MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Conference with Vice Minister of Welfare

1. On 24 December, the Vice Minister of Welfare, ITO called on me. He stated that considerable difficulty was being experienced in preparing the plan called for by SCAPIN 1791, due to differences of opinion within the Japanese Government and anticipated differences within SCAP. He was informed that it was no responsibility of the Japanese Government to anticipate or assume any position on the part of SCAP, that the written instructions were perfectly clear and that the Japanese Government would be held responsible for full compliance therewith. He was further informed that it was up to the Cabinet to resolve its own differences, that SCAP would not support any particular group or agency and would look to the Japanese Government only.

2. He then requested an extension of time in which to submit the plan. He was informed that while it was my informal opinion that a reasonable extension might be favorably considered, the request would have to be submitted formally in writing.

MEMORANDUM TO CHIEF OF STAFF

SUBJECT: Second Demobilization Bureau, Abolition Of

1. AG 091.1 (4 Oct 47)GS (SCAPIN 1791) dated 4 October 1947, Subject: "Demobilization Machinery, Reorganization Of," directed the Japanese Government, paragraph 3, to liquidate the Second Demobilization Bureau by 1 January 1948 and the transfer, subject to the approval of SCAP, of necessary remaining functions to other agencies of the government.

2. Pursuant to SCAPIN 1791, C.L.O. No. 9732 (PP) dated 22 December 1947, Subject: "Plan for Abolition of Second Demobilization Bureau," with three inclosures (Tab A) was submitted. The plan calls for the transfer of minesweeping, ships maintenance, and communications agencies of the Second Demobilization Bureau to the General Maritime Board of the Transportation Ministry and the transfer of necessary remaining functions, such as demobilization, investigation and liaison, to the Welfare Ministry to be under a Second Demobilization Bureau Liquidation Division in the Demobilization Bureau. Effectuation of the plan will involve no interference with second demobilization activities and operations now being carried out.

3. C.L.O. No. 9867 (PP) dated 27 December 1947, Subject: "Correction of Plan For Abolition of Second Demobilization Bureau," with correction sheets attached (Tab B) does no more than make certain corrections in terminology on the original plan. SCAP was advised of these by word of mouth at the time of the submission of the original plan.

4. This is a matter in which USFIK has no interest.

5. It is recommended that the attached Memorandum For The Japanese Government, AG 320 ( )GS (A SCAPIN) Subject: "Plan for Abolition of Second Demobilization Bureau," (Tab C) be approved for dispatch.

SUBJECT: Correction of Plan for Abolition of Second Demobilization Bureau.

C.L.O. No. 9867(PP) - 27 December 1947

1. Reference: C.L.O. Memorandum No. 9732(PP) dated 22 December 1947, subject: "Plan for Abolition of Second Demobilization Bureau."

2. It is requested that Page 3, Tables No. I-A, No.I-C, No. II-A and No. II-C of Enclosure No. 1 and Page 1 of Enclosure No. 3 of the reference Memorandum be respectively replaced by the corresponding sheets attached hereto.

FOR THE PRESIDENT:

(Y. Katsuno)
Chief of Liaison Section,
Central Liaison Office.

Enclosures: Sheets of correction as indicated above (in quintuplicate).

Legal Investigation Section has charge principally of war crime cases, while the Historical Record Section has charge of investigations relating to war history, materials and other matters having to do with the former Navy. And since their functions are so completely different in substance, their merger could only result in a serious drop in the efficiency of both.

(e) Liaison Section.

The creation of this Section is absolutely essential for liaison with various sections of the Allied Forces if the work mentioned in Para. 4 of the Directive is to be faithfully carried out. Although some study was made of the possibility of merging it with the Archives and Document Section, the conclusion was that such a step would not be appropriate because of the differences in the functions of these two Sections.

no effect on the substance nor bring about any reduction in personnel.

(b) Personnel Section and Personal Affairs Section.

The primary function of the Personnel Section is investigation pertaining to the war dead and the missing, while the Personal Affairs Section will be charged with the actual handling of the personal problems of the war dead, the wounded and the sick and those still to be demobilized. Not only is there a clear cut distrinction between the functions of these two Sections, but there is so much work for the Personal Affairs Section to do that its existence as a separate Section is absolutely essential. The work of the Personnel Section will of course have no relation to the personnel affairs of the Welfare Ministry itself.

