The pastor of our Presbyterian Church was highly honored at the Presbytery meeting in Norristown last week in being elected commissioner to the National General Assembly, which will be held in Columbus, Ohio, next May. Mr. Van Ness received by far the largest number of votes of all the eight men who were nominated for this important commission.

Any of our townspeople interested in the study of French will be glad to hear that a class for that purpose is about to be formed. It will be taught by Mrs. George Abele and will meet at the home of Mrs. Joseph Barclay, 312 Essex avenue.

Those wishing to start with the class should notify either Mrs. Abele or Mrs. Barclay as soon as possible.

To date the sales of Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps in Narberth have compared most favorably with other Main Line towns, being almost equal to communities with double the population of our town. Shall we not keep up this good business? It speaks well for Narberth. The children of Narberth are doing fine, but many of the older folks could well give the Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps business more support. The investment is A-1, and the reputation of our community should be a real incentive, not to lose sight of a real purpose of helping our Government to supply the things our boys need. Plenty of the stamps, "ready to serve" at the postoffice, and a number of the stores.

WATER CO. MUST REDUCE CHARGES

New Rates Fixed By Public Service Board, Based on Valuation—Users Win Long Fight

In an order filed last week the Public Service Commission disposed of the celebrated Springfield Consolidated Water Company cases and made a rule restricting the company's gross receipts for 1918 for fire service and domestic and industrial service to $882,232. Of this amount the commission will allow $262,500 for operating expenses, $59,633 for depreciation and $560,099 as a fair return to the company. Of this latter item the commission says:

"The fair rate of return to which the company shall be entitled should be computed at 7 per cent. per annum upon the fair value of the property and the estimated cost of improvements ordered to be made during the present year." The property valuation was fixed by the commission at $6,953,320, and in allowing the company a "fair return" $1,048,100 was added, this sum representing the estimated cost of improvements ordered for 1918.

The Springfield cases were filed several years ago by M. Callahan, residents of the borough of Conshohocken and vicinity, borough of Clifton Heights and the boroughs of Tinicum, Darby, Glenolden and Eddystone, and have been pending since before the commission. The company is the largest private water concern in the State and one of the largest in the country, its territory extending from Conshohocken to Chester.

New Rates Effective April 1

In its order the commission ruled that a new schedule of rates shall become effective April 1, 1918. Testimony in the several cases was closed in October last, and the commission's action to-day will result in the establishing of uniform rates for service over the entire district.

The schedule of rates fixed by the commission provides for a minimum payment, dependent upon the size of the meter of each consumer. This minimum for a five-eighths-inch meter is $12 per annum, and increases gradually to $300 for a four-inch meter. In every case the minimum payment covers the furnishing of 30,000 gallons of water per annum. The company is directed to make all street extensions which are reasonably required, thus removing one of the greatest sources of complaint, as prior to the order the consumers were forced to pay for street extensions.

Rates are also fixed for fire service dependent on the number of miles of pipe over four inches in diameter in each municipality, and it is calculated that the charges for fire service will return a revenue of $180,130 annually, while those for domestic service will bring $702,102.

Schedule in Detail

The minimum charges are scheduled in detail as follows:

The minimum yearly charge shall be based upon the size of meter and shall be as follows, payable quarterly:

For a meter five-eighths-inch or less in diameter, $12.

For a meter three-quarter-inch or less in diameter, $16.

For a meter one inch in diameter, $25.

For a meter one and one-half inches in diameter, $50.

For a meter one and three-quarter inches in diameter, $65.

For a meter two inches in diameter, $85.

For a meter two and one-half inches in diameter, $125.

For a meter three inches in diameter, $175.

For a meter four inches in diameter, $300.

All output services of whatever kind rendered by respondent to its patrons shall be on the meter basis as follows:

In excess of 30,000 gallons and up to 500,000 gallons, 21 cents per 1000 gallons.

In excess of 500,000 gallons and up to 2,000,000 gallons, 18 cents per 1000 gallons.

GOVERNMENT DEMANDS FLOUR SUPPLY REPORT

All Household Must Report Flour Supply at Once—Card Printed in Newspapers Must Be Used

All householders in Pennsylvania have been ordered by the United States Food Administration to report the quantity of flour in their possession on a flour supply card issued by the Federal Food Administrator for this county and printed below in this paper. The card will not be issued in other form than that found printed in these newspapers, so that if you are affected by the order you must cut out the clipping and mail it to the Federal Food Administrator for your county.

