Turkey Refuses to Accept League Arbitration of Mosul Dispute

ANGORA GOVERNMENT HOLDS MOSUL ARBITRATION SCHEME SHOULD NOT BE COMPULSORY

Turks Not Prepared to Bind Themselves to Accept Award Under League Direction Designed to Settle Boundary Dispute With Great Britain

London, Nov. 27.—The Exchange Telegraph reports that the Turkish Council of Ministers, led by Mustapha Kemal Pasha, has decided to refuse compulsory arbitration by the League of Nations in the dispute with Great Britain over the Mosul territory, in northern Mesopotamia.

Instructions to that effect were given to the Turkish Foreign Minister, who is to leave for Geneva to-morrow, the dispatch adds.

The Permanent Court of International Justice at The Hague last Saturday ruled that the decision of the League of Nations Council in the Mosul dispute should be binding upon the parties concerned and should constitute definite determination of the frontier between Turkey and Mosul.

BRIAND FORMS MINISTRY TO TEST PARTY STRENGTH IN FRENCH HOUSE

Paris, Nov. 27.—Aristide Briand announced to-night he had formed a cabinet to succeed the Painleve Ministry, which resigned last Sunday.

M. Briand will hold the portfolio of Foreign Affairs in addition to the premiership, according to the semi-official Havas Agency.

The same authority said Louis Loucheur would be Minister of Finance, Paul Painleve Minister of War and M. Chautemps Minister of Justice.

BIG GUNS CEASE TO BOOM OVER CITY'S WATER BILL

Private Bills Committee Closes Hearing

Argument upon the Bill to validate expropriation of the Esquimalt Waterworks closed before the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature this morning, Chairman Perry thinking those attending for the assistance. He hoped that the Bill, as reported to the Legislature, "will bring peace and goodwill among all the districts concerned."

Opportunity will be given all interested to study with the committee the final draft of the Bill, in conference with the committee, Chairman Perry stated.

E. B. Hallall laid before the committee a written denial of any knowledge of commission or bribe being offered or paid in connection with the expropriation, declaring "without qualification" that any such statements are "absolutely false," and asserting his willingness if required, to go on oath in support of his statement.

City Solicitor Pringle explained to the committee the basis on which water charges should be calculated. He showed that the cost of the Esquimalt waterworks, up to the city limits, aggregate $2,804,000, with total fixed charges of $156,000 annually for interest, sinking fund, maintenance and operation. As a result of the steady increase in consumption of water, chiefly by Victoria, the cost of these charges for each 1,000 gallons supplied had been reduced from 11.2 cents in 1917 to 9.86 cents in 1924. Therefore, in that period, Saanich had received a free

NEW TREATMENT FOR PARESIS

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Malaria germs have been used to combat paresis, or softening of the brain, with some success, Dr. Sydney Kuh, psychiatrist at Rush Medical College of the University of Chicago, announced to-day.

The other ministers will be: Interior—Edouard Daladier, Navy—Georges Leygues, Education—M. Roustan, Commerce—Janpel Vincent, Public Works—Anatole de Monsie, Labor—Antoine Durafour, Colonies—Leon Perrier, Agriculture—Jean Durand.

CHANGES EXPECTED. The list of the new cabinet was given out at the Foreign Office before M. Briand went to the Elysee Palace to notify the President of his success in forming a government. It was said it might be subject to changes at the last minute.

One of these changes may be in the portfolio of Finance, since the acceptance of M. Loucheur is doubtful.

Among those with whom M. Briand talked this afternoon was former Finance Minister Joseph Caillaux.

It is said M. Briand plans to appear in Parliament within three days and get a vote of confidence so he will be able to go to London December 1 and sign the Locarno treaties.

FRANCE PLAN. M. Briand's heart is set on carrying out the work of pacification commenced at Locarno, and as he has no special competency in dealing with financial subjects, one of his first cares will be to get together a committee of experts whose duty it will be to suggest to the Minister of Finance reforms which will be capable of putting the country on a sound financial basis again.

TWO MEN KILLED IN CHICAGO GUN FIGHT

Police and Taxi Driver Lost Lives; Four Gangsters Made Their Escape

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Two men, one a policeman, were killed and two men, including a policeman, were wounded in a tobacco shop in the south side of this city early to-day in a shooting affray in which one of four assailants was described by the wounded policeman as Martin Durkin, fugitive police slayer. The Durkin gang escaped.

The policemen had been spending the last five nights in the shop. Shortly after midnight, while they were talking to five hangers in the shop, the quartette entered and the shooting began. It is thought the policeman had been assigned to the shop on a tip that Durkin might visit there.

James Carroll, one of the policemen, and Ben Custer, a taxicab driver, were killed; James Henry, the other policeman, was probably fatally wounded, and Gus Schneider, a hanger, was slightly injured. Henry said Durkin was one of the men.

The shop is located in an area known as the "habitat of gangsters" and is not far from the flat where Durkin escaped a police trap after killing a detective sergeant nearly a month ago.

DR. RAYNOR IS BADLY BURNED BY EXPLOSION

Physician Wrapped in Flame When Attempting to Light Fire With Gasoline

Terribly burned when gasoline which he had mistaken for coal oil exploded in the heat of a fire which he had just lighted this morning, Dr. Melbourne Raynor, prominent physician and surgeon of this city, now lies in St. Joseph's Hospital. Always a cautious man where chemicals and explosive materials were concerned, his family is at a loss to explain how the accident occurred.

Mrs. Raynor, wife of the physician, saved her husband's life. Hearing cries of agony from the kitchen, Mrs. Raynor hastened from her bed shortly after 7 o'clock this morning and looked for the cause of the confusion. She beheld her husband, a writhing shape of flame fighting in the garden to extinguish the fire which licked at his face and body, and trying to reach the torturing clothing from himself.

Mrs. Raynor caught up some old clothing which lay near at hand and sped to her husband's aid. He was fighting desperately to free himself from the flames. Mrs. Raynor, herself exposed to burns, forced her husband to the ground and smothered the flames that were searing his flesh.

Mrs. Raynor then hastened to call an ambulance and Dr. J. M. Fowler, Dr. Fowler, who attended Dr. Raynor, declared that his patient was terribly, if not dangerously burned, and that it was impossible to tell what eventualities might arise out of such serious injuries.

Dr. Raynor, this morning, was resting more comfortably at St. Joseph's Hospital, and his burns had been dressed, alleviating the pain. His face, chest, hands, arms and neck were very badly burned, Dr. Fowler said. The explosion, he said, was a "MISTAKE."

The story of the accident, as Mrs. Raynor explained it this morning, lay in the physician's mistaking a bottle of gasoline for coal oil. The fumes of gasoline were strong following the explosion.

Dr. Raynor, it appeared, had got up to build the kitchen fire. It is thought he had taken what he believed to be a bottle of coal oil, to set a quick fire. The explosion caught his clothing and wrapped him in flame.

SYRIAN CHRISTIANS FLEE BEFORE BANDITS

Rebel Tribesmen Active in Homs Region; Many Schools Have Been Closed

Beirut, Syria, Nov. 27.—Fresh bandit outbreaks have occurred at Homs, in Northern Syria, where many schools have been closed.

Some of the Christians are seeking protection in the compounds of the foreign missions, while others are fleeing in the direction of the Mediterranean.

Two steamships have landed French reinforcements from Tripoli for a forced march to Homs. The railway has been cut between Homs and Rasbaabek, to the south. The rebellious Druse tribesmen recently routed by French reinforcements in the vicinity of Rasbaabek, west of Damascus, are retreating precipitately, burning and pillaging villages in their flight.

The losses of the tribesmen are reported to have been heavy. They left on the field in the vicinity of Rasbaabek more than 200 dead and it is known they carried many of their dead away with them.

NEW BONDS OF GOODWILL BETWEEN CANADA AND U.S. FORGED AT BANQUET HERE

Washington State Legislators, Entertained by B.C. Lawmakers, Urge Return Visit to Continue Friendly Relations of British Columbia and its Neighbor.

New ties of friendship between Canada and the United States were forged last night when members of the Washington State Legislature sat down with members of the British Columbia Legislature at a historic banquet. The occasion was unique in the history of relations between the United States and the British Empire for never in the past have the legislators of an American State fraternized as a body with the law-makers of a British country.

The banquet was significant also as the beginning of increasingly friendly associations between British Columbia and the neighboring State of Washington. After expressing Washington's thanks for the hospitality extended to its representatives here, Hon. W. Johnson, Lieutenant-Governor of the State, officially invited British Columbia legislators to pay a return visit to Olympia at the earliest possible date—a suggestion received with enthusiasm by the British Columbians.

"British Columbia has been singled out for two peculiar honors at the hands of the United States," said Premier Oliver in welcoming the guests to this Province. "I recall that the late eminent President of the United States, Mr. Harding, chose British Columbia to extend a message to the people of Canada."

Again to-night we are honored in a unique way by the visit of the members of the Washington State Legislature, a visit, if I am correct, which is without precedent in the history of the two countries. To-night I wish to extend to you, by virtue of my position, the kindest greetings from the people of British Columbia."

DEFINITE WINE MOVE ON WAY IN B.C. HOUSE NOW

Members Sponsoring Wine Sale by Glass Testing Out Feeling of Legislature

Hope For Support From Districts Where Small Fruits, Suitable For Wine Grown

A definite move to bring about the sale of wines in British Columbia beer parlors is now on the way among private members of the Legislature, it was learned to-day. Under present plans the members favoring this radical departure in British Columbia's liquor laws will introduce their proposal when the Liquor Act is under general review, as it is expected to be before the end of the session.

Chief support for the wine proposal, it is expected, will come from members representing constituencies in which small fruits suitable for use in manufacture are grown. A number of representatives of such districts, it was learned to-day, are favorable to the move and are waiting for a suitable opportunity to test the opinion of the House on it. Investigations are being carried on now to find out whether the wine sale scheme would have a reasonable chance of success in the assembly.

Definite announcement that the Government was not sponsoring wine sale was made a few days ago by Attorney-General Manson, who said that no such scheme was under consideration. How members of the Legislature might be induced to propose it if emanated from private members, however, is not known.

The chief argument used by those favoring wine is that its sale would result in the use of enormous quantities of small fruits to the great advantage of fruit growers.

Toronto, Nov. 27.—The Ontario Government will bend every possible effort to obtain as soon as possible the remaining 6,000 tons of Alberta coal still due this province under the contract entered into by the Alberta, Ontario and Federal Governments through the Canadian National Railway, Hon. Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines, stated to-day. About 19,000 tons of coal were received out of the 25,000-ton trial order prior to the railway withdrawing its cars for the grain movement.

FIRE FIGHTING COSTS PROVINCE NEARLY MILLION

Season of 1925, With Expenses Running to $958,610, Most Costly in History

Expenditures from the Forest Protection Fund of the Province during the current year since April 1, totaled $958,610, according to information supplied to the Legislature to-day by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands. There is no money standing to the credit of the fund at present and its outstanding liabilities are $160,000.

The total expenditures on fire fighting during 1925 totaled $958,610, the largest amount in history. The year 1922, when $841,000 was spent, was the next heaviest year since 1910, but Mr. Pattullo pointed out that these years were recognized as abnormally hazardous.

The fire hazard of the Province has increased greatly during the past ten years, he said, due to the increased logging operations and the increased recreational use of the forests. Logging operations in 1910, (Concluded on page 2)

J. G. SCHURMAN IS FOR LIMITATION OF ARMAMENTS

Berlin, Nov. 27.—Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, United States Ambassador, touched on the subject of disarmament at the Thanksgiving dinner of the American colony in Berlin yesterday.

THIRTY-NINE LOST LIVES IN STORMS

The severe conditions, accompanied by fog, have caused considerable inconvenience in road and river traffic throughout the country, while racing fixtures have been abandoned and telephonic communication between London and Paris broken.

LONDON HONORS MEMORY OF DOWAGER QUEEN AS FUNERAL SERVICE HELD IN ABBEY TO-DAY

King George and Kings of Denmark, Belgium and Norway and Prince of Wales and Crown Princes of Sweden, Rumania, Norway, Denmark and Belgium March Behind Casket Through London Streets; Queen Mary and Queens of Spain, Norway and Belgium Attend Service in Abbey

London, Nov. 27.—Winter, reaching out an icy hand, laid a tribute on the bier of the gentle Alexandra, the British Empire's Queen Mother, to-day, covering the casket with a fleecy blanket of snow as it was moved on a gun carriage from the royal chapel in St. James Palace to Westminster Abbey, where the simplest of funeral services was held. Thus the "Sea King's Daughter" departed from the capital of the British Empire as she had entered it, for the snow was falling on that day sixty-two and a half years ago when she came from Denmark to be the bride of King Edward VII.

Close behind the casket, walking alone and with bowed head, came her son, King George V, muffled in the great coat and wearing the plumed hat of a field marshal, which also received a coating of white flakes before the procession had gone far.

STANDARD ON CASKET. Ahead, behind this solitary figure, came the Kings of Belgium, Norway and Denmark, and back of them, the Prince of Wales and his brothers and the Crown Princes of Rumania, Sweden, Denmark, Norway and Belgium, with Lord Lascelles and other notables who have married into the royal family. Under royal coats these royal figures wore the dress uniforms of the ranks they hold, either in the army or navy of Great Britain, but of the uniforms only the gold-braided bands relieved the sterner shades of the funeral procession. There was but a single other spot of color—the royal standard of the late Queen with which the casket was draped.

At the boom of a gun, marking 11 o'clock the casket was brought from the royal chapel and placed on the same gun carriage used at the funeral of Queen Victoria and Edward VII.

At a word of command the escorting companies of guards fell into step, King George emerged from the palace and the procession began. It measured march through the Mall, Trafalgar Square and Whitehall.

Gen. Wu and Gen. Feng Said to be Chief Figures Now in Northern China

Tokio, Nov. 27.—Foreign Office advices from China indicate to-day that no important military developments are under way, although there were no predictions as to the future action of the various leaders. The Japanese believe the situation is generally in the hands of General Wu Pei-fu and General Feng Yuxiang.

