have children; start her career of reforming or become Bogart's; or perhaps she had made all she would be fulfilled by the activities of church and study-club and bridge-parties.

Children, yes, she wanted them, but—She was not quite ready. She had been embarrassed by Kennicott's frankness, but she agreed with him that in the insane condition of civilization, which made the rearing of citizens more costly and perilous than any other crime, it was inadvisable to have children till he had made more money. She was sorry—Perhaps he had made all the mystery of love a mechanical cautiousness but—She fled from the thought with a dubious, "Some day."

Her reforms, her impulses toward beauty in raw Main Street, had become indistinct. But she would set them going now. She would! She swore it with soft fiat, beating the edges of the radiator. And at the end of all her vows she had no notion at all to when and where the crusade was to begin.

Become an authentic part of the town? She began to think with unpleasant lucidity. She reflected that she did not know whether the people liked her. She had seen, in the women at afternoon-coffee, to the merchants in their stores, with so many outpouring comments and whimsicalities that she hadn't given them a chance to betray their opinions of her. The men smiled, but did they like her? She was lively among the women—but was she one of them? She could not recall many times when she had been admitted to the whispering of scandal which is the secret chamber of Gopher Prairie conversations.

She was poisoned with doubt, as she drooped up to bed.

Next day, through her shopping, her mind sat back and observed. Dave Dyer and Sam Clark were as cordial as she had been fancying; but wasn't there an impersonal abruptness in the "Hi are you?" of "Chet Dashaway? Howland the grocer was curt. Was that merely his usual manner?

"It's infuriating to have to pay attention to what people think. In St. Paul I didn't care. But here I'm spied on. They're watching me. I mustn't let it make me self-conscious," she coaxed herself—overstimulated by the drug of thought—and offensively on the defensive.

A thaw which stripped the snow from the sidewalk, a ping-pong iron night when the lakes could be heard booming; a clear roistering morning. In tan o'shanter and tweed skirt Carol felt herself a college junior going out to play hockey. She wanted to whoop, her legs ached to run. On the way home from shopping she yielded, as a pup would have yielded. She galloped down a block and as she jumped from a curb across a wetter of slush, she gave a student "Yippeee!"

She saw that in a window three old women were gazing. Their triple glare was paralyzing. Across the street, at another window, the curtain had secretively moved. She stopped, walked on sedately, changed from the girl Carol into Mrs. Kennicott.

She never again felt quite young enough and defiant enough and free enough to run and halloo in the public streets; and it was as a Nice Married Woman that she attended the next weekly bridge of the Jolly Seventeen.

WIDOW OF HUDSON'S BAY FACTOR DIES

Mrs. William Charles Succumbs After Lingered Illness

A link with the early history of the Hudson's Bay Company in this city was severed by the death yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Mary Anne Charles, who passed away after a lingering illness. Her late husband, Mr. William Charles, was for many years Chief Factor of the Hudson's Bay Company here and was well-known to a host of pioneers of this Province.

Born in the State of Oregon, the late Mrs. Charles was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Birnie, of Oregon. Of her immediate family her two sons, John and William, are both deceased, but two daughters, Mrs. I. M. Eberts, of "Hopewell," and Mrs. C. C. Worsfold, of New Westminster, are left mourners. Her loss, Mrs. Charles Gaudin, a niece, and Mr. J. O. Grahame, a nephew, both of this city.

The funeral will be held from the residence on Thursday, 10.45, proceeding to Christ Church Cathedral, where Very Rev. Dean Quinlan will conduct the services at 11 o'clock.

Every breath through the Inhaler is laden with soothing, healing substances that destroy all diseased conditions in the breathing organs, its effect is to help, because it goes where the trouble really exists, and doesn't attempt to cure an illness in the head or throat by means of medicine taken into the stomach. There is no sufferer from a grippy cold or any Winter ill that won't find benefit in Catarra, which is employed by—physicians, opticians, lawyers and public men throughout many foreign lands. When the liver becomes slow, sluggish and torpid it is not working properly and does not supply sufficient bile to thoroughly act on the food and carry off the waste products of the system, hence the bowels become clogged up, the bile gets into the blood, constipation sets in and liver troubles follow among which are, sick or bilious headaches, heartburn, water brash, jaundice, floating specks before the eyes, pain under the right shoulder, coated tongue, bad breath, yellow eyes, etc.

