The explosion occurred in a fuel tank of the freighter El Mundo, tied up at Pier 61. Several persons were injured and fear of more blasts held the fire fighters in check.

Four killed and eight injured was the toll reported by the police at 3.35 o'clock, a half-hour after the blast.

El Mundo, operated by the Southern Pacific Company, is in regular operation between here and Galveston. The craft, of 110,000 tons, was loading in preparation for sailing November 13. She normally carries a crew of about forty-five men.

A report received at police headquarters calling for ambulances and fire apparatus stated that a number of persons had been killed.

IRISH WOMEN
CARRIED SIGNS IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Nov. 10.—(Canadian Press)—Four women sympathizing with those in Ireland, who would make that country a republic, appeared dressed in deep mourning yesterday before the Seventh Regiment Armory here to protest against the billeting there of nineteen non-commissioned officers of the Royal Sussex Regiment. The British soldiers are staying in this city until November 15, when they will sail for Jamaica.

Carrying signs, the women marched up and down all day long. They declared their intention to continue this method of protesting against the presence of British soldiers in a United States army until they should leave for Jamaica. One of the signs bore this inscription: "British military men en route to India. Is there to be another Amiruz?"

The picketers apparently did not make inquiries regarding the destination of the troops before wording their banners.

A large crowd gathered about the armory, but no disturbances resulted and no arrests were made.

The British soldiers have been entertained by various British societies in this city and to-night will be the guests of the Daughters of the British Empire, Captain Armstrong, British Consul-General here, will make an address of greeting to them.

A Morning's Work.—While shopping one morning Mrs. Rushton thoughtlessly picked up an umbrella belonging to another woman and started to walk off with it. Its owner stopped her, and the absouminded one returned the umbrella with many apologies. This little incident served to remind Mrs. Rushton that umbrellas were needed by different members of her family, so she bought two for her daughters and one for herself, and as it was the holiday season, she took the articles with her instead of ordering them to be sent.

As she entered a car, armed with the three umbrellas, she chanced to observe that exactly opposite her was sitting the woman to whom she had had to apologise a short while before. After staring at the three umbrellas for several minutes, the women smiled, leaned across the aisle, and said, in an icy tone: "I see you've had a successful morning."—Harper's.

CHARGES ALBERTA "BIG FOUR" AS BEING SEMI-PROFESSIONAL AND REQUESTS INVESTIGATION

Frank Patrick, President of Pacific Coast Hockey Association, Communicates With Attorney-General of Alberta; Actions of Prairie League Has Cut Off Source of Supply For Players.

Charging the Alberta "Big Four" Hockey League with operating as a semi-professional organization last year under the guise of amateurism, and alleging that in so doing the league is perpetrating a fraud on the public and evading the Alberta provincial amusement tax, the Pacific Coast Hockey Association yesterday dispatched a letter to the Attorney-General of that province urging a Government enquiry into hockey conditions. The communication was signed by President Frank Patrick, head of the coast organization, which makes the positive assertion that the Big Four was a semi-professional organization and that many, if not a majority of the players in the league last year, were paid money for their services as hockey players.

Sensational developments are expected to follow any inquiry the government of Alberta may institute, and action along these lines is expected now that the premier hockey organization of the country has officially tossed "its hat" into the ring. Charges that the conduct of amateur hockey on the prairies has not been in accordance with amateur principles have been hurled back and forth for the past year, the Alberta "Big Four" breaking into prominence at the start of the 1919-20 season by reinstating several professionals including Barney Stanley and Mickey Mackay, formerly of Vancouver. Gordon Keats, Braden and others Saskatchewan hockey interests also declared for a clean sheet and other professionals were reinstated, among them being Stan Marple, Dick Irvin, Skinner-Poolin and Russ Crawford.

Caused a Stir.
Manitoba A. A. U. officials have already taken steps to effect a house cleaning in Alberta and propose at the annual meeting of the A. A. U. of C. next month to have the Alberta Big Four declared professional and all players banished by amateur organizations. The recent resignation of Capt. Robert Pearson as president of the Big Four, and the suggestion thrown out in Calgary press that his resignation was tendered because of "personal reasons" and that it was rumored that he himself was not satisfied with the manner in which amateur hockey was being conducted, has caused no little stir in that province. It was following editorial comments in the Calgary press on the situation and criticism of Mickey Mackay for jumping back to the professionals, that the P. C. H. A. reached a decision to appeal to the attorney-general of Alberta to institute a probe. It being asserted that the situation created last season may be even worse this season.

Unfair Competition.
President Patrick, in commenting on his charges filed with the Alberta Government, makes it quite clear that the P. C. H. A. does not resent legitimate competition, but points out that by permitting a league to operate under the guise of an amateur organization, interferes with the P. C. H. A.'s source of supply so far as players are concerned and places hockey on the coast in a precarious condition.

"The Pacific Coast Hockey Association is desirous of encouraging hockey all over the country, but we feel that the operations of an organization, supposedly amateur but in every sense semi-professional, should be halted by the proper authorities. We have depended on the prairie provinces for our players almost since the first year of hockey on the coast, but now we find it impossible to secure them and our source of supply stopped by the promoters of a semi-professional organization operating under the guise of

VICTORIA CLUB BACK IN WINNIPEG HOCKEY AGAIN

Winnipeg, Nov. 10.—The Victoria Hockey Club, which has been in existence for some thirty years, is back in senior hockey again after disbanding some time ago. The Victorias secured the franchise made vacant by the withdrawal of the Selkirk Club from the Manitoba Senior Hockey League.

May Develop Few World Champions

Chicago, Nov. 10.—While Miss Alice M. Hogge, Principal of Webster School, believes in a resort to flat prowess by her pupils, when all other means are tried, she had made every effort to adjust their differences. The story came to light when the mother of the vanquished boy filed complaint against the Principal.

