

AMOS RICHARDSON FAMILY

AMOS RICHARDSON

— OF —

BOSTON AND STONINGTON,

WITH A CONTRIBUTION TO THE
HISTORY OF HIS DESCENDANTS AND THE ALLIED FAMILIES OF GILBERT,
EDWARDS, YARRINGTON, AND RUST.

Every man is a bundle of his ancestors—EMERSON.

BY

ROSELL L. RICHARDSON.

Second Edition.

PUBLISHED BY THE AUTHOR.
NEW YORK, 1906.

257
250
1906

L. Middleditch Co., Printers, 65 to 67 Duane St.
New York.

20450
-7

21

CONTENTS.

THE NAME—Richardson.....	6
FIRST GENERATION—Amos Richardson.....	7-25
SECOND GENERATION—Stephen Richardson and descendants, except in the line of his son Jonathan.....	26-31
THIRD GENERATION—Jonathan Richardson and descendants, except in the line of his son Amos.....	32-39
FOURTH GENERATION—Amos Richardson and descendants, except in the line of his son Lemuel.....	40-65
FIFTH GENERATION—Lemuel Richardson and descendants, except in the line of his son Humphrey.....	66-92
SIXTH GENERATION—Humphrey Richardson and descendants, except in the line of his son Humphrey..	93-95
SEVENTH GENERATION—Humphrey Richardson and descendants, except in the line of his son Milo A.....	96-109
EIGHTH GENERATION—Milo A. Richardson and his descendants...	110-116
APPENDIX A—The Jonathan Gilbert Family.....	117-120
APPENDIX B—The Edwards Family of Hartford.....	121-125
APPENDIX C—The Yarrington Family of New England.....	126-128
APPENDIX D—The Rust Family of New England.....	129-131
INDEX.....	132

PREFACE.

I AM fond of historical research and have found in it a restful means of recreation since I first came to New York City, as a student, in 1871. In tracing out my ancestry and that of many of my friends I have had no intention until recently of publishing any of it. My reasons for doing so are twofold: first, I have collected so much data during the thirty-four years since I commenced that it will gratify me to have it placed within the reach of others; second, there is no satisfactory account of Amos Richardson and his descendants. "The Richardson Memorial," written by the Rev. John Adams Vinton, is an excellent genealogy and was a great aid to me, but the dozen pages in it giving the "Posterity of Amos Richardson" were hastily prepared after the Memorial was partly printed and contain many errors and important omissions.

I have gleaned information from so many sources that I cannot mention all who have kindly assisted me. I am indebted to Mrs. Henry F. (Susan Whitney) Dimock of New York and South Coventry for invaluable aid, without which this work would never have been written. Her privately printed records of Coventry placed a flood of information in my hands, and in addition I have had the benefit of her private memoranda taken from town records and tomb-stone inscriptions.

A complete list of others who have assisted me would certainly include ex-Speaker Winthrop,* and his son, Robert C. Winthrop, Jr.,* of Boston; Judge Richard A. Wheeler,* and his daughter, Miss Grace D. Wheeler of Stonington; Roswell Richardson* of Waitsfield, Vt.; Newton Reed,* author of the "History of Amenia," and his daughter, Miss Mary H. Reed; Hon. Roderiek Richardson* of Boston; Miss Helen Wilkinson Reynolds of Poughkeepsie; Frank Lorenzo Hamilton of Meriden, Conn.; Mrs. Irving Robinson of Elizabethtown, N. C.; Judge Gilbert Collins of Jersey City; John L. Richardson of *Deceased.

Bloomsburgh, Pa.; Dr. George Denison Stanton of Stonington; Reuben H. Smith, editor of the Thomaston (Conn.) Express; Major Azel Ames of Wakefield, Mass.; Miss Charlotte S. Mann of New York; and Mrs. Frank L. Howe of Northfield, Vt.

To these and many others I tender most hearty thanks. My effort I trust may lead some one more competent than I to write a full genealogy of the family.

Undoubtedly some will be disappointed because I have not given more data outside of my own direct line. This I could not do, as it involved more work and expense than I was able to undertake.

This account is marked second edition because a year ago the first three generations were put in type and a hundred copies printed and circulated to assist in getting further information. Important additions and corrections have since been made.

R. L. RICHARDSON.

403 West 126th Street,
New York.

THE NAME—RICHARDSON.

ACCORDING to Camden's "Remains," Richard the Little, son of Lord Belward, soon after the Norman conquest had a son called John Richard-son, taking his father's name with the addition of son for his surname. "Hence came the name and family of Richardson." This is quoted in the "Richardson Memorial," and gives color to the erroneous supposition that the different families by the name of Richardson have descended from a common ancestor by that name.

Nor does it add much to our knowledge to know that Richard was a Norman name. At the time that surnames came into use in England about the thirteenth or fourteenth century, Richard was a common Christian name among all classes. As Richard Grant White states, "the conquerors' language yielded to the strength and the foothold of the English speech, but their names were diffused all over England, and within less than a century and a half had almost wholly driven the English names out of the country." Charles W. Bardsley, an English authority on names, says, "The Norman list was really a small one but it took possession of the whole of England. * * * *
Various methods to secure a personality arose. The surname was adopted and there were John Atte-wood, John the Wheelwright, John the Bigg, and John Richard's son in every community. Among the middle and lower classes these did not become hereditary till so late as 1450 or 1500."

Next to John and William, Richard was one of the names most frequently used during the four hundred years preceding the Reformation, and presumably hundreds of Richardson families derived their name from ancestors who had been christened Richard, but had no connection with each other.

In Burke's "General Armory" for 1844 is given a description of the arms of twenty-one different Richardson families, but it is not known that any of the early settlers by that name, in America, had the right to use arms.

AMOS RICHARDSON.

THERE is nothing known about Amos Richardson prior to May 22, 1639. On that date he was a witness at Boston with Stephen Winthrop of a deed from Governor Winthrop to Thomas Purchase. He was born probably about 1623, as the Boston Court Archives have his affidavit when he was "aged forty years or thereabouts." This is without date, but there was one by Mary Harmon, June 11, 1663, for the same case. The Genealogical Dictionary, by the late James Savage, says, "Amos Richardson of Boston, merchant tailor, perhaps one of that great London guild." "A man of great enterprise and good estate." "A good letter from him to Fitz John Winthrop at Cardross in Scotland, written September 13, 1659, signed Amos Richardson, was given to me."

Mr. Savage must have learned some things about him which are now unknown; at least the letter referred to cannot be found.

In some of the Winthrop family letters he is described by his Christian name only.*

*From Lucy Downing (wife of Emanuel Downing and sister of John Winthrop, the elder) at Salem to John Winthrop, Jr., at New London, Dec. 17th, 1648.

"I then writ to Amos to get the butcher to pay my sonn Stoder 3 pounds ten in peas and would pay William but Amos could not preuayle."

From Governor John Winthrop at Boston to John Winthrop, Jr., at Hartford, Feb'y. 3rd, 1649. "You wrote to Amos about prices of beife and pork." "I think he will write to you not to send any as it will not yield above 3d the pound at most."

From Adam Winthrop at Boston to John Winthrop, Jr., at New London, May 3rd, 1649.

"According to your desire I haue lett the orchard to Amos and Goodman Gridley" * * * "Amosse has bought a maid servant for you, if you haue occation for one. She is for 4 yeers, & is to be paid for hir time."

He was closely connected with the Winthrop family for many years, acting under a power of attorney for Stephen while the latter was in England, being associated with Dean as one of the proprietors of Groton, and looking after many business matters for Mrs. Downing. He was the agent for Governor John Winthrop, the younger, and with him gave credit to Samuel Winthrop, of St. Christophers, in the West Indies.* He also acted for Capt. Wait Winthrop as umpire in a mill dispute.

In addition to carrying on the business of merchant tailor, he soon became a general trader throughout the colonies, and, with his own vessels, to the West Indies. He acquired large tracts of land, probably as many as five thousand acres, at Stonington, New London, and in the Narragansett country.

During the early history of Massachusetts there were no practicing lawyers and a number of business men acted as attorneys. It is stated that Amos Richardson was one of the three most active attorneys in the law courts during the life of the Massachusetts colony.

On July 6, 1642, he bought a house and lot, being an acre, more or less, of George Bromer (late purchased of James Stokes), for seventeen pounds. Stephen Winthrop and John Tinker were witnesses of the deed. The land was situated on

*Letters from Samuel Winthrop to John Winthrop, Jr.

"St. Xtophers, Sept. 8th 1657."

"I am infinitely ingaged to yor self & Mr. Richardson, & so sensible thereof that I will not call any thing of wt God hath lent mee mine untill I haue to ye utmost farthing discharged that ingagement."

"Antigua, Nov. 8th, 1663. As to Mr. Richardsons debts here, I have had much trouble with it; & last year by seurall discompts & changes, I brought ye debt into my hands." "It was ye 1 Aug. 1662. "Since wch here hath been no conneyance, nor I could not send a letter nor any relief to my children." "It troubles me much he hath it not."

"My last to him was 27th Aug. last: in wch I begged of him to order some vessell to call for it about June next, for we make sugr only in ye spring & summer; after July none."

"Sept. 1664. I haue here reddey for Mr. Wharton 20 odde thousand pounds of sugr for Mr. Richardson & to supply my sonnes. I expect his catch from Barbadoes every day. I wish she were well gone wth itt, that Mr. Richardson might rayle no more at me. I hope when I haue stopt his mouth full of interest & allowance between money and country pay (though mine hath all bin mony pay to him all along) that he will hold his peace."

what is now the north side of Summer Street, where Hawley Street has been cut through. It was then a rear lot with no street connection; Summer Street not being laid out until 1645.

A Commission was appointed September 15, 1645, "to lay out a new way through the gardens towards the wind-mill." "To begin between Nicholas Parker's house and Robert Reynolds's garden (on Washington Street) and go forth between Amos Richardson's and John Palmer's house."

In 1683 Hawley Street was called Richardson's lane.*

This was his home for more than twenty years and probably until he moved to Stonington (about 1663); here all of his children were born. During the next fifty years Summer Street became one of the finest residential streets in Boston; adjoining the site of Amos Richardson's home the first Trinity Church was erected.

On March 22, 1647, he purchased two acres from Francis Smith, fronting on the Common at what is now the southeast corner of Tremont and Winter Streets. He owned other property in Boston, some of it near the Winthrop dock. Capt. James Johnson and Peter Oliver were partners with him in some of this wharf property.

On June 20, 1661, Col. Stephen Winthrop deeded to him the northeast corner of Governor Winthrop's home lot; it does not appear in the deed what the consideration was. Emanuel Downing was one of the witnesses. This lot was about 24 feet, on Washington Street, by 54, on Spring Lane, and adjoined the Colonel's house and land. The remainder of the Winthrop estate subsequently became the property of Old South Church, on the southwest corner of which the present historic "Old South" was erected in 1729.

In 1679 he gave this lot to his daughter Sarah, and her husband, Timothy Clarke. It was then described as "All my Messuage or Tenement late in the tenure & occupation of Sarah Pickering widdow decd."

He also obtained a number of grants of land, very early in the settlement, at Pequot. The New London town records show the following: "Memorandum for town meeting Sept. 20, 1651, Amos Richardson is to have a lot."

*Suffolk Deeds, Vol. xiii—434

Caulkin's History states that he was from Boston and had commercial dealings with the planters and that instead of taking up a new lot he purchased that of Richard Post on Post Hill. "Aug. 9, 1653. House lot to Amos Richardson's brother, the millwright (afterwards called brother-in-law)."

"He had subsequently a grant of a large farm east of the river under the same vague denomination: he has not been identified."

"Two necks of land extending into the Sound, one called 'a pyne neck,' with a broad cove between them, was granted to Isaac Willey and by him sold to Amos Richardson."

"Still another containing several hundred acres of land and separated from Hugh Caulkin's land by a brook called Mistuxet, was laid out to Amos Richardson and his brother in 1653."*

Part of this division was known by the Indian name of "Quonaduek."

In October, 1661, Antipas Newman, of Wenham, sold him a large tract of land, called Caulkin's Neck, bounded by the above Quonaduek farm on the East, Caulkin's brook West, Capt. George Denison's North, and South by the Sea.

Pequot, now New London, embraced the present town of Stonington, where the last three of the above described grants were located.

The deed of the Indian sachem Nealewort for a part of this land was dated August 26, 1658, and is recorded at Stonington. It is described as "a tract of land called Quinabogue lying and being near to the country of the Late Pequed Indians for and in consideration of the great Love and affection I beare unto Amos Richardson of Boston in the Mass. Colony, Englishman. * * * contain by measure one English mile and half square on each side of that River called Quinabogue River next Adjoining to ye land or farme granted to John Winthrop Esq. Governor of the English Colony on Connecticut River northward of the said farme and is called by the name of Nayumseut and Quadueca-tuck."

*Abigail Richardson married John Marrett at Boston, on July 20, 1654, and they had a son Amos, but that was a year too late for the conjecture that he might have been the brother-in-law referred to. Amos was then quite an uncommon name in New England.

Wheeler's "History of Stonington" locates this property as "the land lying between Stonington Harbor, Lambert's Cove and Stony Brook on the east, Fisher's Island Sound on the south, and Quiambaug Cove on the west up to a point, from which a direct line easterly passing about thirty rods south of the residence of Mr. Henry M. Palmer to Stony Brook, constituted the north boundary line of said tract of land."

The family name of Mary, wife of Amos Richardson, is unknown; he did not, however, have a second wife, as stated in the "Richardson Memorial." It is probable that they were married in 1642, the year that he purchased his house and garden.

It is conjectured that the brother-in-law referred to above was Richard Smith, of Lancaster, a "mill-wright," whose first wife Mary died with her infant March 27, 1654, and who married, on the 10th of the following August, Joanna Quarles at Boston.

It is quite certain that John and Mary Smith, who are claimed to have been the parents of Richard were not the parents of Amos Richardson's wife.

They had a daughter Alice, however, who probably became the second wife of John Tinker, a man very closely associated with Amos Richardson.

He named one of his sons Amos and the inventory of John Tinker's estate* shows that a farm of 240 acres and other property had been deeded to Mr. Richardson for the use of John, Mary and Amos, children of John Tinker.

In 1656 the eight proprietors of Groton included this Richard Smith, with Dean Winthrop, John Tinker and Amos Richardson. Soon after this he moved to Lyme, Conn., where he was a deputy in 1678-9.

His children were Richard (probably by his first wife), John, born 1655, Francis, 1657, James, Elizabeth, who married John Lee. He had a grand-son named Quarles Smith, and the Lyme records mention two Roland grand-sons.

Mary Smith died in 1659 and her husband in July, 1669. In May prior to his death John Smith gave all of his estate to his son-in-law, John Moore, in consideration for support; his will mentions only four children—John, Richard, Ann and Alice. There were so many John and Richard Smiths that it is very difficult to untangle their history. The Diary of Thomas Minor, of Stonington, refers to Amos Richardson and his family more than eighty times. On October 29, 1660, he says, “carried the firkin of butter to Mr. Smith for Amos.” November 2, 1660, “I weighed Amos his firkin of butter at Mr. Smith’s.” The following receipt for a horse delivered in the presence of Thomas Minor, Jr., and Ephriam Minor is also found in the Diary: “Delivered unto poor man mine (torn) A horse that he bout of mister Richinsoone and by his appointment and order a horse a chestnut Culer with a blase in his face.” * * * “I Say by mee delivered this 14 day of aguste 1661 with my hand Richard Smith.” Mr. Richardson at this time lived in Boston.

*Manwaring's "Hartford Probate Records" Vol. 1.—244.

There was also a James Smith at Rehoboth, and on September 7, 1653, Amos Richardson was appointed administrator of his estate. This was a month after the lot referred to was granted at New London. Nothing further is known about him; but he may have been a brother of Richard.

Another Richard Smith was associated with Richardson and Tinker in the Atherton Company. He was born in Gloucestershire in 1596 and died at Wickford, R. I., in 1666; he established a trading house there in 1637 and was a man of note. He had two sons—Richard, who died without issue in 1692, and James, who died unmarried in 1664.

The Salem Court records show that on October 14, 1656, Major John Hawthorne and Amos Richardson were plaintiffs in a law suit against John Divan, which was adjourned to the next General Court. That is all that is known about it; but they must have had a joint interest in some property.

On March 8, 1662, Edward Hutchinson, William Hudson and Amos Richardson were sent to Rhode Island with a letter from Massachusetts to settle troubles in the Pequot country. They could not have been well received, for two years later the Rhode Island General Assembly denounced them as intruders.

Amos Richardson probably moved to Stonington, Conn., about 1663, but also retained a residence in Boston for a number of years.

His name appears in the list of inhabitants of Narragansett in July, 1663, and of Wickford in May, 1668; but while he had landed interests there it is evident that he never had an actual residence in Rhode Island.

The Diary of Thomas Minor notes, under June 19, 1661, that Mr. Richardson's house was raised and on June 22, 1663, that his son was to finish it that day.

Amos Richardson was one of the most active members of the so-called Atherton Company later called the Narragansett Company, and he must have taken a leading part in the organization of it. This is evident from the following letter:

BOSTON, July 9, 1659.

To the much-honored John Winthrop, Esq.,

Governor of Connecticut Colony, at Hartford, this present:

HONORED SIR,—After my service presented unto yourself and Mrs. Winthrop, and all yours for whose absence I was troubled that I did so unhappily to delay one day too long in my coming to New London, so that I could not speak with you there, I had thoughts to come up to Hartford; but the weather being so hot, I darest neither venture myself nor my horse. Sir, you may remember, when I spoke with you last at New London, I gave you a hint of my intents concerning the Narragansett country, which business, as I conceive, is fully effected with the chief sachem.

The quantity, as I judge, is twelve mile alongst in Narragansett Bay. The trading-house being in the middle, it judged to be the only place in the country for a plantation. There are at present seven purchasers besides yourself. The purchase hath cost six score pound. Many there is that would willingly join in it; but we shall do nothing before we speak with you, yourself being mentioned first in the purchase.

Those that are concerned in it is Major Adderton, Mr. Smith and his son, Lieut. Hudson, Captain Hutchinson, Mr. Tinker and myself. But if this come once to be settled, it will make Quinnebawge of greater value.

As concerning our friends at Wrennam, Mr. Newman was here the last week; but Mr. Mygate hath been there since, who can inform you concerning their health. As for news I have got not any at present, only things are pretty sad in regard of old Mr. Duncome in respect of his last losses disenable him of satisfying his creditors. They now coming upon him foreeth him to leave off his dealings, and I doubt his son in the same condition; so by this we may see the uncertainty of these outward things. Thus I rest yours to command,

AMOS RICHARDSON.

Sir, I would entreat you to remember my service to Mr. Stone.

The grant to the Atherton Company was in the present town of North Kingston, R. I., in the Narragansett territory which was claimed by Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island, and the disputed claims to ownership were not settled for more than fifty years.

Between the colonies of Connecticut and Rhode Island a bitter controversy was carried on which at times nearly resulted in open warfare. Mr. Richardson had other large landed interests in the disputed territory, and was very active in pressing the claims of Connecticut, probably more so than any other man in the colony.

Major John Mason, the noted Indian fighter, seems to have opposed the action of his colony, probably on account of his friendship for Roger Williams. This so exasperated Amos Richardson that he publicly denounced him as a traitor to the colony.

In 1670 Mason sued him for defamation of character and appealed to the General Court for the appointment of a committee to investigate the charge. He secured a judgment for 100 pounds damages in the County Court, but the case was appealed and before further action Mason died, which ended the matter.

In 1677, Amos Richardson sold 180 acres of land situated on the east side of the Pawtucket River, to Thomas Wells, who agreed in payment to build a vessel of fifty tons. This land was located in the disputed territory, and in 1679 Wells refused to fulfil his contract until Mr. Richardson should make good the title to the land.

In March, 1680, suit was brought against Wells for 300 pounds damages and he was arrested at Westerly by Stephen Richardson, the plaintiff's son, a constable from Stonington.

Early in July following Stephen Richardson was seized at his home by warrant of Governor Sanford of Rhode Island for making this arrest, and carried to Newport. A sharp letter from the Connecticut Council followed, demanding his release and for peace sake agreeing not to meddle on the east side of Pawtucket River till the matter was decided in England.

The Governor replied, giving the reason for the arrest and retaining the prisoner for trial. The Council issued a formal protest against the conduct of Rhode Island and in retaliation caused the arrest of Joseph Clarke, of Westerly, on July 21.

Stephen Richardson was held by the Rhode Island authorities for about three months and in October released. A full account of this affair is given in Connecticut Colonial Records for 1687, pages 286-291.

Amos Richardson was not a member of the church, either in Boston or Stonington, and that is probably the reason for his not being made a freeman until May, 1665. His wife united with the First Church in Boston, December 26, 1647, when her second child, John, was 28 days of age. The celebrated John Cotton was the minister at this time, and all of her children were baptized by him, in her right. At Stonington she was an original member of the church and attended the first communion service September 10, 1674.

Amos Richardson appears to have been a religious man; he educated his eldest son for the ministry at Harvard College. When this son was married he was so pleased that he gave him a farm of a thousand acres at Stonington.

The following instrument was signed and recorded at Boston by Amos Richardson, October 12, 1673. "This may certify to whom it may concern that Whereas (by the providence of God) my oldest son, John Richardson, hath made his choice of a wife with my approbation and suddenly intends marriage, I therefore thought good to signify unto him and to all whom it may concern that for his future comfortable subsistence. I do hereby under my hand declare that after my decease and my wife, yt all that farm called Quana duck farm which now I live upon with all the appurtenances of houses and land and commonage, shall belong to my son, John Richardson, aforesaid to be to him and his heirs forever, provided I do possess of it. I do further engage in the meantime that I will not any way dispose of said farm except it be for the settling of an estate upon my son ye said John Richardson to his acceptance in some other place, as witness my hand."

In both of the published letters from him to Governor Winthrop at Hartford he sends his regards to the Rev. Samuel Stone. For a number of years they had no way of heating the church at Stonington, and during the winter months the Sunday services and other church meetings were often held at the residence of Amos Richardson, situated a little east of the meeting house and probably a large house.*

John Gore of Roxbury, by his will in 1657, appoints John Pierpont, Phillip Eliot, and Amos Richardson executors, and calls them "my beloved brotheren."

Amos Richardson was a man of great force of character and of untiring energy. He had a number of controversies, but there is nothing to show that he was unreasonable in enforcing his rights.

He was a deputy from Stonington to the Connecticut General Court from 1676 to 1681 and was honored with other public offices. It is clear that he was held in great esteem by the Winthrop family. The following letter was from Governor John Winthrop, the younger:

(Hartford), Sept. 25, 1673.

Loving Friend; Mr. Amos Richardson.—Mr. Jonathan Gilbert spake to me of your desires of accommodatng you some land, neer the river of Pacatuck adioyng to your land there, for the convenience of your son, who married his daughter, for setting his house there. I though fitt therefore to certify you heerby that I shall willingly, and freely accommodate you therein, according to such right or interest as I have therein in resignation thereof to yourselfe: and therefore you may goe on in yt building, for your son there as is intended, not doubting of any kindnesse yt I can doe for your convenience therein. The oportunity is hasted, and therefore shall only add my loving remembrance to yourselfe & your wife, with your son & daughters, & am

Your assured friend,

J. WINTHROP.

*Letter from Wait Winthrop to Fitz-John Winthrop.

Boston, Jan'y. 30, 1687.

"Just now he (Mr. Jonathan Smellows) tells me he is advised to see Mr. Richardsons farme." "It may be the convenience of the housing there may invite him."

Fitz-John Winthrop at New London, (month torn), 7th, 1673, (perhaps Oct. 7), to Governor Winthrop at Hartford.

"The enclosed is a copy of the record of the grant by the townsmen for the piece of land and priuileges of Pacatack riuer, w'ch Mr. R. told me you ordered me to send vp. I suppose the designe is to lay it to some land w'ch he intends to giue his son neare the same place. I suppose it is the piece [of] land w'ch the most desire, being a very fine plane and I believe may deserue a little consideration (if you please to think fit) before you [dis]pose of it."

Lucy Downing, at East Hatlie (England), Feb'y. 15th, 1663, to John Winthrop, Jr., at his lodgings in Coleman Street, London.

"If y'r occasions shall draw you to Boston, I pray you commend my love and service to my sister Norton, to Mr. Endicott & his lady, to honest Mr. Richardson & his wife, and to all such who shall enquire of mee."

Christopher Gardynier at Boston, July 2, 1656, to John Winthrop, Jr., at Pequitt:

Sir:—"I cannott but returne you most humble thanks for yr favours and civilities both in yr usage of us your selfe, and in yr recomendation of us to honest Mr. Richardson, who has indeed expressed much kindness to us and as becomes one who does much honour you."

Lucy Downing, Edenb., (Scotland), Feb'y 23, 1658-9, to Fitz-John Winthrop, at Cardrosse, (Scotland).

Dear Nephew:—"I have recd a let'r from Mr. Richeson, dated the 27 Decemb'r last, and one inclosed to yo'r selfe alsoe, mentioneing that yo'r father and all our friends there were then in good health; alsoe that they had foure moneths of much raigne, which had occasioned great prejudice to their corne, and scarsity of hay, and that there was gene'lly much sicknes and mortallity, but the begining of winter was very cold & frosty; and what further was of particular concerne to my owne busines, and that yo'r eld'st sister is married to one Mr. Newman, a minister whom they judge to be a very good match for her, but I suppose you will have in yo'r owne more perticularly."

Lucy Downing, Edinburgh, (Scotland), March 27, 1658 to John Winthrop, Jr.

Sr:—"I thank you much for your great care of my troublesome small business, and I question not but Mr. Richardsson hath done his best, but knowing the difficulty of New England, I marvell not at the delay, but it seemes things were not fully perfected betuxt the merchant and him, but I shall waite his further intelligence."

Lucy Downing, East Hatlie, April 20th, 1662, to John Winthrop, Jr., at his lodgings in Colman Street, London.

I pray present my servis to my neece your wife, and to all yours, with you, and ellswhear, and my servis to my nephewe, Dean Winthrop and his wife when you write, and to Mr. Amos Richardson. The letter you sent was a kinde letter from him, but he mentions nothing of hopes to mende my bargin."

William Cheseborough, who died in June, 1667, by his will speaks of Rev. James Noyes and Amos Richardson as "my truly and well-beloved friends."

A large part of the collection of manuscripts known as the "Winthrop Papers" has never been printed. They belong to the estate of the late Robert C. Winthrop, Jr., of Boston, who died on June 5, 1905, leaving them by his will to the Massachusetts Historical Society. In 1895 Mr. Winthrop gave the author the following information concerning the letters of Amos Richardson in this collection: "In looking through the unpublished MSS in my possession I find (if I have counted correctly) fifty-one letters of Amos Richardson. A number of them are without date and some are badly torn. Of those bearing dates, the earliest is November 10, 1648, the latest October 14, 1674.

"They chiefly relate to matters of business, either business in which the writer was acting for members of the Winthrop family or business in which he was interested with them. He appears to have been a person in whom Governor John Winthrop, the younger, had great confidence. So far as I have found time to partially decipher them I should say that reference to public affairs are few in comparison and I have not happened to notice a single allusion to the writer's family.

"The letter of September 13, 1659, mentioned by Mr. Savage, is not among them. There is a memorandum 'one taken out' in my father's hand, but it evidently refers to the one he gave you.

"To thoroughly decipher the whole fifty-one letters would be the work of an expert with a magnifying glass for many days, and I could not undertake it nor could I at present suffer anyone else to do so.

"In addition there is one letter from Mary Richardson, dated February 18, 1672, and four from Rev. John Richardson, of Newbury, 1677-1693."

In 1878, the Hon. Robert C. Winthrop presented the author of this sketch with an original letter from this collection. It was written to Governor John Winthrop, the younger, at Hartford, and indorsed on the back with the name of the writer, by Governor Winthrop. The writing is still plain and legible.

BOSTON, February, day the 2, 1659.

Hounoured Sir, after my service presented to you and M^s Winthrop, by this you may be pleased to understand I have received yours by Edward Messenger, by which we understand of your good health, for which we rejoice.

Sir, here is a ship lately come from England, heavy laden with sad newse, the particulars I doubt not but you will have by better intelligence.* I have only sent you a copy of a letter by Edward Messenger, which came out of England, and you may inform yourself of some newse.

Sir, my earnest desire is that you would persuade M^r Frits to return home.‡ Concerning the farme, the court referred it to a Comitty, but as yet hath done nothing. for our friends at Wennam, I know nothing but they are all in good health. this with my service presented to yourself, M^s Winthrop, M^s Lucy and M^s Marget and to all the rest of the Gentlewomen. my service also to M^r Stone.

Yours to serve,

AMOS RICHARDSON.

Amos Richardson died August 5, 1683, at his residence, "Quiambog Farm," Stonington.

Thomas Minor notes in his Diary: "mr. Richardson sent ffor mee sabath day the fift about one a clok in that mr. Richardson departed this life." Also on the 17th following: "mistris Richardson made her will."

*The "sad newse" was concerning the overthrow of the English Commonwealth and restoration of the Stuarts.

‡"Mr. Frits" means young Fitz John Winthrop, son of Gov. Winthrop, at that time a Cromwell officer in Scotland, and some years after himself Governor of Connecticut.

†Manwaring's "Hartford Probate Records" Vol. 1.—63.

His wife was appointed by his will as sole executrix, but she died early in the following month, and their sons, Stephen and Samuel, were appointed executors.† Both wills were probated by the General Court in 1683.

Amos Richardson's residence was located two miles northwest of the railroad station at Stonington, on what is now called Palmer's Hill. The exact location of his house cannot be determined, but it was probably five or six hundred feet south of the residence of Henry M. Palmer and it was the opinion of Judge Wheeler that part of the framework was used in building the Palmer house.

This is the highest elevation for some miles around and from it a beautiful landscape is presented to every point of view. Lantern Hill is fifteen miles north, and Pequot Hill, where the state erected a monument to commemorate the overthrow in 1637 of the Pequot Indians, is about three miles west. To the south is Fisher's Island, and beyond it, twenty miles away, stands the far-famed lighthouse at Montauk Point. To the southeast, overlooking Stonington and Stonington Harbor, may be seen Watch Hill and Point Judith, and still further away, almost lost to view, lies the storm-beaten coast of Block Island.

The Quiambog farm of Amos Richardson is now the site of many beautiful homes, notably those of Mr. Charles Phelps Williams and Judge Collins, which are adorned with marked evidence of wealth and culture. After this farm became the property of his son-in-law, Capt. John Hallam, a new house which is still standing was erected on it about a mile nearer the harbor. This old Hallam house has been remodeled by Judge Gilbert Collins, of Jersey City, and is now his summer home.

Amos and Mary Richardson had eight children:

1. MARY, born at Boston, probably in 1644 or 45, and baptized there November 26, 1647.

In June, 1663, she married Jonathan Gatliffe, of Braintree and Boston, Mariner.

Children: Jonathan, born about 1664; Mary, Dec. 14, 1665; Thomas, Feb'y 10, 1670; Joseph, Feb'y 15, 1673, and John, baptized Dec. 15, 1673.

Her father gave them a house and lot in Boston and 200 acres of land in Stonington, November 13, 1673. This property was not to be sold except to redeem him from slavery if he should be taken captive or to relieve his family in extreme distress.

Jonathan Gatcliffe died about February 1, 1675, as his will was dated January 28th and the inventory February 15th of that year. He left two sons, Jonathan and Thomas, of whom Arthur Mason and John Fairweather were the overseers. His widow probably married a Mr. Starr, who, in August, 1678, is called Mr. Richardson's son-in-law.‡ He apparently was the captain of a boat running between Boston and New London. Perhaps he was Jehosaphat Starr.

She died probably in the month of August, 1681, as the inventory taken after her decease of the household goods belonging to her sons by Gatcliffe was dated September 2nd, 1681. This property was purchased by Timothy Clarke, her brother-in-law.

REV. JOHN RICHARDSON.

2. JOHN, son of Amos and Mary Richardson, born October 28, 1647, and baptized December 26, 1647.

He graduated at Harvard College in 1666 as M. A., became a Tutor or Resident Fellow of the College, and was mentioned for Fellow in the intended charter of 1672. At the beginning of the difficulties with President Hoar he was absent and at the meeting held August 26, 1673, the Corporation voted to take no action until Mr. Richardson was present; he was then on a visit to Connecticut. After his return he with others resigned, thus leaving the President without support and the Corporation without a quorum.

He may not have agreed in all respects with the opponents of Mr. Hoar; for Judge Sewell, in relation to these difficulties, writes, October 16, 1674: "By Mr. Richardson's means I was called upon to speak. The sum of my speech was that the causes of the lownes of the College were external as well as internal."*

‡Mass. Hist. Coll., 5th Series, Vol. viii.

*Sibley's Harvard Graduates.

Prior to this, April 16, 1673, he was called as Minister of the First Church of Newbury, Mass., and settled there December 6, 1674, where he was Minister for twenty-one years. The family name of his wife Mary has not been discovered. They were married about October, 1673. He preached the Artillery Election Sermon at Boston on June 10, 1675, and again in June, 1681. The latter was printed if not the former. His children were Sarah, born September 9, 1674, John ———, Mary, July 22, 1677, Elizabeth, April 29, 1689, and Catharine, September 15, 1681.

His will, dated March 29, 1692, left his property to his wife, except a small legacy to each of the above-named children. It refers to his farm and lands "that lye in Stonington or in ye Confines of any Town in Connecticut Colony or else where." The witnesses were Daniel Peirce and Thomas Noyes.

Nothing more is known of his wife or children. He died at Newbury, July 23, 1696; his gravestone at Newburyport has this inscription:

"A resurrection to immortality is here expected for what was mortal of the Reverend Mr. John Richardson, once fellow of Harvard College, afterwards teacher to the Church of Newbury.
Put off April 7, 1696."

3. AMOS, son of Amos and Mary Richardson, baptized January 20, 1650, probably died young, as there is no other account of him.
4. STEPHEN, son of Amos and Mary Richardson, was born June 14, 1652. He married Lydia, daughter of Jonathan and Mary (Wells) Gilbert and resided at Stonington, where he was a man of note. See second generation following for full account.
5. CATHARINE, daughter of Amos and Mary Richardson, born January 6, 1655. She married first Captain David Anderson, of Charlestown, Mass., September 12, 1671. On November 12, 1671, Amos Richardson and Mary, his wife, of Stonington, made a deed of gift to their daughter Catharine Anderson, of land and a dwelling house in Boston, and a tract of land in the Narragansett country.

Children: John, born July 14, 1675, died young; David, born May 16, 1677, and married by the Rev. Samuel Willard to Hannah Philips on January 5, before 1700. The year is unknown. Captan Anderson was master of the ship "Blessing," and died on his way home from London in May, 1677. She married for the second time Captain Richard Sprague, May 7, 1679. He was an officer of distinction in the Dutch War of 1674. They probably had no children. She died July 23, 1701.

6. SARAH, daughter of Amos and Mary Richardson, born July 19, 1657. She married Timothy Clarke, of Boston, Mariner. Captain Clarke was a man of some note and was selectman for a number of years after 1700.

Children: Katherine and Sarah, born April 6, 1687; Sarah, October 18, 1691; Margaret, April 4, 1697, and Prudence, December 31, 1698.

On September 11, 1679, her father gave them the Winthrop lot previously mentioned.