(c) Accounting Section.

The Welfare Ministry of course has its own Accounting Section. But the Accounting Section to be set up in the Second Demobilization Liquidation Division will have charge of work of an entirely difference nature, since it will be concerned with such work as collection of claims and payment of obligations arising during or after the war, payment of allowances to those yet to be demobilized, auditing in connection with disposition of goods, etc. This Section is therefore considered essential.

(d) Historical Record Section and Legal Investigation Section.

It is these two Sections that collect the material and prepare the reports in compliance with most of the demands for investigations coming from the Allied Authorities. The

Enclosure No. 3

Explanation of steps to be taken in connection with the abolition of SDB.

While it is our belief that the outline of the transfer of the structure and functions of SDB upon its abolition should be as in ~~the draft shown in the Annex~~ our Document to be submitted to GHQ, we desire to offer the following explanations concerning matters relating to the Welfare Ministry, since they in particular involve many points which may give rise to difficulties later on:

1. The number of Sections under the Second Demobilization Liquidation Division may at first glance appear excessive. But a careful study of their substance will show that such a number is necessary.

(a) Relations between Administrative Section and Archives and Document Section.

The Archives and Document Section has charge of the handling of official documents, maintenance of order within the entire Division, receiving of visitors, management of vehicles, - in short, all sundry duties essential to the operation of the Second Demobilization Liquidation Division. The Administrative Section, on the other hand, has charge of adjustment of the internal functions of the Division as a whole, its organization and assignment of staff members and other functions essential to liquidation, and serves as a co-ordinating organ to enable the entire Division to carry out its functions with maximum efficiency. And as this arrangement is a matter of long custom, merger of these two Sections into one will result in a merger in form only, and will have

Explanation of the Outline of steps to be taken relative to abolition of the Second Demobilization Bureau.

1. The Japanese Government has endeavored at all times to complete the work of demobilization as speedily as possible, and would have done so even in the absence of any directives from SCAP.

The Second Demobilization Bureau (SDB) carried out adjustments and reductions in personnel with each progress in its work. On 15 October 1947 the total personnel numbered 6,074 as against the total of 14,539 allowed for at the time the Demobilization Board was established, or slightly less than 41%. And if from the above computation we leave out the 2,900 engaged in ship maintenance and minesweeping, since those operations appear likely to be maintained as at present for the time being, we find that the personnel connected with the functions which are shortly to be transferred to the Welfare Ministry was reduced during the above-mentioned period from 7,340 to 3,124, or to less than 43%.

2. As a result of the efforts made to conform to the purport of the Directive after it was received, there is prospect of a further reduction of 13%, thus bringing the number down to 2,729, at the time of the transfer to the Welfare Ministry. While such reduction might not be satisfactory when considered from the standpoint of "complete abolition", which was the ultimate object, we desire to bring to your attention the fact that the work of the SDB could not be completely finished by the end of this year because of the following causes over which the Japanese Government had no control:

(a) Investigations on missing persons.

At the time of the termination of hostilities the number of missing persons was estimated to be around 200,000. By October 1946 that number had been reduced to about 100,000; and today, as a result of the efforts made since then, there remain but 12,000 names on the list of missing. And as a result of the recent completion of repatriation from the South, prospects are now good for completing investigation of all but about 4,000 extremely difficult cases by the end of April 1948. As for those in Soviet territories, serious investigation will be difficult until repatriation has been completed from those areas; but it is estimated that about three months after completion of repatriation will be sufficient for this work.

(b) Demobilization procedure.

As a result of the completion of repatriation from the South, demobilization procedural work for the southern regions is expected to be finished by the end of February 1948; and for the Soviet areas, within three months after completion of repatriation from those areas.

(c) Legal investigations and general investigations.

Under present conditions it will be impossible to reduce the investigation staff even in January, for there is still no appreciable drop in the demands for investigations from various sections of GHQ. As we have found it necessary to explain repeatedly before, most of our records were destroyed by fire or otherwise lost, so that in carrying out these investigations we have no alternative but to reply on the memories of high ranking officers who occupied important posts at the time, and to draw up our reports on the basis of their collective memory. That explains also why the presence of so many officials of relatively high rank among those remaining is inevitable.

