EMMERSON-CROCKETT CASE

Hearing of Criminal-Label Action Opens at Fredericton To-Day.

(Associated Press).
Fredericton, N. B., June 18.—Great interest is attached to the Emerson-Crockett label case, which came up for trial in the York Circuit court this morning before Judge Landry. There is persistent rumor of settlement of the case, but all interested deny there is anything to it. It is understood that 23 additional petit jurors have been summoned in addition to the regular panel of 21 making 44 in all. Each side is allowed four peremptory challenges. It is likely a number will be challenged for cause. So far as can be learned a great majority of the grand jurors are residents of the city.

J. H. Crockett, the defendant, who left on Saturday evening for Montreal in connection with the engagement of Mrs. Potter Palmer to Aubrey Fitz Clarence, Earl of Munster. The engagement has not been announced officially, but the Tribune's correspondent declares there was, no doubt an understanding had been reached. The wedding will take place in London in the fall.

The report confirms the rumors that have been current for some time. The peer who has won the heart and fortune of Chicago's social leader is a bachelor, 45 years old, and not blessed with a superabundance of this world's goods. He is said to be handsome, however, and has a charming manner. He has no public career other than that of gentleman usher to King Edward. His London residence is 79 Elizabeth street, Eton Square, and he has a house at Brimstone.

Mrs. Palmer has an income of more than $500,000 a year, derived entirely from Chicago real estate and other properties left by Mr. Palmer at his death in 1902. Mrs. Palmer proved a prudent administrator of the estate, which at that time was estimated to be worth $6,000,000, and which has steadily increased in value.

CHINESE LOGGER KILLED.

Vancouver, June 17.—Joe Quong Gee, Chinese logger, met a death of awful suddenness last Friday at Salmon River, up the coast. He was crushed by a falling tree. The unfortunate man was knocked down by a blow on the head which crushed his skull and threw his body lengthwise under the tree. Every rib was broken, his backbone smashed, and both legs and feet broken.

His remains were brought to Vancouver on Sunday afternoon.

At a wedding at Dilton, the bridegroom's sister got in the place of the bride, and the bridegroom, not noticing the mistake, placed the ring on his own sister's finger. As a result, the service was abandoned.

IMMIGRATION.

No Danger of Canada Being Over-Run by Foreign Population.

(Special to the Times).
Ottawa, June 18.—An analysis of Canadian immigration shows a great increase in Anglo-Saxon immigration. There are no grounds for Premier Roblin's fears that Canada will be over-run by foreign population.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Sambornville, N. H., June 17.—In an automobile accident last night three persons were probably fatally injured. These are Doctor B. H. Metcalfe, head of Metcalfe's hospital, Winthrop, Mass.; Mrs. Metcalfe and Miss Churchill, matron of the hospital. The automobile plunged over a high embankment, burying its occupants beneath.

PRINCE FUSHIMI MEETS INDIANS

LARGE NUMBER GREET VISITOR AT GLEICHEN

Presented the Chief With One Hundred Dollars for Distribution Among Tribe.

(Associated Press).
Calgary, June 18.—After 24 hours' run since leaving Oklaheka yesterday, the Royal train is now approaching Calgary. The same cordial reception given the Prince at every stop has been general throughout the West.

At Moose Jaw, the Prince was received with cheers, accompanied with the strains of the Japanese national anthem by a fine band. A "hat" of an hour was made for the prince at Enfold, the line being kept in order by police, and occasionally by the train. The prince was accompanied by a large number of his attendants, and the train was accompanied by a large number of his attendants, and the train was accompanied by a large number of his attendants.

DYNAMITE OUTRAGE.

Attempt to Wreck Building in "Little Italy," Chicago—Probably Was of "Black Hand."

Chicago, June 17.—A dynamite explosion, which partially wrecked the Cosmo Brucator flat building on Milton avenue, and spread terror throughout that section of "Little Italy." Forty-five persons were aleep at the time, but all escaped.

PREFERENTIAL TARIFF.

(Special to the Times).
Ottawa, June 18.—Premiers Laurier and Deakin had a talk over the liberal offer of preferential tariff made by Canada to Australia, but nothing can be done until Hon. Mr. Deakin reports to the Australian government.

FATALITIES IN THE PRAIRIE CAPITAL

Man Drowned While Bathing—Boy Lost His Life By Capsizing of Canoe.

Winnipeg, June 17.—Scorching weather and alarming frequency of fatal accidents characterized the past forty-eight hours in Winnipeg and the surrounding district.

SUNDAY FISHING.

Not Permitted in Fresh Water in Massachusetts.

The bill providing for numerous changes in the Sunday laws has been engrossed in the Massachusetts house after the adoption of several amendments, including those permitting fishing in salt water, the sale of fruit, and the making of bread by bakers, the transportation of garden and farm products during certain hours of the day and giving newsdealers the right to sell ice cream, confectionery, cigars, and soda.

SCHMITZ OUSTED FROM OFFICE

REMOVED BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

James Gallagher Will Act Temporarily as Mayor of San Francisco—Reform Scheme.

San Francisco, June 17.—Mayor Schmitz was formally removed from office by the supervisors at their meeting this afternoon. Supervisor James Gallagher was named as acting mayor in his place.

This is the first step taken by the prosecution in the execution of the plan to restore good government in San Francisco. The ground on which Mayor Schmitz was removed is that owing to his incarceration in the county jail following his conviction on a charge of felony, he is no longer able to perform his official duties. Gallagher will not hold the position of acting mayor for more than a few days. The resignation of a certain member of the board of supervisors will make room for the appointment of a responsible citizen, who will take Gallagher's place as acting mayor.

The police department will be reorganized and this will be followed by changes in the board of works. It will be impossible, however, to effect such a reorganization without the wholesale dismissal of the police. Chief of Police Dignan will be necessary, it is said, to remove the present police commission and present members of the board of works may have to go. Since the conviction of Schmitz there has been considerable alarm among those officials who hold their jobs in the mayor's favor. While it may be necessary to sweep out of office a large number of Schmitz's appointees, no one will be disturbed, it is said, who has attended to his duties.

The attorneys for Mayor Schmitz announce their determination to take his case to the United States supreme court. Judge Dunne overrules their motion for a new trial on June 27th and if the appellate court makes a similar denial, C. Campbell, of counsel for Schmitz, said to-day:

"It is hardly to be expected that Judge Dunne will grant a motion for a new trial, but his refusal will not put an end to our activities. We will appeal to the supreme court of the state and to the higher tribunal at Washington if necessary."

Schmitz occupies the best room in the county jail. His meals are served in private, and he does not come in contact with the other prisoners. He spends most of his time reading.

LOGS SWEEP AWAY.

Sudden Rise of Saskatchewan River—Rooms Carried From Moorings.

Edmonton, Alta., June 17.—One of the greatest disasters ever experienced by lumbermen of the city of Edmonton occurred Saturday night, caused by the sudden rise of the Saskatchewan River, which swept away thousands of logs and several rafts of lumber. This morning the muddy, brown waters of the river were alive with logs and floating debris.

The heaviest losses are D. R. Fraser & Company and the Edmonton Lumber Company. A large pocket boom of the Edmonton Lumber Company was carried completely away, as was also a portion of a pocket boom belonging to D. R. Fraser & Company, lower down in the river. There is a small portion of the Fraser boom left containing about 5,000 logs.

It is estimated that more than 100,000 logs were carried away with last night's flood. The river rose twelve feet from 6 o'clock Saturday evening until 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Logs were lying at various points along the river bank for a distance of 60 to 100 miles. Owners say the logs had been piled within the high water mark during the winter and all those within that zone will be carried away.

One of the rafts which went adrift was caught and anchored about 18 miles up the river at the big Island Channel. The firms owning the logs issued public notices that all logs bearing their respective marks will be claimed. Advertisements have been wired to Prince Brothers of Batteryford, to catch logs coming down.

DEFENCE'S PLANS TO SAVE HAYWOOD

DETAILS OF PROPOSED LINE OF ACTION

Murder of Stuenberg Due to Personal Vengeance on Part of Harry Orchard.

(Special to the Times).
Boise, Idaho, June 18.—Through a leak the whole plan of the defence to save Haywood's life has been revealed. Darrow and Richardson propose to show that the assassination of Stuenberg was due solely to personal vengeance on Orchard's part. The remaining murders, such as the Independence depot explosion and also the attempted assassinations of Judges Gumbert and Goddard, will be held to be due to the "murder mania." The third link in the scheme of the defence will be the impeachment of Orchard's veracity in order to convince the jury that Darrow will argue that Orchard accused Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone as the closing act in his life long "murder mania" or "murder story."

This story of the scheme of the defence may look chimerical to the outsider but is declared to be absolutely straight and is borne out by the attempt to impeach Orchard's evidence.

A GREAT RACE MEET PROMISED

THE ARRANGEMENTS ARE PERFECT FOR IT

Committee in Charge Will Give a Splendid Programme of Sport This Week.

The Nanaimo band has been secured by L. S. Eaton, the assistant secretary of the racing committee, to play on the third day of the race meeting this week. This band, as is well known, has been for a long time a very popular one. They will be the means of attracting a large number of friends from Nanaimo and Ladysmith on the third day of the meet.

Mr. Eaton, who also left this city to make arrangements for an excursion to Nanaimo and Ladysmith, reports that the C. P. R. promises to run an excursion on Saturday to the races.

The number of entries that came in on the night of the closing was not as great as was expected. However, this morning's mail brought in so many as to ensure that the harness races will leave nothing to be desired. Further, the committee from private sources has every reason to believe that many more entries will come in by this afternoon's mail. About fifty runners are en route from Seattle.

The Barrier Gate is being brought over by Robt. Leighton. He also brings with him the "Annunciator," which will not only signal the winner, but also the progress of the race itself at the half mile and at the mile of finish. Robt. Leighton is the association starter at the Meadows in Seattle, as well as at Emeryville, Oakland, and in itself a guarantee that the competency among all the officials of the Driving Club has been the main object in their selection of the race officials.

The new entrance is almost completed. There is a wide carriage gate and two side-entrances, one on each side. It is artistically finished in an Elizabethan style of architecture, and looks very serviceable.

The new stand for the judges is also well in hand. Its new position, by the grand stand, is in line with all the modern ideas of up-to-date racing. In every way the new arrangement is better than the old one. It, moreover, affords not only greater accommodation, but also more comfort for the judges. Opposite to the judges' stand a trainers' stand has been erected. Thus no expense has been spared by the committee in their endeavors to give the public the opportunity of being present at an exceptionally good race meeting.

FIVE PERSONS LOST THEIR LIVES

Four Women Perished While Endeavoring to Rescue a Boy From Lake.

Seattle, Wash., June 18.—Five people, two sisters, a brother, a mother and aunt, perished at Monahan in the waters of Lake Sammamish yesterday.

The dead are: Anton Myer, 39 years; Lizzie Myer, Ida Myer, sisters, Mrs. Myer, mother, and Mrs. John Herter, sister of Mrs. Myer. It is expected that the four women lost their lives in a vain attempt to save the boy.

TO MEET NEEDS OF VICTORIA

APARTMENT HOUSES WILL BE ERECTED

New Structures Will Be of Palatial Character—Angela College Transformed Also.

Victoria is to have palatial apartment houses. The need for such has long been felt in the city, and the increasing number of tourists who are passing through, many of whom are spending months here, will in the future be catered to in a splendid manner.

A company is now in process of formation to be known as the Victoria Apartments, Limited. Its capital will be $250,000, comprised of ordinary shares at $100 each. The company will be floated in the course of a couple of weeks' time. At present the arrangements are in the hands of Bond & Clarke, and an interesting feature in connection with the new venture is that all the capitalists who are promoting the scheme are Victorians.

It is proposed to erect one apartment house in close proximity to the centre of the city. The plans for this structure, which will be of an elegant character, are now in the hands of E. M. Rattenbury, architect, and will be ready in a week's time. Tenders will then be invited for the construction of a restaurant, which will be completed in a month's time.

The building will be four stories high, standing on 130 square feet of ground. It will be double roofed with an ornamental front. The ground floor will be a feature of the frontage, while pillared porticoes will be reached by a flight of steps.

The apartment house will be comprised of some 65 suites of rooms, and will be capable of accommodating 150 people. Part of the ground floor will be used for a restaurant, which will be capable of seating 200 people.

The structure will stand in an acre of ground. In the front will be a palm garden, while the back part will be laid out in landscape fashion. Tennis courts will also form a feature of the new building.

The building itself will be fitted with an elevator, heated by steam and fitted with electricity throughout. The furnishings will be of the most modern and also of a sumptuous character.

The present structure under contemplation is only one of three which are proposed to be erected in the near future. A large amount of the capital has already been promised, and the arrangements for the flotation is in the hands of Messrs. Bond & Clark. Such comfort will be insured in the apartment houses that it is expected that many Victorians will avail themselves of the buildings as well as visitors passing through the city.

The shares of $100 each in the new company will be issued as follows: Twenty-five per cent. on application and the balance in three equal payments as follows: Twenty-five per cent. in two months and 25 per cent. in four months.

The Angela college, which has been converted into an up-to-date private hotel, is almost completed. Already more than half the number of rooms at the disposal of the management are spoken for.

The Tourist Association for some time past has been greatly troubled to find suitable accommodation to meet the increased number of visitors who make Victoria their headquarters during the season. Many of these stay for months at a time. The new private hotel supplies a long felt need.

The Angela college was recently purchased by Norban Rant to fill this need. He will be ably seconded in the management of the hotel by Mrs. B. Norton. The establishment will be furnished in a style to meet with the approval of the high class of tourists who are now coming to Victoria. It will have twenty-three rooms and five bath rooms. It has a lovely situation, within easy walking distance from the town and within a few minutes walk from the Fort street car. The management will spare no expense in making this new hotel comfortable for its future patrons. Everything will be home-like. The artistic taste of the management is well known, so that in every way this new house will be able to provide for the wants of those for whom it is designed. Applications for rooms can be made at any time after June 15th at 41 Burdette avenue.