7. SAMUEL, son of Amos and Mary Richardson, born February 18, 1659. He married Anna Cheseborough, daughter of Nathaniel and Hannah, of Stonington, 1693. He was elected a Selectman in 1706.

The History of Stonington gives his name in a list of men who served in Indian wars. He died in 1712-3, his will being dated January 27th and probated March 10 of that year.* Children: Samuel, born February 9, 1686, died 1688; Anna, born November 12, 1688, married William Avery, and had five children; Prudence, born September 10, 1690, married George Plumb, and had two children; Samuel, born April 7, 1693, died 1695; Hannah, born August 30, 1695, married Jonathan Brown, and had six children; Catharine, born January 16, 1697, married William Thompson, and had eight children; Sarah, born September 26, 1699, married Saxton Palmer, and had two children; Mary, baptized June 30, 1700, married Joshua Holmes, and had ten children.

8. PRUDENCE, daughter of Amos and Mary Richardson, born January 31, 1661-2. She first married March 15, 1683, John Hallam, a sea captain and merchant, who resided in Stonington, where he died November 20, 1700. In 1692 the Rev. John Richardson, of Newbury, his brother-in-law, leased to him in perpetuity a thousand acres of land for the consideration of five shillings and an annual rent of one peppercorn. This was the former home of her father.

*See further notice in Cheseborough Genealogy.

"Captain Hallam's possessions were large and his inventory gives evidence of a style of dress and housekeeping more expensive and showy than was common in those days.

"It contains silver-plate, mantle and coat of broadcloth, lined with silk, seventeen horse kind, four negro servants, &c.*"

Shortly before the arrest of Capt. Kidd in the autumn of 1699, two of his men are said to have visited Capt. Hallam; this threw suspicion on him so that he was required to give a bond the exact nature of which is unknown. Hallam died a few months later and this bond was subsequently in the possession of his family for a number of generations.

Many years ago Dr. George D. Stanton, of Stonington, obtained the bond, and later gave it or loaned it to the late Judge Wheeler. It is now unknown what has become of it.

Children: John, born 1684, died young; Prudence, baptized April 18, 1686, died 1701; Amos, November 20, 1687, died young; John, April 13, 1690; Amos, July 6, 1696.

Amos Hallam married Phebe Greenman and had Prudence, September 22, 1717; John, November 7, 1719, and Phebe, August 13, 1722.

The last named John married Abigail Noyes, daughter of Capt. Thomas, and had Amos, August 26, 1738, who graduated at Yale in 1756, married Desire Stanton, daughter of Thomas, and was a wealthy merchant at Stonington. Children: John, Abigail, Amos, Thomas, Nicholas, Desire, Edward, Alexander and Giles Russell.

Prudence, widow of John Hallam, married second El-nathan Minor, a man of note at Stonington. They had one son:

*This is quoted from the History of New London.

REV. RICHARDSON MINOR.

Richardson Minor was baptized at Stonington, February 25, 1705, graduated at Yale College in 1726, married Elizabeth Munson and had ten children. He was the Congregational minister at Unity (now Trumbull), and also a popular physician in a number of towns, including Stratford. During the Great Awakening of 1740 he became the leader in Fairfield County of a strong party in his denomination who opposed this movement, or at least much of the Calvin theology.

Efforts were made to have Mr. Gold, the minister at Stratford, dismissed and Mr. Minor called in his place. However, in 1744, before this question was settled, his name was dropped at his own request and he joined the Episcopal church with a large number of his followers. He then went to England at the expense of his friends to take orders as minister of the Episcopal church at Stamford. During the voyage he was captured by the French and taken to France. After his release, on his way to London, he was stricken with a fever and died at Salisbury, probably in the latter part of 1744. His widow died at New Haven in 1751. Their daughter, Henrietta, born 1728, married John Miles, of New Haven. Prudence, the second daughter, born 1729, married Philip Benjamin. The other children were younger and their names are unknown.†

In 1833 Richardson Minor (aged 80) was a Massachusetts Revolutionary pensioner, residing in Franklin Co. Perhaps he was a grandson of Rev. Richardson Minor.

†See Histories of Stratford and Stamford and Dexter's Yale Graduates.

SECOND GENERATION.

STEPHEN RICHARDSON.

STEPHEN RICHARDSON, son of Amos and Mary, was born in Boston, June 14, and baptized June 20, 1652, at the First Church (now Congregational Unitarian). On December 29, 1670, his name appears in the list of inhabitants at Stonington who had house lots, he then being only a little over eighteen years of age.

He married Lydia, daughter of Jonathan and Mary (Wells) Gilbert* before September 25, 1673, probably during that year. This is shown by the letter of that date from Governor Winthrop, before given on page 16.

He was well acquainted with the Indian language and was often employed as an interpreter.

He served in King Phillip's War in 1675-6 at the time of the Great Swamp Fight, and was one of the soldiers who shared in the Voluntown grant made by the State in 1696. He was probably the Quartermaster for the Connecticut troops. On May 18, 1676, the Colonial Council authorized him to sell arms in his possession in part payment for his services. Minor's Diary, December 15, 1675, says: "Coneticut Armie Set forth from mr. Richardsons," and June, 1676, "Thursday, the 15, wee were to meet all the soldiers at steeven Richardsons house." He was made a freeman in 1679. After his imprisonment by Rhode Island in the summer of 1680, previously referred to, he presented a claim to the General Court for damages. In 1687 he was a representative from Stonington to the General Court.

*Jonathan Gilbert was a prominent man at Hartford and Marshal of the Colony. In 1654 he visited Ninigrate, the famous Chief of the Pequots, and made demands for the Commissioners of the United Colonies, returning to Hartford on Sept. 18, with Ninigrate's answer. Trumbell's History, I, 222.

This shows that he was regarded as a very brave and discreet man. For Gilbert Family see Appendix A.

Nile's History is authority for the statement that in July, 1689, "Mr. Stephen Richardson shot dead on the spot one William Trimming, a notorious English decoy in the service of the French privateers." Trimming had secreted himself in a house on Fisher's Island, and Richardson, with sixteen other men, went there to capture him. He was censured by some for his action, as they wanted to take him alive.

Stephen Richardson resided on the Connecticut side of the Pawcatuck River at Westerly. The railroad must cross very near to where his house was located.

It is about five miles east of his father's home. This land Amos Richardson purchased in 1663; it is the property referred to by Governor Winthrop and Fitz John Winthrop in 1673; it extended along the river for nearly a mile.

He must have died about 1694, as his widow signed a deed on July 1, 1695, in which she is described as "Lydia Reliet of Mr. Steven Richardson being Executor of my honored husbands will and in full power by Act of New London Court and having Libertie by my husbands will."

The following deed to her son Jonathan was dated August 10, 1696. "Let all men know that I Lydia Richardson Reliet o^r ye late Steven Richardson of Stonington Do for ye Incouregment of my son Jonathan for his present settling with me upon that Land which was given him by his Honorred father after my decease I say I do by these and att this Present Give him ye one half of all the houseing & ye Lands belonging to ye home place and that adjoining on ye South side of it which was given to Nathaniel Deceased, that is to say, his part to Joyn to Mr. Noyes his land on ye South & to ye River on ye East and so Westerly to ye Barns the Barne being his part of out houseing, and ye dwelling house, he is to have ye Great Room & half of ye seller & ye Poarch Chamber and that ye Promise may be sure to him my son Jonathan his heirs and assigns to all purposes & Intents for Ever I sett to my hand & Seal this Tenth Day of August one Thousand six hundred ninety six; also it is provided before signing I give to Jonathan ye Salt meadow that was Nathaniels."

The will of Mary Gilbert (widow of Jonathan), dated May 23, 1700, shows that her daughter, Mrs. Lydia Richardson, had a second husband named Chapman, perhaps Richard Chapman, although Savage suggests William.

At the Probate Court, New London, June 3, 1703, Mrs. Lydia Chapman exhibited a deed of gift of lands left her by the will of her deceased husband, Mr. Stephen Richardson, late of Stonington, to her three daughters, Mary Carder, Rachel Richardson and Jemima Richardson.

Stephen and Lydia (Gilbert) Richardson had at least nine children, and it is supposed that he was the only one of his family to leave descendants in the male line. The following is an account of their children :

1. JONATHAN, son of Stephen and Lydia Richardson, born probably in 1674. He married Ann Edwards. See third generation for further account.

2. STEPHEN, son of Stephen and Lydia Richardson, was bapt. at Stonington June 19, 1681, with Mary and Amos. It may be conjectured that he was born about 1676, as the record of baptism probably names the three children in the order of their ages. He married first Joanna Minor, daughter of Joseph, of Stonington. She joined the church there in 1702. They had a son Stephen, bapt. July 10, 1715, of whom nothing more is known. Second, he married Abigail Pelham at Newport, R. I., March 25, 1728. She joined the church at Stonington in 1733. They had a son David bapt. April 6, 1729.

In 1726, Stephen Richardson was chosen to assist in a council at Valuntown in a difference between Pastor and church. He was a Selectman for the town for a number of years and in 1719 was elected a Representative to the General Court. He owned a number of slaves. In 1742 his negro servant, Peter, was baptized. "Crump, negro servant of Stephen Richardson, married Deborah, Indian servant of Jonathan Richardson," 1739.

In January, 1745, he moved to Lebanon, Connecticut, and, with his slave Peter,* united with the church there by letter from Stonington. He died at Lebanon, August 11, 1749. His son David married Rachel Richardson, a daughter of his cousin Amos of Coventry, October 28, 1747. Their children born at Lebanon were Rachel, July 23, 1748; Abigail, Feb. 1, 1751; Stephen, May 1, 1752; Betty, March 21, 1754, (married at Somers, Daniel Benton, of Tolland, Feb. 18, 1779); Annis, bapt. Dec. 14, 1755; David, bapt. Jan. 23, 1757, (married Eunice Wood, at Somers, Nov. 30, 1780.) She died at Enfield, Conn., Oct. 22, 1784, in her 28th year, according to her tombstone. He married second Sarah Hudson, at Somers, June 15, 1785. He served in the Revolutionary war from that town. It is not known when the family moved to Somers and Enfield, which are adjoining towns. There was another son, Daniel, who erected a monument over the graves of his parents at Enfield, "In memory of Mr. David Richardson who died Aug. 5th, 1811, in his 83d year. Also Mrs. Rachel his consort who died Jan. 13th, 1807, in her 79th year. This monument was procured by their son Daniel Richardson May 20th, 1817." There was a Daniel Richardson, who served in the Revolution from Windham County.

3. MARY, daughter of Stephen and Lydia Richardson, bapt. June 19, 1681. She married Richard Carder in January, 1700. He was lost at sea in 1707. Children: Mary, born Sept. 29, 1700; Lydia, born Aug. 2, 1702; Rachel, born Sept. 4, 1704.
4. AMOS, son of Stephen and Lydia Richardson, bapt. June 19, 1681. In 1683 his grandfather Richardson left him a farm on the east side of the Pawcatuck River, then occupied by Mr. Wells. He probably died young.

*In December, 1754, Peter was convicted of passing counterfeit bills of credit which another slave had forged. He is described as "one Peter, a negro man, late servant to Mr. Richardson, late of Lebanon, now deceased." In January, 1755, the Assembly allowed David Richardson of Lebanon, by paying the cost of prosecution and confinement to take him from prison "and that the said Peter, serve him, said Richardson, his heirs and assigns, to the day of the death of said Peter, and by him and them to be kept within the bounds of said Lebanon."

5. SAMUEL, son of Stephen and Lydia Richardson, was bapt. March 18, 1683, married Sarah Stanton. Children: Sarah, bapt. Nov. 3, 1734; Mary, bapt. May 16, 1736; Mehitable, bapt. Feb. 26, 1738.

He died in 1755 and his widow with Capt Gideon Brainard was authorized by the Assembly to sell his lands.

The daughter Sarah married Gideon Brainard, Jr., June 7, 1753.

6. RACHEL, daughter of Stephen and Lydia Richardson, bapt. May 30, 1686. She was unmarried in 1703.

7. LEMUEL, son of Stephen and Lydia Richardson, bapt. Aug. 12, 1688. He married Mehitable, daughter of Capt. John Chapman, of Haddam, Conn., Dec. 15, 1709. They united with the church at Stonington in 1710, and he died at East Haddam, May 24, 1713, probably having resided there but a short time, as in 1712 when his father-in-law's estate was settled, he is called "of Stonington."

He left property at Stonington and East Haddam.* Their four children were:

- i. MEHITABLE, bapt. at Stonington, March 26, 1710.
- ii. SAMUEL, bapt. at Stonington, May 27, 1711, was probably the eldest son, as his father left him twenty pounds more than he gave his brother. He married, according to family tradition, Pauline or Polly Whitney. He had two children and there may have been others.

(1) Stanton, born at Haddam, Jan. 10, 1755, was presumably the Stanton Richardson who served in the Revolution from Wallingford.

(2) Lemuel, born in 1761, served in the Revolution in the First N. H. Reg., Capt. Farwell's Company. At

His widow is presumably the Mehitable Richardson who married John Warner at East Haddam, March 21, 1716, and had eight children recorded there.

*Manwaring's "Hartford Probate Records" Vol. 2.—279.

- the time of his enlistment at Charlestown, N. H., in 1779, his age was given as 18, birthplace Haddam, Conn., height 5 feet 6½ inches, and residence Westminster, Vt. He married Jerusha Hedges and had a son, Samuel, born in Northfield, Vt., Sept. 26, 1801, who married Catherine J. Vallean and left two children: Samuel William and Katherine Phoebe. The former was born at Rochester, N. Y., April 19, 1850, and is an officer in the U. S. Marine Hospital Service, stationed at Wilmington, N. C. He married Emma Cornelia Butler and has a son, William Butler Richardson, born Jan. 21, 1880.
- iii. LEMUEL, date of birth or bapt. unknown. He is named in his father's will and died March 9, 1722.
- iv. STEPHEN, born in 1713, not mentioned in his father's will, probably born after his death.
8. JEMIMA, daughter of Stephen and Lydia Richardson, bapt. June 19, 1692; married first, Green Hungerford, of East Haddam; second, Matthew Fuller. Her children by the former were Lydia, born Dec. 1712; Sarah, Dec. 29, 1714; Prudence, Jan. 18, 1716; Green, Jan. 4, 1718; Mary, Dec. 26, 1720; Rachel, Oct. 12, 1722; Lydia, Dec. 30, 1724; Stephen, May 1, 1726; Hester, May 22, 1728; Elizabeth, Jan. 25, 1730; Lemuel and Nathaniel, May 23, 1733.
9. NATHANIEL, no record of baptism. All that is known about him is the mention made in the deed from his mother to Jonathan in 1696. He probably died after his father.

THIRD GENERATION.

JONATHAN RICHARDSON.

JONATHAN RICHARDSON, son of Stephen and Lydia (Gilbert) Richardson, was born before September 10, 1674, the date of Jonathan Gilbert's will, probably at Stonington in that year. His parents most likely had been married only a short time when the Winthrop letter was written, September 25, 1673. He was named for his grandfather, Jonathan Gilbert, † who mentions him in his will: "I give to my daughter Lydia Richelson 20 shillings." "I give my grand child Jonathan Richelson 5 pounds." There is no record of his baptism as there were no church records kept at Stonington prior to June 3, 1674.

The Rev. James Noyes had been holding regular services there for ten years, being paid by the town; but no church organization was formed until that year.*

He married in 1696 Ann Edwards, daughter of Richard and Elizabeth (Tuttle) Edwards, of Hartford, and they resided at the homestead on the Pawcatuck River. He died May 7, 1700, and the inventory of his estate shows that he owned the homestead, except that his mother had a life estate in one-half of it. Also that he had a right in lands at "Quanabooge" (Quiambog). The inventory taken May 23, 1700, states that he left a "widow and two children Jonathan and Amos the eldest two years and an half ould the youngest half a year." "Mrs. An Richardson made oath that she had made a true exhibition of his estate."

† Governor Jonathan Belcher of Massachusetts was another grandchild named for him.

*Wheeler's History of the First Congregational Church, Stonington.

Jonathan Edwards, the distinguished divine, was her nephew. For Edwards Family see Appendix B.

The inventory shows that he was not a slaveholder, as his uncle, Captain Hallam, was, and as some of the Richardson family were later.

On May 23, sixteen days after his death, his grandmother Gilbert made her will at Hartford, which contained these provisions: "And further the 1/7th part of the 1/5th part legacy here given unto Lydia Chapman shall be paid to the sons of my late grand son Jonathan Richelson dec^d when they attain the age of 21. * * * And my mind and will is that the rest of the fifth part Legacy given to my daughter Lydia, not otherwise disposed of to the heirs of the late Jonathan Richelson dec^d, shall be equally divided amongst the children of my said daughter Lydia, which she had by her husband Richardson dec^d, minors." It should be noted that the Christian name of Lydia Chapman's first husband, Richardson, is not mentioned. The author of the Gilbert Family* was apparently misled by this will into supposing that Lydia Gilbert married Jonathan Richardson, and others, including the Richardson Memorial, and even Savage's Dictionary, made the same error.

The children of Jonathan and Ann (Edwards) Richardson were both baptized in the First Church at Hartford. The records of baptism are: "Jonathan son to Jonathan Richardson Nov. 21, 1697," and "Amos June 23, 1700 son to Widowe Richardson."

In 1702 Mrs. Ann Richardson became the wife of William Davenport of Hartford.† By a former wife he had one child only, William. They moved to Stonington before 1708, and from there to Coventry after 1718. Mr. Davenport died in Coventry, 1742, in the seventy-seventh year of his age. His widow Ann was born in Hartford in 1678, died in Coventry in May, 1764. Their children were Humphrey, born 1703, married Hannah Fitch, and resided in Coventry; Ann bapt. 1705, married Habakuk Turner of Coventry; Elizabeth bapt. in 1708 at Stonington, married Nathaniel Gove of Coventry; Rachel bapt. at Stonington 1715; Richard born 1716, settled in Coventry, where he had six children by wife Alice; Rachel bapt. in Stonington in 1718.

*N. E. Geneal. Register, vol. IV.

† Goodwin's Genealogical Notes, page 51.

The two children of Jonathan and Ann (Edwards) Richardson were:

1. JONATHAN, bapt. Nov. 21, 1697, was born a few days before, as he was two and a half years of age in May, 1700. He married Anna, daughter of Rev. Salmon and Dorothy (Noyes) Treat, of Preston, Conn., Oct. 25, 1721, and resided at the old homestead of his father and grandfather on the Pawtucket River, in Stonington. Joshua Hempstead notes in his diary under date of Nov. 18, 1721, "I went about Stonington as far as Jonathan Richardson's att Poecatuck."

On Oct. 13, 1728, Anna, wife of Jonathan Richardson, was recommended to the church at North Stonington, and on Nov. 1, 1730, he was allowed to commune with the church at Stonington. On Dec. 6, 1739, his Indian servant, Deborah, was married to Stephen Richardson's negro slave, Crump. In 1734 John Denison, of Stonington, was plaintiff in a suit against Jonathan Richardson, which was decided by the Assembly in favor of the defendant.

In 1753, when the highway from Pawtucket Bridge to Voluntown was laid out, his dwelling house was mentioned as being in the second course after leaving the bridge, and he probably built the dam across the Pawtucket below the bridge in company with someone on the east side of the river.* He had a saw and grist mill which in 1756 he gave to his son, Salmon Treat. In 1795 the latter conveyed it (or at least a part interest) to his son George.

Salmon Treat Richardson signed a deed in February, 1810, for what was probably his remaining interest in the mill property or other lands adjoining. Jonathan Richardson died Nov. 22, 1773, aged 76,† and his wife March 17, 1777. She was born Aug. 26, 1699. They had at least nine children, order of birth unknown:

i. ANNA, bapt. at Stonington, Nov. 24, 1728.

*See a sketch of "Stonington and Westerly" by Richard A. Wheeler, in 1886.

†See "Treat Family Genealogy," page 497.

- ii. DOROTHY, bapt. Nov. 24, 1728, married John Stanton, and had ten children: (1) Adam, married Elizabeth Treat. (2) Daniel, married Vashti Dickinson. (3) Amos, married Sarah Draper. (4) George, married Prudence Woodburn. (5) Prudence, married Ashbel Parks. (6) Anna, married a Trumbull. (7) Dorothy, died unmarried. (8) Mary, married James Treat. (9) Rachel, married Samuel Hayne. (10) Rebecca, married Amos Treat.
- iii. JOHN, bapt. May 28, 1731, married Thankful Worden, Nov. 2, 1778.
- iv. AMOS, bapt. May 28, 1731, married Sarah Kennedy Jan. 15, 1778, and had a daughter Sarah, born Sept. 3, 1779. His wife probably died, for he married Mary Meach Nov. 25, 1782.
- v. SALMON TREAT, bapt. with John and Amos, married Hannah Wilkerson Aug. 8, 1765, and their son George Richardson, date of birth unknown, married Sarah Holmes March 30, 1795, and had seven children: Sally, born March 17, 1796; Hannah, March 10, 1798; George, Oct. 17, 1800; Anna, April 15, 1803; Stephen, Dec. 7, 1806; Jonathan, Oct. 25, 1808, and Thankful, May 29, 1812.

COL. JAMES RICHARDSON.

- vi. JAMES, born about 1734, as according to the inscription on his gravestone in North Carolina, "Col. James Richardson died Sept. 29, 1810, aged 76 years." Nothing has been learned about him from Connecticut records except that in 1770 Jonathan and James Richardson, of Stonington, petitioned the Assembly in a suit against Eleazer Fitch, Jr., of Windham, by which it appears that Fitch had obtained a judgment against them for about 300 pounds, and that the farm and dwelling house of Jonathan Richardson had been taken by execution,—“When there was sufficiency of land without said house, and complaining of unfairness in the appraisement, also that said Fitch has received considerable sums of money of James Richardson aforesaid by the hand of Col. John Whitney, which ought to be deducted out of said execution.”

It appears, by the records of the Assembly from 1764 to 1766, that James Richardson, of Stonington, had a controversy with Benjamin Bancroft, of Suffield, relating to their accounts, the charter of the sloop "Gull" and merchandise taken by Richardson to sell at Havana in 1762. Bancroft obtained a judgment for 493 pounds, which Richardson refused to pay and was imprisoned. Later he petitioned the Assembly for a rehearing, which was granted, the first judgment set aside, and a new one entered against him for 132 pounds, which was settled in 1766.

The first information received by the author about Col. Richardson was from a letter by the late Col. John A. Richardson, of Elizabethtown, N. C., to Judge Wheeler in 1872. It is now supplemented by further data from his cousins, Mrs. Irving Robinson, of Elizabethtown, and Dr. William M. Richardson, of Boardman, Fla.*

This shows that James Richardson, of Stonington, was shipwrecked off Cape Hatteras, shortly before the Revolution, while on a voyage to the West Indies with a cargo of flour. Subsequently he settled on the Cape Fear River, in Bladen Co., N. C. He had previously been a soldier in the French and Indian war, and was with General Wolfe at the storming of Quebec. He had a sister Prudence at Stonington, who married a Watson or Woodburne; also a brother Salmon, who was a merchant in Boston, where he died.

James Richardson served in the Revolutionary war and became a colonel in the American army. He had two cousins in North Carolina, Samuel and Nathaniel Richardson. The latter served in the Revolution, was a member of the Provincial Congress, and was shot by the Tories in Robeson County while on his way to pay off the Whig troops. He left no family.

Col. Richardson's father visited him before his death and gave him a Bible which he had brought from England.†

*Their family tradition is that the father of Col. James Richardson was James or Stephen, who came from England to Stonington; in all other respects it appears to be substantially correct.

It is probable that the cousins Samuel and Nathaniel Richardson were sons, or grandsons, of Lemuel of East Haddam, Conn.

It cannot be learned what became of this Bible, although Mrs. Robinson remembers having seen it many times when a girl at the home of her uncle Edmund Richardson, and later at her uncle Purdie Richardson's.

Col. Richardson married a widow Purdie, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Neal. Another account is that she was a widow Roots and that they were married in Jamaica where she owned a large property with 900 slaves. She died May 19, 1808, aged 81 years. They had two sons:

(1) Samuel Neal Richardson, born June 11, 1770, married Mary Ann Smith, and died March 1, 1831. He was a Methodist minister, also a member of the North Carolina House of Commons for 1801 and the Senate for 1802 and 1803. Children: Sophia, James Stephen, Elizabeth, Purdie, Helen, John, Amos, Edmund and Mary Ann.

The son James S., was a physician located at Moulton, Ala. in 1829, and the father of the above mentioned Col. John A. Richardson, who died in 1872.

Dr. William M., of Boardman, Fla., and Dr. Clement L., of Lake Charles, La., are sons of Purdie Richardson.

The youngest daughter, Mary Ann, married Rev. Alexander B. Smith who were the parents of Mrs Irving Robinson and Mrs. Charles P. Parker.

(2) Amos Richardson, born in 1772, married Mary Haynes, and died March 22, 1812. He was a member of the House of Commons from 1802 to 1806. Children: Haynes and Samuel.

- vii. STEPHEN RICHARDSON, bapt. June 11, 1738, married Sarah Treat at Wethersfield, Aug. 20, 1765, settled in Barkhamsted, Conn., where his wife died May 17, 1831, aged 84, and he July 31, 1831, aged 93. He was a hatter by trade and acquired considerable property. He is said to have been somewhat pompous in his ways, powdered his hair and wore knee breeches and a conspicuous hat.

†This old Bible may have belonged to the first Amos Richardson and from him handed down from father to son. A Bible is mentioned in the inventory of the estate of Jonathan Richardson, grandson of Amos.

He had three negro slaves, one, a woman, lived to be a hundred years of age. They had six children: (1) Silas, (2) Ralph, and both, according to tradition, settled in North Carolina.

(3) Samuel resided in Barkhamsted, where he died leaving four children: Ralzamon, Rollin, Marilla and Ann.

Rollin had Wellington B. (residence unknown), Marilla (died unmarried) and Mary, who married D. D. French. There are no descendants of Samuel Richardson living, unless it is through his grandson Wellington.

(4) Daniel, settled in Twinsburg, Ohio, about 1834. He had five children: William Richardson, married and died without issue; Edwin Richardson, had a son Julian, of Ravenna, Ohio, and a daughter, name unknown; Daniel Richardson, Jr., had a son and a daughter. The names of the two daughters of Daniel Richardson, Sr., are unknown.

(5) Lemuel, married Sarah Taylor and died July 29, 1856. Children: Lemuel, Jerusha Wolcott, Emily, Sarah and Clara.

Jerusha W. Richardson is the only daughter living; she married John Dempsey, resided at New Hartford, Conn., and had five children, one of which is Judge Eugene Dempsey, of Danbury.

The only son of Lemuel and Sarah (Taylor) was

REV. LEMUEL RICHARDSON.

He was born in Barkhamsted May 26, 1829, and inherited his father's farm, where he resided until about 1864. He was converted when he was twenty-nine years of age and almost at once commenced fitting himself to preach the Gospel by private study. He began preaching as a Methodist minister in 1859 and is still in active service. After entering the ministry he resided for the first five years on his farm and preached at nearby churches. Since then he has been pastor of the churches at Rockland, East Granby, North Canton and Darien, in his native State, and at Huntington and Port Jefferson, N. Y.

About twenty-two years ago he came to Brooklyn as pastor of the Cook Street Church; next in New York City for three years with the Eleventh Street Church. He then returned to Brooklyn and has since been in charge of the York Street Church, Warren Street Church, Ridley Memorial and North Fifth Street Church, of which he has been pastor for the last six years.

The Rev. Fred Saunders, an associate with him in the ministry, writes of him as follows: "The Rev. Lemuel Richardson is one of the most faithful and loyal preachers of the Gospel in the New York East Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, as fearless and uncompromising as Elijah but as gentle as the beloved disciple John; his gentleness and purity of character have made him as lovable as he has been efficient."

He married Martha M. Tiffany, Oct. 22, 1849, and has had three daughters: Mary, married M. W. Griffin and resides in New Haven; Nellie G., married James J. Butler and died without issue Dec. 2, 1896; Clara L., died unmarried Nov. 25, 1900.

(6) Sally, daughter of Stephen and Sarah (Treat) Richardson, married Benjamin Roberts, of Great Barrington, Mass. She probably has no descendants living.

- viii. RACHEL RICHARDSON, bapt. March 24, 1745, married John Watson, of South Kingston, R. I., Nov. 24, 1773.
- ix. PRUDENCE RICHARDSON, date of birth unknown, was married to Samuel Woodburn, "both of Stonington," by Elder Stephen Babcock, at Westerly, March 4, 1757. Presumably the Prudence Woodburn who married her sister's son John Stanton was their daughter.
- 2. AMOS, son of Jonathan and Ann (Edwards) Richardson.
See fourth generation following for full account.

FOURTH GENERATION.

AMOS RICHARDSON.

AMOS RICHARDSON, son of Jonathan and Ann (Edwards), was born probably at Stonington, and in December, 1699, as he was six months of age when his father died. He was baptized, as before stated, at Hartford, June 23, 1700. His early years were spent there, and until his stepfather, Mr. Davenport, moved to Stonington, which was before August 8, 1708, when Elizabeth Davenport was baptized.

It is uncertain when he settled in Coventry. "The Centennial Address," delivered before the church at North Coventry by the pastor, Rev. George A. Calhoun, Oct. 9, 1845, says, concerning the founders of the church:

"Amos Richardson married Rachel Yarrington,* of Long Island, and emigrated from Stonington to Coventry in 1717. At that period there was no house in the east school district and but one in the present limits of the parish. He settled on the farm now owned by one of his descendants, Levi Sweetland, Esq."

This date seems improbable when we consider his age and the fact that Mr. Davenport was still living in Stonington. (Rachael was baptized there May 5, 1718.)

The earliest record showing a residence in Coventry is a deed of land dated Oct. 4, 1723, from Thomas Lasett, of Windham, to Amos Richardson, of Coventry. However, on the 2nd of the following May, he signed a deed for land in Stonington to his brother Jonathan, in which they are described as "both of Stonington," and he as a carpenter. The witnesses to the Lasett deed were William and Humphrey Davenport, his stepfather and half brother.

*For Yarrington Family see Appendix C.

The tradition that he was married to Rachel Yarrington on Long Island is undoubtedly an error, as there is no reason to suppose that any of the Yarrington family resided there at the time of their marriage, which must have taken place as early as 1724, her first child being born March 20, 1725.

They were married, probably, at Stonington or Preston. It is unknown whether her father moved to Stonington from Preston before she was married; at least one of his sons continued to reside at Preston; her first child was baptized there, and at the same time, Sept. 26, 1725, she united with the church. This must have been only a few days after her father died at Stonington.

The church in the North Parish of Coventry was not organized until twenty years after this, and Amos Richardson was the leading man in securing its establishment. He was active in town and church affairs, but there is no record of any military services. On Dec. 13, 1725, he was elected Lister and Inspector, and during the next fifteen years held many town offices.

He gave a farm to each of his sons. His home was located about a half mile southeast of the Coventry church, on the south side of the highway leading past the birthplace of Nathan Hale, two and a half miles farther southeast. After 1850 this farm was occupied for many years by Andrew K. Brown and later by Capt. George Keeney.

He died in 1779, the inventory of his estate was taken Nov. 25, 1779, and his will dated Sept. 18, 1775; his wife must have died before that time as her name is not mentioned in it. He had fourteen children and at least ninety grandchildren. He did not achieve fame as his cousins Jonathan Edwards and Gov. Belcher, but he certainly perpetuated a sturdy race.

The fourteen children of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson were:

1. NATHAN, born at Coventry March 20, 1725, baptized at Preston Sept. 26, 1725, and married to Phebe Crocker at Coventry, Nov. 8, 1748. He served in the Revolution and was at the battle of Bunker Hill, where he lost a gun. He resided for a few years in Lebanon, and his daughter Lois was born there in October, 1772.

His father's home farm at Coventry was deeded to him before the date of his will (of which he was executor), Sept. 18, 1775, and it is probable that his father was living there with him at the time of his death in 1779. He removed to Manchester, Vt., in March, 1780, where he was called Capt. Richardson and was a prominent man in the town. His twelve children were:

- i. ROSAMOND, born at Coventry, July 9, 1749, married Daniel Brewster at Lebanon, June 2, 1774.
- ii. ANDREW, born at Coventry, Dec. 13, 1750, married Mercy Clauson at Lebanon, Oct. 17, 1773. He served in the Revolutionary War from Lebanon, and in 1780 moved on an open sled to Manchester, Vt., where he was in the service in 1781 and 1782, and in 1806 was a representative from that town. They had six children:

(1) Eleazer, born at Lebanon, March 21, 1774. (2) John Clauson, born at Coventry, Sept. 1, 1776, married Lucretia Root, Sept. 6, 1804, and died at Manchester in 1860. Children: Jerusha, born July 5, 1805, died young; Aaron C., Jan. 25, 1809, married Aurilla Howard and had Ellen Lucretia, April 21, 1839 (married Asahel Parker), and Julia Mabel, March 6, 1842, (reside at Manchester Depot); Artemesia, born May 11, 1811, died young; Andrew E., born Aug. 8, 1813, married Margaret Helen, daughter of his second cousin Humphrey Richardson; Moses, born May 24, 1817, had two sons and resided at Castile, N. Y.

John Clauson Richardson also had two other daughters, Caroline and Sophia, of whom there is no record; both died unmarried.

(3) Rosamond, born Sept. 17, 1778. (4) Andrew, born Jan. 13, 1783, married Rachel Boarn, June 24, 1804, and had Barnett, April 17, 1805, Hattie Strong, May 6, 1806, Ophelia, Jan. 29, 1811, Lois Ann and Amos (twins), Aug. 25, 1815, and Cyrus, Nov. 27, 1820.

(5) Zereniah (daughter), born Jan. 13, 1785. (6) Mercey, born May 21, 1787.

- iii. LUCY, born at Coventry, Sept. 3, 1752.
- iv. AMOS, born at Coventry, Nov. 26, 1754. He served in the Revolution, from Manchester, in 1780, 1781 and 1782.
- v. JOHN, born Nov. 16, 1756, who served in the Revolution from Coventry and probably also in Vermont. His daughter Phebe was bapt. at Coventry, Dec., 1780.
- vi. ESTHER, born at Coventry, Oct. 26, 1758.
- vii. NATHAN, born at Coventry, Oct. 27, 1760, served in the Revolution from Manchester. A few years later he removed to Burlington, Vt., where he died. His children born in Manchester were William Palmer, July 22, 1784, and Rhoda, Dec. 31, 1785; the former was

HON. WILLIAM P. RICHARDSON.

William Palmer Richardson, son of Nathan, was well educated and excelled as a public reader. He married Laura, daughter of Capt. John Lyman, Sept. 23, 1807, served in the War of 1812 and was at the battle of Plattsburgh. After the war he settled near Jerico Centre, Vt., where he was a prominent man and representative from Chittenden County in the Legislature for a number of years.

He wrote the early history of Jerico which was published in Thompson's Gazeteer, was especially interested in the causes of education and temperance. When more than eighty years of age he removed with his wife to Butternuts, Otsego Co., N. Y., resided with his son-in-law, Edward Converse, and died Feb. 28, 1871. A further account of him is given in Kulp's Wyoming Valley Families, Vol. 1. He had a notable family of fourteen children:

Betsy, the eldest child, born July 8, 1808, at Westford, Vt., married Dec. 17, 1829, Russell French, of Jerico, was a teacher, and died April 9, 1830.

