"CONVERSATION" NOW GOING ON BETWEEN INFLUENTIAL REPUBLICANS IN FOREIGN CAPITOLS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Preliminary work on the plan for an "Association of Nations," promised by President-elect Harding, is well along, it was learned here today.

"Conversation" now going on between certain influential Republicans and persons in foreign capitols have already developed interesting facts concerning the European attitude towards the new association.

While these exchanges are entirely unofficial and informal, and Harding has had nothing to do with them, the information, however, is regarded as a much franker expression of foreign views than if it were official, and shows a distinct willingness to meet Harding at least half way.

LOOK TO MINOR LEAGUES FOR ADJUSTMENT

INDICATIONS OF COMPROMISE ON WHICH ALL MAY GET TOGETHER AND WORK IN HARMONY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 9.—After failing to reach a peace making basis among themselves, representatives of major league baseball here today looked to the minor leagues to bring about an adjustment of differences over the control of the national game.

The minor league, holding their annual meeting here, looked to by some of the clubs to refuse endorsement of either the National or the American league factions in their war over reorganization plans. Instead, indications were that they might offer a basis of compromise of which all might get together and work in harmony.

AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN

REV. COLE PREACHES STRONG SERMONS; MISSION STUDY CLASSES

STRIKING SUBJECTS

"THE CHURCH'S BUSINESS" AND "WHY DO MEN GO TO BED HUNGRY?"

Two strong sermons were preached by Rev. C. A. Cole at the Central Christian church, Sunday, Nov. 6th.

Immediately following the Bible school, a short sermon on "Besetting Sins" was preached for the children. Then, after a song service and communion, the sermon of the morning on "The Church's Business in This Crisis of the World," was delivered.

The speaker told of the great unrest following the war, the great opportunity for reconstruction now that the election is over and the insistent duty of every member of the church to get busy and stay busy in the work of the kingdom. Reference was made to a meeting held by a noted minister in a mission for the "down and outs," where many hundreds of scoffers at religion gathered. After a pointed sermon on the evils of Bolshevism and infidelity, this pastor invited the leaders of the atheistic crowd to meet him in another room and propound to him any questions they desired to. When this was done and the atheists had launched bitter attacks against the church the minister asked them, "What would you have us do for the man that is down and out?" The scoffing reply was, "Preach the christian religion to them." Quick as a flash came the query from the minister, "Has your crowd anything better to offer?" The leader of the atheists thought a bit, hung his head, and haltingly replied, "No, we haven't. The principles of the christian religion, the teachings of Christ, faithfully carried out, will redeem the worst of fallen men and

AID IS ASKED

J. G. MONAHAN WANTS HELP OF PEOPLE TO MAKE PARADE A SUCCESS

Plans for the Armistice Day celebration are progressing very satisfactorily and from all indications Glendale people will witness one of the biggest and best parades she has ever seen.

J. G. Monahan, who is chairman of the committee to secure automobiles for the children who are too small to march, is making an appeal in the display columns of this issue to owners of automobiles to volunteer the use of their cars for this purpose. Several people have already very kindly promised him the use of their cars, he says, but he will need many more to accommodate the 1200 children who will participate in the parade and who are too young to march.

Mr. Monahan appeals to the patriotism of Glendale people who own automobiles and asks them to be at the High School at nine o'clock Thursday morning, where this section of the parade will form.

Her Busy Week

This week Mrs. Mattison B. Jones might paraphrase the expression "This is my busy day" to read "This is my busy week."

Today she is a guest at the Reciprocity Day luncheon of the Music Study club of Long Beach; tomorrow she is to be a guest of honor at the Reciprocity Day luncheon of the Van Nuys Woman's club; on Friday she will attend a large affair given by the Music Teachers' association of Los Angeles, at which function, as first vice-president of the California Federation of Music Clubs, she will be in the receiving line, and on Saturday she is to be the special guest of the Dominant Music club of Los Angeles.

Entered High School

Mrs. F. E. Warner and granddaughter, Miss Betty Higgins, of New York City, are making their home at 214 East Chestnut street. Miss Betty entered Glendale High school yesterday for the winter term.

SERMON BY REV. EDMONDS

"EXPECT GREAT THINGS FROM GOD; ATTEMPT GREAT THINGS FOR GOD"

WM. CASEY'S WORDS

LESSON DRAWN FROM LIFE AND WORDS OF GREAT MISSIONARY

"Expect great things from God; attempt great things for God." With the above words heroic Wm. Carey, of India, summed up our test. "Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the place of thy habitations: spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes; for thou shalt break forth on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall inherit the Gentiles, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited." (Isaiah 54:2, 3). "I will go to India," said Carey, "but remember, you must hold the rope." In every great undertaking for the kingdom of God, the Lord has laid great responsibility on the rope-holders. There are those to go; always there must be those to sustain their going; and in this business none are exempted. I plead for rope-holders. Now if this church, facing the great responsibility before it, is to expect great things from God, it needs that every member shall realize that no man liveth to himself; "It is no more I that live, but Christ liveth in me." Christ is the center of all; and as the spokes draw together as they approach the center of the wheel, so will we draw closer (Continued on Page 3)

Bank Hours Change

The five banks of Glendale have agreed to change the opening hour to 9 o'clock a. m., but will have the same closing hour as at present, 3 p. m. This change is made necessary because the state law forbids female employees working more than eight hours a day. The hours before opening and the two hours after will be used to check up accounts, which is a very necessary part of the business. The banks' many customers should note this new schedule, which goes into effect November 15.

Research Hospital

E. H. Lemke, who has been in charge of construction work on the Glendale Research Hospital, has completed all frame and hollow tile work. A number of the carpenters have been laid off, now that this part of the construction is completed. A meeting of the board of directors will be held this evening. This is not the regular meeting, but is called for the purpose of taking up the matter of discussing the purchase of equipment. This subject is one that occasions extra work and meetings will be held frequently until the completion of the hospital. The work on the hospital, as well as the sale of stock, is coming along very satisfactorily.

