the length of this line
=
the area of the original triangle