

How - rheumatism -
I trust your house
how, wife & others,
are comfortable

Very cordially

answer.' Then we should likely add $140 to the fund - + gratify Caroline also -

Let me hear
your views when convenient - &
address me at Boston - tho'
I have moved to Swampscott - where I'm still tuffer

the office if the contributor consented.
Accordingly we forwarded to each the notification I should assume that each one assented
unless we received
a reply to the contrary.
Any one who could not consent to the change could, if he wished receive his money back.

Would not this

to the fund - Quincy's doubts would be relieved by such a change & Cornell can be supplied with a file otherwise. I have one to bestow
sometime.

could we not
therefore print a
few lines stating some thing like this
That the private Library of an old Abolitionist had offered $140 - & the Bee
were desirous of accepting have than - and

since receiving her note I have notified all persons I have applied to (Barlot - Marston
G. Richardson, Bath,
'Richard, Buzage
- whom Trotter handed over to me as he could not find them in -) -

that the lib^l might be sold to a private library instead of being given to Cornell -

Now I have no
doubt all the contribu tors would assent to such a change, in order to secure such a large addition

Some $²⁰ or $³⁰ more

I have paid (Mr Mill, un-entailed lease)
$193.25.

You see from the note I inclose (that some Fanny sent
me) that Caroline Weston offers $140
for the liberators

I wrote her that when you returned
it could be decided whether she could

Dear Garrison

Trusting you
had a fine time at the Lake & have returned well
I will report on Nelli's Affairs -
since I sent
you son a statement
I accept I have