Marshal Chang Tso-lin, warlord of Manchuria, is considered to have been virtually eliminated unless some unexpected coup d'etat is sprung.

The Government spokesman said Japan was not considering the sending of any more troops to Manchuria.

Henry Behnsen Caused Up- roar in Early Morning Street Brawl

Three night revelers were arrested before Police Magistrate George Jay in the morning session of the court to-day, and Henry Behnsen, one of the most boisterous of the party, was fined $15 for creating a disturbance and fighting in a public place. Behnsen is a pugilist. Constable Clark took him, together with his sparring partner of the evening, into the patrol wagon at 4:15 a.m. to-day.

Mrs. Behnsen and her husband had attended a party together with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Holstead last night. They believed it was a birthday party, but were not aware that Mrs. Behnsen and Mr. and Mrs. Holstead had started home after the party, said Mrs. Holstead, telling her story as a witness this morning. Behnsen had been quarrelling with his wife, Holstead had interferred, and had precipitated a fight on Pandora Avenue.

Magistrate Jay, considering the case, said that Behnsen was doubtless to blame for the trouble, dismissed the other two, and fined Behnsen $15.

BIG GUNS CEASE TO BOOM OVER CITY'S WATER BILL

Gift from Victoria of over $42,000 in water at less than cost, while Oak Bay had benefited by over $34,000. Reeve Minto had denied Mayor Pen-dray's charges, declaring that the bor- ings referred to by the mayor yesterday had been in July, after the increase in charges had been put into effect by the city. Mayor Pen-dray stood to his guns, declaring that the Reeve had made an effort to come to an agreement, and promised to supply documentary proof of his attempts to get a meet- ing.

Ex-Mayor Morley informed the committee that he would have been a signatory to the opposition petition had he been in Victoria, but thought- fulness of the matter led the Mayor to remedy conditions. "I am in favor of taking over the Es- timate works when it becomes nec- essary," he said, being of opinion that the strike system will be ade- quate for all the needs of Victoria for twenty years to come.

Frank Higgins objected to the Es- timate Company being allowed to handle the sinking fund to be set aside by the city, believing financial jugglery would reduce the interest earnings to nominal figures to pro- long the period the city pays 6 1/2 per cent interest on $325,000.

NEW BONDS OF GOODWILL BETWEEN CANADA AND U.S. FORGED AT BANQUET HERE

FROM COMMON STOCK

Americans and Canadians, the Premier pointed out, come from a common stock. "And you as legis- lators know," he added, "that leg- islative enactments we go back to the same source and inspiration—the Common Law of England. In my lifetime the United States has seen a tremendous improvement in its political life, and that improvement has not been confined to one side of the border either. Both countries, I believe, are marching onward and upward."

ONE PEOPLE

"We are one people and cannot be otherwise," Lieutenant-Governor Johnson declared as he rose to ex- press the thanks of the visiting leg- islators and to invite the British Columbia members to visit Olympia in the near future. The world's friend- liest feelings from Washington. This, I believe, is a historical occasion, and it seems proper at this time to ex- press the hope of the United States that British Columbia and Canada and the whole British Empire will continue to grow and prosper, and that the two English-speaking peo- ples of the world will for long work together for the peace and welfare of humanity."

J. W. de B. Farris, former British Columbia Attorney-General, who proposed the toast to the guests, painted a moving picture of Can- adians and Americans fighting to- gether for a common cause in the field of France. "But peace," he said, "has its victories and its achievements no less than war. It is for the American people and the British people to carry on together as their soldiers did on the battle fields overseas. The world to-day hangs breathless upon the friendship between the two great English- speaking peoples. Let us keep the boundary line between Canada and the United States, but concentrate ourselves to another century of peace."

THANKS B.C.

"We appreciate more than we can tell the kindness and hospitality which has been extended to us to- night," Mr. Speaker Danahy, of the Washington Legislature declared.

R. H. Pooley, Opposition leader in the British Columbia Legislature, recalled that the British Commis- sioner sent out to investigate the boundary dispute between Canada and the United States in the early days of Western settlement had re- ported against the inclusion of Wash- ington, Oregon and Idaho in Can- ada because he had found the fishing pier in the lower reaches of the Columbia River. "That was a serious mistake," said Mr. Pooley, "because to-day we know that those three states are as jewels of the United States nation just as British Colum- bia is the jewel of Canada."

Other speakers during the evening were Senator Groff and Floor Lead- er Simons of the Washington House, Ian Mackenzie and Major R. J. Burde of the British Columbia House, George Miller of the Washington State Press Gallery, P. C. Bayliss and Major W. A. de Graves, Presi- dent of the British Columbia Legis- lative Press Gallery.

Mr. Speaker Buckham presided at the banquet.

reached the entrance of the Abbey and the coffin was placed on the darkened building on the shoulders of eight Guardsmen, who placed it upon a catafalque before the high altar. QUEENS ATTENDED

In the Abbey, waiting for the procession, Queen Mary, dressed in deep black, her face covered with a heavy veil, and around her were the Queens of Spain, Norway and Belgium, Princess Mary, the Duchess of York and several scores of relatives.

The queen and her party had driven directly from the palace, arriving more than half an hour before the funeral procession.

Queen Mary was visibly affected throughout the service. She raised her handkerchief to her eyes when the casket was brought into the Ab- bey and several times found it im- possible to continue in the singing of the hymns.

ARCHBISHOP READ SERVICE

The Archbishop of Canterbury read the service, the lessons and the col- lect, between which the hymns were sung. A short blessing, as the whole congregation knelt, followed the last hymn, and the quiet funeral rites were ended with "God Save the King."

The king left his place, followed by the queen and other royalties, to the strains of Chopin's "Funeral March." After their withdrawal the con- gregation departed silently, leaving the casket on the catafalque alone before the altar of the great choir.

As the building was emptied, the sun suddenly shone forth, its rays streaming through the win- dows and playing over the pier.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the doors were again opened and a long procession began of those of the general public desirous of paying tribute to the dead Queen for the last time. The coffin, after remaining in the Abbey all of to-night, will be carried to-morrow morning to Windsor for burial in the private chapel.

Major McKay acted for the crown. EXPLANATION BY COUNSEL

A feature of the sitting of the ap- peal court today was the explana- tion offered by the court by Major McKay, whose expression, "It must be remembered these men are China- men," was the cause of a severe re- sult from the bench Thursday after- noon.

At that time Mr. Justice Martin told the crown counsel he had made a very unfortunate remark. Major McKay explained his remark had been entirely as a re- minder of the difference in moral perspective between Oriental and Occidental races. He assured the judge he had not wished to imply, especially in his position as public prosecutor, that justice should be influenced by the nationality of the man at the bar.

when the forest fire fighting cost was only $213,000, numbered 250, whereas in 1924 they numbered 3,167. Motor cars in 1920 numbered 1026 and in 1925 there were 54,759.

Fire fighting costs in the five lum- bering states of the American Pa- cific Coast, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and California were only $1,740,000 in 1921, while in 1925 they had jumped to $5,929,000. The area patrolled in these five states ag- gregated 351,995,999 acres only a shade greater than the 325,000,000 acres patrolled by British Columbia at a cost of less than $1,000,000 this year, the most costly year in the history of the Province.

ESCAPE FROM GERMS PERILS

THAT THREATEN THROAT & CHEST

The germs of colds, gripe, in- fluenza, and throat troubles are a real peril to everybody. Carried in with the air we breathe they fasten on to the soft delicate mem- brane of the breathing passages, multiply rapidly and spread irritation and inflammation wherever they go.

The safest and best means of com- bating this germ peril, is to dissolve a Peps tablet in your mouth whenever the throat feels in the least sore or inflamed.

Peps are a soothing, invigorating and germ-destroying medicine. Their volatile fumes thoroughly disinfect the throat, bringing quick relief from pain and irritation. They put an end to mis- chievous germs before they are able to carry trouble along into chest and bronchials.

Note that every genuine Peps tablet is wrapped in a silver jacket to preserve its freshness and strength—it is also stamped with registered name—PEPS.

DUNCAN BOARD OF TRADE DEBATES VARIOUS QUESTIONS

Special to The Times
Duncan, Nov. 27.—The regular quarterly meeting of the Duncan Board of Trade was held on Wednesday evening with President Walter J. Tanner in the chair. Members present were Messrs. Neel, Macmillan, Kirkham, Peterson, Smythe, Duncan, Hatray, Brockway, B. Hope, P. Campbell, Dr. Kerr, Capt. Barry, Col. S. K. B. Rice and Rev. Bryce Wallace.

Correspondence received regarding rent of room, telephone communication between Glenside and Duncan, and removal of arbitrary rates between the island and mainland referred to the respective committees. The following proposed amendment to the by-laws was carried: "At the annual meeting the members of the board present shall elect by ballot a president and vice-president and twelve other members who, with the immediate past president, shall constitute the council for the ensuing year and shall hold office until others are elected in their stead."

Regarding the electric power it was reported that there had been no progress to date.

Regarding the fisheries matter satisfactory progress is reported following the round table talk which Hon. J. A. Motherwell had in Duncan last week with members of the Board of Trade and the Fisheries Commission.

Mr. H. A. Stuart, division freight agent of the Canadian National Railways, Grand Trunk Pacific Coast Steamship Company Limited, will be asked to meet the board regarding the local railway situation at Cowichan Bay and Duncan to the west.

Mr. Neil McIver was a new member elected.

Mr. T. Godfrey of the Land Settlement Board gave an interesting address on the "Empire Settlement Act," with particular reference to the 3,000 British family scheme. The Canadian Government will supply land, the cost of which is to be repaid in twenty-five annual instalments and interest at five per cent, beginning after the second season. The British Government to supply up to £200 for implements and livestock. Mr. Godfrey explained the policy of the Government in this scheme, the idea being to teach the settler not to lean on the Government but to be resourceful. Most of the farms will be reverted soldier settlement farms. Price of farm land to be set by a special independent advisory committee.

The Board of Trade satisfied its willingness to co-operate with the Land Settlement Board in welcoming settlers who come here under the Government scheme as outlined by Mr. Godfrey.

SEWING SOCIETY
The members of St. Peter's Sewing Society held a very successful sale of work in the Parish Hall on Wednesday afternoon, at which over $100 was realized.

The work stall, filled with useful and fancy articles, in charge of Mrs. W. P. Haynes, did a brisk trade, whilst Mrs. D. Macvicar, Mrs. Wright and Miss Bertha Hadwen soon disposed of their tempting display of cooked food of all kinds.

The name of the dainty dolly, carried around by Mrs. E. Price, proved to be Catherine, and was won by Mrs. Henry Mackenzie.

The delicious-looking cake, made and donated by Miss Edgson, for people to tell the weight of, found many guessers. Four ladies, Mrs. Eustace, Mrs. Alderson, Mrs. Tull and Mrs. Collard, were correct in their guess, and on the draw Mrs. Tull was the fortunate winner.

Afternoon tea was managed by Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Stanhope and Mrs. Lundie, and the Misses Eve Bazett, Nell Blythe, Patricia Carr-Hilton, Dorothy Green and Mary Simpson acted as waitresses.

Mrs. John Fox, the energetic president of the society, worked hard in every department and great credit is due to her for the success of the entertainment.

At the rural-decanal conference of the Nanaimo Deanery held in St. John's Hall on Tuesday morning, at which the rural dean, Archdeacon H. A. Collison presided, a strong resolution was passed advocating Bible reading in the schools.

A. B. Meritt of Victoria gave an excellent address on the subject of a national laymen's committee of the General Synod.

Emergency committee—Comrades L. A. Knox, Hatter and Jackson. Visiting committee—Comrades Knox and Bischoff.

Home committee—Comrades Gorton and P. Giles. Mrs. Moss, O.B.E., and Miss J. Jeffares are to be made active members, instead of honorary members as heretofore.

A resolution was passed that the question of holding an ex-service men's reunion should be referred to a committee of those interested.

The lecture by Miss Campbell and the bridge afternoon, which the Order of the Daughters of the Empire were planning to hold this week, have both been postponed until after the funeral of Queen Alexandra.

LOWER RAIL RATES FOR FRUIT FROM B.C.

Winter Charges to Prairies Only Ten Per Cent Above Summer Rates

Vancouver, Nov. 27.—British Columbia fruits and vegetables will move to the prairie provinces this winter under unusually low express rates, reduction in the rates having been announced, to become effective December 1.

The special Summer rates on fruit and vegetables terminated on November 30, but instead of bringing into force the second class rates customarily applying from December 1 to April 30, the railway express companies are introducing a tariff which is only ten per cent above the special Summer rates.

MURDER IN CHILCOITIN REGION IS REPORTED

Police Say F. Cyr Confessed He Killed Alex. Ducharme, Pioneer Trapper

Holding of Inquest at Redstone Difficult Task For Authorities

Williams Lake, B.C., Nov. 27.—Through the telephone here Provincial Police Chief Gallagher listened to a dramatic story of an alleged murder in one of the wildest spots of the Chilcoitin district. At the other end of the wire Constable Ian McIvor reported Fred Cyr had appeared at police headquarters and confessed he had killed Alex. Ducharme, a pioneer British Columbia trapper, about sixty-four years of age, as the result of a quarrel over a trap line near Chilko Lake on November 5.

According to the alleged confession, Cyr, after shooting Ducharme, buried the body in a grave he had dug three and a half feet in the frozen earth near the scene of the tragedy. McIvor telephoned from Hanceville. He said Cyr had made the alleged confession to him there after having been properly warned by the constable that what he said might be used against him. The dispute, he is said to have told the police, was over the ownership of the trap line.

LONG JOURNEY
Chief Gallagher, who left immediately for the Chilcoitin district, ordered Fred Cyr to be held in custody at Hanceville till he arrived there. It will take fourteen days to make the trip in and out to where the body is alleged to have been buried, and it will be necessary to take Cyr as a guide to the place.

An inquest will be held by Coroner Hubert Campbell of Williams Lake, attended by Dr. Charters of Alexis Creek, at Redstone in the Chilcoitin, as soon as possible. As Chief Gallagher, Constable McIvor and Constable H. P. Hughes of Hanceville are the most important witnesses at the trial over the Queen's Dam school site, to be held at the Assizes at Prince George, December 2, it is expected that Chief Gallagher and others the inquest will not be held till after the Assizes.

