

WESTERN UNION HERE

TELEGRAPH COMPANY ESTABLISHES BRANCH OFFICE IN THIS CITY

Glendale may be proud of the most recent proof that it is attracting attention as a prominent center of population. This is the establishing by the Western Union Telegraph company of a branch office here. The new office is in the Peters block, the new building next the Palace-Grand theatre, on the ground floor. The company installed its branch Monday and put the office in charge of Mr. H. W. Lovelace, of Los Angeles, who has moved out to Glendale with his family and taken a house on Maple street.

"Business in Los Angeles has increased to an enormous extent," said Mr. Lovelace, the manager. In fact what with the natural growth of business caused by the growth of the city and the vast increase caused by the establishing of the night and day letter system, it is becoming increasingly difficult to handle the business. The staff has been more than doubled within the past four years.

"Under these conditions the company is anxious that a growing place like Glendale should handle the business that naturally belongs to it. There is a great deal of telegraphic business in Glendale that should be handled here entirely. It is not every city that is treated so well as Glendale is being treated by the Western Union and it is quite a credit to this place that a branch office has been established here.

"This office will use the same rates as Los Angeles, which is a valuable concession to the people of Glendale. There will always be someone in the office to attend to business. The company's messenger boy, who is uniformed, is E. N. Bishop, whose people reside on San Fernando road. He is a Glendale boy and will be on hand to answer the phone and to call for messages in any part of the town.

"The office will be open till 8 p. m. and half a day on Sundays. The people of Glendale who do quite a large business in a telegraphic way will find this a great convenience. Hitherto the city has been rather out of the line of this great necessity of modern life. It is expected that this office will do a large business and will ultimately relieve the Los Angeles office of part of the pressure that has been on it for some time. The Western Union is usually very careful as to where it establishes an office and such branch offices are only established after the officials have become thoroughly satisfied that they will be in paying centers.

"Personally I think Glendale is an ideal spot. I am pleased to come out to live here. I like the climate and I think, as I hear so many in Los Angeles always saying, that the city has an ideal class of people in it. I feel certain that the business here will grow and increase as time goes on and Glendale itself is always growing anyway.

"The fact that when people look up in telegraph directories for information about a city they find that it has no telegraph office is a drawback to that center. By so much as the establishing of this office here means in that respect also the city is benefited. I look forward to much pleasure in my stay in Glendale and my associations with its people."

MRS. RICHARDSON GOES EAST

Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, who left Wednesday morning on the special train in company with other delegates to the biennial convention of the National Federation of Woman's clubs writes from Riverside that the crowd is very congenial and happy. PATRONS' DAY PLANS

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL TO HOLD EVENING SESSION ON FRIDAY, MAY 19

Patrons' Day at the Intermediate school will be celebrated at an evening session, in order to give the fathers as well as the mothers a chance to witness the work of the school. The affair will be held Friday, May 19, from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. There will be no afternoon session on that day. This affects the Intermediate school only.

The work of the evening will be regular class work. All patrons and friends of the school are invited to attend and see how the school is managed and the classes conducted. The children's attendance will be counted for this session just as well as any other.

Parents are requested to co-operate with the school staff in this matter and to get the children there on time.

In addition to the evening session of school there will be special exhibits from May 17 to 25 inclusive, as follows:

An exhibition of woodwork at both Cornwell & Kely's and the Glendale Book Store; an exhibition of sewing in Schilling's, and a History exhibition in the store of Ezra F. Parker & Company. The history exhibition will consist of maps and flags made by the children and also of relics of American history. The exhibits will be installed in the show windows of the above-mentioned stores and will be interesting and attractive.

ORATORICAL CHAMPIONSHIP

The High School oratorical competitors who recently emerged victorious from the recent interurban contest will compete with each other at Hollywood High school, Saturday evening, May 27. The contest will be held in the auditorium of the High school. The contestants will be: James Wise, of the Los Angeles High school, whose subject is "War and Democracy;" Ethel West of the Glendale High school, with the subject "Vocational Education;" Clarence Clendenin, of Lincoln High school, with the subject "Andrew Furuseth—Sailor;" Cyril Cooper of Pasadena High school, with "Pan-Americanism." The judges of composition and thought are the department heads of English in Occidental college, University of Southern California and the Throop Institute of Pasadena. The judges of delivery have not yet been chosen. There will be a large attendance of Glendale young people at the debate as much interest is taken in the contest since the recent success of Ethel West.

AUXILIARY PICNIC

What proved to be as enjoyable a picnic as any of its predecessors of previous years was the annual affair of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Congregational church, held at the home of Mrs. A. Lucas Smith, 305 N. Adams street. About forty ladies of the Auxiliary went out to the beautiful grounds of the Smith residence where they had a pleasant time. Luncheon was served under the trees on the spacious lawn and after a pleasant repast had been enjoyed the ladies gathered about the porch and began their sewing for the auxiliary. A great deal of work was accomplished and during the time thus occupied Mrs. George Adams, Mrs. E. H. Willisford and Mrs. E. M. Witt took turns in reading a new book entitled "Drusilla With a Million." This was the source of much pleasure to the company, who spent the rest of the afternoon visiting and working.

MASONIC DEDICATION

The Masonic Temple of Glendale will be dedicated Friday night, at 8 o'clock, when the Grand officers will be in attendance and perform the ceremony. It is now three years since the temple was built, but the dedication has not been possible till the present time. The affair is in charge of Glendale Unity Lodge, No. 368. The Knights Templar will escort the Grand Officers and the whole affair will be impressive in the highest degree.