WILL SOON MAKE SILICA BRICK

WORKS ARE NEARLY READY TO COMMENCE

New Factory Will Be Taken Off Hands of Contractors in a Few Days.

The new Silica Brick Company will commence operations in earnest on Saturday or Monday next at the works near Colwood. Sixteen thousand bricks will be turned out every ten hours. Bricks like granite not only in appearance but in durability. Bricks which will not weather but which will harden like cement under the action of the weather, is the description given by the promoters.

This manufactory is situated at Atkinson's Sliding about three quarters of a mile south of Colwood on the E. & N. Railway. The plant has already been erected and the contractors will be prepared to turn it over to the company on Saturday or Monday next.

A sample will be made and though merely old lime was used it is a very fine specimen in texture, color and appearance of what will be manufactured by the company when they are using the perfectly hydrated lime which is necessary in the manufacture of silica bricks about a chemical change in the proportions of 95 per cent of silica to 5 per cent of hydrated lime. After the mixing has been thoroughly performed it is moulded under enormous pressure.

The brick is then placed in a steam cylinder where it is subjected to a steam pressure of 125 pounds for about ten hours. The result is a new product. In place of taking weeks to harden like the old style mortar brick the new bricks harden in a few hours. Moreover the action of the steam has brought about a chemical change in the constituent parts of the materials used. The old bricks by analysis are found to be bound together by a film of calcium carbonate. The new compound is one compact mass of sand and calcium silicate. A very different material in quality, and as well as in its resistance to frost and to climatic influence. In quality it is less porous, stronger and capable of resisting higher temperatures. Its power of resistance enables it to withstand the action of rain, frost and heat. So much so that these climatic conditions after acting on the brick for several years have been found to make the brick stronger than it was when first manufactured. The process by which the brick is manufactured is well known in the trade as the Berg process.

The company is looking after the future comfort of their employees. A boarding house has been erected in place of the shacks which have been in use up to the present. At first 15 or 16 men will be employed. This number will be increased to 25 when the hydrating plant is running. Labor for this kind of work is plentiful. Men of experience ready to offer themselves. The plant has been erected at a cost of $42,000 and is expected to supply a long felt want.

ADMIRAL WIREN'S LIFE IN DANGER

Cutter in Which He Was Cruising Sunk By Blank Torpedo—Four Arrests.

Sebastopol, June 17.—Rear-Admiral Wiren, in command of the Black Sea fleet, was cruising in a steam cutter yesterday when a torpedo boat in command of Lieut. Rushek was practicing firing Whiteheads in the inner bay.

The range the torpedo boat suddenly changed her position and fired a blank Whitehead directly at the cutter, penetrating the latter's water tank. The promptitude of the crew in beaching the cutter saved the admiral's life. Lieut. Rushek explained that the Whitehead was fired accidentally, but he and three junior lieutenants, who were nullen and refused to salute the admiral, were degraded and as the result of later evidence were arrested on the charge of attempting to sink the cutter.

Match Will Be Played Between Victoria Cricket Team and Shearwater.

A team composed of officers and men from H. M. S. Shearwater will play its inaugural match with the Victoria Cricket Club team on the Jubilee hospital campus to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. It is expected that the big jackets will maintain their team throughout the summer months and this addition to the local cricket circle should add much to the exceptional interest which has already been shown in the king of sports this summer.

VICTORIA WAS NEVER BETTER

WILLIAM WARD NOTES
WONDERFUL CHANGE

London Financiers Favorable to Provincial Investments—Douglas Lake Ranch Sale Falls Through

William Ward, who with Mrs. Ward and their daughter are spending the summer in Victoria, sees in this city a wonderful change since he was here, about five years ago. He says he never saw conditions so favorable in Victoria. Never before has he seen the same optimistic feeling on the part of all classes and the same general air of prosperity about the city as he does at the present. Coming from London and the other crowded cities of the Old World, Mr. Ward is struck by the absence of poverty and want in Victoria.

Mr. Ward, who has been an promoter, newly identified with the financial and business life of British Columbia, is now chairman of the London committee connected with the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Formerly identified with the London board of the Bank of British Columbia, he continued his close connection with the London end when the amalgamation of the Bank of British Columbia with the Canadian Bank of Commerce took place. He says that the feeling of the London financial houses to British Columbia is extremely good. The old feeling of distrust which followed the "wild cat" boom of some years ago, has all passed away and the investors are very favorably inclined towards the province.

The one drawback which Mr. Ward notices in connection with the development of the city and the province at this time is the "sluggish" labor. This, he says, is quite evident, and building operations and industrial expansion are undoubtedly being checked in consequence. In this connection he says that in England there is an abundant supply to fill the demand if they could only be brought out.

Transportation from the Old Land to the province is the great hindrance to getting a ready supply of these workmen. The wages offered here in the building trades are so much in excess of those paid in England that these men would be very glad to come to the country if they could. This, of course, is an interview, told of specific instances where workmen, although steady and industrious, were not able to procure work in the Old Land. The case of a carpenter who was idle for the greater part of a year, was given. This man later came to Canada and has now well satisfied with his condition, working at Regina.

Mr. Ward thinks it is a pity more of these British immigrants could not be induced to come out, as they would be vastly superior to the peoples from some of the southern nations of Europe who have shown a disposition for years to come to America.

Among other business which Mr. Ward had in view in coming to British Columbia at this time was the completion of the deal for the Douglas Lake cattle ranch in the Nicola Valley. Announcement was made in the Times some months ago that a London company had been formed to take over this ranch with all its appurtenances, including live stock, etc. The deal, Mr. Ward says, had not been completed, and is likely to fall through. This is due to a strange coincidence. Just at the time the negotiations were well advanced the slump in American railroad stocks took place, and London investors became alarmed. The result was that although the Nicola ranch was in no direct way connected with it, all investments connected with America have been made to stop. The deal is not likely therefore to be carried through.

Mr. Ward has been in British Columbia for some weeks, and will probably spend at least a month longer. He and his family are guests at the Oak Bay hotel.

SEVERE WIND STORM.

Farm Buildings Blown Down—Elevator Destroyed by Lightning—Several Persons Injured.

Winnipeg, June 17.—Manitoba and parts of Saskatchewan have been swept by terrific wind storms during the last forty-eight hours.

Lightning destroyed the Northern elevator at Ripstone, with a loss of 1,400 bushels of grain. From Neudale, Griswold, Reston, Souris, Stepmay, and Brandon in Manitoba come reports of havoc by rain, hail and wind, while Yellow Grass and Regina have also been visited by storms of cyclonic proportions.

No fatalities are reported, but horses and cattle have been killed by lightning, farm buildings blown down, and several persons injured by falling walls and flying debris.

It was one of the worst general storms in the history of a wide area which it traversed.

DOCK STRIKE SETTLED.

Port Arthur, June 17.—The dock strike has been settled, the men accepting the offer of the company, of 20 cents per hour for day and 2 1/2 cents extra for night work, with a guarantee of steady work in either the sheds or in the railway yards. The decision to accept was arrived at a meeting held this morning. The men went back to work this afternoon.

Attorney Ordered to Assist Plaintiffs if Actions for Damages Are Commenced.

San Francisco, June 18.—United States District Attorney Devlin yesterday received a letter from Attorney General Bonaparte in response to that which he had previously received from the riot through which a Japanese restaurant was damaged. It is reported, however, that he has been instructed to lend whatever assistance he can to the Japanese, should either the Japanese government or the owners of restaurant bring suit against the city or state on account of the damage done. In either case the suit would have to be brought in the federal court, as the plaintiffs would be aliens.

ATTRACTIONS FOR THE FAIR

MARSH, SHRUBB AND LONGBOAT EXPECTED

Full Programme of Horse Races to Be Given at Exhibition This Fall.

From present appearances, at least, this year's exhibition promises to be the best ever held in the city. Communications and inquiries are pouring in to the secretary daily from all over British Columbia and the prairie provinces regarding the fair, and it is expected that the attendance from these outside points will be a record one. Excursion rates have been secured and prize lists have been mailed to each member of the various farmers' institutes as far east as Winnipeg, so that the fair will be better advertised this year than on any of the previous occasions.

It was stated some time ago that special cups and money prizes had been offered for commercial fruit exhibits east and west of the Cascades. Secretary Smart has already received notice of two entries, and there is every indication that many more will follow shortly.

Special attention will be given to the sporting side of the exhibition this fall. Arrangements are now being made to bring together three of the best long distance runners of the world, Marsh, Shrub and Longboat, if satisfactory arrangements can be made and these runners can be brought together, it will undoubtedly be one of the greatest drawing cards that it would be possible to secure.

In view of the recent repairs made in the race track and the excellent condition in which it has been placed, there will be four days' racing this year instead of three days, as usual. The prizes are much more substantial, and there will be more entries than ever before.

A special prize has been put up for competition by L. Bates Van Decar, proprietor of the Driard hotel, for the British Columbia colt race. This cup must be won three years in succession by the same owner to become his personal property, and will undoubtedly do a great deal to encourage the raising of racing horses in the province.

The following is a complete list of the races for each of the respective days:

Wednesday, Sept. 25th, 1907, at 2 p. m. Sharp.
Race No. 1.—Purse, $200; 2:40 trot, 2:35 pace; three in five.
Race No. 2.—The Flash purse, $100; 3/4 mile dash.
Race No. 3.—The Ladies' purse, $150; 3/4 mile.
Race No. 4.—The Director's purse, $150; 1/4 mile dash.
Race No. 5.—Farmers' race; purse, $50 and $25; 1 mile; farmers or farmers' sons to ride.
Thursday, Sept. 26th, 1907, at 2 p. m. Sharp.
Race No. 6.—Purse, $300; 2:30 trot, 2:35 pace; three in five.
Race No. 7.—Grand Stand purse, selling, $200; the winner to be sold by auction for $500; 2 lbs. allowed for every $100 less to $200; 7 furlongs.
Race No. 8.—The Visitors' purse, $150; 3/4 mile dash.
Race No. 9.—Victoria purse, $300; 1 mile; 5 lbs. under scale.

Race No. 10.—B. C. colt race, the Driard cup and $100; trotting and pacing, 3/4 mile; heats, 2 in 3 for three-year-olds, to be foaled, trained and owned in British Columbia. The Driard cup is presented by L. Bates Van Decar, proprietor of the Driard hotel, Victoria, and must be won three times by the same owner, not necessarily in succession, before becoming the property of the winner.

Bowel Troubles

Liver pills, cathartics, mineral waters, often make Constipation worse. They merely irritate the bowels and force them to move—stop taking purgatives and the bowels become "tight" again.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the one certain cure for Constipation because their action is upon the liver. "Fruit-a-tives" are a liver tonic. They stimulate the secretions of bile by the liver, this bile causes the bowels to move in the natural, regular way and completely cures Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives are fruit juices with tonics and antiseptics added." In "Fruit-a-tives" one atom of bitter replaces one atom of sweet in the fruit juices, forming a new compound which is many times more active, medicinally, than the fruit juices could possibly be. 50c. a-box—$2.50 for 6 boxes. Trinidad, Colo., June 17.—Eighteen passengers were injured, three fatally, in a wreck to-day of eastbound passenger train No. 8, on the Santa Fe, near Earl, 20 miles east of here.

The wreck was caused either by a defective brake beam or spreading rails. The baggage car, smoker, chair car, two tourist cars and one standard and baggage cars were demolished and the others were badly damaged.

Train Collision.
Los Angeles, June 17.—A head-on collision occurred this afternoon between passenger train No. 15, on the Salt Lake road, and a freight train at Hobart on the main line, just south of Los Angeles. Several people are reported injured. No. 15 is the regular San Bernardino local train.

Cars Derailed.
Spokane, June 17.—Running into a switch which had not been properly closed, the eastbound North Coast Limited from Seattle on the Northern Pacific left the rails to-day at Hoyer, a cifle left the rails east of Sand Point, Idaho.

Six cars were piled up across the track and some of the passengers were cut and bruised. Only two were seriously injured.

The fact that the cars remained in an upright position prevented a terrible loss of life. The main line in both directions was blocked from 1.15, when the wreck occurred, until 4.15 to-night.

FORTY-EIGHT YEARS AGO

STEAMER FORWARD LANDED PIONEERS

Many Prominent Men Came to Victoria on Her—Accident Rounding the Horn.

Forty-eight years ago to-day the good steamer Forward from San Francisco dropped anchor in Esquimalt harbor having on board a large number of pioneers, too many, alas, of whom have since gone to their reward. In that number were included several who were to play an important part in the affairs of the then colony, among them John Robson, afterwards premier of British Columbia, Major de Courcy, whose name was closely associated with the emigration over San Jose Island; Jos. Clearhue, C. Major, now of New Westminster, Mrs. Sears, and Alex. Wilson, who still survives to recount the interesting story of those days.

The party came by the way of the Isthmus of Panama, and thence by steamer to San Francisco and on to Esquimalt. The day on which they landed was identical in character with that obtaining to-day so far as climatic conditions were concerned, which would seem to indicate that even at that remote day Victoria climate was a well nigh perfect article.

Beyond Pandora street woods, extending in every direction, and the building now occupied by T. Catterall on Broad street as a carpenter shop was among the most pretentious in the entire city.

As the Forward rounded Race rocks, an accident occurred, the sequel of which is to be found in two moss-covered slabs in the old Quadra Street cemetery. It was customary to set off cannon in rounding the Race to acquaint the Victorians of the arrival of a vessel. On this occasion the steward and the captain's sons went below to get out the charge of powder, and it is supposed dropped their candle.

There was an explosion which carried the skylight of the saloon as high as the masts. A moment later several seamen, thrusting oars in their mouths to prevent suffocation from the powder fumes, ran below and bore out Mrs. Sears, whose son was then an infant in arms, and the two men whose carelessness was responsible for the accident.

At the same time the signal for a doctor was run to the peak, and Mr. Wilson recounts the story with which a captain's gig and another boat shot out of Esquimalt harbor in reply to the signal. Such good time did the two boats make that they met the Forward little less than half way to the bay and the steamer was at once boarded by a ship's surgeon. The steward, however, died that evening and the captain's son a week later at the Royal Naval hospital.