RECEPTION FOR GLENDALE LADY

ENTERTAINS DELIGHTFULLY FOR FIFTY OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

THE SUNNY SOUTH

MEMORIALIZED IN GROUP OF OLD SOUTHERN SONGS

Elegant in its appointments and charming of atmosphere was the reception at which Mrs. McLaughlin L. White was hostess yesterday, at her home, 519 East Raleigh street. Great masses of yellow and lavender chrysanthemums, from Mrs. White's own garden, lent their beauty to the sumptuous color scheme chosen by the hostess to adorn her home for the occasion. One cluster contained 100 large gorgeous blossoms and covered the entire dining table. Many of the guests were winter tourists to whom flowers in winter are always marvelous and to them, especially, the handsome chrysanthemums were an unusually enjoyable feature of the afternoon. Guests to the number of fifty par-took of Mrs. White's hospitality. All were members of that congenial body of ladies, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and nearly all were out-of-town guests, residents of Los Angeles or those who have come there from various parts of the country to spend the winter. Although individually considered, ladies are never anxious to state their ages, this group is willing to admit that the ages of those present at Mrs. White's reception ranged from eighteen to eighty-six. A program of Southern songs was one of the joys of the pleasant afternoon, and a dainty buffet luncheon was served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. W. K. Russell, of Glendale, Mrs. John P. Hight, Jr., of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Bertha Curtis of the same city.

They Know Glendale

B. M. Emerson, secretary and treasurer of the Pacific Union Conference, Seventh-day Adventists, who recently returned from a trip to Indianapolis, says that in every place he stopped long enough to talk to the people, he found that many families were eagerly anticipating a trip to California, either to spend the winter or to locate. He said that when asked where he lived in California and the reply was "Glendale," in nearly every instance the immediate response was, "Oh, yes, I've heard of Glendale."

Mrs. Ward Gives Dance

The decoration committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club were the guests at a delightful dance given by Mrs. Bert Ward at her home, 451 Myrtle street, last Friday evening. The house was decorated in yellow chrysanthemums and pepper branches. Music for dancing was furnished by the viroli. Refreshments of punch and wafers were enjoyed and at eleven o'clock a delicious lunch was served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Angelica, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Horner, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kling, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Halstead, Mr. and Mrs. John Fanset, Mr. and Mrs. Jack West, Miss Sheila Crawford, Duke Claussenius and Charles Talbot.

New Pastor Greeted

Last Sunday was a "red letter" day for the First Congregational church. Large audiences greeted the new pastor, Rev. Chas. M. Calderwood, at both the morning and evening services. Mr. Calderwood is an able and entertaining speaker and delivered two forceful and instructive sermons, speaking in the morning on "An Adventure in Faith," and in the evening on "Burden Bearing." It was an auspicious beginning for the new pastorate and the membership is looking forward to a season of large growth and increased usefulness under the strong leadership of Mr. Calderwood. It was stated that on next Sunday there will be communion and reception of new members. Quite a number have indicated their intention to unite with the church at that time.

Camp Oake Wilde

A crowd of Glendale young people were entertained at a jolly Halloween party at Camp Oake Wilde by Mr. and Mrs. George Wightman and their daughters, Jane, Fannie and Dorothy, of Pasadena. The Wightmans have three lovely cabins in the heart of the Arroyo Seco canyon, where the guests, about forty in all, were entertained by the usual Halloween stunts and dancing. The guests from Glendale were: Misses Ruth Spafford, Ramona Ryan, Mildred McKee, Eileen Sullivan and Ruth Ryan; Messrs. Bob Sullivan, Frances Gordon, Frances Sullivan, Richard Ryan, Joe Webster and Bill Reitz and Jack Griffin of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. William Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Bullock. The hikers came home Saturday night pretty much tired out, but everyone saying that they had had a glorious time.

WEATHER FORECAST—Unsettled, with occasional sprinkles.

HARROWER LABORATORY

WORK ON GROUP OF THREE BUILDINGS COMMENCED YESTERDAY

FIRST UNIT IS 40x72

OVER FIFTY PEOPLE NOW EMPLOYED, MOST OF THEM GLENDALIANS

Yesterday a beginning was made on the first of three laboratory and office buildings that Dr. Henry R. Harrower expects to erect on his property on East Broadway and Belmont street. This building, designed by Architect A. F. Priest, will be built of reinforced concrete and brick. It will be 72 feet long by 40 feet wide, will be located 90 feet back from Broadway and will parallel the alley. It is expected that this unit will be completed early in the new year in time to house a number of intricate machines now being manufactured for the Harrower Laboratory in the east. Three large rooms and a cellar for storage purposes will increase the facilities of this institution quite considerably; and will enable them to add to their staff as soon as the manufacturing department, now located on the ground floor next to the old Bank of Glendale, can be moved. This will give generous space for the mailing and addressing departments which are now badly crowded upstairs in the same building. The main office building is already being planned and will face Broadway for 120 feet, and it is understood that a 35-foot parkway is to offset this second unit. This will be a great improvement to the east end of town and is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $60,000 when the two office and laboratory buildings are completed, which Dr. Harrower hopes will be by next June.

The Harrower Laboratory, started here early in 1918, now employs over fifty people, the majority of whom are right here in Glendale, and the laboratory also maintains branch offices in New York, Chicago, Baltimore, Denver, and Portland, Ore.

Birthday Surprise

Mrs. John Zipprodt was the guest of honor at a surprise party given in celebration of her birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. H. Eilers, 115 North Adams street. The decorations consisted of pink carnations and pepper branches. A delicious luncheon was served at 4:30. A beautiful bouquet of copper-colored chrysanthemums and pink carnations formed the centerpiece for the dining table. The guests included Mrs. F. W. Meckfessel, Mrs. Herbert Burr, Mrs. Elmer Enfield of New York, Mrs. John Bateman and daughter, Miss Louise Zipprodt, Wallace Stokes, nephew of the honoree, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Eilers and children, John and Martha.