Glendale Unity Lodge, No. 368, Unity Chapter No. 116 Royal Arch Masons, and Glendale Commandery, No. 53, will take part in the laying of the cornerstone of the Covina Masonic Orphans' Home, Saturday, May 20. It is expected that 2500 Knights Templar will take part in this ceremony.

WEATHER FORECAST—Cloudy and unsettled tonight and Friday; west winds.

VARYING ATTACKS IN THE VERDUN REGION

FRENCH ASSAULTS ON GERMAN POSITIONS REPULSED WITH GREAT LOSS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
BERLIN, May 17.—There has been much desultory fighting in various parts of the Verdun region without any definite results. The French continue their attempts to regain positions they lost recently. Attacks on the German advanced trenches were made this morning in the direction of Hill 304. The French advanced in force but were driven back with heavy loss.

CASEMENT TO BE TRIED NEXT MONTH

PROSECUTION AGREES TO HASTEN PROCEEDINGS IN REGARD TO HIGH TREASON ACCUSATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, May 18.—Sir Roger Casement, the British official, who landed in Ireland from a German submarine, for the purpose of taking part in the recent rising, and has been held to answer to a jury of his peers, has had his plea for an early trial granted. The case will be tried next month. Maps, ammunition and other articles made in Germany and found in the sunken German transport which was bringing supplies to the revolutionists figured largely in the evidence against Casement.

QUEEN OF ITALY HAS NARROW ESCAPE

AUSTRIAN AVIATORS DROP BOMBS CLOSE TO ROYAL TRAIN NEAR VENICE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
ROME, May 17.—Queen Helena, Princess Yolande and Princess Mafalda narrowly escaped death this morning when traveling between Rome and Venice. The royal train was not far from the Adriatic city when an Austrian aviator appeared and dropped several bombs in close proximity to the train. Again and again he just missed the mark. After a while Italian aeroplanes appeared and drove off the invader.

AUSTRIANS BEGIN BIG NEW OFFENSIVE

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND TROOPS ATTACK ITALIANS ON FRONT OF THIRTY-FIVE MILES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
AMSTERDAM, May 17.—Three hundred thousand Austrians are now operating on a front of thirty-five miles. Much of the attack is being driven through mountainous regions. The Italians have not sufficient troops on this front and the tremendous power of the Austrian drive has resulted in the capture of many positions. The Austrians hope to invade Northern Italy. They are losing enormously in this attack as the Italians have the advantage of position.

"EMBALMED BEEF" SEIZED IN IOWA

THIRTY THOUSAND CANS OF INFERIOR AND DECAYED PORK AND BEANS STOPPED FROM SALE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
OTTUMWA, Iowa, May 17.—Thirty thousand cans of inferior and decayed pork and beans were seized here today by revenue officers. It was found that the consignment was unfit for human food and on a par with the "embalmed beef" of Spanish-American war days. It is alleged that the foreign warring nations are getting the best of the American output and that the refuse is being dumped on the United States markets.

PITCHED BATTLE WITH MEXICAN BANDITS

MAJOR LANGHORNE'S COMMAND IS FIGHTING WITH RAIDERS OF GLENN SPRINGS

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 17.—A pitched battle is being fought between the detachment of United States cavalry, under command of Major Langhorne, which has been hunting the raiders of Glenn Springs for the last few days. The Americans ran into the rear guard of the bandits this morning and a brisk encounter is in progress. Col. Sibley, with three troops of United States cavalry, is rushing to Langhorne's aid.

PAGEANT OF PEACE

ALL DETAILS FOR STAGING OF GREAT PRESENTATION, JUNE 10, IN GOOD SHAPE

Before leaving for New York, where she is to attend the Federation of Woman's clubs, Mrs. Ella Richardson made a final roundup of all the details of the great Peace Pageant to be given June 10, on the Pacific Avenue playground, under the direction of the Parent-Teacher association of the Pacific Avenue school. All the committees have their work in good shape and have been left with full instructions as to the immense amount of work they have to do before the date of the great affair.

Stage, costumes, lighting, advertising and everything else connected with the Pageant were seen to by Mrs. Richardson, president of the association. Her family have been instructed to fall in line with the work and to take her place in it and work for its success.

During her stay in New York Mrs. Richardson expects to obtain a great many useful hints on the Social Center and Recreation movement.

There are 109 members in the Parent-Teacher association of the Pacific Avenue school. They are all working for the success of the Pageant, which will undoubtedly prove a most attractive representation. It is expected that at least 2000 people will witness the attractive symbolic show.

INTERESTING ASSAY

For some days the exhibit of gold ore from Goldstone, Cal., a recently discovered mining district, has attracted much attention. To the uninitiated it presents nothing that is usually associated in the lay mind with the presence of gold. Mrs. R. C. Newton, who sent the specimens, said in her interesting article that an assay she had made showed values of $1000 a ton. Some of the ore is also said to run as high as $40,000 a ton. In the latter case there would be enough gold showing on the surface of the rock to please the most imaginative. Mr. David Graham, 235 E. Third street, was good enough to make an assay for the Glendale News of a piece of the rock exhibited in the News window. It showed values of about $1000 a ton. Of course no one expects that the ore will carry such high values all through but from these assays it can be inferred that the strike is likely to prove remunerative.

