ARE YOU PUZZLED? LET POSTOFFICE SOLVE MYSTERY

Uncle Sam Has Some Real Experts on Payroll at Local Department

The efficiency of the local post-office employees in solving the badly scrambled addresses that flow into the office with every delivery was demonstrated over the week-end, when thirteen pieces of mail were placed in the box of Charles Hahn, every one of them bearing a different address. Some of them had been sent to Los Angeles, going to about five different addresses, others had gone to Hollywood, others to various Glendale addresses, and some of them were addressed to firm names where that of Mr. Hahn did not appear at all.

Get Quick Action But the cryptogram experts of the Glendale office, either from definite knowledge or through intuitive perception, flipped the mail into Mr. Hahn's box just as soon as they caught a flash of the address on the envelopes. "That colored preacher who could read the unreadable and unscrutable has nothing on the Glendale postal clerks," declared Assistant Postmaster George Hallett, as he spread out the wrappers of the thirteen pieces of mail that Mr. Hahn had turned over to him to demonstrate the puzzle-solving abilities of the Glendale postoffice staff.

SHOT AND KILLED BY MAN IN AUTO

Mystery Shrouds Murder in Los Angeles; Assassin Makes His Escape

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—A man, said to be S. Fisher, was shot down within two blocks of his home at Fifty-fourth and Main streets today, when an unknown assailant trailed him in a small automobile and riddled his body with five shots from an automatic rifle.

The slayer followed Fisher along the street in an automobile and ordered him to stop, according to Mrs. C. F. Ahrens, who said she witnessed the killing, and when Fisher failed to halt the assailant opened fire from the machine. Fisher fell dead and his enemy escaped.

Coast Chiefs Leave Gathering in Anger

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 16.—The adjourned session of the Pacific Coast league broke up abruptly this morning when the directors of the Portland, Oakland, Salt Lake and Los Angeles clubs departed from the meeting after President McCarthy had declared out of order the resolution offered by Dr. Stone of the Vernon club, granting the Vernon baseball club equal territorial rights with the Angel City association.

Big Increase in Postal Receipts Report for 1922

FIGURES compiled by Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson for the postoffice department at Washington, show that the receipts of the Glendale postoffice during 1922 amounted to $151,339.69, an increase of almost 50 per cent over the figures for 1921, which totalled $102,923.26.

The greater part of the increase for 1922 comes from the sale of stamps, which reflects, says Postmaster Jackson, the growth of the Glendale population and of the business transacted by the local firms.

The number of money orders issued by the local office increased from 17,000 in 1921 to over 27,000 in 1922, an increase of more than 50 per cent. The actual figures represented by the money orders that were issued are not available, but it is declared that a check of the amount of money called for by the money orders would show at least the same proportional increase.

Proposes to Reduce State Rail Board

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—Membership of the state railroad commission would be reduced to three from its present personnel of five, and salaries of the commissioners would be reduced from $8,000 a year to $6,000 under the terms of two bills introduced in the assembly today by Assemblyman Edwin Baker of Los Angeles.

A constitutional amendment to reduce the number of commissioners from five to three is proposed by Assemblyman Baker in one of the bills.

In a statement following the introduction of his bills Baker said the sole object he was aiming at was "efficiency and economy."

Lithuanians Prepare Government at Memel

RIGA, Jan. 16.—Lithuanian irregulars who seized the whole neutral zone at Memel have declared a new central government in the city of Memel after disarming the German police and compelling all the French troops to surrender, said a despatch from that city today.

U. S. Mint Robbery Suspect Goes Free

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Dan Culhane, questioned in the $200,000 United States mint robbery in Denver, was released by the police here today. A telegram from the Denver police said witnesses of the robbery failed to identify a picture of Culhane as one of the bandits. Culhane was arrested Sunday night on a tip given by the police of Kansas City.

Uncle John Says:

Mary was talkin' about tradin' in Glendale the other day again and I says to her, "Give us a rest, Mary; what's the use anyway? Big city concerns is organized to draw trade away from Glendale and other outlyin' districts. What can you and me do against a big newspaper that's usin' every means to draw trade for their big advertisers?" "Well," she says, as mad as a wet hen, "Don't think for a minute that Glendale ain't big enough and strong enough to take care of herself. The movement among Glendale people to support their home town is growin' every day in spite of these outside influences."

TROOP LEADERS OF BOY SCOUTS IN BIG MEETING

More Than Score Gather at Cabin in Woodlands to Outline New Plans

Twenty-two troop leaders of the Verdugo Hills Boy Scouts District council held their first round-table last night in the cabin of Glendale's Troop No. 2 in Verdugo Woodlands.

A model scout meeting was staged by the boys of Troop No. 2 under the leadership of Scoutmaster Benjamin Robison and his son, Assistant Scoutmaster Ben Robison. This was divided into four periods: First, inspection; second, a business session, with Arthur Barton officiating; third, recreation; fourth, a talk on rudiments of signaling by Major C. L. Lyman, former lieutenant-colonel in the United States Signal corps.

Several xylophone selections were played by Eagle Scout Dallas Kalbaugh, accompanied by Scout Arthur Barton on the saxophone, and Scout Horace Brown on the violin.

DIRECTORS OF MINES REFUSE TO MEET DEMANDS FOR COAL; FACE COURT-MARTIAL THREAT

Hugo Stinnes, Chief Industrialist, Departs From Rhineland and His Whereabouts Are Unknown; Tension Increases

By S. D. WEYER For International News Service.

ESSEN, Jan. 16.—German coal magnates, acting through the directors of the Ruhr mines late today defied the French military authorities and flatly refused to deliver coal and coke to the allies as demanded by General De Goutte, the French commander in chief.

The Germans notified the French of their decision just after the French had extended their zone of military occupation to include Dortmund. They now hold every inch of the great Ruhr coal fields and the chief industrial cities of Germany.

DEMAND FOR BOOKS BY PUBLIC SHOWS STEADY GROWTH

Library Adds to Number of Volumes to Satisfy Needs of Readers

Mrs. Blanche Gardiner, custodian of the public library in Eagle Rock, says the demand for good books is growing every month and that many people who have lived in Eagle Rock for years are now taking the advantage of the opportunity of gleaming information from books carried at the library, who formerly were unknown at the library building.

Many people are reading books that are helpful to them in line with the course of study they have outlined in the schools, and they find, said Mrs. Gardiner, that it is mighty good supplemental reading.

This year there is an increase of nearly a thousand in the card users, over that of last year. The number of volumes has increased accordingly.

Book Prices Lower Mrs. Gardiner says she is able to make the same amount of money to do much more in the way of purchasing books for library use, than was possible a year or two ago, as the price has been steadily decreasing.

She has recently ordered fifty copies of popular fiction, duplications of what has been carried heretofore. This was done because of the demand for certain copies and from others having become worn with use.

At the present time there are 7,114 volumes in the library as against 6,811 last year. The card users are 3,344 at the present time and were 2,892 last year.

TRUSTEES DISCUSS COMPLETE PLANS FOR BARN DANCE OFFICIAL TOPICS WITH CITIZENS

City Appropriates $10 for Advertising in P.-T. A. Dance Program

The board of trustees of the City of Eagle Rock met Monday night with all present and Mayor Osborne presiding. Before attacking routine business the mayor invited anyone present who had anything to say to the board to make known their wants. Several residents addressed the board on various topics and several petitions were presented.

Two or three matters were discussed at length and carried over for further investigation. Board adjourned at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Elizabeth Morrison, who has charge of the advertising for the Parent-Teachers' association Townville barn dance, appeared before the board and requested that it take, for the city, a $10 space on the advertising program. She emphasized the fact that the Parent-Teachers' association had never before asked anything of the city, and as the proceeds were to be devoted to school work, she felt the board were morally bound to support the proposition. Trustee Mattinson moved that $10 be appropriated for the purpose. There were no dissenting votes.

Stocks, Markets

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The stock market was irregular in the late dealings today, many of the leading issues rallying about 1 point from the low levels. California Petroleum was again a strong feature, advancing over 2 points. U. S. Steel after falling to 104 3/4, rose to 105. Baldwin locomotive sold as low as 130 1/2, a loss of 3 points. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds irregular.

BULLS TAKE CONTROL CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Bulls controlled the grain market today. The market opened strong, grew better as the day progressed and closed materially higher. One of the bullish factors was the strength shown by the Liverpool market. The upward swing of the market here, however, was a surprise. Wheat closed 2 3/8 to 2 1/2 higher; corn 1 1/4 up and oats 5/8 to 3/4 higher. Provisions followed the trend of grain.

COLORADO P.-T. A. MEET There will be a meeting of the Colorado Parent-Teachers Association at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the school, announces Mrs. C. H. Thompson, president of the association. A program is being arranged by the Glendale Union High school students.

Benefit Affair for Tuesday Afternoon Club Takes Place Friday Night

Tuesday Afternoon club women who are planning the barn dance for Friday night are greatly pleased over the interest their idea is receiving from club members and friends.

Some of the most gratifying cooperation they have received came yesterday from the Victor Manufacturing company, which donated the use of the new building at the corner of San Fernando road and Harvard street for the dance.

After the dance had been announced, Mrs. J. H. Searles and her committee members discovered that since the building was in Los Angeles it would be necessary to secure a dancing permit, to cost $20.

Solves Problem Since the affair is to be a benefit to augment the club building fund the club women are counting every penny and they were doubtful about the amount for the permit. However, their problem was solved when the Victor Manufacturing people donated the $20 as their contribution to the club.