If the constables should go in to Chilko Lake now to examine the body and hold an inquest where a jury can be empanelled, they will not be able to attend the assizes at Prince George.

USE SNOWSHOES
There are no people living where the murder took place, and it would be exceedingly difficult to take a doctor, coroner and jury in there at this time of the year. Most of the work will have to be done on foot, snowshoes and saddle horses.

Communism in Schools is Plan of G. Bernard Shaw

London, Nov. 27.—Picturing life in an idealistic Socialist state, George Bernard Shaw wound up the Fabian Society's annual popular lecture course last night by declaring the standard day would be four hours of work, eight hours of sleep and four hours for drinking, dressing, undressing and a little resting. That would leave eight hours for leisure.

The first postulate of the Socialists, said Shaw, was that everybody must have the same income. For a person to get a penny more or less than his fellows would be a crime. He declared every child should be given a communist education and defended birth control and divorce, asserting marriages were happy only by the method of trial and error. He advocated a new western religion, and in fact, said everything provocative he could think of—secondly, education—himself, thoroughly before a crowded house.

The receipts from the paid admissions will go to the Fabian Treasury.

Arrests Followed Attempt to Rob

Vancouver, Nov. 27.—Three men in the red and blue to-day are believed by the police to have attempted to rob the government customs offices in the rear of the post office building of drugs stored there.

Officials are of the opinion a daring try to make a wholesale haul of dope was frustrated when the men were discovered by H. F. Sherwood, customs guard, whom they slugged in making their escape.

Those under arrest, charged with assault with intent to rob, are: Thos. H. Fitzgerald, thirty-nine, giving his occupation as dancing teacher; John Cunningham, twenty-one, and Alexander McDougall, eighteen.

TAXES BEING REDUCED INTEREST IN THE BUDGET SPEECH

Delivered by the Minister of Finance yesterday naturally centres in the proposals for the reduction of taxation.

One of these is to cut the income tax by $500,000, which it is expected will be met by more vigorous pressure upon delinquents.

The other is a ten per cent. reduction of the personal property tax where it affects business adversely, with the prospect of complete abolition of this charge next year if some other source of revenue can be devised.

Reduction of taxation is always welcome everywhere, and in this Province the Minister's announcement will be received with no little satisfaction.

It will be regarded as the reflection of a desire on the part of the Government to lighten the burdens which bear so heavily upon the public.

It is significant, therefore, more for what it indicates than for the actual rate or amount of reduction involved.

The Times hopes the Hon. J. D. MacLean will be able to keep up the good work.

We suggest, however, that the reservation attached to the proposed ten per cent. reduction of the personal property tax be withdrawn.

How is the Department of Finance going to determine where the imposition of the tax affects business adversely? There are very few establishments which will not claim that this tax injures their business.

More than that, the reservation may expose the Department, no matter how fair or just it may desire to be, to charges of discrimination.

It would be better for all concerned if the reduction were made without any strings, better for both the Department and business. In any case the personal property tax is unsound and illogical and ought to be abolished just as soon as this can be effected without imposing any further burdens elsewhere.

We congratulate the Minister upon his favorable statement of provincial finances, particularly upon his estimate of a surplus for next year, on combined current and capital account.

We hope that no unforeseen developments will arise to mar the picture. It is also satisfactory to note the progress the Province is making in an industrial way, particularly the growing volume of its production based upon the development of our basic resources.

Like our morning contemporary, however, we are a little puzzled by figures contrasting the per capita exports of British Columbia with those of the Dominion for the nine months ending last September.

These are given as $281 and $13.80 respectively. The total Dominion exports for the twelve months ending September were $1,170,000,000 or $150 per capita.

In another table, we note that while British Columbia is credited with exports of $281 per capita, Saskatchewan is put at $13.25 and Alberta at $3.77. As those two provinces account for about eighty per cent of Canada's large exports of wheat, not to speak of their enormous export of other agricultural products, it is evident that the comparative export figures given by the Minister do not show the origin, by provinces, of the goods shipped out of the country.

The Minister is entitled to a special tribute for the comprehensiveness of the budget. It contains a vast amount of information connected not only with the affairs with which his Department has to deal, but with the progress and standing of British Columbia among the provinces of the Dominion.

Our readers should study the lengthy part of it which appeared in The Times yesterday. They will find it worth their while.

EVERYBODY CAN HELP IT IS NOT A BIT OF USE THE PEOPLE of Victoria thinking that this community will go ahead unless they help in the pushing. A chamber of Commerce composed of archangels would be quite helpless in its efforts unless it could depend upon public support.

What chance has an ordinary body of mortals to render effective community service without energetic backing? The city's premier commercial organization holds forum meetings every month to which the general public is invited.

At these gatherings every constructive idea is welcomed. Some are practical and others are not; but the main thing is to get the ideas out into the open so that they can be fully examined. Only by following such a course is it possible to discover ways of progress.

These forum meetings ought to be popular with every energetic citizen. They are held for his benefit. The more he helps the Chamber the more he helps himself. The work of that body should be helped.

Its active supporters, the men who attend every meeting, are busy citizens ready and willing at all times to give their time—often at considerable expense and inconvenience—to assist in the promotion of local prosperity.

In this everybody can aid in some way. Those who imagine they are more or less helpless in such matters would find how simple it would be for them to render assistance if they would attend the forum and get the hang of its business and purpose.

There is an urgent need in this city to do things, to take a chance, to stimulate much more enterprise in the locality is to develop as it ought to and can develop.

GERMANY APPROVES THE PACT

GERMANY HAS GIVEN ANOTHER indication that she is no longer impressed by extreme nationalism of the type represented by General Ludendorff and his following.

The diversion he created during the first and second presidential election campaign left the people quite cold.

His third rebuff took the form of an overwhelming approval by the Reichstag yesterday of the Locarno agreements and the proposal that formal application for membership in the League of Nations should be made forthwith.

Germany is now ready to send her delegation to perform the ceremonial of signing the treaties with the representatives of the other parties to them.

Ludendorff and his junkers, the military diehards, have had their day and it looks as if the country will require much more persuasion than they can summon to agree to give them a show again.

Their campaign against ratification of the Locarno undertakings, as well as their organized opposition to membership in the League except on terms which the Nationalists would dictate, was roundly scored by the Conservative press, while the attitude of the general public is one of obvious relief that it has been possible to heal some of the old wounds and step once more in harmony with former enemy countries.

OUR SINKING FUNDS THAT PART OF THE BUDGET SPEECH which indicates the provision which British Columbia has made for sinking funds will be read with considerable interest by the taxpayers of the Province.

In comparison with other provinces we are entitled to consider ourselves fairly well off in this connection. There is nothing difficult or complicated in the job of borrowing money as long as security can be put up; but it is often quite another matter to pay it back.

As our sinking funds grow our economic position will improve. Drawing from them to retire bonds amounting to $3,130,000 on December 1 will be good business and an excellent advertisement for our financial condition.

There is nothing like evidences of provincial thrift of this kind to increase the value of our securities. The Province will not go far wrong as long as it takes a sound business course to prepare for paying-up days.

BRIAND ONCE MORE ONCE MORE FRANCE HAS TURNED to former Premier Briand in her somewhat unusually protracted hour of political crisis. Success did not attend the efforts of M. Herriot to form a government.

There are indications that both M. Caillaux and former Premier Painleve will be members of a new Ministry under Briand. It is the latter's intention to meet the Chamber at the earliest moment and obtain a vote of confidence. He will require it in order to go to London to sign the Locarno treaties.

Unless political stability is soon restored in France there will be grave danger of a coup. Rumors already are rife that the French Fascists are speculating on their prospects in a dash for power. No doubt this aspect of the situation is fully appreciated by the Premier-designate and will stimulate his efforts to spoil the idea.

Meanwhile the franc is in a very bad way without sign of improvement and the cost of living, which has shown a steady increase since the Summer of 1921, is almost exactly four times what it was before the war. Not a pleasant condition for any Prime Minister to face.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY UPKEEP

From The New York Times A small boy walking with his mother saw, for the first time in his life, a one-eyed man.

His mother said she supposed it had been cut off. Would it grow back? No, said the mother, it would never grow back.

"Well," said the youngster, "seems to me if the Lord made us he ought to keep us in repair."

RUSSIA ON THE RHINE From The Berlin Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung

The Russian section filled double the space it took up at the Spring Fair. This is the third time that the Russians have participated at the Cologne Fair.

They are noticeably making great efforts to gain a foothold in West German trade circles, nor have their efforts been unrewarded. The Russo-German commercial balance is in favor of Germany at present, but in the Russian opinion Germany is not as ready with her credits as Russia would like and this fact affords a certain hindrance to the further development of trade relations.

BICYCLE LIGHTS

To the Editor:—Now that the short day is here again the annual procession of the bicyclists is taken on too serious an aspect to let it go without asking the question, When do it become so necessary for the general welfare of the public in Victoria when cities in the East four to eight times the size of this have many years ago discarded their by-laws that bicyclists were required to carry a light at night? I have ridden a wheel for thirty years, and have never carried a light, or known the pedestrian or bicyclist to be any better protected by carrying a light than those who carried none.

RE LOGGING SCHEDULE

To the Editor:—Referring to your article in the issue of November 25, whereby all the credit for this work was heaped upon myself and again referring to your article of yesterday, where you expressed my regret for assistance rendered by Mr. Denison, allow me to say that much of the useful data supplied came from the B. C. Forestry Department, and was verified from weather reports supplied to me by Mr. Denison. During the period I was preparing this schedule, I had the whole-hearted support of the Life Insurance Agents' Association of Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, and had it not been for the kindly constructive criticism of my fellow agents above mentioned, all my efforts would have been of no avail.

I therefore wish to express my sincere thanks to all of the above-mentioned for helping to make practical application of the fund of useful data compiled by the Forestry Department and Mr. Denison at Gonzales Observatory.

D. W. CAMPBELL, Moody Block, Victoria, B.C., Nov. 27, 1925.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSIONER

To the Editor:—Many of your readers, doubtless, perused with surprise mingled with regret, your report of the speech delivered the other night by Mr. H. H. Shandley, president of the Liberal Association of this city, in which, according to your report, he stated that the Civil Servants of this city voted against the Liberal candidates as a protest against the Provincial Association of this city, in which, according to your report, he stated that the Civil Servants of this city voted against the Liberal and Conservative candidates were not considered by the Civil Servants, who he said, cast their ballots purely from the point of view of the dislike of the above-mentioned commissioner.

It is probable that those Civil Servants who voted in the polls would like to know by what particular means Mr. Shandley has discovered how they voted. They were, no doubt, under the impression that there was such a thing as the "secrecy of the ballot."

The insult hurled indiscriminately at this body of public servants (men and women) who are not permitted to reply for themselves) is, to my knowledge, deeply regretted by them, who count among their number many men and women of the finest calibre who have enough public spirit and interest in their Province to take Canada as a whole to weigh carefully the issues and vote accordingly.

To those who voted for Mr. Ivel; to those who voted against Mr. Ivel; and to those who did not vote at all, Mr. Shandley of your report is correct) has offered the greatest slight that can be given to intelligent citizens. Does the barrister suppose that the men and women whom he has referred to in this way, model their conduct upon the low principle suggested by Mr. Shandley, who invited everyone present at that meeting to enroll his name and stating, according to your report, that in future those who might come to his office seeking positions, if they were not at the (Liberal) meeting, would go out of his office faster than they came in.

The Civil Servants are a law-abiding body of faithful workers trying their best to serve impartially the successive governments that become their masters. They have to take a good deal which is very unpalatable from various sources, and being entirely unorganized from the point of view of their own protection, are quite unable to take action in their own behalf when a man of Mr. Shandley's exalted position thinks it wise to make insinuations against them.

I am hoping that Mr. Shandley has been incorrectly reported, or if correctly reported, may have spoken in the heat of the moment and under the goad of a distinctly partisan atmosphere. In his cooler moments he will endeavor to make amends.

MAN CONFESSES HE ATTACKED PRESIDENT T. Olshanski Threw Bomb at Wojciechowski of Poland; Surrenders to Berlin Police

Berlin, Nov. 27.—Teofil Olshanski, recently reported to have confessed he threw a bomb at President Wojciechowski of Poland last year, has voluntarily delivered himself to the Berlin police. He has made a detailed confession in which, according to the authorities, he admits his attempt to assassinate the Polish President was by order of a secret Ukrainian military organization which has now instructed him to make the report to the police to prevent the conviction of Stanislaw Steiger, a Zionist student undergoing trial on the charge of having thrown the bomb.

ELEPHANT ANSWERS TO KIND WORDS ONLY, FILM ACTRESS FOUND

Carol Dempster, screen star, has increased her education. Apart from knowing all about geometry, economics and other college subjects, she has learned all about elephants—at least all about Lucy, circus elephant, who has been appearing on the vaudeville stage for the last five years.

Miss Dempster didn't know a thing about elephants until she began playing the part of Sally McGargie in D. W. Griffith's latest picture, "Sally of the Sawdust," a United Artists Corporation release, which will appear all week at the Dominion.

Miss Dempster became acquainted with Lucy in a circus scene in which the elephant was supposed to stand on top of a small wash tub and turn completely around. Miss Dempster got Lucy on the tub but couldn't get her to turn around. She pinched Lucy's trunk and poked her leg. This resulted in the "toughness" of Lucy's hide Miss Dempster asked for a book, such as is often used on elephants.

But Lucy isn't that kind of an elephant. She doesn't get hooked. In fact, she has never been hooked. She does all her tricks to kind words and as soon as Miss Dempster learned the sweet words to which Lucy turns around the act was easy.

"It's all in knowing your cues, isn't it, Lucy?" said Miss Dempster, as the act was completed. Lucy nodded her head and wagged her trunk in a way that seemed to indicate Miss Dempster was correct.

YOUNG COMEDIAN HAS HAD HIS OPPORTUNITY IN CAPITOL PICTURE

In the motion picture world, promotion seldom starts from an office boy's position, at least among the actors.