New Residents

Among the new residents whom Glendale welcomes to her midst are Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Higgins and daughter Miss Betty, of New York City, and Mrs. Higgins' mother, Mrs. F. E. Warner, of Providence, Rhode Island. Mr. Higgins has been superintendent and manager of the Morris Packing company in New York City for fifteen years and is enjoying a much needed rest. He will enter business here some time in the near future. Mr. Higgins' came to Glendale last June and purchased the lovely home of Dr. H. W. Vanderhoof at 247 North Jackson.

LANCASTER CONSTABLE SHOT BY BANDITS

NET THROWN FROM COAST TO SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY IN HOPES OF INTERCEPTING SLAYERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—Automobile bandits early today shot and killed Constable H. E. Glidden of Lancaster. Undersheriff Manning here, has thrown a net of deputy sheriffs across Los Angeles county from the coast to San Bernardino, in an effort to intercept the slayers, who escaped in a stolen yellow roadster.

A brief message to the sheriff's office at 10:30 reported that the slayers were surrounded by deputies in the brush country near Palmdale.

An airplane was quickly pressed into service in the man hunt. Sheriff Cline circled over the country surrounding Lancaster in a scout plane.

Sheriff Shay of San Bernardino county, Sheriff McMartin of Ventura county and Sheriff Newell of Kern county also sent out all their men to close every avenue of escape.

GLENDALE POPULAR INTERMEDIATE P.T. A. MEETING

AS TOURIST CITY—MANY WRITE TO FRIENDS FOR RESERVATIONS

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING WAS HELD YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

VERY BUSY SESSION

NEW REST ROOM, RED CROSS PHILANTHROPY, AND SOCIAL WELFARE DISCUSSED

Glendale is becoming more and more a place of resort for tourists. As the fame of the beauty and cleanliness of our city spreads afar, more and more each year, its appeal to discerning people grows.

Its nearness to the city of Los Angeles with its many attractions and points of interest and our transportation facilities, which are satisfactory both as to price and service, are factors in the popularity of this city as a place of residence.

We need more buildings to house the newcomers. Many of them are writing friends here to reserve apartments for them. They like Glendale because it is near to a large city, yet away from its noise and confusion; because its air is pure, its elevation conducive to health and the tone of the city refined and hospitable.

Many new houses are in course of construction in Glendale. The great number of new gas permits is indicative of the extent of the building operations here. The gas installations in new houses here average ten a day. Yet with all this building activity, houses are at a premium in Glendale.

The Intermediate P.-T. A. held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the school building. The meeting was opened with the flag salute, led by Miss Tyler. The president, Mrs. H. V. Brown, introduced the new department chairmen, Mrs. Nathan Rigdon, publicity; Mrs. Oliver, visiting; and Miss Tyler, patriotism.

The P.-T. A. is interested in beautifying and making comfortable the rest room, and Mrs. Ducey spoke of progress being made to this end.

Mrs. W. A. Kulp, chairman of the finance committee, reported the steps that had been taken toward fitting up the new cafeteria, one of the duties and pleasures assumed by the P.-T. A.

The local and national need of the Red Cross work was touched upon by Mrs. Rowe, who asked for the enrollment of names, and an interval was given that those desiring might respond to the fourth Red Cross Roll Call.

Mrs. F. W. Kille, chairman of the philanthropic work, told the ladies of what had been accomplished toward the benevolence for the Thanksgiving season, and an interesting discussion was entered into by Mrs. A. A. Barton, Mrs. Young and others. The P.-T. A. will distribute canned fruit and groceries to those found needing assistance, and the mothers of the Intermediate pupils are asked to send their gifts to the school on Monday, November 22.

Miss Brenneman, the music supervisor, accompanied by Miss Sharpe, rendered very pleasingly the vocal solo, "By the Waters of Minnetonka."

Cameron Thom Benefits

One of the duck-hunting parties to take advantage of the week-end was that composed of R. C. Talbot, salesman for the Dodge agency, Robt. Morrow, H. Bowers, H. Litton and W. Dodge, who motored to Lompoc and Santa Maria Saturday afternoon. A good time was had despite the rain. The party returned Monday morning after traveling 185 miles, 85 of which was over very rough and slippery roads. It is said that thirty-five ducks were bagged, most of which were distributed to friends of the hunters; the others were taken by friends who helped themselves. Cameron Thom is reported to be an intimate friend of these gentlemen.

Judge Miller as Aviator

Judge Harry M. Miller experienced new sensations last week when he was a passenger on an aeroplane flight from Mercury Field, Hollywood. The judge says that he believes the trip would have been a most enjoyable one if he had slipped the goggles over his eyes before the plane started, but in the excitement the goggles were left on his forehead, and as a result the strong wind made it practically impossible to see, as well as being painful.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. John Davies, of Spokane, Washington, are winter tourists who are domiciled at 514 North Louise street.

Mrs. T. L. Blackburn of San Bernardino has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Jesse Joseph, of 201 West Lexington Drive.

H. F. Rossetter of Long Beach was the Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bliss of 412 1/2 East Harvard street.

Frank Kiefer, formerly a member of the Glendale fire department, has taken over a route for the Glendale laundry.

A son, strong and vigorous, made his appearance at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Julius Letourneau, of Burbank, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Parks of 377
West Lexington Drive entertained
Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman of Pasadena at dinner Sunday.

Mrs. Forrest J. Rogers, of Westminster avenue, Los Angeles, was the week-end guest of Mrs. Harry Powers, 128 South Isabel street.

C. E. Benedict of 316 West Lomita avenue left Saturday for an extended business trip to Arizona and New Mexico. Mr. Benedict will be gone for six weeks.

A. Meyer, formerly the Overland agent in Glendale, is visiting his family here for a few days. Mr.
Meyer is distributor for the Miller
tires at Fresno.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Snyder, formerly of Boyle Heights, have moved into their bungalow garage at 323 Mira Loma avenue. They are building a home at that location.

H. Blumenthal, of 722 North Central avenue, is expected back this evening from a business trip to San Diego. Mr. Blumenthal has been absent from the city since Sunday.