Mrs. Searles announces that the affair is to be strictly informal. Dance music will be furnished by the Marian Jones orchestra. The dance program will begin with a grand march and will include the old-fashioned square dances, directed by an old-time caller. There will be cards for those not caring to dance. Tickets on Sale Tickets may be secured from the following members of Mrs. Searles' committee: Mesdames Ella W. Richardson, R. W. Meek, Walter Richardson, A. A. Bassett, W. E. Cleveland, G. O. Pierce, W. S. Ingram, Mae Rosenberg, James Belyea, Peter Diederich, F. J. McCann, E. D. Radke, E. T. Remmen and S. H. Waller. Mrs. Ella Richardson is to have the largest consignment of tickets on sale at her home at 317 North Brand boulevard.

WEEKLY MEETINGS OF WOMEN'S CLUB ARE SCHEDULED

Mesdames Sherwood and Genn to Be Hostesses at Clubhouse Monday

The Twentieth Century Women's club of Eagle Rock will hold a weekly meeting at the club house once a week from now on instead of the usual monthly meetings. This was decided at the meeting yesterday, which was one of the most enthusiastic held in months.

Mrs. Laura S. Eddy of 143 North Acacia and Mrs. W. C. Genn of 244 North Royal, were hostesses. Delightful refreshments were served during the afternoon. Much of the afternoon was spent in playing 500. Mrs. Compson winning the first prize, a bead necklace, and Mrs. Hickson, the consolation, a cut glass nut bowl.

Next Monday afternoon Mrs. Grace Sherwood of 249 North Royal Drive, and Mrs. W. C. Genn will act as hostesses. The meetings are open to all and an urgent invitation is extended to those who have not attended to come to the meetings.

The women of the Eastern Star, Eagle Rock, are planning on a dancing party at the Masonic hall some evening in the near future. The date will be announced within a few days.

Workmen installed a brand new set of theater chairs in the court room at the city hall Monday. The seating capacity and comfort of spectators is greatly enhanced by the change.

Mrs. Mary E. Lindsay Joins Yale Brothers Mrs. Mary E. Lindsay, whose slogan "We Please the Home-Seeker" has brought her a great deal of business and won her many friends, has given up her real estate office at the corner of Palmer and Adams and is now with the Yale Brothers Realty company, 249 North Brand boulevard, announces Manager Edith May Osborne of this organization. Mrs. Lindsay, in her new connection, will have charge of the rental department, a phase of the real estate business she has developed to a high degree, in her wide experience. In addition she will act as a saleswoman for the company, Mrs. Osborne states.

MISSIONARY TO TALK Tonight at 7:30 o'clock is "Woman's Night," at the Presbyterian church, at the Glendale Presbyterian church. The speaker will be Mrs. J. Franklin Kelly, who was a missionary in India for nearly ten years. Later Mrs. Kelly was sixteen years in China.

MAY CHANGE LAW PERMITTING COWS KEPT IN CITY

Trustees Hear Protest From Resident on Menace Caused by Stock

The matter of keeping cows and horses in the residential section of Eagle Rock was a subject of considerable discussion at the board meeting Monday evening. The matter was brought up for the second time by Mrs. M. J. Kirkse of Fairmont avenue, who maintained that her neighbors were keeping cows and horses in close proximity to her fine home, much to her annoyance.

The subject was introduced by Mrs. Kirkse at the meeting the week before. At that time she asked that the present ordinance limiting the distance that one might keep a cow from a private residence be increased from 50 to 100 feet. She declared the property she referred to was a breeding place for blue-bottle flies that resorted in making her home their headquarters. She reiterated her former allegations at the meeting last night, and supported her statement with a written communication which she read to the board. Her statements were supported by Mrs. Hunt, a near neighbor. Mrs. Kirkse had presented a petition at the former meeting bearing the signatures of 95 residents, asking that an amendment to the present ordinance be passed correcting the alleged evil.

The board had referred the matter to Dr. Phinney, city health officer, at the former meeting. Dr. Phinney was called upon for a report. He said he had made a personal inspection of the premises and had found that the parties keeping the cow were using sanitary means, so far as was possible under the circumstances, and that the ordinance was not being violated.

Trustee Taylor was of the opinion that the ordinance should be amended so that at least 75 feet should intervene between a residence and a corral or barn in which a cow was kept. Others were of the opinion that the matter should be gone thoroughly into before action was taken, that an injustice would not be done by taking snap judgment on the subject by members of the board.

Mrs. Kirkse invited the board of trustees to come to her home in a body and investigate conditions. Trustee Mattinson thought well of the invitation. He said he had made an inspection himself but thought it would be well for the entire board to go.

The matter was finally carried over to a future meeting; the clerk being instructed to gather data on ordinances of a similar nature in other cities of the size of Eagle Rock and to be ready to make a report at a future meeting.

Music Recital at Glendale Hospital

A recital will be given tonight, commencing at 7:30 o'clock in the parlors of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, for members of its staff and guests of the institution.

Henri LaBonte of Los Angeles will sing four groups of ten solos, comprising the following: "O, Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me?" "Where'er You Walk," "The Gilda Manina," from "La Boheme," "D'Une Prison," "Le Nigee," "LeMiroir," "Nit d'Etioles," "Swans," "The Unforeseen," "Mary" and "The Craving Water."

Homor Simmons of Los Angeles will play two groups of piano selections including the following numbers: "Etude in G Minor" (Rachmaninoff), "Etude in D Flat Major" (Liszt), "Terpsichorean Vindobona" (Godowsky), "May Night" (Palmgren) and "Etude" (Scriabine). The piano, which will be used, is being delivered from 109 North Brand boulevard by the Glendale Music company.

Arrange Match for Local Mat Artist

A wrestling match between William Perman of Fresno and John Hackenschmidt of Glendale is a likelihood in about ten days, according to an announcement this morning at 231 West Broadway by Nishion Parsekian. The match is expected to be held in the "Fellows' hall." Mr. Parsekian stated that Perman had won many falls in the middle west and in Canada, and was considered a worthy match for Hackenschmidt.

LOCAL MAN LEADS 'FREEDOM' BATTLE

People of State Do Not Want Sunday Closing Says W. F. Martin

(Continued from page 1) of the week." It is very clear that none of these things are un-civil acts, and so they should not be subjects of legislation.

"It must be a queerly framed mind that conceives the idea that a man should be fined and imprisoned for doing such an innocent deed as playing ball, selling bread or gasoline, or shaving a customer. A mind so constructed is not freed from the dregs of intolerance. The country needs to be protected from his influence. "By in Ointment" "By these people, California is accounted a fly in the ointment. Our state is the black sheep of the flock. All this because California has no Sunday-closing law. It is because, out here, people are free to spend their time on Sunday as they may please, just as on other days of the week. If this is a crime, may it spread to all our sister states!"

"These people think, or seem to think, that there is more virtue in rest, even if taken in jail behind prison bars, than in pleasant employment among the flowers and fruits in one's garden. It is to be hoped that the legislature will turn a deaf ear to all such demands. The people of the state do not want such legislation. They have voted it down as a state and as communities in different parts of the state.

"Two years ago, when a similar measure was before the legislature, more than 140,000 people signed petitions of protest against it. Legislation on religious dogmas should be refused by all law-making bodies."

Letter to Senator At the conclusion of these remarks, Mr. Martin produced a copy of a letter, written to State Senator Herbert W. Slater, under date of January 8, 1923. The letter follows:

"I am writing to you regarding the agitation carried on in our state, looking to the securing of a Sunday-closing law at the coming session of the legislature. The Lord's Day Alliance has established headquarters in San Francisco and has set out on an active campaign for Sunday legislation. "According to a reliable newspaper report, the leader of this organization recently said of the people of California: 'Sunday is a day of rest, and we are going to see that everybody rests. There is no doubt that every one who wishes to do so should have the right to rest, but one who does not see fit to rest at the dictates of these self-appointed conscience-mongers should not be fined and imprisoned for a refusal to do so.'"

Basic Principles "California, through its legislature and by popular vote, has refused to enact Sunday laws, and I sincerely hope this legislature will not forget the basic principles of Americanism—civil and religious liberty—and be persuaded to enact such an unjust measure. Sabbath keeping belongs to the realm of religion. No man should be made an outlaw or a criminal for working in his garden, for keeping his office open, for shaving a customer, or for selling a loaf of bread on Sunday, Saturday, or any day of the week. Such would be an act of tyranny and should not be a part of our laws. My religion is

Find Arson Suspect Hanging to Trestle

HARRISON, Ark., Jan. 16.—E. C. Gregor, said to have resisted a committee of citizens investigating the recent burning of railroad bridges in Arkansas, was found dead, hanging to a railroad trestle near here this morning.

Gregor was a striking workman on the Missouri & North Arkansas railroad and the burning of bridges on this road is being laid at the doors of the strikers.

sacred to me, but it is not my prerogative to impose it by law upon others. "In this land, with its diversities of belief, no one religion can be favored by law above that of others, without serious results to all. No religious dogma or enactment should be a subject of enactment by any legislative body. This is true no matter under what guise it may appear. Your fellow men have entrusted the good of their state into your hands. I am sure you love the American principles of liberty and equal rights and trust you will use your influence to see that they are maintained.

"With sincere regards, I am Very truly, "WILLIAM F. MARTIN," "Once Had Blue Law This is the third time Secretary Martin has attended the session of the state legislature in behalf of the Pacific Religious Liberty association. Other members of the association likely to be present include M. W. Kauble, of Lodi; E. L. Maxwell, of Mountain View, and G. A. Snyder, of Los Angeles.

"California has no Sunday-closing law at the present time," explained Mr. Martin, as he made ready to depart. "It did have such a law at one time but repealed it in 1885. Since that time, bills for Sunday legislation have been brought before every session, but have invariably been defeated. And in 1914 the state defeated an initiative measure of this kind by a vote of nearly 200,000. That ought to be sufficient indication of how the people stand on this subject."