The following statement was issued by Mr. Heinz, Federal Food Administrator for Pennsylvania, in commenting on the above rule:

"The flour supply card issued by the Food Administration is the first step in a campaign to learn how much wheat flour is stored away in the homes. Householders are given the opportunity to report on the flour supply card the number in their households, the amount of wheat flour on hand (including whole wheat and Graham flour) and the amount they consider their thirty days' requirement. Those who mail no report will run the risk of prosecution and the penalty for hoarding—$5000 fine and two years' imprisonment or both. If any persons fail to report, the Food Administration can promise them no leniency, if found guilty of hoarding.

"By directing the public to state their flour holdings on the flour supply card the Food Administration is taking the step necessary to prevent a possible flour famine. Hoarders hasten famine. If next May, June or July we find ourselves without wheat flour, it will be because thousands of tons are stored away in cellars by unpatriotic householders who banish any consideration of the soldiers in their greed to have their own desire satisfied. The flour supply card is a Government action which will meet with the approval of all those who have taken the time to study food conditions abroad and who know therefore that food is probably the foremost factor in winning the war."

OFFICIAL HOUSEHOLDER'S FLOUR REPORT

WRITE CAREFULLY

No householder is permitted to purchase over 49 pounds of wheat flour nor to have more than 30 days' supply. Every householder must report immediately (on this form) to their County Food Administrator. Make report of all wheat flour on hand whether it is excess or not and urge on your neighbors the importance and necessity of making this report promptly.

Number in household.....adults.....children under 12.
Wheat flour on hand (all flour containing any wheat).....lbs.
Thirty days' requirements (when used with substitutes according to 50-50 regulation).....lbs.
I agree to hold my excess subject to the order of the United States Food Administration.
Name
Postoffice
Street and No. or R. F. D.
Maximum penalty for hoarding is $5,000.00 fine and two years' imprisonment. These blanks will not be distributed. You must fill in your own blank and mail or deliver it to your County Food Administrator. An immediate report will avoid possibility of search and prosecution.

ASH COLLECTION GIVES WAY TO ROAD WORK

Ash collections this week were suspended by the Highway Department of the borough in order that all efforts could be devoted to work on the streets. The severe winter weather left a number of very bad places in some of the streets, and with the rapid approach of spring the borough's forces temporarily are giving all attention to the highways.

As soon as the frost was sufficiently out of the ground the work of giving each street a thorough cleaning was started. This has been continued every week since. With the special drive that the Highway Department is making this week, it is expected that all streets will be cleaned and put in shape for necessary repair work, which will have to be done.

The ash collection will be resumed next week on the regular schedule.

EDITORIAL

THE GREAT DUTY

As we go about our daily tasks in peace and safety men are dying every minute on the battlefields of Europe to save civilization. Our own gallant soldiers are shedding their blood in France and our sailors engulfed in the waters of the Atlantic as they go in defense of America's rights and honor.

Upon our performance of the work committed to us depend the lives of thousands of men and women, the fate of many nations, the preservation of civilization and humanity itself; and the more efficient and prompt we people of America are in doing our part, the more quickly will this war come to an end and the greater the number of our soldiers and sailors who will be saved from death and suffering and the greater number of the people of other nations released from bondage and saved from death.

To work, to save, to economize, to give financial support to the Government is a duty of the nation and to the world and it is especially a duty to our fighting men who on land and sea are offering their lives for their country and their countrymen.

AMERICAN AND ENGLISH INCOME TAXES

In comparison with the tax levied in England on incomes our own income taxes are moderate, indeed.

In England the tax on incomes of $1000 is 4-1-2 per cent; in America nothing.

In England the tax on incomes of $1500 is 6-3-4 per cent; in America nothing for married men or heads of families, and 2 per cent on $500 for an unmarried man.

In England the tax on an income of $2000 is 7-8 per cent; in America nothing for a married man or head of a family, and 2 per cent on $1000 for unmarried men.

The English income tax rate also increases more rapidly with the growth of the income than ours, a $3000 income being taxed 14 per cent, $5000 16 per cent, $10,000 20 per cent, and $15,000 25 per cent, while our corresponding taxes for married men are respectively two-thirds of 1 per cent, 1-1-2 per cent, 3-1-2 per cent and 5 per cent, and only slightly more for the unmarried, due to the smaller amount exempted, the rate being the same.