Harry Letts, son of C. J. Letts of 1200 South Central avenue, has accepted a position with the Standard Oil Company and will be located at the service station, corner of Broadway and Kenwood streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ward of 451
Myrtle street, Miss Shula Crawford and "Duke" Clausenius were members of a quail hunting party at La Crescenta Sunday. They report having shot about a dozen quail.

Miss Lois Webb of 127 West
Chestnut street was pleasantly surprised by a number of her girl friends, who gave her a shower last Thursday evening. Miss Webb is the fiancée of Clayton H. Card, formerly of Glendale, who recently moved to Iowa.

Mrs. Wm. Wallace of 823 South
Maryland suffered an attack of dilation of the heart while she and a friend were making purchases in Roberts & Echols drug store yesterday afternoon. A physician was called and Mrs. Wallace was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium, where it is reported that she is doing nicely.

The White Inn is going to serve a regular old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner between the hours of 1 and 7.
You had better make your reservations now, or otherwise you may "get left." Mrs. Thomas served a dozen turkeys last year, but she will prepare more than that number this Thanksgiving in anticipation of a still larger number of guests.

Harry Powers and his wife, who was formerly Miss Allena McGee, have purchased a home at 707 North Isabel street. In the new tract opened by the Glendale Realty Company.
This will not be ready for occupancy until about December 1st. Mr. and Mrs. Powers and small son are making their home with Mr. and Mrs.
McGee at 128 South Isabel street
until their home is finished.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bales, of 323
North Jackson have returned from a two months' visit in Oklahoma. The trip was made in a Buick. Mr. Bales reports having had no trouble going or coming. The northern route was taken on the way east and the southern route on the return trip. This took them through the "Panhandle" country, which Mr. Bales described as mud, snow, rain and rocks. Four thousand two hundred and sixteen miles were registered on the entire trip.

Mrs. Allen Diskey of 210 North
Louise, who was so terribly burned
Saturday afternoon by her clothes catching fire from a gas flame, is still suffering greatly, but is getting along as well as could be hoped for,
was the report from the Glendale
Sanitarium hospital at 11 o'clock.
Her husband, who was up north of Bakersfield when notified of the accident and made a dangerous auto trip through rain and mud to reach his wife's bedside, is with her constantly.

Mervyn Mills, who recently sold the home at 230 South Louise, will move with his brother George and his sister, Mrs. Lou Kerri, to Hollywood, for a month, until the place bought on North Maryland is vacated. Mr. Mills, who is in charge of the Glendale & Montrose railway ticket office, says that the one-man cars which were so derided at first by some of the road's patrons have grown in favor until now there is quite a kick heard when for some reason they have to be replaced for a few days by the old, large cars.

The Hart property at 421 Burchett, which was sold at auction this morning, was bought by H. L. Miller, of the H. L. Miller Real Estate Co., for $5500.

Mrs. McLaughlin L. White, of East
Raleigh street, was a guest this afternoon at a luncheon given at the Mary Louise Tea Room, Los Angeles.

W. S. Althouse, who has charge of the building of a swimming pool and bath house in the oil fields, forty miles from Bakersfield, paid a visit to his family at 347 North Isabel street, last week.

Patrons of the White Inn were agreeably surprised Saturday at having 10 cents handed back to them
when they paid for meals, the explanation being that now that food commodities have been reduced in price,
meals and lunches must follow suit.

Unique Theatre
PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 9.—E. K.
Hoak of South Pasadena has announced plans for what promises to be the country's most unique theatre.
It will be primarily for the purpose of housing the "Mission Play," the play which tells the story of the California missions, and will be located near the Mission San Gabriel.
Entrance will be made through a long corridor beneath a giant grape vine which has been growing for years on the property where the theatre is to be built. Automobiles will be admitted through this corridor and, by an adaptation of the Spanish portico scheme of architecture, motor cars will be able to drive directly into the theatre, parking in the portico where parties may sit at leisure in their cars and watch the play.

Organize P.-T. A.
Twenty-two ladies met at the Magnolia Ave. school Friday, November 2d, to organize a P.-T. A. Mrs. A. H.
Brown, parliamentarian for the Glendale Federation of P.-T. A., explained the work and assisted with the organizing of the club. The following officers were elected: President,
Mrs. Fred Spear; vice-president, Mrs.
W. P. Parker; secretary, Mrs. H. M.
Gill; treasurer, Miss Emma Saxton.

W. C. T. U. Meeting
Mrs. Della Dick, of 139 North Orange street, was hostess on last Friday afternoon to the ladies of the W. C. T. U., at a "Mothers' Meeting."
An interesting feature of the afternoon was the recital by each lady present of some incident in the life of her mother. Many interesting stories were told of the old pioneer days when people crossed the plains
with oxteams and when Indians menaced the lives of the travelers.

EDMONDS' SERMON

as we approach the living center.
Naturally this results in mutual sympathy and in oneness of impulse. Old Israel responded as one man when summons was signaled, forgetting local separations; the common call was greater.

And there must be enduement of power from the Holy Spirit; without this, work will be a farce and a fizzle. Unity with us is a unity of many parts articulated together by the Spirit, like as the parts of the mechanism of a watch which must be correlated each with the other; else
they are no good. Then there needs be great interest in the aimed-at-results. And there must be confidence in leadership. It has always been God's plan to bless leadership. Not always is it a thankworthy work.
Nevertheless, now just as much as at Pentecost are men anointed to leadership, the vows of God upon them.

There should be unanimity of hope. The man who undertakes has reason to expect. Seed-sowing presumes the harvest.
We must get back to Christ, to the principles of the early church. Let us make much of His life, of His glorious teachings; much of His work of redemption on Calvary, much of His resurrection, of His great commission and of His intercession since for His church; and much of His ultimate glory with His saints.
As we look at all that, we are ready to attempt great things for God and expect great things from God.

When brave Zerubbabel and his supporters set about the great task
of rebuilding the destroyed temple,
he answered his taunting enemies'
question, "Who commanded you to build this house?" with the courageous response, "We are the servants of the God of heaven, and to His glory among the nations we will arise and build." We, too, have responded to the call of the Lord God and in His name we will arise and build. When Handel, in London,
was rehearsing the Messiah music,
he stopped all the orchestra to say,
"I miss the flageolet." Does God miss your part in the harmony of this program? He asks every child of His to co-operate with Him for the larger opportunity of extension of His wonderful grace.

