PREFACE.

This publication shows in parallel columns the paragraphs of the dutiable schedules and free list of the tariff bill (H. R. 7456) as passed by the House of Representatives on July 21, 1921; as amended and passed by the Senate on August 19, 1922; and the respective corresponding provisions of the tariff acts of 1909 and 1913. The order of sequence corresponds to the numbering of the paragraphs in the bill as it was passed by the House of Representatives. The numbers of the paragraphs as amended by the Senate are shown in italics.

The material is so grouped under each paragraph that the provisions of the House bill appear at the upper left corner, with the Senate amendments in the column to the right and as nearly as practicable in line with the provisions to which they relate. These amendments are indicated in general as follows: The portions printed in brackets [ ] are proposed to be eliminated from the House bill, and the portions printed in italics are proposed to be inserted. Where no amendment is proposed, this fact is indicated by use of the words "No change." Where the amendments are numerous or of such a nature as to make the statement of them not easily understood, the entire paragraph or clause affected is printed with the amendments indicated in the manner referred to above.

The bill as passed by the House of Representatives was based upon "American valuation" as defined in section 402. This provision has been changed by the proposed amendments of the Senate to "Foreign valuation." In order to keep these facts before the reader the words "American valuation" and "Foreign valuation" have been placed in the dutiable schedules above each paragraph of the House bill and the Senate amendments, respectively.

WASHINGTON, August 25, 1922.