TO WELCOME PRINCE.
Local Japanese Will Erect Triumphant Arch and Present Bouquet at the Wharf.

The Japanese colony in the city has completed its arrangements for the reception of Prince Fushimi. Next Sunday when the Princess Victoria pulls into port with H. I. H. on board the entire Japanese colony in Victoria will assemble on the C. P. R. wharf. As with a bouquet he will be presented with a bouquet by a child of ten years old, named Miss Togo, the daughter of a Japanese merchant in Esquimalt. She is coming over here especially to make the presentation.

A triumphal arch will be erected across Yates street, above Douglas street. This will be formed of flowers and evergreens and will be of Japanese pattern, and of a unique character which has not been seen in the city before. At night time the arch will be illuminated.

On Monday the Japanese have as yet decided to do nothing, but on Tuesday they will proceed to Esquimalt and bid farewell to the prince from the wharf as he embarks by launch for the Monmouth. The arrangements are in the hands of a committee of six.

NEW TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

M. Pichon on the New French-Spanish-British Treaty—Is Purely Pacific.

Paris, June 17.—Speaking yesterday of the new French-Spanish-British treaty, the signature of which virtually creates a new triple alliance, M. Pichon, minister of foreign affairs, said:

"Such arrangements are the best guarantee of peace that can be conceived. Our agreement with Spain is purely pacific. It accords with the interests as well as sympathies of both nations. Negotiations for this safeguarding of the common interests of the two countries have been going on for several months and the instrument now signed has been communicated to the other powers with an explanation as to its scope. Its intent is purely pacific; the object being to assure the status-quo of that region which could not be altered without injury to the two contracting signatories and the security of communications of the respective outlying territories which is especially important in case of our possessions in Africa, and on both Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts."

THEY WILL CURE

THE DISSOLUTION OF THE DOUMA

DUE TO INITIATIVE OF THE EMPEROR

Czar Wished to Dismiss Lower House of Russian Parliament Two Weeks Ago.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—From a well-informed source the Associated Press hears that the decision to dissolve the Duma and abolish the former election law was due to the initiative of the Emperor, whose original intention went far beyond the steps taken.

His Majesty wished to dismiss parliament a fortnight ago and prolong the interval for the convocation of a new assembly, thinking that this would permit the agitation throughout the country to subside. He was encouraged in this attitude by the arguments of Premier Stolypin, who strongly advocated the convoking of the Duma in the autumn. The Premier also succeeded in having stricken from the electorate law the provisions increasing the educational and property qualifications for suffrage and raising the age limit of voters from 21 to 25 years. The Premier also succeeded in having stricken from the electorate law the provisions increasing the educational and property qualifications for suffrage and raising the age limit of voters from 21 to 25 years.

Some of the deputies held an all-night fete at the Conservative club in celebration of the Emperor's decision. The Emperor's decision was hailed with joy and the Emperor's decision was hailed with joy and the Emperor's decision was hailed with joy.

General Strike Unlikely.

St. Petersburg, June 17.—The chances of the proclamation of a general strike in answer to the government's coup d'etat are steadily lessening. The question is now under discussion at a secret conference of the central committee of the Social Democrats, which is being held in Finland, but a strong current of opinion is known to prevail, not only on the part of the workers, but also among adherents of the radical members. A fraction of the moderates urge that the government is now so strongly entrenched that and only weaken the prestige of the party and involve the rank and file and the industrial proletariat generally in a series of reprisals and immense pecuniary loss.

and that there is a possibility there will be an opposition majority in the third parliament as in the case of its predecessors. Even under the law it is thought the Constitutional Democrats will retain control of the city.

Too Much or Too Little.

It has violated the fundamental laws of constitution and laid itself open to the charge of accomplishing a coup d'etat without altering the election laws sufficiently to produce the desired results.

PREDACEOUS ENEMIES OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Of course it is the duty of "narrow-minded creatures," who are unable to take advantage of improving business conditions, to remain silent while "broad-minded individuals" who have the ear of past and present ministers of the Crown turn their special opportunities to profitable personal account. What does it signify to the people if the broad-gauged, enterprising marauders in question, acting as intermediaries between a complaisant government, which is supposed to administer the public estate to the best advantage, make a few hundred thousand dollars or a few million dollars by "interesting capital" in timber and pulp concessions which a few narrow-minded bigots contend is the property of all the people? The ultimate result must be that "millions of dollars" will be put in circulation, when all who have enterprises sufficient to take advantage of the consequent improvement in business conditions may succeed in grasping one or two of the floating dollars—if they keep their eyes open. The broad-minded, liberal-spirited gentlemen in question, whose eyes are never closed to opportunities, of course contend that if they did not intervene between the government and capital the properties they have acquired without money and without price would never be developed, and the millions of dollars in value they represent would never be put in circulation. The timber would either rot on the ground or be consumed in the flames which annually sweep over this province of unknown resources. At the same time there is a growing conviction that the assets of British Columbia are steadily increasing in value and that if the government were a business concern like the governments of other provinces of Canada it might deal directly with capital seeking profitable investment and turn the full commercial value of our timber into the provincial treasury instead of allowing enterprising favorites to take a liberal toll of it. If it did this there would be ample revenue to conduct the business of the province without resorting to the oppressive form of direct taxation which has been imposed for several years. Notwithstanding the arguments that have been advanced in favor of the present system of "interesting capital," there is a growing conviction that a revolution in methods is bound to take place before the lapse of a great many years. A few more examples of the results under the present system will arouse the public thoroughly to the weaknesses—to use a mild term when a much more forcible one might be legitimately applied—of the present system of exploitation. The "fight Ottawa" policy with its attendant acclamations over a purely spurious victory at the "foot of the throne" may obscure issues of vital moment temporarily, but the people of British Columbia will presently awake to a realization of the fact that their future is not dependent upon securing better terms from any federal government, but upon internal administrative reforms. If the public estate of this province were administered in a business-like manner, and not for the benefit of people "with a pull," there would be a speedy realization of the fact that it is actually the richest in resources of any of the members of the great Canadian confederation, with more than sufficient revenue to provide for its development and to permanently establish its dominant position. Any government which takes a stand in opposition to such reforms is bound to fall.

ILLUMINATING CENSUS RETURNS.

The industrial census returns compiled by the officials of the Dominion government are interesting, although there is ample proof apart from such figures of the marvellous progress Canada has been making for the past half dozen years. The statistics, which are printed in another column, disclose the fact that the industrial arts of the country are keeping pace with the progress in the agricultural and horticultural arts, which must doubtless for all time remain the leading arteries through which the business lifeblood of this young nation must be supplied. The returns are the more gratifying because they settle, we believe permanently, the controversy between the two great political parties, a controversy which raged with great ferocity for more than a decade, as to whether the infant industries of Canada could survive under a tariff from which the protective features have been largely eliminated in favor of duties designed primarily for the purpose of raising such revenue as is necessary to carry on the business of the country. The census returns demonstrate unmistakably that Canadian manufacturers are in receipt at the present time of "adequate protection." There is not a single industry in the country that is not flourishing. It is true that the value of the output of steam engine works has shown a decrease; but that and one other solitary exception to the general rule of progress is capable of a simple explanation. The demand for steam motors has decreased because the electric motor and other more economical engines are taking the place of steam engines. Water power converted into electric power is turning the industrial wheels of Canada to-day to a very large extent. It will be the power of the future. It may be the potent element in making British Columbia one of the great industrial centres of this wonderful American continent. While we have nothing approaching Niagara Falls in potentialities, possibly no single source of power equal to the Shawanigan Falls, there are numerous streams and lakes scattered through Vancouver Island and the adjacent mainland that in the aggregate ought to represent a tremendous amount of energy if scientifically conserved and applied. The time is drawing near when they shall all be utilized in the task of establishing the future position of British Columbia as a manufacturing province.

In the meantime the Dominion census returns prove that the party at present in opposition in the Dominion Parliament was well advised in "denouncing its 'nebular hypothesis' of adequate protection. That policy aroused the antagonism of the West. The East has been actively engaged for more than a decade in demonstrating that the present tariff furnishes all the protection our alleged infant industries require. The whole country is well pleased with the progress that has been made in all lines of industry.

New Westminster News: Some of the related points must be left for future consideration; but there is one which should be mentioned now. How came the words "final and unalterable" in the draft submitted to Downing street? Some of the McBride organs say that Sir Wilfrid Laurier put them there, and one of them at least—one which is distinguished for the unblushing brazenness of its mendacity—says that his object in putting them there was to kill British Columbia's chance for any further consideration of her claim. What is the fact? These very words "a final and unalterable settlement" appear in the resolutions of the Quebec conference of 1887. These resolutions were adopted by the conference of last year and Mr. McBride voted for their adoption. The truth of the matter is, therefore, that Mr. McBride joined in asking the Dominion government to adopt, as the draft of the proposed amendment to the B.-N.-A. Act, a set of resolutions the preamble of which sets forth that they embody what is to be a "final and unalterable settlement" of subsidies. More than that, the memorandum presented by Mr. Whitney, the Tory premier of Ontario, at last year's conference, strongly urged that a settlement of provincial subsidies be made which should be "permanent" rendering impossible "periodical applications for re-arrangement of the subsidies." Yet we are now told that these words "final and unalterable," which originated at the Quebec conference years ago, which were accepted by Mr. McBride at the conference of last year, and which were strongly endorsed by Mr. McBride's Tory colleague, Mr. Whitney, were inserted by Sir Wilfrid Laurier a few weeks ago with design to defeat British Columbia's claims!

After an eventful career in British Columbia, in the course of which he established Ledge (newspapers) in many towns and located more than one claim which did not pan out well, R. T. Lowery, the somewhat erratic, although revolutionary, but always kindly and attractive, journalistic personality, visited Victoria. Here are some of his impressions, written for the Greenwood Ledge: "It is astonishing how the coast keeps moving (not like Frisco), even if some of the ancients in Victoria stand aghast at the audacity of the tenderfoot now settling within telephone distance of their homes. Amid all the western expansion one of the saddest scenes is the rush of the rude to grand, even if slightly somnolent, Victoria. To my heart a thrill butts in when I think of how the home prospectors from the corn and wheat camps have discovered the legislative capital of this wonderful province and are buying locations with money snatched from the frosts on the great plains. At one time I thought that if I had to die and become an angel that Victoria was the one sweet spot (outside of New Denver), where I would like to exchange my mortal breath for a pair of wings amid the sweet incense of flowers and the gentle sighing of a Pacific zephyr as it fanned my spiritual nature toward the gates of the New Jerusalem. Now ceaseless change and real estate men are destroying the calm repose of fair Victoria, and it is fast becoming a hive of industry, making it almost impossible for a man to sleep longer than eleven o'clock in the morning."

It is said the Czar of Russia granted a constitution to his subjects on the recommendation of King Edward VII., his "most beloved cousin," in the language of royalty. However, it is a most unusual constitutional procedure for a sovereign in these latter days to resort to the extremity of dismissing a parliament which refuses to legislate in accordance with the Imperial pleasure. Nicholas has dissolved two Dumas for this reason; and in order to insure a more acceptable legislature in the future, has adopted the expedient of restricting the franchise to such as he thinks will vote right. That may be a wise measure from a Sisyte point of view, but in the present temper of the people it may have an unfortunate effect. A free expression of the popular will is usually regarded as a safety valve for popular disaffection. The Czar has undertaken to sit upon that valve. If an explosion occurs his trusted aristocrats or reactionaries may have some considerable difficulty in collecting "the fragments that remain." We fear Nicholas is neither wise nor wisely advised.

The Hague Peace Conference, mainly the idea of Emperor Nicholas, expresses its regret at the revolutionary state of affairs in Russia. It may yet have an opportunity of proving its status as a beneficent force by endeavoring to secure a truce between the Czar, his aristocrats and the ebullient revolutionists of that somewhat volcanic nation. That would be a good way of establishing its position.

A church in Toronto celebrated the advent of the first summer Sabbath day by introducing canaries (in cages, of course) into the choir. We can easily imagine some critics of choirs and soloists whispering to their neighbors in the pews that the services would be ever so much more profitable (they are never enjoyed) if the solo portions thereof were all left to the feathered songsters.

We wonder what the Vancouver Province thinks of being classed as a Liberal newspaper. It says if the words "final and unalterable" had not been stricken from the Imperial bill granting better terms to the provinces of Canada British Columbia would have severed her connection with the Dominion.

Only one small boy in Ottawa shouted Banzai! when Prince Fushimi made his state entry into that haughty capital. Although Japan is our devoted and appreciated ally, we must be excused if that Oriental explosive refuses to flow gracefully from our awkward tongues.

THISTLE NUISANCE. To the Editor:—Will you kindly grant me a small space in your valuable paper? Here in our Saanich district our council has passed all sorts of laws—pound laws, game laws, thistle laws, and so on. Now what we want is a council that will put the laws in force. As I was walking along the Gordon Head road to-day, I came across a large patch of Canadian thistles. I could hardly believe my eyes. There they are in full bloom, three or four feet high. Who is to destroy them or to look after them? Two of our councillors are within a gunshot of them, but take no notice. By and by we will have thistles for strawberries at Gordon Head. WM. DEAN.

THE HAYWOOD CASE. Brother of Detective McParland Will Give Evidence For the Defence.

Denver, Col., June 18.—According to a news dispatch E. I. McParland, of Manitou, Col., brother of Detective McParland, of the Pinkerton agency, who developed the case of conspiracy to the murder of former Governor Steunenberg against officials of the Western Federation of Miners, will go to Boise to testify for the defence in the Haywood case.

During the strike riots in Cripple Creek McParland, who is a shoemaker, was deported from the district along with the trainload of union miners and sympathizers, who were taken over the line into Kansas.

Orchard Recalled. Boise, June 18.—With Harry Orchard recalled to the stand, first to be formally prepared by the defence for impeachment, and then to be re-directly examined, the state produced this morning a number of letters written by Orchard, and one by prisoner Haywood for the purpose of showing that there had been a conspiracy to deceive Mrs. Orchard, of Cripple Creek, as to the whereabouts of Orchard in the spring and summer of 1906.