Nathan R., born Jan. 20, 1810, married May 21, 1837, Emily House, and was a teacher.

Emily, born Jan. 8, 1812, married in 1834, Rev. James Hillhouse, a Presbyterian clergyman, and died in Newbern, Ala., April 4, 1835. She was a teacher for some years in an Academy at Columbus, Ohio.

Hannah W. (fourth child of William P. and Laura L.), born May 31, 1814, married Nov. 4, 1840, Prof. John G. K. Truair and died Aug. 31, 1849, at Norwich, N. Y. She was for some years in charge of the female department of the Gilbertsville Collegiate Institute, of which her husband was the principal.

John Lyman (fifth child), born Sept. 15, 1816, at Jerico, married June 30, 1846, Catharine Heermans, at Scranton, Pa. He was a successful teacher for many years, and in 1855, while principal of the Madison Academy at Waverly, Pa., was commissioned Superintendent of Schools for Luzerne County. He resided at Bloomsburg, where he died March 16, 1885. Their nine children were:

1. Mary Lyman Richardson, born Nov. 17, 1847, married Isaac Platt Hand, May 3, 1871. He is a prominent lawyer at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., where they have had eleven children, namely: Elizabeth, George (both died young), Kathleen, Isaac P. (died April 8, 1905), Bayard, Laura (married Hamilton Farnham, Sept. 27, 1904, has daughter Catharine, born Aug. 22, 1905, resides in New York), Aaron Hicks (died young), Richardson, Joseph Henry, Emily, and Philip Lyman.
2. Laura Ann Richardson, born July 25, 1849, married first Edward Welles, in 1875, second Augus Morrison, in 1879, third Asher Miller, in 1888, resides at Santa Cruz, Cal. Children: Emily Morrison, Catharine J. Morrison, and Mary Morrison who married George Cuthbert.
3. Galitzin Truair Richardson, born Jan. 19, 1851, resides in Los Alamitos, Cal.
4. Florence Delphine Richardson, born March 14, 1853, married Willis Emmons and has a daughter Louise, who resides near Sacramento.
5. Emily Eliza Richardson, born Nov. 14, 1855, married Capt. Walter T. Hall of San Francisco. He was a soldier in the Civil War and made a record which placed him in the front rank with the "bravest of the brave." They reside in San Francisco and have a son Walter T., Jr., who married Freda Robb, May 21, 1902.
6. William Philip Richardson, born Oct. 6, 1857, resides in Silver City, Idaho.
7. John Lyman Richardson, born March 2, 1863, married Minnie Bittenbender of Constantine, Mich., resides at Bloomsburg, and has Catharine R., born June 5, 1896, John L., Jr., born July 4, 1897, and Emily E., born Feb. 21, 1899.
8. Catharine Heermans Richardson, born Jan. 28, 1866, died in infancy.
9. Harriet Heermans Richardson, born Oct. 28, 1868, married John Gordon, resides at Norwalk, Cal., and has Heermans and Laura.

William Palmer (sixth child and twin with John Lyman), died in infancy.

Martin P., born June 2, 1818, married, May 12, 1842, Ann Beecher, of Cambridge, Vt., and was a teacher.

William Palmer (eighth child), born March 8, 1820, married, in 1842, Elmira Wilder, of Cambridge, Vt., where he died in 1843.

Caroline (ninth child of William P. and Laura L.), born Jan. 21, 1822, married Edward Converse, May 23, 1848, resided at Butternuts, N. Y., and for many years was a teacher.

Minerva, born April 4, 1824, died March 31, 1839.

Laura E., born Nov. 10, 1826, died March 24, 1839.

Joseph L., born April 17, 1828, died March 28, 1839.

These three last named children of William P. and Laura L. died during the same week at Cambridge, Vt., of scarlet fever.

Burton, born Dec., 1830, died Nov., 1844.

Simeon R. (fourteenth and last child), born March, 1832, married Charlotte Dickinson, April 16, 1850, resides in Lexington, Minn., where he was formerly a teacher.

The other five children of Nathan and Phebe (Crocker) Richardson were:

viii. HETTIE, born at Coventry, Nov. 6, 1762.

ix. SARAH, born at Coventry, March 10, 1765.

x. ELIZABETH, born at Coventry, Feb. 26, 1768.

xi. WELLES, born at Coventry, Feb. 14, 1770. In 1793 he resided at Manchester, Vt., where he was a voter.

xii. LOIS, born at Lebanon, Oct. 13, 1772.

2. LEMUEL, son of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, born Sept. 19, 1726, married Anna Rust. See fifth generation for full account.

3. AMOS, son of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, born at Coventry, March 5, 1728, married first Ruth Stiles, June 5, 1751, mother of all his children; and second Phebe. The epitaphs on their tombstones in the cemetery at Coventry, sometimes called the Strong Cemetery, read as follows: "In memory of Mrs. Ruth, consort of Capt. Amos Richardson, who departed this life Feb. 4th, 1777, in the 44th year of her age." "In memory of Mrs. Phebe Richardson, who died July 12, 1802, aged 68 years. Wife of Capt. Amos Richardson." "In memory of Capt. Amos Richardson, who died Sept. 30th, 1802, in the 75th year of his age."

He served in the French and Indian War in 1757, received a commission from the Assembly as Lieutenant in 1765 and Captain in 1767; in 1763 he was the Collector of Rates. He kept a hotel for many years, which was destroyed by fire April 24, 1766, on which account he petitioned the Assembly to relieve him from taxes. He was one of the committee to secure relief for Boston and served as a Captain during the Revolutionary War. He had five children:

- i. ANNA RICHARDSON, born March 26, 1752, married Capt. Noah Grant, grandfather of President Grant. Her tombstone bears this inscription: "In memory of Mrs. Anna, wife of Mr. Noah Grant, daughter of Capt. Amos & Mrs. Ruth Richardson, who died 1786 in ye 38th year of her age." There is a discrepancy of three years between the dates of her birth as given in the town records and on her tombstone, but mistakes of this kind are often found.

Since Marshall's "Ancestry of General Grant" was published in 1869 it has been supposed that the first wife of his grandfather, Capt. Noah Grant, a Revolutionary soldier, was a widow Richardson whose maiden name was Anna Buell. This mistake was undoubtedly made by General Grant's father, Jesse Root Grant, and may be accounted for by his near relationship to the Buell family. Martha Huntington, widow of Noah Grant, Sr., married Peter Buell, a prominent man who died in 1769, leaving a number of children by her. Capt. Noah and Anna (Richardson) Grant had two sons:

- (1) Solomon Grant, born at Coventry, about 1779, brought up there and well educated (by his grandfather Buell, according to Mr. Marshall). Whether he lived with his grandfather Richardson or with his father's relatives it is now impossible to say. About 1798 he is said to have gone to the West Indies as the overseer of a sugar plantation, and it is now claimed that he left descendants there. The accounts about him differ somewhat.*

(2) Peter Grant, born at Coventry, Nov. 4, 1781, after his mother's death went with his father to Pennsylvania, where the latter married Mrs. Rachel Miller Kelly and had seven other children: Susan A., born Dec. 7, 1792; Jesse Root (father of General U. S. Grant), Jan. 23, 1794; Margaret M., Oct. 23, 1795; Noah B., Nov., 1797; John K., June 2, 1799; Roswell M., Jan. 10, 1802, and Rachel M., Sept. 6, 1804.

Peter Grant settled in Maysville, Ky., and there married Permelia Bean (or Bane), Nov. 12, 1807. He acquired a fortune as a tanner, salt manufacturer and mine owner; but his family, who favored the Confederate cause, lost a large share of their property during the war. Children, all born at Maysville:

1. Clarice Grant, born Aug. 15, 1808, married James Hewitt.
2. Lawson B. Grant, born July 1, 1810, married Martha G. M. F. Hudson.
3. Solomon K. Grant, born July 14, 1812, married Elizabeth F. Thornton.
4. Orville Root Grant, born April 23, 1815, married Marian M. McFarland.
5. Peter Buell Grant, born May 13, 1817, married Elizabeth B. Hendley.
6. Anna Richardson Grant, born March 10, 1819, married Mortimer Oliver Hubbard Norton.
7. Permelia Grant, born Jan. 19, 1822, married Dr. Volney Spalding of N. Y. City.
8. Noah Grant, born April 1, 1824, married Eliza Colston Marshall.
9. Susan A. Grant, born March 26, 1826, died 1827.
10. Rachel M. Grant, born March 18, 1829, married Alfred Gray Morgan.

ii. HEZEKIAH RICHARDSON, born Jan. 25, 1754, married Olive Thompson, Jan. 27, 1774, and died June 23, 1814. His will mentions children—Amos, Nancy Coleman, Ruth, Phebe Ripley, Susan Lyman, and a granddaughter, Olive Richardson. They appear to have had seven children, order of birth unknown.

*See Marshall's "Ancestry of General Grant," and "History of the Grant Family" by Arthur Hastings Grant.

(1) Nancy Richardson, born Aug. 6, 1774, married Solomon Coleman and had Nancy and Solomon Lathrop, bapt. July 1, 1828, and James Manning, Sept. 30, 1831.

(2) Ruth Richardson, born Jan. 9, 1779, was unmarried when her father's will was dated in 1813.

(3) Hannah Richardson, born Oct. 13, 1780, married Capt. Joseph Dow and had Eunice, bapt. at Coventry, March 21, 1802, Rebecca, Jan. 16, 1803, Hannah, May 22, 1804, Joseph, Oct. 6, 1805, Joseph and Newton, Oct. 8, 1809, Hezekiah, Lucia and Augustus, Oct. 1, 1815, Edward, June 1, 1817 (resided at Bunker Hill, Ill.*), Elizabeth, March 1, 1819, James Richardson, Jan. 21, 1821, and Mary, May 24, 1829.

(4) Olive Richardson, born in 1782, married Col. James White and died Nov. 14, 1808, leaving a daughter, Olive Richardson, who was baptized the next day.

(5) Phebe Richardson, date of birth unknown, married Elijah Ripley at Coventry, Nov. 14, 1804. On Aug. 18, 1816, they had the following children baptized: Joseph, Amos, Polly, Frederick, Olive, Sally and Erastus. On Jan. 4, 1820, Emily and Norman, children of widow Elijah Ripley, were baptized. On Sept. 3, 1820, Elijah, son of widow Elijah Ripley, was baptized. Her husband died Jan. 1, 1820, age 37 years.

(6) Susan Richardson, date of birth unknown, married William Lyman, Sept. 19, 1797, and had Jane Richardson, baptized July 29, 1798, Miranda, Sept. 15, 1799, Alicia, Oct. 3, 1802, Idocia, Aug. 5, 1804, Mary, Nov. 3, 1805, Lucy, Oct. 18, 1807, Nathan Morrison and Chauncey, March 15, 1811, and Julia Ann, Oct. 1, 1815.

(7) Amos Richardson, born July 4, 1786, married Sarah Strong, Nov. 29, 1810. He resided in Coventry, about a half-mile south of Mansfield Depot, where he died, March 13, 1860. He was a deacon in the First Church at South Coventry. He had ten children:

*"Descendants of Elder John Strong" by B. W. Dwight.

1. Hezekiah, born Feb. 7, 1812, died 1833.
2. Theodore Dwight, born Aug. 14, 1813, died 1817.
3. Joseph Warren, born Aug. 14, 1815, resided in 1871 in Coventry, unmarried.
4. Charles, born July 23, 1817, resided in 1871 in Coventry, unmarried.
5. Lucy Strong, born Dec. 23, 1820, married in 1847, Andrew Jackson Main, resided in Coventry, and had five children.
6. Edward, born April 2, 1823, died unmarried in 1863.
7. Ruth Stiles, born April 2, 1825, in 1871 resided in Coventry, unmarried.
8. Olive White, born June 18, 1827, married William Oliver Gardner, and had four children.
9. James White, born July 2, 1830, married, 1858, Nancy Eliza Logan. He was a carpenter, resided in Hartford, and had five children.
10. Amos, born June 20, 1832, married Sarah Brindall and had two children.

iii. ZEBULON RICHARDSON, born Feb. 10, 1757, died at Coventry, Feb. 15, 1809, aged 52 years, probably never married.

iv. REUBEN STILES RICHARDSON, born at Coventry, Feb., 1762.

v. RUTH RICHARDSON, born about 1765, married Levi Swetland, Dec. 28, 1780, and died at Coventry, Jan. 11, 1782, aged 76. Children:

(1) Mille Swetland, born Nov. 28, 1782, married Capt. Joseph Rose, Nov. 28, 1799, and had Fanny, Sept. 3, 1800 (died 1814), Elizabeth Hale, June 28, 1804, and Fanny Mary, Sept. 24, 1815. Capt. Rose died Aug. 1, 1838.

(2) Anne Swetland, born April 26, 1785, died 1808.

(3) Polly Swetland, born Jan. 17, 1787, died 1813.

(4) Levi Swetland, born June 2, 1789, married Electa Kingsbury, March 8, 1810, and had Mary Anne and Olive White, baptized 1819, and Levi P., Henry K. and Harriet E., baptized in 1821.

(5) Ruth Swetland, born March 30, 1791; and

(6) Rosca Swetland (daughter), born March 21, 1797.

4. RACHEL, daughter of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, was born at Coventry, May 16, 1729, and married David Richardson, of Lebanon. See page 29.

5. JONATHAN, son of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, was born at Coventry, July 24, 1721, and died there April 3, 1799. He was one of the soldiers who went to Boston at the Lexington Alarm in 1775. His will, dated Nov. 13, 1795, mentions wife Jerusha, children William, Ezekiel, Ephriam, Mason, Martin, Mary Fox, and grand-daughter Eunice Fox. As far as can be learned he had nine children, order of birth unknown:

- i. WILLIAM, born perhaps about 1756, presumably the William Richardson who married Abigail Thayer, at Bolton, Sept. 24, 1778, was a Revolutionary soldier from Coventry.
- ii. EZEKIEL, born in 1760 or 1761, served in the Revolutionary War from Coventry. He married Jerusha Porter, who died in 1824. The inscriptions on their tombstones in the cemetery at the foot of Silver Street, Coventry, read as follows: "In memory of Mr. Ezekiel Richardson, who died Nov. 8, 1816, in the 56th year of his age." "In memory of Mrs. Jerusha Richardson, relict of Mr. Ezekiel Richardson, who died Aug. 14, 1824, aged 62 years."

Her will, dated June 24, 1824, names children Chester, Lathrop, Uriel, Jerusha, Chloe, and grand-daughter Harriet Maria Spofford. Children:

(1) Chester Richardson, born about 1782, married Huldah Lyman and died at Coventry in 1856, aged 74. She died in 1855, aged 70; they had one son, name unknown.

(2) Lathrop Richardson, born in 1789, baptized at Vernon on Oct. 18 of that year, married Mary Hatch, Jan.

4, 1819, and had Charles, who resides in South Dakota, Jane, Mary Ann (married Henry Tracy, a Boston editor), Lilleone (married Alpheus Fuller, of Scotland, Conn.), and Emily L., who was baptized at Coventry in 1829 and resides at Lenox, Mass.

(3) Jerusha Richardson, bapt. at Vernon, Aug. 6, 1792, died Sept. 19, 1849, aged 45. She married Daniel Loomis, Jan., 1815, and had Edwin, Daniel, Juliatta, bapt. 1819, and Mary Kingsbury, bapt. 1821.

(4) Chloe Richardson, bapt. July 10, 1796, married, Sept. 4, 1816, Jesse Spofford, of Mansfield, and had Maryette, 1817, Marilla, 1819, Manly W., 1821, Harriet Marie, 1824, who married Dr. H. M. Preston, Uriel, 1826, Monroe D., 1831, Eliot G., 1837.

(5) Uriel Richardson died Sept. 16, 1824, age 24 years. This date is taken from the inscription on his tombstone in the cemetery at the foot of Silver Street, which reads as follows: "Uriel, son of Mr. Ezekiel & Mrs. Jerusha Richardson, died Sept. 16, 1824, in Bethsaida, Georgia, age 24 years." There was no village nor post office in Georgia named Bethsaida, but the Bethsecka College and Orphan Home, founded by the celebrated George Whitefield about 1740, was located near Savannah and destroyed by fire soon after his death in 1770. In 1808 this property was sold to the Morrell family, and at the time of Uriel Richardson's death was a part of their plantation.

In the centennial address of Rev. George A. Calhoun in 1845, Dr. Uriel Richardson is mentioned as a physician who was born in Coventry. Mrs. Harriet M. Preston, a niece of Uriel Richardson, furnished some years ago information about the family, in which she spoke of him as a skillful physician who died (when about 45 years of age) at Milledgeville, Ga.

The above accounts of Uriel Richardson do not agree if the date taken from his tombstone is reported correctly, and the most that can be said is that he was probably a promising young physician, who went south perhaps for his health and died there.

- iii. EPHRAIM RICHARDSON, date of birth unknown, enlisted in the Revolutionary service in 1778 for three years in a Company of Harness Makers, and was stationed at Springfield, Mass. He was named in his father's will, dated in 1795.
- iv. WEALTHY RICHARDSON, date of birth unknown, died Dec. 8, 1767, in the fourth year of her age.
- v. MINOR RICHARDSON, date of birth unknown, died Aug. 14, 1779, in his 15th year.
- vi. WEALTHY RICHARDSON, date of birth unknown, died Nov. 27, 1784, in her 17th year. Her record and the two preceding ones were taken from their tombstones.
- vii. MASON RICHARDSON, date of birth unknown, resided in Coventry and signed a deed there in 1801 with Martin, his brother, during the same year received a letter of transfer from the church at Coventry.
- viii. MARY RICHARDSON, married a Mr. Fox and had a daughter Eunice. Presumably she was the widow Fox who died in Coventry in 1826, age 56 years, according to the record of the Second Church.
- ix. MARTIN RICHARDSON, born in 1773, was the youngest son, married Lavinia Taylor, resided in Windham and ran a line of stages between there and Hartford.
His eight children were (1) Lavinia Richardson, born Dec. 8, 1797, married Joseph Delliber, of Hartford, and had two children: Joseph, born in 1821, married Caroline Rust; Lavinia, second child, born Jan. 15, 1825, married Lorenzo Hamilton. Children:
 1. Lillie Lavinia, born March 4, 1853, married James W. Eldridge of Hartford.
 2. Frank Lorenzo, born Jan. 7, 1855, married Sarah Lavinia Lines, resides at Meridan and has Maud Lines Hamilton, born Nov. 3, 1886, and Lorenzo Hamilton, born June 24, 1895.
 3. Joseph D., date of birth unknown.
 4. Ida Louise, born Jan. 28, 1859, married Dr. Franklin P. Roberts of New Haven and had Hazel Lavinia, born Sept. 5, 1883, and Frank Hamilton, born Oct. 12, 1885.

(2) Leydon Richardson, born in 1800, married first Eliza Emeline, and second Mary Charlotte Lyman, leaving a son Henry by his first wife.

(3) Jonathan Dwight Richardson, born 1807, married Martha Way and had a daughter Elizabeth, who married Arad Tuttle.

(4) Cynthia Ann Richardson, born 1810, died 1828.

(5) Julia Ann Richardson, born in 1812, died in 1829.

(6) Wealthy Richardson, born 1814, married William Palmer.

(7) William Hart Richardson, born in 1816, married Lucy Stillman.

(8) Laura Richardson, born in 1819, died in 1834.

6. STEPHEN, son of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, born July 14, 1732, married Mabel Marsh at Coventry, Feb. 22, 1763, and was one of the soldiers who went to Boston at the Lexington Alarm in 1775. After the war he resided in Windsor, where he died Oct. 7, 1809, his wife Aug. 4, 1798. They had nine children:

i. JANE RICHARDSON, born at Coventry, Dec. 24, 1763, married Elijah Wright, Jr., Nov. 1, 1781. They were buried in the cemetery near the foot of Silver Street, which is situated a little west of the site of his old mill, now in ruins. The locality is known to this day as "Wright's Mill." He was a descendant of Deacon Samuel Wright, of Springfield, and a cousin of Jesse, grandfather of the Rev. Merle St. C. Wright, of New York. The epitaphs on their tombstones are: "Elijah Wright, died Feb. 28, 1839, aged 80 years. Jane, relict of Elijah Wright, died Sept. 27, 1850, aged 86 years." Children:

(1) John Wright, born Feb. 2, 1787, resided at or near Detroit, Mich., served in the War of 1812, and died

Aug. 15, 1812. One account is that he was killed in the service.

(2) James Wright, born June 10th, died July 17, 1789.

(3) James Wright, born July 12, 1793, settled at Rootstown, Ohio, had three daughters and two sons, and died at Franklin Mills, Ohio, July 13, 1863.

(4) Emily Wright, born July 25, 1795, married Uriah Brigham, April, 1825, and died in March, 1826.

(5) Harvey Wright, born July 17, 1797, married Sarah Bissell, of Manchester, in 1820, names of their children unknown.

ii. JENNET JEWETT RICHARDSON, born Nov. 1, 1765, died Sept. 28, 1793 (perhaps a widow).

iii. LUCRETIA RICHARDSON, born Feb. 11, 1768.

iv. ABIGAIL RICHARDSON, born March 9, 1770, married William Kingsbury at Coventry, 1788, moved to Homer, N. Y., where he was a tanner and shoemaker.* Their five children were :

(1) Eleazer, born Nov. 25, 1788, married Susan Kinnee and had four children: Andrew E., born June 28, 1820, married, 1847, Cynthia Edgerton, of Coventry; Antoinette, born Aug. 24, 1823, married, 1850, Denman Spencer, resided at Binghamton, N. Y., and had one daughter, Harriet, born May 3, 1828; Sarah, born Sept. 4, 1830.

(2) William Kingsbury, born Aug. 27, 1790, married Hilpah Winchell in 1817, died Sept. 1, 1867, at Homer, where his three children were born: Harriet, died young; Augustus W., born Nov. 30, 1824, married Mary Fish, had two children, and died in Minnesota in 1866; Henry Clay, born Nov. 6, 1830, married Mercy Ann LaDue, resided in Westfield, N. Y., where he was a prominent lawyer and died in 1902. (Children: Carlton A., Edward P., Clara LaDue, Julia H. and Henry Clay.)

*See "Kingsbury Genealogy" for full account.

(3) Erastus, born Dec. 23, 1792, died Sept. 22, 1810.

(4) Augustus, born Oct. 12, 1796, married Dec., 1816, Polly Loomis, and died Oct. 26, 1872. Children: Mary, born Feb. 2, 1817; Harriet, born June 19, 1819, married Wells Woodbridge, of Manchester, Conn.; Erastus, born May 8, 1821, married Elizabeth Goodwin.

(5) Charles, born March 20, 1802, married Nov. 26, 1829, Pamela Porter; resided in Cortland Village, N. Y. Children: Emily M., born Feb. 14, 1832, died Oct. 7, 1852; Charles P., born July 8, 1833, married Cleoria Bennett; Andrew Dwight, born Nov. 18, 1834, married Emily Hawkes; Albert G., born Feb. 14, 1841, married Fanny Cleine, resided in Des Moines, Iowa; Edwin S., born Sept. 26, 1842, died March 13, 1874; Frederick W., born July 22, 1850, married Sept. 27, 1876, Mary Schemerhorn.

- v. ALEXANDER RICHARDSON, born June 17, 1772.
 - vi. PHILLIP RICHARDSON, born Sept. 7, 1774, drowned May 13, 1793.
 - vii. MABEL RICHARDSON, born March 8, 1778.
 - viii. DANIEL RICHARDSON, born Jan. 8, 1781.
 - ix. POLLY RICHARDSON, born Oct. 12, 1785.
7. ANN, daughter of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, born Jan. 4, 1734, married Uriah Brigham, May 28, 1754, and died Aug. 5, 1813. Her husband died in Jan., 1777, aged 55. Their eight children were:
- i. ROGER, born Oct. 28, 1755, died in Nov., 1760.
 - ii. BETHIAH, born July 14, 1757.
 - iii. ANNE, born Oct. 14, 1759, married Samuel Rudd, of Norwich, Feb. 19, 1783.
 - iv. NORMAN, born Dec. 2, 1761, died Aug., 1782.

- v. DON CARLOS, born Feb. 21, 1763, married Polly Greenleaf, June 7, 1789, and died March 27, 1843. A son aged two years died Jan. 20, 1804, and another, Gurdon, aged 12, died June 11, 1804. Don Carlos Brigham was a Revolutionary pensioner in 1832, and resided in Hartford Co.
- vi. CEPHAS, born Dec. 7, 1765, married Amelia Robertson, May 14, 1786, died May 17, 1841. Children:
- (1) Anne, born probably about 1787, bapt. May 17, 1793, married Roderick Dimock, of Mansfield, Oct. 9, 1806.
- (2) Lucia, date of birth unknown, bapt. May 17, 1793, married Horace Russ, Nov. 29, 1810, who died before Aug. 29, 1826, on which date the following children of his widow were baptized at Mansfield: Horace Dwight, Lucia Emily, Isabel, Amelia, Lewis and Louisa.
- (3) Sally, bapt. with her sisters May, 1793.
- vii. MARCIA or MARTHA, born Jan. 28, 1770, bapt. July, 1778.
- viii. LUCIA, born Nov. 6, 1771, bapt. July, 1778, married Dr. Rice, of Glastonbury, Aug. 31, 1800.
8. ZEBULON, son of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, was born March 7, 1735. Nothing more is known of him. Two of his brothers' sons were named for him, and, as there is no record of his death at Coventry, it is not improbable that he lost his life in the Revolution.
9. HUMPHREY, son of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, born March 9, 1737, was named for his father's half-brother, Humphrey Davenport. His father's will contains this provision: "I give and bequeath unto Humphrey my grandson, & son of my son Humphrey deceased what will remain out of Six & twenty pounds after deduction therefrom,—to pay a Legacy of £50 old tenor willed to my sd. son Humphrey by his Uncle Humphrey Davenport of Coventry deceased."

He married Mary Brown, probably daughter of Ebenezer and Martha Brown, of Coventry, who was born April 26, 1741. He served as a soldier and was killed in a battle with the Indians at Hoosick Falls, N. Y., in the latter part of 1756.

One of his descendants, Mrs. A. F. Hill, of West Brattleboro, has a letter, written by him while in camp, to his father, mother and wife, dated May 17, 1756. His only child, born after his death, was

- i. HUMPHREY RICHARDSON, born Feb. 6, 1757. He served in the Continental Army, was taken prisoner, and, when paroled, his residence was given as Coventry. In April, 1777, he enlisted again for three years in Capt. Jonathan Allen's Co., Col. Putnam's Reg., from Northampton, Mass. He married Margaret Webb, July 17, 1781, and on March 27, 1782, his infant child died at Bolton, Conn. On Nov. 30, 1783, Humphrey Richardson and wife were admitted to the church at Bolton. He moved to Williamstown, Mass., from there to Dorset, Vt., and died at North Bennington, Vt., in 1846.

In 1837 he petitioned Congress for an appropriation of $35.25 and interest to pay for property lost by him during the Revolutionary War. This request was not granted, although Hiland Hall, Representative from his district, certified that he was a man of "undoubted veracity." His petition in part was as follows:

"Your petitioner Humphrey Richardson, of Dorset in the county of Bennington and State of Vermont, a pensioner under the act of 1818, respectfully represent that in the month of March, 1776, he was a soldier in Col. Porter's regiment in the Massachusetts line, that he had furnished himself at his own expense with arms, clothing, and equipments, that on his way to Canada in crossing Lake Champlain, he, without any fault on his part slipped on the ice and broke the stock of his gun, which rendered it entirely useless, and there being no means of repairing it, it was left at St. Johns and lost to your petitioner, that the said gun cost him ten dollars in specie, that in August of the same year your petitioner was taken prisoner near the Isle La Motte in Lake Champlain, carried to Quebec and from thence to New York where he was paroled and returned home in the fall of the same year.

"Your petitioner further states that on being taken prisoner he was stripped of all his clothing except that which he wore, and also of his arms and equipments, and that his losses in arms, equipments, and clothing are truly and justly stated in the following bill."

The five children of Humphrey and Margaret (Webb) Richardson were:

(1) Humphrey Richardson, born at Bolton, Conn., Feb. 8, 1774, married Hannah Durgce, Aug., 1805, had sixteen children, only five accounted for, the others probably having died young:

1. Humphrey Davenport, married Mary Webb of Sunderland, Vt., and had Webb, Humphrey Davenport, and Adeline.
2. Margaret Helen, born in Dorset, Jan. 1, 1824, married Andrew Edward Richardson, in 1840, at Salem, N. Y., and died Nov. 8, 1862. He was born Aug. 8, 1813, and was the son of John Clauson and Lucretia (Root), as before mentioned. They had two children: Josephine Amelia, born Aug. 30, 1842, married Alexander F. Hill, July 15, 1862, resides at West Brattleboro, Vt., and has two daughters, Margaret Helen and Ruth Adeline, wife of Charles D. Pettee; Humphrey Edward Eugene, born Dec. 4, 1843, moved to Colorado about 1893.
3. Marion, born Feb. 19, 1826, married Samuel E. Moore, Nov. 15, 1855, and had Frank Ernest, Oct. 23, 1856, Lillian Emogene, June 23, 1858, Ralph Edward, July 7, 1865, and Hubert Samuel, Feb. 19, 1867. The second child, Lillian E., is the only one living; she married Major Frank L. Howe, at Dorset, Sept. 22, 1881, resides at Northfield, Vt., and has Harold Moore, born July 14, 1882, and Muriel Lillian, Oct. 16, 1884. The latter married Earl L. Bean, June 29, 1904.
4. Mary, married George Pettibone and has George R., who resides at Yonkers, N. Y.
5. Anne, married Benjamin Albe.

(2) Hiram Richardson, born Jan. 25, 1786, had two sons, Eli and Edwin, who resided at North Bennington.

(3) George Washington Richardson, born Dec. 27, 1789, according to family tradition, died unmarried at Memphis, Tenn., in 1846. He was born with only one hand, was educated at Williams College, but did not graduate. He was for many years a teacher, but became a physician. Mrs. A. F. Hill has a good letter written by him Dec. 15, 1828, at which time he was teaching at Riverhead, Conn., and was in poor health. Mr. A. M. Jones also has eleven family letters from him, the first dated at

New York, Sept. 10, 1810, the last at Birch Pond, Tenn., 1843. He had an exemplary Christian character.

(4) Margaret Richardson, born in Williamstown, Mass., July 22, 1796, married Norris Dodge and had seven children:

1. William, drowned when about two years of age.
2. Mary H., born Oct. 25, 1820, married William G. Baker, died in Scottsville, N. Y., June 18, 1901, leaving a daughter Margaret E., who married LeGrand Brown.
3. Marcia Richardson, married Elijah Sherwin and died in Iowa without issue.
4. Jane N., married Edwin Haswell, moved to California, where she died in 1862. Her sons, Alfred Z. and George E., reside in Madison, Wis.
5. Margaret Helen and
6. Marrett J. died in infancy.
7. Eva P., born April 9, 1835, married Fred H. Cooledge, March 23, 1859, resides at Dorset and had two children: Mary J., born Dec. 25, 1867, died Sept. 29, 1881; William Dodge, second child, born Aug. 23, 1861, married Frances Harrington and died Sept. 18, 1891, leaving a daughter Mary Ella (wife of Ralph Walker) and a son, George Baker.

(5) Marcia Richardson, born July 31, 1803, married Amos Allen Jones in 1828, resided many years at North Bennington, and died at Schaghticoke, N. Y., June 28, 1883. Children:

1. Myron Allen Jones, born Feb. 6, 1835, married Mary C. Barton in 1868, had Helen M., Myra, Helen B., and died at Schaghticoke April 30, 1883.
2. Myra Jones died in infancy.
3. Albert Melvin Jones, born Sept. 10, 1840, married Frelove E. Allen Feb. 13, 1866, resides at Hoosick Falls, N. Y., and has six children: Amos Melvin, born July 2, 1869, married Cora A. Reynolds Oct. 17, 1894, and has William Reynolds, born Oct. 26, 1901; Oliver Arnold, second child, born April 9, 1872, married Emma Oldenberg Aug. 30, 1899, resides at Westfield, N. Y., and has Olive R., born June 16, 1900, and Albert F., May 12, 1902; Ralph Allen, third child, born March 21, 1875, married Maud L. Easton Sept. 20, 1899, and resides at North Bennington, Vt. The other children of Albert M. and Frelove E. (Allen) Jones are Marcia E., born April 18, 1879, Myra H., July 18, 1885, and Myron H., Aug. 3, 1888.

10. ABIGAIL, daughter of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, born July 23, 1739. There is no further account of her.

11. LOIS, daughter of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, born July 18, 1741, married Jonathan Porter, Jr.,* Nov. 15, 1759. He went to Boston at the Lexington alarm. Her gravestone in the cemetery near the foot of Silver Street is marked "Lois Porter, wife of Jonathan Porter, Jr., died April 14, 1766, in the 25th year of her age." Their seven children were:

i. LOIS, born April 14, 1759, married Lieut. Joseph Kingsbury, Feb. 21, 1780, and by him had eleven children:

(1) Lois Kingsbury, born Jan. 14, 1781, married, Nov. 3, 1805, Ira Lillie and died without issue.

(2) Oliver Kingsbury, born June 24, 1782, married, April 28, 1803, Cynthia Wing and had Maria May 12, 1806 (married Dr. Alonzo Streeter) and Oliver R., March 15, 1809 (married Susan Paterson).

(3) Eunice Backus Kingsbury, born Nov. 17, 1784, married, Nov., 1802, Ebenezer Porter and had four children: Sophronia, born Sept. 26, 1803, married Daniel Wight; their son Edwin Mather, born Oct. 31, 1836, graduated at Williams College and is a lawyer in New York; Rosanna, born April 12, 1806; Monroe H., born Aug., 1812, died Sept. 5, 1818; Alva, born April, 1814, married John C. Mather.

(4) Ward Kingsbury, born Jan. 10, 1787, married, Feb. 2, 1808, Irene Avery and had three children; Louisa, born July 24, 1811, married Ebenezer Parsons; Dinah, born Jan. 22, 1813, married Matthew Allyn of Wellington, Ohio; Ebenezer, born July 16, 1821, married Clemena Hitchcock.

(5) Persis Kingsbury, born Dec. 10, 1789, married, May 2, 1813, Ira Lillie (her sister was his first wife).

*See "Porter Family" for a full account of their descendants. Col. Porter, however, fell into the error of calling the wife of Jonathan Porter, Louis Richard, and the "Kingsbury Genealogy" makes the same mistake.

Both are excellent family histories, with full accounts of the descendants in the Porter and Kingsbury lines.

Children: Marcus, born March 3, 1814; Elizabeth, Nov. 26, 1817, and Jannette, May 31, 1821.

(6) Electa Kingsbury, born June 9, 1791, married, March 8, 1810, Levi Swetland. *Children: Mary Ann born July 18, 1811, married George N. Loomis; Oliver W., born June 12, 1817, died unmarried; Henry Kirke Wight, born May 28, 1821, married Lizzie Mann, was a fine musician and composer and died June 19, 1852; Harriet Elizabeth, born Feb. 24, 1824, married George Pomeroy; Levi Parsons, born April 25, 1827, died July 13, 1854.