3. Although every effort is being made, it now looks as though the work that still remains in disposing of the goods which belonged to SDB will have to be continued through February 1948. Consequently it is believed that the personnel engaged in this work will not be needed from March.

4. As a result of the changes contemplated in Paras. 2 and 3 above, it is anticipated that the 2,729 persons transferred to the Welfare Ministry will be reduced to 2,099 by 1 March 1948. Leaving out the personnel related with minesweeping and ship maintenance, there will thus have been a 60% reduction in the SDB personnel between April 1947 and March 1948.

5. As already stated, there is no appreciable decrease in the work of the SDB as on 1 January, the time set for its abolition. And considered from the standpoint of progress in the work, it can be said that we are really getting warmed up now and are hurrying to put the finishing touch on the job. Considered, moreover, from the standpoint of "smooth function" mentioned in Para. 5 of the Directive, it must be said that any radical change in organizational structure will make it very difficult for us. But the Japanese Government, in its earnest desire to be faithful to the SCAP Directive, has decided to contract the present structure of SDB with its 7 Divisions and 10 Sections to 1 Division and 5 Sections to be set up in the Transportation Ministry and 1 Division (Liquidation) and 8 Sections in the Welfare Ministry, or a total of 2 Divisions and 13 Sections, as shown in the accompanying Table. There has thus been a considerable reduction in the number of Divisions and a slight increase in the number of Sections, - this change result from the abolition of certain Divisions and reduction of certain others to Sections.

6. It is the hope of the Japanese Government that it may obtain SCAP's understanding of the circumstances set forth above, and his consent to the plan here presented.

Enclosure No. 1

Steps To Be Taken In Transfer Of Affairs Of The Second Demobilization Bureau To The Welfare Ministry And Transportation Ministry Upon Abolition Of Second Demobilization Bureau.

It has been directed through para. 3 of Memorandum SCAPIN No. 17911 dated 4 October 1947 to transfer the affairs of the Second Demobilization Bureau to the Welfare Ministry or other Government organization as designated by SCAP.

We wish to take the below-stated steps in order to carry out this transfer.

1. The date of the transfer shall be 1 January 1948 and the policy of our carrying it out shall be as follows, lest any confliction with para. 5 of the above-mentioned Memorandum concerning reorganization of demobilization machinery should arise:

(a) It shall be taken into our full consideration that every effort should be made to avoid a large-scale change in the personnel to be transferred at the time of the transfer, so that any deterioration in the business efficiency of the transferred affairs should not occur.

(b) Such organizations as similar as possible to that of the present Second Demobilization Bureau shall be set up immediately after the transfer, so that any delay in business transaction should not be caused.

(c) The reduction of the transferred personnel shall be made gradually and progressively in February, March and so on, in view of our consideration mentioned para. 1 (a) above.

2. Minesweeping, ship-maintenance and related affairs such as supply, repairing, telegraph, personnel and accounting effairs shall be transferred en bloc to the General Maritime Bureau, Transportation Ministry, while affairs concerning pure demobilization, affairs concerning various investigations which will be requested by the Allied Powers and other affairs concerning winding up of the remaining businesses inherited from the Second Demobilization Bureau upon its elimination and related matters shall be transferred en bloc to the Welfare Ministry.

The transfer mentioned above is as shown in the separate Table No. I.

3. As many of the personnel of the Second Demobilization Bureau, being the minimum possible in number even at present, take charge simultaneously of the affairs to be transferred to the both Ministries mentioned above and consequently they are in a closely connected and inseparable condition with each other, it is hardly possible to differentiate these personnel together with their assigned duties at once into two separate categories. In principle no concurrent post shall be tolerated. We should like, however, to get your understanding over the possibility that there will be some personnel holding temporarily concurrent posts of both Ministries in some inevitable cases. (This shall be limited as much as possible only to low-rank officials.) With the progress of business transaction and as the transferred affairs come to be carried out smoothly, these personnel shall be scrutinized one by one about their duties and be relieved of their concurrent posts. And it is our policy to make every effort to carry out this elimination as soon as possible so that by the end of coming March there shall be no person holding concurrent post.

4. In regard to the establishments, facilities, articles, etc., as ship-maintenance and minesweeping activities are to be transferred en bloc to the Transportation Ministry, all of those related to the above-mentioned activities shall be transferred en masse to the said Ministry, while only those which are now dealt with as the pure demobilization affairs by the Second Demobilization Bureau shall be turned over to the Welfare Ministry.

