THE FOURTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES.

This report is for the year ending December 31st, 1889.

It has been a year of continued progress, showing encouraging development in the Museum and the School.

The question alluded to in the last annual report, of providing a building in some central location in the city where the Museum and the School can be united under one roof, has received careful consideration. The desirability of such a union, if it can be accomplished without detriment to either branch of the Institution, is conceded by all.

Regarding the School, almost any change from the present contracted, inconvenient, and inadequate quarters would be advantageous.

Regarding the Museum, the case is different. We must remember that we now occupy one of the largest and finest Museum buildings in the country, containing galleries unequalled for light, wall and floor space, and general arrangement.

The building is situated on the borders of the Park, in the direction of the growth of the city. In its construction and location it is free from the dangers of fire. It insures permanency, and provides room for extension. The city contributes $10,000 annually towards the maintenance of this building. It is evident, therefore, that before giving up so many manifest advantages, the whole subject must be carefully considered. One suggestion that has been made is not to disturb the Museum in its present location, but to secure a site for the School near by the Hall. Another is included in a proposition made by Provost Wm. Pepper, on behalf of the authorities of the University of Pennsylvania, to transfer to this Institution, in fee simple, at cost price, whatever available site on property lately acquired by the University may be selected—of ample size for the erection of a large building for the Museum and School. The Committee of the Trustees appointed to consider this offer thought so well of it that they consulted with Mr. Joseph M. Wilson, the architect, who furnished a plan for a building, a portion of which, for immediate occupancy by the School, could, it is thought, be erected at a cost of about $45,000.

In view of the absolute necessity of making some provision for the School, if its growth is not to be checked, and the desirability of agreeing upon some definite plan of development for Museum and School alike, the Trustees ask your immediate consideration of these matters.

The second Exhibition of American Art Industries, which was held in Memorial Hall from October 8th to November 18th, was, in an artistic way, a gratifying success. Upwards of 28,000 persons visited the Exhibition, and had not the weather been so continuously bad there would probably have been twice as many visitors, and instead of a small deficit, the Treasurer's account would have shown a profit.

Six branches of Art Industry were represented—Pottery and Porcelain, Glassware, Terra Cotta, Tiles, Stained Glass, and Mosaic.

The most notable display was the Stained Glass Section. It was a genuine surprise to many persons to discover in this department of Art an excellence fairly rivalling the best European workmanship. The importance of these exhibitions as a practical means of educating the public taste, and of awakening an interest in the Museum and its work cannot be overestimated.

The last annual report stated that the debt at that time was $6,300, and that the further sum of $4,100 had been subscribed towards its cancellation, payable when the full amount necessary for the extinguishment of the debt had been raised. By reference to the Treasurer's statement it will appear that the donations during the year ending May 31st last, amounted to $4,143. This would leave the balance due on the debt $2,337. Since the end of the fiscal year this deficiency has been met.

The number of students, shown by the Principal's report, is 242. This is quite as many as the School can accommodate, owing to the gift of power looms and other machinery intended for the use of the School. In respect of skilled teachers, appliances for work, and instruction, and in the estimation of the public, the School is better off than ever before. Only in this one particular—crowded and insufficient accommodation—is its growth checked.

A most gratifying evidence of the interest taken in this branch of the Institution is the generous gift of Mrs. Wm. Weightman, Jr., of $1,000 to found the William Weightman, Jr., Memorial Scholarship.

Through the efforts of Mr. Search, the Textile Department has received valuable gifts of machinery and material, including two power looms, given by the Knowles Loom Works, of Worcester, Mass.

It is also gratifying to note in the competition for prizes in Designs for Pottery, instituted by the United States Potters' Association, and recently held in Baltimore, between pupils of the schools connected with the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, and our own scholars, that the judges commend the work of our scholars as "superior in strength and originality," and award to them, and to the Boston students, a series of first, second, and third prizes.