Q. Has there been an honest straightforward effort made to prove that oil in commercial quantities does exist in B. C. and if so where?

LETTER CARRIERS MAY SELL STAMPS TO RESIDENTS EN ROUTE

Postmaster Bishop stated to-day that instructions have been received from the Postmaster-General at Ottawa that, effective forthwith, letter carriers will be required to sell postage stamps to residents on their various walks. The stamps will only be sold in the form of postage stamp books, of one-cent and two-cent denominations, which can be purchased at the rate of 25c each, it not being practicable for the carriers to carry around loose sheets of stamps. It is believed that this innovation will be much appreciated by the public in general.

B. C. DEBT NOW $100 PER CAPITA SAYS J. W. JONES

Conservative Accuses Government of "Spender-mania"

He Urges Economy and Retrenchment

It is high time we saw some signs of economy and retrenchment on the part of this Government," said J. W. Jones, Conservative member for South Okanagan, in the budget debate Tuesday afternoon.

"The people of the province are wondering where the Province will end, and even the municipal representatives have gone home declaring all negotiations failed."

He said that the Finance Minister promised year after year to cut down expenditures, but every session saw increased grants, and this year it was proposed, according to the estimates, to pass votes totalling over $2,000,000 for next year's financing. He referred to the borrowings of the Government this year, in amount $17,880,000, or a sum almost as great as the entire debt of British Columbia when the Conservative Government left office in 1916.

Mr. Jones said the present debt, $25,000,000, was appalling, considering the population. In four years the "spender-mania" of the administration had eaten up $192,000,000, he said, and what had the people to show for it?

Municipalities Disappointed.

He asked the Finance Minister to make a statement as to what he proposed in the way of municipal assistance and referred to an editorial in The Victoria Times, a paper "supposed to be supporting the Government," wherein the Government was advised to economize.

The member for South Okanagan reviewed the municipal question and spoke of the promises which he said had been made last session by the Premier. The municipal representatives had gone home with the promise that a special session would be held. This was now in session and everyone knew what had happened to the municipalities, he added.

Mr. Jones referred to the offers made the municipalities, mentioning the half of one per cent. levy on personal property, liquor profits and the poll-tax. No wonder these were refused, he said.

Not Much Left Cities.

The speaker then read the statement presented to the municipal committee last Friday night. He was not surprised at the action of the delegation, since the municipalities sound business men, who could see no hope in approaching the Government for relief. Their obligations were so great that they were expected to carry on their administrations with the means at present provided by government regulations. Mr. Jones said the municipalities had only the revenue from land and improvements, while the Government took the tolls from corporations, the income tax and the amusement, automobile and personal property taxes. All these were taken away from the municipalities by the Government.

An argument arose between Mr. Jones and the Premier over this statement, the Premier saying that he was not old enough to remember when this had occurred. Mr. Jones admitted that the municipalities had never had these privileges, but he maintained that they should have.

"Tax System Worst Ever."

The dry-belt representative claimed that British Columbia's taxation system was the worst in the world in support of his contention quoted from Prof. Laube, who had dubbed the Provincial system "the most complicated imaginable."

He said that taxation arrears in the municipalities amounted to $12,828,000 with sinking fund shortages in excess of $5,000,000. Property representing $4,400,000 in tax arrears had been taken over by the municipalities and this paid no further revenue. The burden was rapidly increasing, he added, and the position of the municipalities was most unenviable.

Another source of municipal difficulties was the increased demand for school accommodation. He continued, and this amounted to $5,215,707 this year, with the Government only granting $1,070,000 for school purposes.

Land Taxes Double.