But in "Where Was I?" a Universal-Jewel starring Reginald Denny, one of Universal's young student comedians who has been starring in "Sweet Sixteen" comedies was promoted to the role of office boy in the big Universal-Jewel production.

Arthur Lake is his name, and he has the part of Jimmy in "Where Was I?" which is showing at the Capitol this week.

Lake has been featured in a series of "Bluebird" comedies, he has won laurels of his own, and is regarded in the "trade" as a coming popular player in major productions. The story of "Where Was I?" concerns the adventures of a young man who is trying to determine where he was on January 9, 1920. He believes that to save his reputation he must discover his whereabouts on that day.

"ABIE'S IRISH ROSE" DRAWING CARD AT ROYAL

Sparkling Comedy by Anne Nichols is Distinctive in Its Appeal

"Abie's Irish Rose," which opened a three-days' engagement at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night, is a comedy dealing with the result of a marriage between a Jewish youth, son of a proud and intensely orthodox Hebrew, to the daughter of a typical Irish Catholic. This marriage takes place before a Methodist minister, and without the knowledge of her parents. When Abie brings his bride to his father's house, however, he finds the old man's prejudice against his marriage with any but a Jewess so strong and his hatred to anything Irish so keen, that he introduces Rosie as Miss Murphree of the orthodox faith. As such she is made speedily welcome, and despite her own and Abie's fears, all seems to be going well when her father, accompanied by an Irish Catholic priest, Father Whalen, arrives on the scene, as he thinks, to witness her marriage according to the Catholic faith. But as she has just been married for the second time by a Rabbi, he is a trifle too late. The revelations of the secret marriage add to the bitterness with which both Solomon Levy and Patrick Murphy take their respective children's union, and the clash of racial and religious prejudice and viewpoint affords a basis upon which Miss Nichols has built up a comedy that holds more laughter than seen in any show of recent years.

"Abie's Irish Rose" will be repeated to-night and to-morrow afternoon and evening.

RELATION OF DRAMA TO COMEDY SHOWN IN HAROLD LLOYD STORY

Jobyna Balston, leading lady for Harold Lloyd and soon to be seen opposite him in "The Freshman," which comes to the Dominion next week, is firmly of the opinion that the best place to get dramatic training is in comedies. Jobyna always supplies the romantic interest in Harold Lloyd's features, and at the same time she is usually in the centre of the dramatic interest. Her scenes seldom require her to be funny, but she must be serious and dramatic.

"The relation of drama in a comedy is comparable with that of the axle to a wheel," says Miss Balston. "The gears revolve around the drama, and the more tense and serious the drama in a comedy, the greater is the appreciation of its humor. In a straight drama there is lacking this contrast. There the concentration on the dramatic is so tense that the big moments have little effect."

The Chickering Concert Grand used by this great artist last evening was supplied by us, as her Knabe Concert Grand, which she especially ordered, did not arrive in time for the recital. This superb Knabe may be seen on our floors during the next few days prior to its delivery to Gertrude Huntley Green's residence.

MUSIC LOVERS are invited to view and try both these Knabe and Chickering Concert Grand Pianos, for which we are sole agents.

CAPACITY HOUSE GREET'S LOCAL GIFTED PIANISTE

Bearing an illustrious name, particularly in Western musical spheres, it is to be regretted that Victoria's gifted pianist—Gertrude Huntley Green is not more frequently heard in recital locally. What an object lesson, an inspiration to all musicians, especially to all pianoforte players, if, at stated intervals of time, Mrs. Green could be persuaded to give, say, a programme of Chopin numbers, a programme of Bach or programmatic, or consisting of the works of the very early and the most modern masters.

Last evening Mrs. Green had the most cordial recognition at the hands of her fellow-citizens, a superbly rendered and carefully selected programme, given at the concert auditorium of the Congregational Church. The event had been greatly anticipated, and the large audience gathered more than its wonted custom, unmistakable manifestations of their pleasure and appreciation throughout the evening.

At times, Mozart's lovely "Pastorale With Variations," Schumann's graceful "Papillons," and immensely difficult "Toccata," and the superb "Polka in F sharp minor" (Chopin), and "Trina" (Albeniz), describing the joyous life in Spain, the delight of those present possessed no bounds, and again and again was the recitalist called to the platform to acknowledge the prolonged and enthusiastic plaudits of her completely satisfied hearers.

Mrs. Green talented as she is, possesses a rare combination of artistic qualities, and she never wears in research, analysis or comparisons. Whenever she plays one can depend upon an almost perfect picture as represented in the great works of the masters.

There is the phrase to a nicety, the thought, the scheme, the well-balanced degrees of tone color, the clearly-defined rhythmic utterances, the required style, each and every one devotedly studied and rehearsed, and these, together with her abundant temperament and perception, combined with the rare gift that she never becomes monotonous, all entitle her to rank among the first of the present-day pianists. In poetic disclosures she is a poetess, and the type of poetry that seemed most congenial to her were wrought in Chopin's "Fantasie," "Nocturne," in which the full depth of their poetry was sounded, "Papillons," "List's" "At the Spring," and the "Trina," all these giving plenty of scope to the flight of a soaring imagination. To the "Nocturne" and "Fantasie" she brought, too, a sense of tonal beauty that is one of her characteristics, and never has that tone been better produced and conveyed to her listeners than on the occasion of last evening. Indeed at no previous time has her powers been heard at such an illuminated angle.

The two opening numbers, the "Concert Allegro" (arranged by Godowsky), and "Little Sonata in G major," by Scarlatti, were supremely welcome, and were played with a delightfully crisp and firm tone. Besides those already mentioned were Beethoven's "Chorus of the Derivishes" and the gigantic "Toccata" from Saint Saens's Fifth Concerto, at the conclusion of which Mrs. Green was compelled to add still further pieces, giving in all five extra numbers to her enraptured programme. She was the recipient of many beautiful bouquets, receiving the "white most hearty" and continuous hand-clapping from a delightful and musical audience.

When Mrs. Green returns from her Eastern Canadian tour, it is hoped that she will, as already has been suggested, before the present season ends, arrange at least another recital in the city, not only for the sake of the many pianoforte players here, but for the very many who delight in her playing.

The piano used by Mrs. Green was a Chickering supplied by the Willis Piano Company.

Turning Leftovers into savory dishes

The French people—famous for thrift—used to say that they could feed six people with what the average family on this side of the Atlantic threw away.

It is almost inevitable that there should be things left from yesterday—yet the remains of roasts and steaks, the spoonfuls of vegetables, the food that has lost its taste, are no longer wasted, nor are the "scraps" turned into "stews."

The sprightly "OXO" CUBES with their supreme flavour of prime beef, have come to the rescue of those who want to be sensibly economical. Now you find "OXO" CUBES in thousands of homes and the French have changed their ideas about "our extravagant cooking."

Minced Meat on Toast

- 2 cups minced beef (left-over steak or roast)
- 2 "OXO" DEEP CUBES
- 1 cup boiling water
- 2 tablespoonful flour
- 1 tablespoonful butter

Mince the meat, removing all gristle and fat. Dissolve the cubes in the boiling water. Blend the butter and flour and stir quickly into the dissolved cubes. Pour over the meat and let simmer two or three minutes (long enough to cook the flour and heat the meat). Pour over six or seven slices of hot toast.

Where any gravy is left over, use but one "OXO" DEEP CUBE dissolved in 1/2 cupful boiling water and add the gravy. Season to taste.

Our Free Cook Book tells you how to do it

Many other attractive ways of utilizing left-overs are included in the new "OXO" COOK BOOK.

The recipes are simple and practical—the results well worth your trying. You will delight in the new dishes, too, that are economically made with "OXO" CUBES.

Write for a copy to One Limited, 215 St. Antoine St., Montreal. It will be mailed to you FREE and postage paid.

HIGHWAY TOLLS BE MODERATE HOUSE IS TOLD

Premier Assures Pooley Excessive Charges Will Not be Levied on Fraser Road

House Itself to Decide What Roads Shall be Subject to Tolls in Future

Assurance that moderate tolls will be charged on the new Fraser Canyon Highway was given to the Legislature yesterday by Premier Oliver after the Opposition had demanded in vain that the House itself fix these fees.

R. H. Pooley, Opposition leader, objected to the Legislature surrendering its taxation powers to the Government. Such a surrender, he said, was involved in the Government's legislation empowering it to fix the Fraser Canyon Road tolls. Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, in charge of the amendments to the Highway Act covering the highway tolls, explained that the fixing of these charges was a matter of great difficulty. So many different classes of people would use the road, he pointed out, that it was impossible to fix a single toll to apply to all of them. He asked the House to allow him and his department a year in which to find out what kind of cars would use the road before fixing a definite scale of tolls. "I would suggest that the Government doesn't want to do anything that will make it unpopular with public opinion," Premier Oliver remarked, "and that is the best assurance that it will use proper restraint in fixing these tolls."

George Walker, Provincial, Point Grey, warned the House that on account of the peculiar character of the new highway its cost of maintenance in the first few years of its use would be extremely heavy, amounting, in fact, to the cost of reconstruction. On this account the Province should charge a substantial toll for use of the road, he declared, and he thought that 15 per cent would not be too heavy a charge.

Mr. Pooley wanted the tolls definitely limited by legislation and complained that the Opposition would not be able to open the question next year as it was powerless to interfere with Government revenues.

The Premier replied that the Opposition could have a formal protest against any tolls fixed by the Government but he added that he would undertake that the tolls fixed would be so moderate that the Opposition would have no room for protest.

Mr. Pooley laughingly asked for this assurance in writing on the ground that the Premier had always declared that he was not responsible for anything that did not appear over his signature.

BRIDGE APPROACHES While other clauses of the Highway Act amendments were under discussion Mr. Pooley urged the Public Works Department to maintain the approaches to bridges more carefully to prevent damage which through cars with damaging force against bridge timbers. Dr. Sutherland replied that he hoped to be able to spend more money on road maintenance in this and other ways next year.

The Government formally included in its highway legislation a clause declaring the Fraser Canyon Highway a toll road. Thus no other road can be made subject to tolls without act of the Legislature. On this account H. D. Taylor's amendments insisting that the House decide on the application of the toll system in all cases was withdrawn.

PRESBYTERIAN W.A. PLAN BIG BAZAAR

St. Andrew's Annual Affair to Take Form of Winter Garden

A very successful meeting of the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. H. Currie, "Cherrybank," with the president, Mrs. J. P. McKilligan, occupying the chair. The business of the afternoon was the completion of arrangements for the annual bazaar to be held in the lecture halls of the church on Saturday, December 5, from 3 to 7 p.m.

The bazaar, which promises to be of an unusually attractive character, will take the form of a winter garden under the able co-operation of Mrs. H. Puckle. The lecture halls in the hands of a decorative committee consisting of Mrs. Goulding Wilson, Mrs. James Stuart, Mrs. Miller and Miss Belle Nichol, will be decorated in the beautiful tints of profuse autumn foliage flowers and plants, with special lighting effects and will present the fascinating features of a winter garden.

Prettily decorated booths will circle the upper-room, displaying a splendid assortment of beautiful goods of great variety, suitable for Christmas gifts, children's and babies' hand-made wear, woolies, home-made candy. A particularly interesting feature in this room will be a surprise novelty of picturesque beauty and original design prepared by the Young Women's Missionary Society, who will dispose of the tempting wares hidden therein at popular prices. Tea will be served in the large hall at daintily appointed tables under the capable management of Mrs. M. R. Pearce and Mrs. Wm. Head, and during the afternoon a programme of the latest music will be provided by the Sunday school orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Jesse Longfield.

On the adjournment of the meeting Mrs. Currie very kindly entertained her guests to a delightful tea and a social hour was greatly enjoyed.

Missionary Bazaar and Exhibit at Memorial Hall

Four branches of the Cathedral Women's Auxiliary, including senior, girls' and junior groups, are combining to hold a missionary bazaar and exhibit in the Memorial Hall on Friday afternoon and evening, December 4.

The following ladies will have charge of stalls under the general co-operation of Mrs. Dickson: donation stall, for miscellaneous articles, Mrs. Chrow; dolls and toys, Miss Sill; Miss Kirkbride; Miss Margaret Sill; Miss Kirkbride; Miss Margaret Sill; books, games, etc., Miss Turner; cream, Miss M. Chrow. Tea and suppers will be served in the gymnasium by members of the senior branch, with Mrs. F. W. Thomas as convener.

An exhibit of ecclesiastical art will be shown in the chapel and an exhibit of mental hygiene will be arranged in the upper floor class-rooms, and lantern pictures of missionary work in Canada and overseas countries will be given in the auditorium.

ON THE MARCH TO HEALTH BY THE SUN ROUTE

These little cripples, clad only in loin cloths and hats, are on their daily march to health by the sun cure route at Sir Henry Gauvain's home at Alton Park, Haits, England. It is for the purpose of establishing a similar home in the ideal surroundings at Mill Bay that a tag day will be held in the city to-morrow, preceding the drive commencing on Monday for the solarium fund. Each of these children faces the prospect of happy, healthy life, thanks to the healing power of sunlight, fresh air, and sea bathing under expert medical guidance, instead of being condemned to continual suffering and deformity, and consequent dependence upon others. The Victoria Women's Institute, which is convening the tag day, is confident of a generous response from the people of Victoria.

LADY ASTOR POKES FUN AT BACHELORS

Says They Make Married Women More Reconciled to Husbands

London, Nov. 27.—Lady Astor paid tribute to the old maid and expressed sympathy for the bachelor in her remarks as presiding officer at the final session of the Social Insurance Conference yesterday.

"The bachelor is the most helpful creature that ever was," she declared. "He is the one thing making matrimony possible. If married women look at bachelors they get a little more reconciled to their own husbands."

Lady Astor said she could not say the equivalent about the old maids. They carried on the work of the world, whereas the bachelors got crocheted and narrower as they get older.

"Old maids expand; old bachelors concentrate," she added. "Old maiden ladies usually become more beautiful as they grow older while man—the poor, lonely animal—the older he gets the lonelier he becomes."