5. The site and status of the office work for the transferred affairs shall remain for some time to come the same as at present, in view of the fact that the immediate change of the said matter will be practically imposaible, becauss there are no accommodation facilities elsewhere.

6. Of the organization for the affairs to be transferred to the Welfare Ministry, the central organ shall be the Second Demobilization Liquidation Division, which shall come under the Demobilization Bureau, Welfare Ministry. Each District Demobilization Bureau shall become the Demobilization Liquidation Office of the respective district, which shall be the local organ of the same Ministry.

7. The organization for the affairs to be transferred to the General Maritime Bureau, Transportation Ministry, shall be one division within the same Bureau, while each local organ shall be an Office of the District Maritime Bureau in the respective area.

8. The fixed personnel of each organ as of 1 January 1948 and the estimated reduction of the personnel by around February and March of the same year are as set forth in the separate Table No. II.

9. As for the retention of the personnel in service, it is requested that your authorization be granted over our written applications previously submitted to you, without our submitting anew further application for the matter.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD: 23 December 1947

On or about 12 December Comdr. Hussey read the above memorandum, and, with reference to the number of 70 ex-colonels and 31 ex-naval captains employed in Assistance Sections of the prefectural governments (paragraph B, 1 of memorandum), stated to Major Napier that he recommended the number of ex-officers of both of these ranks be limited to 46, one in each prefecture.

Enclosure No. 1

Steps To Be Taken In Transfer Of Affairs Of The Second Demobilization Bureau To The Welfare Ministry And Transportation Ministry Upon Abolition Of Second Demobilization Bureau.

It has been directed through para. 3 of Memorandum SCAPIN No. 17911 dated 4 October 1947 to transfer the affairs of the Second Demobilization Bureau to the Welfare Ministry or other Government organization as designated by SCAP.

We wish to take the below-stated steps in order to carry out this transfer.

1. The date of the transfer shall be 1 January 1948 and the policy of our carrying it out shall be as follows, lest any confliction with para. 5 of the above-mentioned Memorandum concerning reorganization of demobilization machinery should arise:

(a) It shall be taken into our full consideration that every effort should be made to avoid a large-scale change in the personnel to be transferred at the time of the transfer, so that any deterioration in the business efficiency of the transferred affairs should not occur.

(b) Such organizations as similar as possible to that of the present Second Demobilization Bureau shall be set up immediately after the transfer, so that any delay in business transaction should not be caused.

(c) The reduction of the transferred personnel shall be made gradually and progressively in February, March and so on, in view of our consideration mentioned para. 1 (a) above.

2. Minesweeping, ship-maintenance and related affairs such as supply, repairing, telegraph, personnel and accounting affairs shall be transferred en bloc to the General Maritime Bureau, Transportation Ministry, while affairs concerning pure demobilization, affairs concerning various investigations which will be requested by the Allied Powers and other affairs concerning winding up of the remaining businesses inherited from the Second Demobilization Bureau upon its elimination and related matters shall be transferred en bloc to,the Welfare Ministry.

The transfer mentioned above is as shown in the separate Table No. I.

3. As many of the personnel of the Second Demobilization Bureau, being the minimum possible in number even at present, take charge simultaneously of the affairs to be transferred to the both Ministries mentioned above and consequently they are in a closely connected and inseparable condition with each other, it is hardly possible to differentiate these personnel together with their assigned duties at once into two separate categories. In principle no concurrent post shall be tolerated. We should like, however, to get your understanding over the possibility that there will be some personnel holding temporarily concurrent posts of both Ministries in some inevitable cases. (This shall be limited as much as possible only to low-rank officials.) With the progress of business transaction and as the transferred affairs come to be carried out smoothly, these personnel shall be scrutinized one by one about their duties and be relieved of their concurrent posts. And it is our policy to make every effort to carry out this elimination as soon as possible so that by the end of coming March there shall be no person holding concurrent post.

4. In regard to the establishments, facilities, articles, etc., as ship-maintenance and minesweeping activities are to be transferred en bloc to the Transportation Ministry, all of those related to the above-mentioned activities shall be transferred en masse to the said Ministry, while only those which are now dealt with as the pure demobilization affairs by the Second Demobilization Bureau shall be turned over to the Welfare Ministry.