Still, he went on the taxes paid by land-owners had increased from $8,698,817 in 1914 to $18,000,000 in 1921. The municipalities were told that it was all their own fault, he said, and they must find their own remedy.

"The situation is appalling," he represented. "There are no additional sources of revenue: tax arrears are huge, as are sinking fund shortages. The municipalities have scrippies, and saved; they have pleaded for money which is rightly theirs; they have asked for consideration and help and they have been rebuffed and sent home."

"The session has been swerved from its purpose and the Government is grasping to save itself," continued Mr. Jones. "There is a want of confidence everywhere and everybody is protesting. No wonder the Finance Minister showed no enthusiasm during his address."

$7,000,000 Increase Yearly.

Dealing with public accounts, the member said that the figures shown were startling. Reckless borrowing and extravagant spending was noticeable everywhere. Even during the past two months $2,000,000 had been borrowed. He claimed that the heritage of the present Government had been good roads, bridges, schools, hospitals and public buildings; that the public debt increased only $12,000,000 during thirteen years of Conservative rule, while the Oliver administration had increased the debt over $7,000,000 annually.

"And what is there to show for it? Nothing but a discredited administration," he asserted.

The speaker then said that the fixed charges of the Government were $13,916,941 in March last, while this session found them up to $16,000,000, or an increase of $2,000,000.

Premier Oliver and Hon. Mr. Hart reacted to Mr. Jones regarding the fixed charges of a session ago, whereupon the member produced the budget speech of the Minister last March to corroborate his statement.

Not Enough on Roads.

He declared the per capita debt of the Province, which he said amounted to $100.

Taking up the question public works, Mr. Jones said the Minister Hon. J. H. King, had little regard for the condition of the roads. With the increase in revenue from motor licenses, which were expected to reach $1,125,000 next year, he thought there should be more money spent on roads.

He charged the Government with discrimination in making road appropriations. Delta received $275,322 while South Okanagan got only $24,142. Nanaimo, with a mileage of fifty-two was allowed $106,628, while Rossland, with the same road mileage, received $44,202. Yale had a larger mileage than Omiceva, while the latter received $107,567 and the former $52,600.

Soldier Settlers' Plight.

Mr. Jones said there were many other instances of marked differences in the appropriations, and seemed strange that the opposition ridings were always on the short end.

He then took up the Merville settlement problem, claiming that the men were dissatisfied as that there was a strong feeling against the Land Settlement Board. The settlers had little cleared land, their horses were "full of heaves," and they had no good milk cows, little machinery and no funds to live on during the winter.

Mr. Jones said the settlement was a wilderness of stumps and there was little chance for the settler to make a living, let alone repay the Government for the land and the costs already incurred.

Too Many on Staff.

This roused the ire of the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. E. D. Barrow, who advised Mr. Jones to take another look. The member retorted that his statements could be corroborated by the members for Similkameen and Kaslo, who had accompanied him on a recent trip to the settlement.

He then spoke of the settlements at Creston, Fernie and Merville, having cost over a million dollars, including the Christian Ranch near Kelowna. They were all failures, he charged, and the Government had only received $5,504 out of the four undertakings.

He then attacked the administration of the Land Settlement Board and advised that the staff be materially reduced. He could see no reason to retain the services of four directors, drawing salaries of over $1,100 monthly. The Government might well begin retrenching in that direction, he advised.

Mr. Jones criticized the Sumas expenditures and concluded by urging the Government to cut down on the votes. He advised the Government supporters to put their feet down hard and see if something could be done with a bad situation.

KING TELLS WHAT D.C. ROADS COST

Figures Issued Show Yearly Average Expenditures

British Columbia during the last ten years has spent $24,510,963 on roads and $5,854,872 on bridges, according to figures given out by the Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, in reply to questions from Fred Anderson, member for Kamloops.

During the regime of the Conservative government an average of $2,248,091 a year was spent, while the present government has spent an average of $2,012,805 each year.