This report would be incomplete without an acknowledgment from the Trustees of the assistance they have received from the Associate Committee of Women, to whose earnest efforts in the furtherance of the work so much of its success is due.

Following are the reports of the Curator of the Museum, and the Principal of the School.

THE MUSEUM.

During the year, two hundred and seventy thousand eight hundred and eight persons visited the Museum. Of these, one hundred and forty thousand two hundred and eighty-nine were Sunday visitors. During the seven weeks of the Art Industries Exhibition, from October 8th to November 18th, when an admission fee was charged, there were twenty-eight thousand five hundred and twenty-one visitors. The attendance would undoubtedly have been greater if the weather had not been so unfavorable.

It will be seen by the annexed list that numerous additions to the collections have been made, by gift or purchase.

The Bloomfield-Moore collection has been enriched by Mrs. Moore, by the addition of a notable picture by Benjamin West; several choice specimens of Wedgwood ware, and a number of enamelled and jeweled watches of the Louis XIV period.

The southeast pavilion, a room forty feet square, has been set apart for the display of the objects loaned by Dr. Robert H. Lamborn. These include, among many other objects of interest and value, a fine collection of Etruscan antiquities, and a series of pictures illustrating what has been called the Mexican branch of the Spanish School of Painting, in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Dr. Lamborn is now preparing a catalogue of these paintings, which will be accompanied by an essay on Mexican Art.

The Robert Nebinger bequest of paintings and engravings was received in July. It numbers sixty-three paintings, including several by Wm. Scarlett, and seven engravings.

Two hand-books have been issued this year: "A Brief History of the Bayeux Tapestry, with a description of the Scenes," and "The Lake Dwellings of Switzerland, with a catalogue of the Collection of Lacustrine Antiquities." A hand-book of the Bloomfield-Moore Collection will shortly be issued.

The Museum Library now numbers eight hundred and twentyfive volumes. These have all been entered in an Accession Book, and a card catalogue has been written. Remembering that large libraries grow from small beginnings, the Cutter Rules of cataloguing have been adopted and applied to this work, so that whether this department of the Institution develops rapidly or slowly there need be no change made from the present system. A large accumulation of pamphlets has been sorted and arranged, but is not yet catalogued. During the year the Museum has purchased the Tatui Baba collection of Japanese Arms and Armor; also specimen blanks of the Gold, Silver, and Bronze Medals presented to prize winners in the recent Exhibition.

Gifts of objects were made by-

S. B. CUBBERLY:

One hundred and forty-one volumes, including forty-nine Japanese books belonging to the Tatui Baba Collection, were purchased for the Library. Gifts were made by—

Coleman Sellers, Isaac Norris, M. D., Thos. Hockley, Dr. F. W. Lewis, Commissioners of Fairmount Park.

THE SCHOOL.

The work of the School continues to justify the confidence in its success and ever-increasing usefulness which has been expressed in former reports.

No changes in the Departments as organized last year have taken place. Two power looms, one gingham and one Gem—latest improvements—have been given by the Knowles' Loom Works, of Worcester, Mass. Eight hand looms (four box lays) have been purchased from Schaum & Uhlinger, also eight 30 hook Dobbie machines, including 100 bars of chain stock to each machine, from G. H. Stafford Manufacturing Co., Providence, R. I., for use in the Textile Department. Gifts of yarns have also been received from W. C. Houston, Hope Mills Manufacturing Co., North Carolina; Bradbury Bros., and Clark & Keen, Philadelphia, also small shuttles from Sergeson & Co. for the same Department.

The corps of Instructors has been increased by the appointment of Mr. Conyers B. Finckel as assistant in the Textile Department, Miss Nelly Slater, assistant in the Modelling Class; Miss M. L. Holt, assistant in the Drawing Classes, and Mr. A. C. Simons, assistant in the Carving Class. The two former are graduates of the School, and the latter are advanced students.