5. The site and status of the office work for the transferred affairs shall remain for some time to come the same as at present, in view of the fact that the immediate change of the said matter will be practically impossible, because there are no accommodation facilities elsewhere.

6. Of the organization for the affairs to be transferred to the Welfare Ministry, the central organ shall be the Second Demobilization Bureau Liquidation Division, which shall come under the Demobilization Bureau, Welfare Ministry. Each District Demobilization Bureau shall become the District Demobilization Bureau Liquidation Office of the respective district, which shall be the local organ of the same Ministry.

7. The organization for the affairs to be transferred to the General Maritime Bureau, Transportation Ministry, shall be one division within the same Bureau, while each local organ shall be an Office of the District Maritime Bureau in the respective area.

8. The fixed personnel of each organ as of 1 January 1948 and the estimated reduction of the personnel by around February and March of the same year are as set forth in the separate Table No. II.

9. As for the retention of the personnel in service, it is requested that your authorization be granted over our written applications previously submitted to you, without our submitting anew further application for the matter.

Enclosure 2

Explanation of the Outline of steps to be taken relative to abolition of the Second Demobilization Bureau.

1. The Japanese Government has endeavored at all times to complete the work of demobilization as speedily as possible, and would have done so even in the absence of any directives from SCAP.

The Second Demobilization Bureau (SDB) carried out adjustments and reductions in personnel with each progress in its work. On 15 October 1947 the total personnel numbered 6,074 as against the total of 14,539 allowed for at the time the Demobilization Board was established, or slightly less than 41%. And if from the above computation we leave out the 2,900 engaged in ship maintenance and minesweeping, since those operations appear likely to be maintained as at present for the time being, we find that the personnel connected with the functions which are shortly to be transferred to the Welfare Ministry was reduced during the above-mentioned period from 7,340 to 3,124, or to less than 43%.

2. As a result of the efforts made to conform to the purport of the Directive after it was received, there is prospect of a further reduction of 13%, thus bringing the number down to 2,729, at the time of the transfer to the Welfare Ministry. While such reduction might not be satisfactory when considered from the standpoint of "complete abolition", which was the ultimate object, we desire to bring to your attention the fact that the work of the SDB could not be completely finished by the end of this year because of the following causes over which the Japanese Government had no control:

(a) Investigations on missing persons.

of missing persons was estimated to be around 200,000. By October 1946 that number had been reduced to about 100,000; and today, as a result of the efforts made since then, there remain but 12,000 names on the list of missing. And as a result of the recent completion of repatriation from the South, prospects are now good for completing investigation of all but about 4,000 extremely difficult cases by the end of April 1948. As for those in Soviet territories, serious investigation will be difficult until repatriation has been completed from those areas; but it is estimated that about three months after completion of repatriation will be sufficient for this work.

(b) Demobilization procedure.

As a result of the completion of repatriation from the South, demobilization procedural work for the southern regions is expected to be finished by the end of February 1948; and for the Soviet areas, within three months after completion of repatriation from those areas.

(c) Legal investigations and general investigations.

Under present conditions it will be impossible to reduce the investigation staff even in January, for there is still no appreciable drop in the demands for investigations from various sections of GHQ. As we have found it necessary to explain repeatedly before, most of our records were destroyed by fire or otherwise lost, so that in carrying out these investigations we have no alternative but to reply on the memories of high ranking officers who occupied important posts at the time, and to draw up our reports on the basis of their collective memory. That explains also why the presence of so many officials of relatively high rank among those remaining is inevitable.

3. Although every effort is being made, it now looks as though the work that still remains in disposing of the goods which belonged to SDB will have to be continued through February 1948. Consequently it is believed that the personnel engaged in this work will not be needed from March.

4. As a result of the changes contemplated in Paras. 2 and 3 above, it is anticipated that the 2,729 persons transferred to the Welfare Ministry will be reduced to 2,099 by 1 March 1948. Leaving out the personnel related with minesweeping and ship maintenance, there will thus have been a 60% reduction in the SDB personnel between April 1947 and March 1948.