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28

According to this day's lunar operations hostile forces seem to occupy the principal and danger of quarrels, litigation and danger from accident. There is also pressure of business difficulties and obstructions with serious loss, unless affairs are manipulated with unusual sagacity. This discernment will have the assistance of the major benefic, Jupiter, in aspect with the orb of the unexpected Uranus, presaging sudden success.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year calling for extraordinary safety and successful channels. This safe and successful channel. This may be done though unexpected assistance against loss, quarrels, litigation and accident. A child born on this day may require early training and discipline in the matter of self-control and good temper, else many difficulties will hamper his life. CANADIAN CLUB WELCOMES WASHINGTON LAWYERS AT EMPRESS HOTEL LUNCHEON

British Columbia Legislature Joins in Hearty Tribute to Guests From Olympia, Wash.; Premier Oliver Sees Fruit of Late President Harding's Ideal of Peace

Celebrating "a historic occasion" the Canadian Club and members of the Provincial Legislature to-day tendered a luncheon at the Empress Hotel to a large party of members of the Legislature of the State of Washington and their ladies.

President James Forman, in welcoming the guests, paid a tribute to the pioneers of the West and a remembrance of the United Empire Loyalists. He pointed out that on both sides of the International boundary the people are working, guided by their legislators, towards the good of the people who shall inherit their places.

"It is my opinion it is the task of Canada to interpret to the British people what the American people stand for, and to illustrate to our neighbors to the South what the aims and objectives of the British Empire are to-day," he said, extending a hearty welcome to the guests from Washington.

"My opinion it is the task of Canada to interpret to the British people what the American people stand for, and to illustrate to our neighbors to the South what the aims and objectives of the British Empire are to-day," he said, extending a hearty welcome to the guests from Washington.

PREMIER OLIVER

Premier John Oliver was introduced by a group of the guests and greeted with "He's a jolly good fellow."

The Premier assured the guests that Canadians enjoy as great a freedom as anywhere in the world. "What you fought for and won we obtained as a free gift from the imperial Parliament," he said, declaring that King George III, and his advisers had in 1770 made a number of serious mistakes of vital character.

"We appreciate the honor of this visit, the first by the Legislature of any State to the Legislature of any Province," he said, welcoming the visit of the late President Warren G. Harding was touched upon, with a description of the popular acclamation which greeted the president on his tour through more gaily decorated streets than Vancouver had ever before known.

"The message the President gave at Peace House to the nations, was and had its effect all around the world. It was an encouragement to all who work for world peace and harmony, and I sometimes wonder if it was not the wisdom of the Almighty to give emphasis to that great man a few days later," he said amid applause.

"I have in my mind that this auspicious gathering is simply a plant growing from the seed sown by your late President among those trees in Stanley Park."

ONE RACE

Lieut-Governor Lon Johnson was greeted with "He's a jolly good fellow," cheers and applause when he rose to respond. "On behalf of the people of Washington, and the Senate and House of the Legislature I thank you for this reception," he said, extending an urgent invitation to the British Columbia Legislature to return to the visit.

"We do not look upon you as a foreign people. We are one race, one people. There is no desire on our part to profit by you."

"We have the same desire, for an orderly government, a prosperous country, and a happy people. It is our duty to do this, and we are now trying to solve," he said with reference to the great resources now at the disposal of British Columbia.

"In Washington we are confronted with a serious economic problem in the imminent exhaustion of our timber resources. What are we to turn to in the coming years is the problem, we are now trying to solve," he said with reference to the great resources now at the disposal of British Columbia.

"We believe that we can co-operate in solution of these problems to the profit of our people and the citizens of British Columbia, and we hope that this will be the first of many such visits."

ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Attorney-General A. M. Manson, appearing in the Empire due to the death of Queen Mother Alexandra, and asserted that the tradition of royalty has a real meaning to people of the British Empire. While government is carried out in the name of the King, the executive government must have the confidence of the people as shown by a parliamentary majority.

The solemn trappings of Mr. Speaker and the other formalities noted by the visitors, have their uses, he showed, and while costing little added to the effective enforcement of public business.

Logan Long, member of the Washington House, organizer of the excursion, declared the visit had been of great interest and the welcome received had delighted the delegates.

"When we make our report to those who did not join this excursion, they will realize the value of this visit," he said, declaring that as long as the Union Jack and Stars and Stripes stand together, so long the world will be a better place. The world is a better place, he said, because of the recent World War. He joined with Lieutenant-Governor Johnson in extending a warm welcome to the British Columbia legislators, as soon as they can make the journey.

Cheers for the Washington legislators and singing of "God Save the King" and "America" brought the luncheon to a conclusion.

CONTRACTOR LOST $5 PER SEAT ON U.B.C. EQUIPMENT

Even Orders For Extras Let By Tender, House Committee Finds

James Brooks, head of the James Brooks Woodworking Company, East Burnaby, which had some of the chief contracts for the seats and equipment of the new University of British Columbia buildings at Point Grey, was put on the stand this morning before the Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature looking into University Building costs.

Mr. Brooks, under examination by W. A. McKenzie, testified that his firm had been awarded the contract for the seats for the lecture-room of the Science Building. The firm also supplied wood-work equipment in the building, but on a different contract. The contract for the seats was for $4,500.

Mr. Pooley: Were you one of the poor devils who was kept out of his money?

Mr. Brooks: Yes.

Mr. Pooley: How much do they owe you?

Mr. Brooks: I think about $27,000, but not on the seat contract, which has all been paid off, but on the equipment contract.

Mr. Pooley: You are just waiting for the Legislature to pass the vote so that you can get your money?

Mr. Brooks: We could find use for that money in our business.

Mr. Pooley: Any imported work in that building?

Mr. Brooks: No, all local stuff, manufactured in our own plant.

In reply to further questions Mr. Brooks explained that the work on the cafeteria had been split up among local firms. His equipment contract had to do with some work in the library, auditorium such as tables and fittings.

"All the work was let by tender and let to the lowest tenderer," Mr. Brooks went on.

Mr. Pooley: What amount of extras were there?

Mr. Brooks: There were no extras on straight order. All the extras were let by tender also.

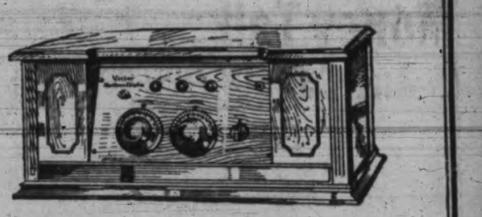

H. F. Kergin: Did you make any profit on the contract for the chairs for the lecture-room in the Science Building?

Mr. Brooks: On that part of the contract we lost heavily. In fact, we lost about $4 or $5 a chair.

Mr. Pooley: What was the tender price per chair?

Mr. Brooks: Approximately $12 per chair.

In replies to other questions, Mr. Brooks said that he had tendered on the second contract for chairs in the Science Arts and Agricultural Buildings, putting in a price of $12 this time. These contracts this time called for installation cost to be included in the tender, but at the $17 price he did not get the contract.

Simpson's Orphan Goal Put Cougars Down Once Again

World's Champs Outplayed New York But Americans Nailed Only Goal

Huge Crowd Watched Teams Perform; Forbes' Goal-tending Bailed Victoria

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 27.—Joe Simpson, he of the corker-rush, pulled a number of his queer-looking rushes here last night, but was effectively blocked by the Victoria defence.

The game proved a great attraction and 7,000 people from Detroit, who wanted to see professional hockey at its best, crammed into the arena here.

Victoria had a slight edge in the opening of the game as the second looking like winners as the teams got under way for the final twenty minutes.

Two minutes after the third got under way "Bullet" Joe Simpson, raced down the right side of the ice, passed once or twice to Burch, and "Shorty" Green, and then drove a hot one that tipped over Holmes' stick.

The game was staged under a mixture of the former prevailing with the exception that the latter custom of kicking the puck and substitutions during the play were permitted.

THE LINE-UP Position Victoria New York Fuchs, Goalkeeper Holmes Randall, Defence Loughlin Simpson, Defence Fraser Burch, Centre Fredrickson S. Green, Centre Fredrickson McKinnon, Wing Walker Langlois, Sub. Anderson Bonchard, Sub. P. Simpson Morrison, Sub. Oatman Campbell, Sub. Halderon Cameron, Sub. Meeking Referee—Mike Rodden, Toronto.

SUMMARY First period—No score. Second period—No score. Third period—J. Simpson, New York, 1-0.

Carpet Bowling

An excellent game was witnessed at the Burnside Centre Thursday evening between the Imps and Willows "B" in the Carpet Bowling League.

The Imps, under the able direction of Bob Huddleston, held a slight lead for the first half, but at the twelfth lead the visitors pulled up level, the score standing 12 all.

MISSED JOE'S SHOT

"HAPPY" HOLMES The only goal in last night's game in Windsor between Victoria and New York came off Joe Simpson's stick.

Rugby Championship May Be Decided On Snow-covered Field

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—The uncertainties attending the Eastern Canadian championship rugby contest at Lansdowne Park 19-morrow, after noon between Queen's University and Ottawa Senators were further increased this morning when citizens of the capital awoke to find the ground covered with snow.

The field at the South Side Park had been prepared to the minute for the game, and it may now turn out that the teams will fight it out in the snow.

If Oaks Beat Bays They Can Count On Senior Rugby Title

Stubbornly-contested Match Expected at Willows Oval To-morrow Afternoon

Both Clubs Will be at Top Strength; Three Intermediate Games on Card

Much hinges on to-morrow's rugby game in the Senior League between the Oak Bay and J.B.A.A. teams.

The J.B.A.A., who have been top dogs in the Senior League for the past six years, are fielding a team which they think will be able to measure the Oaks.

Herb Pendray, who has been appointed captain of the J.B.A.A., is quite confident that his pack will prove too strong for the Oaks and get the ball out often enough to give the backs a chance to run.

In the forward line the Bays will have Jimmie Miller, George McRae, Harry Smith, George Fortson, Carlisle, Mawhood and Pendray.

The Oaks will field the team that has brought them two victories already. The back division will include such stars as Walter Brynjolfson, John Shaw, Grubb, Dunc McLennan, Hee Goodacre, McIntyre and Brindley.

This match will undoubtedly be one of the most stubbornly contested of the season.

It is expected that a big crowd will witness the game.

The intermediate games are also down for decision to-morrow.

J.B.A.A. vs. Oak Bay Wanderers. University School vs. Brentwood College.

Victoria College vs. Cowichan Normal School—a bye.

Falcons Ready For Their Game Against Seattle

Will Trot Out Formidable Team to Oppose Spalding Quintette To-morrow Night

The probable lineup: Ottawa Pyming, Emerson; halves, Miller, Tubman and Connell; quarter, Lynch; snap, Bruce; insides, Butcher and Humphrey; middles, Sheehan and Timmins; outside, Short; Anderson, substitutes, Buell, St. Mary's, and Ketchum, Cole, Wright, Ault, Mulrooney, Herbert, Curry, James and Chevier.

Queen's lineup is not available. It is expected, however, that Billy Hughes will start off in the same order that has prevailed in their games to date this season.

The draw and starting times of the ladies' two-ball foursomes, to be played at the Uplands Golf Club to-morrow, are as follows:

9.45—Mrs. Pocock and Miss MacNaughton vs. Mrs. Price and Mrs. Macfarlane.

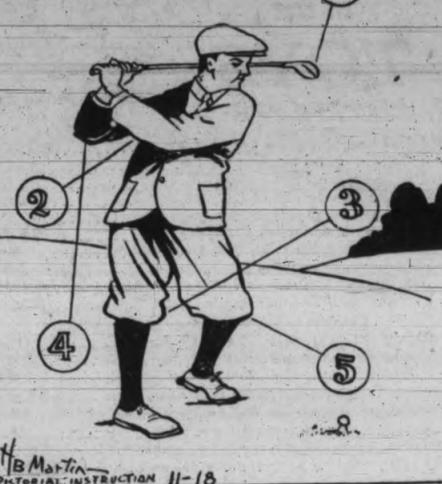

10.00—Mrs. Kerr and Miss Hiscocks vs. Miss Isabister and Miss Archibald.

Pictorial Golf Instruction

THE BIG FIVE POINTS

- FIVE ESSENTIAL POINTS IN THE SWING 1 CLUB POINTING TO LINE OF FLIGHT 2 LEFT ELBOW SLIGHTLY BENT 3 WEIGHT ON RIGHT LEG MOSTLY 4 RIGHT ELBOW POINTS TO GROUND 5 LEFT KNEE POINTS TO BALL

There are five essential points in the golf swing that should be recognized by the golfer who wishes to improve his game.

First, is the position of the club pointing to the hole, or the line of flight. The club is always in the horizontal position in this case.

Second, is the slightly bent left elbow—not a straight left as some advocate. This of course is true with the upright swinger.

Third, is the weight of the body on the right leg. The left acts merely as a support.

Fourth, is the right elbow pointing to the ground. In no case should it be permitted to wander far from the right side of the body.

Fifth, is the left knee pointing towards the ball instead of the right leg as some golfers pose at the top of the swing.

Arne Borg Swings Washington Just Half Mile in New Time in Florida

Miami, Fla., Nov. 27.—Arne Borg, aquatic champion, yesterday hung up a new world's and a new American record in the half-mile swim when he negotiated the distance in the Venetian Casino pool here in ten minutes 29 3/5 seconds.

It is expected that a big crowd will witness the game.

The intermediate games are also down for decision to-morrow.

J.B.A.A. vs. Oak Bay Wanderers. University School vs. Brentwood College.

Combination Cup Series Should Be Decided To-morrow

Esquimalt Need Win Over Victoria United to Cop Trophy

Sons of England Play at James Island; Wests Tackle United Services

To-morrow will see the final games of the Combination Cup series provided Esquimalt come through with a victory over the Victoria United.

James Island vs. Sons of England at James Island. Referee, Alcock. Victoria United vs. Esquimalt at Central Park. Referee, Stenders.

United Services vs. Victoria Wests at Beacon Hill. Referee, McMillan.