(7) Mary Kingsbury, born Oct. 3, 1793, married, May, 1813, Harlan Page. He was a man of strong religious convictions and had a great influence on the religious life of Coventry. He was the manager of the American Tract Society of New York until his death (Sept. 23, 1834, aged 43). His "Memoirs" were printed by the Society in 1835. They had four children: Erwin Page, born Aug. 11, 1815, in Coventry, graduated at Marietta College, 1841, at Lane Theological Seminary 1844, and died unmarried Aug. 8, 1865.

Electa Maria Page, second child of Harlan and Mary (Kingsbury), born Oct. 22, 1817, married, July 18, 1843, Rev. John Lewis of Platteville, Wis.

Cyrus Page, third child of Harlan and Mary (Kingsbury), born May 15, 1822, married, March, 1843, Sophronia Davenport, and died the following month.

Harlan Marius Page, fourth child, born Jan. 1, 1833, in New York, graduated at Beloit College about 1856, married Sarah E. Turner, was an editorial writer on the Wisconsin State Journal, and died June 15, 1886, leaving a widow and two children: Josie Electa and Harlan Kingsbury. Mrs. Page and her daughter were talented musicians. She was the prima donna of the Ole Bull Concert Troupe. Of the daughter the Iowa State Register says: "The wonderful child artiste, Mdle. Josie Page, is a little jewel, has a remarkable voice, which she uses with great ease, singing the most difficult music with a thoroughly clear enunciation."

*This account of their children from the "Kingsbury Genealogy" and that given on page 43 from Dimnock's "Coventry" do not agree.

(8) Roxana Kingsbury, born Aug. 5, 1796, married, Sept. 20, 1815, Daniel Wight and had five children. Their third child, William Ward Wight, born Feb. 4, 1821, married, July 10, 1844, Lydia Ann Potwin Van Akin, died April 20, 1868, and left four children: Daniel Porter, born Aug. 16, 1846; William Ward, born in Troy, N. Y., Jan. 14, 1849, married, June 29, 1876, Sarah Emily West, resides at Milwaukee, is President of the Wisconsin Historical Society, and has written a genealogy of the Wight family; Clara Elizabeth, born Oct. 9, 1852, is a teacher and resides in Troy; Arthur Merriam, born April 20, 1860.

Joseph Kingsbury Wight, fourth child of Daniel and Roxana, born Feb. 9, 1824, married, Aug. 16, 1848, Elizabeth N. Van Dyke, graduated at Williams College and at Princeton Theological Seminary and was a missionary to China. They had seventeen children.

(9) Ruth Kingsbury, born April 24, 1798, married Simon Tracy, a merchant, and had Addison Leander, born Oct. 25, 1819, in Lebanon; Lois Abby, born July 21, 1821, and Simon Kingsbury, born Oct. 23, 1831, in Norwich.

REV. ADDISON KINGSBURY, D.D.

(10) Addison Kingsbury, son of Joseph and Lois, born July 5, 1800, in Coventry, married first, April 27, 1830, Emma Little and second Mary Farrar Price, Aug. 20, 1832. He was formerly a shoemaker, but after his religious conversion he determined to become a preacher of the Gospel. He was fitted for college under the private instruction of Rev. George A. Calhoun of Coventry, entered Amherst College, 1823, but was compelled by serious sickness to leave after the first year, and taught at Norwich Falls, Conn.; he studied at Andover Theological Seminary, 1825-1828, was licensed by the Andover Association April 22, 1828, ordained as an evangelist by the Presbytery of Newburyport September 25, 1828, and went to Ohio.

His route was from New York City by boat to Albany, by canal from Schenectady to Utica, stage to Buffalo, steamer to Dunkirk, stage via Conneaut, Ohio, to Wheeling, W. Va., thence to Marietta, Ohio, where he landed October 28, 1828. He labored for one year as home missionary in Washington County, Ohio, under commission from the American Home Missionary Society.

In autumn of 1829 he was installed pastor of the united churches of Belpre and Warren, Ohio. After ten years' labor he was called to the Presbyterian Church of Putnam, Ohio, now a ward of Zanesville, serving till April, 1878, when he resigned, having completed a half century of ministerial service. The presbytery, at the request of the Church, honored him as "pastor emeritus;" he resided at Marietta until his death, Jan. 25, 1892 (aged 92).

He was a member of the New England Historic-Genealogical Society, a trustee for thirty-eight years of the Putnam Female Seminary, for thirty-one years of Lane Theological Seminary, and for fifty-three years of Marietta College. The last-named institution conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1854. He was from the church at Coventry in which Harlan Page was reared, and drank largely of the spirit of that devoted man.

Dr. H. M. Field says of him in the New York Evangelist: "He was probably the oldest, and, up to recent years, almost the best known of our ministers west of the Ohio. He was among the most zealous and efficient of those pioneers of the Church who began their ministry at the front, when Ohio was yet largely a wilderness."

He had three sons, the youngest of whom died young. The eldest, Harlan Page, born Aug. 12, 1836, married Mary Ellen Haver.

Joseph Addison, the second son, born Sept. 28, 1840, graduated at Marietta College 1861, married Sarah Elizabeth Shipman and resides in Pittsburgh, Pa., where he is a railroad official. He is the author of the Kingsbury Genealogy (from material gathered by his father.) Most of the record here given of the Kingsbury line is gleaned from this excellent family history. He had three daughters and one son, Samuel Shipman Kingsbury, born Sept. 12, 1871, who is professor of Greek and German in Fairmont College, Wichita, Kansas.

(11) Emeline Kingsbury, daughter of Joseph and Lois, born March 2, 1803, married, Sept. 18, 1826, Alvin Kingsbury. He was a merchant and manufacturer and had five children:

1. Martha Roxana, born Aug. 20, 1828, married Charles A. Kingsbury.
2. Joseph, born Oct. 31, 1830, died Aug. 31, 1853.
3. Ruth M., born Nov. 8, 1832, married Hon. Marcus Lillie.
4. Addison, born Nov. 15, 1835, married first Charlotte Elizabeth Lillie, second Sarah M. Scott, third Mrs. Ida May (Warner) Robertson.
5. Andrew Backus, born Nov. 15, 1837, died Aug. 20, 1841.

The other children of Jonathan and Lois (Richardson) Porter were:

- ii. MERCY, born May 22, 1760, married Capt. Samuel Robinson, and had Neal, June 16, 1784, and Sarah Anne, Oct. 17, 1786.
 - iii. RACHEL, born May 28, 1761, married Samuel White.
 - iv. PERCIS, born July 10, 1762, married Dr. Daniel Avery and died April 1, 1831. He died Sept. 27, 1841, aged 80.
 - v. AMAZIAH, born Dec. 2, 1763, married ——— Kittridge.
 - vi. IRENE, born March 6, 1765, married Jabez Rockwell and had thirteen children.
 - vii. JONATHAN, born April 5, 1766, married Tirzah Carpenter.
12. JUSTUS, son of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, born Sept. 30, 1743, married Submit Troop, Nov. 16, 1769, and died Aug. 28, 1813 (according to his gravestone at Coventry). Children:

- i. JAMES, born Nov. 17, 1770, died July 6, 1790.
 - ii. SUBMIT, born about January, 1772, died Aug. 28, 1782, aged 11 years.
 - iii. IRENE, born Dec. 8, 1772.
 - iv. RUSSELL, born Nov. 16, 1774.
13. EUNICE, daughter of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, born Aug. 7, 1746, married Elam Jewett at Coventry May 19, 1768. Children:
- i. JEMIMA, born July 6, 1769.
 - ii. ELAM, born Nov. 19, 1770.
 - iii. JARED, born Jan. 26, 1771 (?).
 - iv. JEREMIAH, born Dec. 7, 1773.
 - v. OTHNIAL, born April 1, 1775.
14. ABIAL, daughter of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington) Richardson, born March 18, 1749, married Dr. Henry Ladd, Jr., June 26, 1766; he died Aug., 1778. Children:
- i. JERUSHA, born Feb. 15, died Aug. 11, 1767.
 - ii. HENRY, born Aug. 8, 1768, bapt. July, 1778.
 - iii. HERMAN, born Feb. 6, 1770, bapt. July, 1778.
 - iv. JERUSHA, born April 11, 1772, died Feb. 21, 1776.
 - v. PEREGRINE, born Jan. 1, 1774 bapt. July, 1778.
 - vi. LORIN, born June 8, 1775, died Dec. 10, 1777.
 - vii. HIRAM, born Oct. 16, 1776, bapt. July, 1778.
 - viii. BENONI, born July 24, 1778, bapt. July, 1778.

FIFTH GENERATION.

LEMUEL RICHARDSON.

LEMUEL RICHARDSON, son of Amos and Rachel (Yarrington), born in Coventry Sept. 19, 1726 married Anna, daughter of Capt. Samuel and Sarah (Hawkins) Rust* of Coventry, Aug. 30, 1747, and had fifteen children, all recorded at Coventry. Roswell Richardson, his grandson, was told by his father that there were fifteen children, although he never heard of but seven men and two women, which makes it probable that the others died young.

He resided in the northwest corner of the town, on the road leading from Coventry to Rockville, about a quarter-mile south of the Tolland town line.

His father gave him this farm in 1754. The deed reads in part as follows:

"To all people to whom these presents shall come greeting. Know Ye that I, Amos Richardson of Coventry in the County of Windham and Colony of Connecticut in New England for and in consideration of ye love and affection that I bear unto my son, Lemuel Richardson of ye Town of County and Colony above, have given, granted, and do for and by these presents given and grant unto my 2d son, Lemuel and to his heirs and assigns forever two certain pieces of land lying in the Township of Coventry."

His farm contained about fifty-six acres and was first occupied by Noah Skinner; subsequently, in 1838, it was purchased by Daniel Usher.

Lemuel Richardson died in 1777, and was buried in the cemetery at the foot of Silver Street, about a half mile west of Wright's mill. A tombstone marks his last resting place on which is this inscription: "In memory of Mr. Lemuel Richardson who died April ye 22, 1777, in ye 51 year of his age." The inventory of his estate shows that his wife survived him; it is not known when she died.

*For Rust Family see Appendix D.

There is no account of his serving in the Revolution, although he may have done so, and his last illness may have been caused from exposure in the service. The doctor's bills, as shown by the inventory, would indicate that he was ill for some time. It is well known that the Revolutionary records contain the names of only a part of the men who were in the service. This is proved by the petitions for pensions of many of the Revolutionary soldiers. His family, however, were well represented in the service, for it is known that at least four of his brothers, four of his sons, two sons-in-law, and four of his brother's sons were in the war. Their fifteen children were:

1. MERCY, or MARY, daughter of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, was born at Coventry Jan. 7, 1748. There is no further account of her, and she probably died young.

2. SAMUEL, son of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, was born March 25, 1749. In 1814 he was residing near Lake George, and during that year visited his sister, Mrs. Collins, at Manchester, Vt., where Roswell and his father met him. It is known that he had been a Revolutionary soldier and he may have been the Samuel Richardson who was at Ticonderoga in 1772. There was a Sergeant Samuel Richardson in the Continental Army from Stafford, Conn., where some of his family resided. It is not known that he was ever married.

3. NATHANIEL, son of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, born April 5, 1750, served in the Revolution from Coventry and was one of the soldiers who went to Boston at the Lexington alarm. The name of his wife is unknown. He had a daughter Pauline, born in Coventry Oct. 24, 1783. According to the recollection of Roswell Richardson he moved after that to West Stafford, where he resided until his death about 1828. He was a shoemaker by trade and had four children, two sons and two daughters. The eldest daughter, probably Pauline, died at her uncle Lemuel's some years before Roswell left home. The sons were shoemakers and resided in Berlin, Conn.; their names are unknown.

4. ZEBULON, son of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, born July 31, 1751, served as a Major in the Revolution. After the war he resided in Berlin, Conn., where he was a blacksmith; he made the first scythe that Roswell Richardson ever used. The family name of his wife Lois is unknown.

The following are the epitaphs on their tombstones at Berlin: "Major Zebulon Richardson died June 25, 1809, aged 58." "Lois, relict of Major Zebulon Richardson, died March 10, 1812, aged 57." He had two daughters:

- i. HULDA, born about 1779, married first Seth Beekley, second, Dec. 2, 1806, Ammi R. Deming of Southington, Conn., and died May 25, 1847, aged 68. She had one daughter, who was living in 1827.
- ii. HARRIET, born about 1781, united with the Second Congregational Church at Berlin in 1813, and died there Sept. 4, 1822, aged 41, presumably unmarried.

5. LEMUEL, son of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, born at Coventry Dec. 13, 1752, married Rachel Lothrop of Tolland, June 2, 1774. He was a saddler by trade. After the birth of one child at Coventry, he removed to Tolland, where probably all of his other children were born. He died at Waitsfield, Vt., Sept. 26, 1826, and his wife in Tolland, April 27, 1811. His eleven children were:

- i. LOTHROP, born Dec. 10, 1774, died March 16, 1789.
- ii. ACHSAH, born Aug. 27, 1775, married Erastus A. Abbot of Rutland, Vt., and died March 5, 1820.
- iii. RODERICK, born Feb. 15, 1779, married Anna Davis of Stafford, daughter of Noah Davis, the grandfather of Judge Noah Davis of New York. He settled in Waitsfield, Vt., where he died in 1844. He was a prominent business man and Judge of the County Court. His four children were:

(1) Sophia Richardson, born about 1802, died unmarried at Waitsfield, Vt.

(2) Dan Richardson, born Nov., 1804, married first, Betsey Jones, second, Lucy Carpenter, and died in 1865.

HON. RODERICK RICHARDSON.

(3) Roderick, born Aug. 7, 1807, married, Feb. 28, 1839, Harriet Emeline Taylor and died in Boston Dec. 13, 1882. A full account of him and his family, with his portrait, is given in the "Richardson Memorial." It is regretted that more space cannot be given here for an account of his life. He was in the banking business at Montpelier, Vt., and for nine years at Freeport, Ill., served as a Judge in Washington Co., Vt., and for nine years in the Legislature as Representative and as Senator.

After moving to Boston, in 1869, he was president for a few years of the Montpelier and Wells River Railroad. He was a prominent member of the Episcopal Church. He took a great interest in his family history, and the data, given in the "Richardson Memorial," of Amos Richardson's descendents in Connecticut was obtained by him at Coventry and at Stonington. His four children were Roderick Julius, Louis Ferdinand, Dan Erskine, Roderick Davis.

(4) Lovina Richardson, married Nathaniel G. Joslyn, who resided upon the old Richardson farm at Waitsfield, where he died in 1874, leaving one son, Louis.

iv. FREDERICK, born March 9, 1781, married first Lovina Steele, who died in 1813, second Eliza Waldron, who died in 1826, and third Mrs. Betsy (Billings) Jordon. He was a physician and resided at Waitsfield and at Waterbury, Vt. He died at Waitsfield Dec. 30, 1860. He had three children by his first wife and five by the second:

(1) Ahira Steele Richardson, married Mary Ann Baberoft and had one daughter, Frances A.

(2) Elisha Benton Richardson, married Betsy Cutler and had eight children: Lovina married Holland Jones; Albert married Tinkham; Edwin, killed in the Civil War; Carlos E. married Lovina B. Richardson; Laura married Charles Prentice; Loren married Miss Reed; John, name of wife unknown; Ahira S. married Emma Soules of St. Albans, Vt.

(3) Lovina Steele Richardson died young.

(4) Frederick A. Richardson married Lucia Wood and had Eliza, Homer and Frank.

(5) Samuel Richardson died unmarried.

(6) John W. Richardson married first, Eugenia Joslin; second, Arcenath Hadley, and had three children all by his first wife, Cyrus, Flora and Charles.

(7) Oramel Richardson, name of wife unknown, resided at Roxbury, Vt., and later at Billingham, Mass., where he died. It is regretted that more information cannot be given about him, as one of his cousins wrote many years ago that he was a man with an unusually fine character. His three children were Seldon, Persis and Rolla.

(8) Amanda Richardson, married Erastus N. Spalding.

- v. PERSIS, born March 16, 1783, married Samuel Robinson, and died in 1859 without issue.
- vi. VINA, born Oct. 31, 1785, married Eli Baker and died in Somers, Conn., in 1865, without issue.
- vii. IRA, born Jan. 23, 1788, married Rachel Durkee; resided at Fayston, Vt., where he died Dec. 15, 1844. He served in the War of 1812 and was a member of the Legislature from Fayston. Their seven children were:

(1) Ira Richardson, born in 1816, married Harriet F. Chapman; resided in Waitsfield, where he probably died. He was a successful business man, a prominent member of the Methodist Church, a Judge of Washington Co., and a member of both branches of the Legislature. He had five children: Calvin C., born in 1845, married Terrence Kelsey; Ira E., born in 1848, married Eleanor Allen; Clarence M., born in 1849, married Isabella A. Kneeland; Orville H., born in 1852, unmarried; Meriden L., born in 1854, married Flora E. Allen.

(2) Eli Baker Richardson, married Lydia Sweat and resided in Burns, Wis. Their nine children were: Ira, Egbert, Herbert, Alonzo, Eugene, Florence, Lovila, Rosette and Emma.

(3) De Witt C. Richardson, married Ann Eliza Giddings and resided at Eau Claire, Wis. He was High Sheriff of that county. His seven children were: James I., Duane, Mary, Flora, Emma, Addie and Jessie.

(4) Duane M. Richardson, married Pamela Scott and resided at Leon, Wis. Children: Lorne, Lucius and De Witt.

(5) Rachel C. Richardson married Lucius S. Greggs and resided at Tomah, Wis., where they had Orman J., Clarence, Florence and Harriet.

(6) Lucinda C. Richardson married Robert Mosher and had three children, who died young.

(7) Lovila Richardson died unmarried.

viii. LOTHROP, born Aug. 27, 1790, married Charity Skinner, of Waitsfield, where he resided for a number of years and then moved with his family to Coventry, Conn., where he died July 15, 1850. Children: Charles, Eli, Harriet, Vina, and perhaps others.

ix. ROSWELL, born in Stafford Nov. 16, 1793, married Mary Huntington. He was a soldier in the War of 1812; after the war, in 1815, he moved to Mt. Pleasant, Pa., where he resided until 1827, when he settled in Waitsfield, Vt., where he lived until a few years before his death, which occurred at Keene, N. H., Dec. 10, 1886.

He was of great assistance to the author by giving information concerning his family history. He had twelve children, all dying in infancy except the following five:

(1) Laura A. Richardson married Joseph Barnes and resided at Fitchburg, Mass. (no children).

(2) Rachel Rebecca Richardson married George S. Ellis, resided at Keene, N. H., and had four children: Lizzie Frances, Edward Stanley, Mary Wyman and Henry Judson.

(3) Persis R. Richardson went to California in 1868, where she was a teacher until 1876, when she married Luke Lukes; she now resides in Santa Cruz, and has no children.

(4) Elizabeth Richardson died unmarried.

(5) Judson Wade Richardson married, in 1857, Marilla A. Goodwin. He was a Union soldier in the Civil War for three years and was in many important battles, making a record of which his family are proud. He resides at Warren, Vt., and had three children: Fred C., born in 1860; Belle Louisa, born in 1867, and Elwyn Heath, born in 1869.

x. RALPH, born March 10, 1796, married and had three children: Mary Jane, Ralph and Roderick. He resided in Connecticut, where he died in 1858.

xi. LAURA, born March 19, 1799, married Thomas Sargent in Tolland Jan. 29, 1824, resided at Warren and at Northfield, Vt.; after his death in 1870 at Brookfield, Vt., where she died in 1875. Children: Irving, Roderick and Edwin.

6. MABEL, daughter of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, born Oct. 13, 1754, married Nathaniel Collins at Coventry. He was born there Jan. 9, 1748-9, went to Boston from that town at the Lexington alarm in 1775, removed to Manchester, Vt., before 1780, and was a Representative in 1805. He was at first a tanner and shoemaker, but in 1814, when Roswell and his father visited them, he was a wealthy farmer with three sons and three or four daughters.

They may have had a son born before he removed to Manchester. The children recorded there are Elijah, born July 8, 1780; Clara, Aug. 2, 1781; Elijah, Dec. 29, 1782; Mary, May 28, 1784; Rachel, Sept. 17, 1785; Lemuel, July 16, 1787, and Mabel, Nov. 6, 1788.

There is but little known about this family. In 1898 Mr. E. B. Smith wrote to the author that Elijah Collins was his grandfather and Nathaniel Collins his great-grandfather; that he resided in the brick house at Manchester Centre which Nathaniel Collins erected. He remembered that the latter had three sons and that his wife was a Richardson.

7. RICHARD, born Sept. 29, 1755.

8. Infant son, born Feb. 17, died Feb. 22, 1757.

9. Daughter, born Dec. 26, 1758.

10. STEPHEN, born May 25, died Nov. 4, 1760.

The above were children of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, as shown by the Coventry town records; there is no other information about them.

11. ANNE, daughter of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, born Oct. 19, 1761, married Nathaniel Thompson at Coventry, who was born in 1752 and was a Revolutionary soldier. He married a daughter of Lemuel Richardson, but there is no positive proof that it was Anne, and the Christian name of his wife has not been found.

In 1818 he was a Revolutionary pensioner and resided at Manchester. His application for a pension contains the affidavits of Hezekiah Richardson and Olive, his wife, of Coventry, stating that he came back to Coventry lame from his service in the war; also that he moved from Coventry to Johnstown, N. Y., in 1805.

In 1814 he resided in Dorset, the adjoining town to Manchester, where he was visited by Roswell Richardson and his father. Mr. E. B. Smith, of Manchester, before mentioned, thinks he had a son Nathan and perhaps other children.

12. STEPHEN, son of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, was born March 27, 1763. According to the recollection of his grandson Stephen F. he served as a drummer boy in the Revolution. He married Huldah, daughter of Lieut. Joseph Deming, at Berlin, Conn., she was born March 19, 1760. In June, 1789, he was living at Stephentown, N. Y., where one of his sons was born; he moved to New York probably soon after 1800 and for some years was engaged in the cartage business. In 1805 he resided at 74 Harman Street, now East Broadway; some years later moved to Brooklyn, and in 1826 was a wood inspector.

In 1806 his family, which included four sons and three daughters, were all converted at a camp meeting held in Tuckahoe, Westchester Co., and united with the Sands Street M. E. Church, Brooklyn.

He died Oct. 29, 1827, his wife June 2, 1837, and they were buried in the Sands Street Church yard until 1888, when their remains were removed to the family plot in Greenwood. His will, dated August, 1826, left $100 to his brother Marvelous, and $20 to his grandson Stephen Frazier; the remainder of his estate was left to his wife Huldah during her life, and after that to his children, namely, Gideon, Simon, Lemuel, Marvelous, Betsy Wood and Huldah Garrison. Simon and Lemuel were the executors. He had ten children:

- i. GIDEON RICHARDSON, born Oct. 21, 1782, died at Shippenville, Pa., Nov. 28, 1846. In 1812 he moved to Elk township, Clarion Co., Pa., where he was at first a land agent, but subsequently bought land and improved it. He was a member of the first board of commissioners of Clarion Co., was 6 feet 4 inches in height, and was a soldier in the War of 1812. He married Nancy Ann VanKirk, who was born in Hoboken, N. J., and who died at Shippenville Nov. 6, 1854, aged 73. They had six children:

(1) Charlotte Richardson, born Aug. 19, 1810, died May, 1888; married Peter Heasley, and had eight children: Jeremiah, born March 26, 1831, died in 1883; Julia Ann, born April 20, 1833; Gideon Perry, born Sept. 23, 1835, died May 19, 1836; Obediah F., born May 3,

1838, resides at Panora, Iowa; Sarah E., born May 7, 1840, died Jan. 5, 1902; Henry, born Oct. 16, 1843, residence unknown; Clarissa E., born June 12, 1845, died April 16, 1850; Peter, born June 27, 1847, residence unknown.

(2) Elizabeth Richardson, born Sept. 8, 1812, married Mr. Jerrard, or Jarrett, and moved to Maryland. There is no further account of her.

(3) Carolina Richardson, born Jan. 3, 1814, married Robert Allen, died in 1851, and had five children: Druzilla, born in 1835, died in 1851; John married and resides in Clay township, Butler Co., Pa.; Gideon R., married and has two children (residence Euclid, Pa.); Lizzie, born in 1843, died without issue in 1901; Henry, born in 1845, served in the 11th Pa. Cavalry in the Civil War, and was killed near Suffolk, Va., in 1862 or '63.

(4) Richard Richardson, born Jan. 22, 1816, married Elizabeth Rice, resides at Franklin, Venango Co., Pa., and has had four children: Frances Annett married Capt. Henry M. Hughes, who served three years in the Civil War in the Pa. Cavalry; Lucia Lorania married Budley S. Black; Rollin R., born in 1847, resides in Patagonia, Ariz., unmarried; Harriet E. married Orrin D. Bleakley, President of the Franklin Trust Co.

(5) Thomas Gideon Richardson, born April 21, 1818, died Oct. 16, 1896, at Blooming Valley, Crawford Co., Pa.; married Sarah Whitehill, who died May 27, 1871, and had three children: First, James W., born Oct. 28, 1841, married Clara Jones. He served in the 103rd Pa. Reg. three years and nine months during the Civil War and was confined in a Confederate prison 10 months and 6 days. Second, Gideon F., born June, 1843, died Feb. 22, 1901, at Lima, O.; served in the Civil War, and married Mary Eminger. Third, Lemuel, born 1845, served in the Civil War, married Mary A. Call, resides at Shippenville.

(6) John Henry Richardson, born July 20, 1823, died at Knox, Pa., Dec. 21, 1896; married Elizabeth J. Thompson, Jan. 1, 1846. They had seven children: Clarissa, born March 19, 1848, married Amos R. Black, of Couer d'Alene, Idaho; Laura Jane, born March 3, 1850, died Dec. 4, 1861; Maryetta, born June 3, 1852, died Jan. 27, 1876; Ella, born Oct. 30, 1854, married Allen McLean, of Lynch, W. Va.; Robert M., born June 5, 1851, resides in Allentown, N. Y.; Lucia, born Nov. 6, 1861, married John N. Heeter, of Knox, Pa.; George B., born Feb. 23, 1864, married Ella May Yates and had Eugene Clifton Aug. 17, 1891; Leo Duane June 5, 1894; Fred Wilson, Oct. 22, 1896; Carolyn Elizabeth March 23, 1899. They reside at Knox, Pa.

The above Richard Richardson died March 22, 1906, aged 90. He was widely known as Colonel Richardson, acquired a fortune as a merchant and oil operator, had great force of character.

- ii. SIMON RICHARDSON, born May 16, 1784, married first, Sarah Sharp, who died in 1819, aged 33, and second, Anna Sharp, her sister. He died in the town of Bushwick (now in the Borough of Brooklyn) Oct. 28, 1850. He was a prominent member of the Sands Street M. E. Church, where he was a class leader in 1807; also an early member and class leader of the Washington Street Church, and subsequently of the Cooper Street Church, where he was a class leader and trustee.

He is described as "circumspect, industrious and generous."* He was a grocer in Brooklyn and later a rope manufacturer at "Cross Roads" in Bushwick, by which he acquired a fortune. He was a member of the Board that organized the first public school in Brooklyn in 1816. He is said to have weighed over 300 pounds. He had eight children, three by his first wife:

(1) Marvin D. Richardson, born in 1806, married Sarah, daughter of Joseph Johnson, and died in 1834, being described in his will as "late of the City of New York, merchant." He left two children: Emma Louise and Sarah Jane, who died in 1839, aged five years. The first daughter, Emma Louise, married John Lemuel Chambers in 1853 and had three children: Josephine Chambers, who married John B. Garrison in 1881, resides at Red Bank, N. J., and has a son, Horton B.; Emma Louise

*Warriner's "History of old Sands Street Church."

Chambers, who married Edward Jacob Shaw in 1882 and died in 1886, leaving one child, Fannie Sanford, and (third) Frank Marvin Chambers.

(2) Sarah Ann Richardson, born in 1809, died April 16, 1847, aged 38, married Josiah Lewis, by whom she had ten children: Charles Lewis, born in 1828, died unmarried; Lucinda E. Lewis, born March 6, 1830, married James A. Clark, and resides in Brooklyn; Sarah Ann Lewis married Simeon Rowling; Marvin D. Lewis; Simon R. Lewis; Jane Isabella Lewis married Ely Dunklee; William E. Lewis, George A. Lewis; Grace I. Lewis married Elanson Dunklee; Helen F. Lewis married David Lewis.

(3) William Sharp Richardson, born in Attorney or in Arundell Street, New York, Nov. 20, 1812, married first, Marcia C. H. Garrison April 14, 1833, who died Dec. 15, 1887; second, Mrs. Jennie L. Camp, and died July 25, 1895. He had three children: Caroline M., born Nov., 18, 1835, died March 15, 1884; George M., born Sept. 17, 1843, married Hester Ann Hubbard, resides in Brooklyn; William S., born Aug. 3, 1849, married Eluey Addie Hubbard, and died Jan. 25, 1891.

(4) Stephen F. Richardson, born in New York in 1821, died May 14, 1896, married first, Caroline Engle; second, Sara E. Dexter, and third, Ellen Dow, each of whom left one son: Frank E. died in 1891, leaving a daughter Lillian; Edgar M., born Aug. 17, 1855, married Emma L. Bendall, resides in Brooklyn, and has Gifford D., born in 1882, and Edna L., 1885; Sumner D. married Elizabeth W. Gedney and died without issue in August, 1895.

(5) George Richardson, born in 1823, died about 1838.

(6) Grace Richardson, born August, 1826, married William R. Meserole, and has three children: George, Amanda and Frederick.

(7) Amanda Richardson married Mark J. Bendall and died without issue.

(8) Clementine Richardson died March 5, 1883, unmarried.

- iii. LEMUEL RICHARDSON, born Nov. 2, 1786, married Ann Sophia Hoffman and died in Williamsburg, now Brooklyn, Feb. 1, 1853. His wife died the 21st of the same month, aged 61 years. He was engaged for a few years in the cartage business with his father; after that he was a grocer at 48 Rivington Street. He removed to Williamsburg before 1828, where he became one of the most prominent and wealthy citizens.

Richardson Street was named for him and Cornelia Street for one of his daughters. A few years before his death he commenced the manufacture of locks and builders' hardware in Houston Street, New York. He also had a hardware store in Williamsburg. Stiles' "History of Kings Co." gives this estimate of him: "He was a careful business man of excellent judgment and sterling qualities; was about the only citizen who survived the land jobbing speculators of the village without becoming bankrupt, which gave him a high position in the community." They had ten children:

(1) Catharine Knapp Richardson, born Jan. 28, 1811, married William Nodine, resided in Powers Street, had a daughter, Amanda, who married Mr. Hillyer, and a son, Lemuel.

(2) Benjamin Samuel Knapp Richardson, born March 4, 1813, married Olive W. Hodges and died in New York City March 19, 1858. He was Deputy Sheriff of Kings County (Brooklyn), and for a number of years was the manager and one of the owners of a New York City stage line. Their four children were: Olive White, who married, April 20, 1859, Dr. John Alexander Brady, of Brooklyn, and had Edward, who was born and died in 1861; William, who was born and died in 1862; Olive Richardson, born in 1863; Eunice, 1865; Edith Richardson, 1867; Elizabeth, 1868; Sophia Meserole, 1869; Emma, 1871 (married Palmer A. Paddock); Anna, 1873, and Harriet, 1877.

Andrew Bowne, second child of Benjamin S. K. Richardson, born Aug. 21, 1836, married Mary A. Heermance, and died July 3, 1901. They had three sons: Andrew H., born March 22, 1867, died March 19, 1896; Benjamin K., born Oct. 10, 1870, married Elizabeth M. Fowler June 15, 1898, has a son Frederick F., born Sept. 16, 1904; resides at Fernandina, Fla., where he is the manager of a lumber company; Alfred H., born Dec. 25, 1873; residence unknown.

Ann Sophia, third child of Benjamin S. K. Richardson, married April 20, 1859, General Jeremiah Vanderbilt Meserole, of Brooklyn, where he has long been a man of note. He was formerly a surveyor by profession and built up a large business, which is still carried on by one of his sons. When the Civil War broke out he was a member of the Seventh Regiment and served with that regiment in the campaign of 1861. Later he was active in recruiting the Forty-seventh Regiment, of which he was made Colonel.

After the war he continued in command of the regiment until 1868, when he was elected Brigadier-General of the Eleventh Brigade, which he commanded for eight years. General Meserole for the past fourteen years has been President of the Williamsburg Savings Bank. They had seven children: Benjamin Richardson, born April 2, 1860, married May Wolcott and is a surveyor; Sophia Louisa, born August, 1863; Jeremiah Schenck, born May 29, 1864, died March 10, 1890; Darwin James, born May 29, 1868, married Katherine L. Maltby and is a lawyer; Eleanor, born 1872, died Sept. 3, 1874; Olive Richardson, born Sept., 1874, died Sept. 26, 1887; Clinton Vanderbilt, born Oct. 6, 1876, married Ida Lewis Brooke; is a member of the firm of Jameson & Frelinghuysen, Vice-President of the Stuyvesant Insurance Co., and Secretary of the Pacific Fire Insurance Co.

Charlotte Bowne, youngest daughter of Benjamin S. K. Richardson, born Jan. 31, 1842, married Oct. 19, 1870, Rev. Alexander Brown Riggs, D.D., LL.D. Dr. Riggs is a well-known educator and Presbyterian clergyman. He was formerly a lawyer and an instructor in mathematics in Western University. In 1894 he became connected with Lane Theological Seminary at Cincinnati as an instructor in Greek and in 1897 was appointed Professor of New Testament exegesis.

Their three children are Albert Richardson, born May 12, 1873; Elsie Agnew, born Nov. 21, 1874, married to Robert Kidd Oct. 19, 1905; Ella May, born July 13, 1777, married to R. Meredith Atkins at a double wedding with her sister.

(3) Huldah Ann Richardson, born March 16, 1814, married Charles Davis and left four children: Maria married Mr. Quimby; Josephine married Mr. Hawes; Mary married Mr. Burns; John Luther.

(4) Lemuel S. Richardson, born in New York Aug., 1815, married first, Angeline Place, who died Sept. 24, 1847; second, Elizabeth Depew. He had five children by the former and one by the latter.

He succeeded his father in the Mackrall & Richardson Manufacturing Company and continued in the active management of its affairs until 1869, when he retired from active business. "Mr. Richardson was a man of stern integrity and earnest business principles, but withal a man of keen sympathies and tender heart." He died at his residence, 334 Clinton Avenue, Brooklyn, September 25, 1879.

Children: Angeline married John Bogart, left no descendants; Harriet Ann married Robert Bradbrook and left one daughter, Eliza Ann, who lives in Philadelphia; Emma C., married Lawrence P. Ellison and resides in Brooklyn, having Charles J., born in 1868, and Elizabeth C., born in 1872; Cornelia married Frank Polly and has no children; Lemuel S. married Mathilda, and left no children; William H. married Emily and left two children, Warren S. and Ethel.

(5) Mary Furman Richardson, born July 1, 1819, married John F. Luther, and died Jan. 12, 1882. Her husband was one of the wealthiest men in Williamsburg and in 1845 was associated with his father-in-law in organizing the Grand Street M. E. Church, of which they were two of the first trustees. He had four children: Mary K. married James Farrell and had John R.; Catherine A., unmarried; Hulda Davis married Charles F. Sanford and had John F. and David C.; Sarah A. married Josiah H. Bertine, resides in Brooklyn, has a son, Henry L., and a daughter, Mary F. L.