Go to It Boys.
"In spite of the fact that I advocate boys resorting to their fists when they can settle their differences in no other way, I am decidedly opposed to corporal punishment," she said today.
"It has been a custom with me in Webster School to insist on knowing about every contest that takes place between the boys before it is started. I insist on being permitted to pass on the merits of the cause first, and if I fail to adjust the difference I always give my permission for them to box."

FIRST HALF AGAIN DRAWN TO PLAY AGAINST TAIL-ENDERS

Once again the weaker sisters in the senior soccer league are drawn to play against the top-dogs on Saturday afternoon next. The juggling performed by the Victoria and District Football Association at its meeting last night failed to pit together any of the leaders.

The Metropolis team is entertaining the tail-enders, G. W. V. A., and the league leaders, Victoria West, have face Sons of England as their guests, while Yarrows and the Comrades are picked for the third clash.
The games should all swing in favor of the leaders, provided they field their strongest eleven and do not flounder on having a walk away. If Yarrows do not brace themselves and come back after their man-handling last Saturday, the Comrades may slip through with a win. No doubt the shipbuilders have learned a timely lesson and will be out hot-footed after the game.

A Keen Game.
The Mets and Vets will provide a keen game as both teams have fine rushing tactics. The Vets have a good team, but they have trouble in getting

HANNES KOLEHMÄINEN

New York, Nov. 10.—The French Athletic Union has invited Hannes Kolehmainen, winner of the Marathon at Antwerp, to Paris to a couple of match races with the Guillemot, winner of the 5,000 meters at the Olympic games, and a man by all Europeans considered the best long distance runner of this generation. Very likely the pair will meet at 5,000 and 10,000 meters, and although the Finn is the record holder for both distances, the Frenchmen are of the opinion that Guillemot can take the measure of the ex-champion.

GARRISON WILL YET HAVE SPEEDY TEAM

Nine Crack Players Coming With Princess Pats; Ask For a Helping Hand

All those rail-birds who watched the Garrison in their first work-out at the Arena on Monday night and had a good laugh will probably have the laugh back at them before the next full moon comes around. The Tommies may have looked green in their first trip out, but just wait until the re-inforcements are brought up from the war. The Garrison are doing a little bit of camouflage work. On Monday they sent out a few novices to get wised up and everybody jumped at the conclusion that this constituted the Garrison's whiffwind which would battle for the city champions.
But that is just where everybody was led astray. At the regular weekly meeting of the executive of the Victoria Amateur Ice Hockey Association held yesterday afternoon, Major Hendy, president of the Garrison Games Club, explained that he had been advised of the hockey talent in the Princess Pats' draft which is due here in a week or two. There are nine crack players and ten men who are of a mediocre class.

It Will Be a War.
If these players live up to their advance notices the Senators, Elks and Vets are going to know that there is a real war on for the city honors.

Major Hendy intimated that this was the first year since the Garrison had tried ice hockey and he asked that instead of everyone doing a lot of undue criticism that they step down and give the Tommies a hand to help.

The executive of the association drafted a plan for games, practice hours and percentage of the gates which will be taken along when the committee interviews Lester Patrick, manager of the Arena. It is hoped that the league will start early in December.

The executive of the committee further discussed the insurance of players for the season and decided to proceed with plans.

NEW YORK GOING IN FOR PRO ICE HOCKEY

Will Offer Larger Purses to Players in History of Game; Start Next Year

New York, Nov. 10.—Hockey—college, amateur and professional brands—will be a certainty for this city next year. The great indoor sport, which in the past years flourished in the St. Nicholas rink, will be brought back next year under conditions that should assure for New York lovers a rich history in the history of the game. With arrangements completed a few days ago for the building of a splendid arena in the heart of New York in the Spring, "Denny" Scanlan, St. Paul promoter, who represents a syndicate of New Yorkers, of which Gene J. Ward is at the head, this morning returned from Canada with the Canadian franchise for the staging of professional hockey in this country.
Scanlan, in order to obtain the franchise, is under obligation to promote several professional ice hockey matches in this country between the leading Canadian teams and to use the Ice Palace of Philadelphia for the games this winter.
Arrangements were completed recently to foster the professional sport in this country by offering purses bigger than ever before offered for similar contests in this country. In order to introduce the leading Canadian professionals to fans of this city, Scanlan will have a special train run to Philadelphia and return for the first two games, which will be staged in a few weeks. Announcements of the teams to be brought here will be made shortly.

AUSSIE SWIMMERS AT VANCOUVER TO-DAY

Vancouver, Nov. 10.—Members of the Australian Olympic swimming team arrived here yesterday night after having spent several days in visiting the coast cities prior to sailing for home on the S. S. Niagara next week.
They will probably appear in exhibitions at Victoria and Seattle. There is no local tank of sufficient size to permit of the Olympic stars giving a display here.
The team is composed of some of the noble swimmers of the antipodes including F. E. Beaurepaire, the Australian amateur champion, who won this year's English championship, W. Herold, who was fourth in the 100 meters at the Olympic games at Antwerp, and Kieth Kirkland, the amateur champion of Sydney University.

PLAN SUGGESTED TO AVERT BASEBALL WAR

Minor Leaguers Asked Not to Show Partiality to Either Side in Struggle

PEACE IS IN SIGHT

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 10.—Bulletin—Peace is in sight in the major league baseball war. This was the statement of Garry Herrmann, representing the National League, when he appeared today to address the National Association of Minor Leagues. He said an informal meeting of the sixteen club owners of the National League would be held in Chicago Friday.