All games will start at 2.45 o'clock. A battle should take place for the honor of winning second place.

After their fine victory last week over the United Services the Sons of England are right on their toes.

One junior football match will be played to-morrow between the Saanich Thistles and Esquimalt at Beacon Hill, upper ground, at 2.45 o'clock.

To-morrow's team will be as follows: Esquimalt Juniors—Banks, Sweny, Knight, Chalmers, Cochrane, Smith, Chandler, Bain, Gunn, Stille, Groves, Allen, Taylor and Moulton.

Victoria United—Hogan, White, Newlands, Dowds, Essler, Gray, Higham, Anderson, Stille, Groves, Sons of England—Holman, Tuckwell, Armistead, Cull, Swan, Reg. Shanks, Connors, Southern, Quackenbush, Richardson and Thomas. Players are requested to be at the City Hall by 1.15 o'clock.

Victoria Wests—Whyte, Copan, Sherrett, Mulcahy, Peden, Nex and Butler.

Stadium, Seattle, Nov. 27.—Twenty-three thousand spectators who went nearly mad at two crises when the University of Oregon threatened the University of Washington with loss of Pacific Coast inter-collegiate conference football championship for 1926 and saw the Huskies defeat the Webfooters, 15 to 14, in this bowl yesterday.

Nature contributed a perfect setting for the Thanksgiving Day battle, which was the 19th gridiron struggle between the state universities of the two big young states.

Washington opened the scoring in the initial quarter with a touchdown, lacking conversion. Oregon forged to the front with a touchdown and conversion in the second, when the Huskies again crossed the enemy goal and regained the lead, but for the first time missed the signal key way into history.

In the fourth after Oregon registered seven points, came the first heart-straining episode as Washington sprung an aerial attack that ended in a field goal, making the score 14-7.

The second crisis followed soon in this classic final quarter, when Louie Anderson, Eugene quarterback, passed the Webfooters down to the Husky ten-yard line, where a mischance by the gods in the form of an intercepted pass saved the day for the Northern state.

That left the tally of victories Washington 9 and Oregon 7, with three ties in the Husky ten-yard line, where a mischance by the gods in the form of an intercepted pass saved the day for the Northern state.

Close followers of football declared that Oregon made its only real showing of the year yesterday, because not before had the Webfooter first string men all been in the line-up.

Sunderland's Tilt With Arsenal Has Aroused Interest

First Division Leaders Have as Their Opponents To-morrow Runners-up

Hard to Tell Which Way Game Will go; First Round of English Cup Starts

London, Nov. 27.—The season's test in the First Division of the English Football League comes to-morrow when Sunderland, present leaders of the senior string, lock horns with Arsenal, the runners-up and Sunderland's most dangerous opponents.

How evenly the teams are matched may be gathered from the following table:

Table with 2 columns: Sunderland and Arsenal. Rows include Played, Won, Drawn, Lost, Goals for, Goals against, and Total points.

The league leaders resumed their stride a week ago when they swamped another metropolitan team, West Ham, and confidence in their prowess was restored, particularly since the reassuring victory was gained after Sunderland were wandering in the woods for several weeks.

Previous to that they had been taken into camp by Leicester City and that defeat succeeded three straight drawn games.

Sunderland supporters were manifesting a certain disquietude, which increased as the vital tilt with Arsenal approached and Sunderland apparently displayed no indications of returning to the sensational form of the early season play.

Among Arsenal's followers a similar confidence prevails. The strength of their forward line, coupled with the strictly scientific of interest in the game.

Apart from the big game slated for Highbury, the fixtures for Saturday in the First Division of the English League show no outstanding engagements.

In the Second Division only eight games are scheduled, three clubs of the department engaging in the first round of the English Cup, while in round three the first round of the First Division all but four teams will be occupied in the annual competition.

With regard to scheduled games, the affray at Upton Park should attract some attention in the metropolitan fields where West Ham and Huddersfield Town, provided that the Hammers have a fair showing against their Saturday, when they were badly trimmed.

Aston Villa have an opportunity to acquire points when they play host to Manchester City at Villa Park.

Manchester United are setting up a grand pace at Preston and have not lost a game since October 3, when they were beaten by Blackburn Rovers at Old Trafford and their fans believe they will emerge at the long end of a good score.

Wanderers play at home against Cardiff in a game which offers the opportunity to see how their expensive team, recruited mostly from the Scottish League, will shape up.

Other scheduled games are: Birmingham at Burnley. West Bromwich at Leeds. Everton at Leicester. Bury at Liverpool. Sheffield United at Newcastle. Tottenham at Nottingham County.

New Golf Ball is Wanted to Demand Greater Control

New York, Nov. 27. — Agreement between American and English golf officials on the size and weight of a new standard ball may be reached at an international conference next June in England, plans for which are now receiving consideration. Wm. C. Fownes Jr. of Pittsburg, chairman of the committee on implements and the ball, is expected by officials here to present America's ideas to the Royal and Ancient Club, Britain's ruling body. Experts claim that many golf courses are becoming obsolete with the present ball, which is 1.62 inches in diameter and 1.62 ounces in weight. Increased hitting power not only has conquered distance and hazard, but has rendered almost useless the once-popular brassie, used frequently heretofore for "second shots" on long holes. The Fownes committee after extended investigation, decided on a ball 1.68 inches in diameter and 1.58 ounces in weight. Such a ball, it was said, would curtail long hitting, and would be easier to find in the rough, but would bring increased demand for control on all shots.

THOMSON POINTS WAY FOR GREAT DEVELOPMENT HERE

Former Food Controller Tells How Washington Has Increased Production

Henry B. Thomson, food controller of Canada during the war, was the speaker at last night's meeting of forum of the Chamber of Commerce, which is inaugurating the series of winter sessions. James H. Beatty, who presided, described the value of the forum meetings, pointing out that many useful suggestions for the advancement of the district had been made at other gatherings of the sort. Mr. Thomson opened by referring to the fine equipment Victoria now has in the shape of the drydock, the Ogden Point piers and warehouses and other facilities for which the old Board of Trade and the Chamber of Commerce had been working for a long time. He said that there was ample accommodation at this port, but what was now wanted was the shipping. He was glad to see elevators and an assembly plant contemplated and thought they would be important in bringing shipping. He urged that it should be seen to in connection with the elevators that wheat screenings were made available here at moderate prices to encourage the poultry industry on this island. Mr. Thomson then turned to a discussion of Imperial trade, which he pointed out had a direct bearing on the development of this Province. He quoted General Smut's argument at the last Imperial Conference that Britain must be prepared to take more of the products of the Dominion and came out for Imperial preference, suggesting the possibility of keeping trade as much as possible within the British family, which was self-supporting. He quoted figures showing that the trade of the Dominion represented twice as much per capita as the trade of foreign countries to the British themselves. The work of the late F. C. Wade, as Agent-General for British Columbia in London, in getting canned salmon and canned fruit included in the list of articles at the Imperial Economic Conference was lauded by Mr. Thomson. He pointed out that contrary to the general impression all food products did not enter Britain free of duty, even sugar being subject. "Such propaganda and education is needed in Britain to get to teach Britons that the overseas Dominions can supply their needs," Mr. Thomson went on. WANTS CATTLE INDUSTRY HERE Mr. Thomson said he was not altogether satisfied that the removal of the embargo on live Canadian cattle going into Britain was a good thing for this country. He said it would be far better to have Canadian cattle to be slaughtered here and the chilled meat shipped to Britain. This chilled meat could now be sent across the Atlantic in nine days. By this means, Canada would be enlarging her industrial output and providing more employment in this country. He was glad to see that Canada was enlarging her markets in the Orient, because when Russia came back as a wheat exporter she would be a very strong competitor with this Dominion in European markets. It was necessary that we should not confine our markets to one country. WASHINGTON SHOWS WAY Coming nearer home, Mr. Thomson gave a review of the industrial record of the state of Washington in recent years to show what British Columbia, very similar in resources, could accomplish with some degree of initiative and application. To show how American neighbors were commercializing agriculture, he pointed out that a few years ago the people of that state depended chiefly on timber, fisheries and mining. Sixteen years ago Washington was an importer of eggs. To-day the people of that state export $10,000,000 worth of eggs a year, largely to the New England states, where they get high prices for them. The total production of eggs there is now $18,000,000 a year. There had been a similar increase in the dairying industry. Mr. Thomson also dealt with the celery and tomato production of Washington. He pointed out that Vancouver Island could produce these things as readily as Washington does, but that it needs systematic organization and marketing. Producers in the state of Washington, similar in natural resources and climate, have shown British Columbia producers the way. Mr. Thomson declared, Washington, he asserted, has surpassed British Columbia in marketing and organization, especially in the poultry, fruit and dairying industries. He urged that producers here should study and follow the example of Washington in its movement to commercialize agriculture. The lettuce production in Washington for export has grown from nineteen cars six years ago to 1,077 cars last year, and there have been similar increase in other crops, he said. Mr. Thomson urged the building up of the high grade and approved dairy stock industry on the island. Doubt whether there were as many industries here to-day as there were 32 years ago, when he came here first, was expressed by Mr. Thomson. He charged that people did not make an effort to ascertain if they were buying home-made goods and thus patronizing home industry. He again quoted figures from Washington state to show that 5,825 factories with only three times the population of British Columbia were producing more than the fish, apple, lumber and wheat production by over $200,000,000 a year. He read figures indicating that industry has been growing recently faster in Washington than in many other parts of the United States. The former food controller urged that the Chamber of Commerce should form committees to investigate agricultural and other conditions around Victoria, ascertain why there was not more development, and endeavor to effect an improvement. He suggested that it might be a good thing to organize a campaign for a cattle market here once a month or so. It would be an excellent thing to develop an effective irrigation project by utilizing the water of Elle Lake. He also urged that in view of the large number of people who came here on account of the fish and game resources, than an intelligent system of stocking our lakes and streams should be adopted. He thought that private individuals might be allowed to have game farms under proper regulations. Considerable discussion followed Mr. Thomson's address. Several members pointed out that there was much more industrial production on this island than had come to the attention of the speaker. C. P. W. Schwengers, president of the Chamber, in moving a vote of thanks, pointed out that the annual production of Vancouver Island equalled that of any other similarly situated region with a similar population anywhere, and that it was substantially on the increase. New industries were developing in many localities, and the outlook was extremely favorable. A SLASHING DRAW San Francisco, Nov. 27.—Jimmy Duffy, Oakland welterweight, and Joe Roche, of San Francisco, fought a slashing ten-round draw in the main event of the new Mission Athletic Club programme here yesterday. The Oakland boy's cleverness was equalled by Roche's aggressiveness. There were no clean knock-downs, but Duffy spun Roche around in the sixth with a hard right to the jaw and the San Francisco boy went to his knees. He was up without a count.

SMALL FACTORY IS BEING DEVELOPED

Three Partners Started on $50 and Now Have Valuable Business

The Victoria Textile Company, begun by three returned soldiers of the Canadian army with a capitalization of $50, is now becoming a flourishing little industry, and is rapidly reaching a position of security and recognition. Yesterday a number of interested students and teachers from the Provincial Normal School at Mount Tolmie visited the little plant on Government Street and were impressed with the progress of the establishment.

Already over $700 worth of machinery has been installed by the firm. The three partners are planning development along substantial lines, and expect shortly to install new machinery at a cost of $2,500. From so modest a start, the Victoria Textile Company has achieved wonderful success, but it needs modern machinery. Hand carding and combing of wool is a slow and exacting process. Machines will do 240 pounds of wool in a day, where a man can only do one or two pounds, and the firm plans to secure one of these machines. The output of this little company of exhibitions and competitions have proved. At the annual exhibition this year the company's products took first prize, and the year previous their spinning display was given similar honor. The partners who are together in this enterprise and working so energetically, despite their war wounds and discouragements that faced them in the beginning, are: W. F. Gowen, a spinner; T. Mayor, weaver, and E. B. McLean, knitter.

ELEVEN CHINESE IN COFFINS PROVE LIVELY CORPSES WHEN ARREST MADE BY OFFICERS

Ambitious Scheme to Smuggle Asiatics Into States Uncovered When Lids Removed From Eleven Coffins in Hold of Ss. President Lincoln at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—Immigration officers here expressed keen interest to-day in the purported widespread conspiracy to smuggle Chinese into the United States which was uncovered last night at Honolulu with the discovery of eleven Chinese posing as dead men and hiding in as many coffins deep in one of the holds of the Dollar liner President Lincoln, which is en route to San Francisco from the Orient.

The discovery grew out of information received from the Orient by A. E. Burnett, district director of immigration for Hawaii. Mr. Burnett led a party of six inspectors through the vessel twice without discovering any traces of the contraband aliens. Just as the Federal officials were about to abandon their search, one of their number, after having climbed through tons of ship's gear, accidentally knocked off the top of one of a row of coffins in a hold. The "corpse" proved to be a young Chinese, stretched out in the coffin with baggage and food along-side him.

With this clue, the officers opened five more coffins and each disclosed a Chinese youth with his baggage. All were taken into custody together with several members of the crew believed to be implicated in the alleged plot.

Director Burnett predicted the President Lincoln would be fined $1,000 for each "bootleg" Chinese. He added that it was ridiculous to believe that only a steward-engineer engaged the smuggling, as the men in the coffins had been fed daily and the ship had undergone thorough search before leaving the Orient. He laid the conspiracy to "high-ups" aboard the ship.

Precisely to the discovery of eleven live men in the coffins Mr. Burnett inspected the Chinese steward's compartment and found a cigar box containing letters, papers and pictures of Chinese supposedly aboard. Translations of these showed the men whose pictures and papers were found were consigned to certain individuals in San Francisco. The names of these "consignees" were given but Mr. Burnett refused to divulge them. The letters also disclosed that $1,100 was to be paid to Tong Nam, a Chinese steward, upon the safe delivery ashore of each Chinese.

When arrested and questioned at length, Tong Nam refused to give any information. The third and successful search of the ship was undertaken then and ended with the discovery of the coffins.

Sixty passengers boarded the Ss. Emma Alexander here at 11 p.m. yesterday before she cleared on her regular run to southern points.