GLENDALE COMMUNITY INSTITUTIONS

People of the Glendale territory are proud of their community institutions, and it is for these institutions the Evening News stands, first, last and all the time. Are all of these institutions standing for the Evening News, when it comes to the placing of orders for printed stationery, booklets, programs, etc.? The Evening News has the past year given $5000 worth of free space to community institutions. What patronage have some of these institutions given the News? No complaint to offer, but it is well to make an inventory of conditions now and then. The Evening News' printing plant is no insignificant affair. It is far ahead of most city plants of the kind in equipment.

BRITISH CELEBRATION

In connection with the work of the Allies' Aid association and under the auspices of all societies in Los Angeles possessing British affiliations, with the patronage of all the Los Angeles and neighboring organizations engaged in or in sympathy with war relief for the Allies, a British Empire Day celebration will be held in the Shrine auditorium, Los Angeles, Wednesday, May 24, at 8 p. m. The proceeds will go for the relief of blinded sailors and soldiers. Special musical features will be the famous Venice band of America, the Scottish Pipe band, the Welsh Eisteddfod singers. Imperial tableaux will be included in the entertainment.

GARDEN PARTY LUNCHEON

One of the social affairs of the season which promises to be of unusual interest is the closing meeting of the Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, which will take the form of a garden party luncheon. This affair will be held at the home of the curator, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, 1223 West Seventh street, on Friday, May 26, and the members of the section are looking forward to the affair with happy anticipation.

WILL REPEAT PLAY

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION HAS DECIDED TO REPEAT "VOICE OF CONSCIENCE"

One of the most interesting social gatherings of the week was that of Wednesday evening, when Mr. Owen Emery entertained the members of the cast of the late Alumni play, "The Voice of Conscience."

It was decided to first have a business meeting to discuss past deeds and future activities.

The meeting was called to order by Miss Emily Elias, president of the Alumni association. In her opening speech she said, "I wish to congratulate the cast on the great success of the play. It was a success, for I can assure you every one of our audience are now our sincerest friends and that counts much more than a large bank account." (Much applause.)

A report of the expenses encumbered by the play was given by Frank Littell and approved by those present.

Owing to the enthusiasm with which the people of Glendale received the play and the many calls for a repetition a motion was made by Mr. Dwight W. Stephenson that the play be again put before the public. This motion was seconded and unanimously passed. (Deep applause). At this point Mr. Lawrence Lawson pledged himself to sell fifty (50) tickets.

Mr. Owen Dibbern made a motion that the play be given Friday, June 2, at the Palace Grand theater. Carried.

It was thought advisable by all present that there be one person to carry this play to success and Mr. Owen Emery moved that we elect a play manager to take entire control and assume full authority at once.

Miss Gladys Justema nominated Miss Eulalia Richardson and the nominations were closed. Seconded, (carried). Loud applause.

Miss Richardson then discussed the possible expenses for the coming production. She said in part: "I want it to be remembered right from the first that if we have a packed house and clear a big profit for this scholarship fund that this will not be due to my management, but to the work of the last two productions. The people of the valley now know that we have an entertainment worth their while and they are all with us for success. Mine will be the work of organizing the forces of the Alumni association. I am sure that none of our members will hesitate to do all in their power to give me all the support I ask in advertising and disposing of the tickets." She then showed them how with co-operation and economy the expenses need not be so high.

Dana Burket made a motion that Owen Rhodes (the author of the play) assisted by Chandos Marks, be made state director. Whereupon Mr. Rhodes called a rehearsal at the Palace Grand theater for Wednesday, May 24.

Remember the date for the next production will be Friday, June 2.

QUIET WEDDING

Mr. Murray Russell Bedlington of Los Angeles and Edna Howell Spaulding of Tropic were united in marriage, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of the officiating clergyman, the Rev. E. H. Willisford, 231 Orange street. The ring ceremony was used. Mr. and Mrs. Bedlington will make their home in Tropic.

RUSSIA ON THE ROAD TO BAGDAD

There is a certain amount of what the world calls luck that goes with the actions of Russia in the present war. If that country were not able to draw on an enormous population it would have been crushed long ago by the armies of the kaiser; but in addition to its unlimited fighting population it is also protected by a difficult country and there, where Germany's strategic railways are not available to that country's forces, Russia has been making a stand that has enabled her to recuperate her armies in the field and to build them up with new levies.

In the case of any other country the loss of a million and a half of men as prisoners of war and of many more as killed and wounded would have demanded withdrawal from the field of operations; but Russia comes bravely on backed by the Allies, who are furnishing her with arms and ammunition. Now Russia has been by no means slow to take advantage of these conditions. She recently launched an army against the Turks at Erzeroum and took that city of the fortified hills to their great astonishment. Another clever coup was the capture of Trebizond and the rapid advance of the Russian forces toward the ancient seat of the Mohammedans—Bagdad.

On the other hand the British troops advancing up the Euphrates after making wonderful progress were met by an overwhelming force of Turks under German leadership and compelled to retreat. Part of their forces shut up in Kut-el-Amara were also compelled to surrender to the Turks after a gallant defense of that almost defenseless place for more than six months. The Russians meantime profited by the fact that Turkey had been compelled to send forces to the Kut-el-Amara region to advance toward Bagdad. They are now within eighty miles of that fortified city and to all appearance will be able to penetrate thither before long.