Out of this new center of spiritual power may be foreseen heralds going forth of whom it may be said, "How beautiful are the feet of him who bringeth good tidings, that publisheth salvation." There may be heard the fluttering of wings, and behold,
souls are coming to Christ as doves
flock to their windows.
Expect great things from God; attempt great things for God.

Reverend E. E. Ford and several members of the Baptist church of Glendale will form a party which is bound for Burbank this evening to entertain the dwellers of Atherton Villa with stereopticon views and music.

J. Walter Elliott and wife, who recently sold their home, at 1005
North Central avenue, to Dr. Margaret York, who came here from New York City, have moved in with
C. L. Walker, at 332 East Dryden street, for the present.

A. F. Webster writes from Santa Barbara that the family is pleasantly settled there in a delightful location.
Miss Lillian, who has been an invalid for two years past, was very much exhausted by the trip, he wrote, but has about recovered from its effects.

C. A. Nicholson has moved into the property at 132 Arden Ave.; W. G.
Landerdae to 230 S. Louise, which he bought of Mervyn Mills; A. H.
Sherman to 516 S. Central Ave.; E.
M. Sawyer from 225 S. Orange to 349 W. Colorado; Mrs. Wesley from 313 W. Harvard to 624 S. Central Ave.

H. D. Charlton, architectural designer for the Bentley-Schoeneman Company, informs The Evening News that he has just completed plans for a 25x60 brick store building for Harry Blumenthal of 722 North Central avenue, to be located at 116
South Brand Boulevard. Charles W.
Kent & Son have the contract for the construction of the building, which is to cost about $5000.

This is one of Judge Lowe's busy days. There were on his docket for hearing 29 cases of violation of the traffic law and one for driving an auto while intoxicated, which it was expected would take considerable time. Judge Lowe says he has just succeeded in getting service on five violators of the traffic ordinance
from out-of-town who had evaded appearing since the offences were committed, early in October. It was necessary to threaten arrest in four of these cases and to issue a warrant in the fifth.

Oregon Guests
Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sherman and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Behling of Medford, Oregon, are the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hayward, of 730
North Kenwood.

The party motored from their Or-gon home, and will spend the winter in Southern California. They will probably remain here permanently if they find suitable places of residence.

Boy Scouts
The time to show what one's patriotism amounts to is here. It is the chance that our four troops of Boy Scouts have been hoping for, and they will take an active part in the Armistice Day parade to take place in Glendale this coming Thursday.
Though some of the troops have not been able to get their complete uniforms and equipment, they will all "lend a hand" and help make this celebration the greatest thing of its sort ever held in our city. Every Scoutmaster has been notified of the particulars, and all Scouts are requested to get into communication with the man in charge of their troop immediately, provided that they have not received the necessary information.

The Scouts will form near the corner of Wilson avenue and Everett street at 9:30 Thursday morning. All who have the uniform will appear in it at the time of formation. Those who are not so fortunate should wear the regular civilian dress. It is not the uniform that we want to show, but rather is it our gratitude to those who served, and our appreciation of the city of Glendale.

Any Scout desiring further information may obtain it by calling Glendale 681-W.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN

nothing else will." With such a striking admission as this from an enemy of the christian religion, does it not behoove every professed follower of the Christ to devote every energy to the work of saving souls, was the deduction of the speaker from the episode just related.

The evening sermon was on the rather novel subject, "Why Do Men Go to Bed Hungry?" After reading the account of Jesus feeding the five thousand on the shores of Lake Galilee in order that they might not go away for the night fasting, the speaker applied the lesson in its spiritual sense. If they of the church will do their duty as missionaries for the Kingdom, men need not go to bed hungry for the truth that will save to everlasting life. Christ said to His disciples when they counseled Him to send the multitude away: "Give ye them to eat." He furnished the supply of bread, but they distributed it. So, in this age, He gives salvation freely, but His followers must bear the news of it to a sinful world.

The evening service was preceded by the mission study classes, five of them, taking in Sunday school pupils of all ages. Despite the inclement weather 54 were in the classes for this first of six weekly sessions to be held. The study lasted 45 minutes and at it close 70 stereoscopic pictures of scenes in Armenia, illustrating some of the subjects, were shown.

The old-fashioned man who started a fire under a balky horse would not take the same chances on a balky automobile.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS WESTERN SENATORS

(By United Press)
LONDON, Nov. 9.—Fifty-one nations, large and small, and inhabited by peoples of every race, color and creed, will be represented at the first League of Nations assembly at Geneva, Switzerland, on November 15.

Chinese, Japanese and Arabs will rub elbows with Britons, Latins and Celts. French and English will be the medium of language through which business will be transacted, although many of the delegates will understand neither tongue.

Of the nations represented at Geneva, eighteen, including the five dominions of the British group, became members of the league automatically through the coming into effect of the treaty of Versailles on January 10, 1920.

Eight other countries ratified the pact subsequently and are considered as charter members. Thirteen states, neutrals during the great war, are members through accession under invitations extended in conformity with the annex to the covenant.

China, alone, derives her membership rights by virtue of being a signatory to the treaty of St. Germain. Eleven other countries, some of which have only de facto governments, have officially applied for membership. Their applications will be acted upon at the assembly meeting, as will be those of Germany, Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria, if they are received officially before the date of the meeting.

The only nations which will not be represented at Geneva, either officially or semi-officially, are the United States, Turkey and Mexico.

Nations invited to become league members who accepted, and date of their accession, follows:

- Argentine Republic, July 18, 1920.
Chile, November 4, 1919.
Persia, November 21, 1919.
Paraguay, December 26, 1919.
Spain, January 10, 1920.
Colombia, February 16, 1920.
Venezuela, March 3, 1920.
Norway, March 5, 1920.
Denmark, March 5, 1920.
Switzerland, March 8, 1920.
Netherlands, March 9, 1920.
Sweden, March 9, 1920.
San Salvador, March 10, 1920.

