Notes:

1. The local welfare section did not have any record of 3 workers who are employed by the workshop but are not receiving public assistance.

2. Since all experienced workers are paid on a piecework basis, these statistics are based on their average wages and do not include the 11 apprentice workers who receive ¥ 40 per 8 hour-day. The period of apprenticeship is 3 months for bamboo craft and 2 months for shoe repair craft.

The cost of material is deducted from the shoe repairer's gross wage and his net wage is 50% of the balance.

3. All shoe repair work is performed for individuals through private contract. Approximately 70 pairs of shoes are repaired monthly and the cost is 10% lower than that charged by the 3 local shops. The bamboo products are sold to wholesalers who distribute them, baskets of all sizes and types, to retailers in Akita and Yamagata prefectures. During the first quarterly period of the current fiscal year the workshops manufactured 3,000 baskets.

4. Shoe repairing was inaugurated in February 1949; consequently, the expenditure for leather material for the 1948 fiscal year was small.

WORKSHOP RE CRT 'B'
Summary

1. What benefits do each of the following groups derive from the Welfare Workshop Program:

a. Workers

- (1) At least 50% of the experienced workers are in need of assistance and are unable to find employment elsewhere.
- (2) The workers receive vocational training and are paid a small wage during their training period.

b. Workshop Staff

These technicians have the opportunity of developing and utilizing their aptitude while simultaneously assisting in the rehabilitation of the workers.

c. Workshop Operator

He is a proponent of social welfare and as such he receives a measure of public acclaim for his efforts.

d. Other (specify)

All groups receive wages for their services.

e. How many welfare workshops are operated by or have any involvement with the Minsei-Iin ?

- (1) Operated by Minsei Iin: 9
- (2) Involvement with Minsei Iin: 19

2. What are the eligibility requirements for employment in a welfare workshop ?

Priority of employment is given to those persons on the public assistance rolls. No eligibility requirements are necessary for all other persons employed.

3. How is the worker referred to workshop ?

- a. By Minsei Iin
- b. By local welfare officials
- c. Direct application

4. Are the workers required to register with Public Employment Security office? Yes _____ is ~~_____~~ ^{XXX} If no, why not?

Workshop employees are fundamentally different from ordinary employees under the category stated in the Labor Standards Law. Since most of the workers in the workshops are widows and persons receiving public assistance, there are no limits on either wages paid or hours employed. Therefore, these workers do not necessarily have to register with the Public Employment Security Office.

5. What relationship exists between the workshop and the prefectural or local Welfare Department, i. e., supervision, reports, etc.?

a. Source of materials:

Materials are requested by the workshop through the local, district, and prefectural office. These requests are consolidated and then forwarded to the Ministry of Welfare.

b. Reports

Same as above.

c. Supervision

Supervision is conducted either directly by the Prefectural Government or through the district offices.

6. If the Welfare Workshop Program in your prefecture were discontinued what would happen to the workers?

The workers would either have to find employment elsewhere or apply for public assistance.

7. What resources (public and private) are available in your prefecture for meeting the demands resulting from the closing of the Welfare Workshops? (i.e., industry, public works, labor department workshops).

None

8. What is the opinion of the Chief of Social Affairs of the Prefectural Welfare Department concerning the value of the Welfare Workshop Program (briefly)?

Due to the drastic social upheaval resulting from the war, many people including widows, physically handicapped and war sufferers are having an increasingly difficult time trying to support themselves.

Since it is not desirable to have these people rely mainly upon public assistance as a means of livelihood, both from the standpoint of their morale and of the efforts of the welfare agencies to rehabilitate them, some means of special employment must be provided. This employment must necessarily be of a nature that these people are able to fulfill. And the workshop program appears to be the only solution at the present time.

The workshop program as it exists today should be modified to comply with the objectives desired; for example, sewing work which requires the hiring of young women should be discontinued and some other type of work suitable for the aged and physically handicapped should be substituted. If a central workshop were designated, employees working in their homes could submit their partially completed work to this workshop for completion.

1. General Headquarters, Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers desires to determine the value of the welfare workshop program in terms of the individual workers, the workshop operators, cost to the public through subsidies and tax exemption, its effect on local private business, and the degree of duplication of the Vocational Training and Protective Workshop Program now operated by the Ministry of Labor.
2. Commanders of military government units will review the operation of one publicly owned welfare workshop and one privately owned welfare workshop using the Welfare Institution Inspection Reports, Report Control symbol QPH-(OT)-05, inclosure 1. Pertinent additional information will be added to these forms where clarification is necessary or where it seems important to include information not requested in the report form.
3. For the month of July completed workshop reviews will be submitted to this headquarters as prescribed for reports of inspection of institutions in paragraph 6, Operational Directive 6, 1949 and in lieu thereof.

SUMMARY AND GUIDE OF THE PRESENT WELFARE WORKSHOP PROGRAM

1. The Welfare Workshop Program has been in operation in Japan for the past 20 years and is presumed to be a social work enterprise.
2. The Welfare Workshop Program, as interpreted by the Japanese Welfare Officials, is meant to provide sheltered employment and job training to persons on public assistance, the aged, the physically handicapped and widows. The program operates under certain provisions contained in the Daily Life Security Law and the Social Work Law.
3. Under the Daily Life Security Law and the Social Work Law, public and private workshops may register with the Ministry of Welfare and be certified as protective institutions, and as such may receive priority over private business on allocations of raw materials. If 50% or more of the workers are on public assistance, workshop operators may receive grant-in-aid for administrative expenses. If the workshop is also registered as a Foundation Juridical Person (Zaidan Hojin) the workshop is exempt from taxation of any kind (regardless whether it is land, building, equipment or profits).
4. Information contained in field reports, memoranda, and subsequent investigations of the Welfare Workshop Program indicate (gross) irregularities and abuses of public funds, exploitation of marginal and sub-marginal economic groups of people, and direct competition with private industry. In some instances there are indications of collusion between welfare officials and welfare workshop operators and owners.
5. In many instances there is duplication of effort in the sheltered workshop program. The Ministry of Labor operates a vocational training and a sheltered workshop program throughout Japan. At present these programs are only 50% utilized. This is one of the "resources" the Welfare Officer should investigate in answer to questions #6 and #7 in Attachment "B".
6. Guide to Workshop Inspection Report "A".
 - a. In reference to question No. 1, it should be noted whether or not the owner is an individual or association or a public body. The full name should be entered in Romaji.
 - b. Question No. 2, reference public officials. This question should indicate whether or not local welfare officials or possibly other public officials are interested financially (payroll or profits) in the welfare workshop.
 - c. Question No. 4. Number of staff should not include shop manager or director.
 - d. Question No. 10. Explain fully as to who receives all or part of the differential between the gross and net wage of the employee and why it is necessary to deduct any amount from the employee's gross wage. Spot check one or two home workers at home, in order to determine whether or not their wages are subject to any deduction, and at the same time check, with the home workers, their maximum and minimum wages as reported by the shop manager.

e. Question No. 11 should be answered on the basis of the previous 3 month, 6 month and annual personnel turnover.

f. Question No. 12. Attempt to determine what happens to the articles manufactured in the workshop, i.e., sold on the open market, distributed as relief-in-kind, sold for export purposes, etc. "Private sources" of raw materials are materials received directly from the customer by the worker through personal solicitation.

7. In order to obtain a valid report on welfare workshops, it is requested that the welfare officers be as objective as possible in their inspection report and personal report. It is requested that the questions contained in workshop inspection report be asked in their proper numerical order.