WATER CO. MUST REDUCE CHARGES

In excess of 2,000,000 gallons, 12-1-2 cents per 1000 gallons.

For all public fire services the following yearly charges will be made: For each public fire hydrant in each political subdivision, $7 per annum.

For each mile of pipe four inches or greater in diameter, in each political subdivision where such pipe furnishes actual or potential public fire service, $355 per annum.

For all private fire protection services the following yearly charge will be made:

Where hydrants are owned by the water company, $15 per annum; where service is now being rendered at a flat rate meters shall be installed by the company at its expense as rapidly as possible, and the installations completed prior to January 1, 1919; in the meantime such service to be charged for at a flat rate to be fixed by the company with the approval of the commission, such rate to be computed so as to result in reductions comparable to those provided for in the meter rate schedule. These services are to be paid for in advance, quarterly.

It is further ordered that the company install various improvements at specified periods.

VOTERS URGED TO ENROLL

All Republican voters of Narberth who have recently moved into the borough, or who previously were not enrolled, are urged to communicate at once with Mr. Carden Warner, assessor, so that he may properly enroll such voters upon the poll book. This must be done not later than March 21; otherwise the voter will be unable to vote at the spring primary. The primary election on May 21 will be one of the most important that has been held in the State for many years and every voter should have a part in naming the candidates to be selected at that time. If any of our voters desire information, the undersigned will be glad to give such help as he can.

Charles V. Noel,
Committeeman.

RECRUITS WANTED FOR THE REGULAR ARMY

CUB'S WEEKLY LETTER

To the Editor of Our Town:

The meeting of base ball fans to organize a club for the season of 1918 was rather slimly attended, although those present represented the cream of the base ball brains of the borough. Ray Jones, Fred Walzer, Jim Foote and Dave Calhoun, a newcomer, constituted the entire attendance and what was lacking in numbers was offset by the enthusiasm of the quartette mentioned. Fred Walzer, the Peerless Leader, a man who knows base ball from Conway to Dudley, will again guide the destinies of Narberth's representatives on the diamond. Just how Fred will find time to devote to base ball matters and still act as campaign manager for Fletcher Stites in the latter's quest for the Congressional nomination, is a mystery.

As most of last year's team have gone to the Front, it has been decided to select a nine from some of Narberth's veterans of many a hard-fought battle. The slate is made up and is tentatively as follows:

- C. H. McCarter, p.
- Charles Humphreys, c.
- Carroll Downes, 1 b.
- Lew Hess, 2 b.
- Arthur McClellan, ss.
- Bill Ridge, c. f.
- Bill Trotter, 1. f.
- Tom Cromer, 3 b.
- Bob McCoy, r. f.

A team like that ought to bring out the people—there's no question about that. Salaries will be noticeable for their absence this year, and all receipts will be donated to the Red Cross. It has been decided to play only Army and Navy teams. You know our warriors are to be trained in the gentle art of slaughter and very likely President Jones, of the base ball club, feels that it is his patriotic duty to furnish a few victims upon whom they may practice.

Too much must not be expected of a passenger elevator. It's able to handle ordinary people and while at times some one a little over the average in bulk may be carried without greatly straining the cables, there is no sense in pushing a good thing too far, as two of our worthy Home Towners now realize. The story goes that Bill Cohie and Frazier Purse, either of whom is an elevator load in himself, essayed to embark on the same car with the result that might have been expected. The cables parted, of course, and a tragedy was imminent, but fortunately the safety device was in working order and the car came to a gradual stop between the second and third floors. Being long of limb, Purse managed to climb out of the car, which was suspended half way between the two floors, but for poor Cohie it was found necessary to employ a derrick. Needless to say, these two will never enter a lift together again.

The Top Sergeant says he is just as much of a patriot as he was before election day, but the doctor has forbidden his indulging in the strenuous training that goes with a soldier's life. He has a new automobile which he hopes will help restore his health and strength and permit him to again take his proper place in the ranks of the Home Guards before another election for tax collector is due.

A few years ago two men, well acquainted with one another in a business way, were comparing notes and one stated that he was living at Wynnewood, and the other claimed Merion as his place of residence. Both of 'em "got away with it," until they happened to meet at Narberth station and then confessions were in order. I happened to think of that story when I was looking through the phone directory the other day and noticed that one of our local Solons, who lives on lower Chestnut avenue, has given Wynnewood as his address. Would you call this camouflage, and is he ashamed to claim as his home the town that has honored him with one of its highest offices?