The defence vigorously protested against the introduction of the matter on re-direct examination, but the court ruled that if it was improper on re-direct examination he would permit the state to re-open its examination. Orchard swore that Haywood said in the spring of 1906 that Mrs. Orchard was repeatedly writing to him as to Orchard's whereabouts, and Haywood suggested that he write her a series of letters, date them at Frisco, and have them delivered through the agent of the Western Federation of Miners. The two were thus written and the state produced them, and secured their admission. Then one was written dated at Nome, Alaska, and given to Marion Moore, then an organizer for the Western Federation of Miners, to take to Alaska and mail. The state produced the letter and over objections secured its admission.

Edward Woodhouse, after only three days' illness, died suddenly this morning at St. Joseph's hospital. The deceased was an employee of the Excelsior saloon, and lived at the Atlantic hotel. He was formerly a steward in the C.P.R. service. Being an Australian, he had no relatives in this city. He was taken ill on Saturday. A large gathering of members and friends of the league assembled last evening at the Metropolitan church to hear Rev. Mr. Wood deliver his address on mission work in India. His description of the native life was most instructive, and was heartily received by all present. A well voiced vote of thanks was tendered the reverend gentleman. Chief Deasy was the recipient on Thursday of a handsome gold locket presented to him by the Grand Lodge of the A. O. U. W., as a slight acknowledgment of the chief's work as editor for three years at Victoria of the Record, the official paper of the order, says the Nelson News. The locket is a valuable one and has the emblems of the order engraved on one side and the other "Presented to Bro. Thomas Deasy, editor of the A. O. U. W. Record, by the Grand Lodge of B. C., 1907." Ex-Alderman A. Stewart of Victoria, in conveying the good will of the Grand Lodge along with the gift wrote the chief that the committee intended to present to "somebody" the Grand Lodge appreciates your work in editing the A.O.U.W. Record. We pay men of 22 years and under good wages and at the same time teach them a good trade—Albion Stove Works, Pembroke St.

At Osborne, where he has now settled down into the routine of a cadet's life, Prince Edward of Wales is known by the nickname of "Bardinee." This effort of youth left on the part of his comrades is explained by the fact that he is the son of Whittaker. This is following tradition, his father and uncle in their British days having been known as "Sprats" and "Herring."

Shipping THE LONSDALE COMING. The Canadian-Mexican steamer Londsdale reached Salina Cruz on Sunday and on Saturday next will take up her sailings on the new trade route by leaving the Mexican terminus at Victoria. She will call at Acapulco, Manzanillo, Mazatlan and Guaymas on her way to this port. Steamer Georgia is scheduled to sail again on her downward voyage on the lat. pro. Yesterday afternoon she sailed for Vancouver and will load with freight, and it is also expected that she will make a call at New Westminster. The Londsdale will probably arrive here on July 15th, and will commence her sailings from this end on the 1st August.

STILL WANDERING. Four years in the Arctic is the record established by the whaling barque Wanderer. She will probably have to winter there again, which will make five years in the ship has been in the Far North. The Wanderer sailed from San Francisco for the Arctic ocean in the spring of 1903. She has not yet returned. All the other vessels that left at the same time have either succeeded in catching their loads and returned or have been wrecked. The next longest stay in the North has been made by the whaler C. W. Morgan, which went there in the spring of 1904. The whaler Norwall went up in 1905. The Thrasher and the California went up in 1906. All the rest of the fleet went North this year. The scarcity of whales in the Arctic is growing more and more pronounced, according to whalers, and if conditions do not improve whaling on the Pacific side will probably become a thing of the past.

IN THE STRAIT OF MAGELAN whaling is coming into prominence, and the theory is advanced that the whales have migrated to the far southern waters. FREIGHT MARKET RECEDED. The monthly freight and shipping report of R. P. R. R. & Co. for May, just issued, says: Since the last issue of this circular the freight market has receded, and the present situation is anything but encouraging. The demand for lumber carriers has however, increased during the month, and an improvement in rates is hoped for before long. As will be noticed, our list of charters for May is fairly large. Grain—San Francisco to Cork, 23s 2d; to Portland to Cork, 25s 2d; to Tacoma and Seattle to Cork, 26s 3d. Lumber—British Columbia or Puget Sound to Sydney, 27s 6d to 30s; to Melbourne or Adelaide, 35s to 38s; to Port Pirie, 35s to 38s; to Fremantle, 40s to 42s 6d; to Shanghai, 35s to 38s 5d (steamers); to Nitrate Port, direct, 42s 6d to 46s 6d; to Taku, 35s to 36s 6d; to West Coast, South Africa, 46s 3d to 47s 6d; to South Africa, 33s 3d to 35s; to U. K. or Continent, 55s to 57s 6d.

IROQUOIS DELAYED. Shortly after leaving Seattle on Saturday morning some of the bearings in the engine room of the new steamship Iroquois became so overheated that the machinery would not perform its regular duty, and she had to lay to several times, on one occasion for more than one hour. The trouble was found to be mainly in connection with the high pressure cylinder, which will have to undergo a series of reborings, meaning, in substance, that she will be tied up not less than five days. Saturday the Iroquois took a large party of excursionists on a trip to Manila. 46 to 32s 6d; to Fremantle, 40s to 42s 6d; to Shanghai, 35s to 38s 5d (steamers); to Nitrate Port, direct, 42s 6d to 46s 6d; to Taku, 35s to 36s 6d; to West Coast, South Africa, 46s 3d to 47s 6d; to South Africa, 33s 3d to 35s; to U. K. or Continent, 55s to 57s 6d.

INSECT PESTS. Proposed By-law for the City Came to Utterly End. A by-law to provide for the extermination of insect pests under the supervision of the municipal authorities was mentioned at the meeting of the council last evening. A motion asking leave to introduce it was motioned by Ald. Meaton and a notice placed upon the bulletin board at the city hall on Saturday. When the matter was broached last evening, Ald. Meaton explained that he was not responsible for the by-law and that he had only signed the motion in order to allow of its introduction. It had been brought to him by a city official for him to perform the necessary signature. Moreover he was not in favor of any such by-law. The provincial government had charge of the work of exterminating and combating pests on fruit trees and he thought that such a measure would interfere with this work.

A TOTAL LOSS. A dispatch to the Seattle Post-Intelligencer from Seward, Alaska, says: "The gasoline schooner Rita Newman, Capt. Martinson, struck a reef on Sion-off Island, of Svmagin group, on the morning of May 25th. She hit in a dense fog. The captain and crew, who report that there are two big holes in the vessel's starboard side, and that there is no hope of saving her. The schooner was loaded with gasoline and oil for the cannery at Kogruknig, Bristol Bay. The North Alaska Company, of San Francisco, are the owners of the Newman. The Rita Newman was built in Oakland, Cal., in 1905, and has been used as a cannery tender for the North Alaska Salmon Company.

WORK ON NORTHWESTERN. Work is being advanced rapidly on the steamer Northwestern as she lies in dry dock at Esquimaux. By the terms of the contract the repairs must be complete inside 45 working days. Men are engaged night and day, and the operations up to the present have been restricted to blasting the cement from the hull. The cement was used for temporary repairs to enable the vessel to come from Alaska to this port. Work was commenced on the 12th inst., and it is fully expected that the vessel will be ready to take the water and proceed to her owners at Seattle by the middle of next month.

EXCEEDED EXPECTATIONS. Steamer Queen City, Captain Gunns, sails to-night for Rivers-Inlet and way ports on the east coast of the Island. The Queen City is described as the hardest working boat in the coasting service of the C.P.R. From the very inauguration of the new trade route the venture has proved a great success. Each trip of the vessel she is crowded with passengers and freight. Doubts were repeatedly cast upon the advisability of establishing a service between Victoria and Rivers-Inlet. Shipping men in the city were of opinion that it could not be made a paying venture. Business men pressed for such a service for years, representations being made through the board of trade. In spite of adverse criticism, the C.P.R. placed a vessel on the route, and the results have already exceeded the most sanguine expectations of that company. MARINE NOTES. The sailing ship Glory of the Seas was towed out yesterday from Lady-smith with a full cargo of sacked coal. Steamer Salvor, of the B. C. Salvage Company, has been on the ways of the B. C. Marine Railway Company for some time past. She was being thoroughly overhauled after her long trip to the north to save the Northwestern. The derelict gasoline schooner Bessie K. is still adrift in the Pacific Ocean. She was sighted by the steamship Sierra, when that vessel was some distance out from San Francisco on her way back from Honolulu. The word Bessie could be indistinctly seen on the stern of the derelict. Steamer Cascade, under charter to the marine and fisheries department, is now lying at the government wharf. Towards the end of the week she will carry a cargo of supplies to Pachena Point for the trail workers who are about to commence operations there. The steamer Coysa was recently in this port discharging a cargo of nitre, and is now at the Sound, will proceed to-day to the Hamilton Powder Works at Nanaimo to load with a cargo of dynamite. The Union S. S. Company's steamer Capilano is tied up at Vancouver, as she is unable to secure bunker coal. All the coal burning tugs are affected by the shortage. H.M.S. Shearwater will sail for her patrol work in the Behring Sea on the 15th of July. She is at present taking on provisions at Esquimaux to last for four months. The steamer Caronia, of the Cunard Steamship Company, is due to reach New York to-day. She has 2,200 passengers for United States and Canadian points. Steamer Shinano Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line, left Yokohama last Wednesday, and is scheduled to reach this port on the 28th inst. The steamer Golden Gate, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, sailed from the outer wharf this morning. The Colquhoun liner Eturia, coming from Liverpool, arrived in New York yesterday and landed 900 passengers. Coming from Naples the steamer Ulltonia arrived at New York yesterday and landed 2,000 passengers. On her way to Cape Nome the steamer Montana passed up yesterday, coming from Seattle. The steamer Queen City, Captain Gunns, is scheduled to sail for the East Coast to-night.

LACROSSE. AN ENGLISH OPINION.

Mr. Frank Sachs, the leading English writer on lacrosse, has this glance at the visit of the Capitals: "The conclusion of the tour of the Capital Lacrosse Club enables us to take stock, as it were, and endeavor to find out wherein laid their great strength and their ability to score more goals than we did, and it seems to me that upon reflection we shall come to the conclusion that their advantages were entirely the results of more frequent practicing and greater experience."

July 6th, a power boat regatta will be held on Lake Washington, and, if one is needed, the third race for the Alexandra cup will be held.

THE RING. ENGLAND'S FEATHERWEIGHT. Johnny Summers, the little Britisher, is just spilling for a fight. He and his stubby trainer, Alf Wicks, are at New Dorp, Staten Island, adding their time away when they might be in the ring pummeling the heads of half a dozen likely looking and ambitious American candidates for the featherweight championship of the world.

THE OAR. COWICHAN BAY REGATTA. On Dominion Day, July 1st, in connection with the big regatta and water carnival which will be held at Cowichan Bay, the steamship City of Nanaimo will make a special excursion trip to that point.

MELODY RETIRES. Another champion has retired from the ring. He is Billy "Honey" Melody, of Boston, who held the water-weight championship title. Melody has decided that there is no more money in the fighting business for him, and consequently has made the announcement that he is through with the "fighting" game forever.

THE TURF. GRAND PRIX DE PARIS. Edouard de Rothschild's San Saucil III, on Sunday, won the Grand Prix de Paris, which was run under the most favorable conditions. There was a brilliant assembly of spectators at the course, including the King and Queen of Denmark, President Fallieres and many members of the diplomatic corps and persons prominent in society.

YIELDS MILLIONS. The New York turf just at this time of year is a wonderful money mill. With the balmy days of June and the running of the richest and most popular fixtures of the turf calendar at this period, it is hard to find an average man or woman in the city who is not concerned in some degree with the sport of kings.

IT IS AS SIMPLE AS A B C, that, to get money ahead, one must not spend all. It is equally simple, that, to keep from spending all, some part of the income must be put away before the spending commences.

for $5,000. In purses, added money to stakes and handicaps, track police, handiers, and interest on capitalization, and general maintenance, the racing association pays out about $15,000 daily, leaving about $14,000 net earnings per day. Add to this a revenue from each bookmaker of about $5 for supplies, etc., etc., say $1,500 from this source all told, the New York Racing Association is to-day making not far short of $18,000 a day.

This cut up has been going on, as aforementioned, for three years, while the tracks have been earning a loss, but still handsome income from the sport for six years previous to 1904. Observers of the money grind at the racetracks often wonder where all the wealth comes from. The turf is one of the really big things in New York life right to-day, the betting ring reflecting the prosperity or the depression of the country at large more surely than does Wall street.

THE FILLING OF JAMES BAY

R. MARPOLE MET THE MEMBERS OF COUNCIL

Subject of the City's Liability Discussed—Empress Will Open in Two Months

"We expect to have the new Empress hotel open and in operation in about two months' time, although it will not be in the condition we anticipated," was the statement made by R. Marpole, the general executive assistant for the Canadian Pacific railway before the city council last evening.

Mr. Marpole, Engineer Cambie, G. Wilson and other representatives of the C. P. R., waited upon the board of aldermen and requested permission to state the company's case in the matter of filling-in the remaining portion of James Bay flats.

There was some misunderstanding, asserted Mr. Marpole, who spoke first, on the part of the city over the latter's obligations in connection with the work of filling-in. He would briefly recite a few facts relative to the situation when the by-law regarding the hotel was first passed. The C. P. R. was not looking for a site, but was approached by a deputation of leading citizens and influenced to place a hotel upon the flats. It was then decided to erect the building nearer to Douglas street than it is now, but the company was requested to place it exactly in the middle, facing the centre of the causeway. This removal of the hotel from one site to another cost the company $100,000, most of which was spent in the acquisition of land from Mr. Pendray and others. According to the by-law the city was under obligation to construct a road from Government dredge and other causes and the cost of maintaining and construction was saved for the city by the removal of the hotel site.