Practical Man At Head

The first conception of the Lasker plan is that a commission of eminent and distinguished gentlemen, who stand so high in the estimation of the public that the very mention of their names will carry with it an evidence of good faith, be selected to take charge of organized baseball. Do you think these men could come anywhere nearer stamping gambling out of baseball than you men who have been in the game all your lives? We think that the men who are to constitute the supreme court of baseball, or at least a majority of them, should be practical baseball men."

Equal Rights

President Johnson declared that he was in favor of granting the minor leagues equal representation on the proposed new national commission, sharing equal power with American and National Leagues.

Outsiders Not Wanted

The American League executive said the managing of baseball should remain in the hands of men who have given their lives to its development, declaring they were better qualified to clean the sport of its crookedness than anyone outside of the game. He declared his opposition to the Lasker plan and urged the minor leaguers to remain active in the major league fight if they decided not to endorse the proposal to appoint a representative committee in an effort to bring about harmony.

WHY RESIGNATIONS WERE HANDED IN

Official Explanation of Retirement of Board of Commerce Commissioners

At the request of the late Commissioners of the Board of Commerce, The Times to-day publishes its letters of resignation, which were held back for official Cabinet release of their publication.

They are as follows:
22nd October 1920
Right Honourable Arthur Meighen,
P.C., M.P.

Prime Minister, Ottawa.

Sir:—With respect to Part II of "The Combines and Fair Prices Act, 1919" which has to do with profit control, I have for some time past had this aspect of the Board's activities under my consideration. The jurisdiction of the Board in this respect has been repeatedly questioned, and in view of the divergence of opinion of the Judges of the Supreme Court it is apparently open to grave doubt. It has been brought prominently before public attention as a result of the decision by Council of the recent sugar order on the advice of the Minister of Justice, on the ground that the Board lacked jurisdiction to make it. As this order for the most part followed along the lines of similar orders by the former Commissioners, it is possible that many of these are invalid for the same reason.

Further, it may still be considered a moot point whether prices can be equitably and effectively regulated by such a Board in normal times which we are now approaching, or whether it is not better to leave them to be adjusted by the Economic law of supply and demand. I do not wish to be understood as stating that the Board has not served a useful purpose in the past; such was far from being the case, for example, apart from investigations and control it served as a very salutary deterrent to profiteers, but I have serious doubts of the ability of the Board to fulfil any useful purpose in the future.

Furthermore, while it would be rash to speak with any degree of precision, it is possible that the upper trend of prices has come to an end, and if such should be the case, the usefulness of the Board will so far as profit control is concerned be almost extinguished.

The Sugar Order.

As the sugar order above mentioned has been the subject of so much public criticism, I would ask before closing to be permitted to point out on behalf of my fellow Commissioners and myself that in passing the above order we merely implemented the undertaking of the then Commissioners, such undertaking being set out in an order on the 11th day of June last to which no exception was taken and which reads as follows:—

"The Board will not recognize prices based on replacement value on a rising market. It will be its duty in good time as it hopes to do so carefully protect the trader on a falling market by permitting him to contract his contracts at a profit now carefully protect the consumer in compelling the trader to average costs up."

Then in another part of that order as defining the powers of the Board it says:—

"It will prohibit all refiners from selling to other than wholesalers, it will prohibit wholesalers from buying from other than refiners, it will prohibit speculators from buying or selling at all."

With respect to administration of the combines portion of the Act, it is my conviction that some judicial body should exist to supervise combines but it is doubtful if the present Board of Commerce is necessary to that end alone; a smaller body would in my opinion serve that purpose, e.g., a single judge with right of appeal to a Superior Court.

Entertaining the views expressed, I feel it my duty to forward them to you and, at the same time, beg to tender my resignation as Chief Commissioner.

I have the honour to be, Sir, Your obedient servant,
(signed) W. White.

The Legal Aspect.

Opinion of Mr. C. C. McCaul, K.C., of Edmonton, re Sugar Order, Editor of The Times, Victoria, B. C.

Dear Sir:—In connection with the sugar order of the Board of Commerce, there are some features that appear to me to have been overlooked in the journalistic discussions on the subject.

In common with the overwhelming majority of the public, I entirely approve of the disposition of the matter made by the Governor General in Council (or in other words, "the Government") which permits of free trading in sugar, but it appears to me that this disposition of the matter could only be made by the Governor General in Council; and not by the Board in the first instance.

The Board of Commerce is by statute creating it, a Court of Record; its rulings and decisions are in effect judgments; and the present Chairman and members of the Board found themselves fettered by a former judgment of the Board regulating and restricting prices, with an express rider to the effect that in the event of a slump in prices the Board would protect the refiners, i.e., obviously by just such an order as the one under discussion. In fairness, and as a Court of Record, what else could the Board do?

It speaks well for the independence of the Board that it had the courage to follow and conform to the recorded judgment of its predecessors, knowing that its decision must be the very reverse of popular, and at the same time, seemingly, difficult case, it seems worth while considering whether a Board prepared to exercise its independent judgment on matters within its jurisdiction, undeterred by clamour of the populace on the one hand, or supposed predilections of the Government on the other (even when both conspire to force it to continue to fulfil its function).

Yours truly (signed) C. C. McCaul

A chapter is being added to the theatrical history of Victoria this week which has never been equalled and which only the rarest good fortune can duplicate in the future. "Chu Chin Chow," musical extravaganza super, famous wherever the English-speaking stage exists, is at the Royal Victoria Theatre, where it opened last night before a capacity audience and will continue for the remainder of the week.

When a production has run for more than four years in London and is still playing to capacity business in its fifth year, and has run for a year and three months in New York, its lustre cannot be dimmed. In such a case all the people desire is an assurance that the cast they are invited to see is the one of the original casts.

and in this the producers, F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest, have kept faith with them.