Details of expenditure for each year were:

STATE OVER-MANNED, SAYS WM. HUNTER

The ship of state is over-manned in B. C., said William Hunter, Conservative member for Elocan, in the budget debate in the Legislature Monday night.

"We get our feet on the ground the better it will be for all concerned," said Mr. Hunter. "If the Government paid more attention to small things and would try to keep people on the land who are already there, it would be a good deal better than to undertake big things which cost millions of dollars and it is very doubtful if they will ever pay."

BUSINESS SHOULD NOT HAVE TO PAY EDUCATION COSTS

Merchants Say They Will Challenge Personal Property Tax

In laying their protest against the new Personal Property Tax before members of the Legislature yesterday, retail-merchants declared that the tax was inequitable to business as such, should not be required to pay for education through the new levy, as business does not go to school; that the tax would create controversy as the merchants would be compelled to challenge any City Council who make the attempt to put this principle into effect; and that the tax would handicap British Columbia business in competition with eastern business.

The merchants' protest was voiced in the following statement:

"In presenting the following memorandum with reference to the proposed tax to permit municipalities in this Province to levy tax of one half of one per cent upon Personal Property, it is desirable that your committee should have a clear understanding as to the nature of the delegation presented before them, so that there may be no misunderstanding as to whom they represent. For this purpose, therefore, we desire to state that the delegation represents the Provincial Executive of the British Columbia Board of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, Inc., which comprises some fifty-five branches throughout the Province and includes in its membership every leading and representative retail merchant in B. C. Furthermore, it should be stated that their views upon the subject matter of this memorandum are not the hurried conclusions arrived at through the sudden emergency, but the considered opinion of this association, as expressed in resolutions passed in open convention both in 1920 and 1921. At the convention held in July 1921, the following resolution was passed unanimously, after considerable discussion:

Ask Co-ordination.

"Resolved that this meeting is of opinion that in the interest of economy and of business generally, the Provincial Government establish some system of co-ordination with the Dominion Government both in the method of assessment and of collection of the Personal Income Tax and that this meeting is of opinion that the Personal Property Tax be abolished entirely.

"It will be seen from the foregoing that the opposition of retail merchants in this Province to the Personal Property Tax is based upon its inequity as a principle, and is only incidentally concerned in the amount of money involved; a fact which we would respectfully emphasize at this time.

"After listening to the speech of the Honorable the Minister of Finance, delivered on Friday afternoon last, and as the result of subsequent interviews with members of the Government, it is our impression that the object of the Personal Property Tax is the relief of municipalities from the cost of education. This belief is strengthened by perusal of the memorandum submitted to your honorable body by the Union of B. C. Municipalities in March last, in which it is evident that the Union claimed relief on these grounds.

Claim Admitted.

"It is not, of course, the function of this association to presume to dictate either to your honorable body or to the Government, as to what method of relief, if any, shall be given to the municipalities of B. C., nor do we come to enter into a discussion as to the merits of their claim. It would seem, however, that the Government admit that their relief is a just and reasonable one, and have evolved a method of affording them the relief they desire. This relief we understand to be permissive, and is granted to the municipalities to be exercised at their discretion to levy and collect a tax of one-half of one per cent upon stock and fixtures in the various municipalities, and to this principle we are unreservedly opposed for the following reasons:

"1. That the principle of taxing Personal Property, regardless of its earning power, is inequitable.

"2. That inasmuch as education is a service to individuals, it is individuals who should pay for it in proportion to their ability to do so. It is obviously unfair that business, as such, should be required to pay for education. Business does not go to school. It may be argued that the children of business men go to school and this is true. In reply we would say that the retailers of this Province are prepared to pay for the services rendered to their children in this way upon the same basis as every other citizen should be required to pay, which should be through a tax upon his income.

Would Cause Trouble.

"3. The tax, if levied by the municipalities, must necessarily create a controversial issue, because our retailers will be compelled to challenge any city council who makes the attempt to put this principle into effect. Surely it is not desirable to create a condition of this kind at a time when all the energies of our right thinking citizens should be concentrated upon constructive enterprise rather than upon internal dissension.