(6) James Monroe Richardson, born July 16, 1821, married first, Matilda Furman, second Emeline Welsh, and died about 1885. He had three sons: Frederick, Henry and Joseph Post, of whom nothing more is known.

(7) Henry Clay Richardson, born in New York, Dec. 12, 1824, married Anna Kennedy and resided in Williamsburg. He was a manufacturer and dealer in hardware, his store being in Grand Street, Williamsburg. At the time of his death, Aug. 7, 1878, the Brooklyn Times published a lengthy notice of him, from which the following is taken:

"In his business relations, Mr. Richardson was the soul of honor. He was highly respected by all his associates and his credit was unlimited among hardware men. His employees in the factory were always treated with respect, and those who served him faithfully received his approbation. At the outbreak of the war, he called together his men and told them that those who desired to enlist could find employment with him when they returned.

"In politics he was a staunch Republican, and although he never took a very active part in political movements, he regarded all matters concerning affairs of state with a keen interest. Although not a member of any church, Mr. Richardson favored the Methodists, and of late years he attended St. John's Church, being warmly attached to it. Deceased had five children, two sons and three daughters; but of these only three survive, the sons having died before their father.

"Mr. Richardson was moderately wealthy. He was a director in the Manufacturers' Bank, director in and treasurer of the Grand Street Railroad Company, one of the trustees of the Williamsburgh Savings Bank, and a director in the Firemen's Insurance Fund."

His widow resides in Hempstead. Their three daughters: Lydia married Major William H. Day, resides at Dubuque, Iowa; Eleanor married James T. Fountain, resides at Hempstead; Grace married Daniel A. Henderson and resides in Dubuque.

(8) Rachel Hoffman Richardson, born April 26, 1827, married Dr. Samuel C. Hanford, and died Sept. 1, 1869, leaving two children: Dr. ~~Charles W.~~ ^(married) who died 1895 and Jennie, wife of David V. Westbrook, of Kingston, N. Y.

(9) Cornelia Cox Richardson, born June 7, 1830, married Aaron Jennings Oct. 31, 1847, and died March 20, 1862, leaving three children: Charlotte C., born in 1848; William Marvin, 1851; Frank Luther, 1856.

(10) Charlotte Elizabeth Richardson, born Sept. 28, 1833, married William F. Garrison, March 1, 1853, and died July 21, 1866. They had one child, who died in infancy.

REV. MARVIN RICHARDSON, D.D.

iv. MARVIN, born in Steplentown, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., June 10, 1789, was named Marvelous for his father's brother, but changed his name before he entered the ministry to Marvin, probably because so much jest was made of his uncle's name.

He was, however, called Marvelous in his father's will in 1826. He was converted with his father's family, as before stated, at a camp meeting in 1806, but previous to this he had been attending the Sands Street M. E. Church, of which his uncle Marvelous was a member. His conversion commenced in the fall of 1805, while he was attending that church. It is a tradition in the family that he worked for a few years in his uncle's shoe shop, which was situated within a few rods of the Sands Street Church.

He was made a class leader in the church in 1807 and was licensed to preach by the New York Conference in October, 1808; he continued a member of that conference until his death, a period of sixty-seven years.

He was married to Sarah Morgan, daughter of Elijah and Lavina (Hatfield) Morgan, April 7, 1813, and had four children. The degree of D.D. was conferred upon him by Wesleyan University in 1868. He died in Poughkeepsie June 14, 1876, aged 87 years, being the oldest living member of the New York Conference. The following account of him is taken from a sketch published by the Conference:

"He received regular appointments as a minister forty-two consecutive years, of which fourteen years were spent on circuits, thirteen years in stations, and fifteen years as Presiding Elder of districts. He was a member of eight successive General Conferences, from 1820 to 1852. The records of this Conference will show his regular attendance at its annual gathering, without interruption or failure, for over sixty years, and his first failure, which was by reason of sickness, was one of the painful disappointments of his life.

"Marvin Richardson was a co-worker with those men who, in their early ministry, enjoyed the luxuries of long weary days of travel on horseback, through trackless forests, fording rivers, sleeping in log huts, with beds often covered with snow, preaching six, eight, and ten times a week, winding up the year's toil with 'empty pockets,' with 'threadbare garments,' 'but with a harvest of souls.'

"The record of his life is a record of over 'four-score' years without a blot or stain; a record of early and deep religious experience, of consistent piety, of ardent love to God and the Church, of a successful ministry, and at the close a record of 'patient waiting' and 'holy triumph.' A 'man of God' in every sense of the word, 'an Israelite indeed, in whom there was no guile.' Tender in his regard for the feelings and reputation of others, genial in spirit, ardent in affection, with child-like simplicity of manner, he multiplied and perpetuated the most endearing friendships. He was a man of strong convictions, but convictions well regulated by the power of divine grace, ever fearing lest he should err in judgment, or by any means give offense."

At one of the last conferences he attended an earnest discussion took place concerning the use of tobacco, which will be of interest, although the author does not share his opinions on that subject. It occurred in connection with the questioning of a class of young men, who were candidates for the ministry. At the close of a very animated discussion:

"Father Marvin Richardson, since dead, then the oldest and one of the most respected members of the Conference, rose from his place on the pulpit sofa, and in a voice weakened by age, addressed the 300 ministers present, who maintained the stillness of the grave to hear him: 'Bishop and brethren, I once was young; now I am old. I have used tobacco all my life in some one or more of its forms. It has been my comfort in trouble, and often my medicine when sick. If it has ever harmed me I am not aware of it. These young men may do as their consciences dictate; but as for me, no pressure could be put upon me to make me testify against it, and my tongue shall wither in my mouth before I say a word except in praise of that most blessed creature of God—tobacco.'

Of course this was an ex-parte view and clearly the unpopular one in the Conference. The anti-tobaccoists groaned, the smokers and chewers laughed until they cried, but the Conference dropped the subject for that year.

His four children were:

(1) Nancy Morgan Richardson, born in 1814, married Rev. Leonard M. Vincent Oct. 16, 1833, and died at Poughkeepsie Oct. 26, 1898, leaving three children, of which the eldest was

REV. MARVIN RICHARDSON VINCENT, D.D.

Dr. Vincent was born at Poughkeepsie Sept. 11, 1834, married Hulda Fowler Seagrave, of Providence, R. I., June 30, 1858. He was educated at Columbia College, then assisted in directing the Columbia Grammar School for four years, after which he became Professor of Latin in Troy University.

Having studied theology in private, he was ordained as minister of the Methodist-Episcopal Church, but his views changed and he entered the ministry of the Presbyterian Church. He was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Troy, 1863-73, of the Church of the Covenant in New York, 1873-88, then accepted the chair of sacred literature in Union Seminary.

He is one of the trustees of Columbia University and has written "Translation of Bengel's Gnomon of the New Testament," 1860-62; "Amusement a Force in Christian Training," 1867; "The Two Prodigals," 1876; "The Law of Sowing and Reaping," 1877; "Gates Into the Psalm Country," 1878; "Not Discerning the Lord's Body," 1879; "Why Should I Join the Church?" 1879; "Christ at the Door," 1879; "Stranger and Guest," 1879; "Faith and Character," 1880; "Ministers' Handbook," 1882; "In the Shadow of the Pyrenees," 1883; "God and Bread," 1884; "The Expositor in the Pulpit," 1884; "Christ as a Teacher," 1886; "The Covenant of Peace," 1887; "Word Studies in the New Testament," 1887-1900; "Students' New Testament Handbook," 1893; "That Monster, the Higher Critic," 1894; "Biblical Inspiration and Christ," 1894; "The Age of Hildebrand," 1896; "Critical Commentary on Philippians and Philemon (International Commentary)," 1897; "A History of the Textual Criticism of the New Testament," 1899.

He has had four children: Helen Seagrave, born April 13, 1859, married Oct. 11, 1880, His Excellency The Marquis de Apezteguia, of Cuba, and died Feb. 21, 1898. Children:

1. Elena Josefa Mariana de Apezteguia, born Sept. 5, 1882.
2. Emilia Guillermina Carlotta de Apezteguia, born Aug. 16, 1883.
3. Julio Jose (Junior), born Sept. 17, 1886.
4. Hulda Catalina Inez de Apezteguia, born April 30, 1891.

Katherine Storm, second daughter of Rev. Marvin R. Vincent, born Dec. 13, 1860, married Dec. 7, 1887, Benjamin Franklin Butler, Jr., and has Edith Vincent, born Sept. 16, 1888, and Benjamin Franklin 3rd, born Aug. 17, 1893.

Edith, third daughter of Rev. Marvin R. Vincent, born May 11, 1865, married Howard Granville Butler Dec. 8, 1897, and has Helen Granville, born in 1899.

Mary Leonard, fourth daughter of Rev. Marvin R. Vincent, was born Sept. 14, 1871, and died July 12, 1872.

The second child of Rev. Leonard M. and Nancy M. (Richardson) Vincent, John Wilkinson, born Oct. 28, 1838, married first, Emma T. Smith, who died in 1869; second, Agnes Morton, resides at West Orange, N. J., and is treasurer of the Life Association of America. Children: Leonard R., born Nov. 21, 1865; Mary, born April 23, 1875; Grace (died young); Marvin R., born July 28, 1885.

Mary, third and youngest child of Rev. Leonard M. and Nancy Morgan (Richardson) Vincent, married first, Rev. James F. McClelland in 1875; second, Joseph Granville West in 1894. She had three children: Nancy McClelland (Vassar, '97), James McClelland and Mary McClelland.

(2) Samuel M. Richardson, born in 1818, married Carolina T. Lockwood June 5, 1856, and died in 1869. He was educated for a physician, but never practiced, was an "iron" man and amassed a fortune in the business. They had no children.

(3) Jane Isabella Richardson, born in 1820, married Sept. 3, 1840, James Reynolds and died in 1890, leaving five children: Sarah E. Reynolds, born in 1841, married Lewis Crook in 1860 and died without issue in 1887.

John Richardson Reynolds, born 1847, married Jane H. Wilkinson in 1874 and died in 1889. Their only child, Helen Wilkinson, born in 1875, resides unmarried in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. She has been of much assistance to the author in collecting a record of the family.

Grace Reynolds, born in 1849, married Joseph E. Allen in 1870 and died in 1881. Their children all died young.

Ella Vincent Reynolds, born in 1855, died in infancy.

James Reynolds, fifth and last child of James and Jane Isabella (Richardson) Reynolds, born in 1858, married Mary Jewett in 1883 and had a son, James, born in 1884, who died young. He is a merchant and resides in Poughkeepsie.

(4) Rebecca Richardson (youngest child of Rev. Marvin) was born in 1828, married Henry S. Morgan April 2, 1850, and died Sept. 7, 1902; he died Nov. 3, 1904; they had no children.

- v. ELIZABETH RICHARDSON (daughter of Stephen and Huldah), born July 14, 1791; married first, John Wood; second, John Osborn, and died Oct. 4, 1846, leaving four children by her first husband.

She is called Betsy Wood in her father's will dated August, 1826, but in August, 1839, she signed a deed as Elizabeth Osborn. Children:

(1) John Wood died young.

(2) Ann Eliza Wood, born October, 1809. She was the first wife of Samuel W. Sale, who married Mary, daughter of Marvelous and Phebe Richardson, for his second wife, by whom he had no children. Children of Samuel W. and Ann Eliza (Wood) Sale: Annie E. married Mr. Owen; Charlotte D. married Thomas Goin; John W.; Emily G.; Iona married Henry Smith.

(3) Charlotte Wood married George Danegar and had three children: Emma, Anna E., George W.

(4) Ebenezer Wood had a son, Henry, and other children.

vi. BENJAMIN RICHARDSON, born Jan. 1, died Nov. 5, 1794.

vii. ANNA RICHARDSON, born Oct. 4, 1795, married Thomas Frazier at Enfield, Conn., and resided in Brooklyn, where she died Nov. 28, 1824, leaving six children:

(1) Harriet Kirk Frazier, born June 19, 1811, married Nathan Thomas Beers, of Brooklyn, and died Jan. 7 1889, leaving six children: Thomas Hawley, Stephen Richardson, Elizabeth Wright, unmarried; Nathan T. married Elizabeth L. Granger (Dr. Nathan T. Beers, Jr., is their son), Frank Bartlett, unmarried; Lillie married James H. Taft, Jr., and has four children.

(2) William Frazier, married, resided in Brooklyn, and died about 1899. He has no descendants living.

(3) Stephen Frazier, resided in Brooklyn, where he died, leaving two children.

(4) Huldah Ann Frazier married Hon. Samuel S. Powell, a notable Mayor of Brooklyn. He died Feb. 6, 1879, and she survived him for about ten years; their only son died without issue before his father.

(5) Sarah Frazier married Benjamin W. Payne, of Corning, N. Y.

(6) Cornelia G. Frazier married Henry Mitchell, of Brooklyn.

viii. CHARLOTTE RICHARDSON, born May 14, 1798, died April 25, 1808.

ix. HULDAH D. RICHARDSON, born Oct. 26, 1800, married Jacob Garrison, son of Judge John Garrison, March 26, 1817. He died Oct. 11, 1860, aged 70, his widow April 8, 1874, leaving five children:

(1) John Garrison married Ann Miller and had five children: Thomas, Emma, John, George and Anna.

(2) William F. Garrison, born Jan. 3, 1833, married Charlotte E. Richardson (daughter of Lemuel) March 1, 1853, and died July 8, 1902. They had one child, which died in infancy.

(3) Marcia C. H. Garrison married, April 14, 1833, William S. Richardson, son of Simon, and died Dec. 15, 1887.

(4) Caroline Garrison, born July 27, 1819, married John C. Lynch Dec. 31, 1834, and died June 5, 1890, leaving four children: Leonard Jay, Maria Louise, William Richard and George Frederick.

(5) Stephen Garrison married Caroline Fields and had two children: William S. and Huldah.

x. STEPHEN RICHARDSON, born Sept. 8, 1802, died July 26, 1804.

13. MARVELOUS, son of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, was born Oct. 18th, 1764, according to the Coventry town records, or Oct. 16 if the inscription on his tombstone is correct. The Coventry record of his birth gives his name as Marvel, and it was printed as Marvel in the first Brooklyn directory, published in 1822, and continued in that form until his death.

The probate records, however, give it as Marvelous, and he is called Marvelous in his brother Stephen's will. It is supposed that he was given that name on account of the unusual circumstance of his being born either three or five days before his twin brother Dan.

The family name of his wife Phebe is unknown, nor is it known when he settled in Brooklyn, probably a number of years before his brother Stephen came to New York. The most that is known about him is given in Stiles' "History of Brooklyn," from which the following is taken:

"On the southerly side of Middagh Street, after passing two small frame buildings, we come to the low one-story house of Marvelous Richardson, shoemaker.* It was built by the Hessians, during the Revolutionary War, as a guard-house, and here, also, for a short time, during the rectorship of Rev. Mr. Wright, the Episcopalians worshipped in a hired room, rudely fitted up for the purpose, with pulpit, reading desk and seats, and here gathered the few churchmen of the village and indeed of the county.

"Furman (manuscript notes), says that Judge John Garrison was also an original member of this church, but that, having become dissatisfied with the distribution of the pews (no unimportant matter in those days), and not getting so eligible a one as he deemed himself entitled to, he seceded, taking with him several others with whom he was instrumental in forming the Methodist Church.

"Marvelous Richardson (whose name in common parlance, was generally either shortened to Marvel, or lengthened to Miraculous Marvel), was perhaps one of these seceders, as he figures among the earlier Methodists of Brooklyn, and the schism may have been the cause of the very short stay which the Episcopalians made in this spot.

"After Marvelous Richardson, this old building was occupied by Ithial Smead as a school, and in June, 1824, was leased from the heirs of John Middagh, by Thomas Kirk, who remodelled the front and converted it into three stores."

Marvelous Richardson died Dec. 19, 1831, and was buried in the Old Sands Street Churchyard, his widow Jan. 22, 1845, aged 70 years. His widow and son Hiram were appointed administrators of his estate and after her death Hiram was appointed administrator. His last address was 94 Cranberry Street, which was the address of his widow the next year. In 1888 their remains were removed to the Sands Street Church plot in Evergreens, where a headstone with this inscription marks their last resting place:

*This house was located on Fulton Street, three or four doors above Middagh, and opposite the entrance to the bridge.

In Memory of
MARVEL RICHARDSON	Also of Phebe Richardson
who departed this life	wife of Marvel Richardson
December 19, 1831,	died Jan'y 22, 1845,
aged 67 years, 2 months, and 3	aged 70 years.
days.

Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints.

They had five children:

- i. BENJAMIN RICHARDSON married Mary Ann Higby. His name first appears in the Brooklyn Directory in 1830 as a shoemaker and last in 1850 with the same occupation; for many years, however, he was a letter-carrier.* He is said to have been buried in Greenwood. He had six children.

(1) Agnes resides in Illinois unmarried.

(2) David married and died without issue.

(3) Hiram resides in the West and has three children.

(4) Aurelia married Mr. Sellick, resided in Huntington, L. I., and has a son George.

(5) Stephen. It is not known whether he had children or not.

(6) Phebe Ann married Mr. Gerkin and had a daughter Josiahanna.

*Benjamin Richardson, who took the mail twice daily to New York and back was the only letter-carrier of the village, and like many other historic personages survives in the memory of many, owing to a highly-gifted dog which always accompanied him. This benevolent quadruped entered with spirit on the business of letter-carrying and evinced a remarkable relish for the virtuous shins of our ancient citizens of thirty years ago.

From Stiles "History of Brooklyn."

ii. HIRAM RICHARDSON, born in 1804, married Mary A. Van Voorhis July 26, 1826, and died in Brooklyn Oct. 24, 1868. She died July 10, 1860. He was in the grocery business with his brother Marvel. They had four children:

(1) John William Fletcher Richardson, born Nov. 3, 1825, married Susan McManus and died in Brooklyn about 1883. He had four children: Charles, Mary Ann married Michael McCrutchen, Phebe married Mr. Hurley and left one son, in Philadelphia; George died young.

(2) Simeon Hall Richardson, born March 15, 1831, married Mary McManus (sister of Susan), served in the Civil War, and resided some years in Texas. He left a son, Simeon, of whom nothing more is known.

(3) Phebe Jane Richardson, born June 30, 1838, married Charles Smith; both died leaving no descendants.

(4) Marvin Richardson, born Sept. 5, 1845, married Isabella Stratton, resides at 33 Middagh Street, Brooklyn, and has had two children: George Marvin, born June 18, 1879, resides with his father; Joseph Taylor, born July 6, 1882; died Dec. 4, 1904.

iii. MARVEL (or MARVIN) RICHARDSON. He and his sister were twins. He was engaged in the grocery business with his brother Hiram under the firm name of M. & H. Richardson, and died unmarried in 1849.

iv. MARY RICHARDSON married Samuel W. Sale and died without issue.

v. ELIZABETH RICHARDSON married John D. Stringham, died in Orange Co. Children:

(1) George Stringham.

(2) Emeline Stringham.

(3) Mary Stringham married Jonathan Wood, of Paterson, N. J.

(4) Cordelia Stringham.

(5) Dean Swift Stringham left a daughter Ella, who married James H. Killough.

14. DAN, son of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, was born at Coventry Oct. 21, 1764, three days after his twin brother Marvelous. There is no further account of him.
15. HUMPHREY, son of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) Richardson, was born at Coventry Feb. 22, 1767. See sixth generation, next page, for full account.

SIXTH GENERATION.

HUMPHREY RICHARDSON.

HUMPHREY RICHARDSON, the youngest child of Lemuel and Anna (Rust) was born in Coventry Feb. 22, 1767, according to the town records. This date does not agree with the record on his tombstone at Canastota, N. Y., which must be incorrect. It reads as follows: "Sacred to the memory of Humphrey Richardson, who departed this life the 13th September, 1820, in the 57th year of his age."

He married Aseneth Cole, daughter of Ebenezer and Abigail (Wise) Cole,* of Lebanon, Conn., about 1788 or 1789. He was a saddler by trade. Before 1796 he settled in "the Oblong" (then called), in the town of Amenia, Dutchess Co., N. Y., as in that year he and his wife signed a deed in settlement of her father's estate.

Roswell Richardson, his nephew, who was born in 1793, made the following statement: "Uncle Humphrey visited at my father's house in Tolland when I was quite young. He was my father's youngest brother and lived in the State of New York. He was a saddler—that was before harness-maker was hitched on."

In 1797 he was elected a constable at Amenia. Soon after settling there he commenced keeping a public house and for a number of years occupied the church parsonage, the same house in which Captain William Chamberlain had kept a hotel during the Revolution. He paid the church £50 rent for this house for 1799. About 1802 he moved to about a mile north of Amenia Union (formerly called Hitchcock's Corner), where he had purchased 58 acres of land, the east boundary of which was the Connecticut State line. Here he built a hotel, which in 1877 was the residence of Horace H. Reed. In 1895 it was in a fairly good condition and was the first house north of the brick house owned by Sidney Morehouse. Miss Mary H. Reed has an original subscription list made in 1803 for the South Amenia Church, which includes his autograph subscription.

*Ebenezer Cole, son of Ebenezer and Esther (Owen), was born at Lebanon, Aug. 6, 1734, and died there of smallpox May 22, 1777. Esther Owen, his wife, was the granddaughter of John and Rebecca (Wade) of Windsor, who were also the ancestors of Elsie Owen, mother of Governor Reuben E. Fenton of New York, and Hannah Owen, grandmother of Capt. John Brown of Osawatomie and Harper's Ferry.

In 1806 he removed to the town of Lenox, Madison Co., N. Y., near the present village of Canastota, where he also kept a hotel.

In 1802 he joined Lafayette Lodge No. 22 of Free Masons at Amenia, and on Nov. 23, 1814, united with Sullivan Lodge No. 109, of the same order, at Chittenango, N. Y.

They had three children:

1. ASENETH, born May 8, 1790, married Peter Moyer in 1810 (both of the town of Lenox). She died in Kingston, Canada, February 6th, 1854, without issue.
2. HUMPHREY, born Feb. 20, 1792, married Nancy Pratt and died at Belvidere, Ill., Sept. 12, 1869. See seventh generation for further account.
3. ORRIN, born July 5, 1800, married, in the town of Lenox, Margaret Van Alstine Dec. 12, 1824, and died June 18, 1875. She died Aug. 30, 1892. He was a cabinet maker and furniture dealer at Canastota. They had four children:
 - i. AMANDA M. RICHARDSON, born Oct. 19, 1825, married Lewis Sowter Feb. 2, 1847, died May 9, 1875, leaving three children:

(1) Sarah A. Sowter married Clair Spencer; their daughter Nellie married George E. Bacon, of Rome, N. Y.

(2) Frank L. Sowter married Mrs. Mary A. Hollister who died in New York in 1904, where he resides.

(3) Florence B. Sowter married George A. Harrington, of Rome, where she died in 1903 without issue.

ii. CAROLINE ASENETH RICHARDSON, born May 7, 1829, married William H. Harmer April 25, 1849, died at Kingston, Canada, May 10, 1893, leaving five children:

(1) Margaret E. Harmer married John R. Massie, of Owen Sound, Ontario, Canada. They have two children: Frederick William, married Rhoda Sharman, and resides at New Rochelle; Charles R. resides with his parents.

(2) Alfred S. Harmer married first, Janet Ross; second, May J. Morris, and resides at Kingston, Ontario, Children: Cora Bell, Alfreda and Ruby, the last two by his second wife.

(3) James C. Harmer married Emma G. Jackson, resides at Kingston. Children: Florence, Benjamin, Frank and Carswell.

(4) Mary Mand Harmer married Ronald A. Spence and resides in New York. They have one daughter, Marion Faith.

(5) Edwin H. Harmer married Nellie M. Pryor, who died leaving no children.

iii. MARY S. RICHARDSON, born April 6, 1833, married George A. Bradley Feb. 11, 1852, and died at Canastota May 5, 1875, leaving two children:

(1) Elisha Bradley married and resides at San Martine, Cal.

(2) Carrie A. Bradley married Raymond R. Smith, resides in Cleveland, Ohio.

iv. EPHRAIM B. RICHARDSON, born April 6, 1833, married Nettie Harris Oct. 26, 1864, and died at Canastota April 6, 1876. He was a furniture dealer. Their only child, Laura, married R. Bertrand Roantree and died at East Syracuse, N. Y. January 4, 1906.

SEVENTH GENERATION.

HUMPHREY RICHARDSON.

HUMPHREY RICHARDSON, born Feb. 20, 1792, probably in the Oblong Valley, town of Amenia, Dutchess Co., N. Y.; married Nancy, daughter of Stephen and Lucy (Curtis) Pratt,* Oct. 13, 1810, at Wampsville, two miles east of Canastota. He succeeded his father in the hotel, which he carried on until 1825; this hotel, or tavern, as it was then called, was situated about a mile southeast of Canastota, on the main highway between Albany and Buffalo. In 1901 this farm was owned by J. Wesley Goodell.

At the time Humphrey Richardson owned this hotel, there being no canal or railroad, all the freight was carried in heavy wagons, each drawn by thirteen horses. There were regular stations for resting and Richardson's Tavern was one of these stations. Often, as many as seventy or eighty horses were kept over night.

In the fall of 1825, after the Erie Canal was opened, he sold the farm and tavern and moved into the village of Canastota. The next spring he and his brother-in-law, Leonard Van-Alstine, went to Chautauqua Co., N. Y., where he purchased a large farm in an unbroken forest two miles north of Panama. In May, 1827, he moved his family there. This farm was subsequently owned by Mr. Dean, as shown by the map of Chautauqua County, published in 1854.

About 1829 he removed to the adjoining farm south, opposite the Luther Jennings place. Here he resided for about nine years, when he sold his farm and bought the saw and grist mills in upper Panama. He carried on these mills for about three years, when he sold them and purchased what was called the Whipple Farm, where he resided until 1845, then sold it to Darius Knapp. About ten years before this he took a trip down the Ohio River to Cairo and up the Mississippi, returning home through northern Illinois, and stopping at Chicago, then a small place.

*Stephen Pratt, son of Daniel and Sarah (Nash), was born in Braintree, Mass., Dec. 20, 1760, and married Lucy Curtis, daughter of Joseph and Betty, granddaughter of Moses and Dorothy (Ashley), and great-granddaughter of Theophilus and Hannah (Paine). He and his father-in-law served in the Revolution from Braintree, and he was again in the service during the War of 1812.

He was so pleased with the West that he removed in 1845 to McHenry Co., Ill., and bought a farm three miles south of Marengo. Here he resided until 1865, when he purchased another farm near Belvidere and moved there with his son Orrin, where he died Sept. 12, 1869, his wife Jan. 11, 1870.

They were devout members of the Baptist Church. He was a man of about medium height and favored with a strong physique and great powers of endurance. He took comparatively little interest in public affairs, but thoroughly enjoyed manual labor.

Their ten children were:

1. HUMPHREY, son of Humphrey and Nancy (Pratt) Richardson, born Nov. 10, 1811, married Julia daughter of Palmer and Naomi Cross, Jan. 10, 1832, and died near Panama, Nov. 16, 1860. He was a well-to-do farmer and highly respected. They had two children:
 - i. PALMER B., born Nov. 4, 1833, married Martha Ploss, Aug. 28, 1853, and died near Panama, Oct. 27, 1889. His widow is still living. Their four children were:
 - (1) Frank Delos, born Oct. 25, 1855, married Amy E. Rexford, May 11, 1877. Their daughter Lina Alice, born April 27, 1885, married Arthur J. McGraw, Feb. 4, 1903.
 - (2) Charles Byron, born May 7, 1858, married Emma E. Cook, Dec. 29, 1879, and had five children: Edna M., June 2, 1881; Carrie M., April 3, 1886; Lavern, Jan. 26, 1888; Fred, Oct. 16, 1889; Ervin, Jan. 1, 1896, died Oct. 28, 1898.

(3) Burt Humphrey, born Jan. 23, 1867, married Cora M. Gere, Sept. 7, 1887, and died Sept. 13, 1891. Their children are: Alice L., born Aug. 21, 1889, and Blanche E., Dec. 13, 1891.

(4) Lee, born Sept. 5, 1873, married Gertrude Price, Dec. 14, 1891, and had LeRoy Palmer, Aug. 20, 1894; Burt Harold, Oct. 3, 1897; Earl James, Aug. 31, 1900, and Floyd Melvin, June 29, 1902.

ii. HUMPHREY BYRON, born Sept. 27, 1836, married first Ellen J. Lucas, May 3, 1862, who died April 24, 1876, and second Mrs. Hephzibah (Meeks) Guntton, Oct. 5, 1881. He died Aug. 26, 1895, leaving three children:

(1) Bertha Calista, born April 6, 1863, married Levi Van Valkenburg, July 4, 1885, and has Nellie May, born Aug. 22, 1887, and Ralph Arthur, Aug. 13, 1889.

(2) Arthur Leland, born Feb. 8, 1872, married Lottie Orrilla Graves, Dec. 22, 1897.

(3) Jay Hugh, born Feb. 11, 1876, unmarried.

2. CLARK PRATT, son of Humphrey and Nancy (Pratt) Richardson, was born July 23, 1814, married four times and died at Garnett, Kansas, Aug. 17, 1889. He married first Betsy Rice in 1836, and she died Feb. 28, 1844, leaving four children.

He married second Mary Ann Page, a widow with four daughters, and by her had one daughter. After her birth he removed to Illinois with the four children by his first wife, but his wife refused to go with him. He never saw her again and after a few years she removed with her children to Michigan, where she died many years later.

He married third Mrs. Permelia Avery, at Coral, McHenry Co., Ill., Dec. 7, 1847, resided on a farm about three miles from Marengo until about 1870, when he removed to Garnett, where his wife died Oct. 7, 1879. He married fourth Mrs. Harriet M. Cook, of Sandwich, Ill., Oct. 23, 1880. His five children were:

i. SARAH, born near Panama, N. Y., May 4, 1837, married Edy Muleahie in McHenry Co., Ill., and died Oct. 8, 1862.

leaving three children. Her husband was a Union soldier in the Civil War and died May 30, 1884. Their children were:

(1) Mary, born Nov. 16, 1855, married Reuben Lewis, resides at Sac City, Iowa, and has Grace and Charles.

(2) Clark Thomas, born May 16, 1858, brought up by his grandfather Richardson and his name changed to Clark T. Richardson. He married Emma Woods, has no children, resides at Garnett, and is a lawyer and editor of the Eagle-Plaindealer.

(3) Byron George, born Aug. 30, 1860, adopted by his mother's sister Mary and her husband, and name changed to Byron G. Burbank. He is a lawyer and resides in Omaha, Neb. He married Clara E. Merrill, Nov. 26, 1881, and has Byron M., born Sept. 15, 1886, and Wayne, July 26, 1893.

- ii. STEPHEN H., born July 3, 1839, married Clarinda Benlard, May 15, 1862, resides in Garnett and has no children.
 - iii. MARY, born in 1841, married George Burbank, and died without issue.
 - iv. LAURA, born in 1843, died unmarried in 1864.
 - v. ADELAIDE (daughter by second wife), born near Panama, July 23, 1845, married Martin Gilbert Hawley, July 27, 1862, resides at Garnett. They had six sons, one of which died young. The others are Walter, Jay, Eugene, Ely and Stephen; in 1901 they resided at Sugar Valley, Anderson County, Kansas.
3. NANCY MARGARET, daughter of Humphrey and Nancy (Pratt) Richardson, born April 17, 1816, married first, Ira Williams, near Panama, Aug. 10, 1834; second, Emory O. Thompson, Dec. 2, 1882, and died at Mason City, Iowa, Feb. 23, 1901. Ira Williams, her first husband, was born in Cortland Co., N. Y., Nov. 25, 1807, and died in Lincoln township, Iowa, May 2, 1877. *He was the father of her children. They removed from the town of Harmony, Chautauqua Co., to Belvidere, Ill., about 1846, and from there to Iowa in 1855. He served as a Union soldier during the Civil War. At the time of her death the Mason City Citizen published a lengthy sketch of her life, from which a brief quotation is made:

"Ira Williams moved from McHenry County, Ill., in June, 1855, with his wife and five children. He pre-empted 80 acres of government land in section 17, Falls Township. He built a sod house covered it over with hay, and lived in it till fall when he built a log house. Flour was $7 per hundred and other necessaries of life proportionately high, so it was only a short time before his means were exhausted and the family reduced to want. But by dint of working, selling a cow, and economy, they made out to keep soul and body together until their sod corn grew to roasting ears, when they would grate it on a tin grater and make bread of it, boil it as green corn or shell it and make hominy, there being no mill to grind it. In this way they struggled through the winter. In the spring they sold their claim and removed to Lincoln Township, six miles northwest of Mason City, on the Lime Creek where they secured 120 acres of prairie land.

It was on Dec. 22, 1856, that her two boys, Reuben and David, had their fearful experience in the snow storm near the Pedalty settlement, when they came near to losing their lives. It was then that David, who is now a rich and retired farmer living near Manly, had both feet frozen so that he has gone through life with half feet, and Reuben lost one foot entirely, all but the heel of the other, and all of the fingers of one hand.

It was through hardships like these that the mother raised her family of eight children, and brought them up worthy and forehanded men and women. Mrs. Thompson was a woman of noble mould. She possessed untiring energy, courage, capacity to overcome difficulties. She was first a member of the Baptist and afterward of the Christian Church, and a devoted christian woman."

They had nine children, as follows:

- i. CYNTHIA, born in Harmony, Chatauqua Co., N. Y., May 11, 1835, married George A. Raymond, July 3, 1853, and died at Rock Falls, Iowa, Sept. 21, 1890. She was a devout member of the Baptist Church. Her two children were:

- (1) Ella Isadore, born May 7, 1854, married George H. Reed, April 20, 1873, and had Martha E., Dec. 6,

*He was the son of Ira and Keturah (Crane) Williams, sixth in descent from Matthew of Weathersfield, Jasper Crane of New Haven and Newark, (N. J.) and Gov. Robert Treat. Hon. Sherman Williams of Chautauqua Co. and New York City is his nephew.

1876; Charles George Allen, Dec. 6, 1879; and Lillie Cynthia, July 18, 1882.

(2) Ira M., born Feb. 22, 1856, married Ella M. Baker Oct. 23, 1878, and had Minnie N., Jan. 17, 1880; Daisy D., Sept. 13, 1882, and William A., March 13, 1884.

- ii. REUBEN, born Nov. 13, 1836, married Sarah E. Cramb Dec. 23, 1865, and died in October, 1898, at Trosky, Minn. They had three children:

(1) Clara Eldora, born Nov. 2, 1867, married Charles Henry Judd, Oct. 17, 1882, and had Reuben Franklyn, Jan. 4, 1884; William Henry, Dec. 10, 1886, and Harry Lee, Feb. 14, 1889, who died March 7, 1889.

(2) Ida Emma, born March 22, 1871, married Nelson R. Greeley Dec. 15, 1885.

(3) Charles Judd, date of birth unknown.

- iii. DAVID, born June 22, 1839, died Jan. 15, 1843.

- iv. ELLEN D., born April 23, 1841, married Timothy M. Raymond Sept. 24, 1860, and resides at Opeto, Kansas. They had two children:

(1) Timothy C., born July 18, 1861, and Harold A., July 31, 1870.