NORTH SEA GALES WORST IN MEMORY

Wind Flattened Waves into White Plateau of Foam

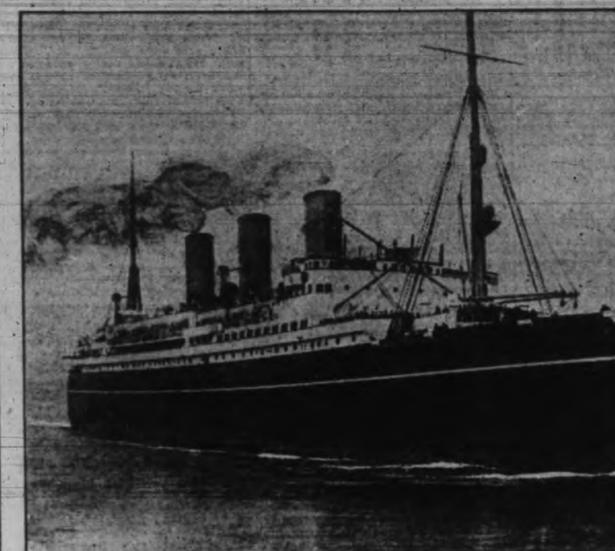

Many Lives Feared Lost in Storm on Wednesday

London, Nov. 27.—Along the North Sea coasts of England and the continent numerous fishing boats and other small craft were wrecked with the loss of a score or more of lives Wednesday by a storm which sea captains arriving at London on ships caked with frozen spray to their foretops, described as the worst in their experience.

Reports from the northern European countries indicate widespread damage. Three high wireless towers at Norddeich, near Bremen, collapsed, while in Denmark the storm caused the King to change his route to London for the funeral of Queen Mother Alexandra, disorganized traffic generally and severed communications.

The skipper of a channel boat from Amstvedt said the wind was so strong it flattened out the waves until the sea looked like a great expanse of white table cloth spread around us. In all my years at sea, I have never seen anything like this.

Tagging Halibut Leads to Close Study of Their Habits

Seattle, Nov. 27.—"Mr. and Mrs. Halibut," hitherto the most exclusive and mysterious of the edible fish family in North Pacific waters, soon will have no more family privacy than a motion picture star.

TREATY TIGHTENS LAW ENFORCEMENT

Canada-U.S. Smuggling Pact Gives Wide Powers to Qualified Officers

Victoria Customs Officials Will Testify at Olmstead Hearing Under Treaty

Wide powers are given Canadian and United States law enforcement officers in the Canada-United States treaty for the suppression of smuggling ratified recently by the Federal authorities of both countries.

The effect of the treaty is first shown here by the calling of Canadian customs officers stationed at Victoria as witnesses before a Seattle grand jury recently, when indictments were returned against Roy Olmstead, former lieutenant of the Seattle police, and others.

Olmstead was indicted for alleged conspiracy to defeat terms of the constitution of the United States in respect to the eighteenth amendment, and his trial is set for January 26. Canadian officers will be present at the hearing under the new treaty plans.

Article 1 of the treaty provides for the interchange of information relative to the clearing of vessels from United States and Canadian ports.

Article 2 deals with the authority to refuse clearance to vessels in cases where their destination as given is such as to appear unlikely in view of the size and steaming range of the vessel.

Article 3 deals with the recovery of stolen goods taken across the border from one country to another. Article 4 is addressed to the interchange of information as to narcotic drug smuggling and its operators.

It is under Article 5 of the treaty that officers of either country may testify in the courts of the other with the full weight of duly qualified officers of the country in which the tribunal sits.

Article 6 deals with narcotic drug traffic prevention, and tightens the grip possible by the authorities in working hand-in-hand where international complications set in.

Article 7 of the treaty, the closing clause, deals with conditions under which it shall be lawful to carry illicit officers of both countries in cases where the offence occurred in part on either side of the line.

At the reopening of the Olmstead hearing in January, Victoria officers will be called to the witness box before the United States courts.

Unemployment in Britain Subject of Commons Debate

London, Nov. 27.—A Labor Party motion which would have censured the Government for failing to deal with the unemployment problem in an adequate manner was defeated in the House of Commons yesterday by a vote of 222 to 123.

Although the official weekly figures in recent months have shown a gradual reduction in the number of unemployed persons, Tom Shaw, who introduced the resolution of censure, stated the present figure of 1,198,077 unemployed was misleading, and that at least 700 more should be added.

Mr. Shaw was interrupted frequently and challenged from the Government benches. Premier Bal-win finally was forced to appeal for an orderly debate.

The Minister of Labor, Sir Arthur Steel-Maitland, denied there had been any misrepresentation of unemployment figures. He said:

"There is, without question, a very distinct improvement in British trade, but it is an improvement with very dark patches still there."

Ramsay MacDonald, former Labor Premier, declared nothing had done the British reputation for business and political intelligence more damage in the United States than the widespread belief that the unemployment dole in this country was a state charity instead of a state insurance, as was the case.

His ridiculed the contention that reimpatriation of the McKenna duties had been followed by greater employment.

PARIS STAGES BULL FIGHTS FOR AID OF RED CROSS

Famous Matador From Mexico Heads Cast in Series of Encounters in Ancient Roman Arena of French Capital.

Paris, Nov. 27.—With Luis Fies, famous Mexican matador and hero of hundreds of bullfights throughout South America, playing the chief role, and the arena of Lutèce, restored from the ruins of an ancient Roman circus, as the scene, Paris has been enjoying the closest approximation which French laws will permit to the thrills of a Spanish bullfight. There have been no sored horses, no dying bulls, but on the site where Caesar may have watched the gladiators from his Roman legion in a sport more cruel than that of Spain, the French seeker after excitement has watched world-known matadors, picadors and banderilleros fling, with the famous bulls of Viret, raised for the arena of Madrid.

The Spanish and South American colonies of Paris have been especially prominent at these events, and the mantillas of the women and the truncated high hats of the men have aided in creating the illusion that Paris has, for the time, become Madrid or Sevilla. The ceremonies open approximately to the strains of "Carmen." The traditional parade of gayly decked fighters, with their silver and gold brocaded costumes and brilliant scarlet capes, passes about the arena. Then the stage is cleared and his majesty the bull enters.

The first phase of the fight is the baiting of the angry animal, the "suertes de capa," in which the toreros perform amazing feats of agility in waving their red capes in front of the onrushing bull until, when he is almost upon them, they step deftly aside and the infuriated animal finds that the cape which he has tried to gore does not hold his enemy. There are still no deaths in this art of tantalizing the bull with the cape, and only the initiate can fully appreciate the significance of whether the cape is passed over the bull's horns or over the length of his back while the torador permits the animal's rush to miss him by but a hair's breadth.

The second phase of the fight is the "suertes de vara," in which a small dart on the end of a string is used further to anger the bull, but the height of interest in the French exhibition—for the death-feeling stroke of the matador is barred—is the crippling of the neck muscles of the bull with barbed darts by the banderillero—a dangerous feat, and one which requires the highest degree of skill.

As the infuriated bull rushes at his enemy, the banderillero stands with a dart poised in each hand. Just as the animal is upon him he rises on his toes, thrusts the two darts into the muscles of the back of his victim's neck, and then, with the breath of the animal in his face, his long horns but an inch from his body, steps aside. A moment's hesitation, the slightest misstep, would mean being caught on the horns of the raging beast; but with the skill of years of experience, the representative of the sport gathered in Paris from Spain and the New World gave an exhibition which amazed the Parisian spectators.

The exhibitions have been for the benefit of the French Red Cross and for the wounded in Morocco under the patronage of President Doumergue and the Spanish Ambassador to France.

There was a stack of candy and flowers. Mrs. Grasse took the money at the door. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor accompanied by J. J. S. Muskett, was present. His Honor then spoke a few encouraging words to the Cubs. During the afternoon Miss Eva Hart of Victoria sang most charmingly. Mr. Horace Peck presented her with a beautiful bouquet. P. Barlow sang several of his rollicking songs. Miss Margaret Cochran played the accompaniment. Theresa and Frances Thomas and Jean Speedie sang a trio. Mrs. Whiting accompanied them. Miss Florence Hambley of Victoria spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hambley, Fourth Street.

Miss Mildred Larsen of Vancouver has returned home after a few days spent with Mr. and Mrs. Hearn, Beacon Avenue.

The Proposed "Sunshine Home"

Help the Sunshine Fund To-morrow

Saturday, November 28, is to be Sunshine. Saturday—you'll meet round the city many smiling faces of Sunshine workers who are making a big effort to get the funds necessary to open "Sunshine Home"—the "Haven of Hope" for the cripples of B.C.

For years many organizations have sought to alleviate the lot of these unfortunate children but sympathetic kindness is not alone sufficient if it only protracts their dismal, hopeless existence instead of striving to cure and restore them to normal health and happiness. These children need to be lifted up, shown a ray of hope and helped to look forward to the day when they will be able to share with others the ordinary joys of childhood.

We can cure them by Heliotherapy—Sun Cure Treatment—if only you will help us erect the buildings.

Already children of other lands are enjoying the blessings of the Sun Cure—at the clinics of Dr. Rollier at Leysin, Switzerland, the Treloar Homes for Crippled Children, Hayling Island, England, and other similar homes throughout the world lives are daily being lifted from beds of sickness and disease and restored to healthy, useful and contented citizenship. You can help Canadian children to enjoy similar privileges by giving freely to-morrow.

A more worthy cause has never been recommended to you—we have all the natural requirements, Sunshine, Sea and Air, Malahat Beach has been selected by the Dominion Meteorological Department, as the most suitable place in Canada for the Solarium. The site is ready and the ultimate success of the treatment is assured. $50,000 is now urgently needed to erect the buildings—what will be Your share? Go past the nickels and dimes to-morrow—reach down to the bills and "give as God has given you."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Poor Mouse

Copyright, 1925, McClure Newspaper Syndicate (By Howard R. Garis)

"Uncle Wiggily, do you know any poor animals around here?" asked Mrs. Bushytail, the lady squirrel mother of Johnnie and Billie one day.

"Poor animals," repeated the rabbit gentleman, "why, yes, there are plenty of poor ones, I dare say. But why do you ask?"

"Because I have so much good food left over from Thanksgiving," went on the lady squirrel, "that it seems a shame to throw it away. There is more than my family can eat in a week—more than you will want, even if you continued your visit to us until after Christmas, which I hope you will do."

"Thank you," replied the rabbit gentleman, with a low and polite bow of his pink, twinkling nose, "but I promised some of my many friends I might visit with them around Christmas. But if you have so much food left, why do you not give it away?"

"That's just what I want to do,"

said the lady squirrel. "That's why I asked if you knew any poor family to whom I might give it."

"Let me see, now," spoke Uncle Wiggily, thoughtfully. "Ah, I remember! There is a poor little mouse gentleman living not far from here. He has hard work to get along in this world, and often he and his wife and seven little mice are hungry when winter comes. In the summer they live in a cornfield and have plenty to eat, but when the winter comes they nearly starve."

"Then take the poor mouse gentleman some of our extra Thanksgiving food," said Mrs. Bushytail.

And when she had packed up a basket, Uncle Wiggily took it on his paw and went hopping over the fields toward the hole, in a stone fence, where he knew the mouse family lived.

When Uncle Wiggily reached the hole, and looked in, he could see no one. So he called, but there was no answer.

"Dear me," said the bunny, "I hope the poor mouse gentleman hasn't starved to death, with his wife and seven little mice children. Where are you, Mr. Gnuw?" he called out loudly, for Mr. Gnuw was the name of the mouse.

"I can tell you where Mr. Gnuw is," said Johnnie Bushytail, who, with his brother, were running over the field, looking for a little frozen pond on which to skate. "I just saw him, with his wife and seven little children, scurrying down the road. I heard him say he was going to see if he could find some crumbs to eat."

"That's too bad!" said Mr. Lougears, "and here I am with a big basket of food for him. Run after him, Johnnie, like a good fellow, and tell Mr. Gnuw to come back."

"I will," promised Johnnie. Away he scampered and while Uncle Wiggily was waiting there, with the basket of food beside the hole in the stone fence, all of a sudden along came the hungry Bob Cat. The bad chap saw the bunny. He looked at his ears.

"Ah, that reminds me: I haven't had my Thanksgiving dinner yet!" snarled the Bob Cat. "Just sit still, Uncle Wiggily, until I nibble you a bit!"

"Oh, my dears, now we have something to be thankful for!" squeaked Mrs. Gnuw when she saw the basket of food Mrs. Bushytail had sent.

"And I, also, have something to be thankful for," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'm thankful you drove away the Bob Cat."

Gen. Li Takes Orders From Peking, But Not From Gen. Chang Tso-Lin

Governor's Action Makes Buffer State Between Manchuria and Capital

Tientsin, Nov. 27.—General Li Ching-Ling, civil governor of Chihli Province, who had been counted a supporter of General Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian dictator, has declared Chihli Province independent.

The governor says he will only accept the orders of the chief executive in Peking.

This action amounts to open revolt against General Chang Tso-Lin.

Manning Doherty Becomes Follower of Meighen Party

Toronto, Nov. 27.—Manning Doherty, 72, P.P., for party comes into power he will set up a tariff board, which will, after thorough investigation, make recommendations to the Government as to tariff adjustments.

"I have always been in support of such a policy. He has further stated that if his party comes into power he will immediately give every legislative aid and assistance towards the establishment in Canada of a national co-operative system of marketing our farm products, both at home and abroad.

As the main purpose of my entry into public life was to bring about acceptance of such a system, I feel bound to give my support to the political party which has announced its intention of putting it into effect."

Most delicious home-made candies, in dainty cases, were presided over by Mrs. S. Yates and Mrs. H. A. Hincks.

Mrs. W. C. Thoburn supervised the tea arrangements, assisted by Mesdames G. Heal, F. Smedley and Miss Nellie Wilson, for which a silver collection was given.