HARLEY PRESTON IN LOCAL REALTY

Secures Listings and Plans To Devote All of Time For Glendale Deals

Harley G. Preston, formerly pastor of the Pacific avenue Community Methodist church, who resigned that position to go into subdivision work as a salesman, now announces his intention of going into real estate business for himself in Glendale. Mr. Preston said today: "I am well satisfied with the change made and it has been a treat to be free to hear the other ministers in various pulpits. As to my work at Ivanhoe Hills suburban division, I can only say that I have enjoyed the work and have done very well, and shall still be glad to sell anyone interested that property, but I believe it will be to my best interests to focus my time and attention on business in Glendale proper, as I have here a large circle of acquaintances."

Property Listings "I now have a good assortment of listings of property both improved and unimproved, business and residence, and a few good ranches. Folks who advised with me, while pastor of the church made money on my suggestions relative to property matters, and while I do not claim to be infallible, still do claim to be fairly well acquainted with Glendale and values here. I shall be pleased to have the listings of my friends and acquaintances who desire to sell, also inquiries from any who are in the market for homes or investments."

Make Big Increase In U. S. Tax Blanks

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—Speeding toward Los Angeles on a fast mail train a "$35,000,000 car" of income tax blanks en route from Washington will reach Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell late this week. Orders were placed with the treasury department by Collector Goodcell for 1,000,000 blanks on which Southern Californians will make their 1922 income tax returns. This order is just double that turned in by the Los Angeles office last year when only 350,000 blanks were ordered. It is estimated by government officials that the million income blanks will bring $35,000,000 into Uncle Sam's treasury during 1923.

Collector Goodcell said yesterday that the number of separate returns filed in 1922 was 190,930 as against 156,531 filed in 1921. He estimates that the 1923 returns will show a 20 per cent increase, or 38,186, making a total of 229,116. Figured on a basis of one return filed by every eighth person, this would indicate an increase in population of 205,488 for the Southern California district. Returns covering 1922 must be filed between January 1 and March 15. Notices will be given by Collector Goodcell as to when the blanks will be ready for distribution.

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS

Cathy:—Wearing low shoes all the time will not enlarge the ankles, as the extra freedom which comes from this habit means more exercise which should keep them trim and supple. An obstinate case of blackheads will require patience and many treatments, which accounts for your failure to remove the skin of them. A daily hot bath will help as it keeps the pores freed all over the body which helps to refine the pores of the face.

Octo:—The stubby hairs that grow out after you have been using the tweezers on the brows may be made to fall into the line with the old hair if you moisten them with a very thin mucilage and shape all the hairs into a perfect arch. This should be done while the hairs are damp by merely pinching them into the line after the hair will dry and stay in place. After a few weeks of this training there should be no further trouble.

Louise:—Do not try to remove moles that are on the face unless you can have the work done by a skin specialist. Massage the fingers to reduce this plumpness. If the hair is still in style, but if your hair has improved and it has now grown long it is a shame to have it cut off again, especially since you have worn it bobbed for so long a time.

A. C. H.:—A simple and effective bleach is made from cucumber juice, or if this is not procurable, lemon juice may be used. Always follow the applications of these bleaches by massaging gently.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

Mothers and Fathers! Do you quarrel with each other before your children? You don't know that if you had chosen between exposing them to small pox and exposing them to family bickering, smallpox would be preferable even though they should catch the disease, do you?

Mothers and Fathers! Do you know that when you teach your children they can gain the thing they want by crying or going into a tantrum of temper, you are teaching them something which applied outside the family circle will get them a long distance from nowhere?

Mothers and Fathers! Do you realize that by not using the proper discipline with your children simply because it seems to be easier for you at the time, you are not laying up for yourselves treasures in heaven or on earth?

Mothers and Fathers! Do you realize that moroseness, ill-temper and ill-will towards your associates are mental states which are contagious to your child?

And once more, Mothers and Fathers, do you realize that if you do not give your children the proper conception of sex they are going to get an improper one sooner or later which may do more to undermine their physical and mental and spiritual health than any other one factor.

Now let us briefly consider the questions I have asked you. First: Family quarrels. It is during childhood that the nervous and mental life has its most active growth and is most impressionable. You cannot measure the injury that the sensitive, nervous system of the child may sustain by hearing you quarrel on any subject. It is impossible for two human beings living closely together not to have differences of opinion and not to hate each other cordially at times. But if there are children in the family these mental bickering should be staged when the children are absent.

Second: If you allow your child to get what it wants by being disagreeable you cannot blame it for becoming permanently disagreeable. You have molded it in that form and it is not to blame. And permanently disagreeable people are not healthy, physically nor mentally.

Third: The principles of child training are so simple that plain that you can master them. Anyone can. They rest on self-control and truthfulness, and a knowledge that children are human dynamos of energy and that they must be employed in useful play or study else they are apt to be using their energy in ways undesirable. The parent who does not realize that children must be happily occupied, and who allows them to misbehave repeatedly, shouting and scolding the while, and finally punishing unmercifully, is laying a foundation for mental and nervous disorders in the child which may manifest itself in childhood or later.

Also you must know that almost all healthy children are little savages, and at some stage of their development are liars and thieves! You were, weren't you? And I was. Still we are fairly decent citizens now because we were trained out of that stage.

Fourth: Your children are mirrors of you. Cheerfulness, kindness, charitableness are just as contagious as moroseness, ill-temper and ill-will, and form a basis for much better physical and mental health.

Fifth: Sex instruction. I realize that on this question of instruction on sex hygiene you are perhaps woefully ignorant. And just as you could not instruct in mathematics without some study, so you can not instruct on this subject without much study. You should have some textbooks. Many of them are inexpensive. I have a list of them if you desire.

Discovers Mosaic Menace to Potato

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 15.—Cause of the Mosaic disease which destroys nearly 30 per cent of the country's potato crop and wrecks havoc in the tomato, lettuce, clover, bean and tobacco crops, has been discovered. Announcement of the discovery, which it was estimated, will save the farmers of the country hundreds of millions of dollars, was made by Dr. Ray Nelson of the University of Michigan, in the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Nelson said that he had found, after long investigation, that a one-cell animal of the type known to scientists as a horticoccus, causes the Mosaic disease, which has been one of the farmer's greatest enemies. The animal is about two thousandths of an inch long, he said.

Applause broke loose when Dr. Nelson announced his discovery and the tribute reached its height when he showed by lantern slide a microscopic photograph of the tiny animal, which for years has wrought destruction on American farms.

Having discovered the cause of Mosaic disease, means of controlling it will be developed rapidly, it was predicted.

WHY I DO IT

A Reader Friend says that I write too much about women's clothes. She says women ought not to think so much about clothes, and that I ought not to encourage them to do so. "I don't suppose it ever occurred to you," she writes, "if women would make up their minds to wear some kind of uniform dress, how much time and money they would save for better purposes."

Dear friend, I wish to state that I am not quite so much of a nincompoop as you appear to think me. I have had that same thought many times. Can't You Visualize Her? I sat in a restaurant the other night and looked about me. There was a middle-aged woman at the next table. She had on a dark blue dress and a brown coat. Her hair was blue with some brown feathers on it. She wore some brown beads. She was a plain woman, nothing could make her look otherwise, and yet I could visualize her picking out those clothes with the greatest of care. I could imagine her going from shop to shop, to get just the coat she wanted, and earnestly conferring with her milliner to produce a hat that would go with both dress and coat. And then solemnly adding the beads.

At the next table were two pretty girls whose clothes and coiffure were even more obviously their deep concern. And at all the other tables sat women, young and old, whose coats and hats and gloves and beads and gowns and stockings and shoes had unquestionably been matters for great and absorbing interest to their purchasers and wearers. And so I thought of the time and money and energy that the millions of women in the world are devoting year after year to the selection of clothes and I,

Practical Housekeeping

By Florence Austin Chase

Question—We are building a new home and need some new furniture. We do not feel that we should spend a great deal of money for furniture at this time, but what we buy we want good and something that will be lasting. The dining room suite I would like is too expensive for us now and I am wondering if a breakfast set would be all right to use for a while. Can you advise me?

COUNCIL TABLE

Answer—I fully appreciate your dilemma. My suggestion would be for you to get a gate-leg table and Windsor chairs in some dark wood and use them in the dining room until such time as you feel you can afford the dining room furniture you would like. The gate-leg table and Windsor chairs can then be used in other rooms to good advantage. I think you will like this arrangement better than using the breakfast set in the dining room.

Q.—Please answer some perplexing questions. Isn't it correct to eat toast on which buttered asparagus is served? And what about the toast on which quail, etc., is served? What is the correct placing and use of ice teaspoons?

A.—It is correct to eat the toast on which buttered asparagus is served, and, likewise, the toast on which the quail or other small birds are served. Place the toast in a steamer or colander over boiling water a few minutes before buttering it. While a moist toast is wanted to serve under some foods, a soggy toast is not; and for this reason this method of moistening is much better than dipping in boiling water.

The iced tea is served in place of water for luncheon or supper, and a glass containing the tea is placed at the top of the knife on the right, the ice teaspoon being placed with the spoons and knife on the right. If I understand your question "what is the correct use of the iced teaspoon" my answer would be: After adding the sugar and lemon, mint or other seasoning, the iced teaspoon is used to stir the tea, giving but two or three stirs; then it is placed in the glass plate which is under the glass.

Q.—What is a service plate used for, and when is it removed? A.—The service plates are used for serving more or less formal dinners and luncheons. They are plates from ten to twelve inches in diameter and are seldom like, in pattern or design, the china used for serving the foods. All courses served on small plates or in ramekin dishes are placed on service plates, and these are removed only to give place to a warm plate holding a portion of the main course of the dinner.