Mr. Marpole was surprised, he said, to hear that the mayor and some of the aldermen had expressed the opinion that the city was not under any obligation to fill in more than 32,000 yards of the flats. It seemed, of course, a small matter for the railway company to kick about some $200 to $300,000 yards of filling, but it was a matter of principle, and he had not expected any contention over it. The C. P. R. had already lost a considerable amount of money through the delay in opening occasioned by the late arrival of the government dredge and other causes and the cost of filling-in the remainder of the flats was 50 per cent. more at the present time than it would have been last year. He hoped the city would do as much as possible to expedite the opening of the hotel, which the company expected to have in operation within two months' time, though not in the advanced condition anticipated.

Mr. Cambie also spoke on the matter. He said that the city owed the company 5,000 yards of filling over and above all moral obligation. It had agreed to furnish 13,000 feet of filling to be placed inside and outside of the foundations to protect them while the water was being pumped. Only 8,000 yards had been supplied, and the company has furnished the rest to save time on the stipulation that the city was to pay it back at a later date.

Mayor Morley explained the city's financial standing, pointing out that there was no room except for the most urgent expenses. The city would be only too pleased to assist the company as much as possible, but it had to consider its own interests under the circumstances.

circumstances. The city had lost as much as the company through the delay in filling the flats, and moreover, the city was at present paying a high price for filling which it expected to receive gratis. Where it was expected to spend practically nothing on the work it was costing something like $15,000 to $20,000 for the whole business. This had induced the council to prepare a by-law to authorize the sale of the valuable property behind the C. P. R. hotel.

Replying to a question from Mr. Cambie the mayor said that the city would be only too pleased to furnish the filling from excavations and other work as it became available in the future. More filling could have been done by the dredge which had left some filling still in the bay. The city could not, however, promise for the present more than the 25,000 yards it had promised to fill in.

Mr. Marpole said that when the enterprise was first commenced the city had been anxious to rush the hotel to completion and full of enthusiasm over the project. Now it looked as if the city council didn't care when it was opened.

Mayor Morley said that such a statement was unfair. The city was up against a proposition quite as bad as the company's and was paying a high price for the filling it was using.

Mr. Wilson, building inspector for the C. P. R., gave some figures and facts regarding the city's early agreements with the company.

Finally the mayor promised that the aldermen should consider the matter carefully and the deputation prepared to leave when Ald. Fell remarked that a statement had been made to the effect that the dredge had not completed its work. This was hardly fair. The dredge had saved the city something like $20,000, and had stayed at Victoria just as long as the officials could see their way clear to leave it here.

A discussion seemed likely to result when the mayor reminded everybody present that the occasion was just a meeting of the city council at which every minute was valuable. The deputation thanked the council for the hearing and left.

CONTENTMENT. GET THE BEST—As Mark Twain once observed that people now-a-days were not content that the bread they cast upon the waters should after many days return to them, but that it should return buttered. The Racycle goes him one better by having the bread return buttered on both sides. Riders of the Racycle know there is 27 per cent less pressure on its self-rolling crank bearings than there is on the bearings of any other style of wheel, hence at every pedal stroke the Racycle rider is actually bottling strength, which means the rider only exhausts little over one-half the strength or energy to propel the Racycle that he does with any other bicycle. HOME MADE MEDICINE. Said to Relieve Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism. One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion. One ounce Compound Sassafras. Four ounces Compound Symplic. Mixed with tea or coffee. Full doses after meals and at bedtime. Is stated by a prominent physician to give most excellent results in kidney or urinary affections, and also in rheumatism and sciatica. The mixture opens the clogged pores of the kidneys, thus assisting them in their work of filtering all waste and poisonous matter from the blood, and expels these in the urine. To allow this poisonous matter to remain means that it will settle in the muscular tissues or joints, and cause the untold misery known as rheumatism. The mixture is composed of harmless vegetable ingredients, and can be purchased at any good drug store, and mixed at home. Anyone suffering from any of these afflictions will no doubt be pleased to learn of this simple and highly recommended remedy.

COUNCIL MET LAST EVENING

GENERAL BUSINESS BROUGHT BEFORE IT

Considerable of a Routine Character Was Disposed of at the Weekly Session.

It is seldom that the weekly meeting of the board of aldermen is as prolific of business as that held last evening. While business may be found nearly every Monday night wearily dragging on while the hands of the clock are in close proximity to the hour of 11 o'clock, much of the delay in concluding the business can be directly attributed to procrastination in reaching decisions on the part of the aldermen. Last night a big docket of routine business in addition to the hearing of two deputations and two city officials, before the first committal was read, was transacted and the business-like way in which the work was done reflected much credit on Mayor Morley.

The question of entertaining the officers of the Monmouth was introduced by His Worship. He asked whether it had been the custom to officially receive officers of warships coming from foreign stations, and suggested that a tally-rod side about the city and a banquet or some such entertainment might be proffered to the visitors. Ald. Fullerton pointed out that this had not been the custom in the past and the matter was dropped.

The manager of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company wrote offering to supply water for the electric street sprinkler at 20 cents per 1,000 gallons. This offer was accepted. Supt. F. H. Eaton, M. A., wrote on behalf of the school trustees, asking what had been done in the matter of providing adequate medical inspection in the city schools. This was laid on the table until the report of the board of health was read. The report stated that the medical health officer had offered to provide such inspection for an addition of $54 a month to his salary. This report was received.

J. E. Painter complained of the car-tracks in front of the Victoria hotel on Government Street. They were above the level of the street and he had damaged one of his vehicles in consequence. The city engineer will be asked for a report on the matter. Dr. S. P. Tolmie tendered his resignation as city milk inspector, saying that his two Dominion government appointments would not allow of his continuing as an inspector. The resignation was accepted.

The city solicitor notified the council that Judge Lampan had appointed Dennis T. Harris arbitrator in the Victoria West street lines matter. Catherine West will be the first thoroughfare dealt with and notice of the first sitting will be given through the daily press. Litch & Sons wrote complaining that two lines had been caused within fourteen days of their mill by sparks emitted from the chimney of the adjoining mill owned by Moore and Whittington. The writers pointed out the dangers to which the whole city was subjected in case of a serious conflagration and stated that the chimney referred to did not comply with the city by-law.

This letter was referred to the fire wardens. W. D. Lighthall, secretary of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, wrote informing the council that the annual convention of that body would take place in Port Arthur from August 13th to 16th, and expressing the opinion that this convention would afford a great opportunity for delegates from the local council to observe the conditions prevailing in a city that was run almost wholly on the municipal ownership plan.

The letter will be acknowledged and the matter discussed at a later date. Bond and Clark wrote on behalf of parties not mentioned, asking the council upon what terms the city council would sell or lease the ground owned by the city and situated at the rear of the new Empress hotel for the purpose of erecting upon it (1) a first class winter garden, band stand and promenade, (2) an aquarium and heated salt water swimming bath, (3) an auditorium to seat 2,000 people. Mayor Morley said that he would heartily support such a scheme. The company was evidently not yet formed, but would be if the land was available for the purpose proposed on reasonable terms. He thought that the writers should be notified that the property will be placed upon the market, if the by-law authorizing its sale is passed by the people. It was agreed to so notify the writers. City Engineer Topp reported in connection with the complaint received from T. O. McKay regarding a mound of earth on Superior Street which had caused an accident to his automobile. The mound was not of earth, but gravel intended for the sidewalk construction. There was a light within 100 feet of it. This communication was received and filed and the writer will be notified accordingly.

The city day laborers again made application for a further raise of 25 cents a day in their wages. The city clerk was instructed to again notify the men that their former petition received by the council had been considered after the assessment rolls had been revised. Accounts totalling $5,200 were ordered paid. The finance committee also recommended that $1,307.19 from the funds raised by the loan by-law be paid to the Taylor mill company. This was adopted.

The fire wardens reported on the application of E. G. Prior & Sons for permission to dispose of Congo fire-roofing material for use within the city limits. The wardens said that the claim was made that this material was equal to that permitted by the council of 1904. They recommended that the council refuse the permission asked for, and that the former permission, that in regard to P. and B. fire-roofing, be rescinded. This report was adopted and it was further decided to amend the building by-law so as to exclude all roofing materials except slate and metal. The streets, bridges and sewers committee reported that the aldermen composing it were not in favor of adopting the resolution passed by the Spring Ridge property owners in connection with the gravel pits nuisance. Ald. Gleason pointed out that this matter was referred to the committee and the city engineer and assessor jointly for both a report and an account of all information on the subject which was available. The report was forthcoming but not the information. On these grounds the clause containing this recommendation was referred back to the committee. The committee also recommended that W. E. Levy's application for a sidewalk on John Street be accepted. Also that the plans of the subdivision of part of the Fairfield estate be referred to the committee for consideration of the regulations regarding the width of streets. These recommendations were adopted.

The by-law amending the curfew by-law and public morals by-law was finally passed and the sewer law by-law was also passed. The two by-laws referring to the sale of ground at the driving park and the James Bay flats were passed and will be submitted to the ratifiers on July 3rd. The council adjourned shortly before 11 p. m.

LIQUOR LICENSE BY-LAW DISCUSSED

City Council Hear Both Sides of the Question at Meeting Last Night.

The city fathers heard both sides of the controversy over the new liquor license by-law, which is to go into force in July, at last night's council meeting, when a deputation, accompanied by some disinterested parties, was heard in condemnation of the measure and Rev. LeRoy Dakin, president of the Citizens' League, replied on behalf of the latter body. The deputation was composed of the following: B. S. Holmstrom, C. E. Redfern, J. Musgrave, Otto Weller, W. H. Langley, Luke Rithof, C. A. Holland and J. W. Wilson. Mr. Langley acted as spokesman. He referred to the appeal which had been made against the judgment by Mr. Justice Irving in which the by-law was upheld. It would, in the opinion of the deputation, be a wise act on the part of the council to forego the enforcement of the measure until such time as the Supreme Court, to which the appeal had been made, rendered its decision.

There were many provisions in the by-law which were most unjust one of them being that referring to the side and rear entrances to bars. The by-law only allowed such an entrance on condition that it was used for getting in supplies alone. Such a clause as that was ridiculous. It would affect every hotel in the city including the new Empress hotel. To say that every time a guest at a hotel desired to visit the bar he must go out into the street was absurd and such regulation would hamper public hostilities to the detriment of the tourist trade. In nearly every hotel the enforcement of the by-law would entail considerable alteration and a consequent heavy expense. The question was who was going to pay that expense? The liquor license holders upheld the appeal it would be a matter for consideration whether the city reimburse the hotel and saloon keepers for this expense. On the other hand if the court decided that the by-law was legal the alteration could be done without extra loss to either the licensees or the city.

The speaker referred to the effect which the by-law would have on the board of licensing commissioners. It would, he claimed, rob the board of that discretionary power conferred upon it by statute and the commissioners would be reduced to the position of clerks working to cut and dried rules. The penalty for infraction of the by-law was a refusal to renew the offender's license. This was a risk to which no license holder would willingly expose himself. The by-law was, in the speaker's opinion, without a modern precedent. It savored of the "dark ages" and was most arbitrary in character. He did not anticipate any verdict from the Supreme Court that would support a by-law which interfered with statute law. Should the license holders be required to make the alterations necessary for conformity with the by-law and the latter was upset by the court the liquor men would be out of pocket. In concluding, Mr. Langley said there was nothing in Victoria which called for such a by-law and he asked, on behalf of the city's license-holders, that the by-law be rescinded. The matter was postponed until the higher court had given judgment on the appeal.

Two other members of the deputation, Messrs. Redfern and Holland, spoke upon the matter in the same tone. Rev. LeRoy Dakin, president of the Victoria Citizens' League, asked leave to enter a counter protest. The people of Victoria had emphatically expressed their views on the liquor license by-law by referendum, the by-law had been passed and it now remained with the council to comply with the wishes of the citizens and to enforce it. Before Mr. Justice Irving the by-law had been thoroughly tested and found to be sound. It had been both stated and inferred that the delay in enforcement requested by the liquor men would do no harm. Such a statement was absurd. It was equivalent to saying that the soldiers themselves did no harm. The liquor men were not to be something wrong about the present liquor trade in Victoria. Apart from that question it was for the council to remember that the citizens of Victoria demanded the enforcement of the by-law and would not countenance any premeditated delay in putting it in force. His Worship promised that the council would give the matter full consideration and the two deputations left.

TRAGEDY OF LONG AGO.

Recalled by Discovery of Gold Upon Oiseau Rock.

The discovery of gold upon Oiseau Rock, the majestic perpendicular granite promontory of the Upper Ottawa recalls one of the great, but little known tragedies associated with early explorations in Canada in which the finding of gold at the base of this great rock was the cause of the slaughter by Indians of a band of twelve gallant Frenchmen. In the Ottawa Free Press, Oiseau Rock will ever speak in silent, yet forceful language of the courage, perseverance and daring of the mighty, brilliant and chivalrous Champlain whose name will ever perpetuate the name of France in the history of Canada.

As is well known in the years 1615-25 Champlain was the central figure in the new France now known as Canada. From his memoirs we learn that he was a faithful historian, a most intelligent traveller, an acute mathematician and a skillful navigator. The flourishing cities and towns of Canada are erecting fine monuments to his foresight and sagacity, and as Haschem said of him, "The waters of the beautiful lake that bears his name chant the most fitting requiem to his memory as they break in perpetual murmurings on the shores." In those early days Champlain seemed to be a land of promise, and all explorers and navigators were seeking the shortest and safest route from Europe to the country of the Celestials. Champlain was satisfied that the Ottawa river and the St. Lawrence were the natural routes, and to prove his theory, he and his bold navigators explored up through the locality of Oiseau Rock. One day while the party was resting, a number of them, so the Indian story goes, set out in a canoe to investigate the surroundings of the great rock, which their red-companions told them was inhabited by spirits and that the Great Spirit had placed in the bed of the creek some of the shining metal. To those who are familiar with Indian tradition, they will remember that it is considered an insult to the Indian deity for any white man to remove gold from the places where the Great Spirit has placed the precious metal, and any of the tribe who discloses where gold can be found was at once considered an agent of the evil spirit and tortured to death. After some tedious work the canoeists were rewarded by obtaining from the waters of the Oiseau gold, gold, gold. In their excitement and enthusiasm, they forgot about the Indians, and returning next day to secure more of the yellow metal, a band of Indians seized and killed twelve of the party. It is said that a record of this episode is engraved upon the face of the rock near the water's edge and though age and the destroying elements have obliterated a portion of the picture, still one can see the outlines of the bow and stern of what is said to be the canoe belonging to the great Champlain. Some say you can recognize the form of the paddlers and the paddles.