- v. DAVID, born March 11, 1843, married Christena, sister of Prof. Samuel W. Beyer, Oct. 29, 1873. He is a wealthy retired farmer, and resides at Manly, Iowa. They have had six children:

(1) Edith Ann, born Aug. 1, 1874, married Vern L. Wiser May 6, 1896, and had Vern LeRoy Aug. 5, 1898, and Ray Beyer Oct. 5, 1901.

(2) Ira Abraham, born Dec. 25, 1876, is a graduate of the Iowa State College, and is an instructor there in geology and mining engineering. In 1904 he received a degree from Columbia University, New York, where he had pursued a course of study.

(3) Nancy May, born Aug. 2, 1878, married Charles Wesley Van Note, Oct. 29, 1900.

(4) Milo Beyer, born Sept. 15, 1882, is a civil engineer and a graduate of the Iowa State College.

(5) Lulu Grace, born July 8, 1886, died in 1890.

(6) Ernest Clifford, born Jan. 28, 1892.

vi. LEMUEL, born Nov. 14, 1845, lived with his uncle Milo from his fourth to his ninth year; and served in the Civil War in Company B, 32nd Iowa Regiment. He married Charity A. Knapp Nov. 14, 1869, and resides at Canton, Wis. They have three children:

(1) Rena, born Nov. 20, 1871, married Jerry Jarman, May 8, 1891, resides at Nowlin, S. D., and has one daughter, Eric E., born in 1898.

(2) Minnie E., born Feb. 25, 1881, married Wilmer D. Nelson June 12, 1901; resides at Pierre, S. D., and has no children.

(3) Milo D., born March 24, 1884, resides at Pierre, S. D., unmarried.

vii. MARY K., born Jan. 8, 1848, married Albert L. Towne, of Silver Lake, Worth County, Iowa, Feb. 12, 1866, and died Feb. 9, 1905. They had eight children:

(1) Frank L., born Feb. 25, 1867, married and has seven children.

(2) Jane E., born Nov. 30, 1868, married and has three children.

(3) John E., born July 19, 1870, married and has three children.

(4) Nettie M., born March 6, 1873, married and has three sons.

(5) Julia E., born June 21, 1875, married and has one son.

(6) Mary E., born Feb. 24, 1882.

(7) Grover, born May 16, 1887, died Dec. 8, 1903.

(8) Alice, born July 7, 1889.

viii. GILBERT A., born Aug. 5, 1850, married first Amanda E. McNelley, Feb. 22, 1874, who died Sept. 11, 1875. He married second Edna R. Harding, Aug. 3, 1879, and died Oct. 4, 1902. He had seven children, and his widow resides with six of the children at Vegreville, Alberta, N. W. T. Their children were:

- (1) Charles F., born May 10, 1880.
- (2) Euseba, born April 25, 1884.
- (3) James Ira, born Sept. 25, 1885.
- (4) Louisa M., born May 5, 1890.
- (5) Edna Ethel, born Sept. 25, 1893.
- (6) Gilbert L., born July 15, 1895.
- (7) Caryl R., born Feb. 19, 1898, died April 29, 1902.

ix. FRANK, born Aug. 8, 1852, died Aug. 5, 1880.

4. MILO, son of Humphrey and Nancy (Pratt) Richardson, born March 27, 1818, died July 18, 1820.

5. MILO AMOS, son of Humphrey and Nancy (Pratt) Richardson, born June 2, 1820. See 8th generation for full account.

6. IRA HUMPHREY, son of Humphrey and Nancy (Pratt) Richardson, was born April 10, 1822, and died at Ortonville, Minn., Sept. 5, 1901. During his boyhood he lived for a number of years with his uncle Orrin at Canastota, and attended school, which gave him better advantages for obtaining an education than any of his brothers or sisters. He learned the tailor's trade and worked at it for a few years, and after that he studied medicine, probably with some local physician. He resided for a number of years at Jordon, N. Y.

The reminiscences of his sister Harriet show that her son Orrin died in March, 1851, while she was on a visit to her brother Dr. Richardson, who was living in Oswego Co.; also that the child was buried about three miles from Fulton. He was married on Sept. 7, 1843, to Lydia Mary Barnes, but it is not known where they were married; probably it was at Jordon.

After leaving New York state he resided a short time in Illinois and then, about 1857, settled in Minnesota. In Aug., 1860, he was received as a minister by the conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, held at Red Wing, Minn., and that year was assigned to the church at Wasioja. During the next twenty years he was an active minister in Minnesota and northern Iowa.

His first wife was born Dec. 24, 1823, and died Aug. 12, 1867. On May 14, 1868, he married Electa Whiteley, at Fayette, Iowa, who was born Feb. 22, 1844. He had twelve children, five by his first wife and seven by the second.

- i. EMMIT BARNES, born Dec. 8, 1844, died Jan. 18, 1866. He served as a soldier in the Civil War for three years with a Minnesota regiment, and his death was caused by disease contracted in the service.
- ii. ORRIN ADELBERT, born Aug. 27, 1846, died April 21, 1848.
- iii. ORRIN ADELBERT, born May 22, 1851, died Sept. 4, 1855.
- iv. EVA BELL, born Nov. 26, 1855, died Oct. 2, 1856.
- v. NETTIE BELL, born Jan. 28, 1860, married Wayne Schenck, May, 1881, residence Junction City, Oregon. She was a school teacher for a number of years.
- vi. LYDIA MARY, born March 10, 1869, died Dec. 28, 1872.
- vii. PAUL, born and died July 20, 1873.
- viii. SAMUEL EARL, born June 12, 1874, died Sept. 15, 1875.
- ix. RUTH, born May 1, 1877, married Curtis C. Sweigle, May 1, 1897, and died in 1899, leaving a daughter Irene, born in 1899.
- x. GRACE, born Nov. 10, 1878, died April 17, 1879.
- xi. SETH WHITELEY, born Feb. 3, 1880, is a lawyer and resides at Fargo, N. D., where he is Assistant State's Attorney.

xii. NELLIE EUNICE, born March 2, 1884, is a student in the State Normal School at Cheney, Washington.

7. ORRIN, son of Humphrey and Nancy (Pratt) Richardson, born Feb. 24, 1824, married Roselle, daughter of Festus and Permelia (Avery) Avery, at Riley, Ill., Dec. 14, 1848. Her mother married Clark P. Richardson for her second husband.

He resided with his father at Marengo and Belvidere and after his death had his property, the most of which he lost through unfortunate investments. About 1873 he removed to Garnett, Kansas, and in 1895 to Wharton, Texas, where he died April 4, 1903. His widow is still living with her daughter, Mrs. Page, at Wharton. He was held in high esteem by all who knew him, and for forty-five years was a devout member of the Baptist Church. After his death the Wharton Eagle published a lengthy tribute to his memory, from which the following is taken: "During all the years that Mr. Richardson walked up and down among the people of Wharton there were none to question the sincerity of his profession, the earnestness of his friendship, or the stainlessness of his character."

They had five children:

i. CHARLES LEROY, born July 9, 1852, married Nancy Wright and died, after 1880, leaving two children:

(1) Essie Roselle, born Oct. 1, 1877.

(2) Louie, born Dec. 25, 1880. (Both of these reside at Rockford, Ill.)

ii. IRA, born Oct. 31, 1853, married Betsey Ann Wilson, Feb. 12, 1874, who was born July 10, 1855. They reside at Loyalton, Cal., and have had six children:

(1) Nora Anneta, born Jan. 31, 1875, died March 4, 1875.

(2) George Judson, born May 14, 1876.

(3) Amy Bell, born July 30, 1878, married Stephen A. Converse, March 1, 1903, and had Charles Leslie Converse, Dec. 20, 1903.

(4) Fred Leslie, born April 7, 1884, died June 3, 1885.

(5) Ina May, born Nov. 3, 1886.

(6) Lena Luella, born Sept. 29, 1891.

iii. CLARA LENORA, born May 16, 1856, married William H. Wilson April 22, 1873, and resides at Taylor, Texas. Their three children are:

(1) Hattie Roselle, born April 10, 1874.

(2) Leota Eva, born Aug. 11, 1876.

(3) William Herbert, born Nov. 4, 1885.

iv. EVA BELL, born Jan. 9, 1858, married Frank E. Page May 13, 1877. They reside at Wharton, and have one daughter, Nellie Roselle, born March 19, 1878, married June 4, 1898, to Capt. A. D. Sparkman. Capt. Sparkman served in the Spanish-American War; he was formerly a lawyer, but is now a Baptist minister. They have had two children: Marriene Roselle, born Aug. 25, 1901, and John Page Oct. 17, 1903.

v. ORRIN JUDSON, born Jan. 11, 1860, married Carrie Blankfell Sept. 15, 1881, and resides at Lewisville, Ind.

8. DAVID DANIEL, son of Humphrey and Nancy (Pratt) Richardson, was born March 27, 1826. He went to Illinois with his parents in 1845 and for some time was employed as a driver of one of the big four-horse coaches that ran between Chicago and other large towns. He married first, Jane Shaw, at Marengo, Ill., July 3, 1848. Soon after this he went over the plains to California, but soon returned for his family and permanently settled there. He probably lived first in Sacramento, and is said to have been a superintendent of one of the overland stage lines. After this he became a farmer and resided near Chico, where his wife died Feb. 19, 1886. He married second, Mrs. Harriet Emeline Kersey. He died Sept. 9, 1904. The following quotation is taken from his obituary notice in the Chico Record: "Death has claimed another pioneer of Butte County in the person of D. D. Richardson, who died yesterday at his home a few miles north of Chico. As noted in yesterday's Record, Mr. Richardson was stricken with paralysis and from the first but little hope was entertained of his recovery. * * *

Deceased was one of the oldest residents of the vicinity of Chico, where he had engaged in farming for many years and where he had reared his family. * * * He was a good citizen and respected man, and his passing marked the end of a long and useful life."

They had six children:

- i. AMANDA, born in McHenry Co., Ill., Jan. 27, 1850, married Jefferson A. Walker Feb. 18, 1868. They have four children:

(1) Fred Everett, born in 1868, married and resides in NimsheW.

(2) Charles Ashley, born in 1873, married and resides in White Pine Co., Nevada, where he has been District Attorney.

(3) Barton Egbert, born in 1879.

(4) Edna May, born in 1882.

- ii. FRANK, born May 1, 1852, married Elizabeth Moore, and has been an actor for many years. They have one son, Clarence, born in June, 1879.

- iii. ADELLA, born May 20, 1857.

- iv. WESLEY LEE, born Feb. 11, 1860, died Dec. 21, 1863.

- v. NELLIE, born May 19, 1864, married Frank Copple and has two sons.

- vi. CHARLES WESLEY, born Jan. 3, 1867, married and resides at NimsheW. They have no children.

9. HARRIET ELIZABETH, daughter of Humphrey and Nancy (Pratt) Richardson, born near Panama,

N. Y., July 8, 1830, married James N. Bates April 5, 1846, and settled on Loon Creek prairie in the town of Riley, McHenry Co., Ill. They lived first in a log cabin, fourteen feet square, a mile from the nearest house, and here her first child was born. The wolves often made the nights hideous with their howling and prairie fires threatened the destruction of what little they had. In 1850 her husband went to California with her brothers Clark and Orrin and was gone a year. After his return they settled on a farm near her father's, where she died May 21, 1890. She was a worthy Christian woman. Her mother and many of her mother's family were unusually stout, but she was more so than any of her relatives, weighing at times 300 pounds. They had five children:

- i. ADELIA, born June 22, 1847, married first, Reuben Harris Sept. 12, 1865, and second, James M. Quigley. She died in Chicago Sept. 18, 1902. Her six children were all by her first husband:
 - (1) James Harvey, born Feb. 4, 1863 (date of death unknown).
 - (2) Perlle Gertrude, born April 15, died Oct. 21, 1866.
 - (3) Perry, born July 1, 1869, served in the Spanish-American War in a Pennsylvania regiment.
 - (4) Marcus, born Oct. 31, 1871 (date of death unknown).
 - (5) Harriet Bates, born July 1, 1872, married Frank J. Sheller and resides in Chicago.
 - (6) Ada Gertrude, born June 30, 1881, is unmarried.
- ii. ORRIN GAILARD, born April 2, 1849, died March 11, 1851.
- iii. MARCUS JAMES, born May 6, 1853, married Addie E. Bates, his cousin, Dec. 23, 1875, resides near Marengo, and has had one child, James J., who was born May 2 and died July 9, 1882.

iv. GEORGE NELSON, born Feb. 21, 1863, married Nina Teneyck, Aug. 25, 1883, and resides near Marengo. Children:

(1) George Andrew, born Feb. 14, 1885.

(2) Jennie, born Aug. 25, 1888.

(3) Hazel, born June 28, 1890.

v. LIBBIE, born Jan. 8, 1869, married Thomas Beam, resides at Marengo, and has no children.

10. SOPHIA NANCY, daughter of Humphrey and Nancy (Pratt) Richardson, born July 24, 1833, married Joel Heath, Feb. 16, 1851, and resided at Broadhead, Wis. He served as a Union soldier in the Civil War. She died May 12, 1900, and he Nov. 25, of the same year, age 72 years.

They had two sons:

1. FREEMONT, born July 7, 1858, married Nellie A. Philbrick, March 9, 1879, and resides at Broadhead. Children:

(1) Elmer F., born July 6, 1881.

(2) Albert Freemont, born Nov. 19, 1887, died Oct. 8, 1891.

(3) Forrest Byron, born Aug. 23, 1890.

(4) Mabel Adaline, born April 25, 1895.

ii. LUTHER, born Sept. 21, 1860, died unmarried April 24, 1892.

EIGHTH GENERATION.

MILO A. RICHARDSON.

MILO AMOS RICHARDSON, son of Humphrey and Nancy (Pratt) Richardson, was born near Canastota, N. Y., June 2, 1820. When his parents removed to Chautauqua County he was seven years of age.

His school advantages were very limited, which was a misfortune, as his natural genius for invention lacked only the force of a trained mind. He was well schooled, however, in experiences which later generations know little about—the hardships of pioneer life.

He married, January 19, 1843, Laura Louisa, daughter of Isaac and Mery E. (Reynolds) Willard,* early settlers of Sherman; she was born at Geneseo, N. Y., May 20, 1824. In 1845 he moved to Illinois, where for a few years he followed different occupations. He drove one of the large stages between Chicago and Elgin; he had formerly driven between Jamestown and Warren, becoming an expert driver of four-horse teams. He built a small house on his father's farm near *Isaac Willard, son of Julius and Susanna (Trask) and grandson of Daniel and Anna (Marvin), was born at Zoar, Mass., May 6, 1798. He was sixth in descent from Major Simon and Mary (Dunster) Willard of Concord, Mass.

Major Simon Willard, son of Richard and Margery (Humphrie), was born in County Kent, England, in 1605 and was the progenitor of the well-known Willard family. His wife was the sister or the niece of President Dunster of Harvard College.

Susanna Trask was the daughter of Isaac and Ruth (Colton), granddaughter of Josiah and Anna (Putnam) and presumably a descendant of Osmond of Beverly.

Isaac Trask was a Revolutionary soldier from Monson and his brother's grandson Eliphalet Trask was Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts during the three terms of Gov. (General) Banks.

Anna Putnam was the daughter of Isaac, a first cousin of Gen. Israel Putnam.

Anna Marvin, daughter of Nathan and Hannah (Betts) was fifth in descent from Matthew Marvin of Norwalk.

Marengo, resided there for about four years, and then settled at Lena, where he lived five years, until the fall of 1854, when he returned to Chautauqua County, N. Y.

While living at Lena he learned to take daguerrotype pictures and became a traveling artist with his brother-in-law, Philo Huntley. They had galleries for a few weeks or months at a time at Freeport, Belvidere and Lena, Ill., and at Iowa City, Cedar Rapids, Keokuk, and other towns in Iowa. At Fairfield, Iowa, he took the pictures of a group of Indian chiefs, and as they were the first they had ever seen, it filled them with great wonder and delight.

After his return from Illinois he had a picture gallery for about a year at Panama, then sold out the business and moved to Waits Corners, in the town of Sherman, and in 1860 to Sherman village. He and his wife were members of the Baptist church at Panama, as their parents were, and at Waits Corners they with their son joined the Free-Will Baptist Church.

He was a hard worker and fanatically temperate, but for many years was poor, as so much of his time went for the public good or for carrying out new ideas which brought no financial return. He had a very active mind that was constantly planning some new invention or improvement, and a temperament so sanguine that he would spend his last dollar to carry out his plans.

After he moved to Sherman, in 1860, the late Wm. Henry Keeler became interested in his inventions and furnished the money to obtain his first patents, of which he secured about thirty, a few proving valuable. The most successful were the Cream Pump, 1862 (used in butter-making), Washing Machine, 1865; White Bronze Monuments, 1874, and the Sand Blast process for sharpening and finishing files, 1878. These are all, except the first, still manufactured and extensively used.

He took a great interest in public improvements and especially in the building of the Cross Cut Railroad from Brocton on Lake Erie over the Chautauqua hills to Corry, Pa. The first survey for the road through the town was unsatisfactory and he voluntarily spent a number of weeks in tracing another line, where the road was built. He warmly advocated the erection of the Union School building and was a member of the Board of Education when he removed from Sherman in 1873.

He resided for a few years at Paterson, N. J., and Bridgeport, Conn., and was engaged in perfecting the manufacture of the White Bronze Monuments.* In 1881 he came to New York City and resided with his son until his death, July 16, 1900. His wife survived him and died Aug. 15, 1902.

They had four children:

1. MARVIN, born and died Feb. 22, 1845.
2. ROSELL L., born April 28, 1850. See next page for full account.
3. FRANCE, born Nov. 26, 1852, died Oct. 7, 1854.
4. FRANCE AMOS, born Dec. 16, 1854, died Oct. 21, 1860

*See "Orcutt's History" of Stratford and Bridgeport, Vol. 2—813. Also "Centennial History" of Chautauqua County, Vol. 2—1127.

NINTH GENERATION.

ROSELL L. RICHARDSON.

ROSELL LEWELLYN RICHARDSON was born in the town of Lena, Stephenson Co., Ill., April 28, 1850. When twelve years of age he began working outside of school hours as a clerk in the postoffice and store of Elmore Myrick at Sherman, N. Y., and after Mr. Myrick was succeeded in business by Thorp & Coveney he remained with them until 1867, when he entered the employ of E. Sperry & Co., who had a large hardware store.

During the three years in which he was employed in this store he worked part of the time in their shop, where a great variety of tin and iron work was done. His lodgings were in the store, with William H. Sperry, one of the firm, and he boarded at his home.

William H. Sperry was an upright Christian young man and any boy who has such an associate from his seventeenth to his twentieth year is most fortunate.

In 1870 he attended Eastman's Business College at Poughkeepsie for a few months and then returned to Sherman and began the study of law in a lawyer's office. In 1871 he came to New York to continue his law studies at Columbia College, where he graduated in 1876 with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. After being admitted to the bar in New York he practiced his profession for about a year and a half, but without much pecuniary success. Before leaving Chautauqua County he became intimately acquainted with Governor Fenton, who took a warm interest in him and assisted him to pursue his studies.

In 1878, through Governor Fenton's influence, he secured an appointment in the New York Custom House, intending at the time to return in a year or two to the practice of law.

He continued there, however, for twelve years, when he resigned to go into the manufacture of "The Baby Tender," of which he and his father were the joint inventors. Since then he has been engaged in this business.

He married first Clara Eugenia, daughter of Samuel P. and Maryett F. (Lyon) Hanford,* at Irving, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., Jan. 6, 1874. She died in New York, Dec. 4, 1895, and

*THE HANFORD FAMILY.

1. REV. THOMAS HANFORD, son of Jeffry and Eglin (Hatherly), was born at Fremington (near Barnstable), Devonshire, England, in 1623. She was sister to the celebrated Timothy Hatherly of Plymouth colony. Mr. Hanford was the first minister at Norwalk, Conn., and continued in charge of the church for forty-one years, until his death in 1693. He married first Hannah Newbury who died without issue, second Mary daughter of Richard Miles and widow of Jonathan Ince the New Haven scholar. They had ten children.
2. CAPT. SAMUEL HANFORD, born April 5, 1674, married Isabell Haynes and died Feb. 2, 1751. He was a deputy to the General Court, from Norwalk, for thirteen years.
3. HAYNES HANFORD, born in 1716, married Elizabeth, daughter of Capt. Joseph Ketcham of Fairfield, and died April 18, 1798.
4. JOSEPH HANFORD, born 1742, married first Mrs. Abigail Bradley and second Sarah Williams, daughter of Jonas and Sarah (Fleet) of Huntington, L. I. He was a royalist at the time of the Revolution and his estate was confiscated by the General Court in 1791.
5. LIEUT. JOHN W. HANFORD, son of the above by his second wife, was born July 4, 1784, married Polly Pearsall, and died at Irving, N. Y., Jan. 19, 1866. He was a Lieut. in the War of 1812. His wife, the daughter of Samuel and Rachel (Wakemen) Pearsall, was sixth in descent from Capt. John Underhill the noted Indian fighter and author of "News from America." Rachel Wakeman, daughter of Gideon who graduated at Yale in 1759 and married Ann Adams, was fifth in descent from Rev. Samuel Wakeman, who married Hannah, daughter of Deputy Governor Stephen Goodyear. Gideon Wakeman was fifth in descent from Joseph Hawley who graduated at Harvard in 1674 and who married Lydia daughter of the brave Capt. Samuel Marshall killed in the Great Swamp Fight, 1675.
6. SAMUEL P. HANFORD, born at Westport, Aug. 13, 1812, died at Irving, July 2, 1895. Maryett F. Lyon, his wife, daughter of Alfred Child and Lucippa (Wight), was born at Attica, N. Y., March 24, 1817 and died Aug. 13, 1892; she was seventh in descent from William and Sarah (Ruggles) Lyon of Roxbury, Mass. Her grandfathers Ethel Bert Child Lyon and Capt. Nathan Wight and great grandfather, Col. James Metcalf were Revolutionary soldiers from Mass., and her second cousin, General Nathaniel Lyon, was a distinguished hero in the Civil War. Prof. Samuel F. B. Morse was her father's second cousin.

he married second Mabel, daughter of S. Delevan and Laura D. (Strong) Adams,* at Sherman, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., Jan. 12, 1897. He has had six children, five by his first wife and one by the second:

1. DE LANCEY, born at Irving, Sept. 5, 1876, died at West Stratford (now Bridgeport), Conn., Sept. 26, 1877.
2. NINA MAY, twin with the above, born Sept. 5, 1876, died in New York, Dec. 17, 1895.
3. GRACE FLORENCE, born in New York, Oct. 2, 1879, died there Nov. 6, 1880.
4. FENTON WINTHROP, born in New York, Aug. 11, 1881, died at Mansfield, Penn. (Normal School), Dec. 18, 1898.
5. HAROLD HANFORD, born in New York, June 25, 1888. Admitted to Columbia University Sept. 1906.
6. WARD ADAMS, born in New York, Feb. 12, 1898.

*THE ADAMS FAMILY.

1. HENRY ADAMS came to New England in 1632 or 1633 and settled at Braintree (now Quincy). President John Adams erected a monument there to his memory, at which time he supposed that the family came from Devonshire.

John Quincy Adams became satisfied that his father was mistaken in this. The so-called "Ap Adam Pedigree" has long been discredited. Recent discoveries indicate that Henry Adams came probably from Kingweston, Somersetshire.

2. LIEUT. THOMAS ADAMS, born in England, 1612, married Mary (Blackmore?). He was a member of the General Court and with his brother Samuel erected mills where the City of Lowell now stands.

Rebecca, daughter of Samuel married John Waldo; Ralph Waldo Emerson was one of their descendants.

3. JONATHAN ADAMS, born at Concord, Mass., Jan. 6, 1646, married Leah, daughter of Francis and Rose Gould, and died at Chelmsford, Nov. 25, 1712.
4. DAVID ADAMS, born March 29, 1699, married, in Canterbury, Conn., Dorcas Paine, daughter of Elisha and Rebecca (Doane) and granddaughter of Thomas and Mary (Snow). Mary Snow was the daughter of Nicholas, and the granddaughter of Stephen Hopkins of the Mayflower. Robert Treat Paine, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and John Howard Payne, author of "Home Sweet Home," belong to this family.

5. LEVI ADAMS, baptized Nov. 18, 1728, married Margaret Perkins and served with three of his sons in the Revolution. He died at Hardwick, N. Y., 1816.
6. SERGT. LEVI ADAMS was born at Oswego Village (now Quaker City), town of Unionvale, Dutchess Co., N. Y., Feb. 14, 1754. He served in the Revolution from Connecticut and Vermont and was a pensioner when he died at Ripley, N. Y., Dec. 26, 1833. He married Hannah Pettingill.
7. HENRY ADAMS, born at Milford, N. Y., June 17, 1796, married Louisa, daughter of Eliphaz Hibbard and Ruth (Bowe) Pride and died Oct. 15, 1882.

She was seventh in descent from John Pride of Salem and sixth from Alexander Bowe of Middletown.

8. S. DELAVAN ADAMS, born in Ripley, May 25, 1831, died in Sherman, May 20, 1900. His wife Laura Davis Strong, daughter of Capt. Walter and Nancy (Sheldon), was born at Nettle Hill, town of Westfield, N. Y., Nov. 29, 1836.

Capt. Strong was sixth in descent from Elder John Strong of Northampton and Rev. John Warham of Windsor the first pastor in New England.

Nancy Sheldon was the daughter of Seth and Philena (Edgerton) Sheldon and granddaughter of Capt. Simeon Edgerton of Pawlet, Vt., a Revolutionary soldier.

Philena Edgerton had a notable ancestry through her grandmother Hannah Denison, daughter of George and Mary (Witherell). George Denison who graduated at Harvard in 1693, was the grandson of Capt. George Denison, the famous soldier, who married Ann Boradil.

Mary Witherell his wife was the granddaughter of Rev. William Witherell and Jonathan Brewster, son of Elder William of the Mayflower. A sketch of Elder Brewster is given in the "Encyclopedia Britannica."

Mr. Witherell was educated at Cambridge, where he became an A. B. in 1623 and an A. M. in 1626. After coming to New England he became pastor of the church at Scituate and was one of the best of the early colonial poets. Dean's "History of Scituate" gives a good account of him and credits the tradition that his mother was the daughter of John Rogers the martyr of Smithfield.

THE JONATHAN GILBERT FAMILY OF HARTFORD.

JONATHAN GILBERT, born in England about 1616, was a land owner at Hartford, Conn., in 1645. He died there December 10, 1682, aged 64. It is probable that he had been in the colony a number of years, as in 1646 he was engaged in difficult negotiations with Uncas and other Indian chiefs, and as an interpreter with the Indians in April, 1647. His ancestry is unknown. Savage says: "William Gilbert, of Windsor, 1640, was perhaps the father of Jonathan, Thomas, John, Josiah and Obadiah, but no proof." If this is true (?) it is remarkable that he did not have a grandchild that bore his name.

Thomas, of Windsor and Springfield; John, of Hartford, and Josiah, of Wethersfield, were known to have been his brothers, and according to family tradition Obadiah, of Fairfield, was also. He married first, Mary, daughter of Elder John White, Jan. 29, 1645-6. She died in 1650 and he married second, Mary, daughter of Hugh and Frances Wells and niece of Governor Thomas Wells.

His second wife was remarkable for her prudence and energy, which contributed greatly to his success, and who was honored in the lives of her children. He died Dec. 10, 1682, aged 64, and his second wife July 3, 1700, aged 74. They lie side by side in the ancient burial place at Hartford.

Jonathan Gilbert was the chief inn-holder of Hartford, and in his house the General Court usually met when they did not sit at the meeting-house. Mrs. Gilbert conducted the inn for many years after her husband's death.

He was a man of business, respectability and enterprise, engaged in the trade and coasting business of the young colonies, possessed of great wealth for the day, collector of customs at Hartford, marshal of the colony—an office corresponding to that of high sheriff—a deputy to the General Court. He acquired large tracts of land in the different settlements, which he subsequently divided among his children.

There is some reason to think that Jonathan Gilbert belonged to the family of Sir Humphrey Gilbert, of Devonshire, but there is no proof of it, and the pedigree which has been published showing such connection is not credited. Unfortunately spurious pedigrees have been printed about many prominent New England families. It is certain, however, that he was worthy to have been a relative of Sir Humphrey, and after reading the account of him given by J. Wingate Thornton it would almost seem as though he were. This was printed in the New England Genealogical Register, vol. 4, and it is regretted that space will not permit giving it in full. After quoting from Gookin showing the perilous condition of affairs when the white settlements in Connecticut were threatened with destruction by the Indians, he says:

“The increasing power of the white men, and their aggressive policy, excited their jealousy, which was manifested by murders, firings, and all cruelties, of Indian revenge. Such were the state of affairs when the colony availed itself of Gilbert’s services in perilous negotiations with these enraged, crafty and faithless savages. None but a resolute man, of a cool, penetrating eye, a wary watchfulness, and a fearless temper, could gain respect or safety among them. Uncas, like King Philip, was a patriot, and a settled hatred to his new neighbors fired his heart and mind, and filled the breasts of his people.”

Mr. Homer W. Brainard, of Hartford, collected much valuable information about the family for Mr. John B. Bloss, of Washington, Mrs. Bloss being a descendant of Jonathan Gilbert. This has been printed by Mr. Bloss and from it some facts have been gleaned.

Jonathan Gilbert had two children by his first wife, Mary White:

- i. JONATHAN, born May 11, 1648. He was so wayward in his early manhood that his father left him a smaller share of his estate than his brothers. After his father’s death he applied to the court for relief, saying that he had become fully reconciled to his father, who had approved of his marriage. The court, with the consent of Mrs.

Gilbert, his stepmother, granted him a considerable increase from his father's estate. He married Dorothy Stow, daughter of Rev. Samuel, of Middletown, and died in Middletown, Feb. 1, 1698. He had ten children, recorded at Middletown.

- ii. MARY, baptized Dec. 17, 1649, married first, John Rossiter; second, Samuel Holton.

Jonathan Gilbert had seven other children by his second wife, Mary Wells.

- iii. SARAH, born July 25, 1651, married Capt. Andrew Belcher, of Boston. He was a member of the council from 1702 to 1717 and Eliot says "was the most opulent merchant in the town of Boston, a man of integrity and honor, a friend to religion and learning." He died Oct. 31, 1717, his wife Jan. 26, 1689. Their seven children were:

1. Andrew, born 1672, died unmarried.
2. Sarah, married first Joseph Lynde and second John Foye.
3. Elizabeth, born Jan. 12, 1678, married Daniel Oliver; their son Peter Oliver, born in Boston, March 26, 1713, graduated at Harvard, was appointed a justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court in 1756 and in 1771 became chief justice. See further notice of him in Encyclopaedia Britannica.
4. Mary, born March 7, 1680, married George Vaughan of Portsmouth.
5. Jonathan, born Jan. 8, 1682, graduated at Harvard College in 1699. He traveled abroad for many years; on his return became a merchant in Boston, was a member of the council for several years, and in 1728 was sent as agent to England. In Jan., 1729-30, he was commissioned Governor of Massachusetts, which office he held for eleven years. In 1747 he was made Governor of New Jersey, serving until his death in 1757. He married first, Mary, daughter of Lieutenant Governor William Partridge of New Hampshire and second, Mary Louisa Emilia Teal. He had five children, all by his first wife.

Andrew, his eldest son, graduated at Harvard in 1724, was for a few years member of the council and died at Milton in 1771. Eliot says of him: "He possessed a handsome property without much patriotic zeal or literary taste."

Jonathan, second son of the Governor, graduated at Harvard in 1728 and was one of the early settlers of Chebucto, now Halifax. He was Chief Justice and Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia. Eliot says of him: "He was a man of excellent habits, prudent, upright, of great political integrity. His prejudices were much in favor of New England."

6. Ann, born March 30, 1684, married Oliver Noyes.
7. Martha, born March 29, 1686, married Anthony Stoddard.

- iv. LYDIA, born Oct. 3, 1654, married first, Stephen Richardson, of Stonington, and second, ——— Chapman.
- v. NATHANIEL, date of birth unknown, died unmarried.
- vi. THOMAS, born in 1655, married first, Lydia Ballett and second, Mrs. Mary Trowbridge. He had six children, and resided in Boston.

He was Captain of the ship Swan, which was owned by his brother-in-law, Captain Belcher. During King William's war the French sent a squadron to sweep our commerce from the shores of New England. Captain Gilbert, with his associates, captured a French ship called the Saint Jacob. In 1695 he sailed for London, was taken by a French privateer and imprisoned for two months in France. The remains of Captain Gilbert and his wife Lydia rest in the "Granery burial ground" in Boston.

- vii. SAMUEL, born about 1763, married Mary Rogers, and resided in Hartford, where he was commissioned ensign of the train band in 1698. In 1707 he removed to Colchester, where he was appointed captain of the train band. He died Aug. 5, 1733, at which time he resided in what is now the town of Salem. He had six sons and one daughter.
- viii. EBENEZER, mentioned in his father's will; no further account.
- ix. RACHEL, married Sept. 22, 1686, Josiah Marshfield.
- x. HESTER, married Charles Dickenson.

THE EDWARDS FAMILY OF HARTFORD.

1. WILLIAM EDWARDS was one of the first settlers of Hartford. His mother was Ann, wife of James Cole, whom she married in England. There is nothing known about their ancestry. The widely-published statement that he was the son of Rev. Richard Edwards has long been discredited.

James Cole, his stepfather, died in 1652, and his widow Ann was made the sole executrix of his will. William Edwards, one of the legatees, was called "my well-beloved sonn."

Mrs. Cole died Feb. 20, 1679. A short time before her decease she made a verbal disposition of her estate, which, as entered on the Records of the Court of Probate, is as follows:

"Mrs. Cole declaring that it was her minde, that after her decease, her home and Lande should be to her son William Edwards, he only to have the use & Improvement for himselfe & wife during their naturall life, & then it should return to her Grandson Richard Edwards & to his heires forever, and the like dispose she made of the other part of her estate, as appears by the Testimony of Mr. Saul Willy, Mr. Jonathan Gilbert, and Wm. Edwards, which the Court approves of & confirms, & this Court Granted Administration upon the estate to Richard Edwards, who accepted the same in Court."

William Edwards married, about 1645, Agnes, widow of William Spencer, one of the first settlers of Hartford. Her family name is unknown, and the statement that one of her brothers in England was Mayor of Exeter and another Mayor of Barnstable, is given without indorsement.

William Spencer was a man of note who settled at Cambridge, Mass., in 1631, but returned to England and married his wife in 1633; their three children were Samuel, Sarah (wife of John Case), and Elizabeth who married first William Wellman and second Jacob Joy, having eight children by the former and four by the latter.

The widow Agnes Spencer was a more than ordinary woman; she had a large and notable posterity by both of her husbands. Her granddaughter Deborah Joy married Captain

Andrew Ward and had nine children. Among their many distinguished descendants was Henry Ward Beecher, so that she is the ancestress of the two most notable divines in America, Edwards and Beecher, who with William Ellery Channing are the only preachers and theologians admitted to the "Hall of Fame."

William Edwards died before 1672, but the date of his wife's death is unknown. They had only one child.

2. RICHARD EDWARDS, born May 16, 1647, died at Hartford April 20, 1718. He was a well-to-do merchant, later became an attorney-at-law, and practising his profession as early as 1684; in 1702-3 he argued a fugitive slave case against Saltonstall.