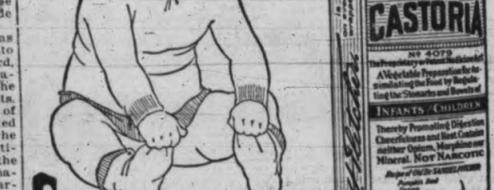

The beautiful box of chocolates, donated by Miss Marion Goucher, was won by Mrs. H. Pearson. Music added, much to the en-

They had food—

but they did not know how to eat it

LET the southwest monsoon be delayed but a few days . . . and in some district or other in India the crops are ruined. A famine occurs.

When the attempt was first made to relieve such districts, a remarkable thing happened! Rice eaters, ignorant of other foods, died sooner than make use of the wheat that was offered them. Death was preferable to the unknown. Nor would wheat eaters eat rice . . . . .

Incredible! Yet here, to-day, progressive people in a progressive country are very wary about risking themselves off the beaten path. They are suspicious of innovations. They leave them for others to try out.

Without advertising, many improvements common to-day would have failed to surmount the conservatism of our fathers. But alert merchants and manufacturers told about their products in the daily papers. The mystery surrounding them was dissipated. People became interested . . . and in this interest forgot their first doubts.

Read the advertisements. They let you know about new things, where to get them, how much they cost. Without them we would live in complete ignorance of many things that serve to make life less laborious, more comfortable, happier.

Knowledge of many a new home comfort is gained from the advertisements

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE, NOVEMBER 27, 1925
Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, Nov. 27 (By R. P. Clark & Company)—An accumulation of buying orders over the holiday influenced by the continuance of the New York re-discount rate at 3 1/2 per cent.

Many constructive factors in the news imparted a renewal of bullish ideas. The report of earnings, car loadings, inquiries from the carriers for rails, cars and locomotives were a few of the prominent features.

The industrial list in many sections seems to offer opportunities for further distribution and prices were believed are heading towards levels where it seems logical to anticipate a more liberal offering at least in the division aforementioned.

New York, Nov. 27 (By R.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wall Street Wire)—The Wall Street Journal's stock market advance has been continued along lines which many leading factors in the street had been hoping would eventuate as being the best good for the market following wide price declines recently.

In the markets there was an absence of the pressure to sell which proved so burdensome in the last few weeks, and as a result there were nice recoveries in a number of issues which had experienced declines.

Chicago, Nov. 27 (By R.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wall Street Wire)—The market here was active and strong, getting to 5 1/2 per cent. The outlook is for an extra dividend on Marland, which is expected in December.

Winnipeg, Nov. 27.—New high marks were established on the local wheat market to-day when November touched 156 1/2 a bushel, but on this extreme bulge buying power hesitated and quotations closed 1/2 to 2 cents below Thursday's final figures.

The market was decidedly strong early in the session and under a further wave of buying orders from the outside public, prices were carried from 1 1/4 to 2 cents above the previous close.

THE TIME-WORN TOWN

By J. S. Fletcher

"I know that he did his best, from such material as he could get at, to find out what the true state of things was. He worked hard at examining such accounts as were available. To my knowledge he did his best to get at the secret accounts kept by the Town Trustees. He failed utterly. They defied him. Yet, just before his murder, he was getting at facts in a fashion that was not only unpleasant but highly dangerous to them, and they were aware of it."

"Can you give us an example of any of these facts, these discoveries?"

Yes, I can give you one in particular. Wallingford was slowly but surely getting at the knowledge of the system of secret payment which has gone on in this place for a long time under the rule of the Town Trustees. He had found out the truth, for instance, as regards Krevin Crood. Krevin Crood was supposed to be paid a pension of £150 a year, in reality he was paid £300 a year. Wallingford ascertained this beyond all doubt, and that it had gone on ever since Krevin Crood's retirement from his official position. There are other men in the borough, bankers and supporters of the Town Trustees, who, benefited by public money in the shape of pensions, grants and doles. In every case the actual amount paid is more than the amount set down in such accounts as are shown. Wallingford meant to sweep all this jobbery clean away.

"How?"

"By getting the financial affairs of the town into the grip and absolute control of the Corporation. He wanted to abolish the Town Trustees as a body. If he had succeeded in his aim, he would have done away with all the abuses which they not only kept up, but encouraged."

"Then if Wallingford's reforms had been carried out, Krevin Crood would have lost £150 a year?"

"He would have lost £300 a year. Wallingford's scheme included the utter abolition of all these Town Trustee-created pensions and doles. Trustee, stock and barrel, they were all to go."

"And the Town Trustees—Crood, Mallett, Coppinger—were fully acquainted with his intentions and those of his party?"

The witness shrugged his shoulders.

"That's well known," he answered. "They were frightened of him and his schemes to the last degree. They knew what it meant."

"What did it mean?"

Nettleton glanced at Simon Crood and smiled.

"Just what it's come to at last," he said. "Exposure—and disgrace!"

"Well," said Meeking, when a murmur of excited feeling had once more surrounded the court, "a more particular question, Mr. Nettleton. Did the late Mayor ever come to your office in the course of his investigations?"

"He did, frequently. Not that I had much to show him, but he carefully examined all the books and papers of which I was in possession."

"Did he take notes?"

"Notes and memoranda—yes. At considerable length, sometimes."

"What in?"

"In a thick memorandum book with a stout cover of red leather, which he always carried in his pocket."

"Could you identify that book if you saw it?"

"Certainly! Besides, you would find it full of his notes and figures."

"That will do—for the present, Mr. Nettleton—unless my friend here recalls Superintendent Hawthwaite for a moment. Superintendent, you have just heard of a certain pocketbook which belonged to the late Mayor. Was it found on his dead body, or on his desk, or anywhere, after the murder? No? Not after the most careful and thorough search? Completely disappeared? Very good. Now let us have Louisa Speck."

A smartly-dressed, self-possessed young woman came forward, and Tansley, nudging Brent, whispered that this was Mallett's parlor-maid and that things were getting deuced interesting.

THE PARLOR-MAID

That the appearance of Louisa Speck in the witness-box came as something more than an intense surprise to at any rate two particular persons in that court was evident at once to Brent's watchful eye. Mrs. Mallett, a close observer of what was going on, started as her parlor-maid's name was called, and lifting her eyes, surveyed the girl with a wondering stare of prolonged inspection. And in the dock, Krevin Crood also let a stare of astonishment escape him. He, too, stared at Louisa Speck, and a frown showed itself between his eyebrows, as if he were endeavoring to explain her presence to himself. Suddenly it cleared, and he nodded his fancies with a sharp laugh, and turning to Simon Crood, he whispered observation. Simon nodded sullenly, as if he comprehended, from that point forward he kept his small eyes firmly fixed on the witness. Tansley noticed these things, and bent towards his companion with a meaning glance.

"This young woman knows something!" he muttered. "And these two chaps in the dock know what it is!"

The young woman upon whom all eyes were fixed was perhaps the most self-possessed person present. She answered the preliminary questions as coolly as if she had been giving evidence in murder cases as a regular thing. Louisa Speck—twenty-six years of age—been in the employ of Mrs. Mallett of the Bank House for three years—still in that employment—as far as she knew. What did she mean by that? Well, that Mrs. Mallett had left the house some days before, and that since yesterday afternoon Mr. Mallett had not been there, and, accordingly, neither she nor the other servants knew exactly how things stood.

"Just so," observed Meeking. "Somewhat uncertain, eh? Very well." He paused a moment, glanced at his papers, and suddenly leaped forward towards the witness-box cupant. "Now then," he said, "when did you first hear of the murder of the late Mayor, Mr. Wallingford?"

Louisa Speck's answer came promptly.

"The night it happened."

"What time? And who told you of it?"

"About nine o'clock, Robertshaw, the policeman, told me. I was at the front door, looking out on the Market-Square, as he was going past."

"I see. So you remember that evening very well?"

"Quite well."

"Do you remember the previous evening—equally well?"

Law Puts Youths at Disadvantage, Declares Judge

Vancouver, Nov. 27.—According to Mr. Justice McPhillips of the Court of Appeal, who made comments while the court was hearing the appeal of Dick Cunyow, young Chinese sentenced to two years for "procuring" a nineteen-year-old girl, it is not safe for a young man to escort a girl alone at night.

The law provides that should the young woman desire to charge the young man with insulting her, the mere fact that he had been in her company alone would convict him.

A. D. Taylor, K.C., counsel for the Chinese, argued for several hours before the court yesterday, asking the judges to quash the conviction of his client, claiming there was insufficient corroboration of the evidence supporting the charge and because of the inconsistencies he claimed could be found in the case of the prosecution.

The hearing opened yesterday morning after efforts of counsel to have the appeal stood over to the next sittings had failed.

Judgment will be given to-day.

SAANICH RESIDENT GROWING SPLENDID SMALL FRUIT CROP

Wonderful Grapes Mature Out-of-Doors and Grafted Fruits Are Large

John L. Jeffrey, 3244 Rutledge Avenue, Saanich, has grown what he believes to be some of the finest grapes cultivated and ripened out of doors that any part of the island has yet produced.

"It took me just four years to grow the vine from a six-inch cutting," said Mr. Jeffrey, as he displayed ten fine bunches of the luscious grapes. "If I had had them covered they would have grown to greater size and would have ripened earlier, but I wanted to see how they would grow out in the open."

Mr. Jeffrey's grapes are of the Black Hamburg variety. Some of the bunches he picked off his four-year-old vine weighed over two pounds. The grapes are uniform in size and as big as the average grape imported from California.

Mr. Jeffrey systematically clipped smaller bunches of undeveloped grapes from his vine as they began to form some weeks ago, and left only the larger bunches to ripen and mature.

Mr. Jeffrey is experimenting with other small fruits on a little piece of land to which he has retired after an active life of farming on the prairies. On one tree he has four different varieties of apples growing, and the fruit grows to a size of 1 1/2 inches in diameter in some instances. Mr. Jeffrey's grafting processes have been exceptionally successful and he is proud of the results.

R. C. WELDON DIED IN DARTMOUTH, N.S.

Long a Leader in Educational Circles in Eastern Canadian Province

Halifax, Nov. 27.—Richard Chapman Weldon, seventy-five, dean of the law school of Dalhousie University from 1883 to 1913, died at his home at Dartmouth, N.S., late yesterday.

He was born in Sussex, N.B., and after coming to Dalhousie was professor of mathematics at Mount Allison University, Sackville, N.B., from 1875 to 1883. He was chairman of the British Columbia University commission in 1910.

He took an active interest in politics and represented Albert, N.B., in the House of Commons from 1887 to 1896 and unsuccessfully contested Shelburne, N.S., against Hon. W. S. Fielding in the by-election of 1908.

Dr. Weldon retired about twelve years ago.

LOCARNO TREATIES RATIFIED BY GERMANY

Vote in Reichstag 300 to 174; Germany Soon to Join League of Nations

Berlin, Nov. 27.—The Reichstag today voted in favour of the European security pact and arbitration treaties negotiated at the recent Locarno conference and approved Germany's entry into the League of Nations. The vote on the third reading was 300 to 174.

This enables Chancellor Luther and Foreign Minister Stresemann to go to London to sign the treaties next week.

In the course of the next month Germany will make formal application for admission to the League.

At their second reading in the Reichstag yesterday the bills were approved on a vote of 271 to 159. The only opposition to the treaties came from the German Nationalists and Communists and Extreme Nationalists led by Gen. Ludendorff.

The attempt of the Nationalists to forestall Germany's admission to the League by demanding enactment of a special law authorizing such procedure was defeated by a heavy vote.

INFLUENCE OF UNITED STATES

Charges made in French newspapers that lack of interest in the Locarno pact was evidenced by the United States in its abstention from participation in the Locarno conference are combated by The Diplomat-Politisch Korrespondenz, which sometimes reflects the views of the German Foreign Office.

The newspaper says the United States, by a deliberate plan is combating Balkanization of the European continent and attempting to strengthen the principle that international conflict must be avoided as ruinous to the whole continent of Europe. While the United States did not openly participate at Locarno, the paper says, that country "undoubtedly influenced the deliberations along these lines."

FINE POLICE FOR BREACH OF RULES

New Law Provides Method of Disciplining Provincial Officers Without Publicity

Fines for provincial police officers who are guilty of infractions of police regulations are provided for in legislation advanced through committee in the Legislature yesterday. The new act gives officers the right to appeal to the Attorney-General against fines levied by the Superintendent of Police. Attorney-General Manson explained that in actual practice he would himself review each case of a fine to make sure that it was merited.

R. H. Poolby, Opposition leader, and H. D. Twigg, Conservative, Victoria, protested that officers would not care to appeal over the heads of their superiors but Mr. Manson felt that the new law would work out satisfactorily as he would look into all cases himself.

NEW HOHENZOLLERN DEBATE IN REICHSTAG

Claims of Late German Ruling Family For Great Sums Angers Radical Parties

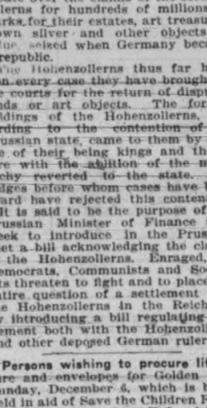

Berlin, Nov. 27.—Next week the Reichstag probably will have a lively debate over the claims of the Hohenzollerns for hundreds of millions of marks for their estates, art treasures, crown silver and other objects of value seized when Germany became a republic.

The Hohenzollerns thus far have won every case they have brought in the courts for the return of disputed lands or art objects. The former holdings of the Hohenzollerns, according to the contention of the Prussian state, came to them by virtue of their being kings and therefore with the abolition of the monarchy reverted to the state.

Judges before whom cases have been heard have rejected this contention.

It is said to be the purpose of the Prussian Minister of Finance next week to introduce in the Prussian Diet a bill acknowledging the claims of the Hohenzollerns. Enraged, the Democrats, Communists and Socialists threaten to fight and to place the entire question of a settlement with the Hohenzollerns in the Reichstag for introduction of a bill regulating settlement both with the Hohenzollerns and other deposed German rulers.

Persons wishing to procure literature and envelopes for Golden Rule Sunday, December 6, which is being held in aid of Save the Children Fund, can procure same from F. Landberg, treasurer, 641 Fort Street.