Up to the People

A speaker before the convention of the American Humane Association made a plea for the elimination of the "vampire" and the bandit from the screen. The suggestion has often been made before that mere censorship by state and national boards does not go far enough. Many reformers have criticized the motion picture industry, and not without some reason. Surely, many films are circulated that are bound to have undesirable influences.

The motion picture men put up an age-old defense. They are not, they claim, guardians of public morality and evangelists. Their purpose, most of them frankly admit, is merely to entertain, or, at most, instruct. What entertains is what their patrons want. They boast that their success has been because they give that.

It is only fair, then, that if rebuke is to be placed for the looseness of certain motion picture standards, that the public should bear no small share of the blame. Certainly if the people would merely remain away from entertainments advertised as sensational, they would remove sensation from entertainment.

Figure Discouragement

Is your Johnny slow in arithmetic? Does long division still hold his threatening scowl over him? Are quotients, cube root and multiplicands mere names, and not, alas, names to conjure the correct answers with? Well, don't be too glum about it.

There is something inhuman about the mathematical prodigy, insists Maurice Maeterlinck, the Belgian philosopher. "This distinguished author acknowledges that he cannot extract the root of a number—and never could. Yet he tells wonderful stories of animals in which the faculty has been discovered. Yes, horses and dogs?"

The chess players, those puny lads in sailor suits who confound a whole roomful of bearded savants—they are not exhibiting any intelligence in their marvelous faculty of winning every game. The boys who add up columns of figures at a glance are also not so smart.

For the "mathematical faculty" belongs, not to the conscious intelligence, but to a weird, uncanny subconscious being that lives within us, Maeterlinck holds. Most persons who do marvelous feats in arithmetic in childhood outgrow the trait rather early in life, he says. And he adds that the mystery of numbers is a realm all its own, and little connected with the workaday brain.

So cheer up. If the Joneses' Willie struts around because he heads the class, be assured that defense will soon leave him. Turn your little laddie's thoughts, to be sure, to enough mathematical knowledge for his use in life, but give him also other weapons—vigor from games, imagination from his reading, and common sense from contact with his fellows. Then, though his report card in arithmetic be ever so black, you will not have to fear for his future.

ANCIENT POMP

(By United Press)
LONDON, Nov. 9.—With centuries old civic pomp and pageantry Alderman James Roll was today inaugurated Lord Mayor of London for the ensuing year. The picturesque "Lord Mayor's Show"—a two-mile procession which annually dislocates traffic in the heart of the most congested districts of the city of London—attracted the usual masses of sightseers, although it is the customary thing for Londoners to shrug their shoulders and profess to regard it as a tiresome anachronism, "not worth going to see, my boy." However, no Lord Mayor has yet been bold enough to cut out this expensive pageant, and it is certain that all true cockneys would protest loudly if the ancient ritual was dropped.

Lord Mayor Roll is an insurance company magnate, having been managing director of the Pearl Insurance Company, with which concern he was connected for fifty years. The son of a Norfolk farmer, he came to London as a boy of fourteen, and—as he puts it himself—"by hard work and a little luck" he worked himself up from the humblest position. He is a typical Englishman of the Dickensian type, rather like the late King Edward in manners and appearance. He is passionately fond of horses and coaching, and despite his 72 years is still a famous whip.

The office of Lord Mayor is no sinecure. Nor is it a profitable one, for although there is a salary of ten thousand pounds for the year, the occupant of the Mansion House generally has to spend four or five times that amount as official "host" for the city of London.

Wife Murder Charge

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—James Singleton went on trial here today charged with a murder which for a time proved to be one of the most baffling the police had been called upon to untangle.

On the night of July 27th his wife, Elizabeth Singleton, was found dead in her apartment. At first it was believed she had died from an acute attack of illness. An autopsy revealed signs of poisoning and police immediately advanced a suicide theory.

Friends and relatives of Mrs. Singleton, however, would not admit she had ended her own life and there was a further investigation which revealed that she had been in apparently good spirits and was preparing to attend a theatre just before her death. Chemists at last analyzed a bottle of headache powders from which Mrs. Singleton had taken a dose, and found it contained strychnine. Tracing the origin of the bottle they found it had been given to Mrs. Singleton by James Singleton, her husband, and he was placed under arrest. A few days later he made a statement which will figure in the trial as an alleged confession that he placed the poison in the headache powders, first intending to take some himself.

Singleton will be tried before Superior Judge Ward. Attorney W. McGovern will defend him.

While the defense would not reveal its exact line of evidence it was understood before the trial opened that a plea of temporary insanity would be entered.

Marshal Foch

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, Nov. 1. (By Mail.)—Marshal Foch, who two years ago, November 11th, received the surrender of the German armies at Rheims in Compiègne Forest, today holds the theoretically imposing position of military adviser to the world.

His official title is "president of the Inter-Allied Military Commission of Versailles." This body is a continuation of the old Supreme Command of the war. Its function is to act as general clearinghouse for all military affairs touching the former Allies. It includes representatives from all the former belligerents except the United States and the Central Powers, and holds frequent meetings in Paris.

Behind the little blue sign "Etat-Major de Marechal Foch," at 34 Boulevard de Courcelles, the conqueror of Germany sits at his desk every morning from 10 until noon and every afternoon from 2:30 until 5. His aides report he is busy most of the time—reading telegrams from military attaches of Allied nations in various powers, preparing reports for the council of ambassadors when military counsel is needed, giving advice to some of the younger Allies now carrying on little wars of their own, and the like.

From time to time he quits Paris to accompany the premier of France as general military adviser at one of the many conferences of prime ministers which have been one of the new features of European diplomacy since the war.

He generally travels in the same railway coach in which he was living when he received the German commander, November 11, 1918. This coach is always at his personal disposal, whether for official or unofficial trips. Sometimes his wife accompanies him—on the unofficial journeys.