Many years ago there was found on the banks of the creek a clay model or crucible which had evidently been used in connection with mining operations in the ages long gone. The earthen vessel was in the possession of the late James McQuestion for many years and may yet be held by some members of his family now that attention has been brought to the Oiseau Rock.

PRIEST'S HEROISM.

He Risked Burial Alive to Give the Last Rites to Dying Man.

Reeking nothing of his own danger, Rev. Father Eugene Porcicle, pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Brookline, undertook the last rites to four semi-conscious men. They were buried under a deep mass of earth and rocks that fell from one wall of an excavation twenty-five feet deep. Another fall momentarily impended.

BRANDED HIS WIFE.

Husband Seared Her Tongue and Body With Hot Iron.

Los Angeles, June 17.—Mrs. Julia Salladin secured a divorce from Carlton Salladin on grounds of cruelty almost beyond belief. It was shown in court that six months ago Salladin became enraged at his wife, a refined and delicate little woman, threw her on the floor, choked her into insensibility and then resorted to hideous tortures. Heating an iron almost to whiteness, he seared her protruding tongue and branded her face with the hot iron. Her body with the terrible instrument, and this in the presence of their two little children. Then he deserted her to escape arrest and punishment for his horrible deed. The human victim of the branding iron told a pitiful story that brought tears to the judge's eyes. She was given the custody of her children.

MAY BE PROSECUTED.

Toronto, June 17.—The names of the bankrupts who played a Sunday at Hanlan's Point were taken by constables of the moral reform department, who act under instructions of Chief Inspector Archibald. Leader Haseman claims his players are purely amateur and received no pay for services. The constables made purchases of popcorn, gum, cigars, chocolates and other eatables. The storekeepers will likely be prosecuted.

Invest Your Savings--The Government Bond

Though the phrase "as safe as a government bond" is a true one, inasmuch as this type of bond assures absolute security to the investor, it has long been the subject of common remark that these bonds are not held to any great extent by the people. At the first glance this condition is remarkable, for abroad you will find the very opposite. In English homes of the middle class you will find one or more British "consols," 2 1/2 per cent, and there their possessors take a certain pride in them as they feel that they are taking an integral part in the finances of their government. Among the thirty French people of even humbler circumstances, hidden away in the peasant's hut or the laborer's tenement, will be found the government "rentes." This government bond is issued in small denominations and pays three per cent interest annually.

After scanning the foregoing apparently by an indictment of patriotism of the people, the query naturally arises: Inasmuch as the government is by the people and for their benefit, why should not its bonds be held by them? There are very good reasons why our government bonds cannot appeal to the average investor who wants an adequate return for his investment, with absolute safety. The price is too high; the yield too small. Industrial opportunities are so great and so well safeguarded that the investor would be paying too high a price for absolute safety. A government bond that only pays two per cent, sells at more than its face value. There is, of course, a reason why the government can afford to place these securities outside the realm of the individual, and that is historical, though it remains in vogue, slightly modified, at the present day.

The United States, right after the drain of the Civil War, found itself with much debt and little credit. Of course, the only way to raise money was to issue bonds, which was an easy task compared with getting people to buy them. Thereupon the then secretary of the treasury evolved a plan whereby all national banks that wished to issue their own paper money (for bank notes were to be bought and deposited with the treasury) were to buy and deposit with the treasury government bonds equal to the amount of bank notes issued. Inasmuch as these notes are a good advertisement, they have always proved popular with national banks. Accordingly when you have a bill bearing the name of a bank on one side, it means that its value in government bonds has been deposited in Washington by that institution.

Bonds are exactly like any article in great demand, they rise in price. Accordingly, another government move, rendered vitally necessary after the Civil War, made government bonds even more in demand by banks. Uncle Sam has always a lot of surplus cash in the treasury, which is available for deposits in the national banks of the country. When a bank wants to bear the enviable title "United States depository," which indicates a certain importance and prestige to the general public--it must deposit in the treasury enough government bonds or other pledged security to cover the deposit of government money, dollar for dollar. If the bank fails, the government loses no money.

This little talk on government bonds is of up-to-date interest, because on July 15, a government issue of $98,000,000 will mature. These bonds pay four per cent, because they were issued in 1870, when the government had to pay a high rate of interest and also because they were used to refund war-time bonds that paid even a higher rate. This issue is probably better distributed among individual investors than any other--and it means that the government is getting ready to distribute $98,000,000 in cash to its financial friends of the '70's, or to refund the old bonds for new ones that only pay two per cent, maturing in 1930. The national banks who hold these maturing bonds will gladly renew them on any basis to protect their bank note circulation; it is believed that the individual investor will take cash and reinvest elsewhere.

WORKERS OF THE WORLD.

Most of the leading comic artists and cartoonists on newspapers are young men still in their twenties. Few have much art training, most haven't any. The salaries they receive range all the way from $2,000 to $10,000 a year.

When someone asked Edison how he could stand the strain of from 15 to 18 hours' work daily, the wizard replied: "My work is my pleasure. If I don't work I get tired." But most of us would not only get tired--but hungry.

Hanging over the desk of one of the greatest advertising experts in these United States is a card that bears the following quotation from Bulwer Lytton: "Nothing is as contagious as enthusiasm. It is the real allegory of the lute of Orpheus. It moves stones. It charms brutes. Enthusiasm is the genius of sincerity, and truth accomplishes no victory without it."

Enthusiasm is not a bit too literary and poetic to have an eye open to the main chance. We are getting technical school graduates, but that city has added a course of scientific salesmanship to the curriculum of its high schools. Why not? The world is divided into those who manufacture and those who sell.

Nothing more pungent was ever written than the definition of luck given by Max O'Reil, the famous French essayist who wrote books about the United States and England, which indicated that he knew more about our foibles than our national writers. Here it is:

"Luck means rising at 6 o'clock in the morning, living on a dollar a day if you earn two, minding your own business and not meddling with other people's. Luck means appointments you have never failed to keep. Luck means trusting in God and your own resources."

A Swiss Cottage in Cement Blocks and Half-Timber

By Chas. S. Sedgwick, Architect, Minneapolis, Costing $3,000.00, Exclusive of Heating and Plumbing.

For the benefit of those who desire to use cement in the construction of their homes we are illustrating in this week's issue a small cottage house, constructed of hollow cement blocks in the first story, with half-timbers and cement above the first story.

The central, triple, dormer gable is projected beyond the back of the main walls, 2 feet, carried on timber brackets, and the cement showing in the panels and between the timbers. The hollow blocks being carried around the piazza, are extended up at the outer angles forming piers, with columns of blocks carrying up on the corners of the piazza roof, supplemented by wooden columns on each side. This combination of treatment makes a jaunty and pretty home for the country or suburbs. The outside wood trimmings, cornices, beams, etc., should be painted white, the roof dark green, shingles, slate or tile. The pointing between the cement blocks would look best in white mortar, although black is frequently used; in the judgment of the writer it is too somber in connection with the grey tone of the cement.

As indicated somewhat by the treatment of the design, climbing vines and foliage grouped about this house will give a very picturesque effect. There are three rooms on the ground floor and two chambers, with bath-room on the second floor. The front of the house is symmetrical, with a central vestibule opening into a liberal living room across the front 14x22 feet in size. Opposite the entrance is a broad, open fireplace, to the right of which is a wide opening into the dining room. To the left of the fireplace is an open combination stairway leading to the second story, with the basin of the grade entrance and sectional stairs up to the platform from the kitchen. The dining room connects with the kitchen through the pantry, there is a recess sideboard and china closet in the dining room, and a commodious rear porch.

This house could be nicely finished in Washington fir, stained dark Flemish in the front room, and golden oak in the dining room, and all other interior woodwork in the natural color, varnished. The floors to be of red birch, filled and varnished. If the entire house were to be two full stories in height it would increase the cost $500 and afford two additional rooms in the second story.

Trade Talks--The Newspaper Man

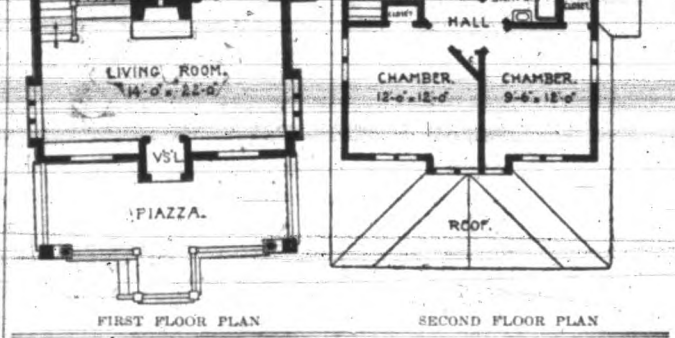

There is probably no other occupation in life, excepting, perhaps, the stage, so much sought after by ambitious and romantic young men than that of the newspaper man, or, at the tyro likes to say, the "journalist." The similitude between the stage and the press does not end there, however, for just as the eminent theatrical star always advises beginners from the stage, so the average newspaper man is never known to hold out bright hopes to the beginner. In his moments of leisure he prates bitterly about being a mere cog in the machine; in his moments of work he is a being of enthusiasm, acuteness and high ethics, with a devotion to duty in all its phases rarely seen in other professions. A newspaper man, even though doing "leg work," wherein agility in covering a district is more important than brains, is usually made a depository of damaging confidences, and rarely does he break faith. There is a certain romance and taste of excitement that clings to the work even in this practical age.

The "cub" reporter, in the smaller towns usually starts at $12 a week. His only equipment being a well-grounded education, an ability to see through sham and sate facts without prejudice, doggedness of purpose and a personality to inspire confidence among men of authority, from whom the main body of news is secured. First, last and always that "sixth sense" of the "fourth estate" (as the profession is called), i. e., "a nose for news." It is the clean-cut young man who is wanted, not the poetic personage or the long-haired dreamer. To be able to "hammer" a typewriter is a great virtue, but not an absolute necessity. A knowledge of shorthand is not at all essential, fully 50 per cent. of newspaper men "not knowing a stroke of it. In all cases, however, it will prove useful, and in many cases be the feather that turns the tide to success."

From the "cub" to the full-fledged reporter is a gap that may be bridged by the beginner in a few days or a few months, according to aptitude, or more especially "circumstances," which may be divided into two classes--emergencies and "shake-ups." It is these emergencies, always recurring, that make the beginner bloom like an exotic in a night. It is the fascinating land of Immediate Opportunity. The "shake-up" is a polite euphemism for wholesale "firing." The pay of the average reporter is from $15 to $30 a week, but he enjoys a prestige greatly in excess of that figure. "Desk" men--that is, men of literary or executive ability--center around the $50 mark, together with editorial writers, humorists, cartoonists and specialists of all kinds. The wage of Ye Editor is only limited by the personality and ability of the man. These figures are not of much value, as in every case they are the accurate reflex of the newspaper man himself, and they are increased with a rapidity that would be astounding in any other trade or profession.

Inasmuch as most reporters eventually become specialists, doing "markets," "financial," "political," "courts," they are in daily contact with leaders in business and professional life. The clean-cut man finds it comparatively easy to secure business and political berths with great futures. The college man is particularly at home in this field, but the present generation of newspaper men were bred by hard work in an atmosphere of printer's ink.

The other is made the same larger than the covers, and are buttoned around the edges with green silk, as shown in the illustration. The Popularity of the Linen Costume

By DOROTHY DALE.

Every well-planned summer outfit should contain at least two or three linen costumes of different kinds, and so attractive are the new weaves and colorings of the season's linens that a selection is often bewildering to make. The new linens come in various designs in stripes, checks and embroidered dots, as well as in plain browns, and the colorings are unusually beautiful. Delightful pinks and coral tones are used both for tailored suits and elaborately trimmed frocks, as are the various other colorings in greens, violets, and blues. The string color and biscuit tones are particularly popular for tailored coats and skirts, and are also used for very smart looking frocks elaborately braided with white soutache, with added touches of hand embroidery. Soutache braiding is much used in trimming linen costumes, in many cases braided matching the color of the material being used in preference to heavy English eyelet work and heavy padded embroidery are also effective, medallions are inserted in Irish crochets or Cluny lace also being much in evidence on the more elaborate linen suits and frocks. Embroidered buttons of linen to match the frock are also used very effectively, and ball fringe is seen on a great many of the little coats and fancy wraps.

The bodice of the linen frock sketched on this page shows to excellent advantage the heavy hand embroidery used as ornamentation. The yoke and sleeves were of valenciennoes combined with heavy venise lace, the belt and sleeve bands being crisscrossed with fine white cord. The model was in violet linen embroidered in white, with the fine white cord couched on about the edges of the bands used in trimming the bodice.

The second drawing was sketched from a young girl's costume of pale blue mull trimmed with bands of pale blue and white embroidery to match. The waist and skirt were joined by a girle of the embroidery which was also used to trim the skirt, as shown in the sketch. This design would also be very practical for almost any thing material, insertions of lace being used instead of the embroidery. DOROTHY DALE.

Many Uses of the New Cretonnes

The charming effects that can be gained by the use of cretonne in house-furnishings have been realized by clever housekeepers for sometime; but the new cretonnes are especially interesting when considering furnishings for summer homes. For the city house cretonne curtains and other draperies are generally considered more appropriate for bedrooms; but in the summer cottage, where furnishings are always of a more informal character, the use of artistically designed cretonne is also much in evidence in the downstairs rooms.

What could be more charming than a dainty little reception-room or living-room in a summer cottage furnished in cool tones, preferably green and white, with hangings and chair covers, cushions, etc., of flowered cretonne in gay, softly blended colorings? Wicker or grass furniture is particularly attractive for such use, the seats and backs of the chairs, divans and so on, being cushioned with the cretonne.