Ever since John Caldwell's been a movie manager he's had the actor bug. He thinks that Douglas Fairbanks is all right in his own way, but John is satisfied that with a little practice he'll make Douglas look like a second rater. That explains why he is trying to climb over the front of the house, vault over the hedge, stand on his hands, etc., as

Of course, we deliver — any place — any time.

The Brightest Spot in Narberth

A drug store in the most modern sense of the term

you may have noticed lately. Just now he is indulging in sword practice—duel stuff, and horseback riding. We have been telling him that stunts a la Fatty Arbuckle would be more in his line, but he insists that, being young, handsome and athletic, with a stage name like Harold St. John, his success would be assured. Bill Harris tells him his proper place is at the door taking tickets, not on the film. But he doesn't seem to understand that film has nothing to do with fillem.

A true believer in conservation is Officer Hill, of the Narberth police force. To prove that he is doing all he can to prevent waste, he ate six plates of ice cream at the Y. M. C. A. party last Saturday night. The portions were unusually generous at that, there being two slabs of the delectable refreshment on each plate. My informant used an adding machine, but even it was not adequate to register the quantity of cake that was consumed by the local terror of evil-doers. All he could say was: "I don't care much for the stuff, but hate to see it wasted."

I suppose that in years to come those veterans of the Narberth Home Guard who have moved to other places will tell all about their imaginary achievements in this war. Better stay right here, fellow guards, where we know you—it'll give the Recording Angel less work.

FLOWERING TREES TO HELP BEAUTIFY NARBERTH

A goodly number of our people have responded and ordered Persian peach trees, but we have not yet heard from all on the corner lots on Wynnewood avenue, south side, nor from all the residents on Conway, Dudley, Price and Montgomery avenues. It is difficult to imagine a more lovely picture than those two long avenues completely planted with this Persian tree. It would be a perfect Maxfield Parrish picture, a dream in colors. When the picture is completed in 1919, after a season's growth, the show will be worth while; but the year following the effect will surpass our wildest dreams. It will be a blaze of color. The whole will be a monument to the public spirit of the citizens of our town and will be imitated all along the Main Line.

Get at least three trees for each lot, plant them about eight to ten feet apart in line with the porch, or just a bit ahead of the porch line, as well as in the front of the porch. Dudley avenue was just planned for this tree and will show it off to advantage from any point, particularly from Price avenue. The trees are now ready for delivery.

Y. M. C. A. BIRTHDAY PARTY

Saturday evening last, Paddy's Day, a birthday party was given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., very similar to the one given a year ago. Everybody who attended was supplied with a small bag, into which was to be placed a penny for each year of the age of the contributor. The contents of the bags indicated that there are quite a number of centenarians in Narberth. The attendance was not as large as last year, which was much regretted, as the entertainment and refreshments were especially fine.

The entertainment provided by the very capable ladies of the auxiliary included a piano solo by Miss Bernice Chesley, who also accompanied selections on the banjo by Dr. Elworthy. The Beethoven sonata selected by Miss Chesley was played with admirable technique and expression, and afforded a good opportunity to display the excellent tone quality of the new piano, provided by the ladies of the Community Club.

Mrs. James G. Foote most acceptably sang the well known song of Oley Speaks, entitled "To You," while Mrs. Joseph Barclay, in her usual very pleasing manner, sang a solo with violin obligato by Mr. John Burt, and as an encore "Fiddle and I."

Mrs. Martha Lindsay Simpson delighted the audience with two selections of widely different character, one being the pathetic story of "Patsy and his Three Lost Years," a mingling of tears and laughter, and the funny woes of a German boy who did not want to go to school. Mrs. Simpson's facial expression and gestures are exactly suited to every fleeting mood. She has indeed a high order of talent in the mimic art.

Mrs. J. C. Dodge also gave a reading, her selection being a fine satire on the "inside information" that is so freely handed out, as to just when the war will end. It was received with much laughter and applause.

Mr. Howard H. Berry, tenor soloist of St. Paul's, at Overbrook, sang two Irish songs very appropriate to the occasion with adequate feeling, and in fine voice. "Mavourneen" and "Cushla."