Gorgeous beyond any theatrical creation ever offered on this coast, and of proportions so imposing that it undoubtedly sets a record for a traveling organization, the play will be remembered for its wealth of color, the multiplicity and costliness of its costumes, the finished art of its principal actors, the high quality of its music, the varied and numerous incidents of the plot, the superb staging of the whole and the constantly sustained interest of the three acts, which include a total of thirteen scenes, the whole having been written by Oscar Asche, the musical setting being the work of Frederick Norton.

Scene in Bagdad.

The scene is Bagdad of a thousand years ago and around Abu, a robber shiek, alias "Chu Chin Chow," Kasim Baba, the richest and meanest man in Bagdad; Zahrat-al-Kulub, a desert woman, and Ali Baba, Kasim's brother, there revolve other principal characters, in all twenty-one; in addition to which there are the numerous members of the various groups that from time to time make up the chorus.

Only an Eastern country could have supplied a background for such almost incredible richness and ever-changing color. The costumes throughout the whole play would be enough to engage one's attention even if there were not scores of other details requiring observation at the same time, but it is in the fashion show in the bazaar scene that the creative art of the designer, Mr. Anderson, reaches its highest point. In costuming the twenty-four mannequins, he exhibited a vivid imagination which surpasses even the strangest conceptions of Leon Bakst. Some of the details led to reproductions of styles true to the period.

First comes a girl attired in yellow, with silver spangles sewed like leopard spots on her; then a strange lady with great pantaloons-like wide skirts, wearing bustles which hang below the knee. Then there is a Turkish effect of loose pantaloons and an enormous headpiece which probably at least is four feet in diameter, all of brilliantly colored purple and red. A fantastic effect is found with a mannequin wearing expanded skirts with a projecting tail of pink and silver, which she moves up and down behind her keeping time with the rhythm of the music. Then, after having a number of extravagant costumes are shown, a girl appears wearing such a tight-fitting skirt that it seems almost as though she has been melted and poured into the mould.

Marvels of Coloring.

The Chinese mannequins are a marvel of coloring and design. From the front they appear clad entirely in pale blue, with gold lace and trimmings. One of the girls carries two long feathers. The girls appear at first facing the audience, and then suddenly they turn. The back view is entirely golden, a brilliant and startling contrast of gold against the dark blue background of the screen before which they stand.

An achievement of distinction is the character of Abu Hasan, alias Chu Chin Chow, as portrayed by Henry Lattimer, who makes the robber certain a pivot with respect to centre for all the other characters of the piece to revolve about. Miss Marjorie Wood gives the audience a glimpse of what a desert woman of that far-off time may have been—a fatalist but a creature of most intense passions. As Nur-al-Huda, son of Ali Baba, Roy Cropper has several opportunities to let the audience hear a tenor voice of charming quality, and Marjannah, with whom he is in love, as acted by Miss Elsie Marshall, is a singing slave of very attractive girlishness. Then there is Eugene Cowles, whose splendid bass voice is heard as he moves about as Abdullah, Kasim Baba's steward; and Kasim Baba himself, in the person of Albert Howson, and Ali Baba, a wine bibbler, poor and later wealthy, enacted by Don W. Ferrandus. Alcolom, head wife in Kasim's harem, is an outstanding character as offered by Miss Adelaide Mesmer. Edgar Kiefer, whose share as a cobbler does not come till near the end of the play, has a song which, together with the "Robber Music," is a feature of the fine musical setting.

Must Be Seen Again.

Probably the most prevailing difficulty with "Chu Chin Chow" audiences is the task of grasping the multifarious details as the action proceeds. There is so much to be seen that one feels after coming away that he really ought to attend one or more further performances in order to observe more fully my features to which he was forced to accord the most fleeting attention at his first visit. This wealth of incident, costume and scenery undoghtedly is one of the main contributing factors in the long life of the extravaganza in London.

The theatre last night was filled to capacity and the condition will obtain for the remainder of the week, as all the tickets have been sold.

William Farnum, who is reported to have a long time contract with William Fox, at $50,000 a year, recently had an unusual assignment in Florida while taking scenes for "The Jungle Trail." At a spot about fourteen miles north of Miami, in Arch Creek, there is a natural stone bridge crossing the Brackish River at a height of nearly thirty feet. Mr. Farnum's assignment consisted of having a fight with cannibals on the bank of the river, fleeing to the bridge, making a thirty-foot dive into the river and swimming under water to "safety." This dive in itself probably would have been enough to dampen the ardor of the average actor, but it was made especially thrilling for Farnum because of the information reaching him, quite accidentally, just prior to the dive, that the sluggish river was inhabited by alligators. "The Jungle Trail" will be the feature picture at the Columbia Theatre again to-day.

VARIETY
Edward Connelly, who plays the heroine's father, "Dangerous to Men," the new Viola Dana picture which is at the Variety Theatre all this week, is a veteran of the legitimate stage, where he long played important character roles. He is also remembered for his artistic performance of "Marce Covington," George Kelle's vaudeville "The Jungle Trail" later in pictures. At the same time that he was working in "Dangerous to Men" Director-General Karger, of Metro, had the story of "The Jungle Trail" in which Alice Lake is featured. It was possible for Mr. Connelly to play both parts in pictures which were being screened at the same time as he "died" in an early episode of "Dangerous to Men" and did not appear in the early scenes in "Shore Acres." In "Dangerous to Men" he appears as an eccentric old naturalist whose mind has become slightly deranged through an over-intense career as an explorer. He meets death when on a scientific expedition to Afghanistan.