Q.—If you put three or four small rugs on a nice hardwood floor, would you put them on a straight or oblique line? A.—Place them on a straight line. If the furniture also is placed so as to follow the lines of the room, the room will appear more quiet and restful than it would if furniture and rugs were placed in sort of hit-and-miss fashion.

Q.—Is it proper to have any pictures on the walls? If so, what kind would you suggest? A.—I cannot conceive a complete home without pictures. It would appear cold and "unfriendly." A few carefully chosen pictures belong in the living room, bedroom, breakfast room, one or two in the hall and the dining room. We use pictures to add the note of color needed, to brighten an otherwise cold or dark corner and to bring the right atmosphere into the room. There are many pretty though inexpensive prints

F PRICE is all you seek in buying plumbing fixtures, don't complain if price proves to be all that you get.

The first principal of economy is buying the best you can afford. Of all the purchases for the home, GOOD PLUMBING is by far the most important and most economical, because it protects life and health.

DON'T BUY SECONDS OR DAMAGED GOODS. Good plumbing fixtures bear their manufacturers' names plainly to be seen.

The false economy of buying inferior plumbing fixtures is most likely to result in repair bills that might have been avoided. No one who buys inferior goods has a right to complain if they fail to give good service or permanent satisfaction.

Get health—Keep health—Feel fine by eating Kellogg's Bran regularly!

Constipation and the toxic poisonings that come from it not only take the enthusiasm out of life, making you depressed and physically and mentally dull—but they head you into diseases such as Bright's, diabetes, rheumatism, etc. You can actually rid yourself of these dangers if you will EAT KELLOGG'S BRAN REGULARLY! —at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with every meal. Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food. It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that as no other food can! Don't take a chance of getting away with constipation—IT WILL GET YOU! Don't ruin your health with pills and cathartics—they are as dangerous as constipation itself and give but temporary relief, at the very best!

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation as you have never fought it before! AND YOU WILL WIN. In the first place, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. Eat bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery products. Recipes are printed on every package. Kellogg's Bran is served in leading hotels, restaurants and clubs. It is sold by all grocers.

WOULD BE PRIZE RING'S DICTATOR

'Bat' Nelson Nominates Self For Proposed Post of Landis of Fistiania

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Oscar Battling Nelson, who, as lightweight champion of the world, absorbed more stray gloves than any man in the history of the sport, wishes to announce that he stands ready to play Judge Landis to the padded fist. The Battler has learned of Tex O'Rourke's proposed request for a national dictator for affairs fistic, and has commissioned the writer to go before the meeting of the national boxing association of America today and assure the delegates that he will consent, if diplomatically urged, to accept the post.

"I feel sure if all our names were put to a popular vote, mine would be a long way from the tail end," he said, and then with due modesty, "and I would not be a bit surprised if it led the list."

As to his qualifications, the battler points to his intimate and apparently painless association with the padded gloves, of all sizes, shapes and varying degrees of hardness and wants to know who, if anyone, is better suited to deal with any and all situations of this kind. But he makes honesty his main plea for consideration, and points to incidents in connection with his bouts with Joe Gans and Aurelia Herrera to bear him out.

Refused $10,000 Bribe

"In 1904, up in Butte, Mont., when I was to box Herrera," he said, "I had never seen $1,000 of my own in my life. Butte, at that time, if you remember, was wide open, and plenty of money was in circulation there then. Don't you think it takes a certain amount of backbone for a twenty-two-year old kid to refuse an offer of a cold $10,000 to throw a fight? Mind you, the purse was only $3,500, pretty big at that time, to be cut $2,100 to the winner and $1,400 to the loser.

"Well, I am the fellow who did it and inside of twelve months, I earned over $50,000 by being on the level and have not a single blemish on my record up to date, something I am proud of."

BIG LEAGUE RECRUITS

By Wood Cowan

SAMMY HALE

TRACK PORTLAND THIRD BASEMAN SOLD TO THE PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS FOR $75,000 IN CASH AND PLAYERS.

There are things out on the Pacific coast that come higher than the Rockies. Ask any big league magnate and his answer will be that the price of a west coast rookie comes bigger than the allied debt.

"Fact is," says Connie Mack—and he ought to know, having just bought one of the expensive nicknacks—"if you laid the dollar bills end to end that I just fished over to the Portland club for one of these rare jewels, they would reach from here to the moon. I don't care how far away it is either."

Of course nobody is falling for these fabulous prices alleged to have been paid for all this ivory from the coast. It looks good in print and the baseball press agent has to keep the publicity going during the dull season, so he pulls off a trade that never goes through or buys a rookie at the price of a battleship.

So we come to Sammy Hale, the subject of a lot of bunk about $75,000 and a regiment of players thrown in. That's around $500 a pound on the hoof. Sammy is some ball player, make no mistake about that, but he probably would have come into the big show unang if they hadn't tacked $75,000 worth of buncombe onto him.

This isn't Sammy's first big league venture. Back in 1920 Detroit tried him out at third and later as a pinch hitter. In seventy-four games he hit for .297, and as a pinch hitter he walked at a .329 clip. Not bad for a youngster, but anything less than a 400 hitter isn't noticed on a Tiger team.

Hale was born in Glenrose, Texas, in 1896, and began his professional career with San Antonio in 1917 as an outfielder. The following two seasons found him at third base and hitting .276 and .302 respectively.

This fellow is sturdy and well built, standing 5 ft. 8 in. He bats and throws right handed.

Last season Hale hit for .365 and was considered the best fielder in his league with the exception of Kamm of the San Francisco club. He is a mighty lively performer. If he proves to be the missing link in the Mackman machine, even 75,000 iron men would be like a mustard seed rattling around inside a wash boiler as compared to his real worth to the Athletics.

It looks like Connie Mack was bound to lift his aggregation out of the rut, for with his present pitching staff as a nucleus, it would take very little added batting power to make his team a contender.

DENY REPORT OF STAR'S MARRIAGE

Rumor of Chaplin's Wedding to Pola Negri Scouted by Actor's Friends

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Local friends of Charles Chaplin, film star, were not inclined to credit rumors from the southland that possibility existed that he had secretly married Pola Negri, Polish screen star.

The latest crop of rumors over the reported engagement of Chaplin to Miss Negri arose from the fact that they were guests over Sunday at the Hotel Samar-kand at Santa Barbara.

Miss Negri again refused to discuss her reported engagement to Chaplin. Friends of the comedy hero believe the report of the engagement well-founded.

Battling Nelson, one-time lightweight champion boxer of the world, has written an open letter to a San Francisco newspaper nominating himself as the best-fitted candidate to be the one-man head of the New York State Boxing commission.

The Battler makes claim for this job on the strength of the fact that in all his career he never accepted a bribe to throw a fight although he says that he had many tempting offers ranging from $10,000 to $50,000. If this was the only necessary qualification, there would doubtless be quite a number of other candidates equally fitted for the post. Honesty certainly is a desirable quality, but it is a virtue which generally is taken for granted in a man aspiring for a responsible position.

Occidental college, of California, announces it does not care to take on the University of California team for a football game next fall for the reason that the latter are "too strong," a combination. It has therefore signed a two-year agreement to play Stanford university. Deponent saith not just what the Stanford outfit think now of the reasons for the change. At all events, it will not tend to give the Cardinal players the swell head.

It is a curious coincidence that three Morzes, all unrelated, and all three of them star players on varsity football teams of the past have made their home in San Francisco. They are S. F. B. Morze, former Yale captain and halfback; Franklin B. Morze, former Princeton and All-American halfback, and "Brick" Morze of the University of California. All three men played in the 1890's.

It seems probable that something will be done to protect a

Local Legion Team Beats Pomona, 28-22

Glendale's American Legion basketball team last night in the High School gymnasium defeated Pomona's American Legion basketball team by the score of 28 to 22.

At the end of the first half the score was 19 to 14, but at the commencement of the second half the score ran up to 21 to 20 in favor of Glendale and remained so for a number of minutes.

Eleven dollars at 25 cents a spectator was taken in as gate receipts. This money was divided between the two posts.

The Glendale team was composed of the following players: W. Bunker, center; E. P. Hayward and Al Wheelon, forwards; C. E. Watt and J. Keller, guards. A substitute team played for about five minutes. It was composed of Ralph Goodman and J. E. Burland, forwards; L. M. Patchen, center; E. W. Hibbert and Nelson Dick, guards.

Charlie Padlock has said that he can work up greater speed on the Pacific Coast than he can in the middle west or eastern parts of the country. To many this may sound like an alibi, but it is gospel truth and is applicable to others besides Padlock.

The east has heard a lot about the much vaunted California climatic conditions and it is just this climatic that is better for athletic competition than the very humid and hot climate of the middle west and the east. The climate in California and for that matter all along the Pacific Coast during the summer is an ideal athletic climate. That intense humidity of the eastern summer is missing on the Coast. The coast summer tends to bring out the best there is in an athlete without exhausting the athlete. If, let us say such sprinters as Leconey, Wefers, McAllister and other eastern sprinters were to put in a solid track season on the Pacific coast they would find themselves running faster than they ever ran in the east. These men would increase their speed where as a coast sprinter is bound to lose speed owing to the humid climate which he is not used to.

Climate has considerable to do with an athlete's performances. One notable instance comes to mind, the case of George Parker who in 1912-1914 toured Australia and New Zealand as the sprinter of the American team and who on his return was the first man to beat the then invincible Howard Drew. George Parker was always considered a solid second man and on the coast had shined that time. He kept this up on his Australian tour, but his greatest performance down there was his 48-45 for a quarter and another quarter in 49 where he had never done better than 49-45 in this country. The climate of New Zealand is somewhat the same as California. In Australia the climate is murky and humid like the east. In Australia Parker could not do himself justice, though he won all his races. When he got to New Zealand and found a climate like his own California climate he quickly returned to form and ran better than he ever did in his life.