"4. Retail merchants are necessarily governed by the laws of competition. In this Province and particularly in the country districts, they are upon them to meet this competition from cities as far east as Winnipeg and Toronto. If additional taxation is levied upon their business, without regard to its earning power, it constitutes a further handicap upon their efforts. It should be borne in mind in this connection that the retailer in every municipality makes a very valuable contribution to community development. It should not be necessary to emphasize this point in detail because your honorable body is composed of men who in many cases represent constituencies in which the retailer is an important unit.

"In summarizing our objections we would wish to state that we are in complete accord with the claim of the U. B. C. M. when they argue that taxation should bear a definite relation to services rendered.

Individual Should Pay.

"In so far as service is rendered to individuals we reiterate that the individual should pay for it, and we would respectfully submit that the only method by which this principle can be applied is a scientifically graded income tax, which should include in its scope of operations numbers of people who at the present time escape tax-free. We are of the opinion that such a principle would recommend itself to every thinking and fair minded citizen in the Province, and in so far as this association has any influence in the community it will be exercised in the direction of making this form of tax possible. Just as strenuously as it will be our endeavor to consistently oppose the method of taxation upon business, as such, as contemplated in the Personal Property Tax."

The statement was signed by J. T. Crowder, president, B. C. Board, Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, Incorporated, and H. S. Houghland, secretary, B. C. Board, Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, Incorporated.

CLAIMS POISON BY NITRATE OF SODA

Remarkable Case is Heard at Kamloops Assize

A case with no parallel in Canadian jurisprudence came before Chief Justice Hunter at the Fall assizes at Kamloops last week, when J. A. Carlin and E. Stickland sued for the value of cattle they alleged to have been poisoned in November last by a dangerous substance purchased as salt from the defendants, G. McCausland and C. T. Spence, storekeepers, Grindrod.

and cattle, with the result, plaintiffs averred, that they lost ten yearlings, eleven one-year-olds, thirteen three-year-olds and two milch cows. Nitrate of Soda. This so-called salt was sent by the plaintiffs to the Dominion analyst at Ottawa who gave it as his opinion that it was nitrate of soda. Dr. Bell, veterinary surgeon, stated that a piece the size of a walnut was sufficient to cause the death of a steer and Dr. George, another veterinarian, said that from a half to one ounce would be a fatal dose. Say Plaintiffs Careless. Defendants, according to their pleadings, stated they had no knowledge of the stuff outside the usage of trade and had taken it over as salt from their predecessor in the business, being innocent of the knowledge that it was a dangerous substance. Their counsel also tried to show that plaintiffs had been careless in not finding out more quickly the dangerous nature of the substance. To this latter suggestion evidence was adduced from the plaintiffs to prove that they had sent parts of the stomachs of the first dead animals to be analyzed, but had received no report. For the plaintiffs, Paul McD. Kerr, Kamloops, appeared, and for the defendants, H. C. DeBeck, Vernon. Amalgamation Committee.—Members of the Provisional Ex-Services Amalgamation Committee are asked to meet at 7:45 o'clock to-night, in the G. W. V. A. rooms, Bastion Street.