Last, but by no means least, came Mr. John Vandersloot, also of St. Paul's Church. His splendid, robust bass voice was well remembered from last year's birthday party. All of the deep pathos of "Mother Machree" was fully brought out most convincingly. The audience was not satisfied until Mr. Vandersloot had sung "Three for Jack" and a sentimental song. The audience, still calling for "more," Mr. Vandersloot and Mr. Berry graciously sang together "Watchman, What of the Night?" which was received with rapturous applause.

The auxiliary is to be heartily congratulated on the success of the party, and generally on the great work they are doing for the Y. M. C. A. Last winter they supplied it with thirty-eight tons of coal, and are planning to provide for more. Their efficient aid is most heartily appreciated by the officers and directors of the organization.

The first thing a man does after making a fool of himself is to try to explain how it happened.

The former will meet at 11 A. M. and luncheon will be served at 12.30. The Missionary Society will convene at 2 P. M. All the ladies of the congregation are invited to these important meetings.

There will be a special meeting held in this church on Good Friday evening. Rev. David S. Kennedy, D. D., editor of "The Presbyterian," will deliver the sermon. He is a preacher of national reputation and as many as possible should plan to hear him.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

To the Editor of Our Town:

Little attentions from the "stay-at-homes" are sincerely appreciated by the men in the training camps, especially when these come from people who are in no way related or connected with the men. This morning's mail brought me a letter, full of sincere gratitude, from one I have never seen, and that some other person may share with my joy and receive similar words I quote from a postal just received:

"May I think you for a copy of the Literary Digest, which I have just been reading? It is fine to know that while we are doing our part here, we are remembered by those back home."

Surely the Biblical expression which Louisa M. Alcott paraphrased to read, "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days—battered," is true.

A penny stamp on the face of your discarded magazine will help to brighten a lonely hour for one of our boys at the front.

The Y. M. C. A. Composition Contest

The following pupils of the Narberth public schools were awarded prizes of membership tickets for one year for meritorious essays upon the theme, "Why I Should Join the Y. M. C. A." The cost of these memberships was provided by Mr. A. J. Loos, with a view to stimulating thought along this line and effort on the part of the children.

Elizabeth Hunter, Helen Shea, Vera Alexander, Joseph Roberts, Helen Faile, Agnes Roberts, Charles Young, Robert Savill, May Banfield Faith McAuliffe, Louis Ricklin, Rose Ricklin, Mabel Kirkpatrick, Anna Moritz.

Two of the compositions are given here with:

Why Boys and Girls Should Join the Y. M. C. A.

Y. M. C. A. Such a minute word, but with such a large meaning. It means health and may mean wealth to every person that joins it. Your mind and body will advance physically, as well as mentally and morally.

Why spend your few spare or idle hours loitering around the corners and the streets, when you can enjoy a good and clean time in the Y. M. C. A.?

Boys and girls of Narberth are taught morality at the various churches; mentally in the Narberth school, but when dismissed from school where shall they go?

You guessed it—the Y. M. C. A. The best place for boys and girls in spare hours. Join now. It means health and may mean wealth. At any rate it always means the beginning of a good career.

Louis Ricklin,
Age 14, Eighth Grade.

January 25, 1918.

Why I Should Join the Y. M. C. A.

Every boy and girl should belong to the Y. M. C. A. I should like to belong to the Y. M. C. A. because you gain health and wealth, you also learn how to play fair. I think it would be very nice to play basket ball when you grow older. I also think it would be nice to go in and read books from the library.

It is a very good opportunity for those who are not strong. If now you take gym lessons, when you grow older you may be the head of the basket ball team, which I would like very much to be.

I hope that if I ever play basket ball I can abide by this poem:

He lost the game; no matter for that,
He kept his temper and swung his hat
To cheer the winners; a better way
Than to lose his temper and win the day.

Elizabeth Hunter,
Age 12, Fifth Grade.

Magazines for the Boys in Service

Many inquiries are received at the Y. M. C. A. from people who desire to know if magazines are still being received there for the soldiers and sailors. This work will go on throughout the entire year and there is no danger of sending too many. Let them come in. Four crates were sent away last week, and another is now being filled.

Books are also wanted and carefully packed for the different camps. No old school books, nor musty old volumes without interest. The Government does not wish to pay the cost of transportation on books which will not be of interest to the boys. Give them bright, lively stories—the books you prize yourself and you will be rendering a valuable service.