Another instance, this time of a swimmer, is the case of Scott Leary, one time National champion and the first man in the world who swam the hundred in a minute even. Leary had never beaten one minute and had retired when he was asked to go to Honolulu in 1911. He had been out of swimming as a competitor for many years and yet he went to Honolulu and actually swam the hundred in better than 59 seconds. Leary and every member of that team—the first two seasons found him at third base and hitting .276 and .302 respectively.

This fellow is sturdy and well built, standing 5 ft. 8 in. He bats and throws right handed.

SPLIT IN COAST LEAGUE GROWS

President's Vote to Decide All Issues as Clubs Maintain Deadlock

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 16.—Divided against itself and at war with the major leagues, the Pacific Coast Baseball league today was prepared for renewed strife to further widen the existing internal breach. Apparently every controversial point will result in a line-up of anti-McCarthy and pro-McCarthy forces, with four clubs on each side and the president of the league exercising what he insists is his constitutional right to cast his vote in the case of a tie.

Vernon's petition to secure territorial rights on a parity with the Los Angeles club in Los Angeles will be today's storm center.

San Francisco, Vernon, Sacramento and Seattle—supporters of William H. McCarthy—are solidly aligned. Oakland, Portland, Los Angeles and Salt Lake are ready to cast their votes against anything which affects any of its members.

Deadlock Looming

Merits of various issues will count or have counted little in discussions. The "little four" insists McCarthy is endeavoring to put things over to show his power and the league executive answers that personal enmity is the result of so much strife and dissension.

In the back ground is William H. Klepper, ousted president of the Portland baseball club. He is convinced it was McCarthy's coup d'etat which resulted in his banishment by the minor leagues. He has not been inactive since and has mustered sufficient strength to deadlock the league on all issues.

INTERESTING FACTS

105,799 Ford Cars and Trucks Retailed in December

Approximately the same number scheduled for delivery this month

What Does This Mean?

This volume of deliveries to actual owners is entirely unprecedented for this time of the year—

It has taxed the manufacturing ability of the Ford plants working at full capacity—

It indicates a volume of business during the rapidly approaching months of "heavy demand" which will be far beyond the maximum production schedule which the Ford Motor Company has set—

And that means a Ford shortage even more acute than the one which existed last Spring and Summer.

Dealers' stocks all over the country are low—there are no reserves to draw upon to meet the demands for delivery—

There is no way in which dealer reserves can be built up, as deliveries have been made to customers as fast as Cars could be manufactured since last April.

The only way you can protect your desire to obtain prompt delivery of a Ford even at this time is to place your order immediately.

This emphasizes more strongly than anything we could possibly say the necessity of your making prompt arrangements with Jesse E. Smith Company, your Ford Dealer, for the listing of your order, particularly if you are contemplating the purchase of a Ford Car or Truck for use this spring or summer.

We believe you are entitled to know these facts as they actually exist.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE GUEST OF HONOR

Field Representative Here to Advise With Leaders in Local Campaign

D. W. Pollard was the guest of honor at a special executive board luncheon of the Verdugo Hills Boy Scout council, held this noon in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. Mr. Pollard, who is special field representative of the twelfth regional committee of the national council, arrived in Glendale this morning to advise with the local leaders on a wide Boy Scout campaign soon to be launched.

"There are more than 400,000 scouts in the country today," stated Mr. Pollard, "and a round-up is now under way to increase this great membership to 500,000 by February 14, which marks the close of the thirteenth anniversary of the Boy Scout movement in America."

Many In Southland
According to Mr. Pollard, there are approximately 8000 scouts registered in southern California. The Verdugo Hills district has 225 scouts, with 1700 boys of scout age eligible for membership. "We speak of a boy problem," he added, "when it's really a man problem that faces us in the development of scouting, for every scout troop that is organized must be connected with some permanent organization such as a church, school or club, that agrees to furnish the adult leadership necessary in the development of the Boy Scout organization."

"With its proximity to the hills, the Verdugo Hills district is very favorably situated for the development of scouting," continued Mr. Pollard. "An all year round camp should be secured and equipped, where the boys could pass their various tests."

According to Mr. Pollard, camping is one of the most important activities in the Boy Scout program. "It develops qualities in the boys brought out by no other line of training. It appeals to an instinct in boy nature particularly marked during the scouting age," he stated, and spoke of a number of instances that had come under his observation in which boys regarded as practically incorrigible had been reformed as a result of the changes wrought in their mental and moral makeup by camping experiences.

Faith In Future
Mr. Pollard has great faith in the future of scouting. "Scouting furnishes a line of training for the boy that he cannot get from any other source," he concluded. "In an earlier day, when life was less complex and there were not so many interests to take the time of the grown-ups, Cesare Formichi, leading Italian baritone, who has been very attentive to Miss Holst, forbade her to accept the picture. Since neither could speak the other's language, they quarreled in French. When words failed them, Miss Holst swung to Formichi's jaw and sent him staggering. She retained the picture.

there was usually closer companionship between a boy and his father than there is today. Much of what the modern boy learns in the scout troop, was then imparted in the home. Those conditions are over but the boy's need of training is as great, if not greater, than ever, and scouting is here to supply that need."

Gas Engine Reduces Quotation on Oats

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Substitution of automobile delivery trucks for Old Dobbin in cities, and replacing of farm work horses by tractors, has resulted in $30,000,000 annual loss to the farmers of the country in lower prices they are able to get for their oats. Robert McDougal, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, told the Horse Owners' Association of America at their annual meeting here.

"Before we were using gasoline oats prices averaged about 62 cents lower than wheat," McDougal said. "During the last few years oats prices have averaged 65 cents lower than wheat. Our oats crop is usually about one billion bushels. This 3-cent drop means $30,000,000 annual loss to American farmers."

The same amount of loss might also be estimated for hay, he said, because while the hay crop is as large as ever the demand is much less.

PLUMBING EARNS GUESTS' PRAISES

Sanitary Development Organization Writes Words of Authors in Records

Remarks on American plumbing made by Charles Dickens, Anthony Trollope and Georges Clemenceau were entered today in the books of the historical committee of the newly formed Sanitary Development League of Southern California.

The league is composed of the leading plumbing concerns of the Southland, organized to add to the health and comfort of their neighbors by promoting the use of modern sanitation and plumbing.

Research of the league's historical committee shows that when Dickens and Trollope toured America one point of irritable daily comment of both was the fact that there were no bath tubs in their hotels. And not only that, but they found great difficulty in obtaining water for the folding tubs they carried with them.

Praises U. S. Plumbing
But when Clemenceau reviewed his impressions of daily life in the United States for inquiring ship-news reporters just before he sailed for France, the one topic on which he laid most emphasis was the superiority of American plumbing to that of the homeland, to that of all Europe. "Always I found a bath opening from my sleeping chamber, whether in a magnificent city hotel, a village inn, or a private home," he declared. "Steaming water ran from the pipes whether I turned the cock at dinner time, or at four in the morning."

Henry Boynton, secretary of the league, made comment as he read the words of the immortal trio. "There, briefly, is the progress of the American home, today the most comfortable home of all time, of all lands," he said. "The vision, the resourcefulness of the plumbing industry in the last sixty or seventy years have made the daily life of millions of Americans more comfortable, has helped to preserve their lives, to keep them free from disease."

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad.

As they talked a soldier came and announced that they were no longer prisoners—they were to have the freedom of the camp. "But," he concluded, "the general requests that you do not pass beyond the limits of the camp. There are many desperadoes in the hills and he fears for your safety, now that you are his guests."

The man spoke Spanish, so that it was necessary that Bridge interpret his words for the benefit of Billy, who had understood only part of what he said.

"Ask him," said Byrne, "if that stuff goes for me, too."

"He says no," replied Bridge after questioning the soldier, "that the captain is now one of them, and may go and come as do the other officers. Such are Pesita's orders."

Billy arose. The messenger returned to his post at headquarters. The guard had withdrawn, leaving the three men alone.

"So long, old man," said Billy. "If I'm going to be of any help to you and Mig I'll blow over an 'mix with the Dago bunch, an' practice settin' on my heels. It seems to be the right dose down here, an' I got to learn all I can about 'em. I'll be back soon, if I've turned one."

"Good-bye, Billy, remember Rio," said Bridge.

"And the revolvers, senior," added Miguel.

"You bet," replied Billy, and strolled off in the direction of the little circle of cigar smokers.

As he approached them Rozales looked up and smiled. Then, rising, extended his hand.

"Senior Captain," he said, "we welcome you. I am Captain Rozales." He hesitated waiting for Billy to give his name.

"My monacker's Byrne," said Billy. "Pleased to meet you, Cap."

"Ah, Captain Byrne," and Rozales proceeded to introduce the newcomer to his fellow-officers.

Several, like Rozales, were educated men who had been officers in the army under former regimes; but had turned bandit as the safer alternative to suffering immediate death at the hands of the faction then in power. The others, for the most part, were pure-blooded Indians whose adult life had been spent in outlawry and brigandage.

All were small of stature beside the giant, Byrne. Rozales and two others spoke English. With these Billy conversed. He tried to learn from them the name of the officer who was to command the escort that was to accompany Bridge and Miguel into the valley on the morrow; but Rozales and the others assured him that they did not know.