PRINCESS
To-night at the Princess Theatre "Pollyanna" will be presented by the Mildred Page Players and at this performance of the beautiful play a souvenir photo of Miss Page will be presented to each lady who attends. Miss Page has a most beautiful part in that of the little Glad girl Pollyanna, and the play is one which anyone could ask, the whole nature and theme being of a sunny tone it cannot help but bring joy to the hearts of all who see it. Come and learn to play the glad game. At the Saturday matinee of "Pollyanna" the prizes will be given for the best letter of criticism of "My Own Money," which was last week's play at the Princess. Children get busy and get your letter in early so they will have time to be considered. Remember to-night is souvenir photo night at the Princess and Saturday at the matinee will be the opportunity of getting the prizes for the best letter.

Brief sketches of the leading players in Cecil B. DeMille's Paramount picture, "Something to Think About," to be shown at the Dominion all this week.

Elliott Dexter—Born in Houston, Tex. Went on stage as a young man and played the leads with Marie Dorso. He entered the picture field several years ago and after supporting Alice Brady and Mary Pickford he joined the Cecil B. DeMille staff, appearing in such plays as "We Can't Have Everything," "The Whispering Chorus," "The Girl who Came Back," "The Squaw Man," "Old Wives for New," "Something to Think About," "Gloria Swanson—Born in Chicago, and spent her early years in New York, Key West and Porto Rico. Her career as an actress is confined wholly to motion pictures. She made her debut in an Essanay picture, then went to California and joined the Cecil B. DeMille staff of players. She scored great success by her capable work in "Don't Change Your Husband," "For Better, For Worse," "Male and Female," "Why Change Your Wife?" and she has a novel part in the new DeMille picture, "Something to Think About."

Theodore Roberts—Born in San Francisco in 1881 and went on the stage in 1896. He for many years appeared exclusively in Paramount and Arctart pictures, becoming a popular favorite. One of his most artistic roles was that of the poet in Cecil B. DeMille's "Old Wives for New." His role in "Something to Think About" is said to be the strongest in his screen career.

Monte Blue—Born in Indianapolis in 1890 and educated at Purdue University. Was in vaudeville for two years, then appeared in Griffith, Pathe, Triangle and Arctart pictures. He supported Douglas Fairbanks in, "Wild and Woolly," "The Man From Painted Post," and Mary Pickford in "M'Liss" and "Johanna Enlists." He has been seen in "Everywoman," "Told in the Hills," "Too Much Johnson."

RUSSIAN DANCERS ARE AT PANTAGES
Boris Fridkin's Company Includes Versatile Artists; Other Notable Features

There are six high class acts of vaudeville, each of the potentially a headliner, on the Pantages Theatre bill this week, commencing with the matinee this afternoon. It is an unusually well arranged programme, a wide variety of entertainment being provided so that every taste may be satisfied.

Topping the bill is Boris Fridkin's company of Russian dancers. This talented troupe, seven in number, will present a whirlwind series of native Russian dances and songs of a high order. Russian before the war, and the revolution, was the producer of the world's greatest dancers and the Fridkin company is composed of dancers trained in the famous ballet schools of Petrograd. The act is elaborately staged and costumed.

Fletcher Norton and Violet Horner occupy the second honor position on the bill, and they are artists of wide reputation in the realm of musical comedy. They present an allegorical fantasy of song, and will feature a dance entitled "Inspiration." It is a pretentious production, in which effective stage settings and brilliant costuming play a big part.

The three Moran sisters, Anna, Esther and Gertrude, bring an act of high calibre, and their instrumental music and vocal work are distinctively good. Their act is well arranged and is one of the best musical novelties in vaudeville.

"Tattered Talent" is the title of the offering of Will Morris, the tramp bicyclist. As a pantomime comedian Morris has few equals and he seldom fails to get a laugh at the right moment.

Commander-in-chief of the Army of Fun is the big-sounding title held by Hughie Clark, who has scored exclusive comedy songs and "puts them across" in nice style. He also has a stock of new stories, and his eccentric dancing is a whole show in itself.

Giddy and Giddy are a dare-devil team of acrobats who appear here with a lot of new tricks, including a sensational concert. From the stage to the floor of the audience side of the footlights. They also do some wonderful hand and head balancing, and their rocking chair trick has made them famous all along the circuit.

Another gripping instalment of the Pathe adventure serial "Trailed by Three" concludes the programme.

SELZNICK STAR AT THE ROMANO
Olive Thomas Is Authoress as Well as Leader in "Youthful Folly"

Local theatregoers who have noticed the so-called "official billing" on lithographs and other advertising matter for "Youthful Folly," announced as the attraction at the Romano Theatre, now showing, may have been struck with the fact that Olive Thomas, well-known Selznick star, not only plays the leading role in the production, but is also the accredited author of the story.

While there is no particular reason why any photoplay star should not be possessed of sufficient creative and literary ability to turn out at least an occasional story suitable for her own use on the screen, it will be readily agreed that it is not often that the talent to create a dramatic plot and the talent to satisfactorily play the leading role in it are not often found in the same personality.

Dominion Raynsters

All-Purpose Weather Coats

The Rain Can't Get Through
To look at them, you would never know that "DOMINION RAYNSTERS" would shed water like a duck's back. They are so stylish and attractive—just like any other smartly tailored cloth coat.

The difference is in the rubber inner lining in "DOMINION RAYNSTERS". Thin layers of rubber are built right into the texture of the cloth, so that the whole coat, even to the seams, is absolutely waterproof.

"DOMINION RAYNSTERS" are all-purpose weather coats—light and easy—comfortable and dressy on cool, clear days—complete protection against dampness and driving rain.

They are made in a wide variety of styles and patterns for men, women, boys and girls and sold at popular prices.

Each coat carries the RAYNSTER label, the guarantee of satisfaction, backed by the largest rubber organization in Canada.

pictures which were considered for the star's new vehicle.