Russia is doubtless anxious to have as much Turkish territory in her possession when the inevitable hour for settlement arrives, as possible, and her possession of Bagdad would mean the expulsion of the Turks and in time the fall of Constantinople.

It is an example of the cleverness of the Germans that they should have been able to bring about the throwing back of the British in the way that was accomplished. It was known, of course, that the kaiser had obtained from Turkey a concession to build a railway to Bagdad from Constantinople. The moment the way into Constantinople was opened through Servia the kaiser sent a whole army of railroad engineers and builders to speed up the construction of the Bagdad railway.

Up to the time that the railway was completed the British with a very small force were steadily forcing their way in the direction of Bagdad and were actually within about fifteen miles of that historic city when all of a sudden the scene was changed and a mighty army of Turks, led by competent German officers, appeared on the scene. The railway had been completed and the British, outnumbered five to one, were compelled to retreat to their base. Since then the British have never been able to make headway against the Turks, who, under the able leadership of Von Der Goltz have done always the right thing at the right time. The advent of the Russians now within eighty miles of Bagdad, however, puts another aspect on the situation, and it would appear that Turkey is to have some hard fighting if she is to retain Bagdad.

END OF ALASKAN WINTER

After having been shut in for seven months by the ice of the frozen Bering sea the people of Nome are expecting the end of the long winter and the breaking up of the ice. For the next two weeks the minds of the people of that farthest north city of Alaska will be directed southward to where the brave little Corwin or some other of the smaller boats that creep up through the inside passage and make Nome about June 1, are battling their way northward.

The arrival of the first boat of the season in Nome is always an event. For days before the boat arrives through the ice the people will be expecting it. They have spent a long winter shut in by themselves and they are eager to see someone from the "outside" and feel that once more they are in actual touch with the civilization of the United States.

Every year for a long number of years the Corwin has been first to enter Nome from the outside, getting in anywhere from May 28 to June 3. The voyage is usually enormously profitable as she brings provisions from the outside that are highly valued. Some winters along about January there is not a lemon to be purchased in the city for love or money. Sometimes some other article fails. Sometimes some much-needed drug, or pharmaceutical preparation runs out and the arrival of the first boat is anxiously awaited for these and for other reasons.

Along about June 1 the winter breaks up all of a sudden and some fine morning the ice breaks away from the shore and drifts rapidly up the straits northward bearing with it empty receptacles of all kinds and a choice and enormous collection of tin cans—evidences of a winter's living. Sometimes when the Corwin comes in the ice is still anchored to the shore and the vessel ties up to the rotten ice as far out as five miles. Then there is a harvest to be gained by those who go out with dog sleds and get the fresh provisions and other articles ashore. Twenty dollars a day is about the least a man earns in that business.

At present the Seattle steamships are getting ready for the regular service of the summer. The Umatilla will sail June 1 and reach Nome about June 9 or 10. The Victoria will sail June 2 and will reach Nome about June 12 or 13. Their advent will be eagerly awaited, but they will not excite the interest the first boat arouses.

When the regular summer service begins Nome is a scene of bustling activity day and night. The long arctic day has begun and there is no night. Men work double tides and the city is rapidly stocked up with provisions and supplies for the next long winter when the real life of the Arctic begins.

Publicity in outbreaks of communicable disease is now the rule in California. It was customary not long ago to secure the co-operation of the press in keeping quiet any such outbreak. Now this manner of procedure always brought about vague whisperings and consequent magnifications until finally the outbreak was advertised as a pestilence of fearful magnitude. It was pleaded in excuse of this practice that the spread of the news of the prevalence of any disease hurt business. Authorities are now taking the opposite view. They profess to have discovered that such exaggerated reports hurt business more than anything else. They say that the simple truth never hurts business and that the spreading of what is false concerning the health of any community is a mistake in civic policy. Henceforth the State Board of Health will instruct the public how to avoid disease and every possible means will be taken to give information as to the exact status of the epidemic. It is easier to handle any such situation in the light of truth and this course is recommended to all cities. Cities that tell the truth fare better commercially than those which pursue a policy of concealment. When a city has been cleaned up and made healthy it is an asset to both State and nation.

COUNT OF BIRDS

The third annual bird count of the United States will be made by the Bureau of Biological Survey of the department during the breeding season in May and June. In making this survey the bureau will rely largely on persons interested in bird life who agree to act as volunteer enumerators and count the different kinds of birds found in a 40 or 80 acre farm or woodland tract near their homes. The counts thus made by unpaid observers during the last two summers have furnished the department valuable data on the character, number, and distribution of the bird population.

This year the ornithologists of the department wish particularly to secure a large number of volunteers in the West to report on the bird life in the plains, the semi-arid regions, the deserts, and the mountains in that part of the United States. Especial attention also is given to securing data as to birds in the fruit districts of the Pacific coast and in the South Atlantic and Gulf States.

The information collected this year it is believed will be of special value in enabling the department to test the effect of State and National bird laws, and also in determining what relationship exists between bird life and the prevalence of locusts, grasshoppers, and other insect pests in different localities.

As it is impossible to make an actual count of all the birds in any extended district, each enumerator is asked to report only upon the number of birds breeding in a selected area of 40 to 80 acres in country or suburban districts. From the figures thus obtained, those in charge of the work are able to approximate the total number of birds of each kind in different sections of the country.