When he had asked the question Billy had been looking straight at Rozales, and he had seen the man's pupils contract and noticed the slight backward movement of the body which also denotes determination. Billy knew, therefore, that Rozales was lying. He did know who was to command

TODAY—Nobody is normally cheerful in Berlin, writes Karl M. Elfish.

TOMORROW—War has been declared on Paris "Fashion Pirates," writes Alice Langelier, Paris correspondent.

By KARL M. ELISH, For International News Service.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—Here is a city of pure and unadulterated gloom. People, sky, streets, weather are all gloomy. Nobody, be he rich or poor, is normally cheerful. The rich speculator in foreign exchange, riding in his automobile or dining in state at a fashionable restaurant, worries about the rate of exchange. And with the market bounding downhill, day after day, he has something to worry about. The salaried man, on his way to work, or homeward bound to a cold, ill-lit home and scant meal, worries about the high cost of living and whether his next raise will meet the increased cost of the necessities of life.

The foreigners worry whether to exchange their foreign money today or wait until tomorrow, when the mark probably will have fallen still further.

The German business man leads a hard life. He makes money, which, to be sure, does something to take the curse off the situation, but he has as hard a time as the vaudeville entertainer who balances himself on a ladder and juggles five balls.

Merchandise has to be paid for in advance—in sound foreign currency—and getting an order filled is not easy, due to the scarcity of raw materials. Selling prices are made in terms of German marks, and a watchful eye has to be kept on the ever declining rate of exchange.

Some merchants who deal largely with foreigners have taken the dollar as their standard, and before making a sale calculate the price in marks on a dollar basis. These merchants are expensive people to deal with.

So both buyer and seller have an interesting time, and it's no wonder that everyone is gloomy.

The only time that anything approaching general cheerfulness is to be seen in the crowds on the street is about the time the cafes close, and the more affluent Germans, that is to say those able to afford the price of two or three beers, start for home, their many difficulties temporarily forgotten.

The quenching gap is not used in gaps having a supply voltage as low as 50 cycles per second. The sparks obtained at that frequency are found to be irregular and not of good tone. To the ear they sound "mushy," or of a low, sizzling sound. Where only a 60 cycle source of supply is available it is much better to use a rotary spark gap, which will be described in the following article. For 500 cycle frequency the quenched gap is adjusted to break down at the maximum value of the applied voltage—that is, with its total length so adjusted as to give one spark for each cycle or alteration of the applied electromotive force. Discharges at other times are not possible, and as a result of this regularity a clear note is obtained. This quenched gap is considered standard and undoubtedly is the most efficient type of spark gap for power up to about 10 kilowatts. Beyond that power its usefulness is doubtful owing to the difficulty of cooling the gap.

The great advantage of the quenched gap is that it is such a great aid to the production of a "pure" wave, a question that will be discussed in these articles later. Another excellent quality of the quenched gap is the fact that it is practically noiseless on account of the short gap between discs and that it is enclosed. On the other hand, a plain gap and a rotary make a great noise.

For greatest efficiency it should be carefully noted that it is positively essential that the quenched gap be adequately cooled, also that the faces of the discs be kept clean and smooth and never allowed to become pitted. As a precaution against this the space between two gaps should be thoroughly air-tight.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S ACORN FUN

"Who-o-e! Who-o-e! Who-o-e!" That was not the Bad Wolf howling, nor was it the Fuzzy Fox. It was the cold North Wind blowing down Uncle Wiggily's chimney, on the hollow stump bungalow. And you might have thought the wind was whistling for Uncle Wiggily to come out and play, as one boy whistles for another boy, when he is too bashful to ring the door bell.

"Who-o-e! Who-o-e! Who-o-e!" howled the wind again. Uncle Wiggily put on his fur coat, he put on his hat, he put on his gloves. Then he put on his pink, twinkling nose.

Oh, just a moment, if you please! Pray excuse me! I'm wrong about Uncle Wiggily putting on his nose. He had that on him already.

"Are you going out in all this cold wind?" asked Nurse Jane.

"Yes, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, I am."

Uncle Wiggily, you're in the wrong house, and we don't eat acorns, thank you!"

Uncle Wiggily rubbed his eyes, which were filled with dust, and then he saw, cowering about in front of him, Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boys.

"Dear me! I make a mistake; didn't I?" chuckled the bunny. "I couldn't see where I was going on account of the dust. Of course, you doggie boys don't eat acorns. But as long as you stayed home from school, on account of the big wind, I suppose, we'll have some fun with the acorns."

"How can you have fun with acorns, asked Jackie and Peetie. "I'll show you," said Uncle Wiggily.

He sat down to a table and asked Peetie to bring him some wooden toothpicks. Breaking up some of the toothpicks, Uncle Wiggily stuck pieces of them in a large acorn, making four wooden legs. Then he stuck a little acorn on the big acorn for a head, and with a little teeny-weeny bit of toothpick for a tail there was a funny acorn animal!

"Oh, that's fine! Make some more!" barked Peetie.

Uncle Wiggily made other acorn animals for the doggie boys, some with three legs and some with four. He made funny inky faces on the acorn heads and Peetie and Jackie had dandy fun, even if they were not squirrels.

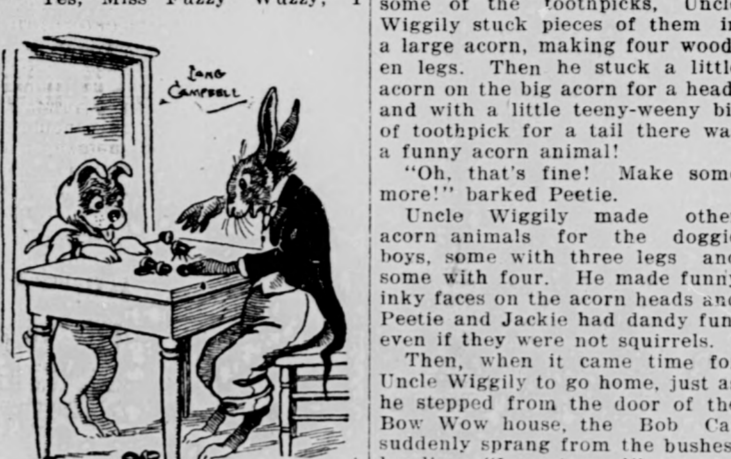

Then, when it came time for Uncle Wiggily to go home, just as he stepped from the door of the Bow Wow house, the Bob Cat suddenly sprang from the bushes, howling: "I want ears!"

"Have a few acorns!" laughed the bunny. And he pelted the Bob Cat so hard in the face with what remained of the acorns that the bad chap howled and yowled and scowled and away he ran.

"Hurray for the acorn fun!" barked Jackie and Peetie. But the Bob Cat could see no fun at all. So the bunny gentleman safely reached his hollow stump bungalow, and he sat down to a warm supper as the wind cried: "Who-o-e! Who-o-e! Who-o-e!"

And if the frying pan doesn't jump off the gas stove when the oatmeal cooker is telling a bedtime story to the tea kettle, I'll next relate to you the tale of Uncle Wiggily and the white owl.

"Oh, that's fine!" barked Peetie.

"Well, I hope you don't blow away," said the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"I'll try not to," promised the bunny gentleman, and then he hopped along over the fields and through the woods. As he was passing beneath some trees, the wind whistled again: "Who-o-e! Who-o-e! Who-o-e!"

Then something pattered down on top of Uncle Wiggily's tail silk hat. Something pelted him in the face and tickled his nose.

"Acorns!" cried the rabbit gentleman. "The wind is blowing up off the ground a lot of brown oak tree acorns. Ha! I know what I'll do! I'll take some of these acorns to Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrels. It is so cold and windy that, very likely, the squirrels didn't go to school today. I'll take them some acorns."

Filling his pockets with the brown acorns, Uncle Wiggily hopped on and on. The wind blew a lot of dust in the rabbit gentleman's eyes, but he kept on until dimly he saw before him a little house.

"I'll go in and give the acorns to the Bushytails," he thought to himself. He entered the little house and cried, "Here, Johnny

San Francisco, Jan. 16.—Firemen are searching the ruins of the Goodwill Industries, a semi-charitable institution giving employment to elderly men and women, for three employes not accounted for after fire starting from an overturned kerosene stove swept the structure in Mission street with an estimated loss of $50,000. Three employes were overcome by smoke and two firemen hurt fighting the flames. Firemen rescued many, and only by great effort saved the mission grammar school nearby whose pupils marched out in orderly fashion in response to a fire drill signal. Between seventy and eighty persons were in the work rooms of the institution when the fire broke out, police estimated.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Secretary of State Hughes has informed congress the administration would not oppose legislation returning property seized by the United States during the war with Germany if enough of the properties were withheld to guarantee payment of American claims against the German government.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Again laying aside the controversial ship subsidy bill, the senate has launched into a consideration of farm credits legislation that will last at least a month.

The Lenroot-Anderson bill was taken up after the senate voted 53 to 19 against the effort of Senator Morris, Republican, of Nebraska, to compel consideration of his bill, which would set up a government corporation for the buying and selling of farm produce.

We make friends by concealing our faults, and later prize them because they don't mind our faults.

Glendale Evening News

Entered as second-class matter January 12, 1922, at the postoffice at Glendale, Calif., under act of congress of March 3, 1879. Published daily except Sunday.

Money spent in Glendale helps to make Glendale a bigger and better city.