He was probably the first Queen's Attorney, appointed as such in April, 1705, the office having been created in May, 1704.

His eldest son, Timothy, wrote as follows concerning him:

"He was a noble stature, of a straight, wellformed body, and of a comely countenance. His smile had a pleasantcy beyond which I have seen in many, yea, in most others. He was quick and nimble in his movements, even to old age; and was of a strong and healthy constitution. He had a strong, clear mind, and had a very good utterance. He had a quick fancy; a pleasant, ready wit, with a very good judgment. He could argue in a matter and reason in a case very well. He was a man of considerable reading; both in Law, History, and Divinity; was well furnished for society, and very pleasant in consultation. Thus it pleased the Most High to endow and adorn my dear departed father with many virtues which rendered him very lovely and desirable in his life, and much lamented in his death."

He married, Nov. 19, 1667, Elizabeth, daughter of William and Elizabeth Tuttle, of New Haven, who came from Northampton, England, in 1635. They were divorced in 1691 and he married (2) Mary Talcott. Insanity was one of the grounds for the divorce.

Richard Edwards had five children by his first wife and six by the second, but the former had two other children not recognized by him.

The high character of her son and grandson, and especially the eminence of the latter, made conspicuous by contrast the sins of Elizabeth Tuttle. It has been a fruitful subject of discussion with many writers and widely different opinions have been expressed.

FROM TUTTLE GENEALOGY.

"A remarkable feature in our family history, as it would be in any other, is the branch of Elizabeth. It is an interesting genealogical study. Both the parents were of the same Welsh race. There is evidence that the mother had the sensitive and excitable temperament of genius. Richard Edwards, being an only child, inherited ample means and gave his children the best education the country afforded. To educate is to bring out, and to train, it cannot create talents or character. The ministerial profession was then almost the only field for the employment of able and educated men. So all things conspired to favor the natural bent for their son, Timothy. The process was continued, and in the next generation reached its highest development in his son Jonathan. From the very beginning this branch has been noted for its high regard for education, its scholarly culture, and its religious disposition. It is said to include a larger number of eminent persons than have sprung from any other one of the New England founders. It is wonderful, says a late writer, how much of the grace and culture of American society has sprung from this root. The same pursuits continued generation after generation in the same families, or originally set apart by nature for a chosen work, has resulted in a heritage of confirmed aptitudes, enlarged natural capacities, delicacy and refinement of physical organization, manners, sentiments and tastes; a sort of 'Brahmin Caste in New England,' as Dr. Holmes put it, of which the Edwards family form a considerable proportion, and in which it holds a high rank."

FROM CONN. QUARTERLY.

"The branch of the Tuttle family from which Elizabeth Tuttle came, was erratic to the degree of insanity, and is so to a certain extent to the present day. This family taint was restrained by the strong will and great spirituality and intellectual vigor of Rev. Timothy and Rev. Jonathan, only to crop out again in renewed activity in the son (Pierpont Edwards), and the grandson (Aaron Burr), of the 'divine Jonathan,' both of whom were profligate, vicious and licentious. Mrs. Richard Edwards' brother was found guilty of slaying his sister, by the Colonial Court, and executed; and another sister was found guilty of killing her own son, but through the confusion existing at that time, she escaped the penalty of the law."

* * * * *

"In heredity and environment, Darwin finds the evolution of man. The influence of environment works slowly and with continually diminishing force; while heredity, being the sum of the accretions of uncounted centuries and tending constantly to greater fixity in its forms, is well nigh omnipotent in the determination of individual character."

Rev. A. J. Gordon, in a sermon at Princeton College, the alma mater of Aaron Burr, said:

"When I was here before, I went into the graveyard and saw close together, the tombs of Jonathan Edwards and Aaron Burr; and it set me thinking of the vast gulf between those two careers; one the seraphic life of a soul whose intellect and affections were aflame with divine love and holiness; the other, estranged from God, going on from sin to sin till his hands were imbrued in the blood of murder."

The children of Richard and Elizabeth (Tuttle) Edwards were:

- i. TIMOTHY, born 1669, married Esther Stoddard, daughter of Rev. Solomon, and died in 1758. He graduated at Harvard in 1691 and was the pastor of the Church in East Windsor. He had ten daughters and one son, Jonathan, the distinguished divine. The Rev. Jonathan Edwards, born 1703, married Sarah, daughter of Rev. James Pierpont, and died at Princeton, N. J., March 28, 1758, about six weeks after his installation as President of the College, where he succeeded his son-in-law.

The Encyclopædia Britannica describes him as "the most distinguished metaphysician and divine of America."

He had eleven children. One daughter, Esther, was the wife of Rev. Aaron Burr, President of Princeton College, and mother of Vice-President Burr, and his son Jonathan was President of Union College.

Pierpont,* the youngest child of Rev. Jonathan, resided in New Haven, married Frances Ogden, and their daughter Henrietta Frances was the wife of the celebrated inventor, Eli Whitney.

- ii. ABIGAIL, born 1671, married (1) Benjamin Lathrop and (2) Capt. Thomas Stoughton. She had ten children by her second husband.
- iii. ELIZABETH, born 1675, married (1) Jacob Deming, of Hartford, and (2) ————Hinkley, of Kingston, R. I. She had four children by her first husband.
- iv. ANN, born 1678, married (1) Jonathan Richardson and (2) William Davenport.
- v. MABEL, baptized 1685, married Jonathan Bigelow, of Hartford, by whom she had six children.

*"Pierpont Edwards became a brilliant, eccentric, and licentious Connecticut lawyer and jurist, a rank prototype of talented immorality, which was only too closely imitated by his nephew, Aaron Burr, with whom he was at one time quite intimate." From Windsor Farmes, page 148.

Children by his second wife:

- vi. JONATHAN, born in 1693, died the same year.
- vii. JOHN, born 1694, married Christian Williamson, and had seven children. He resided in Hartford.
- viii. HANNAH, born 1696, married Joseph Backus, Jr. of Norwich and Hartford, and had four children.
- ix. RICHARD, born 1698, died in 1713.
 - x. DANIEL, born in 1701; graduated at Yale in 1720; married Sarah Hooker, and had two children. He was a Judge of the Supreme Court of the Colony.
- xi. SAMUEL, born 1702, married Jerusha Pitkin and had one child. He resided in Hartford.

APPENDIX C.

THE YARRINGTON FAMILY OF NEW ENGLAND.

PETER YARRINGTON resided at Beverly, Mass., in July, 1696, with his wife Abiah. No other Yarrington or Yerrington family has been found in New England history prior to the Revolution.

There was an Anthony Yerrengron, in New York City in 1738 and presumably he was the Anthony Yarrington, of Poughkeepsie, who had sons Gale and Andrew, all mentioned in the will of Andrew Gale, of Jamaica, L. I., in 1742.

The late Rev. Benjamin M. Yarrington, of Greenwich, Conn., had some records of his family which stated that their emigrant ancestor was William Yarrington, who came from Wales and settled near Boston, where he married Alice Woodward, who was born in Amsterdam, Holland, probably of English ancestors. The first part of this family history is based on tradition, but it is evident that Peter Yarrington is the one referred to, and it is also in error as to the Christian name of his wife. In the Beverly records her name is given as Abiel, but the New London probate records give it as Abiah, while the Coventry records give the name of her granddaughter as Abial. Her name may have been copied as Alice from some record by mistake.

Peter and Abiah Yarrington had nine children, the first seven of which were baptized at Beverly, Mass., and the last two at Preston, Conn. They probably moved to Preston in 1706 and from there many years later to Stonington, where he died. Presumably he died in 1725, as the inventory of his estate was dated Oct. 5 of that year. His wife Abiah and son Ezekiel were appointed by the New London Probate Court to administer to his estate.

A suit against the estate by John Starkweather was carried up to the General Court, which decided in favor of his administrators, in 1727. The Woodward family of Preston may have been related to Mrs. Yarrington. On April 18, 1711, the church at Preston received Daniel Woodward and wife by letter from Cambridge, Mass., and in 1714 Hannah, wife of Amos Woodward.

Children:

1. WILLIAM, baptized at Beverly July 12, 1696, died young.
2. ELIZABETH, baptized July 12, 1696.
3. PETER, baptized January 17, 1696-7, married to Abigail Lamb, Dec. 21, 1721, at Preston, by Rev. Salmon Treat (both of Stonington). Children: Rufus, 1724-5; William, 1727; Zipporah, 1730; Simon, 1732; Elijah, 1734; Abigail, 1736; Keziah, 1738; Amaziah, 1739.
4. HANNAH, baptized at Beverly March 26, 1699.
5. MARY, baptized at Beverly November 16, 1701.
6. WILLIAM, baptized May 16, 1703, died in May, 1746. He settled in Smith Town, L. I., and there married Rebecca Dayton, daughter of Jonathan. He was a schoolmaster and a fine penman. His Bible is now owned by the Rev. Samuel R. J. Hoyt, D. D., of Harlan, Iowa, a nephew of Rev. Benjamin M. Yarrington. Children: William, born January 27, 1738; Desire, Jonathan and Rachel.
7. EZEKIEL, baptized March 25, 1704-5, married Jerusha Avery, March 18, 1731, and resided in Stonington. Children: Desire, born Nov. 6, 1732; Ezekiel, Oct. 20, 1733; Laura, Aug. 7, 1735; Jerusha, Dec. 10, 1737; Amos, Oct. 27, 1740; Joseph, March 10, 1743; Deborah, May 10, 1746, and Phebe, April 8, 1748.
8. RACHEL, baptized at Preston, Conn., Aug. 10, 1707, married Amos Richardson. Their first child, Nathan (born March 20, 1725), was baptized at Preston, Sept. 26, 1725, and at the same time she was received as a member.

9. EBENEZER, baptized at Preston, July 29, 1710.

THE RUST FAMILY OF NEW ENGLAND. *

1. HENRY RUST settled at Hingham, Mass., before June, 1635. It is supposed that he came from Hingham, Norfolk Co., England. He was a land owner and one of the principal town officers at Hingham. In 1645 he was appointed for "ye recording births and buruals." He removed to Boston, where he was admitted to be an inhabitant March 31, 1651. He purchased a place in Boston from the widow Awdrey Palmer, the deed being dated March 11, 1652. This land was situated at what is now the north corner of Summer and Hawley Streets. It adjoined the land of Amos Richardson and on it the first Trinity Church was erected in 1728. He was a glover by trade. He died about 1684. The name of his wife is unknown. They had four children:

- i. SAMUEL, baptized Aug. 5, 1638, married Elizabeth Rogers and resided in Boston.
- ii. NATHANIEL, baptized Feb. 2, 1639-40, married Mary Wardell and settled in Ipswich.
- iii. HANNAH, baptized Nov. 7, 1641, married Robert Earle, of Boston.
- iv. ISRAEL, the following:

2. ISRAEL RUST, baptized in Hingham, Nov. 12, 1643, removed to Northampton, Mass., when a young man and there married, Dec. 9, 1669, Rebecca, daughter of Lieut. William and Sarah Clark. He died intestate Nov. 11, 1712, and his estate was settled by "Articles of agreement made by Rebecca Rust, widow & Relect of Israel Rust, deceased, & Nathaniel & Israel, Jonathan & John Rust & Samuel Allin & Robert Danks with respect to the estate of the said Israel Rust, Deceased their Honored father."

* See "Record of the Rust Family" by Albert D. Rust, 1891.

His widow, Rebecca, was born in 1648 and died Feb. 8, 1733. Their eight children were Nathaniel, born 1671; Samuel, born 1673, died 1702; Sarah, born 1675; Experience, born 1677; Israel, born 1679; Jonathan, born 1681; Rebecca and John.

3. CAPT. NATHANIEL RUST, born in Northampton, Nov. 16, 1671, married first, May 17, 1692, Mary, or Mercy, daughter of John and Deliverance Atchison, of Hatfield. Her father was killed by the Indians in 1677. She was born Oct. 30, 1673, and died Jan. 21, 1754. Capt. Rust married second, when he was almost eighty-three years of age, Mrs. Mary Rose, Sept. 9, 1754. He was one of the first settlers in the town of Coventry, Conn. (about 1700), and was one of the proprietors' committee in 1711. At the first town meeting in 1714 his name heads the board of Selectmen elected. He resided where William O. Gardner lived in 1891 and kept a tavern there for many years. He probably was in command of the train band, as his name appears always with the title of Captain on the town records. His will was dated in 1760, but there appears to be no record of his death. Their ten children were:

- i. EXPERIENCE, born Nov., 1693, married Samuel Gurley, of Coventry, later of Mansfield. He was distinguished for piety and was eminently useful in the cause of religion and humanity.
- ii. NATHANIEL, born Dec., 1695, married Hannah Hatch.
- iii. MARGARET, born May 11, 1698, died Sept. 18, 1712.
- iv. LYDIA, born Nov. 20, 1700, died Dec. 2, 1702.
- v. SAMUEL, born 1703; record given below.
- vi. MARY, born July 7, 1705, died Nov. 13, 1706.
- vii. NOAH, born July 24, 1708, married Keziah Strong, resided in Coventry. The first preaching in the North Parish was at his house in Dec., 1736.
- viii. DANIEL, born Feb. 18, 1711, married first, Anna White, and second, Mary Mead.

ix. ELIZABETH, born June 11, 1713, married Daniel Hearick.

x. LYDIA, born May 9, 1716, married Joseph Hearick.

4. CAPT. SAMUEL RUST, born May 10, 1703, married, July 2, 1722, Sarah Hawkins, daughter of George, granddaughter of John, and great-granddaughter of Anthony Hawkins, of Farmington. Capt. Rust was a prominent man in Coventry, represented the town in the General Assembly and was chairman of the first church committee. He was commissioned an ensign in 1738, a lieutenant in 1746, and captain in 1767. He died in 1773. Their seven children were:

i. FREELOVE, born May 25, 1724, married Eleazer Kingsbury, and had Freeloze, 1743; Anna, 1745; Sarah, 1746-7; Eleazer, 1749-50; Samuel Rust, 1754.

ii. ANNE, born May 17, 1726, married, Aug. 30, 1747, Lemuel Richardson (not Samuel, as given in the Rust Genealogy).

iii. SAMUEL, born Feb. 23, 1727, died Sept. 26, 1740.

iv. SARAH, born June 4, 1732, married, 1749, William Wilson and had Jacob, Dorothy, William, Sarah, Abigail, John, Sarah (2nd), Abigail (2nd), Zebulon.

v. NATHANIEL, born May 15, 1735, died Sept. 30, 1740.

vi. ZEBULON, born July 12, 1737, died Sept. 23, 1740.

vii. CHLOE, born May 14, 1742.

INDEX.

The descendants of Amos Richardson are indicated by a figure before the name showing the number of their generation in descent from him. Only one entry is made to cover descendants of the same name and generation.

Those who are known to have died young are in most cases omitted. All other persons of the same name are indexed together. This includes those related to the family by marriage and incidentally mentioned.

The Christian name, if known, may be found in the index when not given in the text.

Erastus A. ABBOT	68	Gov. Nathaniel P. BANKS	110
Ann (Wakeman) ADAMS	114	Charles W. BARDSLEY	6
David	115	Joseph BARNES	72
President John	115	Lydia Mary	103
President John Quincy	115	Mary C. BARTON	59
Jonathan	115	Addie E. BATES	108
Henry	115, 116	9 Adelia	108
Levi	115	10 George Andrew	109
Sergt. Levi	115	9 George Nelson	109
Mabel (Richardson)	115	10 Hazel	109
Rebecca (Waldo)	115	10 James N.	108
Samuel	115	10 Jennie	109
S. Delevan	115, 116	9 Libbie	109
Lieut. Thomas	115	9 Marcus James	108
Benjamin ALBE	58	Thomas BEAM	199
Eleanor ALLEN	71	Earl L. BEAN	58
Flora E.	71	Permelia BEAN (or Bane)	47
Freelove E.	59	Seth BECKLEY	68
9 Gideon R.	75	Ann BEECHER	45
9 Henry	75	Rev. Henry Ward	122
9 John	75	9 Elizabeth Wright BEERS	87
Capt. Jonathan	57	9 Frank Bartlett	87
Joseph E.	86	9 Lillie	87
9 Lizzie	75	9 Nathan T.	87
Robert	75	10 Dr. Nathan T.	87
Samuel ALLIN	129	Nathan Thomas	87
Matthew ALLYN	60	9 Stephen Richardson	87
Major Azel AMES	5	9 Thomas Hawley	87
Capt. David ANDERSON	22, 23	Andrew BELCHER	119
3 David	22	Capt. Andrew	119, 120
Dorothy ASHLEY	96	Ann	119
Deliverance ATCHINSON	139	Elizabeth	119
John	136	Jonathan	119
Mary (or Mercy)	136	Gov. Jonathan	32, 41, 119
Major Humphrey ATHERTON	13	Martha	119
R. Meredith ATKINS	80	Mary	119
Dr. Daniel AVERY	64	Sarah	119
Festus	105	Emma L. BENDALL	77
Irene	60	Mark J.	78
Jerusha	127	Philip BENJAMIN	25
Permelia	98, 105	Clarinda BENLARD	99
Roselle (Richardson)	105	Cleoria BENNETT	55
William	23	Daniel BENTON	29
Elder Stephen BABCOCK	39	10 Henry L. BERTINE	81
Mary Ann BABCROFT	69	Josiah H.	81
Joseph BACKUS	124	10 Mary F. L.	81
George E. BACON	94	Hannah BETTS	110
Eli BAKER	70	Christena BEYER	101
Ella M.	101	Prof. Samuel W.	101
9 Margaret E.	59	John BIGELOW	124
William G.	59	Sarah BISSELL	54
Lydia BALLETT	120	Minnie BITTENBENDER	44
Benjamin BANCROFT	36	Amos R. BLACK	76

BLACK —Continued.
Budley S.	75	Lucy CARPENTER	69
Mary BLACKMORE	115	Tirzah	64
Carrie BLANKFELL	106	John CASE	121
Orrin D. BLEAKLEY	75	Hugh CAULKINS	10
John B. BLOSS	118	Capt. William CHAMBERLAIN	93
Rachel BOARN	42	Emma Louise CHAMBERS	76
John BOGART	80	Frank Marvin	77
Ann BORADIL	116	John Lemuel	76
Alexander BOWE	116	10 Josephine	76
Ruth	116	Rev. William E. CHANNING	122
10 Eliza Ann BRADBROOK	80	Harriet F. CHAPMAN	70
Robert	89	Capt. John	20
Abigail BRADLEY	114	Mehitable	20
9 Carrie A.	95	Richard	28
9 Elisha	95	William	18
George A.	95	Anna CHESEBOROUGH	23
10 Anna BRADY	79	Hannah	23
10 Edith Richardson	78	Nathaniel	23
10 Elizabeth	79	William	18
10 Emma	79	James A. CLARK	77
10 Eunice	78	Rebecca	129, 130
10 Harriet	79	Sarah	129
Dr. John Alexander	78	Lieut. William	129
10 Olive Richardson	78	Joseph CLARKE	15
10 Sophia Meserole	79	3 Katherine	22
Capt. Gideon BRAINARD	30	3 Margaret	22
Gideon	30	3 Prudence	22
Homer W.	118	3 Sarah	22
Daniel BREWSTER	42	Capt. Timothy	9, 21, 23
Jonathan	116	Mercy CLAUSON	42
Elder William	116	Fanny CLEINE	55
6 Anne BRIGHAM	55	Aseneth COLE	93
7 Anne	56	Ebenezer	93
6 Bethiah	55	James	121
6 Cephas	56	8 James M. COLEMAN	48
6 Don Carlos	56	8 Nancy	48
6 Lucia	56	Solomon	48
7 Lucia	56	8 Solomon L.	48
6 Marcia (or Martha)	56	7 Clara COLLINS	73
6 Norman	55	7 Elijah	72, 73
7 Sally	56	Judge Gilbert	4, 20
Uriah	54, 55	7 Lemuel	73
Sarah BRINDALL	49	7 Mabel	73
George BROMER	8	7 Mary	73
Ida Lewis BROOKE	79	Nathaniel	72, 73
Andrew K. BROWN	41	7 Rachel	73
Ebenezer	57	Ruth COLTON	110
Capt. John	93	11 Charles L. CONVERSE	105
Jonathan	23	Edward	43, 45
LeGrand	59	Stephen A.	105
Martha	57	Emma E. COOK	97
Mary	57	Harriet M.	98
Anna BUELL	46	Fred H. COOLEGE	59
Peter	46	10 George B.	59
10 Byron G. (Mulcahle) BURBANK	99	10 Mary Ella	59
George	99	9 William D.	59
11 Wayne	99	Frank COPPLE	107
Rev. Aaron BURN	124	Rev. John COTTON	15
Vice President Aaron	123, 124	Sarah E. CRAMB	101
Benjamin F. BUTLER	85	Jasper CRANE	100
11 Benjamin Franklin	85	Keturah	100
11 Edith Vincent	85	Phebe CROCKER	41
Emma Cornella	31	Lewis CROOK	86
11 Helen Granville	85	Julia CROSS	97
Howard Granville	85	Naomi	97
James J.	39	Palmer	97
Rev. George A. CALHOUN	40, 51, 62	Betty CURTIS	96
Mary A. CALL	75	Joseph	96
Jennie L. CAMP	77	Lucy	96
4 Lydia CARDER	29	Moses	96
4 Mary	29	Theophilus	96
4 Rachel	29	George CUTHBERT	44
Richard	29	Betsy CUTLER	70
		9 Anna E. DANEGAR	87
		9 Emma	87
		George	87

DANEGAR—Continued.

9 George W.	87
Robert DANKS	129
Charles DARWIN	123
Ann DAVENPORT	33
Elizabeth,	33, 40
Humphrey	33, 40, 56, 57
Rachel	33
Richard	33
Sophronia	61
William	33, 40, 124
Anna DAVIS	68
Charles	80
9 John Luther	80
9 Josephine	80
9 Maria	80
9 Mary	80
Noah	68
Judge Noah	68
Major William H. DAY	82
Jonathan DAYTON	127
Rebecca	127
— DEAN	96
11 Elena J. M. DE APEZTEGUIA	85
11 Emilia G. C.	85
11 Hulda C. I.	85
11 Julio Jose	85
The Marquis	85
Joseph DELLIBER	52
8 Joseph	52
8 Lavinia	52
Ammi R. DEMING	68
Hulda	74
Jacob	124
Lieut. Joseph	74
8 Judge Eugene DEMPSEY	38
John	38
George DENISON	116
Capt. George	10, 116
Hannah	116
John	34
Elizabeth DEPEW	80
Sara E. DEXTER	77
Charles DICKENSON	120
Charlotte DICKINSON	45
Vashti	35
Roderick DIMOCK	56
Susan Whitney (Mrs. Henry F.	4
John DIYAN	12
Rebecca DOANE	115
8 Eva P. DODGE	59
8 Jane N.	59
8 Marcia Richardson	59
8 Mary H.	59
Norris	59
8 Augustus DOW	48
8 Edward	48
8 Elizabeth	48
Ellen	77
8 Eunice	48
8 Hannah	18
8 Hezekiah	48
8 James	48
Capt. Joseph	48
8 Joseph	48
8 Lucia	48
8 Mary	48
8 Newton	48
8 Rebecca	48
Emanuel DOWNING	7, 9
Stoder	7
Sarah DRAPER	35
(Nathaniel Duncan?) DUNCOME	14
Elanson DUNKLEE	77
Eli	77
Rev. Henry DUNSTER	110

DUNSTER—Continued.

Mary	110
Hannah DURGEE	58
Rachel DURKEE	70
Benjamin W. DWIGHT	48
Robert EARLE	129
Maud L. EASTON	59
Cynthia EDGERTON	54
Phylla	116
Capt. Simeon	116
Abigail EDWARDS	124
Ann (Richardson-Davenport)	28, 32, 33, 124
Ann (Cole)	121
Daniel	125
Elizabeth	124
Esther	124
Hannah	125
Henrietta Frances	124
Rev. Jonathan	32, 41, 123, 124
Jonathan	124
John	125
Mabel	124
Pierpont	123, 124
Rev. Richard	121
Richard	32, 121-123, 125
Samuel	125
Rev. Timothy	122-124
William	121, 122
James W. ELDRIDGE	52
Rev. John ELIOT (Biog. Dict.)	119
Phillip	16
9 Edward S., ELLIS	72
George S.	72
9 Henry H.	72
9 Lizzie F.	72
9 Mary W.	72
10 Charles J. ELLISON	80
Lawrence P.	80
10 Elizabeth C.	53
Eliza EMELINE	115
Ralph Waldo EMERSON	75
Mary EMINGER	44
10 Louise EMMONS	44
Willis	47
Gov. John ENDICOTT	77
Caroline ENGEL	21
John FAIRWEATHER	44
11 Catherine FARNHAM	44
Hamilton	81
James FARRELL	81
10 John R.	30
Capt. FARWELL	93, 113
Gov. Reuben E. FENTON	63
Rev. Henry M. FIELD	88
Caroline FIELDS	54
Mary FISH	35
Eleazer FITCH	33
Hannah	114
Sarah FLEET	82
James T. FOUNTAIN	79
Elizabeth M. FOWLER	50, 52
7 Eunice FOX	119
John FOVE	88
8 Cornelia G. FRAZIER	87
8 Harriet Kirk	87
8 Hulda Ann	88
8 Sarah	88
8 Stephen	74, 87
Thomas	87
8 William	87
D. D. FRENCH	38
Russell	43
Alpheus FULLER	51
Matthew	31
Matilda FURMAN	81

Andrew GALE	126
William O. GARDNER	49, 130
Christopher GARDYNER	17
9 Anna GARRISON	88
8 Caroline	88
9 Emma	88
9 George	88
11 Horton B.	76
9 Huldah	88
Jacob	88
Judge John	88
8 John	88, 89
9 John	88
John B.	88
8 Marcia C. H.	76
8 Stephen	77, 88
9 Thomas	88
William F.	88
8 William F.	82
9 William S.	88
3 John GATLIFFE	20
Jonathan	20, 21
3 Jonathan	20, 21
3 Joseph	20
3 Mary	20
3 Thomas	20, 21
Elizabeth GEDNEY	77
Cora M. GERE	88
9 Josiahanna GERKIN	90
Ann Eliza GIDDINGS	71
Ebenezer GILBERT	120
Hester	120
Sir Humphrey	118
John	117
Jonathan	16, 22, 26, 32, 117, 118,
Josiah	117
Lydia (Richardson)	22, 26-27, 32, 33,
Mary	120
Nathaniel	120
Obadiah	117
Rachel	120
Samuel	120
Sarah	119
Thomas	117
Capt. Thomas	130
William	117
Rev. Hezekiah GOLD	25
Thomas GOIN	87
J. Wesley GOODELL	96
Elizabeth GOODWIN	55
Marilla A.	72
Hannah GOODYEAR	114
Deputy Gov. Stephen	114
Rev. A. J. GORDEN	123
10 Heermans GORDON	44
John	44
10 Laura	44
John	16
Francis GOULD	115
Leah	115
Rose	115
Nathaniel GOVE	33
Elizabeth L. GRANGER	87
8 Anna Richardson GRANT	47
Arthur Hastings	47
8 Clarice	47
Jesse Root	46, 47
John K.	47
8 Lawson B.	47
Margaret M.	47
Capt. Noah	46
8 Noah	47
Noah B.	47
8 Orville Foot	47
8 Permelia	47
7 Peter	47

GRANT —Continued.
8 Peter Buell	47
Rachel M.	47
8 Rachel M.	47
Roswell M.	47
7 Solomon	46
8 Solomon K.	47
Susan A.	47
President Ulysses S.	46, 47
Lottie O. GRAVES	98
Nelson R. GREELEY	101
Polly GREENLEAF	56
Phebe GREENMAN	24
9 Clarence GREGGS	71
9 Florence	71
9 Harriet	71
Lucius S.	71
9 Orman J.	71
Richard GRIDLEY	7
M. W. GRIFFIN	39
Hephzibah GUNTON	98
Samuel GURLEY	130
Arcenath HADLEY	70
Nathan HALE	41
Hiland HALL	57
Capt. Walter T.	44
10 Walter T.	44
5 Abigail HALLAM	24
5 Alexander	24
3 Amos	24
4 Amos	24
5 Amos	24
5 Desire	24
5 Edward	24
5 Giles Russell	24
Capt. John	20, 23, 24,
3 John	33
4 John	24
5 John	24
5 Nicholas	24
4 Phebe	24
4 Prudence	24
5 Thomas	24
9 Frank L. HAMILTON	4, 52
9 Ida L.	52
9 Joseph D.	52
9 Lillie L.	52
Lorenzo	52
10 Lorenzo	52
10 Maud Lines	52
10 Bayard, HAND	44
10 Emily	44
Isaac Platt	44
10 Isaac Platt	44
10 Joseph Henry	44
10 Kathleen	44
10 Laura (Farnham)	44
10 Philip Lyman	44
10 Richardson	44
Clara E. HANFORD	114
Haynes	114
Jeffry	114
9 Jennie	89
Lieut. John W.	114
Joseph	114
9 Dr. P. Cullen Charles W.	82
Capt. Samuel	114
Dr. Samuel C.	82
Samuel P.	114
Rev. Thomas	114
Edna R. HARDING	102
10 Alfreda HARMER	95
9 Alfred S.	95
10 Benjamin	95
10 Carswell	95
10 Cora Bell	95

HAWKER—Continued.

3	Edwin H.	95
10	Florence	95
10	Frank	95
9	James C.	95
9	Margaret E.	95
9	Mary Maud (Spence)	95
10	Ruby	95
	William H.	95
	Mary HARMON	7
	Frances HARRINGTON	59
	George A.	94
10	Ada G. HARRIS	108
10	Harriet B.	108
10	James H.	108
	Nettie	95
10	Perry	108
	Reuben	108
9	Alfred Z. HASWELL	59
	Edwin	59
9	George E.	59
	Hannah HATCH	130
	Mary	59
	Lavinia HATFIELD	83
	Eglin HATHERLY	114
	Timothy	114
	Major John HATHORNE	12
	Mary E. HAYER	63
	HAWES	80
	Emily HAWKES	55
	Anthony HAWKINS	131
	George	131
	John	131
	Sarah	66, 131
10	Ely HAWLEY	99
10	Eugene	99
10	Jay	99
	Joseph	114
	Martin G.	99
10	Stephen	99
10	Walter	99
	Samuel HAYNE	35
	Isabell HAYNES	114
	Mary	37
	Daniel HEARICK	131
	Joseph	131
9	Henry HEASLEY	75
9	Jeremiah	74
9	Julia Ann	74
9	Obediah F.	74
	Peter	74
9	Peter	74
9	Sarah E.	75
10	Elmer F. HEATH	109
10	Forrest B.	109
9	Freemont	109
	Joel	109
9	Luther	109
10	Mabel A.	109
	Jerusha HEDGES	31
	Mary A. HEERMANCE	79
	Catharine HEERMANS	44
	John N. HEESTER	76
	Joshua HEMPSTEAD	34
	Daniel A. HENDERSON	82
	Elizabeth B. HENDLEY	47
	James HEWITT	47
	Mary Ann HIGBY	90
	Alexander F. HILL	58
10	Margaret H.	58
10	Ruth A.	58
	Rev. James HILLHOUSE	43
	HILLYER	78
	HINCKLEY	124
	Clemina HITCHCOCK	60
	Rev. Leonard HOAR	21
	Olive W. HODGES	78
	Ann Sophia HOFFMAN	78
	Mary A. HOLLISTER	94
	Joshua HOLMES	23
	Dr. Oliver Wendell	123
	Sarah	35
	Samuel HOLTON	119
	Sarah HOOKER	125
	Stephen HOPKINS	115
	Emily HOUSE	43
	Aurilla HOWARD	42
	Major Frank L. HOWE	58
10	Harold M.	58
10	Muriel L.	58
	Rev. Samuel R. J. HOYT	127
	Elucy A. HUBBARD	77
	Hester Ann	77
	Martha G. M. F. HUDSON	41
	Sarah	29
	Lieut. William	12, 13
	Capt. Henry M. HUGHES	75
	Margery HUMPHRIE	110
4	Elizabeth HUNGERFORD	31
	Green	31
4	Green	31
4	Hester	31
4	Lemuel	31
4	Lydia	31
4	Mary	31
4	Nathaniel	31
4	Prudence	31
4	Rachel	31
4	Sarah	21
4	Stephen	31
	Mary HUNTINGTON	71
	Martha	46
	Philo HUNTLEY	111
	HURLEY	91
	Capt. Edward HUTCHINSON	12, 13
	Jonathan INCE	114
	Emma G. JACKSON	95
11	Erie E. JARMAN	102
	Jerry	102
	Aaron JENNINGS	82
9	Charlotte C.	82
9	Frank L.	82
	Luther	96
9	William M.	82
	JERRARD (or Jarrett)	75
	Elam JEWETT	65
6	Elam	65
6	Jared	65
6	Jemima	65
6	Jeremiah	65
	Mary	86
6	Othniel	65
	Capt. James JOHNSON	9
	Joseph	76
	Sarah	76
10	Albert F. JONES	59
8	Albert M.	58, 59
	Amos A.	59
9	Amos M.	59
	Betsy	69
	Clara	75
9	Helen B.	59
9	Helen M.	59
	Holland	70
9	Marcia E.	59
9	Myra	59
9	Myra H.	59
8	Myron A.	59
9	Myron H.	59
10	Olive R.	59
9	Oliver A.	59

JONES—Continued.

9 Ralph A.	59
10 William R.	59
Betsy JORDON	69
Eugenia JOSLIN	70
9 Louis JOSLYN	69
Nathaniel G.	69
Deborah, JOY	121
Jacob	121
Charles H. JUDD	101
11 Harry L.	101
11 Reuben L.	101
11 William H.	101
William H. KEELER	111
Capt. George KEENEY	41
Rachel Miller KELLY	47
Terrence KELSEY	71
Anna KENNEDY	81
Sarah	35
Harriet E. KERSEY	106
Elizabeth KETCHAM	114
Capt. Joseph	114
Robert KIDD	80
Capt. William	24
James H. KILLOUGH	92
7 Rev. Addison KINGSBURY	62
8 Addison	64
8 Albert G.	55
Alvin	64
8 Andrew D.	55
8 Andrew E.	54
Anna	131
8 Antoinette	54
7 Augustus	55
8 Augustus W.	54
9 Carlton A.	55
7 Charles	55
Charles A.	64
8 Charles P.	55
9 Clara Ladue	55
8 Dinah	60
8 Ebenezer	60
9 Edward P.	55
8 Edwin S.	55
Eleazer	131
7 Eleazer	54
Electa	49
7 Electa	61
7 Emeline	64
8 Emily M.	55
7 Erastus	55
8 Erastus	55
7 Eunice B.	60
8 Frederick W.	55
Freelove	131
8 Harlan Page	63
8 Harriet	55
8 Henry Clay	54
9 Henry Clay	55
Lieut. Joseph	60
8 Joseph	64
8 Joseph Addison	63
9 Julia H.	55
7 Lois	60
8 Louisa	60
8 Marla	60
7 Mary	61
8 Mary	55
8 Martha R.	64
7 Oliver	60
8 Oliver R.	60
7 Persis	60
7 Roxana	61
7 Ruth	62
8 Ruth M.	64
Samuel Rust	131

KINGSBURY—Continued.