Enumerators who wish to report on birds on farms are asked to choose an area which includes farm buildings, shade trees, orchards, plowed land, pasture, or meadow or swamp, but not very much woodland. The enumerator begins his survey at daylight some morning and zigzags back and forth in the selected area, counting the male birds. Early in the morning during the last of May or the first week of June every male bird should be in full song, and therefore easily counted. The count of one day is to be verified by observations on several mornings.

Those wishing to take part in the survey can obtain complete instructions by writing to the Bureau of Biological Survey, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. The work, however, calls for a considerable knowledge of birds, and only those who can readily distinguish the different kinds should undertake to make returns for their localities.

CALL TO BATTLE

Loudly sounds the call to battle. Call of country and of king. Northward, southward, eastward, westward.

Hear th' rallying bugles ring. From afar men haste to answer. Every true-born British son—Counting not the cost, nor holding Life too dear for victory won.

And at home the anxious women Pray and work and vigil keep. Giving of their choicest treasure, Scorning to lament and weep; Cheering on their sons and brothers, Husbands dearer than their life, Nought refusing, all enduring. Long the conflict, fierce the strife.

Yet another voice is sounding. Lo, He calls, the King of Kings—Clear, insistent, thro' the ages, Long th' rallying bugle rings—'Into all the world, my warriors, Storm the Forts of Death and Sin. Count no sacrifice too costly Priceless souls for Christ to win.'

Many have obeyed that summons, Hundreds now are in the field, Needing all the help and comfort Which our loving care can yield. While we serve our king and country.

Keep us, Lord, lest we forget All those brave and faithful toilers In the lonely outposts set. —Helen Dowdall Nicolls.

Hers the tender mother's touch Easing all distress; Teaching, e'en though smiling much; Molding with caress. —John Kendrick Bangs.

"Do you think the frequent political excitement is desirable?" asked the conservative citizen.

"Undoubtedly. We need something occasionally to remind our baseball players that they are not the only great people on earth."—Washington Star.

WORTH TRYING

To conquer difficulties, to overcome all lions in our pathway, and always do our best.

To hope, even when the clouds lower around us, and it seems hopeless to try further.

To forget self that we may think of others; to rise above weariness, grief and sorrow; to look for the silver lining of the cloud.

To smile cheerfully, though tears are in the heart.

To conquer pain, and sorrow, and despair.

To rise above defeat and build anew.

To look for good in others, even if disappointed ninety times out of a hundred. The ten prove the possibilities for all.

To keep our faith in human nature, notwithstanding its weakness. To view charitably our neighbors' acts, and scrutinize our own.

To rest our case on its merits, and be content when we have faithfully done our utmost.—Selected.

BEHOLD! THE RADIANT SPRING

Behold! the radiant Spring. In splendor decked anew, Down from her heaven of blue Returns on sunlit wing: The zephyrs of her train In fleecy clouds disport, And birds to greet her reign Summon their sylvan court.

And here in street and square The prisoned trees contest Her favor with the best, To robe themselves full fair: And forth their buds provoke, Forgetting winter brown, And all the mire and smoke That wrapped the dingy town. Robert Bridges.

PLAYGROUND CARNIVAL GREAT SUCCESS

Reports of the committees on the Tropic Municipal Playground committee held last Saturday show a brilliant success both financially as well as from an entertainment viewpoint. Many people turned out and put their shoulders to the wheel. The committee wish to extend their thanks and gratitude to those who so ably assisted the venture and take this means to do so. The cause is a worthy one and every one surely had a splendid time. Enough money was realized to meet the many pressing wants and our children will reap untold benefit. It is just this kind of thing that brightens life for some of us. As some one has said, "Help one another." —COMMITTEE.

BOOKS THAT PARENTS SHOULD READ

In the Reading Course for Parents, sent out by the Bureau of Education at Washington, D. C., is included a fine set of books valuable for any parents to possess. This is true because the writers of these books have proven that they can furnish reliable information on the topics with which they treat. The array of names which are attached to these books as their authors, is a galaxy of names that shine in the world of educational attainment. In selecting these books, the Bureau of Education had also in mind the scope that a parent's activities in the home should imply. The physical needs of the child are well treated in the following books: The Development of the Child; Studies in Child Development; The Care of the Baby; not less than by Elements of the Theory and Practice of Cookery; Domestic Economy; and Shelter and Clothing. The ethical development of the child's being is treated in Training of the Human Plant; Childhood; Misunderstood Children; Beckonings from Little Hands; Ethics for Children; and the Dawn of Character. The special problems that the nurture of girls presents are treated of admirably in Practical Motherhood; For Girls and Mothers of Girls and The Training of the Girl. For parents of boys, The Training of the Boy is a valuable book. Marriage and the Sex Problem is the one book in the course that refers to sexual education, and it treats this matter from the viewpoints of parents, boys and girls. The books, A Study of Child Nature; Children's Rights, and Love and Law in Child Training, show how the kindergarten is the valuable means in developing the body, the mind and the soul of the young child.

The three books last mentioned were chosen by the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle as an introduction for the entire course for two reasons: First, because most of the mothers who are members of this circle have young children; and, second, because "the kindergarten principles are true for the whole of education, the whole of life; and they are of chief importance in the home because it is there that life and education begin." In response to a query, "How many have found that the suggestions given in these books have been of vital help in your homes, even in the care of older children than those of kindergarten age?" the hands that were raised were those of all present.

