WIKIMEDIA COMMONS: ADDING YOUR OWN IMAGE

TUTORIAL BY THE PHILADELPHIA WIKISALON

Wikimedia Commons

- Wikimedia Commons is a freely accessible media repository where anyone can add, edit, and use public domain and freely licensed image, audio and video files. Files stored within it can be viewed anywhere in the world and directly embedded on Wikipedia articles and other Wikimedia project pages.

(<https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/ Commons:Welcome>)

<https://commons.wikimedia.org/>

Prepare Your Submission

- Gather your files into an accessible location, preferably on a local hard drive or attached thumb drive.
- Each media file name must be unique and should ideally be descriptive, even if the title assigned to the image later is the same. Choose the file name carefully, as that cannot be easily changed later.

Not very good: IMG_20200815_114729900_HDR.jpg

Good: Black-eyed susans at Bartram's Garden.jpg

- File Types accepted
 - TIFF, JPEG, PNG, GIF, SVG, XCF, WebP
- (https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/Commons:Project_scope/Allowable_file_types)

Prepare Your Submission

- File Size
 - Maximum file size for a single file is 4 gigabytes.
 - Note that larger files will take longer to upload.
- Gather relevant metadata for your media in advance
 - Title
 - Date of creation
 - Description
 - Location
- Search Commons for potential categories to assign to your file, based upon the subject.
 - Category: “subject”, e.g. Category:Flowers
- An account on Wikipedia or another Wikimedia Project is required to upload new media files.

Example: Upload One's Own Work

- West Laurel Hill Cemetery – Duffys Cut Memorial Names.JPG
- Creator: Doreva Belfiore (self)
- High quality JPEG (4.99 MB)
- Grave marker at West Laurel Hill Cemetery to memorialize lives of Irish railroad workers lost at Duffy's Cut in 1832