BOOKS FOR OUR BOYS

The cry is for still more books for the soldier and sailor boys. Much has been done already. Library buildings have been erected in thirty-four of the large camps, each accommodating 10,000 to 15,000 volumes and 175 to 250 readers. In every camp, eight to twenty branch libraries are maintained in Y. M. C. A., K. of C. and Y. W. C. A. buildings and in hospital reading rooms. There will also be 100 or more Library Deposit Stations in barracks and mess shacks.

A fund of $1,700,000 has been given by the American people for the work, to be spent for buildings, equipment and supplies, salaries of librarians and assistants, subscriptions to periodicals and purchase of such books as will not be obtained by gifts.

Half a million books are still needed to meet actual needs in the thirty-four large camps; another half million for forts, posts and small camps and marine corps training stations and barracks, men on transports and overseas. For every man in service there ought to be a book in service. That means a million books at once. And books must be replaced frequently. Hundreds of thousands of books will be bought of the sort that cannot be expected as gifts. Therefore, hundreds of thousands must be obtained as gifts.

Our citizens are asked to go carefully over their book shelves, and donate all they can possibly spare of a suitable kind. Of course, judgment must be used in selecting books. Good fiction, history and such technical books as would be useful to engineers and mechanics in the field would be welcome. Juveniles, books for girls and old patent reports are not needed.

Send books to the Y. M. C. A. in care of Mr. W. G. Nyce, secretary.

Synopsis of a Sermon Given Last Sunday Morning by Rev. Avery S. Demmy, Pastor of the Baptist Church of the Evangel, Narberth—Printed at the Request of One of the Members of His Church

We can find many references in the Bible to the Book of Life, also many exhortations to have our name written there. The origin of this expression was with the ancient Jews in their return from captivity in Babylon. In coming back to Jerusalem they found many of their race, who were left there, had, contrary to the laws of Moses, intermarried with the surrounding heathen thus becoming defiled and disfranchised. The names of those whose blood remained pure, however, were kept in a great book known as the Book of Life. An old civilization was dying and a new one was struggling to be born. This book was called the Book of Life because those whose names were there were fighting with all their might the battles of right, and were the life givers in rebuilding anew the kingdom. In a definite and practical way I want, today, to call upon every man who comes under the sound of my voice or the reach of my influence to register now in order to vote at the coming elections for those things which mean for the highest and best and the speedy elimination of all things that rob and destroy life of its greatest treasures and richest joys.

This is a political and patriotic duty. Every bit of energy and resource we have must be registered against our enemy. Our boys and our Allies have bravely and manfully gone to fight our battles, and the battles of humanity. That we shall finally win, we are quite sure, and that will be a great day; but in order to bring that day and bring it quickly, we, here at home, must first defeat the Autocracy of Rum. The organized, legalized liquor traffic is more tyrannical, more treacherous and deadly, a greater foe to our country, more destructive of our resources and more damaging of our success and final victory than all the skill and science and warfare of our foe. It is becoming more evident with each passing day that if democracy is to win the war we must have National Prohibition. This is necessary in order to have efficiency in industry, conservation of our food supplies and

SUFFRAGE NOTES

"Democracy is inefficient unless it is complete, and where one-half of the citizenry is deprived of its political rights there can be but a half democracy."

Write Letters to Senators Knox and Penrose

As no date has been set for the consideration of the Federal Woman Suffrage Amendment in the Senate, there is still time to write letters urging a favorable vote. Men and women who believe in establishing democracy at home while fighting for it abroad are urged to do this. Address letters to Hon. Boies Penrose and Hon. Philander C. Knox, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C. Do not delay. Write now!

Hon. Fletcher W. Stites Speaks for Suffrage

At a patriotic meeting at the New Century Club when woman suffrage and prohibition were the war measures under discussion, Hon. Fletcher W. Stites told "Why He Would Vote for Woman Suffrage," and Dr. C. S. Swift spoke on "Prohibition." Both speakers urged the election of a Legislature that would ratify both amendments.

Watch the Primaries

Having used your influence to have all voters register the next step is to work to have candidates nominated at the primaries who will secure an honest, prohibition, woman suffrage legislation.

a merciful act, but instead, all these so badly needed by our Allies were worse than wasted in being turned into poison to weaken and destroy the very agencies upon which we must depend for victory and an honorable and lasting peace.