A pleasant fictional diversion (all the books, however, containing psychological and ethical truths that refer to the home and children) consists in the following books included in the course: Mother; The House of Happiness; Polly Anna, the Glad Book; Bobbie, General Manager; and Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm.

The papers that must be sent to Washington on the completion of each book read have been going east as they are written; twenty-one members of this circle having given a brief recapitulation of two books for the course.

The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle welcomes new members, as they all realize that what they get can be at once practically applied in their homes each day, and they want others to receive as great help.

LA CRESCENTA

The La Crescenda Improvement association met last Friday evening at the school auditorium. The members of the meeting decided to install a hydrant with a bucket and chain attached so that machines and horses will have a public watering place. It is to be placed across the street from the La Crescenda store.

It was also agreed upon to see the road supervisors in quest of repairing Ocean View avenue. The problem of obtaining a separate voting precinct from La Canada was discussed and petitions were given out to the D. E. Wetherbee store, V. B. Claffin real estate office, and to A. H. Shultz. It is hoped that every voter in the valley will sign one of these petitions.

Mr. Neddleton sent in his resignation as secretary on account of his trip East, but it was not accepted, so Mr. Bissell will act in Mr. Neddleton's place until his return.

A rousing meeting will be held June 1, to let everyone know what the association has and what it expects to accomplish in the future. There will be music and refreshments and all are urged to attend.

Miss Katherine Klaassen, who has long been a resident of this valley, is leaving next week to go to the home of her parents in Iowa.

The election of officers of the P. T. A. will be held at the home of Mrs. Joe Hawkins Thursday, May 25. Outgoing officers will serve refreshments to members. All members are urged to come.

Miss Nellie Miller, who has been home with a severe attack of bronchitis, returned to Los Angeles this week, where she will take up her studies again at Normal.

Mr. Leighford is building a fence around his place and the one adjoining, which is owned by Mr. Price.

The La Crescenda school boys played Sunland in an indoor baseball game last Saturday and are proud to have brought home victory. The game was played on Sunland's home grounds, so the players were kindly taken up in Mr. Bissell's machine, followed by a merry crowd of rooters in the machines of Scherb, Hawkins and Teitsworth. A nine inning game was played with a final score of La Crescenda, 7; Sunland, 6.

Be sure to come to the school entertainment this Friday evening at 8:00 p. m. A play entitled "Cinder Maid" will be acted by the school children. The admission will be ten cents and the proceeds will go toward improving the school grounds.

The smiling face of genial Joe Thompson is expected to be seen upon our streets again soon.

Last Friday evening a social in honor of Rev. Hopping and his family was held at the church. Speeches in praise of the minister were made by a number of people. Cookies and punch made by the Ladies' Aid were served at the close of the evening.

Through the invitation of Herbert Bathey, captain of Company F of the California National Guard, Walter Hawkins and Walter Anderson enjoyed a day's shooting on the government range with the militia of his company.

Mrs. Claffin and Mrs. Neddleton were guests at a lawn party given by Miss Dewy of La Canada.

The entertainment committee of the Parent-Teacher association has decided to give their entertainment on Friday, June 2.

A NORWEGIAN LEGEND

There is a good lesson in this quaint little Norwegian legend of "The Gertrude Bird."

* A woman was one day kneading bread in her trough, under the eaves of her house, when our Lord passed by, leaning on St. Peter. She did not know it was the Saviour and His apostle, for they looked like two poor men traveling past her door. "Give us of your dough for the love of God," said the Lord Christ; "we have come far across the field and have fasted long."

Gertrude pinched off a small piece for them; but on rolling it in her trough to get it into shape, it grew and grew and filled the trough completely. She looked at it in wonder. "No," said she, "that is more than you want." She pinched out a smaller piece, and rolled it out as before; but the smaller piece filled up the trough just as the other had done; so she put that aside, too, and pinched a smaller bit still. But the miracle was just as apparent, the smaller bit filling up the trough the same as ever. Gertrude's heart was hardened still more; she put that aside also. "I cannot give you any today," said she; for the greed of her heart was to divide all her dough into little bits and roll it into loaves. "Go on your journey, and the Lord prosper you!" Then the Lord Christ was angry, and her eyes were opened, and she fell down on her knees to hear Him say, "I gave you plenty, but that hardened your heart, so that plenty was not a blessing to you. I will try you now with the blessing of poverty; you shall henceforth seek your food, day by day, and always between the wood and the bark."—Exchange.

A QUEER HOBBY

An Englishman of wealth has long been in the habit of collecting historic doorways. These include the doors of houses, castles and abbeys, says a contributor to the Boys' World. This Englishman has a remnant of a door which led out from a city of the middle ages, and which, indeed, in some respects, is more like a gate. At enormous cost, he secured the door through which passed to their execution in the French Revolution, Marie Antoinette and Charlotte Corday. After his death, the bulk of his collection will be given to the British Museum.

