BONNY BELL

BONNY BELL.

In fair Edina dwelt a maid,
not of high birth, nor low;
'Tis not material when, I trow,
but it is not long ago.
Howe'er this lass of lasses was much for her beauty fam'd;
Each soppiling that could read or write,
her praise in verse proclaim'd.

BONNY BELL.

This Maid she was a virgin fair,
none could her charms excel!
No rose on Sharon's vale could e'er
compare with bonny Bell!

For her full long did Strephon whine,
for her he rack'd his breast;
But no fond flatterer could engage this Helen of the west.
Ignaro next the fair address'd,
he too a passion feign'd;
Blustering vain did urge his suit,
but both the maid disdain'd.

( 3 )

At last grave Damon made his suit,
 She listen'd to his tale;
 He pled a gentle virtuous love,
 and virtue did prevail.
 The choice appoy'd, to lend his aid
 Thalius did not fail;
 Each vale resounded with the praise
 of Damon and his Bell.

[This Maid, &c.]

MARY YOUNG MOTHER

THE BRAVE SAILOR.

Ye gallant souls, who beat so high with British glory in each vic'ry;
 From his example learn to die,
 whose honour never knew one fail'd.

At break of day two sail appear'd
 and on the larboard-quarter stood;
 For a gun straight the decks were clear'd which soon, alas! were dy'd with blood!

My friend maintai'd the unequal fight,
 till bringing all his guns to bear,

With red-hot balls their thunder freight and up one Frenchman blew in air.

The other struck her colours now,
but, all too late his life to save,
For e'er the hostile flag was low,
a shot had mark'd him for the grave.

BUXOM BONNY WILLIE.

WHEN fragrant bloom of yellow broom delights our lads and lasses,
O'er yellow bloom in beauty's bloom
my Will all lads surpasses!

Wi' Willie then I'll o'er the braes,
I'll o'er the braes wi' Willie;
Wi' Willie then I'll o'er the braes,
I'll o'er the braes wi' Willie;

From morn to eve I'll sing the praise
of buxom bonny Willie,
Willy, Willy, Willy,
From morn to eve I'll sing the praise
of buxom bonny Willie.

In Hygate, as I now do tell,
One Betsy Taylor there did dwell,
Who was a beauty of renown.
But now her roses are pull'd down.

With Mr. Hooker she did reside,
A young man wished her for his bride;
They fix'd upon the wedding day,
But all their joys are fled away.

Her brother was a wicked blade,
This poor young girl he did persuade
To rob her Master—wick'd deed!
Which made her tender heart ab'le to bleed.

Two hundred pounds in goods they stole,
O now have mercy on their soul!
For they were gentle and caſt to die,
And in the dreadful cells they lie.

When at the bar this faire maid stood,
The tears ran down her face like a flood,
The roses from her cheeks were fled,
She droop'd with heart as cold as dead.

When to the bar, poor foul, was brought,
For mercy on her knees she forgat,
The Judge unto her then did cry,
There is no help, for you must die.

When from the bar they did her take,
With grief her heart was like to break,
Her sweethearts he was in the Galloway land,
His dearest girl for to support.

When back to prison they did go,
And they must part—O what woe!
The scene of grief no tongue can tell,
When she was led into the cell.

( 47 )

With aching heart, the moan does rise,
 Until the day that she must die; or
 When drear and bitter frost in top to toe,
 To meet her fate this maid willing.

So maidens now take warning all,
 Reflect upon her wretched fall,
 And when you hear the dead bell toll,
 Fall on your knees, pray for her soul;
 O! by her death a warning take;
 Before with you it be too late;
 May she get strength to meet the blow,
 When she sinks to the shades below.

BONIE HIGHLAND LADDIE.

The boniest lad that e'er I saw,
 Bonie laddie, Highland laddie,
 Wore a plaid, and was su' braw,
 Bonie Highland laddie.
 On his head a bonnet blue,
 Bonie laddie, Highland laddie,
 His loyal heart was firm and true,
 Bonie Highland laddie..

Trumpets sound, and cannons roar,
 Bonie lassie, Lowland lassie, aye bring
 And at the hills wi' echoes roar, now VI
 Bonie Lowland lassie, aye seem to T
 Glory, honour, now invite,
 Bonie lassie, Lowland lassie, m ee
 For freedom and my King to fight, A Bonie Lowland lassie, o' how ba
 And wi' your men, aye sing noo to its T
 The sun a backward course shall take,
 Bonie laddie, Highland laddie, O
 Ere ought thy manly courage shake, I
 Bonie Highland laddie, m ee M
 Go, for yourself procure renown, VI
 Bonie laddie, Highland laddie;
 And for your lawful King his crown,
 Bonie Highland laddie.