LABOR ENDORSES PLAN FOR EIGHT HOUR MEASURE

Text of Resolution for Members of Legislature

An appeal to the members of the Legislature to vote for Major Burde's Eight-hour Bill has been issued by the Victoria Trades and Labor Council, Alderman E. S. Woodward, Secretary of the Council announced today. The appeal reads as follows: Principle widespread. "This Council regrets to notice that opposition is being offered to the passage of Bill No. 8 which stands in the name of Major R. Burde. "The principle of the eight-hour day has been widely accepted throughout the civilized world. It occupies an important place in all reconstruction programmes. It was strongly recommended by the Majority Report of the Royal Commission on Industrial Relations which traveled Canada in 1919. It has been adopted by the League of Nations. It is not unworthy that the majority report was signed by Mr. Justice Duff, the chairman, and by Mr. Carl Riordan, one of the representatives of the employing interests. "The eight-hour day forms one of the most important planks in the reconstruction programme embodied in the treaty of peace. It is opportune to remind you of the far-reaching importance attached to the universal adoption of this and kindred reforms. The preamble uses these solemn words: "The high contracting parties, recognizing that the well-being physical, moral and intellectual of industrial wage-earners is of supreme importance internationally, have framed, in order to further this great end, the permanent machinery provided for in section I and associated with that of the League of Nations. "Among these methods and principles, the following seem to be of special and urgent importance: "The adoption of the eight-hour day as the standard to be aimed at where it has not already been attained. Supreme Importance. "It is disquieting to have representative bodies of employers in the Province of British Columbia display a spirit of indifference to considerations which impressed the framers of the peace treaty as of 'supreme international importance,' and their application as of 'special and urgent importance.' "I would respectfully direct your attention to the fact that in leading their support to the opponents of Bill No. 8, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, of Victoria, did not consult the general membership. The directors in this case represented no one but themselves. You would not be justified in concluding that the general membership are indifferent to the well-being, physical, moral and intellectual, of industrial wage-earners which the high contracting parties to the treaty of peace regarded as of 'supreme international importance.' The Chamber of Commerce is an organization representing all sections of the community and this Council has paid its membership fees and is in good standing in that organization. "Blue Ruin" Prediction. "Neither would you be justified in taking at their face value the predictions of 'blue-ruin' so freely made by the employers' delegation last week. As a shrewd observer of public affairs you will doubtless have observed that all progress in matters industrial has been achieved in the face of very similar predictions. The opposite of the 'blue-ruin' prediction is industrial reform never comes. The moment chosen is always the wrong moment. It follows that if reform is delayed until the privileged interests deem the moment opportune, the delay will be much prolonged. The truth is that big business learns nothing from history. Its hindsight is as defective as its foresight. Do not, therefore, make the mistake of listening to its ill-advised counsel. "The workers of British Columbia are watching your attitude to the reconstruction problem. They realize that the most they make from their labor is a bare living regardless of the number of hours they work. They believe that in order to secure a livelihood for themselves and families they should not be called upon to prejudice health and happiness. They therefore look to you to support the one great reform upon which they and all enlightened employers are agreed."

THE COUGH WITH THAT TICKLING SENSATION

A little tickling in the throat, now and then a dry, hacking cough; you think it is not bad enough to bother about, but every hack makes a breach in the system, strains the lungs and prepares the way for more serious trouble. How many people have lost a good night's rest by that nasty, tickling, irritating sensation in the throat? The dry, harsh cough keeps you awake, and when you get up in the morning you feel as if you had had no rest at all. DR. WOOD'S NORWAY PINE SYRUP is just the remedy you require to stop that irritating, tickling cough on account of its soothing, healing and expectorant properties. Mrs. P. Johnson, Fort Alberni, B.C., writes: "I have suffered for years off and on, with a tickling cough. I could not sleep nights and had to sit up in bed to get relief. In fact, I coughed so I used to vomit. I tried different doctors' prescriptions until I heard of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I tried it and found great relief after I had taken the first bottle and have not been troubled since. I shall always keep it in the house. Be sure and get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Price, 35c and 60c; a bottle, put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. (Advt.) East Sooke.—A public meeting will be held at "Rasley," East Sooke, on Monday next, at 7:30 p. m., to discuss the formation of an East Sooke Farmers' Association. Refreshments and music will be provided during the evening.