Local Men Discover Rich Ore

M. L. Thompson, postmaster at Burbank, and his brother-in-law, Geo. Dewey, have discovered exceptionally rich gold and silver in the Big Tejuanga. Three years ago while Mr. Thompson was on a camping and fishing trip he discovered a float of ore which he sent to an expert at Cripple Creek to be assayed. The report stated that the ore was rich in gold and silver with a trace of tellurium. While prospecting in the region of the Big Tejuanga is extremely difficult Mr. Thompson interested his brother-in-law, Geo. Dewey, and for the past three years every year they have spent a number of weeks trying to find a trace of a ledge. Nearly a month ago they made another trip, and returned Tuesday evening of this week, after three weeks' prospecting. They brought ore with them, picked up from several places on their claims, which assayed $180 a ton in Los Angeles. Mr. Thompson has filed a number of claims and feels that a big strike will soon be made in the Big Tejuanga region. This section of the country is so inaccessible that but little prospecting has ever been done. Mr. Dewey will return as soon as possible to start immediate work on the claims and many Burbank people will visit the region in the next week.

S. Arthur Adams, an officer in the U. S. Navy, who has been stationed at Salt Lake the past two years in the recruiting offices there, is visiting his family in Burbank, before being appointed to duty on some vessel. Officers are required to serve two years on land and two years on board ship. Mrs. Adams is the sister of Dr. Ann Perry, and during the absence of her husband, will with her little daughter make her home with Dr. Perry in Burbank.

Rev. Theodore Hopping of La Crescenta very acceptably filled the pulpit of the Presbyterian church Sunday.

Death of Samuel R. Stiles

The grim reaper took the toll of another old Burbank resident, Monday, May 17, in the person of Samuel R. Stiles, of 377 N. Palm avenue. The deceased was 75 years of age and leaves to mourn his loss Mrs. Peterson of this city and Mrs. O'Malley of Sterling, Illinois, who arrived here just prior to the death of her father. Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Scovern-Letton-Frey Undertaking Co., the funeral being held from the residence, 10 a. m. Wednesday, and interment made in Forest Lawn cemetery, Tropic.

Mrs. M. T. Williams of 512 Cypress avenue is enjoying a visit at the home of her niece at Spokane, Wash.

The city clerk was instructed to acknowledge the invitation and thank the Covina city council for the courtesy extended.

On motion P. A. Farley was granted an additional week's time in which to file his bonds as required under contract.

On motion bids which were filed with the city clerk up to 1 p. m. on Tuesday for the improvement of San Fernando boulevard from the southerly city limits to Cypress avenue, as set forth in notice published in the Burbank Review, were opened and publicly declared. Mr. Dwight Cooper is spending a few weeks in San Bernardino.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized at noon, May 9, in the auditorium of the Young Woman's Christian association building at Seattle, Wash., when Miss Lucy Tappen, of Gloucester, Mass., was married to Rev. D. B. Scott, D. D., formerly a Congregational clergyman of New England, but now of La Canada, Cal. Dr. Lincoln Dearing, of Yokohama, Japan, and Cambridge, Mass., officiated, using the Episcopal service.

The beauty of the room, with its effective furnishings and stained glass windows, was enhanced by the decorations of spring flowers and ribbons in white, making a charming setting for the bride in her gown of gray and white Japanese silk, with tunic of Japanese chiffon embroidered in cherry-blossom design.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast of eleven courses, served in the private dining room. An added interest was lent to the occasion by the many lands represented by the guests, among whom were traveling companions of the bride on the Empress of Asia, who arrived in Vancouver May 6. After remaining in Seattle for the wedding they will continue their journey; Dr. Cousland of China, now on his way to his home in Edinburgh; Miss Tracey, just returning on a furlough after 12 years as a missionary in Japan; Miss Glazier of Pasadena, Cal., who has been studying missions, and Miss Teague, a missionary of Japan. Mrs. T. W. Kydd, of Seattle, formerly of Yokohama and Shanghai, was also a guest.

Mrs. Scott has taught in several schools and colleges in America and has been connected with missionary educational works in Honolulu, Japan and Daijeeling, India. After a short stay in Seattle Dr. and Mrs. Scott will leave for Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Johnson and son and Miss Young left in their machine for Frisco, Tuesday, May 16.

The hearing for Ray and Texas streets was held May 15, and as there were no objections, the street work will begin at once.

Mother's Day was fittingly observed at the Baptist church last Sunday. Beautiful decorations of carnations, sweet peas and ferns were tastefully arranged. Special music by the choir and an address by the pastor, Rev. Wester, composed the church service. After the service the families interested repaired to the park, where they enjoyed luncheon.

Mother's Day at Sunland

Mother's Day at Sunland was a day long to be remembered, not only by the mothers but the daughters, fathers and sons. The pastor and his good wife spared no pains or expense to make it a memorable occasion. They brought from Pasadena rare white and lavender carnations, sweet peas and Shasta daisies; these were exquisitely arranged with cypress ferns. Special music was beautifully rendered by the choir. Mrs. Bloomfield, a mother 71 years old, sang a song entitled, "Saved by Grace."

The pastor took his text from Ephesians 1-6, with headings as follows: Mother in literature; mother in art; mother in the home; mother in the heart; mother in heaven. Each division was ably handled. At the close of the services Mrs. Wester requested the mothers with their families to wend their way to the Park, where under the spreading boughs of the live oaks, the daughters had prepared a luncheon. After luncheon the mothers were toasted and lastly, the pastor repeated a beautiful and touching prayer for the mother.

Thus ended one Mother's Day in Sunland. Just here, the mothers wish to thank Mrs. Wester, the pastor's wife, and also Mr. Wester, for their loving service so unselfishly rendered in behalf of Mother's Day.—A Mother's Daughter.