5. As already stated, there is no appreciable decrease in the work of the SDB as on 1 January, the time set for its abolition. And considered from the standpoint of progress in the work, it can be said that we are really getting warmed up now and are hurrying to put the finishing touch on the job. Considered, moreover, from the standpoint of "smooth function" mentioned in Para. 5 of the Directive, it must be said that any radical change in organizational structure will make it very difficult for us. But the Japanese Government, in its earnest desire to be faithful to the SCAP Directive, has decided to contract the present structure of SDB with its 7 Divisions and 10 Sections to 1 Division and 5 Sections to be set up in the Transportation Ministry and 1 Division (Liquidation) and 8 Sections in the Welfare Ministry, or a total of 2 Divisions and 13 Sections, as shown in the accompanying Table. There has thus been a considerable reduction in the number of Divisions and a slight increase in the number of Sections, - this change resulting from the abolition of certain Divisions and reduction of certain others to Sections.

6. It is the hope of the Japanese Government that it may obtain SCAP's understanding of the circumstances set forth above, and his consent to the plan here presented.

Enclosure 3.

Explanation of steps to be taken in connection with the abolition of SDB.

While it is our belief that the outline of the transfer of the structure and functions of SDB upon its abolition should be as in ~~the draft shown in the Annex~~ our Document to be submitted to GHQ, we desire to offer the following explanations concerning matters relating to the Welfare Ministry, since they in particular involve many points which may give rise to difficulties later on:

1. The number of Sections under the Second Demobilization Bureau Liquidation Division may at first glance appear excessive. But a careful study of their substance will show that such a number is necessary.

(a) Relations between Administrative Section and Archives and Document Section.

The Archives and Document Section has charge of the handling of official documents, maintenance of order within the entire Division, receiving of visitors, management of vehicles, - in short, all sundry duties essential to the operation of the Second Demobilization Bureau Liquidation Division. The Administrative Section, on the other hand, has charge of adjustment of the internal functions of the Division as a whole, its organization and assignment of staff members and other functions essential to liquidation, and serves as a co-ordinating organ to enable the entire Division to carry out its functions with maximum efficiency. And as this arrangement is a matter of long custom, merger of these two Sections into one will result in a merger in form only, and will have no effect on the substance nor bring about any reduction in personnel.

(b) Personnel Section and Personal Affairs Section.

The primary function of the Personnel Section is investigation pertaining to the war dead and the missing, while the Personal Affairs Section will be charged with the actual handling of the personal problems of the war dead, the wounded and the sick and those still to be demobilized. Not only is there a clear cut ~~distinction~~ distinction between the functions of these two Sections, but there is so much work for the Personal Affairs Section to do that its existence as a separate Section is absolutely essential. The work of the Personnel Section will of course have no relation to the personnel affairs of the Welfare Ministry itself.

(c) Accounting Section.

The Welfare Ministry of course has its own Accounting Section. But the Accounting Section to be set up in the Second Demobilization Liquidation Division will have charge of work of an entirely difference nature, since it will be concerned with such work as collection of claims and payment of obligations arising during or after the war, payment of allowances to those yet to be demobilized, auditing in connection with disposition of goods, etc. This Section is therefore considered essential.

(d) Historical Record Section and Legal Investigation Section.

It is these two Sections that collect the material and prepare the reports in compliance with most of the demands for investigations coming from the Allied Authorities. The Legal Investigation Section has charge principally of war crime cases, while the Historical Record Section has charge of investigations relating to war history, materials and other matters having to do with the former Navy. And since their functions are so completely different in substance, their merger could only result in a serious drop in the efficiency of both.

(e) Liaison Section.

The creation of this Section is absolutely essential for liaison with various sections of the Allied Forces if the work mentioned in Para. 4 of the Directive is to be faithfully carried out. Although some study was made of the possibility of merging it with the Archives and Document Section, the conclusion was that such a step would not be appropriate because of the differences in the functions of these two Sections.

Enclosure 1 (3) 2-470

Steps To Be Taken In Transfer Of Affairs Of The Second Demobilization Bureau To The Welfare Ministry And Transportation Ministry Upon Abolition Of Second Demobilization Bureau.

It has been directed through para. 3 of Memorandum SCAPIN No. 17911 dated 4 October 1947 to transfer the affairs of the Second Demobilization Bureau to the Welfare Ministry or other Government organization as designated by SCAP.