Then, sometimes in a rented cottage, when the furniture of the "parlor" or living-room is of the hideous, stuffy upholstered kind, slip covers of pretty cretonne can be made at small expense to complete the disguise of the offending furniture and save the room from being quite impossible artistically. Various smaller articles can also be made of cretonne, such as desk and bureau fittings, boxes, trays, photograph frames and cushion covers. Especially attractive are the lamp shades on a wire framework covered with cretonne. These are for sale in the fine housewares shops and are very expensive in price; but the majority of those seem to present few difficulties to the homemaker, and could be copied with very small expenditure.

One of the newest and most attractive of these lamp shades is also one of the easiest to make. The wire frame is one of the simple, round shapes, and costs about 35 cents. The wires of this frame should first be covered neatly, and to do this silk seam binding, which comes at ten cents a bolt, can be used very conveniently. The cretonne used for the cover should be of rather heavy quality, and should have a very well covered design over a cream-colored or tinted ground.

The imported cretonnes showing rich fruit and flower patterns are generally used for this purpose, but will repay the expenditure. The lamp shade referred to is made by cutting a circle of the cretonne about five inches larger than the outside of the wire frame. An opening, or hole, is then cut in the middle to fit about the top, or collar, of the shade. Gilt tassel fringe or cretonne fringe is used as a finish, the fringe being especially liked, as it has the advantage of being a novelty.

Especially in favor are those cretonnes 50 inches wide and of Elizabethan pattern, the individual design of which is a carnation about three and a half inches across, combined with a conventional flower and an irregular ribbonlike close vine effect on a plain background. Some of the color schemes are lavender and soft yellow, pale yellow, and delft blue, a deep red, a reseda green.

A certain establishment renowned in this kind of work displays bedroom suits upholstered in 35-cent-a-yard cretonnes, and they represent the very latest novelty in the combining of cretonne and wood. In these sets the bed, dresser, chiffonier and tables, as well as the chairs, sofa and screen, are upholstered in cretonne.

A new dressing bureau is almost entirely covered in cretonne. It has a square mirror and two shallow drawers at either side. The front is hollowed out so that the user may approach nearer the mirror, which is not beveled at the edge. Its only border is a turned strip of wood covered with a gathered puff of cretonne. The sides of the bureau and front of the drawers are covered with the cretonne, put on plain, and a plaited valance hangs below the drawers. The top of the bureau is of plain enameled wood.

The apple patterns show spheres ranging in size from one and a half to three inches, in many shades of red, crowding each other among green vines on a white background. Taffeta, which belongs to the cretonne family, is a weave which is used to introduce some of the daintiest and at the same time the most inexpensive hangings of the season. Plain taffeta, usually of a cream or cream-white shade, instead of being plain, presents a broad surface of very tiny figures or dots. For this reason it is especially suitable for window draperies, a pleasing variation being made by adding an applique border of roses and vines or any favorite flower cut from a patterned cretonne and applied to the goods. A clever woman can do this herself.

A bedroom in a country house was upholstered in mauve cretonne, showing a white ground well covered with a design of mauve orchids and tiny yellow primroses tied with narrow mauve ribbons which followed a continuous wavy line all over the cretonne, and the window and door hangings were of plain cretonne finished with an applied border of mauve and yellow flowers.

A white enameled bedroom suit was upholstered in a cretonne which retails at 25 cents a yard and which is known as the rose block pattern. On a white background is shown an oblong block pattern, each block being about eight by seven inches, and is outlined by a one-inch-wide vine of green leaves shading from a palest rose green to a bronze.

More leaves and one of two roses decorate each block, the colorings varying from a purplish crimson to a fire-engine red. This prevents monotonous uniformity of pattern, the hues of one block being different from those of the next, but all blending in a harmonious whole. In the fashionable country house the majority of the rooms are upholstered in cretonne. The leaning this season is toward very gay colorings, the walls corresponding in this respect to the furniture.

The Cleaning of Antique Rugs

The cleaning of antique rugs can be done at home if care be used in the operation. If it is done twice a year the rugs will never look dull and full of dust. Semianually they should get a good scrubbing to freshen the colors and to clean out the dirt, which settles in so that the ordinary cleaning does not dislodge it. First, brush the rug--never beat it--taking care to keep in the same direction as the nap lies. Then dump the rug into a bathtub filled with lukewarm water using a castile or pure white soap. Soak for a number of hours in the tub, then scrub with a soft brush and soap until it looks clean. Rinse well in cold water, and then lay a dull, flat stick over the rug and press every drop of water out. Then, when thoroughly rinsed, tack firmly to a frame such as is used for stretching lace curtains, and then place in the air to dry. If the rug happens to be a very large one it will, after first being soaked, have to be scrubbed on the floor; but this is rather too much of an undertaking. It had better be sent direct to an expert for the operation. Dry cleaning is preferable to washing for rugs of certain weaves, but that also had best be done by one who thoroughly understands the process.

SIR F. BORDEN HOME FROM CONFERENCE

Minister of Militia Says Results Were Satisfactory--The Fast Imperial Service.

Sir Frederick Borden, who has returned to Ottawa from London, England, where he was attending the Imperial Conference, speaks highly of the manner in which the colonial representatives were received and entertained by the British government, and the British people generally. The results of the conference were satisfactory, and he was glad to see, from the opinions in the press that Canada had taken that view. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had behind him a majority of the members at the conference. Every point that the Canadian Premier pressed, was carried, except that in regard to the preference. As to the attitude of the British government on that subject, it was well known beforehand. The Bannerman government, was not expected to back on what the people had pronounced against at the last election in Britain, but there were other ways in which the Dominions over the seas could be benefited, and hence it was that the fast Atlantic and fast Pacific steamship project not only became a subject of discussion, but was unanimously adopted by the conference. The suggestion came from the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, and other members of the government supported it, so that there is good reason for believing the scheme will be carried into effect.

What makes me say that the conference was satisfactory, said the Minister of Militia, in answer to a question, "is in the first place, that it is now made permanent, and in the second place, there is a permanent secretariat established in the department of the Colonial Secretary of State, and responsible to the Colonial Secretary. In this way the work of the conference will be made continuous. In regard to the Imperial subjects, Britain and the self-governing colonies will be kept steadily in touch with one another. But to my mind, the greatest thing which the conference accomplished, was in the passing of a resolution declaring in favor of better communication between the different parts of the Empire.

"This was carried unanimously and a committee of the Board of Trade is now considering the matter with a view of seeing what can be done to give practical effect to this resolution. The idea is to place on the Atlantic steamers equal to the best now afloat, to improve the railway service across Canada, and to place on the Pacific an eighteen-knot service. Britain, Canada, New Zealand and Australia in this way will be in closer touch, commercially and otherwise, with one another. As I have already said, the British government favors the project almost assuredly."

"What about the military organization for the Empire?"

"What was done to establish a military general staff. We have now in Canada a general staff which will form part of the great general staff of the Empire. It is intended to select from the forces of the Empire as a whole a general staff to study military science in all its branches, to collect and disseminate to the various governments, military information and intelligence, to prepare schemes of defence on a common principle, without interfering with questions of command and administration. All such information will require to pass through the responsible ministerial head from one government to the other. Of course these officers will communicate with one another when it is necessary to do so. A staff officer will be trained in a common school, recruited from the different parts of the Empire, and educated in military science according to common principles. There will be a system of exchange of staff officers. Canada can get from Britain a staff officer, and we can send one to them. It is a broadening-out of the present general staff and is truly an advisory organization. Canada will control what ever is done in this country, and there will be no new appointments."

Sir Frederick Borden said that he expected Sir Wilfrid to sail for Canada about the 15th of July.

Toronto, June 17.—A fire which broke out in the rear of the mattress and pillow factory of J. J. The highly inflammable nature of the building and stock made the fire difficult to handle.

COL. STEELE RETURNS.

Has Retired From His Command in the Royal South African Constabulary.

Col. Steele, C.B.V.O.M., who has just retired from his command in the Royal South African Constabulary in order to take up the organization of the regular forces of the Dominion for defence purposes in the new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, has arrived in Montreal.

Colonel Steele's services to Canada began 41 years ago, when, at the age of sixteen, he received a commission as junior lieutenant, and served on the frontier during the Fenian Raid in 1866. Four years later, on the occasion of the Red River Expedition, under Col. Garner Wolsey, now Lord Wolsey, he joined the Ontario battalion and took part in the march to the foothills. When the first two batteries of Canadian Artillery were organized, he volunteered to go with Col. French's command as a sergeant-instructor, and later, when the Northwest Mounted Police force was created by Sir John Macdonald, and placed under the command of Col. French, Col. Steele became riding-master. He remained with the force for thirty years, steadily working his way to the front.

When the South African war brought the call upon Canada, Col. Steele organized the 250 troopers from the prairies who were incorporated in the Canadian mounted contingent, and as he was on the point of sailing with them, he was appointed to the command of the Strathcona Horse. The recruiting and organization of this force of 500 men necessitated his return to the Northwest. His services in South Africa brought the decoration of the Victoria Order, of which he was the first recipient. While there he was appointed to an important command of the constabulary, organized by General Baden-Powell in 1901.

Col. Steele has been accompanied in South Africa by his wife, who is a daughter of the late R. W. Vaudreuil, who was for many years member of Parliament for that county.

Col. Steele is reluctant to discuss his work in South Africa, but he did say one or two things of interest. At first the force was divided into troops of 100 men with a captain and lieutenant in command of each. General Powell in order to give it as much of an Imperial character as possible, divided into four divisions of 250 men, two commanded by British officers, two by Colonials—the latter being Col. Pilkington of West Australia and Col. Steele. It was to be a military force in time of war and a police force in time of peace as set forth in the proclamation of Lord Roberts, the commander-in-chief.

The Canadian element consisted of thirteen troops of 100 each, and at first they were under their own officers, but later they were distributed amongst the other divisions, as the general found them such adaptable and handy men.

"Of their resourcefulness," said Col. Steele, "they gave many proofs. The success with which they provided themselves with excellent mounts and transport facilities at the expense of the enemy was recognized by the Boers, whose commanders gave strict orders to their troops not to blow up nearer than twenty miles from the constabulary."

After the war the force was reorganized, reduced to 6,000, and distributed over the various masterial divisions of the Transvaal and Orange River colonies.

Col. Steele declares that a decidedly good feeling now prevails between Boers and Britons in South Africa, and he attributes not a little of this to the good judgment of the men comprising the constabulary. It was no rare thing to find Boers in the camp mess of the police, who have been instructed and have acquired proficiency in the Boer as well as the Kaffir tongue.

The whole of the new colonies is policed by the constabulary, with the exception of Pretoria and Johannesburg.

BUFFALO HERD AT HOME.

Animals Are Settling Down to Life in Alberta.

F. A. Walker, M. P. P., is in the city, says the Edmonton Bulletin. Mr. Walker has spent a great deal of the last two weeks at the Elk Island park in connection with the settling of the Pablo buffalo herd in their new home. The majority of the bison are in the open hills at the south side of the park. There are also small bunches scattered through the timber, where is also abundant feed.

With respect to the reports that some of the animals broke through the wire fence, he says, is all fiction. Not one buffalo has broken through the fence around the park and not one strand of wire has been broken. The only occasion when any of the bison broke through has been already described in the Bulletin. It was on the evening when the herd was being driven in. They broke through the temporary fence leading to the park by displacing the post. The fence around the park is made of heavy tamarac posts sunk deep into the ground. On one occasion some individuals leaped the bison through the fence. They charged their tormentors, but were unable to reach them through the wire.

Mr. Simmons, the manager of the park, is becoming quite accustomed to his new pets. The young calf buffalo that is being reared by Wm. Alton, of Lamont, is doing well on a ration of milk, raw eggs and cornmeal. He is lusty enough to kick his stall down.

The public are warned that it is extremely dangerous to go in the park near the buffaloes on foot. They will surely chase individuals on foot. A man on horseback is safe.

The herd has fully recovered from the shock and privation of the long journey from Ravalli to Lamont, and are doing well.

Projects for modern large and rapid-firing guns, require about their weight in powder to fire them.

WORLD'S QUAINTEST FLEET.

Strange Old Craft That Ply Yearly Between London and Hudson Bay.

The Morning Leader of London has the following interesting notice of the Hudson's Bay Company fleet which was at London in May taking on their annual cargo for Hudson Bay.

The most interesting vessels at present in the Thames—the Discovery, Pelican and Stork—are now loading for their annual voyage for the far north, in the Southwest dock. The ceremony of their preparations and sailing is the only survival of the romantic past of London's commerce; they are the direct descendants of the pioneers who found the new world and saw their possibilities; in fact, in a London dock without doubt, come down in a straight line from their vigorous Elizabethan ancestors, the Golden Hind, the Jesus of Lubek, and the other ships which made the first great contribution to England's maritime history.

And, as they have the appearance of it, they look survivors. Outside the Scotch wharves there are no other vessels like them in the ports of the kingdom. They would attract attention at any quay in the world; and if the American tourists now in London knew of them, there would be as many inquiries as their way as now favor the tower.

They are all barque rigged, and the Pelican and the Discovery have steam as an auxiliary power. All are sheathed for ice work, and have their noses wrapped in iron bands, so that they should not get broken when bumping into floes.

The Discovery is the famous Antarctic exploring ship. The Pelican—a old warship, a corvette built at Devonport in 1877. Her gun barbettes make her lines a puzzle even to Poplar people, who have been used to nautical freaks for generations.

"But," said one of her hands to a Morning Leader representative, "she's the daisy of the fleet. Handsome as a handsome does. Once she came across from Labrador, under sail, in 14 days. Give her the right wind, and her screw is more an anchor than anything, so to speak."

The Stork is well known as the "ghost ship," which was reported as passing Prawle Point in 1904, was afterwards quoted as the "ghost" for a while, at Lloyd's, and then came home again afterwards, like the man in the poem; only more welcome than he.

Though there was then a feeling all along, amongst those who know her skipper, that Capt. Ford had got her somewhere. The gallant skipper (now in the Discovery) would usually, in appearance, stand as a typical English sailor, and nobody knows the difficult navigation of the day where Hudson lost his life better than Capt. Ford.