As the additions to the School Library which have been made since 1880 have not been noted in the reports published hitherto, the following list of these accessions is inserted here :

The number of volumes in the School Library in 1880 was seventy-four. To this number were added in the eight years ending January 1st, 1889, one hundred and fifty-seven volumes, sixty of which were gifts, seventy purchased from School funds, and thirty-seven added from funds derived from other sources.

In 1889, seventy-seven volumes were added. Sixty-four were purchased, of which three were purchased by the School and the remainder from funds derived from other sources. Thirteen volumes were given by Mr. Wm. Platt Pepper, Mr. John Struthers, Mrs. E. E. Denniston, Dr. Isaac Norris, the Patent Office, and the School of Art Needle-Work.

Late in the year just past, the students organized a Co-operative Association, which has proved to be not only a valuable means of promoting the work of the School by meetings, discussions, the preparation and reading of papers on topics connected with the objects of the Institution, but of enabling the pupils to purchase commodities at a discount by the Association of a list of affiliated tradesmen who grant a reduction from current retail prices to all members of the organization. Moreover, from the small fees paid by members and the cards and other advertisements inserted in the hand-book prepared for the use of members, a certain amount of income is realized, which it is one of the primary objects of the Association to devote to the interests of the School; all moneys derived from this source to be "used in such a way as shall be of most benefit to the School in such a manner as shall be sanctioned by the Principal." The organization was not effected until the latter part of the year, but about one hundred dollars have already been realized from this source, and this forms a part of the "funds derived from other sources," from which, as reported above, the additions have been made to the School Library.

The usual closing exercises were held in Memorial Hall on June 1st, 1889. Addresses were made by the President, by Mr. Charles Heber Clarke, Mr. Samual Gustine Thompson, Mrs. E. D. Gillespie, and Mr. T. C. Search.

A special competition for prizes in Design for Pottery was instituted among the pupils during the year by the United States Potters' Association.

The pupils of the School of Drawing and Painting at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, and of the School of the Metropolitan Museum in New York were also invited to compete on the same terms as the pupils of our own School.

The prizes offered were as follows :

For the best design for a covered dish for a dinner-service, and with it a design for either a Ewer for a Toilet-set, or a Vase or a Jug.

Originality of design, excellence of form, ornamentation and adaptation considered.

First Prize, fifty dollars; Second Prize, twenty-five dollars; Third Prize, ten dollars. The three prizes being offered to each School quite independently of the others.

It is gratifying to note that the report of the Judges, which is in part devoted to a comparison of the relative merits of the work submitted from the different Schools, is unqualified in its commendations of the work sent from our School as "superior in strength and originality."

Prizes were awarded to the following pupils from this School: First Prize, Fifty dollars, Winifred E. Ketcham.

Second " Twenty-five dollars, Fred. O. Whittington.

Third " Ten dollars, Gertrude S. Reeves.

An exhibition of students' work was made at the same time and place, which remained open during the summer.

A number of State scholarships, one for each county, having been established by the Legislature of 1887 as a feature of the bill affording State aid to the School, appointments to several of these were made by the Governor during the year, and ten holders of these appointments are at present registered in the School.

The scholarships placed at the disposal of the Board of Education of the city were filled as usual by a competitive examination, conducted by the Principal, each grammar-school Principal being authorized to send candidates. It is gratifying to note that this method of making the appointments, which was adopted in 1887, is producing excellent results; the class of students admitted being better qualified each year, and a considerable increase of interest, on the part of the teachers and pupils alike, in the public schools having already resulted from this arrangement.

The following certificates and prizes were awarded at the closing exercises at the end of the year:

The Diploma in the Regular Course, Drawing and Painting, was awarded to John Cook Fitzgerald and Susanna Martin Price.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE # ASSOCIATE COMMITTEE OF WOMEN.

The work of this Committee has, for the past year, been so closely interwoven with that of the Board of Trustees that a separate report seems almost unnecessary. The great work of the year 1889, the "Exhibition of American Art Industry," was carried to a successful issue by the joint effort of the Trustees and their associates. The financial position of the Associate Committee will be seen by the Treasurer's report.