We wish to take the below-stated steps in order to carry out this transfer.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Reserve Demobilization Organization

1. G-2's check sheet to Government Section, attached Tab A, proposes that a reserve demobilization organization be set up in anticipation of an increased flow of repatriates from Soviet held areas. G-2 suggests that the rehiring of experienced ex-officer personnel is difficult at best and it would simplify enlarging the demobilization machinery if a reserve crew were rehired now.

2. Actually the check sheet does not ask for any action on Government Section's part at this time and hence does not require an answer.

3. If an answer were to be sent we would be forced to point out that any such proposal would constitute a direct violation of JCS and Allied directives and might cause extremely serious international repercussions. As a practical matter there seems to be no real reason why existing machinery cannot handle an increased flow of repatriates since it is believed that the intake ports (the only place where the congestion would occur) are operating at considerably below full capacity.

4. It is recommended that the attached check sheet be filed without answer.

Subject: Ex-Officer Personnel for Demobilization Agencies

Note No.: 1.

From: G-2

To: Government Section

Date: CAW/PHB/JWS/lg

1. Reference is made to the proposal advanced on behalf of SCAP at the Allied Council meeting of 29 October 1947 to increase the flow of repatriates from Russian territories to Japan from the current figure (theoretically 50,000 per month; actually less) to 160,000 per month.

2. If this plan is accepted by the Russians, the work of demobilization agencies at the repatriation ports will probably be increased fivefold. Hitherto a high proportion of the repatriates from Russian areas have been civilians requiring no administrative processing by the Demobilization Bureaus; hereafter most repatriates will be "servicemen".

3. An additional repatriation and demobilization center, at Otaru, would have to be provided and staffed with qualified personnel.

4. The tempo of work at the central offices, including the Home Depot Bureau, and incidentally also at the Prefectural Governments' Local Assistance Bureaus, would also have to be correspondingly stepped up.

5. As a result of pressure to discharge as many ex-officers (the best-qualified and usually the only really qualified personnel for directing demobilization work) as possible from the demobilization agencies, the First Demobilization Bureau is today operating with the absolute minimum of competent persons required to carry on current demobilization and related activities. There is no qualified personnel in reserve to man a new demobilization center or augment the staff at the other ports to meet any greatly increased influx of repatriate servicemen. The forced reduction, in April 1947, on Government Section instigation, of the number of generals from 16 to 10, (now to 8), and particularly of colonels from 134 to 50, absolutely removed any reserve of highly qualified personnel, and resulted in the staffing of various important positions by comparatively inexperienced persons and in a lowering of efficiency: they are in no position to stand pressure now.

6. In case the Russians accept the proposed plan, it will be necessary for the First Demobilization Bureau to hire immediately, if possible, an additional 80 ex-officers, not to mention hundreds of other (clerical) personnel. The need for immediate efficient operation will preclude any possibility of using only civilians and training them on the job; besides, no spare personnel for such training purposes is available. SCAP and the Japanese Government cannot afford any hitch or chaos in demobilization.

File No.:

Subject: Ex-Officer Personnel for Demobilization Agencies

Note No.:

From: G-2 To: Government Section Date: CAW/PHB/JWS/lg 6 November 1947

1. (cont'd) Persons definitely qualified will have to be hired; that means, ex-officers familiar with demobilization problems.

7. The Russians may or may not accede to SCAP's proposal. However, until repatriation is completed, the possibility of an increased rate of influx of repatriates, and therefore of persons to be demobilized, will be ever-present. Any further reduction of the key operations personnel of the First Demobilization Bureau and its agencies will seriously jeopardize these organs' ability to cope with an increase in repatriation; indeed it appears wise and necessary to arrange even now for the creation of a reserve skeleton crew of competent personnel, ready to augment on short notice the staff at existing demobilization stations, or to form the nucleus of a new demobilization center at a newly selected repatriation port.

8. Past pressure for dismissal of ex-officers in the demobilization agencies, and especially the wholesale cut in April, have created in the demobilization agencies an atmosphere of insecurity in which those agencies often find it difficult to retain key operating personnel; SCAPIN 1791 has served to accentuate this insecurity. The rehiring of experienced ex-officers, once dismissed, is not an easy job and cannot be done overnight. These factors make the provision of a reserve crew at this time doubly important, as no chances can be taken with possible failure or slowdown of the demobilization machinery under an added burden.