9 Prof. Samuel Shipman	64
8 Sarah	131
8 Sarah	54
7 Ward	60
William	54
7 William	54
Susan KINNEE	54
Thomas KIRK	89
KITTRIDGE
Charity A. KNAPP	102
Darius	97
Isabella A. KNEELAND	71
Capt. George KEENEY	41
6 Benoni LADD	65
Dr. Henry	65
6 Henry	65
6 Herman	65
6 Hiram	65
6 Peregrine	65
Mercy Ann LA DUE	54
Abigail LAMB	127
Thomas LASSETT	40
Benjamin LATHROP	124
John LEE	11
9 Charles LEWIS	77
11 Charles	99
David	77
9 George A.	77
11 Grace	99
9 Grace I.	77
9 Helen F.	77
9 Jane Isabella	77
Rev. John	61
Josiah	77
9 Lucinda E.	77
9 Marvin D.	77
Reuben	99
9 Sarah Ann	77
9 Simon R.	77
9 William E.	77
Charlotte E. LILLIE	64
8 Elizabeth	61
Ira	90
8 Jannette	61
8 Marcus	61
Sarah Lavinia LINES	52
Emma LITTLE	62
Carolina T. LOCKWOOD	86
Nancy E. LOGAN	49
Daniel LOOMIS	51
8 Daniel	51
8 Edwin	51
George N.	61
8 Juliatta	51
8 Mary K.	51
Polly	55
Rachel LOTHROP	68
Ellen J. LUCAS	98
Luke LUKES	72
9 Catherine A. LUTHER	81
9 Huldah Davis	81
John F.	81
9 Mary K.	81
9 Sarah A.	81
8 Alicia LYMAN	48
8 Chauncey	48
Huldah	50
8 Idocia	48
8 Jane Richardson	48
Capt. John	43
8 Julia Ann	48
Laura	43
8 Lucy	48
8 Mary	48
Mary C.	53

61.

LYMAN—Continued.

8 Miranda	48	Henry MITCHELL	88
8 Nathan M.	48	Elizabeth MOORE	107
William	48	9 Frank E.	58
9 George F. LYNCH	88	9 Hubert S.	58
John C.	88	John	11
9 Leonard J.	88	9 Lillian E. (Howe),	5, 58
9 Maria L.	88	9 Ralph Edward	58
9 William R.	88	Samuel E.	58
Joseph LYNDE	119	Sidney MOREHOUSE	94
Alfred Child LYON	114	Alfred G. MORGAN	47
Ethel Bert Child	114	Elijah	33
Maryett F.	114	Henry S.	86
Gen. Nathaniel	114	Sarah	83
William	114	May J. MORRIS	95
Andrew J. MAIN	49	Augus MORRISON	41
Katherine L. MALTHBY	79	10 Catharine J.	41
Charlotte S. MANN	5	10 Emily	44
Lizzie	61	10 Mary	44
Amos MARRETT	10	Prof. Samuel F. B. MORSE	114
John	10	Agnes MORTON	85
Mabel MARSH	53	Robert MOSHER	71
Edward C. MARSHALL	46	Peter MOYER	94
Eliza C.	47	Edy MULCAHIE	98
Lydia	114	10 Mary	99
Capt. Samuel	114	Elizabeth MUNSON	25
Josiah MARSHFIELD	120	Joseph MYGATE	13
Anna MARVIN	110	Elmore MYRICK	113
Matthew	110	Sarah NASH	96
Nathan	110	Indian sachem NEALEWORT	10
Arthur MASON	21	Wilmer D. NELSON	102
Major John	14	Hannah NEWBURY	114
10 Charles R. MASSIE	95	Rev. Antipas NEWMAN	10, 13, 111
10 Frederick W.	85	Indian chief NENIGRATE	26
John R.	95	9 Amanda NODINE	78
John C. MATHER	60	3 Lemuel	78
10 James McCLELLAND	86	William	78
Rev. James F.	86	Mortimer O. H. NORTON	47
10 Mary	86	"Sister"	17
10 Nancy	86	Abigail NOYES	54
Michael McCRUTCHEN	91	Dorothy	34
Marian M. McFARLAND	47	Rev. James,	18, 27, 32
Arthur J. McGRAW	97	Oliver	119
Allen McLEAN	76	Thomas	22
Mary McMANUS	91	Capt. Thomas	24
Susan	91	Frances OGDEN	124
Amanda E. McNELLEY	102	Emma OLDENBERG	59
Mary MEACH	25	Daniel OLIVER	119
Mary MEAD	130	Peter	9, 119
Clara E. MERRILL	29	John OSBORN	86
9 Amanda MESEROLE	77	OWEN	87
10 Benjamin Richardson	79	Elsie	93
10 Clinton Vanderbilt	79	Esther	93
10 Darwin James	79	Hannah	93
9 Frederick	77	John	93
9 George	77	Palmer A. PADDOCK	79
10 Jeremiah Schenck	79	8 Cyrus PAGE	61
Gen. Jeremiah Vanderbilt	79	8 Electa Maria	61
10 Olive Richardson	79	8 Erwin	61
10 Sophia Louise	79	Frank E.	106
William R.	77	Harlan	61, 63
Edward MESSENGER	19	9 Harlan K.	61
Col. James METCALF	114	8 Harlan M.	61
John MIDDAGH	89	9 Josie Electa	61
John MILES	25	Mary Ann	98
Mary	114	Nellie Roselle	106
Richard	114	Awdrey PALMER	129
Ann MILLER	88	John	9
Asher	44	Henry M.	11, 20
Elnathan MINOR	24	Saxton	23
Ephriam	11	William	53
4 Henrietta	25	Dorcas PAINE	115
Joanna	28	Elisha	115
Joseph	28	Hannah	96
4 Prudence	25	Robert Treat	115
3 Rev. Richardson	25	Thomas	115
Thomas	11, 13, 19	Asahel PARKER	42
		Nicholas	5

Ashbel PARKS	35	REED —Continued.
Ebenezer PARSONS	60	Horace H.	94
Mary PARTRIDGE	119	11 Lillie C.	101
Lieut. Gov. William	119	11 Martha E.	100
Susan PATERSON	60	Mary H.	4, 94
Benjamin W. PAYNE	88	Newton	4
John Howard	115		70
Polly PEARSALL	114	Amy E. REXFORD	97
Samuel	114	Cora A. REYNOLDS	59
Abigial PELHAM	28	9 Grace	86
Margaret PERKINS	115	10 Helen Wilkinson	4, 86
Charles D. PETTEE	58	James	86
George PETTHONE	58	9 James	86
9 George R.	58	9 John Richardson	86
Hannah PETTINGILL	115	Mercy E.	110
Nellie PHILBRICK	109	Robert	9
King. PHILLIP	26, 118	9 Sarah E.	86
Hannah PHILIPS	23	Betsy RICE	98
Angeline PLACE	80	Dr.	56
Martha PLOSS	97	Elizabeth	75
George PLUMB	23	8 Aaron C. RICHARDSON	42
Sarah PICKERING	9	5 Abial (Ladd)	65
Daniel PIERCE	22	Abigail	10
Rev. James PIERPONT	124	5 Abigail	29, 59
John	16	6 Abigail (Kingsbury)	54
Sarah	124	7 Achsah	68
Jerusha PITKIN	125	9 Addie	71
Frank POLLY	80	9 Adelaide (Hawley)	99
George POMEROY	61	9 Adeline	58
8 Alva PORTER	60	9 Adella	107
6 Amaziah	64	8 Agnes	90
Ebenezer	60	9 Ahira S.	70
Jerusha	50	8 Ahira Steele	69
Jonathan	60	9 Albert	70
6 Jonathan	64	6 Alexander	55
Col. Joseph W.	57, 60	10 Alfred H.	79
Irene	64	11 Alice L.	98
6 Lois (Kingsbury)	60	9 Alonzo	71
6 Mercy	64	8 Amanda	70, 78
Pamelia	55	9 Amanda (Walker)	107
6 Percis	64	8 Amanda M., (Sowter)	94
6 Rachel	64	1 Amos	4, 7-22, 27, 29, 37, 69
8 Rosanna	60	2 Amos	22
8 Sophronia	60	3 Amos	28, 29
Richard POST	10	4 Amos	29, 33, 34, 39-41, 66, 127
Mayor Samuel S. POWELL	87	5 Amos	35
Daniel PRATT	96	5 Capt. Amos	45-47
Nancy	94, 96	6 Amos	37, 43
Stephen	96	7 Amos	37, 47, 48
Charles PRENTICE	70	8 Amos	42, 49
Dr. H. M. PRESTON	51	10 Amy Bell	105
Gertrude PRICE	98	6 Andrew	42
Mary Farrar	62	7 Andrew	42
Eliphaz Hibbard PRIDE	116	9 Andrew Bowne	79
John	116	8 Andrew E.	42
Louisa	116	8 Andrew Edward	58
Nellie M. PRYOR	55	10 Andrew H.	79
Thomas PURCHASE	7	9 Angeline	80
Elizabeth Neal PURDIE	37	5 Ann (Brigham)	55
Anna PUTNAM	110	7 Ann	38
Col.	57	9 Ann Sophia (Meserole)	79
Isaac	110	3 Anna	23
Gen. Israel	110	5 Anna	34
Joanna QUARLES	11	6 Anna (Grant)	46
James M. QUIGLEY	108	7 Anna	35, 87
QUIMBY	80	6 Anne (Thompson)	73
11 Daisy D. RAYMOND	101	8 Anne	58
10 Ella Isadore	100	5 Annis	29
George A.	100	10 Arthur Leland	98
10 Harold A.	101	7 Aseneth (Moyer)	94
10 Ira M.	101	8 Aurelia	90
11 Minnie N.	101	8 Barnett	42
10 Timothy C.	101	9 Belle Louisa	72
Timothy M.	101	7 Benjamin	90
11 William A.	101	10 Benjamin K.	79
11 Charles G. A. REED	101	8 Benjamin Samuel Knapp	78
George H.	100	10 Bertha Castila	98

RICHARDSON—Continued.

8 Betsy	43
5 Betty	29
11 Blanche E.	98
11 Burt Harold	98
10 Burt Humphrey	98
9 Calvin C.	71
9 Carlos E.	70
8 Carolina	75
8 Caroline	42, 45
8 Caroline Aseneth (Harmer)	95
9 Caroline M.	77
10 Carolyn Elizabeth	76
11 Carrie M.	97
2 Catharine	22
3 Catharine	22, 23
8 Catharine Knapp (Nodine)	78
10 Catharine R.	44
8 Dr. Clement L.	37
8 Charles	51, 71
9 Charles	70, 91
10 Charles Bryon	97
9 Charles LeRoy	105
9 Charles Wesley	107
8 Charlotte	74
8 Charlotte Bowne (Riggs)	80
8 Charlotte Elizabeth	82, 88
7 Chester	50
7 Chloe	50, 51
7 Clara	38
8 Clara L.	39
9 Clara Lenora (Wilson)	106
10 Clarence	107
9 Clarence M.	71
9 Clarissa	76
8 Clark Pratt	98, 105, 108
8 Clark T. (Mulcahie)	99
8 Clementine	78
9 Cornelia	80
8 Cornelia Cox (Jennings)	82
7 Cynthia Ann	53
8 Cyrus	42
9 Cyrus	70
6 Dan	89, 92
8 Dan	69
8 Dan Erskine	69
5 Daniel	29
6 Daniel	38, 55
7 Daniel	38
4 David	28, 29
5 David	29, 50
8 David	90
8 David Daniel	106, 107
10 DeLancey	115
9 DeWitt	71
8 Dewitt C.	71
5 Dorothy	35
9 Duane	71
8 Duane M.	71
11 Earl James	98
9 Edgar M.	77
7 Edmund	37
10 Edna L.	77
11 Edna M.	97
8 Edward	49
7 Edwin	38
8 Edwin	58
9 Edwin	70
9 Egbert	71
9 Eleanor	82
7 Eleazer	42
8 Eli	58, 71
8 Eli Baker	71
8 Eliza Benton	70
9 Eliza	70
3 Elizabeth	22
6 Elizabeth	45

RICHARDSON—Continued.

7 Elizabeth	37, 74, 86, 87, 91
8 Elizabeth	53, 72, 75
9 Ella	76
9 Ellen Lucretia	42
9 Elwyn Heath	72
7 Emily	38
8 Emily	43
10 Emily E.	44
9 Emily Eliza	44
8 Emily L.	51
9 Emma	71
9 Emma C.	80
9 Emma Louise	76
9 Emmitt Barnes	104
6 Ephriam	50, 52
8 Ephriam B.	95
10 Essie Roselle	105
6 Esther	43
10 Ethel	80
9 Eugene	71
10 Eugene Clifton	76
5 Eunice (Jewett)	65
9 Eva Bell (Page)	105, 106
6 Ezekiel	50, 51
10 Fenton Winthrop	115
9 Flora	70, 71
9 Florence	71
9 Florence Delphine	44
11 Floyd Melvin	98
9 Francis A.	69
9 Frances Annett	75
9 Frank	70, 107
10 Frank DeLos	97
9 Frank E.	77
11 Fred	97
9 Fred C.	72
10 Fred Wilson	76
7 Dr. Frederick	69
9 Frederick	81
8 Frederick A.	70
11 Frederick F.	79
9 Galitzin Truair	44
6 George	34, 35
7 George	35
9 George B.	76
10 George J.	105
9 George M.	77
9 George Marvin	92
7 George Washington	58
7 Gideon	74
9 Gideon F.	75
10 Gifford D.	77
8 Grace	77
9 Grace	82
10 Grace Florence	115
3 Hannah	23
7 Hannah	35, 43
8 Hannah W.	44
10 Harold Hanford	115
7 Harriet	68
8 Harriet	71
9 Harriet Ann	80
8 Harriet E. (Bates)	103, 107
9 Harriet E.	75
9 Harriet H.	44
8 Hattie Strong	42
7 Haynes	37
7 Helen	37
8 Henry	53
9 Henry	81
8 Henry Clay	81
9 Herbert	71
6 Hettie	45
6 Hezekiah	47, 73
8 Hezekiah	49
7 Hiram	58, 89, 91

RICHARDSON—Continued.

8 Hiram	90
9 Homer	70
7 Hulda	68
8 Huldah Ann (Davis)	80
7 Huldah D. (Garrison)	74, 88
8 Huldah G.	68
6 Humphrey	56
6 Humphrey	56, 57, 92, 93
7 Humphrey	42, 58, 94, 96
8 Humphrey	97
9 Humphrey Bryon	98
8 Humphrey Davenport	58
9 Humphrey Davenport	58
9 Humphrey Edward Eugene	58
10 Ina May	106
7 Ira	70
8 Ira	70
9 Ira	71, 105
9 Ira E.	71
8 Rev. Ira Humphrey	103
6 Irene	65
10 Jay Hugh	98
5 Col. James	35-37
6 James	65
9 James I.	71
8 James Monroe	81
7 Dr. James Stephen	37
9 James W. White	75
8 James White	49
6 Jane (Wright)	53
8 Jane	51, 66
8 Jane Isabella (Reynolds)	86
9 Jessie	71
3 Jemima	28, 31
6 Jennet Jewett	54
Jerusha	50, 51
7 Jerusha (Loomis)	50, 51
7 Jerusha Wolcott	38
2 Rev. John	15, 18, 21-23
3 John	22
5 John	35
6 John	43
7 John	37
9 John	70
8 Col. John A.	36, 37
7 John Clauson	42, 58
8 John Henry	75
8 John Lyman	44
9 John Lyman	4, 44
10 John Lyman	44
8 John W.	70
8 John Williams Fletcher	91
3 Jonathan	27, 28, 31-33, 37, 124
4 Jonathan	28, 32-35, 40
5 Jonathan	50
7 Jonathan	35
7 Jonathan Dwight	53
9 Joseph Post	81
9 Joseph Taylor	91
8 Joseph Warren	49
9 Josephine Amella (Hill)	57, 58
8 Judson Wade	72
7 Julia Ann	53
9 Julia Mabel	42
8 Julian	38
5 Justus	64
7 Katherine Pheobe	31
7 Lathrop	59
7 Laura	70, 95, 99
8 Laura A.	72
9 Laura Ann	44
9 Laura Jane	76
11 Lavern	97
7 Lavinia (Delliber)	52
10 Lee	98
3 Lemuel	30, 36

RICHARDSON—Continued.

5 Lemuel	30, 45, 66, 68, 73, 131
6 Lemuel	38, 68
7 Lemuel	38, 39, 74, 78, 88
9 Lemuel	75
8 Lemuel S.	80
9 Lemuel S.	80
10 Lena Luella	116
10 Leo Duane	76
11 LeRoy Palmer	98, 98
7 Leydon	53
8 Lillcone	51
10 Lillian	77
11 Lina Alice	97
Lois	68
5 Lois (Porter)	60
6 Lois	41, 45
8 Lois Ann	42
9 Loren	70
9 Lorne	71
10 Louis	105
9 Louis Ferdinand	69
7 Lothrop	71
8 Lovila	71
9 Lovila	71
8 Lovina	69
9 Lovina	70
Lovina B.	70
9 Lucia	76
9 Lucia Loranía	75
8 Lucinda C.	71
9 Lucius	71
6 Lucretia	54
6 Lucy	43
8 Lucy Strong	49
9 Lydia	82
6 Mabel	55, 67, 72
7 Marcia (Jones)	59
7 Margaret (Dodge)	59
8 Margaret Helen	42, 58
7 Marilla	38
8 Marilla	38
8 Marion (Moore)	58
6 Martin	50, 52
8 Martin P.	45
6 Marvel	89-91
7 Marvel (or Marvin)	91
6 Marvelous	74, 82, 87-89, 92
7 Marvelous	74, 82
7 Rev. Marvin	82, 83
8 Marvin	88
8 Marvin D.	76
Mary	11, 18, 19, 22
2 Mary	20
3 Mary	22, 23, 28, 29
4 Mary	30
7 Mary (Sale)	87, 91
6 Mary (Fox)	50, 52
8 Mary	38, 39, 58
9 Mary	71, 99
7 Mary Ann	37
8 Mary Ann	51
9 Mary Ann	91
8 Mary Furman (Luther)	81
8 Mary Jane	72
9 Mary Lyman (Hand)	44
8 Mary S. (Bradley)	95
9 Maryetta	76
6 Mason	50, 52
Mehitable	31
4 Mehitable	30
6 Mercy (or Mary)	67
7 Mercy	42
9 Meridan L.	71
8 Milo Amos	102-104, 110
6 Minor	52
9 Moses	42

RICHARDSON—Continued.

7 Nancy (Coleman)	47, 48
8 Nancy M. (Williams)	99, 100
8 Nancy M. (Vincent)	84
5 Capt. Nathan	41, 127
6 Nathan	43
8 Nathan R.	43
3 Nathaniel	27, 31
5 Nathaniel	26
6 Nathaniel	67
9 Nellie (Coppie)	107
9 Nellie Eunice	105
8 Nellie G.	39
9 Nettie Bell (Schenck)	104
10 Nina May	115
7 Olive	48
8 Olive White	49
9 Olive White	70
8 Ophelia	42
8 Oramel	70
7 Orrin	94
8 Orrin	97, 105, 108
9 Orrin Judson	106
9 Orville H.	71
9 Palmer B.	97
7 Pauline	67, 68
7 Persis	70
9 Persis	70
8 Persis R.	72
7 Phebe	45, 46, 87, 89, 90
9 Phebe	43, 48
7 Phebe	91
8 Phebe Ann	90
8 Phebe Jane	91
6 Phillip	55
6 Polly	55
2 Prudence	23, 24
3 Prudence	23
5 Prudence	36, 39
7 Purdie	37
3 Rachel	28, 30
5 Rachel	29, 39, 50
8 Rachel C.	71
8 Rachel Hoffman	82
8 Rachel Rebecca	72
6 Ralph	38
7 Ralph	72
8 Ralph	72
7 Ralzamon	38
8 Rebecca (Morgan)	86
6 Reuben Stiles	49
7 Rhoda	43
6 Richard	73
8 Richard	75
9 Richard R. Rollin R.	75
9 Robert M.	76
7 Roderick	68
8 Roderick	4, 69, 72
9 Roderick Davis	69
9 Roderick Julius	69
9 Rolla	70
7 Rollin	38
6 Rosamond (Brewster)	42
7 Rosamond	42
9 Rosell L.	5, 112, 113
9 Rosette	71
7 Roswell	4, 66-68, 71-73, 93
6 Russell	65
6 Ruth (Swetland)	49
7 Ruth	48
9 Ruth (Sweigle)	104
8 Ruth Stiles	49
6 Sally	39
7 Sally	35
5 Salmon	36
5 Salmon Treat	34, 35
2 Samuel	20, 23

RICHARDSON—Continued.

3 Samuel	30
4 Samuel	30
5 Samuel	36
6 Samuel	30, 38, 67
7 Samuel	37
8 Samuel	70
8 Samuel M.	86
6 Rev. Samuel N.	37
7 Samuel W.	31
2 Sarah	9, 23
3 Sarah	22, 23
4 Sarah	30
6 Sarah	35, 45
7 Sarah	38
9 Sarah	98
8 Sarah Ann (Lewis)	77
9 Seldon	70
9 Seth Whiteley	104
6 Silas	38
9 Simeon	91
8 Simeon Hall	91
8 Simeon R.	45
7 Simon	74, 76, 88
7 Sophia	37
8 Sophia	42, 69
8 Sophia Nancy (Heath)	109
5 Stanton	30
2 Stephen	14, 15, 20, 22, 26-28, 120
3 Stephen	28, 29, 34
4 Stephen	28, 31
5 Stephen	29, 37, 53
6 Stephen	73, 89
7 Stephen	35
8 Stephen	90
8 Stephen F.	74, 77
9 Stephen H.	99
9 Sumner D.	77
7 Susan (Lyman)	48
7 Thankful	25
8 Thomas Gideon	75
7 Dr. Uriel	50, 51
7 Vina	70
8 Vina	71
10 Ward Adams	115
10 Warren S.	80
6 Wealthy	52
7 Wealthy (Palmer)	53
9 Webb	58
6 Welles	45
8 Wellington B.	38
6 William	50
7 William	38
8 William Butler	31
7 William Hart	53
7 William Palmer	43
8 Dr. William M.	36, 37
8 William Palmer	45
9 William Philip	44
9 William S.	77
8 William Sharp	77, 88
5 Zebulon	56
6 Zebulon	49
6 Major Zebulon	68
7 Zereniah	42
10 Albert Richardson, RIGGS	80
Rev. Alexander Brown	80
10 Ella May	80
10 Elsie Agnew	80
8 Amos, RIPLEY	48
Elijah	48
8 Elijah	48
8 Emly	48
8 Erastus	48
8 Frederick	48
8 Joseph	48
8 Norman	48

RIPLEY—Continued.

8 Olive	48	Mary SCHENNERHORN	55
8 Polly	48	Wayne SCHENCK	104
8 Sally	48	Pamella SCOTT	71
R. Bertrand ROANTREE	95	Sarah M.	64
Freda ROBB	44	Hulda Fowler SEAGRAVE	84
Benjamin ROBERTS	39	9 George SELLECK	90
10 Frank H.	52	Judge Samuel SEWELL	21
Dr. Franklin P.	52	Rhoda SHARMAN	95
10 Hazel L.	52	Edward J. SHAW	77
Amelia ROBERTSON	56	11 Fannie S.	77
Ida May (Warner)	64	Jane	106
7 Neal ROBINSON	64	Anna SHARP	76
Samuel	70	Sarah	76
Capt. Samuel	64	Nancy SHELDON	116
7 Sarah Anne	64	Seth	116
Jabez ROCKWELL	64	Frank J. SHELLER	198
Elizabeth ROGERS	129	Elijah SHERWIN	59
Rev. John	116	Sarah E. SHIPMAN	63
Mary	120	Charity SKINNER	71
Lucretia ROOT	42, 58	Noah	66
ROOTS	37	Crump, Negro (SLAVE)	28, 34
8 Elizabeth H. ROSE	49	Deborah, Indian	28, 34
8 Fanny Mary	49	Peter, Negro	28, 29
Capt. Joseph	49	Jonathan SMEADOWS	16
Mary	130	Rev. Alexander B. SMITH	37
Janet ROSS	95	Alice	11, 12
John ROSSITER	119	Ann	12
Simeon ROWLING	77	Charles	91
Samuel RUDD	55	E. B.	73
Sarah RUGGLES	114	Elizabeth	11
8 Amelia RUSS	56	8 Elizabeth N. R. (Mrs. Parker)	37
Horace	56	Emma T.	85
8 Horace D.	56	Henry	87
8 Isabel	56	Francis	9, 11
8 Lewis	56	James	11, 12
8 Louisa	56	John	11, 12
8 Lucia E.	56	Mary	37
Albert D. RUST	129	Mary Ann	11
Anna	45, 66	8 Mary Helen Purdie (Mrs. Robinson)	4, 36, 37
Anne	131	Raymond R.	95
Caroline	62	Reuben H.	5
Chloe	131	Richard	11-13
Daniel	130	Quarles	11
Elizabeth	131	Mary SNOW	115
Experience	130	Nicholas	115
Freelove	131	Emma SOULES	70
Hannah	129	9 Florence B. SOWTER	94
Henry	129	9 Frank L.	94
Israel	129, 130	Lewis	94
John	129, 130	9 Sarah A.	94
Jonathan	129, 130	Erastus N. SPALDING	70
Lydia	131	Dr. Volney	47
Nathaniel	129, 130	Capt. A. D. SPARKMAN	106
Capt. Nathaniel	130	11 John Page	106
Noah	130	11 Marriene Roselle	106
Rebecca	130	10 Marion Faith SPENCE	95
Samuel	129, 130	Ronald A.	95
Capt. Samuel	66, 130, 131	Agnes (Edwards) SPENCER	121
Sarah	130, 131	Clair	94
9 Annie E. SALE	87	Denman	54
9 Charlotte D.	87	Elizabeth	121
9 Emily G.	87	9 Harriet	54
9 John W.	87	10 Nellie	94
9 Iona	87	Samuel	121
Samuel W.	87, 91	Sarah	121
Gov. Gurdon SALTONSTALL	116	William	121
Charles F. SANFORD	81	William H. SPERRY	113
10 David C.	81	8 Eliot G. SPOFFORD	51
Gov. John	15	8 Harriet M.	50, 51
10 John F.	81	Jesse	51
8 Edwin SARGENT	72	8 Manly W.	51
8 Irving	72	8 Marilla	51
8 Roderick	72	7 Maryette	51
Thomas	72	8 Monroe D.	51
Rev. Fred SAUNDERS	39	8 Uriel	51
James SAVAGE	7, 18, 28, 117	Capt. Richard SPRAGUE	23

6 Adam STANTON	35	TINKER —Continued.
6 Amos	35	Mary	11
6 Anna	35	————— TINKHAM	79
6 Daniel	35	Albert L. TOWNE	102
6 Desire	24	10 Alice	102
6 Dorothy	35	10 Frank L.	102
6 George	35	10 Jane E.	102
Dr. George Denison	5, 24	10 John E.	102
John	35, 39	10 Julia E.	102
6 Mary	35	10 Mary E.	102
6 Prudence	35	10 Nettie M.	102
6 Rachel	35	8 Addison L. TRACY	62
6 Rebecca	35	Henry	51
Sarah	30	8 Lois Abby	62
Thomas	24	Simon	62
John STARKWEATHER	126	8 Simon K.	32
Lovina STEELE	69	Eliphalet TRASK	110
Jehosaphat STARR	21	Isaac	110
Ruth STILES	45, 46	Josiah	110
Lucy STILMAN	53	Osmond	110
Anthony STODDARD	119	Susanna	110
Esther	127	Amos TREAT	35
Rev. Solomon	124	Anna	34
James STOKES	8	Elizabeth	35
Rev. Samuel STONE	14, 16, 19	James	35
Capt. Thomas STOUGHTON	124	Gov. Robert	100
Dorothy STOW	119	Rev. Salmon	34, 127
Rev. Samuel	119	Sarah	37
Isabella STRATTON	91	William TRIMMING	27
Dr. Alonzo STREETER	60	Submit TROOP	64
8 Cordelia STRINGHAM	92	Mary TROWBRIDGE	129
8 Dean Swift	92	Prof. John G. K. TRUAIR	44
9 Ella	92	————— TRUMBULL	35
8 Emeline	91	Habakuk TURNER	33
8 George	91	Sarah E.	61
John D.	91	Arad TUTTLE	53
8 Mary	91	Elizabeth	32, 122, 123
Elder John STRONG	48, 116	William	122
Keziah	130	Indian Chief UNCAS	117, 118
Laura D.	115, 116	Capt. John UNDERHILL	114
Sarah (Richardson)	43	Daniel USHER	66
Capt. Walter	116	Catherine J. VALLEAU	30
Lydia SWEAT	71	Lydia A. P. VAN AKIN	62
Curtis C. SWEIGLE	104	Leonard VAN ALSTINE	96
10 Irene	104	Margaret	94
8 Anne SWETLAND	49	Elizabeth N. VAN DYKE	62
8 Harriet E.	49, 61	Nancy Ann VAN KIRK	74
8 Henry Kirk Wight	49, 61	Charles W. VAN NOTE	101
Levi	49, 61	Levi VAN VALKENBURGH	98
7 Levi	40, 49	11 Nellie M.	98
8 Levi P.	49, 61	11 Ralph A.	98
8 Mary A.	49, 61	Mary Ann VAN VOORHIS	91
7 Mille	49	George VAUGHAN	119
8 Olive White	49	10 Edith VINCENT	85
8 Oliver W.	61	10 Helen Seagrave	85
7 Polly	49	9 John Wilkinston	85
7 Rosca	49	10 Katherine Storm	85
7 Ruth	49	Rev. Leonard M.	84
James H. TAFT	87	10 Leonard R.	85
Mary TALCOTT	122	9 Mary	86
Harriet E. TAYLOR	69	10 Mary	85
Lavinia	52	10 Marvin R.	85
Sarah	38	9 Rev. Marvin Richardson	84
Mary L. E. TEAL	119	Rev. John Adams VINTON	4
Nina TENEYCK	109	Rebecca WADE	93
Abigail THAYER	50	Gideon WAKEMAN	114
Elizabeth THOMPSON	75	Rachel	114
Emory O.	99	Rev. Samuel	114
7 Nathan	73	John WALDO	115
Nathaniel	73	Eliza WALDRON	69
Olive	47, 73	10 Barton E. WALKER	107
William	23	10 Charles A.	107
Elizabeth F. THORNTON	47	10 Edna May	107
J. Wingate	118	10 Fred E.	107
Martha M. TIFFANY	39	Jefferson A.	107
Amos TINKER	11	Ralph	59
John	8, 11-13	Capt. Andrew WARD	122

Mary	WARDELL	129	WILLIAMS —Continued.	100
Rev. John	WARHAM	116	Matthew	102
John	WARNER	30	10 Milo Beyer	102
John	WATSON	39	10 Milo D.	102
Martha	WAY	53	10 Minnie E.	101
Margaret	WEBB	57	10 Nancy May	102
Mary		58	10 Rena	100, 101
Edward	WELLES	44	9 Reuben	14
William	WELLMAN	121	Rev. Roger	114
Francis	WELLS	117	Sarah	100
Hugh		117	Sherman	125
Mary		22, 26, 27, 33, 117	Christian WILLIAMSON	10
Thomas		14, 29	Isaac WILLY	121
Gov Thomas		117	Saul	131
Emeline	WELSH	81	Abigail WILSON	105
Joseph G.	WEST	86	Betsy Ann	131
Sarah E.		62	Dorothy	196
David V.	WESTBROOK	82	10 Hattie Roselle	131
Richard	WHARTON	8	Jacob	131
Grace D.	WHEELER	4	John	106
Judge Richard A.		4, 20, 24, 34, 36	10 Leota Eva	131
Anna	WHITE	136	Sarah	131
Col. James		48	William	106
Elder John		117	William H.	106
Mary		117	10 William Herbert	131
8 Olive Richardson		48	Zebulon	54
Richard Grant		6	Hilpah WINCHELL	60
Samuel		64	Cynthia WING	7
Rev. George	WHITEFIELD	51	Adam WINTHROP	8, 11, 18
Sarah	WHITEHILL	75	Dean	13, 19
Electa	WHITELEY	104	Elizabeth	7, 16, 17, 19, 27
Eli	WHITNEY	124	Gov. Fitz John	7-10, 13, 16-19, 26, 27
Col. John		35	Gov. John	7, 8, 17, 19
Pauline (or Polly)		30	Lucy	19
Susan (Dimock)		4	Margaret	4, 19
9 Arthur M.	WIGHT	62	Speaker Robert C.	4, 18
9 Clara E.		62	Robert C. (Jr.)	8
Daniel		60, 62	Samuel	7-9
9 Daniel P.		60	Col. Stephen	8, 16
9 Edwin M.		62	Capt. Wait	93
8 Joseph K.		114	Abigail WISE	101
Lucippa		114	11 Ray Beyer WISER	101
Capt. Nathan		62	Vern L.	101
8 William Ward		62	11 Vern LeRoy	116
9 William Ward		45	Mary WITHERELL	79
Elmira	WILDER	35	Rev. William	36
Hannah	WILKERSON	86	May WOLCOTT	87
Jane H.	WILKINSON	110	Gen. James WOLFE	87
Daniel	WILLARD	110	8 Ann Eliza WOOD	29
Isaac		110	8 Charlotte	87
Julius		110	8 Ebenezer	87
Laura Louisa		110	Eunice	87
Richard		22	9 Henry	86
Rev. Samuel		110	John	91
Major Simon		103	Jonathan	70
10 Charles F.	WILLIAMS	101	Lucia	99
10 Charles J.		20	Emma WOODS	55
Charles P.		101	Wells WOODBRIDGE	35, 39
10 Clara Eldora		100	6 Prudence WOODBURN	39
9 Cynthia		100, 101	Samuel	126
9 David		101	Alice WOODWARD	127
9 Edith Ann		103	Amos	127
10 Edna Ethel		101	Daniel	127
9 Ellen D.		102	Hannah	127
10 Ernest Clifford		103	Thankful WORDEN	35
9 Euseba		103	Rev. _____ WRIGHT	89
9 Frank		103	Elijah	53
9 Gilbert A.		102	7 Emily	54
10 Gilbert L.		103	7 Harvey	54
10 Ida Emma		101	7 James	54
Ira		99, 100	Jesse	53
10 Ira Abraham		101	7 John	53
10 James Ira		103	Rev. Merle St. C.	105
Jonas		114	Nancy	53
9 Lemuel		102	Deacon Samuel	126
10 Louisa M.		103	Andrew VARINGTON	126
9 Mary K.		102	Anthony	126

YARRINGTON—Continued.

Gale	126
Abiah YARRINGTON	126
Abigail	127
Amaziah	127
Amos	127
Rev. Benjamin M.	126, 127
Deborah	127
Desire	127
Ebenezer	128
Elijah	127
Elizabeth	127
Ezekiel	126, 127
Hannah	127
Jerusha	127

YARRINGTON—Continued.

Jonathan	127
Joseph	127
Keziah	127
Laura	127
Mary	127
Peter	126, 127
Phebe	127
Rachel	40, 41, 127
Rufus	127
Simon	127
William	126, 127
Zipporah	127
Ella May, YATES	76
Anthony, YERRENGTON	126

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

0 021 392 084 4