Miss Thomas is a keen student of the business in which she is engaged. She sees lots of motion pictures and has the habit of analyzing them critically, not only as to the action of the players but also as to the human appeal of the picture plays' plots. Miss Thomas is satisfied that "Youthful Folly" is a close approximation of what any modern photoplay ought to be if it is to hold the interest of the average motion picture audience.

SPLENDID SUPPORT FOR THE GOVERNMENT

Surveying the present Government's policies for the past year, the Premier referred to the land settlement legislation, which he had had successfully beaten the speculation to a rout...

The Bowser administration said it had done something toward land settlement. It had, said the Premier, set aside the belongings of the speculators for the use of returned soldiers.

Great works of drainage, dyking and irrigation had been undertaken and accomplished with success and in some instances fruit growers of Okanagan districts had been saved from ruin when irrigation systems broke down by government financial assistance...

The Premier then stated that the Government proposed to do with the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. He proposed to go to the federal government declaring the road to be inter-provincial in character and of benefit to Alberta and Saskatchewan...

Mr. Bowser says he will build the road. I don't believe the people of this province will ever trust him that far or give him the chance, said the Premier.

To Investigate Route. It was the government's intention to have engineers in the field to investigate routes to the eastern boundary of the province from Prince George, for it was realized that failing in efforts to be rid of the railroad, the government would have to complete it. The recent expenditure required for hasty completion had not been sanctioned, he said, because no government could afford to start the rest of the country for the purpose of completing the Pacific Great Eastern.

Roads and highways, which would serve industrial and productive areas would receive prior consideration to strictly tourist highways, added the Premier.

Notwithstanding criticism toward himself in connection with the trans-provincial highway, the government would continue putting in roads to fill these gaps where most people could be benefited for least expenditure.

"We are going to build that trans-provincial highway—as we can afford to do so," said the Premier.

Under the Oliver Government British Columbia Leads All Provinces in Legislation for the Benefit of Returned Soldiers!

WHILE the care of returned soldiers is primarily the business of the Dominion Government, the Liberal administration of British Columbia has done more than that of any other Province in the Dominion to assist in the settlement of the problems incident to their return to civil life.

SOME THINGS THE LIBERAL GOVERNMENT ADMINISTRATION HAS DONE TO ASSIST THE RETURN OF THE SOLDIER TO CIVIL LIFE AND INDEPENDENCE ARE:

- It re-organized the Returned Soldiers' Aid Commission, which has spent $120,000 in the past four years in providing relief, besides helping with advances on war service gratuities to 1,335 men. Prepared and submitted the Soldier Housing Scheme to the Government at Ottawa. Under the Better Housing Act, secured $1,351,521.59 from the Federal Government as loans to soldiers for the erection of homes, besides supplying free home-sites on Government lands.

Obviously it is in the interests of all returned men to assist in returning this Liberal administration with a substantial working majority in order that it may continue its good work in the interests of British Columbia veterans.

The Jewish Chronicle, in a dialogue dated 1916, puts the case for the profiteers in a way which should make them feel contented with their lot. Thus: "What was the War?" "It was a great enterprise in which the whole nation took part. One section, for the most part those below a certain age, gave themselves to being shattered in health and maimed, many thousands losing their lives. The other section mostly (but by no means invariably) above a certain age, gave themselves to acquiring wealth and riches, and many of them became made for life."

MAY CHANGE ROUTING OF N.Y.K. LINERS

Reports Afloat That Steamships Will Go to Vancouver to Discharge

The report is current here that the trans-Pacific liner of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha fleet may after the New Year make calls at the port of Vancouver, but officials of the company at this port have not been advised of any new routing for the regular liners.

The liner Toyama Maru, it is understood, will go to Vancouver to discharge a large shipment of Japanese mandarins. The fruit season is here and large shipments of Japanese oranges may be expected during the next few months.

The next vessel of the N. Y. K. fleet to arrive on the coast will be the Tajima Maru, which has the first shipment of oranges shipped by the N. Y. K. line this season. It is not known whether the Tajima Maru will go to Vancouver.

Important changes in the operation of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line are predicted by the end of the year, when the ships of this line will be operated without subsidy by the Japanese Government. The existing agreement expires December 31, when the subsidy arrangement will be eliminated.

It is considered certain that the operation of the bill will mean the curtailment of the services to Seattle and San Francisco and other American ports to the benefit of British Columbia.

Sanction has now been granted by the Department of Communications to the Nippon Yusen Kaisha for the raising of the freight rate on the North American line, which will become operative on and after the 1st proximo. As shown in the following tables, the present raising may be described as a readjustment of freights:

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Agrees that plain Bitro-Phosphate helps to build strong nerves and put on firm healthy flesh.

Feed your nerves plenty of phosphate with enough left over to give the blood and bone cells a quicky note, a return to old-time vigor with a power of endurance that will surprise you.

So say two prominent New York physicians. Thinness, weakness and lack of ambition are in most cases due to underfed nerves, and this is so, simply because modern foods are lamentably weak in phosphoric elements.

Over 40 per cent. of the people of America need more phosphate, and about the only way that many thin people can take on more pounds of firm, vigorous flesh is to feed the nerves direct with Bitro-Phosphate, a plain, ordinary organic phosphate that druggists know all about.

To Be Troubled With Constipation

THE CAUSE OF MANY ILLS.

If you do not feel well and go to your family physician, one of the first things he will do is ask you to hold out your tongue. The reason for this is that the condition of the tongue shows the condition of the stomach and bowels.

If you allow your bowels to become constipated you will have bilious attacks, sick headaches, coated tongue, foul breath, heartburn, water brass, etc., and those troublesome piles, which cause so much annoyance and misery.

Keep your bowels moving regularly and you won't be sick.

In Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills you will find just the remedy you require for this purpose. They are purely vegetable and do not gripe, weaken or sicken.