Our institutions, our Government, is challenged to a death-struggle. Our ideals of liberty and freedom and democracy are today hanging in the balance. If Germany wins, autocracy will die. If Germany wins, autocracy must perish. Victory is ours if we will pay the price, and the price is a dry nation and the issue will not wait. We must decide and do it quickly. Come on, men, register now and be a life-giver to the nation.

This is also a religious duty. Some one has said: "A worthless man is a dead man," and the man who fails to register and vote is a dead one so far as a temperance victory is concerned. I know some people depend entirely upon prayer, and I know there are some that go to the other extreme and attempt to get along altogether without prayer. Prayer has its place and usually a larger place than is given to it, but for prayer to be effective in abolishing the liquor traffic it must have hands and feet and a voice that can turn out dry votes at an election. Bishop Berry told us the other day of those men who spent the evening of election day at a prayer meeting asking God to put the saloons of the town out of business while the liquor interests were winning the election by the number of votes these men might have cast and turned the victory for temperance. Pray more, yes, let all men pray more, but remember you are a dead one for temperance unless you vote dry. A few years ago when the local option fight was so close in Ohio the decision in a certain county rested with a colony of Mennonites. These were thrifty, honest and intelligent citizens, but one of their religious beliefs forbade them to vote. They hated the saloon and loved righteousness, so men argued with them day and night, choruses sang patriotic songs in their streets. We pleaded, prayed, and begged them to vote. We stood on their streets and cried out: "We are going to the judgment bar of God with our temperance ballots in our hand." They refused to vote and the saloons remained. These professing servants of God, these good people, actually became servants of the devil by staying at home. What was true of those good people is true of a large number of people all over our State and nation. When the good people all stand together and put dry votes on their prayers the devil of a saloon will fall like lightning from heaven. Step up, every man and register now. Let all good people join in this fight today. There is before us a golden opportunity. We must strike, strike hard and strike quick. The Prohibition party, the Anti-Saloon League, the W. C. T. U. and all temperance organizations are co-operating for efficiency. For this let us thank God and take courage and co-operate too. At the coming elections there will really be but two parties, booze and prohibition. Every contribution of the former is in behalf of weakness and defeat of our country and the war. Every contribution of the latter is for strength and victory. Let every red-blooded man register now on the side of victory. To win we will gladly give up our bread, our sugar, our coal and all we have. To win our mothers are giving up their boys and in the name of crying babes, weeping mothers, fighting sons and a bruised and bleeding world I cry, and let the cry ring like a fire alarm at midnight. My God, men, will you not give up your booze?

Rev. Avery S. Demmy.

Pastor of the Baptist Church of the Evangel.

SCHOOL NOTES

"What have you done to help your fellow men in the world's struggle?" was the theme of a spirited, convincing plea made by our principal on Monday morning to the high school and faculty. In a brief, concise way he presented the many calls made upon school officials by the State and National Departments.

The Narberth Schools have responded to the nation's call by conducting a Thrift Stamp drive, by donating to the Senior Red Cross and by making the High School a unit of the Junior Red Cross, but the faculty and students feel we have done little as compared to many schools.

One thing we have done. We have continued our regular school work without interruption and have more than ever insisted upon this being done promptly and well. Our course now includes lessons on community and national life, recommended by the Department of the Interior.

Mr. Melchior announced that we would continue our policy in regard to the school and its relation to the war; namely, to avoid over-stimulation, antagonism and hatred; that an appeal would be made to the reasoning rather than the emotions, but we shall work more ardently along the following lines: Junior Red Cross, U. S. Boys' Working Reserve, Thrift Stamps, Boy Scouts, Gardening, Food Conservation, and the calisthenics and corrective phases of military training. For some weeks the boys have been responding enthusiastically to this last work.

The annual Easter exercises will be held in the auditorium Thursday morning prior to Easter, at 8.45. The program will differ from any of previous years. One-half hour will be given to devotional exercises conducted by the High School. It will be a development in sequence of the period from Gethsemane to the Walk to Emaus, presented in story and song. The remaining time, until 10 o'clock, will be occupied by the children in the elementary building, who will render an old-time program of songs, recitations and exercises.