Probably no other English skippers have more difficult navigation than the Hudson Bay men. They are specialists by necessity. Capt. Ford explained to the writer, "You have to smell your way. There are no lights, but plenty of shoals."

With the valuable cargoes these vessels carry (only 20 tons of stuff valued at perhaps 150,000), there is plenty of activity for those in charge. The Stork, in fact, was caught the voyage before last, and had to winter at Charlton Island. That is a dire experience for which the crews of these vessels must be prepared. But a few years since, too, the Perseverance, another vessel of the company, went to join the explorer, Henry Hudson, in the bay.

In his twelve years' experience of voyaging in the Arctic Capt. Ford has been in a tight corner several times. When master of the Lady Head (which was lost in the bay), to send the news of the loss to his owners he landed at Victoria, East Main Fort, Rupert's House, Moose Factory, Fort Albany and Port Nelson. Some of the stations are only open in the summer season, when the Indians and Eskimaux come with the results of the season's hunt.

"Of course, we get no visitors there—an occasional explorer or a missionary perhaps—and I suppose the life of the traders is not very much as it was when the forts were first established, centuries ago."

"I should guess it is the most desolate and melancholy land on the face of the earth, and no man dare face it in winter unless he is armed with a life's experience of the place and its dangers."

The vessels sailed from London during the second week in June.

THIRTY KILLED BY EXPLOSION.

Is Believed to Have Been Caused by Discharged Workmen.

London, June 17.—A dispatch to the Standard from Lisbon says that an explosion of dynamite at Ovebio, a manufacturing town, killed thirty persons. It is believed that the explosion was caused by dismissed workmen who sought vengeance.

SPINAL TENDERNESS.

Always causes nervousness and weakness. Spinal irritation is sure to undermine the constitution, and too easily runs into mental diseases to be neglected.

Its cure can be most speedily accomplished by Ferronine. This great remedy has to its credit tens of thousands of cures, wrought by the greatest nerve tonic known to man. Ferronine is a great body builder that renews the forces of the body by enriching the blood. It is not a stimulant.

Get good blood—the right kind—if you can make plenty of it, positive good health will move on like a train.

It is through this blood that tissue, nerve, muscle and brain are renewed and the machinery of the body—kidneys, liver, stomach and bowels are maintained in vigor.

Can you fail to see Ferronine is a cure for diseases, not a mere check? Ferronine not only relieves, but it cures. No strengthening medicine is known with half its power. Try it yourself. 50c. per box at all dealers.

NEWS OF METCHOSIN.

Development Association Is Active—Activity in Real Estate—Colwood Hall Finances.

The executive of the Colwood-Metchosin Development Association, at their regular monthly meeting, considered over a dozen communications relating to matters of public interest. The transportation committee reported that they had interviewed the post office inspector and also the Dominion government public works agent in regard to mail and telephones for the district. The secretary reported that the large land owners were subscribing liberally to the funds, recognizing the fact that they were helping along an association that would benefit them. Many important matters were discussed, and allotted to the proper committees to attend to and when accomplished they will redound greatly to the benefit of the district.

Among the important transfers of real estate occurring recently was the sale of 200 acres by Robt. Ward & Co. to a syndicate of Victoria men. The property is known as the Ward property and lies between the Esquimalt lagoon and Metchosin. If set up it will not only pay but be a general boon to the district.

At the annual meeting of those interested in Colwood hall, the financial statement showed that the hall was not only free of debt, but there was a balance of nearly $100 on hand. A most creditable showing considering that two years ago there was a debt of $200 on it. The committee of management for the ensuing year were then ballotted of and Messrs. Albert, Wale, C. E. Thompson and Ernest Peatt were chosen.

The recent rains have been the salvation of the crops. Now everyone wears a smile and renews his subscription to the newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. Russ and family of Esquimalt, have moved into the farm in Metchosin lately occupied by W. H. Hayward, M. P. P.

ELOPES WITH PLUMBER'S SON

Vigilance of Heirless Parents Eluded and Loving Hearts Made Glad.

The only daughter of a millionaire manufacturer of L'Isle Adam, in the department of Seine-et-Oise, France, who is heiress to a fortune of $5,000,000, eloped recently with the son of a local plumber.

The young plumber was superintending extensive alterations at the splendid chateau of the millionaire. He attracted the notice of the millionaire's daughter by his good looks and nice manners and the two fell in love.

When the millionaire accidentally discovered the attachment, he forbade his daughter to see or communicate with her lover, and in a towering rage ordered the young man off the premises.

The couple soon found means to correspond, and as the girl desired of securing her father's consent to the marriage, she agreed to an elopement. She, therefore, arranged for a visit to her dressmaker in Paris, and was allowed to go in charge of her governess who returned to the chateau in tears late in the evening, and said that while she and her charge were looking into a Paris shop window the girl suddenly disappeared.

The police have not succeeded in tracing the girl or her lover.

CHANGED HOURS FOR SPRINKLING LAWNS

The City Council 'Adopt a New Rule in Hope of Overcoming Shortage.

The old bugbear "water" was in evidence at the council meeting last evening when the worried water commissioner and the puzzled aldermen had a heart to heart talk on the shortage of it caused by indiscriminate sprinkling and other bad habits on the part of consumers.

Waterworks Foreman Ereece was also in evidence, and the matter was discussed at some length. Finally, upon the motion of Ald. Vincent, it was decided to change the hours allowed for sprinkling, and those who have not meters will be required to get their lawns and gardens sprinkled between the hours of 5 and 7 in the morning and 7 to 10 in the evening.

The water commissioner said that it was at present practically an impossibility to provide water for sprinkling at certain hours without causing a shortage for domestic purposes. He had struggled with the problem, and was willing to listen to any suggestions that the council might make.

Ald. Vincent was quoted as a moment with the solution, which was finally adopted. "Why not curtail the hours allowed for sprinkling?" he asked.

"Make people get their sprinkling done between 5 a.m. and 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. and 10 p.m." These were said the alderman, only 20 lbs. of pressure in the city hall at night, which showed that matters were reaching a serious stage.

If you have to shut off sprinkling altogether you must provide for the domestic needs of the citizens," he concluded.

Ald. Henderson offered the suggestion that the sprinkling be allowed over the whole twenty-four hours.

It would obviate the shortage now noticeable during the hours allowed for that purpose.

"Yes," said the water commissioner, wearily, "then we will have a continual shortage. There are lots of people who will run patent sprinklers all day and all night if they get the chance."

Mr. Ereece, waterworks foreman, said that these patent "whirligig" sprinklers should be taxed extra. There were 24 of them in use at the parliament buildings, for which the city had agreed to furnish all the water required.

Moreover there was a man watching them all the time. He suggested that the policy adopted by the Seattle municipal authorities which stipulated that all fixed sprinklers should be heavily taxed, might be put into force with advantage to the city.

Ald. Vincent was finally asked to put his recommendation in the form of a motion and the change of sprinkling hours will go into effect immediately.

If it is found unsuccessful after two weeks' trial the problem, which is much in the nature of a Chinese puzzle, will again be tackled by the aldermen.

At a conference at Newcastle it was stated that during the past year 300 tons of waste paper, picked up in the streets, had been disposed of for $300. The paper is collected each day by thirty-two boys, sorted by girls, put into pressed bales, and sold.

ROSE SHOW TO BE GREAT SUCCESS

The Preparations Are Well Advanced for a Grand Display This Year.

This year's rose show of the Victoria Horticultural Society will be almost perfect. The show is to be held on Friday, the 28th of June. James A. Blair, of 115 Toronto street, Victoria, is the secretary, from whom all entry forms may be obtained.

With the fine weather which has prevailed this season in Victoria, everything points to a most successful exhibit. The roses are forming 'up well. As great care is being taken by those intending to exhibit in shading, the blooms should be perfect.

No money will be spent in decorating the room most attractive. The prizes offered are well up to the standard of last year.

The use of the Assembly hall has been obtained for the show. Mrs. Burton, well-known for her great taste in artistic floral decoration, has been appointed to superintend the decorating of the room.

No money will be spent in decorating the room most attractive. The public will have the opportunity of seeing for the first time some new imported roses cultivated in Dickson and Kent of Colchester and Sibson of Portland, Oregon. The local men have also some rare specimens to exhibit.

James Manahan, A. Olson, R. Layritz, and Mr. Flewin in their gardens are all here of them making a specialty in roses this year. The ladies are working hard and the result will be some fine exhibits of the best of roses class.

As roses may be purchased for decoration purposes for basket work the most lovely specimens of roses will be seen on the day of the show. The committees are very well satisfied with the reports of their sub-committees. Everything points to great interest being taken in the show.

The prize list has been arranged to include every class of exhibit. Exhibits of from one variety up to nine varieties are called for in the professional class, while the number is extended to twelve varieties in the amateur class, including the best decorated basket of roses, the best decorated exhibit of roses and the best vase or bowl of roses. Of the separate varieties, three blooms are to be exhibited.

But the lesser features of the show will be the exhibit for the best decorative basket, entries are fast coming in for this class, which promises to be the most popular of the whole show. But the closest contest will be in the class for collection of roses: twelve varieties, one bloom of each, which are to be shown singly. This class is for amateurs. The "best bloom" in a whole show irrespective of class, will tax the discrimination of the judges to the utmost. All objects for competition must be entered at least two days before the show.

All specimens (except those for arrangement only), must be the bona fide property of the exhibitor. Any prize obtained contrary to this regulation will be forfeited, and the exhibitor excluded from future shows.

A meeting of the board of directors will be held at 8:30. The business before the meeting will be the appointment of judges for the exhibition and the final arrangements necessary to make the show a great success.

SWISS VILLAGE DESTROYED.

Landslide Buries Buildings Under a River of Sand.

The little Swiss village of Kienthal, situated in the picturesque valley of the same name, and known as a favorite summer resort, has been destroyed by a calamity as strange as it was overwhelming. The valley lies to the right of the Kanderthal, opening on the south at Reichenbach and stretching to the Ganach glacier.

Its destruction has been caused by a landslide that took a form having but few parallels in Alpine records. At a height of about 4,500 feet the mountain side for a length of about 300 feet and for a width of 80 feet seemed to collapse but instead of falling in a mass, the earth seemed to shake itself loose and poured slowly down to the valley in a flood of shifting sand about 12 feet deep.

Nothing could stop the flowing mass. Two frozen persons in the attempt to escape had been found impossible to search for their bodies. In a couple of days it had destroyed more than a dozen of the houses in the trap-shattered village, and at latest dispatches was still pressing on its terrible course to complete the work of devastation.

SALVATION ARMY WORK IN WEST Interviewed Commissioner Coombes ---Immigrants Will Number Twenty-Five Thousand.

Winnipeg, June 17.—Commissioner Coombes, of the Salvation Army, arrived in the city this morning from the east on his way to Vancouver, where he is to dedicate an immense building erected for army work on the coast. He came here direct from Quebec, where he had been to meet General Booth and bid him farewell on his return to England.

"We got the general away in good health, and enjoying himself," said the commissioner. "He had a wonderful meeting in the opera house in Quebec before leaving and a good civic reception as well."

"The scope of army special work in the west will be greatly enlarged and developed in the near future. The new work will deal with women especially, but in some districts of the west the availability of taking up the work with the men is also being considered. The line of general hospital work, when the general was in the west, was greatly impressed with the need of more hospital work in the growing towns and cities of the west, and he has sanctioned an addition to the work."

"Winnipeg is naturally the central distributing point for the immigration which is being brought in by the Salvation Army. This applies to the western provinces, and, for the present at least, the special immigration work being done in British Columbia. This year we have brought to Canada a fine class of Hollanders, and they are practically the fore-runners of what looks like a splendid influx of most desirable land-loving people. The first instalment of these people settled chiefly in Ontario, though some of them with more capital came through to the west. On account of language difficulties with these people it is necessary to group them as much as possible. They have settled where they can work on farms of the older residents of the province, and wherever they have gone there is a demand for more of them. Nine-tenths of these Hollanders have brought out their own passage and all expenses, and have had money left over to begin life in the new country."

"Where we have advanced passage money it is now coming back from all classes at the rate of $1,000 per month. We planned that we would get back this year at least $10,000, but by the looks of things now, it will run up to $15,000. Brigadier Howell will shortly be sent to make special selections of people from the west from the Scotch and Irish immigrants. This year we expect that the total number brought over by the army will be 25,000, and more than half of the number are now here."

Commissioner Coombes left to-night for Vancouver, and will return to Toronto in time to take charge of the big camp to be held there on June 29.

"Husbands are supposed to keep their wives in order," said Mr. Rose, the magistrate at the Tower Bridge, London, police court, "but the law does not allow them to do so nowadays."

While radical changes in styles do not appeal to him, he insists upon all the little variations that each season introduces. His Coat and Vest must be of the correct length and the lapels of the latest width and depth, and the Trousers neither too wide nor too narrow, but just right.

WHY WOMEN TALK.

Can Keep it Up Four Times as Long as Men.

Woman has often been jokingly accused of being able to wag her tongue to an enormous and occasionally annoying extent; but it comes as somewhat of a surprise to learn that her ability in this direction is no fallacy, but an undoubted scientific fact.

In the course of his investigations into the human voice, Dr. Marage, the inventor of voice telegraphy, has discovered that a woman can talk four times as long as a man, and only expend the same energy.

It appears to be merely a question of the amount of air which escapes from the lungs during phonation, and as a woman's larynx is narrower than a man's, and a child's than a woman's, it is evident why children can prattle for hours at a time, and why women can maintain the fatigue of conversation so much more easily than a man.

Some of the doctor's experiments were devoted to determining the effort expended on speaking. This, it appears, is the product of the volume of air which escapes from the lungs, and the pressure required to emit it. He finds that you expend the same energy when you talk for an hour or for a weight of half an ounce three feet in the air every second.

When a lady plays with her fan, or when a professor recites the energy expended is greater than that. When an orator speaks in a hall he works as much as a porter who shoulders luggage weighing four hundred-weight.

It is usually supposed that Belgium, with her 280 persons to the square mile is the most crowded country in Europe. But this is not the case. The Haus Towns district of Germany boasts the amazing population of 3,377 persons to the square mile.