Doings of the Chamber of Commerce

The Chamber of Commerce met in regular session Monday night. The minutes of last meeting were approved. A communication was read from county forester Flintham, relating to a request for a sufficient amount of money from the county to do the work necessary on the Park to put it in good shape, including lighting. The building of additional tables, which is badly needed, and the erection of rest rooms, and otherwise improving the park. Mr. Flintham is very enthusiastic over our park and promises to use his best influences to get it put in first class shape.

The reports of the Highway committee were very favorable and encouraging, as was also the report of the Park committee. The post office committee had nothing new to report. At last meeting a committee consisting of Mr. Eager and Mr. Lancaster was appointed to purchase chairs for the use of the chamber. This committee reported by producing the chairs, which were used at Monday night's session. The report and purchase of the chairs was accepted and approved. The committee on lighting the streets reported good progress. This is one move that should be backed by every resident of the valley. The lighting of our streets means everything to us and it is hoped this movement will have the hearty support of everybody.

The secretary collected quite a large sum of back dues, which shows the organization to be in a prosperous and progressive condition. No further business, we adjourned to meet on the first Monday in June.

A register is being kept in the Park on Sundays of all who stop for lunch. Last Sunday 185 registered. This does not include the children, who are always too busy to register.

Among the visitors in the Park last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mullen and Mrs. S. A. Lowell of Pendleton, Ore.; Norma Hoover of Brussels, Ont., Canada. Highland Park was well represented; so was Los Angeles and Glendale.

The house was prettily decorated with pink and white roses. After a musical program, rendered by the church orchestra in charge of Mr. Maygrove, the bride and groom-to-be were led to a table loaded with beautiful presents, by three little girls dressed in pink and white, to the strains of a wedding march played by R. Walter Maygrove and daughter Dorothy. Refreshments were served and at a late hour the guests departed wishing the couple all happiness in their life.

but the change will take place the first of July instead of the first of June as heretofore stated. A report from F. S. Joiner, road commissioner, promised that El Centro avenue, should be graveled and perhaps Monte Vista boulevard. Mr. Ashby reported the meeting of the floods commission. It is desired to make the county of Los Angeles a flood control district. Other counties also desire flood control districts be established. A motion prevailed that a committee be appointed to interview prospective supervisors of this district. After paying all expenses it was stated there was $23,-82 in the treasury. There are now 62 members in the board of trade. It is desired that the number reach the 100 mark. There should be a representative from every organization in the colony on the committee for County flood control.

Town Meeting

Announcements made at the Town Meeting will be found elsewhere on this page. A motion prevailed to hold a Memorial service two weeks from last Tuesday night, and a committee of three appointed to arrange a program appropriate to the occasion. Miss Murphy, as had been previously announced by the State of Main people, was present and furnished a most pleasing and instructive program. Before giving her readings of Irish drama Miss Murphy gave a short address, telling of the origin of Irish literature. The period of literature began 1000 years before America was discovered and long before the Christian era. She gave a short sketch of conditions prevailing in Ireland 100 years ago as to education and religion. There was no education excepting among the Protestants at that time. The Gaelic language is being revived and is taught at present in the schools of Ireland. A Gaelic League has spread the sentiment and these leagues are found organized all over Ireland and have spread everywhere where there is found a group of Irish people. Twenty years ago a society was formed to revive the drama and to this end a theater was established and Irish poetry was revived. The object of this theater is to represent the country as she is and not as she would like to appear to the world. This society has revived the ideals of Ireland. Emotions are the guides of the performance in the theater. They use no superfluous furnishings or scenery.

Miss Murphy read two plays, "The Shadow of the Glen" by John M. Synge and "The Work House Ward" by Lady Gregory. Miss Murphy's rendering of these two dramas was so absolutely in keeping with the subjects that the audience realized the scenes and characters as though the plays were being enacted before them. The keen wit and pathos of the Irish character were clearly portrayed and Miss Murphy's Irish brogue is inimitable. We shall hope to have the privilege of a return visit from Miss Murphy.

Mrs. Heald, secretary of the Woman's club, wishes to correct the impression given in an article appearing in this paper, issued May 5, concerning the program of the Woman's club entertainment, as to the non-appearance of the band and orchestra on the program. Mrs. Heald says by some oversight on the committee on program, Mr. Maygrove was not consulted as to the orchestra taking part until it was too late for him to give his assistance as he has done so many times on former occasions. As to the band, it seems that there was no announcement by the committee that the band would appear. The members of the committee on entertainment offer an apology to Mr. Maygrove, also to the members of the Woman's Orchestra and band, for the mistake made in announcing the orchestra upon the program and for not at once correcting the error appearing in the article referred to.

The correspondent wishes to state that the information contained in the article referred to above was given to her by a member of the Woman's club. And if there was an error it was made by the party giving the information. To avoid future mistakes it is earnestly requested that the secretary give the announcements hereafter directly to the correspondent.

Mr. C. H. Clark has returned from the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, held recently at Bakersfield.

Those wishing to vote at the State primaries in August who have not registered their party affiliations must re-register before July 29.

Important transactions expected at the Home Croft meeting Friday evening. Everyone urged to be present.

THE ROUNDS OF THE LADDER

Some happy talent and some fortunate opportunity may form the two sides of the ladder on which some men mount, but the rounds of that ladder must be made of stuff to wear and tear, and there is no substitute for thorough-going, ardent and sincere earnestness.—Dickens.

Humor dwells with sanity and common sense and truth.—Bishop Brewster.