Personal Mention

Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Hurt of 525 West Doran street spent Sunday with a party of friends at Balboa Beach. Mrs. G. W. Wilkins, of 406 Salem street, who has been quite ill for over a week with the influenza, is now nearly recovered and able to be out.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Von Oven, of 317 West Maple street, motored to Santa Monica beach Sunday afternoon. With them was Mr. Von Oven's father, A. Von Oven.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Sweat, of 115 North Central avenue, entertained on Sunday Dr. and Mrs. A. Pilcher and Mrs. Pilcher's mother, Mrs. E. Johnson, and daughter, Miss Florence Johnson, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ferguson of 525 North Jackson street had as guests over the week-end Mrs. Ferguson's parents and sister, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Dickover of Santa Barbara and Miss Grace Dickover of Alhambra.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. White moved Saturday from 465 Patterson avenue, Glendale, to Argyle avenue, Hollywood. Miss Edith M. Short, formerly of 216 Milford street, is now living at the 465 Patterson avenue address.

Mrs. Charles Holme, formerly Miss Lillian Eaton of Glendale, was the week-end guest of Miss Blanche Davenport of 1243 South Glendale avenue. Mrs. Holme is residing in Gardena and is teaching in the Culver City schools.

Mrs. Helen W. Sawyer and her two children, Henry and Barbara, of 342 North Jackson street, attended a musical concert in Los Angeles Sunday afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Smits and her sons, Evert and Jack, of 231 Milford street.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward T. Abbott of 512 West Wilson avenue were guests Saturday night at a "house-warming" given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Louis R. Chandler of Mt. Washington. The evening's program consisted of dancing, music and cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wilson and family of Hull, Iowa, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cleland of 1821 East Gardena avenue, and are so pleased with Glendale that they are planning to make their home here. Mrs. Wilson is a sister of Mrs. Cleland.

Frank Jellison, former resident of this city, who has recently moved to Hollywood, spent Saturday and Sunday in Glendale visiting with former neighbors and friends. Mr. Jellison will soon be moving to Miss Virginia Slosson of Los Angeles, and they plan to live in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Verity, of 511 West Broadway, motored with a party of friends to Camp Baldy on Sunday, leaving Glendale at 8:30 o'clock in the morning and arriving at the camp before noon. After enjoying a picnic lunch the party took a short hike. No snow was encountered but it was reported there was plenty on the summit. The return trip was made in the afternoon. The roads were found to be uniformly good.

SOCIAL EVENT

Teachers Visit Today is a welcome holiday for the pupils of the grammar schools of the city and visiting day for the teachers, who will spend the school hours in various institutions of the city of Los Angeles and vicinity. Miss Avis White of Glendale Avenue Intermediate, and Mrs. Malcolm McLennan of Wilson avenue, will spend a few hours at the teachers' training school at the University, southern branch; Miss Edna Duffy and Miss Ada Salstrom of Wilson avenue will enjoy the day at John Muir school in Pasadena, Miss Natalie Mackay and Miss Gladys Sharpe will visit Le Comte Junior high school in Los Angeles, Mrs. Ethel Rae Kent and Miss Elsie Brennaman will journey to Santa Monica and visit the music departments of the city schools; Miss Lucretia Potter of Wilson avenue will visit at Virgil intermediate in Los Angeles, Miss Annie McIntyre, principal of Central avenue school, and Miss Ida Celen, supervisor of penmanship, will spend the day in Long Beach. Miss Loraine Fritch will visit Santa Monica, R. E. Bremer of Glendale avenue plans to visit the University Southern Branch.

Couple Celebrate Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Bruner of 932 South Central avenue who were celebrating their fifteenth wedding anniversary, were honorees of a pleasant social evening last Thursday, planned by the "Merry Wives" Needlework club, of which Mrs. Bruner is a member. The evening was also husbands' night for the club.

Those present at the Bruner home were Mr. and Mrs. M. Wallborn, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Berryman, Mr. and Mrs. L. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Young. On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bruner were surprised at the close of the evening rehearsal of the choir, of which Mrs. Bruner is a member at the Casa Verdugo Methodist Episcopal church, to find themselves guests of honor at a delightful supper, which had been arranged in the dining room. Covers were laid for twenty-five.

First Annual Ball Glendale firemen and police have announced Friday, February 9, as the date for their first annual ball, to be held in the L. O. O. F. hall at 210 1/2 West Broadway. The Glendale Firemen and Police association is the most recent fraternal organization formed in the city and their first social affair will undoubtedly attract a large crowd.

Collegiate Affair A prominent member of the Los Angeles University Women's club is to be the honored guest and speaker Saturday at the organization meeting of the Glendale College Women's club with Mrs. Warren Roberts at 617 East Elk avenue. This announcement was made this morning by Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, temporary chairman of the Glendale club.

Legion Auxiliary The American Legion auxiliary held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the Legion hall. Mrs. Nanno Woods, director of the first unit of the Community Service players, suggested that the auxiliary might raise money by giving plays through the American Legion, under the auspices of the Community Service players.

Old Friends Meet Mrs. A. L. Foster of 546 West Broadway was a recent hostess, complimenting Mrs. Roy Smith of Los Angeles. Mrs. Smith was formerly a resident of La Junta, Colo., and several of Mrs. Foster's guests lived there at one time.

Hostess to Club The Thursday Afternoon Club will meet with Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, 1423 South Brand boulevard, on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Sumner P. Hunt, past president of the Ebell Club of Los Angeles, will be the speaker. Also numbers will be given by pupils from Pearl Keller's dancing school.

Club Women Meet Members of the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon club were guests yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. E. Halstead at 210 West Windsor road. A business session was held at 1 o'clock and later the fourth act of Romeo and Juliet was studied.

Deaths and Funerals MRS. EMMA P. SAYERS Mrs. Emma P. Sayers, of 218 South Central avenue, passed away in a local hospital, Saturday, January 13, 1923, at the age of 54. Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, January 18, 1923, in the Little Church of the Flowers, under the direction of Kiefer & Eyerick.

AL G. KEARNS Al G. Kearns passed away at his residence at the corner of California and Brand, on Saturday, January 13, 1923, at the age of 28. The deceased, who was an ex-soldier, is survived by a brother, Thomas Kearns, of Oakland. Funeral services will be at 4 o'clock this afternoon, in the chapel of Kiefer & Eyerick, with interment at Grand View cemetery. The American Legion will have charge of the ceremony.

MATTHEW WILLIAM GEAR Matthew William Gear, of 1217 East Lexington drive, passed away in a Pasadena hospital, Friday, January 12, 1923, at the age of 79. The deceased is survived by a wife, Mrs. Florella Gear, and by three married daughters—Mrs. E. Sherman, of the above address on Lexington avenue; Mrs. Ella Hall, of La Crosse, Wis., and Mrs. R. L. Kenyon, of Waukesha, Wis. The deceased had come to Glendale from Wisconsin four months ago. Services will be at Forest Lawn cemetery, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Kiefer & Eyerick in charge.

LOCAL CARRIERS VISIT PASADENA Glendale Guests Feted at Close of Installation of New Officers. Officers and members of the local branch of the Letter Carriers' Association, together with the Women's Auxiliary, were guests of the Pasadena branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers on Saturday evening, January 13, when they witnessed the installation of the officers of the Pasadena branch. The Pasadena carriers and the Women's Auxiliary of that city entertained the visitors in a most cordial manner and the occasion was one that was thoroughly enjoyed by both hosts and guests, the banquet that marked the close of the meeting being especially enjoyable. The local branch of Glendale has just installed the following officers, to serve for the coming term: Oscar W. Wright, president; Newton Clark, vice president; Frank C. Davis, corresponding secretary; Fred Blodgett, financial secretary; William Gamble, treasurer; George B. Brady, clerk; sick benefit association; Lloyd Richards, sergeant at arms; W. M. Stanley, trustee. The election of representatives to the local Postoffice Welfare Council resulted in the selection of Cal S. Nicholson, David Sullivan and A. Sylvester Wood.

 Polo, Illinois, Paper Offers Congratulations on Fine Showing in Edition

Complimentary recognition has been received by A. T. Cowan, owner and editor of The Glendale Evening News, in the columns of the Tri-County Press, published in Polo, Illinois, and representing activities in the three counties, Ogle, Carroll and Whiteside.

Mr. Cowan was formerly owner and editor of the Tri-County Press, now owned and published by C. H. Hemingway.

Mr. Hemingway's compliment to Mr. Cowan appears on the first page of the Tri-County Press and he says:

"We are in receipt of a copy of The Glendale Evening News, published by A. T. Cowan, our immediate predecessor. It consists of thirty-six pages, two parts, and a pink cover, and is filled chock full of information concerning Glendale and the progress it is making.

Publicity for Glendale
 "The city itself is growing by leaps and bounds. In 1910 it had a population of 2,742 which had become 13,365 in 1920, or an increase of practically 400 per cent. The estimated population now is 40,000.

"The cost of the new buildings erected in 1907 was $125,430 while in 1921 it was $5,099,201, and it is practically certain that 1922 will exceed 1921 by a million and a quarter.

"Among the many structures planned for the immediate future are a Presbyterian church to cost $200,000; a high school building that will cost $600,000 to $700,000 and accommodate 2,500 pupils.

"That The News is keeping step with the progress of the city of Glendale or a step or two in advance, is evident from the paper itself and from the testimony of those who have visited Glendale and Mr. Cowan's printing plant."

Bound to Succeed
 Mr. Hemingway then quotes from the New Year's edition of The News with regard to the prosperity the paper has enjoyed during the past year.

In conclusion he says:

"Nearly ten years have passed since we met Mr. Cowan for the first time, an interview which led to our becoming his successor. The statements made by him to effect a sale have in every instance been verified by facts, figures and history. Such a man, we believe, is bound to succeed and we extend our congratulations on what he has builded in the less than ten years he has been in Glendale. More power to him."

PLAN TO UNMASK HOODED SLAYERS
 Identity of Murderers in Mer Rouge Outrage Will Be Shown by State

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
 For International News Service
 BASTROP, La., Jan. 16.—The first attempt to publicly identify members of the "hooded mob" murder band which cruelly executed Watt Daniel and Thomas P. Richards in Morehouse parish last August probably will be made within the next 48 hours, through the testimony of witnesses at the open hearing, International News Service learned today.