Mr. Jas. S. Harris, Box 934, Halifax, N.S., writes:—"For two years I suffered with constipation. I could not eat anything to cure me, and hardly anything would give me even temporary relief. One day my uncle induced me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and even brought me a box. I tried them without much faith, but I soon found they were doing me good, and after using the second box I was relieved of my troubles."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25¢ a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Freights from Japan to American Pacific Coast.

Freights showing no change include hats and caps, hamp braid lacquerware, raw silk, textiles, matches, rice, and other commodities. Freights are raised on lanterns, parasols, glassware, mats and a few other articles. Besides these, the rate of freight on tinned food will be increased by 15 per cent., cotton textiles by 12 per cent., toys by 13 per cent., provisions by 12 1/2 per cent., fancy mats by 8 per cent., and dry goods by 11 per cent.

NORTH AMERICAN FREIGHTS.

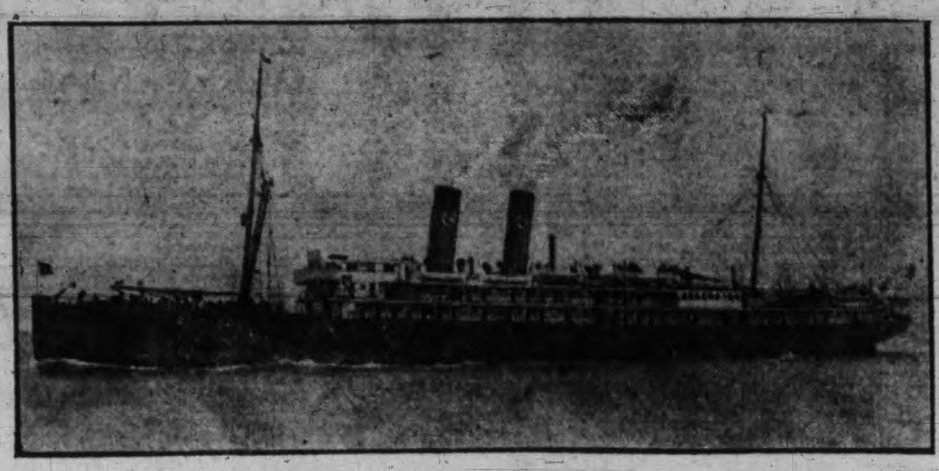

Freights from Japan to the interior of North America.

Freights showing no change include hats and caps, peanuts, seeds, raw silk, rice, silk textiles, dry goods and various other commodities. Freights are raised on lanterns, oil, sweet oranges, wooden goods, and more than twenty other articles. In addition to the above mentioned, tinned food has to pay 21 per cent. higher than the present rate; toys 22 per cent.; provisions 22 per cent.; and fancy mats 50 per cent.

DELAYED AT BUNKERS.

Owing to the fact that the Comox mines were unable to bunker the Blue Funnel liner, Tynaris until today the steamship, according to reports from Vancouver, has been held on the coast longer than was expected.

WILL MAKE PORT ON SCHEDULE TO-MORROW

R. P. Rithet & Co., local agents for the Pacific Steamship Company, announce that the steamship Governor will arrive here from San Francisco on time to-morrow afternoon. On her last southbound trip the Governor broke a propeller and was ten hours late in making the Golden Gate. Repairs were effected promptly and the steamship sailed from San Francisco on time yesterday.

PASSENGER RATES TO BE MAINTAINED

In Fact Increases May Be Necessary, Says P. A. S. Franklin

New York, Nov. 10.—Steamship companies cannot yet afford to reduce passenger rates and may be obliged to increase them, P. A. S. Franklin, president in the International Mercantile Marine Company, declared before sailing for Europe on the steamship Olympic.

Of present plans for American marine expansion Franklin said: "The nation has not yet digested its war-built fleet of merchant ships. Until it does, and until the new merchant marine is privately owned, and can stand on its own feet against the competition of ships under other flags by operation on a sound business basis, any established American steamship company must proceed with caution in ordering the construction of passenger liners."

Another passenger on the Olympic was Clans A. Sprackles, sugar refiner, whose parting words were that sugar had not yet reached the low price level to which it will fall.

Government control of sugar, he said, resulted "in the displacement" of that foodstuff, some parts of the country having more and others less than they needed.

"Prices must go to normal, and by that I mean to pre-war figures," he continued. "This fall finds us with surplus to be sold of 1,250,000 tons. Only half of Europe is able to purchase anything, and the sugar crop must be used in this country."

Owners State That Arctic Vessel Is Frozen in For the Winter

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—The schooner Polar Bear, which is frozen in for the winter in the Kolima River, Siberia, is in no danger, according to reports received by the Alaska Siberian Fur Company, owners of the Polar Bear.

H. R. Cole, of the fur company, denied reports that the vessel was in danger, and said the Polar Bear was safely laid up for the winter.

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 10.—The power schooner Ceran arrived here today from Nome with word of the schooner Polar Bear, caught in the ice 225 miles north of Nome and off the Siberian coast.

For the first time reindeer will be seen smoothly, fog-seaward. Spoke str. set out from Nome as soon as ice sets in the Arctic straits, according to Captain Peterson, of the Herman.

The crew of the Polar Bear have for two months. In case relief does not arrive they can take to the ice and make their way to Siberia after the manner of the crew of the whaler Belvedere crashed in the ice near the same place some time ago.

Irritable Nerves Restored and Health Regained in a Simple Way

The man or woman who is run-down, not feeling up to the mark, perhaps irritable, nervous or sleepless can well afford to learn about the wonderful results the newly discovered blood-food is giving to folks that use it.

There is wonderful power in this new blood-food, and every weak, pallid person can be quickly nourished back to health that uses it as directed.

After each meal, with a sip or two of water, you simply take two little chocolate-coated tablets, sold in all drug stores under the name of "FERRO-ROZOLE."