Foch's relation to the French army is the same as it was during the latter part of the war. Being head of the interallied military staff he is barred from active command in any of the national armies, but free to

His aides report he is busy most of the time—reading telegrams from military attaches of Allied nations in various powers, preparing reports for the council of ambassadors when military counsel is needed, giving advice to some of the younger Allies now carrying on little wars of their own, and the like.

From time to time he quits Paris to accompany the premier of France as general military adviser at one of the many conferences of prime ministers which have been one of the new features of European diplomacy since the war.

He generally travels in the same railway coach in which he was living when he received the German commander, November 11, 1918. This coach is always at his personal disposal, whether for official or unofficial trips. Sometimes his wife accompanies him—on the unofficial journeys.

Foch's relation to the French army is the same as it was during the latter part of the war. Being head of the interallied military staff he is barred from active command in any of the national armies, but free to

BOOKS FOR BOOKLESS PEOPLE

Bringing books to bookless people—to the dwellers of rural communities whose remoteness from public libraries deprives them almost wholly of library advantages—is just now a subject of very lively interest in the library world.

The American Library Association has sent out an appeal for donations, large or small, to be used in the purchase of circulating libraries in scattered communities where books are few. "Give Your Dime or Dollar" is the appeal of the posters in the libraries of the larger cities—an appeal that will not be made in vain to those who know the ineffable comfort a book may be and who, therefore, sympathize with those who have no access to books.

Not all the states have the excellent "library extension" system that California enjoys. Through the agency of county free libraries in our State, books are sent to remote communities very much as letters are sent there by rural free delivery. It has proven its importance as a branch of the general system of popular education in this country.

Those engaged in this library extension work relate many instances particularly telling and often touching, of joy and gratitude of people living in remote mountain regions, to whom the arrival of a dozen books is an event in the life of a community whose hunger for books could scarcely be met in any other way than by these periodical dispensations from the county library.

Notable work along this line is being done by the American Library Association in the matter of supplying books to the boys of the merchant marine. In every American port representatives of the association meet ships with a collection of books, recreational, informative and vocational. Often the boys send in requests for certain books—textbooks on navigation, geometry, or any other subject the men are interested in—and these books are obtained for them at the next port they put into.

Books donated for the soldiers and sailors during the war form the nucleus of this collection, which has received many important additions since it was taken over.

The last report of the American Library Association contains the statement that our own port, San Pedro, ranked higher in the service given the merchant marine than any other in the country, three or possibly four others excepted, and the librarian at the San Pedro library was sent a letter of commendation for splendid work.

"Do the boys appreciate it? They read like fiends!" exclaimed a captain in the San Pedro harbor who was approached on the subject recently. "Men who formerly spent all their time playing cards during the whole journey now never look at a card. They're all buried in books."

FRENCH MAKE GOOD START

The French have been noted for their hard, common sense in financial matters. They recognize that the only way to discharge a debt is to pay it. The war left them in a position that might have seemed so appalling as to discourage any attempt to dig from under the enormous burden of debt piled on the French as a people. That the nation has faced the situation and has gone to work in the only way that leads to sound recovery is indicated in a recent statement of Francois Marsal, minister of finance. He pointed out that a start has been made in that the currency inflation has been stopped, not a single additional sou having been issued in the present calendar year; the state has called for no new loan from the Bank of France and the floating debt has been reduced by nearly 2,000,000,000 francs. Making a good start is a large part of any task and the items mentioned appear as evidence that a good start has been made. But that is not all. He further cites that the revenues for the first seven months of this year were 65 per cent in excess of the revenues in the corresponding period of the year before and promise for the year to cover the ordinary budget, interest on debts and war loans.

Certainly the showing is fine for a nation that was alleged to be decadent before the war and "bled white" by the war. The situation is especially noteworthy because it signifies that France still retains the homely belief that the only effective way to get back to a solid foundation is to go to work to earn the money to pay obligations. They are indulging in no high finance, but are proceeding on old-fashioned principles which they know to be good because all their prosperity of the past was founded on them. They know that nation recovery lies in the individual efforts of the people. France exhibited the heroism of her people in war. Her determination to restore national stability by going to work on the only safe plan proves that common sense ideals still prevail with Frenchmen. There may be as much heroism in tackling a hard job in peace as in fighting in battle.

CUMBERSOME ELECTION METHOD

The method of electing members of the senate of the United States by legislatures of the states has been superseded by the direct method, authorized by adoption of the seventeenth amendment a few years ago. The next amendment should be one providing for direct choice of president and vice president by the electorate.

Under the present system of choosing president and vice president, the voters indicate by their ballots choice of party, but they have no legal assurance that the electors whose names appear on the ballot will vote for the candidates of their choice.

Whatever obligation rests upon the electors receiving a plurality of votes in any state is moral only. There is nothing in the constitution making it mandatory that they shall support the candidates on the ticket upon which the electors were chosen.

It is true that little confusion has arisen from this ability of any elector to vote against the candidate of his party, although in a number of cases the electoral vote of a state has been divided, and in a close contest in the electoral college a few electors might defeat the will of the plurality party by voting contrary to expectations.

A candidate for president may receive a plurality of the votes of the people, yet fail to obtain a plurality in the electoral college, which would seem to be contrary to the principle that a majority should be accepted as expressing the will of the nation. Under the direct ballot, the plurality of voters would determine the choice.

The constitution of the United States provides for the federal system—the expression of the will of the people through their representatives. That is seen in the selection of members to congress and to the state legislatures, who represent specified districts of the nation. The selection of senators by popular vote was a step from the federal system toward a democracy, where the voters make direct choice. The same method, if applied to the presidency, would still further depart from the federal system and make the will of the plurality effective at all times.

A WARRIOR BOLD

IS SERGEANT MAJOR ROONEY, VETERAN OF THREE WARS, AND TRUE AMERICAN

Forced by fate to exchange the adventurous life of a soldier of fortune for that of an itinerant salesman of pencils and other small wares might be considered a hardship by some. But if one has the hardy soul-fibre of a born fighter, and the resilient courage and ready wit of an Irishman to boot, one makes the best of it as being merely a part of the day's work.