To Mr. Loos, of the Y. M. C. A., the school is indebted for fourteen memberships to the association granted to pupils who were successful contestants in compositions on "Why I Should Join the Y. M. C. A." About one hundred and forty pupils entered the contest. Mr. Nyce, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., delivered an exceptionally good address to the student body last week and then announced the successful contestants and presented to them their tickets.

FORDS FLEE FROM NARBERTH OWNERS

Startling Manifestation of Mechanical Mentality Made to Borough Scientists—May Their Good Luck Continue

Time-worn, indeed, is the story of Damon and Pythias, but hoary though it may be, not until now could tale better illustrate the charm and beauty of real and faithful comradeship. Tempus fugit and as it does comes other and more striking evidence of sterling devotion, and while posterity, in that cynicism which increases with the ages, might be constrained to call it the mythical Fable of the Narberth Fords, those of us who now abide these spectacular times know full well the truth of it all, and must needs pause and conjure what wonderful and wholesome happenings have been given us to contemplate. Verily, Narberth is highly chosen. "That's what the paper said at the time it occurred," continued he who had been known as the Cub, as he told the tale to the wide-eyed great-grandchildren scattered around him, and the old man's eyes sparkled as he paused in his cogent meditation. "The first one to go," he went on, "belonged to a doctor, a fine, upright young man, well versed in his science, a credit to himself and to the community. When it happened, however, little was known concerning a Ford, although a great deal was said about them, but the fact that they could think and plan was yet to be learned. It was because the Doctor didn't know, then, that he treated the thing as he did and it must be said that he was more than hard on it. Such a winter we never had before or since, a most terrible one, and it's well known that with such weather the doctors are a-flutter. Hither and thither, all the time on the go, and in this particular year, science not being what it is today, the babies insisted on coming to town at the most unseemly hours. It was hard on the Doctor, it's true, but the Ford had come, as we all know, from an efficiency shop, and it had been told that eight hours a day were quite enough. It protested several times, but the symptoms were not recognized in those days, and the good doctor continued just as before. Every night or so he would bring the little thing to the drug-store, conducted by a highly enterprising and capable young man who also had a Ford, which he generally kept on the outside until he closed, when he brought it in and put it on the shelves. Now, when the Doctor was in the store his Ford let the druggist's Ford know just how things stood with it. 'I'll not put up with it much longer,' he exclaimed, 'for the man is treating me like tin in the pig, and he a man of science, too. It's one more chance I'll give him, and only one,' he breathed, 'as I'm going to flivver the very next time he maltreats me.' 'If you go, I'll go, too,' returns the druggist's Ford, 'as my man's ideas do not correspond with mine at all, using me for a truck when I didn't hire for anything of the kind, and when he does tour like a gentleman what time does he do it, I ask you? Not until the most unearthly hours, when every respectable Ford should be tucked away, and just because he thinks his customers would like him to remain open 'til nearly midnight. I'll go if you go, depend on that, and as quick as you go,' and with that both Fords shook handles. Now, it came to pass on that very same night the Doctor's work kept him out again and the Ford made up its cylinder that the next day would mark its get-away, and Race away it did, near Broad and Race streets, in the city. Not a trace of it could the Doctor find when he came out of the place where he was visiting, not even a smell, and it was the train which took him back to Narberth. Once here, he tells the druggist what has happened, and thus the druggist's Ford gets the news at once. 'Tonight's the night,' chortles this one, 'for my pledge has been given, and I'll break my transmission before I break that. And it's to Broad and Race I'll make this master go, for once there the scent of my friend will be plain to me, and I just know she's lonely for me.' Sure enough, the druggist's Ford turned on its telepathic valve and before long the druggist had agreed to go to Broad and Race that evening. It was not a hard thing, as we all know now, for the Ford to make him think that way, but it was strange to us at the time, not knowing, as I have said, much about Fords in those days. Well, the story has been often told, of how the druggist's Ford followed in the wake of the doctor's Ford, and how neither of them has been seen to this day. And it was a stirring time we had in Narberth about it all, for as I have said, both gentlemen were of the town's best, the very best, and we all felt real sorry for them, indeed we did."

He who was once known as the Cub paused again in active retrospect.

"Ford or man," he mused, "you have to have a heart or the best will desert you."

All of which has to do with the fact that Dr. Hoffman lost his Ford at Fifteenth and Race streets last Friday afternoon and Mr. Howard lost his within the same block on the same evening. Our Town extends congratulations to both of the esteemed gentlemen.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.

As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