The effect is noticeable at once. You feel happier, brighter, more contented. That old-time feeling of weariness departs—you forget your "nerves" and no longer get irritable or cross over trifling annoyances.

There is a reason for this change and that reason consists of the fact that Ferro-rozole contains blood-making materials you can get in no other way.

Ferro-rozole makes the blood tinged with new vitality. This ensures lots of nourishment and strength being supplied to every part of the body.

No wonder the eyes brighten and the cheeks radiate color and happiness. With abundance of strength, a keen appetite, good digestion and plenty of sound sleep—all the result of Ferro-rozole—you quickly feel as if life held new charms and pleasures.

SEA FOAM

- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 egg white
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 3 tablespoons Cowan's Cocoa

Method:—Mix sugar, cocoa and water, stir over a gentle heat until sugar is dissolved. Boil until syrup will spin a thread, 27 degrees C, which is slightly below soft ball stage. Add butter and vanilla. Pour slowly, beating all the time into the egg white, which has been beaten until stiff and dry. Beat until mixture will stiffen. "Commercial affairs of to-day" dealing with enormous fields of enterprise, with trade extending over the whole world, with activities entering into the technicalities of scores of sciences and inner details of practice, are demanding more and more, not the detailed information along simple, narrow lines possessed by the specialist, but broad general information which permits of a viewpoint properly prepared for the consideration of the perspective. Such a statement, made by H. Tipper in "The New Business" is introductory to the books grouped here, all dealing with the general aspect of business. Mr. Tipper's book is concerned with the fundamentals of trading and marketing. Advertising is treated in its broadest relations, by an author capable of seeing this side of business with the broad perspective which he so strongly advocates.

The practical studies of a financial man are brought together in "Business Finance" by W. Lough. The book deals with the every day financial problems of private business concerns from the point of view of an organizer or the financial manager of an enterprise. The points made are driven home by numerous illustrations taken from famous failures in commercial history.

The qualities that make a merchant, and the details that spell success are all enumerated in Higginbotham's "Making of a Merchant." The book sets forth sound, practical business methods, as they have been found valuable by one who has reached the summit of commercial success. It will be valued by any man in business, and to the beginner in mercantile affairs it is a veritable guide to fortune.

A simple, truthful description of the structure and life of the modern business world is found in H. C. Adams' "Description of Industry." The author aims to supply an historical or descriptive background for courses in business training. He aims to lead the student to an intelligent appreciation of the forces that control the business world, and to stimulate his faculty of observation by frequent reference to familiar material.

Every business establishment has to make expenditures and promiscuous buying is a serious handicap to success. The methods of properly regulating expenditures are treated by H. B. Twyford in "Purchasing," a standard work in its subject. The economic aspects of purchasing are dealt with, and the present-day methods set forth. Technical government purchasing involves the same essential elements as purchasing for a private business, but the special problems involved are treated by A. G. Thomas in his "Principles of Government Purchasing." This book is comprehensive and should be appreciated by student and man of affairs in public finance and administration. "Purchasing and Employment" is another volume, containing a number of brief and to-the-point articles on purchasing for office or factory, and the organization of the purchasing department.

Often Without Preparation. "It is extraordinary, but true," says one writer, "that business is the only profession which men can enter without previously preparing themselves. This fact probably accounts for failures." The man whose duty it is to safeguard his firm is the credit man. A handbook of practical information on the subject is Aspley's "Credits." The author shows how credits and selling are closely intertwined, and deals with his subject from the point of view of the salesman. "Mercantile Credit," by J. E. Hagerty, is a book for students of commerce, and for those engaged in the many phases of credit work. The theory of credit is considered only in so far as the treatment makes clear the nature, scope and function of mercantile credit. This volume discusses its subject from the business man's point of view. The correct principles and practice of credit management and collections are discussed by Ettinger and Golieb in "Credits and Collections." In this book also, special attention is given to mercantile credit. The volume is especially valuable, since it discusses practical problems.

The credit man who is not constructive is out of date," says another book, "Credits and Collections" by Skinner, White and Kramer. It aims, therefore, at the exposition of constructive methods and policies. It outlines the whole collection problems, giving the principles, and suggesting points of application. E. H. Gardner's "New Collection Methods" is a thorough and reliable book, a systematic treatment of the place of collections in marketing. The book is dedicated to the idea that the credit and collection function is a sales factor of growing importance.

HOGS AND BACON TO BE SCARCE.

Some farmers have been quick to grasp the lesson for 1921 in the sharp decline lately in the number of breeding sows. A canvass of hog breeders in Ontario in the last two weeks shows that the trade in young stock to replenish the supplies on farms as much as 60 to 75 per cent, compared with two years ago. In Eastern and Maritime Provinces also marked reductions have been recorded. Not until every farmer understands that it is best to keep or secure and to breed at once his normal number of

MILEAGE is The One Big Thing That Really Counts

Easy riding means a lot. Speed and gas consumption are worth considering. But the one big thing that really counts in tires is MILEAGE.

In other words, it is the actual cost per mile, per tire—what you pay out for tires in dollars and cents.

sows will conditions begin to be steadied. The importance of a quick recovery cannot be over-emphasized. The great harvest of feed grains now available will largely be disposed of at a loss if not fed to livestock. Prices for hogs to-day compare more favorably with the price of grains than for some time, and the demand exceeds the marketing. Canadian overseas markets demand steady support if they are not to be cut out down. It is already certain that hog prices and consequently bacon prices will remain comparatively high next year. Whatever is done to restore supplies must be done quickly. The breeding season for pigs begins in the first week in November and continues only until about the middle of December. If the opportunity is allowed to slip the recovery in numbers will be so retarded that our present cheap feeds will be still more cheapened, leading to loss,