The state of Louisiana, in its efforts to punish perpetrators of the murder and strip the mask of secrecy from terrorist methods used by members of the Ku Klux Klan to impose their will on the community, has almost completed its preliminary case. The next step will be to identify members of the mob which climaxed a long series of outrages by slaying two Mer Rouge citizens after an almost inhuman torture.

Much speculation has evolved from the issuance of subpoenas for Edward Morris, freight agent, Robert Lee Harkness, oil worker, and Alfred "Honey" Hill, a negro, all of Collinston, where the "hooded mob" stopped with its captives while en route to the "torture chamber," where Daniel and Richards were slain. All three men saw the "hooded mob" murderers at close range that night and it was believed the state may spring a "trump card" by using them to identify the slayers.

Harkness helped to give the masked murderers a ride when they stopped near Collinston railroad station. He told International News Service he saw two cars and a truck with approximately eight masked men guarding the two captives.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL
 Who Won the Big War? They Stand Like Ghosts Dividing Up University Keeping Boys On Farm

By Gil A. Cowan

FRENCH Bayonets Speed German Coal Diggers," says a headline. Wonder who won the war, Wilhelm? And oh how different the French occupation of the Ruhr valley is to Germany's invasion of Belgium! While there is bound to be minor clashes, of a more or less serious nature, it is our humble belief that France will so conduct the coal collection as to gain credit, rather than criticism of other nations.

Perhaps the "bayonets" will convince the Germans of the grim necessity of paying reparations according to agreement. So far they have artfully dodged doing much other than replacing "in kind," and the "kind" of cattle, etc., have been subject to more quarreling.

"Made in Germany" is not so popular, either, for that once great nation's products have slumped in quality as the mark has decreased in value.

"Constantino Dies of Brain Hemorrhage," says another headline. First time anyone has credited the former ruler of Greece with any gray matter to speak of. The wisest moves he ever made were abdication when he felt his own inability to further rule the crumbling nation.

Greece, like Spain and Germany and Portugal, glories in its history of conquests and imperial attainments, yet today they stand like ghosts among the world powers that be. Britain now is the commanding nation of the universe, but, like all kingdoms, it will be delivered into the hands of its present existence.

No greater stroke of strategy could be made in history than for Albert Edward, Prince of Wales, at the time for his ascension to the throne to declare himself, not a king, but the ruling president for a term—and run for re-election.

We'll bet he'd win hands down.

In Sacramento the offer of a Southern California real estate promotion project to give a site for the branch of the state university is considered an advertising scheme and whether it wins or not will have a great effect on purchasers of property in that particular section of Los Angeles county.

As for making another university in the south, it may be done by private enterprise, but will meet bitter opposition on the part of the state at large. Educators cannot conceive the idea of the University of California being divided.

The writer has just concluded reading the report of the special committee on agricultural education and its conclusions strike at any move to divide the university interest, even going so far as to protect against additional farm schools and suggesting that a farm be obtained at Berkeley, even if city blocks have to be condemned.

At the same time the commission recommends strongly that support and encouragement be given the branch of the college of agriculture at Davis where facilities and staff are such as to guarantee the most successful results in the first two years beyond high school. From the point of view of vocational and professional training, adding:

"This type of school cannot be duplicated by any smaller political subdivision than the state, and it should not be duplicated even by the state, which after all has not limitless finances, until the need develops. Neither enrollment or any other factor indicates that need at the present time, but when such need does appear it would seem logical that similar institutions should be established in central and southern California."

The commission found that farmers' sons are not taking advantage of the facilities offered them and the consensus of opinion is that "keeping the boy on the farm" is a sociological question rather than educational.

In other words, the county farm adviser and home demonstration agent, as well as the better educated people of the rural communities, must be responsible for making life interesting. And those who have investments in farm lands will do well to see that there are schoolhouses for center meetings, dances and phonographs; that the renter has as good a home as he can get in the city, and that the hired hand is as good as any mechanic in the metropolis.

Perhaps the greatest invention of the age for the farmer is the radio. It brings the world to him and his family. The city dweller can enjoy the opera, the latest news, etc., but the rural populace have had to bide their time and steal off to town for a movie performance, if any entertainment were to be had.

Now they tune in on radioland for two or three hours each evening without even having to change clothes.

PAGEANT TO AID BUSINESS, PLAN
 Committees Will Report on Scheme for Big Trade Exhibit in May

Plans for a Pageant of Progress, to be held here in the latter end of next May, were outlined to the members of the Glendale Credit association at their weekly luncheon yesterday, by James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and a request was made that a committee be appointed by the Credit Association to confer with a similar committee from the Chamber of Commerce with a view to deciding as to the feasibility of the project.

Mr. Rhoades stated that he had received a letter from Harry L. Levitt of Los Angeles, a showman of many years' experience, in which the plans for the proposed pageant were detailed for the consideration of the Chamber of Commerce.

Invite Outside Firms
 It is proposed to stage a Pageant of Progress here that would follow practically the same lines as those on which the Los Angeles pageant of last fall was conducted, and manufacturing and wholesale establishments in all parts of the country would be invited to participate in the pageant, in order to lend it a national atmosphere that would be impossible of accomplishment, Mr. Rhoades stated, if the pageant were to be confined to the activities of Glendale alone.

By encouraging the manufacturers and wholesalers to participate in the affair it would be possible to bring together the sellers and the buyers of the various products represented at stated intervals during the life of the pageant, and thus provide a market place for articles of national reputation that would afford unlimited facilities for the transaction of business, said Mr. Rhoades.

Entertainment Program
 In addition to the commercial side of the project, it is proposed to stage a variety of entertainments every night, including fireworks, vaudeville shows, and other attractions, and to put forth every effort to make Glendale the center of attraction to people from all parts of California during the period that the pageant was running.

Mr. Rhoades declared that the Chamber of Commerce is inclined to look with favor on the project, and he has arranged for the committee appointed by the Credit Association to meet with the directors of the Chamber of Commerce today, when a joint committee will be appointed to go into every detail of the proposal and to report to both organizations.

Law Is Explained
 In response to a request from several of the members, Owen C. Emery, president of the association, explained at length the difference between civil and criminal actions as they affect the organization and its members.

Mr. Emery stated that the Credit Association could not file criminal actions against any person issuing worthless checks, as the association would not be the wronged individual. Action in such cases must be taken by the person or firm receiving the bad check, and in the city the suit should be filed in the court of Judge F. H. Lowe. In the event that the offense was committed by some person living outside the city but within the township of Burbank, the action would be filed in the justice court presided over by Mr. Emery himself.

May Assign Claims
 In the case of civil actions, where claims are to be presented against any firm or person, the usual civil procedure is to be followed, but where several persons may have claims against the same firm these claims can be assigned to one claimant, who can then sue for the entire amount of the claims involved.

Mr. Emery made it clear, however, that the Credit Association is not the agency through which suits, either criminal or civil, can be filed.

The remainder of the business was of a routine nature.

SAN FRANCISCO IS BACK TO NORMAL
 Early to Bed and Early to Rise Now Rule; Dope Menace Increases

By GIL A. COWAN
 Special to The Evening News
 SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Think of San Francisco a 16 o'clock town! You wouldn't get a mob on Market street after the hour at night nowadays if the Ku Klux Klan were to parade, unless the habits of the hotels and the hoodlums in the near beer hangouts were to be informed in advance.

The old crowd is gone. The lure of the bright lights leads only to the movies and that means early to bed and early to rise, with the result that San Francisco is healthy, wealthy and wise.

It is good to see the bay region in a normal state of mind, and from all outward appearances it does not hold a candle to Los Angeles.

Dope School Children
 The most interesting topic of the day here is dope! Almost hourly another sensation is sprung and the newspapers are announcing that the United States leads China in the consumption of narcotics.

Discovery has been made that school children in Northern California are being used to peddle drugs to addicts and more and more the young folks are being lured into the nefarious practice.

In San Francisco, according to T. J. McNerny, inspector of the state pharmacy board, "we recently captured a peddler selling narcotics near a school yard and using the pupils to hand the stuff to buyers."

"The love for jazzy times," according to Stanley Halstead, federal narcotic agent here, "is responsible for the chief cause of boys, girls, men and women of respectable families becoming addicts."

Comes at Parties
 Snuffing cocaine is suggested to them at parties, it is said, as a cure for fatigue, and soon they become addicts and slaves of those who serve them with dope.

Girls are made addicts both for immoral purposes and to peddle for the bediamonded drug ring leaders, one of whom was nabbed in a fashionable apartment house here last week.

The seriousness of the traffic cannot be discounted, although the special commission's report to the governor, filed with the senate does not offer any other solution than getting co-operation of border agents.

Japan Will Select Temporary Premier
 TOKIO, Jan. 16.—The naming of a temporary premier during the session of the diet is probably due to the illness of Premier Kato, it was learned this afternoon.

Admiral Minoura Saito, governor of Korea, is being discussed as the likely choice for temporary premier. Should he be named and prove successful it is regarded as possible that the Selyu-Kan party will again take control of the government following the diet session naming Saito as premier.

What The Kidneys Do
 Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms— which vary widely but may include pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatic pains, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right the danger is overcome. Doan's Kidney Pills have proven an effective kidney medicine.

J. M. Smith, 1571 East Thirty-third street, Los Angeles, Calif., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills put my kidneys in good condition and I gladly recommend them. I had severe backaches that made it difficult for me to do any stooping or lifting. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon cured me. My back is now well and strong and I have had no further trouble."