Such, at least, is the philosophy of Sergeant Major Terence Rooney, a native of New York who was reared in Ireland and who, after an adventurous life in various parts of the globe, was today selling pencils in Glendale.

Rooney went through the Boer war in the British navy. He returned later to the land of his birth, and took up the risky, nomadic life of a steeple-jack. In 1914 he enlisted in the British army. When fifty miles off Sydney Heads his ship was torpedoed by an Austrian submarine. Rescued from an open boat in which he had been tossed upon the sea for three days and two nights, Rooney was so exhausted that he was placed in a hospital, where his strong constitution and indomitable spirit enabled him to recuperate in nine days.

Upon his dismissal from the hospital Rooney went to the Dardenelles as a member of an Australian engineering corps. Here he ran into a gas attack while laying wires and pontoon bridges. At this time gas attacks were a new phase of warfare and the Australians had no masks or protective equipment of any sort. The fighting Irishman's lungs were so badly damaged that this injury alone would have forever ended his following his work as a steeple-jack.

In 1917 he obtained a transfer to the first American division to take part in the engagement on the western front. He was gassed a second time, a rifle bullet got him in the knee, he was shrapnel-sprinkled with small wounds from head to foot, a machine-gun bullet wounded him in the neck—and then he was discharged. He was mentioned in three or four different dispatches for valor in action.

Sergeant Major Rooney gets a small pension and makes Los Angeles his home because his battered, battle-scarred body could no longer stand the rigors of the Eastern climate. He is loud in his praise of the Red Cross, and particularly of the Los Angeles branch.

Almost any kind of sustained work is impossible to Sergeant Rooney, but that his spirit has lost none of the qualities of the warrior and that he is still "some" fighter is shown by a little incident that occurred in San Pedro recently.

It seems that the Sergeant Major was visiting friends in San Pedro one day. In admiration of his many valiant deeds and in sympathy for his present semi-invalid condition, these friends staged a little party in his honor. The refreshments proved too much for the constitution of the soldier who had been gassed in the Gallipoli campaign, and consequently he was "invalided" to the county jail for the night, to recuperate.

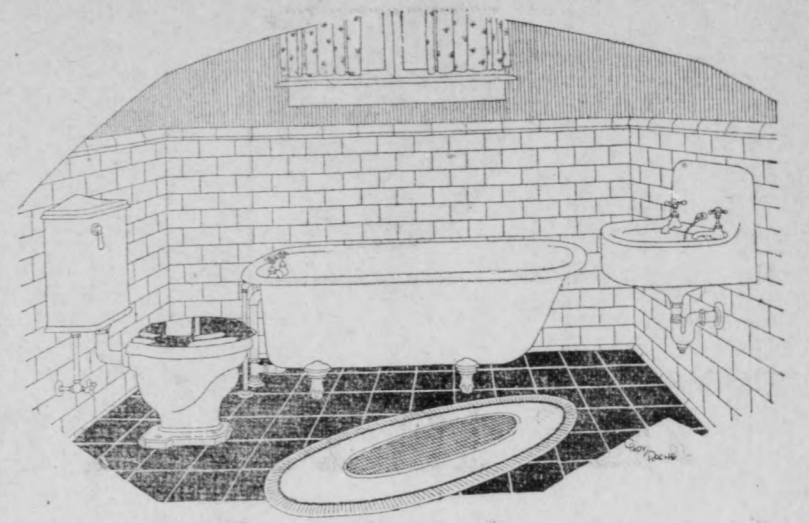

Meanwhile and unshaved soviet, Emil Ray by name, was lodged in jail to save his life from an irate mob of soldiers, sailors and civilians who had taken exception to the brand of doctrine he had been handing out from a soap box on a street corner.

To Terence Rooney, loyal member of the American Legion, the sight of this Ray person was like a red rag to a bull. Rooney, of course, has no patience with sovietism, shaved, or unshaven; and he swore the minute he laid eyes on Ray that the two of them simply couldn't stay alive in the same jail. By the time they succeeded in parting them Ray's name was an awful misnomer; he looked like the merest glimmer, in fact.

But then, the French say—what would you? When one is a veteran of three wars, one must have a little excitement, once in a while.

And besides, no member of the American Legion can stand for sovietism. Certainly Sergeant Major Rooney can't.

I Won't Handle Board Insurance

A year ago an attempt was made to force me to handle Board Company Insurance, but I refused to join a combination whose object is the elimination of competition and the raising of rates.

Board Rates Have Room to Drop

Now, an organization of Glendale Insurance men is advertising that it has been instrumental in lowering Board Insurance rates. These rates went up a year ago and so had considerable room to drop. They haven't come down yet as low as the rates I am offering in Independent companies, some of the very best Fire Insurance Companies in the United States.

My Rates are Lower Than Board Rates

I HAVE BEEN SELLING INSURANCE AT THE SAME RATE FOR 23 YEARS—I NEVER RAISED AND NOW I DON'T HAVE TO COME DOWN, FOR MY RATES ARE LOWER THAN THOSE OF BOARD COMPANIES AFTER THEY HAVE BEEN REDUCED.

ASK YOUR BANKER AND THE BUSINESS MEN OF GLENDALE.

I have been in the county 23 years and I am going to stay. I'm going to keep on selling good fire insurance at independent rates. I have an expert on writing insurance in my office, we do our own adjusting and you know right where to find me when you desire an adjustment. We pay losses promptly.

What's the Advantage of Board Insurance? Absolutely None

The stability and ability to pay of every fire insurance company rests entirely upon its own financial resources. The board gives you no additional guarantees or protection in the event of loss, and each company stands alone, whether belonging to the board or not.

Before being admitted to California, every insurance company is required to furnish essential data to the insurance commissioner, and submit to a rigid examination of its assets and liabilities. Furthermore, they are in no instance allowed to issue policies in California until affidavits as to their sound financial condition have been made and checked by the commissioner of the state in which their charter was granted. It then becomes optional with them whether they affiliate with the board of fire underwriters or carry on their business independent of that organization.