SAYS LABOR MIGHT HAVE WON

Major Burde Speaks on Election Issues Severely Criticizes Meighen Administration

"I would like you to realize that you could have won the election had you started early enough," Major Burde, M.P.P. for Alberni, told a fairly large audience at the Trades Hall last night. Major Burde was the principal speaker in support of the Federated Labor Party. The speaker referred to the wonderful success of T. Barnard, the last Federated Labor candidate. "Looking at this audience, I believe you are not strongly behind your candidate," he said. A. McKim Ltd., the big advertising agency, was handling a nation-wide campaign for the National Liberal-Conservative Party, he stated. The Alternatives. "The speaker remarked that, as a newspaper proprietor, he had found occasion to turn down this 'bunk' advertising which paid a handsome price. "You lie down and be a good dog and we will let you eat," is the Meighen policy. "If you are not good we will close down the mills and factories and we will starve you into being good." "While men are starving and bitter. They will, as soon as they get the opportunity to do so, put the screws on the industrial employers," he concluded. Major Burde claimed to be a friend of the working class and as such said he was sorry more people had not displayed sufficient interest to turn out in support of Mr. Pierce. "Meighen holds all the cards and he has the money and therefore I understand that Toimie will be elected," said the speaker. An assurance was given that A. W. Neill, the Independent candidate in the Major's home riding, would be elected. Mr. Meighen's platform was held up to ridicule by the speaker, and it was claimed that the Government policy promoted strife between classes, and Meighen was for the master class and his manufacturers. "Mackenzie King is not worth talking about, because he is not there, but he would probably be as bad as Meighen if he were. It is the upper class at Ottawa that you must fight against," declared the speaker. Mercenary Americans. "The atrocious money exchange rates were next referred to. When the balance of trade was much more unfavorable to Canada than it is today Canadian money was never discounted as it is now," yet the mercenary people across the border will sell us class and their conditions are due to the balance of trade," Major Burde declared. "Meighen tells us the tariff question is the only issue, yet there are hundreds of matters that are badly in need of fixing," said the major. Missing Liquor. "Relating a story of some missing liquor from the Port Alberni Government stores, the major departed from Dominion politics to ridicule the 'officialdom' of the Provincial administration. Dr. Toimie's department spent thousands of dollars and maintained a large staff to guard the liquor exports from this province. While at the Empress Hotel he was being fed food cooked with Chinese eggs, said the speaker. "We are not even producing what we need to eat, and yet we have this expensive department to look after our exports," he asserted. Back to Federal Politics. "Mr. Meighen was relying upon the flattery of the women of Canada for their support but the speaker was confident that the ladies had too much intelligence to be fooled by a 'nice man.' "This Government has caused a great deal of unrest among the men who served overseas as well as a good many others. A Contrast. "To be entrusted with the whole left wing of the Canadian army at Lens, and not to be trusted with six months' salary in bumper sum, which would have aided him in re-establishing his printing plant on his return to Canada was sufficient to create resentment against the Government, yet this was his personal experience, said the major. "Cut down the allowances to officers and you will not need to raise money to pay pensions," said the speaker who declared there were only a few privates left and the country was full of colonels and generals. The Oriental Menace. "Japan was of great assistance in the war, and we do not want to deprive Japanese of a living, but I believe they should enjoy it in Japan," he went on. "For ten years there has been absolutely nothing done by the Federal Government to put a stop to the increasing peril. We would be better off if we broke the Anglo-Japanese alliance and faced the Germans again," concluded the speaker. Should Break Away. "It was time to break away from old party lines, Tom Uphill, Labor member for Fernie, told the audience. "The monopolies control those who Uphill. "Where a man who had been four years a prisoner of war was refused work, German and Austrians could be employed, said the speaker. "In party politics the man who is elected has to toe the line," Mr. Uphill went on. "There are people living in hovels in Canada to-day. They are auctioning labor at the block again in Boston. These are the conditions that want remedying, and to talk to the people of tariff is nothing but humbug. While a favored few are living in luxury the masses hardly know where their next meal is coming from." The United States came off best in the war, but has most unemployment, and Germany, which came off worst, has the least unemployment," he remarked. Mr. Uphill prophesied that unemployment would become more acute. The Candidate. "Owing to the lateness of the hour Mr. Pierce, the candidate, confined his remarks to an appeal to men and women to vote for themselves instead of the big interests. He will speak on Friday night."
